FIGHTING IS FIERCEST IN WHOLE OF WAR

MADRID, Spain, July 24. (AP)—A terrific artillery, airplane, infantry and tank battle was in progress today on all four fronts of the Madrid sector.

The fighting in the mountains surrounding the city was heavier than at any time during the current siege, forecasting a test of strength which may determine the outcome of the civil war.

Artillery shells poured into enemy positions on both sides and insurgent counter-offensives west of Madrid was the most concentrated so far, and was met with desperate loyalist resistance.

A spectacular feature of the fighting was a charge by insurgent tanks through barbed wire entanglements on the front lines at Brunete on the west front. It was estimated that 40 to 50 tanks were used.

Loyalist bombers battled more than 40 insurgent bombers and scores of escort planes.

The nationalists in one of the most terrible airplane bombardments of the war, set fire to villages on Brunete and two other villages on the west front.

HUESTIS WINS FIRST HALF OF CITY BALL LEAGUE BY 16 TO 4

Claude Wilson pitched Smitty's Sinclairs to victory last night over the Red Front Drug team and gave Smitty the championship of the first half of the city softball league.

Playing to a packed and jammed park the Sinclairs played great ball and were never behind.

For the first four innings the game looked like it would be a repetition of the game that tied the two teams. The score was nothing to nothing, no errors had been made and the game was fast and furious. In the fifth inning Riley

Red Front pitcher, walked the first two men that faced him for five of the Sinclairs found him for hits and with the help of an error five runs and been scored to give Smitty's Sinclairs a nice lead. Smitty remembered the heavy bombardment that his pitchers had been receiving from the big bats of the Red Shirts and kept his bunch hustling after more runs. They collected three more in the next inning to get an eight run lead.

Wilson pitching great ball had given no runs and only three hits up to this time. With this nice fat lead Wilson eased up a bit and while his own team was making eight more runs to let the Drug Store boys make four and the game ended 16 to 4.

The Sinclairs collected seven hits for the night and the Red Front team also got seven hits.

Red Front made eight errors for the night and the Sinclairs made five. The Red Front errors came at

If rumors are to be credited much oil drilling activity is to take place in the Cisco area during late summer, beginning perhaps with the two wells to be drilled on the Wednesday land, rig for which will be dismantled Monday and moved to location during the week.

The Lone Star is also dismantling a rig to be used on the Kleiner land north east of the city and to be started shortly. This well was to have begun by July 15 but it is understood a stay was secured which delayed drilling for a short while. Gallagher & Lawson have the contract for this well.

It is also rumored that Gus Hutton et al are to drill on acreage south east of the city on the Strickland land or adjacent acreage.

A pool for drilling in the Scranton community has also been organized and some Ciscoans are interested in the activity. It is stated.

A third well is to be drilled on the Grover Cleveland land it is stated, northwest of Cisco.

IF YOUTH BUT KNEW

By FLORENZ ZIEGFELD Theatrical Producer

I do not go in for literature but I will try and write simply and frankly a few of the outstanding principles that seem to me good for Youth to follow at the outset of the upward climb.

- 1. Be considerate to all with whom you come in contact.
2. Always mind your own business...
3. Do not care about other people's opinions.
4. Always figure that the best obtainable is the cheapest in the end, no matter what the price.
5. Remember that beauty rules the world.
6. Pay no attention to gossip and never believe a thing is true unless you see it to be so yourself.
7. Do not produce for people who are watching you in a critical or flattering spirit.

It has always seemed to me that, no matter what a man does for a living, he should spend little time examining the work of others in his own line.

The man who is continually trying to find out what the other fellow is doing and how he is doing it, loses the faculty of originality and of thinking things out for himself.

A good thing for a young man to keep in mind is the futility of boastfulness. It is a bad habit and flourishes in large cities where money is always one of the main objects of life.

Boastfulness is always in bad taste. But it also does damage to a man's character, as any bad habit does when not held in strong check.

No One Knows It All

No one ever learns so much that he can't learn more. Progressive individuals and progressive businesses and institutions never forget this.

The agricultural cooperative movement is a case in point.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

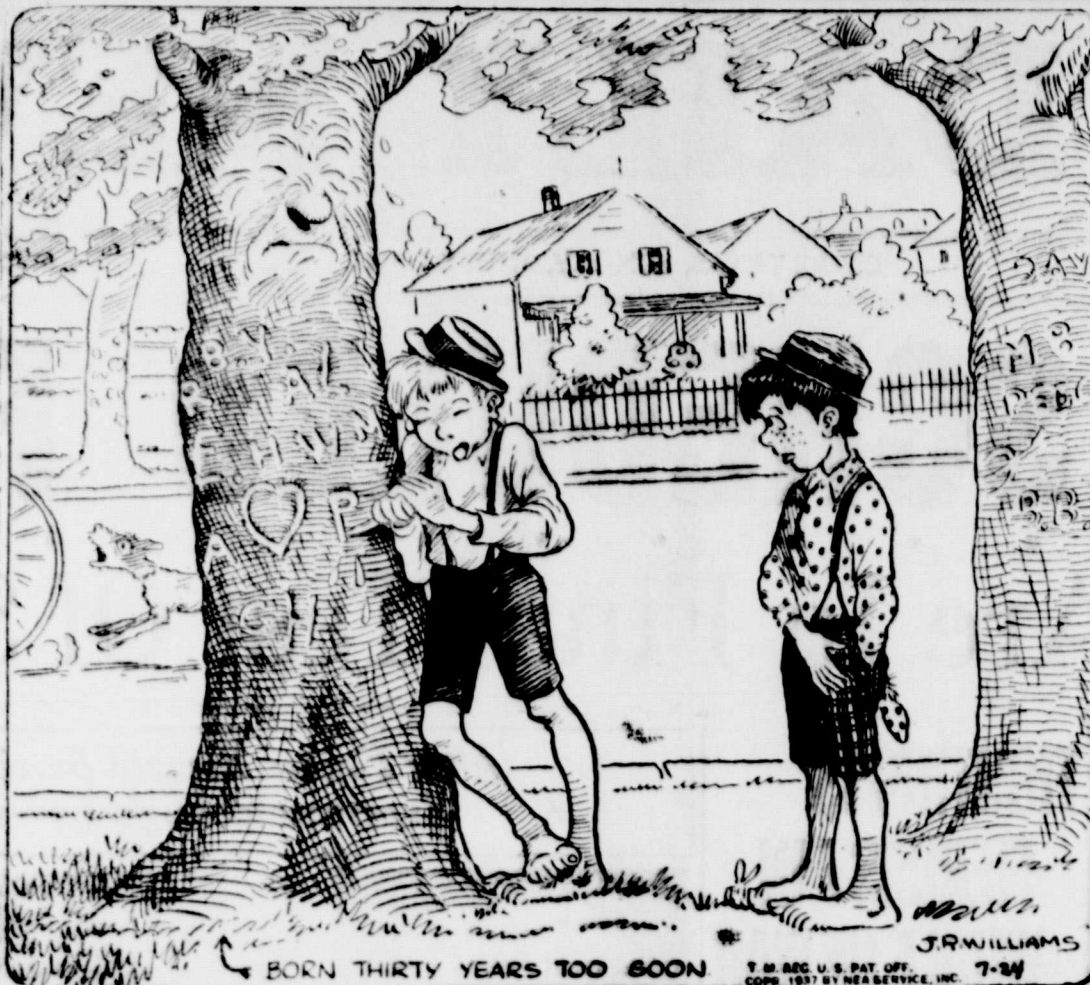

WASHINGTON—The administration's chief handicaps in the court fight have been a lack of fighting generals in the Senate and a superfluity of polyanims in the top ranks, not omitting the President.

Some of the generals now have begun to show fight and the fury of their sudden onslaught on behalf of the Hatch compromise which would mean at least three Roosevelt appointments of Supreme Court justices by January, temporarily set the opposition back on its heels.

The actual objective of present tactics, although you won't find anyone admitting this, is a cloture, requiring a two-third vote, which would place a limit on Senate debate and thus kill off the anticipated filibuster.

SENATOR JOE ROBINSON and other pro-administration leaders are proceeding on the theory—or at least the hope—that they can get a cloture after the opposition talks two or three weeks. Since the administration claims only a small majority for the compromise plan, this would mean that eight or ten senators opposed to the plan would have to agree to vote to end a filibuster.

OUT OUR WAY

Duro canyon. Three men put names into a hat and drew out the official title of "Aubrey," which was the name of one of their girl friends. The town of Blessing was given that name by John E. Pierce in appreciation of its founding. He wanted to call it "Thank God" but the railroad objected. Sacul and Tenuus are "Lucas" and "Sunset" spelled in reverse, but no one knows who had the backwards idea or why the towns were so named.

The state tree of Texas is the pecan. Its bird the mocking bird, its motto "Friendship," and its flower, of course, the Bluebonnet. "Texas, Our Texas," composed by Gladys Y. Wright and W. J. Marsh, was officially adopted as the state song in 1929.

ARMY RENTS "BATTLEFIELDS" SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—War is getting more and more expensive every day, according to army officials at the Presidio here. Even to have maneuvers for the 55,000 men of the 4th army, it was necessary to rent battlefields on which the troops could operate.

VACATION DIARY BY JEAN SEIWRIGHT Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

LATER in the afternoon Miss Pegler rushed up to me, threw her arms about me (I was glad the room was empty) and said: "I'm delighted you're going to marry Dick. It will almost be like having a daughter of my own. I hope you'll both be very happy."

CHAPTER IX WEDNESDAY: More excitement today, though I haven't been able to put two and two together concerning Dick and Jigger. However, as the kids say when they play one of their guessing games, "I'm getting warmer." A terrific thunderstorm broke just as lunch was almost over.

pay much attention to them, for I'd picked up a magazine... then I realized I was eavesdropping when Miss Pegler said: "Oh, Mr. Hall, you can't mean that... Dick would never get mixed up in such an affair... I'm sure that can't be so."

AS the lawyer paused I realized what I was doing, listening to a conversation I was not supposed to hear... I tiptoed from the porch, passed the maid cutting flowers, told her I'd see Miss Pegler again... she didn't mention I'd called... and walked quickly towards The Golden Anchor.

RAIN came down in sheets last night, so Dick telephoned and called off our date. Was surprised he agreed so enthusiastically with me... usually makes quite a fuss if I want to break a date... can't help wondering if he has other plans for tonight. Isn't that a terrible way to write about the man whose name I'm soon to share! Oh, I wonder if I'm going to make a mistake marrying him?

Walked over to Miss Pegler's in the forenoon with a book Mrs. Fenwick was lending her... maid told Miss Pegler was busy... I would I care to wait outdoors or in... decided I'd sit on her porch... soon I heard voices... didn't

But at every step I took I questioned about the trouble Dick was in... it was strange I didn't see him around... stranger still he hadn't been at the teahouse for his morning game of tennis... perhaps after all there was something to what Peter had said... but if he had promised Dick he wouldn't tell, I would never dream of trying to force his confidence and make him break his promise.

Cal hailed me when I passed the teahouse. "Well, what is it, Cal?" I asked, seating myself on a boulder, for when Cal starts any of his stories you may as well make up your mind it's going to be some time before he reaches the end.

"I've got some news for you," he said, throwing a couple of sacks over the ice in the station wagon. "Yes, sirree, those men you told me about... the ones you sent to Serene Shores ain't the usual run of summer visitors... they're in cahoots with the police... saw them talking to Constable Tuttle this morning right in his garden."

I laughed. Cal's imagination was surely working overtime... probably they were asking the way to some place nearby. I jumped up as I said so. Then Cal whispered, "Eb Tuttle says they're Secret Service men."

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By WALTER CRONKITE United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, July 24 (AP)—A very short news story from the Boston Mass., set capital politicians here muttering this week.

James Roosevelt, secretary to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, his father, is much too busy with his official duties to think of entering politics on his own behalf. The fact was learned when news-hawks inquired of James, the story reported, as to whether or not he was seriously considering running for governor of Massachusetts in 1938.

Massachusetts and James Roosevelt and any official link between the two are far from Austin political observers thoughts—as a rule. But this business of James Roosevelt running on the eastern state's gubernatorial ticket set the observers to thinking.

And what they thought was that James' situation might be analogous to his brother, Elliott, in Fort Worth. It has been mentioned, not without some prominence, that Elliott might be a candidate for the governor's seat when it is at last vacated by the incumbent Gov. James V. Allred.

The news story brought to the observers' minds for the first time the theory that Roosevelt scions other than Elliott might be under the political curse and are being mentioned for state positions. With the revelation came further doubt that there is any seriousness to the "Elliott Roosevelt for Governor" boom in Texas.

Most skilled politicians believe Elliott's short length of residence in the state and his lack of past political performances here would be more of a hindrance than his famous name would be an aid. Meanwhile, Elliott does not comment.

Words, phrases and even punctuation mean much when the law into which they are written is attacked by attorneys who have much at stake—professionally and financially. It is not rare that a case jumps into the headlines when a misplaced comma or a typographical miscue have serious or ludicrous results.

A few years ago, if memory serves correctly, a capitol stenographer hit the wrong figure and an execution order for a "doomed" man in the Huntsville prison was dated for the year just passed. Until rectified, the error caused no little consternation about governmental halls.

It seemed that the culprit could not be executed because the date for which the electrocution was set of the official proclamation had long since passed. Neither could he be released.

All that was called to mind when Rep. L. M. Kenyon of Galveston stirred up the fight in the House-chamber during the special session by amending the dog racing bill so that it would have outlawed gambling, even on bridge games in the home.

All Kenyon did was to strike 10 words from the two-page bill. Instead of reading "or shall bet or wager upon anything in any place" where people resort for the purpose of betting or wagering—"it read "or shall bet or wager upon anything in any place—"

The Kenyon amendment was knocked from the bill on a point of order.

The State Capitol is a mecca for tourists, not only from Texas but from nearly every other state. E. R. Lindley, door-keeper of the House of Representatives during legislative sessions this summer is keeping a visitor register there and pointing out the art relics of interest about the chamber.

In two weeks 1,221 persons have placed their names in Lindley's book. They came from 21 states—the District of Columbia. Oklahoma led all the number of tourists sent here with 39 of the 149 out-of-state visitors. Louisiana, with 26, was next and Mississippi, California, Missouri and New York took their places in that order.

Occupations of the visitors ranged from domestic cook to a New York Worlds Fair Commissioner.

Featuring cooking appliances, and industrial uses of gas, the exhibit shows how gas industry is bringing improved service to consumers. Covering 16,000 square feet in a wing of the Varied Industries building, the area is air conditioned by gas and affords a cool place for relaxation for Exposition visitors. The exhibit houses a comfortable auditorium which has a seating capacity of 250. The stage is equipped with a model gas kitchen. A daily feature is a free cooking demonstration given on the auditorium stage by Miss Albertine Berry, home economics director for the Lone Star Gas System. Miss Berry prepares a complete meal for a family. At the conclusion of each demonstration, visitors are chosen from the audience by a drawing and invited to dine with a company hostess at a dinner, food for which is prepared by Miss Berry at the cooking demonstration. Each cooking demonstration begins at 4:30 p. m. daily and concludes at 6 o'clock when the dinners are served in a private dining room near the auditorium. Adjoining the auditorium also is another model kitchen from which visiting housewives may secure suggestions for planning their own model kitchens. In addition to sponsoring this exhibit, Lone Star System also furnishes as a hospitality center for women visitors at the Exposition the former Hall of Religion which was built for the Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936 by Lone Star stockholders.

var and San Martin fighting with their armies against oppression and tyranny. Theodore Roosevelt charges at the head of his troops and takes San Juan Hill while galling guns mow down the Spanish soldiers. The gay nineties, with their horse drawn engines, high wheeled bicycles, hansom cabs, bustles and bouches lend a picturesque touch to the story of America's development following the settlement of the Western states. The grand finale with galloping cowboys, waving flags fading out behind the unique and beautiful water screen, follow the representation of the last year's peace conference called by President Roosevelt at Buenos Aires.

Tarleton Dean Says Bible First of Ten

STEPHENVILLE, July 24 - Asked to name his ten favorite books, Dean J. Thomas Davis of John Tarleton College today put the Bible first in his list. "It is hard to select no more than ten books, and call them favorites," Dean Davis said. "But there are four books which I have read and reread and shall doubtless continue to read. These were the Bible, the Panchatantra translated by Arthur W. Ryder of Berkeley, California, Pla-to's "Republic," and "Social Principles of Education," by George H. Everts. These represent the types of reading matter which Dean Davis prefers - philosophy, government history and sociology. "I name the Bible because I believe its rules for social conduct still to be fundamentals for good in our society," Dean Davis said. He indicated particular interest in the Song of Youth and Age which closes the book of Ecclesiastes. The Panchatantra is a translation from the Sanskrit of a group of ancient stories in which animals speak expressing an ancient philosophy for the "wise conduct of life." Mr. Davis has read it constantly since his two sons, Willson and William, gave it to him on a Christmas ten years ago. Other books which he includes in his list of "much-loved books" are Everett Dean Martin's "Meaning of a Liberal Education," the American Nation series edited by A. B. Hart, Curberly's "Public Education in the United States," Albert Edward Wiggam's "Marks of an Educated Man," and A. S. M. Hutchinson's "One Increasing Purpose." "Books dealing with government or history always interest me," Dean Davis said. "To I like historical fiction, particularly those stories which center about the development of America, the growth of our soil." "Did I like 'Gone With the Wind'?" Yes.

Cavalcade Show to Be Free to Public

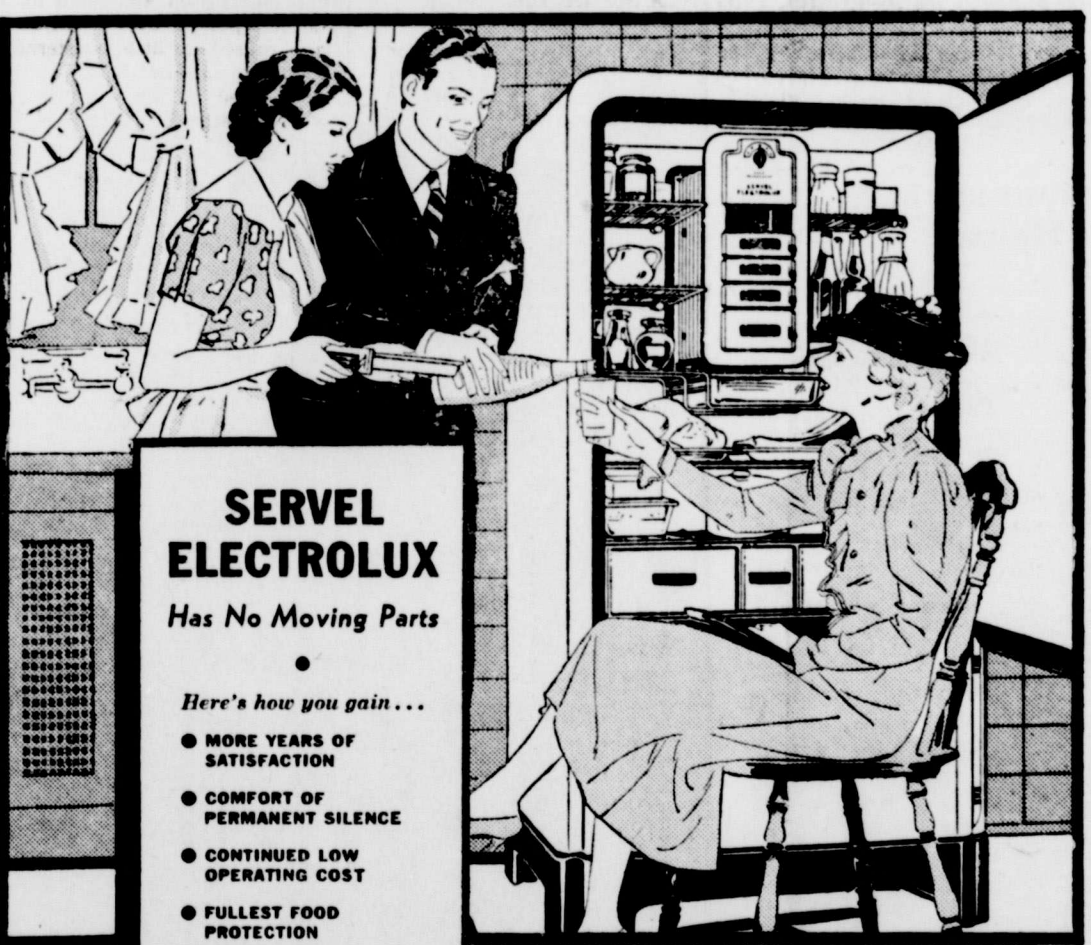

DALLAS, July 24 - Cavalcade of the Americas, huge historical spectacle of the Texas and Pan-American Exposition will be free to the public hereafter. This $500,000 show, presented on the largest stage in the world with a cast of more than 300 people, tells the dramatic story of the fight of North and South American peoples for liberty. Director General Frank L. McHenry of the exposition makes the great spectacle a free attraction complementing Latin American nations who are participating in the Exposition and also at suggestion of various school authorities who point out that the educational value of Cavalcade should be made available free to every school or university student in the Southwest. Cavalcade starts in the days of the Aztecs with human sacrifice on top of the Mexico City pyramid in the shadow of an erupting volcano. Then comes the discovery of America by Columbus. The conquest of Mexico by Cortez. The Boston Massacre and the American Revolution culminating with the surrender of the British at Yorktown. Washington is inaugurated first President of the United States. Then comes the story of the fight for freedom in South America and in Mexico with Hidalgo, Morelos, Bol-

VAST AIR BASE FOR ARMY USE RISES IN WEST

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 24 (AP)—Work is being rushed here for the completion by January, 1939, of what will be one of the nation's most important military aviation centers.

When completed, it will be a base for the repair and maintenance of all army flying fields, planes, and materials west of the Rocky Mountains.

The new Sacramento air depot, will be located on a 1,200-acre tract of land seven miles northeast of the state capital. It will include an amazing array of huge steel and concrete buildings, housing plane shops, warehouses, engine shops, aero shops, hangars, offices and many other structures.

It will also have a military post, including a headquarters building, barracks, hospital, quartermaster's facilities, guardhouse, fire stations and quarters for officers and "non-coms."

More than 200 men are working on the base now and this number will be increased to 1,000 when construction is in full swing, according to Major Arthur W. Parker, in charge of the work.

Three Concrete Runways For test flying, there will be a large, completely equipped airfield with three concrete runways each 4,000 feet long and 150 feet wide. Leveling the field involves the movement of a million cubic yards of soil.

When finished and in public service the depot will provide regular employment for about 500 civilian mechanics and a good sized staff of office workers.

Its military force will consist of from 25 to 40 officers and 150 enlisted men.

The outstanding feature of this great base will be the building which will house the engineering shops and the repair dock. It will be 900 feet long and 600 feet wide, or approximately three city blocks long and two blocks wide, covering nearly 13 acres.

Although it will be only one story high, it will require 5,530 tons of structural steel. Its three main doorways will be 250 feet wide by 50 feet high. The doors will be opened and closed by powerful electric motors. Surmounting the vast structure will be a 90-foot flying control tower.

Within this 13-acre plant will be rows of aeronautical machinery, including everything necessary for overhauling and repairing any type of plane.

Natty 'Parisian' Still Pershing

Not even formal morning clothes could disguise the military bearing of General "Black Jack" Pershing as he attended ceremonies inaugurating the American pavilion at the Paris Exposition, where he is pictured above. Scores of other notables attended the opening also.

An air conditioning system will provide ventilation and regulate the temperature. The reason for this is that aero instruments are so delicate they can be properly regulated and tested only in rooms which are dustproof, and where the atmosphere is controlled.

The main office building will be 300 feet long and 70 feet wide and three stories in height. Two additional structures will house the engineering and operating offices.

Several Warehouses Outlined Also in the layout, will be an engine testing building, a warehouse for salvaged equipment, another for paint, oil and wing "dope," and still another for chemicals, gasoline storage facilities, water and sewer systems.

There will be more than two miles of railroad spurs, including double tracks into the engineering shops and a dike supply warehouse. All of these will connect directly with the principal railroad systems in the Pacific Coast.

Once the entire plant is completed, officials declare it will be one of the most important links in the building up of an aerial defense base on the Pacific Coast as well as the entire region west of the Rockies.

Working Students Make Better Grades

STEVENSVILLE, July 23—John Tarleton College students working on part-time jobs make better scholastic averages than the student body as a whole, according to Dean J. Thomas Davis.

Louise Statham and Pansy Lee Porter of Cisco were among those students at Tarleton last year.

Dean Davis, in a report to J. C. Kellam, Texas Director of the National Youth Administration, said that 143 students were employed part-time during Tarleton's last long session with funds provided by the NYA. Their scholastic average was half a letter higher than that of the entire student body.

Commenting on the work of NYA students, Dean Davis said: "These students at Tarleton come in contact not only with a variety of work in the academic and secretarial lines, but also with the faculty members of the various divisions, including engineering, architecture, home economics, music, agriculture, teacher training, nursing, medicine phy-

FILM PLAYERS RUSH TO TAKE ROAD TO ROME

By JOSEPH D. RAVOTTO United Press Staff Correspondent

ROME, July 24 (AP)—Just as in England when the movie industry first "perked up" there, American actors are coming to Rome to take roles in Italian films.

This summer, with Italy initiating a drive to regain its old place in the cinema industry, there are several Americans taking lead roles in pictures being turned at Cine Citta, Italy's new Hollywood on the outskirts of Rome.

For the last few months there also has been a strange lot of nondescript American cameramen and directors loitering about the Italian studios hoping to crash into the local industry while it is still on the ground floor.

John Lodge, of Boston, socialite brother of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge and his wife Francesca Braggiotti lead the parade. They have opposing lead roles in the Italian talkie "Tonight at Eleven."

Both speak fluent Italian although Lodge's knowledge of Italian is scant but his accent is faultless and he repeats the lines recited to him euphonically.

Mrs. Lodge is partly of Italian extraction, although born an American citizen. Her present film is her second in Italy. She made her debut in "Scipione l'Africano," Italy's greatest film since its regeneration. It is scheduled for release this fall.

Upon the completion of "Tonight at Eleven," the Lodges will leave for Paris, where John is due to make two French films and then to London for four English films. Mrs. Lodge may get parts in these pictures.

A week's dancing engagement at the Teatro Valle, Rome's leading theater, and an appearance before the King and his family, has won

Greater Popularity Likely

She is before the camera in "Doctor Antonius" in a light, pleasing role where her dancing skill alone would suffice. The slim, blond American is prepared for a long sojourn in the home of her ancestors. Her present film may be the first of a series.

Another on the list of Americans acting in Italian films is Barbara Fairbanks, daughter of Frank Fairbanks, painter and former professor, at the American Art Academy. With an Italian accent that is flawless, Miss Fairbanks is making her debut in a comedy "The Last Days of Pompeii," directed by Mario Mattioli, who spent several years in Hollywood.

Others are on their way over. Bessie Love, star of the silent days, is dickering with Italian magnates and before long her name may be added to the list of Americans who are seeking to recapture the fame that once was theirs.

Speeding First in Cause of Deaths

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Safety Council, realizing that with the total registration of cars in the United States at a peak of 26,221,000 the congested highways will increase accidents, has gathered a number of interesting accident facts for summer motorists to study.

Four out of five accidents, says the council, occur while driving straight ahead and the same percentage occur on dry roads and in clear weather.

The seven reasons for fatal accidents reported by 26 states, rank as follows:

1. Exceeding speed limit or going too fast for conditions.
2. Driving on wrong side of road.
3. Disregarded stop signs or signals.
4. Did not have right-of-way.
5. Cutting in.
6. Passing on curve or hill.
7. Failing to signal.

Will Rogers Shrine To Be Singing Tower

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 24 — The beautiful Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun is to become one of the most unique ringing towers in the world. Spencer Penrose, who has built the granite memorial on Cheyenne mountain, half a mile above the Broadmoor hotel, is now having installed an elaborate system of Westminster chimes and vibra harp which can be operated automatically or through a console on which concerts can be given. The silvery notes will be amplified and sent out over the entire Pike's Peak region. Westminster chimes will be heard on the hour and each quarter hour, starting with the songs of the birds at dawning of each day and continuing until 11 at night when they close the day with a hymn. After dark, floodlights will illuminate the shaft like a jewel set in velvet. The lights will come on gradually ten seconds before the song of the chimes, and thirty seconds after the last note has been dimmed to extinction. The singing tower will be in readiness for formal dedication of the shrine on Sept. 6. Almost two years have been required to complete the memorial. Friends of the late Will Rogers from all corners of the nation are preparing to be present for the dedication. Special trains from California, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Illinois are to carry thousands to the shrine for the dedicatory service to be held at 11 a. m. on Sept. 6.—Labor Day.

Because Will Rogers was the dean of cowboys a world-wide Will Rogers Memorial rodeo will be held Sept. 4, 5 and 6 on the Broadmoor hotel polo grounds, just below the shrine. The opportunity to memorialize Will Rogers in the rodeo arena is attracting the world's leading cowboys. The Pike's Peak Polo association is offering handsome trophies and $15,000 cash prizes.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. William H. DeFrehn report a hazard a guess as to what will happen next year, but this year they picked cherries from a pear tree.

At least, for the past eight summers Mrs. DeFrehn picked pears from the tree. "We never had very many," she said, "but I know they were pears." This spring the tree had more than its usual number of blossoms and I was delighted to think we were going to have a bumper crop. "It wasn't very long before the whatever they are—stopped growing. They looked terribly small! But when they turned red I examined the fruit and, sure enough, the tree was bearing cherries."

Village Mayor is Reading Gas Meters

FAIRPORT, C. (UP)—Mayor John C. Hendrick, Fairport's versatile village head, not only administers the affairs of the village but also serves as branch manager of the gas company in Fairport.

In addition to attending to the village's affairs, the chief executive has charge of the servicing and installing of gas meters in homes of the village, maintenance of gas mains and the reading of gas meters.

The two jobs harmonize, Mayor Hendrick believes, as they provide for a more intimate contact with the villagers under his administration.

Ford to Dedicate Roads to World

DEARBORN, Mich., July 24—The "Roads of the World", a half-mile roadway comprising sections reproduced from 18 historic world highways which witnessed the march of civilization down through the centuries, was formally opened to the public today in the grounds of the Ford Rotunda visitors' gateway to the Ford Rouge Plant here. Consular officers of countries represented in the roads, as well as highway and good roads association officials from the United States and Canada, took part in the dedication which followed an informal luncheon held in the executive lounge of the Ford Rotunda.

Invited guests included: Thomas P. MacDonald, Chief of the U. S. Bureau of Roads; Murray D. Van Wagener, Michigan State Highway Commissioner; Clark Greene, Superintendent of Public Works and Frederick Storrer, City Engineer both of Dearborn; Thomas P. Henry, President of the American Automobile Association; Charles L. Weeks, President and Richard Harist, General Manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan; Edward H. Nines, Chairman of the Wayne County Road Commission; and A. J. Gordon, K. C. President of the Essex County Automobile Club, Windsor.

Also A. O. Bray, acting British consul; Maxime Rainguet, French consul; Fritz Haller, German consul; P. Testaguzza, acting Italian vice-consul; Pierre J. Boyce, Belgian consul; and Carlos Balciouas, Mexican consul.

The permanent Roads of the World exhibit at the Ford Rotunda is an outgrowth of the first such exhibit at the Ford Exposition at the Chicago World's Fair in 1934. It is intended to preserve in permanent form famous highways whose construction has paced the progress of transportation through the centuries. It includes representations of virtually every type of road service used since highways first were constructed.

Noteworthy among the highways represented are the Apptan Way, the famous Roman military highway; the "Summer Palace" road over which the Manchu emperors rolled from the old capitol in what is today modern Peiping to the royal summer palace; the ancient Grand Trunk Road of India, whose northern reaches led through the fabled Khyber Pass, and the Diamond Rush Road of South Africa over which Cecil Rhodes transported fabulous fortunes in diamonds from the rich de Beers mines to Port Elizabeth. Material from the original highways has been incorporated in these sections, slabs from the Grand Trunk Highway and soil from the Diamond Rush Road.

Other highways represented include Belgium's ancient Chausse d'Aerschot, Australia's western highway, the Oregon Trail, Japan's Tokaido, the Vaughan Plank Road of Canada, the Lincoln Highway to the Boston Post Road, the Wilderness Trail blazed by Daniel Boone, the Dixie Highway, Great Britain's Watling Street, the Cortez Road of Mexico, Germany's Gergrasse, France's Route de Quarante Sols and Detroit's Woodward Avenue which for years was a "laboratory" for experiments in American city street paving. Automobiles driven by trained guides will follow the route opened today to take sightseers through the roads exhibition as a part of the tour of the Ford Rotunda and the Ford plants.
