Senators Hope To Avoid New Tax Levies

REAL ESTATE TAXES WOULD SUPPLY NEED

AUSTIN, Aug. 26 (U.P.)—Texas senators who have been studying state finances today believed they had worked out a "no new tax" plan to meet state needs. A blanket reduction in recent appropriations and appropriation of all delinquent real estate taxes to social security activities likely will be recommended to the September session of the legislature. Records showed more than $14,000,000 delinquent taxes was due the state. Among 21 counties excluded was Harris, and the total is expected to be more than $15,000,000. This is nearly double the estimated amount to be asked of the special session. By devoting delinquent taxes to old age assistance and aid for the blind and destitute children, the beneficiaries would have a personal interest in seeing that local tax collectors bring in delinquent taxes.

JAPS DESTROY DAIRY FLYING AMERICAN FLAG

The British ambassador to China was shot through the spine and liver today by a Japanese airplane machine gun bullet, causing a grave complication in the Shanghai war. The ambassador, Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, was shot as he raced by motor from Nanking to Shanghai for emergency conference with British officials. His car flew the union jack. He was given a blood transfusion and surgeons had some hopes of saving his life. The blood was donated by a United States marine. The shooting of the ambassador momentarily overshadowed the war which reached a peak of fighting north of Shanghai. The Japanese after reverses, began smashing the Chinese lines. Thousands of Chinese were retreating on Shanghai and there was acute danger they might fall back into the international settlement and imperil the foreigners there. Another international incident occurred when Japanese airplanes destroyed an American-owned dairy in the suburb, although it flew the stars and stripes. A complication with Russia was threatened when the Japanese charged that signals to help the Chinese were being flashed from the Soviet Consulate building. A Japanese spokesman hinted that the building might be searched.

ENGLAND WILL AVOID MAKING INTERNATIONAL FUSS

More Livestock Certain

The unselfish idea which seeks to 'freeze' Southern or United States agriculture at its present status will fail, says Dr. Tait Butler in a discussion of reduction of acreages devoted to cash crops. Pointing out that if Southern soils are to be made fertile, it must be done with legumes in the way to get the most from them, this veteran editor adds:

There is the mistaken idea in some quarters that the South will continue to rely on a bare living from the cotton it can produce and that the livestock producers of other sections need not fear any competition in livestock production from the South. It is true that cotton growers will not attend to livestock as long as they can supply their need by growing cotton. But the necessary restriction of cotton production and an increasing ambition for a better living on the farms of the South are forcing them and will continue to force them into more livestock production. No man-made laws or arbitrary regulations will prevent this.

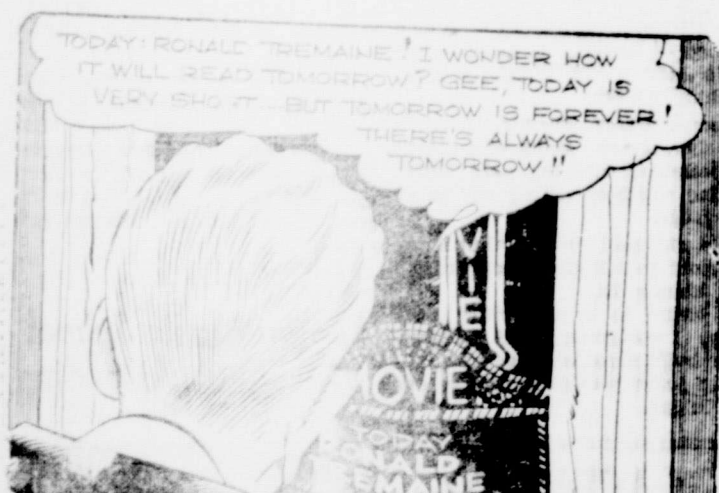

All that is necessary to increase livestock production in the South and make it profitable if carried on in connection with present farming operations is the will to do so and that is being rapidly provided by the necessity of restricting cotton production.

4-H Membership Grows

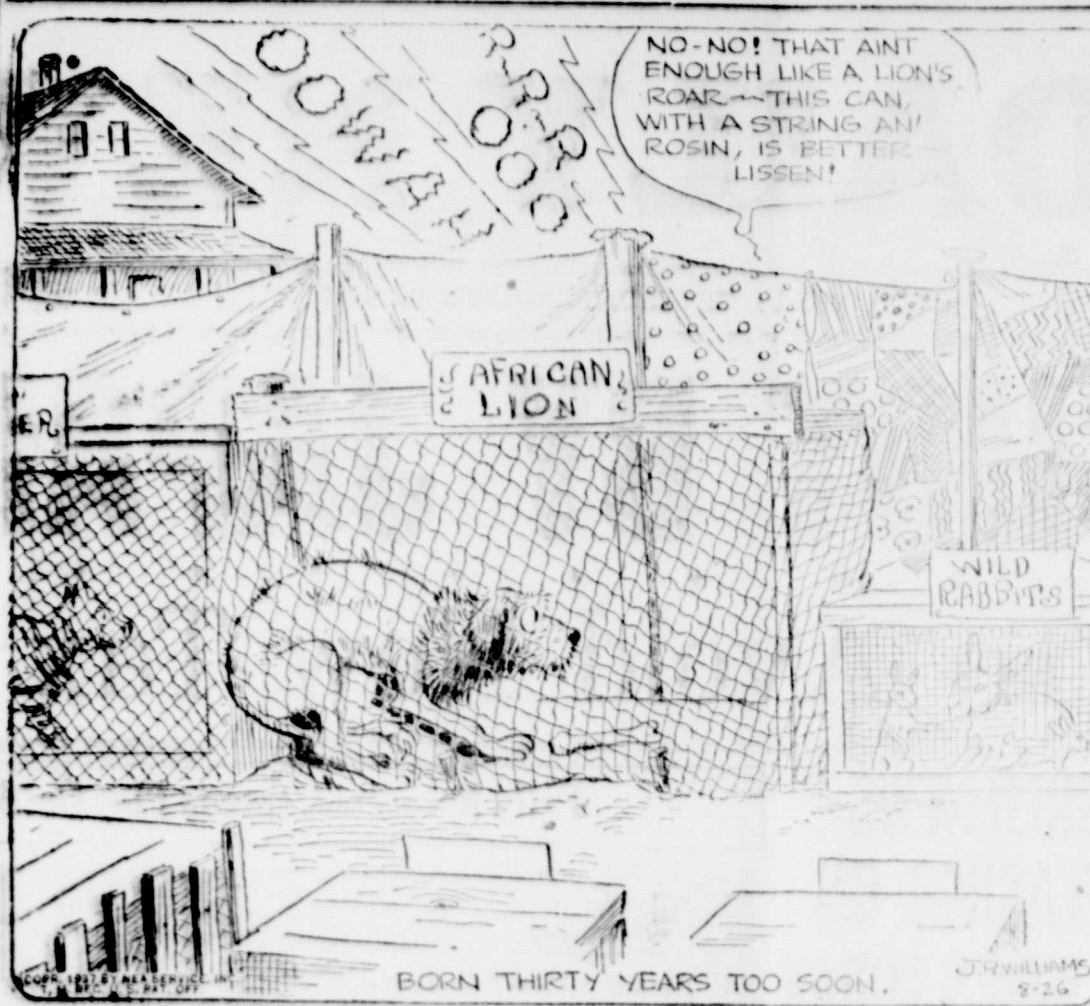

One of the most hopeful signs for the future of agriculture is that the enrollment in 4-H clubs passed the million mark for the first time, in 1936. Membership continues to increase.

The young men and women who join the 4-H will be the producers of tomorrow. In their club work, they are instructed in new methods and techniques that make it possible for the farmer to raise larger crops and earn a greater return. They are given an opportunity to develop qualities of leadership that will prove invaluable to them in the future—for example, in the agricultural cooperative movement which is constantly growing in size and economic and social significance. In brief, they are wisely making careers of farming.

CHAPTER I SMART attractiveness is no longer uncommon in the great uncharted, unpredictable world of young women. Nevertheless, it is a bit unusual when three very good-looking young women, unlike in temperament, choose to share the same apartment. On the card over the mail box in the lobby downstairs was printed neatly, "Dearborn, Howard, and Dunn"—quite as if the combination were a law firm. And that card was really significant, for the three girls were certainly in the nature of a corporation. Perhaps it worked because Kay was a striking brunet, Melita a dashing redhead, and Priscilla a fast-talking blond. Whatever the reason, the trio had roomed together and taken their vacations together for the past four years. In that time their arguments had been mild and infrequent, their good times many, and their boredom practically nil. Nothing was more natural than that the apartment occupied by "Dearborn, Howard, and Dunn" be the goal of a great number of young men. "We get," Priscilla put it one day, "proposals in about equal proportions!" Thus far, none of the three had been interested. Jokesmiths, fictioneers, and movie directors to the contrary, the modern young business woman devotes comparatively little of her serious thinking to men. Kay, Melita, and Priscilla were not different from the rest. They had found the jobs they wanted. They were interested in them, and in the whole exciting, intricate business of living. Each supposed that some time she would fall in love, and that then nothing much else might matter. But they weren't forcing Fate to make the play. Nowadays life was too much fun, too breathlessly changing, to make clever plans for escaping into a quiet corner. That, they felt, would come in good time. "Today a woman can keep youthful, in an emergency, anywhere this side of 50—so what's the rush?" That was Melita talking, one lazy Sunday morning when the subject of marriage had popped up over toast and coffee. THEIR chief concern at the moment was a seasonal problem—where and how to spend their two weeks' vacations which they outfit Kay Dearborn appeared alert and zestful. Tall and slender, she held her firm young chin high as she walked. When she reached the apartment she found Melita and Priscilla already there. "We've been waiting for you," Melita said. "There's mutiny. We're going to have dinner down town." "Why didn't you tell me? I didn't need the walk." "Priscilla tried to telephone you, but you'd left the office. The management decided to defrost the electric refrigerator today, and Priscilla's lovely dessert is ruined." Kay made a helpless gesture. "How do you always manage to make it on the day they defrost the box?" "It's a gift," Priscilla said, getting up. "Come on, let's go." She stopped suddenly, went back to the table. "Oh, Kay here's a legal-looking letter for you. Melita and I have been expiring with curiosity." Kay took the long envelope, looked at the unfamiliar name in the upper left-hand corner. "It's from Aurora," she said. "I've an uncle there I've never seen." She unfolded the letter and read hurriedly. "What is it?" asked Priscilla impatiently, dropping down beside Kay. Kay didn't answer at once. She was rereading the letter. Finally she looked at Melita and Priscilla with a comically perplexed expression. "This—this says that Uncle Ben died a month ago. He—he left me a yacht." "A yacht?" exploded Melita and Priscilla together. "That's what this says. And it's here. I remember that several years ago Uncle Ben made a cruise from here, but I didn't know that—" "Well!" Priscilla cut in cheerfully. "I guess I'm psychic. Didn't I say it would be a boat trip?" Kay shot her a scornful look. "With what would we run a yacht?" Priscilla looked puzzled. "I'm not sure. I think they run with gasoline, like an automobile, don't they?" "What," Melita wanted to know, "do you suppose it would cost us to use the boat?" "I haven't the slightest idea. But I remember reading that Mr. Morgan said anybody who had to ask that question shouldn't own one." Ruefully Kay looked at the letter again. "Dear old Uncle Ben! It was nice of him to think of me—but what I really needed was two yachts." "Anyhow," cried Priscilla, jumping up, "let's have a look at the thing. Maybe we could find a nice sailor who'd run it for us—just for the trip!" (To Be Continued)

Two Cisco Girls Honored at School

STEPHENVILLE — Fanny Lee Porter and Dena Carroll of Cisco have been honored by John Tarleton College, whose Dean J. Thomas Davis has invited them to join the group of official Tarleton hostesses who will welcome freshmen to the campus at Stephenville when the fall term opens Sept. 13.

With 18 Tarleton co-eds and the provisional cadet officers, Miss Porter and Miss Carroll will meet Dean Davis on Saturday, Sept. 11 for a conference at his office. For five years Tarleton has invited selected students to come early to school, greet incoming freshmen, show them the institution, introduce them to faculty and students and otherwise help them to get used to their new environment. The scheme has been found of more assistance to new students than mere formal systems of orientation.

Both Miss Porter and Miss Carroll will be seniors next year. Miss Carroll has been elected president of the Texas social club. Miss Porter will be secretary to the council of the Association of Women Students. She is a member of the S. O. S. social club, and an honor student. Last year she served as one of the student assistants to Miss Lucile Heaton, manager of the girls' dormitories.

More Livestock Certain

The unintelligent selfishness which seeks to freeze Southern or United States agriculture at its present status will fail, says Dr. Tait Hunter in a discussion of reduction of acreages devoted to cash crops. Pointing out that if Southern soils are to be made fertile, it must be done with legumes in the way to get the most from them, this veteran editor adds:

There is the mistaken idea in some quarters that the South will continue to rely on a bare living from the cotton it can sell and that the livestock producers of other sections need not fear any competition in livestock production from the South. It is true that cotton growers will not attend to livestock as long as they can supply their need by growing cotton. But the necessary restriction of cotton production and an increasing ambition for a better living on the farms of the South are forcing them and will continue to force them into more livestock production. No man-made laws or arbitrary regulations will prevent this.

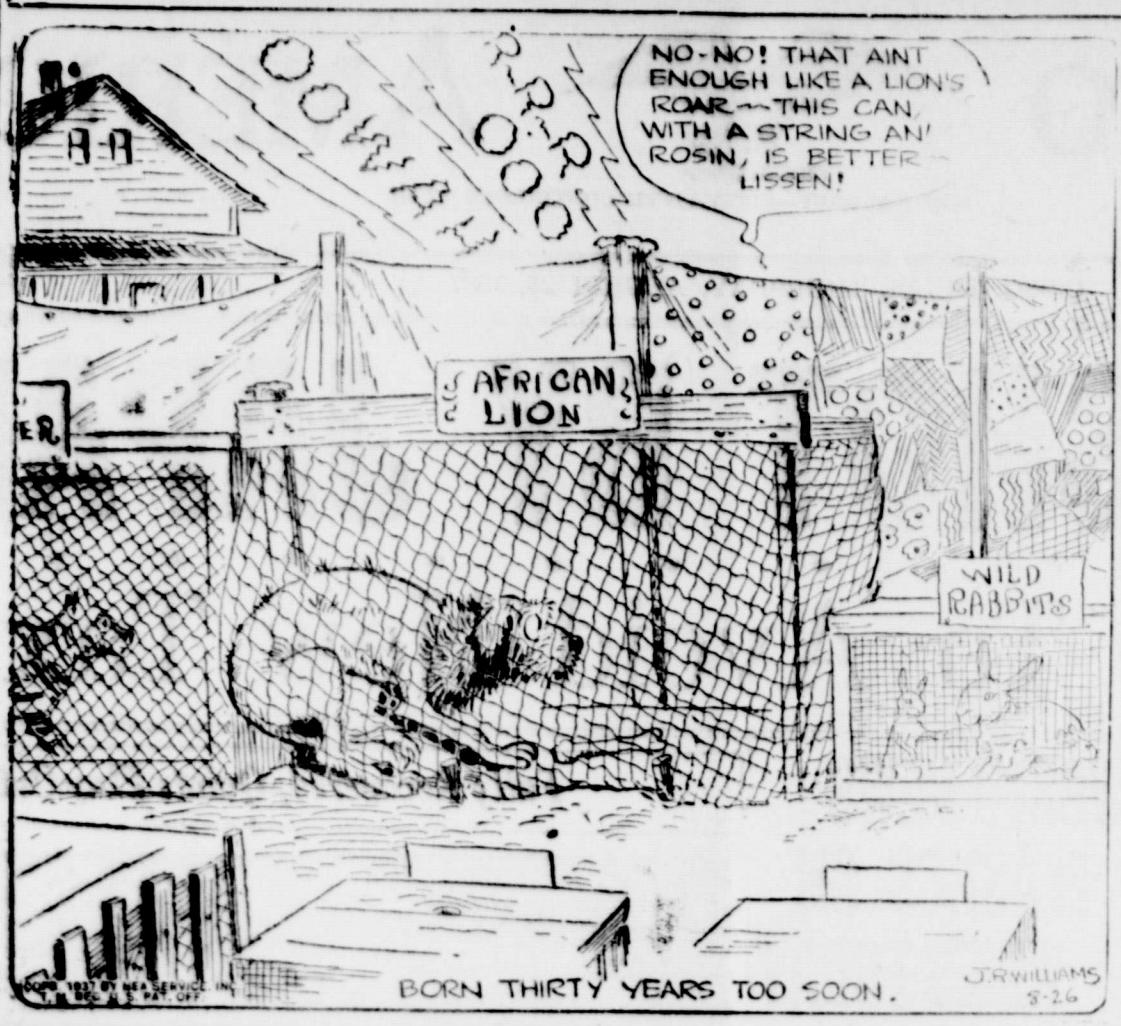

All that is necessary to increase livestock production in the South and make it profitable if carried on in connection with present farming operations is the will to do so and that is being rapidly provided by the necessity of restricting cotton production.

4-H Membership Grows

One of the most hopeful signs for the future of agriculture is that the enrollment in 4-H clubs passed the million mark for the first time, in 1936. Membership continues to increase.

The young men and women who join the 4-H will be the producers of tomorrow. In their club work, they are instructed in new methods and techniques that make it possible for the farmer to raise larger crops and earn a greater return.

DESDEMONA

By MRS. W. C. BEDFORD

The many friends of Jay Malby will be interested in hearing of his marriage which took place at the Methodist parsonage in Kilgore Saturday morning of week-before-last. The Kilgore paper gave an extended account of the marriage of Miss Nannie Jane Ogilvie to J. W. Malby the ceremony being performed by Rev. E. L. Ingram, pastor of St. Luke's Methodist Church there. The bride was attended by her sister and Jerry Elythe was best man to the groom. Only the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Ogilvie, and other near relatives and a few friends were present at the wedding. Jay grew up in Desdemona where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Malby have lived for a long time and all who know him feel that his bride has married an unusually fine man. There was also in the Kilgore paper an account of a party and shower given in honor of the bride, by the Methodist Missionary Society. Jay is employed by the J. J. Jenkins Drilling Contractors of Kilgore. We extend sincere good wishes to the happy couple.

Utah is a beautiful state. Salt Lake City, laid out originally in 10 acre blocks for each man is a gem. And when watered this land was all one needed to make a good living. They are religious. They no longer practice polygamy. When the supreme court ruled that it was unlawful to have more than one wife, the U. S. government appropriated a great sum of money so that dissatisfied wives might leave their husbands and live in the fine home provided for them at the expense of the nation. Only one lone widow woman took advantage of the offer and after a few years the government sold the useless building at a great sacrifice. But after that, we are told, no more married

STEPHENVILLE — Fanny Lee Porter and Dena Carroll of Cisco have been honored by John Tarleton College, whose Dean J. Thomas Davis has invited them to join the group of official Tarleton hostesses who will welcome freshmen to the campus at Stephenville when the fall term opens Sept. 13.

With 18 Tarleton co-eds and the provisional cadet officers, Miss Porter and Miss Carroll will meet Dean Davis on Saturday, Sept. 11 for a conference at his office. For five years Tarleton has invited selected students to come early to school, greet incoming freshmen, show them the institution, introduce them to faculty and students and otherwise help them to get used to their new environment.

The scheme has been found of more assistance to new students than mere formal systems of orientation. Both Miss Porter and Miss Carroll will be seniors next year. Miss Carroll has been elected president of the Texas social club. Miss Porter will be secretary to the council of the Association of Women Students. She is a member of the S. C. S. social club, and an honor student. Last year she served as one of the student assistants to Miss Lucile Hunter, manager of the girls' dormitories.

Two Favorable Factors

Two factors greatly benefitted the sport in its infancy. Several automobile construction companies became interested in the pint-sized cars and rapidly expanded their speed and power. Secondly, full-sized racing at Ascot speedway was outlawed shortly after the death of Al Gordon.

The first professional race was held at Loyola stadium in August of 1933. The sport hobbled along at a slow pace until the promoters talked their way into Gilmore stadium, a large arena in the Hollywood area. There it became big business, and one evening last year the stadium was filled an hour before the first race.

From here the midgets spread first to New York and Indianapolis. But other cities followed suit, notable Detroit, San Francisco and Pacific Northwest cities.

Swanson at Top
Bob Swanson, recently graduated into big-time racing and a potent factor in the Indianapolis Memorial Day race, is considered the highest money winner among the drivers, who now are ranked nationally by the AAA. Most of the better drivers manage to capture around $100 weekly.

The new sport is considered excellent training for youths with ambitions to enter the major auto-racing field. They learn faster on the small tracks, notably in negotiating the turns. Speeds gradually have become higher until recently a Detroit driver averaged 72 miles an hour for one race, and a sort of super-midget was clocked at 125 miles an hour over the sand at Murro Dry Lake, Calif.

SWIMMER FORGETS TRAIN
SCHCHARIE, N. Y. (AP)—Harold Brook, 15, has a grudge against the night mail train. Bouck went swimming near the railroad trestle then hung his bathing trunks out to dry. He chose the railroad tracks as the drying place, however, and the night mail train ripped them into shreds.

WACO, Aug. 26. (AP)—J. C. Blake, 26, grabbed his shotgun early today and went to investigate when he thought he heard someone bothering his chickens. He stepped into a hole and was killed by an accidental discharge of the weapon.

consider that a full apology from Japan will enable them to avoid aggravating the far east crisis by creating tension in British-Japanese relations.

The Japanese expressed their regret and made a formal apology. They said the British flag on the ambassador's automobile could not be distinguished by an airplane and that the pilot mistook the car for one carrying Chinese army officers.

By JACK GUENTHER
United Press Staff Correspondent
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26 (AP)—Midget automobile racing, conceived by a handful of mechanically minded newsboys in 1933, celebrated its 4th birthday recently by becoming the second largest sports attraction in Southern California.

The comparatively new fad, born on a vacant lot in the south side of Los Angeles, has spread to almost every major city in the United States. At one stadium here it draws 18,000 spectators every Thursday night, and in the next year is expected to play to a half-million customers. To date it has surpassed everything locally save football.

The cars originally were homemade "bugs" fashioned or motor-cycle engines and bailing wire at a total expenditure of approximately $100. Today they are sleek, $4,000 vehicles, capable of tremendous acceleration and a speed of 75 miles an

BRITAIN TO BUY AIRSHIPS

LONDON (AP)—British-owned airships are to fly again. Seven years after R-101 crashed and sister ship R-100 was turned into scrap to show that the Air Ministry was finished with lighter-than-air craft, private British interests plan to fly three helium-filled, diesel-engined "baby" airships. The ships will be purchased in the United States.

FARM HEARINGS WILL BE HELD OVER COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (UP)—Senate Agriculture sub-committee heads announced today that hearings on a general farm bill will be held throughout the country until late October, indicating congressional action on crop control is unlikely before January.

The indication of delay was regarded as important in view of frequent forecasts that President Roosevelt might call a special session in November to take up farm problems.

Chairman Marvin Jones of Texas, of the House Agriculture Committee, announced he expects to have his own general farm bill "ready the first part of the next session."

Political warfare for control of the democratic party was foreseen from the bitter session of congress which scrambled through the wreckage of President Roosevelt's program Saturday and adjourned.

Request to Retail Beer Turned Down

An application to sell beer at Rising Star was refused by J. E. Byrum by County Judge W. S. Adams, who in a court order stated that issuance of a permit was contested by Criminal District Attorney Edri Conner, Jr., on grounds that the city is in a dry area.

Also, the order noted, the applicant had lived in the county three years and had not been a taxpayer.

HITLER'S BOOK STILL POPULAR

BERLIN (UP)—Three million copies of Adolf Hitler's book "Mein Kampf," in which he laid down guiding principles for German policy, have now been sold, it is announced here.

Speed Causes Most Automobile Wrecks

AUSTIN, Aug. 26—Nearly 50 per cent of the drivers involved in fatal accidents have no one to blame but themselves! Figures compiled by the Department of Public Safety for the month of June show 142 fatal accidents resulting in 159 deaths. Again the demon Speed, ruled supreme.

Half of these deaths were non-collision and fixed object wrecks caused by speeding and reckless driving, losing control of the car and plunging off the road. Cars crashed into culverts and fences, and draped themselves around trees; often sending the driver or one of his passengers hurtling through the windshield to be picked up by an ambulance a crushed, mangled, inert heap. In several cases hours elapsed before the tragedy was discovered.

The temptation to relax and let the car loose on a good road when there is nothing in sight is hard to resist. Skid marks measured by patrolmen tell the story all too well. An unexpected curve, a wheel off side, a sudden swerve and it is too late to do anything about it.

It is no longer considered smart to be able to brag over how short a time one took going from her to there. This type motorist is considered not only a bore, but a public menace. The smart driver is the careful driver.

Exports Largest From Galveston

GALVESTON (UP)—Exports of cotton, flour, metals, sulphur asphalt and miscellaneous commodities from Galveston during the year ending July 31 were greater than from any other port in Texas.

Galveston stood out in front with exports of 1,536,915 square and 373 round bales of cotton. Wheat exports totaled 1,609,334 bushels and flour exports were up 50 per cent.

Houston led all ports in exports of scrap iron.

Shipments of nearly every commodity during the year just closed were greater than during the previous year.

WESTEX TRIP TO INSPECT CO-OPS DUE

An inspection of farmers' co-operatives in Northwest Texas is scheduled for three days beginning Monday, August 30, by a group from five counties interested in the recently formed Southwestern Peanut Growers association. Purpose is for possible adoption of methods for the peanut association.

The inspection trip will be led by C. E. Bowles, College Station extension specialist in co-operative marketing, assisted by W. B. Starr of Dan Horn, president of the peanut association.

The peanut association, organization of which was perfected at a meeting recently in Brownwood was formed principally to stabilize prices. Methods proposed by which to attain objectives include: Buying of peanuts and storing them in approved warehouses, 2. In event of depressed prices the diverting of as many into oil as will be required to maintain prices established by the United States Department of Agriculture and 3. Selling to the edible trade as much of the crop as it will absorb at designated prices.

The inspection party, to include approximately 50 from Eastland, Erath, Comanche, Brown and Callahan counties will leave from Cisco at 6 a. m. Monday. The first day co-operatives will be inspected at Quanah, Childress. Tuesday is planned to visit co-operatives headquarters at Plainview and Amarillo. Final day will be used to visit a co-operative at Lubbock and the experiment station at Spur. Arrival at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Cisco is planned.

Those to take cars from the county include Elmo V. Cook county agent; T. G. Cardie, Cisco vocational agricultural teacher; C. L. Wilson, Rising Star vocational agricultural teacher; W. J. Bush, holder of the same position at Scranton; Starr; Gerald Morrison vocational teacher at May; Bowles and one furnished by a bank for farm co-operatives at Houston.

Officials have urged farmers and others interested in the trip to contact the county agent, Starr or one of the vocational agriculture teachers.

Territory of Southwestern Peanut Growers association at present includes all peanut sections in Texas.

Pet Crow Raps Time To Arouse Household

BUCYRUS, Ohio (UP)—Amos, the pet crow of Mrs. Nina Klingenberger, has taken the place of an alarm clock in the Klingenberger household.

At 4:30 every morning, Amos flies from his sleeping quarters in the trees several blocks away and raps on the window until someone lets him in.

Mrs. Klingenberger made friends with the bird before it could fly. Now Amos rides on her shoulder, answers to his name and appears promptly every morning for his breakfast of bread crumbs, milk and raw hamburger.

Amos doesn't appear to be the least bit awed by the family bulldog, and on one occasion Mrs. Klingenberger found the crow riding on the dog's back to the latter's apparent displeasure.

Amos is well behaved except on wash days. Mrs. Klingenberger often has to lock him in the garage until the clothes have been taken in because he seems to enjoy following Mrs. Klingenberger as she hangs up the wash.

August Rated as Healthiest Month

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—If you would believe Dr. Herman G. Morgan, Indianapolis health Board secretary, there aren't any "dog days" any more.

He says it's all because of scientific development of preventative medicine, public health administration and more sanitary sewage disposal.

There was a time, you know, when, in August, horses frothed at the mouth, dogs went mad and little boys were warned to stay away from the swimmin' hole with the green scum.

Because sanitary conditions and heat were at their worst then, the death rate was higher.

But not now, August now boasts of being the most healthful month of the year when it was once believed the most unhealthful. It has the lowest illness and death rate of them all, Dr. Morgan said.

AMERICAN BOY INTRODUCES A NEW FOOTBALL GAME

In the early fall issues of THE AMERICAN BOY there'll be presented the story of a new game—six-man football—fast as professional football, wide open as basketball, thrilling as hockey!

The game came to life through the need of small schools for some substitute for 11-man football which was too expensive. Stephen Trier, a Nebraska graduate student in athletics, developed the game of six-man football to meet this need. In six-man football anybody can score, the possibility of injury from mass plays is minimized, and the game is open enough for spectators to follow every exciting development.

The new game is a hit. New schools are taking it up every day. In coming issues THE AMERICAN BOY tells the world about this practical new game. In addition, it presents The American Boy Official Handbook which can be obtained from the magazine at 20 cents a copy, or 15 cents when bought in bulk.

NOTE: Subscription prices of THE AMERICAN BOY will be revised in the near future. Send your subscription order at once to take advantage of the bargain rates now in effect: one year at $1.00 or three years at $2.00. Foreign subscriptions 50c a year extra. Send your name, address and remittance to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Or newstands the price is 15c a copy.

ANOTHER GOYA RISES TO PAINFUL WOES OF SPAIN

By PETER C. RHODES
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, August 26 (U.P.)—Pablo Picasso, best known of modern Spanish artists and originator of Cubism, has found a great stimulus to his work in the Spanish Civil War. Picasso, who took the side of the government from the start, has completed a huge mural painting on Guernica for the Spanish pavilion at the Paris International Exposition.

Another of Picasso's recent productions is a book of 18 engravings which he has published under the title of "Dream and Lie of General Franco." It is a book of engravings which can only be compared with Goya's engravings on the Napoleonic invasion of Spain known under the anonymous title of "Caprices."

Picasso began cutting engravings at the age of 18 and has produced more than 300 in his lifetime. The recent book is technically perfect and has the vigor, the horror and the action of Goya's famous series of a period which is most easily compared with the situation in Spain today. Its predominating note is one of nearly savage reaction against those whom he depicts as the invaders of Spain, as Goya attacked the French troops who laid his country waste more than a century ago.

Mural Modified Cubism
The "Guernica" mural is an ambitious piece executed in only several months' vigorous work, which covers one of the walls of the Spanish pavilion. Its style is

Gypsy Rose Gets Another Name

Hollywood censors changed her name to Louise Hovick when Gypsy Rose Lee, former queen of New York's strip teasers, moved to movieland, but Gypsy added another name by a dramatic ocean elopement with Robert Mizzy, son of an eastern manufacturer. The couple, shown above, were informed that their madcap wedding did not comply with California marriage license laws and a second ceremony was necessary.

hands and get genuine enjoyment in making a mere pittance and having a loaf of bread."

University to Have Mass Graduation

AUSTIN (U.P.)—Mass graduation will be substituted for the customary time-killing passing of dummy diplomas to students at the August summer school commencement of the University of Texas.

The commencement committee has decided that the 400 graduates shall stand in a body at the university stadium for a symbolic presentation. The time traditionally given to a procession of the students one by one to a platform to receive a "diploma" will be used for an address.

Against the old plan these points were made:

It is tiresome for spectators to watch three hours of marching of candidates.

It is a painful physical exertion in summer in graduation cap and gown.

Half of the students leave before the presentation.

The diplomas handed out are only dummies. The real sheepskin was delivered later to the student.

The University of Texas is the only major educational institution still using the old system of individual presentation.

Albanian Girl Pays Tribute to Peace

JACKSON, Miss. (U.P.)—The United States' efforts to promote public health and cultural activities in other countries constitutes a peaceful note which strikes Joseph Hyden, 29-year-old native of Albania, as the surest means of world happiness.

Alli, who is in Mississippi studying public health methods, will return to Albania in the fall to assume the directorship of the epidemiological division of the state laboratory. His study, which has taken him into many parts of the United States, is sponsored by the Rockefeller Foundation in cooperation with the Albanian government.

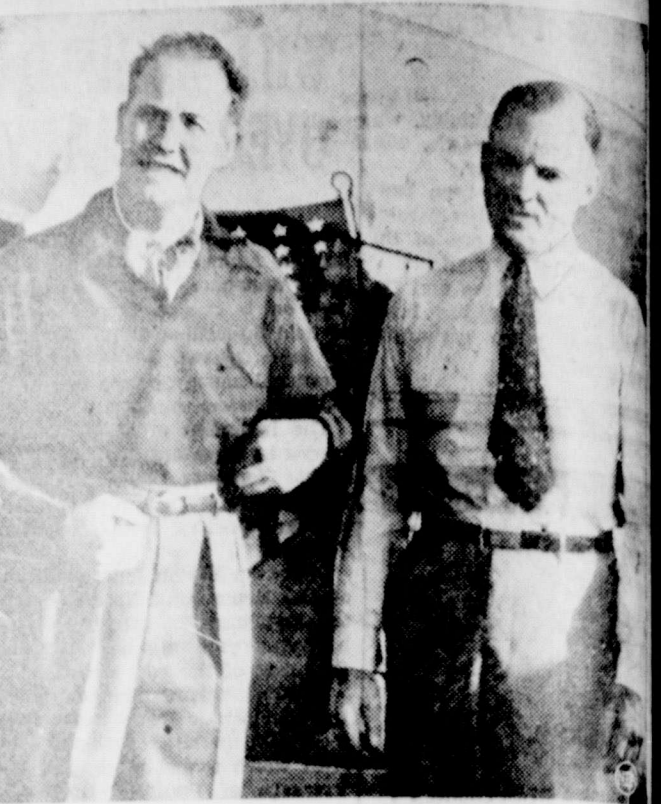

It is this "co-operative work" which is creating the soundest basis for peace, Alli feels.

"Such work naturally necessitates an interchange of ideas and establishes understanding among people inherently different," he

Alli is a naturalized United States citizen. He worked his way through high school in Jamestown, N. Y., and through the University of Michigan. Last year he served as a laboratory assistant at Michigan, where he held a doctor's degree in public health.

MENTAL CASES FALL WITH EBB OF DEPRESSION

LYON VIEW, Tenn., Aug. 26 (U.P.)—Dr. O. S. Hawk, superintendent of the Eastern State hospital here, believed the gradual decrease in the number of mental patients, and nervous breakdowns is another proof that the depression has loosened its grip on the United States.

Dr. Hawk said the number of insane, mental patients and psychopathic cases is in direct ratio to the economic life of the country.

"I've not been able yet to assume my post. You see, for the moment the real conservators of the Prado cannot be the intellectuals and the artists, but are in reality the tankards, the aviators, all the soldiers of the people's army which fights before Madrid.

Called Art Safe
"Most of the marvels of the Prado have been brought to Valencia where they have been stored in a specially constructed tower. I can tell you that this tower will withstand bombs four or five times more powerful than those known today. The paintings are in perfect security."

Questioned about the exhibition of these paintings in Paris this year, Picasso affirmed that all arrangements have been completed. "The paintings are being quietly brought to Paris for the exposition, and will all be assembled here by the end of August. The exposition will open at the Louvre in September. They will be returned to Spain."

Picasso produced his book of engravings after he had been requested to do two or three to be sold for support of the Spanish people. "Before I realized it, I had completed 18. The subject gripped me so thoroughly that I lost the sense of number until I had said all I wanted to say."

Picasso will continue his work on Spain.

Blames Fast Tempo

"They do not take into consideration that before the depression people were living at an extremely fast pace. Mrs. Jones had to keep up with her neighbor and Mr. Jones, as a result, worked himself into an asylum."

"Both of these two types would have broken mentally sooner or later anyway," he said. "The depression was not the cause for their committing suicide or suffering nervous breakdowns. They were constitutionally ill because they were incapable of controlling their emotions."

Because adversity provides people with a safety valve for their emotions," he said, "the great mass of people have benefited mentally from the country's financial condition."

Classed as Heroism
Dr. Hawk cited instances of "pathological bravado" during the depression, likening such cases to heroic deeds performed by soldiers under stress during the World War.

"They happened when the stress and strain was too much on a soldier's mind and he broke that strain by performing some heroic deed. In almost all cases the heroes couldn't tell how the deed was done or what drove them to it."

79th ANNUAL CAMP MEET AT SAN SABA

SAN SABA, August 26 (UP)—The Lower Cherokee Methodist church has just held its seventy-ninth annual camp meeting, thought to be the oldest camp meeting in the state of Texas.

The campground is located about 20 miles southeast of San Saba on the banks of Cherokee creek. During the 79 years of its existence the site has been changed twice but each time, it remained within a half mile of the original location.

The camp grounds were given by Mrs. Matster, wife of David Matster, the first permanent settler of San Saba county. Mrs. E. E. West and R. H. Walton later supplemented the first gifts with additional ground.

In deciding this land, the donors allowed each family in the community to retain a lot upon which to erect a camp each year, the lot to remain in the family from generation to generation. In event members of a family failed to occupy their site during a camp meeting for three consecutive years the property reverted to the church. Most of the lots are held by children or grandchildren of the original holders.

Mrs. Richard Kolb of the Colon community is the only surviving charter member of the Cherokee congregation. A kinswoman of Gen. Sam Houston, Mrs. Kolb says that in the pioneer days, all of the men of the church came to the meetings armed.

"The minister laid his rifle down on the platform, or hung it in a tree within reach while preaching, so that it would be convenient if Indians attacked," she said. "Guards were constantly on duty to keep Indians from stealing the horses."

The first preacher at the Cherokee camp meeting was the Rev. Mr. Tunnell, a circuit rider. The present pastor, the Rev. M. E. Deakins, conducted the last meeting.

Shipping Crisis In Pacific Seen

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26 (UP)—An announcement that the Canadian Pacific is building two new 25,000-ton liners for its service between Vancouver and Australia via San Francisco threatens to raise the whole question of American traveling on foreign steamship lines, according to local shipping circles.

At present Americans who take a foreign vessel between American ports are obliged to pay an extra tax of $200. This affects principally Americans who make use of the Japanese lines that stop at Honolulu on the way.

Shipping circles, however, are convinced that there will be a big demand by Americans to make use of the two new Canadian boats, which will exceed anything in modern luxury on the Pacific between San Francisco and Honolulu. This may cause a heavy cut into the trade of the two American lines, Matson and Dollar.

Shipping circles point out, however, that the Matson and Dollar lines still have the right of maintaining service to Australia and New Zealand and to carry citizens of those countries between their own ports.

As a consequence local shipping circles believe that if the United States insists on barring the Canadian Pacific from carrying Americans between San Francisco and Hawaii, it is not improbable that the New Zealand and Australian governments may close the trade door to the American lines.

"STUTTERING SAM" MISSED RADIO CHANCE

FORT WORTH, Aug. 26 (UP)—Lovely Mary Dowell, who missed one big chance in the theater because she stuttered and another because she didn't, has lived a success story.

Mary, stately daughter of Chief of Police A. E. Dowell of Fort Worth was nicknamed "Stuttering Sam" when she applied for a job in Billy Rose's first Casa Manana review here in 1936. Within the season she became a star among the show girls, most of them were experienced New York performers.

So good was she that she was called to New York. After hours of waiting in the office of the executive who was to give her the "big chance," a try-out on Broadway, Miss Dowell stuttered profusely in excitement when he saw her.

"Smart girl," the agent sniffed. "I have no time for practical jokes."

Disheartened Mary came home. This year she was given a bigger part in the second Casa Manana review, part of the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta. Her role included wearing a gown made of 1,200 yards of spangled satin. Again, she became a favorite.

A radio executive heard of Miss Dowell and invited her to take part on a national variety program. This time, said she, she couldn't miss. She studied her script for hours and mastered it until not a trace of speech difficulty remained.

When the agent heard her, he threw up his hands and said "No." He had wanted a girl who really stuttered.

Mary returned to her Casa Manana job, and this fall may take another trip to Broadway—preferably without speaking lines.

Hugh Chief Brown, who is attending school in San Antonio, is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—Forgotten ordinances which WPA workers have unearthed would prohibit persons from leaning against Boardwalk guard rails to watch crowds and sun-bathers.

Another law, passed in 1905 bans "loitering, sitting, lounging or idly standing" on streets, Boardwalk or in pavilions and parks.

An old 1856 ordinance orders the killing of all Spitz dogs or even dogs with Spitz blood in their ancestry, found roaming the streets.

Dancing on Sundays in the pier and hotel ballrooms, night clubs and cafes, back in the gay '90s also was forbidden. And woe betide those that advertised on any but their own business property.

Texas Sheriffs are Against Fee System

FORT WORTH (UP)—Most Texas sheriffs are against the proposed return to a fee system to be voted upon in a general election August 23, according to J. B. Arnold of Beville, president of the Texas sheriffs' association.

Arnold toured the state sounding sentiment for and against the fee system of payment for their services.

"I find that a large majority of our sheriffs are against the fee amendment," said Arnold. "We hope that the time will come when every office holder will be placed on a salary. A man on a straight salary can make arrests as his conscience dictates, without fearing criticism of fee grabbing."

The Texas legislature two years ago ordered the fee system abolished except in counties of less than 20,000 population under the 1930 census.
