Ultimately the availability of hospital care in Eastland

major changes in the survival, and according to some experts, is designed to virtually eliminate hospitals

regional tertiary hospitals.

Because of the geography of Texas, there is a greater number of rural hospitals

where a recent Texas special task force "found a fragile

BETTY ALFORD

Olney Savings To Host Open House-Retirement

Olney Savings, 701 Conrad Hilton, Cisco, will host their annual Christmas Open House and also host a retirement reception for Betty Alford, from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m., on Wednesday, December 7.

Betty has worked in the same building where Cisco branch of Olney Savings is located at now since it was first built in December, 1975. It was called Abilene Savings at that time and was United Savings, before Olney took over.

Betty said she is planning to travel and visit with her daughters during her retirement. Her daughters are Katherene C. bler, who lives in Minnesoca and Claire McNew, who lives in Maryland.

Everyone is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

In a November 29, 1988, article in the Dallas Morning News it was reported that the special task force on rural health care delivery recommended that rural communities form health care networks for purchaising and planning advantages as well as to guarantee emergency and longer-term care. Since July a series of meetings to accomplish this goal have been held, culminating in a tri-city meeting October 19. This process is ongoing, but progress is very slow, necessitated by the process required to work out the fine details. Until this program is worked out it is not wise to wait and rely on an incomplete program. E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital is not unlike other rural hospitals in dealing with the problems. Net loss on medicare patients for fiscal year ending September 30, 1987, was $250,166. Figures for 1988 are not available. This figure compares to Ranger Hospital's $163,653 and Eastland Hospital's $570,074. Occupancy has gone down from 33.7 percent in 1984 to 16.2 percent in 1987, compared to Ranger's drop from 30.5 percent to 19.3 percent and Eastland's 30.2 percent to 11.7 percent for the time period beginning in 1985. The most revealing numbers show that the three Eastland County hospitals took care of only 41.8 percent of the medicare inpatients who were hospitalized in 1987. The other 58.2 percent went out of the county for hospit care. A more detailed look shows for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1987 of the 82 inpatients from Cisco only 18 (21.9 percent) used E.L. Graham, and 19 went to Eastland Hospital, one to Ranger and 44 to other hospitals. These figures represent only medicare patients. Medicare utilization for E.L. Graham Hospital was in excess of 83 percent of the total care given in the hospital in 1987. Figures for 1988 indicate that the percentage of medicare patients will be higher. This means that E.L. Graham Hospital is used very little by patients who are either private pay or have private insurance.

The survey that was sent out on Tuesday was designed to find some answers to the problems that the numbers above present. While it's easy to make a guess, it's far better to get the information from those who pay the taxes to support E.L. Graham Hospital and then go to other hospitals for their health care needs. The desire of the board is to get information; and then proceed with a plan that will permit the hospital to provide the services the community wants and needs. For those reasons it is important that we get as many surveys back as possible and that we have a large attendance at the meeting on

The church is happy to be a part of bringing in an enterprise into the Cisco area which will bring in an projected $800,000 to one million dollars annual income per year to the community. This transaction took place over the past months as the church negotiated with the B.K.J. Inc., a Texas Corporation, which will be working with giving direction to the lives of young boys. The church board was happy to have a part in the facilities becoming a part of something that would be a contribution to society, moulding young lives, and enhancing our community's financial structure in troubled economic times. New facilities will soon be built in addition to the lovely building the Mountain Top Church sold to them, thus enhancing the property and our county. The pastor was away ministering in the Jungles of the Amazon during the signing of the property, as he fills the many calls he receives annually to minister overseas. The Board is working on future relocation and is to vacate the premises no later than January 31, 1989.

The church will be seeking temporary worship facilities until the completion of the above building is complete, and also the educational facilities are complete.

At the present rate of church growth, interest expressed in "making Mountain Top their worship center once located in Cisco," the church feels their greatest years are ahead. For a number of years over 85% of the congregation has been Cisco residents, rather than rural residents, and that percentage has increased annually, demanding and necessitating the church be centrally located to the body of believers who worship there. The newly located church will be interested in being a blessing to the body of believers in Cisco area with a "worship center," and their actual church growth from reaching the unchurched of Cisco.

Pastor Jones is also chaplain to the Sheriff's Department, and Lawman's Association. He is available to county activities as chaplain in an interdenominational ministry. and to unchurch individuals of our county who need the counseling services of a pastor

Corinth Church Celebrates 100 Years

By Richard Kurklin On December 16, 1988, ten

Baptist men and women met at Lem Switch in Eastland County to organize a church. R.C. Wright, who was to be the church's first pastor, acted as the moderator as members were received by letter, articles of faith and a church covenant were adopted, and the name Corinth was selected. Owens, Nichols. Hazzle, and Heitson were family names of the first members.

Lem Switch was located between Cisco and Eastland on the Texas and Pacific railroad tracks, just eat of the county road that runs north from Highway 80 to Highway 183.

After meeting in residences and public buildings, the church agreed to build a building in 1891 on donated land where the present church buildings now stand.

The first wooden structure was replaced with a second one, probably in 1921 when a clear deed was secured.

Needing a larger and more modern facility, the church built the present rock sanctuary in 1945.

Church membership and the community dwindled in the seventies, but membership picked up in '82. In '83 an additional building was added which included a fellowship hall, rest rooms, and classrooms. Since then two classroom buildings have been added, and central air and heat has been installed in the buildings.

Additional improvements have been made and the sanctuary has been remodeled for the one hundredth birthday of the Southern Baptist Church.

Now more than eighty people may be at Sunday School and worship services and more than one hundred at

Does Cisco Want Healthcare In Cisco?

This may seem to be somewhat of an unusual question for the administrator of the local hospital to be asking, however, it is a question that should be asked at this time, not only in Cisco but probably in every rural town in

The delivery of healthcare has changed, our economy has changed, and certainly the aging of our society is just beginning to create a call for restraint in medical expenditures. In the short space that I have I don't have time to give the long or short course in healthcare history or healthcare economics both of which have lead us to a situation that is very precarious for the local hospital, E.L.

board of directors requested that I put a survey together and mail it to the taxpayers of the Cisco Hospital district and call a town meeting on December 6, 1988. They want to know if you want us to just roll over and let the hospital go the way of the other 54 who have closed or fight like Memphis and Hamilton have done to keep their hospitals

Let there be no mistake, those 54 hospitals closed their doors because they were not used by the communities they served. It was more expedient to see the specialist in the nearest big city. Maybe in some instances the services were not available, but more often than not those services were discontinued because of insufficient volume.

I don't mean to propose that each of these facilities was perfectly managed, but I do know that when times get tough you begin to cut out those services that cost more than they are bringing in, and in doing so the rural hospitals in Texas have slowly dug their own graves. What other choice did they have? Either way they lose. What I am simply saying is that any community which fails to support its hospital, and its local physicians will lose them. That danger is real in Cisco Texas, today. How do we change that? Find a way to change the communities attitude regarding the providers of care? Recreate needed services.

Recruit additional physicians, if necessary. Look for answers, and don't be resigned to defeat. If we believe we can succeed, then we can. Let me give you some things to consider: The DeLeon Hospital- It's a 40-bed facility that generally has 25 inpatients at any given time. They have 5 physicians in the community. Their success? Whatever it is, it's working. And the Quanah Hospital-Last month they had a $30,000 positive cash flow. They have 3 physicians in their community. Their success? Again whatever it is, it's working.

These two places are not much different from Cisco, they are succeeding, and we can too.

How? First, complete the survey you received in the mail this week and get it back to the hospital or any of the boxes set up at the Bank, Senior Citizens Center, Cisco Press, or Thrift Mart, and second come to the meeting Tuesday, December 6, 1988, at 7:00 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

That's when we'll answer the question: Does Cisco want health care in Cisco? Your attendance and particpation in the survey will go a long way in answering that question in a positive way.

Let's work together to solve this problem, for some it may be a matter of life or

EASTLAND

Locals and visitors are ir, ed lo secure free tickets at the Chamber of Commerce office on the east side of the Square for Eastland's First Treasure Hunt, which will be held Thursday, Dec. 8, immediately following the Annual Tree Lighting Program in downtown Eastland. Over 50 merchants are giving valuable prizes, which may be claimed free with lucky matching numbers. These will be posted at each location at 8 p.m. that evening. Tickets are available, one for each family member, from now until time to hunt. The Treasure Hunt is sponsored by the Retail Trades Commission of the Chamber of Commerce. Over 500 qualifying tickets have been distributed so far.

The Eastland High Mavericks, after earning an Area and Regional trophy, will play Quanah this Friday night at 7:30 p.m. for the Quarter-Final Championship. The game will be at Abilene's Shotwell Stadium and Eastland will be the home team. Eastland is the only area team besides 6-man May and Zephyr which is still in the state playoffs. Both Eastland and Quanah have already played two playoff games in Shotwell Stadium this year. Both are strong teams, but Maverick fins are planning for another big win.

The Eastland Kiwanis Club, Key Club and six insurance agencies of Eastland are staging the Kiwanis Fun Run Saturday. There will be both a 10K run for the track people, which covers 6.2 miles, and a two mile Fun Run and Walk which covers most people. These events will begin in front of the Eastland Telegram Bldg., 215 S. Scaman, at 9 a.m. These runs are being sponsored for extra exercise and good health, all are encouraged to join in.

The Eastland Goodfellows will meet at 5:30 on Dec. 6 in the High School Library. Last year the Goodfellows helped around 115 families and 15 individuals in rest homes, and this year they expect the need to be even greater. The number of applications and the amount of donations is used to determine the amount spent on each needy family. Applications for help may be picked up at the Eastland Telegram or Chamber of Commerce office, and these should be returned by Dec. 16. Making their purchases locally, the Goodfellows try to buy one new toy for each child under twelve in needy families, and also to leave enough groceries for the family to have Christmas dinner. Your help in this work will be greatly appreciated. Please mail donations to Goodfellows, P.O. Box 645, Eastland.

Texas Agricultural Loan Mediation Program At Texas Tech Designated As State Agency

LUBBOCK-The U.S. Secretary of Agriculture has designated the Texas Agricultural Loan Mediation Program at Texas Tech University as the state agency to mediate between delinquent farm borrowers and their lenders. The program has received a $500,000 federal grant to partially fund operations in the 1989 fiscal year.

Borrowers and lenders are settling debts as required by the Agricultural Credit Act of 1987. This legislation requires the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), the Federal Land Bank Associations (FLBAs) and the Production Credit Association (PCA) to restructure distressed loans if restructuring is a less costly alternative than foreclosure.

FmHA has sent notices to borrowers who are more than 180 days late on their payments. These notices inform the borrowers that they have 45 days to decide whether they wish to try to restructure their debt and to prepare all necessary paperwork or to prepare for foreclosure.

Agricultural Loan Mediation Program will act as mediators between the borrowers and lenders upon request by either party.

"We're only here to serve as facilitators," said Gary Condra, director of the program and faculty member in the agricultural economics department at Texas Tech. "We're not judges, juries or advocates. We're just a neutral third party trying to make a deal possible.

Condra said the priority of the program is to negotiate a comprise that will bring the lender as much money as possible and keep the farmer on the farm. After borrowers receive their letters from the FmHA they should call as soon as possible the Texas Agricultural Loan Mediation Program office at (806) 742-1949 or (806) 742-1969. They will then be advised of the paperwork and financial statements necessary for mediation. Once borrowers have the pertinent information, they

Officials of the Texas can call again to make an appointment with a mediation assistant who will prepare the borrows starm and home plan and application for servicing options from FmHA. A $250 user fee is required for the service.

Chuck Burgess will be competing in the second Lake Okeechobee, Florida Pro Am B.A.S.S. Tournament. Anglers from around the world sent their name in for a random drawing. Only 100 anglers names were drawn for this event and as luck would have it, our are will be represented.

Upon arriving in the Eastland area Chuck could often be found on the water before and after school, pursuing his first love, Bass fishing.

A PENITENTIARY HERE? An Editorial

The usual first response by most of us is "Thanks, but no thanks" when asked if we'd like for a Texas Department of Correction facility to be built in our area.

When we first hear the idea broached, most of us naturally suggest maybe we'd need to think about that a bit.

And that's what a good number of area citizens are doing right now: thinking about the pros and

As most know, a good number visited such a facility recently to see first-hand exactly what might be involved. Most went with an open mind. A lot of questions were asked. Pictures made. Data gathered. And ideas exchanged. At some point soon, these and others will undoubted gather to re-discuss and consider the factors involved—and it does get involved.

The immediate "minus" that comes to mind is the fact that we don't want any of our citizens to be in danger.

The big plus is that it could mean a payroll of something like $1.5 million a MONTH.

The group visited the prison facilities and the downtown authorities, policemen and citizens, and learned quickly that Palestine, which already has four units, will attempt to secure additional units as they are formulated. That fact indicates strongly that the pluses offset the minuses.

It's a hard fact that the state of Texas is going to have to do certain things with its prison system, and the obvious answer is that more will be built. It is currently understood that two more maximum security units and as many as four minimum security units will be built. With the confirmation of units at Amarillo and Snyder, T.D.C. has for the first time in history adopted a policy of spreading them throughout the state.

It should be assumed that once funded and site selection begins, that there will be many locations in the state seeking one or more facility.

It would appear that this area would be ideal for its central location along a major interstate highway, and in proximity to existing and new units.

What about the disadvantages? Is having a T.D.C.

unit in your back yard a bad image? Is there the danger of walk-aways and escapees endangering locals? Does the location of such a facility lead to more or less local crime? These and many others are important questions.

It is generally understood that prisoners would be processed at Huntsville, then brought to outlying facilities to serve their time, and then returned to Huntsville for release. The citizens in Palestine did not feel that the units there was detrimental to their image and were certainly valuable to their local economy. Locals were told that the walk-aways (by trustees, because maximum-security prisoners just don't get away) there quickly leave the area because there are so many official vehicles and uniformed personnel around.

One Palestine policeman guessed that their general crime was lower than normal locally, and that they had not had any noticeable increase in the number of prison-related families coming to town.

What about the local costs for such a facility? Well, it could be expensive but probably not prohibitive. Chances are that upwards of some 300 acres of land might 'se asked, and of course certain utility facilities would be needed.

There's a lot to think about and if the decision is to pursue, a lot of work to be done.

But now's the time to be looking toward the future.

She and her husband, Robert, have been residents of Eastland at Lake Leon since 1976 and have one son, Carol Elliott, who is a senior at Texas Tech.

The display window at the Cisco Post Office is decorated for Christmas. Stop by and look at it. The Post Office is selling collector stamp books for Christmas and they will gift wrap them free!

The window has some of these books that are wrapped. If you have a young person on your gift list that you don't know what to give them, these will make the perfect gift. Stop by the Post Office window, from 8:00-4:30 Mon.-Fri. for more information. We will have a story and picture in next week's issue of The Press.

The Santa Claus mailbox is in the lobby of The Post Office also. I will be at the Post Office on Monday, December 5, at 3:45 to take a picture. If you know a young child, 3rd grade or below who would like to have their picture made by the mailbox to go into the Press, stop by the Post Office at that time.

Heard several comments about the Christmas trees at the entrance of Cisco Junior College. They are very beautiful and look very nice indeed.

Kevin Murray, ground supervisor at the college. thought of putting the trees up and carried out most of the work himself. The twin Christmas trees do look nice.

Eleanor Moreno, my daughter's mother-in-law, was in Cisco last week. She lives in Grand Prairie. She commented about how nice downtown Cisco looks with all the lights. She said other towns have Christmas decorations on the street lights, but with the stores all decorated up in Cisco, it looks so much better here than other places.

Royce Ingram, of Cisco, said a small reddish dachshund showed up at his home last week. If you lost one, call 442-3342, and identify it and you can pick it up.

In the last issue of The Press we had it down that Robert Douglas won the mini-car at Speegle Service Station. But it was Jerry Douglas, not Robert. Sorry about that.

The Christmas at the Hilton will be held at 7:00 p.m., Saturday, December 3. Tickets are $7.50 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12, and can be bought at the first graders The presented a Thanksgiving program for kindergarten and second graders. The children in Mrs. Reynolds', Mrs. Yowell's, Mrs. White's and Mrs. Scotts' classes read poems and sang songs. Mrs. Webb's class acted out a play with Pilgrims and Indians. They made paper costumes to wear and made a tree and cabin for stage decoration. Mrs. Kirks' fourth grade class added a special presentation to the program by reciting a poem. Mrs. Webb has some cute pictures to show off the pro-

The third graders also had a Thanksgiving program. All of them gathered on one room to entertain each other. Mrs. Ferguson's class sang songs and recited verses. Mrs. Summers' class presented a play called "A First Thanksgiving." Miss Gosnell's class presented the play, "Let's Talk Turkey." They all had a fun time.

Thanks to the first grade moms that furnished the teacher appreciation gift for this 6 weeks period. They made a delicious treat for all the teachers to enjoy in the teachers' lounge. The teachers that commented to me were full of compliments!

Once again Thrift Mart has given certificates for a free banana or orange to all the students that made the A honor roll. It is nice for Thrift Mart to encourage students in this manner. Thanks, Thrift Mart and congratulations to the students.

Mrs. Choate's 6th graders that served on flag duty in November were Tim Thompson, Jennifer Myers, Chris Gerhardt, Curtis Cheek, Jane Hounshell, Gary Sumners, Caren Bates, George Jimenez, Daniel Kitchen, Larry Wende, Jason Harris, Oscar Weeks, Jennifer Glover, and Lisa Hunter. Mr. Denison's 6th graders that had safety patrol were Jesse Arnett, Chad Cannistraci, Amanda Cearley, Jeremy Henson, Tommy Hollander, Tessie Ingram, Colby Midkiff, Rita Morano, Bobby Jo Nunez. Jaimie Robinson, Steven Schuyler, Rebecca Steddum, Wes Taylor, Heather Thompson and Shay Whitehead. Thank you very much for volunteering to perform these duties for the month of November.

Remember the called PTO General Meeting Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 6:30 p.m. at the Elementary Cafetorium, is to read and discuss proposed by-law changes. A copy of these proposed changes can be obtained on the table just outside Mr. Lindsay's office.

Then mark your calendar for the regular PTO General Meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 7 p.m. The 6th grade choir will present a Christmas play for entertainment

Mrs. Kay Clampitt spent Thanksgiving week in Haynesville, La. While there she participated in the celebration of her mother's 99th birthday. Many cards, flowers, telephone calls, visits by friends, food, and gifts were received by Mrs.

CLIFFORD BENEFITS OF MOURNING CUSTOMS

Attending a wake, making a condolence call, offering help to the bereaved -- all are two-way acts of caregiving.

These mourning practices directly benefit the bereaved family and one's self. In her book, "Dealth, the Final Stage of Growth," Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross advises that the purpose of mourning should be to allow for a full outpouring of grief. Mourning becomes the opportunity for the family to re-group after the loss of a member, especially to be able, then, to continue living, loving, working and enjoying one and other.

By getting this outpouring of grief early, we help to prevent pent-up feelings of guilt and regret from blossoming later with psychologically unhealthy repercussions. "Getting it out of your system" as soon as possible is appropriate therapy in most instances, ex-
