

CISCO DAILY NEWS

CISCO, TEXAS—1,614 feet above the sea, 5 lakes of water; 5 rail exits; 6 paved highway exits; 127 blocks of brick streets; good hotels; A-1 public schools and Randolph College; no mosquitoes; no malaria or typhoid.

FIFTEENTH YEAR

(UP) MEANS UNITED PRESS SERVICE

CISCO, TEXAS, TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 1937

FOUR PAGES TODAY

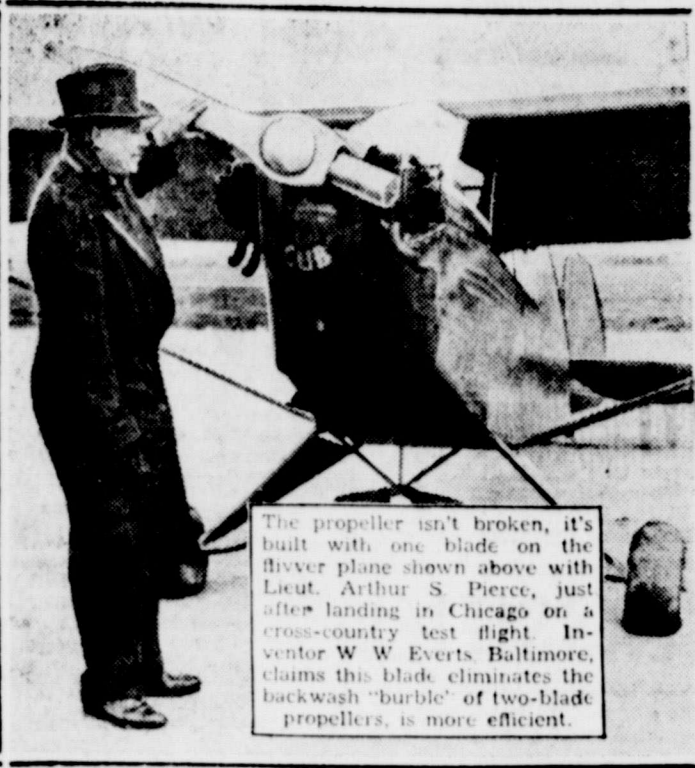

ESTABLISHED FEB. 11, 1919

LAGUARDIA UTTERS INSULT TO HITLER

About Our Friends

By STEPHEN A. LONG
Mrs. D. R. Hale, of the Sandwich Shop, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Franklin, of the Community Natural Gas company, see the Fat Stock Show which they enjoyed immensely... Mary Michael pinch-hitting at sandwich shop while the Hales' away... Mrs. H. L. Dyer... Mrs. Blanche Van Horn chat... Mrs. Esther Hale downtown... R. N. Clark and Frank Walker talking about business matters...

Queer Propeller Cuts Out Burble

The propeller isn't broken, it's built with one blade on the flyover plane shown above with Lieut. Arthur S. Pierce, just after landing in Chicago on a cross-country test flight. Inventor W. W. Everts, Baltimore, claims this blade eliminates the backwash "burble" of two-blade propellers, is more efficient.

STRIKERS ARE UNHEEDFUL OF COURT DECREE

DETROIT, March 16, (UP)—Governor Frank Murphy strove to maintain peace in this strike-ridden industrial area today while 6,000 sit-down strikers indicated they would ignore an injunction ordering them to vacate nine Chrysler Corporation plants by 8 p. m. Wednesday. Officials of the United Automobile Workers union who sanction a wave of sit-down and walkout strikes that have made more than 30,000 workers jobless in the automobile industry, declared that the Chrysler strikers must decide for themselves whether to obey the injunction. Unless the plants are vacated, Circuit Judge Allen Campbell ruled that the strikers would be subject to a $100,000 fine to be levied against their "land, goods and chattels." Pickets paraded in front of Chrysler's factories, where an estimated 2,000 sit-downers are in possession, waving banners "We are sticking."

Auto Strikers and Families Reunited by Signs

AFL SPLIT ON COURT REFORM OF PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today revealed a split among leaders of the American Federation of Labor over support of President Roosevelt's judiciary program. During the testimony by President William Green of the federation supporting Mr. Roosevelt's plan, Senator Frederick Van Nuys, democrat, Indiana, submitted a letter from William Hutcheson, president of the powerful Federation Carpenters' Union, opposing the court proposal. Green replied that he was presenting the opinion of the federation's executive council, which the opinion of the federation's executive council which he believed coincided with that of "ninety per cent of the members of the A. F. L."

H. V. Davenport Is Resting Well With Broken Neck

Henry V. Davenport, county commissioner from Precinct 1, who is in the West Texas Clinic and Hospital in Ranger with a broken neck, was reported by doctor today as being resting as comfortably as possible under the circumstances and his condition was considered favorable. Davenport sustained the broken neck Saturday evening when the car in which he and members of a road crew under his direction, overturned along the highway just east of Ranger at the City Park. Other occupants of the car were not injured. The injured man was rushed to the hospital in Ranger where he was given treatment for his injuries and X-ray pictures of the break were taken.

WAITER STRIKE CLOSES HOTELS TO ALL GUESTS

DETROIT, March 16 (UP)—One shot was fired today in a short fight at the closed Book-Cadillac hotel, between strikers and a guard. Four of Detroit's largest hotels have closed their doors to incoming guests today in a sudden move to thwart sit-down strike plans of the Waiters and Waitresses' Union. William Walker, president of the Hotel Association, announced that 2500 guests now occupying rooms in the Book-Cadillac, Fort Shelby, Detroit Leland and the Stratler probably would be advised to leave. At least, he said, they would be warned that all services would be discontinued. The dramatic shutdown came after a night long conference between Mayor Frank Couzens, the four hotel managers and union officials. The conference had been called to seek a settlement of a sit-down strike of Statler employees that had disrupted service to 700 guests.

GERMAN WORD WOULD MEAN DUEL PHRASE

NEW YORK, March 16 (UP)—Mayor Fiorelli LaGuardia's latest attack on Adolf Hitler was expected today to intensify at Washington and Berlin the strained diplomatic relations caused by his former denunciation of the German Counselor. Using a German phrase, LaGuardia said last night at an Anti-Nazi meeting that Hitler was not worthy of being met on a field of honor, "personally or diplomatically." Those familiar with the language said it was the "worst possible insult." If muttered by a German to a German, they said, it would mean a challenge to a duel.

GERMAN PRESS ASKS ATTACKS BE CURBED

BERLIN, March 16 (UP)—The Nazi organ Der Angriff, demanded angrily today that President Roosevelt intervene to curb attacks in New York on Adolf Hitler and Nazism. Andrieff carried under large headlines on its front page an account of anti-Nazi meeting in Madison Square Garden in New York last night at which Mayor Fiorelli LaGuardia, John L. Lewis and General Hugh S. Johnson were speakers. The line across the page in big type read: "American Jew leaders insult the German nation." The heading underneath said: "Will Roosevelt intervene?"

WASHINGTON READS NEWS IN SILENCE

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—Mayor Fiorelli LaGuardia's renewed attack on Adolf Hitler today was received in silence in Washington diplomatic circles.

April 4 Proclaimed Texas Clean-Up Week

AUSTIN, March 16 (UP)—The annual Clean-up and Fire Prevention week will be held April 4 to 11, according to word just received from Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. In observance of this week there will be a joint effort between the State Fire Insurance Department and the State Department of Health.

MAN HELD IN SWT WATER TO BE QUESTIONED

SWEETWATER, March 16 (UP)—A man who gave the name of E. H. Akin was held today for questioning in connection with Jefferson, Texas, of Sheriff J. A. Brown. The man was taken in custody by city police in the local railroad yard. Police headquarters, he appeared irritable and continually repeated that he was "wounded in Jefferson for the sheriff slaying."

Aunt of Ciscoans Dies Monday Night

Word has been received here of the sudden death of Mrs. Effie Crow of Fort Worth, aunt of Mrs. C. R. Sanford and Mrs. Fred Hayes. Mrs. Crow died at her residence Monday evening, funeral services have not been announced, probably sometime Wednesday or Thursday. Mrs. Sanford and Mrs. Hayes will attend.

TEXAS GYPSUM FOURTH

WASHINGTON, D. C. (UP)—Texas ranked fourth among the states for gypsum production during 1935, figures released by the United States Department of Commerce have revealed.

WEATHER

EAST TEXAS—Mostly cloudy, rising temperature tonight and Wednesday.
WEST TEXAS—Mostly cloudy tonight and Wednesday; warmer today and in north and east portion Wednesday.

LIONS BEGIN SALES DRIVE OF CRIPPLED CHILDREN SEALS

Lions club committees for the sale of crippled-children stamps for Easter, have organized and will begin the drive at once. One-half of the funds secured will go to the Texas Society for Crippled Children, the remaining half to remain in Cisco for the relief of children in Cisco. The sale drive in Cisco is in charge of Horace Conley, Jack Anderson, R. C. Giles, Chapman Williamson, O. L. Stamey and A. G. Tuttle. B. E. McGlamery is supervisor of the State Crippled Children division which covers about 46 counties.

Improved Cotton Planned for Boys

At a mass meeting of farmers, shiners, and cotton buyers in Eastland county Saturday, March 13, plans were made to encourage increased yields per acre and improved quality of cotton growing by 4-8 club boys of the county. It was generally agreed at the meeting that the quality and per-acre yield of cotton grown in Eastland county must be increased or farmers will be forced to abandon cotton growing as an unprofitable crop.

EXPECT INCOME TAX TO TOTAL $840,000,000

WASHINGTON, March 16 (UP)—Treasury officials counted the greatest deluge of income tax returns since 1924 today, confident that they would total $840,000,000 almost double the income tax collections of the first quarter of 1936, and approximately $150,000,000 more than the collections of the prosperity first quarter.

FORT WORTH CASH GRAIN

Wheat—No. 1 hard, 1.51-1.52.
Corn—No. 2 white, 1.33%-1.34%; No. 2 yellow, 1.25%-1.26%.
Oats—No. 2 red, 61-62; No. 3 red, 60-61.
Barley—No. 2, 1.01-1.02; No. 3, 1.00-1.01.
Milo—No. 2 yellow, 2.11-2.13; No. 2 yellow, 2.08-2.10.
Kaffir—No. 2 white, 2.11-2.13; No. 3 white, 2.08-2.10.
Middling Cotton, 14.35.

21 Eastland County Ranchers Sign 23,242 Acres in Range Program

Twenty-one Eastland county ranchers and livestock farmers controlling 23,242 acres of range land have signed to participate in the 1937 Range Conservation Program, according to Elmo V. Cook, county agent. "When they signed an 'Application for Determination of Grazing Capacity,' these 21 ranchers have not obligated themselves in the least," Cook stated, "but have only asked for an inspection of their range carrying capacity in order to determine how much they can earn in the range program. If they don't care to participate, they need not." The range program is a part of the Agricultural Conservation Program, which also embraces the Farm Program. Applications for participation in the range program are still available for those who have not signed.

Lone Star Group Meet Here Tonight

The Lone Star Gas system will have a safety meeting and a busy supper at the Laguna tonight, 7:15 for the employee group in this section. Distinguished heads of Dallas, division superintendents, assistants and employees numbering about 40, will be present. Among those attending: Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Grant, Dallas; Alton Alford, asst. safety superintendent, Dallas; M. L. Bird, superintendent, Abilene; L. D. Black, Eastland manager, and employees; E. K. Smith, pipe line superintendent, Western division; L. E. Depew, Pueblo, asst. pipeline superintendent, and employees; J. E. Johnston, superintendent, Pueblo gasoline plant, and the Cisco group. J. E. Johnston will have charge of the meeting.

Episcopal Church To Have Communion

There will be communion service at the Episcopal church Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock, it has been announced. C. C. Keller, rector, of Mineral Wells, will preside.

Auxiliary Program at High School Tonight

The American Legion Auxiliary entertainment consisting of a varied program that is said to be very catchy in every number, will be staged at the First Christian Church, along with a banquet tonight at 8:30 Rev. Bryan Keathley, national chaplain of the American Legion is to be a special feature of the program.

OLD TYPEWRITERS PRIZED

LCNDON (UP)—In a garret in a house in Ashted, Surrey, Commander R. T. Gould keeps his collection of typewriters—the second largest in the world. There are 40 50 and 60 year old machines, some ribbonless, some fantailed and some with wooden parts.

Chief Perdue and Constable Gushon back from Fort Worth where

Chief Perdue and Constable Gushon back from Fort Worth where they were on duty during the trial of the Cleavenger case.

P. CLEAVENGER BODY DELAYED IN SHIPMENT

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon, 3 p. m., at the New Federal home for Page Cleavenger, 35, who was killed in an explosion in a machine shop at Monday about 9 a. m. The body will arrive at 4:17 Wednesday morning and the funeral will be held during the morning, it was stated. Rev. M. H. Applewhite will officiate.

Homemaking Girls Stage Good Program

The Homemaking department girls staged a program today in their club room which was entertaining as well as educational in scope. The program was: Club Crede, Thelma Clay; High School Crede, Dorothy Fern Short. A humorous vein was included which was, Edna and Tucker, Madeleine puppet; How to Preserve Children, Gloria Pippen; Cedar Trayedy, Helen Lenz.

KILLED FIGHTING

Several firemen were fatally injured fighting a fire in the Osuna building at the village of Kamimino, 100 miles from Tokyo, the whole office was informed today by dispatches from Shizuoka.

Be Sure to See American Legion Auxiliary Program Tonight at 7:30

CISCO DAILY NEWS

Published By
THE CISCO PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY
304-306 Avenue D, Cisco, Texas

MEMBER UNITED PRESS
MEMBER ADVERTISING BUREAU
TEXAS DAILY PRESS LEAGUE

Entered at the Postoffice in Cisco, Texas, as Second Class Mail Matter.

Publication Days: Afternoon (except Saturday) and Sunday Morning.

W. H. LAROQUE Editor and Manager
FRUETT LAROQUE Advertising Manager
PEARL SQUAGLIA U. P. Operator-Bookkeeper
LARA RUPP Society Editor
LAWRENCE BOLLOWELL Intertype Operator
HILMER W. SWENSON Linotype Operator
WHEELER PEARCE Stereotype-Pressman
BILLY DUNN Mailer

Any error made in advertisements will be gladly corrected upon being brought to attention of the publishers and the liability of this paper is limited to the amount of space consumed by the error in the advertisement.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the editor.

What's News Today!

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce has objectives to be accomplished this year in the way of being of assistance to the community," said Edward Lee, newly-elected president of that body in a conversation today.

"We have two main objectives to accomplish this year," he said. "The major activity is securing a park and a CCC Camp for Cisco and we believe our changes are especially promising since we notice that 100,000 more boys are to be used over the country. This means more park improvements and we believe Cisco stands a good chance of getting the park if boys' work is to be continued.

"We have a committee working at this matter and they are keeping in close touch with developments."

"Our second objective is to promote trade in Cisco and good will for Cisco among the outlying communities. We are going to constantly endeavor to promote trade activity in Cisco and for Cisco. Any good ideas and plans that anyone may have will be welcomed," Mr. Lee continued.

These are commendable activities and Mr. Lee thinks every person in Cisco should be willing to put a shoulder to the wheel and aid the Jaycees in their efforts along these lines.

Sit-down strikers in the Chrysler automobile plants at Detroit have been given notice they must abandon buildings or be subject to property levy to care for a $10,000,000 penalty fixed by the courts. About 5,000 men are effected in the order. Strike leaders think the men will not obey the order but will risk the wrath of the court.

M. S. Eccles, chairman of the Federal Board proposes higher taxes on incomes and profits to balance the budget. While House and senate members cautioned against raising taxes, he said that inflation of wages and prices could be just as disastrous as deflation. He thought higher interest rates and "tight" money was not the remedy.

John Lewis, Hugh Johnson and Mayor LaGuardia, hot headed leaders of the fiery type, hurl bitter words at Hitler, which act is not thought conducive to a forgetting of the incident that was decided to let pass. Such doctrines as Hitler and Stalin promulgates are not doctrines of peace and liberty, they say in effect.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY D. FUCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—The neutrality law which Congress will pass may close several roadways along which this nation might stumble into the next European war. But there will be in it no assurance of peace, such as might lead toward shaving off a little of the 1937-38 budget provision of a billion dollars for the army and navy.

The Pittman bill has more industry features than the bill introduced by Chairman McReynolds of the House Foreign Affairs committee, and it is believed probable these added mandatory items will appear in the act as finally approved by both houses.

Under the Pittman measure, no arms, ammunition or implements of war may be exported to belligerent nations after a state of war begins to exist.

In the last war the Germans found their troops being killed by American shells when, at the same time, they couldn't get American food because of a blockade.

Bitterness arising from a feeling the United States was not being neutral, helped create the German frame of mind which was a factor in bringing us into the war.

In case of a civil war the President would be authorized to decide whether the situation was dangerous enough, with regard to our neutrality, to declare a munitions embargo.

No American citizens would be permitted to travel on the ships of belligerent nations. (Remember the Lusitania?)

The Pittman bill gives the President power to list nations, in addition to munitions, which American ships would be prohibited from transporting to any belligerent.

It lays down a drastic "cash and carry" principle by forbidding export of any materials whatever to belligerents unless all ownership and interest therein has been transferred to the foreign purchaser before the materials leave the country.

Loans and credits to belligerents are prohibited. American vessels are forbidden to transport any arms or ammunition to belligerents, and the President is given power to prevent American ports from being used as supply stations for belligerent ships.

Arming of American merchant vessels would be prohibited. None of this applies to any republic in this hemisphere engaged in war against a non-American state.

The somewhat milder McReynolds bill differs in that the "cash and carry" principle is left as a discretionary power with the President, instead of being mandatory. It also differs in its omission of the prohibition against arming merchant vessels, in its provision making the ban on American travel by belligerent ships discretionary rather than mandatory, and its inclusion of a ban on solicitation of contributions in this country for belligerent nations.

Neither bill prohibits American ships from carrying non-embargoed supplies into war zones. Neither provides anything which would prevent the building up of a huge war trade with whatever nation controlled the seas.

"Oh, so that's the way it is! You're going to be the Magnificent Brute, are you? Well, listen to me."

"I thought I had the floor!" She looked properly subdued.

"You are not only going to marry me but you are going to marry me tomorrow. Hand in hand we are going down . . ."

She captured one of those hands. "Darling," she pleaded, "don't lose your breath. Take it easy and tell me what this all means."

"It means that we are going to build castles in Spain."

"That's exactly what it sounds like to me. You're very lucid, Mr. Smith."

"If you'll sit on my knee, I'll be very lucid. There! Well, I'm—we're sailing for Spain on Friday. You and I, Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Is that clear?"

Daphne got off his lap and walked over to a table. She fingered the petals of the white blossoms.

"Larry, don't you think it would be better if you went alone? Then, when you've got everything, we could . . . could have a real wedding and a honeymoon."

Silence. Perplexed silence.

"Don't you want to go, Daphne?" Very quickly she said, "Of course I do but . . . but . . ."

"Are you going to give me any more of that line about my responsibilities and not being able to afford a wife?"

"Oh, no," she said and took two of the flowers from the bowl. She studied the effect carefully.

"Can you give me any good reason why you don't want to go?"

"No," she said. "Only . . . Silence. Hurt silence."

SHE put the flowers back in the bowl. "Larry, please don't ask me why, only please don't ask me to marry you before you go. I'll marry you later if you still want me to."

"Daphne!"

"Yes, Larry," she said after a while.

"Don't you want to tell me why you want me to wait?"

"Well," she said brightly. "You know my job . . . that is, you know how hard I've been working on the Georgian account?"

"He didn't say anything."

"Larry, my campaign has been approved. That is, the one suggesting the tour across the country. Now, they seem to feel that I know more about it than anyone else and so they want me to manage it. That means that I will have to go."

"I see," he said tonelessly. "You can't, of course, let your agency down."

If Daphne's nerves hadn't been on edge she would have understood his sarcasm. As it was, she said, "There is that point. After all, I do owe my company something. It has supported me, and I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.

"Yes," she said, "I've got to do it."

"Then I guess it's goodby." Without another word to her he went out the door.

Daphne didn't cry. She went into her bedroom and began emptying the drawers of her dresser. She piled her lingerie in neat little bundles. She washed her collars and cuffs and packed them in a box. She straightened out her check book and polished the set of silver bowls. And all the time she was saying, all lovers have quarrels, Larry will telephone me tonight and we'll both break down and he will understand and it will be all right.

But Larry didn't call that night. Or the next day. Or any of the days that followed until it was time for Daphne to leave.

Larry had meant it when he said goodby.

Daphne wrote and tore up a score of notes. If he loved her, he would love her when next they met . . .

A month later, Anne Cockerell wrote to her at Detroit.

" . . . I met Larry today," she wrote. "Just spoke to him for a moment. Has anything happened between you two? I asked him if he was looking so wan because you were so far away and he said it was nothing but disappointment. Not being able to go to Spain, he felt that the war was a personal injury. I congratulated him for six years now. And I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.

"Yes," she said, "I've got to do it."

"Then I guess it's goodby." Without another word to her he went out the door.

Daphne didn't cry. She went into her bedroom and began emptying the drawers of her dresser. She piled her lingerie in neat little bundles. She washed her collars and cuffs and packed them in a box. She straightened out her check book and polished the set of silver bowls. And all the time she was saying, all lovers have quarrels, Larry will telephone me tonight and we'll both break down and he will understand and it will be all right.

But Larry didn't call that night. Or the next day. Or any of the days that followed until it was time for Daphne to leave.

Larry had meant it when he said goodby.

Daphne wrote and tore up a score of notes. If he loved her, he would love her when next they met . . .

A month later, Anne Cockerell wrote to her at Detroit.

" . . . I met Larry today," she wrote. "Just spoke to him for a moment. Has anything happened between you two? I asked him if he was looking so wan because you were so far away and he said it was nothing but disappointment. Not being able to go to Spain, he felt that the war was a personal injury. I congratulated him for six years now. And I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.

"Yes," she said, "I've got to do it."

"Then I guess it's goodby." Without another word to her he went out the door.

Daphne didn't cry. She went into her bedroom and began emptying the drawers of her dresser. She piled her lingerie in neat little bundles. She washed her collars and cuffs and packed them in a box. She straightened out her check book and polished the set of silver bowls. And all the time she was saying, all lovers have quarrels, Larry will telephone me tonight and we'll both break down and he will understand and it will be all right.

But Larry didn't call that night. Or the next day. Or any of the days that followed until it was time for Daphne to leave.

Larry had meant it when he said goodby.

Daphne wrote and tore up a score of notes. If he loved her, he would love her when next they met . . .

A month later, Anne Cockerell wrote to her at Detroit.

" . . . I met Larry today," she wrote. "Just spoke to him for a moment. Has anything happened between you two? I asked him if he was looking so wan because you were so far away and he said it was nothing but disappointment. Not being able to go to Spain, he felt that the war was a personal injury. I congratulated him for six years now. And I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.

"Yes," she said, "I've got to do it."

"Then I guess it's goodby." Without another word to her he went out the door.

Daphne didn't cry. She went into her bedroom and began emptying the drawers of her dresser. She piled her lingerie in neat little bundles. She washed her collars and cuffs and packed them in a box. She straightened out her check book and polished the set of silver bowls. And all the time she was saying, all lovers have quarrels, Larry will telephone me tonight and we'll both break down and he will understand and it will be all right.

But Larry didn't call that night. Or the next day. Or any of the days that followed until it was time for Daphne to leave.

Larry had meant it when he said goodby.

Daphne wrote and tore up a score of notes. If he loved her, he would love her when next they met . . .

A month later, Anne Cockerell wrote to her at Detroit.

" . . . I met Larry today," she wrote. "Just spoke to him for a moment. Has anything happened between you two? I asked him if he was looking so wan because you were so far away and he said it was nothing but disappointment. Not being able to go to Spain, he felt that the war was a personal injury. I congratulated him for six years now. And I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.

"Yes," she said, "I've got to do it."

"Then I guess it's goodby." Without another word to her he went out the door.

Daphne didn't cry. She went into her bedroom and began emptying the drawers of her dresser. She piled her lingerie in neat little bundles. She washed her collars and cuffs and packed them in a box. She straightened out her check book and polished the set of silver bowls. And all the time she was saying, all lovers have quarrels, Larry will telephone me tonight and we'll both break down and he will understand and it will be all right.

But Larry didn't call that night. Or the next day. Or any of the days that followed until it was time for Daphne to leave.

Larry had meant it when he said goodby.

Daphne wrote and tore up a score of notes. If he loved her, he would love her when next they met . . .

A month later, Anne Cockerell wrote to her at Detroit.

" . . . I met Larry today," she wrote. "Just spoke to him for a moment. Has anything happened between you two? I asked him if he was looking so wan because you were so far away and he said it was nothing but disappointment. Not being able to go to Spain, he felt that the war was a personal injury. I congratulated him for six years now. And I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.

"Yes," she said, "I've got to do it."

"Then I guess it's goodby." Without another word to her he went out the door.

Daphne didn't cry. She went into her bedroom and began emptying the drawers of her dresser. She piled her lingerie in neat little bundles. She washed her collars and cuffs and packed them in a box. She straightened out her check book and polished the set of silver bowls. And all the time she was saying, all lovers have quarrels, Larry will telephone me tonight and we'll both break down and he will understand and it will be all right.

But Larry didn't call that night. Or the next day. Or any of the days that followed until it was time for Daphne to leave.

Larry had meant it when he said goodby.

Daphne wrote and tore up a score of notes. If he loved her, he would love her when next they met . . .

A month later, Anne Cockerell wrote to her at Detroit.

" . . . I met Larry today," she wrote. "Just spoke to him for a moment. Has anything happened between you two? I asked him if he was looking so wan because you were so far away and he said it was nothing but disappointment. Not being able to go to Spain, he felt that the war was a personal injury. I congratulated him for six years now. And I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.

"Yes," she said, "I've got to do it."

"Then I guess it's goodby." Without another word to her he went out the door.

Daphne didn't cry. She went into her bedroom and began emptying the drawers of her dresser. She piled her lingerie in neat little bundles. She washed her collars and cuffs and packed them in a box. She straightened out her check book and polished the set of silver bowls. And all the time she was saying, all lovers have quarrels, Larry will telephone me tonight and we'll both break down and he will understand and it will be all right.

But Larry didn't call that night. Or the next day. Or any of the days that followed until it was time for Daphne to leave.

Larry had meant it when he said goodby.

Daphne wrote and tore up a score of notes. If he loved her, he would love her when next they met . . .

A month later, Anne Cockerell wrote to her at Detroit.

" . . . I met Larry today," she wrote. "Just spoke to him for a moment. Has anything happened between you two? I asked him if he was looking so wan because you were so far away and he said it was nothing but disappointment. Not being able to go to Spain, he felt that the war was a personal injury. I congratulated him for six years now. And I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.

"Yes," she said, "I've got to do it."

"Then I guess it's goodby." Without another word to her he went out the door.

Daphne didn't cry. She went into her bedroom and began emptying the drawers of her dresser. She piled her lingerie in neat little bundles. She washed her collars and cuffs and packed them in a box. She straightened out her check book and polished the set of silver bowls. And all the time she was saying, all lovers have quarrels, Larry will telephone me tonight and we'll both break down and he will understand and it will be all right.

But Larry didn't call that night. Or the next day. Or any of the days that followed until it was time for Daphne to leave.

Larry had meant it when he said goodby.

Daphne wrote and tore up a score of notes. If he loved her, he would love her when next they met . . .

A month later, Anne Cockerell wrote to her at Detroit.

" . . . I met Larry today," she wrote. "Just spoke to him for a moment. Has anything happened between you two? I asked him if he was looking so wan because you were so far away and he said it was nothing but disappointment. Not being able to go to Spain, he felt that the war was a personal injury. I congratulated him for six years now. And I am responsible for the success of that account. I can't very well let them down."

Larry stood up, picked up his hat.

Something inside Daphne cried out, don't let him go. Tell him that you aren't what you are trying to make yourself out to be.

And something else inside her said, he should understand you, his love should be big enough to accept what you say, he should know you are not selfish.

"Well, I guess I should have known what you've been trying to tell me for the last three months, Daphne. You haven't ever given me a reason for not accepting me, have you?"

She stood there calmly enough while her heart rocked.

"It was stupid of me not to have seen that you cared more for your job. I wish you success. I hope it's a great trip. Are you still going to make it?"

For one minute she looked back at him but he didn't know her eyes were pleading with him to tell her that he had to know why. He didn't.</

Our Friends—Modern Pistol Experts Rated Over Old Timer

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Dead-eye Dicks, who would have put to shame the "six-shooters" of the Wild West, are the 35 members of the Minneapolis Pistol and Revolver Club according to Dr. P. C. Ware, club president.

National indoor pistol shot champions of 1936, the club marksmen represent a group of steady-nerved men, whose daily occupations range from salesmen to dentists. Dr. Ware said.

"Most of our men would make the six-shooters of the cowboy era turn over in their graves," he declared. "We shoot at a bull's-eye the size of a nickel at 50 feet and hit it 80 to 90 per cent of the time. In the old days the two-gun boys shot at a man-sized target which gave him a chance to get in a telling shot."

"However," he hastened to add, "the club members are all good citizens and do their shooting only as a hobby."

They had become uneasy... thought they might... Henry and Robinson say everything... but admit their jobs are... but then they... that way... one never goes wrong... assist the legion or aux... their endeavors... D. M. Nimrod Route 1, in Cisco has about 50 hens... sells... renews his sub... to the old American and which he says he can't get... Been reading... a long time...

EASTER SEAL SALE OPENS ON MARCH 18

TO CONTINUE UNTIL EASTER

Joyous Life for Crippled Children is Theme

Buy Them and Use Them Too Is Slogan

Easter Seals for Crippled Children are sold each year at Easter time to finance the program of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and this year the seals will be placed on sale March 18th.

There's a small Miss dressed in green on the seal this year; under one chubby arm is a brown crutch but the other hand is free and is outstretched toward the golden sunlight of opportunity which signifies "Joyous Life" (this year's seal theme) for this and many such small crippled people.

The seals sell for a penny each $1.00 per sheet of 100—not a large sum, but an investment that pays big dividends in building sounder bodies and brighter minds as the Texas Society for Crippled Children continues its work.

This is the agency, state-wide organized for the purpose of looking after the welfare of Crippled Children; its program is one of cooperation with all agencies both public and private lay and professional to the end that every crippled child may inherit its birthright. This is beautifully stated in Article X of the Crippled Child's Bill of Rights which reads:

"In brief, not only for its own sake, but for the benefit of Society as a whole every crippled child has the right to the best body which modern science can help it to secure; the best mind which modern education can provide; the best training which modern vocational guidance can give; the best position in life which his physical condition, perfected as best it may, will permit; and the best opportunity for spiritual development which its environment affords."

Ninety per cent of the proceeds remain in Texas to help maintain and extend the program of the Texas Society for Crippled Children. The remainder goes to the International Society for Crippled Children, Inc., which sponsors the seal sale and spurs world wide interest in the problems of treating and preventing crippledness, and represents the state societies in sponsoring Federal legislation for the benefit of crippled children. A bill has just now been prepared by the International Society for Crippled Children for presentation to the Federal aid to states in the education of handicapped children.

Cisco Daily News want ads are a good investment.

Cisco Daily News want ads are a good investment.

Train and Bus Schedules

Texas & Pacific

Westbound—Leave Cisco—
No. 7—1:50 a. m. El Paso
No. 3—11:45 a. m. Big Spring
No. 11—4:58 p. m. El Paso

Eastbound—Leave Cisco—
No. 6—4:15 a. m. Dallas
No. 12—11:45 a. m. Dallas
No. 4—4:25 p. m. Dallas

Missouri, Kansas & Texas

Northbound—
Leave Cisco 11:15 a. m. Stamford.
Southbound—
Leave Cisco 4:25 p. m. Waco.

Cisco and Northeastern Ry.

Leave Cisco for Breckenridge and Throckmorton... 4:30 a. m.
Arrived Cisco from Breckenridge and Throckmorton... 12:50 p. m.

GREYHOUND BUS SCHEDULE

Eastbound Originating at...
El Paso, ar. Cisco... 12:47 a. m.
El Paso, ar. Cisco... 4:17 a. m.
Ablene, ar. Cisco... 8:30 a. m.
El Paso, ar. Cisco... 11:05 a. m.
Sweetwater, ar. Cisco... 1:50 p. m.
El Paso, ar. Cisco... 4:27 p. m.

Westbound Through to

El Paso, ar. Cisco... 5:40 a. m.
Sweetwater, ar. Cisco... 12:15 p. m.
El Paso, ar. Cisco... 2:05 p. m.
Ablene, ar. Cisco... 5:28 p. m.
El Paso, ar. Cisco... 7:45 p. m.
El Paso, ar. Cisco... 11:45 p. m.

Brownwood Bus Schedules

South to Brownwood
Leave Cisco—
11:05 a. m.
4:20 p. m.
Arriving in Cisco from Brownwood
12 Noon.
4:20 p. m.

Cross Plains-Coleman Bus Line Schedule

Leave Cisco—
11:05 a. m. to Cross Plains
4:20 p. m. to Coleman.
Arrives—
12:10 p. m. from Cross Plains
5:30 p. m. from Coleman.

Waco Bus Line Schedule

Leaving Cisco for Waco—
8:30 a. m.
2:05 p. m.
Arriving in Cisco from Waco—
12:10 p. m.
7:45 p. m.

Wichita Falls Bus Line

Leaving Cisco for Wichita Falls—
7:15 a. m.
12:10 p. m.
5:30 p. m.
Arriving in Cisco from Wichita Falls—
11:05 a. m.
4:20 p. m.
8:45 p. m.

Stone Reversed is Old Grave Marker

GENEVA, O. (UP)—A stone slab used as a bench in the composing room of the Geneva Free Press was turned bottom side up. The slab was a tombstone with an epitaph dated Nov. 27, 1884.

Read it first in the Daily News.

Ruby Keeler says: "Luckies are a light smoke that treat a tender throat right"

"In a way, it's easier to keep in condition as a dancer than as a singer. Exercise can keep the muscles in shape, but there are a lot of things that can go wrong with the voice and throat. It stands to reason, then, that any actress wants a cigarette that is gentle and strikes the right note with her throat. I started smoking Luckies 4 years ago. They're a light smoke that treat a tender throat right."

Ruby Keeler

LOVELY WARNER BROS. STAR NOW APPEARING IN "READY, WILLING AND ABLE"

THE FINEST TOBACCO—"THE CREAM OF THE CROP"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Miss Keeler verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

A Light Smoke "It's Toasted"—Your Throat Protection AGAINST IRRITATION—AGAINST COUGH

It's Always PERFECT SPRING WEATHER

Luxurious AIR-COOLED Trains

It is truly delightful to travel in Texas and Pacific Air-Cooled trains. All through "T&P" trains are completely Air-Cooled and Air-Conditioned. The air is not only purified but kept at exactly the proper temperature for your comfort.

It's safer too—you are safer on a "T&P" passenger train than you are at home and you can travel for as little as...

EXAMPLES OF ONE WAY and ROUND TRIP FARES FROM CISCO

	One Way Coach	Round Trip Coach	One Way First Class	Round Trip First Class
Albino	$21.39	$38.51	$32.08	$42.80
Albino	2.94	5.30	4.40	5.90
Albino	10.02	18.04	15.01	20.05
Albino	2.30	4.14	3.45	4.60
Albino	22.02	43.15	39.53	53.25
Albino	12.30	22.14	18.44	24.60
Albino	13.56	24.41	20.02	26.70
Albino	6.80	12.24	10.18	13.60
Albino	15.90	28.62	23.84	31.80

ATTRACTIVE "T & P" FEATURES IN AIR-CONDITIONED CHAIR CARS AND COACHES

- Free Pillows • Free Drinking Cups
- Free Soap and Towels
- Coffee 5c • Sandwiches 10c

EXTRA SPECIAL On Our 3 FAMOUS TRAINS Sunshine Special

- BREAKFAST 25c
- LUNCHEON 30c
- DINNER 35c

Served On Trays in Chair Cars and Coaches at Your Seat

EXCELLENT DINING CAR SERVICE Truly Good Food at Popular Prices

A Texas and Pacific Ticket Costs No More... but Texas and Pacific Service Adds Much to the Pleasure of Your Trip.

FAST • SAFE • COMFORTABLE THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RY.

FRECKLES and His FRIENDS — By Blosser

21 Eastland County—

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)

opposite side, at least 10 inches in height and on the contour level, at an interval which is specified by the State Agricultural Conservation committee for the slope. Rate—70 cents per acre.

Practices and Conditions: Spreader dams—If in combination with spreader dams to be constructed in accordance with specifications of the State Agricultural committee. (Payment will be made for material moved in building the dam.) Rate—15 cents per cubic yard.

Practices and Conditions: Spreader terraces—If in combination with spreader dams, terraces to be constructed in accordance with specifications of the State Agricultural committee. Rate—40 cents per 100 linear feet.

Practices and Conditions: Earthen tanks and reservoirs—For constructing ponds or reservoirs with adequate spillways. (Payment will be made for material excavated and material used for fill not excavated on the site of the tank or reservoir. Rate—15 cents per cubic yard.

Practices and Conditions: Range fences—For the construction of range fences, where necessary in order to carry out other phases of the 1937 Range Conservation Program. (Payment will be made for fence when constructed of three or more wires, with posts not more than 20 feet apart with corner posts well braced and with wires tightly stretched.) Rate 30 cents per rod.

Practices and Conditions: Fire guards—For the establishment of fire guards, not less than 4 feet in width, by plowing furrows or otherwise exposing ten mineral soil. Rate—3 cents per 100 linear feet.

Practices and Conditions: Rodent eradication: (a) For the eradication of prairie dogs, 7 1/2 cents per infested acre. (b) For the eradication of kangaroo rats, 5 cents per infested acre.

Rescuing range land from prickly pear and cactus: (a) Light infestation, 50 cents per acre. (b) Medium infestation, 75 cents per acre. (c) Heavy infestation, $1 per acre.

Rescuing range land from mesquites: (a) Light infestation, 50 cents per acre. (b) Medium infestation, $1 per acre. (c) Heavy infestation, $2.00 per acre.

There Is No Substitute for PAID Circulation

Rescuing range land from cedar: (a) Light infestation, 75 cents per acre. (b) Medium infestation, $1 per acre. (c) Heavy infestation, $1.50 per acre.

Rescuing range land from lechuguilla: For heavy infestation, 50 cents per acre.

15 PEARL IN ONE BITE CONNEAUT, O. (UP)—Ben Shumaker, watching his wife at work in the kitchen, grew hungry and asked for an oyster from the supply with which she was working. He bit down on a pearl which proved later to be worth $15. Now, Ben has a setting for a new ring.

Harvey Thurman's NEW LOCATION!

Modern equipment for lubrication, washing, polishing, waxing service.—SEIBERLING Tires and Tubes.

NEW GULF STATION

Avenue E and 8th Street Phone 200

MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse—By Thompson and Coll

SOCIETY

Laura Rupe, Editor, Office Phone 80.

CALENDAR

Tuesday
The American Legion Birthday party will be held at the First Christian and Rev. Bryan Keathley of Mineral Wells will be principal speaker.

W. P. A. Sewing Room Exhibit will be held at headquarters with open houses at which time the handwork done by the workers will be on display.

The Sunbeams of the First Baptist church will meet at 3 o'clock at the church.

The W. M. S. of the First Methodist church will meet in the home of Mrs. B. E. Morehart with Mesdames L. E. Vaughn, W. G. Powell and T. J. Dean as hostesses.

All Circles of the W. M. S. of the First Baptist church will meet at 3 o'clock at the church for a Missionary meeting followed by a social.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 3 o'clock at the church in their new circle groups. At this time they will elect new officers.

Group Three of the Woman's Council of the First Christian church will meet in the home of Mrs. J. W. Bailey 506 West Nineteenth street at 3 o'clock.

Wednesday
The Junior O. A.'s of the First Baptist church will meet Cecilia Singers will meet at 4 o'clock at the church.

The Delphian club will meet at 9:30 at the club house.

Thursday
The Thursday Forty-two club will meet with Mrs. J. T. McKissick at 3 o'clock.

The First Industrial Arts club will meet at 3 o'clock with Mrs. R. L. Maddox as hostess.

Friday
Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Daniel will entertain members of the Friendly Twelve Forty-two club in their home 1011 West Fifteenth street at 8 o'clock.

HYMN PLAYING CONTESTANTS WIN GOLD PINS

The winners of the hymn playing contest, held at the high school auditorium Saturday afternoon at 2:30, were announced as follows: Class A, consisting of ages 9 to 13, inclusive: First place, Lois Shepard, pupil of Miss Ora Howell; Class B, consisting of ages 14 to 18, inclusive: first place, Kelsie Fern Doyle, pupil of Mrs. Ben Krauskopf.

Julia Jane Moore, president of the Junior Music Lover's club, which sponsored the hymn playing contest, presented to each winner of first place a gold music pin, in behalf of the club.

All contestants played behind drawn curtains on the stage and were heard but unseen by the judges and audience. Mrs. S. E. Hittson, pianist and organist and Mrs. Lee Clark, piano instructor of Randolph College were judges for the occasion. Both are members of the Cisco Music Study club and are well versed in the art of piano playing.

Much interest was shown by all teachers and pupils participating and the wish was expressed that a similar contest could be held each year.

Ida Britain Wed To Eastland Boy

Miss Ida Britain, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. M. Britain of 1701 D Avenue and Mr. Pete Clement Jr. of Eastland were married Saturday evening in a quiet and impressive ceremony.

Rev. Joe I. Patterson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, read the service in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kellet of Eastland, friends of the couple. The ceremony was performed at the home of the officiating pastor.

The bride, who attended Cisco school, was neatly gowned in a grey ensemble with accessories of brighter hue. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Clement of Eastland, attended Eastland schools and is employed by the Chevrolet Motor Company of that city. The couple are making their home in Cisco at present.

Attending Moran Fine Arts Program

Several club women of Cisco are in Moran this afternoon guests in the home of Mrs. J. D. Meredith, where a Moran club is presenting a Fine Arts Program.

Those planning to attend were: Mesdames J. J. Butts, G. B. Kelly, Lee Clark, and daughter Mrs. John Henthorne, A. J. Olson, C. H. Fee, P. P. Shepard, S. E. Hittson, J. V. Heysler, Hubert Seale and Misses Catherine Pettit and Mary Jane Butts.

Guests in Home of Dr. and Mrs. Clark

Sunday guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lee Clark of Randolph Hill were: Mrs. J. B. Lovejoy and son, J. B. Jr. of Fort Worth; Miss Mignon Clark, student in T. C. U. Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Deaton and son, Clifford of Wichita Falls and Mrs. John C. Henthorne of Rochester, Minn. Mrs. Henthorne will spend a month in Texas visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Deaton and other members of the family.

East Ward P.-T. A. Elect New Officers

New officers for the year, delegates to the District Conference of parents and teachers at Brownwood on March 30 and 31, and plans for a pie supper April 4 were highlights of a called meeting of the East Ward P.-T. A. Monday night. Following persons were elected to office: Mrs. Pearl Squaglia, president; Mrs. Fred Steffy, vice president; Mrs. Wm. Joyner, secy.; Mrs. Tom Dulin, membership chairman; Mrs. Tom Smith, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Clyde Bailey, hospital chairman; Miss Lucy Kittrell, Miss Lucile Starnell, pianist; Recreation and study chairman, Mrs. Jack Farleigh and publicity chairman, Mrs. Minnie Hill.

Delegates elected to attend Brownwood district convention March 30 and 31 were Mrs. Clyde Bailey and Mrs. Tom McAllister as voting delegates. Mrs. Pearl Squaglia, incoming president, was voted as a visiting delegate. Mrs. Fred Steffy, outgoing president, automatically becomes a delegate and will attend the convention.

Much discussion was had on arrangements for a pie supper to be held at East Ward on April 9. Mrs. Jack Farleigh and Mrs. Tom McAllister were appointed as a committee of two to act with and assist Mrs. Tom Smith, ways and means chairman, in carrying out plans for the supper.

HOSTESSES AT LOVELY BRIDGE PARTY MONDAY

Lovely shades of pink and green were combined with white and formed a color note for a Monday party when Mrs. Sam Kimmel and Mrs. J. J. Borman were hostesses at bridge.

Games were played in rooms where bouquets of sweetpeas and fern made a charming background. Mrs. L. A. Warren won high score prize. Mrs. R. N. Cluck, second high; Mrs. Lee Heltzel high cut and Mrs. G. B. Kelly, low cut.

A refreshment plate of ice cream, cake and mints in the chosen colors was served to the following guests: Mesdames George D. Fee, H. L. Dyer, L. C. Moore, Alex Spears, C. H. Fee, R. N. Cluck, R. B. Carswell, A. E. Jamison, Hubert Seale, Jack Jones Charles Sandler, George Atkins, R. L. Ponsler, Lee Haltz, W. P. Lee, E. H. Phillips, A. C. Green, J. E. Moriarty, P. P. Shepard, C. H. Parish.

Mmes T. J. Dean, J. B. Bratt, A. D. Schmid, George P. Fee, Lee Owen, E. P. Crawford, G. B. Kelly, J. E. Spencer, Rex Moore, Lee Smith, Jack Phippen, W. J. Armstrong, L. A. Warren, K. N. Greer, A. G. Tuttle and W. W. Moore.

DRIVER ABANDONS 1914 MODEL
KENTON O. (AP) — D. E. Stokes closed the doors regretfully behind his 1914 model automobile. "She's about worn out," he said as he applied for a transfer of his license plates to a newer used car. He had bought 22 sets of license tags for the 1914 model.

Work Seems Easier And Life Pleasanter When You Are Free From Constipation

The bad feelings and dullness often attending constipation take the joy out of life. Try a dose of Black-Draught at the first sign of constipation and see how much better it is to check the trouble before it gets a hold on you. Black-Draught is purely vegetable and is so prompt and reliable.

Get refreshing relief from constipation by taking purely vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT A GOOD LAXATIVE

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton Croft are attending the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth this week.

Mrs. Will St. John is spending a few days in Plainview with her mother.

Mrs. Dewey Bishop of Sonora is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Waddell Jr.

Mrs. M. A. Wright has returned home from San Antonio where she attended the funeral of her daughter, formerly Miss Dorothy Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Roan, who have been visiting here for the past few days, will return to their home in Royalty tomorrow. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Roan.

Wendell Russell returned to Wink today, where he is employed, after spending the weekend here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Russell.

Mrs. Charles Sandler and young son, Melvin, returned Monday from a visit in Fort Worth. Mr. and Mrs. J. Turner Garner of Brownwood were visitors in Cisco this morning.

Mrs. D. E. Jones of Rising Star is a guest in the home of Mrs. J. W. Mansell. They visited in Abilene this afternoon.

M. E. Goldberg has returned home from a visit in Fort Worth and Dallas.

Harry Buckstein of Fort Worth transacted business in Cisco Monday.

Pauline McClinton On University Roll

Miss Pauline McClinton, student in the University of Texas, who will receive her degree in June, has been placed on the honor roll for the seventh consecutive term.

Miss McClinton is a former Cisco girl and word of her accomplishments in school are received here with much interest. She has been chosen, recently, as one of the Campus beauties, an election held each year, and is also a Blue Bonnet Belle Beauty.

The student is a member of the Light Opera Club, Glee Club and Pierian Literary Club. She is daughter of Mrs. J. M. Richardson of Longview, and sister of Mrs. James Moore of Cisco.

Cisco Daily News want ads are a investment. Phone 80.

Read it first in the Daily News.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS ITEMS

By TOMMY LA MORE
Club Meetings

At the regular chapel period this morning at the high school the clubs held their meetings in their assigned rooms. Each club reports much activity and many are preparing for the county meet.

Track Team
The track team has on schedule a practice meet with the Rising Star squad some time in the near future. The local boys have been putting forth hard effort in preparing for the county meet that will be held in Ranger April 1, 2 and 3. Coach Bill Cooper will have better prospects than any coach at the high school in the last few seasons.

Debating Club
The debating club will go to Austin Saturday to engage in the state meet for debaters. It was announced by Mrs. E. L. Hazelwood, sponsor of the club. The club has shown steady improvement since the first of the year and promise to give a good account of themselves.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK
Livestock: hogs, 1700; top butchers, 9.85; bulk good butchers, 9.65-9.85; mixed grades, 8.40-9.55; packing sows, 900 down.
Cattle, 2400; calves, 900; market steers, 7.50-10.50, yearlings, 7.25-8.25; fat cows, 7.25-6.25; cutters, 5-7; calves, 4-5.
Sheep, 4000; fat lambs, 10.50-11.50. Tomorrow's estimated receipts: Cattle, 2500; calves, 1100; hogs, 2000 sheep, 3000.

West Ward School News of the Week

Dan Lee McGriff and Eugene McNellie are new pupils in the high fourth, being transferred from East Ward.

The best writers in the high fourth this week were Mary Kathryn Johnson, Doris Thomas, Frances Hanrahan, Louise Rylee, and Alice Hutton.

Ida Margaret McLendon, Edgar McCannies, Lavada Swinson, and Billy Jean Dean are absent from school on account of illness.

In the English club those voted to be the best citizens for the week were Philip Trevino, Don Burnam, and Gloria Henson.

The best citizens of our room this week were Betty Slicker, Dayton Stevens, George Kent, Wilma Speagle, and Virgil McCook.

February 27, the East Ward Baseball played West Ward and the score was 38 to 7 in our favor.

In our room there has been some pupils absent. They are: Patty Jean Boyd, Pauline Notgrass, Mary Jeanette Bolles, Joe Henson, and Robert Barker. We hope they will be able to come back soon.—JACQUELINE RUPPERT Reporter.

THEY WANT THEIR "MAKINS" MELLOW, FLAVORY!

PRINCE ALBERT means mellow, flavory pipe smoking too! The "no-bite" process takes out harshness. Prince Albert packs right, burns cool, because it's "erimp cut."

EVERETT VASSAR, speaking for the boys, says: "Prince Albert is the prime 'makin' tobacco for mildness and fine taste. It burns cool, slow, and sweet. I've got a P. A. cigarette going day and night, but my tongue's never sore."

PRINCE ALBERT
THE NATIONAL JOY SMOKE

70 fine roll-up cigarettes in 2-oz. tin of Prince Albert

Closing Selected New York Stocks

Am Can	109 1/4
Am Rad & SS	26 7/8
Am T & T	174
Armour of Ill	13 1/8
Anacosta	66 1/8
Barnsdall Oil Co	32 1/2
Chrysler	127 1/4
Cons Oil	17
Curtiss Wright	7 3/8
Gen Elec	59
Gen Motors	65 5/8
Goodyear	46 5/8
Houston Oil	15 1/2
Mount Ward	67 1/2
Ohio Oil	21 5/8
Packard	11
Penney J C	102 1/2
Phillips P	57
Pure Oil	21 3/4
Sears Roebuck	94 3/4
Soc Vac	19
Stan Oil N J	73 1/4
Studebaker	18 1/2
Texas Corp	58 1/4
Tex Pac C&O	15 3/4
Cities, Serv	4 5/8
Gulf Oil Pa	58 5/8
Humble Oil	83 1/4

ALL MEMORIES OF EDWARD REMOVED IN YORK HOUSE, GLOUCESTER'S HOME

LONDON, March 16. (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, "deputy king and queen," soon will move into their new quarters, York House, St. James's Palace, formerly the Duke of Windsor's much beloved bachelor establishment.

The abdication of Edward had nothing to do with change-over, although it was at York House that Edward staged his famous dinner party when Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and his wife first met Mrs. Wallis Simpson, and so to speak placed that lady on the map.

It was arranged that the Gloucesters should go to York House soon after Edward became King. Since Mary was quitting Buckingham Palace for nearby Marlborough House, and Edward was getting ready to occupy the Palace, the Gloucesters, which they have occupied since too, had to move out of the Duke's bachelor quarters in the Palace, their wedding in November, 1935.

York House has been redecorated and refurbished for the young couple. Recently the Duchess, who has been staying with Queen Mary, has spent all her free afternoons inspecting her new home.

Ousting virtually every memory of Edward's residence there, even the new carpets, he chose shortly before going over to the Palace.

As King George's right-hand man, the Duke will have a considerable amount of entertaining to do, particularly during the Coronation, the long dining-room on the floor and the big double room on the second floor, the scenes of some brilliant parties.

The Duke and Duchess will have their private rooms on the floor, and downstairs they have a suite of rooms for their equerries and ladies-in-waiting.

Sir Godfrey Thomas, who for so many years as secretary to Prince of Wales again occupies his old quarters in the post of secretary to the Duke.

Master Printer

HORIZONTAL

- Note in scale.
- Famous printer, Johannes.
- Grain.
- Above.
- Liquid part of fat.
- On the ice.
- Valleys.
- Ocean.
- Tax seat.
- Falling in duty.
- Ewe.
- To exist.
- Perched.
- Bronze.
- Preposition.
- Tardy.
- Silk worm.
- One in cards.
- Self.
- Impartial.
- Wand.
- Tennis stroke.
- Witticism.
- Measure of area.
- You and me.
- Before.
- Northwest.
- Smears.
- To expect.
- Prophet.
- Cuplike spoon.
- Sound.
- Music drama.
- To percolate.
- Pronoun.
- He lived in the — century.
- Bone.
- Vertical
- He used — type.
- Bugle plant.
- Thick lubricant.
- Toward.
- Otherwise.
- Born.
- Prejudice.
- Half an em.
- 9 Fence doors.
- Jewel.
- He is the — inventor of this type of printing.
- 61 Form of "a"
- Measure of cloth.
- To drink dog-fashion.
- Mineral spring.
- To observe.
- Steamboat.
- Slaughter sound.
- Bird of prey.
- He was German by —.
- Fruit of oak.
- Also.
- Stream.
- Constellation.
- Conviction.
- Anger.
- Wagon track.
- Cries.
- Curse.
- Tribal group.
- Poem.
- Grief.
- Sheltered place.
- Wrath.
- Tree.
- Lion.
- Preposition.
- Form of "a"

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

JUNO WOMEN'S ERASE MAN L OBIT BIT TI JUNO PAL MUT ARM AN AES RIA RIRA RESISTS C DRANGED LEO PO ONE DAP YES FAN US TED PERTAINS S DOR CAT INN SA JUPITER ITALIAN RECRYUSEDIT

"Somebody to see you!"

If everybody with something to interest you should come and ring your bell, what a nuisance it would be! Think of the swarming, jostling crowd, the stamping of feet on your porch and carpets!

Every day we know of many callers who come to see you. They never jangle the bell—they don't take up your whole day trying to get your attention. Instead, they do it in a way that is most considerate of your privacy and your confidence. They advertise in your newspaper!

In this way you have only to listen to those you know at a glance have something that interests you. They make it short, too, so you can gather quickly just what you want to know. You can receive and hear them all without noise or confusion in a very few minutes.

In fairness to yourself look over all the advertisements. The smallest and the largest—you never can be sure which one will tell something you really want to know.

PALACE
NOW SHOWING

"THE CRIME NOBODY SAW"

PRICES
CHILDREN 10c
ADULTS 15c

Thursday—Friday
BARGAIN DAYS
CHILDREN 5c
ADULTS 10c

Feature Picture
"LOVE IN EXILE"
with CLIVE BROOKS and HELEN VINSON

Remember!—Every Thursday and Friday, Bargain days.
CHILDREN 5c
ADULTS 10c

FRIDAY—SATURDAY
CLARK GABLE and MARIAN DAVIES in "Cain and Mabel"

SPRINGTIME... IS MOTORING TIME!

Let us prepare your car for the trip!

- Washing
- Lubricating
- Polishing
- Conoco Products
- Quaker State Oils
- Pennzoil
- Kendall and Sinclair Oils in stock.

HALEY'S SUPER-SERVICE
Across from Laguna Hotel RAY HALEY, Prop.

EASTER SPECIAL!

Regular $2.50 Permanent, now $1.50
Regular $4.00 Permanent, now $2.50
Regular $5.00 Permanent, now $3.50
Regular $6.00 Permanent, now $3.00

The smart hairdress is soft waves and less curls. Let Lewis cut and re-style your hair at the Nu-Way Beauty Shop.

Phone 294 Lewis Luider

INSURE IN SURE INSURANCE WITH E. P. CRAWFORD AGENCY

PHONE 453 610 AVENUE D