SWEEPING JUDICIARY REFORM ASKED

FDR SUBMITS PROPOSAL TO CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (UP)—President Roosevelt today proposed to congress sweeping reform of the judiciary including the right to appoint as many as six new justices of the Supreme Court if present justices over 70 years old do not choose to retire.

The president's requests for new legislation were immediately referred to judiciary committees of both house and senate.

The presidential proposal was submitted after consultation with cabinet officers and congressional leaders.

Mr. Roosevelt's plan, submitted on the eve of Supreme Court argument on the controversial Wagner Labor Act, brought the New Deal squarely to grips with the issue of constitutional change and Supreme Court reform.

The draft of proposed legislation submitted by Mr. Roosevelt, asked that the Supreme Court should not be increased to more than 15 justices, since six of the present justices have reached the age of 70, Mr. Roosevelt would be empowered to name six more.

The president's proposal was: 1. That in each instance where a federal judge reaches the age of 70 and fails to retire, that the president be empowered to name an additional chairman, providing such appointments do not increase the number of Supreme Court justices above 15.

2. That no federal court be allowed to issue a decision or injunction involving constitutional questions without ample notice to the government, and that immediate appeals of all such questions be allowed directly to the supreme court, such appeals taking precedence over all other matters.

3. That transfer of federal judges be allowed from district to district to speed up court business.

4. That the supreme court be provided with a "proctor" charged with watching all federal court business in order to expedite it.

JUDICIARY REFORM PLAN CAUSES STOCKS DECLINE
NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (UP)—Stocks were dumped on the market today when President Roosevelt proposed sweeping judicial reforms that would give him power to appoint additional supreme court justices.

Losses ranged to more than three points. Trading was so heavy that tickers fell behind.

SOLDIERS ARE REQUESTED AS RIOTS FEARED

FLINT, Feb. 5. (UP)—Sheriff Thomas Wolcott announced today he had telegraphed Governor Frank Murphy asking for the assistance of the national guard to evict sit-down strikers from two General Motors plants.

WRIT OF EVICTION OF STRIKERS SIGNED
FLINT, Feb. 5. (UP)—A writ of attachment, enforcement of which would evict 1,000 sit-down strikers from General Motors plants here, was signed today by Circuit Judge Paul Gault, according to Ralph Gault, General Motors lawyer.

The announcement came as a surprise, since Gault and Roy Brownell, another lawyer for the company, had decided to postpone indefinitely their legal efforts to oust the strikers.

The first writ ordered the arrest of Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers; 14 other union officials and some 1,000 sit-down strikers who occupy Fisher Body plants 1 and 2.

The labor leaders were ordered into court to answer contempt charges arising from violation of an injunction. The writ also demands evacuation of the plant, and restraints picketing.

GENERAL MOTORS ENTER THIRD CONFERENCE
DETROIT, Feb. 5. (UP)—General Motors Corporation and the Committee for Industrial Organization sent representatives into a third day of conference today, under pressure from President Roosevelt for settlement of their labor disputes.

The main issue of the discussion again was the problem of who should represent General Motors workers in collective bargaining. The CIO, led by its chairman, John L. Lewis, has made important concessions, it was revealed, from an original demand that the United Automobile Workers should represent all General Motors workers.

WORKERS REPORTED NEARER TOGETHER

To Be Questioned in Kidnap-Murder Case
WILLOWSPRINGS, Mo., Feb. 5. (UP)—State Highway patrolmen planned to question Buster Brixey, 25 year old farm youth in connection with the kidnap murder of J. C. B. Davis.

Officers said Brixey, who found the physician's medical case 18 miles southeast of Willow Spring three days after he was kidnaped, was a friend of Robert Kenyon, 20, confessed kidnap slayer.

State troopers said the questioning would be routine "We are convinced" one patrolman said "that this was a lone game".
Kenyon, held in Kansas City, was charged with first degree murder.

FLOOD DANGER PASSES AS ALL LEVEES HOLD

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 5 (UP)—500,000 residents of the Mississippi valley, waiting behind a billion dollar levee system were confident today that they could master the nation's worst flood.

The flood crest pushed against the levee at New Madrid, Missouri, tested a wall at Hickman, Ky., and went on its way to the gulf.

Workmen in Cairo, Ill., were confident that they had defeated the river, although the water still came within three and a half feet of the tops of the city's seawall.

HANDWRITING EXPERT SAYS WOMAN GUILTY

COLEMAN, Feb. 5. (UP)—Hopes of Mrs. Neil Harvey for exoneration from charges of passing four checks in Texas "mistaken identity" case were dimmed today by a handwriting expert.

Mrs. Harvey, wife of a Wichita Falls oil driller, spent six months in jail, and was sentenced to nine years in prison on charges of passing bogus checks, before her attorney convinced prosecutors that she was a victim of mistaken identity.

She was freed recently when her "double" Mrs. Billie Bell, an inmate of the Arkansas penitentiary, admitted it was she who passed the checks.

Last night, however, District Attorney A. O. Newman of Coleman, announced that C. G. McGraw, handwriting expert for the State Department of Public Safety, had found Mrs. Harvey's handwriting on a check passed here. He further complicated the case by saying that Mrs. Bell's handwriting also appeared on the check.

"Unless something further develops to show Mrs. Harvey's innocence, I will have no clemency recommendation to make," Newman said. He expressed skepticism of Mrs. Bell's confession.

Brady Woman Dies Of Skull Fracture

BRADY, Feb. 5. (UP)—Mrs. May Betty Parker, 42, former Port Worth school teacher, died January 22 of a skull fracture inflicted by "some blunt instrument," Peace Justice W. B. Douglas reported today after the autopsy.

Douglas said he and physicians who performed the autopsy believed that the fatal wound was not caused by a kick from a horse, as was reported by Fred Parker, her husband. Parker is charged with murder.

What's News Today

The big news today, and a cause for rejoicing of many thousands, is the ending of the maritime strike on the Pacific coast. This has been the costliest strike in history, perhaps, depriving 40,000 men and 239 ships of the blessed privilege of working. Thousands of others, not directly concerned in the strike, felt its influence and have suffered accordingly.

So, today 40,000 men are to return to work, rejoicing and the 239 ships with lost trade routes, are to be released and manned for whatever they may find to do. Rotting cargoes have lain piled in storage and on wharfs with no one to move them. The strike lasted 98 days. The union says it won.

More talk about Chinese rebellion. One can never be sure just what these rebellions in China amount to. Men acquainted with the ways of this ancient nation and people who are just rousing from their thousands of years of non-intercourse with modern civilization, say that there is no prediction as to what an uprising may mean. The Oriental mind deals in deceptiveness and stealth. The straightforward American who lays his cards on the table and deals from the top, can hardly appreciate the ways of the Chinese who thinks it a virtue to hide his true purpose and motives from the man with whom he speaks or trades.

Here is a sluggish, mighty nation that must work out its future by revolutions, wars and political struggles. It will be the bone of contention over which wars will be waged. And all this before the end of time, which some profess to believe is near.

Ickes and Farley, of World War fame, are both to be in Texas soon. Both have been invited to speak to the Texas Legislature. President Roosevelt is a powerful personality and who ever teams up with him becomes famous overnight. They are weighed in the balance by the president and if found wanting, are quietly displaced and some one who thinks in terms of the New Deal—modern thought in political economy—is introduced to the people of the nation and the world. Whoever is a favored lieutenant to President Roosevelt is at once an international figure. America stands first in world-wide news today.

Texas has, indeed, been favored by the Roosevelt regime. And Texas will prosper. Being a doubtful state has placed her in an enviable position. Her bigness, wealth and future possibilities make her the power that even presidents and statesmen court for favors.

United States engineers say the flood crest has passed and that levees along the 1,000-mile front of the mighty Mississippi will hold and the sluggish power of this monster will be tamed and turned toward the ocean where its energies will be stored in the mighty deep.

We like to think of this great river as representing the power of an individual. Its sluggishness represents the bull-headedness and blind actions of the ignorant, untrained.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Special Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Vice President Jack Garner, has given his public promise to keep silent on public questions for the next four years, so anyone who wants to hear anything about that may do so now.

Garner comes very close to being the only important public figure in the capital who besides refraining from statements of all kinds, guards state secrets 100 per cent in his conversations with newspaper correspondents.

And yet in meetings of the cabinet and private sessions with groups of members of Congress, Garner is often the most volatile person present. Although the pungency of his flow of language is somewhat hampered by the presence of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, the vice president often roars long and loud at the cabinet table when he is convinced of a proposal's impracticality.

The vice president usually addresses the president as "Cap," "Boss," "Chief" or "Old Tom." "When I address him as 'Mr. President,' Garner once told an old friend, 'he sits up and takes notice. Because then he knows I'm mad.'"

SERIOUS consideration is being given to proposals that hereafter inaugurations of presidents be held in the spring, when there is likelihood of good weather. No one wants to go through another such day as the recent inauguration day, with its unapikably vile weather.

The idea would be to have the president take the oath of office on Jan. 20 at simple indoor ceremonies and postpone the inaugural parade and other big doings until April or May, when the cherry blossoms are out and everybody can have fun and romp around in presumably balmy weather instead of getting soaked or frozen.

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BOLITHO BLANE, British fugitive, disappears from yacht owned by his principal competitor, CARLTON ROCKSAVAGE, next of Miami. A note found in Blane's cabin, addressed to his secretary, NICHOLAS STODART, indicates suicide since he faced bankruptcy. A memo written by Stodart shows Blane's company stock, ARGES STEEL, closing at a new low that day.

Other passengers aboard yacht GOLDEN GULL are MISS FERRO ROCKSAVAGE, ROCKSAVAGE'S daughter, LADY WELTER, REGINALD JOCELYN, MRS. JOCELYN, Lady Welter's daughter, and the HONORABLE HIDE, GOULD LEIGH POSODINI and INOSUKE HAYASHI. Detective Officer KETTERING, boarding the yacht at Miami, finds strange marks on Blane's cabin carpet and blood on the curtain. Upon examination, Rocksave admits having Blane aboard to effect an amalgamation of their companies. It is also revealed that Lady Welter is heavily interested in Rocksave's stocks.

CHAPTER IX
FROM the foregoing statements it is obvious that, as we have a note in Blane's own hand, scribbled on the back of the leaf torn from Stodart's pocketbook with the share quotations on it, which was sent down to him at 7:45, he must still have been alive at that time.

The steward, Ringbottom, entered his cabin at 8:30 and discovered him to be missing. Therefore, Bolitho Blane must have been murdered between 7:45 and 8:30. The situation of the cabin steward's pantry and Ringbottom's statement, backed by that of the carpenter, Jarcks, rules out the possibility of the crime having been committed by any member of the crew.

After I had questioned Count Posodini, Detective Officer Neame told me that he felt certain that this man's face was familiar to him, and that he had him on our criminal records. Every effort should, therefore, be made to obtain full particulars regarding him at once.

Posodini, Mr. Rocksave, Mr. Stodart.
At 7:45 to 8:00—Steward, Rocksave, Stodart, Bishop, Lady Welter.
At 8:00 to 8:15—Steward, Rocksave, Stodart, Bishop, Lady Welter.
At 8:15 to 8:25—Steward, Stodart, Bishop, Lady Welter, Mr. Hayashi.
At 8:25 to 8:30—Steward, Stodart, Bishop, Lady Welter, Hayashi, Posodini.
At 8:30 to 8:32—Steward, Stodart, Bishop, Lady Welter, Hayashi, Posodini, and Mr. and Mrs. Jocelyn.
At 8:32 to 8:33—As above with cabin steward who reported Blane missing.

UNVOUCHED FOR TIMES
THE following table shows the number of minutes in the period 7:45 to 8:30, when each member of the party was not under direct observation of one of the others and, therefore, at liberty to commit the crime.
MRS. JOCELYN: In the lounge till 7:45. Returned, changed to lounge at 8:25. Unvouched for time full period of 45 minutes.
COUNT POSODINI: In lounge till 7:45. Returned changed to lounge at 8:25. Unvouched for time (in period) 40 minutes.
MR. ROCKSAVAGE: In lounge till 8:10. Returned changed to lounge at 8:35. Unvouched for time (in period) 20 minutes.
MR. STODART: In lounge at 7:40. Remained there till 8:33. Unvouched for time (in period) nil.

BISHOP OF BUDE: Came below with Lady Welter at 7:05. In lounge changed at 8:00. Unvouched for time (in period) 15 minutes.
LADY WELTER: Came below with the Bishop at 7:05. In lounge changed at 8:05. Unvouched for time (in period) 20 minutes.
MR. HAYASHI: Went to cabin at 6:10. In lounge changed at 8:15. Unvouched for time (in period) 30 minutes.
MR. JOCELYN: Came below with Miss Rocksave at 7:30 (approx.). In lounge changed at 8:30. Unvouched for time full period of 45 minutes.
MISS ROCKSAVAGE: Came below with Mr. Jocelyn 7:15 (approx.). In lounge changed at 8:40. Unvouched for time full period of 45 minutes.

TIMES ACCOUNTED FOR BY PRESENCE IN THE LOUNGE
Analysis of people eliminating each other from suspicion by their presence in the lounge from time when Blane was known to be alive until he was reported missing.
THE foregoing tables rule out the lounge steward, Cane, as he was only absent from the lounge for two periods of two minutes each during the time under review.

The only other person who is entirely ruled out is the secretary, Nicholas Stodart, as he was in the lounge during the whole period under review.

I then proceeded to make an analysis of possible motives.

POSSIBLE MOTIVES
MRS. JOCELYN: Nil, as far as is known at the moment.
COUNT POSODINI: Nil, as far as is known at the moment.

MR. ROCKSAVAGE: Blane's death will send the shares of the Blane companies down to zero and, in their present precarious state, possibly cause them to crash altogether. That would suit Rocksave's book for better than the proposed amalgamation. Blane also stated his fear that Rocksave might attempt his life, before he died. Motive in Rocksave's case is, therefore, strong.

THE BISHOP OF BUDE: Nil, as far as is known at the moment.
LADY WELTER: As the largest holder in the Rocksave companies she stands to benefit by Blane's death. She may have other assets outside the Rocksave companies, however, so, although there is motive, in her case it is weak.

MR. HAYASHI: Nil, as far as is known at the moment but, as he is concerned in the world soap interest, he may well have a motive which has not yet come to light.

MR. JOCELYN: Nil, as far as is known at the moment but, as a dependent of Lady Welter, his interest marches with hers, so it is possible that he might have acted at her instigation.

MISS ROCKSAVAGE: Nil, as far as is known at the moment. Having analyzed the information gained from first statements, as above, I then went below to examine the dead man's property. An inventory disclosed the usual travel apparel, dress suits, shoes, shirts, hats, etc., and in addition two tins (100 each) Balkan Sorbarie cigarettes, one bottle Phenice, one bottle Gum Tragacanth, a 22 Scott Webley automatic, unloaded, and bullets for same; an electric torch, and a postcard addressed only "Bolitho Blane, Esq.," found in right-hand top dressing table drawer.

The last item on the inventory is of considerable interest as it comes from the Japanese, Inosuke Hayashi. It is on a yacht postcard and, therefore, written after Hayashi's arrival on board.

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Feb. 5 (U.P.)—New activities of state departments have a mushroom growth, once started. Senator Claud C. Westerfield of Dallas is convinced.

"Let a state department start some kind of work with one man, and first thing you know they have a whole staff at work on it and ask more money for still more employees," Westerfield said.

"Why, there isn't any business in the country that could survive if it was run the way state departments are operated. They do not use ordinary business sense. Take the liquor board. There seem to be 10 employees for every liquor dealer and yet they can't enforce the law."

Westerfield's outburst resulted from attempts to get a $15,000 emergency appropriation to continue checking scholastic rolls upon which the state pays its aid to school districts at the rate of $10 for each enrolled scholastic. An appropriation for checking the rolls was made at the last regular session. This was exhausted and $10,000 more was granted by Gov. James V. Allred as a deficiency appropriation. Senators thought that ought to finish the job, but Sen. Grady Woodruff said the checking force would quit at the end of the week for lack of money if an emergency appropriation were not made.

"Good," said Westerfield. "Then, maybe we will get rid of some of them."

While in an economy mood, the Senate questioned some of its own expenditures and their benefits to the state. One doubted if the state investigating committee that tolled for two years, investigating alleged frauds in school rolls, fee abuse and other matters, really saved the state anything.

Appealed to for an opinion, Finance Chairman John Redditt, agreed that the committee's cost probably was as great as its savings. The state auditor has estimated that the substitution of salaries for fees has cost the state $700,000 a year, rather than decreasing expense.

Sen. Allan Shivers of Fort Arthur was eager to explain the features of a labor bill he presented to the session. It required seats for women industrial employees.

Shivers was stumped for a quick answer when an inquiring newspaper reporter asked, "If you provide seats for the women, how are you going to tell when they are working and when they are striking?"

Senate Secretary Bob Barber set some sort of a record for continuous reading last Thursday. First he read a 3,000 word message from Governor James V. Allred to the legislature. As he peeped and took a swallow of water for his parched tongue and throat, Sen. Eph Davis of Brownwood sent up an equally long campaign speech delivered by the Governor at Tyler last July. Farker read that also. But he was not through. Sen. T. J. Holbrook of Galveston dragged out the opening speech of the Governor's campaign for re-election, which was delivered at Waxahatchie. Barber had to read about a thousand words of that before the senate decided it had enough.

A painting of the signing of the Texas Declaration of Independence has been placed in the lobby of the state Capitol, with possibility that it may be purchased by the legislature for permanent display.

Historical paintings now owned by the state include battle scenes at the Alamo and San Jacinto, the surrender of Santa Anna, and glorious portraits of Stephen F. Austin, General Sam Houston and David Crockett.

The biennial battle is on between speeding legislators and Austin police. Legislators can avoid appearing in Austin's city court on speeding charges by claiming legislative immunity from arrest during session. This has been criticized severely in Austin and some of the legislators now face the music just like other traffic offenders. One House member paid $35.80 without a murmur.

Troubles of the State Game Commission proved an entertaining diversion for legislators who were beginning to bog down pretty deep in their own troubles. It presented the queer angle of Department Secretary Will Tucker appealing to Gov. Allred to decide between Tucker, who has been executive of the department since long before Allred became governor, and two of the Commissioners whom Allred had appointed. The governor's appointees didn't see why the governor should be "bothered with details."

Just what the charges were against Tucker did not seem clear. Various reports were that Tucker had not followed out wishes of the commission in distribution of game and fish for propagation purposes; that he was unipular with the state legislature; that under his administration department boats were used for pleasure trips by those political powerful; and that game wardens "wet nursed" official hunting parties.

One of the commissioners objecting to Tucker was outspoken Jack O'Brien, sports writer of the San Antonio Evening News. He conducts a widely-read sports column. "No

CISCO BOXERS WIN DECISIONS IN FOUR BOUTS

By TOMMY La MORE Seven force boxing bouts were staged at the Cisco gym Wednesday as a fitting sequel to the basketball game between the Lobos and Mineral Wells last Mountaineers. The toe-to-toe give-and-take of several of the combats had the fans standing in their seats and cheering lustily as the lads waded to their tasks and followed the lead of their Irish blood that forgot caution and everything but hit the opponent before he could raise a defense.

The first fight of the evening was between two lightweights, W. A. Walls, 165 pounds, and Albanath, 160 pounds of Mineral Wells. In the first round both boys stood toe-to-toe and slugged it on landing mighty hard blows to the body and head. In the second round Albanath settled down to nice fighting using his left to ward off Wall's attacks. Several times in this round Walls was stung by lefts crossed with rights. In the third round both boys were tired and very little fighting was done the first minute, but after the boys had waded their second wind, their actions brought the fans to their feet, screaming as rights and lefts flew so fast that the human eye could not follow. At the bell both boys were so weary that they could hardly stand. The decision was declared by the fans as a draw.

In the second fight of the evening Robert Cone of Cisco was matched against Lyons of Mineral Wells, in a fast bout. In the first round Lyons could do nothing against Cone's popping left that caught him every time he rushed. In this round Lyons never hit Cone a time and he was plastered all over the ring by the easy-going Robert. In the second round Lyons never made any attempt to wade in and had easy going till near the end of the round when Cone caught him with lefts and rights to the head and body, then Referee Barton stepped in and ended the action for that round. In the third round Cone came from his corner like a bullet and was all over Lyons. Again Referee Barton stepped in and ended the fighting for good when Lyons was completely out on his feet.

In the third bout Joe Dan Johnson, 112 pounds, and Leland Walker, 110 pounds, of Mineral Wells were matched together. Both boys fought the first round like the fury of wildcats with much slugging being done. As the end of this round neared, these boys settled down to some real scientific fighting but this was short lived as the bell rang ending the first round. In the second round Walker rushed from his corner swinging wildly but was met with a hard left crossed with a right that set him back on his defense. Again he rushed to be met with a left from the cool Johnson, who the time, wasted no time in crossing with a right that was packed with TNT. Leland hit the floor, at the count of four he started up, but fell again, after coming to his knees. This time he was out cold. Johnson made his own decision in this fight by his knockout.

In the fourth fight Walter Boyett, 140 met Griffin, 145, of Mineral Wells. In the first round Griffin came in wide open and was met with a right to the face that set him down for the count of two, coming to his feet again he was met with another right to the chin and was counted out. Another Cisco lad had made his own decision.

In the fifth fight of the evening Charles McDonald, 120 pounds, and Cline of Mineral Wells, 120 pounds, were matched together. In the first round both boys put on a slugging duel and fought like this through out the round. In the second round they fought more to the fan's delight, than they did in the first round. The third round opened with more slugging and ended with the same. The majority of the fans expressed their decision as a draw.

After this fight Bob Donohoe and L. J. Donohoe put on a fight that was packed with thrills as two little boys of their size could make it.

Following this fight two more small boys were matched, they were Thurman and Callaway and they also put on a good show.

The fans seemed well pleased with the night's boxing and expressed their desire to see more real soon.

All Set to Fight Except for Foe

If they don't hurry up and go through with one of the bouts that have been talked of for Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock, his sons will be big enough to serve him as seconds when he does get a chance to risk his title. The boys are getting experience for that eventuality, too, acting as his seconds in training bouts. Jay administers the water and Howard rubs dad down during a workout in New York City.

Neck's Like Father's, Not Mother's

What most folks want to know about the baby son of Mu Swai is whether he has a long neck like his mother, one of the Burmese giraffe-necked women from the Fautshan states featured at the Olympia Circus in London. But, as you can see, the bouncing boy's head is coupled close like anyone else's. Mother, however, has gone to great lengths to stretch her neck to the limit of Burmese beauty.

QUINS GO COASTING, SNOW OR NO SNOW

If you don't want to get out in the winter because of lack of snow, don't think you're the only one. The Donne quintuplets, too, have been faced by a very unusual lack of snow even so far north as Callander. So the best they could do with their toboggan was push it up on boxes and "just pretend." Yvonne, Cecile, Emile, Marie, and Annette, left to right, are doing just that, and enjoying it, too, as you can see.

IT'S SUMMER-WINTER BALANCE FOR QUINS

Little ones that would not get out in winter sports, then at least you can go back to summer sports. Here the Donne quintuplets, too, have been faced by a very unusual lack of snow even so far north as Callander. That's Yvonne at left, hanging on for dear life and Emile and Marie in the middle, coasting down with their toboggan. Cecile and Annette on the right end are more serious about maintaining a balance.

Good News travels fast!

BAD NEWS used to have the reputation for speed. But such is the demand for the good things of life today that good news travels even faster.

The carriers of many of the good tidings that every one is eager to hear are right before you. They are the advertisements in this newspaper. They bring good news about soap and cereals sedans and cigarettes. Good news for the business man. Good news for the housewife. Good news for every one who believes in comfort and happiness.

Let an automobile maker in Detroit or an orange grower in Florida develop a finer product. You will hear about it—not in a couple of years, not just "some time." The whole new story will be rushed to you on the wings of the greatest good-news service in the world—ADVERTISING.

Advertisements are filled with the kind of good words you like to find. They tell you of new products, new improvements in well-known merchandise, new values and new ways to increase your well-being. And always they tell you not only where and how to purchase goods of assured merit, but also the way to be certain of obtaining 100 cents' worth of value for every dollar you spend. Read them—and get their good news regularly!

TEXAS - TEXANS
 In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters, not aiming to the State and it's people. As evidence of good faith inquirers must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. How early were efforts made to colonize Germans in Texas and with what result? G. F.
 A. About 1818 a Prussian military officer named Hecke, who had visited Texas, urged through the German press the purchase of Texas from Spain and the establishment of a Texas German colony. While nothing came directly from this suggestion, a ship bearing German immigrants reached Texas in 1834, and one-tenth of those engaged in the war for independence were Germans. By 1840 there were some 10,000 Germans in Texas and the number had doubled in 1845.

Q. When did Prince Ferdinand von Solms Braunfels come to Texas? G. F.
 A. In 1844, bringing about 100 families, who landed at Indianola and later founded the settlement of New Braunfels, which was named for him. Von Solms was succeeded by von Muebach, who located several thousand of his countrymen north of San Antonio and west of Austin in 1845 and 1846 and founded the town of Fredericksburg in 1846.

Q. What is the Oil-World Exposition? P. O. S.
 A. Executives of the larger oil companies of Texas have organized the "Oil-World Exposition, Inc." and are planning a world exposition of all phases of the oil industry at Houston beginning about Oct. 1, 1937. A huge coliseum, to be named the Jesse Jones Coliseum, costing $1,377,000, is being erected and will house the exposition of which Ed. G. Lenzner, Houston is general manager.

Q. Who was the first white child born in Brown county? T. J.
 A. Josephine Hanna, daughter of Dave Hanna, born March 26, 1857, in Hanna Valley, which is now in Mills county. Tabitha Chandler, daughter of Welcome W. Chandler, and who married W. D. Stafford, was the second child born in the county, Nov. 19, 1857. Mrs. Stafford died in Dallas July 10, 1873. All rights reserved.

SAME AS 13 TRUMPS
 MILL CITY, Ore. (U.P.)—It happens once in a lifetime. Playing contract bridge, Mrs. J. F. Potter dealt this hand to Mrs. R. F. Saucier, ace, king, queen, jack, ten and three small diamonds; the ace and king of hearts, the ace and king of clubs and the ace of spades. Mrs. Saucier made a grand slam in diamonds.

WOMAN'S AILMENTS
 Mrs. M. C. Ison of 621 W. 18th St., North Little Rock, Ark., said: "Some years ago I became so nervous that I really felt I could not go on any longer. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic and I soon noticed signs of improvement. I took the second bottle and felt more, felt better and was soon enjoying life again. VEGGS TURN TO EGGS
 PASADENA, Cal. (UP)—Some people might think it is a great come-down from veggs to eggs. But when two of the former were unable to crack a local safe, they contented themselves with carrying away a case of eggs.

98-Day Maritime Strike Ended Today

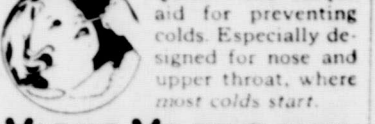

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5 (UP)—The Pacific coast reopened its strike-locked ports today. A compromise settlement ended the 98 day strike of 40,000 maritime workers. Shipowners and workers said it was a "settlement without victory for either side."

The agreements provided pay increases from $10 to $15 per month cash payments for overtime and working conditions standardized as much as possible.

It was the longest and costliest strike tying up 300 ships from Seattle to San Diego, choking off food line from Hawaii to Alaska and costing $830,000,000 in lost business and wages.

Boy Scouts Adopt Jamboree Insignia

In connection with the 27th annual Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, the Boy Scouts of America has released the design of the official insignia more than 25,000 boys will wear at the National Scout Jamboree at Washington, D. C., where they will camp together from June 30 to July 9.

The compass is used in the design because the Scouts will come from "every nook and cranny" of the nation in response to President Roosevelt's invitation.

 part in this event. They will camp together for 10 days along the Potomac river on 350 acres of Federally-owned land loaned by Congress for the occasion.

Because the Jamboree will be attended by Boy Scouts of other land it is expected that ambassadors and other representatives of the participating nations will join with President Roosevelt and other leaders at the nation's capital in taking part in several Jamboree activities.

Educational Survey Being Made in County

JIM M. BEAVERS of Cisco is one of eight state workers engaged in a scholastic survey of 120 counties of Eastland, Callahan, Stephens and Echackelford, where-in they are locating each farm and children with reference to accessibility to bus routes and roads.

The survey is intensive, said Mr. Beavers. Each child is named and information as to whether high school or grade, together with other data of interest to the state department of education at Austin which is making an exhaustive survey of the state and its school data.

R. E. White, with headquarters in Abilene, is district supervisor of the work.

A complete upheaval in educational program and curriculum is occupying the attention of educators, not only in Texas but all over the United States, and this information may be useful in re-classifying and re-establishing schools over Texas.
