Roy Hathaway Is Candidate For CISD Trustee Place 6

Roy Hathaway has announced his candidacy for trustee, place 6 in the Cisco Independent School District Trustee election to be held on Saturday, April 7th. In filing for the position, Mr. Hathaway states "Cisco and our public school system has been the most important factor in my and my family's life for the past 18 years, and I am deeply grateful for the warmth and friendship which makes Cisco such a special place for all her citizens. Mr. Hathaway came from Albany to Cisco in 1960 as Distributive Education coordinator for Cisco High School, and continued in public school teaching and administration until his retirement as superintendent of schools on July 1, 1977. "I owe a special debt of gratitude to our schools," Mr. Hathaway remarked. "I hope that, if elected, I can be of public service in helping keep our schools and the finest and most efficient to be found anywhere." "I believe in fair, impartial consideration and treatment to students, parents, teachers, administrators and taxpayers, and will pledge my total effort to keep our schools the best that can be provided for our children if I am elected as your school trustee, Place 6.

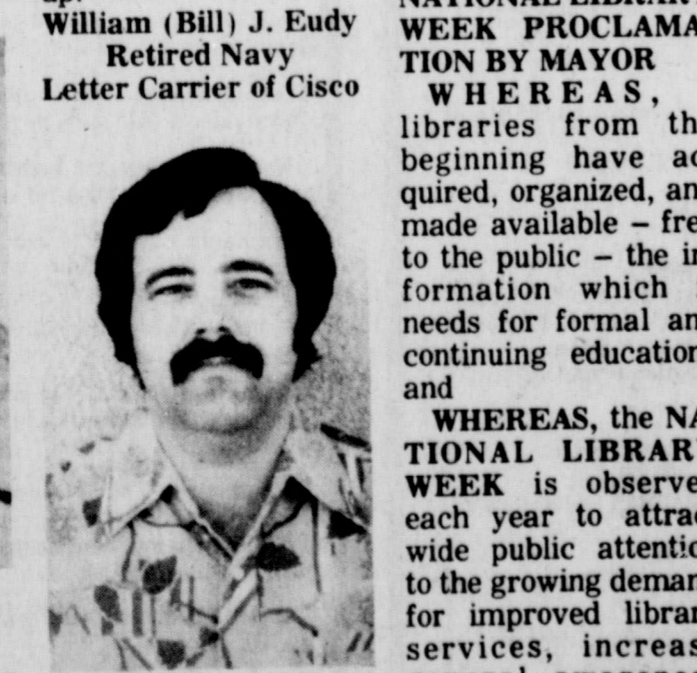

William Eudy Is Candidate For City Council Place 4

My name is William J. (Billy) Eudy. I am a candidate for Place IV in the upcoming election on April 7 for City Council. I am a native Ciscoan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Eudy, a retired Navy man, veteran of both Korean and Vietnam conflict. I graduated from Cisco High School and after retiring from the Navy attended and graduated from Cisco Junior College. After my return to Cisco in 1968, I spent one year working with the State Highway Department. I now work at the Cisco Post Office, I am a letter carrier and presently carry city three. I married the former Dorothy (Dottie) Parkinson of San Angelo, who is employed as a L.V.N. at E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital. We have three children in Cisco High School, Ronnie, a junior, Tami, a sophomore and Jacque, a freshman. I have been involved with the Cisco Little League, the Pony League and with the Cisco Lobo Baseball Team. I am presently the president of Cisco Booster Club (formerly Quarterback Club).

Absentee Voting For April 7 City, Hospital And School Elections To Continue Through April 3.

As your candidate, I would hope to be able to help improve the City of Cisco, water, sewer and street systems and in some way hope to help in cleaning up the City of Cisco. I would like to see Cisco get some of our tourist business back. My concern is for the citizens of Cisco. I would like to see Cisco attract some businesses to keep our younger citizens here. We have too many people living here and working elsewhere. Your vote will be appreciated. In return I promise to do the best of my ability to help with improvement of our city's streets, water, sewer and clean up. William (Bill) J. Eudy Retired Navy Letter Carrier of Cisco

Fellowship Of Christian Women To Have Luncheon

The Fellowship of Christian Women of Cisco will have their monthly salad luncheon this coming Saturday April 7th, at 12:00 noon at 309 West 6th. This luncheon is open to all denominations and is a group of Christian women who meet together for fellowship and sharing. The library of books and tapes will be available to those present and participation is encouraged. Young mothers who would like to attend and have the need of a sitter, one will be furnished. To make arrangements for the luncheon please call Mrs. James (Ilene) Cotton at 442-2565 no later than Friday noon, April 6th. Lola Scott from Abilene will be the luncheon speaker. She is married to a retired Navy man and has two sons. She will be teaching and sharing on "Astrology and The Occult". All local and area women are welcomed and cordially invited to attend.

Bank Fund Started For Lloyd Booth

A fund has been started at the First National Bank of Cisco for Lloyd Booth, a junior at Cisco High School. He is in intensive care unit at the Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. He will be there for about two months. He was injured in a motorcycle accident Saturday, March 24, behind the Chesley Field. He is the son of Mrs. Virginia Hinchey, who is in Abilene with him. Contributions may be left at the Bank with Brenda Thomas.

Proclamation

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK PROCLAMATION BY MAYOR WHEREAS, libraries from the beginning have acquired, organized, and made available - free to the public - the information which it needs for formal and continuing education; and WHEREAS, the NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK is observed each year to attract wide public attention to the growing demand for improved library services, increase general awareness that libraries of all kinds are major sources of the COMMUNITY, foster reading as an essential activity at home, in schools and colleges, in business and in the COMMUNITY, and to inspire more people to more thoughtful reading; and WHEREAS, THE CISCO PUBLIC LIBRARY joins the libraries over the nation to observe this special week with the suggestion that all read more not only during this special week April 1-7, 1979 but all times; now THEREFORE, I H. Chief Brown, Mayor of Cisco, Texas in recognition of the importance of our CISCO PUBLIC LIBRARY in every day life, and to encourage more reading and use of the services offered, we urge all to join in the National Observance. IN WITNESS, THEREFORE, I have set the seal of the City of Cisco this March 30, 1979. H. Chief Brown Mayor of Cisco, Texas

Future Of The Mobley Hotel

(Editor's Note: A team of architects and architectural students arrived in Cisco on Friday of this week to begin the work renovating the Mobley Hotel. A luncheon held at the Country Club Friday noon was attended by that team, as well as city officials and Chamber of Commerce directors. Dr. Rinaldo Petrini, one of the master architects, said general plans call for the lobby, two bedrooms and a bathroom to be restored as they were when Conrad Hilton owned the Mobley. He also said some other rooms will be fixed for meetings with two exhibition halls: one to display Hilton documents and the other as a museum of hotels owned by Hilton throughout the world. The following article is a prepared news release from the University of Houston, College of Architecture.)

A building of any age deserves to be preserved not only if it represents a moment in the aesthetic history of the world, but especially if it stands as witness of a period in the life of a society. Admittedly the Mobley Hotel is not a building that would today win an award of architectural design, and because of that some individuals might feel that the Mobley is a structure of no architectural value, and yet for an architect with love for tradition and "old stones", this rather old and crumbling building represents the grace of an era, the technology of frontier towns, a moment - the first moment - of the history of an enterprise which has become an important feature of today's society and economy; an enterprise which, in modern times, by its own existence and philosophy: "to offer a home away from home, to offer comfort, to present luxurious refuge, to give the most selective of food etc.", represents the culture and sophistication of a society; and because of this, this building is of historical importance and must be saved for our future generations. The Mobley Hotel in its simplicity, stern humility and silence is the witness to the life of society, the only continuous and still living relator of the joys and pains, the dreams and the disappointments, the wealth and poverty of a community which in its own right is a part of this Country's history. It is for these reasons that we wish to be participants in the rehabilitation of the Mobley Hotel in Cisco and to promote an action of intervention which will make this old centre the new dynamic activator of cultural, social and civic exchange for the people of Cisco and neighbouring rural communities. This is a project of rehabilitation and not just of restoration. For the realization of this venture we propose three stages: First stage: research, evaluation, projection and proposal 23-3 to 25-5. Second stage: details, documents, specifications for interior and exterior revitalization. 25-5 to 1-11. Third stage: call for tenders, selection and award of contract 1-11 to 12-12. Work will begin on December 23, 1979: A small gift from the Hilton Foundation to the people and the town which gave birth to the Hilton Hotel Industry. "A thrust towards eternity and hope". The team for this project will be: Master Architects: Dr. Italo D. Astore and Dr. R.A. Petrini; Historian Consultant: Miss Genie Mims, B. Arch.; Architectural students: Ray Nayle, Nathan Light, Rick Peterson, Peter Boudreaux, Alberto Chaves, David Tennant, Benson Walls, Mike Rushing, Mary Gerdes, Carolina Carbone, Han Fu Ho and Phil Bologna; Architectural and technical documents: selected students of the school of architecture of the University of Houston, staff from the offices of Castoplan (Florence, Zurich, Houston) and members of the Hilton School of Hotel and Restaurant Management; and the citizens of Cisco, Texas.

A group of people, including architects, students and Cisco citizens, attended a luncheon Friday at the Country Club to welcome the Mobley Hotel workers to town. Dr. Petrini of Houston showed slides to those present of buildings in Europe and Canada, as well as Houston, which schools of architecture have renovated. The Mobley Hotel is being renovated by funds from the Conrad Hilton family. (Staff Photos)

CONSUMER GUIDELINES

Car Care
 Regular car care is important. Don't postpone tuneups just because the car starts quickly and runs smoothly. Missing spark plugs could be causing your engine to drink gas. You can also save gas by proper driving techniques. Shift into high gear as quickly as possible. Racing along in second gear can use up to 45 per cent more fuel.

Barron Hilton—

America's number one host

By Angela Canade

Removing himself temporarily from the jet age pace of corporate duties, the pilot of the Sailplane soars to breeze-swept tranquility above the plains and peaks of the Sierra Nevada mountain region. A St. Christopher medal watches over his experiences of sky meditation, a period which the sportsman says, "shows you the wonders of God's hand. 'Soaring' is a sport of wonderful sensation, of great satisfaction and beauty."

Once he has touched ground, however, the ruddy-cheeked Californian sets aside the refreshing buoyancy of gliding to resume his high-powered role as one of the nation's top business executives.

There is a kind of balance in the diversified lifestyle of Barron Hilton, president and chief officer of Hilton Hotels Corporation (HHC), a company that reaped a bountiful harvest of $747 million in revenue in 1977 and is host to four million guests annually.

The setting for this interview is the prestigious Waldorf Astoria in New York City, known as the flagship of Hilton Hotels' growing fleet of hospitality. It is said that more famous people have walked through the elaborate lobby of this precious piece of real estate on Park Avenue than anywhere else in the world. Visitors include every U.S. president since the hotel opened in 1931. Albert Einstein, Winston Churchill, Princess Grace of Monaco, composer Cole Porter who once lived in the lofty Towers apartments, and Mrs. Douglas MacArthur who still resides here.

The second of three sons of the late Conrad N. Hilton, founder and Chairman of the Board, the tycoon strikes a handsome and commanding figure seated at his polished desk in an office suite exquisitely decorated. His smile is warm and all-encompassing, and he is cheerful and relaxed, in spite of the little time he has to spare in his busy schedule. He is in town from his home in the fashionable Holmby Hills section of Los Angeles to attend board meetings. And judging from his vigorously healthy looks, the mantle of executive responsibility agrees with him.

The Waldorf

To begin, he tells which one of more than 40 hotels in the chain he likes best. "My father's favorite is the Waldorf," he responds readily. "Mine is the Las Vegas Hilton, 100 percent company owned, which recently underwent a gigantic expansion program. It is the largest resort in the world today."

A Catholic of Norwegian, German and Irish background, he was born in Dallas, Texas when his father was already well on his way to becoming the most famous hotel operator in the world. But privilege did not spoil Barron. This capable son of an acclaimed father has earned his own distinction for administrative excellence since he became the president of the company in 1966.

Interwoven in the fabric of life, was a close relationship between father and son. Barron has respect and love for his father. He explains how in 1920 Conrad Hilton laid the first cornerstone of the giant business — the Mobley Hotel in Cisco, Texas.

A colorful, international personality who fulfilled the American dream, Conrad Hilton is also credited by his son for "developing a fine reputation" that has produced more than 250 Hilton hotels, counting those owned, managed and franchised, and the international units no longer owned and managed by HHC.

On his desk, a proud son has a copy of "Be My Guest," a success story in paperback, written by his dad. The book is in every one of the thousands of rooms under the company's attention. Brother of Eric, the late Nicky who made headlines when he wed actress Elizabeth Taylor, and half-sister Francesca, Barron Hilton has succeeded in keeping his personal life exemplary.

Devoted to Family

A devoted family man, he has been married for 31 years to the former Marilyn June Hawley, an English-German-Catholic. He is the father of eight children.

Speaking of his household located in the parish of Good Shepherd Church, Barron softens:

"We have six sons and two daughters between the ages of 16 and 30. I met my wife when we were teenagers, introduced to each other by a friendly priest. She was a fun girl, as pretty as she is now, and was a cheerleader at St. Monica's High School. I was 19 when we eloped to be married in the church of De Paul University in Chicago, followed by a honeymoon in Bermuda."

Not yet a grandfather, he laughs heartily when he speaks of his eagerness. "When I got married, we had children almost every year. I figured I'd be a grandfather by the time I was 40. Well, here I am, at 51, and still not a grandparent. I guess the thinking of families is different today but," he adds with a twinkling eye, "I'm hopeful for the future."

Whether any of his children are following in his footsteps, he volunteers happily that "Stevie is in the Atlanta Property and Richard seems to be leaning in the same direction."

The aviation enthusiast engages in his hobby of soaring above his 460,000 acre ranch near Lake Mono, situated two-thirds in Northern Nevada and one-third in California. The expanse includes a partially restored ghost town named Bodie and six other ghost towns.

Does he saddle up when he's away from Los Angeles and home on the range? "I don't often ride a horse, but I do like motorcycles. I'm a motorized cowboy," he quips with typical humor.

Athletic inclinations led to his founding and later maintaining 30 percent interest in the San Diego Chargers, a professional football team that captured four Western Division championships and one AFL championship in five years. The former president of the AFL was pleased to report that, a few days prior to our meeting, his team "played Minnesota in 15 degree weather and beat them."

"Parents today have to face the drug problem . . . so many lives are destroyed because of drugs"

Hunting and fishing round out the burly sportsman's outdoor recreation which is sustained by "Chinese food which I prefer over all other kinds of cuisine," he states emphatically.

Among his many directorships is service with the National Council on Crime and Delinquency. About America's youth, he says, "Parents of today have to face the drug problem, which I think is very serious. So many young lives are destroyed because of drugs, a major loss to our country. More attention must be given in this area by the government and local communities."

Generous with his time, he is a trustee of the World Mercy Fund, City of Hope and St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica. Because he cares, he has been the recipient of several international honors, including that of magisterial knight of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta.

Mischievous Boy

Describing himself as "a mischievous boy — but I always got along with the nuns," he was educated at St. Paul the Apostle School, Loyola High School, and New Mexico Military Institute before going on to college. As a photographer's mate in the Navy, he developed a hobby that continues today. In fact, he was so busy taking pictures on the Time, Inc. tour of Africa for top executives that there was seldom time for others to photograph him.

"When I left the Navy in 1946, I wanted to join the corporation but Dad said it couldn't pay what I needed. So I went into business for myself, co-founding the Vita-Pakt Citrus Products Co. The orange juice business turned out great for me," explains the entrepreneur who was named vice-president of HHC in 1954 and, 12 years later, became its chief.

As to the future, he predicts that "the long term outlook for the hotel business has to be bullish. Airline traffic is increasing year after year; more families are on the move; we're attracting many foreign visitors and

Americans are choosing vacations on home ground rather than abroad.

"My plan is to continue to build new hotels and enlarge present ones. We are talking about adding 1,000 rooms at the Hawaii property and a major hotel will be built in Chicago.

We will continue to instill in our staff the priority of service as a selling point to attract business. Fortunately, our ranks include many dedicated individuals who foster this philosophy."

In his book, Barron's father, Conrad Hilton, described his middle son as a youngster who was "careful, quiet and single-minded." He also penned a belief to which Barron Hilton ascribes:

"Prayer is the hub that holds the wheel together. Without our contact with God we are nothing. With it, we are 'a little lower than the angels, crowned with glory and honor.'"

Not Too Late For CJC Memory Course

It's not too late to take the memory course on "Indexing the Mind" being offered at Cisco Junior College. Although the first of the three class meetings has already been held, a make-up class will be held prior to the second meeting for those who were unable to attend the first meeting.

The make-up session will begin at 5:15 p.m. on Wednesday, April 4, 1979. Persons desiring to enroll in the course may do so at that time at the Registrar's office, Administration Building.

The make-up session will last approximately an hour and a half, with a short break prior to the regular class meeting at 7:00 p.m. the same evening. The last session will be held on Wednesday, April 11.

The class is being taught by Mr. Harvey Drake, a nationally known memory expert from Oklahoma. Mr.

News From The Center

By Lyndell Hicks

We thought Spring would never come, but now that it's here in full bloom, we are looking forward to planting in the patio area and painting lawn chairs in preparation for outside activities this season! Anyone wishing to get in on the fun is cordially invited to do so!

We've been having a grand time in crafts class for the past couple of weeks as we prepare for Easter. Along with making pom-pom chickens and bunnies, we will soon begin creating Easter bonnets for our annual Easter Bonnet contest, which will be held April 13 at 2:00 p.m. If you are free this day and happen to be looking for somewhere to go, why not drop by the Center and join us.

Also, it won't be long till our Easter Egg Hunt, which will be held on Thursday, April 12, at 3:00 p.m. We have again invited the children from the Day Care Center to be our guests on this day. So while they are finishing their daily naps, we will be busily hiding the eggs we have decorated! I don't know who will enjoy the event more — us or them!

Three entertainers who performed in the Heart Fund Sing-In on Feb. 20, will be here to entertain us during the month of April. Gilbert Copeland, Ag teacher from CHS will appear on Monday April 2 at 7:00 p.m.; the Range Grass (Blue Grass group from Ranger) will be here on Wednesday, April 11 at 7:00 p.m.; and Roland Smith will be here on Monday, April 16 at 6:30 p.m. Put these dates on your calendar, and plan now to join in the fun with us! We always enjoy visitors in our facility!

Among other events to take place during April will be our participation in the Frontier Jubilee Parade, April 21; Secretaries Day, April 25; and Ice Cream Party, April 27.

Speaking of Secretaries Day, we will be holding a contest for the Secretary for the Day, so if you have a secretary and want to enter her in our contest, please call and give us her name and why you think she's an outstanding secretary. Entries must be in no later than 4:00 p.m., April 20.

Special thanks to members of the East Cisco Baptist Church for doing such a superb job last Sunday afternoon! I hear you had a good crowd, and the message was outstanding according to the residents! God bless you for caring and taking your time to be with us!

Also special thanks to the journalism class of Cisco High School and to the psychology class of Cisco Jr. College for visiting us during the week. We hope you enjoyed the interviews as much as we did, and we hope were of benefit to your research involving the geriatric residents. Do visit us again!

We are still in need of carpet remnants for our crafts class. We particularly need brown, since we are in the process of making carpet owl pictures. If you have or know of someone who has remnants of any color they wish to discard, please call us and we'll pick them up.

Until next time—Take time to care! It doesn't cost a dime in this modern world!

Drake commented that there is room for many more students. He further noted that the course would be of benefit to business persons, students, or anyone who would like to improve their memory. The cost of the course is $20 which includes the cost of the textbook. For further information contact the CJC Registrar's Office, 442-2567.

LODGE NOTES

Carbon Pioneer Active Citizen

Mr. & Mrs. Thomas Dingler

By Vance O'Brien
An active citizen in 1869-1948 for years, was Thomas Dingler.

He was born near Whitesburg, in Carroll County, Georgia, on July 21, 1869.

Later his family settled on a farm in Sidney, Texas, where he attended Comanche Public School and received his common education.

On February 9, 1890 he was married to Miss Minnie E. Cox. After starting a Hardware Carbon business in 1891 with his father he soon became sole owner and proprietor of the store which retained the name of Dingler and Son. In 1908 he was united with the M. E. Church South.

After years of working as a Notary Public and as Mayor and Recorder of the City of Carbon, Mr.

Dingler retired in 1920's. His affiliation with the Cisco Chapter of the Masons began in 1898 when he was made a Master Mason. Five years were spent of his time in the Grand Lodge. Mr. Dingler was also a charter member and first Worthy Patron of Carbon Chapter No. 334, O.E.S., and Cisco Chapter No. 190, R.A.M., in which he served as E.K. for one term, R.M. and passed as a S.M. and served his Council as T.I.M. for one term.

Thomas H. Dingler

In Cisco he served as a Knight of the Red Cross, Knight Templar and Knight of Malta of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem; and also received the God Samaritan Degree. He served as Grand Standard Bearer of Cisco Commandery in the 58th 1911. He also served as a member of the Insurance Section of the K.P. Order of Cisco Lodge No. 196 and as a charter member of Carbon Lodge No. 365, L. of P. He served as a charter member of the Carbon Camp No. 169, W.O.M. and afterwards affiliated with Comanche Camp W.O.W. from where he later again moved to Car-

Documents, Pictures, And Furniture Of Area Pioneers Viewed By DAR

Charles Crawford Chapter, DAR, met Monday, March 25, at 2 p.m. in the Archives Room, Bicentennial Memorial Library, Eastland. DAR subscribes to patriotic, historical and educational interests; so it was an appreciative group that had the opportunity to see the documents, scrap-bon Camp No. 556, W.O.W. when it was organized.

In the military related services he served as Registrar Selective Service Draft, Local Member Legal Advisory Board, U.S. Explosives Liscensing Officer, Precinct Chairman, Active Officer of Local Red Cross Chapter for all of the Red Cross Drives, Crop Reporter for U.S. Department of Agriculture for ten years. These services were rendered in the months between 1917 and 1919.

Those who could not help themselves in this period of difficult times, certainly could fill pages with their gratitude to Mr. Dingler, who took time out of his busy life to care for them.

His Lodge Life certainly seemed to help him in his well-doings and to open doors through which it was made possible to serve his fellow man.

books, photographs and furniture used by pioneers of the area. Records of railroads, mining, hotels, Cemeteries Inscriptions were interesting. Pictures of Naval battles which took place when our nation was young, hung on one wall. There was the life story of William Pike Tindall, Eastland's only San Jacinto hero who is buried in the county and memorialized with a proper marker.

High school college students find these records helpful in writing papers in our heritage and early history. Eastland should be commended on the work and dedication to the cause of preserving for future generations something of the life and times of the past.

Mrs. Joseph Perkins is chairman of the Archives Committee. She has given much time and effort in collecting, assembling and promoting interest in this project. Thursday Afternoon Club, Eastland, sponsors the library.

In a short business meeting, opened by Regent, Mrs. Perkins, Good Citizens Committee Chairman. Mrs. Charles Pence, reported that medals and certificates of award had been sent to Cisco, Eastland, Rising Star and Ranger Schools for the best citizen in the Senior class, and the best essay on American history in grades five through eight, in the four schools.

Mrs. B.C. Cromwell, Magazine Chairman, reported that Cisco Junior College had given her a check for a one-fourth-page advertisement which will appear in the June-July issue of DAR Magazine, published in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. C.E. Terrell (Cisco) talked on FOUNDERS OF NSDAR -- four patriotic, forceful individuals; women dedicated to preserving our national heritage. NSDAR was organized in 1890.

Nine members and two guests, Mesdames J.F. Francis and M.H. Corbell, were served Solid vinyl.

Vinyl is one of the toughest, most durable man-made products known today. It's been time-proven to retain its original appearance and to withstand the worst conditions. That's why it is used in so many industrial, commercial and consumer applications.
One of the greatest advantages of vinyl is that its components can be altered to best suit almost any application. Many products that were once made of metal are now being made of vinyl.
Including house siding.

Janet Thomas Is Doing What She Wants To Do

BY VIOLA PAYNE

Janet Thomas's official title of "Home Demonstration Agent" was changed several years ago to "County Extension Agent, Home Economics". And the Clubs she directs were given a new title on Jan. 1st, 1979 - "Extension Homemaker's Clubs". For times are changing, and her work from Texas A and M University has new dimensions. But the One Hundred and Eleven Eastland County members of these Clubs, as well as more than Three hundred 4H members, are glad the same attractive young woman remains with the Extension work. The local people describe Mrs. Thomas as "dedicated", "hard-working", and "sweet-a person who combines brains and energy with good looks and a winning smile.

Former Residents Presented Awards At Madisonville

Mr. and Mrs. Winn Crossley, former Eastland County residents, were recently presented the first-ever Outstanding Man and Woman Awards at Madisonville, Tex.

They are the former owner-operators of the Madisonville Meteor, a leading Texas newspaper. Mr. Crossley formerly was employed by the Ranger Times and the Eastland Telegram. He is a brother to Lester Crossley of Lake Leon.

The Crossleys left Eastland County in about 1936, buying papers in West Texas, Pilot Point and finally at Madisonville. They have been active in Texas Press Association endeavors.

The awards were presented at a recent Madisonville Chamber of Commerce Banquet. Mrs. Crossley was cited for having never missed a chamber

"I, like the members of the Clubs, continually update my knowledge," she explains. "When the need arises, I go to Seminars and Training Sessions to learn new things. For continuing education-family life enrichment-is what this work is all about."

Janet Thomas's week-day activities begin in the Extension offices on the basement floor of the Courthouse. De Marquis Gordon, County Agent, works from an office nearby, as does Assistant County Agent Trudy Bird and other Assistants who spend periods of time in training. At this time a young woman named Mary Hunt is training with Mrs. Thomas. Miss Hunt has accepted the position of County Extension Agent, Home Economics, for Hamilton County, and will soon begin her work there.

Eastland County is chosen to initiate so many young College graduates into Extension work because it is considered to be such an outstanding area-both in the personnel who direct projects, and the quality of the people who participate.

"During the almost thirteen years I've worked here," Mrs. Thomas remarks, "I've come in contact with some of the finest people anywhere. There is so much talent in arts, crafts, food preparation, gardening, and the many other self-crafts, food preparation, gardening, and the many other self-help programs we have. This is what makes our County outstanding and the fact there is still room here for outdoor living and family-type farms. We encourage the whole family to participate in our 4-H and other work. I believe families are the most important unit around. Our whole nation depends upon how strong our families are."

When the first Home Demonstration Agent came to Eastland County in 1922, she found that homemakers in rural areas lacked many conveniences found in towns. Although Demonstration work was meant to be urban as well as rural, it seemed to be utilized more by women in the country. Early programs included plans for every family to screen their windows, and to participate in the "back door step" contest. Agents had to demonstrate canning on kerosene or wood stoves, and plan home improvements which would cost Club members very little money. Now a drive through the countryside shows that rural women have long ago surpassed basic goals of home improvement, and are involved in beautifications, Crafts, and community projects. The needs of urban women have also changed. Many of them work away from home, and want help in organizing their time. The majority of the members of Extension Homemaker's Clubs now live in town rather than the country.

Janet Thomas has been a part of this area most of her life. She was born in Gorman, but her parents-Vollie and Emille Meyers, moved to a dairy farm near Comanche when she was young. Both sides of the family were German in ancestry-enterprising people who understood the value of hard work. Janet's mother teaches piano lessons in Comanche, and plays the piano and organ in Church. Janet became a member of the Presbyterian Church when young.

Eventually the family moved to town, and Janet attended Comanche High School. She became very interested in the Home Economics Courses, and decided she wanted to do some work along that line when she finished school. But that time she began part-time secretarial work in the office of Angus Dickson, County Agent, and became involved in this work. The Agent, noting her talents, encouraged her to consider a Home Extension career.

"I knew for certain this was what I wanted to do," Mrs. Thomas states. "Mr. Dickson was really a fine Agent, and his encouragement meant a lot to me. Later he was transferred to El Paso County, where he is still serving as County Agent. His work in that area, just as in Comanche County, has been outstanding."

After High School graduation Janet attended John Tarlton College for two years, where she won an honor as an outstanding Home Economics student. Then she attended Texas Tech University at Lubbock, where she graduated in 1965 with a degree in Home Economics Education. She received a Phi-Kappa-Phi Scholastic Honor during her Senior year.

After receiving her initial training in County Agent work at Waco, in McLennan County she came to Eastland County in Oct., 1966, and began her work as the County Home Demonstration Agent. In 1967 she married M. A. Thomas, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Thomas of Ranger. Janet and M. A. have a daughter, Catherine, who is four years old. Mr. Thomas works as a Surveyor for Lone Star Gas Company.

The couple bought a small, older frame house on Lake Leon, which they began to enlarge and remodel. They have made many improvements on the property, including yard work. At this time they are bricking the outside of the house. Janet has spent a lot of time stripping and restoring old furniture. She considers this a favorite recreation, along with needlepoint, caring for her flowers, and playing the piano.

Janet has received several honors for her County Extension work here, including one at the Christmas party of 1977 given by the Home Demonstration Club women of the County. During the festivities she was surprised by a proclamation signed by County Judge Scott Bailey, setting aside a "Janet Thomas Day". This, coming from the people with whom she worked, had special meaning for her. In Feb. of this year she received a State Distinguished Service Award for her work in Home Economics.

Mrs. Thomas has worked closely with a number of Community projects. She, with the late H. A. McCannless, led out in beginning the first Senior Citizen's Bazaar. It was held in the fall of 1969 in spite of much difficulty. "It rained," Janet remembers. "And we had to move the crafts and needlework into the Courthouse lobby. There were only nine tables, and not many people came. But the project has grown tremendously. In 1978 more than ninety people set up exhibits, and sold some of the most beautiful handwork you ever saw."

The Eastland County Fair is another project which has grown rapidly, both in attendance and the number of exhibits. "People of all ages enjoy the Fair," Janet remarks. "I'm certain it will continue in popularity."

Mrs. Thomas's Home Remodeling Workshops and Furniture Refinishing Courses are other popular things, as well as gardening and canning workshops. "We check pressure cookers here for the public," she notes, "and they should be checked each year."

There are a number of current projects on Mrs. Thomas's calendar, such as her monthly nutrition programs at each Senior Citizen's center in the County.

Another project-the making of hand puppets to be distributed to children who are patients in local hospitals, is being followed by the local Homemaker's Clubs. One of the highlights of the year will be the Family Enrichment Seminar, which will begin on April 26th. A committee composed of Mrs. Arlin Bint of Cisco, Chairperson, and women from all parts of Eastland County helped Mrs. Thomas arrange this program, which will consist of discussions on topics of interest to all families. A working Women's Family Life Seminar will be held later in the summer. This will give an in-depth study of the problems of homemakers who also work away from home.

In commenting on life-styles of the future, Mrs. Thomas says: "I feel there will be a return to closer family life, away from the high divorce rate and other difficulties. People are looking for stable values and more personal happiness. They also want to be more self-sufficient-to learn sewing, home remodeling and how to provide some of their food. The high cost of living, and the energy shortage, makes us realize it is necessary to conserve what we have. We will be spending more time in our own communities, so we need to beautify them all we can. And the Extension Service-as usual-is ready to help all it can."

HOW MUCH ARE YOU LOSING?
 Pictured above is a familiar but unpleasant scene in Eastland County. Since the "dust bowl" days wind erosion has been an important economic concern to farmers, ranchers and urban dwellers. Dust storms create both a social and economic impact on society. Eastland County is located in the "dust bowl" area or Southern Great Plains as it is more commonly referred to. With approximately 140,000 acres that are subject to wind erosion this represents over one-fifth of the land area that are subject to wind erosion this represents over one-fifth of the land area in Eastland County. The Soil Conservation Service has the responsibility for monitoring wind erosion during the peak blow periods which extend from November 1 through May 31 each year. Through this information gathering the SCS works to help agriculture producers reduce the amount and extent of wind erosion on their farms and ranches.

Points are established in the county where SCS personnel check severity and duration of damaging winds. The highest erosion areas are located in the soil associations that are composed of deep sandy and loamy soils primarily the peanut and grain sorghum croplands. There is a mathematical formula that SCS personnel use to estimate the damage.

However, as a rule of thumb if you can see dust in the air the soil loss is at least 12 tons per acre. Five tons removed per acre of sandy soils is a layer about the thickness of a dime so 12 tons would be approximately 2 one-half times that thickness. This amount may seem small but over the seven month blow season it is an extensive amount. Sand dumps on fence rows, county roads and other areas are a familiar sight but other economic loss factors from wind erosion include seedlings lost from coverage by sand and peanuts lost during harvest which are covered during a wind storm.

The Soil Conservation Service can provide technical assistance which can reduce damage by wind erosion. There are several

A tornado was reported to have touched down at the E.A. Ivy residence Thursday afternoon at about 1:30. The Ivy's live seven miles N. W. of Eastland. The tornado carried the garage about 150 yards and tore a hole in the 100 x 24 concrete barn. Fortunately the pick-up and house were not damaged. It is believed the tornado came from the south and lasted about three seconds.

Spring Fertilizing Enhances Production

Fertilizing pastures this spring offers many benefits to Texas forage producers, says Dr. Neal Pratt, forage specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"One of the most attractive advantages of a sound fertilization program is to improve the quality of pasture this spring and summer," notes Pratt. "While fertilizer helps produce more forage, it can greatly improve quality through the growing season."

While last year's drought fresh in mind, forage producers should fertilize pastures for insurance against dry weather, suggests the specialist. With alternatives farmers and ranchers can implement to reduce their economic losses due to wind erosion. Through cooperation with agriculture producers the Soil Conservation Service strives to make the "dust bowl era" a memory of the past. By Tony Taylor, Soil Conservationist Soil Conservation Service.

uncertain rainfall conditions later this summer, fertilization to enhance forage production during drought would be desirable.

"Producers can use fertilizer to replenish by harvesting excess pasture growth during spring and early summer. Hay supplies last year were severely limited, so farmers and ranchers should plan toward rebuilding hay supplies," says Pratt.

And producers may wish to fertilize a pasture as a basis for rebuilding forage supplies and beef cow numbers. Increasing the beef herd on a farm or ranch means increasing forage production before expanding herd numbers.

"For pasture fertilization to pay, producers should make plans to use the additional high quality forage that will result. Fertilizing pastures with little or no changes in use practices can result in a poor return on fertilizer investments," emphasizes the forage specialist.

A soil test is the way to determine fertilizer rates needed for optimum growth. County Extension agents and fertilizer dealers have forms available for submitting soil samples for analysis, notes Pratt.

Hints For The Aged & Handicapped

By PATRICIA GALBREATH

DEAR PAT-- Colleges and universities may be more accessible to the disabled now than they were 5 years ago but the fact remains, there are still hundreds of individuals who cannot independently use public or private transportation.

However, there is a way for many to finish their interrupted education. Or get started on one.

There is a College Level Examination Program that permits one to cut college time by demonstrating knowledge of a subject through an examination.

CLEP exams are given monthly for a fee at 800 different locations throughout the US. More than 2000 colleges and universities grant credit toward degrees to those who score high enough on tests.

For more information, write: CLEP, College Entrance Exam Board, Box 2815, Princeton, NJ 08540.

Want to go to college by newspaper? Hundreds of newspapers are participating in publishing a series of 20 college-level articles. Newspaper readers may monitor the course or receive college credit by registering with a local affiliated college, paying course fees, and participating in two discussion classes.

College by TV-- Universal College Program. A fully accredited two-year Associate of Arts degree may be earned from home by using video cassettes played back through an ordinary TV set. Workbooks and telephone teaching assistance provide additional help.

Among the pioneers of this program: Azusa Pacific College, Highway 66 at Citrus Ave., Azusa, CA 91702.

University Without Walls: This program, which originated in England, grants credit for past learning experience and credit tax-free commercial free port. New Hong Kong, as the first phase of the development is to be known, will emphasize shopping bargains and will operate in a manner somewhat similar to Freeport, Bahamas, as it was originally conceived. Dominica's Prime Minister P. R. John, Deputy Prime Minister Henckel Christian, and Attorney General Leo Austin signed the Free Port contract with Texas-based Caribbean Southern Corporation in the Roseau, the capital of Dominica, on February 9 of this year. The 99-year agreement has created a new entity, the Dominica Caribbean Free Port Authority, to control and administer all commercial activity in the new Free Port.

Several licenses have already been granted by the Free Port Authority, and active building plans are under way. "We were attracted to Dominica," says Pierson, "primarily by the businesslike attitude of the Government, which is stable, freely-elected, and structured along the lines of the British Parliamentary system. The Government officials have shown an eagerness to develop their country, and foreign businessmen are welcomed."

Caribbean Southern Corporation with offices in Dominica and Texas, serves as the agent and executive branch of the Free Port Authority and handles all processing of potential Free Port licensees. Although Dominica currently enjoys daily airline service to neighboring islands, Pierson is negotiating with several firms to provide direct air shuttle service to San Juan, Puerto Rico, to allow better air connections to the mainland United States.

The Commonwealth of Dominica--not to be confused with the Dominican Republic--lies in the Eastern Caribbean between the French islands of Guadeloupe and Martinique and is the largest of the Windward Islands.

Principles are Grey Pierson of Arlington, and Don Pierson of Eastland and Roseau, Dominica, W.I.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
By Armo Chambers

There is a distinction between self-love and selfishness. Self-love is not necessarily wrong. Self-love is needed before love or charity can be shown for others. The extent of self-love however, especially if advanced to an extreme selfish attitude of "Me first, no matter what" - is wrong and sinful. In our present society, all of us are interdependent on each other. Sympathies so mingle with animosities; irresponsibility with responsibility; the common good with special interests - it helps no one and hurts all of us when continual tensions interfere with God's admonition to "Love thy neighbor as thyself"....Some people think laws can be passed to equate self interests of individuals or groups. This can NOT be done as long as individuals are selfishly pre-occupied with seeking the good life of personal, physical possessions. Without spiritual values, the human spirit is shrivelled; worthless. This is prime concern of the church - your church. The church - your church - needs your support and your participation as individuals for it to become the embodiment of a "Spirit" to minimize the conflicts of community life.

LAWRENCE WILLIAMS

Revival To Begin Monday At Church Of The Nazarene

The Church of the Nazarene, West 10th and Avenue N, Cisco, will begin a revival meeting Monday evening, April 2, with Evangelist Lawrence Williams of Bethany, Okla. The services will begin each evening at 7:00, and Sunday morning at 10:45 and Sunday evening at 6:00.

Mr. Williams has been busy in the field of evangelism for the past 17 years. Through his ministry many churches and hundreds of individuals have found new spiritual life.

As a child, Evangelist Williams lost his eyesight. In spite of his great handicap, God helped him to graduate with a master arts degree in religion from Bethany Nazarene College.

Many spiritual bat-ties were fought and won by Brother Williams which the average persons never meets. Because of this, his ministry is unique. You will find him to be a warmhearted, Biblical preacher. He is a baritone singer and also plays the trombone. Mr. Williams has recently obtained Caesar, a Labrador retriever from Guide Dogs for the Blind Inc., who travels with him. Caesar is used in object lessons and as a special treat for the young at heart, performs while his master plays the trombone.

CNC To Host Sec. Contest

Residents and staff of Cisco Nursing Center wish to honor all local secretaries on their special day, and as an added event, will be hosting a Secretary for the Day contest on Wednesday April 25.

If you have a secretary and wish to enter her in the contest, please contact Lyndell Hicks at 442-1471 and give the secretary's name and why you think she should be Secretary for the Day. Who knows! You're secretary just might be the winner! Show her you appreciate her by honoring her on this day!

Entries are to be in no later than Friday, April 20, at 4:00 p.m. A prize will be awarded to the lucky lady.

Sunday, April 1, 1979

McMurry's Dr. Stamey To Speak To Scribes Scribblers

Dr. Joseph P. Stamey, Professor of Philosophy and Chairperson for the Department of Philosophy at McMurry College, will be the speaker for the Scribes and Scribbler's Writers Club Tuesday, April 3, at 7 p.m., in the Community Room of the First National Bank in Cisco.

Stamey graduated from Cisco High School in 1951 and from Cisco Jr. College in 1952. He received his B.A. in 1955, his B.D. in 1959, and his M.A. in 1961, all from Southern Methodist University. In 1968 he received his Ph.D. from Boston University. Dr. Stamey has taught English and philosophy at S.M.U., and he began teaching at McMurry in 1967.

Dr. Stamey has authored: With God in the Light: a Biography of Cal C. Wright, 1978; Exploring Religious Meaning, 1973; and The Refuse: a play performed by the Dallas Community Theater, May 1958. He has two poems that have been accepted by the Texas Poetry Anthology.

Dr. Stamey is a member of The American Academy of Religion, The American Society of Christian Ethics; The Hegel Society of American; The New Mexico-West Texas Philosophical Society; The Philosophy of Science Association. He is the past president of the New Mexico-West Texas Philosophical Society, and is the president elect of the Ethics Section of the Southwest Region of the American Academy of Religion.

Mr. and Mrs. O.L. Stamey are the parents of Joseph Stamey.

The Scribes and Scribbler's extend an invitation to all interested in writing to attend the meeting and hear an excellent speaker.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

The participants of the Nutrition Program have proven again they are capable of entertaining themselves.

Ella White, Bernice Gorr and Leia Latch presented music and word concerning the Easter theme. Dr. D. Ball presented slides concerning a trip he took, showing pictures of beautiful flowers and of course his favorite hobby...snakes.

But they also find it necessary to outside the group and bring in new talent every now and then. Oleta Shirley, Head Librarian for the Cisco Junior College, presented information in regard to the source of Large Type Books in print. She was able to show the participants the Bible, a Dictionary, and a bound copy of the New York Times with the large print. All Senior Citizens interested in this information should contact the Senior Citizens Office.

Ben and Ruby Strife, music directors at the First Baptist Church accompanied by Cora Lee Thomas, sang several beautiful hymns and the participants insisted they sing even more!

All Senior Citizens should circle April 9! One year ago the Nutrition Luncheons began. On this day, April 9, we will celebrate with a Birthday Party. An article concerning the day is elsewhere in the paper.

The menus for the week are:
Monday-Meat Loaf, 3 bean salad, summer squash, cake, bread and drink.

Wednesday-Oven Fried Chicken, Potato rounds, glazed carrots, fruited gelatin, bread and drink.

Friday-Chicken-Macaroni, sliced pickle beets, peanut butter pudding, tomato juice, green beans, bread and drink.
