with taste and, undoubtedly, beauty, since he had married her. Or would he be the kind of a man who would marry a girl if she were not beautiful? Daphne felt like a fool for giving it a moment's thought. If there were little Smiths, she need not worry about them. They'd be nicely disciplined and their father would see that her things were well protected. He had the same kind of love for beautiful things she herself had, she knew. Yes, Larry Smith belonged. She knew that he would find in Brett Hall the same things that she and Tom Brett had lovedloved every minute of the changing beauty that came with each new season. He would be, she felt, the kind of man who would wonder, as she and Tom had wondered, with awe at the miracle of each new spring and autumn.

WHEN he had gone, Daphne sa that she had more than an hour until it was time for her to dress for her return to the city. She went back to Tom's study and curled up in his worn leather chair with her knees under her chin the way she had when she was a long-legged, big-eyed child. The ghost of the little girl in a pinafore with a slipping red ribbon on her black curls sat there. Sat there now, seeing her yesterdays and longing for tomorrows that were postponed.

About Our Friends-

every family in Cisco has been ill and in many cases that sickness has been serious-Little merchandising has been done and many merchants have been discouraged. . .

But with March just emerging. perhaps the sun will shine and the eternal youth of spring enter our beings, bringing buoyant optimistie thoughts that wil forget mad business conditions only remembering that life is joyous and things are never half so bad as they seem-ness and we will get about wha demand from life . . .
