SHANGHAI, Oct. 23 (U.P.)—The Japanese juggernauts appeared to be mired today in waves of Chinese counter-attacks on the Shanghai front in mid-China while threatened with annihilation by guerilla cut-flanking maneuvers in the north in the Shansi province.

While the Japanese high command sought ineffectually to stem the Chinese hordes near the Wosung Creek area and the Tazang sector north of Shanghai it again made apologies for Japanese air-bombing after two persons were killed and 29 injured in the international settlement.

All the casualties were Chinese or Indians, but a United States marine sergeant, John Coleman, was turned severely on the hand beating on the flames burning the clothing of a wounded Chinese woman.

United States authorities protested strongly and Japanese officials promised to warn their pilots.

CANON CITY, Col. (U.P.)—Rom was never like the Colorado penitentiary of a half a century ago. Wardine Roy Best, present head of the state penitentiary, revealed when he unearthed a 60-year-old order regarding conduct of inmates. At that time, a year before Colorado was admitted to the Union, the territorial prison had but one building and no outside wall. Inmates were released for work in the morning and were expected to show up in the evening.

The regulation, yellowed with age reads:

"Those convicts who are not back by 9 p. m. will be locked out for the night."

SENATE WORRIES WITH LIQUOR AND SOCIAL SECURITY BILLS

AUSTIN, Oct. 22 (U.P.)—The Texas senate, by a vote of 17 to 13, today struck from its social security tax bill a provision permitting cocktail bars.

A separate bill permitting sales of liquor by the drink had been passed by the house.

After the liquor section was defeated, Senator Weaver Moore of Houston offered as an amendment to the tax bill the entire bill which the senate previously had passed to reduce departmental appropriations followed by Speaker R. W. Calvert had barred its consideration from the house as being outside the governor's call for a revenue session.

Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodall said he would hold it within the call as the senate had formerly overruled him on that point, but held that it was not germane to the tax bill.

An appeal was taken from that ruling resulting in a vote of 15 to 14 to sustain the lieutenant governor's decision.

The senate then recessed until 2:30 p. m.

Old Bones Found In Michigan Hill

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Discovery of centuries-old aboriginal life has been made on the site of the application of one of the most modern of sciences.
 At Selfridge Field where the latest model Army planes roar in and out daily, the bones of 200 savages, who must have lived and died before Columbus' discovery of America, were found in a burial mound by Dr. Emerson F. Greenman, University of Michigan archaeologist.
 The fact that the bones were those of Indians inhabiting the country before the advent of the white man was established when it was noted that they were all purely aboriginal in type.
 Microcephalia, or abnormal smallness of the head, was discovered to be prevalent among the savages, for among the bones were those of two youths from 16 to 18 years old whose undeveloped skeletal formation indicated to scientists that they were idiots.
 The excavation was made some 500 yards from the Lake St. Clair shoreline, in sandy beach soil.

Pipe Floated to Lake Erie Shore

CLEVELAND (AP)—Engineers faced with the problem of laying more than 500 yards of heavy steel pipe in Lake Erie, accomplished their task by floating the pipe to its resting place.
 Sections of the pipe were coupled together in 120-foot lengths. Water-tight couplings were used and each end was sealed with an airtight cap. Then floating cranes dragged the pipe lengths out over the water.

 The caps, on the sections were removed and the pipe sank into the trench dug for it. Estimated cost of the job, handled by the municipal engineering department was $15,000.

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

IT REALLY HAPPENED IN FOOTBALL!

It couldn't happen now, but when they used the flying wedge and mass power plays in football, rules were few. It was in one of those old-time contests that, when the game started, only 10 men of the "Reds" trotted onto the field. The absence of one man was not noticed, and the "Reds" received the kickoff. On the first play, the fullback threw a pass, not to one of his ends, scampering down the field, but across the gridiron toward the stands. Nonchalantly, a tall man, in brown derby and raincoat, and smoking a pipe, jumped from his sidelines seat, caught the ball, and started running down the field. As he ran, he discarded raincoat, hat and pipe, and stood revealed in football togs the eleventh player. He made the touchdown!

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Sparks were week end visitors at Brownwood. Mrs. Sparks remained there in order to take treatment from a specialist.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Charles Lee accompanied by Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass, Mrs. W. H. Davis and Mrs. C. W. Maltby, drove up to Eastland and attended the Eastland County Federation of Women's Clubs as representatives of the 21 Study Club. They report the meeting as having been very interesting. The honor guests were Mrs. R. J. Turentine of Denton, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs; Miss Ethel Foster of Sterling City, president of the 6th District I. F. W. C.; and Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, past president of the 6th District Federation and now recording secretary of the Community Club House which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Eastland clubs were hostesses for the meeting and in their usual splendid way, they made the social hour a very enjoyable part of the afternoon.

Club friends and neighbors are extending sympathy to Mrs. J. E. Elrod, formerly of Desdemona but now of Ranger, on account of the death of her sister, Mrs. Thurman, who passed away Saturday at her home a few miles northwest of town and was buried at Gorman. We regret we are unable to give an account of the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stark of Ranger, spent Sunday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McGuire.

The Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon for the 4th lesson in the study of "What is this Moslem World?" The devotional was given by Mrs. Charles Lee reading the 55th chapter of Isaiah and prayer offered by Mrs. W. H. Whitworth. Special assignments were given by Mrs. O. D. McDonald and Mrs. G. S. Bruce who gave interesting news items about Egypt and India as published in Bulletins of the American Christian Literature Society by Mrs. S. E. Snodgrass and Mrs. W. H. Whitworth who gave "Then and Now," in Moslem Lands. The study leader Mrs. W. C. Bedford, then gave a synopsis of chapters 4 and 5 of the book and had a discussion of modern things that might be adopted by Moslems and some that might be rejected. During a short business session a letter from District Secretary Mrs. Edwin Sneed, of Lublin, was read, the chief points of which were the zone meeting to be October 20th here, and also the final reports for the year.

Wiley Powers and his son, Jack, attended the circus at Ranger Saturday afternoon.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Floyd Moore has almost entirely recovered from her serious illness.

The days of exchange visits of the 21 Study Club and the Excelsior Club of Gorman are always looked forward to by members of both clubs. On Thursday afternoon the members and prospective members of the 21 Study Club went over to Gorman and were delightfully entertained by the Excelsior Club. The hostess club entertained first at the New Deal Theatre where a matinee performance of "Wild and Woolly" featuring Jane Withers, was given. After the matinee all members and guests were invited to the home of Mrs. M. L. Stubbfield where a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed. Delicious refreshments of fruit salad, cheese niblets, coffee and nuts were served while beautiful music was furnished by the young daughter of Mrs. Stubbfield and several other girls of Gorman. Those from Desdemona were: Mrs. J. E. Heeter, S. E. Snodgrass, C. W. Maltby, W. H. Davis, David Parks, Charles Lee, C. A. Skipping and baby, Curtis Jack Lee and Misses Dorothy Parks, Adell Maltby and Ruth Crenshaw.

GIRL, 17, ON WAY TO BE SECOND ELEANOR HOLM

By JOHN T. BOYLE
United Press Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND (AP)—Swimming experts believe 17-year-old Helen Forry, now a freshman at Lake Erie College, is the likeliest successor to Eleanor Holm Jarrett as open-water backstroke champion.

The former Cleveland high school already holds three national Amateur Athletic Union junior titles—the backstroke, the high-board diving and the 100-yard free-style swimming championships.

That, in addition to an impressive list of district honors, gives her a grand total of 17 titles, 14 of which are A. A. U. ratings. She holds records in free-style, medley and breast-stroke competition as well as in the backstroke.

Her coach, Rose Boezek Burke, director of the Ohio Women's Swimming Association, thinks the backstroke is Helen's best bet in her bid for championships.

Coach Against Diving
"I want her to give up winning diving titles because you can't do everything," says Mrs. Burke, herself a former national diving champion.

Helen is an attractive, blue-eyed girl with dark chestnut hair. She was graduated from Cleveland's first high school in June and entered Lake Erie College at Painesville, O. this fall.

She hopes to make the U. S. Olympic team, but doesn't allow anything to disturb her enjoyment of life.

"I'm not taking this swimming business very seriously," she says.

"I intend to study for physical education work."

Mrs. Burke thinks Helen does too much "fooling around" in swimming pools. A potential champion ought to be more serious about her future, she believes.

"Well, I want to get some fun out of it, I don't want to take it all so hard," is Helen's comment.

First Taught By Mother
It was her mother who really shoved her into a swimming career. When Helen was only 5 and the family lived in Rochester, N. Y., her mother took her to a Lake Ontario beach and to a Lake Erie beach in the old-fashioned way—pushing her into the water.

Later, girls with whom she played were swimming enthusiasts and Helen went with them to beaches and pools, where she developed the skill that was to bring her fame.

When she came to Cleveland, four years ago, she began to spend her afternoons at the Y. M. C. A. pool. She wasn't interested in her afternoons at the Y. M. C. A. competitive swimming, but Mrs. Burke saw her in action one day and urged her to join the Ohio Women's Swimming Association.

Now, says Mrs. Burke:
"There's a world champion in the making—just give Helen another year."

SCIENCE GIVES RAINBOW HUES TO GARDENIAS

By OTTO JANSSEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22 (UPI)—

What is believed to be the first successful attempt to color gardenias artificially has been announced by Charles Bancroft, Ohio State University graduate student in floriculture.

Though the use of aniline dyes and various commercial inks, Bancroft has produced gardenias of yellow, emerald green, purple and red. The cut flowers are simply placed in a jar containing the coloring and within an hour the hues begin to show in the petals. Within 12 hours the flowers absorb their maximum of coloring.

Bancroft, who came to Ohio State about a year ago from McGill University, Montreal, on a fellowship, hit upon coloring by accident.

He was conducting experiments to determine the best way to preserve cut flowers. One night he left some gardenias in a colored liquid and the following day he found the flowers had absorbed the color.

Blue In Not a Success
Sensing the process' possibilities, Bancroft began using various types of coloring matter. He found that certain commercial inks were readily absorbed while others were of no use, presumably because the particles in suspension were too large to make their way through the plants' cells. He found practically all brands of blue ink were unsatisfactory.

Bancroft also tried his experiments on Easter lilies, helleborines—often mislabeled "California poppies," and chrysanthemums, with generally good success.

He also tried sherry wine as a coloring agent, but found the alcohol was a little too much for the flowers, producing a definite toxic effect.

Bancroft's early experiments were conducted on dahlias, but it was found the coloring came out "streaky" because the veins in the petals were too far apart.

Bancroft said he could not understand why it had not been discovered before that gardenias, which are normally white, could be colored. In the course of his experiments, Bancroft has explicated several popular notions about flowers. He said his experiments showed there was no foundation for the belief that aspirin added to flower water has a beneficial effect.

Explodes Popular Theories
"In fact, it proves injurious to some flowers and doesn't seem to help any," he said.

He also said that placing cut flowers in a copper container with water does not appear to preserve the blossoms.

Bancroft also found that flowers only need about one inch of water unless they are dried out. Then they should be placed in deep water for about an hour, he said.

Another experiment showed that flowers with long stems keep just as well as those with short stems.

Deliberately wilting flowers before placing them in water does not preserve them, Bancroft found.

And if a young woman wants to keep a corsage fresh, he said, she should sprinkle it with water and wrap it in tissue paper and place it in the ice box.

A "by-product" of Bancroft's coloring experiments was the discovery that green dye seems to preserve flowers longer than other hues.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

IN TURKESTAN, EAGLES ARE TRAINED TO HUNT GAME! NUMBERED AMONG THEIR KILLS ARE FOXES, GAZELLES, WOLVES, GOATS AND HARES.

COAL CAN GIVE HEAT WITHOUT BEING BURNED! IN RUSSIA, COAL DUST IS SPRINKLED OVER COTTON LAND, TO ABSORB HEAT FROM THE SUN AND INCREASE SOIL TEMPERATURE.

THE training of eagles for hunting is much like that of other birds used in falconry. Approximately one month is necessary as a preliminary schooling before the bird is ready to try its luck on living game. The weight of an eagle alone, as it drops with terrific force from a great height, is enough to break the back of a good-sized animal.

PLAYERS IGNORE REFEREE
BUCHAREST 0.9. — Asked to referee a football game here, a Bucharest man was a little put out when he discovered that none of the players paid the slightest attention to his whistle. No one had told him that the teams came from two deaf and dumb homes.
