Cast Of Fifty Practice Historical Play

A cast of about fifty men, women and children practiced for the county historical play, The First County Wedding, Sunday afternoon at the Majestic Theater.

"There was real good attendance at practice, and the play flowed smoothly," said Roy Lee Smith. Some of the play sets will be used at the next practice to give actors a better and more realistic feel for the play's scenes. The next practice will be Sunday afternoon at two at the Majestic Theater in Eastland.

That was the headline of a feature story in the first edition of the old Cisco Morning News, founded on February 13, 1920. The News was to be consolidated with The Press many years later. The initial edition contained 24 pages. The story about early day life in this section is reprinted form the old paper as follows: Back in the early eighties, befor the hand of destiny had marked with a giant "X" of crossed steel rails the site upon which this city was to stand long before the name of Cisco was heard here, a scrawny village existed on the site where the Baptist Church now stands. Red Gap, they called it in those days. A Baptist Church marked the original site of the town, but it was not the church that raises its spire there now. A cyclone destroyed the old one 30 years ago, and its missionary minister, the Rev. C.D. Stavens, who also kept the Red Gap post office, over beyond the graveyard has traveled far into eternity by Abrams, same day 13 years later that land and tax commissioner San Francisco was of the Texas and Pacific, destroyed by earthquake and fire. Within a space of two minutes from the instant the cyclone struck the town, Cisco was completely devastated.

The coming of the tornado was hearalded during the afternoon by loud peals of thunder and the darkening of the skies by two great funnel-shaped clouds, one from the southwest and the other from the northwest, which rolled onward, with Cisco destined as their meeting point.

By sundown great thunderheads were roaring their threats of annihilation, blinding streaks of lightening, slashed the black skies to ribbons and upon Cisco fell a barrage of hailstones as big as bird's eggs. Then the cyclone struck.

There was one crashing boom like the explosion of an ammunition dump and watchers from the hills saw the great funnel-shaped cloud. Rising and falling in quick sucession, its swirling point struck Csico's heart again and again. Within a breathing space or so, the town was scattered to the four winds.

Houses were blown down, people and animals were picked up bodily and set down in strange places. The roof of a two story building was torn off and five little children were killed. Stories are still being told of little babies being found unharmed in fields miles from their homes

Perhaps the strangest tale is that of the Texas Central locomotive from Waco which was picked up bodily and turned completely around. When found it was headed back toward Waco.

Twenty lives was the original toll of the cyclone and twelve more died later from the effects of it. Aid was rushed here from all parts of Texas and Cisco owes the greater part of its rebuilding to the generous people of other communities of the state.

From the time of the cyclone to the discovery of oil, events moved along quietly and peacfuly for Cisco and Eastland County. Cotton played an important part in the agricultural and commercial life of the section until the advent of the hall waavil a faw vaars avo

Did you take some really great snapshots of the Grand Canyon while on vacation? Well, we want to see, too! Your local newspaper invites you to send in those pictures, to share the memories with everyone. Pictures should be of good-quality (they must be re-printable), and of good taste (they've gotta be G-rated!). Even funny. But it will help if it's something spontaneous - vacation pictures are usually good material.

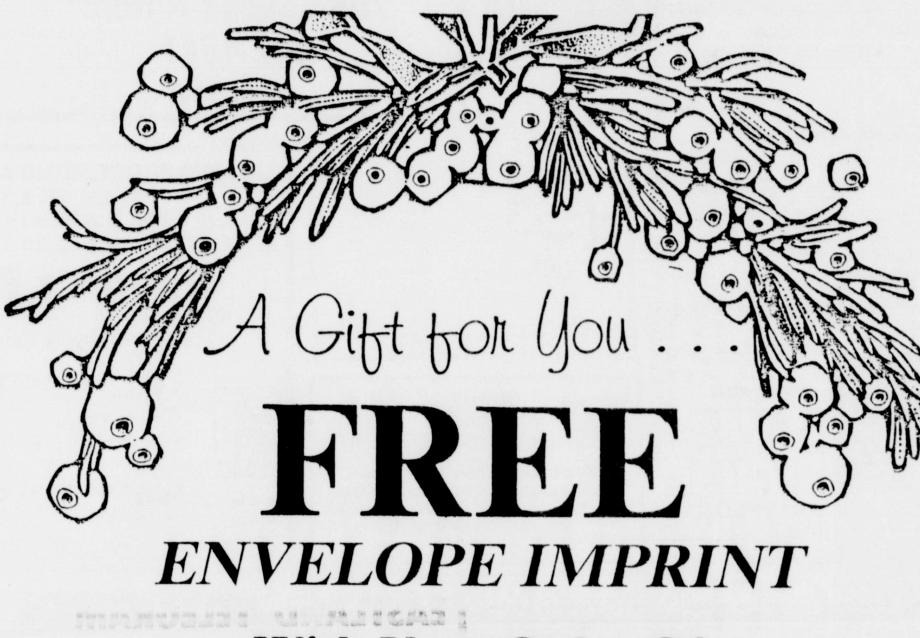

So send in your pictures to Eastland County News, P.O. Box 29, Eastland, TX 76448. Pictures will be approved by editor for content and taste.

"Summit Life," a publication of Coronado Nursing Home in Abilene, featured a picture and story recently of Ethel McClelland, former Ciscoan who now resides there.

It was entitled "Cisco's Ray of Sunshine Shines at Coronado." It is reprinted as follows:

"If popularity were determined by the amount of mail one received, our resident of the month, Ethel Mc-Clelland, would certainly be a winner. She receives mail every day and some days as many as five greeting cards.

"Mrs. McClelland owned and operated the Longhorn Cafe in Cisco for 17 years, where her vivacious personality won her many friends. "Her days are usually busy. She attends dialysis at Abilene Dialysis Clinic three days a week, receives frequent visitors, and attends musical group activities when possible.

Though diabetes has caused the loss of one leg and dimmed her eyesight, her love of live continues to make her a joy to be around.

Mrs. McClelland's address is Coronado Nursing Center, 1751 N. 15th Street, Abilene, Texas 79603.

Before moving to Abilene she was a member of Cisco Rhythm Band.

Dear Editor

When one drives down Conrad Hilton Avenue and sees the change that has occured because people care about the appearance of our town, it sparks a feeling of well being. Maybe Cisco isn't as bad as critics would have us to believe.

Our hats are off to the Civic League for urging us to display community spirit by putting fresh paint on old buildings, planting flowers where weeds might abound and putting out receptacles to receive trash that would litter the street.

Many thanks to our young people who made their vision a reality. The mural they painted turned a rough, burned brick wall into a focal point of interest. This restores confidence in and makes us proud of our Cisco youth.

It is with pride that I can boast of Cisco as my home town.
