County Commissioners Requests Approved Mon.

Eastland County Commissioners approved a number of items on Monday's agenda, and discussed others. All the Commissioners were present at the meeting, including Richard Robinson, Comm. of Pct. 1, Norman Christian, Pct. 2, L.T. Owen, Pct. 3, and Billy Bacon, Pct. 4.

County Judge Scott Bailey presided, with L.T. Owen also presiding brief-

The appointment of General and Special Election Officials for 1988-1989 was finalized. These names, with addresses, will be published in the Eastland County Newspapers.

Among the Commissioners' approvals Monday was a Resolution authorizing Eastland County's participation in the West Central Texas Economic Development District. The Commissioners expressed the hope that this inclusion would help boost the economy in the area. When a county is in such a District, it gets preferential government treatment in the area of certain grants and loans. Businesses also receive preference when bidding for government contracts.

Also approved Monday was a request for permission to cross County Rd. 485 in Pct. 2 with a buried industrial electrical power line. This request was by Comer Hudson of Hudson Bros. Mining Co. Another approval was given North Ridge Corp. to cross three County roads in Pct. 4 with a pipeline.

agreed to pave a strip of road near the home of B.L. Files, who lives on the Long Branch Rd. southwest of Carbon, L.T. Owen, Commissioner of this Precinct, told the other Commissioners that Files would pay for the paving.

There was some discussion as to whether the County should pay for repair to a radio used by Alford Bush, Justic of the Peace in Pct. 2.

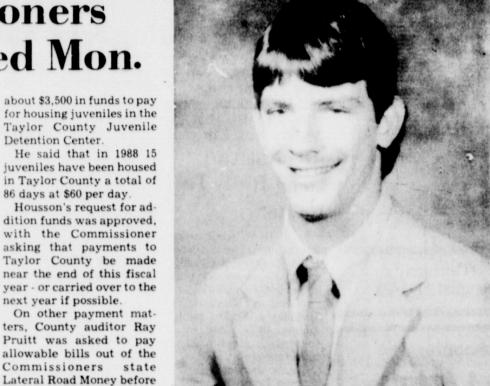

Mr. Bush owns the radio, but uses it in his J.P. work.

After consultation with District Attorney Emory Walton, the Commissioners agreed to pay this bill, which was $52. Walton told the Court that Bush was often called to assist in another Precinct, and that the radio was especially needed during these times.

The Commissioners tabled another bill for more study of guidelines on payment for Indigent Health Care. This was a bill from a Brownwood Hospital for a private room for a patient. The Commissioners had previously voted to pay for this patient, but were apparently not made aware of the non-emergency status of the case, and the use of a private room.

Judge Bailey noted that Memorial Eastland Hospital is the mandated provider for County Indigent Care patients, but that no local Doctor has been named as mandated provided.

On another matter, Probation Officer Joe Housson told the Commissioners that he had a shortage in

Ricky Chambers Killed

In Weekend Accident

Ricky Chambers, a 19-year old Cisco man, was killed early Saturday morning when the pick-up truck he was driving struck a tree about four miles south of

The accident occurred shortly before 2 a.m., Saturday, when a 1979 GMC pickup driven by Chambers was traveling southbound on FM 569 and drifted left off of the road and then back to the right before hitting a tree, according to Texas Department of Public Safety Trooper Richard Treece.

Chambers was killed instantly, and was pronounced dead by Eastland County Justice of the Peace J.V. Heyser. He was not wearing a seatbelt.

Chambers, who was a 1987 graduate of Cisco High School, was attending Cisco Junior College and was a member of the Y.E.S. program at the college. In high school Ricky was active in FFA for four years and competed in many livestock shows in this area. He was an active member of the Nimrod 4-H Club where he held many offices there. He was vice president of the student council and was active in high school sports.

His funeral was held Monday, at 10:00 a.m., at First Baptist Church in Cisco. Fellow classmates and a former FFA teacher were pallbearers.

Phillip Allen, 19, another Cisco man who was a passenger in the truck, received bruises and scrapes in the accident. He was taken to E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital in Cisco, and later transferred to Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene, where he was released.

Allen was wearing a seatbelt, according to Trooper Treece.

Anthony Baker Certified To Stand Trial As Adult

Anthony Lamon Baker, 16. was certified to stand trial as an adult after a hearing before 91st District Judge Jim Wright Monday, Aug. 8. At press time Tues., Aug. 9 his case is being considered by a Grand Jury.

This involves the alleged Teofiolo Vallejo Cortez, 26, on July 7. Baker had moved to Cisco shortly before this.

Baker had been held in the Taylor County Juvenile Center but upon his certification as an adult Monday he was placed in the Eastland County Jail.

Another juvenile hearing involved a 15 yr. old Cisco resident arrested on the July 26 burglary of the Cisco Cleaners. Judge Jim Wright committed this juvenile to the Texas Youth Commission at Brownwood.

Special Lighting And Costumes Scheduled For First Wedding

Special lighting equipment is being arranged for and professional costuming is being ordered for the big wedding.

Arrangements are almost complete for the finishing touches for the production, and a cast of characters will be announced soon. Casting is virtually complete. Rehearsals are held Sunday afternoons at the Majestic and interested persons are still welcome to attend and participate,

Smith said. Tickets are now available for "Eastland County's First Wedding," a historically-accurate, musical live dramatization set for two performances at the Majestic Theatre in Eastland on Saturday, Aug. 20th at 8 p.m., and Sunday, Aug. 21st, at 2 p.m.

In the cast of over 50, some 35 are direct descendents of the characters portraved in this historic event. Many still live in or near the county.

Tickets at $3.00 each are available at the chambers of commerce in Cisco, Eastland and Ranger and will be available at the door.

Sponsored by the Eastland County Historical Society, the production was conceived by Society President Roy Lee Smith, who wrote the script and is the producer.

Directors are Mrs. Don (Jeannie) Griffen and Keith Henson and others.

Original music by Ruth York of Cisco will be one of the highlights of the play, as well as a troop of Boy Scouts who will provide authentic Indian portravals to help stage one of the most hair-

raising battles ever on

Dr. Chief Brown Receives Plaque For Service

Texas Chiropractic College of Pasadena, Texas, gave, in commenmoration of Dr. Brown's 50 years of service to Chiropractic and the public, a beautiful plaque. The placque is a symbol of esteem.

Dr. Brown is a third generation of chiropractors. His grandfather Milling, established in the 1920's, He was joined in the later 20's by his son-in-law, the late Dr. N.A. Brown. The clinic was located on West 12th Street, in Cisco. It was destroyed by a tornado in the late 1920's. In 1927, Brown's Chiropractic Sanatorium was built at 800 West 6th. Dr. Chief Brown still practices and according to reports, does not have any plans to retire.

Directed by Caroll Brown, the show has received excellent reviews, and anyone wishing to see this outstanding show is urged to make reservations soon. This is the final production of the season for the Cisco Junior College Summer Dinner discontinued their Eastland store in a move early this year which closed many stores across Texas, the building on the west side of the Courthouse square which Perry's had leased for many years became vacant.

The T.C. Campbells of Abilene, owners of what was known as the Eastland Perry Building, decided to honor an aunt and uncle who were once prominent Eastland citizens.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Fagg, the vacant Perry Building was offered as a gift or donation to the Eastland County Appraisal District for its use as an office building or such.

Since the Eastland County Appraisal District operates as a service to benefit the thirteen taxing entities which use it, and since it is highly regulated by state laws and regulations, giving it a gift of real estate is not a simple matter.

Saluting The Youth Who Are Our Future

With the beginning of the new public school term, your local newspaper will be cooperating with local firms and individuals in recognizing in a special way, the young people who are active in the local public school activities. Naturally, fall means football; but that's just one of the many extra-curricular activities sponsored by our schools. The program will extend into the winter, with emphasis on basketball during that season.

Then in the Spring, three other major activities--baseball, track and UIL Literary -- will be keynote points for recognition. The local bands and their members will be equally featured throughout these seasons. Participation in the special support pages will give vivid evidence of the community's backing of its athletic, musical and academic stand-outs.

Representatives from the local newspapers will be contacting firms and individuals immediately to further explain the program. Details may be secured by contacting either of the offices of your local Academic achievements will be recognized as well as athletic wins and losses. Thrust of the program will be to include photographs and data about as many of our public school youth as possible throughout the school year.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of every ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime during her lifetime. Every year over 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

According to a spokesman from the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa, "The death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have mammograms done before a problem exists." By using modern state of the art x-ray equipment breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt. A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has a 90-97 per cent survival rate. However, a women who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50 per cent survival rate in five years. In an effort to find cancers

Could 'Senior Citizens' Be Our Strongest 'Industry'?

(ED. NOTE: A local citizen called this Wall Street Journal article to our attention, and wondered if our area couldn't be built on and expanded. It's a fact that we have the climate and the resources here for better serving this segment of our society. Comments would be welcome.)

KEOWEE KEY, S.C.-In the past, rural areas with the economic blahs would reflexively try to collar a new industry. But the hustling and scheming to attract new business arent' yielding good results anymore. So a growing number of distressed regions like this one are looking for salvation from a different kind of industry

Forget about landing that widget factory; this industry is better. It gives a tremendous boost to local retail, services and construction businesses. It adds greatly to the tax base and requires little or no extra spending on police or schools. It chokes local banks with fresh money, and it doesn't belch noxious fumes into the air or turn the landscape into a moonscape.

The industry: old people. Or, more specifically, retirees with loose change and a hankering to look for the good life in rural America

Here in Keowee Key, a retirement community expanding across a stretch of this raw, piney-woods corner of South Carolina, every moving van unloading a new upscale migrant gives a life to the once-laggard economy of Oconee County, hammered by decline in its textile industry. The tax rolls swell a bit. The average income goes up a bit. A new job is generated.

The Prune Juice Belt

"It's like somebody came around with a watering can and things just started popping up." marvels local restaurateur Brit Adams.

His storefront establishment, Le Champignon, is one of several restaurants that have blossomed in Seneca, S.C., the nearest 1981, when retirees first started coming here in numbers, the town has been transformed into one of the state's fastestgrowing commercial areas. Says Seneca City Councilman Devoe Blackston; "We ought to be looking at retirement communities as a whole new form of light industry.' Elsewhere, a growing influx of retirees into rural areas is creating similar bright spots in the economic gloom that covers much of the countryside. A 1986 study by the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City found that rural counties of what might be called the Prune Juice Belt - those whose economies are based on retirees-have out-paced all others in per-capita income growth.

Until recently, however, most rural authorities didn't appreciate what retirees could do for them, and those attracting them did so mainly through luck and not concerted effort. Old people meant poor people, they thought, and so they kept on lusting after conventional industries.

Many still do. "It's hard overcome smokestack-chasing mind-Mark says Drabenstott, an economist at the Kansas City Fed. Retirees, he adds, are still "an overlooked part of the economy.

Wooing the Big Spenders

But that is changing, and fast. Thanks in large part to vastly improved pension arrangements, retirees and those nearing retirement have more to spend than any other segment of the population. Younger, healthier and more active than their counterparts of a generation ago, they are willing to spend - and spend big. Understanding this, more towns, counties and even whole states are beginning to woo them.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula and Minnesota's Iron Range, both of them depressed mining areas, are promoting their potential for outdoor recreation in trying to win retirees. When Silver Bay, Minn., lost its major industry, Reserve Mining Co., residents pooled their resources for far-flung newspaper ads (some appeared in Florida papers) offering their homes to retirees. Several dozen have already moved in.

In hard-pressed Bennettsville, S.C., officials reluctantly decided they couldn't afford the tax abatements and other incentives needed to land a new electronics plant, the town's first employment choice. Now they are cozying up to developers, hoping to get a retirement community built. The pitch: the area's rolling terrain is 'ideal for golf.

'Economic Salvation'

The state government of South Carolina is after retirees, too. In 1986, it bought more than 3,000 acres of land adjoining Clarks Hill Lake, near a sparsely settled stretch of the Savannah River. The state plans to put in roads and other amenities, then sell the property to a developer to build a retirement town of 12,000 people.

In doing so, the state is trying to use retirees as a vehicle to achieve a publicpolicy aim: pumping more jobs and money into its poorest region. Morrison Parrott, head of the Clarks Hill-Russell Authority, the state agency overseeing the development, predicts it will create 3,400 new jobs. "It's going to be our economic salvation," Mr. Parrott says.

the same strategy. It has been assembling 1,040 acres for a similar but smaller development near Mount Greylock in the northern Berkshire Mountains, an area that has lagged behind the rest of the state economically. It is estimated that the project's 2,000 residents, who will pay up to $250,000 to live among a golf course, tennis courts and ski trails, will generate about 700 permanent jobs. For its part, Exxon Corp. is hoping that retirees will help it recover some of its investment in oen of the biggest resources busts of recent years. In 1982, Exxon gave up on its giant Colony oil-shale project on Colorado's beautiful but isolated Western Slopedeflating the hopes of everyone in the region and leaving Exxon stuck with Battlement Mesa, a 3,200-acre, partly developed townsite it had set up to house workers and their families. What to do with it? After analyzing its options, Exxon decided that retirees offered, as one official puts it, "the best return we could get." The company has changed its model-home plans from big split-levels to smaller, single-story ranch homes, beefed up insulation (warmth was a primary retiree concern), and added a golf course and indoor swimming pool. About 1,500 people have moved in to date.

Battlement Mesa. Selfcontained retirement communities are springing up everywhere. In other cases, large numbers of retirees are moving into existing rural towns, seeking safer streets, cheaper and more ample housing, cleaner air. less crowding, a sense of community. And wherever they settle, in town or in a retirement enclave, they generally bring disposable income that can and does make a big difference. When Howard Heggem retired as president of a Chicago abrasives company, he paid cash for a 2,200-square-foot home in Hot Springs Village, a retirement community in central Arkansas. Mr. Heggem and his wife transferred their six-figure nest egg to a local bank. They hired a local contractor to build their home. When they decided to trade in their Cadillac, they bought a Buick from a local dealer.

Many people like him live in Hot Springs Village. A survey shows its residents annually spend about $10,000 each in the area. Mr. Heggem says that while county officials ignored the fledgling development at first, "we began hearing from them when they realized we were putting $20 million a year into the local economy. Clashing With the Locals

Developers say that large retirement communities generally produce one service job for every eight residents. Hot Springs Village, with 4,400 of them, does better than that. It is credited with spawning 75 new area businesses and creating more than 1,400 new jobs for rural Garland and Saline Counties.

money and create jobs, they also can change the entire nature of a rural area, inspiring friction that didn't exist before. The interests and priorities of retirees often don't coincide with those of old-time residents, who may also resent the comparative affluence of the strangers in their midst.

No one denies, for example, that the upper-income retirement community of Heritage Village has transformed the economy of its host town, Conn. Southbury. Southbury used to be a onehorse town, a place where a doctor visited only twice a week. Now the Yellow Pages list a whole sheaf of doctors. There are two big shopping plazas now. And the road are snarled with rush-hour traffic and lined with retail businesses and office buildings. Voting Down Tax Increases

But Heritage Village, which has 4,400 residents is viewed with something akin to awe by the local educational establishment. The residents of the village mobilized a solid bloc of voters who rejected four school tax increases in a row before relenting. Such opposition to taxes for services they don't use is common among retirees in many places, and other residents find them formidable opponents. "These are people who ran corporations," says John Fitzsimons, superintendent of Southbury's schools. "They're smart cookies and boy, are they well organiz-

Some grumbling and resentment have also been directed at the well-to-do residents of Keowee Key, here in South Carolina, who are as different from the people around them as night from day. Their average household income is above $90,000, more than quadruple that of the rest of the county, and many of the houses they live in cost well over $200,000, several times the average county price for homes.

The people of Keowee Key are mostly northerners who incline Methodism, toward Lutheranism, Catholicism and Republicanism - in an area where the Baptist church has long held sway and elected Republicans are as rare as 12-inch snow

Money Makes Friends

So it isn't surprising. perhaps, to find a dumpster on the road to the development spray-painted with the message "No more damn Yankees." Or to learn that some politicians are nettled at the efforts of Key residents to get antilittering and leash-law

Jerry Dyar, a member of the Oconee County council. "Leash laws are kind of taboo around here." But money makes friends, too. Keowee Key has already generated several hundred construction and other jobs, and its developer expects that when it is finished it will produce 550 permanent ones. That would make it the fourth-largest private employer in the county. Also, the kind of jobs it is creating, while paying almost as much as factory work in this fiercely nonunion area, aren't likely to disappear in the next recession or shift in industrial policy, as local textile and sawmill jobs have.

None of this is lost on local residents. Says James DuPrey, the county superintendent of education: "Those folks aren't a cost item. They're a revenue item."

Abilene-230 volunteer area chairmen statewide have been appointed for 29th annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, according to James Alexander of Abilene, CRCC general chairman. Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo serves as general co-chairman.

The Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children is a vital fundraiser which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and San Angelo.

Chairmen for the Eastland area include Sid Waynick of Carbon; Jim Choate, Cisco; Lloyd Coan and Mrs. Austin McCloud, Eastland.

'Sales of livestock are converted to dollars which provide out-patient treatments for the increasing number of individuals who will be treated at Rehab Center facilities.' explains Shelley V. Smith, WTRC president/executive director.

Scheduled 1988 CRCC sale dates include Haskell Sale - Sept. 24; Cattle Sale -Sept. 26 at Abilene Auction; Horse Sale - Oct. 1, Abilene Auction; Coleman Sale - Oct. 5; Stephenville Sale - Oct. 5; Junction Sheep and Goat Sale - Oct. 10; San Saba Sale - Oct. 13; and Brownwood Sale - Oct.

"Ranchers whose sale calendars do not correspond with Round-Up sales may make a pledge then respond as soon as they can," adds Alexander. "Some stockmen cut out an animal or more throughout the year and ask their local auctions to send the sale proceeds to the Rehab Center."

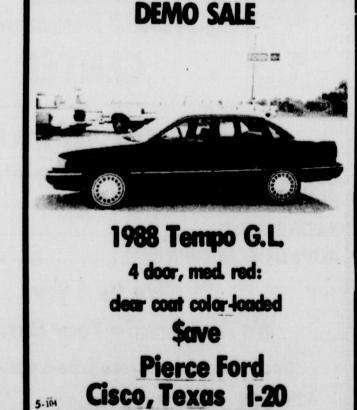

Persons wishing to make a donation of livestock or cash, or those needing to arrange for transportation of animals should contact the local chairman or call the nearest WTRC facility.

Since its establishment 35 years ago, West Texas Rehab Center always has focused on treatment of the individual rather than just the handicap. Trained, licensed professionals provide physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech/language therapy, audiology, orthotics, education, diagnostic clinics, social services and work evaluations. Patients are admitted by referral, and are treated without charge except for braces and hearing aids.

Elias Gives 1-Minus Top Ratings

When professional angler Paul Elias first used the amazing new 1-Minus lure from Mann's Bait Company, he had high praise for the top water bait.

"It's going to have its place in everybody's tacklebox." The 1-Minus is Manns most recent innovation in artificial lure design. A floating, rattling crankbait, the 1-Minus is 'Guaranteed to run "one foot or less".

"I think it will really excell over milfoil or hydrilla that is growing to within a foot or so of the surface, where it's too shallow to throw even a spinnerbait," Elias said.
"This bait will enable you to work from an inch of water all the way out."

The 1-Minus is a typical Mann's "pig shaped" bait designed specifically for shallow water and fishing across weed beds. It features a unique, new lip system designed by veteran luremaker Jack Davis. This new lip design allows the 1-Minus to float anywhere from one inch to two inches below the surface at a slow speed retrieve, producing a "bulge" and wake, to a maximum 12 inch depth at a high speed retrieve creating underwater boils.

thusiastic about the new

"The versatility of the 1-Minus has surpassed our greatest expectations. We knew this bait was going to be well received by fishermen, but of early reports are any indications, the 1-Minus is going to be the hottest lure in the industry in

The 1-Minus is available in 33/4 inch, 5/8 oz. size. A smaller version, the "Baby 1-Minus" will be available January 1, 1989.

1-Minus lure come in Chartreuse, Foil Flake Shad, Pearl/Black Back. Bone/Orange Belly, Brown Crawfish, Tennessee Shad, Blue Shad, Fire Shad, Green Shad Chartreuse, Fire Red Fluorescent, Alabama Shad, Wild Shiner, Grey Ghost, Rainbow Trout, Cleark Flake, Pink, Redhead, Parrot, Chrome, Blue Shad Chrome and Black Shad Chrome colors.

The 1-Minus is an exciting new approach to crankbaits that possibly open up new water that others bypass. I have not had the opportunity to fish this new product, but you can bet it will be in my box the first chance I get.

The E.C.B.C. will be fishing Lake Possum Kingdom Sunday the 14th. For more information contact Eddie Green.

And thanks to Garry Dollahon for the above information concerning the 1-Minus and the Baby 1-Minus. These advancements are just one more reason why Mann's Bait Company is the leading manufacturer in the country of 100% American made soft plastic, hard plastic and lead bait products. Till next time out keep your kill switch hooked and your eye on the other boat.

Joe Williams has been named Ranger Chairman and Coordinator for the MDA Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon. The date for the Telethon are Sept. 4 and 5, and KTAB TV in Abilene will bring it to the public in this area. Williams asks that everyone get involved for this very worthy cause. Anyone who would like to volunteer please call 647-1505 worth of jewelry was recovered by Callahan County Sheriff Bill Skinner and Abilene Police after they received a tip from a pawn shop on stolen goods. The jewelry was stolen from Mrs. Judy Wilson of Abilene during a Horse Show July 17 at the Rogers Horse Ranch south of Clyde. She reported that her purse was stolen from the office, and it contained a watch and four rings valued at $50,000. The watch was pawned in a shop of Pine Street on July 26, and Sheriff Skinner and the Abilene Police followed up the name and address on the ticket. After obtaining a search warrant they arrested a Sara Garcia, who turned over other items belonging to Mrs. Wilson. Garcia is being held on $35,000 bond.

BAIRD Fifty Thousand dollars

The Texas Department of Agriculture would like to know who would be willing to donate hay from CRP acres, if they were able to recover their baling costs of approx. $30 per ton. Secretary Lyng has made this allowance in Minnesota and it is expected that Texas farmers will soon be allowed to help their neighbors. To give an idea as to how much acreage would be available, please call the 1-800-DIAL-HAY program.

4-H'ers ages 14-19 are having the opportunity to learn, develop and expand project skills this week, Aug. 8-13 at the Spectra '88 Workshop at the State 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood. Week long sessions in everything from advanced computers, entomology, tennis to public speaking are being taught. Toby Long and Stephanie Long of Rising Star 4-H are assisting as Resource teachers for the Workshop.

In a called meeting of the Eastland City Commission last Monday evening, commissioners approved the after-hours use of the Park Hill city pool for conducting scubba diving classes. Terry Edwards obtained the approval. On another matter, the Commissioners decided to request input from city personnel before updating or improving the city's dangerous building ordinance. Possible ordinance changes reportedly will not have any effect on buildings presently considered to be dangerous.

money available. You must be present to win - and a number of people have missed out by not being on the Courthouse Square when their names were drawn. More than 30 Eastland businesses are participating in this giveaway, and the Old Rip Bucks will be redeemable at those places for the dollar amount of merchandise.

On Monday the Eastland County Commissioners approved the County's admission into the Area Development District Program. This Development Program is under the U.S. Department of Commerce, which provides most of the funding. The West Central Texas Council of Governments also helps with funding, and participating counties may eventually have to pay a fee. When a county is in such a district, it gets preferential government treatment in financing, contract bidding, and other matters. This could lead to business growth and new hiring, a solution to the local unemployment problem.

CISCO

Friends and Fellowship Ministry group of East Cisco Baptist Church visited the Ben Richey Boy's Ranch in Abilene on July 28. Members of the group carried items the boys might need, like toothpaste, soap, towels, washcloths, etc. They had a 3:30 appointment to meet Charlie Jordan, the Director, at the ranch, but he was unable to be present. The receptionist showed them around the living quarters, and also outside the buildings. The receptionist told them that the ranch often received calls to take boys much younger than they were permitted to care for at this facility.

The proposed budget for the City of Cisco is expected to be adopted when the City Council meets this week. Other business up before the Council includes a request from parents of the 1989 Senior Class to close the 100 block of East 5th St. for a High School and Street Dance on Aug. 27. The Council members will also consider approval of a Resolution Approving Aquisition of Real Property (Old Perry's Bldg.) by the Eastland County Appraisal District.

The Cisco High School Class of '45-46 is planning to hold a reunion starting at 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 20 in the Corral Room. Lunch will be catered. Those planning to attend are asked to please make reservations by calling Wanda Nelms after 5 p.m. at 442-3326. All former teachers are also invited.

The Next Best Thing -

....to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

Glenn and Zelda Jordan spent the weekend in Abilene with Roddy, Glenda, Joe and Sheri Miles and Robert and Diane Miles and attended the Stock Car Races at the Abilene Speedway on Saturday night. Joe had a very good night until he blew a tire in the feature race, placing first in his heat race and taking first place trophy in the trophy race. Robert Miles placed third in his heat race, fourth in the trophy race and eighth in the feature race. Their mother, Glenda Miles drove Joe's car in the powder puff race, placing tenth. And she says that starts and completes her racing career, as she believes she makes a better spectator than racer. But we think she did a good job driving the race car. The Miles family, the Jordans and the Glenn Carter family spent Sunday afternoon and a good portion of the night at the Hendrick Medical Center awaiting the arrival of Bradley Joe Miles, infant son of Robert and Diane Miles. Great-grandpa and great-grandma Jordan had to get back to Kokomo so left about forty minutes before B.J. made his arrival, so there will be a trip to Abilene soon to see him.

Mr. Oakley Kidd brought in the answer to the puzzle in my last column, a "Whale." The whale is mentioned in Genesis 1:21, Job 7:12, Ezekiel 32:2 and Matthew 12:40. Mr. Oakley said one must take note of the Genesis 2:7, the creation of man- "a living soul." Then Jonah 1:17 "in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.'

Doris Humphries called me Sunday and asked me if the answer was a whale. She said that she and her husband, Charles, worked very hard to figure out the answer to the puzzle.

Anna and Paul Walker of Cisco will be moving back to Waco this month, so they can finish their post graduate work

Anna said it's going to be hard to leave Cisco, and the Holy Rosary Catholic Church where they attend and especially the youth group. Her daughters, Leighana, 10, and Kathryn 6, will be enrolled in a Catholic School there. Their son, Juaquin, 2, is still getting into strange predicaments, (like the time he locked himself into an office at the Chamber of Commerce and all Anna could do was to watch him from the office window.)

Cisco was very lucky to have Anna and Paul here for awhile. They were hard workers for their church and all of Cisco and they will be greatly missed.

Raymond and Mary Bates, who live at 306 West 11th, have a new business in their home, Creation Crafts Unlimited, Inc. They have small wooden plaques and large wooden yard decorations. They cut the wood theirselves and do all their own painting. So if you get a chance, stop by and see what they carry, they have some beautiful items, that will make great gifts or help to decorate your own yard.

An old friends reunion was held last weekend here in Cisco. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hammett of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sherman and granddaughters, Christie and Stephanie Jacobs of Kerrville; Mr. and Mrs. Garner Alton, Mr. and Mrs. Felton Underwood, and Mr. and Mrs II. Bradley all of Abilene; Dr. and Mrs. Wilah Mince of Weatherford; and Mary Austin of Cisco.

They attended the 50th wedding anniversary for the I.I. Bradley's on Saturday evening in Abilene and attended church together at the First Baptist Church in Cisco, Sunday morning. They also had lunch together in Cisco on Sunday

Lena Walker, of Moran, who was in the accident last week, north of town, is doing fine at the Eastland Memorial Hospital, according to her son, Prosper Walker of Belton, Texas.

He said apparently Mrs. Walker blacked out and that is why she ran into the back of the Highway truck.

She is very sore and has cuts on her face from her eye glasses. She is recovering nicely and her son feels sure she will be up and around again before too long.

Mr. Walker said he is very thankful for how quick his mother received help after the accident. He said he can't say enough about the ones who came to the aid of his mother, Dale McFadin, Ted Fields, and the ambulance crew. He said they were there in short order and his whole family appreciates everything.

Richard Connell, Cisco Fire Chief, said everyone needs to be very careful in this area to help prevent grass fires. He said Monday his outside thermometer read 105 degrees and the humidity was 39 percent. He said in conditions like that, the least little spark can start a fire. He asked that there not be any controlled burning in this area, until we have received some rain.

The Cisco Fire Department is still in need of funds to help purchase a new rural fire truck. In the recent grass fire east of town, the rural fire truck developed trouble and had to be repaired, while the fire was still burning! Eastland was at another fire and Ranger and Carbon were broken down too! They need another fire truck as soon as possible. If they would have had another rural fire truck, it could have been brought right out to extinguish the fire faster. They need our donations to help buy this truck. If you haven't sent in your check yet, send it to the special account for The New Cisco Volunteer Rural Fire Truck, 418 Conrad Hilton, Cisco, Texas 76437.

The Fire Department made 26 fire calls last month, most of them rural, and a second rural fire truck could have been used. They need our help, so please send in your donation today.

Wayne and Shirley Hargrave treated their daughter Karen and two grandchildren, Wendy, 5, and Stacy, 7, to three days in San Antonio August 2, 3 and 4. They toured the Alamo, the Riverwalk and Sea World. The weather is cloudy and a breeze kept it very comfortable for an August vacation.

Mrs. Jasper Qualls and grandchildren, Sharla Qualls and Patrick Qualls, attended the wedding of Leslie Ann Haynes and Mickeal Cockerham, at 4 p.m. July 30 in First United Methodist Church, Fairfield. Leslie is the daughter of Jesse and Nancy (Qualls) Haynes. Also attending were Bob Qualls of Euless and Ronald and Barbara Qualis

"Sunrise, sunset, sunrise, sunset, swiftly fly the years," sings Tevye in "Fiddler on the Roof."

And so it has gone for Cisco Junior College's Summer Dinner Theatre, which is observing its 10th season this summer. The anniversary will be celebrated nightly during intermission of the currently running "The King and I," said Wyley Peebles, chairman of the CJC Fine Arts Depart-

With an average of three productions per summer since 1979, "The King and I" is the 30th professional show to be brought to Big Country audiences under the guidance of the CJC Fine Arts Department.

The first summer was a struggle," said Peebles. Sometimes there were only 10 people in the audience. But the players played,"

Laguna and featuring CJC student productions in the fall and spring actually began in 1974, when then director, Mary Reed, proposed the idea. Reed named the theater "The Starlight Theatre," and her first show there was in November of 1974. It was called "A Night in New York" and featured condensed versions of Barefoot in the Park," Butterflies are Free," and 'The Odd Couple.'

A summer dinner theater with paid professionals and student apprentices was the idea of Dr. Norman Wallace, then CJC president, said Peebles. Over the years, the theater has also used many local people in its produc-

Besides providing quality entertainment, the object of the dinner theater was to get students involved in the drama program, Peebles

In 1892, the CJC Fine Arts Department received the West Texas Chamber of Cultural Commerce Achievement Award for its Roof Garden Theatre.

The theatre has never made a profit, Peebles said. The first summer, "we went in the hole $10,000," he said, "but we are close to breaking even now."

With the budget cutbacks in the past few years, there was talk of discontinuing the summer program in 1987. Then the theatre was bailed out by a grant from the Dallas Meadows Foundation for the Arts.

Last summer the dinner theatre moved across the street to the Hilton Community Center in Conrad Hilton's first hotel, the Mobley, that had been renovated in 1986.

"The Hilton has excellent technical facilities," Peebles said, "but lacks the charm, romance and appeal of the Roof Garden.'

The college still uses the Laguna for storage of theatre properties and to house the professionals who stay here in the summer.

CJC Theater directors during the past 10 years have been Marion Castleberry, in the opening season of 1979; Janis Myer in 1981; Philip Craik, 1982-85; and the current director Caroll Price Brown. Both Castleberry and Craik went from CJC to McMurry College in Abilene. Craik is still there.

Peebles said Philip Craik was the first to offer a musical in the summer theatre. It was "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," which ran three nights beyond its schedule to accomodate de-

Peebles said that musical and the 1986 production of another musical, "Annie," were probably the best attended shows in the theatre's history.

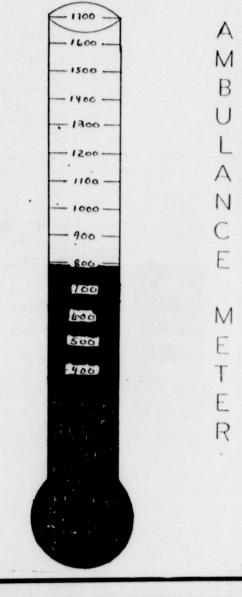

The only play ever cancelled in the 10 year season, Peebles said, was "Come Blow Your Horn" in 1981 because two actors were too ill to perform.

WHAT TO DO WHEN DEATH OCCURS OUT-OF-TOWN

If you're ever involved in arranging for a funeral for someone who dies out of town, you should contact us or another local funeral director who will then make arrangements with a highly qualified mortician wherever the death occurred. (We have many, many personal contacts all over the country through our membership in funeral service organizations.)

We'll take the necessary steps to prepare the body for immediate transportation back home. We will confer at long distance with you or other family members locally to plan for local funeral services. It is important, though, for you to remember to call us or another local funeral home FIRST. Especially under these circumstances, you need to avoid duplication of effort and fees.
