Families Will Pick-Up Food Dec. 22 From Cisco Goodfellows

Letters have been sent out to the families who will receive food from The Cisco Goodfellows this year. The families will pick up their food on Tuesday morning. December 22.

The Goodfellows have really been busy lately trying to get everything done. They have been ordering food and checking with the merchants here in town about toys for the children. And there is still a lot of work to do.

But when a family receives their food basket and they know they will have a Merry Christmas, and they look at the Cisco Goodfellows with tears in their eyes and say, "Thank You," then all the work means so little.

I've never seen one with spots like that before, and I've never heard of anyone else that has. If you've seen one like that please let me know. I don't think I was seeing

Christmas Special Issue Planned

A Christmas gift for Eastland County merchants when they need it most will be delivered

A special Shop With Your Friends and Neighbors edition will be distributed with a Thursday, Dec. 17th dateline. The special promotions will be a part of the Cisco Press, Eastland Telegram, Ranger Times and Rising Star newspapers of that date to all subscribers and extra copies will be distributed.

It'll be an extra inducement for citizens to shop at home first, and to help stimulate the local

For the merchants, there's special inducement too - space advertising rates will be adjusted for this Dec. 17th issue so that they will get twice as much for the advertising cost.

It is being recommended that merchants plan to make specials available to the public through Thursday, Dec. 24th (Christmas Eve), and advertise the special merchandise and services in this special edition of the local newspapers.

Sales persons will begin immediately contacting all merchants in the county, but merchants are welcome to contact their local newspaper for details, so that no one will be missed.

It is recommended that specials be made available during normal business hours, but if individual merchants want to have special hours, they are certainly welcome to.

The purpose of this promotion is to help the local merchants tell the public about the merchandise that can be secured locally, and encourage citizens to shop at home first. It's obvious that local shelves are stocked full of holiday merchandise and the newspapers recognize their responsibility to help the local firms move that merchandise.

$1 CLASSIFIEDS TOO!

As an additional assistance to the local economy, Special Classified ads of up to 25 words for $1.00 to be printed in this same special Dec. 17th edition will also be offered to firms and to individuals. These special classifieds will be scattered throughout the issue and will not be on the regular classified pages. These may be used for buy, sell, rent, help wanted, or any of the other services normally touched by classified ads.

The ONE DOLLAR Classified Ads will be on a cash in advance basis, because we cannot afford to bill at this rate.

DEADLINES-

Deadline for space advertising copy to be in the local newspapers office will be 5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 14th.

Classified Ad deadline for this special issue will be 10 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 15th.

Sweetheart Contest, and to CofC To Offer Gift Certificates To Be Used In Local Stores

"Are you having a difficult time deciding what gift you want to buy someone in your life for Christmas?" asks Cisco Chamber of Commerce manager Don Shepard. Mr. Shepard added, "A great gift ideal is to buy a gift certificate at the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, good at any one of the current chamber members.' Mr. Shepard told The Press the Chamber of Commerce gift certificates are now available. This idea means that a person may purchase a certificate at the chamber for someone and that person will have a wide variety of stores to pick their gift from.

Shepard said the gift certificates can be used to buy meals at the local cafes or they can buy parts for their cars or buy clothing and jewelry. Shepard said these are the ideal gifts since they can also be used at the drug stores in town and even be at the doctors and dentist offices. The Chamber manager said he would get a full list of the places where the certificates can be redeemed in the next issue of The Press. This idea is being used to help citizens want to stay in Cisco and shop at home Shepard said another incentive the merchants will do for the public is to stay open until 7 p.m. beginning Monday, December 14. Some of the stores that will be open until 7:00 p.m. are, P.J.'s Fashions, RNR Electronics, Lemon Tree Boutique, Madisons Western Store, Songs and Psalms Book Store, Maxwell's Appliance-Radio Shack. Classic Creations, Austin's Furniture, Bills Dollar Store and Anderson's Jewelry Shepard said if there are more stores that will be open he will bring a list to The Press for publication.

It was brought out that the vases in the new cemetery are like the upright markers. It was then explained that the vases do not interfere with the mowing.

Brad Kimbrough, owner of Kimbrough Funeral Home and Anton White, president of the Cisco Cemetery Association attended the meeting. Mr. White pointed out that the new cometery has been in use now for 16 to 17 years. White said there are over 500 lots in the new part of the cemetery that have staved in compliance with the deed requirements. He added it would not be fair to these people if the cemetery deed were to be changed now. Mayor Joe Wheatley told Mr. White the Cisco Cerhetery Association has done an outstanding job at the cemetery. The council voted to leave the bid as it is, and asked the Cemetery Association to follow up on the irregularities in the new section of the cemetery.

In other matters the council members voted to let B.D. Green re-lease the city owned grass lease known as the Disposal Plant Tract.

First State Bank, Eastland, Texas is located on the same block of East Main as the Goodyear Store. It was constructed from a 3,000 ft. bank building moved in from Arlington, then refurbished inside and out. The exterior is covered with limestone quarried near Lometa.

The front entrance will be on Main St. and there will be an access road from Plummer St. to deposit windows at the back. A night depository can be reached directly from a car. There is also a ramp for the handicapped near the front

The facility has four offices, a large lobby, teller and bookkeeping areas, and a break room. Modern furnishings and the latest in banking equipment is combined with special decorating touches. The floors have biege carpets with oak panneling and grass-cloth wallpaper in all the rooms. Accents are in colors of gray and plum, with touches of navy.

"Unfortunately," Mr. Pirkle said, "we probably won't be 100 per cent complete at the opening because of certain material delays, so we hope our visitors will understand and come get acquainted and get to know us, even as we complete exterior and interior trims.

A Senior Citizens Club will be one of the exciting services which the bank will offer, Mr. Pirkle explained, with details to be announced.

"You can be sure," he said. "we believe in this area and investing heavily here, and with millions of dollars of assets, we will be immediately looking for solid loans to make and welcoming depositors, who will join us in looking forward to the continued economic growth of our towns.'

Maxine Morgan or Carbon will serve as Vice President of the bank. Mrs. Morgan worked for the bank in Rising Star eleven years. Her husband, Charles Morgan, is a well-known builder in this area. Rita Reed of Eastland has been hired as Teller-Bookkeeper. She was formerly the office manager for Lone Star Title Co. in Eastland.

"We hope to hire more people before long," says Pirkle. "When the need arises, we plan to use local people to fill the jobs.'

The bank here will be a full-service facility, Pirkle says. It will handle checking and savings accounts, loans, safety deposits, and other business and individual services.

White also had a picture of a nominee for the Rotarian's district governor's office who was from Cisco. It was R.N. "Bob" Cluck. Mr. Cluck was the first president of Cisco Junior College.

Mr. White ended the program reading from a Rotarian newsletter dated November 6, 1952. The sketch was about Dr. Graham. Dr. Graham is the man who opened Graham Hospital. He was also the second president of the Cisco Rotary Club and became a member in 1922.

Priorities askew

Obscene, which is the word one legislator used, in an apt description of the spending proclivities of the top executives within the Texas Department of Human Services, who have funneled an exorbitant amount of the taxpayers' money into expensive furniture and other trappings of splendor at their agency headquarters in Austin.

Texas is ranked 46th in the nation in the amount of welfare payments to its poor, yet. The Houston Post has reported, the DHS has spent $136,780 since 1984 on furniture for its plush $40 million facility north of the state Capitol. Included in that buying spree are the following: ·Two executive swivel chairs costing $1,129 each. *Two sofas costing more than $1,270 each. ·Six credenzas ranging from $1,368 to $3,687. Two executive desks osting $1,607 each and two other desks for other divisions costing $1,420 each.

*Eight lounge chairs costing between $572 and $668 each and 25 swivel chairs costing $606 each for the executive office.

Killer ATVs

We should be thankful to have a man such as Jim Mattox as our attorney general. A thinking man, he knows what is best for us better than we do, so we don't have to waste time thinking for ourselves. With good old Jim taking care of us, we can be certain that he will get rid of everything that will harm us, especially those "killer ATVs' (all-terrain vehicles).

Now, I know that some people out there think it would be better to teach people the proper use of an ATV, but that would mean too many people involved in the process of deciding what is best for them, and we simply cannot have that. To teach people to use an ATV responsibly would be too much like teaching people the safe use of such things as guns, cars, baseball bats, razor blades, space heaters, high-heeled shoes and lawn mowers. Heaven help us if everyone learned to use a lawnmower safely.

So by all means, let's not upset Jim. Let's just quietly give up another of our rights that so many people (including myself) fought to preserve. Just do nothing, like you've always done, and Jim and others who think like him will outlaw those killer ATVs so you won't have to worry about whether you need one or not.

Unfortunately, I have to have an ATV. I have some property that can only be reached by ATV, horseback, walking or parachute. I've already sold my horses, did all my parachute jumping nearly 30 years ago, and I'm too old to walk the 12 miles. Guess I'll have to vote against Jim or sell him my property and let him parachute in.

Judicial reform

On Sunday, 60 Minutes hung out the 'Texas judiciary's dirty laundry in all its dinginess for the entire nation to see, exposing the pernicious prevalence of high-dollar political contributions to judicial candidates by the lawyers who practice before them.

To Texans who have been paying attention for the last several years, the program contained no news. The Texas Supreme Court has been wracked by scandal arising from ethical abuses and cozy relationships between sitting judges and lawyers who have contributed heavily to their campaigns. Many of its recent decisions, ruling in favor of cases brought by those same lawyers, have come at the expense of long-established common-law principles.

By using the tough, keenedged questioning that has come to characterize the program, correspondent Mike Wallace asked: "Is justice in Texas for sale?" Many across the country who viewed the program Sunday will not be able to escape at least the suspicion that something is rotten in Texas.

It is. With the increased partisan politicizing of state judicial campaigns in the last 10 years, the increasing influence of highcost political consultants and media manipulators has run up the expense of running a statewide race and run off quaified candidates who otherwise would choose to serve on the state's courts. To offset the exhorbitant expenses. lawyers have become virtually the sole source of funding for judicial can-#### diates. For those not so quick to participate, too many "requests" for support by incumbent judges carry the insidious tone of a shakedown.

As a few of the high rollers have made their financial weight felt, a troubling coincidence has emerged between cases brought by those attorneys and the judicial opinions rendered in their favor. The balance for the time being rests with the plaintiff bar, but the rumblings among business and insurance forces appear to presage an impending attempt by the defense bar to "buy back" the co-judges more sympathetic to their view of the law.

Justice must not be for sale. The judiciary, unlike executive and egislative branches of government, lays its fragile claim to authority on its impartiality and independence in interpreting the law. If a court attracts skepticism and suspicion of its impartiality, can cynicism be far behind? The present Texas Supreme Court has attracted just such suspicion, skepticism unfortunately, and.

cynicism. Too much of the agenda in the debate over judicial selection is being set by those who lust for hearty political campaigns - and the spoils that go to the victors. The contentious, compromising characteristics that shape effective legislators and executives, however, are the very characteristics that erode the integrity of a judge, whose allegience should rest exclusively with the law, not with political contributors

Some defend the partisan election of judges as a sacred manifestation of the "democratic process." That proposition was not compelling to the founding fathers of this nation or of this state. In both cases, the founders prescribed an appointed judiciary.

In light of the deterioration of the integrity and credibility event on the Texas Supreme Court, Texas should adopt an appointive merit-selection process for appellate courts, based on judicial qualifications

In the wake of the 60 Minutes program, Texans concerned about the corruption arising from the current way their judges are selected ought to be moved to encourage the

Two Eastland Men Return From Guatemalan Missionary Trip

Rev. Larry Smith and Layperson Scott Dennis of the Inspiration Church of God recently travelled to Guatemala for one week as a part of a six person missionary group. The group consisted of three Pastors and three Laypersons. Others in the group were Rev. Billy Franks and Darlene Ogburn of Shreveport, and Rev. Ron through part of Guatemala singing preaching, and giving testimonies. The group at tended 13 services and conferences as a part of their schedule. The week began in Camanibal which is bet ween seven and eight thou sand feet up in the hills near Chichicastenango. The group attended a wedding in which the pastor's daughter was married There were approximately 300 guests for the service The pastor there is Juan Calel. During the Communist Uprising in Guatemala, guerillas attempted to gain a stronghold in the moun tains in this area and pastors like Juan Calel and other civic leaders were tortured and murdered in an attempt to disrupt and terrorize the mountain folk. It did not work though because God brought many of these pastors through their torment only to become stronger. Today they have flourishing ministries. One pastor was tortured for four days and held without food or water for 20 days but is alive today. Others were burned alive inside of their churches. Now, local militia's keep an eye out for strangers in their areas and Guatemalan Army outposts stand ready to defend the area against further

Communist aggression. The next stop along the way Quetzaltenango. The group stayed at the Bonifaz CHINE WARRENCE

Hotel. Using this as a base, the group travelled to Cantel, Zenil, and 'onga during the two da stay there. The church in Quetzaltenango is currently trying to complete work on a Bible School/Fellowship Hall behind the church building. The pastor there is brother Hugo. He and another of the brothers in this congregation have released a tape of gospel music. They e both very talented and harp individuals. In we met brother Horacio Lopez. He is another very sharp individual who is seeking to build the Church of God in Guatemala. He is trying to raise funds to build an additional floor above his house so he and his family can move upstairs and convert the downstairs into classrooms for Sunday School. He has raised corn on some of the church's land and has successfully harvested a large amount to sell so that he may complete this goal. His church is obviously very well organized and an organizational chart is posted for all to see. Brother Horacio preaches at both Cantel and Pajasac Segundo and has to walk about five miles between the two. The group then spent Thanksgiving in Antigua and went by the Language School there and met Billy Franks' language teacher. Brother Billy said that when you enroll, they give you a teacher that can't even speak English. A conversational base has to be established quickly for the student to begin learning. This is a great system because a student can't make excuses for not try-

The group then made its way back to Guatemala City. The first service of the pastor's conferences began Thursday night and pastors travelled by bus and foot with bedrolls in hand from as far as Quetzaltenango, which is over two hundred kilometers from Guatemala City. They stayed at the mother church in Guatemala City. The services were for the training of the pastors. About 80 attended and the treated to special music at the morning service in

After the morning service the group attended services at Boca del Monte and Satellite. The group was Guatemala City and at Boca del Monte. A Children's Choir and Youth Group sang several songs. The evening service at Satelite featured a slide presentation of pictures from Jerusalem taken by Isaiah Calderone's daughter-in-law.

Souls are being won to Christ every day. Every service was completely packed with people standing in the aisles, sitting on the floor and crowded around the doors and windows to hear the word preached. All the churches have one thing in common.

Sunday, December 13, 1987 A Public Address system. Every service was broad cast as loudly as possibly and people steadily came to the church out of the surrounding mountains and there is no telling the distances they walked to attend. The Churches are growing at a dramatic rate and they need the support of American Churches to provide their basic support.

Their whole standard of living can be raised by the effect the church has on the communities and lives are being changed as outlooks change as people come to know Christ.
