He Took Her Wages

One Saturday night not long ago in a certain state in this land of the free and the home of the brave, a married woman who had found it necessary to get a job, came home with her pay envelope. Her husband forcibly took money away from her. However, the next morning before leaving for church to worship God, he yielded to her pleadings to the extent of giving her back five dollars of her earnings.

Don't shower investives on that husband's head. He was entirely within his legal rights, for the law of his state declares that a man can quite justly appropriate his wife's wages. So you see that according to the legal code of his commonwealth the man was not unfair with his wife but in fact generous in that he let her have so much as five dollars of her own money.

On one side of a state line, that wife-wage-appropriating husband is a law-abiding citizen. Yet twelve inches away, across the line of another state, which recognizes a married woman to be a person and give her the right to her earnings, he would be a law-abiding citizen. See how absurd the law can be?

In one state a person can get a divorce for almost any reason imaginable on three months residence. In another state a year is required. In still another one mate deserted by the other must stick around in matrimonial bondage until five years have elapsed before divorce is permitted. And in still another state nuptial knots cannot be untied for any reason whatsoever.

Because the laws of our various states so ridiculously conflict and are so discordantly out of tune, there are persons promoting worse confusion worse confounded, and more distressed more multiplied, by actively advocating that the national government be given power to regulate the personal affairs of the citizens of all the states.

If our forty-eight states were forty-eight industries with mutual interests instead of forty-eight commonwealths, they would long ago have worked out a practical basis for pulling together. Business has learned that it must cooperate, that there must be team play if there is to be progress and satisfaction. So the businesses in each line get together about every so often and exchange ideas and work out cooperative policies. The bankers hold their conventions; the accountants theirs; the power men theirs; the florists theirs; and so on; yet no business surrenders its individuality.

Instead of setting up a lot of arrogant little dictators in Washington in the shape of bureaucrats to tell the inhabitants of all the states where to get on and where to get off, why shouldn't the states of the union follow the plan that big business has found to be effective? Why shouldn't the forty-eight states have their representatives get together in annual convention and exchange ideas that have been found to be good and workable, and adopt broad, cooperative policies?

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—The so-called federal independence commission, some of whose independent members undertook to preserve when it carved up the presidential government reorganization program, are not always as independent as you might suppose.

William Orville Douglas has just been elected chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Theoretically he was elected by the three other present members of the commission. Actually, it is very doubtful whether Douglas could have become chairman if the full White House influence had not been thrown behind him. Wall Street influences tried hard to block him, seeking the elevation of a more conservative commissioner.

There was no question about the fitness and ability of Douglas. The question was whether the SEC, under his chairmanship, would be tougher in dealing with Wall Street than under the previous chairmen, Joseph P. Kennedy and James M. Landis. Nearly everywhere, from Wall Street to Pennsylvania Avenue, guessed that it would.

CHAIRMAN DOUGLAS promptly announced that his would be a "conservative" administration. Possibly it will be recalled that before a Senate committee, insisted that he himself was "a conservative." Liberals and conservatives often insist on calling themselves the other thing.

Nothing that anyone knows about has occurred to make him more conservative than when he addressed New York's Bond Club last spring. Demanding "democ-

OUT OUR WAY

UNDER THE DOME AT AUSTIN

By GORDON K. SHEARER

United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—With Gov. James V. Allred and economy-minded senators twitting each other about tax inconsistency, Texans may rest assured that the state government is safe.

A casual research of what has been thought of consistency reveals an almost unanimous approval of the inconsistent mind.

Cicero, Emerson, Oliver Wendell Holmes and other noted essayists agree that consistency is NOT a jewel.

"A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds," Emerson wrote in one essay. The subject seems to have intrigued him. In another: "With inconsistency a great soul has simply nothing to do."

Cicero wrote: "No well informed person ever imputed inconsistency to another for changing his mind." Bathelmy, French writer expressed the same view. His statement: "The absurd man is he who never changes."

Holmes wrote of inconsistency in both prose and verse. Posing as a professor at the breakfast table he said: "I think you will find that people who honestly mean to be true really contradict themselves much more rarely than those who try to be 'consistent.'"

In verse he added: "In opinions look not always back 'Your wake is nothing; mind the coming track."

"Leave what you've done for what you have to do; 'Don't be 'consistent' but be simply true."

Mestasio thought it "often constancy to change the mind." Horatio Smith summed up the whole discussion by deciding that "inconsistency is the only thing in which men are consistent."

The tax session of the legislature brought cheer for the moment anywayway to one type of business that already is taxed. When the House revenue and taxation committee's five members assigned to draw an omnibus bill looked over the subject of utilities, members found that telephone companies paid a gross receipts tax of 1.34 per cent and telegraph companies 3.34 per cent.

That seemed unfair to the committee, so they proceeded to propose in the bill to hike telephone company taxes to a maximum of 2 per cent and to reduce telegraph company taxes to 3 per cent. The reduction, it was estimated, would cost the state $16,681 in revenue each year.

Speed is an important factor in a special session. It lasts but 30 days, and even if another session follows immediately the legislature starts "from scratch" and all bills must be re-introduced.

Because speed was necessary, proposals for a state income tax were shunted aside in favor of bills believed to be easier to decide upon. Although income tax laws have

CAST OF CHARACTERS PRISCILLA PIERCE—heroine, young woman attorney; MISS KERR—Dolan's roommate and murderer's victim; JIM HUNTER—city's banker; HARRY H. JOHNSON—Amy's strange visitor; SERGEANT DOLAN—officer assigned to solve the murder of Amy Kerr.

Yesterday when Cilly reveals that Mr. Hunter can walk, Corbett counters that Cilly was in no condition the night before. Cilly realizes now she should have told the officers alone.

CHAPTER XX

SERGEANT DOLAN proceeded with his investigation.

"Mr. Smith," he said, addressing the young man in 2-B, "I understand you were not at home when the murder occurred?"

Mr. Smith repeated his wife's explanation to Detective Martin. They had spent the day in Rutherford, N. J., with relatives, not leaving there until 1:20. They did not hear of the tragedy until the following morning. Dolan looked to Martin for confirmation of this. Martin nodded. Evidently the Smiths' alibi had checked.

Dolan turned again to the Hunters. "Where did you live before, Hunter?" he demanded.

"In Brooklyn, sir. Down on Herkimer street. I was raised in Brooklyn. Never lived anywhere else."

"And you, Mrs. Hunter?" Cilly looked at the woman as she rose to answer the sergeant's question. She appeared visibly shaken and nervous. Without doubt, she had been frightened by Cilly's revelation. Would the sergeant notice that, she wondered? His shrewd eyes, glancing over Mrs. Hunter, were unfathomable.

"I've lived in Brooklyn, sir, ever since my marriage—25 years ago. Before that I lived on Long Island, in Farmingdale."

"You were married, therefore, when your husband became paralyzed?"

Mrs. Hunter's lower lip trembled, she fumbled in her bag for a handkerchief.

"Yes, sir. 'Was he in an accident?' 'Yes, sir... that is—oh, don't ask me to talk about it!' She burst into tears. 'You tell him, George!' she pleaded. 'You tell him about it. It's better if you do.'"

"Hush, Nellie!" Mr. Hunter admonished, not unkindly. "You see, sergeant," he explained, "my wife grieves about it. It gets her upset to talk about it."

"I see. It was an accident, Hunter?"

"Yes, sir. I had a fall, and then the doctors didn't treat it right. I guess. The old doctor down in Herkimer street who took care of me is dead, and I went to a couple of others, and I went to my wife, but they couldn't do anything for me."

SERGEANT DOLAN rubbed his chin thoughtfully for a moment, but his eyes never left the man's face.

"Hunter," he said finally, "it strikes me as queer that a man like you—tied to a wheel-chair—would want to live on the top floor of a walk-up apartment."

Cilly listened eagerly for Hunter's reply. Why hadn't she realized that before?

"Well, I guess it seems queer," Hunter admitted. "We can't afford an expensive apartment, in an elevator building. I can't work, you see, and we just live on a small income. We took the top floor because I like to get the air, and I don't like to sit out in the street. People stare at me. Being up high, I can get out on the roof and sit there. Johnson always helps me up."

Sergeant Dolan looked inquiringly at the superintendent. "That right, Johnson?" he asked.

"Yes, sir, that's right. Sometimes in the afternoons, Mrs. Hunter gives me a buzz and I take Mr. Hunter up in the wheel-chair. Sometimes in the evening, if the weather is good."

"Did you help him up there last Sunday?"

"Yes, sir. About 1 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. Then just about 4, before I went out for the afternoon, I brought him down again."

"O. K., Johnson. Now tell me this: did Mrs. Wheeler say anything to you about going away?"

"No, sir, she didn't. It was a surprise to me when I went up there yesterday afternoon with Detective Martin. It certainly looked as if she'd cleared out."

"How long did she live in the Bayview, Johnson?"

The superintendent scratched his head thoughtfully for a moment. "Oh, I guess Mrs. Wheeler's been there three or four years."

"Did she ever say why she moved to Brooklyn?"

"No, she didn't. A good many folks come over from Manhattan lately to save money. Rents are cheaper in Brooklyn."

Dolan nodded. He looked over the Bayview tenants again. His eyes rested on the school teacher in 4-A.

"Miss Downey," he said, "what can you tell me?"

Miss Downey, prim and precise, rose to her feet, smoothing out her skirt as she did so. She held her head erect.

"Not a thing, Sergeant Dolan," she stated. "We can't tell you a thing. We heard the scream, of course—mother and I. And we rushed to the window to see what had happened. Other than that, we know nothing."

"I see. Have you always lived in Brooklyn, Miss Downey?"

"Oh, yes. I graduated from Erasmus High and Adelphi. We've always lived in Brooklyn. Mother was born down in 17th street, near Fourth avenue."

"Thank you, Miss Downey. And now, Mrs. Downey, is there anything you can tell me?"

"I was going to tell you," Mrs. Downey began slowly, "that the moment I heard that poor girl scream I jumped from my bed. Lucille got up, too. Well, it was the most awful thing. She must have fallen right past our window. It was terrible. I tell you, never in my life have I had such a shock. I thought I was going to faint. My heart's not so good, sergeant..." She paused for breath and laid a plump hand over her bosom.

"Well, I went out into the kitchen for my tablets—I keep them over the sink where they'll be handy—and just as I got to the kitchen I heard someone running down the stairs. I'm sure of it, sergeant. I heard those steps just as well as I hear your voice now. It was a man running downstairs—you know how heavy a man's footsteps are. It was the murderer, sergeant. I know it."

Cilly stiffened. Mrs. Downey's words brought the case close to reality.

"And this was right after the girl's body hit the ground?" Dolan asked.

"Right afterward. Not two minutes after."

"Can you tell me how far down the stairs the man went, Mrs. Downey?" To the third floor, she said, the first?"

"I'm not so sure of that. I think he went below the third floor... at least I didn't hear him stop at the landing below us."

"Thank you, Mrs. Downey. You have done right to tell us..." Mrs. Downey stepped a pace forward. She lowered her voice confidently.

"But that isn't all, sergeant," she said. "That isn't all..."

many supporters in the legislature—their progress always has been slow. The intricate figuring and percentages pique members' curiosity and arouse opposition by their very complexity.

A proclamation issued from the governor's office announced: "Phillip R. Craven of Dallas, Texas, was arrested on Nov. 24th, 1936, for shooting one quail; he pled guilty and paid his fine, but his hunting license was suspended for a period of twelve months.

Craven again is a lawful Texas hunter. On recommendation of Murrell Buckner, member of the State Game, Fish & Oyster Commission, the proclamation restored his full hunting rights.

His offense was killing a bird out of lawful season. So many other hunters want to do the same thing that Gov. Allred promised he will NOT veto a bill proposed in the legislature to harmonize state and federal hunting seasons.

The trailer craze has struck the State Department of Health. A white trailer pulled by a white automobile will carry a state health exhibit about the state. The exhibit will be taken to district medical meetings and go to schools. A department lecturer will explain the exhibit. Sgt. Ross Dickey of the Public Safety Department will accompany the and give safety talks.

Kenneth Harper was one of the few public relations men who got off with flying colors when quizzed by the Senate economy committee.

He ired the committee only when he answered a speculative question by saying: "Well, if we are going into astronomy, I do not know the answer."

This week Harper went into astronomy. In calculating mileage traveled by investigators of the Old Age Assistance Administration, he computed that it equalled six trips to the moon.

Miss Elizabeth Thwait of Austin, was the first woman secretary of a state racing commission. In a change of administration, she lost that position but now she has another "first." She was appointed receiver for the commission's jockey insurance fund, and is said to be the first woman to be appointed receiver by a district court. The jockey fund was one set up to insure hospital care of injured jockeys.

Having something of a compulsory myself, it always me to witness the antics of people driven by a like compulsion. That is a malady I cut any peaceful life into bits. I know, for I, like the man, can't resist looking in box even on Sunday!

BIG RUSSELL BROS. CIRCUS TO BE IN THIS SECTION SOON

There will be a general exodus of circus admirers from this city and vicinity when Russell Bros. Big 3-Ring Circus and Menagerie gives two performances in Eastland on Friday, Oct. 8, afternoon and night.

"When you have seen one circus you have seen them all" is a remark frequently heard in the past, but nowadays such does not hold true. The Russell Circus has a reputation for presenting more actual novel and surprising acts than any other show and because of this it claims the motto, "the highest class circus in the world." This is a big show, usually exhibiting in cities ranging from ten thousand to half a million or more in population, since a capacity crowd for one performance only will not meet the gigantic daily expense involved.

Loboes Profit From Past Experiences

The Loboes have played two games this season and have lost that many. But this means little to the fighting Loboes who have their eyes turned forward instead of backward. These games showed the local team their weaknesses and these have been strengthened.

In their first game the Cisco men met a large Lubbock team that had been playing together for several seasons, and went down in defeat by the score of 40-0. But the score tells little of the battle the small team put up against the Westerns. When the gun sounded ending the game the Loboes were still on their feet, fighting all the way. The fans marveled at the stubborn resistance the Loboes showed.

The following week-end the Loboes met Baird and Stamford on the same day and sent them back home defeated by scores of 6-0-6-0. The team showed much improvement from the game the week before.

Last Friday night the Loboes met a strong Yellowjacket team in Stephenville and were taken down by the score of 45-0. But again the score tells little of the fight that the Loboes staged. On the offense the team stood out, out-scoring the Jackets in first downs but their pass defense kept them in trouble all night. This was the first time the Lobo plays had been clicking all season. Their end runs, center plunges, and off-tackle plays netted much yardage.

With the Big Spring game before them the Loboes are scenting a victory for the first time in two years.

A Comparison of Loboes and Steers

The Big Spring Steers who will meet the Loboes on Chesley Field tomorrow have not won a game this season in conference play. They have lost games to Brownwood and Eastland by close scores.

The Steer's line will average near 170 pounds to the man while the backfield will average 151 pounds. This is a heavy team for a high school and the weight goes a long way in leading to victory. Wheat, a tackle on the team, is the largest boy, weighing 235 pounds. Bigony is the largest man in the backfield, weighing 170 pounds. Womack, 120-pound backfield man pulls his team's weight far down in average because of his small size.

The Loboes also have a small back in Warren who weighs 120 pounds. The Big Spring team has two fine guards in Callahan and Lusk, each weighing 160 pounds. Bethel, backfield man weighing 165 pounds, is one of the best in the district.

The Big Spring team is coming to Cisco with a strong desire to win their first game of the season and the Loboes will have to fight hard if they hope to win.

Likewise, the Loboes have not won a game, not even scored, but they have been matched with big, fast teams far out of their class in weight or length of training. But these same Loboes have been training hard this week. They have built their spirit to the top notch and

COACH PETTY IS SUCCESSFUL IN COACHING

Head Coach Tom Petty was born and reared in Decatur, Tex. He lived in Decatur until he graduated from high school in 1929, then he went to Waco where he attended Baylor University.

Mr. Petty lettered four years in high school and was elected captain this last year. While in high school, Mr. Petty played both football and basketball. It was in Decatur he started out on the road of his football career.

In 1930, Mr. Petty, better known as "Big Tom" by his classmates, lettered in freshman football at Baylor. In the years '31, '32, and '33 he lettered in varsity football. While in Baylor Mr. Petty played end along with Frank James. In their last year they were considered the best ends in the Southwest conference. These men did the punting for the Bears. At his graduation from college several schools were seeking him as a coach.

In 1934 he was assistant coach to Loran Stollenwerk at Denison. His fine coaching there won him the berth of head coach at Nacona. In 1935 Mr. Petty's team won nine games out of ten and came within one game of winning the district. Next year the Nacona team won the district, bi-district and regional, and was considered one of the best "A" B squads in the state. Early in September of this year Mr. Petty was signed up to coach the Cisco Loboes. At once he took over the duties and started the fall training period. Young green material, welcomed "Big Tom" but he set to work and rounded out a squad that is battling the larger teams in the Oil Belt district to the last ditch. Next year the Loboes of Cisco should be one of the best in the Oil Belt.

Bob Burns Has Crick Fixed by Auto Man

DALLAS (UP)—When Bob Burns came to Dallas recently, the big city evidently confused him. He went to an automobile mechanic to have a "crick in his neck" repaired. The story got out today.

J. F. Alexander, auto mechanic instructor in a Dallas technical school, was massaging some of the school football players who had just finished a game at the Pan American exposition grounds. Into the dressing room strode an exhibition policeman to ask if Mr. Alex would mind rubbing a friend's neck. The instructor agreed. His patient was Bob Burns.

Bob yelled when the operation was taking place, but he said afterwards that it really didn't hurt much, and anyway—it was the first time in two weeks that anyone had eased that crick.

COACH COOPER SEES SERVICE IN BALL, TRACK

Billy Cooper was born in Temple, Tex., and attended Temple public schools, graduating from high school in 1928. Mr. Cooper went out for all athletics.

During his high school life he lettered for two years in three sports but failed to make the football teams. His high school coaches were Rusty Russell and Bill Henderson. In 1929 Mr. Cooper entered Hardin-Simmons University and lettered in football, basketball, track and reserve football. In 1932 he was injured and was kept out of the lineup for a long time. He was captain of the track team and won the conference 440.

Cooper attended Mercer University after graduating from Hardin-Simmons, and lettered in football. He coached at Roscoe his first year out of college and lost one game. Following his work at Roscoe he went to Elrodado where he coached for two years. The Elrodado club made a fine record while he was there. Following his stay at Elrodado Mr. Cooper was line coach of the Cisco Loboes last year. He was elected assistant coach to Tom Petty, newly elected head coach, early this fall.

Loboes Well Provided With New Equipment

The Loboes have the best equipment this season for their work of reviving the glories of the Lobo name. A number of new suits and shoes have been purchased and are now in use.

In addition to these items, 20 warm-up jackets, 11 helmets, new socks and shoulder pads have been added. New regulation footballs are being used in the constant practice intended to give the boys the feel of the ball so that passes may be snatched out of the air and held onto during the heat of action.

Coaches Petty, Cooper and Garrett feel that the boys will give of their best Friday afternoon when they meet their foes, the big Steers from Big Spring.

Daily News—First in news, first in service.

H. R. GARRETT HAS CAREER AS GRID COACH

H. R. (Pop) Garrett was born at Milligan, Tenn., and lived there until he was 12 years of age. His parents then moved to Midland, Tex., where he lettered in football, baseball and basketball in Midland college, Texas Christian University and Howard college.

He coached at the University of Georgia one year following which he coached at Lincoln Memorial University, coming to Cisco and coaching at Randolph nine years.

During his career at Randolph he won the junior college state title for football and went to the finals in the national basketball one year.

He was elected assistant coach in the Cisco high school following one year as Midget coach at the Grammar school.

Negro Discovered to Have Hard Cash

TYLER (UP)—An aged negro pensioner who draws $11 monthly from the state was discovered to be carrying 14 $100 bills and $74.80 in bills of lesser denomination wrapped in brown paper parcels in the pockets of his clothes when arrested on a minor theft charge.

The old man, a well known figure on Tyler streets, was a teacher in Emith county schools 40 years ago. The sum represented his life savings which he refused to trust to the care of a bank.

New Recruits for The Cisco Loboes

Marcell and Odell Harrison and Curtis Yaney will see service for the first time for Cisco High when they meet the strong Big Spring Steers on Chesley Field Friday afternoon. Odell and Curtis are backs while Marcell is a line man. These boys entered the Cisco school last winter but were not able to play for this team until they live in Cisco a year. These boys weigh near 160 pounds and should be a real help to the fighting Loboes.

Cullen Harrison, brother of Odell and Marcell, would also be ready for this game if it were not for a broken leg that he received in early fall training. Cullen is a large boy, weighing 175 pounds and will see lots of service later in the season when his leg has mended. The cast has been taken off and it won't be long until he is back in uniform, it is hoped.

Bink Wade, a new boy in Cisco, will not be eligible for several games yet but should be a strong factor for the local team when he becomes eligible. Bink weighs 190 pounds and has been showing up well in practice.

With these four boys in the lineup the Cisco Loboes should be one of the hardest teams to whip in the district. These boys will add weight and pep to the team that has not won a game in two years.

BEHOLD! THE NEW WORLD'S CHAMPION

Lady Temple cackles that it's constant, everyday work that one has to do to keep a bird in the "champion" class. Not content with the American Championship award for consecutive days laying, 111, she went on a 365-day record by establishing a new world's record for a 365-day record in an official contest at John Tarleton College in Stephenville, Texas, and 315 eggs. She laid one the following day, too. She was raised by and Mrs. J. T. Ramage in Terrell, Texas.

Book Review At High School Much Enjoyed

By MARY CROFTS
Nations may come and nations may go, dynasties may rise and fall, but China, the ancient, the inscrutable, remains changeless through the centuries. This is the impression gained by the author, Samuel Merrill, during his years of living in and trying to catch the spirit of the Orient, and it is the impression vividly conveyed to her audience by Mrs. P. Pettit when she reviewed "Chinese Lantern, Junks and Jade" yesterday at the high school.
Mrs. Pettit told of Peking (or Peiping), old before the days of the Babylonian Empire, when the now sandy plains were luxuriantly wooded and brilliant with birds of marvelous plumage described in the tales of Marco Polo. Peking, with its 30 miles of venerable walls and watch-remember the last night game a local team ever played. Wearing the black and gold some eight years back was another Steer machine which went to Cisco in high hopes of sweeping a game from the not-to-strong Lobos.

The Longhorns were beaten, 62-0 in one of the worst licks a local team ever took.

The Lobos were constantly running over the Steers at the turn of the last decade and the Herd had to wait until last season to score their first victory over the Eastland county team. Amid a rain storm they triumphed over the invaders, 19-6.

"Now they carry the best backfield to represent the school in some time back to Cisco to try to win their first district game on a foreign field for the first time in two years, but they're going to be rushed in order to accomplish that trick. The Lobos, although beaten, soundly by Lubbock and Stephenville, are anything but an easy mark and are going to be hard to take.

Coach Murphy is guarding against a letdown when the Steers may suffer. They played their greatest game thus far against the Crownwood Lions last week and Murphy is praying that the locals will be even better this weekend."

field was a PWA project and cost around $13,000 including every modern feature that a field would be expected to possess in a town many times larger than Cisco.

Clyde L. Garrett is to make the principal address and the Lobo band in its brand new marching uniforms will be a feature of the dedication program. The stadium is built of steel, set in concrete pillars. It is well braced with commodious wooden seats that give plenty of leg and foot room. It has a seating capacity of about 4,000.

A press box, glassed in from outside intrusion and bad weather, surmounts the home side of the field. No better arrangements for sports writers can be found anywhere in this part of the country.

The Lobos will be scrapping on the new field in hopes of downing the Steers and winning their first game in two years. The field is of the turtle-back type and will drain water as fast as it falls. In this way the field will not be soggy with mud and standing in water for games played in wet weather. The track circle around the field will help also in giving to Cisco a good track team for the county meet held each spring. Lights on the field have been taken down and are to be set back in the stands at a later date. This will offer to the fans a better view and less danger of injury to players in the game. Black and yellow flags have been placed on the home side for games. The new field will receive its second going over in preparation for the coming battle with the Steers.

The squad has been working each afternoon preparing for the engagement and have a fine schedule planned. Miss Ida Mae Collins and Miss Mackie Boswell are sponsors for the group and have spared nothing in giving the high school a fine cheer section. The group will perform during the half and will lead the fans in yell during the game.

Book Review At High School Much Enjoyed

By MARY CROFTS
Nations may come and nations may go, dynasties may rise and fall, but China, the ancient, the inscrutable, remains changeless through the centuries. This is the impression gained by the author, Samuel Morrill, during his years of living in and trying to catch the spirit of the Orient, and it is the impression vividly conveyed to her audience by Mrs. P. Pettit when she reviewed "Chinese Lantern, Junks and Jade" yesterday at the high school.

Mrs. Pettit told of Peking (or Peiping), old before the days of the Babylonian Empire, when the now sandy plains were luxuriantly wooded and brilliant with birds of marvelous plumage described in the tales of Marco Polo. Peking, with its 30 miles of venerable walls and watch-towers and gates, whose colors change with the changing light of day and lend an atmosphere of brooding mystery and enchantment. From the old Tartar Wall, which stands as an emblem of ancient China and which originally accommodated 4 chariots abreast, a pedestrian may appreciate the strange way in which the city is laid out. Walls within walls, with the Purple Forbidden City, containing the palaces of the emperor and open only to members of the imperial family, nestled in the innermost enclosure. There, long ago, the wise old dowager empress of China diverted a fund of $51,000,000 collected for a Chinese navy to rebuild the summer palace out of purest marble. It still stands, with its flaming yellow and blue and vermilion tiles, its matchless carvings, and its famous red-lacquered throne, an emblem of the lost soul of China.

Writers on the current political situation strive to find in China's resistance to the latest Japanese invasion a new trend in the Chinese character, an awakening to Western influences, but Samuel Morrill feels that the only plane upon which East and West can meet is that of appreciation of the beautiful. The priceless porcelains and paintings of the summer palace and the picture gallery at the gate to the Forbidden City, the brilliant tiles stamped with the royal 5-talon dragon and carried to Peking by camel caravan centuries ago, the Gate of Birds, where birds of all descriptions are sold for pets (for the Chinese take their birds out for the daily walk and serve their puppies as soup), the famous Jade Canal and the Street of Jade where the world's most precious collections are found, the glamorous Street of Lanterns, the gorgeous rug and silk merchants, the china shops, the wealth of amber, which the Chinese say is the soul of the tiger, and which they always make up in strings of 108 chong beads, on account of a religious symbolism—these are only a few of the wonders of China which centrals may admire and try to grasp but never successfully imitate, and the discussion of them held Mrs. Pettit's audience enthralled even on a very warm afternoon.

Besides her description of different Chinese arts she told of intricate customs and superstitions of wealth and importance of a deceased person by the hour and elaborateness of his funeral (the highest muck-a-mucks begin the procession about 3 a. m.), the different vehicles of transportation, ranging from carts with wheels spiked all around to keep pedestrians at a respectful distance, to Model Ts with their bumpers propped wide open to impress the less modern, the infinite variety of junks or river boats which have accumulated in lieu of the navy which the dowager empress nipped in the bud, the belief in ghosts and dragons and ancestor-worship and the superiority of the male over the female, the complex system of character writings, and many other fascinating subjects. She described more briefly the life and notable fact about other Chinese cities—Shanghai, Canton and Hong Kong in particular. And interspersed through her talk were several beautiful legends, some of which have been perpetuated in opera, designs for chinaware (the well-known blue willowware) and through other mediums.

The entire proceeds of the book review were donated by Mrs. Pettit to the West Ward P. T. A. fund, and the officers and members of the P. T. A. join in grateful acknowledgment of their indebtedness to her, both for her generous contribution and for a most interesting and delightful glimpse of the beautiful side of China.

remember the fast night game a local team ever played. Wearing the black and gold some eight years back was another Steer machine which went to Cisco in high hopes of sweeping a game from the not-to-strong Lobos.

The Longhorns were beaten, 62-0 in one of the worst licks a local team ever took.

The Lobos were constantly running over the Steers at the turn of the last decade and the Herd had to wait until last season to score their first victory over the Eastland county team. Amid a rain storm they triumphed over the invaders, 19-6.

"Now they carry the best backfield to represent the school in some time back to Cisco to try to win their first district game on a foreign field for the first time in two years, but they're going to be rushed in order to accomplish that trick. The Lobos, although beaten,

AUSTIN, Oct. 7. - The few Texas
survivors of the Confederate States
Army who come to Austin Oct. 12

The home in Austin has housed 470 veterans. Now the number has will be vacant in many wings if all the expected visitors go there to eat

The invitation to them to occupy it and eat there was extended by resolution of the Texas legislature.

The Confederate Woman's home, also in Austin, has 82 widows of Confederate veterans resident there.

Vince Boss Writes Story 'Death House'

LOCKHART, Oct. 7 (U.P.)— Vince Boss, condemned slayer of R. W. Albert, Brenham cheese salesman, has written a 4,250 word story entitled "Death House Reveries," while in the Caldwell County jail awaiting the outcome of his appeal from the death sentence imposed in his recent trial here.

In the story, Boss does not mention the crime for which he was tried, nor discuss the question of his guilt or innocence.

His narrative opens with a soliloquy on his thoughts while the jury was deliberating in his first trial at Cuero.

"I looked around the courtroom," he related, "There stood the head of my defense counsel, joining with the prosecutor. Yesterday they were flinging insulting challenges at each other over a bar of justice in a legal conflict that often made it seem that a bodily duel was inevitable. Yet now they were jesting with each other. Was it all just a big show? Were they just two headline actors in a big comedy? Was human life so cheap that two of the state's most esteemed attorneys, most respected citizens, could all but come to bodily blows over it then cast it aside with an indifference that made the whole legal procedure look like a conical farce with the judge acting as stage manager? What could be funny to them, with my life hanging by a thread between them?"

And referring back to the district attorney's speech to the jury, he wrote: "There he stood, a gentleman of the people's choice, denouncing me to the world as a heartless killer and at the same time demanding that I be killed. It didn't make sense."

Again, he old how, after he had been transferred to the death cell in the Houston jail, he had planned to take his own life, going so far as to write a farewell letter to his mother and make a hangman's noose out of bedclothes. He said he imagined he could hear newsboys crying, "Vince Boss Found Hanging by His Cne Noose." "Again I thought of my mother," he wrote. "I tore up the hangman's noose that had taken me a day to manufacture, and sent it swirling down the sewer."

The story ends with his finding a new lease on life with news that he had been granted a new trial.

"The jailer at Cuero was right," he wrote. "As long as life there is hope," and with Christ leading my defense, I'm not afraid."

BIG RUSSELL BROS. CIRCUS TO BE IN THIS SECTION SOON

There will be a general exodus of circus admirers from this city and vicinity when Russell Bros. Big 3-Ring Circus and Menagerie gives two performances in Eastland on Friday, Oct. 8, afternoon and night.

"When you have seen one circus you have seen them all" was a remark frequently heard in the past, but nowadays such does not hold true. The Russell Circus has a reputation for presenting more actual novel and surprising acts than any other show and because of this it claims the motto, "the highest class circus in the world."

Daring exploits in the air by the Five Fearless Flyers, the Rebras Duo from France, and Miss Aerioletta, the Willis Sisters and a score of lovely aerial ballerinas; spectacular acrobatic feats by such troupes as the Six Lelands, the Conner Trio and the Ballentena Brothers; incredible animal intelligence exemplified by trained sea-lions, bears, elephants, horses, ponies, monkeys and a chimpanzee that is all but human—these are a few of the many attractive features presented to the stirring strains of circus band music and interspersed by the antics of those indispensable funny fellows, the clowns.

A Comparison of Loboes and Steers

The Big Spring Steers who will meet the Loboes on Chesley Field tomorrow have not won a game this season in conference play. They have lost games to Brownwood and Eastland by close scores.

The Steer's line will average near 170 pounds to the man while the backfield will average 151 pounds. This is a heavy team for a high school and the weight goes a long way in leading to victory. Wheat, a tackle on the team, is the largest boy, weighing 235 pounds. Blony is the largest man in the backfield, weighing 170 pounds. Womack, 120-pound backfield man pulls his team's weight far down in average because of his small size.

The Loboes also have a small back in Warren who weighs 120 pounds. The Big Spring team has two fine guards in Callahan and Lusk, each weighing 160 pounds. Bethel, backfield man weighing 165 pounds, is one of the best in the district.

The Big Spring team is coming to Cisco with a strong desire to win their first game of the season and the Loboes will have to fight hard if they hope to win.

Likewise, the Loboes have not won a game, not even scored, but they have been matched with big fast teams far out of their class in weight or length of training. But these same Loboes have been training hard this week. They have built their spirit to the top notch and should show their stuff at this game. If the line will open just a wee bit, Warren and those other backfield men may gallop for a touchdown as Warren so gallantly did in the non-conference game with Baird.

Loboes Profit From Past Experiences

The Loboes have played two games this season and have lost that many. But this means little to the fighting Loboes who have their eyes turned forward instead of backward. These games showed the local team their weaknesses and these have been strengthened.

In their first game the Cisco met a large Lubbock team that had been playing together for several seasons, and went down in defeat by the score of 40-0. But the score tells little of the battle the small team put up against the West-erns. When the gun sounded ending the game the Loboes were still on their feet, fighting all the way. The fans marveled at the stubborn resistance the Loboes showed.

The following week-end the Loboes met Baird and Stamford on the same day and sent them back home defeated by scores of 6-0, 6-0. The team showed much improvement from the game the week before.

Last Friday night the Loboes met a strong Yellowjacket team in Stephenville and were taken down by the score of 45-0. But again the score tells little of the fight that the Loboes staged. On the offense the team stood out, out-scoring the Jackets in first downs but their pass defense kept them in trouble all night. This was the first time the Lobo plays had been clicking all season. Their end runs, center plunges, and off-tackle plays netted much yardage.

With the Big Spring game before them the Loboes are scanning a victory for the first time in two years.

Loboes Well Provided With New Equipment

The Loboes have the best equipment this season for their work of reviving the glories of the Lobo name. A number of new suits and shoes have been purchased and are now in use.

In addition to these items, 20 warm-up jackets, 11 helmets, new socks and shoulder pads have been added. New regulation footballs are being used in the constant practice intended to give the boys the feel of the ball so that passes may be snatched out of the air and held onto during the heat of action.

Coaches Petty, Cooper and Garrett feel that the boys will give of their best Friday afternoon when they meet their foes, the big Steers from Big Spring.

Daily News—First in news, first in service.

COACH PETTY IS SUCCESSFUL IN COACHING

Head Coach Tom Petty was born and reared in Decatur, Tex. He lived in Decatur until he graduated from high school in 1929, then he went to Waco where he attended Baylor University.

Mr. Petty lettered four years in high school and was elected captain this last year. While in high school Mr. Petty played both football and end. It was in Decatur he started out on the road of his football career.

In 1930, Mr. Petty, better known as "Big Tom" by his classmates, lettered in freshman football at Baylor. In the years '31, '32, and '33 he lettered in varsity football. While in Baylor Mr. Petty played end along with Frank James. In their last year they were considered the best ends in the Southwest conference. These men did the punting for the Bears. At his graduation from college several schools were seeking him as a coach.

In 1934 he was assistant coach to Locan Stollenwerk at Dennison. His fine coaching there won him the berth of head coach at Natona. In 1935 Mr. Petty's team won nine games out of ten and came within one game of winning the district. Next year the Nacona team won the district, bi-district and regional, and was considered one of the best class B squads in the state. Early in September of this year Mr. Petty was signed up to coach the Cisco Loboes. At once he took over the duties and started the fall training period. Young, green material, welcomed "Big Tom" but he set to work and rounded out a squad that is battling the leger teams in the Oil Belt district to the last ditch.

Next year the Loboes of Cisco should be one of the best in the Oil Belt.

COACH COOPER SEES SERVICE IN BALL, TRACK

Billy Cooper was born in Temple, Tex., and attended Temple public schools, graduating from high school in 1928. Mr. Cooper went out for all athletics.

During his high school life he lettered for two years in three sports but failed to make the football teams. His high school coaches were Rusty Russell and Bill Henderson. In 1929 Mr. Cooper entered Hardin-Simmons University and lettered in football, basketball, track and reserve football. In 1932 he was injured and was kept out of the lineup for a long time. He was captain of the track team and won the conference 440.

Cooper attended Mercer University after graduating from Hardin-Simmons, and lettered in football. He coached at Roscoe his first year out of college and lost one game. Following his work at Roscoe he went to Eldorado where he coached for two years. The Eldorado club made a fine record while he was there. Following his stay at Eldorado Mr. Cooper was line coach of the Cisco Loboes last year. He was elected assistant coach to Tom Petty, newly elected head coach, early this fall.

H. R. GARRETT HAS CAREER AS GRID COACH

H. R. (Pop) Garrett was born at Milligan, Tenn., and lived there until he was 12 years of age. His parents then moved to Midland, Tex., where he lettered in football, baseball and basketball in Midland college, Texas Christian University and Howard college.

He coached at the University of Georgia one year, following which he coached at Lincoln Memorial University, coming to Cisco and coaching at Randolph nine years. During his career at Randolph he won the junior college state title for football and went to the finals in the national basketball one year.

He was elected as assistant coach in the Cisco high school following one year as Midget coach at the Grammar school.

Negro Discovered to Have Hard Cash

TYLER, Tex.—An aged negro pensioner who draws $11 monthly from the state was discovered to be carrying 14 $100 bills and $74.80 in bills of lesser denomination wrapped in brown paper parcels in the pockets of his clothes when arrested on a minor theft charge.

The old man, a well known figure on Tyler streets, was a teacher in Smith county schools 40 years ago. The sum represented his life savings which he refused to trust to the care of a bank.

Dallas Girls Have Different Bracelets

DALLAS, Tex.—Their mothers may go in for knickknacks on corner shelves, but Dallas high school girls have launched a new craze for bracelet—what notes bracelets?

Strung on chains about their wrists are numbers of tiny figures—cogs, horses, skulls, dolls of one kind and another, miniature pocket knives, and what have you. "It rattles like everything and sometimes worries you almost to death," explained one Elase young thing, "but were willing to stand it. Every rattle represents a different boy."

CLEVELAND—Lucius W. Greve, president of the National Air Races committee, has invented a "shock-absorbing pedestal" designed to make riding more comfortable for passengers in transport planes during rough weather.

New Recruits The Cisco

Marcell and Odell E. Curtis Yancy will see a first time for Cisco High meet the strong Big 3 on Chesley Field Friday.

Odell and Curtis are Marcell is a line man, entered the Cisco school but were not able to team until they live in. These boys weigh near and should be a real fighting Lebees.

Cullen Harrison, brother and Marcell, would also like this game if it were not for leg that he received training. Cullen is a weighing 175 pounds and lots of service later in his when his leg has mended. has been taken off and is long until he is back in school is hoped.

Bunk Wade, a new boy will not be eligible for games yet but should be a contender for the local team when comes eligible. Bunk weighs 160 pounds and has been doing well in practice.

With these four boys in the Cisco Loboes should be the hardest teams to whip in the district. These boys will add and pep to the team that won a game in two years.

Bob Burns Has Crick Fixed by Auto

DALLAS, Tex.—When Bob Burns came to Dallas recently, the city evidently confused him with an automobile mechanic to have a "crick in his neck" fixed. The story got out that J. F. Alexander, auto mechanic and instructor in a Dallas school, was massaging Burns' neck.

The school football players who finished a game at the Pan-American exposition grounds, wearing Burns' uniform, were told policeman to ask if they would mind rubbing a crick in the instructor's neck. The instructor agreed, and it was Bob Burns.

Bob yelled when the man was taking place, but he afterwards that it really didn't hurt much and anyway it was time in two weeks that caused that crick.

Modern Youngsters Learn Too Fast

DALLAS, Tex.—"Modern youngsters learn so fast it makes head swim," says J. J. general sciences teacher at high school.

Toward the end of a public lecture on the importance of utilities he gave a quiz among other things, "public utilities?"

"Public utilities," said one man, "are rouge, powder, and all that stuff a woman carries in her handbag."

Many People Visit WPA Sewing Room

(Courtesy of Roy Lee Taylor) Wednesday was visitor's day at the W. P. A. Sewing room, on West 14th Street, of which Mrs. Callie Ward is supervisor. Assistant supervisor and timekeeper is Mrs. Eva M. Coney. Twenty new sewing machines are busy all the time making clothes that look almost as well as ready-to-wear garments.

Children's clothes are made a specialty at the sewing room. When they are finished, a few are put on display and the others are put away to keep from soiling.

Scraps from men's denim overalls are used to make floor mops, ladies and men's house slippers are also made of the scraps, which are very comfortable.

The Scrap from the print designs for ladies dresses go into the making of beautiful string and scrap quilts in all designs.

Spools and strips of wood go into the making of toy poster beds. Quilts for toy beds are made in very, very small blocks and pieced by finger work. Dolls and doll dresses are made by fingerwork, also and all kinds of toy playhouses play furniture, stuffed dogs, ducks and beautiful pillows for bed decoration, are made by the women who work in the sewing room.

Men's clothes, although not being made now, since children's clothes for school are more needed at this time, have been on display many times at the sewing room. Shirts, underwear, pants, overalls and work coats are turned out with much pride by those who make them.

Crocheted rag rugs are made from the strings left from quilts. The slogan of the sewing room being "Efficiency."

A large sign with "Happy Workers" printed on it shows the atmosphere always in this building. The motto is "To do better work every day."

A large American flag is draped on the wall, also President Roosevelt's picture is in evidence. To the country and the government, these women are loyal. Mrs. Ward stated, "Visiting hours are from 3 to 4 p. m., the first Wednesday in each month. Come in and watch this great project in operation." Mrs. Ward invites the public.

Book Review At High School Much Enjoyed

By MARY CROFTS
Nations may come and nations may go, dynasties may rise and fall, but China, the ancient, the inscrutable remains unchanged through the centuries. This is the impression gained by the author, Samuel Merril, during his year of living in and trying to catch the spirit of the Orient, and it is the impression vividly conveyed to her audience by Mrs. P. Pettit when she reviewed "Chinese Lantern, Junk and Jade" yesterday at the high school.

Mrs. Pettit told of Peking (or Peiping), old before the days of the Babylonian Empire, when the sandy plains were luxuriantly wooded and brilliant with birds of marvelous plumage described in the tales of Marco Polo. Peking, with its 30 miles of venerable walls and watch-

Meeting at Carbon Is Well Attended

At the meeting of the W. M. S. of Cisco Baptist Association, which met Wednesday at Carbon, two Cisco women were elected as officers. Mrs. J. R. Burnett was re-elected President of the association and Mrs. W. V. Gardenhire, corresponding secretary and treasurer.

After the business of the W. M. S. had been transacted, a free will offering was taken for the restoration of the oldest Baptist church in Texas. It is located at Independence, Texas.

A full attendance, from all churches in the association, is reported, and a lovely plate lunch was served to the assembly by Carbon and Long Branch churches.

Auxiliary Circle Meets with Chairman

Writers on the current political situation strive to find in China's resistance to the latest Japanese invasion a new trend in the Chinese character, an awakening to Western influences, but Samuel Merril feels that the only plane upon which East and West can meet is that of appreciation of the beautiful. The priceless porcelains and paintings of the summer palace and the picture gallery at the gate to the Forbidden City, the brilliant tiles stamped with the royal station dragon and carried to Peking by camel caravan centuries ago, the Gate of Birds, where birds of all descriptions are sold for pets for the Chinese take their birds out for the daily walk and serve their puppies as soup, the famous Jade Canal and the Street of Jade where the world's most precious collections are found, the glamorous Street of Lanterns, the gorgeous rug and silk merchants, the china shops, the wealth of amber, which the Chinese say is the soul of the tiger, and which they always make up in strings of 108 "long beads on account of a religious symbolism—these are only a few of the wonders of China which occidentals may admire and try to grasp but never successfully imitate, and the discussion of them held Mrs. Pettit's audience enthralled even on a very warm afternoon.

Besides her description of different Chinese arts she told of intricate customs and superstitions of wealth and importance of a deceased person by the hour and elaborateness of his funeral (the highest muck-a-mucks begin the procession about 3 a. m.) the different vehicles of transportation, ranging from carts with wheels spiked all around to keep pedestrians at a respectful distance, to Model Ts with their horns propped wide open to impress the less modern, the infinite variety of junks or river boats which have accumulated in lieu of the navy which the dowager empress nipped in the bud, the belief in ghosts and dragons and ancestor-worship and the superiority of the male over the female, the complex system of character writings, and many other fascinating subjects. She described more briefly the life and notable facts about other Chinese cities—Shanghai, Canton and Hong Kong in particular. And interspersed through her talk were several beautiful legends, some of which have been perpetuated in opera, designs for chinaware (the well-known blue willowware) and through other mediums.

The entire proceeds of the book review were donated by Mrs. Pettit to the West Ward P-T-A fund, and the officers and members of the P-T-A join in grateful acknowledgment of their indebtedness to her, both for her generous contribution and for a most interesting and delightful glimpse of the beautiful life of China.

Big Spring is—

remember the last night game a local team ever played. Wearing the black and gold some eight years back was another Steer machine which went to Cisco in high hopes of sweeping a game from the not-to-strong Lobos.

The Longhorns were beaten, 62-0, in one of the worst lickings a local team ever took.

The Lobos were constantly running over the Steers at the turn of the last decade and the Herd had to wait until last season to score their first victory over the Eastland county team. Amid a rain storm they triumphed over the invaders, 19-6.

"Now they carry the best backfield to represent the school in some time back to Cisco to try to win their first district game on a foreign field for the first time in two years but they're going to be rushed in order to accomplish that trick. The Lobos, although beaten, soundly by Lubbock and Stephenville, are anything but an easy mark and are going to be hard to take.

Coach Murphy is guarding against a letdown which the Steers may suffer. They played their greatest game thus far against the Brownwood Lions last week and Murphy is praying that the locals will be even better this weekend."

field was a PWA project and cost around $13,000, including every modern feature that a field would be expected to possess in a town many times larger than Cisco.

Clyde L. Garrett is to make the principal address and the Lobo band in its brand new marching uniforms will be a feature of the dedication program. The stadium is built of steel, set in concrete pillars. It is well braced with commodious wooden seats that give plenty of leg and foot room. It has a seating capacity of about 4,000.

A press box, glassed in from outside intrusion and bad weather, surmounts the home side of the field. No better arrangements for sports writers can be found anywhere in this part of the country.

The Lobos will be scrapping on the new field in hopes of downing the Steers and winning their first game in two years. The field is of the turtle-back type and will drain water as fast as it falls. In this way the field will not be soggy with mud and standing in water for games played in wet weather. The track circle around the field will help also in giving to Cisco a good track team for the county meet held each spring. Lights on the field have been taken down and are to be set back in the stands at a later date. This will offer to the fans a better view and less danger of injury to players in the game. Black and yellow flags have been placed on the home side for games. The new field will receive its second going over in preparation for the coming battle with the Steers.

Lobo Band—

the grand stand and on the side lines.

The squad has been working each afternoon preparing for the engagement and have a fine schedule planned. Miss Ida Mae Collins and Miss Mackie Boswell are sponsors for the group and have spared nothing in giving the high school a fine cheer section. The group will perform during the half and will lead the fans in yells during the game.

Leaders of the squad are Catherine Eraganis, Marjorie Moates, Mary Louise Sherman and Kay Phillips. The leaders and the squad will be dressed in new costumes of yellow and black school colors.

Little Joe Stamey and Scrippy Cluck have been chosen as mascots of the cheering group. These small members will have their parts and will perform with the others.

The pep squad has kept the spirit in the high school at the highest pitch by giving yells at chapel periods and class intermissions. "Go Team, Go," a favorite yell of the students, may be heard many times during the day by groups of these pep yellers. This kind of spirit has the football boys in the fighting condition, characteristic of the Lobos.

Sealed Masonry Gets Cat for Prisoner

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Three days after workmen had completed sealing up the base of the City Hall steps, passersby were attracted by weird cries coming from the steps. Firemen chiseled through the concrete, found a half-starved cat that had wandered under the steps while they were being repaired. A saucer of milk restored the cat to purring normality.

FORGOTTEN MAN TO GET HIS FREEDOM

HOUSTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—One of the 16 "forgotten men" of the Texas Prison System has been offered hope of freedom. Ernest Vickers, 37-year old convict of Belton, serving a commuted life sentence for murdering a Fort Worth railroad officer, has served 15 years.

His chance for freedom was offered by Mrs. C. A. Teagle of Houston, member of the Texas Prison Board, who will take his case before the State Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Former Gov. Pat M. Neff saved Vickers from the hangman's noose by executive clemency 13 years ago. Vickers, a World War veteran holding the Croix de Guerre, has only one black mark against his prison record. He escaped from Central Prison Farm in 1933 and did not return.

Officials found him at Alice, Texas, working for an oil company as an accountant. He was taken back to prison.

Vickers was 17 when he was decorated for valor in France. He was one of 13 men who fired 16-inch naval guns and anti-aircraft batteries in a combat at Le Lemons

France, which recaptured the town

Three years after the war, he was convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged. He insists, he is innocent.

Mrs. Teagle will ask the parole board to clear Vickers of the six years in commutation time and four years in overtime that he lost when he escaped.

"Although he never was really bad since he has been a prisoner," Mrs. Teagle said, "I know that he has learned his lesson."

Britain Tests Suits For R.A.F. Men

LONDON (AP)—British air pilots are to fly in fireproof clothes—astbestos suits in which a man could sit in a petrol blaze without serious injury.

Ground fire fighting trials with heavy asbestos suits have produced the new flying type, said to be lighter than the lined flying suits now worn by R. A. F. men. The material is closely woven light asbestos cloth.

Tests have shown that a pilot wearing such a suit has time after catching fire in the air to land his plane and escape. In an ordinary fabric flying suit a pilot cannot stand the heat of a real blaze in his plane for more than a few seconds.

Trick Saves Boy's Life in Fort Worth

FORT WORTH (AP)—Four-year-old Don Smith owes his life to a trick he learned in the bathtub at home.

Playing around a pier at Lake Worth where his parents were fishing, Don reached for a pole that had fallen into the water and tumbled head-first into water 14 feet deep.

Heavy clothing and boots held the boy on the bottom until Turney Estes jumped from his boat and brought him to the surface. When Estes and others tried to squeeze water out of the youngster's lungs, there was no water.

"I held my breath like sister taught me when she ducked me in the bathtub," Don told his parents.

ILLINOIS BUILDS PAGEANT UPON LINCOLN'S LIFE

By RAYMOND LAHR
United Press Staff Correspondent
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 7 (AP)—One hundred years ago a young lawyer in the Illinois legislature executed a series of adroit maneuvers and pushed through a bill to move the state capital from Vandalia to Springfield.

The youthful legislator, a lanky, 28-year-old attorney who practiced law in New Salem, was Abraham Lincoln.

Springfield will commemorate his action and not the passing of a century since it became the state capital in a five-day centennial celebration beginning Oct. 22.

The centennial program will include a series of pageants, one depicting the life of Lincoln, another portraying the history of the city, and one showing the city's spiritual development.

The Lincoln drama will open with a prologue in Kentucky showing the marriage of Thomas Lincoln to Nancy Hanks. Events of their son's life then will be portrayed with his ill-fated courtship of Ann Rutledge and his election to the state legislature.

Pageant Through Years
Other scenes show him moving to Springfield, marrying Mary Todd in 1842 and his action on the night of his election to the Presidency.

The following scene will show him in his farewell address to the people of Springfield when he said, "To this place and to the kindness of these people, I owe everything."

The drama will end in an allegorical tableau after a scene portraying the shocked, grief-stricken city the morning after the assassination in Washington.

Lincoln had moved to Springfield soon after the legislature made it the state capital and remained there until he became President in 1861 on the eve of the Civil War.

The first Illinois state capital stood at Kaskaskia when Illinois entered the Union, but in 1820 it was moved to an uninhabited spot on the Kaskaskia river and the prospective capital city was named Vandalia.

First Site Not Popular
Legislators expected the site to derive considerable income from sale of land in the new town but it failed to attract population. Further, it gained a reputation for being unhealthful and provided poor accommodations for the lawmakers.

In 1834 the legislature decided to select a new capital city by a popular vote, but balloting was apathetic and three cities nearly tied. The legislature refused to act after the close vote.

Lincoln wanted the capital at Springfield and set out to bargain with the state representatives.

Most of the other cities and counties primarily were concerned at the time with tapping state funds for appropriations to aid construction of internal improvements—canals and railroads.

Lincoln believed Springfield's transportation problems automatically would be solved by selection of the city as capital and he enlisted the other eight representatives.

Legion Commander

An Hawaiian lei around his neck and wearing his medals proudly, short, bespectacled Daniel J. Doherty of Woburn, Mass., was photographed above as he addressed the American Legion convention in New York shortly after his election as new national commander. Doherty, an attorney, served as a navy warrant officer at Norfolk, Va., during the war and now is a lieutenant-commander in the naval reserve. He succeeds Harry W. Colmery, Topeka, Kan., from the county to support him.

Log-Rolling Tactics
He then promised other legislators the nine votes from Sangamon county for state aid appropriations to their constituencies. In return, he asked repeal of the law to select a capital city by popular vote and election of Springfield.

The first law was repealed and another substituted to name the city by majority of the house of representatives. Springfield led on the first ballot and received a majority on the fourth.

By those "log-rolling" tactics, Springfield became the state capital, 16 years after Sangamon county commissioners drove a stake in the ground near Spring creek and designated the spot as the county seat.

Lincoln moved from the nearby town of New Salem to Springfield six weeks later and entered a law partnership in the new capital.

LARGER PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN AT AIR RACES

By WILLIS EVANS
United Press Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7 (AP)—Purses exceeding $120,000, richer by $30,000 than those of the 1937 meet, will tempt the class of the country's speed pilots at the 1938 National Air Races.

The larger purses, reflecting the successful financial outcome of this year's meet recently closed, were announced by Louis W. Greve, president of the air races. Changes in distances of major trophy dashes and shortening of the meet to three days also were announced.

The 1938 races will be held here from Sept. 3 to 5.

Awards in the Thompson Trophy dash, feature event of the races, will total $45,000, a $21,000 increase over this year.

Distance of the race will be lengthened to 300 miles, and entrants will be limited to planes with engines of not more than 1,900 cubic inch displacement. Number of entrants was increased from 10 to 15. The race now is 200 miles.

Thompson Prize $25,000

The winner of the Thompson event will be awarded $25,000.

Prizes for second and third place winners were not announced.

Planes participating in the Thompson event will not be permitted to enter the Bendix dash from Los Angeles to Bendix, N. J., opening event of the races.

Prizes in the Bendix race will be increased to $30,000. Twenty thousand dollars will go to the winner of the Los Angeles-to-Cleveland dash with $9,000 being awarded the pilot with the lowest elapsed time. Second place will receive 25 per cent of the Bendix purse, third 15 per cent, fourth, 10 per cent, and fifth, 5 per cent.

A special prize of $2,500 will be awarded the woman pilot with the fastest time to Cleveland, in addition to the money she will be eligible to win by finishing among the first five.

Extra Award Offered

Five thousand dollars will go to the pilot who after crossing the Cleveland line continues on to Bendix to break the cross-country Bendix record set by Frank Fuller in the 1937 dash. Pilots with the second and third best time on the extended hop will receive $1,500 and 1,000, respectively.

The Louis W. Greve trophy race, other major speed event, will be over a 200 mile course, with prize money increased to $25,000. The winner of this event will go to $10,000 and $5,000 will go to second place, and $2,000 to third. The remainder will be graduated down the field to $500 for tenth place.

Non-qualifiers in the Greve and Thompson races also will compete in a consolation event for $2,000 additional prizes.

A handicap race for women pilots will be announced later.

Greve said the announcement of the richer prizes at this time would give designers and builders a full year to prepare for the 1938 races, and put into competition new ships necessitated by the changed rules and racing conditions.

BRITON INVENTS SKY TORPEDOES

SWANSEA, Eng., Oct. 7 (U.P.)—Behind an electrified iron fence guarded by a notice which warns "Keep Out," a lonely building set amid a thousand acres of desolate Welsh mountain-land, houses a remarkable invention which, it is said, can make Great Britain safe from aerial attack.

It is a rocket aerial torpedo which discharges parachutes bearing steel wires, to the ends of which bombs are attached. The aim of the invention is to lay an "aerial minefield" for raiding aircraft.

Full details of the device have been revealed by the inventor, Harry Grindell-Matthews. He believes that the use of anti-aircraft guns will be futile against the bombing machines of the future that will choose their own time, fly in cloud-layers high above the earth, and use instruments to tell them the position of their objective.

To counter this, he has invented a rocket aerial-torpedo which, using a special fuel, will attain an altitude of 32,000 feet in a few seconds. At this height the rocket will discharge 20 or more parachutes to which timed bombs are attached by high-tensile steel wires.

The parent rocket is provided with its own parachute which blows out at the end of the run, thus enabling the container to float to earth and be retrieved for recharging.

Large numbers of these aerial rockets can be discharged every minute. They will release colonies of 20 to 30 smaller rockets, so creating an aerial minefield. Areas of sky can be mined as the sea was during the last war. The cost of these rockets is several hundred dollars each.

The plan has been inspected by leading aeronautical experts. The period of research and experiment is drawing to a close, and soon Grindell-Matthews' work shops will be manufacturing these defense rockets.

WASHINGTON LEADS IN PULP
OLYMPIA, Wash. (U.P.)—Washington produced more pulp than any other state in the union in 1936. Its mills turned out $27,549,520 worth of pulp, or 895,797 tons. Wisconsin was a few dollars behind second-place Maine, which produced $23,680,643 worth of pulp. Oregon's pulpwood industry was valued at $6,685,145.

HIGH TRIBUNAL READY TO BEGIN NOTABLE TERM

By RUSSELL TURNER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (U.P.)—The Supreme Court, locus of as fierce a political storm as has assembled Monday in its white marble edifice to open a new term. Members of the court, scattered across the continent and in Europe for a summer holiday, have returned to inaugurate a new judicial year.

Few outward signs were noted of the political conflict raging about court since President Roosevelt submitted his judicial enlargement plan last Feb. 5. Nor was the fire of the charges concerning the new justice, Hugo L. Black, and his alleged connection with the Ku Klux Klan expected the permeate visibly the solemnity of the court's chamber.

Missing from the bench will be one familiar figure—Justice Willis Van Devanter who retired to the quiet of his Ellicott City, Md., farm after the court's final session last June. He took his place on the bench Jan. 3, 1910.

Meet Promptly at Noon
"Oyez! Oyez! The Chief Justice and the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court!" deep-voiced Thomas Ennis Waggoner, official court crier, will intone at the stroke of 12 Monday. The black-robed justices will enter the dais through parted plush drapes, and the new term will be under way.

The docket of business facing the court during the next year already is crowded with hundreds of cases, many of vital importance.

As in each term since the Roosevelt administration came into power, the court will be called upon to pass judgment upon the validity of statutes enacted by the New Deal. Whether Congress was within its rights in passing legislation to control securities and commodities exchanges, how far the Tennessee Valley Authority may go in its program to lower electricity rates, and whether a Federal circuit court acted within its authority in enjoining a sit-down strike are only a few of the questions upon which the court already has been asked to rule.

In addition, an unheralded but vitally important case will test whether the tribunal will consider reversing any of the 5 to 4 decisions by which it invalidated New Deal social and economic reform measures.

Decision Reversal Asked
The issue came before the court in the petition of the Merced (Cal.) irrigation district asking that the court review its 1936 decision by which it held unconstitutional the municipal bankruptcy act. The district's plea is based wholly on the theory that the court in view of last spring's apparent switch in lineup to a so-called "liberal" majority now, would hold in favor of that measure.

Observers generally agreed that the court probably will refuse to undertake the desired review of its earlier decisions. Should it grant the petition's request, however, the way would be opened for a flood of similar requests that it re-examine earlier decisions.

The tribunal will be called upon to decide whether the department of justice may continue its anti-trust action seeking dissolution of the Aluminum Company of America. In cases involving the Bethlehem and Newport News Shipbuilding companies the court will be called upon to decide whether the National Labor Relations act is applicable to the shipbuilding industry, which the two companies charge is purely intra-state.

Propriety of the injunction against "sit-downs" comes before the tribunal in a case involving the Apex Hosiery Company of Philadelphia which obtained a Federal circuit court injunction prohibiting striking workers from remaining on the company's property. The union which called the strike has challenged the validity of the order.

Gold Suit Up Again
The court already has agreed to rule on the suit of Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati attorney and son of the late President and chief justice, challenging the treasury's right to refuse to pay in gold of pre-devaluation interest in liberty bonds called by the treasury in 1935 but which Taft refused to surrender.

The court will be on familiar ground when it considers a petition seeking a new review of one of the "Scottsboro cases." Twice the court has already saved the life of Haywood Patterson, young Negro found guilty of attacking a white girl by reversing death sentences imposed by Alabama courts and ordering new trials.

Questions of civil liberties will be involved in at least two other cases. One challenges the right of state motion picture censors to ban showings of alleged indecent motion pictures, and the other again raises the question of whether evidence obtained by "wire-tapping" is properly admissible in criminal trials.

Validity of the Commodities Exchange act of 1936 is challenged in sweeping attacks by the Kansas City Board of Trade and several members of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Attacks on validity of the Securities and Exchanges act are contained in three suits brought by two Florida oil royalty investment firms.

SUPREME COURT FACES 6 ISSUES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (U.P.)—Here are some of the major questions on which the Supreme Court already has been asked to rule during the 1937-38 term:

1. Will the tribunal, in view of economic and social needs of the court's majority from a conservative to a liberal outlook, reverse its earlier ruling holding the municipal bankruptcy act unconstitutional and thereby open the way for reconsideration of numerous 5-to-4 decisions invalidating New Deal laws?

2. Did Congress exceed its power in enacting legislation seeking to regulate the nation's security markets and futures dealing in commodity exchanges?

3. Did the Federal courts have authority to enjoin sit-down strikes?

4. May the Department of Justice continue its suit for dissolution of the Aluminum Company of America on the grounds of alleged violations of Federal anti-trust laws?

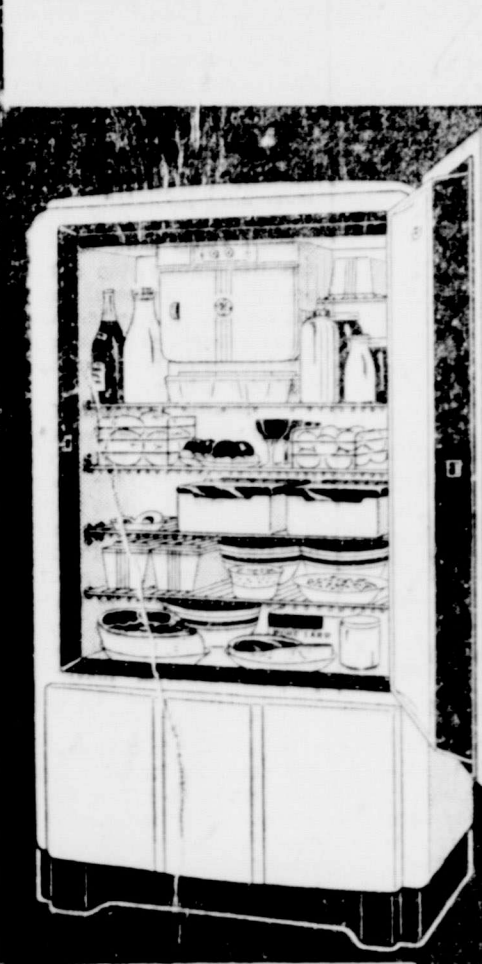

5. Do such industries as the shipbuilding industry, purely intrastate according to those engaged in it, have sufficient effect on interstate commerce to come under the National Labor Relations Act?

6. Can a person who refused to surrender liberty bonds in compliance with the treasury's 1935 call now demand—and collect—interest payment on the bonds in gold of the same weight and fineness as called for on the face of the bond, despite the dollar devaluation act?

RATS CHARGE FIREMEN
FOND DU LAC, Wis. (U.P.)—When firemen responded to an alarm for a fire at the city dump they were charged by hundreds of rats, seeking to escape the flames. The rodents ran up the firemen's trouser legs, covered the hose lines and hindered the work of extinguishing the fire.

ZINC MINING BOOMS
JOPLIN, Mo. (U.P.)—Zinc and lead mining activities in the tri-state district of Missouri, Oklahoma, and Kansas are the greatest in 10 years, according to Arnold Griffin, head of the Missouri state inspection bureau.

TYLER (U.P.)—Fire Chief M. P. Burns has received many fire calls during the score or so of years he has served in the Tyler department, but only once has he received a 130-mile alarm from a distance of 130 miles. membered the eggs. She hurriedly telephoned Chief Burns, told him what she had done and where she had hidden the key to her house. When firemen arrived at the home, they found it full of smoke but no damage had been done.

KING JEFF OF HOBOES DECLARES WAR ON TWO STATES OVER "BUM BLOCKADE"

By LEO H. PETERSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 7 (UP)—Jeff Davis, king of the hoboes, is on the warpath.

This time he is gunning for two states—California and Florida—which he accuses of violation of the 14th amendment through passage of legislation prohibiting destitute persons from crossing their borders.

Action designed to force the states to rescind the legislation will be passed at the 30th annual convention of the Hoboes of America, an organization of 819,000 members, at Altoona, Pa., April 9 to 16, the hobo king indicated.

"We are not concerned about ourselves," Davis said, "for state authorities cannot stop a hobo from entering the states if he presents his Hoboes of America membership card. They know that hoboes are not tramps or bums because hoboes work for a living."

Health Argument Used
"But we are concerned about aged, destitute persons who go to California or Florida for their health. We hold that the two states do not have the right to keep their health climates confined to persons of wealth or of prominence."

Davis came here in his most unregal conveyance, the humble boxcar, on one of the missions, which, in his own words, "makes this king business not what it's cracked up to be."

He is trying to get one of his erring "subjects" out of trouble.

It seems that Stephen Rief of Weeland, Ont., first peer of the hobo organization, accepted a job in Bellville, Ill., and Uncle Sam had serious objections when a Canadian citizen registered for Social Security benefits.

Sent Back to Canada
So Rief lost his job, was deported to Canada and instructed never to return to the states, according to Davis.

This, Davis said, threw a monkey wrench into the plans of thousands of hoboes all over the world as Rief was expected to attend his lord when the two left New York City as delegates to the convention of the Hoboes of the World in London, Eng., next February. Arrangements have been made for the two to work for their passage to Europe.

Davis therefore took it upon himself to persuade local immigration authorities that Rief is not an undesirable alien and won't please let him come back to this country so that he can board ship (galley or black gang) with his master in New York, as scheduled.

Laments Trials of Job
"And by the way," Davis said, "this being king of the hoboes is more of a problem than King Edward of England once faced."

"I spend most of my time on the road trying to convince people that I am really king of the hoboes—all the rest of the boys who claim to the title are imposters."

He pointed out that at the hobo convention in Pittsburgh in 1935,

As McLaughlins Started Divorce

After a superior court judge had attempted vainly for three hours to effect a reconciliation, the divorce case of Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, top photo, and Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, lower left, wealthy Chicago sportsman, was ordered to trial. Barbara McLaughlin, 12, lower right, eldest of two children, was placed in the custody of a Philadelphia school pending the outcome of the case.

Pat Salman, hobo international secretary, put forth a motion for Davis' election for life and remarked, "what is the use of having a king if he really can't be king."

So the convention, Davis said, unanimously elected and proclaimed him king of the hoboes for life.

Couple Married in Jail at Quitman

QUITMAN, Tex. (UP)—A couple booked in the Wood County jail has stepped forward to prove the adage that "Love laughs at locksmiths."

Booked on minor charges, the pair decided to be married while still in the jail with other prisoners as witnesses.

The bride, released four days before her husband, had to wait in Quitman for him to finish his sentence before they could start on their honeymoon.

ALLRED SAYS HOLBROOK IN BIG MINORITY

CORRICE, Oct. 7 (UP)—Governor James V. Allred carried his battle for taxes on natural resources into this oil field center today with an address on taxation at the Montgomery County Fair.

He designated the opponents of new taxes as Holbrook & Company taking the name of Senator T. J. Holbrook, chairman of the Senate Committee that reported no need for new taxes. "This minority group," Allred said in my judgment does not even speak for a majority of the senate, much the whole legislature of Texas.

"Of all this prating about a deficit being a healthy thing if found, then why don't these gentlemen suggest that the deficit be doubled to make the state condition twice as healthy."

"Although he has tried hard, Senator Holbrook has not been able to talk the deficit away. Senator has been mighty long on appropriation and long on tax revenue."

JUDGE ROY DEAN ESCAPES INJURY IN CAR WRECK

HOUSTON (UP)—J. M. Ray, the "Judge Roy Bean" of Houston justice of the peace courts and one of the oldest public officials in Texas, celebrated his 83rd birthday with an automobile accident and announcement of his 13th candidacy to office.

Justice Ray has never had a vacation, he has lost only one day's work from illness and still gets up at all hours of the night for inquests and weddings.

"I'll run for re-election until I die or the people don't want me any more," he said.

The aged justice has left Texas once only—to take a prisoner to New Orleans.

BIGGEST CANAL FOR IRRIGATION NEARLY READY

By ARTHUR N. SUVERKRUP
United Press Staff Correspondent
CALEXICO, Cal., Oct. 7 (UP)—The world's largest irrigation canal will be completed within the next two months, at least by Nov. 1.

Engineers in charge of the excavation of the $30,000,000 project said their work now is in its final stages.

When completed, and water is turned into the big ditch, the threat of disastrous summer drought and equally disastrous Colorado River floods forever will be eliminated from the Imperial Valley—melon basket of the United States.

The flood control feature of the canal will operate in connection with other gigantic project of the Southwest—the Boulder Dam.

With excavation complete, Jerome H. Fertig, engineer in charge of the work here for the U. S. Reclamation Service, said water will be flowing in the ditch by the spring of 1939—making available for cultivation 500,000 acres of land, the largest irrigation district in North America, if not in the world.

Engineering Problems Difficult
In the construction of the canal, tremendous engineering problems were overcome before the operation of the big ditch could be assured of success.

Undesirable silt deposits, which have been a problem to Imperial Valley farmers since Colorado River water first was diverted for irrigation, will be eliminated by a desilting plant which will sluice heavier silt back into the river below Imperial Dam.

Colorado River water will enter the canal from Imperial Dam, 20 miles above Yuma, Ariz.

Below Yuma the canal will parallel the Mexican border for a short distance then circle northward soon to veer back toward the border near Calexico. The serpentine 30-mile course of the canal ends in the Westside Main canal at the western limit of Imperial Valley's cultivated area.

When the canal begins to serve valley farms, ranchers no more will worry about how much water is being taken below the border.

Present Flow Restricted
The present canal flows for miles through lower California and the rich agricultural area there has first claim on the water.

Imperial Valley's early settlers proposed the idea 20 years ago, and in the long fight to obtain legislation and funds from the Federal government, had to sell the nation on feasibility of the project as a national asset.

Four power drops will be constructed on the canal for the Imperial Irrigation District under the contract with the Reclamation Bureau, and revenue derived from the sale of electric power generated by canal waters is expected to repay the entire cost of construction in 40 years.

Funds for building the first power plant were made available in August when a temporary court order was signed in Washington, releasing FWA money for this purpose.

Canal Crosses River
Additional structures along the length of the canal will include besides the four power drops, three drops to take care of natural fall; highway bridges where the canal goes under roadways; flood over-chutes in the desert to protect banks of the canal in heavy rainstorms; a series of turnouts to turn water to farm lands served by present laterals; and siphons including the New River siphon, a $300,000 unit will carry the all American canal across New River in two steel pipes, 16 feet in diameter, supported on concrete pilings 12 feet above the water level, for a distance of 374 feet.

Uninterrupted continuation of the canal project was assured earlier this year by inclusion of $1,500,000 in the Department of Interior appropriation bill.

Authorized together with Boulder Dam by act of Congress in December, 1928, construction of the canal was approved by PWA in October, 1933 and $6,000,000 made available to start work.

Excavation was begun early in 1934. Work at Imperial Dam, where the water will enter the canal, should be completed next spring.

QUANAH FAR AHEAD WITH COOPERATIVES

QUANAH, Tex. (UP)—Quanah is far ahead of many southwest towns in the present trend toward cooperatives. The town has a cooperative filling station, lumber yard, feed store, farm implement store, grain elevator and cream station.

Texas farmers are fast joining cooperatives to secure maximum profits from their produce and crops. A group of Texas Chamber of Commerce managers recently made a tour of the state to determine if cooperatives were a threat to privat business and injurious to financial interests of a city.

They found that the co-ops were not putting on competitive prices, but were staying at the price standard set by established merchants.

Profits went to members except for funds for expenses.

Chamber of Commerce officials in several cities said that business men in almost every instance stated cooperatives helped their towns.

Childress, Texas has a cooperative cotton gin owned by farmers who decided to establish it after allegedly getting poor work done at exorbitant cost.

Amarillo, Texas, has a $500,000 cooperative grain elevator. The Plains cooperative owns a 15-year-old creamery at Plainview and a cotton gin at Lubbock, Texas.
