Three Vehicles Totaled In Early Friday Accident

Six persons were taken to E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital and three motor vehicles had extensive damage as the result of an accident at 7:40 a.m. Friday at the intersection of Avenue A and East 8th Street, according to a city police report.

An automobile driven by Mrs. Lillie Guajardo of 217 Bedford was in collision with a station wagon driven by Mrs. Gloria Lee Terwilliger of 304 East 21 Street.

In the impact, one of the vehicles was knocked into a parked car near The Spot Restaurant. The parked car was owned by Chester Clark of 305 West 12 Street. His car was knocked into a tree.

Ambulances from Holly-Rhine Funeral Home and Cisco Funeral Home took the occupants of the cars, mostly school-age children, to the hospital. All were released after being checked by doctors.

The police report said the three motor vehicles probably were a total loss. City Policemen Raymond Guajardo and Rust Frasier investigated the accident.

The Cisco Fire Department sent a truck to the scene due to leaking gasoline from one of the cars.

A.A.R.P. from Cisco will be on program, too, beating rhythm band instruments to melodies of long ago.

Chamber Talk

By Gene

Cisco Chamber Of Commerce "Reason For Not Belonging"

"IT'S RUN BY A CLIQUE"

Then join the "clique" by active participation. The Cisco Chamber of Commerce is always anxious to add new and willing workers to its committees.

Committees are groups of members at work. They are the means through which the organization thinks and acts. They are engaged in the work of leadership. Every member has a right to assert his own ideas.

Practically all questions and activities coming before the Chamber of Commerce are referred to committees for investigation and recommendation.

If you cannot personally participate, then you are lending your support with financial backing, which we need. We welcome you to become a part of our team. Why not call 442-2537 and tell us you want a membership in the one organization that is dedicated to making Cisco a little better for all of us.

"If you own a business YOU belong". "As an individual YOU belong".

GUEST SLOT

CORRECTION: Guest Slot the other day reported that the contract mail route from Carbon to Stephenville did not run and we've been informed by the carrier that that route was indeed carried. The Albany, Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, Gordon star route didn't go.

SO, IT'S gas rationing we may be facing. It's probably what we deserve! How do you figure that? Well...

The loss of the Iran production to this country apparently is going to through our nation into another tail spin. Why?

Because our federal and state governments haven't done a very good job of helping our country get oil-independent of the foreign skiekloms. 'Course, it's just a layman's opinion, but we'd venture to guess that our legislature and our administration hasn't done all they could have done to help our own oil explorers and developers do everything they can to find and produce our own fuel. So why's it our fault?

Simple. It's the same principal as our businesses, our churches, and our government. We get no better than we demand.

The Light Touch

By Clint Bray

Our friend says his salary is automatically adjusted to inflation. When the company profits go down, he gets laid off.

A teenager is a person who gets up on Saturday morning with nothing to do and by bedtime has it only half done.

SENIOR CITIZENS

A program on "Home Gardening" will be presented at the Senior Citizen Center this month by Mrs. Janet Thomas and DeMarquis Gordon, County Extension Agents. The program will be presented at the Cisco Senior Citizen Center on Friday, February 23rd; at the Gorman Senior Citizens Center (Methodist Church fellowship hall) on Wednesday, February 21st; and at the Ranger Senior Citizens Center on Friday February 16th.

The program will be presented at 12:15 p.m. immediately following the noon meal at each center. All senior citizens and interested persons are invited to attend the program.

The vegetable gardening program will include information on planting and preparation of soil, recommended varieties, disease control, and many other helpful hints for the home gardener.

Gordon and Mrs. Thomas stated that 50 percent of all Texas residents have a garden. In recent years, gardening has gained an increase in popularity. Why? The primary reason people have become interested in vegetable gardening is to beat rising food prices. Also, gardening is a good way to get physical exercise, and gain personal enjoyment.

There will also be a county-wide "Home Gardening" meeting on Thursday, February 22 at 2 p.m. in the Texas Electric Reddy Room, in Eastland. All interested persons are invited to attend.

CENSUS BUREAU REMINDS FARMERS AND RANCHERS OF DEAD LINE FOR FARM CENSUS REPORT FORMS
Farmers and ranchers are reminded that the deadline for return of the 1978 Census of Agriculture report forms is Feb. 15.

A large proportion of those who received forms nationwide already has mailed them back in postage paid envelopes, according to the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce, which is conducting the census. Those who have not done so are urged to return the forms by the deadline. Bureau officials say they cannot extend the due dates for filing the forms except in individual cases where undue burden is involved, but they note that best estimates will be acceptable

Open House, Sunday For Senior Citizen Center

The Senior Citizens of Cisco will host an open house at the newly decorated center, located in the Corral room areas.

Every person in the county is invited to attend the open house, February 11, Sunday, between 2 and 5 p.m.

The staff wishes to introduce to you their newly working areas and the Senior Citizens will have an opportunity to be informed of the Future program which will be conducted.

The Senior Citizens invites you to attend the Cisco Child Care Center between the hours of 2 and 4, and then come to the Senior Citizens to visit with them.

All citizens of Cisco, and the county, are encouraged to support both program.

Hints for the Handicapped

BY PATRICIA GALBREATH

DEAR PAT--We brought our son home from a rehabilitation center in the spring of last year.

Our home is convenient for him to get his wheelchair around now but we had to build another bathroom. This addition was to his bedroom because it was not possible to enlarge our existing bathroom.

I have been reading your column since my son's accident and remember you have stated that one could receive tax deductions on some types of home improvements for those who are disabled. Does adding a full bath qualify for a tax deduction and should we count a number of other things we did to the house to make it more accessible?

Mrs. G.D., Louisiana
DEAR MRS. D.--Property improvements are not ordinarily deductible. But if they are made for the benefit of a handicapped person they may be deducted to the extent that their cost exceeds the amount of the property value would be increased.

Thus, if a room cost $1,000 to build and the property value would be increased $700, then the deduction is $300. If no increase in property value is realized, all of the expenditure is deductible; for example, if the doors in your home were widened to accommodate a wheelchair, and it did not change the property value, all of the cost would be deductible.

Any other changes that you find necessary to accommodate your disability and/or allow you to move about freely is deductible.

Necessary changes in other areas of your home, and the expense incurred to provide safety and/or access to its facilities are deductible.

PAT
DEAR PAT--My doctor has put me on a diet. I receive a small monthly income and some of this special food is much higher than regular food. Because I have to have it, can it be taken off my income tax?

W.P., New Mexico
DEAR MR. P.--All special foods strictly prescribed by a doctor for a person with diabetes or other ailments would be deductible (even if a doctor prescribes one ounce of whiskey per day, it is a legitimate deduction.

PAT
DEAR PAT--I have installed special driving controls in my van along with an automatic lift. I love my new freedom this allows. I work at home so I wonder if the government will let me take this expense off of my income tax. Can I consider this a "necessary" expense?

Mr. B.A., Iowa
DEAR MR. A.--The cost of any kind of special equipment or self-help devices required for your well-being are deductible. This includes such items as hand controls or other optional equipment that would allow safe operation of a vehicle; automatic transmission, power steering, and even the air conditioner if it is prescribed by a doctor.

Likewise, air conditioning or humidifiers installed in your home are deductible if prescribed by your doctor and the utilities to operate these and other special medical devices are deductible.

PAT'S NOTE: Address any questions you may have or hints you want to share to: HANDICAPPED, Box 368 Weatherford, Texas 76086

The U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, will interview, test, and hire at least six persons in Eastland County to conduct the 1979 prelist operation for the 1980 decennial census. The enumerators hired to locate and visit various households will explain the census prelist operation and collect certain information to be used in the actual census. Pay will be based on the number of households contacted and travel allowances will be paid for use of private automobiles. Applicants for these positions must be U.S. Citizens; pass a written test; be physically able to perform the job; have access to an automobile; and meet various other requirements. Eastland County residents were advised of these job openings in a previous announcement; however, testing was performed in Mineral Wells and there were not a sufficient number of applicants to fill the job openings. The written test will be conducted in Eastland at the Eastland National Bank Community Room on Thursday, February 15th, at 8:30 a.m. Applications and additional instructions may be found at the Chamber of Commerce, 102 South Seaman, Eastland, Texas.

Engagement
Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Maynard of Eastland wishes to announce the engagement of their daughter Eva Jan, to Eddie Ray Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Green of Cisco.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Eastland High and Commercial Business College of Abilene. She is employed by Victor Cornelius Menus in Eastland. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Cisco High. He is employed at Texas Railway Car Corporation in Ranger.

The couple plans a March 30th wedding at Bethel Baptist Church of Eastland. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. No local invitation are being mailed.

Newlyweds' Trailer Home Destroyed

As if two weeks without heat were not trouble enough, the woes of an Eastland County newlywed couple increased last weekend when their trailerhome home in Stephenville burned.

Losing all of their possessions, including their recently-received wedding gifts, were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hattox. Mrs. Hattox is the former Darlene Wood, a longtime employee at Victor Cornelius Menus in Eastland. The couple was married Dec. 31 at Carbon. Mr. Hattox is an oilfield worker and student at Tarleton State University. The 42 families in the trailer park where the Hattox lived were without gas since Jan. 21 when a main gas meter was broken. Polyethylene pipes are being replaced on the property before the fuel can be turned on and cold weather has slowed that work.

Another trailer home in the park, occupied by two Tarleton students, was also heavily damaged by the fire.

Program Building Committee To Elect Officers

There will be a meeting of the Eastland County Program Building Executive Committee on Monday, February 12th at 2 p.m. in the Extension Service Office. Mr. Arlin Birt, of Cisco, is the chairman. The agenda will include the election of officers for 1979. The committee is sponsoring home gardening meetings this month throughout the county.

Keeping Well

By I. Care, M.D.

Hypertension
Hypertension (high blood pressure) is a very common disease that is very dangerous, because it is often not diagnosed until a serious complication develops. About five to eighteen percent of adults have hypertension. There are no definite symptoms of early high blood pressure. As the pressure elevation becomes more severe, symptoms of headache, dizziness, nosebleed may be seen. However, the symptoms usually develop after the hypertension becomes severe and are actually the symptoms of the complications of the disease. The complications of hypertension are strokes (cerebral hemorrhage or thrombosis), heart failure (due to enlargement of the heart), visual disturbances and occasionally blindness in one eye (due to hemorrhage or edema inside the eye), heart attacks (coronary occlusion), kidney failure (uremia), and a condition called hypertensive encephalopathy. This last complication is a rather dramatic attack consisting of sudden severe headache, mental confusion, vomiting, and sometimes convulsions. The blood pressure will be extremely high and the symptoms are caused by sudden swelling of the brain. Since the complications of hypertension are so serious and since no early symptoms warn the patient of the condition, it must be diagnosed by routine blood pressure examination. Everyone should have a blood pressure test, because treatment will usually control the elevation of blood pressure and postpone if not completely prevent the complications. Many patients refuse to get or continue treatment for hypertension, because they "feel so good". However, if treatment is delayed until symptoms are present, much damage will have already been done. Treatment must be started early in the course of the disease, and the blood pressure maintained at a satisfactory level to prevent the complications. The cause of hypertension in most cases is unknown. These cases are called primary hypertension, and usually can be easily controlled by medication. In a few cases a definite cause can be found. These cases are called secondary hypertension and can be cured if the cause can be corrected. If the cause cannot be removed, the blood pressure may still respond to medication. How high must the blood pressure be to be classified as hypertension? In young adults any reading greater than 145/90 is considered abnormal. Many older patients have blood pressure readings much higher than this that may not require treatment. Leave the decision as to the proper level for your blood pressure and the proper treatment for your blood pressure to your doctor. ED. NOTE: Questions on general interest may be directed in writing to this newspaper, Post Office Box 29, Eastland, for con-

Kent's Death Stuns ACU

Services Today for Star Fullback

ACU RUNNING BACK KELLY KENT
...dies of heart attack

By MARK McDONALD
Executive Sports Editor

Shock of Kelly Kent's death settles into grim realization Thursday as funeral services are held for the Abilene Christian star running back.

He died Wednesday morning after an apparent heart attack and announcement of the bad news left ACU stunned with grief. He was one of the best-liked scholar-athletes on campus, and teammates and classmates alike were left in tears.

"I just don't think it has sunk in yet," said teammate James McCoy. "You don't just up and lose somebody in the night..."

After Athletic Director Wally Bullington informed the student body at morning chapel, Head Football Coach Ted Sitton called a squad meeting. Afterwards, as the Wildcats filed silently out of the locker room, there were few dry eyes. They had lost a teammate and a friend.

"It's going to take a while for this to really hit us," said tackle Greg Fessel. Kent's roommate until Kelly married last summer. "He was a simple guy, just a country boy who never really got used to the city. He just enjoyed life as it came."

"We're going to miss him more as a friend than as a teammate," Fessel said the grief expressed was genuine.

"You know, when somebody dies everybody always says nice things about him, but in this case it's all true," he said. "I don't know anybody that didn't like Kelly Kent."

His coaches were numb, too. Somebody called Sitton in his office for a public statement. Struggling for control, the red-eyed coach said, "I don't think I'm in any shape to make one right now."

Bullington said, "This is a bad one... this is a bad one."

Kent's hometown of Cisco felt the impact, too.

"This is quite a blow to the whole school and community," said Cisco High Principal Jim Puryear, who coached the running back as a schoolboy standout. "This is the worst tragedy to hit our young people in

Puryear wonders why it happened. Kent had no history of health trouble.

"He never had any physical problems when he was in high school," he said. "Oh, Kelly would go all out, all right, but he never had any breathing trouble."

"I coached for 24 years and Kelly had the finest attitude of any athlete I ever had. He never gave less than full effort in anything — best athlete, student leader, valedictorian — you name it."

Kent had what Sitton called "a good workout" Wednesday in ACU's off-season program and that night, played in an intramural basketball game. After the game, he complained of a rapidly-beating heart.

Sitton said Kent's wife, Kerri, gave the athlete a rubdown and he soon relaxed. She was later awakened, however, by his labored breathing. The 21-year-old running back apparently died shortly thereafter. He was rushed to Hendrick Medical Center where hour-long efforts to revive him were unsuccessful.

Kent made second-team academic all-America last season with a 3.42 average (4.0 scale) in accounting. He was twice academic all-Lone Star Conference.

On the field, he was three times named to the Reporter-News all-area team and his sophomore year year, he made second-team all-state. At ACU, he helped the Wildcats to the 1977 NAIA national title with a late-season surge and last season earned second-team all-Lone Star Conference honors.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Highland Church of Christ, officiated by Lynn Anderson, minister of Highland, and Bullington. Burial will be in Rising Star, directed by Elliott-Hamil Funeral Home, 542 Hickory.

Survivors include his wife, Kerri; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Kent of Cisco; and two brothers, Danny and Craig, both of Cisco.

The family asks that memorials be made to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center or the ACU scholarship fund.

Lights From The Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

"Kelly Kent, gone?" I exclaimed as I read the headlines. "No, it can't be. Not Kelly." Slowly the realization crept over me. And then came the age-old seemingly unanswered question, "But why?"

Along with the people in this area I had known Kelly as the young man who with a football tucked under his arm streaked down the football field making sensational running plays and cross the goal line. Along with the other spectators I would always become excited when Kelly Kent took the ball as I was confident that he would produce.

The year Kelly Kent became a member of the library staff, a service organization of Cisco High School, I had the privilege of knowing him as a scholar, a person who made dependable contributions in every facet of his life.

Each day when the bell rang for Kelly Kent and his friend, Tim, to be at their post of duty, Kelly Kent would come running down the long sidewalk and slide into the door of the library. His quiet, yet frolicsome manner always brought a smile of greeting from him to me. His presence radiated a cheerful calmness that somehow set the stage for the peaceful atmosphere of the room for all the other students who came during that particular hour.

Kelly Kent learned quickly the skills necessary to handle the standard procedures of the library. Whatever the task, Kelly Kent cheerfully and quietly gave his all.

Kelly Kent knew how to work well with others. He blended, always unassumingly, with those about him...always going the second mile.

There was never any question in my mind that when Kelly Kent slid into the door during that particular hour of the day that the hour would be anything but pleasant. At times during a pause in our busy routine Kelly and I had the opportunity of sharing what was closest and most meaningful in his life-Christ. Kelly had found a yardstick of values to use in measuring his daily life. This yardstick of values came from the principles laid down by his Creator.

As Kelly Kent quietly streaked through the early morning skies to his final home, I am confident that the spectators in Heaven stood as he crossed the final goal line.

Flash Wasn't Kelly Kent's Style

He came up at the conclusion of Wilbert Montgomery's career when Abilene Christian fans were wondering what they would do in the absence of No. 28, who had rewritten the school record book.

KELLY KENT IN 1977 APPLE BOWL
...named game's Most Valuable Player

But Kelly Kent didn't let them wonder for long. He wasn't as fast as Wilbert, and he didn't have the spectacular moves, but when the results were counted at the conclusion of his first year as a starter, Kelly had broken Wilbert's single season school rushing record — the one he set while scoring 37 touchdowns as a "knock your eyes" out freshman in 1973.

No, Kelly didn't score a touchdown the first time he touched the ball, as had Wilbert, and those who picked the all-star teams didn't bother to take notice of his accomplishments. Indeed, the coaches of the Lone Star Conference saw fit to leave him off of their 1977 All-LSC team.

Maybe he didn't deserve it. All Kelly did that year was rush for 1,184 yards, win the Most Valuable Player award in both the NAIA semifinal and championship game, and gain 643 yards while scoring six touchdowns in a memorable stretch drive to the NAIA national championship.

But then, maybe Kelly lacked flair. He never did learn to do the watusi in the end zone to celebrate his touchdowns. Not once did you see him beat on his chest or shake his fist at an opponent.

He smiled a lot and always remembered to say "Yes sir," and "No sir," but it didn't seem to buy him many votes. Mostly, Kelly just grabbed the football and ran north in a very aggressive manner. His moves were much more subtle than Wilbert's, but the longer he played, the more you realized what outstanding balance he had.

This past season he was hurt much of the year, enough to miss several games. Only Kelly Kent didn't miss any.

Against Cameron State early in the year, he played with a shoulder so sore he looked as if he'd been shot everytime he hit the line. But the Aggies never got rid of him. They won the game, but Kelly won the respect of everyone who saw him play.

There was one play in particular where he saw a chance to move the ball to within inches of the goal line. But to do it, he had to stick his sore shoulder directly into an approaching linebacker. This, of course, he did without hesitation.

When the two trainers pulled him to his feet, he looked as if both his arms were broken. He was led from the field, apparently finished for an indefinite period of time. That period, as it turned out, was exactly one play.

No coach would ever have the right to ask so much of a player, but Kelly provided it as a gift for those he felt a sense of loyalty and duty toward.

He was more than just a jock on scholarship too. He was an honor student preparing himself for a promising future as an accountant — something the percentages say would provide him and his bride of less than a year with a secure future.

He was also a religious person. But again he lacked flair. I still remember the day we were sitting near the back of the Branniff airliner preparing to take off for Seattle where the Wildcats were scheduled to play Southwestern Oklahoma for the NAIA national championship.

Kelly said he had only been out of Texas one other time in his life, and that was when the Wildcats flew to Greeley to play Northern Colorado.

As I recall, there was a lot of excitement in the plane as it took off. Everybody was laughing and joking and making a lot of noise.

Everybody, that is, but Kelly Kent. He was sitting quietly in his seat reading a small Bible. When the plane left the ground and began soaring into the air, he closed his eyes and his lips began to move.

He wasn't really without fear, as it often appeared on the football field, but Kelly knew how to deal with his problems — quietly and effectively.

Without flair, you might say.

Looky! Looky! Looky!

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
By Armo Chambers

You probably have been irritated at times in trying to open a locked top bottle of medicine or pills. When you consider the advantages against the some times frustrating disadvantages, you will realize the difficult to open tops make sense.
In aspirin alone, records show an almost 50 percent reduction in accidental overinjection. Entirely too many previous accidental poisonings have been fatal. This is especially true in cases of children under five years of age. The same facts apply for other medicines, household cleaners, paints, chemicals, petroleum products and other potentially dangerous products to which children so often have had access in spite of warnings and precautions.
Unlike cancer, heart disease, traffic accidents and other major causes of fatalities, accidental poisoning has not received the publicity that doctors (and we as funeral directors) believe it deserves. The new bottle tops SAVE LIVES. Remember that fact if and when you become irritated with a bottle top.

ALL LOCAL SUBSCRIPTIONS EXPIRE ON Jan. 1

...A SERVICE TO YOU So you'll always know when your local subscription expires.

...A SAVINGS TO US Which we're passing on to you.

RATHER THAN INCREASE subscription prices this year to keep up with spiraling postal cost, we've decided to switch to a calendar year expiration for all papers, so that we do not have to send out expiration notices as in the past.

CERTAINLY YOU MAY SUBSCRIBE for as long as you like, but we'll figure your rate to Jan. 1 of each year.

FOR INSTANCE: If your subscripstin to your local newspaper is expiring during this season which most are, you may contact the local paper and we'll figure your cost to Jan. 1, and another year if you like.

BEGINNING IN DECEMBER WE'LL BE PRINTING NOTICES THAT SUBSCRIPTIONS EXPIRE JAN. 1, so that you may re-subscribe without interruptions in your delivery.

OUR SCOUTS report that you'll be able to buy Cisco-made fishing lures in sporting goods stores before long. Mr. Bill Bennie, retired Exxon (Humble) pipeliner and long-time good fisherman, has designed Silver-Gold Flasher and Silver Flasher--that are going to market.

Understand the Gibson Stores have ordered some for their sporting goods departments and there will likely be other stores that will stock the Bennie lures. The Flashers are particularly good for bass and crappie fishing and have been used extensively by Mr. Bennie with good results.

One or more local stores will probably have the Flashers on sale to Cisco area fishermen.

MR. RUDOLPH Schaefer, Cisco contractor who was honored with a plaque for his years of community work at the recent Cisco CoFC banquet, was over in Arlington last Saturday night to attend the annual Sportsman's Club dinner. He is an honorary life member of the club and attended with his wife, Joe Edward, and wife.

There were a number of door prizes provided by Arlington merchants. Soon after the drawing began for these prizes, Mr. Schaefer's name was called. Next name was Joe Edward Schaefer. And Joe Ed's name was by Mrs. Joe Edward Schaefer--three Schaefer's in a row.

A group of Joe Ed's friends stood up and boomed in a good natured way. Joe Ed, you know, turns out silver and bronze statues, plaques and the like at his shop in Arlington.

The award to Mr. Rudolph Schaefer at the local CoFC dinner last month came as a complete surprise to him. The Joe Edward Schaefer came out and took his parents to the banquet. They knew, of course, that the honor was coming.

CITY FIREMEN have answered two false alarms this month, including one last Thursday...The Ralph Glenns were due to leave Friday for New Orleans where he will attend a conference of junior college officials...Avon sales ladies of this region hold a meeting once a month at the Legion Hall in Cisco to talk about sales, new products and so forth.

SEE BY THE papers that M.M. (Tut) Taylor of Clyde was buried in funeral services Tuesday. He formerly was in the family in Cisco. A number of years while he worked for Exxon (Humble) Pipe Line Company...City Manager John Boland told Rotarians about city finances in a talk at their weekly luncheon last Thursday noon...Billy Bacon, local rancher, reports that a red Irish Setter bird dog has turned up at his house. If you've lost one, you might want to check with Mr. Bacon.

MR. O.L. STAMEY, long-time Cisco Lions Club member, attended a meeting of the official board of the Lions Camp for Crippled Children in Kerrville last weekend. He reports that some $40,000 was turned in by Texas Lions at the meeting to finance the coming summer camping program.

The camp is open to all crippled or diabetic children each summer. If you know of an eligible child, contact Mr. Stamey or any member of the Cisco Lions Club for any information you might need.

GLAD TO HEAR that Senor S. Lopez, the service station man, is home from the hospital and doing nicely. He will be taking it easy for a time before getting back into the thick of things at his station and in town. S. Lopez is a good citizen...Area thermometers dropped to 18 degrees early Friday. The icy and snowy weather of the past week or so has improved the moisture situation for the soil on area farms and ranches, according to reports.

ALL OFFICERS and directors were re-elected without change at the annual meeting of the First National Bank's stockholders recently, reports President Dick Wolley. He reported to the group that 1978 was another record year for the bank, reflecting a strong economic situation for the community.

Mr. Woolley, who is president of the Chamber of Commerce for 1979, tells us that February is membership month for the local CoFC. You'll be hearing quite a lot about it. Plans call for enrolling as many individual members as possible, Mr. Woolley reports.

A strong CoFC with a solid work program is the goal of the February drive.
