Pageant To Be Held

The annual 4th of July activities are being planned and entries into the Little Miss Cisco pageant are being invited. The pageant will be held at the City Park at 7 p.m. July 4th.

The Cisco Chamber of Commerce hopes to make this event bigger and better each year, with participation from the merchants and business community. The winners in their division will be presented with awards and ribbons will be given to the participants. Later in the season a Miss Teen Cisco pageant will be scheduled, with the anticipation of being eligible for other important and promotional pageants. We en-

There's a new editor at the Callahan County Newspaper office in Baird. Her name is Shirley Rorie. I've been driving over to Baird last week to help her and her new assistant, Debbie Smedley, and I really do like them.

Mrs. Rorie and her husband Joe, have two children, Jeff. 17. (who went to the state play-offs in golf this year) and Jennifer, 7. They live between Clyde and Baird on Rt. One.

Shirley is a native of DeLeon where she graduated from high school. Mr. Rorie is a Greyhound Bus Driver. Mrs. Smedley and her husband Noah live in Baird. They have two children, Chrissy, 13, and Danny 10.

She has lived in Baird since childhood and she finished school there, and attended Cisco Junior College.

Baird will begin work on a lollipop factory that will begin operation in September. It will be located by "Grumbies" on Market Street. They will manufacture "advertising lollipops" and sell them to businesses across the state and nation.

The citizens of Baird were all very friendly and I really enjoyed working over there.

Two young men and a young woman from West Germany are traveling by car from the East coast to the West coast and are camping out at night in a tent. They spent Thursday night at Bo and Edith McMillan's place at Harrell Hill.

Mrs. W.M. (Velma) Joyner called the Press last week. She said that a Century Plant in her yard at 307 East 7th, is blooming. According to folklore, the plants are suppose to bloom only once every 100 years.

Gina Kinser Wins State Championship Title

Gina Kinser, pictured above, 16-year old daughter of Gene and Rhonda Kinser of Cisco, competed in the Miss Majorette of Texas Pageant which was held June 12-14 in Greenville and wa named third runner-up in her division of the pageant.

The division of the pageant in which Gina competed was the Beginner Division, age 16-20. Each participant in the pageant competed in modeling, solo twirling, and X-Strut. The Miss Majorette of Texas Pageant is sponsored by the National Baton Twirling Association. In addition to the pageant, other state competition by category was conducted. These categories were divided in novice, beginner, intermediate, and advanced divisions. Gina also competed in the Novice Division, age 16, of these events and won the State Championship Title in both her solo twirling competition and her X-Strut competition.

Gina is a twirler in the Cisco High School Band and will be a senior this fall. After graduation, Gina hopes to be able to continue her twirling at the college level.

Two new projects, recently adopted by the Cisco Historical Society, will be discussed and planned by the members of the Society attending the monthly meeting on Tuesday, July 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of First National Bank.

The first project, of interest to the entire Cisco community, involves the Society's museum at the Mobley Hotel and the possibility of displaying memorabilia of famous personages associated with Cisco and its history. The list of such famous people would include Actor Duncan Renaldo, the "Cisco Kid" of the movies, baseball pitcher Dizzy Dean, Dash Croft, etc.

Three policemen suffered minor injuries and their police car had damages amounting to some $750 after they spent nearly an hour Tuesday night subduing and jailing a man they arrested in Cisco on a disorderly conduct charge.

Danny Dale Gosnell, 28, of Cisco was in the county jail Friday under $75,000 bond on three cases of aggravated assault. The bond was set by Justice of the Peace R.G. Lyerla at Eastland.

Dale Smith, Cisco police investigator, reported that police received a call from a citizen at 9:20 p.m. Tuesday who reported that Gosnell was causing trouble at 9th and Hilton. Officers Frank Thumsuden and Kenneth Preston answered the call and encountered an apparently enraged Gosnell.

Preston was bitten on an arm and Thumsuden received a kick on a knee as they sought to arrest the man. Larry Weikel, the third officer, was not injured. The three policemen placed Gosnell in the police car and scuffling continued. The car had a broken window, dented fender and damaged door.

The police radio was banged so hard that officers were unable to control its broadcast frequency. Police said that people with scanners were treated to colorful language as they drove to the jail.

At the jail, DPS Trooper Robert Ralls had a head injury after being butted by Gosnell. Thumsuden, Preston and Ralls were given emergency treatment at the Eastland Memorial Hospital. Their injuries were not serious.

Policeman Smith said damages to the police car were estimated at about $500 and they expected the radio repairs might cost $250.

District Attorney Emory Walton said that the case would be presented to the next grand jury. He added that Gosnell had been paroled to Eastland County last September after serving time for burglary and, he added, the parole could be revoked as a result of the Tuesday night escapade.

RESCISSION OF PSD PER-

Union Texas Products Corporation, 1300 Post Oak Boulevard, Houston, Texas 77252-2120 submitted a request for rescission of Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) Permit PSD-TX-368M-1 issued by the Environmental Protection Agency on March 2, 1981, and modified on March 18, 1983. The permit was originally issued to El Paso Hydrocarbon Products for the modification of a gas processing plant located near FM Road 2526, approximately 7 miles southwest of Cisco, Eastland County, Texas. Union Texas Products Corporation acquired this facility on October 1, 1986. The request for rescission was submitted pursuant to Part 52.21(w) of the Regulations of Prevention of Significant Deterioration on Air Quality as amended August 7, 1980.

The emission sources installed according to permit PSD-TX-368 and its modification PSD-TX-368M-1, have been permanently shut down and removed. Therefore, the Environmental Protection Agency has determined that a PSD permit is no longer required for the referenced facility as specified in PSD-TX-368M-1 and is giving notice that is has rescinded the permit. Each of us have so many freedoms that we take for granted, never realizing they are privileges not all individuals enjoy.

Most of us agree that a valuable privilege is our right to privacy. There are times when one just needs to be alone, for whatever reasons, and have the solitude that only privacy can provide. Where do people in group living units go for privacy? How do you have your room all to yourself when you share it with someone else? People placed in the institutional environment forfeit privacy by

Have you ever stopped to think how much control you have over your life and environment? If you want to eat at 4:00 p.m., you can go to the kitchen and fix something. If you want to bathe in the morning instead of at night, you do. Whatever you wish to do with each day is based upon your needs and your decisions. People in institutions cannot have these controls. Facilities have to run on schedules with meals, baths, activities, etc. occuring at specific times. The institutionalized person is no longer able to control their day. They live in a prescheduled environment dictated by the institution's needs and staff schedules.

Loss of independence is another tragedy that occurs when an individual becomes institutionalized. Whether by choice or environment, a person has to rely on staff to provide many of the basics that individuals living on their own handle for themselves. Institutionalized people are not free to come and go as they please. They may have to wear uniforms or have their clothes selected for them. The loss of independence parallels the loss of choice and control.

Ultimately, when the above mentioned abilities are forfeited, the individual may decrease or totally lose their own self-esteem. It is difficult to feel about one's self when you do nothing or can exert no controls to feel good about. In order to build self-esteem, one has to be able to maintain a sense of importance or value to their environment.

Northview recognizes the potential for these losses and provides the means for our clients to attain the highest level of independence in spite of the fact they are institutionalized. Though schedules are a way of life that can't be avoided, each client participates in the meeting held annually that will establish their schedule for the coming year. A client

Mary Ziehr Reviews 'Up The German Road'

Mary Handrick Ziehr (seated), author of "Up the German Road," at her recent autograph party with Ruth Schaefer Stewart (1) and Freda Stroebel Weiser (r). Both Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Weiser are lineal discendants of original settlers on "The German Road."

Mary Handrick Ziehr led members and guests of the Cisco Writers' Club "Up the German Road' at an unusual autograph party for her in the Community Room of Cisco's First National Bank.

The German Road south of Cisco strung settlers, like beads on a necklace, along its length. Many descendants of the original pioneers still live on this land.

Primarily meant as a brief church history, "Up the German Road" will find a ready audience with every descendant of the families Ziehr deals with in recording the organization of the Lutheran Church in this area.

The book lists the families of Wilhelm Eifert, Adolph Reich, Henry Stroebel, William Stroebel, O.P. Weiser, Daniel Wende, and Wilhelm Ziehr. Sixty-nine children of these settlers are listed in family rosters at the end of Mary Handrick Ziehr's book. (Family genealogists, take note!)

In the informal discussion following the author's comments on the motivation for writing the book, Otto Urban, pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, surprised Mary with the information that her bookk will be used at Abilene in the Missouri Synod's recognition of the hundredth year of the Lutheran Church in The Big Country.

The pioneers of whom Mary Ziehr wrote are chiefly of Wendish descent. They did not represent a large segment of Germany's population, so this factual book is a valuable reference work for individuals as well a piece in the mosaic of church history.

"Up the German Road" is the twenty-fifth published book authored by members of the Cisco Writers' Club. This includes "Piecework," a collection of stories, poems, and articles by club members.

Lela Latch Lloyd registered guests for the autograph party. Alma Dun-ning and Nadine Stephans, representatives from church and families recorded in the book presided at the refreshment table which was accented with an arrangement of the author's favorite flowers-shasta daisies

Mary Ziehr's daughters, Nancy and Carol, were present, and Nancy expressed their appreciation for their mother's recognition of a gap in history and her work to fill that gap.

Glasgow's Speech Hailed As

Highlight Of Legislative Oratory

The Houston Chronicle in its June 2nd edition hailed Senator Bob Glasgow's (D-Stephenville) speech against the bill to deregulate AT&T Communications as the "Best Speech" of the 70th Regular Session.

Glasgow described the deregulation measure as "the No. 1 worst bill I've seen in the Legislature...You tell me someone who has told you this is a good bill besides a lobbyist.

AT&T officials had spent thousands of dollars in its massive lobbying efforts to deregulate the major provider of long-distance telephone service system in Maynard Wins Graham No folks its not a misprint!

Tommy Maynard swept a field of 15 eager anglers who attend the E.C.B.C. tournament at Lake Graham. We're not sure after talking to Mr. Maynard exactly where, what type of cover, or type of bait used in this win. And what a win 13.22 pounds 1st place. Tommy also had big bass for the day a nice 3.51 lunker. 2nd place James Fullen 5.97 and 3rd Steve Pennington 3.66. Congratulations to these gentlemen and the other 12 entries, just beating the days severe heat was winning. The first "Operation Share A Lone Star Lunker" program has been pronounced a success by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department of-

make the Callahan County Star everything it can be.

Aubrey Loper, Callahan County Crusade Chairman for the American Cancer Society, reports a total of $3,141.23 raised during the 1987 residential campaign. This represents 90 percent of the $3,500 goal set by the Callahan County Unit. Volunteers attempted to contact all households during this drive, but any that were missed are invited to contribute and raise the total on up. Contributions may be left at the First National Bank, Baird, or Peoples State Bank at Clyde.

AWillie Nelson Concert - Feeding The Five Thousand

By Viola Payne

I have been asked if I enjoyed the Willie Nelson concert West of San Angelo on June 7. This question rates more than a simple answer.

Actually I didn't go to the outdoor benefit just to hear Willie sing, although I'll admit that idea crossed my mind. But I had learned that Dale Stewart, Cisco sculptor, was going to present his bronze bust of the singer to him at 7 p.m. that Even a non-artist such as myself could tell that this was a magnificent piece. What a great bunch of pictures the presentation would make for the Eastland County Newspapers, I thought. Several other Eastland County art and music lovers decided to attend the concert, with some planning to take pictures. Among them were Jim Davidson and Mark Snyder of Eastland, Johnny Hargrave of Cisco, my son Marvin Payne, and Tim and Sherri Webb of Nimrod.

Mr. H.V. O'Brien armed us with proper letters, badges, and other press identification. Without this we would have gotten nowhere near to the concert

When Tim, Sherri, Marvin and I reached the San Angelo Mertzon highway that afternoon we knew we were on the right road to the concert. An unusual amount of DPS Troopers and law officers were patroling this stretch of road. Big pickups full of men wearing ranch clothing sped by Sherri's pretty little yellow car. Several of them were soon pulled over by the patrols

We were suprised when we found no billboards advertising Willie Nelson Day and this concert. Then, about 20 miles out, a small sign said simply "concert", with an arrow pointing left on a dirt road. This road was faily decent for awhile, then it reached a beautiful creek with high water running swiftly across the spillway. Sherri's car almost hit high center on the rough con-

Just as we decided few people would ever find the place, we reached a valley which rose to the West. Cars of every description were stirring around the entrance or parked in a field. A bright tapestry of humans was in front of a huge stage some distance away.

We came to an entrance manned by people with badges and Willie Nelson T-shirts. All appeared less than impressed by anything resembling a Press Card. They sent us down an obscure road to a "security shack" to get "cleared"

Naturally we turned down the wrong road, and wandered along a shady stream of water to a private home. Luckily no one was around, and the big dog at the door didn't try to bite Marvin or Tim.

The "security shack" turned out to be two pickups parked in the brush along a set of ruts. But the people there were friendly, and seemed to understand the word "press". They gave us each a badge saying "Willie Nelson Day Crew." It promised "all access" to the event. They also stamped something in red ink on our right hands.

This identification got us past the first check point, and into the parking area. There was still a long walk up the hill to the scene of ac-

There were indications along the way that this wasn't exactly your typical church picnic. The gathering had more of a carnival atmosphere, with souvenirs for sale and beer cans gleaming in the sun.

A good band was playing, but the crowd didn't seem really excited. These backup musicians were apparently there just to pacify the people until Willie Nelson ar-

We were let past a gate into the backstage area, where about a hundred people were sitting in lawn chairs or milling around. Tim and Marvin set out to find Dale Stewart, and Sherri and I stopped at a rope which circled around the back of the stage.

Jim Davidson walked through this area, reporting that he had made some good pictures from the stage. Dale Stewart materialized, saying that Willie's bus should be here any minute. Soon there was a commotion as a huge vehicle named "Horeysuckle Rose" circled two other buses behind the stage. I noted its tinted windows and psycadelic decorations, and also that a group of people were chasing it. A number of Security Officers converged on the spot.

I learned the Stewart's bronze bust of Willie would be presented to the singer inside this private bus. I realized it was going to be difficult to get inside "Honeysuckle Rose" for a picture, but decided to hang around hopefully. I followed closely behind Dale Stewart as he carried the heavy bronze.

Jim Davidson was near the bus door. I thought I saw Marvin and Tim trying to work through a group of people near the back side of the Right then two tall fellows who looked like frontier scouts ahead of a wagon train converged on me. I felt like a lone squaw in enemy territory

"You get out of here!" They said in unison.

"But I'm from the Eastland County Newspapers." I pleaded. I fished out my identification. "Please, fellows, I'm covering a special story.

"You get behind that rope over there," they said, and preceded to escort me to the spot.

There was a brief moment of respite when another guard ran hastily to me, call-"Are you Willie Nelson's sister?"

'No," I answered weakly As I went under the rope, a tightly packed crowd gave me enough room to stand. This group, consisting mostly of women, was on the north side of the stage. Most

I muttered a general apology, and they just nodded back sympathetically. A dark-haired girl said softly: "I just want to touch him. I just want to touch Willie

But I don't want to touch him," I stammered. "I just want one picture." I realized that no one heard what I said.

The music on the stage was slowing, and the crowd was beginning to chant for "Willie". Dale Stewart was still on the bus, and Marvin was lurking near the door. Jim Davidson was standing (hiding?) near a barrel beside pillars supporting the Marvin spotted me and hurried across the open space. "What are you doing over here?" he asked.

"I'd like to know that myself," I replied. "How do you rate staying over

He grabbed my camera, saying he wanted to take some black-and-white pictures with his colored slides.

Dale Stewart came out of the bus, and I decided it was time to make a break for the sacred truf beyond the rope before I got caught in a stampeed toward Willie. Nobody stopped me, but about that time dear old Honeysuckle Rose moved forward. Obviously I moved

The bus stopped at a flight of stairs backstage. As the door came open, Willie Nelson was circcled by guards, and it looked to me like one of their main interests in life was mob control. A crowd of people, most apparently news media personnel, surrounded the

Willie made it up the stairway so fast that I only caught a glimpse of his back. Marvin emerged from the scramble, announcing that he had a picture of Willie coming off the bus. Jim Davision also emerged, and headed for some high spot near the stage.

I had a bright idea that I would slip up on the stage with some of the other people I saw going there. But a character built like a wrestler was standing near the stairway I went to.

"The Press gets outta here," he informed me. "I haven't heard that since the Eastland County Courthouse," I murmered. Back in the restricted area I saw Marvin, Tim and Sherri, who were talking over their various adventures. Then they fanned out to hear Willie's concert and get some more pictures. Willie had his hair in braids this time, with a red bandanna across his forehead. He was dressed in black clothing, with a red, white and blue guitar strap. He played his old Martin guitar.

I know I have read too many history books - and looked at too many old paintings. But as I looked at Nelson I could not shake off the impression of a tribal chieftan from ancient times in the British Isles. His voice, too, seemed to belong to the ages - resonant, stront, strangely compelling.

The people backstage were in a relaxed mood, with some drinking beer from coolers. I heard rumors of free beer somewhere, but did not try to verify that.

One of my reasons for not drinking beer was very practical. I understood that any alcohol a person consumes kills a certain quota of brain cells. I did not feel that I had any of those cells to spare.

As I visited with the people, I found them very accomodating. When wondered how many people about 5,000 were scattered down the hill, at the admission price of $10 each. Some of the spectators, I found, were from the Austin area. They had followed over into the General Admission area. He reported that

Willie up here, and would follow him anywhere else he wanted to go. About that time Marvin walked up with a puzzled expression and asked me:

Mother, why are you wandering around interviewing drunks?

I assured him these people were not drunk!

The songs from Willie and his fine band covered the hillside - bringing a big response from the crowd. Some were the old tunes, like Blue Eyes Crying In the Rain", or "Don't Let Your Babies Grow Up To Be Cowboys". Others, like "Spanish Angels", were the newer type. All had Nelson's special dynamics and expression.

When Willie's concert was almost over Tim, Sherri, Marvin and I started walking toward the car, wanting to get down the road before the traffic picked up. The DPS had their work cut out for them - no doubt about it.

As we walked past the main crowd a young man threw a can full of beer on the stage. It missed Willie's head, but burst with a loud noise as it hit something

Security guards nabbed two youths and took them to one side. Willie called from the stage and let them go, 'let it be.'

About that time he began to sing sacred songs. To me there was something unreal about the strains of

"Amazing Grace" and

"Unclouded Day" in this atmosphere.

Then I saw that the people were listening raptly caught in the spirit of those great old songs. I suddenly understood that they were wanting something - why else would they sit in the dust of this hot hillside?

Some probably just wanted to enjoy the ballads, but maybe others wanted to learn how to be human - how to feel. Or maybe to fill a big empty spot in their lives.

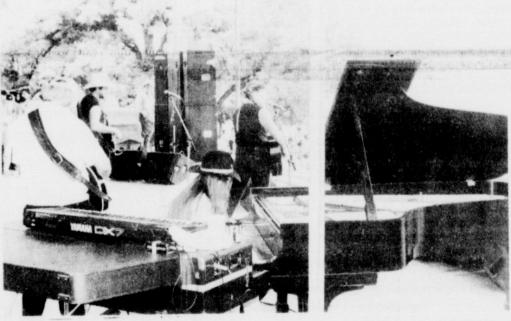

On the way back to Eastland County Tim, Sherri, Marvin and I talked about life in general, music, and the concert. We began to congratulate ourselves on not being famous.

Tim said he thought his next Willie Nelson Concert would be an indoor one. Then someone asked me when I was going to another one.

"I tell you what -" I said 'If I had my wish - I would like to see Willie Nelson sit down in a living room without one mike around - he doesn't need them. Then I would like to hear him sing just for enjoyment like I play the violin, Tim sings and Marvin plays the guitar.

Sheri Mangum - James Johnson

Mr. Robert Mangum of Eastland and Ms. Ginger Mangum of Ruidoso, N.M. are proud to announce the marriage of their daughter Sheri Lyn to James Leslie Johnson, son of Mr. James Johnson and the late Mrs. Berta Johnson.

The double ring ceremony was held at the First United Methodist Church in Eastland with Gaylon Nelms officiating. the church was decorated with one fifteencandle arch candelabra in the center and a nine-candle spiral candelabra on each side. the candelabras were decorated with greenery and pink silk roses. The candles were lighted by Stacey Parrott, of Wichita Falls and Keith Parrott, of Stephenville, cousins of the Bride. The unity candle was at the left of the alter in a brass stand accented with greenery and pink silk roses

There were three songs sang during the ceremony 'To Me", and "I Love You So", "Just You and I", and after the couple were united, the "Wedding Prayer" was sang and the unity candle was lite by the couple. The pianoist and solist was Patti Asher, of Breckenridge.

The couple was given in marriage by their parents. The Bride chose a gown of white crystalline organza, satin and Alencon and Schif-

A lot of women are so afraid of breast cancer they won't practice breast self-examination or ask 'heir doctor about a mammogram. And that's what frightens me. Take it from someone who's been through it all: Life is just too wonderful to give up on. But to enjoy it, you do have to give up being afraid to take care of yourself.

I've Been Wrong Before

by Gordon S. Clark It seems that when we raised turkeys that every time one got injured or showed a spot of blood the rest ganged up and pecked or rode them to death.

Of course the shark and many other varieties of life do the same. Now we see the same tendency in people and government

Take Jim Bakker and his PTI. Club for example. While they built up vast holdings in property and businesses the IRS didn't seem to know they existed. Now the wounded Jim & Tammy are in for it. Never mind that the wounds were most self inflicted, their hopes of recovery are definitely blighted by IRS.

Remember Joe Lewis the prize fighter? He made vast sums for somebody but died with the IRS claiming so much of his late earnings that he had just enough to live on. The claimed income taxes, penalties, and interest were so great as to be beyond any chance of ever being paid off. Such might well be the fate of the Bak-

Somehow I doubt the appeal of, "Send me your sacrificial gift for the IRS will call me home." Contributions might pour in to pay off the contractors, the TV stations, or supposedly to feed the hungry children in Africa but to pay off the IRS? I doubt it.

BUT what might the IRS decision have to do with my readers? Simply this: If you contributed to Jim & Tammy those "charitable" deductions might be thrown out as not legitimate in some future audit. DON'T WORRY.

If offer this advice not as law because not being a lawyer I could be prosecuted. However, I don't think tax advisers are so regulated so here 'tis.

If they try to claim the contributions did not go for church then they certainly did not go for what you in-

Therefore I would advise you to file an amended return claiming that those contributions were obtained fraudulently and are uninsured and unrecoverable loss due to fradulent business activity. As uninsured loss they certainly should be deductable. The very ruling by IRS that the money was not spent as solicited should shut them out on claims against you.

It might not be law but it . me reason. Je to: But I've seen wrong before as I keep reminding you. It might at least be worth a try. Anything beats rolling over and playing dead the first time somebody tries to get into your pocket.

Outlook

By Roy V. Cartee QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, I hear so much talk about "catastrophic insurance" What is it and how much will it help the elderly? Will it help pay for nursing home

ANSWER: The Reagan Administration presented this thought in the 1986 State of the Union Address. The problem would concern the care dilemma that totally exhausts the savings and earnings of an elderly, such as alzhedimer's disease. The real question is how helpful would these proposals be. According to some figures only 800,000 of 33 million Medicare beneficiaries would benefit. Very few feel that the coverage is a bad idea, but we must ask the question...is this a smoke screen to prevent from helping the payment of nursing home care. 5 or 6 major insurance companies are considering the type of coverage, but the premiums may be worse than the 'ailment'

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, do we have any skilled nursing home facilities in this section of the state?

ANSWER: As of June 15, 1987, the Graham Memorial will have a 6 bed skilled nursing arrangement in the hospital. It must be remembered, to be eligible you must have been in the hospital for at least 3 days. You may then transfer to the skilled nursing facility for a maximum of 20 days with Medicare reimbursement. The hospital also has a respite service. This enables those who may need around the clock health care, but not be eligible for Medicare or Medicaid, to enter the hospital on a short duration. Respite care is not reimbursed by Medicare. I would suggest you call 442-3951 for more details.

QUESTION: What should I do if I think my health care provider is billing Medicare for services I did not ANSWER: You may call the fraud and abuse hotline, toll-free at: 1-800-638-5779. You may also send your complaint in writing to: Health and Human services, Office of the Inspector General, Hot Line, P.O. Box 17303, Baltimore, MD 21203-7303.

You may want Mr. Cartee to address a question. If so, write c/o The Eastland Telegram, P.O. Box 29, Eastland, Tx 76448

Cisco Senior Class To Sponsor Dance

The Senior Class of Cisco High School, in cooperation with Senior Class parents, is sponsoring a 4th of July Eastland County and area high school dance on Saturday, July 4th, at the Corral Room (the old Laguna Hotel at 400 N. Conrad Hilton Ave., next door to First National Bank) from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

This dance is for high school students only. Disc Jockey L&L Light & Sound will provide music for the dance, and admission will be $3.00 per person. Soft drinks will be available.

Cisco has an active group of parents, Parents for Teens, who has sponsored monthly parties for Cisco High School students for the past two years. Senior Class parents who work with Parents for Teens will serve as chaperones, in addition to other interested Senior parents, or parents from other classes. Parents from all surrounding towns are also invited to help chaperone.

Definite rules have been established for high school students, as follows:

1. Only high school students will be allowed to attend the dance. 2. Students may leave the dance at any time, however, once a student leaves, they may not return.

3. No drugs or alcohol will be allowed.

According 'spokesparent' for the Senior Class, "High school parents should be assured that the dance will be well chaperoned, and our definite rules will be followed. Please feel secure in allowing your teenager to attend our dance, and feel free to join us if you can.

For further information, please call 442-1080, 442-3113,

It wasn't really predicted but the thunderstorm arrived here Wednesay night

At 10 p.m. there was a line of dark clouds sitting across Jones, Haskell, and part of Taylor County.

Then, in a classic S.E. flow, the clouds rolled into Eastland County at midnight. They were accompanied by wind, thunder, and brilliant displays of lighten-ing.

The rainfall varied from one quick shower in Ranger to .19 inch at Ron Bailey's guage in Eastland, on to 1 inch at Cisco, 1.8 at Union Center, heavy rains in the Rising Star area and 1 inch in Kokomo.

High winds blew down several trees in Cisco, telephone lines at several places, hay grazer in some fields, and knocked down two Comanche County Co-Op Utility poles near Rising Star.

It was the lightening, however, that kept most people awake about two hours, and caused the most

A bolt of lightening made a direct hit on a pole of the Texas Electric transmission line 5 miles north of Eastland. This happened at 12:09 a.m., according to Mike Kiser, division enginner for the company. It knocked out the power to Eastland until the fault could be isolated and power redirected. Electricity was restored to Eastland at 12:30 a.m. Crewmen finished repairing the transmission line at 5 a.m. Thursday mor-

At Cisco the fire department was called out during the when lightening hit a 210 barrel fiberglass oil storage tank at a well south of the old tile plant on Highway 80. It made a spectacular blaze, and the tank was completely burned up.

Dog Dip

The Eastland County 4-H Council is sponsoring a dog flea and tick dip on Saturday, June 27th from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. It will take place on the parking lot of Ace Hardware, main street in Eastland. This dog dip is free to the public. The 4-H members are accepting $1.00 donations for the giveaway of a Char-broil Gas Grill, donated by Ace Hardware. The grill has double burners with adjustable dual controls and adjustable meat rack. It is very sturdy, made of heavy aluminum housing and retails at $150.00. Bring your dogs for a free dip and let the 4-H club members rid your animals of those nasty pests!

Gordon Spot

By DeMarquis Gordon, County Agent-

The large number of calls we received last week indicate that the bag worms and webworms are very ac-

Bagworms are destructive pests of many evergreens and deciduous shrubs and trees. The young worms or caterpillars construct a small tapered bag of silk-like material and attach to it pieces of bark and foliage.

The bagworm protrudes its head and front feet from the bag as it moves about the plant feeding but will withdraw into the bag when disturbed. In late summer the bag is attached to a branch and the mature caterpillar pupates within the bag. The feeding worms, when infestation is heavy, will remove the foliage and bark from all parts of a tree or shrub, resulting in the death of the plant or heavily damaged parts.

The worms are easier to control when they are young and control measures should be applied as soon as possible. Bagworm control is difficult and not as effective as the larvae matures and close their bags. Use insecticides containing either carbaryl (Seven) chlorpyrifos (Dursban), trichlorfon (Dylox), Diazinon, acephate (Orthene), Bacillus thuringiensis, or Malathion. Be sure to use spray equipment that gives complete coverage of all foliage.

A number of other caterpillars are feeding on green leaves now. These include webworms, tent caterpillars and walnut caterpillars.

Control is about the same for all the leaf eaters and is much more effective when worms are small. Any of the insecticides listed for bagworms are also effective for the control of these leaf caterpillars. eating Thoroughly spray the leaves, twigs, limbs, and tree trunks. Large infested trees may require treatment with big commercial applicators with high-pressure sprayers. Always read and follow carefully the instructions on the container label. Pecan trees look better than they have in many years, especially the native trees. The rainfall that they received last fall and continuing into the spring in most areas has really stimulated heavy growth on many of these trees. At this time, the freeze damage to both native and planted orchards appears to be minimal. Some trees have a good set of pecans while others have no pecans at all.

The pecan nut casebearer has been generally light in most cases. Some who do not spray had very little damage from insects. It appears that the leaf eating caterpillars may be more damaging than the casebearers.

REJECTED

There is an old, old story Thats told so long ago How a kind loving God Sent His Son tot he world

How we rejected Him The One that loves us so We placed a crown of thorns On His head And led Him down the road.

Oh how He must have loved

To suffer, bled and died On the crual cross of Calvary Our sins on ever side.

He's waiting for us today With both arms open wide Come unto Me all ye that are

Lights From The Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

My friend, Marge, has always been a fainter. She passes out at the first sight of blood. She fainted one time when she cut her finger.

Since she faints so easily, Marge is not much help in an emergency. When Marge was a teenager, she and her two friends, Beth and Jean, were riding their bicycles. As they turned a corner, Jean lost control of her bicycle and fell. Beth shouted for Marge to run for help. Instead, Marge fainted when she saw Jean lying still and unable to speak. Beth was left to handle both emergencies.

I was told that fainting is the result of a depression in the action of the heart. This can be caused by cold, weakness, pain, mental shock or fright. The blood is interrupted and temporary unconsciousness occurs.

Not many people suffer physical fainting as often as my friend, Marge—but in the body of Christ, His church, there are many "spiritual fainters." Proverbs 24:10 tells us that if "we faint in the day of adversity, our strength is small."

There is no need to faint when trouble comes into our lives. We are told that Jesus is a very present help in times of trouble. He will never leave or forsake us when we look to Him as our source of help. Many people have been renewed in their strength as they prayed. They discovered that they could "mount up with wings as eagles, run and not be weary, and walk and not faint." (Isaiah 40:31). Spiritual fainting is not necessary. Jesus is mineful of His children. Because He answers prayer, there is always a way to recover, Luke 18:1 tells us "men ought always to pray and not Please don't faint, friend-Pray and trust Him. Today, be assured that His helpfulness is adequate for

Helen Orr Speaks At Rotary Club

Progress in medicine and living standards has raised the life expectancy of Americans from about 50 to about 75 years in the past century, Administrator Helen Orr of E. L. Graham Memorial Hospital told the Cisco Rotary Club in a talk last Thursday noon at their weekly luncheon at the Ritz Restaurant.

Mrs. Orr, speaking on the subject of "Aging," told Rotarians that the health and expectancy progress could also be attributed in part to better health care programs, better medications, exercise programs and nutrition as well as to progress in medicine and hospital facilities and equip-

Rotarian Jerry Morgan served as program chair-man and introduced the speaker.

Guests were Christy Purvis of Cisco and Dr. David Sadowsky of Breckenridge. Next week's program will be a club assembly devoted to business matters.

People of Things

MR. STEVE Thomas, director of operations at the Eastland County Tax Appraisal office, was made aware this past week that he has passed an important milestone – his 40th birthday.

Steve and wife Brenda want out to the George Owens home on County Club Ridge last Monday late. As they entered, five or six couples surprised him by being there and singing "Happy 40th Birthday." Mrs. Owens did a bit of a solo number, singing the birthday song with a funeral type tune.

And when Steve went to his office in the courthouse next morning, a big sign on a stairway wall proclaimed: "Steve Thomas 40 Years old." What is more, Wife Brenda and Younsters Tiffany and Steve gave him a private birthday party at home complete with black balloons.

IF YOU'VE looked at the calendar, you already know that Sunday, June 21, is the first day of summer. And the heat of the past few days has been something more than a gentle reminder as it soared into the high 90s several days in a row.

The warm weather might have been what Mr. J.V. Heyser, the peace justice and gentleman rancher, has been needing to fire up his golf game. Playing at the Cisco County Club in 95-degree heat last Tuesday afternoon, Mr. JVH shot the lowest score of his lifetime—an even par 34 for nine holes!

Along the way, JV had two birdies and an eagle two. The duece came on the long (about 400 yards) No. 4 hole. His tee shot was about 250 yards and in the No. 5 fairway. From there, JV took an eight-iron and hit for the green. The ball landed five or six feet short and then rolled into the cup as JV and a couple of his buddies watched with mouths open.

SPEAKING OF golf, we can report that Cisco players brought home some bacon last weekend. Bob Bennie and Bennie Nichols and their two playing partners from Rising Star won the championship flight of the fourman team tournament at Pioneer.

What is more, the team of Rick Frazier, Tim Jones and David Johnson of Cisco and Dink Davis of Ranger JC won the first flight in the Pioneer (Lakewood) tournament ... Bob and Bennie and maybe some of the others are planning to play this weekend in the Lakeside Golf Club tournament at Eastland.

Lady Golfers Maryann
Perry and Dorothy Farnsworth won the first flight in the ladies golf tournament team championship at Baird golf course last weekend.
Lori Whatley of Cisco teamed up with Karen Martinson of Albany and they came in second in the first flight at Baird. And Lori won the prize for the longest drive there.

LET'S ALL HELP Mark Heidenheimer of Austin find his No. 7 golf iron, Playing at the Cisco Country Club last June 6th, Mark laid the club down beside a green while he putted. And he walked away without the club. It was gone when he went back to look for it – a Spaulding club with aluminum shaft.

If you have any clues as to its whereabouts, give Mark's dad Winston a call. Win feels that Mark will make a generous show of appreciation for return of the club.

IT WAS SORT of old home week at the Lake Buchanan cabin of the Butch Wilcoxes of Burnet last weekend. That's the report of Mrs. Linda Speegle Casbeer of Cisco. The Wilcoxes invited a group of their old Cisco High School buddies down for a big reunion.

Among folks Linda saw (She couldn't remember some of the ladies married names.) were Joe Tom Johnson of San Antonio, Clinton Pierce of Eastland, Bud Ainsworth of Arlington, Joyce Redwine Surles of Arlington, Fay Redwine of Colorado Springs, Rose Marie Mashburn of Dallas, James Stanley Webb of Austin, Judy and Bill Cozart of Cieco

Rodney and Barbara

Callaway of Cottonwood, Buddy and Linda Waters of Fort Worth, Bob and Sue Dolgener of Ruidoso, Jimmy Dolgener and wife, Jerry Slaughter and wife, Pat Meyer of Houston, Malcolm Green, Martin Green and Janet Green of Houston, Rex

Townsend of Fort Worth.

Jackie Reynolds of San Sabe, Peggy Hailey Martin of Abilene, Shirley Witte, Diane Davis of Waco, Jimmy Walker of Cisco, Jerry and Davene Jeffcoat of Cisco, Sonny and Jeanette McCrea of Dallas, Darlene Callaway Harrige of Fort Worth, Jack Qualls of San Antonio and Ronnie Edwards and wife of Eastland.

They enjoyed boating and fishing. There was a big fish fry. And everybody enjoyed talking and remembering their high school years.

THE CHS Class of 1947 is planning to hold its 40th reunion on July 4th in Cisco, reports Mr. Eddie Jackson of Garland ... Roommates Greg Sipe and Roger Davis of Cisco are spending the summer working in Waco and attending college at Baylor and McLennan JC, respectively ... The Rev. Ken Diehm, Methodist pastor, got in plenty of exercise this past week. He was at a youth camp and bicycle counsellor and led a group in riding something like 250 miles.

AT THE POST office the other morning, folks were surprised to see Mr. Stanley Pirtle as he gathered up his mail. He had a bandage around his head and under his chin.

"Is that you, Stanley?" he was asked.

Mr. SP explained that his doctor sent him to a Dallas specialist to have a place removed from his forehead and a bit of plastic surgery was required before the task was complete. And he was supposed to wear the bandage for a couple of days after getting back home. So he took it to work with him.

MR. EDDIE McMillan and son Bret went to Waco on Thursday to let Bret, a spring graduate at CHS, check on enrolling at TSI for a course as a flight engineer.

And we can report that Eddie is going for a record. He saw his doctor the other day and the medic put a foot down hard and announced "you've got to lose weight!" So ... Eddie says he has lost 5,000 pounds in the past two years and his doctor suggests that another 60 would be about right to slim Eddie down and let him set a record. Sixteen hundred calories a day is the limit allowed.

MRS. BILLY Kendall is due back at work at First National Bank in a week or so after undergoing surgery recently at Hendricks Hospital in Abilene ... Olin Odom, CJC director of admissions, and Marine Col. Oliver North of the Iran thing that's on television and in the papers a lot these days are lookalikes ... Planting peanuts can be hazardous to your health and well being, reports Mrs. Don (Janice) Shepard, CHS teacher. She helped Husband Don plant peanuts last week and has a pinched nerve that makes walking difficult.

MR. STEVE Hilton of the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation, Los Angeles, has sent Dale and Ruth Steward of Cisco a copy of the spring 1987 issue of HILTON TIME, a publication that goes to all of their hotels. And an item in the magazine follows:

"The Mobley's Back in Business — Conrad Hilton built his world-wide empire from modest beginnings. He bought his first hotel, the Mobley, in Cisco, Texas, back in 1919. Today, after a $1.2 million renovation funded by the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation, the Mobley's back in business — only this time as a community center.

"'It's very gratifying to see this historic location used for such worthwhile purposes,' said Steve Hilton, Conrad's grandson and a Foundation staff member. 'I know my grandfather would be extremely proud to see that the Mobley is once again an active part of the community,'

"The citizens of Cisco, who directed the rehabilitation project, have mapted the property into a multi-use park and facility. It now houses the local Chamber of Commerce, meeting rooms, seasonal non-profit dinner theater, and a museum dedicated to Conrad Hilton."

A picture of the Mobley appears with the article. Very nice, huh?

GUESS WE'D ALL better watch out for snakes in our high grass. Barney and Evelyn Wheat of 1208 Mancill killed a copperhead snake in their yard the other day ... Next Wednesday, June 24, will be another birthday for both Sterling and

Betty Fee Drumwright of

Mrs. Bobby (Beverly) Smith, who recently underwent surgery in Dallas, got home Wednesday and is doing nicely.

Tank Battery And Controls

Destroyed

A fiberglass tank battery and controls in East Cisco were destroyed in an explosion and fire that occurred shortly after midnight Wednesday as a thunderstorm moved across this region. The property was owned by Ed Barnett of Wichita Falls.

Cisco volunteer firemen took equipment to the fire scene but were unable to extinguish the blaze. The tank was used mostly to store salt water and residue from oil wells in this area.

Rainfall measured about half an inch in the Cisco area during the thunderstorm. High winds accompanied the storm but no damage was recorded, firemen said.

CRISP, CLEAN WATER can

Tips for staying cool ...

How to choose summertime drinks

"I'm thirsty!" That's a commonly heard refrain in hot weather when the body's air conditioning system runs on

Water beneficial

Your thirst mechanism may not be ad-equate to tell you what you need, so the best prevention is to drink plenty of wa-ter. Experts agree that water in its purest form fulfills our body's requirements like

Perriet. Its naturally sparkling refreshneut comes from one protected spring in Southern France.

Perrier is quickly absorbed into the body to replenish lost fluids, unlike sweetened soft drinks that the body can take one hour to absorb.

Caffeine dehydrates

And beware of the caffeine in coffee, orm fulfills our body's requirements like or other drink can.

For variety, enjoy a chilled glass of in many summer drinks.

TIPS ON TRIPS

Travelling abroad can be an exciting experience as you enjoy a new culture and explore new sites. However, if you break the law in a foreign country, it can ruin more than your vacation-it can ruin your life. The U.S. Dept. of State warns you that carrying an American passport won't prevent you from being arrested overseas if you break a local law. An American consular officer can't simply come and get you out of jail or pay your legal fees. All he or she can do is visit you, give you a list of local attorneys, and notify your family.

In 1986, 2,827 Americans were arrested in 101 foreign countries. At the end of the year, 1,388 were still in custody in 79 countries. Thirty-four percent of those arrests were for drug offenses.

Drug laws in most countries are stiffer than those in the United States. Even a small amount of a so-called "soft drug," such as marijuana, carries a stiff penalty in many countries. If you're caught, you may be faced with: interrogation: long pre-trial delays; mistreatment: solitary confinement; a lengthy trial in a foreign language; two years to life in prison; even the death penalty in a growing number of countries.

The most important thing to remember is: American citizens are subject to the laws of foreign countries they visit. It's your responsibility to know what the laws are and to respect them. Remember, you have your life, family, friends waiting for you when you come home from that exciting trip overseas. Don't jeopardize it all with drugs or other illegal activity.

CONSIDER: YOU MIGHT NEED BOAT INSURANCE

Boating season is in full swing and the Insurance Information Institute (I.1.1.) reminds all boat owners that insurance for their boats is equally as important as auto and home coverage.

Homeowner's insurance will provide only limited protection against theft, properly damage and personal injury. To ensure proper coverage for a boat, ask an insurance agent, broker or company rep-resentative for an endorsement to an existing homeowner's policy. The en-dorsement provides coverage for a stated number of perils.

numer of perits.

Boat owners should ask their insur-ance representatives about "Boatowner's Package" policies that combine physical damage, medical payments and liability

The LLL also suggests that boat owners inquire about discounts (up to 25 per-cent) for boaters who have completed

Cool summer treats help beat the heat

FAITH INITIALS THE REASONS YOU SHOULD HONOR YOUR FATHER

The F is for Father, whose upcoming day
Will remind you of what you should learn,
From the A, for anxiety he would display
When you'd given him cause for concern;
And a T, just for teaching you how to succeed,
For it helped you in getting along;
Plus an H, for the honesty taught by your creed,
To develop a character strong.
Now the E is each act of affection for you Ever since your existence began,
With an R, to recall all the homage that's due;
So remember your Dad while you can!

SUMMER ACTIVITIES CAN BE HAZARDOUS: CHECK INSURANCE

engage in a number of activities such as climbing, playing tag or swinging on door gym sets, all of which are fun outdoor gym sets, all but could be hazardous

Who is responsible if little Tommy falls out of a tree and breaks his leg, or if little Mary trips and fractures her arm? Whieser owns the property where the child is but may be hable to pay for med-ical costs and could be hable in a lawsuit

All homeowner's package policies provide liability protection against accidents on the premises. But homeowners should check the liability limits of their policies to be sure they are fully covered. They should discuss uncertainties with their agents, brokers or company representatives.

It is also a good idea to supervise chil-dren as much as possible to help present an accident before it can happen.

SUMMER JOBS COULD MEAN MORE THAN MONEY

Parents who allow their children to summer jobs on a regular basis could unknowingly be exposing them-selves to potential claims and lawsuits without the proper insurance coverage

Jobs such as babysitting, lawn cutting and newspaper delivery are common ways for young people to earn extra

However, if the minor performing the job were to injure someone or dama property, the results could be disastro An expensive lawsuit or medical cla property, the results could be disastrous. An expensive lawsuit or medical claim could result.

Any job held on a regular basis, like a newspaper route, will be considered by an insurance company to be a business venture and may not be covered on homeown parks, reduced.

homeowner's policies.

A homeowner would have to purchase additional coverage for the business activity unless the policy has a provision which includes the activity. Contact in-
