Chinese Sever Jap Line In Fierce Battle

JAPS RESPOND WITH FIERCE AIR BOMBING

SHANGHAI (Sunday), Aug. 22 (U.P.)—Japanese lines on the Whangpoo River were severed by desperate Chinese assaults for the first time early today.

The Japanese responded instantly with a concerted drive by air, water and land. Every Japanese warship except on gunboat steamed down the Whangpoo, guns blazing against Chinese shore forces. The river blazed with searchlights. A split second before, the naval offensive Japanese aircraft had launched a massed bombing on the Hongkew section of the city.

Shortly after 1 a. m. Chinese leaders claimed their forces had widened the wedge between the Japanese forces. Arrival of 30 Japanese warships bearing troop reinforcements was reported.

Hundreds of fires were burning and more than 250 square blocks of the city either were in flames or were already burned. Damage was estimated at $150,000,000.

Foreign warships feared new shellings such as that which killed Seaman Frederick Faigout of the U. S. S. Augusta, and wounded 17 other U. S. sailors.

With four American citizens known dead, and many wounded, a naval board of inquiry sitting at the Augusta completed its investigations of the shelling and sent its report to Washington where it will be made public.

The number of troops engaged on the Shanghai front was estimated at around 200,000. About 150,000 of them Chinese.

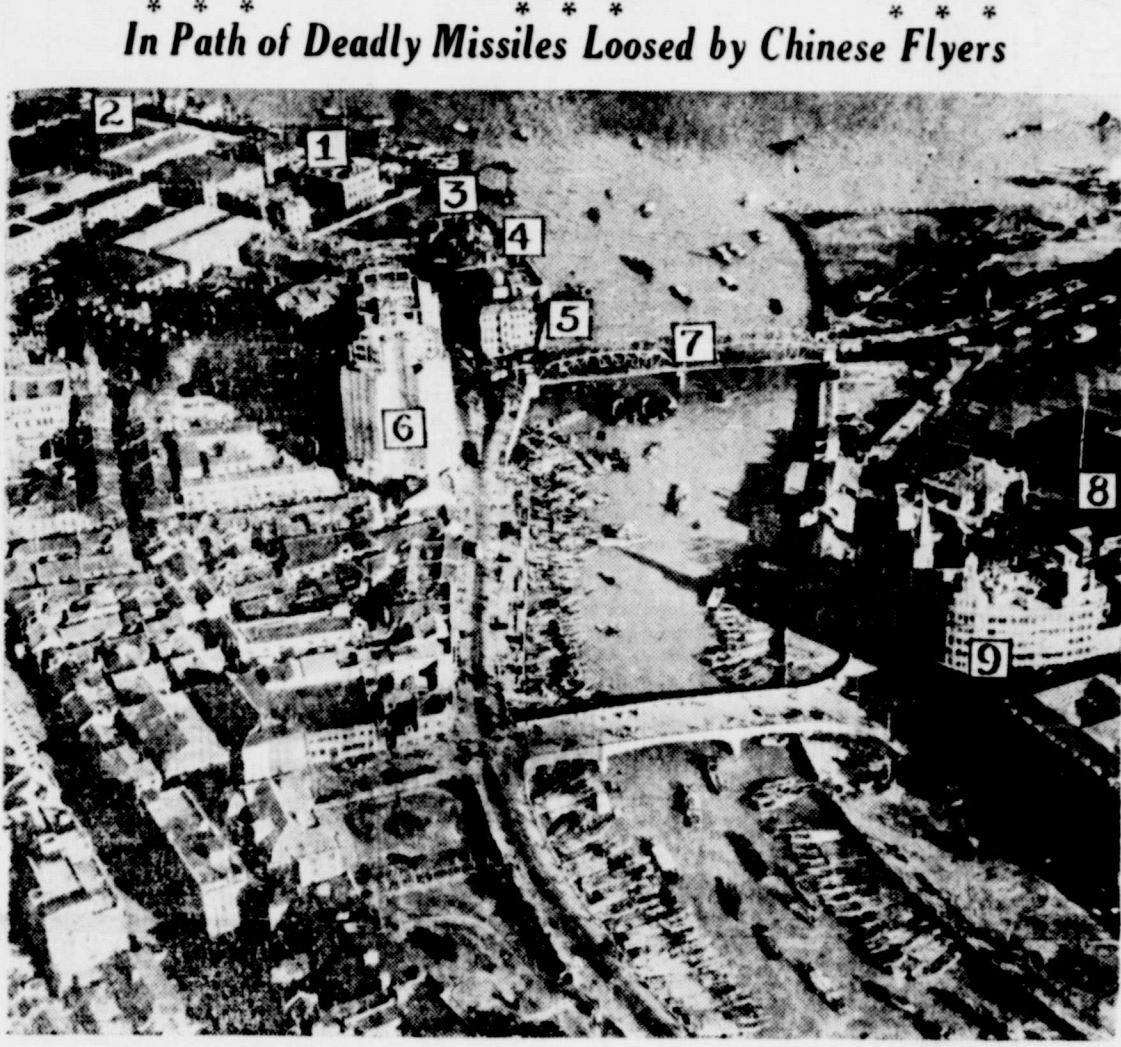

Torrential rains which swept north China last week retarded fighting there and made difficult the Japanese advance.

In Bomb Shattered Shanghai, Where 600 Died

Yank's Guardian

Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, above, in command of the U. S. Asiatic fleet, who arrived at Shanghai's harbor to protect American lives.

Cut of a murky, smoke laden sky misdirected bombs of Chinese aviators, unexpectedly aroused to attack invading Japanese forces, dealt death to nearly 600 persons, including three prominent Americans. Seen from the air above is the area involved in the bombing: (1) the Japanese consulate, in front of which the Cruiser Idzumo target of the attack, was moored; (2) wharves of the NYK, damaged by bombs; (3) the American consulate; (4) and (5) German and Soviet Consulates; (6) the Broadway Mansion; (7) Garden Bridge across Soochow Creek; (8) Capital Theater building, and (9) British Consulate. Beyond the latter building are the Cathay and Palace Hotels, scene of many deaths.

Killed by Blast

Dr. Robert Karl Reieschauer, above, an instructor at Princeton University, was killed while leading a tourists party in the vicinity of the Nanking Road.

DRAWS NEARER AGREEMENT TO ADJOURNMENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—The house approved the Wagner Housing bill conference report today bringing congress closer to adjournment despite a rousing senate flareup over democratic party harmony.

House and senate conferees reached agreements on the third deficiency bill to remove the last obstacle to adjournment, if approved by both houses. The conference cut approximately $53,935,000 from the bill, reducing it to approximately $100,000,000.

House passage of the housing bill report sent the measure to the senate for concurrence.

In the senate, business was tied up by a last-minute democratic proposal precipitated by an address by Senator Joseph Guffey, democrat from Pennsylvania. Guffey's address contained an attack on democratic foes of the court plan bill.

Housing bill conferees accepted the federal provision for $500,000,000 of federal bond issues to finance state and local low cost housing projects. The senate calls for $70,000,000.

Both houses approved a bill providing for a voluntary census of the unemployed.

In the senate, Senator Tom Connally of Texas served notice he may call for action on a resolution directing the secretary of agriculture through the Commodity Credit Corporation to make loans on cotton at 10 cents per pound.

"The cotton situation is critical and we are going to have to act now," Connally said.

The 75th congress had a record of appropriating $2,350,000,000, a sum equivalent to $70 for each man, woman and child in the nation.

The appropriations were $100,000,000 less than those of congress last year. The 1936 total, however, included $2,237,000,000 for the soldiers' bonus.

WELL TO BE DRILLED ON COZART FARM

Gallagher and Lawson, oil contractors and drillers, have a contract to drill an oil well 4,000 feet for the Phillips Petroleum Company. The well is located at the northeast corner of the B. P. Cozart farm, one-half mile north and one and one-half miles west of Ecranen in Callahan county. The well is located one-half mile beyond the county line.

The rig is mostly up, but work is still going on moving it in. The well is to have a 20-foot concrete cellar. It is now being dug at about ten feet.

The block for the well has been on this location for more than 3 years but not until recently has drilling begun on the well.

STUDENT NURSE ASSAULTED AND SLAIN SAT'RDAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—A 19-year-old student nurse was assaulted and slain in a Chicago hospital today, the 13th victim of sex maniacs in two years.

Police assigned extra guards to hunt for a "long-armed negro" seen near the hospital.

The victim was Anna Kuchta, a student nurse for nine months. The crime was discovered only a moment after it happened by Miss Koehrs' roommate.

A dark man in a white shirt had one foot out the window. He ran quickly down the fire escape.

Miss Kuchta's head had been battered with a brick. Police said she had been assaulted.

'Fat Guy With Gun' Abducts Man's Wife

SAN ANTONIO, August 21 (U.P.)—I. M. Rice, a transient, asked police today to aid in locating his wife, who, he said, was awakened from a "perfectly sound sleep" by the railroad tracks and abducted by a "fat guy with a gun."

All golf clubs of the county are being invited and three days of play is in store for participants according to President J. E. Caffrey and Herace Condeley.

T. C. Williams, Leon Cagle and O. L. Stamey compose the committee in charge.

Mrs. Nell Moore of Eastland visited her sister, Mrs. Buena Stansbury Friday.

MUCH DRILLING SCHEDULED FOR CISCO AREA

Drilling is to start this week on the Weddington location northwest of Lake Cisco, it was stated today. The rig is up and machinery is being installed.

It is also understood that Hickok interests are digging the cellar for a new well on the Van Farmer land adjoining the Grover Cleveland tract on which good gas production has just been secured following a test in the Ranger pay. The last well on the Cleveland land is said to be quite different from former production, being a better producer and in a different strata of formation.

It is said that other drilling will follow the Cozart test now getting ready to spud in near Ecranen. Many local parties have bought leases in that area, with the feeling that that is good territory.

Hijacker's Victim Found on Streets

SAN ANTONIO, August 21 (U.P.)—The body of Samuel Craigie, 60, an American engineer from Mexico was found on a street today. He apparently was the victim of hijackers.

Craigie was en route to New Orleans where his wife resides.

ROAD CONTRACTS WILL BOOST CISCO BUSINESS AND HOUSING

Local merchants and laborers are anxiously looking forward to the beginning of work on the overpass on East Eighth street and the road construction in that end which is to follow the letting of this contract, bids for which are to be in by August 27.

The release of the huge amount of government money at this time will boost business through the fall and winter months, and the very fact that employment is at hand will bring an optimistic tone to Cisco people in general.

These contracts are coming at a most opportune time. All vacant houses in Cisco will soon be filled and apartments will find ready demand.

Bids are open for construction of the overpass on East Eighth Street, and local contractors, who are interested in securing this work are urged to get their bids in by August 27th.

All types of labor will be required on the construction, with hourly wages as high as seventy-five cents per hour for skilled laborers. Lowest hourly wage will be thirty-five cents. These wages are based on an eight-hour working day. Overtime and legal holiday work shall be paid for at the regular governing rates.

Sealed proposals for construction will be received at the State Highway Department in Austin not later than 9:00 o'clock a. m. August 27th, 1937, after which they will be opened and read.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY HARMONY IS SHATTERED IN THE SENATE TODAY

WASHINGTON, August 21 (U.P.)—Democratic party harmony was shattered in the senate today when Senator Burton Wheeler of Montana and Senator Joseph C. Mahoney of Wyoming challenged the administration to declare war or party rebels.

C. Mahoney called upon the democrats to oust Senator Joseph Guffey of Pennsylvania from his post as chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Committee because of a radio speech he delivered Friday night labeling foes of President Roosevelt's court plan "ingrates."

"I say here in the presence of this man," shouted C. Mahoney leveling a finger at Guffey, "that the best thing the democratic party can do is to get his man out of the position he now occupies."

'Plowing One Under' to Check Population

For a dime or a quarter, any fortune teller will look into the future and unravel any question about life or death, time or tide, or whether you'll ever meet the attractive person who sat at the next table in the restaurant.

But if you're wise, you'll classify the results more as amusement than anything else. Legitimate science and the products of long research by learned men provide much more reliable methods of predicting where the human race will be and how it will be living one or 1000 years from now.

Because most people have made this distinction and have come to rely on the judgment of our intellectual leaders, it is unfortunate to see any of them go on record with such a grim philosophy as that expressed at the International Congress of Population in Paris.

In one of the reports before the Congress, D. Frank W. Notestein of Princeton University declared that a war in China might be that nation's salvation from ruin by overpopulation.

If China's population is not stopped by war and other violence, it probably will double within 65 years, Dr. Notestein believes.

At the same Congress, Prof. Pascal Whelpton of Miami University indicated agreement of American authorities that the United States will reach its population peak in the next generation, after which there will be a decrease.

Between the statements of these men, there seems to arise a conflict. The United States, without appreciable benefit of famine, pestilence and war, is riding high, without a population problem in sight. Yet for China, war is regarded as the only salvation—unless the population is checked first by some other scourge.

This solution is an application of the theory of Thomas Malthus, an English economist, long dead, who saw world population running wild unless certain natural or man-made checks restrain it. War and pestilence are among the checks visualized by this theory.

Long taught in economics and sociology classes, the Malthusian theory is still believed by many. But, like many another economic doctrine disproved by events of the last few years, it may be definitely on the skids.

If Americans could believe in such a theory, China's present trouble with Japan would be welcomed here as a great event in the march toward a better world and we could feel happy every time a report came through telling how many more hundreds had been slain.

This is the kind of fortune telling that leaves a bad taste. Farm prices rose 18 per cent; construction costs zoomed 13 per cent; and department store prices upped 7 per cent. Stocks averaged 18 per cent higher and bonds 2 per cent higher.

After six hours' debate, the Senate passed a bill limiting freight trains to 70 cars. Senators who wanted 80 cars probably were sidetracked with them.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Every ballot to the Supreme Court. Reed box test which can be construed as a measure of Roosevelt's popularity or unpopularity is being scrutinized here with utmost care.

At first glance it might seem that Senator Harry F. Byrd, persistent critic of the New Deal and heretofore undisputed political boss of Virginia, had just suffered a crushing defeat in the nomination for governorship of Lieutenant Governor James H. Price by a vote of 8 to 1. (Democratic nomination in Virginia means election.)

PRICE entered the contest as an avowed anti-Byrd machine candidate, and Byrd scoured the state for a man strong enough to oppose him. Price also publicly endorsed Roosevelt and his record, as did most other Virginia candidates.

But the picture is more complicated than that. Byrd never could find a man, although he tried out several, whose candidacy he could get off the ground. Many voters who ordinarily would have voted with Byrd's machine voted for Price because his opponent, State Senator Vivian Page of Norfolk, obviously couldn't win or because there was no Byrd-endorsed candidate. Voters who always went with the winner plied on the Price bandwagon.

But Byrd is now expected to approach Price and urge an alliance which will still leave the senator a political dictator in Virginia.

Meanwhile, however, it can be reported that Harry Byrd's machine have been beaten for the first time.

SOLICITOR GENERAL STANLEY REED is still the best bet as the next presidential appointee.

OUT OUR WAY

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER United Press Staff Correspondent

AUSTIN, August 21 (UP)—Speaker Bob Calvert of the Texas house of representatives strolled into the state capitol this week, "took the temperature" of his big glass-domed room where the house holds sessions and expressed hope that the special session will not be too soon.

The house of representatives room was still like a lake over with the afternoon sun beating on the glass roof. Before the regular winter session had adjourned the hall became so hot that several members keeled over.

But it is not alone the heat that makes Speaker Calvert dread a September session. "It's the busiest time of the year for lawyers," Calvert said. "The courts have opened for their fall terms and many a young lawyer who is also a legislator loses the best part of the year for his practice."

House Member Jesse James of Cameron will be absent at the fall session if Attorney General William McCraw gives the desired answer to a question propounded by diminutive state treasurer Charley Lockhart. Lockhart wants James for chief clerk of the treasury. The hitch is that the salary of the office has been raised in the appropriation bill which passed while James was in the house. Whether that makes him ineligible has been asked.

James has been a prominent house member of the 43rd, 44th and 45th legislatures, representing Milam, Burleson and Lee counties. He is a farmer and merchant and was one of the authors of the omnibus tax bill of the 44th legislature.

Lockhart's selection of James for chief clerk does not mean that Lockhart will remain out of the next race for the office. Some thought that might be the reason for naming James and that James' candidacy might be expected. Lockhart, however, has announced that he expects to run again.

Senate Secretary Bob Barker of Fort Worth, has been mentioned also as a likely candidate for treasurer. It is one of the state offices for which the pay recently was raised in accordance with a constitutional amendment.

State senators announce surprise at the way the cost of state government is rising. The senate committee studying the topic has found increased that have convinced Sen. Albert Stone, Brenham, that he will not vote for any new taxes at the special session of the legislature.

Instead he will urge some way to collect delinquent tax and sharp attachments—particularly in the new state departments which have had what he considers mushroom growth.

L. C. L. Stocks, Gainesville, representative from the city with the famous town circus, may make a state tour of his own that will be no circus. He wants to put some candidate up for governor on record for relief of homesteads from all taxes.

The exemption from state ad valorem tax for homesteads up to $3,000 valuation, Dr. Stocks believes is only a crumb. The home owner still has to pay local taxes and the $5,000 limit does not affect the homesteaders who want to maintain a larger and better home for his family, he explained.

L. C. Stocks believes that if the tax exemption were extended to all taxes and the amount of the homestead valuation not limited, there would be a flocking of home owners to Texas and a resultant real estate and construction boom. More important, he believes, it would make the citizenship largely a home-owning one. He readily admitted that his program will give the legislature a task of providing school taxes from some other source. "That's our problem, and we ought to solve it," he said. "School support gradually is being assumed in greater proportion by the state already."

While the tax problem is beginning to worry officials, Gov. James V. Allred revealed that he can joke about it at moments when it is not immediately under serious consideration. He said the prospect to have Secretary of State Ed Clark and Statistical Expert Orville Carpenter go to Indiana for a tax study with Senate Finance Chairman John Redditt was only a joke and assented to by him in a jocular way. The officials, however, may make the trip. Past experience has shown that Allred has not merely tossed tax problems to the legislators. He has suggested definitely what tax he thinks should be levied, what tax should be increased, and he has tried to get legislators to follow his suggestions.

Because Texas is such a large state, the war department has furnished one of its fast airplanes to the air force of the Texas national guard. Gov. James V. Allred made the initial flight in it to Palestine to review the 36th division.

A cast of the regular session of the 45th legislature, passed without emergency clauses, took effect August 20. Appropriation bills will become effective on September 1.

Most of the important laws carried emergency clauses permitting them to be effective when signed by the governor. Others that had to wait the usual 90 days after session adjournment included:

Regulation of dealers in second hand oil well equipment; establishment of a gulf coast dove law; permitting partial payment of delinquent taxes; creating a state division of public welfare in the state board of control; requiring muzzling dogs left out at night; licensing to produce brokers and dealers.

An act regulating practice and advertising of dentistry will be effective Jan. 1, 1938. A stricter liquor control act will be effective Sept. 1.

Love Gets a Lift

CAST OF CHARACTERS: KATHLEEN O'BRIEN—heroine, victim of greasy card verse; BOB McTAKEN—hero, detective story writer; JAY—the justice who played cupid; THE DUCHESS—patron of surrealist art; PROFESSOR BRACEY—Egyptologist.

Yesterday, thinking back over the meeting at the Duchess, Bob suddenly recalls where he had first seen Professor Bracey!

CHAPTER IX THREADING his way recklessly through the traffic of the city streets, Bob hurried to Police Headquarters, where he looked up his friend, Steve Carnahan. More than once Steve had given him the lead for a good plot in exchange for a cigar and a few minutes' adroit questioning.

Now Steve removed his feet from the battered chair in front of him and looked up with interest as Bob pushed open the door.

"Hi!" he greeted him. "What's on your chest so early in the day? Another deadline to make? Or is the beautiful heroine about to be fed poison?"

Bob grinned, handed over the cigar, and perched himself on a corner of the desk. "They're sure handing her something that may prove to be poison," he answered. "That's why I came down to talk to you."

Steve pushed his hat over one ear and screwed his face into what he considered a literary frown. "Shoot," he ordered in his best official tone.

"That yarn you were telling me about the guy who came over from London with that Egyptian piece for the Museum, remember?" Bob began. "You know, the one who brought in some stuff of his own duty free. Hidden in the old statue, wasn't it?"

"It was, and how!" Steve puffed out his chest and settled back in his chair. "That's what comes of spending the public's money on some old wreck of a thing that ain't got as much real value as that cigar."

BOB lighted a cigar. "Culture and art, man. A lot of folks would be out of jobs, if they didn't have such things to rave about. I know, I went to an artists' party recently and heard 'em go on about composition, line and color, until it'd make your head swim just to listen. But about this statue for the Museum now? Did you find out the shipman had been tampered with and catch the fellow who did it?"

"Yes and no," answered Steve. "You see this fool thing was bought from a reliable firm in London that gets such things for museums and collectors, and a man came along with it to be sure that it got here okay. That's where the smuggling part comes in. The statue was of some silly-looking Egyptian god, Osiris—

"Osiris?"

"That's the boy. It wasn't very big and was carved out of some kind of soft stone, awfully dingy and streaked-looking. Why anyone'd want it, is beyond me."

"There's where the arty part of it comes in," Bob suggested.

Steve nodded. "I guess so. Well, it seems this guy who came along with it, had a little racket of his own on the side, buying up or stealing jewels on the other side and sneaking them in here past our customs. That's why he got a job with this outfit that shipped things from London. No one would ever suspect the representative of such a reliable house. Because of this setup his scheme had been working fine. But he finally stubbed his toe on this statue thing."

"How come?" prompted Bob to hurry the story to the end before Steve might be called out.

"He hollowed out a hole in the bottom of the thing, put the uncut stones in there, and plastered it over so slick you'd never suspect. If one of the men hadn't knocked it against something when he was putting it in place and knocked off a hunk of the plaster, they never would have caught on."

"Did you snag the man?" asked Bob.

"That's the no part of it," answered Steve. "Of course now if I'd been on the job, he'd not have slipped through my fingers like he did theirs. But somehow he got wind of what had happened, and just blew without anybody over finding a confounded trace of him. You can see the fool statue down there in the Museum now. It's still got that hole in the soles of its feet."

"What did the fellow look like?" Bob leaned forward eagerly. "Was he tall and dark?"

"Sure, but so are plenty of people. That fellow who came with the statue had a scar across one side of his face in front of the ear. You'd think he'd be easy enough to pick up on account of it, but nobody's got him yet."

"A good facial surgeon could fix that so it wouldn't show," Bob suggested.

"Maybe, but he'd have to be really good. The scar was a bad one. We've checked on this guy as far as we could, and find he's an Italian with a police record in his own country. Not an Indian Rajah or a Russian nobleman or any of the other things he's passed himself off as."

"SUPPOSING he had had the scar removed, do you think you'd know him if you saw him in the shadow box, for instance?" asked Bob.

Steve took off his cap and ran his fingers through his thin hair. "Not sure, of course, but I believe I would. Ain't anyone on the force can identify like I can. I've proved that. Even if the guy hasn't been mugged yet." Which boast Bob happened to know was true.

Immediately the image of Professor Bracey rose before his mind's eye, the thin-lipped cruel mouth, and mysterious half-closed eyes with their beetling black brows. If there was any mark of surgery on his face, the long sideburns which he effected would cover it. Very clearly now Bob remembered the day he and Steve had been sitting on a park bench discussing some police procedure, and the man, he was afterward to meet as Professor Bracey, had stropped past them. He had noticed at the time the piercing look the stranger gave them.

Just then Schmatz had sniffed inquiringly at his heels. With an oath the man had kicked viciously at the dog but had missed his mark. The terrier had not forgotten, even if Bob had. Could it be?

"You say his specialty is jewels, Steve?"

"I'll say it is. He knows all about 'em. Little stuff don't even interest him. It's the big ones or nothing. If someone should swipe one of those big babies out of the King of England's new crown, I'd think this guy was at the bottom of it. He's likely over there now; probably has cleaned up on the coronation crowds."

Bob did not answer for a minute, then he asked casually. "If you should be able to pick him up there'd be a sizeable reward probably?"

"Enough to keep me in cigars for a week or two," Steve grinned. "Why? Know where you can lay your hands on him? Might put some of your story detectives on him. They can do such a lot of things the real force would never think of. But let me in on it, if you do."

"Maybe I will, Steve," Bob told him soberly.

Passage of the constitutional amendment to provide aid to delinquent children might effect 1,500 boys and girls in Texas relief commission district 13, including Eastland county.

Figures on file in the TRC office show that number of delinquent children in the district. All would be subject to aid if the amendment passes after its reference to the voters Monday.

Figures show delinquent children in other counties to total: Callahan 83; Coke 71; Eastland 353; Fisher 36; Jones 107; Kent 38; Mitchell 113; Nolan 159; Curry 123; Shackelford 59; Stephens 109.

Total for district 13 is greater than that for district 14, centered by Brownwood, or district 19, centered at San Angelo. The Brownwood district has 623, the San Angelo district 866.

Another amendment submitted to the voters Monday would provide aid for newly blind. There are 25 blind on relief rolls in district 13, including Taylor county, two in Fisher, two in Mitchell, three in Curry, two in Stephens and 104 in the other counties. District 14

AMY JOHNSON RETIRES FROM GLORY FLIGHTS

LCNELON, August 21 (U.P.)—Amy Johnson, heroine of the first solo flight by a woman from England to Australia, has decided to give up flying. Knowing that Empire air liners and the Royal Air Force are better able to make record dashes to South Africa and Australia, and seeing the Russians flying over the Pole, she believes there is nowhere in the world to fly to and set up new records unless with the backing of government finances.

Has Earned Thousands Miss Johnson has been a good business woman. In ten years of spectacular flying, with half a dozen great flights to her credit, she has made many thousands of dollars. She has lived in fashionable hotels and saved enough to buy a fine house in London and expensive cars.

In that time, however, Amy has seen her friends and rivals "go west." Amelia Earhart was the latest to disappear. Before her, the air claimed Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, Wiley Post, Charles Ulm and Bert Hinkler. The old brigade of record-breakers has faded out. Tommy Rose has a job which keeps his feet on the ground in London City, while Scott has given up record flying.

The next year—July, 1931—Amy set off for a London to Tokyo flight with her tutor, C. S. Humphreys. They made this run in the record time of 10 1-2 days.

In 1936, Miss Johnson succeeded in smashing three records—from England to Cape Town, Cape Town to England and for the round trip. On May 7, 1936, she landed in Cape Town, Africa from England in 3 days, 6 hours and 29 minutes, shaving the record set by Tommy Rose by 11 hours, 2 minutes. She completed the homeward journey in 4 days, 16 hours and 16 minutes. Rose took six days, 6 hours and 57 minutes, to make this trip. Her round trip flight took her 7 days, 22 hours and 42 minutes, as against Rose's 10 days 34 minutes.

Four years ago, Amy Johnson and her husband, Capt. James A. Mollison, made a transatlantic hop from Wales to America. Their plane, Seafarer, was wrecked when they tried to land at Bridgeport, Conn., for fuel. They were within 60 miles of their goal—Floyd Bennett airport when they ran out of gasoline.

Leonard Macaly, 7, first believed a victim of sunstroke, had been stabbed to death by a playmate.

FOREST MILLS, N. J., Aug. (U.P.) The United States made a successful defense of the Wightman cup, emblematic of women's tennis supremacy today when Helen Jacobs of California defeated Ruth Mary Harwick of England 2-6 6-4 6-2.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 21. (U.P.) Don Budge of California, top tennis amateur of the world, defeated Robert Riggs of Los Angeles 6-4 6-8 6-1 6-2 in the finals of the annual Newport Casino men's singles today.

PARIS, France, Aug. 21. (U.P.) Italy won all three places for a clean sweep today in 1937's aviation classic, the 3,715-mile air derby from France to the near East and return.

AMENDMENT FACES STRONG OPPOSITION

AUSTIN, August 21 (U.P.)—One of six proposed amendments to the Texas constitution faced organized opposition Saturday night in the statewide election to be held Monday.

Return to the fee system of paying officers was fought by the Texas Sheriffs Association, and almost universally by Texas newspapers. Governor Alfred advocated the amendment's adoption but made no speaking campaign.

The salary system went into effect on January 1, 1936, after a people's vote against the fee system.

125 Attend Free Coaching School

COLLEGE STATION (U.P.)—Advance reservations indicate an attendance of approximately 125 high school coaches and athletes for the eighth annual free coaching school to be sponsored by the Texas A. and M. college athletic department from August 22 to 28 inclusive.

Registration will be held Sunday, August 22 and actual work will begin the following morning. The course will offer instruction in football, baseball, basketball, track, physical education, intramurals and the prevention and treatment of injuries.

Football instruction will be directed by Head Coach Homer Norton of the Texas Aggies who will be assisted by Blair Cherry, former coach of the champion Amarillo high school Sandies, and now assistant coach at the University of Texas; Jack Sisco, mentor of the North Texas State Teachers college team which won the 1936 Lone Star conference championship; and Joel Hunt, former Aggie star and present backfield coach at Louisiana State University.

Motion pictures of football fundamentals and some shots of 1936 Aggie grid games will be screened in addition to lectures and demonstrations. A member of the Southwest Football officials association will discuss 1937 football rules at one of the daily sessions.

Other classes and their instructors will be as follows: baseball "Eike" Sikes; basketball, H. R. (Hub) McQuillan; track, "Dough" Rollins; physical education and intramurals, W. L. Penberthy; prevention and treatment of injuries, Lil Dammitt. All are members of the Texas Aggie Athletic staff.

GEN. HOUSTON LEFT ESTATE TO MARGARET

DALLAS, August 21 (AP)—Historical archives uncovered in the county clerk's deed records by WPA employees conducting a historical records survey in Dallas county, revealed that Gen. Sam Houston, first president of Texas, was once the owner of 268 acres 14 miles east of Dallas.

A series of recordings pertaining to Gen. Houston's property included a copy of his famous will which is also recorded in two other Texas counties.

The records here show that in Oct. 1872, after Gen. Houston's death, Gov. Edmund J. Davis entered a letter patent in Austin, filed here in 1873 which granted to Margaret Houston, Sam Houston's widow, and his children 268 acres on North Mesquite creek a tributary of the east fork of the Trinity river, 14 miles east of Dallas.

Provisions of Gen. Houston's will read: "First, I will that all my just debts be paid out of my personal effects, as I think them sufficient without disposing of any of the family servants.

"Second, I bequeath my entire estate to my beloved wife, Margaret and our children and I desire that they may remain with her so long as she may remain in widowhood, and should she at any time marry, I desire that my daughters should be subject to her control.

"Third, my will is that my sons should receive solid and useful education and that no portion of their time may be devoted to the study of abstract science. I greatly desire that they may possess a thorough knowledge of the English language as well as to the character and morals of those with whom they may be associated or instructed.

"Fourth, I leave to my wife as executrix and to the following gentlemen, my executors, Thomas Gibbs, Thomas Caruthers, J. Carroll Smith and Anthony M. Branch, my much beloved friends in whom I place my entire confidence, to make such disposition of my personal and real estate as may seem to them best of the necessities and interests and welfare of my family.

"Fifth, to my dearly beloved wife Margaret I confide the rearing, education and moral training of our sons and daughters.

"Sixth, to my eldest son, Sam Houston, Jr., I bequeath my sword worn in the Battle of San Jacinto never to be drawn only in defence of the constitution, the laws and liberties of his country. If any attempt should be made to assail one of these, I wish it to be used in its vindication.

"Seventh, it is my will that my library should be left at the disposition of my dear wife.

"Eighth, to my dearly beloved wife, I bequeath my watch and all my jewelry subject to her disposition.

"Ninth, I hereby appoint my dear and beloved wife, Margaret, testamentary guardian of my children, their persons and estates during minority but should a wise providence through its inscrutable decrees see fit to deprive our offspring of both parents and make them orphans indeed, it is hereby delegated to my executors who are hereby confirmed to make such disposition in regard to their welfare as they may think best calculated to carry out the designs as expressed in this my last will and testament.

"Tenth, and I direct and enjoin my executors and executors after the probate and registry of this my last will and return of inventory of my estate the county or other court of probate have no further control over my executors or testamentary guardian or of my estate.

day of April, 1863." Witnesses to the will were James R. Cox, Joab Banton, W. H. Randolph, and W. T. Robinson.

People on Relief Eat Many Onions

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Families on relief rolls are saving their meals plentifully with onions these days, if they are following through on the purchases of the federal surplus commodities corporation division of the agriculture adjustment administration.

The corporation purchased 200,000 carloads or 9,128,000 pounds of Texas onions during the past growing season when it became evident the onion market would be hurt by current supplies in excess of normal consumption.

Modest Patrolman Forgets Heroism

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Patrolman Simeon W. Touchette was too modest to make any report to police headquarters when he rescued three small boys from drowning. He was off duty.

He was too modest to listen to the praise of witnesses because after he had divested himself of his outer clothing, the river current carried off his underclothes.

Wild Hog is Most Dangerous Animal

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' most dangerous animal is not a bear nor a wild cat but the wild hog. So dangerous are the javali or peccary that hunters will not risk attempt to capture them.

The discovery was made when Harold N. Simpson, Forest Park III, appealed to Gov. James V. Allred for help in his effort to obtain one of the little animals.

The inquiry was referred to the state game department. They reported that Simpson likely would have trouble getting anyone to attempt capture of a pure javali. Some are reported on the King Ranch that have been crossed with domesticated hogs.

Crow Plays Dead; Eats Steak Dinner

TCMAHAWK, Wis. (AP)—Father William Smits, pastor and bird fancier, lists a once wild crow as his smartest pet.

Told to "play dead dog" the crow will roll over on its back and lie perfectly quiet with its claws drawn up.

The crow also likes to swing upside down by his claws from the priest's fingers.

The bird's favorite meal is beef-steak and mushrooms. It was captured by the priest only a few months ago.

engravings which can only be compared with Goya's engravings on the Napoleonic invasion of Spain known under the anonymous title of "Caprices."
Picasso began cutting engravings at the age of 18, and has produced more than 300 in his lifetime. The recent book is technically perfect and has the vigor of the horror and the action of Goya's famous series of a period which is most easily compared with the situation in Spain today.
Its predominating note is one of nearly savage reaction against those whom he depicts as the invaders of Spain, as Goya attacked the French troops who laid his country waste more than a century ago.

Gypsy Rose Gets Another Name

Hollywood censors changed her name to Louise Hoyek when Gypsy Rose Lee, former queen of New York's strip teasers, moved to movieland, but Gypsy added another name by a dramatic ocean elopement with Robert Mizzy, son of an eastern manufacturer. The couple, shown above, were informed that their madcap wedding did not comply with California marriage license laws and a second ceremony was necessary.

into an asylum."
"Both of these two types would have broken mentally sooner or later, anyway," he said. "The depression was not the cause for their committing suicide or suffering nervous breakdowns. They were constitutionally ill because they were incapable of controlling their emotions."
"Because adversity provides people with a safety valve for their emotions," he said, "the great mass of people have benefited mentally from the country's financial condition."

Classed as Heroism
Dr. Hauk cited instances of "pathological bravery" during the depression, likening such cases to heroic deeds performed by soldiers
under stress during the World War.

"They happened when the stress and strain was too much on a soldier's mind and he broke that strain by performing some heroic deed. In almost all cases the heroes couldn't tell how the deed was done or what drove them to it."

did a day's work in their lives go out and work hard with their hands and get genuine enjoyment in making a mere pittance and having a loaf of bread."

Albanian Girl Pays Tribute to Peace

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The United States' efforts to promote public health and cultural activities in other countries constitutes a peaceful mission which strikes Joseph Hyson All, 29-year-old native of Albania, as the surest means of world happiness.
All, who is in Mississippi studying public health methods, will return to Albania in the fall to assume the directorship of the epidemiological division of the state laboratory. His study, which has taken him into many parts of the United States, is sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation in co-operation with the Albanian government.

It is this "co-operative work" which is creating the soundest basis for peace, All feels.
"Such work naturally necessitates an interchange of ideas and establishes understanding among people inherently different," he said.
All is a naturalized United States citizen. He worked his way through high school in Jamestown, N. Y., and through the University of Michigan. Last year he served as a laboratory assistant at Michigan, where he held a doctor's degree in public health.

a modified cubism, whose realism depicts the horror of the war, the bombardment of Guernica. Women children and horses with heads and bodies caught in the contortion of terror, pain and surprise rush blindly about while bodies and ruins of buildings litter the ground. A huge symbolic figure of death bearing a lighted candle sweeps over the scene and its ranks envelop the bodies of those killed and maimed. This figure dominates the entire fresco and typifies for Picasso modern aviation employed for destructive purposes.
Picasso has not returned to Spain since the war began, although he declares that he is entirely sympathetic with the present Valencia government. Speaking of his nomination as conservator of the famous Prado Museum of Madrid he said:
"I've not been able yet to assume my post. You see, for the moment the real conservators of the Prado cannot be the intellectuals and the artists, but are in reality the tankists, the aviators, all the soldiers of the people's army which fights before Madrid."

"Most of the marvels of the Prado have been brought to Valencia where they have been stored in a specially constructed tower.

I have seen all the plans and I can tell you that this tower will withstand bombs four or five times more powerful than those known today. The paintings are in perfect security."
Questioned about the exhibition of these paintings in Paris this year, Picasso affirmed that all arrangements have been completed.
"The paintings are being quietly brought to Paris for the exposition, and will all be assembled here by the end of August. The exposition will open at the Louvre in September. They will be returned to Spain."
Picasso produced his book of engravings after he had been requested to do two or three to be sold for support of the Spanish people. "Before I realized it, I had completed 18. The subject gripped me so thoroughly that I lost the sense of number until I had said
all I wanted to say."
Picasso will continue his works
on Spain.

MENTAL CASES FALL WITH EBB OF DEPRESSION

LYONS VIEW, Tenn., Aug. 21 (AP)— Dr. O. S. Hauk, superintendent of the Eastern State hospital here, believed the gradual decrease in the number of mental patients and nervous breakdowns is another proof that the depression has loosened its grip on the United States.
Dr. Hauk said the number of insane, mental patients and psychopathic cases is in direct ratio to the economic life of the country.
"Although there still is considerable discussion whether the depression remains, there is no doubt but that the peak has been passed in the increase of mental patients," Dr. Hauk said.
"By that I mean that economic disasters in one's life, when he loses his money or his job or finds it difficult to provide for his family, no longer causes him to be plunged into insanity or mental illness."
The hospital superintendent said
there were a number of reasons
"why the number of mental patients is in direct ratio to the economic life of the country."
Suicides Also Rose
"Right after the depression, or during the first two or three years," he said, "there was a sharp upturn in mental cases. There also was a wave of suicides. After the peak of the depression there was a gradual tapering off in psychopathic cases."
The number of people in public and private institutions increased steadily with the depression, he pointed out.
"This is due to one salient fact
—and that is the general social-indifference the country is attaining now. Prior to the depression mental patients were treated in private institutions or were under the care of their family physicians."
Dr. Hauk differs with neuropsychologists who believe the depression was a contributory factor towards lowering the general mental health of Americans.
Blames Fast Tempo
"They do not take into consideration that before the depression people were living at an extremely fast pace. Mrs. Jones had to keep up with her neighbor and Mr

A "bargain" is sometimes a bargain --

A good many people look on August as their lucky month —and we don't mean those who spend it lying on the sand and taking in salt air.

We mean those people who have formed the habit of buying things when other people aren't... porch rugs and luggage and towels and lamps and all sorts of things, for use now and for use next season.

Of course they have learned that "bargains" are not always bargains. They know how to recognize quality and styles and worth, how to find the strong points and how to avoid weaknesses. And much of their knowledge has come from the advertisements in this newspaper.

All of us follow advertising, but some people study it so thoroughly that they know exactly what they want and where to get it. They are the ones who find the real bargains. Their money buys more things and better things—in August and all through the year.

'STUTTERING SAM' MISSED RADIO CHANCE

FORT WORTH, August 21 (UP)—Lovely Mary Dowell, who missed one big chance in the theater because she stuttered and another because she didn't, has lived a success story.

Mary, stately daughter of Chief of Police A. E. Dowell of Fort Worth when she applied for a job in Billy Rose's first Casa Manana review here in 1936.

She became a star among the show girls, most of them were experienced New York performers.

So good was she that she was called to New York. After hours of waiting in the office of the executive who was to give her the "big chance," a try-out on Broadway.

Miss Dowell stuttered profusely in excitement when he saw her.

"Smart girl," the agent sniffed. "I have no time for practical jokes."

Lighthouse Mary came home. This year she was given a bigger part in the second Casa Manana review, part of the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta.

A radio executive heard of Miss Dowell and invited her to take part on a national variety program.

When the agent heard her, he threw up his hands and said "No!" He had wanted a girl who really stuttered.

Mary returned to her Casa Manana job, and this fall may take another trip to Broadway—probably without speaking lines.
