About Our Friends

By STEPHEN A. LONG

These spring afternoons are splendid for motoring but when you are sailing down the road, all calm and serene, seeing vegetation setting into its spring attire, hens with broods of chickens strolling about looking for worms on which to get fat and prepare themselves for their inevitable end . . . the frying pan . . . one is happy, indeed . . . but at about that exact time something goes wrong with the regular hum of your tires and it breaks to your consciousness that you have . . . Horrors of horrors . . . a flat . . . Now that just spoils everything and it is impossible to ever reclaim the peaceful mood again . . . that trip . . . and then next morning . . . and Monday morning, when of course, you are late . . . you find that another tire has picked up a nail somewhere, and during the night, has allowed your car to flee . . . to speak out in plain English without any embellishments . . . another flat . . .

But we did locate a few early prospects for spring chicken . . . and probably we'll be visiting down that way in about four or five weeks . . . Now, did you hear that Eastland cantata? . . . That is some choir they have over at our neighboring city, Eastland . . . Lovely voices and well-trained . . . The First Baptist church of Cisco was indeed honored last night by having that congregation of artistic ability in charge of an hour's program . . .

Familiar faces were those of Judge and Mrs. B. W. Patterson, Mrs. Vera McLeRoy, Miss Louise Karkaus and W. J. Starr . . . The voices were good in the solo leads . . . A nice friendly gesture and we give you a hand, Eastland . . . Seems like

FLAY MERONEY MISSING FROM HOME A WEEK

RANGER, April 12—Flay Meroney, brother of J. E. Meroney of Ranger and former salesman for the C. J. Moore Auto Mart in Ranger, has been missing from his home in Corpus Christi for a week . . . it was revealed today in a telephone conversation between J. E. Meroney and the district superintendent of the Pittsburgh Valve and Pump Co. for which he worked.

According to information obtained Saturday Meroney had left his boarding house in Corpus Christi Saturday to be gone for two days. Later he tried to cash a company check for $187.50, but at that place where he tried to cash it there was not enough money on hand. The proprietor endorsed the check and sent Meroney to another company to get the cash. At that time there was a man with Meroney. He has not been seen nor heard from since, though his car was found by police in Jackson, Miss., late last week.

Officials of the Pittsburgh Valve and Pump Company said Saturday that they believed he had met with foul play and all hospitals in Corpus Christi, Houston and Jackson areas were being checked, as were hospitals along the route.

Meroney was for several years employed by an oil company in South America and while there contracted a fever, which left him subject at times to severe chills. It was hoped that he might have contracted one of these chills and entered a hospital somewhere.

The company official said that Meroney was one of their best salesmen, and that all of his accounts were in perfect order and he was afraid that he might have been kidnapped and killed.

DISCHARGE OF 26 MEN GIVEN AS REASONS

FORT WORTH, April 12 (U.P.)—Approximately 150 skilled and unskilled workers of the Lone Star Gas Company, members of two unions formed among the gas company employees by the American Federation of Labor, went on strike today.

The men struck in protest against the recent discharge of 26 men. The union claimed the men were discharged for union activities. Gas company officials said the men were dismissed for economy purposes.

The strikers formed a picket line in front of a company warehouse and attempted to persuade other workers to join the walkout.

Violence narrowly was averted late this morning when strikers prevented a company truck from leaving the building. Police were called to enforce orderly picketing.

Blind Missionary to Speak at City Hall

Rev. E. James, blind missionary, who spent many years among the San Blas and Cave Indians in Columbia, South America, and lost his eyesight in an accident in the jungles, will speak at the city hall tonight, it is announced.

LOBO BAND GETS FIRST PLACE IN ABILENE BAND TOURNAMENT

The Cisco Lobo band, led by Robert Maddox, won first in the Class B contests at Abilene Saturday and second in the sweepstakes contest Saturday night. Since Abilene, which classed as Class A had no competition, it took first place in its playing and Cisco rated second for the group.

Bandmaster Maddox and his Lobos are to be congratulated on their achievement since it was not based on a happen-so, but was the result of a real night and day work. Maddox is a tireless worker and the group has been kept at fever pitch enthusiasm in this constant drill. The Lobo band is due a special hand for its work.

Brownwood high school took second in the Class B division. DeLeon was first in the Class C section with Sweetwater second. A fourth division was designated as Class D.

Age of the bands and size of the schools sponsoring them figured in the rating.

HULL, WALLACE TELL TEXTILE TRADE PLANS

WASHINGTON, April 12 (U.P.)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull told the World Textile Conference today that improvement of working standards will expand world trade by removing one of the causes of official barriers to commerce.

An increase in international trade, Hull said, is essential to enable nations to dispose of surplus production.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace told the Conference that he hoped eventually to extend the "ever normal granary" to cotton.

Official Husband Catcher

An irate wife said to the writer recently—not the writer's wife, another fellow's irate wife—"I think that every city should appoint a new kind of officer—something like a dog catcher—who would go around with a net and scoop up the worthless husbands and put them to work on farms or in factories and give their wages to their starving families. That would be a whole lot better," she added vehemently, "than having these no account male bipeds coming home drunk, or doped, or just in a mean temper, and chopping up their wives and children with axes, wouldn't it?"

Every burg already has one or more officials whose business it is to round up and incarcerate husbands who love their families unremittently. All the wife has to do if the man she took for better since she couldn't have done worse, fails to support her and the children, is to trip lightly down to the police station and swear out a warrant for him. But the average unprovided-for wife will not do that. She would rather get a job in a laundry or in the five-and-ten. Therefore if every municipality should appoint a scallawag husband-catcher he would not have much to do; unless he scouted around and worked up business by visiting the homes and asking the lady of the house, "Is your husband supporting you?" That would be a nice paternal attitude.

But paternalism in government is a thing that should be viewed askance; for it is but a short step from paternalism to despotism. Once the government, national, state, or city, gets into the habit of poking its nose and its fingers into folks' personal affairs, the Lord only knows where the thing would end, our federal government is now showing an ominous tendency to get nebbly. Sometimes an attempt to correct a trouble creates a worse trouble.

To return to the delinquent husband, Seattle at one time did—and maybe does—assume the initiative in the matter of making husbands pay and pay. For instance: The police went to one home and arrested the head of the house and carried him down, because they had heard that he stayed home all day sitting in front of the fire smoking his pipe of clay, while his wife supported him. It wasn't long before the wife appeared at police headquarters, and she was another irate wife, but for another reason. "You let my husband go!" she demanded furiously. "But he won't work," protested the Chief of Bluecoats. "He isn't supporting his family." "Listen here, You!" exploded the woman angrily. "I hate housework; but I like to go out and earn money. My husband likes housework; but he hates to go out and earn money; so we swapped jobs; he took my job and I took his. Now you turn my husband loose so he can go home and get my dinner. And I'll thank you to keep your nose out of our business."

If a city should install an official husband-catcher he would have so much trouble with the wives of the good-for-nothings he tried to line up that he'd quit his job in a week.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON—Smart boys there aren't laying any bets that the administration won't ask for new taxes at this session of Congress.

Roosevelt's cautious "hope" that new taxes will not be necessary can only be taken as a warning that he may decide later they are needed. Indicated failure of the income tax yield to come up to expectations—with the discrepancy estimated at somewhere around $150,000,000—has not done anything to encourage those who want no new taxes.

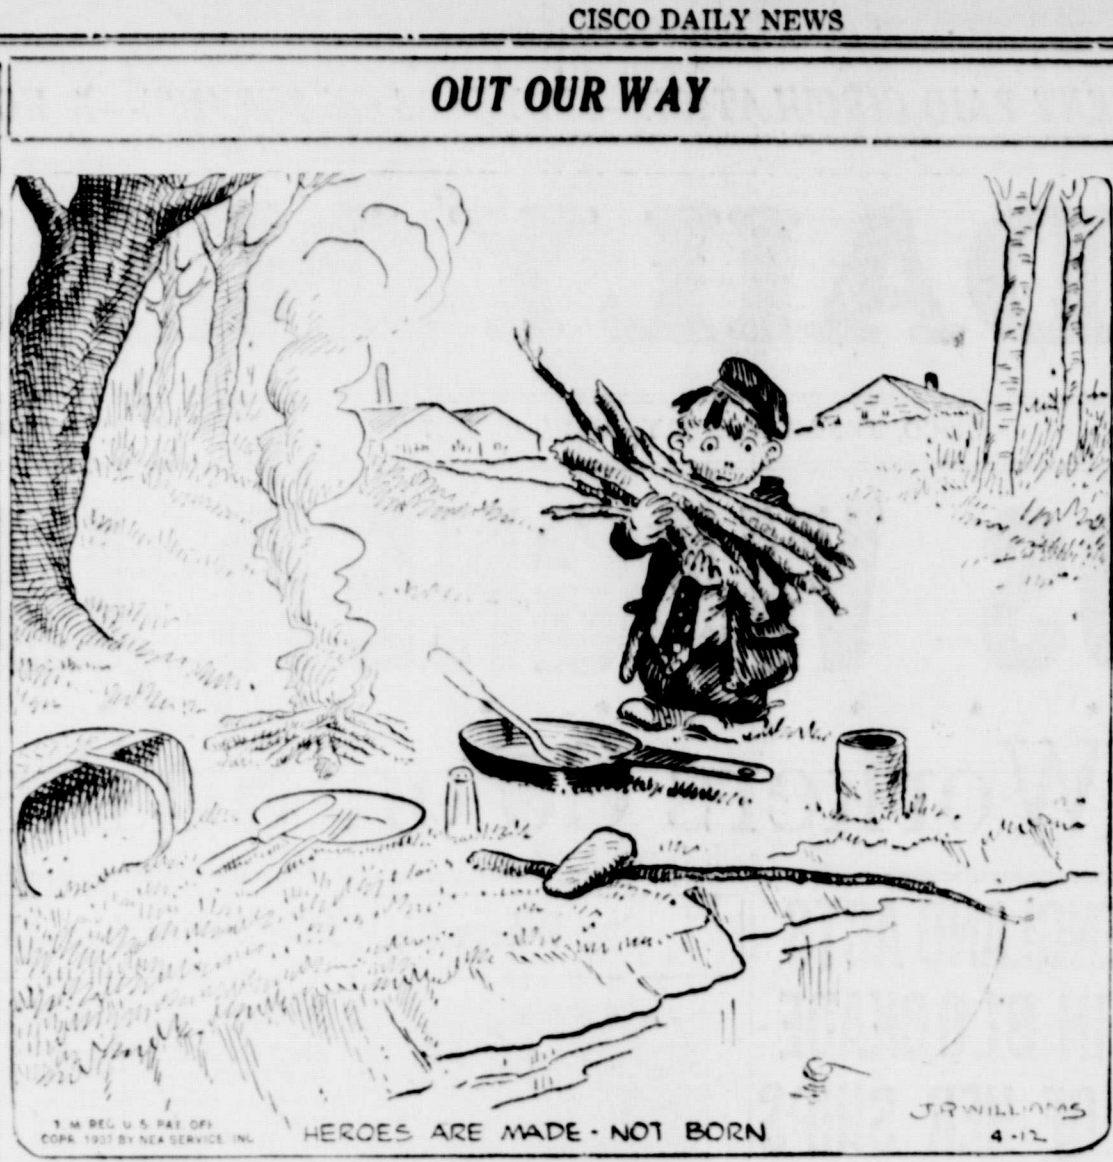

The most powerful factor figuring in the possibility of increased levies, however, is the growing feeling in high places here that the only simple weapon by which the economic system can be kept in balance is the taxing power. This isn't merely a visionary or sentimental notion about "sharing the wealth."

The theory simply is that mass purchasing power must be kept at a fairly constant level if the country is to avoid a spiral into depression; that the best way to achieve that is to put taxes up to a certain level and siphon off surplus income and profits so they can be poured back to lower-income or no-income groups which are without purchasing power.

with Roosevelt, has come to show up clearly as a victory for those who oppose budget-balancing through cuts in relief expenditures; and those who oppose revival of NEA with its old monopolistic and price-fixing features.

David Cushman Coyle, author, economist and close friend of Eccles, elaborates by declaring that "high prices to organized labor, organized capital and organized farmers are draining the pockets of the poor."

THE administration's friendship for organized labor and its desire for higher wage levels are complicated by the fact that widespread strikes cause decreased purchasing power, as well as the fact that corporations further cut down real purchasing power when they pyramid the costs of wage increases into higher prices. Most workers have little if any purchasing power while they are on strike, although any wage increases they get increase their purchasing power thereafter—if that isn't offset by rising prices.

ROOSEVELT INVITED TO SPEAK AT BROWNWOOD CC CONVENTION

President Roosevelt has been invited to attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in Brownwood May 10, 11 and 12. The invitation was extended by D. A. Bander, WTCC manager.

The President will leave Washington about April 23 for a two weeks fishing trip on the Texas Gulf coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. His vacation trip plans also include a visit to the home of his son, Elliott Roosevelt, in Fort Worth. WTCC officials hope his itinerary can be arranged to include a stop at the convention here.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones © 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY When BETTY HAYNES drove out from the long Black auto camp with JACK SPEDDON and failed to return, MARTHA BRITAIN first turned to police. But they were little help. So when mysterious handsome GERRY NEAL reappeared on the scene, Martha leaned on him for help. And she fell in love with him. Next he helped Martha search for Betty and "his friend" Speddon in San Francisco and further north but without results. And finally Martha decided that she must not let her love interfere with her better judgment, so she had Neal arrested, charging him with being involved in the disappearance of Betty.

Then she sped north, only to find that Speddon had left the state but that no woman was with him. Arriving in Portland, Martha received a strange letter from Betty, telling her to "look in Seattle." At police headquarters, Martha tells her story again and officers say they believe Speddon is carrying her along "for safety." Then they add "if Betty wrote this note from Eureka and didn't come across the border with Speddon, she's probably been murdered."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVII MARTHA leaped up, her hand to her throat. "Betty murdered? Oh, no... no!" Marshall, alarmed at the results of his tactlessness, hurried around his desk to comfort her. "Now, now. That's just a theory. But this Czink is bad medicine." He pushed her gently down into the chair again. "Pull yourself together. We'll get right after this."

show will be crowned "Queen of West Texas" at the Tuesday night performance. Some of the most talented artists of the state will appear on the program, which will be directed by Dr. Mollie Armstrong, Brownwood.

Two general assemblies will be held during the convention, on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings. Four group conferences will be held. Subjects of two of these will be "Soil Conservation and Flood Prevention" which is the general theme of the convention, and "Oil and Gas Development in West Texas." Two luncheons will be held for WTCC directors and another luncheon will be held for newspapermen and Chamber of Commerce secretaries.

Felons Studied As to Writing

COLUMBUS, O., April 12 (UP)—The Ohio Board of Parole has enlisted the aid of a graphologist to help determine what prisoners may be safely released from the state's penal institutions.

The handwriting interpreter, Mrs. Catherine R. Dobbs of Barnertown, O., tries to judge from the slants, strokes and curlicues of a prisoner's handwriting whether reformation has taken place.

Mrs. Dobbs said her knowledge of drugs and psychology in addition to a two-year correspondence course in graphology enabled her to decide whether certain types of convicts would be apt subjects for rehabilitation.

The parole board has given her the title of "sociological advisor" and has stationed her at the Marysville Reformatory for Women. There she is engaged in a 90-day experiment to prove the interpretation of handwriting has a definite place in the study of paroles for prisoners.

Mrs. Dobbs said she not only tried to determine whether a convict is fit for rehabilitation but aims to aid them by suggestion in leading a better life after they cease being wards of the state.

She prefers to be known as a "social advisor" and referred to her work at the reformatory as a "character clinic" and "character rehabilitation."

Mrs. Dobbs explained she came to the conclusion the study of handwriting had a definite place in the state's rehabilitating machinery for prisoners when she learned that about all that is known of ancient races is what has been deduced from hand-wrought articles they left behind.

BRITISH ARMY UNDER STRENGTH; DRIVE PRESSED TO ENLIST 47,200

By DAN ROGERS
 LONDON, April 12 (UP)—The English army is short 47,200 men, and alarmed government officials are striving to make the life of a "Tommy" more attractive to remedy the danger.

Young Britons are staying out of the army in droves, although recruiting for the navy and the air force is satisfactory. Long enlistment terms, low pay, stern discipline and excessive foreign service are blamed.

The new program of defense and rearmament call for an army of 168,900 officers and men, exclusive of reserves or the Territorial army, the latter corresponding to the American National Guard. The secretary of war informed parliament that at the beginning of the coming financial year the regular army will be 20,200 men below full strength and that the number of men leaving the colors would be approximately 27,000—hence the need for 47,200 new recruits, or enlistments.

Cost Near Half Million
 This year the army will cost $410,870,000—the biggest appropriation since the war and an increase of more than $130,000,000 over what the army spent last year. But the tanks and guns and other equipment that all this money will buy will be of little use without trained soldiers to use them.

"In spite of the untiring efforts of the army recruiting staff, and the great help received from the press, the film industry and the fruitful cooperation of many employers and public bodies, recruiting is below both our hopes and our needs," the secretary for war told parliament, "but certain measures which I have in contemplation will, I trust, lead to a substantial and progressive amelioration of the position."

The army term of enlistment is 12 years, with the colors and the reserve. The proportion of service with the colors varies in different branches, but averages six years with each. For infantry of the line, which takes the most recruits, the soldier serves seven years with the colors and five in the service.

50-Cents-a-Day Soldiers
 The recruits pay is 2 shillings (50 cents) a day when he joins. If he is a good soldier, he may raise this to 17s. 6d a week at the end of a war, which figures out at 62½ cents a day.

At the end of 10 years, assuming that he is 28 years old, has become a sergeant, has married and is the father of two children, his pay and marriage allowance would total 57 shillings ($14.25) a week. He also gets free food and quarters and medical attention for himself and family. At the end of 21 years of service he may leave the army with a pension.

States a recruiting booklet:
 "When a man leaves the army he is given an allowance toward the cost of civilian clothes, plus

Recreation is Stressed

Under the heading "comfort, sport and recreation" the army officers, according to the booklet: "Free of cost special dining halls where meals cooked on the latest principles are well served. Recreation rooms, comfortably furnished, provides free newspapers and facilities for letter writing. Billiard and bagatelle tables where the charges are much less than in similar civilian establishments. Baths, with hot and cold water, always available. Sports (the soldier buys his own equipment). Concerts and camp entertainments."

The soldier "usually" gets a month furlough each year "with full pay an additional allowance in lieu of the cost of army rations for the period." Veteran soldiers, not recruits, "of good character" are permitted to wear civilian clothes while on leave.

Receives Card From Son Thought Dead

BURLESON, Tex., April 10 (UP)—A postcard in her son's hand-writing brought joy this week to Mrs. V. G. Miller, who attended funeral services recently for a man she believed was her son. The man was killed in a California train-automobile crash.

The post card brought assurance that the son, Donald Miller, 35, was alive. Mrs. Miller had not seen her son since he went to California eight years ago.

Authorities here were at loss what to do about the man buried here.

New Auto Gets Button Clutch

COVENTRY, Eng., April 12 (UP)—A new phase in popular motoring will be launched here shortly when a Coventry motor manufacturer introduces to the public the world's first two-pedal car.

Several Midland automobile manufacturers have been carrying out secret trials with two-pedal cars in which the driver, having no clutch pedal, could drive with one foot on the throttle and the other permanently on the foot-brake. The experiments are so far advanced that a Coventry firm associated with motoring since the earliest days of the automobile is ready to market a car in which the clutch, or third pedal is abolished.

Not only will it make driving safer by abolishing the time-lag which occurs with most drivers when swiveling the right foot from throttle pedal to brake—since each of these two controls will have a foot apiece—but the driver will be able to concentrate better on steering, starting and stopping the car since as a necessary feature of the two-pedal car the gear-change is quite automatic, research workers say.

An official of the firm which is to introduce the first two-pedal car said:
 "The car is revolutionary in many ways, but no more so than in the easy automatic gear-change, which is virtually a system of three buttons, marked first, second and third gear. Pressure on any one of the buttons immediately—without any clutch action—puts that gear into operation. It is the system of the immediate future for all cars, in our opinion. The motorist has only two feet. He should therefore have only two foot-pedals to worry about."

Do you Hate to Meet People?

Some of us are so bashful that whenever a new face appears before us we mentally duck away! Maybe it isn't shyness so much as simply not realizing how very interesting new acquaintances can be.

Some people are shy about new foods too. On family we know has had pork and beans every Saturday night for ten years, and they see no reason for changing!

How much more interesting life---and dinners!---would be for that family with a new kind of meat, a vegetable prepared some other way, a new style in dessert. New foods --- new faces--brighten our days and help make living an exciting game.

Look through the advertisements in this paper today for new ideas in foods. They're here, in abundance . . . recipes, tried and tested . . . favorite platters of favorite people . . . exotic dishes from exotic lands.

The advertisements bring you up-to-the-minute news of many things. Read them regularly. Form the habit of getting the most out of life---and the most for your money.

Loboes Point to Lubbock Meeting

Now that the Abilene tournament is over, the Lobo band will point to the Lubbock affair to be held April 29, 30 and May 1.

This promises to be an outstanding event for musical teachers and bands from this section of the state. The Loboes gain knowledge from experience and their playing should register better by having had the Abilene event.

The Western Division State band and Orchestra contest, under the auspices of the Texas School Band and Orchestra Association, a three-day program will be sponsored by the Texas Technological College and the Lubbock public schools.

Entries have already been received from a large number of West Texas bands and orchestras, and this contest promises to be the most significant student event in music education. More than 3,000 students and directors will be in attendance at this outstanding contest festival. Judges for the event are: Herbert L. Clarke, famous cornetist and director of the Long Beach California Municipal band; Milburn E. Carey, Director of Phillips University band, Ehid, Okla.; Col Earl D. Irons, Calavan, Director of Instrumental Music, Central high school, Oklahoma City, Okla.; and Ellis B. Hall, Academy of Music and Art, Amarillo.

The Western Division contest is one of four regional contests in Texas to determine eligibility for the National Division Contest to be held in Oklahoma City, Okla., next month. Other division contests are as follows: Southern Division at Kingsville, March 25, 26 and 27; Eastern division at Waco, April 15, 16 and 17; Northern division at Pampa, April 21, 22 and 23.

HISTORY MADE IN BRITAIN

PETERBOROUGH, Eng. (AP)—Railway history has been made at Holme, seven miles south of here. The London North Eastern Railway carried out there what is believed to be the first experiment in England of installing rails, 120 feet long (double the ordinary length). Each weighs one and three quarter tons.

Mrs. Herbert Caudle was a week-end visitor in Fort Worth, where she attended services of Gipsy Smith.

Over 2,300,000 people read this highly popular weekly magazine every week.

TRUE STORY

A monthly magazine, just what its name implies, containing intriguing tales of love, romance, passion, hate, greed, success and failure. A sworn statement confirms the truth of every true story published. In addition, many special features including smart styles from Paris months in advance, attractive serving ideas for bridge parties, etc., new tasty dishes, suggestions on child raising, time-saving household ideas, prize contests, and humor.

WOMAN'S WORLD

All that its name implies. A monthly magazine devoted to woman's interests—her children, her home and herself. It brings her refreshing fiction by authors she knows and loves. It brings her stimulating, thought-provoking articles and brilliant editorials. It brings her the last word in correct fashions with correct patterns to reproduce them and for her leisure hours, the newest in home needlework designs. It brings her beauty aids; dependable household and gardening hints; practical suggestions for redecorating and furnishing; and new and seasonable recipes.

HOUSEHOLD

A monthly magazine which has grown until it now has a nation-wide circulation of nearly two million readers. Articles on child care, a page for the girls in the teens, continued and short stories by nationally known writers, fancy work patterns, household hints, recipes, and timely articles on subjects of national interest round out the carefully planned editorial program of the household. The Household magazine maintains a seven-room house, the Searchlight, unique among testing services of women's periodicals in that it is equipped not only for laboratory tests, but is also maintained as an actual home.

SILVER SCREEN

This famous movie magazine is edited for the benefit of those who want to read authentic news of the stars, the pictures, and the busy studios of Hollywood. Many of the stories are written by intimate friends of the stars and are remarkable for their clean, wholesome news quality. Many other features that are selected to satisfy the demand of readers who intelligently follow the latest trends in pictures.
