Family Shooting Results In Death Of Four

KILLED AFTER SHOOTING ALL FAMILY GROUP

SABINAL, May 22 (U.P.)—Four persons were dead today and another critically wounded as a result of a family shooting at the farm home of William Helbig, Jr., five miles north of Knippa, Uvalde county.

The dead are: J. H. Sampier, Uvalde blacksmith; Mrs. Sampier, his wife; Mrs. William Helbig, his mother-in-law; Louis Helbig, his brother-in-law.

Mrs. William Helbig, Jr. was recovering from gunshot wounds in Uvalde hospital. Her condition is critical, physicians say.

The shooting occurred when Sampier invaded the Helbig farm at midnight to seek reconciliation with his estranged wife. She left him several months ago, taking their six daughters to the home of her parents.

Mrs. Sampier refused to return to Uvalde with her husband and he walked to his car, armed himself with an automatic shotgun and returned.

He opened fire on his wife, killing her instantly. Then he shot the elder Mrs. Helbig, who was visiting her daughter, Louis Helbig attempting to stop the shooting was killed on the porch of the home.

Next, Sampier went to the home of William Helbig, Jr. a half mile away on the same farm. He rushed into the house and fired at Mrs. Helbig. The shot struck her in the shoulder. Helbig grabbed a pistol and shouted:

"Stop shooting."

Sampier wheeled to fire at him but Helbig shot first. Three bullets struck Sampier and he died instantly.

Against Ocean 'Stunt' Flights

Accidents that befall pilots on unnecessary transoceanic flights were denounced by Col. J. Monroe Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce as impediments in developing regular inter-continent commercial schedules.

Col. Johnson, shown above in a recent photo, included Dick Merrill's London hop for the coronation and Amelia Earhart's recent world flight in the list of "stunt" flights he would forbid.

ALLRED USES WHIP HAND TO FORCE SOLONS

AUSTIN, May 22 (U.P.)—Governor James V. Allred whose Texas Rangers wielded axes two years ago to smash expensive gambling equipment, used the whip hand of a special session call today to force the legislature to act on repeal of laws permitting betting on horse racing.

The regular session of the legislature was to close tonight after 131 days.

Unsuccessful in forcing action at the regular session, the Governor issued a call for the legislature to reconvene on May 27th.

In the gubernatorial campaigns of 1934 and 1936, the repeal of the race track gambling law was a clear cut issue," his proclamation said. "The people by their ballot asked for the repeal of this law. Democratic state conventions in both 1934 and 1936 made a positive demand that race track gambling be outlawed in Texas."

Parimutuel betting on horseracing which had been outlawed for 20 years was legalized in Texas in 1933.

Merchants recently have joined clergymen in demanding repeal contending that many persons were neglecting to pay their bills because of betting losses.

Other acts of the closing day included:

The house refused by 76 no's to 36 ayes to override Governor Allred's veto of an East Texas insane hospital. Allred approved an $817,000 appropriation for a similar hospital in West Texas.

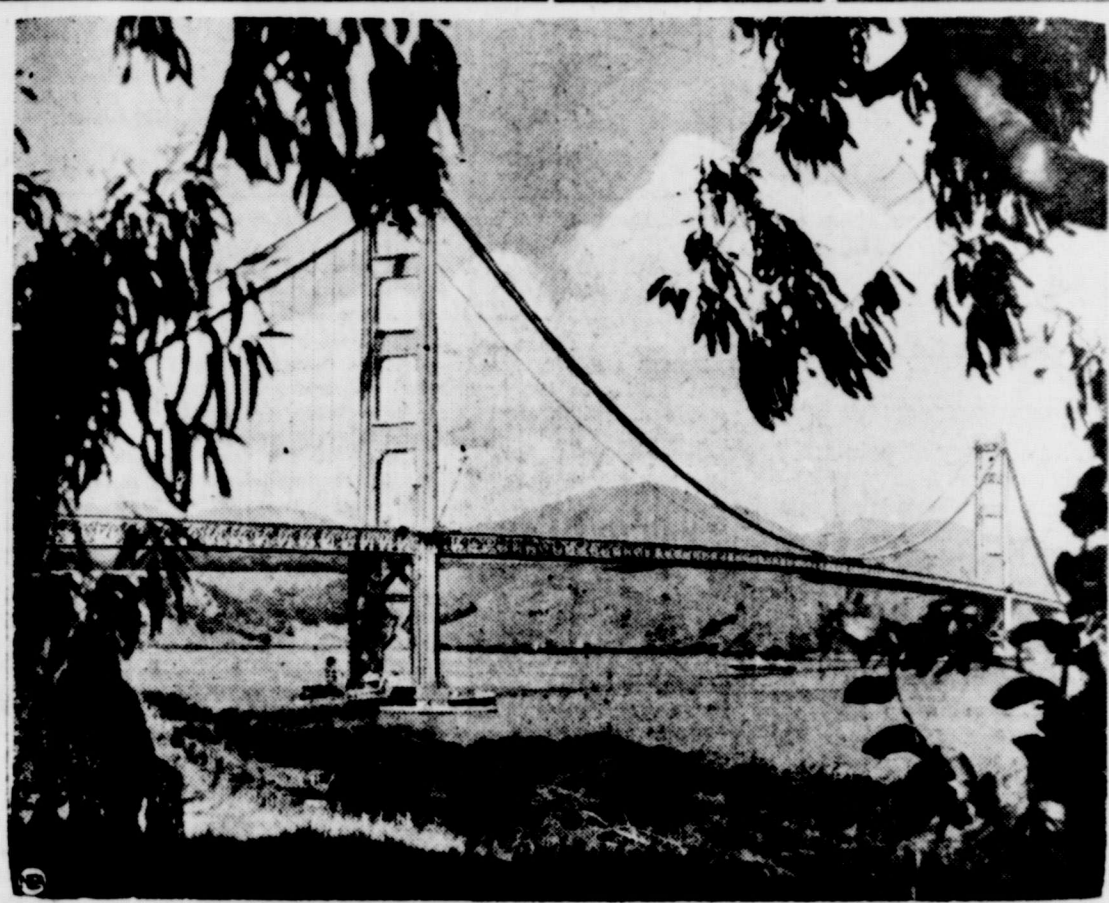

A bill was sent to the Governor so Texas public school teachers can retire on a pension when 60 years old. Teachers now over 60 have the option of continuing to teach until they are 70. It was estimated that 45,000 teachers will be eligible to retire.

The Texas senate sent a soil conservation act to the Governor. It authorizes local participation in government work on dust storms and other soil erosions.

A new liquor control bill was approved by the house and sent to the Governor. It is designed to tighten present control laws by increasing powers of the liquor board.

Representative R. L. Reader, of San Antonio, announced plans for a bill at the next session to regulate patent medicine advertising.

Golden Gate's Great Span on Eve of Opening

Flung across the entrance to San Francisco Bay in the world's longest single span, the Golden Gate Bridge is pictured here as workmen added finishing touches before the elaborate formal opening during an international ceremony starting May 27. A single deck suspension, 6450 feet from end to end, the bridge is more than three times the length of Brooklyn Bridge. To complete the structure required four and $33,000,000, and cost 10 lives. It crosses over "Chryso-ceros"—The Golden Gate—at a height of 250 feet, and connects San Francisco by highway with northern California. The towers, visible in this picture which was taken looking from San Francisco, are 746 feet high, built for strength and a setback artistic motif.

WATER HALTS DRILLING-IN OF TOWNSITE

Optimistic dreams that kept about 35 men, women and children watching until mid-night Friday evening for the Bearman townsite to be drilled into the Lake Eastland pay sand, were temporarily interrupted by the finding of water in the hole and a slight caving as the bit hit a small gas showing at 3481 Saturday morning.

Drilling was suspended and it was determined after consultation among oil experts interested in the test to set the six inch casing, bail out the water and learn what might be seen as the future of the well. Drilling was watched tensely Friday night as the drilling crew struck into shale from the Caddo lime which had slowed operations. It was expected to find a gas showing any time after the depth of two-thirds of a mile in the interior of earth had been reached.

Intentions were to stop at the top of the showing, set the 6-inch cement, pull the 15, 12 and 8-inch casings and then drill the well in about Wednesday or Thursday. But finding water started the running of the 6-inch Saturday night to be finished by Sunday morning. Further activities will then be decided concerning the bringing in of the well.

Interest Great

For the past few days interest has centered in the well as the pay depth was neared. Based upon the action of the Luce well, just to the southeast, which has been a consistent producer during the past 15 years, few have doubted the probability of getting a well—just how big was the only question in mind.

Now that further activities of drilling in preparations have been temporarily delayed, those interested will be eager to follow the work of casing off the water, and the drilling in of the Bearman townsite the first to test the city's potential structure.

DUKE WINDSOR KNITS TO END JANGLY NERVES

MCNIE, France, May 22 (U.P.)—The Duke of Windsor, worried over a virtual British government boycott of his wedding, has resorted to knitting to soothe his jangled nerves. It was understood today.

As a result, it was said, Mrs. Wallis Warfield has a new sweater which he knitted for her of wool in the new "Wally blue" shade. It was finished and presented to her this morning.

Since the government's boycott campaign, it was said, the duke has become more and more nervous and slept so badly that he knitted and pearl-d the sweater until late at night.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22 (U.P.)—A baby girl, 13 months old, will undergo an operation at a children's hospital here next week for removal of a twin that has developed in her abdominal cavity.

It is one of the rarest phenomena. X-rays showed almost a complete skeleton within the baby's abdomen. The girl was not identified. She was brought here from Douglas county for treatment.

LOBO BAND GIVEN TENTATIVE INVITATION TO PAMPA JUNE 3

The band-parents club appointed Mrs. D. Ball, Mrs. Robt. Maddox and Mrs. Haynie as a committee to ascertain the cost of transportation which they sent by letter. "Of course," said Mrs. Haynie, "they can find out other expenses there better than we. We will await a reply before knowing whether the invitation stands or not."

The affair at Pampa, on June 3, is to be a big one for the north-west plains. About 30 to 50 floats from adjacent cities are to appear in the parade. Cisco being considered one of the very best bands in the state was accorded the honor of an invitation, should the expenses be not too great, the invitation stated.

RUSSIAN SCIENTISTS BUILDING STATION

MOSCOW, Russia, May 22 (U.P.)—A group of Russian scientists began building a meteorological station 12 and a half miles from the north pole today after a flight to the top of the world.

Four men will remain at the pole for a year, studying weather conditions and establishing a base that it is hoped will bring a Moscow-to-San Francisco airplane service.

They have with them a little arctic dog whose barking will warn them of the approach of polar bears with which they intend to alternate their diet of concentrated foods.

AMHERST, Mass. (U.P.)—The honey bee is more valuable for its work in fertilization of plants than as a manufacturer of honey or wax, according to a study made at Massachusetts State College.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET WAS CROWNING EVENT OF SEASON

The beautiful decoration, lattice background with a lovely bower of blue and white larkspurs and pink roses, formed a setting for the crown which gave significance to the crowning event which marked the Junior-Senior banquet at the Laguna roof on Friday night at which about 151 classmen and faculty made merry and emphasized in a memorable way.

Gordon Sherman, president of the junior class began the program after the invocation by Lady Irby, by crowning Senior President Joe Slicker with the crown and robe of authority suiting the actions to an appropriate talk. The response by Slicker, his majesty, the king of the senior empire followed. The dancing by Court Favorite Annett Parish was outstanding as were the performances of Prime Minister Stamey and the screamingly funny jester, Cluck.

The menu consisted of: Fruit cup supreme, chicken a la warfield, king's medallion, windsor style beans, buckingham salad, cantebury rolls, english breakfast tea.

What's Your Safety Score?

The appalling and regularly increasing number of fatalities from automobile accidents makes it almost impossible to say too much about safety rules. Here are 20 rules the National Grange asks everybody to observe.

I. YOURSELF

1. Never overtake a car unless you are positive there is ample space ahead; that means, of course, never on a curve or a hill.
2. Slow down when approaching all intersections, including private driveways.
3. Stop on red traffic signals and wait for a green light before starting.
4. Come to a dead stop at stop signs because the other fellow has the right of way.
5. Slow down to compensate for slippery streets and low visibility caused by rain, fog, snow, or ice.
6. Slow down when driving at night. There is no substitute for daylight in dealing with visibility.
7. Always drive at a speed that will permit you to stop within the assured clear distance ahead. If you don't get into a jam, you won't have to get out of one!
8. When moving pieces of farm equipment on the highways always protect them at night with red lights or reflectors.
9. When walking, walk to the left on open highways. Always face oncoming traffic.
10. Never run your engine in an enclosed garage or barn. Carbon monoxide is tasteless, odorless, and colorless and kills with deadly certainty.
11. Use your brakes more and your horn less.
12. Don't drive if you are sleepy or drowsy. Driving requires full use of all your faculties.
13. Keep to the right on the highways. If others want to pass and take chances, don't be involved in their folly.

II. YOUR CAR

14. Always keep your car in safe operating condition.
15. Check your brakes frequently for equalization and efficiency. See that they are properly lined.
16. Adjust your headlights for proper illumination and absence of glare. Be sure your tail-light and stop lights are working.
17. Have your steering mechanism checked at regular intervals and your wheel alignment adjusted.
18. Keep your tires equally and adequately inflated.
19. Be certain your windshield wiper is operating and that the blade is in good condition.
20. Besides observing these and other safety rules, protect your investment in your home, your car, and other assets by adequate insurance coverage. A judgment involving them may result from an accident that was somebody else's fault.

Suppose you allow yourself five points for each one of these 20 rules that you regularly and systematically observe and then see out of a possible score of 100 just what is your score—75, 80, 90, or 95.
My score is _____ points.

you to marry Joan, and she was bound she'd find some way to prevent it. . . .
"But that's ridiculous. What do I care about Joan's unfortunate past now that I love her?"
"I tried to tell her that. Last night I quarreled with her, finally. I told her she was a coward. . . . I dared her to beat Sybil at her own game, to tell the whole story to Mr. Hendry before Sybil told him first."
"And that's why she went over there last night?"
"Yes."
Bob rubbed a clenched hand across his eyes. "We've got to find her," he cried. "We've got to!"
"We will!" Dorothy assured him. "But first of all, let's talk this whole thing over. I have an idea in my head that's driving me frantic, but I didn't want to tell the police."
"You think you know who did it?"
"I think so." Then, seeing the hope rise in his eyes, she hastened to amend: "But I'm not sure, Bob. I'm clutching at a tiny straw, and the police may laugh at me. Yet in my heart I feel that it must be right."
"What is it? Tell me."
"Come over to the desk, here."
She drew forth a large envelope and emptied it of its contents in front of them.
"A week or so ago," she explained, "Joan and I were talking about her father. She knows he was innocent, of course. And I believe he was."
"So do I!" Bob agreed heartily. "Her father never killed a man."
"No. But he was hanged for it. Here's the whole story of the case. I had these photostatic copies made from newspapers I found in the public library. I was convinced that Joan should try to prove her father's innocence, even at this late date, to preserve her own peace of mind. She can't let herself be happy, Bob. She tried to believe that once you and she were married, the world would forget Joan Barrett, but the memory was always there, haunting her. . . ."
"I know. There was something in her eyes, at times. But I never wanted to ask her."
He picked up the papers, looked them over carelessly. "Why bother about this now?" he asked. "The case is closed. I want to find Joan."
"Just read these clippings over, Bob. Then I'll explain." Dorothy pointed to a carry-over on an inside page of the paper.
"Police are at a loss," Bob read out loud, "to find anybody who

Application Filed For 2 Brown Wells

EASTLAND, May 22 — Applications to drill two wells in Brown county were among papers filed this week in the Railroad Commission office.

Charter Oil & Gas company is to drill No. 1 T. B. Slick, section 41, H. & T. C. survey, Fry field, one mile east of Grosvenor. The 1,350-foot test will be 950 feet west of the east line of the Slick property and 450 feet north of the south line.

E. N. Schaffner was to drill No. 4 C. N. Anderson, Stephen Jones No. 283 survey, one mile west of Cross Cut. This will be drilled to 175 feet.

A. S. Hickok No. 1 Guy Robinson & J. D. Collett, Strawn field, section 88, T. & R. R. company survey, block 3, Palo Pinto county, was to be shot with two quarts of glycerin per foot in the sand formation topped at 1,512 feet and bottomed at 1,534 feet to boost production from four barrels.

E. N. Schaffner plugged No. 2 C. N. Anderson, Stephen Jones No. 283 survey, Brown county, dry at total depth of 192 feet after having a show of oil, 153-163 feet. Schaffner recently completed No. 3 Anderson in sand from 140-150 feet for one barrel of oil.

Oil Belt News for Week's Drilling

EASTLAND, May 22 — With one completion, a new location, spudding of one test and preparation to drill another well, this week witnessed more activities in Eastland county than in several months.

Spudded was by M. M. Moon & L. W. Barrett on their No. 1 C. W. Foote, section 9, H. & T. C. survey, block 2, 150 feet east of the west line and 250 feet south of the north line of the south 40 acres of the Foote 80-acre tract, eight miles southeast of Eastland. Contract depth is 1,000 feet.

States Oil Corporation No. 8 G. T. Parrack, SW 1-4 section 7, H. & T. C. Railway Company survey, block 4, seven miles north of Eastland, was completed for approximately 10 barrels in a sand formation, 1,856 to 1,860 feet.

Hoffman & Page company reported tubing was yet to be run in the completion of No. 1 J. S. Dodd, five miles south of Ranger and southeast of Eastland, as a gasser from 3,108 to 3,128 feet. It had been drilled to 3,440 feet in the Duffer horizon without success.

Spudder was on location for the 2,500-foot test to be drilled one mile southeast of Eastland by Barnett Petroleum corporation and J. L. Reeves on the L. C. Downtain. Location of the test, No. 1A Downtain, is in section 2, E. T. R. R. survey, block 6, 1,000 feet from the east line and 1,250 feet from the south line.

Of interest was the moving in of materials for Hickey et al No. 1 W. M. Martin, 530 feet from the north line, 165 feet from the west line of sub-division 5 in the D. J. Miller survey, two miles southeast of Desdemona, Eastland county, in Erath county. The operation calls for drilling to 3,200 feet.

The No. 1 Martin is in the vicinity of the N. D. Gallagher and O. G. Lawson et al No. 1 Bobbie Terry, one-half mile south of Desdemona, but 100 feet over in Comanche county. The Terry is described as the county's "first real deep test." According to statements all possible producing stratas will be tested. It is in the approximate center of the Desdemona pool which during the boom gave fame to this area as the most spectacular production center in the world. It is stated.

Representative of the L. L. Wellborn interests stated No. 1 W. U. Fox, lot 49, leagues 3 & 4, McLennan county school land, six miles southeast of Eastland and southwest of Ranger, will explore the territory to 1,800 feet. Today the test was shutdown at 1,428 feet, but was to be started again.

No. 1 Fox originally obtained 3,750,000 feet of gas in dry sand topped at 1,086 feet and bottomed at 1,102 feet. Later the test was drilled deeper in an effort to obtain production as found last year in the Ray T. Hoff No. 1 White which found good oil production topped at 1,419 feet and bottomed at 1,451 feet. The No. 1 Fox is about one-half mile northeast of Hoff's No. 1 White.

S. R. Boggs filed application to drill No. 4 Frank Penn, three miles west of Cisco, 1,260 feet south of the north line and 200 feet west of the No. 1 on the same lease, SE 1-4 section 11, block 2 of the BBB & C Ry. company survey. It will be for 250 feet.

Anderson-Drewery No. 1 Kate Grist, section 36, Lavaca county school land, block NW 1-4, 14 miles southwest of Cisco, was under-reaming 6 5/8 inch casing at 2,152 feet.

F. J. Estes No. 1 Gentry-Popejoy, southeast of Ranger, was still shut down at 2,985 feet after losing tools.

based on those drafted by Thomas Jefferson.

"There could be, if anything, a reduction in the number of committees if they were re-aligned on the basis of their proper jurisdiction," O'Connor explained. "And some new ones—to meet modern conditions—could be created.

He said, for example, he had received several hundred letters during the past few weeks urging creation of a House committee to handle aviation legislation, which would include lighter-than-air military and civil problems. At present, jurisdiction is split among the naval affairs, military affairs and interstate commerce committees.

389 Old Age Checks For Eastland County

EASTLAND, May 22 — Pension checks from the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission went to 389 Eastland county residents last month, according to a list on file today in Clerk R. V. Galloway's office.

The checks, ranging in payments from $4 to $39, averaged $14.90 and totaled $13,157.

W. W. Kelly, one of the investigators for the county, stated he has been advised 33 persons not on the roll last month will receive checks in June for this month.

The list of payments are filed in each month by the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission in all county clerk offices and is public record.

HARRISBURG, Ill. (U.P.)—General rate of pay for digging coal in 1892, as revealed in a recently uncovered yellowed payroll book of the old Black Hawk mine, was 27 cent a bushel. Average pay was slightly over $1 a day, and owner-operators took in about $10.

AVERAGE AMERICAN HOME

(About 1.5c of this goes every day for taxes to pay the mounting costs of government)

Mr. Kilowatt's Wages Drop--While Others Mount

After 50 kilowatt hours of usage, Mr. Kilowatt, your electric servant, works on for less than ONE-HALF the average cost of the first 50 hours in a month. He doesn't ask a 30-hour week. Nor is he ever on a sit-down strike. He WANTS to work actively on for you—and at a much lower hourly rate. The price of a shoe shine, or an average cigar, will pay his daily wage. The taxes on cigarettes alone amount to more than his pay for operating all the modern household electric appliances in the entire United States. If a shoe shine or a cigar for one individual is low in cost, why not, then, an electric home to be used and enjoyed by the whole family at the same low price.

A Whale of a Service at a Minnow's Cost!

What other dime that you spend will go as far as that spent for electric service? Government-political costs have increased but electric service costs have constantly decreased. You now pay 50 per cent more for stamps—3c instead of 2c. A few years ago you could mail THREE LETTERS for the cost of operating THAT day's small refrigerator. NOW you can mail only ONE LETTER as government costs have gone up while rates and operating costs on the same size refrigerator have gone down to 3c per day.

Today's cost of operating an electric range is less than 1c a meal per person; and today's cost of electric water heating, using Mr. Kilowatt during periods when the electric range is idle, costs only 1c per kilowatt-hour.

Reorganization Of House Urged

WASHINGTON, May 23 (U.P.) — Chairman John J. O'Connor, D. N. Y. of the House rules committee, favors sweeping revision of congressional procedure as part of the administration's program to reorganize the Federal government on an efficiency basis.

O'Connor wants an immediate reduction in the number of house committees — based upon their jurisdictional duties — and a simplification of the complicated rules structure written for the lower chamber by Thomas Jefferson.

He charged that present rules and committee setups "are 100 years behind the time." Those in the Senate should not even serve for conducting a village meeting he said.

"In the house, nothing has been done for 100 years to bring our procedure up to date," O'Connor said. "Instead of improving or coordinating conditions, any changes have been tacked on to existing sequences."

He proposed as a solution of "red tape" complications:

1. Re-alignment and co-ordination of the present 45 House standing committees without increasing the number but eliminating those that "function in name only and carry some patronage."
2. Revision of House rules, still

Homemakers Take Prize Ribbons

Miss Martha Graves of the Home-making department reports on a very interesting phase of the work of three classes in consumers education unit of clothing no. 2 division of the high school department in which prize ribbons are given to three girls for excellent work.

In this work each girl took an item of clothing and worked out her project giving a complete history and shopping hints for each time. The idea is what salesmen call "The Romance of Salesmanship" that directs interest to the article weaving about it a glamor that brings life and a desire to know more about the item.

Alice Slinker took first prize ribbon; Jane Moore, second; and Daisy Wood, third.

SECURITY TEST HOLDS IMPORT FOR 29 MILLION

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 22 (UP)—The Supreme Court's decision on validity of old age pensions, major provision of President Roosevelt's Social Security act, affects more than 26,000,000 workers and 2,700,000 employers.

The law itself is more wide-spread in the scope of those it directly affects than any other New Deal measure passed on by the high tribunal.

The workers under the law have been paying since Jan. 1, one per cent of their weekly wages into a federal fund designed to provide for their voluntary retirement at the age of 65. Employers likewise have been paying for the same fund.

The tax, starting at 1 per cent on employe and 1 per cent on employe, rises gradually to a maximum of 3 per cent on each in 1948.

Aids Pension Laws

The act also provides for old age benefit payments to states having old age pension laws of their own. The federal government contributing half of any monthly payment up to $30 a month made under a state plan approved by the Social Security board.

The old age pension provisions together with the unemployment insurance provisions of the law—attacked in other suits before the court—make up the most important phases of the Social Security program.

Other phases of the act such as assistance to the blind, grants for maternal and child health services and for public health work, are not involved in the decision.

Because of the far-reaching extent of the old age law, administration leaders urged the Supreme Court to grant early consideration of the present case when the First Circuit Court of appeals in Boston held the law unconstitutional.

The appeals court, the same tribunal which voided AAA in the case which furnished a Supreme Court test of the farm program, made its decision by a two to one vote in a test brought by George P. Davis, a stockholder in the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston.

Sued for Injunction

Davis sued in the Federal District court for an injunction to restrain the officers and directors of the company from paying the tax imposed on its payrolls for old age pensions. He asserted that the tax was unconstitutional. He contended that to pay the tax would deprive him, as a stockholder, of property since the tax money if unpaid, presumably would be used to provide dividends. He sought to prevent the company from withholding from the pay envelopes of its employes the 1 per cent tax imposed by the law.

The District court saw no merit to Davis' contentions and his lawyers appealed to the Circuit Court. The utility company did not interpose any defense to Davis' action. However, Guy T. Hedvering, internal revenue commissioner, and William M. Welch, local collector of internal revenue, intervened in the suit.

While the government might have challenged Davis' right to sue and to obtain an injunction against tax collections it did not do so. In arguing the case in the Supreme Court, the government declared that the necessity of determining the law's status made it desirable to obtain an immediate ruling in spite of technical grounds.

The government noted that there were almost 29,000,000 tax accounts with the Federal government involved in the proceedings and that the task of making refunds, should the law be declared invalid, would prove an almost superhuman task.

Immediate Ruling Sought

It thus sought to obtain an immediate ruling.

The old age pension plan had long been under consideration by various legislators before finally enacted law during the depression under the direction of President Roosevelt. It was supported on the theory that it would remove from the government a large part of the burden of relief in future periods of economic stress.

As a social argument in favor of the law, it was contended that the proportion of persons over 65 was growing in relation to the rest of the population and probably would reach a peak of 14 per cent of the total population in 1980. A large part of this group, it was urged, are either confined to institutions or dependent on relatives for support.

Under the law 42 states and territories have enacted old age benefit laws which have received the approval of the Social Security board.

Benefits payable under provisions of the act establishing monthly old age benefits to be paid workers under Title II of the act range to a maximum of $85 a month after the age of 65, on the basis of a maximum salary of $3,000 a year.

"A Trip To The Bakery"

We left the school house at 9:40 to go to the bakery. We marched by two. On the way we passed the mill where wheat is ground. When we got to the bakery we saw a place where the bread was rising. It was on the racks.

We saw the oven where the bread was baking. The bread was going around and around on racks, so it could brown evenly.

The oven looked like a tank.

We saw the bread being sliced by an electric slicing machine. Mrs. Osborn put the wrappers on the bread.

Everything in the bakery was nice and clean.

Those who went to the bakery were: Doris Lee Hall, Nellie Mae Exline, Mary Lou Flemming, Wanda Johnson, Estelle Morgan, Mildred Patterson, Juan Torres, Andres Martinez, Eldon Lee Callerman, Charlie Rameriz, Harold Hill, Kenneth and Lucile Boatman, Wadell Rains, Audelia Ramirez, Raymond Rojas and Wanda Lee Joyner.
