Graduation time is quickly approaching for our area's high school seniors, with it comes the traditional events and parties. It is an exciting time for the seniors as they look ahead to the future and back at the high school years.

This happy time is often marred for senior parents anxious about some traditional parties held on graduation night - resulting in drinking and driving.

A group of Cisco parents have set up a place for our seniors and a one guest, per senior, to be with their friends and yet be in a safe and alcohol-free environment.

Cisco seniors and their parents have invited our area's seniors to join them in a celebration May 29th from 11 p.m. until May 30th at 5 a.m. for our area PROJECT GRADUATION party and start a "new tradition".

This party will be held at the Cisco Junior College "Sub" and will include bowling, big screen TV and movies, DJ, table games, food and special door prizes and surprises. Only seniors are eligible for the prizes.

For the sponsoring parents of our area's support of

PROJECT GRADUATION has been overwhelming and very appreciated. Everyone has been most helpful and supportive. PROJECT GRADUATION wants again to express our thanks for all help, money and support.

At this time we have commitments from Cisco, Rising Star, Moran, Eastland, Albany, Gorman and DeLeon seniors who will be attending. If you are a graduating senior from one of these area towns who wish to attend please, notify us at 442-3994, 442-1291 or 442-3846 we need your name, your high school and name of guest.

Seniors we want you to join us for a fun night that you will remember the rest of your lives.

PROJECT GRADUATION Will Be Held On May 29 For Area Seniors

Two Inches Of Rain Falls On Lake Cisco

Some two inches of rain in the Lake Cisco and Battle Creek areas during the past week have produced some 30 inches of new water for the city's municipal water supply, City Manager Mike Moore reported Friday.

Repair work at the Battle Creek pump station, which had been shut down, was completed last Wednesday soon after water started running in the creek, Mr. Moore said. Lake Bernie filled up over the weekend and began overflowing into the creek that connects with Lake Cisco.

Battle Creek equipment continued to send approximately 1,000,000 gallons of water per day to Lake Cisco Thursday and Friday, and Lake Bernie was still running over Friday, the city manager said.

Forecasts called for possible thunderstorms and rain during the coming weekend. Rainfall during thunder showers earlier in the week measured two inches and more in the Cisco area.

A circular in this edition of this newspaper advertising the Eastland Jaycees' Old Tyme American Circus listed an error in the location.

The correct location should be near Maverick Stadium not Meager Field.

Splash Day To Be May 30 At Cisco Pool

Monday, May 30, will be Splash Day at the Cisco Swimming Pool, according to Shirley Darr, pool manager. The pool will open at 1:00 p.m. and there will be no charge on Monday.

Regular pool hours will be from 1-7 p.m. until July 13 and then the hours will be from 1-6 p.m. Admission will be $1.00 and 50 cents for the baby pool. Season passes are $55.00 for 1 member and $5.00 for each additional family member and they can be bought at the pool.

Christmas In May Project Re-scheduled

Work on the annual Christmas in May project was postponed for two weeks due to rain, according to Chamber of Commerce manager Don Shepard.

One of four projects was carried out as it detailed work indoors.

The next work day was set for 7:30 a.m. Saturday, May 30. Workers are to meet at Traditions Restaurant on East I-20 to complete the project.

Wanda's Corner

This Monday, May 25 is Memorial Day. It's the day that America has set aside to honor the men and women who are veterans in the United States Armed Forces.

This holiday is for the ones who have fought and for the ones who died in battle to help keep our country free.

At the present time the flags in Cisco and across the nation are lowered to half staff in remembrance of the 37 crew members of the USS Stark who lost their lives last Sunday.

So remember to pray for the families of these men and also try to attend the Memorial Day Services that will be held Monday, at 10 a.m., in the Oakwood Cemetery in Cisco.

We ran a copy of a post card that someone had brought in last week to the Eastland Telegram on the Arlington Heights Hotel in Cisco. We have not heard from anyone as to where the location of the hotel might have been. Jo Ann Wagley from Putnam called and said there use to be a big 2 story house where the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company parking lot is now. She said that the house use to serve meals and would take in boarders. But she doesn't think that it was the Arlington Heights Hotel. She also said that hoped someone would remember the hotel because "these things are slipping by fast" and there are not many people left who can remember this history.

This issue of the paper is the Special Graduation issue of The Cisco Press. Be sure and read what the seniors have planned for their future. Bill White, who is planning on becoming an orthodontist signed his questionnaire with his "future" signature as Dr. Wm. J. White.

And we also thank all of the businesses who supported the seniors by placing an ad in this section.

Alma Dunning visited her son, Robert and family in Andrews recently. While there Robert took her to Dr. Sheeks and Associates, Eye Centers in Odessa, for a second opinion after her right eye implant surgery of last July 31. She was checked by 3 specialist, Dr. Sheeks, Dr. Grigsby, and Dr. Shah, a retina specialist. She received a satisfactory report but must return for checkups.

Garcia Trial To Resume Tuesday

Fifty-eight prospective jurors were back in the 91st District Courtroom Friday for jury selection in the Garcia trial.

Special Prosecutor Bill Hart and Court-appointed Defense Attorney Keith Woodley outlined the duties of a jury to the group before individual questioning began. Judge Herman Fitts overruled several objections during the statements.

Richard Hinton, Pat Starr and Brenda Perry Andrews are being tried for organized crime in connection with the death of Debra Jo Garcia of Cisco, who was abducted from convenience store Nov. 29, 1981. Joe Thomas Perry and Brenda Andrews will be tried later.

The prospective jurors are from all parts of the county, and from various backgrounds. Of 500 summons mailed, about 150 people actually reported Monday. The number dwindled as individuals were questioned.

Hart thanked the prospective jurors for their patience, and reminded them that the 12 persons chosen for duty "will base your verdict on the law - on credible evidence." He asked them to "Seek the truth."

Attorney Woodley also thanked the group, and told prospective jurors that "the sacrifice you make individually is a very important sacrifice."

The Court session was expected to last until around 5 p.m. Friday. It will then be dismissed until 9 a.m. Tuesday, May 26.

Glenda Young And Bill Austin To Star In Play

"I just want to be involved" were Glenda Young's first words to CJC's Theatre director, Carol Brown, and Brown took Ms. Young seriously.

Cisco Junior College is privileged to work every summer with professional theatre persons and 1987 is no exception. The Summer Dinner Theatre season opens with "I Do! I Do!" featuring Ms. Young and Bill Austin.

A native of Cisco, Ms. Young graduated from Cisco High School "...several years ago." The years since have been filled with a variety of performing experiences.

Ms. Young majored in theatre in college, working summer repertory at the University of Arizona. "I got to play such a wide range of roles - from Birdie in 'The Little Foxes' to 'Martha in 'Continued inside..."

Fact And Fiction About High Blood Pressure

Over 25 million Americans don't know they have high blood pressure. Since high blood pressure is a major risk factor for other medical problems, such as stroke and heart attack, the American Heart Association is concerned that many persons having high blood pressure don't understand the disease or its potentially serious effects.

"Despite modern treatment methods, many high blood pressure victims either don't know about their condition or are aware of it and take it too lightly," says Addison A. Taylor, M.D., president of the American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate. "Some base their knowledge on the medical opinions or old wives' tales of a century ago," he said.

The American Heart Association wants to dispel the following myths or misconceptions about high blood pressure:

MYTH: Most high blood pressure can be cured.

FACT: High blood pressure can usually be controlled, but in 90 percent of the cases it cannot be cured. Most high blood pressure patients use control methods for the rest of their lives, allowing their lives to be fairly normal.

MYTH: If a person's blood pressure is checked and it's detected as normal, there is no need to have it checked again during his lifetime.

FACT: Even people with normal blood pressure should have their blood pressure checked on an annual basis. Annual screenings help detect any change in pressure.

MYTH: High blood pressure patients shouldn't walk for exercise because exercise causes blood pressure to rise.

FACT: In most high blood pressure patients a moderate walking program could prove beneficial. In some patients walking actually helps reduce blood pressure levels over time by helping maintain normal weight. Patients should consult their doctor before beginning a vigorous exercise program.

MYTH: Drinking alcoholic beverages will help reduce blood pressure.

FACT: Heavy, regular use of alcohol can increase blood pressure.

MYTH: There is no relationship between high blood pressure and being overweight.

FACT: Although not every person with high blood pressure is overweight, there is increasing evidence that being overweight can contribute to an elevation in blood pressure.

MYTH: Headaches and nervousness are signs of high blood pressure.

FACT: Persons with high blood pressure usually display no symptoms, such as headaches and nervousness.

MYTH: If someone feels no distress, then that person cannot have high blood pressure.

FACT: Since high blood pressure shows no symptoms, it can only be detected through an accurate blood pressure test.

MYTH: To determine your appropriate blood pressure, add 100 to your age and you'll arrive at the right number.

FACT: One hundred years ago this may have been a medical calculation, but it has no scientific basis and is not a valid way to determine blood pressure. The only accurate method is to perform a quick, painless test using a sphygmomanometer. A sphygmomanometer consists of a gauge and rubber cuff that's placed around the arm or leg and inflated. The device records two numbers: systolic pressure, the amount of force on the artery walls when the heart beats; and diastolic pressure, the amount of force when the heart is at rest.

MYTH: Coin-operated blood pressure machines, like those found in some supermarkets, drug stores and airports, are accurate devices for detecting high blood pressure.

FACT: Coin-operated machines are sometimes not regularly inspected for reliability and accuracy. Therefore, the information given to the user may not be useful or correct. Consumers using the machines usually don't receive counseling about the meaning of the reading and what should be done about it. "Any blood pressure screening program should provide for adequate referral and proper counseling," advises Taylor.

Sometimes the conditions and locations under which these blood pressure determinations are made are likely to produce readings which make interpretation either difficult or impossible. Taylor adds, "An imprecise blood pressure reading could cause unnecessary anxiety or unfortunate complacency for the user."

MYTH: Home blood pressure measuring equipment is not an accurate method of monitoring blood pressure.

FACT: Home blood pressure measuring equipment's accuracy depends upon the type of equipment used and if it has been calibrated at least once a year by a technician. Buying home equipment from a local medical supply house or distributor often means having access to a technician. Even new equipment may require calibration before use. Performing home measurements with accurate equipment and sharing recorded readings with a physician can actually help a doctor treat high blood pressure.

MYTH: High blood pressure patients can skip their medication as long as they follow the rest of their doctor's orders.

FACTS: Diet, exercise and other lifestyle modifications may be prescribed by a doctor, but if medication is also to be taken, patients should stay on their medication.

"High blood pressure may require some adjustments, but it's nothing to be afraid of since it can be treated effectively," suggests Taylor. "The best treatment plan is to follow your doctor's orders and keep him or her informed of any difficulties with the orders so he or she can consider changes in your treatment. Since death rates from stroke and cardiovascular diseases have decreased significantly in recent years, this improvement may be a result of earlier and better treatment of high blood pressure."

MYTH: For more information on high blood pressure, contact your local office of the American Heart Association weekdays during business hours.

FACT: Since high blood pressure shows no symptoms, it can only be detected through an accurate blood pressure test.

MYTH: To determine your appropriate blood pressure, add 100 to your age and you'll arrive at the right number.

Heart Association Offers Tips For Selecting Healthier Foods

Fast food restaurants have become a favorite place for Texans to grab a quick and filling meal. In the past these food emporiums were known for the basics--burgers, fries, and milkshakes. As Texans' tastes have grown more particular, these restaurants have expanded their menu selections. Many of the new offerings, however, are full of fat, calories, cholesterol and salt. How can a health-conscious consumer win at a fast food restaurant?

Many fast food chains provide customers with literature describing their products' nutritional analysis. If not available in the food outlet, ask the manager for the corporate address to write to request such information. You can also check with your local public library for the restaurant chain's address. By carefully studying these guides, diners can make wiser food choices on their next visit to the restaurant.

"Even if the restaurant doesn't have literature available on the products, we can learn how to choose heart-healthy foods by keeping our choices simple," advises Addison A. Taylor, M.D., president of the Texas Affiliate of the American Heart Association. "Usually the fewer sauces, dips, toppings, and cheese slices, the healthier the meal," says Taylor, "and select broiled or roasted foods rather than fried ones."

"The heart-smart diner should also learn to become more assertive. Remember, you are the patron. Ask questions about the unobvious, such as, 'Is the chicken sandwich deep-fried or broiled?' Request that the cheese be left off than single burger."

A comparison of two meals at a popular fast food chain shows how diners may reduce their caloric, cholesterol, salt and fat intake by substituting selections. A typical order might be a double hamburger topped with cheese, lettuce, onions, tomatoes, pickles, mayonnaise; a small serving of french fries and a chocolate milkshake. This order contains 1,472 calories, 80 grams of fat, 210 milligrams of cholesterol and 1,695 milligrams of sodium.

The AHA recommends that total fat per day be no more than 30 percent of calories. Daily cholesterol intake should not exceed 300 milligrams. The above meal contains almost 50 percent of calories from fat.

In one meal the diner has eaten over two-thirds of the recommended daily limit for cholesterol intake. Unfortunately, many Texans are including more than 30 percent fat content throughout the day. The AHA also suggests that sodium intake should be reduced to 1,000 mg. per 1,000 calories, or a 1:1 ratio. The sample meal exceeds the AHA guideline by over 200 mg. of sodium.

To avoid excessive fats, sodium and cholesterol, the same diner could choose a single, quarter-pound burger served on a multi-grain bun, topped with mustard, lettuce, onions and tomatoes, a plain baked potato and a carton of milk. This meal has 752 calories (almost half the amount of the other meal), 27 grams of fat (one-third the fat of the first meal), 102 milligrams of cholesterol (one-third the cholesterol) and 520 milligrams of sodium (again, one-third less).

Another wise, fast food choice may be the salad bar, with raw vegetables and fresh fruits as the recommended items. Don't fool yourself, though--chopped eggs, mayonnaise-heavy potato salads, creamed vegetables, processed cubed meats, fried noodles, cheese toppings and high-calorie dressings make a salad as fattening as a traditional cheeseburger and fries meal.

Fast food fans have been quick to embrace chicken nugget products. Although chicken is heart-healthy when its skin is removed and the poultry broiled, chicken nuggets aren't a healthy or low-calorie alternative to burgers. They tend to be deep-fried (sometimes twice for extra crispiness), in a highly saturated fat. What's more, the chicken is usually breaded first, which means it absorbs more fat when cooked. Sometimes the chicken skin is ground into the chicken meat before the nuggets are breaded or fried. This means the fat content may make up more than 50 percent of the nuggets' total calories.

"The more customers learn about the nutritional values of fast foods, the better their calories can be," states Taylor. "As fast food menus expand, we encourage the restaurants to provide better nutritional fare."

Snacking Can Be Healthy For You

(AUSTIN)--Snacking between meals can be healthy if you're careful not to overeat and you choose your snacks wisely.

"There's a good case for snacking," advises Addison A. Taylor, M.D., president of the Texas Affiliate of the American Heart Association. "It can be especially important for growing youngsters, active teens, pregnant women and nursing mothers."

In order for a snack to provide value to the diet, it should be loaded with nutrients and low in fat, cholesterol, sodium and calories.

If you have a snacking urge, select snacks made of familiar, wholesome foods, with minimal processing. Look for labels that describe the product's protein, fat, carbohydrate, cholesterol, sodium and calorie count. If the protein and carbohydrate numbers are higher than the fat count, it's a better bet than a highfat snack. Of course, fruit or vegetables from the produce section of your grocery store don't contain ingredient labels. Most tree- or vine-ripened fruits and vegetables are fine for snacking.

Avoid the popular fried snacks such as most chips. They're high in fat, calories and usually sodium.

You'll save calories (and your teeth) by munching on apples, carrots and air-popped corn instead of candies, pastries and cookies. Try low-sugar frozen juice bars purchased at a store or made at home by pureeing fruit, pouring it into paper cups, inserting a spoon or tongue depressor and freezing. Instead of sugary soft drinks refresh your thirst by mixing one part fruit juice to four parts sparkling water.

Many people have a difficult time escaping the vending machine snacking cycle while at work. To decrease the temptation and save

Bills Passed From Senate To House

Senator Glasgow (D-Stephenville) reported that he passed several important bills from the Senate and on to the House of Representatives recently.

The Senator stated that he introduced S.B. 750 at the request of North Texas State University with the strong support of other colleges and universities in his District. This bill relates to the authority of the governing bodies of colleges, junior colleges and universities to conduct open meetings or executive meetings to be held by telephone conference.

The Senator said that he had worked closely with representatives of Common Cause and Dr. Alfred Hurley, Chancellor of NTSU in designing such legislation to meet the needs of the District's institutions of higher education.

Glasgow stated that this bill requires such teleconference meetings to be open to the public at a designated place with such proceedings being recorded. The same notice requirements that apply to regular meetings must be met under this bill.

Senator Glasgow further stated that he has passed in the Senate H.B. 720 which would assist with the financing of certain water programs important to District 22.

H.B. 720 would exempt Special Utility Districts from the consent requirements of the Municipal Annexation Act. Special Utility Districts were created to provide alternate financing mechanisms for local water supply districts. Such districts can issue general revenue bonds to raise the necessary funds and have no taxing authority. If a city does annex part of a Special Utility District, the annexing city does not become obligated on the bonds, thus the local municipalities are provided protection while the water needs of the area are met. The bill had the backing of the Texas Rural Water Association.

Glasgow reported that S.B. 135 was introduced to regulate the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners. The Board was originally created in 1949 to license and regulate the practice of Chiropractic.

S.B. 135 will grant to the Board the authority to conduct investigations, provides up to 20 hours of continuing education, requires licensed chiropractors from out-of-state seeking licensing in Texas to have taken an examination as stringent as that required by Texas, as well as other related regulatory powers. Clay Salyer, D.C. of Dublin, and a member on the current Board, provided testimony in favor of the bill.

Senator Glasgow has also passed out of the Senate S.B. 1375 which removes the requirement that County Clerk's original documents have to be maintained for five years as long as the records are permanently microfilmed. This bill would not apply to the real estate records as such documents are presently returned to the originating parties.

The bill has the endorsement of the state-wide Association of County Clerks. Testimony was presented by Angie Ables, Hood County Clerk, that highlighted the savings to counties if courthouse space is utilized more efficiently.

Also passed by the Senate was the Senator's S.B. 656 which would require that all available information concerning a prospective adoptee and the natural parents' health and genetic history be submitted to the adoptive parents prior to the final adoption.

Other bills sponsored by Glasgow which passed the Senate recently are:

S.B. 1386 which grants to the County Court at Law of Wise County concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court in certain matters;

S.B. 1374 which gives the County Court at Law of Parker County concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court in contested probate matters;

S.B. 767 which relates to the impoundment for failure to present proof of financial responsibility of a motor vehicle owned by a person not domiciled in the United States;

S.B. 727 which affects a reduction in state revenue allocated to a school district on the district's ad valorem tax rate;

S.B. 455 which affects the substitution and responsibilities of substitute fiduciary institutions.

Senator Glasgow said that he has passed over forty bills so far in the 70th Regular Session of the Legislature.

Older Americans Can Control High Blood Pressure

(AUSTIN)--As we grow older, it is only natural that our heart and blood vessels age. Our bodies become more susceptible to heart attack, stroke, congestive heart failure and high blood pressure. Chances of having any of these health problems increase with age.

But older Americans can continue to reduce their chances of suffering from these cardiovascular diseases by having their blood pressure checked twice a year. If such checks reveal high blood pressure, the patient can still manage a normal, if not moderated, lifestyle.

High blood pressure, or hypertension, is common in persons over age 65, but it should not be considered normal. More than 54 million American adults today have high blood pressure--more than 40 percent in people 60 and over. Although most high blood pressure cannot be cured, it can usually be controlled and reduced.

"The first way to control high blood pressure is to be aware of it," says Addison A. Taylor, M.D., president of the American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate. "You maybe in your older years and feel great, but you may still have high blood pressure if you haven't had it checked in the last year. The American Heart Association recommends that older Americans have their blood pressure checked at least once a year through visits to the doctor, clinic, or community screening program," Taylor added.

If a community screening or your own blood pressure measuring equipment reveals a reading of equal or greater than 140 over 90, see your physician for a complete evaluation. "If the doctor tells you that you have high blood pressure, make sure that you understand the directions and follow them carefully," suggests Taylor. Proper treatment can usually bring high blood pressure down to normal levels, reducing the risk of heart disease.

Traditionally a doctor will try to treat high blood pressure through the following methods:

DIET: Reducing salt and sodium intake, eating a balanced diet and maintaining a good body weight can be important factors in reaching normal blood pressure.

EXERCISE: Moderate exercise, such as walking, can be an important asset in controlling and maintaining normal weight, and therefore, blood pressure. For some people with high blood pressure, exercise can be dangerous, so it's important to follow your doctor's orders.

MEDICINE: Medicine may be prescribed for some cases of high blood pressure and when other treatment methods available for doctors to prescribe.

"Lessening your chance of a stroke or heart attack makes blood pressure control worth it," states Taylor. "An added advantage is that some insurance companies will lower your insurance premium if you have reduced your blood pressure and have it under control," Taylor added.

For more information on high blood pressure, contact your local office of the American Heart Association weekdays during business hours.

Ten Commandments For High Blood Pressure Patients

(AUSTIN)--An estimated 54 million American adults have high blood pressure, according to the American Heart Association. The association estimates almost half of these people don't know about their life-threatening condition.

Blood pressure is the push of blood against the walls of the arteries. High blood pressure indicates the heart is straining to pump blood through the arteries. High blood pressure is unhealthy because it can result in an enlarged heart (congestive heart failure), kidney failure, and increased hardening of the arteries and kidney disease. "These ailments can lead to the sufferer," indicates Addison A. Taylor, M.D., president of the American Heart Association.

The American Heart Association urges high blood pressure patients to control their condition and offers ten commandments to help:

1. Know your blood pressure. Have it checked regularly.
2. Know what your weight should be. Keep it at that level.
3. Don't use excessive salt in cooking or during meals; avoid salty foods.
4. Eat a low fat, low cholesterol diet according to American Heart Association recommendations.
5. Don't smoke cigarettes; money they should bring low calorie, healthy snacks to work. Some concerned companies are also offering healthier options in their vending machines.

"A small snack during the day is fine as long as the snack and the meals are balanced, healthy and moderate. Overeating can add to a person's chances of gaining unnecessary weight. Excess weight may lead to high blood pressure, a controllable risk factor of heart and blood vessel disease," states Taylor.

VA Raises Maximum Home Loan Interest Rate

In response to mortgage market pressures, the Veterans Administration raised its maximum home loan interest rate from 8.5 percent to 9.5 percent on April 13, 1987.

The increase was made to bring the maximum VA approved rate closer in line with the mortgage market, which has moved up in recent weeks.

At 9.5 percent, the latest rate is still low enough that little or no decline in the number of new and refinancing loans is expected, say VA home loan guaranty experts.

guaranties requested during the last six months is running at 40,000 a month.

VA loan counselors recommend veterans consider refinancing when the loan rate is two percentage points or more below the rate fixed in the existing mortgage. Because of high interest rates over the past few years, there are more than 700,000 veterans with mortgage rates of 11.5 percent or more and thus should be considering refinancing.

In the past three years, the VA rate was lowered 15 times, from 13.5 percent on May 6, 1984, to 8.5 percent on January 19. The latest change was the first increase in more than two years.

The VA, effective April 13, also increased by one percent the maximum rates for Graduated Payment Mortgages (GPMs) to 10 percent and home improvement loans to 11 percent.

The rates for manufactured home loans also were increased one percent to 12 percent, and to 11.5 percent to purchase a unit with a lot or a lot for a unit already purchased.

VA home loans may be used to purchase, improve, or refinance a house or condominium, and to purchase or refinance a manufactured home.

According to the AHA, sodium intake in healthy adult Americans should be limited to approximately one gram per 1000 calories, not to exceed three grams per day (approximately 1-1/2 teaspoons teaspoons of table salt). People with moderate to severe elevations in blood pressure may require more strict reductions in sodium intake.

Theatre Production

From education theatre Ms. Young moved to professional productions as a member of the Gaslight Theatre's resident company and for the Center Stage Company. "Blithe Spirit," "The Dining Room," and "Hello, Dolly!" are among her favorite roles played during this period.

Casual conversation reveals more than casual knowledge of several well-known performers, due to numerous feature film and television roles. Ms. Young did recurrent roles for Michael Landon Productions (in "Highway to Heaven" and "Father Murphy").

And if she looks a little familiar to you, you might remember her as the Lady on the Stagecoach for Wolf Brand Chili or the Lady in Red for Raspberry Hubba Bubba. "Commercials are a great way to be seen and to earn money as long as you keep trying to get those acting roles."

A desire to raise her 17 year old son Cody closer to "home" brought her back to Eastland County. Ms. Young lives and works in Eastland but earlier in the year got snapped into service by Brown, and a commitment to the summer season was made.

"There were several productions just waiting for someone like Glenda and I'm sure area audiences will enjoy her considerable talent." Ms. Young will be seen as Annie Nations in "Foxfire" in late June and will direct "The Fantasticks" in late July. However, opening the first summer season in the Hilton is a particular thrill. "The female role in 'I Do! I Do!' is one every actress dreams about. Singing, dancing, and acting; characters who age - on stage - 50 years; plus the chance not only to launch the summer but also to work with Bill - what a treat." And a treat for area audiences too.

Make reservations now for "I Do! I Do!" plus buy season tickets for only $35. Be one of the lucky ones assured of a seat when CJC presents "I Do! I Do!" May 28-30 and June 3-6 with dinner for $15 and May 31 for dessert at 2:30 p.m. for $7.50. Call 442-2567 or (817) 442-2589 after 4 p.m.

Rev. And Mrs. Garvin To Present Program Sunday At First Baptist

A program featuring picture slides and a display of items collected in Uganda and Africa during more than 15 years there will be given by the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Garvin at 6 p.m. Sunday at First Baptist Church.

Rev. Garvin, who has been pastor of the church for more than a year, has resigned effective June 15th to return to the missionary field of Africa, preferably Uganda.

The Sunday program will end in time for church members to attend the high school baccalaureate service, Rev. Garvin said.

The picture slides were made during several years in Uganda while the Garvins worked as missionaries. The public was invited to attend.

West Texas Utilities Co. Has Filed For Increase

West Texas Utilities Co. has filed for an increase in its retail electric rates, citing the costs of completing a new coal-fired power plant as making the move necessary.

"We have said over and over again that it would be necessary to increase rates when our Oklahoma Power Station was completed," said Jack Kennedy, WTU's local manager in Cisco, adding that WTU's last rate request came almost three years ago.

The rate changes being sought would add $50,361,475 to the company's annual retail revenue. This is a 23.9 per cent increase over the test year ending March 31, on which the case is based. The request was filed May 19 with cities in the WTU service area and with the Public Utility Commission of Texas in Austin.

Kennedy said there is no such thing as a "typical customer," but that the new rates, if approved, would mean that a residential electric customer using 625 kilowatt-hours per month would pay $10.83 more per month than previously. A commercial customer using 1,500 kilowatt-hours would pay $29.94 more.

"To put this request in its proper perspective, our overall residential revenues will be only six to eight per cent higher than they were two years ago," Kennedy said. "The decline in fuel costs since then just about offsets this increase."

The Oklahoma Power Plant, situated near Vernon, went into commercial operation Dec. 24, 1986. WTU's share of the cost as majority owner is $275 million, which increased the Company's total investment in facilities by 75 per cent.

"Until this cost is reflected in our rates, the company does not have the opportunity to recover its expenses and earn a reasonable return on its investment," Kennedy explained.

Construction at Oklahoma started in May 1982, and the plant was completed on time and well within the original budget. Industry surveys show that Oklahoma was the most economically constructed coal-fired power plant built during the mid-1980s.

The plant will provide 25 per cent of WTU's total generating capacity. The long-term contract for low sulphur western coal diversifies the company's fuel base and will help stabilize fuel costs, which in recent years have been affected by sudden changes in natural gas prices.

Other company's owning shares of the plant are Public Service Co. of Oklahoma and Central Power and Light Co., both

Thelma Tickner Celebrates Birthday At Senior Center

150 members of the Cisco Senior Center helped Thelma Tickner celebrate her birthday. Mrs. Tickner, registrar for the Senior Center, was born in Deming, New Mexico when the area was still a territory. Thelma and her husband, Wesley C. Tickner, deceased, moved to Cisco 25 years ago. She has three daughters, Mary La Rue Maudlin, Ruidosa, New Mexico, Ruth Allen Spurge, Denver, Colorado and Betty Lou Shults of Gatesville, Texas. A friend provided the ice cream and cake for the members.

Herb Owens Is Speaker At Lions Club Wednesday

The mission of the Texas Commission on Judicial Conduct was explained to members of the Cisco Lions Club in a talk by Herb Owens, investigator for the agency, in a talk Wednesday noon at the weekly luncheon at Henson's Restaurant.

Mr. Owens, who was introduced by Program Chairman J.V. Heysler, was here to speak in the place of Chairman Bob Flowers of the Commission, who was unable to attend due to a death in his family.

Texas has more than 3,000 judges serving on benches of courts from the precinct to the highest state level. Mr. Owens said. These judges include justices of the peace, city judges, county and district judges, appeals court judges and supreme court justices.

Mr. Owens said the Commission, which was created by the Texas Legislature, received complaints from 446 sources last year from persons who alleged judicial misconduct. Of this number, 75 per cent were found to be frivolous complaints. All were investigated.

In 56 cases studied by the Commission last year, 19 judges were asked to appear before the agency to answer complaints. There were 31 private admonitions and 13 private reprimands that resulted from the investigations. In seven cases, the judges either retired or resigned, Mr. Owens said.

It is not unusual for the Commission, which is composed of experienced jurists and attorneys, to recommend to judges that they take refresher courses in some phase of the law, Mr. Owens said. The agency cannot remove a judge but the law provides for this action in appropriate cases, he said.

Any judge who is indicted for any criminal reason is automatically suspended until he is cleared, the investigator said. He added that it was the Commission purpose to protect the integrity of the judiciary as well as the rights of the individual.

In most civil cases, the losing side often feels that the court erred and a complaint if filed, Mr. Owens said. It is not difficult to determine the reasoning back of complaints, he added. Screening of complaints by investigator usually determines their legitimacy, he said.

Guests at the luncheon were Buddy Sharp, new high school football coach, and County Judge Scott Bailey. Lions Club President Olin Odum presided over the luncheon.

White Leads Lobo Bands In Spring Concert

An appreciative audience applauded the sweepstakes winning Lobo Band, the Junior High Band and the 6th Grade Band in their annual spring concert Thursday night at the high school auditorium. The musicians were directed by Wayne White, head of the public school music and band program.

The 6th Grade Band opened the program with three numbers, followed by solo appearances by Holly Ritchie, flute; Brent Shepard, trumpet; and Hoot Beckett, trombone. Brent was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Don Shepard.

The 7th and 8th Grade Bands (junior high) appeared next in several numbers. A soloist from this group was Mary Garza, playing a flute, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Manning Davis.

The Lobo Band Choir, composed of six girls and three boys, sang several a capella numbers.

The Lobo Band, winners of sweepstakes awards for the past two years, concluded the program. Opening their concert, Drum Major Krista Shepard directed the first number. Mr. White then took over to lead the band through several numbers.

A quartet of experienced musicians, including Band Director Jim Jones of Cisco Junior College, Laura Hutchins, former Lobo Band member and veteran of two years with the CJC Band, Jim Jones, Abilene music company salesman, and Dr. Joe Dahlstrom, librarian at Hardin-Simmons University and formerly a high school and college musician, played with the Lobo Band. They rendered a number introduced as "Vaudeville Spectacular," which was composed of several old favorite tunes.

As a pre-concert feature, the Lobo Band's Jazz orchestra played several numbers. Miss Wende Wester, accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. Dan Wester, sang a "between bands" feature.

The concert concluded a successful year for the musicians. Mr. White told the audience that "we have some outstanding students in these bands - the type that make directing easy and a pleasure."

Cisco High School First Annual Academic Award Banquet Considered A Success

Some 200 awards for academic achievements were presented to students of Cisco High School at the first annual Academic Awards Banquet at the Cisco Country Club last Tuesday night. A total of 266 persons, including parents of many students, were in attendance.

Dr. Don Newberry, president of Howard Payne University at Brownwood, spoke on the subject of "Looking" after a hamburger supper was served by the high school cafeteria staff. He was introduced by Principal Jack Martin, who served as master of ceremonies.

Suggesting that young people take an occasional backward look, Dr. Newberry said "you'll see some values of life — things you may well have missed." He noted that challenges were associated with forward looking "as a lot of good things happen and the news is never all bad."

Students were urged to look for opportunity — to "do everything you can to see the things that are worth seeing. Look up — do your best — be thankful for those who make education possible," he suggested.

Announced as honor students for the school year that closes May 29, Principal Martin named Lawrence Wright as the senior class top boy student. Named as salutatorian was Stacy Willingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Butch Willingham, and as valedictorian was Janice Woolley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Woolley. Their grade point averages were given as Wright 95.63, Willingham 96.02 and Woolley 96.14.

Sipe And Clement Are Awarded Scholarship

The Cisco Service Club has announced that the Sue Witzsche Memorial Scholarship for the fall of 1987 will be given to Sampty Sipe and Ladonna Clements. La Donna and Sampty were the recipients of the scholarship for the fall of 1986, but a spokesperson for the Service Club said that both girls have outstanding academic qualities and they will both be honored again this year.

time in the business office at the college.

Sampty is the 19-year old daughter of Carolyn and Buddy Sipe and is a Wrangler Belle at Cisco Junior College. She went to Mexico this year with the CJC Wrangler Belles and Band to march in a parade last March.

The Sue Witzsche Memorial Scholarship was originated by Cisco Service Club members in memory and honor of club member Sue Witzsche. The scholarships are awarded at the end of each school year and is offered to deserving Cisco women.

Hilton Center To Sponsor Flower Show June 6-7

On the weekend of June 6-7 the Hilton Community Center will sponsor a "People's Flower Show" in the upstairs lobby. It is being named "People's" flower show because it will not follow usual guidelines established by garden clubs, and winning entries will be chosen by visitors, not judges.

Entries will be accepted between 9 and 11 a.m. Saturday, and viewing and voting will take place between 1 and 5 p.m. on that day, June 6. Entrants should be prepared to pick up their flowers and containers before 5 p.m. on Sunday, June 7.

There will be four categories:

1. Single blossom in simple container (clear glass jar or bottle).
2. Single blossom in a complimenting container (vase, glass, etc.)
3. An arrangement in any type of container.
4. An arrangement with a theme (example: flowers in a teacup or coffee mug on a placemat with matching napkin in a napkin ring).

No plants will be accepted for display due to the difficulty of handling. All flowers must be homegrown, although the entrant does not have to be the grower.

Each participant's entry will be given a number, so the entrant's identity will not be known to viewer-voters.

Prizes for the winner in each division have been made possible by the following generous Cisco businesses: Thornton's Feed Mill (gift certificate for gardening supplies), Western Auto (gift certificate), Olney Savings (clock) and First National Bank ($50 savings bond).

For more information please call Mrs. Emma Watts at 442-3478 or Mrs. Jo Ann Cermin at 442-3200.

the rules set forth in the 1913-1914 catalogue were:

- 2) Church attendance mandatory
- 3) All faculty members required to live in the dormitories
- 4) Meals in the dining hall were supervised and quite formal
- 5) Boys and girls were not allowed to converse except when rules were suspended on weekends.
- 6) An evening bell signalled students to repair to their room and engage in study until lights out
- 7) Chapel attendance was mandatory, and boys and girls sat on opposite sides of the auditorium

Another section in the catalogue in speaking of the location of the school in an inland town assured that there were "no dives, no pool halls, and none of the temptations of a railroad town."

Following the resignation of Mr. Peters in 1915, J. W. Hawkins served as president through 1916, and L. E. Rattan was the president during the 1916-1917 school term. These men were faced with wartime conditions and a greatly reduced enrollment as more and more young men went into military service. By 1917 the enrollment was so depleted that the Academy was forced to close. Its fourteen years of service to the educational and cultural environment of the Big Country stand as a monument to the early inhabitants of Scranton. From the halls of the institution came young people with high ideals and adequate preparatory training to pursue careers in medicine, law, education, or any occupation which they might choose. It would not be fitting to close this history of Scranton Academy without naming some of its "founding fathers" who gave so generously of their time and means. The following names appear on the early Board of Trustees: G. W. Bailey, F. G. Boyd, A. P. Brown, W. D. Clinton, W. T. Gattis, E. B. Lane, J. J. Ray, W. T. Rutherford, A. M. Sprawls, J. R. Sprawls, and John L. Woods. Later

Scranton Schools Through WWI

By EVELYN BAILEY

After Scranton Academy lost O. C. Britton to Cisco in 1909, W. W. Griffin assumed the presidency at Scranton, remaining only during the 1909-1910 school term. Fortunately, the Reverend S. P. Collins, a highly educated Presbyterian minister who was already on the Academy faculty, agreed to take the presidency. In this capacity he did a great service to the school in having a private water system installed on campus; but an even greater contribution came from his able administration and from the moral and spiritual influence he exerted on school and community. He headed the school for two years (1910-1912) before ill health forced him to resign.

Scranton was again extremely fortunate in being able to attract high calibre administrators when J. Temple Peters accepted the offer made to him by the Scranton Academy Board of Trustees. Mr. Peters was one of the foremost educators of that era, having served eleven successful years as superintendent of Ranger schools before moving to Cisco as principal of Britton Training School. At Britton he had been responsible for affiliating the school's science department with the University of Texas, which was the accrediting agency at that time. As at Britton, his first step on accepting the Scranton Academy presidency was to install a modern science laboratory and add courses to the science curriculum. The library collection was enhanced with new volumes and teaching aids, and a fine athletic program which required that every student be enrolled in physical culture was put into operation. Under the tutelage of Mr. Peters, Scranton Academy reached its zenith. Not only did it excel academically, but an outgrowth of the athletic program produced a men's basketball team which posted a 28-0 record for the season and continued recognition when on June 3, 1971, a historical marker was dedicated to the memory of this team and installed on the old Academy campus.

The curriculum developed under Mr. Peters was superior, and requirements for graduation were rigid. All subjects offered were affiliated with the University of Texas. The number of courses offered included:

- 4 courses in English grammar and literature
- 1 course in prose composition
- 5 courses in history (Ancient, Medieval, American, English, Current)
- 5 courses in math (Arithmetic, Algebra, Plane and Solid Geometry, Trigonometry)
- 4 courses in Latin
- 5 courses in Science (Physiology, Physiography, Physics, Chemistry, and Physical Culture)

The Fine Arts Department offered individual instruction in violin, voice, expression, oratory, debate, art, piano (with four practice pianos available), and wind instruments, with class instruction in brass band.

A thorough Teacher Training Program prepared prospective teachers for the State Exams for First and Second Grade Teaching Certificates. The Academy enjoyed the reputation it accrued from the high percentage of its graduates which passed the exam.

Tuition was charged according to grade level; it ranged from $1.25 to $2.50 per month for the grades, $3.00 to $3.50 for high school, and $4.00 per month for individual instruction in any of the Fine Arts.

Historical Society To Meet Tuesday

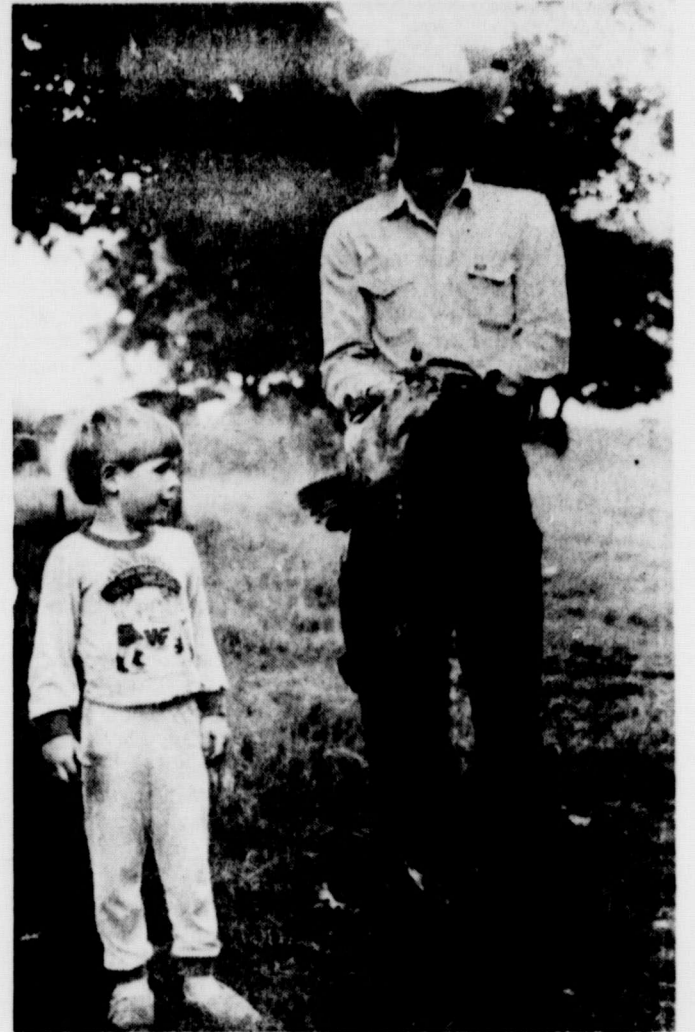

The May meeting of the Cisco Historical Society will be conducted in the Community Room of the First National Bank on Tuesday, May 26, at 7:30 p.m. Chairman Ayres Cermin will preside over the meeting.

In announcing the meeting, President Cermin stressed its importance. It is extremely important, he noted, that all members of the Society be present to hear the report concerning the hotdog booth at the Folkie Festival, to share in making plans for summer projects and activities, and to have an input into a decision concerning the summer schedule of meetings.

Trustees included J. P. Laverde, W. E. Bradshaw, T. E. Payne, M. D., and J. T. Cook. Doubtless there were many others whose names did not come to light. Lending them their total support were the loyal residents of the entire community. We salute them all for having accomplished what few other communities would not have dared to attempt. A Texas Historical Association marker commemorating Scranton Academy and its founders stands at the entry way to the old campus.

BIG CATCH- Gary Starkey is shown holding a 35-lb. yellow catfish he caught last week in a stock tank on his property south of Cisco. He caught the fish on a trot line. He said that he had checked on the trot line a couple of times and the hooks would be bent straight out and he saw the fish in the water once. So he placed a large hook on the line and caught the big fish. Shown in the picture with Gary is his 4-year old son, Bryan.

Nutrition Program

Three lifestyle factors create high blood pressure for the average American.

Obesity has been found to be clearly related to high blood pressure and weight reduction is recommended for all obese parties with high blood pressure. Another factor is high sodium intake. Moderate sodium restrictions have been recommended for all persons with high blood pressure. A third factor is heavy alcohol consumption. I have been found that alcohol is often difficult to achieve control of high blood pressure.

Why don't you come to the Senior Center on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and have your blood pressure taken, and then participate in a wholesome luncheon.

The programs for the past week included: CJC Drama Dept. presenting a short preview of the dinner theatre program "I Do, I Do." Clint Collom introduced Glenda Young and Bill Austin, Jr. They sang and Susan Wester accompanied at the piano. The Garden Club decorated the center with beautiful wild flowers from the members' yards. Kathryn Cole is the Garden Club president. The 45th anniversary for Louise and Elvis Nelms was honored. The Nelms served ice cream and cake to the members. Thelma Tickner was honored on her birthday. Birthday cake and ice cream was furnished by a friend. Dinner music was provided by Celia Shackelford, Lois Holder and Ima Thompson. The AARP held their regular meeting and a film entitled "The Eyes Have It" was shown.

The menus for the coming week will be:

Monday- This is a holiday. We will be closed.

Wednesday- Beef with rice casserole, three bean salad, collard greens, tapioca with fruit cocktail, rolls, butter and milk.

Thursday- Pork with gravy, apple sauce, potatoes au gratin, mustard greens, pineapple cheese salad, gingerbread, roll, butter and milk.

Friday- Chicken and corn casserole, peas and carrots, cucumber onion salad, cherry cobbler, roll, butter and milk.

A VISITOR IN Cisco last Tuesday was the Rev. Ronnie Bostick, who recently returned home after a tour of duty in Uganda and Kenya, Africa, where he worked as a Baptist missionary. Rev. Bostick is awaiting the completion of paper work before reporting for a new assignment -- this time to Australia. He will open a new area of church work there and serve as a pastor as well as do missionary work.

Ronnie grew up in the Nimrod community and is a graduate of Cisco High School where he was a Lobo football star. He and family have been living in Abilene since their return from Africa.

ALL PERSONNEL employed by the Cisco Public Schools, including teachers, administrators, clerical, maintenance and the like, will gather at the Cisco Country Club at 5 p.m. Tuesday, May 26, for their annual golf tournament and hamburger supper.

Plans call for the school folks to play in a scramble tournament that Principal Jim Puryear of Junior High is engineering. Hamburgers will be ready for one and all when the golf tourney ends. Chefs will include Rev. and Mrs. Buddy Sipe, Scott and Mary Bailey and Rev. and Mrs. Bill Chambers (she teaches typing at CHS and he's pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ranger).

A similar golf-hamburger party was held last year and, we were told, it was a howling success.

THE FLAG AT the Cisco Post Office was flying at half-mast Wednesday as a tribute to the men who lost their lives in the Navy Ship Stark tragedy. Postmaster Wiley Cox reported that the tribute would continue for a week. Mr. Bobby Ingram of the post office staff tells us that his doctor is recommending surgery on a knee that has been giving him trouble. Summer vacation plans for Mrs. Gus Smothers and daughter Shelly call for them to tour Europe.

MR. DIZZY DEAN of our town was a bit surprised when he picked up an advertisement put out by Bill's store, the new Cisco business. Among the items advertised was "Dizzy Dean Charcoal" for outdoor cooking. Cisco's Dizzy recalled that some years ago when his cousin, Dizzy Dean pitched for St. Louis and later did radio broadcasts of baseball games, he endorsed a brand of charcoal. And he was surprised that it's still being sold.

Yep, Diz went down to Bill's and bought a couple of bags. And he'll be cooking outdoors with genuine Dizzy Dean Charcoal.

president of Howard Payne University, is known on his school's Brownwood campus as "the popcorn man." He has a commercial type popcorn popper at his president's home and frequently fires it up and serves bags of popcorn to students.

As the speaker at the Cisco High School academic awards banquet here Tuesday night, Dr. Newberry announced that on the back of somebody's chair was the letter "U." And that meant a bag of popcorn for the person sitting in it.

The chair was occupied by Miss Amy Hawkins, one of the student honorees. And the bag was the size of a large trash can liner and it was full of delicious popcorn -- probably enough to feed her whole freshman class.

MRS. MIKE Anderson, who recently took over as a new member of the board of trustees of the Cisco Public Schools, was one of the seven board members present at the Tuesday night school banquet. Other trustees (veterans on the board) were reminding her of the several other meetings that trustees were expected to attend during the past and coming week.

And before Mrs. Anderson could say anything, she was reminded "you asked for the job -- you ran for office."

Everybody smiled and so did she. Attending events like the awards banquet, band concerts and baccalaureates can seem like chores but they're usually interesting and rewarding. And we'll bet Mrs. MA enjoys attending them and that she'll do a fine job as a trustee.

YOUNG LAWRENCE WRIGHT, the senior boy with the highest grade point average, won more awards than any other student for academic excellence, school officials said. The youngster lives at the Boys Ranch northwest of town. He was a member of the Lobo football team and won all-district recognition as a defensive lineman and as a running back. Lawrence told us that if he doesn't go to college he'll either enter the Air Force or the Marine Corps. But he does good anywhere he goes.

MR. BUDDY SHARP, who has been named athletic director and head football coach at Cisco High School next school year, spent the past week at the school. He was meeting school officials and teachers and students, including prospective members of the 1988 grid eleven.

Mr. Sharp, who was a guest at the Lions Club at noon Wednesday, said the offense system he will use will depend on the players. As a veteran coach, Mr. Sharp knows several systems and the type of men it takes to make them work. He said he was looking forward to next fall.

Before moving to Cisco, Mr. Sharp told us that he needs to sell a house in Clarendon and obtain a residence in Cisco. And he hopes to accomplish this soon. Mr. Sharp reported that his late grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Newton and that they lived in Cisco several years while Mr. CCN worked for the old Humble Pipe Line Company.

DR. AND MRS. Clark Odum of Dallas were to be honored at the First National Bank's community room from 3 to 5 p.m. Saturday, May 23, at a reception that has been arranged by his big brother, Olin Odum and his missus.

Clark grew up here and is a graduate of the UofT Medical School in San Antonio. He is a specialist in surgery with offices in Dallas. Old friends have been invited to attend the open house.

BENNIE NICHOLS and Mary Ann Perry of Cisco won first place in the championship flight of the couple's golf tournament at the Clyde-Baird Shady Oaks Country Club last weekend. They shot a 64 best ball the first day and came back with a 65 on Sunday for a one-shot victory.

Steve Williams of Albany and Susan Watts of Cisco won second place in the first flight. Also representing Cisco in the tourney were Robbie and Flo Robinson and Major and Dorothy Farnsworth. Bennie planned to play in the individual 3-day tournament at Breckenridge Country Club this Memorial Day weekend.

FIRST UNITED Methodist church folks began a series of summer third Wednesday socials on May 20th. The socials are at 6 p.m. gathering between the church and tennis court. And the Methodists are holding a "bakeless" bake sale this month. Mary Bob Leveridge visited last weekend at Waco at Stilwell Teacher Retirement Home with her sister, Miss Louise Snoddy, who is recovering after suffering a broken left arm recently. Mrs. John McGuire planned to leave this weekend for a 10-day visit with their daughter Charlotte in Flagstaff, Arizona. Mrs. Janice Latham of Midland visited her mother, Mrs. Lois Holder, here last weekend. The City Council will hold a regular meeting Tuesday night. And Neighbor Jones says that freedom is the right to be wrong -- not the right to do wrong.

"National Fishing Week - June 1-7"

In celebration of one of our oldest and most loved sports, June 1-7 has been declared National Fishing Week by President Reagan. All across the nation organizations and individuals will be observing this event. This week is a perfect chance to invite a child or a friend to go with you to soak up some of that good time past time, "fishing".

Locally, in celebration of this event the Eastland County Bass Club will be on hand at the Wal-Mart store in Eastland. Wal-Mart will be running many specials to fill your outdoor need. And the local bassers will be glad to assist in any tackle picks or if you have a question these gentlemen will attempt to answer them. So make plans to drop in June 1-7 at Wal-Mart on your way out to the water holes.

Your fishing line can mean the difference between a bragging catch and the old story of the one that got away. There are many types of line now available. And it seems we are seeing more lines designed for specific tasks. High visibility, low visibility, ultra sensitive, extra strong high abrasive and the list goes on. But the bottom line is old line of any type can cost you. When we say old, one has to consider many factors. How long has this line been exposed to heat, sunlight, and of course how many trips has it made to the lake and been cast into possible abrasion causing cover.

As a general rule one can take the line in question in hand and give it a good strong pull. Also visually inspect your line's first few feet for knicks, cuts and color change. All these can indicate worn line.

A second largemouth bass in the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Share a Lone Star Lunker program has spawned at the department's Tyler Fish Hatchery.

Hatchery Superintendent David Campbell said a 15.94-pound fish which was the seventh entry in the program spawned April 20 after receiving hormone injections. About a week later, some 10,000 to 12,000 fry were stocked in a rearing pond. Also during April, a 13-pound bass spawned successfully and produced a like number of fry.

Share a Lone Star Lunker is a program that allows anglers to loan 13-pound-plus bass to the department's hatchery program. In turn, the fishermen can receive fiberglass replicas of their fish, provided by the program's corporate sponsors, Cajun Boats, Lone Star Brewery and Jungle Labs, Inc. Offspring of the big fish will be subjected to experiments to determine if they possess qualities for growth seen in their parents.

Don't forget June 1-7 National Fishing Week, let's all make that supreme sacrifice and take time off to go fishing.

Poet's Corner

GOING HOME

As morning breaks the amber sky
And the clouds of night roll away

We praise the Lord for the night of rest
And the start of a new day.

As we travel down the pathway of life
Through heartaches, troubles and tears

May we ever turn our eyes to the Lord

For guidance through all the years.

As we come to the cross roads of life

And we don't know which way to turn

If we kneel in prayer, Jesus will meet us there

Not my will, but thine be done.

As evening is come and our work is done

We close our eyes in rest
Jesus will say "welcome home"

To peace and happiness.

B & W Clinic Offers Medical

Approach To Weight Loss

A new dietary approach to obesity is being offered by the medical staff of B&W Clinic in Eastland, Texas. This is a program primarily at those individuals who are 40 lbs. or more over their ideal body weight. This approach to weight management is a lengthy and intensive program that provides a minimum of 520 calories per day and 150% of the recommended daily allowance for vitamins and minerals, including adequate calcium, potassium, carbohydrates and complete protein.

The physicians at B&W Clinic have been able to see first hand the successful results of this program. Patsy, the wife of Dr. B.B. Alexander has lost 81 lbs. and has maintained her weight loss for seven months. She will be an active member of the group of health care specialists who are bringing this program to our area. She is eager to share her experience with her friends and neighbors.

Patsy Alexander was born in Eastland. She was educated in the Eastland school system. She has had a weight problem most of her life and remembers taking her first dietary lunch to Eastland High School when she was a Freshman. That first diet, with lunch in a brown bag, began a long history of losing and gaining weight. She would diet and lose a few pounds only to gain it back plus an extra pound or two. Over a period of many years it became more difficult to lose weight. She continually promised herself she would lose weight and not gain it back only to be met with dismal failure. She tried every commercial weight loss program on the market. She read many how to books on the subject and tried every diet anyone recommended. By the time she was introduced to the medically supervised supplemented fast she was 80 lbs. overweight. "I felt this was my last chance to control my weight. I knew the consequences and health risks of obesity. I knew I was 68% more likely to die of a heart attack or suffer a stroke or develop several diseases that would be a direct result of being overweight," says the registered nurse.

She began the weight loss program at the clinic in Fort Worth May 13, 1986. She continued this program through out last summer and reached goal weight October 24, 1986. She says she never felt better. She has a slow, healthy, athletic heart race and has a cholesterol level of now below normal.

She has learned to utilize new lifestyle change that has enabled her to keep the weight she lost off permanently. She walks 3 or 4 miles per day or rides an exercise bike. She has also learned she doesn't have to give up the foods she loves to keep her weight under control. She has made simple changes in her choices of foods and estimates she is keeping off half of the 81 lbs. by switching to diet soft drinks. She also limits her intake of red meat which not only reduces the number of daily calories she takes in but also keeps her cholesterol at a normal level.

Patsy firmly believes that the behavioral/educational sessions and maintenance phase of the program are the primary aspects which attributed to her success. A word of wisdom and encouragement to those who would like to join a weight loss program: the medically supervised supplemented fast is not just a diet to lose weight; anyone can do this. Keeping it off is the trick, and that is where this program works.

The first orientation to this successful weight management program will be held June 2nd at 7:00 p.m. at the Eastland Memorial Hospital Conference Room, 304 S.

Daugherty, Eastland TX. Those interested are urged to attend this free orientation. If you plan to attend, please call 629-1744.

Worley-Hatcher Wed In Ceremony

Miss Hazel Lavelle Worley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Worley Jr. of 500 West 8th Street, Cisco, became the bride of Cliff Hatcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hatcher of Flatwood on Friday, May 15, 1987.

The Cisco Church of Christ was the scene for the 7 p.m. ceremony with Jim Hatcher, father of the bridegroom, officiating.

Decorations for the occasion featured an archway flanked with greenery and red roses. A staircase candelabra on each side of the archway held white candles. Green fern was also placed on each side of the archway.

Wedding songs were sung by Eris Ritchie, Annita Ritchie, Mary Parks, Caryon Garrett, Gene Kinser, Rusty McLeskey, James Deadman, and Tami Roberts. Selections included "Just You and I," "If," "Annie's Song," "Wedding Song," "The Bridal Chorus," and "God Bless You Go with God."

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was attired in a silk-faced satin gown featuring a Sabrina neckline. The nylon tulle bodice was enhanced with lace appliques and pearls. The puff sleeves were capped by frills of permanent pleated satin ruffles. The full skirt, bordered in wide, embroidered dacron organza lace, fell from the dropped V waistline, sweeping into a cathedral length train. Secured by a bow in midskirt was a wide ruffle of permanent pleated satin.

The bride wore a headpiece of pearls and flowers with a short veil. She carried a drop bouquet of white flowers accented with red and white roses with sea pearls.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who was wearing a black tuxedo, white shirt and white boutonniere.

Stacy Pope of Cisco was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Kim Leonard of Abilene and Christy Hatcher of Flatwood.

Trace Worley of Cisco, Donnie Worley of Early, Joey Worley of Rochelle and Roy Worley of Cisco, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Amber Hatcher of Houston, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a long red satin dress similar to the bridesmaids' dresses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Worley chose an ivory floor length dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy crepe-de-chine dress with red cummerbund. Their corsages were of red roses accented by baby's breath.

A 1986 graduate of Cisco High School, the bride completed one year at Cisco Junior College. Her husband, a 1986 graduate of Cisco High School, attended Marine Corps boot camp at San Diego, Ca. Upon graduation of boot camp, he underwent further technical training at Camp Lejeune, N.C. He will be attending Texas Tech University in Lubbock on a NROTC scholarship awarded by the Marine Corps.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Attending the bride's table were Kay Scott and Robin Ritchie of Cisco and Frances Chamness of Granbury. Presiding at the bridegroom's table were Michelle Leonard of Abilene and Renea Worley of Rochelle.

The bride's table was covered with a red cloth with a white lace overlay. Large white bows at each corner accented the table which also held a silver candelabra and the bride's bouquet.

The three tiered wedding cake was white with red roses and was topped with a ceramic musical bride and bridegroom. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl. Nuts and mints were also served.

The bridegroom's table was also laid with red cloth with white lace overlay and centered with a brass heart and candelabra. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service. His chocolate cake was decorated with white icing trimmed in red.

The register table was attended by Jamie Roberts of Cisco. The table was laid with a red satin cloth. A white feather-pen stood beside the bride's book.

For going away, the bride chose a pink and white dress with a large white collar.

After a wedding trip to Fort Worth, the couple will live in Lubbock where both will attend Texas Tech University.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at Henson's Restaurant.

The PEOPLE'S FORUM

Opinions expressed here do not necessarily reflect the opinions of this newspaper.

I've Been Wrong Before

by Gordon S. Clark

I don't think there have ever been any wanted posters out on me. However, if I keep telling people what I think of Calif. those gopher eaters may put out some NOT WANTED posters.

Bluntly saying what you think can be hazardous but then again you are less likely to be misunderstood, misquoted or simply missed.

One day as I sat at my desk in a state job a client asked, "How do you guys get soft, white collar jobs like you got?"

"Well," I said, "You have to pass a Merit System test and have your name selected from the top five available as indicated by the grade you made. But in order to even be permitted to take the test you must have let college professors bore you to death for four years. Then, to get in that top five you can get ten extra points by having been in service. Another easy five points can be had just by being disabled in service like loss of a hand, eye or anything else you can spare and the recruiting station is right down the street any time you want to start qualifying."

I was there four years after that but never saw him again. I don't know whether he couldn't find the recruiting station or couldn't stand those college professors. Maybe he just wasn't genuinely serious about getting one of those "soft, white collar jobs" after all.

Another lad insisted that I could get him a "good" job if I really wanted to; was taken back when I pointed out that he had no education to cell having dropped out his freshman year of high school, never had discipline of service, never held any job over three weeks nor learned a trade. I asked him to tell me exactly what he had to sell that a man who had worked to get in business would want to pay his hard earned money for?

He looked shocked and departed but returned next day to inform me that he would take anything I offered including the short term construction labor I had the previous day. So strongly had he made a bad impression on me that I made it a point to ask employers on follow-up calls how that one did. They all said about the same thing. Either they hired him in spite of his previous bad work or others had warned that hiring him was an error but surprisingly he had made a real hand.

On the day I had nothing at all to offer I asked him to talk a bit. What did he want to be or to do? He hadn't even thought of it. What then did he like to do?

When he expressed an affinity for working on his old car and those of neighbors I asked if he wanted to be a mechanic. Having settled that I gave him first shot at a job in an auto store where he installed batteries, alternators, etc.

For exactly a year I heard nothing from him. Then the phone rang and he informed me that it was an anniversary or birthday of sorts. He had stuck to it one year. Then this one whom others at the office held in derision showed insight which surprised me greatly. He stated first that he had learned all he could there. Second, he stated that he could not move up into management because he lacked education. Third, he said that he wasn't even paying him every cent that work was worth. Then he asked if I might help him find something better.

Not long afterward I placed with him a contractor where he was to service equipment and when needed overhaul motors. When last I saw him he was trying to keep an old put-put working on a cement mixer. In reply to what was going at the office I told him that since the oil embargo jobs were scarce as hens teeth. He said that was exactly what he figured and told me he intended to hang on to what he had.

No credit please because I had no intention of straightening that one out. I confronted him with his undesirability that first day simply because the way he asked for a "good job" irritated me and I intended to "put him down."

Seldom does a harsh answer serve a good purpose. By sheer luck the time matched the opportunity. It might be that a friendly response would have done better in many cases where such sharp tongue has failed.

Does fortune smile on us more than than we smile on others?

Commissioners

Court Tuesday

Due to the Memorial Day Holiday the Eastland County Commissioners will hold their regular meeting on Tuesday, May 26 this week instead of on Monday.

The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the Commissioners Courtroom on the second floor of the Courthouse. A number of items are expected to be on the agenda.

TEXAS HEALTH NEWS AND VIEWS

By Roy Cartee

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, my friend is 87 years old, a widow, lives alone in a modest home that she shared with her husband until his death 10 years ago. His long illness depleted her financially and emotionally. Now she lives on $728 a month from his pension and social security and has only $2,200 in savings for emergencies for her own funeral expenses. Her only son was killed in an auto accident 12 years ago; her daughter-in-law has remarried and moved to Connecticut. Her doctor is concerned about her numerous severe health problems which often keep her in bed for days. He has strongly encouraged her to enter a local nursing home so she can receive the daily medical supervision and assistance she needs. Her monthly income falls $422 short per month, of the nursing home's charge of $1150.00, yet her income is too high for Medicaid eligibility. She can't pay for her own care yet is not financially qualified for government assistance. What can she do?

ANSWER: This problem is so common that 131,230 Texans like this lady fall under the same category. The nursing home costs are not going down so her problem there will continue. The biggest problem that faces this lady is yet to come. This session of the legislature wants to lower the figure, to become eligible for Medicaid, to $609 for 1987 and $509 for 1988. This means anyone receiving income greater than the $609 or $509 will not be eligible for Medicaid. The estimate that 9000 of the presently qualified Medicaid people would have to leave the nursing home. The Texas "CAP" is so far below the maximum federal allowable that we have the distinct privilege of being the only state in the union having people like the lady described above. The legislature is not meeting the responsibility of these elderly people and those concerned should contact their legislator.

If you have questions to ask Mr. Roy Cartee, Associate State Coordinator for AARP, write to Eastland Telegram, P.O. Box 29, Eastland, TX 76448.

May Is National Better

Hearing And Speech Month

May is National Better Speech and Hearing Month.

17.4 million Americans are hearing impaired. One-third of the American population 65 years or older have some type of hearing impairment.

Jay Holland, director of Audiology Department at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center said, "Here at the Center, we are most concerned with the types of hearing impairments. Why are they a serious problem? How do the impairments affect the patient's life? And who are the qualified professionals to be sought for treatment?"

Hearing impairment can involve a loss of hearing or hearing sensitivity, usually when there is an inability to hear speech or sounds loudly enough.

It can involve an inability to understand or discriminate speech or sounds. This occurs when speech or sounds appear loud enough, but they are distorted or not clearly understood.

Impairment of auditory perception is another type. Understanding the meaning of speech or sounds is impaired even though speech is loud enough and can be heard clearly.

Hearing impairment is a serious problem. If the ability to communicate is affected by hearing impairment, a person may become isolated from family, friends and society. Emotion stability may be affected by making the impaired person feel left out of communicative situations.

"The WTRC is one of the largest providers of audiological services in the southwest," said Holland. "Last year the Center admitted 1,724 patients into the administration; Tommy Keith Simmons, BS, Physical Education; and Lois Faye Jacoby*, BSW, Social Work.

Rising Star: Brenda Catherine Stokes Ezzell, ADN, Nursing.

audiology department."

The Audiology Department is staffed with six licensed audiologists. They are qualified in the identification, assessment, habilitation, rehabilitation and prevention of communication disorders associated with hearing impairment.

The audiologists at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center specialize in the selection, fitting, and dispensing of appropriate hearing aids for all residents of the Southwest.

The department is committed to serve three primary objectives: To identify individuals with potential hearing impairments. To assist the medical community in the diagnosis of hearing impairments. To furnish patients who have a hearing impairment with the communicative tools necessary to offset the impairment to the most favorable degree; and to help them gain insight into their disability and related problems.

For more information about hearing impairments, please contact the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene or San Angelo.

THE CLASSIFIEDS

You May Leave It To Us -

...to see that your title index records are kept up to date for that has been our business for many years. The land owner who makes it a practice of bringing his abstract to us for an occasional check has found that it pays off in dollars and cents. A title has some characteristics of the human body in that it has to withstand the ravages of time. While time may cure some titles, it destroys many others. Don't neglect your title.

Texas Buckle-Up Week
May 18-25

Gordon Spot

By DeMarquis Gordon, County Agent—

This week, May 24-31, is Soil and Water Stewardship Week. The theme is "Help, Hope and Healing".

The application of soil and water conservation practices provide long-term solutions and the help, hope, and healing to bind the economic and resource wounds on the nation's farms and ranches.

Joining in participation of the observance will be the Extension Service in cooperation with the state's soil and water conservation districts, the Soil Conservation Service, ministers and congregations youth groups and others. Goal of the observance is to call attention to the importance of sound stewardship of soil and water resources.

Survival and welfare of agricultural producers and their land is a concern of food and fiber users. If you eat, you too, are involved in agriculture. Good soil and water conservation and utilization practices are a concern of everyone.

While the grain bins are now full and there is no shortage of fiber and building materials, we all need to be reminded of the serious loss that could result from damage to our basic natural resources - soil, water and air.

Kokomo News

Zelda Jordan

The rains came. One to four inches at a time in a short span of time, depending on where you were in the community, along with lots of thunder, lightning and high winds. We've received around five inches at our house since last Wednesday, and there was more north of us. Water was over the highway in several places through the community on Friday.

The rain has sure made the countryside very green and beautiful. And the gardens are looking good.

Woodrow and Helen Browning and Gary and Donna Gatlin rendered the special music at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning. Bro. and Mrs. Dale Cartwright and Michelle of Lipan and Gary and Donna Gatlin of Cleburne were visitors. Bro. Cartwright brought some wonderful messages from God's word throughout the week of revival and there was lots of good special music. A group from the Rock Bluff Baptist Church rendered the special music on Wednesday night; Ike Whitson of Carbon rendered the special music on Thursday night. Wanda and Michelle Cartwright, with their mother, Crystal, at the piano, rendered special music on Friday night; Helen and Woodrow Browning, Leona Wilson and Jimmy Little rendered the special music on Saturday night; and Leona, Helen and Woodrow rered the special music on Sunday night.

The youth enjoyed a weiner roast on Friday night following the services, and a covered dish luncheon was held in the fellowship hall following the Sunday morning services.

Mrs. J.C. Clearman and Mrs. Albert Hendricks visited with Bro. Joe O'Neal in the Humana Hospital in Abilene on Friday. Bro. Joe is feeling better and hopes to be home soon. Our prayers and get well wishes go out to him.

Mrs. J.C. Clearman spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Morgan at Friona. Mrs. Jamie Clearman of Ovalo accompanied her to Hereford for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Lookinbill. They all attended a bridal shower for Krystal Scott, birde elect of Keith Clearman, in Dimmitt on Saturday. Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Clearman and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Clearman and Mrs. Lookinbill.

Mrs. Jessie McCafferty of Amarillo came home with her sister, Mrs. J.C. Clearman for a visit. The Clearmans and Mrs. McCafferty visited the Winters on Tuesday and another sister, Edna and Pete Sudduth. Edna came home with them for a visit.

Mrs. Albert Hendricks spent Friday night and Saturday in Clyde with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Buchanan and Kelly and Yancy.

Mrs. Willis Morrow of Levelland and her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Blakney of Lubbock attended the graduation of Sheri Blakney Warren from the Southwestern Theological Seminary at Fort Worth on Friday morning. Mrs. Willis Morrow, Mrs. Leonard Blakney and Sheri and Kelly Warren of Fort Worth visited during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Morrow and Mr. Earl Morrow. Sheri is the daughter of Mrs. Leonard Blakney and the granddaughter of Mrs. Willis Morrow and a niece of Mrs. J.L. Morrow and Earl Morrow. Our congratulations to Sheri.

Services at the Kokomo Baptist Church will be dismissed on Sunday night, May 24th for the baccalaureate services for the Gorman High School graduating class.

Congratulations to all the graduates and especially to those from Kokomo: Mike Snider, Glenn Burgess and Lowell Wilson of Stephenville.

Mr. Neil Eaves is very seriously ill in the Hendricks Medical Center in Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. D.F. Eaves and Mrs. Verna Laminack of Lake Jackson have been going to Abilene to be with him and his wife Verda Jean. We send prayers and get well wishes to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hallmark and Amy, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mikeska, Lee Vi, Shane and Sheyenne and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Braddock of San Angelo attended the Hallmark reunion in Eastland during the weekend and also visited with Mrs. Dora Garrett. Mrs. Garrett went home with them for a visit until Wednesday.

We didn't get to Abilene on Saturday night to see our grandson, Joe Miles, race in the stock car at the Abilene Speedway, but he placed 5th in his heat and 1st in the B

Feature Race. Although he didn't race on May 9th because of attending a Junior-Senior Prom at Merkel, he still is in second place of the season's standings. Our granddaughter, Sheri Miles, was the "Trophy Girl" on Saturday night and presented the trophy to the winner of the Sprint Car Trophy Dash.

Another grandson, Robert

Miles, of Abilene drove his first race car in the stree stock races at the Abilene Speedway on Saturday night. Though he didn't win any races, it was a thrilling experience for him.

D.C. and Barbara Bell returned to their home in Denver City on Sunday after spending last week with her sister and brother-in-law, Zelda and Glenn Jordan.

Area News Briefs

RANGER
The Ranger Chamber of Commerce will meet Tuesday, May 26 at 7 p.m. in the Ranger Room. All citizens are invited to attend. Come out and support an organization which is working so hard for this area.

The Citizens For Good Government organization has presented three $100 scholarships to high school seniors who plan to attend Ranger Junior College. These applicants, Billy Grumbles, Toni Cherry and David Cherry attended the last CFGG meeting at the Community Clubhouse, and were interviewed as to their High School achievements and future plans. Who could choose between these three for the annual honor? The Club decided they were all worthy, selected to present each one a scholarship.

The Memorial Day Service next Sunday, May 24, is expected to be a very special event for the area. It will be held at Memorial Park on East Hiway 80, beginning with a barbeque at noon. Tickets for the meal will be $5 for adults and $3 for children under 12. At 2:30 p.m. the service will begin, with Congressman Charles Stenholm as speaker. County Judge Scott Bailey will introduce Stenholm. A number of veterans will also speak, telling of their war experiences and how they feel about their country. There will be band music, and the Texas Flag ceremony by veterans and their families. This should be a very special day at Memorial Park.

Sha King of the Ranger High School Boys Track Team won Second in the State at Austin last Saturday in the 800M Run. His time (unofficial) was 49.73. It has been 21 years since any of the High School teams have brought back a medal from Austin, so excitement was high in Ranger. When Sha, his Coach Tom Roach and Tim Sharp, state alternate in pole vaulting, arrived back in Ranger Sunday they found a big welcome. They were escorted into town with a fire truck, and quite a parade of cars followed. The caravan stopped at the school, where congratulations were in order.

EASTLAND
Billy Stults of Weatherford, a truck driver for Proctor's Plantland, rescued Patrolman Don Walls from a burning car after an accident on West Main St. in Eastland Wednesday. Walls was reportedly eastbound on West Main about 9:45 a.m. in pursuit of another motorist when a car pulled in front of him. He then lost control of his own car and struck a pump at the West Side Mobil Service Station. The front right side of the car flared on impact, witnesses said, and the door of the driver's side of the patrol car jammed. Stults ran across the street, opened the back door on the Patrolman's car and dragged him out. The officer suffered a broken left collarbone.

The Siebert Elementary Sweepstakes Choir (Sixth Grade) will give a concert Monday night, 7 p.m. at the Eastland High School Auditorium. Davine Jeffcoat, Music teacher, will direct the group. About 50 students, in costume, are expected to participate. This is the group which won 1 in Concert and 1 in Sight Reading in competition at Cisco Junior College this spring. The public is invited to come out and enjoy the music of these gifted young people.

Houston sculptor Ann Armstrong will be teaching in Eastland the week of May 24 to 29. There are a few openings still available in the class, and details may be learned by calling Mary Ann McCloud at 629-1598. Although maintaining a studio in Houston, Ms. Armstrong travels extensively to do portrait commissions from personal sittings as well as teaching workshops. Her media includes stoneware sculptures and oil paintings in addition to her work in bronze.

The Eastland Jaycees announce their upcoming sponsorship of the Old Tyme American Circus, which will be held Tuesday, May 26 and Wednesday, May 27. Performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, and 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday. The location will be at the lot next to Maverick Stadium in Eastland. Advance prices are $5 for adults and $3 for children. Tickets at the gate will be $6 for adults and $4 for children. Advance tickets are available at Ken's Motorcycle Shop at 411 East Main in Eastland, or at The Eastland Telegram, 215 S.

Seaman. You may also purchase advance tickets from any Eastland Jaycee member.

The Eastland Maverick Track Team placed 4th in the State during some stiff competition at the meet in Austin last weekend. The Team, consisting of Clyde Wilson, Raiford Rattan, Matthew Housson and Jason Rattan, scored 36 points. Three new school records were established along the way, as the Mavericks competed to the best of their ability. This has been the most successful track season in Maverick history, and the win in Austin was the culmination of these efforts.

CISCO
A number of end-of-school events are being held in Cisco this weekend. The annual Lobo Band Spring Concert was held at the High School auditorium Thursday night, under the direction of Wayne White. The Friday night Sports Banquet was held at the Corral Room at the Laguna Hotel, with Oscar's Barbeque catering the event. Doyle Walker was Master of Ceremonies, and program highlights included the announcing of awards for boys and girls track, basketball, boys football, tennis and golf. The baccalaureate services for the senior class of Cisco High School will be held at 8 p.m., Sunday, May 24 at Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium at Cisco Junior College. The Rev. Bruce Stovall, school board president, will be the speaker.

Most of the Christmas In May Project has been postponed for two weeks due to rain, according to Chamber of Commerce Manager Don Shepard. One of four projects was carried out last Saturday, since it was indoor work. The next work day was set for Saturday, May 30. Workers are to meet at Traditions Restaurant on East I-20 to complete all the projects.

A pulpit committee has been elected by the congregation of the First Baptist Church to seek a successor to the Rev. Harry Garvin, who has resigned as the Church's pastor. Named to the Committee were Delbert Schaefer, Steve Thomas, Jim Puryear, George Owens, and Bill Philpott. Vernon Orr was named an alternate member. Pastor Garvin resigned effective June 15 after serving the church for more than a year. He plans to return to the mission field in Africa.

The Cisco High School Class of 1957 is holding their 30 yr. Class Reunion at the Mobley-Hilton this Saturday, May 23. The first meeting will be at 3 p.m., with a short business meeting followed by a visitation and fellowship time. At about 6-6:30 p.m. the class will go to the Puttin' On The Ritz Restaurant for dinner. After dinner the group will return to the Mobley, where Roy Thackerson will entertain his classmates with fiddle music. At 9 p.m. a party and dance will conclude the day's activities. Local class members are asked to meet at the Mobley at 10 a.m. to help set up.

Cisco Junior College Begins Summer Season

Cisco Junior College kicks off its 1987 Summer Dinner Theatre season, "Romance is in the Air", with the musical comedy I Do, I Do. Written by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt, I Do, I Do traces 50 years of married life between a man and woman. It begins with their wedding night and continues through their 50th anniversary as they move out of their home.

Performing in this production are two local business people: Bill Austin of Cisco, owner of Austin's Furniture Company, plays Michael, the husband. Mr. Austin has been seen in many Cisco Junior College productions including Fiddler on the Roof, Sherlock Holmes, and A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum.

Glenda Young, from Beauty-Talley Travel of Eastland, is the sweet, innocent bride who evolves into a sophisticated lady. Ms. Young has been active in educational, professional and repertory theatre around the United States. Her credits include appearing in Hello Dolly!, Guys n Dolls and Dining Room.

Producing the play will be Carol Brown of Cisco Junior College Drama Department. She says: "There are moments of laughter, of photos and of sweetness that all family members will enjoy."

Susan Wester will direct the music. Assisting her on drums will be Frank Spangler and Elizabeth Webb on the synthesizer.

Clint Cotton of Abilene will be stage manager and Beulah Cummins of Anson will be the lighting technician.

Eastland Manor News

The last two weeks have been a lot of work but lots of fun! Our 1st Annual Mother's Day Bar-B-Que was a great success and kicked off National Nursing Home Week. A great deal of thanks goes to our administrator, Terry Drake, who stayed up all night cooking the meet, sauce and beans.

This week we added a cooking class and an outing to Pizza Inn to our regular weekly Bingo and Bible Bingo games.

Tuesday night Al Anderson will be here to perform and to accept his award for Volunteer Group of the Year.

The rest of the month I will be working on our volunteer program for the summer. If you think you would like to do something worthwhile for yourself and others this summer, give me a call at 629-2686. REMEMBER, with their parents permission, kids will be welcomed to our volunteer program.

Lights From The Christian World

Josephine Cleveland

James Spruce in his writing comments, "There is a success theology" aboard today that stems from the view that being a Christian means you'll have plenty of money if you give God plenty. Some say, "You don't have any problems - you just need more faith." These statements are misleading because they do not follow the whole of scripture.

True, Jesus promises that He will supply all of our needs according to His riches in glory and we can depend on this. Faith is important if we wish to receive an answer to our prayers. But let us know that God's will supersedes all of this.

There must always be a negative to have a positive. Our lives need to be balanced. True contentment stems from automatically result in fame and fortune.

1 Timothy 6:6, 9, 10 tells us that "Godliness with contentment is great gain. People who want to get rich fall into temptation and a trap and into many foolish and harmful desires that plunge men into ruin and destruction. For the LOVE OF MONEY is the root of all kinds of evil. The luxuries that are known only by the wealthy often cause those who have less to thirst for the same. Often this leads to excessive debt, sleepless nights and a destructive life style.

Friend, let us find the joy of being content with less than we desire if needs be, since that, too, is sometimes the will of God. Let us see our circumstances as the place God has sent us for perhaps some humanly unseen reason. Let the God of contentment calm our shattered ways.

Homemaking Hints

From Janet Thomas, County Agent

Clean up your recipes! Sticking to a healthy diet is a matter of defensive cooking. Lots of recipes call for inordinate amounts of salt, sugar, and fats. But these are not essential components of delicious food, many dishes taste fine without them, or with less of them. Here are tips for turning old recipes to healthier purposes.

In place of salt, substitute single or mixed herbs (basil, dill, oregano, thyme, etc.), spices (cumin, chili powder, curry, especially paprika), lemon juice, lime juice, or a combination of these.

In place of sugar, half the amount called for in a recipe.

In place of whole milk, cream or sour cream, use skim milk, low fat or no-fat yogurt, or low-fat cottage cheese, pureed in a blender with a little lemon juice.

In place of a whole egg, use 2 egg whites.

Instead of butter, use non-stick pan (for cooking), soft margarine or vegetable oil, herbs and lemon juice for seasoning vegetables.

Butter and salt on popcorn, you can use a dash of onion powder or other spices.

In place of oil-based marinades, use herb-flavored vinegar, white or red wine, lemon juice, well-seasoned broth, or low-salt soy sauce.

Happy eating in a healthy way!
