Junior-Senior Banquet At Laguna Tonight

PROGRAM NOT DIVULGED; 'A ROYAL TREAT'

Plans are completed and upper classmen of the Cisco high are looking forward eagerly for the Junior-Senior banquet at the Laguna Hotel tonight, the program for which has been kept secret so far as actual events are concerned. "It is to be a crowning event," is all the clue the seniors have been able to get as to its nature. Gordon Sherman as president of the Junior class, will be toastmaster and Joe Slicker, in his capacity of head of the Seniors will respond to the speech of welcome. Further than this, no hint as to the nature of the program has been divulged. The Juniors number about 94 and the seniors 81. Invitations have been sent to the upper classmen and to all members of the high school faculty, including Mesames Stamey and Cluck, wives of the principal and superintendent of the high school.

Duke and Wallis to Have Civil Marriage

MONTS. France, May 21 (U.P.)—The Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield will be married only by civil ceremony and there will be no religious service to give the sanction of the Church of England, it was announced officially today by Herman Rogers, spokesman for the duke. It was reported, meanwhile, that British Dominions have brought pressure on the government to ostracize the duke politically and socially. This, it was said, is the secret behind the excitement over the question of royal permission for friends of the duke to attend his wedding to Mrs. Warfield here on June 3. The duke is understood to be furious but, helpless in a situation that threatens to curtail the guest list sharply.

BEARMAN WELL WATCHING FOR GAS SHOWING

The Bearman townsite was drilling at 3,435 at 2 o'clock today with probability of striking the Lake Eastland sand at any moment now, said Richard Bearman today. A showing of gas should be present early Saturday morning, he said. "We will stop and set 6-inch casing at the top of the Lake Eastland sand before drilling further," he continued. Speaking of the depth of the Eastland sand, Mr. Bearman said that it would be picked up at about 3,475, but it might be found a little earlier. But when it is found, drilling will stop for setting the 6-inch casing.

San Antonio Bank Robbed of $4,000

SAN ANTONIO, May 21 (U.P.)—A bandit reportedly unarmed, accosted C. J. Davis, bank messenger, from a department store today, and escaped with a satchel containing nearly $4,000. Travis said that another man sat in a car while he fought with the bandit and that the two fled together. Police said that the man had no accomplice.

War Dogs Flanking 'Old Ironsides'

Every kind of ship, from the ancient and historic frigate Constitution to light cruisers, dock in the Boston navy yard at Charleston, Mass., as this interesting aerial view shows. "Old Ironsides" is indicated by arrow. A cruiser is moored alone at the second pier. The other vessels docked are destroyers, a submarine chaser, coast guard cutter and iceberg patrol ships.

ALLRED SAYS WONT RESIGN; TELLS SENATE

AUSTIN, May 21 (U.P.)—"I will not resign," Governor James V. Allred said today in reply to rumors in the Texas Senate last night when confirmation of appointees to take office after September 1 was discussed. Senator Weaver Moore of Houston raised the point. "He's as far off as he usually is," Allred said. It has frequently been rumored that the governor might be appointed to a federal district—a life appointment—if a new federal court is created for Texas. "I have never discussed it with the president, or with anyone representing him," Allred said. He added that his recent talk with President Roosevelt on the Texas Gulf Coast was purely social.

CISCO TEACHER TAKES DEGREE AT BROWNWOOD

BROWNWOOD, May 21—Degrees were conferred on 86 members of the 1937 class of Howard Payne college Thursday, the day's program climaxing annual commencement exercises of the school. Another 54 members of the 1937 class will receive their degrees at the close of the summer term. The Rev. J. Frank Weedon of the Central Baptist Church of Jacksonville, preached the baccalaureate sermon Thursday morning. The Rev. W. M. Wright, pastor of the First Baptist church of Paris, delivering the commencement address Thursday night. The semi-annual meeting of the board of trustees was held Thursday afternoon to elect faculty members for another year, adopt a budget for the year, and complete plans for additional building and campus improvements. Following the board meeting, President and Mrs. Thomas H. Taylor held their annual reception for trustees and seniors.

BAPTIST WOMEN TO SPONSOR SENIOR'S BANQUET PROGRAM

The W. M. S. of the First Baptist church, continuing their program of sponsoring the activities of the senior class during their social season preceding commencement, will give the class the annual banquet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, May 25, at the First Baptist church basement, it has been announced. A program of speaking and music will be given, details of which have not yet been completed. Dr. Thomas Taylor, president of Howard-Payne College, Brownwood; Supt. R. N. Cluck, Principal O. L. Stamey and Dr. E. S. James, if the latter is in Cisco, will be feature numbers of the program. Musical numbers are being arranged as part of the event. There are about 90 in the class of 1937. Mrs. H. B. Hensley is president of the woman's organization of the church. Mrs. Davis Fields is educational secretary and is in charge of program arrangements.

PUTNAM, May 21—Sixteen graduates, the largest class in history of Putnam high school, will receive diplomas in exercises to be held Monday morning in the school auditorium. Dr. Jewel Doughty of the Central Texas hospital at Brownwood will speak for commencement exercises at 8:15 o'clock that night. Grammar school exercises will be held at 8:15 o'clock Thursday evening. FRED PARKER IS SENTENCED TO LIFE TERM

BRADY, May 21 (U.P.)—Fred Parker, 26, was under life sentence today for the murder of his mid-cleaved wife last January. A 35th District Court jury deliberated 3 hours Thursday before declaring him guilty of murder with malice. Parker admitted hitting his wife, a former school teacher, with a fence rail as she stood in the horse lot at their farm home.

Church of God Sets Service Hour Up

It is announced that the Sunday evening services at the Church of God will be held at 6 o'clock next Sunday instead of at 8 as is the custom, on account of not conflicting with the baccalaureate service for Randolph college at the First Christian church at 8 o'clock.

Romney and Scranton To Play Here Tonight

Romney and Scranton will play tonight at the lighted soft ball field the fourth game between their teams this season. The match will be sponsored by the Jaycees said Edward Lee, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. In former games between these teams, Scranton has been the victor in two games while Romney has taken the score in one of them. A hotly contested game is expected here tonight when Romney will try to even the score and Scranton will be trying to increase their lead. The game is entirely free. There will be no charges for either the parking or grandstand seats. Everybody is invited to see the game, said Mr. Lee. Mrs. J. M. Hooks and Mrs. Elmer Jobe of Abilene were Thursday guests in the homes of relatives and friends in Cisco.

Tells About Death While On Gallows

GALENA Mo., May 21 (U.P.)—Roscoe (Red) Jackson, 33, native of the Ozarks who turned robber and killer, stood on the gallows at day break today and told a crowd of 1,200 how it felt to die. "To be killed accidentally is not so hard," he said, "but to have death come on gradually like this is trying. "It's hard to die like this." The crowd stood silently in the cool morning air. Jackson spoke for about two minutes and then was led to the trap where he was hanged for ten minutes. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown of Breckinridge were visitors in Cisco this morning where Mrs. Brown was entertained at breakfast.

In All Their Splendor

The solemn and beautiful pageantry in which they were principal figures now passed into history. King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, in their crowns and glamorous coronation robes, are shown in this picture transmitted to New York by radio. Following the ceremonies in which the crowns had formally been placed on their brows at Westminster Abbey, the royal couple had just smilingly acknowledged the ovation of thousands of subjects.

COMMUNITY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL PLANNED BY PASTORS

Plans are under way for a community vacation Bible school to be held at the First Presbyterian church beginning May 31 and extending through June 11, recreation under the supervision of men, women and young people capable of teaching and supervising these subjects, that will profitably employ some 200 children and about 75 officers and teachers. More details of the plan are to be discussed at the pastor's conference Monday, it was announced. Girls and boys including the ages of 5 to 12 are to be divided into primary and junior groups to be directed by supervisors and teachers. There are expected to be 10 classes of about 10 pupils for each division with a supervisor for each division. There will be a supervisor for domestic science to teach table manners, how to set a table or preside as hostess; a superintendent of domestic art to teach the touch of beauty for the table, dining room, saying grace at the table and things that add a Christian atmosphere to the family group at meal time; a superintendent of manual training for boys in which they will learn to make items for the home, such as doorstops, and with the larger boys making a boat perhaps. There will be a superintendent to direct play and recreation, teaching and supervising games with a corps of helpers as needed. Other officers will be enrollment secretary, publicity, financial, secretary, although the whole school will be free to all pupils. In all, about 75 officers will be used in the school according to present plans. More details will be given next week, the pastors announced. Misses Jo Tipton and Margaret Morton are visitors in Abilene this afternoon.

Arizona Students Frown on Drinking

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (U.P.)—Women's drinking, smoking and working were listed as debits in the matrimonial scale by men students of the Arizona State Teachers College here, voting on requisites and plans for marriage. The most important factor in a wife is health, students decided. Intelligence was second, personality third, disposition fourth, and desire for children fifth. They were evenly divided on whether a divorce was justified when the wife "stepped out" once.

NO CHANCE TO REPEAL RACE PARIMUTUEL

AUSTIN, May 21 (U.P.)—All likelihood of repealing the race track parimutuel law at this session of the legislature ended today. A new session will be reconvened Monday for that purpose, Governor Allred had announced. The 24-hour closing period of the regular session began at noon. In it only conference reports can be considered except by two-thirds vote of both houses. Consideration of Governor appointees in an executive session was the only business of the senate this morning. A final gesture toward race repeal was made in the senate before the executive session opened. Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur offered a resolution reciting the history of the race-repeal bill, the Governor's threat to reconvene the legislature, and declaring it the will of the senate that a vote be taken. Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth, who had prevented a decisive vote all through the session, raised a point of order that the senate had pending business. The point was sustained.

RED FRONT IS WINNER OVER HUESTIS TEAM

Again the dope bucket was overturned and the favored team lost in a hotly contested game last night between Smitty Huestis' Sing-clairs and the Red Front Drug Store boys when the medicine boys took the long end of the score of 6 to 2. Bivins pitched for Huestis and Boyett hurled for the Red Front. The game was plenty hot and White for the drug store, placed a home that was a beauty to view. Hreece and Pilcher scored for the Olers while White, Elmore, Coates, LaRoque and Boyett scored for the Red Front. Coach Cooper has scheduled a girls game between Cisco and Eastland for Saturday night, 8:15. This is sure to be a stella attraction on account of the unusual skill of the Eastland girls who are making bids for Cisco honors this year. The state girls have a good team and expect to let the Eastland girls know they are on the ground at least. Coach Cooper who is sponsoring the soft ball games urges that Cisco fans give the home girls all the support possible by their presence and cheering. The lineup was as follows: HUESTIS—A. C. Bardwell, V. Howley, C. Wilson, Sensing, Gene Abbott, Park Poe, H. Pilcher, Lonnie Shockley, Howard Robinson, Ock Bevens, Subs, Reece, Yarbrough, and S. Huestis. RED FRONT—M. Harrison, Preston, Sublett, White, Elmore, J. Preston, Jeff Coates, Truett LaRoque, C. Moore, and W. Boyett.

Allred's 16th Veto Eliminates Asylum

AUSTIN, May 21 (U.P.)—Governor Allred's 16th veto message to the Texas legislature today eliminated a proposed $317,000 insane asylum for East Texas. He approved a West Texas hospital to cost the same amount. "The West Texas hospital and additions to existing hospitals will meet the present need," Allred said, "and the state cannot afford to build another."

WEATHER

EAST TEXAS—Partly cloudy to night and Saturday. WEST TEXAS—Partly cloudy in north and east portions; generally fair in southwest portion tonight and Saturday; cooler in Panhandle tonight and in north portion Saturday.

JERSEY CITY HAS MONEY IN THE BANK

A pay-as-you-go policy in Jersey City, N. J., has resulted in a treasury surplus of $1,309,995 and a promised cut in city taxes as contrasted with most other municipalities searching for new revenues.

The credit for this accomplishment is given by the magazine to "Boss" Frank Hague who has been mayor of the city since 1913.

"This is the seventh time I have been elected," he informed the writer, "1941 will be the eighth, 1945 will be the ninth, 1949 will be the tenth and then I'll retire—I'm sixty-one now."

TO HEAL SUN BURNS

In case of severe sun burn the best relief is obtained by covering the burn with a thin paste of baking soda, starch or flour, made by adding water to the substance, or by petroleum jelly, olive oil, white of egg, lard or cream.

This should be followed, it was stated, with a dressing of the same material or of equal parts of lime-water and olive oil.

Blisters indicate that the patient is likely to be very very sick. As a general rule blisters should not be opened. If they are the job should be carefully done to protect the layer of new skin underneath.

Plenty of water, light meals, and a long stay in bed are in order then. Circulation must be stimulated and burn-poisons eliminated, which requires the advice of a doctor.

For less severe burns, boric acid ointment, or a mixture of equal parts of linseed oil and lime-water, soothe and heal inflamed skin.

UMPS NOW BUSY BOYS

The head umpire during an average major league baseball game has to make between 250 and 300 decisions quickly and irrevocably.

Technically it is illegal for a player, manager or coach to protest a decision involving accuracy of judgment. An umpire can not reverse his decision unless it is in violation of the rules, or unless a conference with the other umpires convinces him he has made a mistake.

Oldest in years of activity umpiring is William "Bill" Dineen, who has been looking them over for twenty-seven years for the American League.

Chief of the National League's twelve-man umpiring staff is Ernest C. "Ernie" Quigley, who was relieved from active duty this season after twenty-five years.

MAJORITY ILLNESSES MENTAL

Victims of mental disease occupy fifty-two per cent of all hospital beds in the United States.

Today, 500,000 mental sufferers are locked behind doors of 400 state and city institutions. This year 125,000 persons will become mentally sick, costing American taxpayers $1,000,000 a day. Also 1,000,000 children now in school are destined to suffer a mental breakdown at some period of their lives.

In New York there are 400 guards employed on armored trucks transporting money. The men are bonded for a total of $200,000,000 and collect or deliver $30,000,000 each day from 300 banks and at least 3,000 mercantile establishments.

AFRAID to Love

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOAN BARRETT, heroine, secretary to John Hendry.
JOHN HENDRY, missing investment head.
BOB ANDREWS, Hendry's jealous partner and Joan's fiance.
SYBIL HENDRY, Hendry's sister, John Hendry's niece and Joan's rival in love.
PHILIP HENDRY, Sybil's brother.
GROTHY STARKIE, Joan's suitor.
CHARLES NORTON, California mining promoter.

Yesterday, Bob, returning to New York, learns the terrible news from Sybil. She also reveals the story of Joan's past, intimates the police suspect her. Bob determines to find Joan, clear her.

CHAPTER XXVII
AS they drew up in front of the little white cottage, Bob's eyes grew wide at the pandemonium which enveloped it. Police officers, curiosity seekers, newspaper reporters and camera men—their shrill voices raised in querulous inquiry—gave the place a carnival atmosphere. Bob pictured Mr. Hendry's fury could he ever have visualized such desecration.

Sybil and Bob rushed past the crowds without and entered the house. The police had taken command, and they seemed to swarm over the place, scrutinizing, measuring, searching.

Bob restrained himself with an effort. These fools had tried to pin the blame on Joan. . . . on his own beloved Joan. He wanted to have it out with them physically, to choke the words down their throats, with his own bare hands!

As Sybil introduced them perfunctorily, Inspector Kennedy must have sensed some of the turmoil going on within him, for his voice was kindly.

"A terrible case, Mr. Andrews," he observed, gently. "Mr. Hendry was such a fine man, in every way. . . . You've known him several years, I understand?"

"Ten years," Bob replied. "I've been in the organization that length of time."

Kennedy hesitated a moment. Then: "Suppose we discuss the case privately," he suggested. "We can go up to Mr. Hendry's room."

The two men went into the small library adjoining Mr. Hendry's bedroom and Kennedy shut the door behind them. He sat down, motioning Bob to a seat.

"Mr. Andrews," he said, still kindly, "I know how you feel. Miss Hendry has doubtless discussed the case with you—but I don't want you to get the impression that the police are deliberately trying to wrong you—or Miss Barrett."

"I think you're making a pretty big mistake."

"Believe me, we're trying not to."

We have made no accusations—"
Bob looked up suddenly. "Miss Hendry intimated—" he began.

"That we had accused Miss Barrett?" Kennedy finished for him.

"Miss Hendry has misinformed you. That is her own supposition, not ours. In the first place, the affair does not seem the work of a girl. Mr. Hendry was a powerful man; he could have resisted any normal attempt on his life. We are concerned, however, over the fact that Miss Barrett has disappeared. Do you know of any reason why she should have run away?"

Bob shook his head. "I can't understand it," he said dully.

"You knew of her—her background?"

"No, I know nothing other than what Miss Hendry just told me. I don't believe her story."

"WE'RE waiting for absolute proof now," said Kennedy, making no effort to convince him. "However, that has nothing to do with the present case. I understand from Mr. Hendry's lawyer that he recently revised his will to include Miss Barrett. Did you know of that?"

"Yes, Mr. Hendry discussed it with me, about a week ago."

"And Miss Barrett knew it?"

"Definitely not," Bob said firmly. "Mr. Hendry told pains to have the new will drawn up at his attorney's office, so that Miss Barrett would not know of it. He told me that he preferred it to come as a surprise to her, eventually."

"I see," Kennedy tapped on the arm of his chair thoughtfully. "She did know, however, about the $40,000 Mr. Hendry had in his possession last night?"

"Yes. We both knew about that."

"Was there anyone else who might have learned about it?"

Bob thought a moment. "There was Mr. Norton," he said finally, "a friend of Mr. Hendry's, who is here to negotiate the sale for which the money was needed. Mr. Hendry might have told him."

"You're not sure?"

Bob recalled the few minutes he and Joan had spent with Mr. Hendry and Norton at the Inn the night before. "I'm quite sure that Norton did know about it, now that I think back," he said.

"And Norton was out here last night?"

"Yes. He and Mr. Hendry had dinner together, at the Inn. But Mr. Norton returned to town with me."

"At what time was that?"

"We took the 11:10 out of Green Hills."

Kennedy made a note of that in a little book he took from his pocket.

"DO you know," he asked presently, "why Miss Barrett came over here to see Mr. Hendry at midnight?"

"No, I don't. She said nothing to me about her intention to do so. It may be that she was alarmed over his being alone in the house, as Miss Hendry says she was. She was greatly concerned over his having so much money on his person."

"Perhaps that is it. Perhaps that is why she did not tell Miss Starke the reason for her visit, either. Miss Starke told us that she decided quite suddenly to see Mr. Hendry about a private matter. She left the house just before the Inn clock struck the hour."

There was a knock on the door. "Come in!" Kennedy called.

An officer, in uniform, entered and handed a large envelope to Kennedy. "The pictures," he announced, "the ones you wired San Francisco for."

"Thanks, O'Brien," O'Brien left the room silently. Kennedy opened the envelope and looked at each picture closely. Finally he passed one over to Bob.

"Here's a picture of the Barrett girl whose father was convicted of murder in San Francisco. This picture, mind you, was taken 10 years ago. Would you say Mr. Hendry's secretary is the same girl?"

Bob took the picture, and his eyes widened with horror as he stared at it, unbelieving.

"The same girl?" Kennedy repeated.

Bob nodded his head slowly. "Yes, it is," he admitted, quietly. There was no doubt about it in his mind. In 10 years, Joan had changed hardly at all.

Kennedy was speaking again. "But now there's this angle to consider first."

"What is it?"

"Miss Barrett, as we know, came here last night to see Mr. Hendry shortly after midnight. The doctor advises us that Mr. Hendry was killed about that hour. Suppose Miss Barrett walked into the house and saw the murder being done? She wouldn't be very safe herself, would she?"

"My God!" Bob jumped to his feet. "Her life may be in danger! We've got to find her—before it's too late! Can't you do something?"

Kennedy nodded. "I've got 20 men out now," he said, "combing the city for her. And every radio car has her description. . . ."

BARRAGE REHEARSED
CARDINGTON, Eng. (UP)—The balloon barrage which will defend London in the event of air raids is undergoing rehearsals here. Five sausage-shaped balloons, each moored to trucks manned by crews of R. A. F. auxiliaries, were placed into similar positions to those they will take up over London when giant nets will hang from them to ensnare enemy aircraft.

GOLFER HITS POCKET SHOT
WORCESTER, Mass. (UP)—Golfer Frank Seley got something new in green-in-one while playing the Groves Hill course. He found his drive near a bush and used a midiron for the approach. When he hit the ball, it struck the bush, went into the air and fell into the pocket of his sweater.

BURGLAR CRASHES WAY OUT
ST. LOUIS (UP)—A St. Louis burglar had to force his way out of a building instead of into it. Officials at a stationery store here found a safe broken open and evidence that a burglar had allowed himself to be locked in and used a sledge hammer to get out after rifling the safe.

ADMIRATION - TRIPLE-SEALED IN "CELLOPHANE"

IT'S THE Cellophane THAT MAKES The Difference

She had been avoiding coffee put up in paper bags. But a friend was an enthusiastic about Admiration—"In the 'CELLOPHANE' bags, you know"—that she tried it.

She found it just as fresh and good as the coffee in glass jars and vacuum-packed cans... AND about 4c per pound less in price! Admiration's triple-sealed bags—inner wax lining, tough bond wrapper and moisture-proof outer jacket of Cellophane—plus fast truck delivery from roasting plant to your grocer, make Admiration in bags the ideal way to buy coffee. The thrifty housewife who demands full value for her money will appreciate the savings afforded by buying Admiration packed this way.

Admiration Coffee in bags comes in two grades—Dripkut and Steel Cut—just as it does in vacuum-packed jars and slip-covered tin cans.

Paper Shirts Are Forecast for Nazi

Hastily made propaganda, it is added, seeks to hide the real position of artificial silk and fibers industries. One reported Nazi order is that sheep must be increased to between 35,000,000 and 44,000,000 head, "although pasture land does not exist in Germany for this number of sheep even were cultivable land used," the report states.

FASCIST YOUTH IN SPAIN COUNT 500,000 COHORTS

SALAMANCA, Spain, May 21 (AP)—Less than four years ago—in October, 1933—at a meeting in the Madrid Theater was founded the Falange Espanola, Spain's Fascist Youth movement, by Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera, fiery son of the famous dictator, later executed by a loyalist firing squad.

joke but later was convinced, and finally accepted the post.
Life Full of Danger
He also accepted the responsibilities and the inevitable consequences, which were not long in coming.

With the triumph of the Popular Front, Larrey lost his job owing to his political opinions. He has been an active agent in the smiting of the Falangist movement and on July 10, last, recognizing the imminence of the rising, he and some companions went to Madrid and attempted, without success, to free several members of the Falange, including young Primo de Rivera, from prison, where they were being held for political crimes.

Returning to Galicia, Larrey took part in the first fighting of the civil war with his Falangists and when Galicia was clear of government troops, went to Valladolid. Eventually, by vote, he was elected head of the Provisional Junta of the National Council of Spanish Falangists, a body which in reality, was of his own creation.

Whittling As Life Work Holds Fancy

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Time hung heavily on Harris V. Johnson's hands during the depression, so like many another young man he took to whittling.

His whittling, however, was not the stove-side variety. He sharpened his jackknife, picked up some pieces of wood and started to carve models of fishermen he knew, miniature axes and two-man saws, and plaques. Johnson says he learned something during those "idle" moments. "I started out just for fun," he said. "Now I have become so interested that I'm planning to try some more pretentious things." His hobby has led him to the more serious side of the arts, and now he plans to carve wooden figures. Let us figure your next job of printing. Our job department is equipped to serve your needs. Data Compiled for Writers Projects

John B. Griffin, Abilene district 13 supervisor of WPA writers project is expected in Cisco today and Saturday to finish a tour of the county in compiling data for inclusion in a sectional guide. Mr. Griffin was in Ranger the first part of the week and has been in Eastland since Wednesday.

Completion of the guide, which also will suggest tours for tourists of this section, is expected by July 1, according to Griffin. It will be of 60,000 words length and probably include 80 pictures.

Griffin stated J. Frank Davis, San Antonio is state supervisor of the project. A guide of the state was completed 10 days ago. An American National Guide, to be composed of five regional volumes, is another undertaking of the Works Progress Administration.

Counties to be included in the guide are Eastland, Callahan, Taylor, Nolan, Jones, Shackelford and Stephens.

A staff of five is at the present engaged in the data compilation for the guide.

All Family Members Should Get SS Cards

AUSTIN, May 21—Workers in a family-operated business are eligible for Federal old-age benefits, if the business is among the employments "covered" by the old-age benefits plan, and should obtain social security account cards, it was announced today by M. D. Dewberry, field representative in charge of the Austin office of the Social Security board.

"Some employers have been confused by the fact that the tax on employers of eight or more imposed under Title IX of the Act does not apply to service performed by an individual in the employ of his son, daughter, or spouse, and service performed by a child under the age of 21 in the employ of his father or mother."

"But this provision applies only to the tax levied on employers of eight or more. It does not mean, for instance, that members of a family working for wages in a family-operated store are not eligible to participate in the Federal old-age benefits plan."

"Everyone working for wages in a covered employment, either regularly or on a part-time basis, should have a social security account number," Dewberry declared. "The fact that an employer makes no difference to the employee makes no difference. Wages from all types of employment are counted toward old-age benefits except wages from agricultural labor, domestic service in a private home, casual labor not in the course of the employer's business, employment in the crew of a ship or vessel, employment by the Federal or State Government or an instrumentality of either, employment by non-profit educational, religious, charitable, scientific, literary or humane organization, or employment covered by the Railroad Retirement Act."

"Account numbers may be obtained through the post office until June 30. Workers in family-operated businesses, as well as other employees who have not yet done so, should obtain account cards now while facilities of the post office are yet available," Dewberry said.

After June 30, account numbers will be issued only by the field offices of the Social Security Board.
