Children Will Have Toys On Christmas Morning

The Cisco Goodfellows are rushing around now trying to finish all their work so they can have everything ready by next Tuesday.

This is the day when all the food will be picked up by the needy families in Cisco. Food will also be delivered to the ones who do not have a way to pick it up. Most of the families in Cisco have already finished most of their Christmas shopping and their Christmas tree has several presents under it. They have most of their Christmas baking finished or they have decided what they are going to buy for their big family Christmas dinner. But there were some in Cisco who did not have any hope for a Merry Christmas. So they turned to the Cisco Goodfellows for help. They wanted their children to wake up Christmas morning and see a present for them. And later on that day they wanted to prepare a good Christmas dinner for them to enjoy. And now it will be possible for them to do this for their families, thanks to your donation to the Cisco Goodfellows. There have been several donations sent into the Cisco Goodfellows from people who care about others, but more is needed. If you haven't sent in your donation, please do so today. Send it to The Cisco Goodfellows, c/o First National Bank, 418 Conrad Hilton, or c/o Cisco Press, 700 Conrad Hilton Ave., Cisco, Texas 76437.

Several people have brought food and new or good used toys by The Press for the Goodfellows and it is all appreciated very much. Donations received this week are:

Commissioners Approve Request For Seismic Explorations-Other Matters

Eastland County Commissioners held a regular meeting on Monday, December 14, with a number of topics for consideration. All four Commissioners attended, with County Judge Scott Bailey presiding.

During the meeting the Commissioners approved a request from Seismograph Service Corporation to do seismic exploration on county roads in a route across the county.

Boyd Sexton, who represented the Corporation, explained that the company was contracted to Cornell University out of New York state. The University had a government grant to do seismographic work all across the U.S. According to Sexton, "We will look as deep into the earth as we can - look 40,000 to 80,000 ft. down, past the crust into a fluid area."

He said that this is not done by drilling into the earth, but by means of trucks carrying machinery that vibrates hydraulically. Cornell is compiling such information in conjunction with the University of Texas at Austin, Texas A&M, Baylor and Rice University. Once compiled, the information would be public knowledge, and available to any individuals or firms that would pay the $5 to $7 fee for reproduction of the data, Sexton reported.

He also said there would be only one line through Eastland County, at a south to north location not yet determined. Work on this would begin next April or May and there would be press releases to inform the public where and when. School children or others would be welcome to come out and watch the process, Sexton said.

He also told of another project indirectly tied in with this, although not being done by his company. Data from the Seismograph Service Corp. work will be used to determine the location of several deep holes put down in the earth in 1988-89. These will be somewhere in West Virginia, Illinois and Texas, and bring quite a bit of interest to the places chosen.

In other business during the morning, the Commissioners heard from Billy Bacon of Pet. 4 that only 8 prisoners were currently in jail. Bacon said that Honeywell was supposed to come back and finish up the Inter-com system, and then this system and the new lights would be working fine.

Some of the commissioners mentioned, however, that when they made an inspection of the jail last week they found some other things they were not pleased with. They planned to visit the jail again today.

In other matters, the Commissioners approved a request by Texas Department of Public Safety Sgt. Jerry Mathews to begin advertising to fill the position of J.P. Court Clerk. This position became vacant recently when Barbara Mitchell resigned.

Also approved was a resolution requesting that the portion of Hwy. 2921 in Gorman be limited to an 80 ft. right-of-way. This road is 595 ft. long inside the city limits.

A Holiday schedule for 1988 was approved. Fifteen Holidays are listed for the year, including three election days. There will be two Presidential primaries early in the year, and the Presidential election on November 8, 1988.

Ray Pruitt, County Auditor, reported to the Commissioners that Workman's Compensation Insurance will be raised 25 percent for the county, beginning in 1988.

Wanda's Corner by Wanda Hallmark

We received the following note with a check for the renewal of a subscription to The Press. It said, "Hello Cisco Press, Everyone would remember me from the old Palace Theatre and Joy Drive-In days as a projector operator along with Joe Gallegos."

It was signed by Glen Carr, who lives in San Angelo.

Have you ever noticed the plants in the yard at the Hilton Community Center? Found out they are called Flowering Cabbage. They look like a batch of lettuce with a pretty purple center.

We've been having trouble lately with someone taking our Wednesday morning Abilene Reporter News. I guess they want the coupons in it. But if that person would take out the part of the paper they want and give the rest back to us, we would appreciate it.

There is a pretty picture under the glass at the customer office window in the Cisco Post Office. It is a picture of Rodney and Donna Sharpe's new little baby girl. Her name is Kelsey Nicole and she was born December 7.

Have you notice the giant Christmas wreath on the front of the First United Methodist Church. It's pretty impressive.

We went to see the Ice Capades last Sunday night in Abilene. When we tried to start our car, it wouldn't start. So I told everyone not to worry, when we put the hood of the car up someone will come over to help us.

But out of that parking lot full of people no one stopped. We did fix it. It was a bad connection on one of the battery cables.

But I have heard a lot of comments lately from people that no one stops to help people anymore. Most everyone thinks it's too dangerous. That's kind of sad isn't it.

Monday the weather really made everyone think of Christmas, didn't it? Several of the stores in Cisco were busy with shoppers all day long.

I had to check on an ad, so when I turned on my radio in the car they were playing "Walking In A Winter Wonderland". The weather just fit the music, so I rolled my windows down and sang along with the music.

Later on I had to check on an ad at Austin's and Steve Abbott, who works there asked if I was having trouble with my windows. When I asked why, he said he saw me drive by and my windows were down, and it was so cold.

I just told him I wanted some fresh air.

I called Breckenridge Monday afternoon and the telephone operator asked what the weather was doing in this part of the country. After I told him, I asked where he was at and he said Amarillo, and they had a 15 inch snowfall.

I had to call again a little bit later and I talked to an operator in Waco. She said it was not doing anything there and she didn't want it too either.

Last week my son, William, and his friend, Tim Rains, stopped by The Press. Tim tore off a piece of scotch tape and then stapled three staples in it so that they were sticking straight up. He was sitting in a chair so he stood up and put the tape in the chair and said he was going to leave it there for the next customer who came in.

He then walked around while I was talking to William and then without thinking he went over to the chair and sat down. William told him he was sitting on the tape with the staples. Lucky for Tim the staples did not stick him, but he did feel a little funny.

County Commissioners

During the morning the Commissioners granted a request by Sun Oil Co. to cross County Rd. 481 about eight miles south of Ranger with a pipeline.

They also granted Union Texas (Sneed Construction) permission to make a number of pipeline crossings. In Pet. 3 the Company will cross Rds. 294, 286 and 285. In Pet. 4 crossings will be made on Rds. 184, 280 and 282.

When the meeting ended the Commissioners and other guests went to the Texas Electric Reddy Room to enjoy the traditional "Commissioners Luncheon" hosted by the County Extension Service. The good food and festive surroundings were enjoyed by all.

Later the Commissioners and news media visited jail. They found the building as clean as could be reasonably expected.

but also noted evidence of a lot of past vandalism and attempted defacing and destruction of the building. Stains were on some of the walls, prisoners had gouged holes between cement blocks on some of the inside walls, and steel tables and fixtures had been scratched and damaged in every place possible.

It was hardly an inspiring scene for Christmas or any other time.

CofC To Offer

Gift Certificates

"Are you having a difficult time deciding what gift you want to buy someone in your life for Christmas?" asks Cisco Chamber of Commerce manager Don Shepard. Mr. Shepard added, "A great gift idea is to buy a gift certificate at the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, good at any one of the current chamber members."

CISD Board Members Approve Underground Sprinklers

Board members of the Cisco Independent School District met last Monday night at the High School Library.

Board members were given a Christmas dinner by the Cisco High School home economic class.

During the meeting, members approved the minutes of the last regular meeting and approved the bills that are to be paid in December.

In other matters, board members unanimously approved the gifted and talented program for next year for the kindergarten through seventh grade.

Members heard a report on the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act, on how it will affect the Cisco Public Schools.

Every school in the state of Texas has to have their school checked and reported to the governor's office by October of 1988. The EPA has asked for this act and Superintendent Ray Saunders said a plan is in progress now for the Cisco Schools.

In other matters, school board members approved the installation of an underground water sprinkler system at the Elementary School. Leaky Pipe Company of Abilene had the lowest bid and will begin work as soon as possible.

Precision Foods in Abilene had the lowest bid on an oven for the Cisco High School cafeteria. Mr.

Saunders said it will be the same as the new oven at the Elementary School.

David Callarman was appointed by the school board as the appraisal board member at the Monday night meeting. CISD board members agreed to join the Legal Assistance Funding Program. Mr. Saunders said this program is very inexpensive and it is needed.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

Outlooks

By Roy Cartee

By ROY CARTEE
QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, it seems more and more my stays in the hospital are getting shorter and when I leave I feel worse. Why are the hospital stays so short?

ANSWER: The days that you are allowed to stay in the hospital and use Medicare as the payer should not necessarily be shorter but be according to the diagnostic related grouping. In the past we all agree that we stayed in the hospital too long. Plans for your hospital stay should be made well before you enter, for chronic cases, and you should talk with the hospital planners and doctor about your pending stay. Your doctor will weigh the medical, economic and other consequences of decisions about your care. Under the new system individual cases will be closely examined by the PRO (Peer Review Organization) to assure that the hospital stay was neither too long or too short and that prescribed medical procedures truly are needed.

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, who makes sure that I get quality care?

ANSWER: It is important to know that you, a patient, have the right to ask questions about your hospital stay and/or discharge. Since your physician and the hospital staff are primarily responsible for information and assistance. But there are procedures for getting an outside review of your case if you disagree with the hospital decisions regarding your care. This review is conducted by what is called the Peer Review Organization, or PRO.

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, where can I find out more about my hospital care?

ANSWER: You may write me, Roy V. Cartee, Associate State Coordinator, Health Advocacy Services, AARP, 900 Avenue H, Cisco, Texas 76437.

Tour The Majestic Homes Of Texas From The Comfort Of Your House

Texas take great pride in their possessions. Whether it's in the clothes they wear, the cars they drive, or the cities in which they live, the men and women of the Lone Star State manage to maintain a certain individuality. The greatest visual proof of the spirited character of Texas can be found in the homes of Texas. Travelling across this immense state, you encounter a truly breathtaking array of residences.

Historic Homes of Texas, a November release from Gulf Publishing Company, is a richly detailed book that allows readers to take an engaging journey into Texas' most magnificent homes from the comfort of their own homes. From the grandiose splendor of the great Victorian homes and the garish opulence of the imperious cattle and oil barons, to the elegant simplicity of the early settler cottages, all of Texas' most fascinating and historically significant houses are featured in this captivating book.

Historic Homes of Texas receives an in-depth passage which includes the famous names and events of Texas history as related to each home. Each of these wonderful old homes has a Texas Historical Commission Medallion, signifying its historical importance to the state. Many appear on the National Register of Historic Places.

The elegant homes of Texas' moneyed class are represented by such residences as Ima Hogg's Bayou Bend, Harrington House in Amarillo, and the McFaddin-Ward House in Beaumont. Equally intriguing are the modest cottages of some of Texas' great heroes—Sam Houston's Woodland Home, Dwight Eisenhower's birthplace, and the home of Anson Jones, the last president of the Republic.

Historic Homes of Texas provides a wealth of information on touring these beautiful public and private homes, including location, hours open, whom to contact, and whether there is an admission charge. This book also features a specialized calendar of Texas home tours. It reveals when tours are available for those homes not usually open to the public.

Whether you journey across the thresholds of these splendid homes in person or in spirit, this book is the complete guide. Its 16 pages of fascinating full-color photos allow restorationists, historians, architects, antique connoisseurs, and anyone interested in Texas heritage to select their personal favorites. Historic Homes is sure to be a family treasure for years to come.

Co-Author Ann Ruff is a popular personal speaker and author of numerous books on Texas culture and Texas history, including A Guide to Historic Texas Inns and Hotels/2nd Edition, Unsung Heroes of Texas, The Best of Texas Festival, Amazing Texas Monuments and Museums, and Traveling Texas Borders (all from Lone Star Books).

Co-Author Henri Farmer is a freelance writer living in Houston. She is presently working on a manuscript for a book in the social sciences.

USDA Seeks Comments on 1988 National Peanut Poundage Quota And National Quota Level

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Department of Agriculture today proposed a national poundage quota of 1,402,200 short tons (2,804 million pounds) for the 1988 marketing year, up 46,700 short tons (93 million pounds) from the 1987 level.

Milton Hertz, administrator of the USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said that USDA is also proposing a 1988 crop national average price support level for quota peanuts of $615.87 per short ton, up $8.40 from the 1987 crop. The support level would increase by this amount based on current estimates of the cost of producing 1987 crop quota peanuts.

Hertz said that USDA is required by law to announce the final national poundage quota for 1988 marketing year peanuts by Dec. 15, and the final price support level for quota peanuts by Feb. 15, 1988.

The Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, requires the national poundage quota for 1988 crop of peanuts to be equal to the quantity of peanuts that the secretary of agriculture estimates will be devoted to domestic edible, seed and related use in the 1988 marketing year. The marketing year begins Aug. 1, 1988. The quota may be no less than 1,100,000 short tons.

The Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, provides that the national average support level for 1988 crop quota peanuts shall be established at the 1987 crop level adjusted for any increase in the national average cost of peanut production for the 1987 crop, excluding any change in the cost of land. However, the law further provides that the support level may

In Case You Missed This:

The Mall of Abilene was crowded, and parking spots were difficult to find even in its spacious lots. By the time a spot was located, the mall was just a distant speck on the horizon. Inside, the mall was sea of humanity.

-Abilene Reporter-News, Saturday, November 28, 1987

NOW THAT YOU KNOW - YOU'LL ALSO WANT TO KNOW:

- There are always parking spaces in your home town.
- There are always friendly neighbors ready to serve.
- The money you spend in your own hometown may come back your way again!
- The merchants in your home town have a big investment here. They pay taxes here.
- They deserve your support and patronage.
- Prices are usually lower in your own home town.
- You're investing in yourself when you deal with merchants in your own home town.

WOULDN'T YOU know it? The Eastland County History book is going to be the BIGGEST AND BESTEST history book in the state of Texas -- thanks to the hard work of a lot of good people.

RIGHT NOW, the biggest need is for BOOK SALES. Final editing of the over 2,000 family histories is nearing completion and probably will be delivered to Taylor Publishing in January. BUT, the local volunteer sponsors must also deliver the cost of the printing when that material is delivered.

SO, NOW'S the time to get your order in. Pre-publication price is $52.50 per book and the address is:

Eastland County History Book
P.O. Box 856
Eastland, TX 76448

NOW, WE'LL tell you more about the book. The largest sample seen to date is 725 pages, and guesses are that Eastland County's book will run over 1,000 pages--that's a lot of book.

All of Cisco and Gorman family histories are in, and final work is being done on Eastland, Ranger, Rising Star and others areas.

Volunteers are still welcome to help with the editing and word counting, etc., by Roy Lee and Wanda Smith who are leading other volunteers in this effort. They're generally working at 210 N. Walnut St. Eastland from 10 a.m. to usually about midnight, so if you've got some time, and inclination, they'd sure welcome it. Their telephone number is 629-2995 and 629-2052 if you'd like details.

After the first of the year

FOR SALE: Three bedroom, 2 baths, carpeted, plumbed, washer, dryer, 220 wiring, large utility room. Double carport, storage bldg., 1 lot. Good home for the price. Call 647-3348 R101

FOR SALE: Sears, full size bedspread, like new-$12.50. Sears twin size bedspread, never used $10.00. Call 647-3348. R101 they'll begin work on area histories and general history of the county, and volunteers will be needed then too--so there's plenty of work for everybody. But when you stop and consider that we will have the biggest and best, you can know that it'll be worth the effort.

Sales-wise, we're about a third up to par. Some 700 books are sold, and it's estimated that it'll take about 2,000 book sales to pay the freight...but that's no hill for a climber like this county.

Many there are who have contributed so much to this book and the work goes on. TYPICAL OF the dedication: It's reported that Roy Lee and Wanda did take out a little while on their 38th wedding anniversary, December 10th, long enough to eat supper with loved ones, and then went back to work on the book.

That cost is $52.50, and the post office box number is 856, Eastland.

You'll forget it, if you don't do it now.

Supplies Limited First Come First Serve

I've Been Wrong Before

By Gordon S. Clark

I had to pause a bit on a FRANK AND EARNEST cartoon showing a centipede and a silly looking bug which said, "My name is Drosophila Milanogaster, but they call me Bugsie." I knew I had seen that name D. Milanogaster before but took a bit to eliminate entomology and recall genetics where that fruit fly figured prominently. We used them because if any escaped they are harmless, the common sour gnats around here, they multiply very rapidly, and have certain characteristics easily distinguished for study of hereditary ratios.

One can easily see the advantage of study of heredity in flies, rabbits or mice which produce a generation in days or weeks and twenty generations can be observed in as little as one year. With cattle and horses requiring years for each generation it would take a lifetime or longer to study twenty generations. Study of humans would require infinitely longer and would be near impossible to control to say nothing of absolute certainty of lineage in some cases. Yet many results of study of lower animals can be used comparatively.

Another thing about that Drosophila Milanogaster was the discovery of giant chromosomes in their salivary glands which permitted study of those cell parts long before the invention of the electron microscope.

I am often troubled by cartoons I don't understand and wonder if the artist just had a bad day or if I was missing the point because my vocabulary or literary background was deficient.

Time was when there was not near so much to know. In those days our government was established as a republic. Not all the people voted and most of those who didn't cared not at all. Then came politicians who discovered that people who know less can elect them on faulty promises and enough non-producers who vote can deprive those who work of what they work for. In the present state of national insolvency the cry is for reduced spending. YET, in the very face of that the Congress raise their own pay while cutting veterans benefits and some say that Social Security must be considered if the budget is to be balanced. Those who loudly protest that SS must not be cut probably do so as re-election propaganda rather than heart conviction.

Don't bet on your SS being invulnerable if the vote is not by roll call. What you have a better bet on is that they cut their own pay last if at all. If the average man invested his SS deductions with maybe an insurance company he would end up with far more. Check it out and you will know that government is the least trustworthy handler of money, your money. It was not always thus. But just keep trooping down to vote. It is your duty even if you haven't the foggiest notion what or who you are voting for.

It sounded ridiculous the first time I heard it but more than one I know of believed they were voting for some sort of aircraft, a super glider, instead of the atom smashing super collider.

"Eeny-meeny-miny-moe, which way will the voters go?" Or what a way to run a nation. They go any way someone with his own ends to serve tells them they will get the most out for the least input even though common sense would tell them that only God could produce something from nothing.

Politicians are not gods, they are not even supermen. Some people in government act like they are that far above us but they are only so long as we let it be. I often wonder how long people would continue to buy papers which feature those fantastic predictions by phony fortune tellers if they saved each sheet and checked out how much came true. I did that twice. Once was in a paper and another was a set of predictions by a TV evangelist. I only wish someone had been reliable. The prophets were wrong but I guess the profits were all right.

Want to know the future? Then study the past. It keeps coming up again like a spot on a revolving wheel. How long do democracies last?

Maybe you will be happier just being entertained by the psychics. That takes little time and no honest effort.

Josephine Cleveland

When I was a child I would often walk to the city park with friends. I especially enjoyed walking along the Blue River that flowed through the park. It was a peaceful river that always seemed to move slowly and quietly along its route. This fall I once again walked along the banks of this river. As in my early years, I sensed a peace within my spirit as I watched this river flow quietly eastward.

God spoke to Isaiah and said, "O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! Then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea" (Isaiah 48:18). It was spoken to a rebellious people long ago and it is just as timely to the troubled world today. Here by the riverside, away from the hurry and rush of the marketplace, one could easily wonder: "Why can't this trembling world be like this? Why must crime and war, hate and jealousy, sin and shame disturb us and why do we have to fight each other when we could have peace like a river?"

God tells Isaiah why. We will not have peace without righteousness. We will never get rested until we get right. Yes, there is a peace to be had -- it is the peace of God which passeth all understanding. It is a peace that the world cannot take away. It is a peace that Jesus gives. We do not keep it, we are kept. It is Jesus Christ who keeps our heart and mind at rest.

There are only three things that God requires. Consider, friend, "God commandeth all men everywhere to repent" (Acts 17:30). We must see ourselves as sinners and be sorry enough for sin to turn from it.

This too is his commandment, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Then there is joined to this command of faith, that ye love one another, as I have loved you" (John 15:12).

Repent, believe, love. These are the commandments and the way to peace. Hear then, heed them, and you shall have peace.

Area News Briefs

BAIRD
A number of people came out for the annual Christmas "Parade of Homes" in Baird last Sunday. This was sponsored by the Corrine Blackburn and Wednesday Clubs in order to raise funds for further restoration of the historic Texas and Pacific Railroad Depot at the end of Market Street. First on the tour was the two-story southern mansion styled home of Jud and Marla Gilliland. This house was built by I. N. Jackson in 1906. The second home was that of Jim and Virginia Tollett on top of Mt. Airy beyond the R. R. underpass. Third was the home of Jay and Brownie Hamner, a two-story place with art work. Then came the unusual home of Harry and Elizabeth Nunn, a house originally built for James H. Callahan, for whom the county is named. Last on the tour was the beautiful new home of Ruth Dye Fisher.

RISING STAR
Santa Claus will be at West Texas Utilities in Rising Star Tuesday, Dec. 22, at 6 p.m. All the little boys and girls in this area are invited to come and tell Santa what they want for Christmas.

EASTLAND
The Community Resources group will meet Thursday, Dec. 17, at 12 noon in the First Baptist Church, 405 S. Seaman. Bring a brown-bag lunch if you wish. The group will hear reports on the needs of people throughout the county, and also discuss ways to help. All interested persons are urged to attend.

RANGER
The Ranger Garden Club will have their annual Christmas Decoration judging on Friday, Dec. 18, starting at 6:30 p.m. There are some beautifully decorated homes as well as businesses in town, so it will probably be difficult for the judges to decide on winners.

Coleman And Stephens Countians Pay Higher Taxes Than Eastland Countians

By Richard Kurklyn
Coleman and Stephens Countians pay higher taxes than anyone else in this eight-county region. Coleman pays the highest, with an average $2.21 per hundred valuation, and Stephens pays $1.88 per hundred.

Eastland Countians have a combined total average of $1.81 per hundred, and Callahan has the lowest of the eight counties with $1.49 per hundred average. The number of incorporated towns in a county (or the lack thereof, as in the case of Stephens) helps account for part of the differences.

Another major factor is the county taxes paid by each: Coleman has a county tax rate of 40 cents per hun-ded; Stephens County has a 35 cent per $100.00 rate; Callahan has a .32 cent rate; Erath, .31 cents; Shackelford and Comanche, .30 cents; Palo Pinto has the lowest county rate at 24 cents. Eastland Countians pay 28 cents per 100 county rate.

Within the counties, Cross Plains has the lowest total tax rate at 95 cents, because it's unincorporated with no city taxes. Coleman residents at $2.19 per 100, are just behind the highest, Rising Star, with a combined rate of $2.20 per 100.

Erath, with a total combined average of $1.07, benefits because five of its towns are unincorporated. Our counties certainly need tax revenues and some of the taxing bodies may need more than they are now getting. But there seems to be more than one way to attack the problem.

Tax rates may be raised to provide desired services immediately, but cities and counties or even villages that take that approach seem to scare away industry that can enable growth or that may be needed just to maintain the status quo.

People and businesses pay the taxes and industry is needed in our area to provide jobs for people and the local income that maintains our local businesses.

Most of the expressed feelings we hear are that more industry is needed in the Eastland and Callahan County area so that there will be jobs for everyone and the business communities will be prosperous. At least they should be able to pay their taxes that way.

Locating or developing new industry for our area can bring in more tax revenue while holding taxes low as the industry added will also pay taxes and add to the revenue.

An example of this last approach seems to be the Stephenville area. They have low overall tax rates, especially for a city the size of Stephenville, and they seem to be growing, prospering and attracting new industry faster than any other locality in this part of Texas.

Yes, they are just seventy miles from the Metroplex, but Eastland County cities are only about eighty to one hundred miles from the Metroplex, and I-20 runs through Eastland County. And that is something that Stephenville lacks. It has Tarleton State, but Eastland County has R.J.C. and C.J.C. And both have main line railroads.

Callahan County, besides having I-20 and a railroad through it, also is close to the one hundred thousand population of the greater Abilene area.

After Texas has been in a slump for the last couple of years, some economists are now projecting that in the next couple of years, North Texas will lead the nation in economic growth.

Maybe the right attitudes and approaches with some salesmanship are all we need to share in greater prosperity in the coming new year.

In the past our towns have worked individually to attract industry and the prosperity it brings. They often competed with each other and they often had nothing to show for their efforts.

Cisco and Eastland made a concerted effort to attract the same industry, a Methodist Home, this year and learned that working together could yield greater results.

A community with higher tax rates can prosper by working with a nearby community with lower rates to bring industry there. In our mobile society neighboring towns usually provide jobs and customers that benefit both.

Changing times may require a county wide loyalty rather than a city only loyalty if we are to maintain our living standards.

With our location on busy I-20, our area seems to be failing to develop the potential tourist industry. There are hordes of motorhomes and campers on I-20 and many are looking for a quality tourist attraction to stop and spend money. But such an undertaking would probably require the combined efforts of many people and maybe even more than one town to be successful.

Historical Baird might even try what worked for Grandbury and lure customers from Abilene as Grandbury has from Ft. Worth.

Each town has its attractions but by jointly packaging and advertising them they can appear much more attractive to the customers.

By DeMarquis Gordon, County Agent—

Thirty three first place winners in the Eastland County Pecan Show were sent to the Central Texas Regional Pecan Show to compete with other county winners last week.

Mrs. Lorene Jennings' Mohawk pecans that were In-Shell Champions in our county show were named first place Mohawk pecan at the regional show. Dan Childress Caddo pecans, also, won second place with entries of Chickasaw pecans, and Harper pecans. Also, winning second place were Rudolph Little with Halbert pecans, James Alexander with San Saba Improved pecans, and Ruby Jones with Texas Prolific pecans. Eastland County third place pecans were Childress' Cherokee pecans, T.E. Robertson's John Garner pecans and Childress' Texan pecans.

Congratulations to all the Eastland County winners.

Now is the time to start thinking about lice control on livestock. Too often we wait until the mid-winter when symptoms begin to develop to consider treatment. Spot-ons and pour-ons are preferable over sprays, because the animals do not have to be wet to "run-off", increasing chances of pneumonia and/or lowering resistance to other diseases. There are a number of effective spot-ons and pour-ons that will give economic control. Treating early for lice will prevent large population explosions, resulting in hair loss and animal vigor. Applications should be repeated at 30-45 day intervals to hold lice populations in check.

Recent frost and freezes in Eastland County has reduced grazing on permanent pastures, and that means hay feeding time is drawing near. However, it's important to know the quality of hay for a sound feeding program.

Different kinds of livestock have different nutritional requirements. For example, cows with young calves have higher nutritional requirements than dry cows. So it's all the more important to have a knowledge of the quality of hay being fed.

A forage test is the best way to determine the quality of hay and what supplements, if any, will be needed to meet nutritional requirements of livestock consuming that hay. Producers can mail forage samples to the Extension Service's Forage Testing laboratory at Texas A&M or the Cross Timbers Feed and Forage Lab in Stephenville and get results within a week.

Forage tests include protein, fiber and mineral analysis, with charges based on the number of specific tests required.

A few dollars invested in forage tests can mean savings in several ways. First, it can be the savings in amounts of supplements fed each day and the cost of those supplements. But the greatest savings could be in livestock weights. For example, livestock consuming low quality hay could lose weight and value during the winter months.

Information sheets and guidelines for collecting forage samples and interpreting analysis are available at the county Extension office. So take a few minutes now to collect a hay sample and get it tested. It could make a big difference in your livestock feeding program this winter.

The Next Best Thing -

.....to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

4-H NEWS

By Crystal Wilbanks, County Agent—

Those 4-H members planning to exhibit an animal project at the Eastland County Livestock Show MUST have an animal project form on file in the County Extension Office. Forms must be turned in BEFORE January 1, 1988, if not, you will not be eligible to show during the county livestock show.

How many times have you heard a sad story about an animal project dying before or during the county stock show and the 4-H member loses all the money put into the animal? These things happen all the time and the best way to make sure you don't lose any money is to insure your animal. A local insurance company will insure 4-H & FFA projects including sheep, goats, calves, swine and horses. Rates are different for each and depend on the value of your animal. I highly recommend insuring your project and if you have any questions concerning this coverage, please call 629-1093.

Shackelford County 4-H will sponsor a Rabbit Clinic on Saturday, December 12, 1987, from 12:00 to 5:00 p.m. at the Shackelford County Showbarn in Albany. Clyde Webb of Burkburnett and Walter Gibson of Wichita Falls, both members of the American Rabbit Breeders Association and well known rabbit raisers and show judges will be leading the Clinic. Topics include selecting different breeds; feeding and care; housing and facilities; diseases; showing; grooming; equipment and numerous subjects pertaining to rabbits will be on the agenda.

This Clinic will be an excellent opportunity for anyone interested in rabbits and promises to be an excellent learning experience.

Fishing Outdoors

By Terry Wilson

Wilson Wins Graham
The 1987 tournament trail for the Eastland County Bass Club ended with a small 8 man field on Lake Graham. Water levels at Graham were down five feet, but water color was excellent with average visibility being 2 feet.

Results of this final event were: Terry Wilson 1st with 5 fish 13.32 pounds. Terry also won big bass honors with a 3.56 black bass. Second place Chuck Burgess 2 fish 4.16 pounds. Third Herman Mimms 1 fish 2.82 and fourth Will Johnson 1 fish 2.42. Of the eight entries these four gentlemen were the only ones able to boat a 14 1/4 or larger fish. With this final event the E.C.B.C. is proud to announce the 1987 T.A.B.C. Top six team who will be competing on Lake Brownwood on April 10, 1988. Chuck Burgess 1364 points, Terry Wilson 1204, James Fullen 1146, Tommy Maynard 1132, Steve Pennington 1046, Jim Williamson 1036. These gentlemen will be competing as one unit against other teams of Region III, with the hopes of moving on to the state finals in June.

The anglers who landed some fish Saturday stated that the fish being in 2'-5' of water. Jigs and Rat-L-Traps accounted for the majority

Family Activities Make Holidays Special

Doing things together as a family over the holidays creates good times and memories and strengthens the family unit.

"It's ironic that even though the holidays are supposed to be family times, we're busier than ever," says Diane Welch, a family life specialist. "With family members shopping, baking and going in different directions to parties and other events, it's possible to spend very little time together."

"When children are of different ages and family members have different interests, it can be difficult to find things that everyone will enjoy," concedes Welch.

"But because shared family activities have consistently been identified as an important contributor to a strong family, making the effort to find something that works for your family is a worthwhile goal."

Family time doesn't have to be elaborate or expensive, she says, but should be involving. While sitting around watching television together can be a fun activity, there are many other types of things families can do as well.

Welch, who is a home economist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, suggests some of following as possible family activities:

- Musical activities - Plan a family sing-along, music recital or Christmas concert. Attend Christmas music programs presented at church.

- Nature activities - Take a trip to a cut-your-own Christmas tree farm, try a nature hike, family camping trip, star studying session or feeding and watching birds and wildlife.

- Service activities - Get in the spirit of the season by doing something for others, such as visiting shut-ins or nursing home residents or having a neighborhood canned food drive for the local food bank.

- Dramatic activities - Try an evening of storytelling, dramatic games, charades, pantomimes or word games.

- Social activities - Consider setting aside time for cards, board games, going through the family albums or having a family party.

- Physical activities - Play backyard games, tennis, horseshoes or ball. Try skating, dancing, hiking or bicycling.

- Spiritual activities - Attend services at your church, or visit a church of another denomination to see the different ways the meaning of the holiday is celebrated.

The type of activity your family chooses is less important than the fact that you do things together, says the specialist.

She notes that family activities can also help beat the "is that all there is" reaction of youngsters after the decorations are up, the gifts opened the parties are over.

Medical Perspectives

By R.C. Matthews, M.D.

Breast Feeding

Breast feeding has made a resurgence over the past few years and for good reason. It is generally agreed among nutritional and medical experts that breast milk is the best nutritional source for most infants. Even companies that sell formula emphasize this fact. Compared with cow milk and proprietary formulas, human milk contains less salt and so is less of a load on the immature infant kidney. Iron is better absorbed from human milk. Human milk contains antibodies which protect the infant whose immune system has not matured. The incidence of allergies may be less in infants who are breast-fed, and breast feeding does not result in over-feeding since the infant decides how much milk to ingest instead of the feeder.

Nursing is often a source of emotional gratification to the mother and improves the bonding between the mother and her infant. There are many practical advantages

From 1962 until 1962 she and her husband owned and operated the Gilmore Drug and Confectionery Store in downtown Brownwood. In 1968 she opened Southern Air Tea Room in her home, providing a meeting place for clubs, church groups and civic organization. She was past president of Business and Professional Women's Club and of the City Federation of Women's Clubs; and chairman of public health, Sixth District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. She was also a member of U.D.C. and served terms as secretary and vice-regent of Mary Garland Chapter, D.A.R. During her tenure in office in the Brownwood Garden Club, she played a major role in the landscaping of Camp Bowie, Greenleaf Cemetery and highway approaches to Brownwood.

Survivors include two sisters, Evelyn Bailey of Cisco and Dorothy Ashton of Austin; a sister-in-law, Gladys Couch of Brownwood; a niece, Lorna Auld of Kerrville; a nephew, Colonel Gerald C. Couch (USAF, Ret.) of Austin; 15 great nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her husband and a brother, E. Clifton Couch.

'Bob' Sumrall

Virgil Giles "Bob" Sumrall, 71, of Abilene, died Saturday at a local nursing home.

Services were held at 3 p.m. Monday at Elliott-Hamill Funeral Home Chapel of Memories, 542 Hickory, with Hollis Talley officiating. Burial was in the Potosi Cemetery.

Born in Eastland County, he moved to Potosi as a child.

He attended school in Potosi and Abilene.

A retired stock farmer, he was a member of the Palm Street Church of Christ and a U.S. Army veteran of World War II.

He was the author of a square dancing book called "Do-Si-Do" and was a square dance master of ceremonies and caller.

Survivors include his wife, Frances Bryan Sumrall of Abilene; a son, Cal Sumrall of Abilene; a daughter, Necia Harp of San Antonio; a brother, A.J. Sumrall of Berryville, Ark.; a sister, Med Miller of Eula; and a grandson.

Memorials may be made to the Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis Society of America.

Azalea Gilmore

CISCO-Funeral services for Mrs. Azalea Couch Gilmore, 87, of Brownwood, sister of Mrs. Melvin L. (Evelyn) Bailey of Cisco, were held at 2 p.m. Friday, December 11, 1987, at Morelock Funeral Home in Brownwood. The Rev. William C. Weeks officiated. Burial was in Greenleaf Cemetery.

Mrs. Gilmore died Wednesday, December 9, 1987, at her home after a lengthy illness.

Born Nov. 17, 1900, at Zephyr, she lived all her life in Brownwood. She was married to Walter Gilmore May 5, 1929, in Brownwood. He died Nov. 6, 1977. She was a member of Union Presbyterian Church.

as well. Breast milk is always readily available at the correct temperature, is clean and is cheap. The stools and spit-up milk from a breast-fed baby are less offensive. Nursing also helps the mother to get back into shape more quickly.

Even though breast-feeding is a natural function, the proper technique is not always so obvious. Many new mothers today receive little instruction in nursing as often their mothers did not nurse. As you prepare to breast-feed, good nutrition is important, and it may be wise to "buffing-up" your nipples by buffing them with a towel and exposing them to air. If your nipples are flat or inverted, discuss this with your physician. After you have delivered, infants are usually placed in an incubator or warming table and observed closely for several hours. If you wish to begin nursing early, physicians will usually comply. In the first few days after delivery, the breasts produce a thick yellowish substance called colostrum which is highly nutritious. The infant needs at first to only nurse about 5 minutes on each breast to obtain adequate nutrition. After two to five days of nursing, the mother will experience "let-down" and the breasts will start producing true milk in larger quantities. Nursing sessions are gradually increased to 10 to 15 minutes on each side every 2 to 3 hours.

Breast fed babies tend to feed more often than bottle fed babies because human milk is easier to digest than formula. Most will eventually feed every 3 to 4 hours and will require at least one nightly feeding until about 6 months of age or older. If you develop a problem with nipple soreness, discuss it with your physician - it can often be relieved. It is important to be relaxed and in a comfortable position. Be sure to burp the infant during and after every feeding.

If you wish to return to work it is still possible to nurse. The mother can express or pump the breasts and refrigerate the milk for up to 48 hours or freeze it for up to 2 weeks. The milk should be stored in clean plastic containers. Working mothers will need to nurse their infants often in the evenings and on weekends to maintain their milk supply as manual expression or pumping does not stimulate

Newspapers Dominant Medium

Texas Consumers List Ad Likes, Dislikes

Texas retailers worried about next year's economy (1988) are being given some mighty helpful information from their own customers who have just participated in a unique statewide survey.

That survey was to determine what Texans "like and dislike about advertising today." Sample highlights of that survey include:

- (1) Texas consumers favor newspapers by a 3-to-1 margin over all other brands of media for receiving news and information from retailers. An un usually weak regard for radio and TV commercials was voiced strongly in writing by consumers from throughout the state;
- (2) More than 1-of-every-2 Texas consumers prefer reading advertisements printed as part of the newspaper, instead of those in mailed circulars and other type publications, and
- (3) Texas consumers have such strong opinions about the media and advertising that almost 1400 wrote their opinions, and mailed them to an Austin address. Each return was checked for authenticity and accuracy.

Such findings came from one of the most unusual surveys to ever be conducted about the reading and shopping habits of Texans.

That survey, which was prepared by the Texas Newspaper Advertising Bureau (TNAB), included the publishing in 135 Texas newspapers of a questionnaire touching on 20 topics about media and advertising. The general public was invited to complete and return the form.

Making the survey additionally unique was the fact that every response had to be returned by mail and in the handwriting of each respondent.

"The results subsequently provided confirmation of newspapers' overwhelming number one role in the lives and reading and shopping habits of Texans," explained TNAB Director John Taylor.

TNAB operates as an affiliate under the umbrella of the 108-year-old Texas Press Association (TPA), which is headed by Executive Vice President Lyn dell Williams.

Williams pointed out: "Comments by so many consumers saying approximately the same things offer solid proof that no other medium comes close to threatening the leadership role of the newspaper in the community."

"As go newspapers, so go the community and our state." Everything necessary to achieve anonymity of the survey was done to obtain objectivity and accuracy, "even including the placing of newspaper subjects in latter positions in the published questionnaire itself."

Responses to the survey, including those from the hundreds who wrote their opinions about the media and advertising today, were studied and cross checked for possible error. So overwhelming were the responses, in fact, that six full pages of excerpted commentary were included in the published report of the survey results.

Newspapers were chosen for publishing the survey questionnaire, because most previous studies by other agencies revealed newspaper readers to comprise a majority of today's voters and principal customers of retailers.

Other highlights of the survey included:

- 75 percent prefer that retailers publish their advertising in local newspapers, as compared with 10 percent who chose TV, and 12 percent who selected radio;
- 52 percent read and retain ads the longest when they're printed as part of the newspaper, as compared to 35 percent who like ad inserts in the newspapers, and 17 percent who like ads mailed to them as circulars;
- 92 percent read ads when they're printed as part of the newspaper, as compared with 58 percent who read ads in newspaper inserts, and 50 percent who read circulars;
- 71 percent redeem coupons from the newspapers, as compared with 64 percent who redeem them from circulars;
- 88 percent who read newspapers also vote in elections, and
- 52 percent obtain the most information about elections from the newspapers, as compared with 32 percent who listed TV, and 13 percent citing radio.

This survey is believed to be the only current study in which respondents submitted their responses in writing.

Meanwhile, results of a second survey will soon detail the public's opinion about today's political elections and election campaigns. Results of the political survey, which was conducted in 60 county seat newspapers throughout Texas, will also provide information about the public's declining interest in election campaigns and voting.
