'Tied To The Tracks" Is A Play For The Family To Enjoy

By Wanda Hallmark Did you ever watch the 'Dudley Do Right" cartoons that were shown a few years ago? There was Mountie Dudley Do Right, and his girlfriend Nell. I always enjoyed the cartoons (of course when I was much younger.)

But last Thursday night, I was able to enjoy the same type of comedy as in the cartoons, except the performers have different names and it wasn't a cartoon, it was the play, "Tied To The Tracks".

'Tied To The Tracks'' is the first play in the Cisco Junior College Dinner Theater summer season. It hilarious, silly, and a very

Jones. He even has the wavy hair to go with his part. The heroine Dakota Melody, who always has a smile on her face, and loves to sing and talk to the flowers is played by Wendy Wester. They really play their parts well.

The two that steal the show though are the villian and the 'drunken' Indian. Silias Scavenger, the villian, is played by Dalin Error and Chief Running Water is played by Andy Berkovsky. In one scene, Silias has the Chief's head down in a bucket of water and with his foot on the Chief's shoulders, he starts telling about his vears of growing up. It's

Ben Foster; Mrs. Bradman, Danetta Bible; Theodora Barracuda, Sandy Mazel (who is a Shakesperean actress in the play); Cassie LaBamba Cecelia Aragon, Fifi LeFleur, Deona Offield: Laurette LeRouex, Sidra Sparks; Wild Prairie Rose,

Tina Morris. Susan Wester and Frank Spangler, Jr., play the piano and drums

Olio participants who will perform before the show begins are Pat Owen and friends; Rocko, the Magnificent and his assistant, Miss Bubbles; The Magic Beat of 42nd Street; Madam

There will be three representatives from the United States Justice Department presenting a slide show and talk. Sponsoring the program are the Cisco Lions Club and Cisco Police Department. The theme for the pro-

The Cisco Noon Lion Club is offering a barbecue meal immediately preceding the program.

A spokesman for the sponsors said, "We need to get people here to let us be an example for the rest of the Big Country. This big meeting is very important. We are pretty smug in this county. We like to believe everything is hunky-doory, but we don't want to wait until we have to dodge rifle bullets to go to the grocery store. This program will be to inform in-

Chamber Anticipating Great 4th Of July

The City of Cisco will have their annual July 4th Firework Show to conclude the holiday's activities, according to Don Shepard, Chamber manager. He said people all over the United States celebrate their country's 'birthday' each year on the fourth of July. And Cisco will be also be one to celebrate our country's freedom. The reason July 4, is celebrated is because on that day, in the year 1776, the Declaration of Independence was announced by representatives of America's 13 original colonies. This declaration informed the world that the colonies, fighting for their freedom from Great Britian in the American Revolution (1775-1783) were now "free and independent states." On July 8, the first great celebration of this event took place in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Bells rang, cannons were fired, and band music filled the air as a grand parade marched down the main street. In the evening, the people enjoyed feasting, dancing, bonfires, and fireworks.

The custom of celebrating the anniversary of the beginning of the United States spread throughout the growing young country and all its territories and possessions. The Fourth of July became a red, white and blue day of picnics, parades, games, athletic contests, and fireworks. Many towns and cities today have community festivities, ending the day with dazzling firework displays. The sizzling, hissing, ear rattling explosions and the glorious flashes of color in the night sky make an exciting finish to Independence Day. Shepard said the Chamber of Commerce will again need

Yesterday is dead and gone, today is full of questions and tomorrow... What is next?

the help from local citizens to have another outstanding performance with the fireworks. Contributions to help pay for the insurance that is required by law now, for a town to display fireworks can be sent to the Chamber.

Last year the Fourth of July activities were better than the year before, according to Shepard, and this year everyone is looking forward to a celebration that will be the best year ever. There will be food and game booths and plenty of other games for everyone along with the Little Miss Cisco contests held at the City Park. He said the fireworks will bring the day's activites to an end.

There will also be a short program on Cisco's water situation. The program will be to inform people of the studies that have been made on this subject, and what the plans are for the immediate future. In September of 1981, he began working at the window in the Post Office, where he has worked until his promotion.

Sharpe said, "I have worked for the Postal Service going on nine years and I am pleased to take this position. Growing up in Cisco, I have been pleased with the service we give and we take pride in our work. One of my main duties will be making sure the people here keep getting the type of excellent service at the Post Office they have received in the past.

"I am open to the citizen's problems with the postal service and I want the public to feel free to contact me or Melvin Wende, Post Master, and talk about any problem. We are open to suggestions. The main thing I want to do in my job is to serve the peo-

As for Patterson Ambulance, we would like to reflect on yesterday for a moment.

First: Thank you! Thank You! thank you goes to everyone who has supported our service so that an ambulance service could be available to the cities of Eastland and Cisco and throughout Eastland County. It's been fun to serve, a joy to see lives helped when injured and rejoicing when lives were saved, sorrow when lives weren't spared yet knowing Ambulance personnel, nurses, and Doctors can't always prevent death and the results over life and death is in God's hands

We greatly appreciate the different enities and personnel that help to keep our services available to you -Eastland Fire and Police Dept., Cisco Police and Fire Dept., DPS, Sheriff's Deputies, Civic Organizations, Schools, and all our creditors: especially Eastland National Bank, Meyers & Associates, Winnett Oil, and Rossander Insurance, Greenlight Auto, Mangum Service, and Caldwell Motors.

There comes a time in community service when a pat-onthe back, a proven commodity, thanks for a job well done, and a small hand full of people who see a need and responds, is not enough.

It takes finances! Money! The Lack of Money is closing the door on your ambulance service. Lack of Membership support, no subsidies or benefits from County or Cities, Cut back on Medicare and Medicaid benefits for services rendered, County of Eastland not reimbursing for indigent care yet all other medical enities are paid for their services, last but not least; lack of persons not meeting their financial obligations and expecting us to give free services. The latter reflects on the local hospitals trying to receive discounted prices for the service we render yet when we needed the hospitals help in our own family and/or business crisis, we paid full price.

As we checked with some concerned citizens, they felt the ambulance bill is too high yet they fail to see the insurance needs for vehicle, personnel, and equipment, fail to see the need to comply with state and federal regulations that is rapidly changing and mandated, failure to see quality equipment for better performance and safety in transporting patients and failure to see the advance education to insure and increase quality of care.

Now what's for today? We will continue our normal course to serve as in the past as finances will allow. Should conditions continue to decline, the City that supported the ambulance service will have an ambulance in that City and the other ambulance will have to be parked, personnel relieved of their duties, and first come first serve emergency calls only.

We will provide members ambulance service until July 31, 1988. By the way, Cisco, Texas has more members!

Now what's for tomorrow? Tom and Carol Patterson regret that we can no longer serve in your community. We have other services and communities that support us completely and fully. We will continue to meet our financial obligations to our creditors and again thank you for allowing us to be a small part of your community.

Our last day of business will be July 31, 1988. We have fought this battle for seven years,' we have not been defeated, just changing battle fields in the game of life.

We would especially like to thank the Nurses and Dcotors and Staff of Eastland Memorial Hospital as well as E.L. Graham for the opportunity to serve and learn.

People, you need your nurses and doctors, you may survive without an ambulance service, but you will not have a chance to live if your nurses and doctors aren't here. SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL DOCTORS AND HOSPITALS!

> Thank you Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Patterson

Volunteer Firemen were called out to extinguish two grass fires on May 23. The first one was a fire located behind a garage in the alley of the 900 block of West 8th Street. Later that same day, a grass fire on the Eddie McMillan property on the old Putnam Highway was put out by firemen.

Cisco Firemen answered a request for assistance on May 24 and washed down the old Chamber building wall for repainting. This was a goodwill gesture.

Dee Gordon Speaks To Rotary Club

Dee Gordon, Eastland County Extension Agent, spoke to the Cisco Rotary Club, at their regular meeting held last Thursday at Tradition's Restaurant. Tony White, Rotarian, who was in charge of the program, introduced Mr. Gordon

Mr. Gordon showed charts to the Rotarians on matters concerning the Texas Farmers and Ranchers. Gordon said the Texas gross net farm income has increased from $3 billion to $18 billion since 1968. But he said the cost of production has increased more than the cost of selling. He said in the 1970's the farmers did very well, but in the 80's the cost of production started really soaring, and the prices of the food did not.

Gordon said last years cotton sales had the biggest increase in years. It was a big boost to the state economy. Fruit and timber also increased. He said Texas is the third in the nation in agricultural income. It is the first in cattle, calves, sheep, mohair and spinach. There are 160,000 farms in Texas that average about 838 acres each. The value of cach acre averages out to $482 per acre

Otto Urban gave the invocation. President Jerry Morgan led the Pledge of Allegience. Billy Reynolds reported attendance at 85.71 percent. Guests at the meeting were Gene Stack. Rotarian from Pasadena, Gabriel Moore, Rotarian Mike Moor's son and Alan Gray, minister of First Christian Church.

GRANTED

APPEAL DISMISSED

I've Been Wrong

Before

By Gordon S. Clark

I once ventured the opinion that the news was managed.

"Ridiculous", snorted a numbskull. "A barge exploded yesterday on the Mississippi. How do you think anyone could

I am an incurable channel-hopper and during the special feature sections of news broadcasts I often wondered if something in another networks program might interest me more. When one features agitation to clean up the Hudson River and I switch only to get efforts to clean up Lake Erie followed by a switch to the third channel with pollution of Chesapeak Bay I wondered. A week later we get the same seeming coordination on poverty in one Central or South American country and try to figure what they are agitating there. With no big story or natural disaster one just wonders why our gaze is being focused in that direction. About that time another man makes the public claim that news is being managed and proposed to prove his point by showing video recordings of too many news features to be coincidental. He was quickly brought to court and his tapes siezed on claims of "Copyright violation". That ended any chance of public ex-

Having squeeked by that one the networks became a bit more cautious and seperated such "coincidental" reporting by a few days. After all, the average citizens memory isn't very long. The problem is that the managers sometimes forget about the story of the man who drowned in a creek that

Have you ever gotten tired of the same news several days in a row when it really wasn't that important? Maybe they were only trying to drive a point home or maybe they spent so much developing the story they are only trying to get their

Naturally an editor must decide what might suit his readers most and if a lot of things go on the same day "ALL the news fit to print" may be one papers moto but there simply might not be space for ALL of it. With that we have no argument. However, when news of a political nature that is genuinely important but not printed or if it comes out in the

'out of town'' issue but fails to be in the local edition of Dallas

Another cute trick in news papers is to print a story the management would rather not have widely exposed is to bury it in back pages on obituary page, in the sports section though it has nothing to do with sports, or sandwich it between grocery ads. Then if an irate reader hears about it from distant sources the editor can honestly (?) state "We did print that." Not his fault if you failed to digest all thirty or more

Now just suppose I wanted to manage news in this land of "free press". First I would gain editorial control of the wire services or find ways to influence the editors who screen what comes in or goes out. The control by ownership of all the wire services would violate anti-trust laws but influence is another matter entirely. Thus, since fewer and fewer news papers can afford to hire reporters to roam this land and the World in general, an unwanted story would never get out of Recently a story broke in Southern Calif. It had national significance and brought into question alleged acts by national figures but if my Mother had not clipped it from the San Diego paper I would never have known of it. A spin-off story came over TV a couple weeks later but had less impact

Thus the statement, "All I know is what I read in the newspapers," (made before TV) can mean less and less if forces are permitted to control and distort news. The observation by one of the Founding Fathers that "A free press is vital to proper working of representative government" may be proven in the converse to the extent that control is permit-

There is no need for total control as long as the chief aims of evil men can be accomplished with partial control. Indeed, ed the extinction of this or that ancient civilization they may be oblivious to a number of different forces any of which has the potential of obliterating the society in which we now exist. Funny that we have so many specialists in all fields of study but I have never heard of an obliterationist who could give the relative potentials of all those forces. There were poison gases long before WW II with the ability to extingush both plant and animal life, I believe many of those were set in cement in ships which were skuttled in the deepest part of the Atlantic but were all of them? Only a few years back there was a protest over trains transporting phosgene and SINCE WE so pointedly challenged the groom to be good to our bride-daughter, in the last piece here, it's only fair to further introduce him, because by tradition, the groom sure gets short-shift in the written accounts of weddings. Lt. Vince Freeman is a fine young Army officer; a native Texan, born at Whitewright; and is from a solid Christian family.

He, with his family, did ramble across the border and are definitely Oklahomans now. And Lt. Vince is a "Junior" too so you can know that we certainly relate to him. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vince Freeman, who live at Moore, a suberb of Oklahoma City. He has a sister Jodie, younger than he.

Be it recorded, however, that Vince Jr. is a fullblooded O.U. FAN. He graduated there with a degree in political science and apparently, like so many such institutions, one indoctorinated, always indoctrinated. We tease each other a lot, but we have great respect for each other at the same time. He's definitely a Sooner--but better that than a lot of things we can think of.

HOW THESE two met is a story unto itself: a few summers ago, Gaynell and 1. in a moment of weakness, consented for our Amy to accompany a college friend with her family to Cancun, Mexico, for a holiday. It just so happened that the Freemans were there at the same time, treating Vince, who had just graduated, and who was about to go on active duty. They met -- and as the script-writers say. nature took its course.

And here we are today. We've grown to know and love Vince and already think of him as one of our chickens. He's an artillery officer, and they'll live at or near Fort Polk, La., where he will be stationed for perhaps two more years. And then, heaven and the U.S. Army only knows. We have learned that Vince is not only a sports trivia pursuit expert, but that he's also very well versed on Texas history. We've already all had some times together. While Amy was still in school in Stephenville, he deemed that she needed a watchdog to protect her at the apartment where she lived. So he prevailed on the Dallas Animal Pound and came up with a fine, mix-breed terrier, which may or may not be much of a watchdog, but is certainly a fine companion. And wouldn't you know that the dog came out with the name "Trooper." That dog has traveled many miles between Ft. Stephenville, Polk. Eastland, and College Station where they often met at a half-way point for visits. They now laugh at a time when, late on a Sunday night, they were saying their goodbyes, and the dog got loose on a parking lot, and after much chas-

While attorneys conferred for two days last week trying to settle the suit, the jury was dismissed Wednesday and told to return Tuesday. When jurors again gathered on Tuesday, they were told they could go home for good.

Judge Jim Wright of the 91st District Court said he couldn't speak about details of any settlement yet since he has not signed the final paperwork.

"Some of the issues involving some of the parties have been settled," Wright said. There might be other issues that may need to be determined in the future.'

Coming a theatrical from background, Dalin has been involved with drama since a child. During high school he became actively involved in a number of productions on the community and professional level, including such roles as Doc Gibbs in "Our Town," Elwood P. StewArt Bronze In Spring Art Shows

By RUTH SCHAEFER Dale Stewart, bronze sculptor from Cisco, has had a busy spring showing his bronzes. (His company name is StewArt Bronze.) Dale's most recent art venture was at Presidio. Sam

Lewis, a promoter from San Angelo, invited Dale to show bronzes at the first annual Onion Festival at Presidio on May 28, 1988. A mule race and crowning of the Onion Queen were to be main events desert, it was rather cool that night.

The next morning Dale drove a couple of hours to his destination Presidio. (He passed through Terlingua and Lajitas. It was a beautiful stretch of highway.)

A hot sunny day over 100 degrees greeted him in Presidio. Residents say that the thermometer hit 124 degrees last summer.

At the Onion Festival Sam Lewis introduced Dale by saying, "I would like to introduce to you a friend of mine. He is a cowboy artist from Cisco, Texas. He has brought some bronzes and is here to help promote the festivities

At the same table where Dale was sitting was Susie Nelson, Willie's daughter. She has written a book about her dad and it is titled "Heart Warm Memories." She was promoting and autographing her book. Her husband and son Anthony were also present.

Susie and Dale shared a booth for book and bronze sales during the festival.

Susie was delighted to find out that Dale had associated with her father Willie in his early career days at Brownwood. She wanted to know all about those days.

The citizens of Pesidio (population - about 3,700) were rather "laid back." Being next door to the Mexican town Ojinaga, "manana" was frequently expressed. Dale met some very colorful characters such as Suitcase Sam and his lady Collie, a rock painter from Lajitas. (She sold lots of painted rocks during the festival.)

One evening Dale and a young couple went across the bridge to Ojinaga for a Coke and sightseeing in the main part of town. Dale said, there wasn't really much to see. The Mexican side, however, was an hour behind U.S. time.

The next day Dale began the 71/2 hour trip back to Cisco. He counted the trip successful. There were several good prospects and the festival was lots of fun.

Another art venture this spring was a trip to the Lubbock Arts Festival on April 23-26. Hundreds of people passed by the booth. Some of them inquired about Cisco, saying that they knew someone who had lived there. Others were glad to know about the school system still being active and growing. They were especially glad to know about the new elementary school being built. Three bronzes were sold at the show and there were several admirers.

The West Texas Historical Society met at the Mobley Hilton in Cisco this spring. Dr. Monte Lewis, president, invited Dale Stewart to show his western bronzes. Dr. Lewis said there were many favorable comments about the bronze exhibit.

Dale showed bronzes at the Fajita Cook-off in Moran on May 21. There was one bronze sale and several good prospects.

Eastland County Area Receives Much Needed Rain Last Week city.

Finally, after the clouds gathered for days, Eastland County and all of the area was blanketed with rain. It was the first heavy rainfall this year after a dry winter and spring.

While some hail was reported in the county and flooding was occuring in Comanche County to the southeast, we have heard no reports of damage except for some lightning damage caused by the accompanying electrical storm. In this area the heaviest rainfall report we received was 6.5 in. northwest of Rising Star, while 4.2 in. was reported north of Rising Star

Cisco reports ranged from 4.8 in. to 5.5 in. with 4.1 in. reported at the Lake Cisco Dam. Lake Cisco was said to have gained nearly two feet of water.

Four inches of rain was reported in the Carbon area, while Eastland rainfall ranged from an area low of 2.63 in. in west Eastland to 4.4 in.

Ranger reported 3.5 in., and at 8 a.m. Wednesday, Lake Leon was up 1.4 ft. with water continuing to flow into the lake. With about five inches of rain on the watershed area, Lake Leon's water level is near the top of the Morning-glory overflow. During the height of the electrical storm around 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, lightening struck the two-story Jerry Bob Greer home on Winsett Spring Road in Ranger. Sheet rock began to fall from the ceiling, the telephone and electrical power were knocked out, and a fire started. Apparently the rain was so heavy that it put out the fire, however. The rain was almost a lifesaver as the prospect of entering the warm summer months without some moisture in the ground or additional water in the lakes was unpleasant at best.

Later clouds from a thunderstorm which battered Abilene with baseballsized hail moved through the area leaving from a quarterinch to two inches of additional rain over much of the area

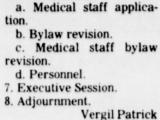

By Friday morning Lake Cisco had gained more than 27 inches and Lake Leon was up another 1.3 ft., just 6 or 7 inches below the overflow.

And at press time Friday the heavily overcast skies were dark and the weather cool, indicating the possibility of yet another round of rain.

Herman Ackers fixed their car and they were able to continue their trip on through America.

Carla Blackwell, of Cisco, said she has a momma cat that is solid black with six toes on both of her front paws. The cat has no tail. The momma cat had three kittens, one female kitten is normal with no tail and five toes on each paw, one male kitten has a tail, and six toes on each of his front paws; and one female kitten is black and white, has no tail and six toes on one paw and seven on another.

Hasn't this rain been wonderful? MR. J.C. Carr, out at the lake said he measured 5 and 4/10 inches of rain Wednesday. The rainfall measured 4 and 1/10 inches at the dam and the lake had come up 2 feet by 10:00 a.m. Wednesday.

Later Wednesday morning it was reported that Cisco Lake's shoreline had come up 7 feet and both pumps at Battle Creek Pump Station were going full time.

Thursday more clouds passed through this area and Christine Reich said they received two inches of rain from that cloud. Christine lives south of Cisco. Ruth Stewart brought a pamphlet by The Press last week she bought at the Onion Festival held at the Onion Captial of the World, Presidio, Texas.

This was their first Onion Festival, held May 27-29. The pamplet was really funny. It listed the First Presidio Bank as the bank that Farmers, Cowpokes and City Folks, can depend on. The proclamation for the

Onion Festival stated: Whereas, Robert Bryson,

Sam Lewis and the Good Ol' Boys are having the First Annual Onion Festival May 27-29, 1988, in Presidio, Texas: and

Whereas, you can't make a passable hamburger without an onion; and

Whereas, Presidio onions are so sweet it is rumored that Rita Coolidge eats them for breakfast every day; and

Wheareas, research indicates that eating Presidio onions makes you better looking and improves your chances of getting a refund on your income tax; and

Whereas, Presidio onions are so renowned worldwide that an international bridge was built so people in Latin America could get to them easier; and

Whereas, nobody pays much attention to Presidio except to remark about how hot it is there,

Now, therefore, I, William P. Clements, Jr., Governor of Texas, do hereby declare May 28, 1988, as National Onion Day in Texas.
