Details could be learned today of the reason for his disappearance, but his father, Judge Lankford, said he thought it to be a case of amnesia. Charles Lankford lecturing each day on an "amnesia" course at the University of Texas subject Judge Lankford said, and he thought it was a case of a tired mind slipping away from monotonous classes.

A telephone message last night from Lankford informed him of the safety of his son.

Lake Yields 12-lb. Channel Cat

A fish story is a fish story, but a FISH story. Fred Grist, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Grist of Cisco, Texas, loving sports of all kinds, does, took the visitors fishing trip out at Lake Cisco. Mr. Grist (Fred) has some nice fish in his day, and another—just to show those who talk what could be caught in a home lake—and what a good fisherman he could be.

Margaret Bryant of Dallas, daughter of the Arthur Grists, is fishing partner. No one just how it happened but she came back with a 12-pound channel cat, and with several smaller ones, weighing about two or three pounds each. Both laid claim to the catch, but no one seemed to argue about who had caught the fish. They just didn't count.

It didn't. Fred explains. "I caught it myself," Margaret responded. "I caught it myself," Margaret responded. "I caught it myself," Margaret responded.

They wrangled—in a polite manner, you understand. Arthur Grist could give you the information regarding the catch today, but did not remark, which is self-evident.

They had a snapshot made of the fish this morning.

Mrs. H. H. Monk has guests Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell of Abilene.

An American Contrast to Egypt's Boy King

The fact that Egypt has a brand-new king would mean little to the average American if it were not for the fact that the new ruler, Farouk I, has become the third of the world's "boy" sovereigns...

Just how a lad of high school age could be expected to take over the enormous duties of running a nation is a matter for deep contemplation in the democratic United States.

Because of our rules and customs, such a thing would be impossible here. But in the hands of the kingmakers with which Europe abounds, it's a simple trick.

Little more than a year ago, Farouk was no more fitted to rule Egypt than any American boy in knee pants. Then the death of his father, Fuad I, interrupted Farouk's elementary education...

While a regency took charge of affairs at home, young Farouk was sent to Europe, where, within five months, he was groomed for the job of riding back into Cairo in a gilded coach...

Americans tempted by the delusion that all this is the glorious fulfillment of a great and wonderful destiny should try to draw a parallel in their own government.

Suppose our method of executive succession brought a 17-year-old youth to the president's chair. Then suppose the cabinet, borrowing power to rule meanwhile...

Suppose, also, that two million cheering people then jammed Washington to greet the little fellow as he rode triumphantly to the White House down an avenue festooned with lights, banners, and flags.

It is all too preposterous ever to happen here. But the thought is valuable. It provides a refreshing foil for our quibble over minor details of the American form of government...

Only trouble now in development of a home caviar to compete with the Soviets is that theirs tastes better.

BEHIND THE SCENE

LET US SERVE YOU! RUG COM THE REXALL STORE

WASHINGTON—The cross-shave election of Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky as Senate majority leader is likely to prove more important than defeat of the Roosevelt court plan...

This is the first time a Democratic Senate has had a leader who wasn't from the deep south and representative of its conservatism.

Some of the pre-war and most of the post-war railroad legislation bears his imprint or name. He has conspicuously opposed high tariffs and championed the "Let a Duck" amendment.

At that point Senator William H. Dieterich of Illinois, who had pledged his vote to Harrison on the Joe Robinson funeral train, was caused by certain New Dealers—apparently aided by some hard-boiled Chicago politicians—to change his mind.

At least a dozen "double-cross" votes were cast in that caucus, representing broken pledges. With 38 votes necessary for a

... with R SHE thought then of Millicent who was thinking about Bruce and wondering at his reaction.

"We're alive! It was good to hear she would see Phil again, she told herself simply. Maybe the pattern would change to the old familiar one."

"Yes, he has his own ship and knows the dangers," Millicent said. "Funny, when he'll turn any kind of a somersault that he gets all goofy about anyone else flying, isn't it?" He tried to advise her last night.

"Bruce flies?" Judith asked. "Bruce?" Millicent laughed. "No, not Bruce. Ronnie." Her face grew serious and rather tired. "Bruce doesn't know that we came."

OUT OUR WAY

WEATHER NEWS TO BE SPEEDED BY NEW ROBOT

By FRED O. BAILEY United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, August 6 (U.P.)—Cold waves bound for the United States from the North Pole next winter will be reported several days ahead of their arrival under plans announced by the weather bureau of a new system of upper-air exploration.

findings from far above the ground—will be released daily with balloons at these two stations.

The Fairbanks station will enable meteorologists to forecast several days earlier than heretofore the approach of a cold wave. The Burbank station will provide upper-air weather news for forecasters all over the country.

Great Obstacle Overcome "The radio-meteorograph promises to remove one of the greatest handicaps to weather forecasting: the world-over—the dearth of up-to-the-minute information on the conditions in the upper air or which to base forecasts," Dr. Gregg said.

The radio-meteorograph consists of a miniature wireless set, which broadcasts the responses made by three elements sensitive to atmospheric changes. Attached to each element—one responsive to pressure changes and one to humidity changes—is a tiny hand which moves as the element moves. A fourth small hand, kept in motion by a special clockwork passes over the three other hand-making contact is it goes. At each contact a signal is broadcast. A receiving set at a ground station picks it up.

Time Intervals Translated Trained observers translate the time intervals between the contacts caused by changing atmospheric conditions and the regular contacts of the moving arm with fixed points into pressure, humidity and temperature readings.

The radio-meteorograph observations from Burbank and Fairbanks, going out by radio and teletype, will reach forecast centers and airports almost as soon as they are taken.

The reports will be invaluable to aviators, and especially those flying the northern regions, Gregg said. They will also enable the bureau to forecast sooner and much more accurately weather conditions for general purposes.

Best-Dressed Woman BY HELEN WELSHIMER COPYRIGHT, 1937, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER VIII

"THE mountain and the airship were coming together, Judith sensed, while her thoughts crowded together until they beat against her brain. Together—but they didn't meet—they were taking a long, long time to crash! If only it would be swift—"

The crash that broke the mountain's storm came then. It was sharp and definite but it did not reverberate as she had expected. The ship shook itself with a tremendous spasm and then lay still. Judith, thrown to the floor, felt her head bump something and knew that it hurt. Voices were raised. Someone screamed. Somebody flashed a light. People were standing up. She realized that she wasn't hurt.

"Millicent!" she called. "Judith! Are you all right?" the girl answered. "The ship stood the shock. Oh Judith, we're alive!"

"We're alive! It was good to hear she would see Phil again, she told herself simply. Maybe the pattern would change to the old familiar one."

"Yes, he has his own ship and knows the dangers," Millicent said. "Funny, when he'll turn any kind of a somersault that he gets all goofy about anyone else flying, isn't it?" He tried to advise her last night.

"Bruce flies?" Judith asked. "Bruce?" Millicent laughed. "No, not Bruce. Ronnie." Her face grew serious and rather tired. "Bruce doesn't know that we came."

"Bruce flies?" Judith asked. "Bruce?" Millicent laughed. "No, not Bruce. Ronnie." Her face grew serious and rather tired. "Bruce doesn't know that we came."

"Judith, doesn't it hurt like the devil to love someone who doesn't want to love you? I wonder if Bruce will follow me?"

"They bumped along the hill road until they reached the town where wooden houses clustered at the approach to the mines and the ranches back in the higher ranges. Judith stretched her slim body as she alighted from the car. She looked around for her bags, found they were jammed in the plane, would be sent on later.

Rooms at the little inn were at a premium. A rancher, standing in front of the hotel, who was starting on a trip to his home 30 miles beyond, tipped his hat and offered hospitality. Faded blue eyes smiled from a face that had weathered sun and wind and storms for 40 years. He was a man whom one could trust, Judith decided at once.

"Do you take boarders?" she asked. "Well, not exactly. We have one young fellow there and a couple more comin' in a week or so. But you're welcome to the beds and the grub, ma'am."

There was time enough to go to Reno later. She had all of her life to reach Reno. Gray eyes shining now, Judith turned to Millicent.

"Millicent, shall we? We can proceed to Nevada any time—"

"I'd adore it! I'm not very keen on gossiping with expectant divorcees anyway. And neither are you. You want a divorce about as much as I want rheumatism but you're being game. Too game, my darling! I vote for the ranch house."

They went into the general store, which was still open, and asked to see clothes. Judith turned away from the rack of cheap cotton dresses. Then she saw the overall counter. There were white denim overalls on display.

"Have you cotton blouses in bright colors?" she asked. The store had. She chose a turkey red, a vivid green, a navy blue, a dull yellow, and smiled as she paid the little amount charged for them as she remembered the beaded jackets—four of the lovely six—that she wore in the damaged plane.

"Bruce flies?" Judith asked. "Bruce?" Millicent laughed. "No, not Bruce. Ronnie." Her face grew serious and rather tired. "Bruce doesn't know that we came."

in America, Millicent gave full choice of selection.

"At last they were at the ranch house. Judith and Millicent were ravenously hungry. They were sleepy, too. It was 11 o'clock the next day when they appeared. A tall man, with a lean, wind-darkened face and a quick smile that played around visionary eyes, rose to meet them.

"I hear you're the new part of the household," he said. "I'm Mark Price, also a boarder."

MARK PRICE—where had she heard that name, Judith wondered. Mrs. Irving, as a name, meant nothing to the man. Apparently women's clothes didn't either. He appeared scarcely to notice Judith's white denim trousers, turkey red shirt and low-heeled brogues. Millicent, in her blue and white, got no better attention.

Clothes horse, admired for her frocks—well, here was a man who was concentrating on her voice and eyes. Judith realized with a sense of pleasure. Phil had dared to suggest that it was her clothes for which she was sought. Phil had been wrong—

Judith made no apologies for her ensembles. Nor did she mention them in the half dozen days that followed. Mark Price was friendly and kind and companionable. He, Judith, and a good-looking cowboy who had had a year at Colgate went horseback riding, had picnic lunches in the gorge, sat by an open fire at night and listened to the wind in the higher hills, or danced to the radio, chairs pushed back against the wall, while the rest of the cowboys gathered and vied for favors.

One night, on the veranda of the farmhouse, with the sweet smell of the earth and the vines and the bushes on the evening air, Mark Price turned to her.

"Mrs. Irving, I want to ask you something and well, to be honest, I'm frightened out of my wits."

"Yes, Mark?" Other men had begun their talk of romance in this vein, too. It was a little amusing, after all, to be thus approached when she was bound for Reno.

"I'm not so formidable," she answered. "But what in the world do you want?" Her matter-of-fact tone tried to discourage any romantic tendencies.

CCC FOOD BILL FOR YEAR SET AT 50 MILLION

By ALLEN DIBBLE United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, August 6 (U.P.)—The Civilian Conservation Corps will have a $50,000,000 food bill during the 1938 fiscal year, the Quartermaster Corps of the army has estimated.

Railroads trucks and in some cases pack animals are resorted to in solving the problem of keeping a constant supply of food moving into the camps.

Some of the camps, which now number nearly 2,000, are located at high elevations in densely wooded, almost inaccessible areas far from hard-surfaced roads. Also in many instances camps are located in sections remote from the supply facilities regularly maintained by the army in each of its nine corps areas.

Nearly half of the rations of CCC enrollees are perishable supplies such as meat, poultry products, fresh vegetables, butter, fish eggs which are purchased locally. Eggs From Million Chickens The daily production by 1,000,000 chickens is required to keep the CCC enrollees supplied with eggs. Approximately 844,000 hogs will be slaughtered during the year to provide bacon and lard. Pork for the camps will come from 1,638,462 hogs.

The daily milk output of 14,492 cows will be used for fresh milk and the daily output from an additional 4,260 cows will be used for evaporated milk.

Farmers will dig 101,076 acres of potatoes for the unlucky enrollees on mess duty to peel. The enrollees will pour syrup pressed from 1,764 acres of maple groves and cane patches over their wheat cakes.

Beans From 4,680 Acres Cultivation of 4,680 acres of beans will be necessary to provide CCC camps throughout the year. The daily output of 75,000 corps will be used for butter and the output of 4,260 cows will be used for cheese. At present enrollees who have received their training in actual work at the camps and in short intensive courses at corps area schools for bakers and cooks perform all culinary duties.

Originally, virtually all of the cooks for the CCC were enlisted men of the regular army who were graduates of the service's bakers and cooks' schools.

NEAR HOUSTON TO BE TALLEST BATTLE SHAFT

HOUSTON, August 6 (U.P.)—Rising two feet daily, the San Jacinto battlefield monument on the shrine of Texas independence has become the state's tallest memorial and soon will be the tallest in the nation.

When completed, the $1,300,000 shaft will outstrip the 555-foot Washington monument by at least 10 feet. It is located on the spot where Gen. Houston's band of 1800 Texans defeated a Mexican army twice its size 100 years ago.

The shaft, constructed with State and Federal money which will be penetrated by two elevators which will take sightseers to a floor 493 feet above the ground.

To Be Completed In March Officials expect work to be completed by next March.

The monument will weigh 70,000,000 pounds. The outer surface is of Texas limestone, quarried and fabricated at Austin, the state capital. The limestone varying in thickness from 3 to 6 inches due to vertical flutes in the sides, blends solidly with reinforced concrete poured against the interior to form the walls.

Large floodlights will play upon the lower part of the shaft at night gradually fading toward the top. Then other floodlights located farther out on the terrace will focus upon a huge Texas star atop the monument.

Offers Extensive View With the shaft more than 50 percent completed, a wide view of surrounding country side is possible at the present level.

To the westward, Houston's skyline is plainly visible 18 miles distant. To the north is seen the winding ship channel formed by Buffalo bayou on which banks the Texans and Mexicans fought. Eastward the towns of Pelly, Goose Creek and Baytown, near the shore of Galveston bay, are visible with coastal plains stretching into the distance to the south.

All around the monument, thousands of dollars are being spent to landscape the entire battlefield to make it the patriotic showplace of Texas.

OSHKOSE, Wis. (U.P.)—C. G. Young, Oshkosh, secretary of the National Gladiolus Society, announced that the society's national show will be in Columbus, O., Aug. 10 to 21.

British Stockman Visits Dalhart, Tex.

DALHART, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Interested in breeding of cattle and range management, C. A. Murray, range expert of the British government in South Africa, visited the Coon & Culberson ranch near Dalhart, famous for its Braford breed of cattle.

Murray, studying Texas breeding methods, was interested particularly in the manner in which the ranch develops fine Hereford cattle under ordinary range conditions, without pampering.

The British cattleman was interested also in the Braford cattle, crossed purebred Brahma bulls with registered Domino Beau-Astor Hereford cows. Braford cattle are low, hot coastal pastures and Hereford and other temperate climate do no good tick fever.

Don't Cross Legs in Reckless Driven Car

LINCOLN, Neb. (U.P.)—Don't cross your legs if you are riding in the front seat of an automobile with a reckless driver.

That is the advice of Dr. Robert Funsten, professor of orthopedic surgery at the University of Virginia. He read a paper on "Dancboard Dislocations of the Hip" at the 50th annual convention of the American Orthopaedic association here.

This type of injury is a frequent result of automobile collisions and presents a serious surgical problem, he said. The passenger in the front seat can avoid it by planting both feet on the floor boards and leaning well back in the seat.

If he crosses his legs, he is ap-to dislocate his hip as well as injure his knee. That means confinement in a hospital for eight or ten weeks, Dr. Funsten said.

BOWIE (U.P.)—County Agent E
 C. Jameson gave a trench silo demonstration to 200 Montague County farmers on the G. E. Blackmor farm, six miles northwest of Bowie on the Wichita Falls highway.

Jameson showed farmers how to dig the trench, how to put in the right amount of feed and how to PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—Shoe shine boys here have reported "double earnings" since the formation of the Bootblacks' Union, latest C.I.O. organization.

And it's the result of the originality of 13-year-old Eider Lake, quick-thinking negro.

Eider visited C.I.O. headquarters one day and was told he couldn't shine shoes there unless he belonged to the union.

"Bring on your union," said Eider,
 "and I'll join it!"

Since then hundreds of boys have signed up with the organization which Eider formed on the spot.

WASHINGTON—The close

Alben W. Barkley of Kentuck
as Senate majority leader likely to prove more importan than defeat of the Roosevelt cou to which Barkley, who will g straight down the line for Roose

The chief significance of Bark

the southern Old Guard in th Democratic party is making wh

This is the first time a Demo wasn't from the deep south and representative of its conservatism

It is highly significant that th

belonging to Maborn Wilcoxson be- came frightened and jumped in front of a truck, driven by Dude Koonce who lives south of town. The horse was being ridden by Mrs. Dale Keith of Fort Worth, a bride of a few days, and a friend of hers Miss Morgan of Abilene. In the crash of the horse and truck Mrs. Keith had one ankle badly broken besides other injuries. The horse had one leg broken and had to be killed and the truck had one fender broken off and was otherwise damaged. Dale Keith was reared here and moved to Fort Worth with his parents a few years ago. He and his bride, his mother, Mrs. Ed Keith and Miss Morgan were visiting friends here when the accident occurred. Their many friends hope Mrs. Keith Jr. may soon recover. It was said that Mr. Koonce was driving very slowly and for that reason the accident was not as serious as it might have been. Friday afternoon Desdemona citizens were made to rejoice when the news was brought from East- land that details had been worked out with the commissioners' court whereby a state highway would be secured. The proposed highway is to be constructed from De Leon to Strawn or to a point between Strawn and Ranger to connect with State Highway No. 1. Representa- tive business men from Strawn, Desdemona, De Leon and other places in this section have been working on the proposition for two years. Those from Desdemona who went to Eastland Friday in the interest of the road were: Mitch- Bailey, O. M. Harrison, L. E. Clark, W. H. Davis, J. H. Rushing Jr., T. H. Key, T. L. Acree and Joe Gib- son. The survey for the road will begin in a few days. It was reported that owners of the immense Allen ranch had offered to give the right-of-way through their land and the people of Strawn had made up a large donation to be used in the purchase of right-of-way. Desde- mona men signed a guarantee to secure the right-of-way through this section.

H. N. Baldersee, and the members feel that the revival was quite suc- cessful. As a mark of appreciation those who attended the services gave donations that amounted to $70.00 besides 50 jars of canned vegetables and fruits. The Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at the church for the regular monthly business session and program; from the Bulletin of Missionary News. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Charles Lee with Mrs. Snodgrass as secretary. Born, on Tuesday, July 27, 1937 to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miles a 5 pound daughter who was given the name of Leuticia Diane. The baby who is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles was born at the home of Mrs. John Nabors, mother of Mrs. Miles. Mr. and Mrs. Boucher of Gorman were among the number who came here Friday to a meeting of post- masters and rural carriers. Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Bruce left early Wednesday morning in their new Buick car for a two weeks va- cation trip. They went first to Port Arthur to visit their daughter, Mrs. R. D. Hedrickson and family and also their youngest daughter, Miss Virginia Bruce who is attending Business College there. From there they were to go to Shreveport, La. to visit Mr. Bruce's only brother and other relatives and then to Gladewater to visit their oldest daughter, Mrs. Bill McKain and family. Mrs. Dick Cutting has been at Kerrville the past week with her father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Gallagher and their two children, who have a cottage at the recreation camp. Depth of the Gallagher & Law- son No. 1 Mrs. Bobbie Terry well is 3,942 feet at noon Tuesday. The drilling contractors are making every effort to have the drilling continue without delay and are putting in new material whenever needed. A few days ago a new sand line was put in as the one that had begun to wear. Saturday noon Weldon Rushing left by train from Ranger taking his mother, Mrs. J. H. Rushing Jr. to Little Rock for her to be treated by a specialist. Mrs. Roy Pushing of Freer went with them Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rushing Jr. took them to Ranger. The many friends of Mrs. Rushing Sr. hope the treatment may prove successful. Tuesday morning, Mrs. Louise Lookingbill, who makes her home with her daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Stover, had the misfortune of letting a window fall on her hand and badly crushing one finger. "Grandma" as she is called, is nearly 95 years of age and quite active for her age. Her many friends regret the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Parks and daughter, Gaynell, returned Thurs- day from their vacation trip through east and south Texas. Kathleen Hensie of Freer, came home with Gaynell. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bragg and lit- tle son, Charles, moved to Older Monday to make their home as Mr. Bragg was recently elected super- intendent of the school there. For the past two years Mr. Bragg has been principal of our high school and has filled that position to the satisfaction of parents and pupils all of whom regret to have him leave but congratulate him on his promotion. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bragg have been very active members of the Methodist church and their places will be hard to fill. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sloan of Ste- phenville, who lived here during 1926 and 1927, came by for a few minutes Saturday morning as they were moving to Donna, Anna, New Mexico, about 25 miles north of El Paso. For the past year Mr. Sloan has been a candy salesman and has made regular trips here each Monday, usually bringing with him Mrs. Sican who visited friends. They are making the change or account of his health. Dr. P. M. Kuykendall of Ranger was here on professional business Tuesday of last week and also on Sunday. We are glad to report that Mrs. John McKain is improving after having been quite ill from gall stones. Mrs. Terry and daughter of Fort Worth have spent the past week with her brother, Wiley Powers and family, Jimmie Duncan Jr. of De Leon has also been visiting his cousin, Jack Powers. Rev. James Lunsford of O'Donnell, left Monday for his home after having been here two weeks conducting the Baptist revival at the tabernacle. As a result of the services 12 members were added to the church, 6 by letter and 6 by profession of faith. The pastor, Rev.

Jefferson Favored Classical Names CINCINNATI (U.P.)—The geogra- phy of the United States might have been vastly different had Thomas Jefferson's Ordinance of 1784 been adopted instead of the Act of 1787. This was revealed by Prof. Bever- ly W. Band, Jr., pundit of history at the University of Cincinnati. Dr. Band has been doing research work for the sesquicentennial celebra- tion of the opening of the Northwest territory. Jefferson's plan called for divi- sion of the territory into 16 states. These state were to have been designated by highly classical names. A few of the names with which states west of the Alleghenies might have been branded are: Sylvania, Michigania, Metropotamia, Illinoisia, Saratoga, Pelisipia, and Cheronesus. Cotton Prospects Good at Sherman SHERMAN (U.P.)—Grayson county with no serious damage from worm- or adverse weather, will make the largest cotton crop in more than five years, according to B. F. Gray retiring county agent. Grayson a 120,000 acres of cotton, most of which will average more than half a bale to the acre. Grayson harvested approximat- ly 750,000 bushels of wheat from 38,000 acres and has prospects of a good upland corn crop. Gray, who has been transferred by the extension department to Van Zandt county, has been suc- ceeded here by V. O. Teddlie of Canton. Base for Dam in El Paso Completed EL PASO (U.P.)—Base for the government's new diversion dam in the El Paso Smelter district has been completed, according to T. A. Van Amburg, engineer in charge for the Austin bridge and road compa- ny, which is constructing the dam. Officials said they hope to have the dam, which when completed will control the flow of water in the Rio Grande, finished by Sept. 1. Workmen expect also that a huge reinforced concrete tunnel which will carry the irrigation water along the upper valley highway will be completed by Sept. 15. Uncle Sam is spending $1,000,000 to construct the dam and diversion canal, all on American soil. The dam will be 375 feet long and 16 feet high. Mexico, by treaty, is entitled to 80,000 acre feet of water a year for use of Juarez Valley farmers.

A "bargain" is sometimes a bargain -- A good many people look on August as their lucky month --and we don't mean those who spend it lying on the sand and taking in salt air. We mean those people who have formed the habit of buying things when other people aren't ... porch rugs and luggage and towels and lamps and all sorts of things, for use now and for use next season. Of course they have learned that "bargains" are not always bargains. They know how to recognize quality and styles and worth, how to find the strong points and how to avoid weaknesses. And much of their knowledge has come from the advertisements in this newspaper. All of us follow advertising, but some people study it so thoroughly that they know exactly what they want and where to get it. They are the ones who find the real bargains. Their money buys more things and better things—in August and all through the year.

IRON GARDENER SOWS, HOES AT PACE OF 8 MEN

By CHARLES ROYAL United Press Staff Correspondent BINGHAMTON, N. Y., August 6 (AP)—A mechanical contraption that plants and cultivates small garden crops more skillfully and more rapidly than the most diligent efforts of any eight men has Broomfield county farmers shaking their heads in amazement.

The machine, first to be used in this section, consists of a tractor with special detachable seeding and cultivating apparatus.

And as the robot farm hand goes snorting up and down the row of carrots, onions, beets and parsnips in the Lawrence brothers land farmers from miles around stand gaping as though they could not believe their eyes.

The new equipment can seed or cultivate four rows at a time and can operate from sunrise to sunset. Human labor, however, requires frequent rest periods, and time is an important element in assuring a good crop.

An attachment which permits adjustment of the rear wheels of the tractor for different widths up to 84 inches makes possible the use of the apparatus between rows any distance apart.

In the past the narrow distance tempts to use horse-drawn seeding and cultivating equipment.

Has Some Drawbacks Although the mechanical farm hand is a labor-saving device, it does not perform quite as thoroughly as would a human laborer.

After cultivating with the robot it is necessary to weed by hand in the growing plant. Generally this space does not extend more than two or three inches, however.

When seeding is to be done, the cultivating equipment may be removed from the tractor and the planting apparatus installed.

HISTORIC PLANE IN JUNK PILE LONDON (AP)— Searching for curios in the Caledonian market Townley Searle, secretary of the Collectors' Club, came upon a lot the tradesman described as junk. Examination resulted in Searle recognizing the "junk" as the remains of "Mellins airship" which on Sep. 19, 1902, made history by flying from Crystal Palace over London.

Experts of the Champlain Valley Archaeological Society, which has its headquarters at the fort, say that the engraving and other tools in the exhibit belong to the Second Period Algonkin people, who lived in the region 1,500 years, or more, ago.

It is currently rumored that the physicians in the city have stated that the swimming pool at Lake Cisco should not be patronized because of the danger of infantile paralysis.

We, the undersigned practicing physicians in the City of Cisco hereby certify that we have not attended a case of infantile paralysis in the immediate vicinity of Cisco nor within 10 miles of the City of Cisco. We have no reason to believe that any one of the victims of infantile paralysis in Eastland county ever entered the Cisco swimming pool and from the information that we have about the purity of the water, the frequency with which the water is changed and the cleanliness of the premises, we do not believe that there is any danger of infantile paralysis being contracted by patronizing the Lake Cisco swimming pool.
