Several Attend Memorial Day Service Monday

About 50 people ignored the cloudy windy weather and attended the Cisco Memorial Day Services held last Monday at Oakwood Cemetery. Rev. Bill Philpott, gave the invocation. Leonard Tipton, guest speaker, said he always thinks of Cisco on Memorial Day. He remembered being a teenager during World War II, when someone came home hurt from the war, that person was welcomed. If word came in about someone being hurt people would go to church and pray for that person.

He said the people who serve in the Armed Forces are the greatest people in the world. There are none as great. He finished the program by saying, "America has never been beat and will never be beaten." The flags the American Legion always set out on the graves of Veterans on Memorial Day, did not arrive on time and a list of names of the veterans buried here were taken so they could be placed on the graves at a later date. Stephanie Kimbrough played taps to close the ceremony.

Pen Pal Visits Cisco Woman

Marja Leeuwenberg, from Amsterdam, Holland, was in Cisco recently visiting her pen pal, Reiko Kleiner. Marja and Reiko became pen pals through a chain letter when they were 16 and 15-year old girls. Reiko was still living in Japan at the time. This is the second the two women have met. The first time was in 1969 in New York City. Neither one of them could speak very good English and they weren't able to communicate very well. Reiko said they could read and write English, but they could not speak the language very well. Marja came over to the North American Continent on May 11. She visited first in Canada and then took a bus to Reno, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and then to Abilene. She had been riding a total of 90 hours when she made her stop in Cisco. She rode the bus back to New York City. Continued On Next Page....

City Judges Reappointed

"The City of Cisco had heavy expenditures in April, and except for that, April was a pretty normal month," according to City Manager Mike Moore. He spoke to council members at the regular City Council meeting held Tuesday, May 24, in City Hall. Moore added, "Fifty eight percent of the fiscal year has gone by as of the end of April." The City had budgeted $5,000 to be used for water system improvements, but had to spend a total of $24,837.24. The city added a sewer line to a business on East 23rd and repaired a water leak on Highway 6

during the month of April. The City of Cisco collected $6,750.12 in delinquent taxes during the month of April according to Moore. The optional payment pay-out plan is still in effect for delinquent tax payers, he said. In other matters, the city council passed the motion to levy a two-percent gross receipts tax on the conduct of Bingo games within the city. This was the second reading. Council members also passed the second reading of an ordinance to close Oakwood Cemetery during the night time hours of 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. This ordinance will prohibit the use or residency in the cemetery during these hours. If anyone is caught in the cemetery they will have to pay a penalty. The council approved the reappointment of Doug Fry as the Municipal Court Judge and Lois Holder as the alternate Municipal Court Judge. City Manager Mike Moore told council members, "I would most emphatically and heartily recommend Judge Doug Fry to the position of Municipal Court Judge. He is fair, strong, and compassionate."

Moore also said, "Lois Holder is the current alternate Municipal Court Judge. She is very knowledgeable of her duties and has always been available when needed." In other matters Manager Moore told council members the city has started seal coating the streets in Cisco. He said they have $110,960.00 set aside to buy the materials to seal coat and pave 56 blocks in the city. Moore said they have already paved 3 blocks in Humbletown and will pave an additional 13 blocks on the east side. He said they have commitments on West 14th, Ash and Humble Ave. They will continue the paving as long as the money and warm weather hold out. Moore gave council members additional information on the 911 Emergency Telephone System. He said Eastland County is unique from other 911 number systems in the state because six towns in the county that will be on the system, already use a one number sheriff and police number. Moore said everyone he has talked to in Eastland County seems to be in agreement with the 911 Emergency number. He said South Western Bell will not start on the 911 number until a resolution has been passed in all the cities involved. He said each telephone customer will be charged 50 cents a line per month. He said South Western Bell will collect the money for however long it takes and will start working on the line, when enough money has been collected. Council members attending the meeting were Arlie Whitley, Bural Chambers, Vernetta Pierce, John Muller and Allen Masters. Also attending the meeting were Mayor Joe Wheatley, City Secretary Ginger Johnson and City Manager Mike Moore. Bural Chambers gave the invocation.

Elizabeth Webb, secretary in the Eastern Star and friend to the Parmer family sang a medley of old tunes to the couple. There were over 30 people at the reception. Speakers From Nancy Reagan Drug Task Force To Speak At Drug Rally

"How Much Is A Child's Life Worth," will be the theme at the Anti-Narcotic Drug Rally to be held at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday, June 15, at the Corral Room, 400 Conrad Hilton, Cisco. Three speakers from the Nancy Reagan Drug Task Force will present a slide show and talk about the drug problem in America and what can be done to help fight the drug abuse in this area. The speakers also hope to open the eyes of the citizens in this area about how bad the drug problem is in Eastland County. The Cisco Lions Club, and the Cisco Police Department will present the Rally. Earl Ray, Owen King and Ivan Webb, Cisco Lions Club members will be in charge of putting the Rally together. Mr. Ray said there will be other speakers from the surrounding area speaking at the Rally. More information about the Narcotic K-9 Police Dog and hopefully a demonstration with a K-9, will be given at the Rally. The K-9 Police Dog is now being used in several towns to help fight drugs. Cisco is pursuing the chance to purchase a K-9 Police Dog. The cost of the dog is $5,000. But, Mr. Ray said, that is a very inexpensive investment to help protect our children. A special fund has been set up at Olney Savings to receive donations for the K-9 Police Dog. Owen King and Doug Fry are the treasurers for the fund. There will also be a bar-b-que dinner served at the Rally. Oscar's Bar-B-Que in Cisco will cook the meat. The cost of the bar-b-que plate will be $5.00. Everyone is invited to the Rally. A large crowd is expected to attend. Some of the towns that have shown an interest in participating in the Drug Rally on June 15 are Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, Clyde, Putnam, Baird, Abilene, Merkel, Trent, Rising Star, Cross Plains, Breckenridge, Moran, Albany and Gorman.

where she would take a plane back to Holland. Her favorite spot has been the Brice National Park between Salt Lake City and Las Vegas.

Marja said she really enjoyed the people and city of Cisco. She was amazed because Reiko introduced her to everyone at the Cisco Post Office and the next day they remembered her name and told her hello. She said people are so friendly and not so aggressive over here.

Reiko took her to the post office, to Cisco Junior College and to the schools. They also went on a trip to San Antonio.

She said it is not like that in Holland. There are 14 million people in Holland and it's a very small country. Marja said a person can drive across Holland, east to west, in two hours and across the small country north to south in four hours.

Lake Cisco Extension Club Visits Gerhardt Farm

A very important part of the Extension Homemakers activity is participating in 4-H work. Usually at least one program a year is presented to each club to acquaint the women with the projects of the young members and to offer encouragement and a receptive audience for practice for the 4-Hers.

The Lake Cisco Extension Club varied the usual program this year by visiting the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gerhardt and observing first hand the projects and rewards of past projects of the three young Gerhardts.

Kerstin, who is 11 years old and Garrett, who is 10, proudly showed the two beautiful registered Limousin heifers that are being prepared for future show exhibitions. They will be in major shows through the coming months. Caring for show animals is a seven day a week project. These fine animals even had their own cooling system to better stand the summer heat.

and there is no speed limit in Holland. She said Holland is famous for their tulips, dykes and windmills. The country is under sea level and they receive lots of rain.

Marja and her husband Anton have two boys, Maffys, 15, and Sjoerol, 13. She said her boys are not in a certain grade in school, they don't go by that in her country. She said they are

Randy Hastings Named Law Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy has announced that Jerry R. (Randy) Hastings Jr. has been named a United States National Collegiate Award winner in Law Enforcement. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact the Academy recognizes less than 10 percent of all American college students.

Randy, who attends Cisco Junior College, was nominated for this national taught vocational or technical trades. They take foreign languages in school.

Marja said she learned most of her English from TV and from school. She said they have the TV Soap's Dynasty and Dallas with sub-titles.

Her oldest son Maffys has plans to come to Cisco soon.

honor by Gary R. Hill, a professor at CJC. Randy will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Collegiate Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, executive director of the academy.

The academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of professors, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the standards of selection set forth by the academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a professor or director.

Randy is the son of Jerry and Betty Hastings. His grandparents are Almus and Eddie Hastings of Cisco and Rev. and Mrs. Wm. R. Collins of Weatherford.

No Such Thing As Free Press

The Press received the following from the Texas Newspaper Advertising Bureau (TNAB), newsletter recently. It was entitled "There is no such thing as a free press." It went:

Once upon a time in Texas, there lived a newspaper that reported all kinds of things, from weddings to recipes to obituaries to local needs and needs, to club and church news, to water and power rates, to local elections. And while the town worked hard to solve unemployment, crime, bad streets, and all the other aches of the day, the newspaper kept at it to try to bring the town a promise of the best to come — and to believe in itself.

A few years earlier, the newspaper didn't have as many readers. But its merchants advertised a lot, and there were more available dollars to hire writers and advertising sales people.

The town prospered and its population grew to attract new, bigger businesses that came in to compete from throughout the entire region. But some of those bigger businesses tried different ways of advertising, or reduced their own dollars for advertising when they took command of the market. Some small firms left.

Times got tougher for the newspaper in spite of helping it's town grow. In just 18 months, the price of newsprint increased 30 percent, and it cost 20 percent more just to mail the same newspaper. The newspaper increased minimum wages and all of the other new challenges to business as did everyone else. Just the cost of keeping its doors open increased to $526 per day for every 2,500 circulation.

The newspaper was forced to reduce its staff a bit, along with some of its local coverage because the dollars just don't have the same reach as prior years.

The town started losing it close kinship and upbeat manner. And its citizens became less interested in ideas for the future of a town in which they were losing contact... and information.

But the newspaper (every newspaper) kept plugging along, attending countless local meetings and event. And its staff worked long hours to find ways to produce a better newspaper for the town, and to provide businesses with a valuable means of selling their goods and services, and informing readers about everything from government to fashions and foods.

Texas Newspapers are always plugging, because they enjoy exercising "Freedom of the Press". But please understand, this freedom doesn't come cheaply. It costs lots of dollars to keep it going. So help to put a happy ending on this story for both your town and its newspaper... SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER, AND ITS ADVERTISERS, because they're truly helping your town!!

Editor's Note:

I definitely believe that newspaper advertising works. Business owners at Clinton Hearing Aid and Cisco Communications said they can tell the difference when they don't have their ad in the paper. Business slacks off.

Pentecost Sunday Observed At New Life Tabernacle Church

New Life Tabernacle observed Pentecost Sunday May 22, according to Rev. Bill Bailey, pastor.

The Sunday service began at 8 a.m. with a prayer meeting lasting until 9 a.m. From 9 until 10 a.m., the church enjoyed a continental breakfast.

Rev. Bailey delivered a message entitled "Our Heritage" at the 10 a.m. service. Evangelist Carlos Martinez of De Ridder, La., preached at 11 a.m.

"What a beautiful time to acquaint our people as well as the people in the community with the truth concerning the outpouring of the Holy Ghost," Rev. Bailey said.

There are seven Sundays between Easter and Pentecost, and a special emphasis can be placed each Sunday on faithfulness or events that lead to the outpouring of the Spirit in the life of an individual such as: Repentance, Faith, Baptism, Restoration and the Grace of God," Rev. Bailey noted.

He added that Pentecost was a Hebrew feast of the Old Testament. It commemorated the giving of the Law to Moses on Mount Sinai and marked the end of the harvest in Israel's history. Rev. Bailey said the Prophet Joel foretold of a day when the events of Pentecost could become a reality in the personal lives of individuals (Joel 2:28-29). The prophet Isaiah told of this glorious experience and its deep importance (Isaiah 28:11-12). John the Baptist told of the beautiful experience of Pentecost also (Mark 1:8).

"And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance" (Acts 2:1-4).

Jesus told the disciples that it was necessary for him to go away for the Spirit to come to them. In that day Jesus said, "I am in my father, and ye in me, and I in you." It is Christ in you the hope of glory. The same Spirit that raised Jesus from the dead now dwells in us, Rev. Bailey said.

"Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call" (Acts 2:38-39). "To you and your children even as many as the Lord our God shall call means you, today," mow.

Pentecost is a vital experience right now. You can have the experience for yourself. It is for you!" Rev. Bailey said in closing.

Gevara Selected

Phyllis Gevara, of Eastland, had been selected as one of fifty high school drama students from Texas to attend the 26th annual Summer Theater Workshop June 4 through July 10 at the University of Texas in Austin.

The workshop is under the direction of Lynn Murray, State drama director of the University Interscholastic League.

Phyllis has been active in UIL drama and poetry interpretation since entering high school. She advanced to Regional competition in poetry interpretation the past three years.

Last year Phyllis received Honorable Mention - "All Star Cast" for her part as a Mime in Eastland production of "The Arkansas Bear" for UIL competition. Recently she played the part of Charlie Hatcher's mother in the Junior Class Play, "Suitable for a Hanging."

In April Phyllis played the lead part of Amanda Wingfield in "The Glass Menagerie." The play placed 1st in District UIL competition and Phyllis was named to the District "All Star Cast."

Phyllis is the 17 year old daughter of Roy and Danelda Gevara and she will be a Senior at Eastland High School in the fall.

And she is the granddaughter of Ed and Irene Wende of Eastland, formerly of Cisco.

Singles Alternative

It's time again for Eastland County's "Singles Alternative." Last month 40 people from Ranger, Cisco, Eastland and even Brownwood came out for an alternative to staying home on another Friday night.

June 3rd at 7 p.m. the group will have their second "Singles Alternative," with volleyball and other activities, and of course good snacks and other refreshments. All area single adults interested in meeting new people and making new friends are invited.

For directions and more information watch for the next edition of the paper or listen to the Community Calendar on KVMX, or call 442-1140, 442-4568, 442-4841, 629-8224 or 629-1901.

Come on don't stay home again!! Being a "couch potato" isn't healthy; what are you going to miss? Summer reruns?? An alternative to being a "couch potato" is the getting in on the mixing of our "Singles Alternative's" Potato Salad."

card of thanks

Editor:

Ann and I wish to express our appreciation and say "THANK YOU" to everyone who sent their best wishes, prayers, food, flowers, cards and who visited our daughter, Gardner during her stay in the hospital in Eastland and Abilene. Also, we thank the doctors and nurses who cared for her.

We continue to receive expressions of kindness and concern from so many and we are deeply appreciative.

A special thanks to Imogene and Buddy Haun who, through the events that occurred, endlessly gave their time, love and affection in a most difficult situation.

Second Generation Funeral Directors

CLIFFORD BURIAL

ROLE OF THE CLERGY AT TIME OF DEATH:
The minister, priest, or rabbi can help greatly in properly consoling and assisting the bereaved - if he is contacted early after the death of the loved one. He can define the differences between the physical (body of the deceased) and the soul (spirit of the deceased). He can further ease the family through the first steps of the grief process.

It is far healthier, emotionally, to allow the minister to help the family work through their grief openly than to permit their sadness to be repressed or concealed.

Clergymen have been trained to assist in times of stress. Their experiences through study and from real life-and-death situations, make them invaluable to you- and us. Their many sources of comfort and aid, especially in grief counseling, can be very beneficial. They are especially anxious to serve their congregations at such times. They would also like to be contacted early so they can be of assistance as soon as it is possible for them to do so.

We welcome your questions-- in private or publicly through this column.

Putnam School In 1910

PUTNAM SCHOOL IN 1910—Enclosed is a Xerox copy of a picture from your newspaper that my niece, Jewel Golson of Eastland, recently mailed to me. Several years ago, I mailed this picture, along with several other pictures, to Mr. I.G. Mobley of Putnam. We have corresponded for many years.

The picture was given to me a long time ago by one of my childhood friends, Florence Anthony Hammond of Canyon, Texas. The picture was made in 1910 and is the last student body, grades 1 through 10, to use the old wood school building in Putnam. A new two story school was built of red brick about four blocks southeast from the old building. A teacher was Omar Burkett and he is standing in the top row in front of the middle window. I am in the second row down about half way between the windows. Winnie Rutherford has a scarf around her neck and is standing in the top right hand corner of the picture. Earl Rutherford, Winnie's brother, is in the upper left hand part of the picture. Earl is the father of LaVern Rutherford who is the postmaster in Putnam. The Sandlin boys, Harry, Benson, and Crayton, are standing in the door of the school. The Mobley girls, Ruth, Betty, and Mable, are in the center of the top row. They are I.G.'s sisters. I.G. is in the picture too but I am not sure where he is. My sister, Ila Crosby Culwell, late of San Antonio, is next to Bonnie Wayne Britton and they are standing with two other girls in the lower right part of the picture. Bonnie Wayne is the daughter of Doctor Britton who was a pioneer doctor in Callahan County. He attended gunshot wounds, set broken bones and delivered babies from the late 1800's until his death. Florence Anthony Hammond and her brother Barney Anthony, both of Canyon, Texas and Neil More and Jewel Golson, both of Eastland are in the picture but I am not certain about their locations. I am sure that if I had the original picture, I could identify many more people.

I was born in Ellis County, Texas on June 14, 1896, and was next to the youngest of nine children, six girls and three boys, born to Tom Crosby of South Carolina and Columbia Florence Cates of Limestone County, Texas. The Crosby family moved to a farm in Callahan County in 1896, the year I was born.

Sincerely,
Ima Crosby Wells

Extension Program Council Executive Board To Meet

The Executive Board of the Eastland County Extension Program Council will meet on Thursday, June 2, at 4:50 p.m. in the Eastland National Bank Community Room.

The main purpose of this meeting will be to plan an educational event for this year. Last September 22 Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville met with the group and discussed a computer short course. Soon afterward it was learned that the computer specialist was resigning and would not schedule a program.

Recently a new person was hired in that position. He can now schedule a time in the fall. The Executive Board will need to decide if this short course will be held or whether to plan some other event that will respond to needs of people in the county.

Hosts for the June 2 Executive Board meeting will be County Extension Agents DeMarquis Gordon, Janet Thomas, and Crystal Akers Wilbanks.

County Catholic Graduates Honored

Six Catholic high school graduates were honored at Sunday Mass May 22 at Holy Rosary Catholic Church in Cisco.

The graduates and their families were special guests at the Mass celebrated on the Feast of Pentecost. The Eastland County Catholic Youth provided the music for the worship service and then hosted a covered dish dinner afterward in the parish hall.

The six young men who were honored were Joe Flores and Mike Dominguez of Cisco; Mike Baker and Jerry Adamez of Eastland; and Mario Abila and Bret Lund of Ranger.

Fr. Jim Miller spoke to the graduates encouraging them to do their best in whatever field they chose always leaning on the word of God and putting their spiritual lives above all else. He presented the young men with a Bible, a gift from their church.

The church's sanctuary was decorated with a banner proclaiming the coming of the Holy Spirit and with an arrangement of white gladiolas and mums. Pews were marked with bows in the colors of the high schools represented by the young men.

The youth choir was accompanied by Bill Hopkins, seminarian in residence at St. Rita's in Ranger, and Larry Duncan and Dr. Bob DeLuca of Eastland. Musical selections included "The Spirit Is a Movin'," "Take Our Bread," "I Lift Up My Soul," and "Alabare (I Shall Praise)." Teresa Gaeta and Leonor Soto sang the Communion meditation song entitled "By My Side."

Scripture readings for the service were read by Leonor Soto and Jo Ann Escobedo. Anna Flores led the congregation in a special prayer for the graduates and their families.

Cisco Chapter Of AARP

Seventy-five members and two guests of the Cisco Chapter No. 2447 of the American Association of Retired Persons convened at the Corral Room Thursday, May 19, at 6 p.m. for their regular meeting and covered dish supper. President Jack Robertson presided.

Our guest was Charlie Jordan, a very well known and very popular person in the Big Country. Not only is he the week-end weatherman of Abilene's station KTAB, but, also, the director of Ben Richey's Boys Ranch.

Mr. Jordan's account of his becoming a weatherman in the Navy was a hilarious one. He returned to Abilene after his discharge for two reasons - there were roses growing along the railroad tracks and for a more important one, "Texas people are important." Mr. Jordan's commitment to the boys at the ranch was his theme of the evening. In detailing how the ranch is structured, how the staff and he deal with the problems of these boys was of keen interest to the audience. The ranch has room for 24 boys, ranging in ages from 6 to 18, all from the "Big Country." They attend the local schools, churches and participate in local sports which enables them to re-enter society when they return home. In dealing with these boys, three main ingredients are stressed, firmness, fairness and consistency - measures which many of today's parents could implement in their own homes.

The ranch has a yearly budget of $167,000 which is supplemented by gifts from friends around the Big Country. The members thoroughly enjoyed Charlie Jordan's visit.

A REAL speaking part; four big words; that's what the Father of the Bride gets; and there's already discussion as to whether I'll get it said right.

The cue from the preacher, when he says, "Who gives this child in marriage?"

You know what the answer is supposed to be—but I can answer correctly.

YOU CAN know that up to this point, the F.O. the B. has, by tradition, had very little to say.

F.O.B. is most a go-for and chaffer, which, if he is wise, he will do with a cheerful countenance—even though his heart is breaking inside.

Is there a F.O.B. alive who hasn't thought: "This child is too young to wed." Even though you know that she's the same age as your mother when we wed.

Naturally, you counter that argument with the old standby, "But that's different. We knew what we were doing." Chances are, today's bride does too.

SO YOU'VE learned the first premise for F.O.B.s in Chapter One of our in-progress book on "Surviving the Marriage of Your Daughter": smile, do what you're told, and stay out of the way when you're not needed.

Notice, we don't suggest that this is easy—just necessary.

Because there are times, where there's long and detailed discussions about the length of the bridesmaids' dresses and other such minute details, which a year from now, won't amount to a hoot, but right now, are among the most important things in the

to the actual event...so many in fact, that one gets to the point of thinking "The event will be glorious relief to a long ordeal."

THIS IS not to say that it isn't a happy occasion...Our bride even did a school paper on wedding customs and traditions, so she pretty well knows the ropes — from front to back. And we want it to be a happy time for her.

BUT FOR now, this F.O.B. has got to get back to memorizing his lines—there isn't much time before Saturday night.

PREACHER: "Who gives...?"

Tradition dictates that the answer will be: "Her mother and I." Reckon what would happen if I were to ad lib a bit, and maybe add the word "reluctantly"?

OR, S it has just occurred to me, maybe there's a better deal in this for me than I'd seen before. They don't realize just how much authority is vested in me...So they'd better be good to me now, and promise to be good to me in the future, or I just might have to exercise my prerogative and when the preacher asks "Who..."

THIS F.O.B. could really toss a wrench into the machinery by answering,

Interim Legislative Committee/Workers'

The Joint Select Committee on Workers' Compensation Insurance was created during the 2nd Special Session of the 70th Texas Legislature. This Committee, of which I serve as Co-Chairman, was established to conduct a detailed study of the workers' compensation system in Texas, the impact of the system on employees and employers, and how other states have addressed the problems that Texas now faces.

Five members of the Senate, appointed by the Lt. Governor, and five members of the House, appointed by the Speaker, form this Committee. Meetings are being held across the State to gather information and public testimony, and recommendations by the Committee will be presented to the 71st Legislature which convenes in January, 1989. The Texas workers' compensation law was first enacted in 1913 to establish the employers' liability for injuries occurring at the workplace, regardless of fault, and to strictly limit that liability to benefits due under the statute. Our Texas law provides for medical benefits, cash benefits and physical rehabilitation. Through the years, this law has been amended many times, resulting in many people feeling that it has become inefficient. In 1985, the House Select Interim Committee on Workers' Compensation Insurance was charged with studying various aspects of this system. It was the finding of the Committee that Texas premiums are well above the national average, while our compensation benefits are well below those of other states. Our workers' compensation system costs over $2.5 billion per year and affects over 400,000 Texas workers each year. The problems are not unique to Texas, and many other states are also currently reviewing their systems. Our study will include investigation of the procedure for payment of claims; the impact of the system on economic development in Texas; the efficiency of the Texas workers' compensation delivery system; the structure and operation of the Industrial Accident Board which is the State Agency administering the provisions of the workers' compensation law; indemnification available to employers; job safety and the assigned risk pool.

The next scheduled Committee meeting will be held at the University of Texas at Arlington in the School of Social Work, beginning at 10 a.m. on June 3, 1988. Presentations will be given by representatives of profiled states and discussions of those systems as compared to workers' compensation in Texas. Public testimony is invited from all interested individuals and groups.

Should you wish to testify at this meeting, it is necessary to complete a witness card prior to the beginning of the hearing. Committee members may ask questions of persons presenting oral testimony, and the hearings will be recorded and become a part of the public record of the Committee. I urge you to be involved in your State government and participate in meetings of interest to you. If you wish additional information, you may contact either my office or the Workers' Compensation Committee at 512/463-0814.

Dr. James H. Duke To Speak At Clinic

Dr. James H. "Red" Duke, whose brief health commentaries on television are widely popular with the viewing audience, will give his views on beef and its nutritional value at the Heart of Texas Cow-Calf Clinic.

Dr. Duke, who is affiliated with the University of Texas Medical School at Houston, is the luncheon speaker at the clinic, which will be held May 5 at the Brownwood Coliseum.

The Brownwood gatherings brings ranchers together with experts in various fields of ranching and business. The clinic is aimed at providing information for improved management of cattle operations. Admission is free. The formal program begins at 9:05 a.m. with a presentation by Dr. Bill Mies, Associate Professor of Animal Science at Texas A&M University. Dr. Mies will appraise the state of today's beef industry and trends for the future.

Dr. Russell Cross of the Department of Animal Science at A&M will outline the increasingly important topic of meeting consumer demands for the beef-packing industry.

Dr. John McNeill, Extension Beef Specialist, Amarillo, will tackle the topic of selection and breeding for the industry's needs.

The morning session will wrap up with a panel discussion, moderated by Dr. O.D. Butler, Chairman of the Texas Beef Referendum Steering Committee. Dr. Duke will speak on beef and nutrition during a luncheon.

In the afternoon, Linda Janca, Texas Beef Industry Council, Austin, will tell the participants why "Beef is Back" and James B. Owens of Tyler, Chairman of the Texas Beef Industry Council, will speak on "Investment in Your Future."

Dr. Butler will wrap up facts surrounding the Texas Beef Referendum with information concerning the successful vote by the industry on the beef industry promotion.

The annual gathering has attracted a growing number of cow-calf operators and a growing number of agricultural exhibitors in past years.

Representatives from major agricultural companies and service industries doing business with agri-business will have booths to demonstrate various farm and ranch supplies.

The clinic is sponsored by TU Electric, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce and the Federal Land Bank Association. Coordination of the program is handled by the beef cattle subcommittees of Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, McCulloch, Mills and San Saba Counties.

WORD OF GOD

New Testament
Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.
But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.
But as the days of No'e were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that No'e entered into the ark,
And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

Matthew 24:35-39

Trespass Is A Crime

Landowners in some areas indicate that there is a problem with people ignoring fences and posted signs and they trespass to hunt and fish, and sometimes even to steal. It has been suggested that if they realized what the penalty can be, they would either get permission, or stay with public hunting and fishing areas.

A person commits criminal trespass if he enters or remains on property or in a building of another without effective consent and he had notice that the entry was forbidden, or received notice to depart but failed to do so. Entry is intrusion of the entire body; while notice is oral or written communication by the owner or someone with apparent authority to act for the owner, fencing or other enclosure obviously designed to exclude intruders or to contain livestock, or a sign or signs posted on the property or at the entrance to the building reasonably likely to come to the attention of intruders, indicating that entry is forbidden.

Criminal trespass is Class B and is punishable by a $1,000 fine, six months in the county jail, or both, unless it is committed in a habitation or the actor carries a deadly weapon on or about his person during the commission of the offense. In such a case it becomes Class A and is punishable by up to a $2,000 fine, a year in the county jail, or both.

RANGER
Memorial Day was observed in a very special way on Sunday, May 29. A large crowd gathered in World War II Park for the noon meal of barbecue, and for the impressive program at 2:30 p.m. County Judge Scott Bailey was Master of Ceremonies for the afternoon event, which included a speech by State Representative Jim Parker. The Boy and Girl Scout Associations held a flag raising ceremony, and area veterans spoke of experiences. It was a time to remember all the veterans, and to especially honor those who gave their lives for the freedoms enjoyed by this country. During the afternoon prize-winning essay composed by young people from the Ranger Schools were read. They were based on the theme: "What Price Freedom?"

The 10th Annual Little League Old Timer's Reunion will be held Saturday, June 11 at 6 p.m. Everyone 25 yrs. of age and older who played in the Ranger Little League is eligible to play. BAIRD
Callahan County Commissioners have approved the payment of Expenses for County Attorney Elect Brad Harris to attend a Prosecutors Seminar in Austin. The motion was made by Johnson and seconded by Kitchens, with Ingram abstaining. In other business, no decision was made on a request by a Noah Project representative from Abilene. The representative stated that the Project had helped 13 people from Callahan County during the last year, and they requested that the county contribute some funds to the project.

Beginning June 2, three 4-H Clothing Workshop sessions will be held at the Baird High School Home Economics Room. The Workshops will be from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon on June 2 and 3, and from 1:30 - 3:30 p.m. on June 6. County Extension Agent Debbie Christian and volunteer leaders Daniece Odom and Sue Smith will conduct the sessions.

CISCO
Memorial Day was marked

in Cisco by Services at Oakwood Cemetery, with special honors for men and women who served in the Armed Forces. Willard Johnson, Commander of American Legion Post 123, was in charge. Chief Warrant Officer Leonard Tipton was the speaker. The Color Guard from the Texas National Guard in Breckenridge posted the colors, and Stephanie Kimbrough played taps while the flag was raised. Small flags were given out so that families could place them on the graves of veterans. This Memorial Day Service is held each year in Cisco.

Three speakers from the Nancy Reagan Drug Task Force will present a slide show and talk about the drug problem in America at 7 p.m., Wed., June 15 in the Corral Room, 400 Conrad Hilton, Cisco. The theme of this Anti-Narcotic Rally is "How Much Is A Child's Life Worth?" It is reported that the speakers also hope to open the eyes of citizens in this area as to how bad the drug problem is in Eastland County. More information about the K-9 Police dog will be given at the Rally. The public is invited to come out to this program, which will be sponsored by the Cisco Lions Club and Cisco Police Department.

On Tuesday, June 7 the local Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the first "Brown Bag Day at the Hilton." The purpose of the noon gathering will be to visit with fellow citizens and discuss ways to improve Cisco. There will be music during lunch, and also a short program on Cisco's water situation. There will be time for citizens to make any positive suggestions on the subject. Citizens are encouraged to call any local restaurant and have a "Brown Bag" prepared for lunch. There will be soft drinks available at the Hilton.

...to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A FREE PRESS

ONCE UPON A TIME IN TEXAS, there lived a newspaper that reported all kinds of things, from weddings to recipes to obituaries to local needs and elections, to club and church news, to water and power rates, to local events. And while the town worked hard to solve unemployment, crime, bad streets and all the other aches of the day, the newspaper kept at it to try to bring the town a promise of the best to come -- and to believe in itself.

A FEW YEARS EARLIER, the newspaper didn't have as many readers. But its merchants advertised a lot, and there were more available dollars to hire writers and advertising sales people.

THE TOWN PROSPERED and its population grew to attract new, bigger businesses that came in to compete for customers from throughout the entire region. But some of those bigger businesses tried different ways of advertising, or reduced their own dollars for advertising when they took command of the market. Some small firms left.

TIMES GOT TOUGHER for the newspaper in spite of helping it's town grow. In just 18 months, the price of newsprint increased 30 percent, and it cost 20 percent more just to mail the same newspaper. The newspaper faced the same higher taxes, increased minimum wages and all of the other new challenges to business as did everyone else. Just the cost of keeping its doors open increased to $526 per day for every 2,500 circulation. *

The newspaper was forced to reduce its staff a bit, along with some of its local coverage because the dollars just don't have the same reach as prior years.

THE TOWN STARTED LOSING its close kinship and upbeat manner. And its citizens became less interested in ideas for the future of a town in which they were losing contact . . . and information.

BUT THE NEWSPAPER (every newspaper) kept plugging along, attending countless local meetings and events. And its staff worked long hours to find ways to produce a better newspaper for the town, and to provide businesses with a valuable means of selling their goods and services, and informing readers about everything from fashions and foods.

TEXAS NEWSPAPERS are always plugging, because they enjoy exercising "Freedom of the Press." But please understand, this freedom doesn't come cheaply. It costs lots of dollars to keep it going. So help to put a happy ending on this story for both your town and its newspaper . . . SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL NEWSPAPER, AND ITS ADVERTISERS, because they're truly helping your town!

"Hairspray" To Show At Majestic

This film continues in the tradition of John Waters' sick humor, but the director of "Pink Flamingos" and "Polyester" seems to have mellowed somewhat. The film, which spoofs the teen movies and "message films" of the early '60s, has a sweetness about it. Ricki Lake stars as Tracy Turnbald, a chunky but pretty (and feisty) teen-ager who becomes a regular TV dance program. Lake is terrific as the obese heroine whose self-confidence always wins the day. Divine is a hoot as Miss Edna, Tracy's mother, and Debbie Harry and Sonny Bono play the villainous parents of the spoiled Amber Von Tussle, Tracy's jealous peer. The dancing is wonderful, and there's plenty of it. The film is a must-see for the fans of Waters' sort of humor and it's his funniest film yet. Rated PG.

Show times: Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 3rd, 4th and 5th. The feature starts at 7:30 p.m. All seats are $2.50.

Five Generations Gather To Honor Thelma Tickner May 14

Five generations gathered at the home of Mrs. W.C. (Thelma) Tickner on May 14, to honor her on her 80th birthday. Mrs. Tickner was born May 16, 1908, in Deming, New Mexico. Some of the family was in Cisco for Mother's day, but the Mom's Dinner, birthday cake, etc., was held on Saturday, May 14.

This event was well recorded by five cam corders, as well as several cameras. It was a very happy, fun time spent in visiting, eating and playing games. Most of the family were able to stay and visit with Mrs. Tickner for a week. Everyone missed the family members who were unable to attend.

Those attending were: Homer and Verne Mauldin, from Ruidoso, New Mexico; Doug and Betty Shults from Gatesville; Jack Mauldin from Topeka, Kansas; Jack Mauldin Jr., from Arlington; Bill and Randy Mauldin and Robert Burns from College Station; Mike and Vicki, Mandi and Wesley Horton of Del Rio; Shannon Rutledge of Garland; Michael Arhndt of Dallas; Gary and Rita and Jay Adcock and Debbie Blaylock of Odessa; Anne and Jason Wamba of Gatesville; Libby Connolly of Hamlin; Bill and Susie McKinnen and Rachel Mauldin of Abilene; Allie Spurjean, Dot Stevens, Doyton

Stevens, Virginia Stevens and Jay Ingram, all of Cisco.

Mrs. Tickner is the registrar at the Cisco Senior Center. In her spare time she likes to crochet for members of her family.

letters to the editor ...

Dear Editor,

Last fall, I called your paper and requested that your newspaper be sent to Mr. Dale McFarland who lives at Magic Star Nursing Home in Borger, Texas.

While I was on the phone with one of your employees, I explained that Mr. McFarland once played football for Cisco Junior College. He is now a quadriplegic due to an accident and is confined to the nursing home.

Mr. McFarland is "eating up" so to speak with football and when he found out that I, too, had attended CJC, he began to regale me with football facts of every game he ever played- he has a fantastic memory. He has collected clippings of newspaper accounts of his football games.

Anyway, the employee I spoke with suggested that I send in Mr. McFarland's story. I asked him what he thought about it. It brightened his day considerably.

So, attached is Mr. McFarland's brief football history. Please print it. Mr. McFarland will be watching delightedly.

God Bless You All!
Debra Wells,
P.S. I attended CJC in 1970-71. Great School! I was Debra Lunday then.

Dale McFarland graduated from Borger High School in 1953. He went to Cisco Junior College in the fall of 1953 and played one semester.

Dale transferred to Eastern New Mexico University because of the fire at CJC. He remembers the ag building, chow hall and dormitories being on fire and watching students and staff running outside in the night.

That fall, CJC beat Ranger, 27-0. CJC was the 40 point underdog in the Ft. Worth Press. Red Lewis was the coach.

Dale wore jersey number 53 and weighed 152 pounds. He was the starting middle linebacker.

Howard Payne beat CJC 33-13 and won the Lone Star Conference that year under Dale's ex-high school football coach, Guy Gardner.

CJC won one more game that year. They beat San Angelo Air Force Base.

Dale broke his left hand in an after game fight with San Angelo so he sat out the last game. At that game, CJC lost to Glen, Tarleton, Hardin-Simmons JV's and McMurray JVs.

After the CJC beat, Dale transferred to Eastern New Mexico University for two years. ENM was in the Lone Star Conference and played McMurray in a conference game. Dale played against the same middle guard that he played against when he was at CJC and they played McMurray.

Two CJC boys went with Dale to ENM, Jim Lynch and Robbie Roberts of Sudan. They tried out but didn't make it at ENM.

Dale still weighed in at 152 pounds. He played in his first intercollegiate ball game against a Canadian football college. ENM won 19-0 at Saskatchewan, Canada.

ENM won the shot gun offense before the Dallas Cowboys ever existed on the twelve man game. Dale started and played the whole game on offense.

ENM's homecoming game was against Idaho. Idaho had not been beat in 22 games and had three All-Americans in their club. ENM won the game. The guard in front of Dale weighed 274 pounds. There was 221 yards total offense on the center and ENM won 38-6.

ENM lost the Lone Star Conference by one ballgame. They lost to Howard Payne and were beat out of a bid to the Sun Bowl. Dale then broke his left ankle and set out the rest of the year.

Dale then spent three years in the Army stationed at Ft. McPherson as an MP on the Honor Guard.

When Dale left the service, he returned to ENM weighing in at 258 pounds. He was put through 22 days of spring training which brought him down to 222 pounds.

The next year was 9 and 1. ENM lost to Sam Houston State and Dale broke his left ankle again and did not return to ENM.

Dale served on the Lovington, New Mexico police force for one year and then to the city police department in Ft. Worth for five years.

From then until 1976 he worked for oil companies. In 1976, Dale was involved in an accident and is now a quadriplegic. He lives in a nursing home in Borger, Texas.

If any readers remember Dale, you can write him in care of:

If you are anything like me, you are reading this in search of something that relates to you specifically.

I am here to tell you that what I am writing does indeed relate to every person in this area in a major way. The problem is a nagging one that has been around for a while.

The problem is drug addiction and I know you are tired of hearing about it. The fact is that our society is numb to the ongoing debate. Every politician says he has a strategy. Every dedicated law officer has a special technique. Everyone else who is concerned, is free to verbalize their own theory. Everyone is tired of hearing about solutions that aren't working.

I, for one, am not here to offer a solution; at least not in the confines of this page. There is no solution to be found in words, or worry, or in waiting for the magic man with a magic answer. I do however want to express some thoughts that arise from my own personal experience.

I am a recovering drug addict, and I will only speak within the limits of my personal knowledge on the subject.

When I was active in my addiction I used amphetamines, or speed as it is known on the streets. I wasn't a bum in the gutter, as many believe is a necessary part of being a drug addict. I appeared normal. I dress normal. I walked among you, and I worked beside you. The only people who were aware of my drug use were the ones I told. But many people knew there was a problem somewhere because I couldn't seem to get anywhere in anything I tried. I would change jobs very frequently, perform well, then quit. I told you things like: "I've got problems at home"; "I got a better offer"; and various other feeble excuses. I wrote hot checks to a number of you. Some of you got a rubber check from me bi-weekly. Those of you who were my friends were not immuned. You helped me out of many jams by loaning money to me.

The problem was, I couldn't use this money to support my family and pay my long overdue bills. You see, I had for a long time been in a pit of agony that I felt I had to climb out of, but couldn't. There was a chemical that I had introduced into my body. This chemical made me able to deal with a painful life. It would bring me out of the deepest depression and make me feel like I could make things better. It made me feel alert and intensely aware. It heightened my eagerness to do something worthwhile, and made me feel like I could save my wrecked life.

The only problem with this was that it only last for a short period of time. In order to deal with the horrible pain of my reality, when it wore off, I could do nothing but try to get more. You say that is not normal and I agree. I wasn't normal by this stage of the game. You see, this chemical was not meant to be inside the human body, but my body had to process it nonetheless. When all was said and done, my body had changed this chemical into something it could live with, and this substance made it's way to my brain where it gradually took over the larger part of my thinking. This thinking was centered only on getting more of the chemical. I was out of control. I was using to live and living to use.

It finally reached the point where I couldn't get enough to even make my life liveable any more. I would lie down and pray for death to come in the night. I no longer had any alternatives that worked. This drug wouldn't work. This life wouldn't work. But still, I roared through life like a tornado; causing problems, pain, and destruction at every turn. I could fill this page with tragic specifics, but I don't want to shock you.

I would however like to sincerely ask each of you for something from your heart. I would like to ask you for some anger. I don't want you to be angry at me, for I want to try to give back some of what I took. I want you to be angry at the fact that we face a problem that is killing our children, our brothers and sisters, and most importantly our future.

I want to ask you for a great deal of sorrow. Again, the sorrow is not for me. I am learning to deal with life, on life's terms, for the first time in my life, and this is making me happy. No, the sorrow should be for the fact that our towns and our society are lacking in that necessary ingredient that will enable us to overcome this plague. But most of all, I plead for heartfelt concern, and immediate action. If we sit around and wait for someone to come up with a magic policy, we will probably die in that sitting position.

There is a direction that we can go, but it will take the combined effort of all who care. As I stated before, there is nothing I could write here that would provide a solution to this problem. The scope and complexity of the situation calls for a well thought-out strategy.

There is an organization being formed in Eastland County and the surrounding area, that is intent on confronting this problem from all angles. There are some concrete things that must be done. Please help us carry out a decisive plan of action now, before it's too late.

For a variety of reasons, I am not signing my name to this article. Many people may have already figured out who I am, just from reading this. For those who still don't know me, I will assume that if are concerned and want to help, we will meet very soon. All you have to do is step forward.

If you are one of those who is still not motivated, perhaps you should consider the facts I presented about myself and at the same time, think very hard about another fact. There are many more who are just as desperate as I was. They are among you right now. Just as I was, they are unbridled cyclones and they will strike many places in the course of a day. Are you safe? Are your children safe? Is your business safe? Are you sure?

(ED. NOTE: Now that you have read this, perhaps you are asking yourself as we did: "What can I do?" "What can be done?" When we asked the writer these questions, we were told that there are many areas where people can help, but for right now, the purpose is just to encourage the readers to examine their own lives, their families, their town, and to be aware that the problem is not far away, but right here. As a society, we are prone, when we hear of problems, to think in terms of "How much can we give," or "Where do we sign up to help," and we were told that these all have their place in helping solve the drug problem, and there are these needs, but many more. It will take a total commitment because the problem is total, we were told.)

McGruff Program Successful

It is not always easy to get people to agree on the best ways of doing things - especially on drug or crime prevention.

But there is one program which everyone has a positive feeling for - the McGruff Drug Prevention and Child Protection Program in the Cisco, Carbon and Eastland Elementary Schools.

The McGruff Program includes a bright-eyed, approx. 2 ft. high dog puppet for each home classroom. This human-like character wears plaid trousers and a snappy jacket, and uses the slogan "Take A Bite Out Of Crime." The series is designed to be presented once each week for 32 weeks, with each lesson about 15 minutes long.

McGruff is manipulated as a puppet by each classroom teacher, and comes equipped with cassette tapes containing messages delivered in an appealing, growly voice. Sometimes McGruff delights the children by singing, or captures their interest in other ways.

The detailed information on crime and drug abuse prevention is arranged to communicate with children from Kindergarten through the Sixth Grade.

Prevention of child abuse is the focus of the Kindergarten lessons, with topics such as "Stranger Danger." By the time children reach the Third Grade they have special lessons on traffic safety, and "Drugs Make You Sick."

Fourth Graders learn that "Drugs Can Be Dangerous," and their other lessons begin to include bicycle safety. The Fifth and Sixth Grades learn about drug identification, and ways to combat theft.

There are coloring sheets and hand-outs for the children. The puppet and all this material cost around $60-70 per room.

About two years ago Joe Cooper of Cisco learned of this series and decided that the McGruff Drug Prevention and Child Protection program would be helpful in the Cisco Elementary School.

Cooper, a member of PADD (Parents Against Dangerous Drugs), appealed to the Cisco Service Clubs for the financing of this project. "They responded 100 percent," he reports. "The material was placed in the school by the fall of 1986."

The school has used the Program for two terms now, and results seem to be good. Robert Lindsey, Principal of the Cisco Elementary School, reports that he is highly pleased with the project.

"The kids love it," he says. "McGruff is getting their attention - this is something different. I think the long-term results are going to be very good."

"I am grateful to all the Clubs that supported it."

The interest in the program at Cisco was one factor that encouraged Mike Siebert, Eastland Attorney and PADD member, to help place it in Siebert Elementary School.

About a year ago he began a fund drive for the program, and got a lot of response from Eastland. Service Clubs, individuals, businesses, the Law Enforcement Association and others contributed. The Wal-Mart store had a big fund drive where the management matched employees' donations.

Cindy Carlton of Carbon became interested in the program for the Carbon School's elementary rooms, and contacted Siebert. There were enough contributions to pay for the Carbon puppets as well as those for Siebert Elementary School. They were placed in both schools in the fall of 1987.

After a school year of using the material, Lloyds Allmand, Principal at Siebert Elementary, says she is very pleased with it.

"It's another approach," she says. "The McGruff program reinforces what we have been trying to get across to the children. It has a lot of education on drug, abuse - but that's not the entire thing."

"McGruff is displayed each day in the classrooms and becomes a personality. The children really enjoy this character, and look forward to the programs."

The teachers attended an in-service training session to learn how to use McGruff properly. Mrs. Allmand says. She feels they deserve special thanks for their dedication in working with the program.

Both Mike Siebert and Joe Cooper say they realize that the McGruff Program is not the final answer to the drug problem. But it helps, they say, and anything that helps is worth supporting. As small children come through this intensive education they will be in a better position to protect themselves and make wise choices.

Mike Siebert suggests that anyone who needs additional McGruff units may contact him for any assistance he can give.

While at the City Council meeting last Tuesday night the fire siren went off. The siren is located just behind the city hall and it sure was loud in there.

Breckenridge American Publisher Virgil Moore attended Mr. Sitton's funeral last Thursday. Virgil said what he remembers most about Jerry is the way he always defended Cisco. Virgil said no one would say anything bad about Cisco while Jerry was around. He was a staunch defender of our town.

Wayne White, Cisco High School Band director, and choir director at Breckenridge United Methodist Church, announced in church Sunday morning there would be no choir practice Wednesday night. He said it will be his first wife's 20th anniversary. Of course that is also his only wife. Wayne said that he and Guyla will be celebrating their anniversary Wednesday.

Sally Notgrass of Cisco was recently surprised when family members showed up at her home for a family reunion. Her brothers, Van Luttrell of Dallas, Lewis Luttrell and his wife, Vergie, and Sally's sisters Leona Gary and husband, Audrey and their son, and Sally's baby sister Goldie Starr of Lake Tahoe all brought chairs, tables and food for the reunion. Sally said it was such a surprise and just wonderful. This is the first time in 15 years her brothers have been together at the same time in her home.

Tickets are $35 per person, which is a big savings! The cost is not very much considering it is for three super delicious meals and three outstanding and wonderful plays. This is a great way to spend a night out and not drive very far to have a great time. To order your tickets, send a check with your name, address and phone number to Cisco Junior College, Route 3 Box 3, Cisco, Texas 76437.

The First United Methodist Church will have their first Ice Cream Social on Wednesday, June 1. It will begin at 6:30 on the church lawn. Everyone was asked to bring their favorite homemade ice cream or a cake.

We attended the Air Show held in Breckenridge last Sunday. We saw Linda Pointer, Mott's manager, and her mother Colleen Pointer of Cisco there, plus a lot of other Ciscoans in the distance. In the program, it listed Southwest Emblems of Cisco. They were the suppliers of the pins and patches for the Air Show.

Earl Ray, Lions Club member, said the club would like to thank Corinth Baptist Church and their pastor, Benny Hagan for giving their 100 percent support for the Anti-Drug Rally to be held Wednesday, June 15, at the Corral Room. Ray said he feels like the people who attend Corinth are a "Good, fine, bunch of Christian people." He said he also really appreciates all the people who are working on the Rally. He said several are calling people on the phone and others are working on posters to place around town.

He said they are all appreciated.
