nual event

December the 7th, 1941, seems so far in the past - it was only yesterday to a lot of people. A lot of historic WWII battle sites have badly deteriorated, wide spread scrap metal salvaging of gun emplacements have occured and many sites are in serious disrepair.

Congress passed a bill that directs the American Battle Monuments Commission to restore, operate and maintain the Pacific War Memorial and other memorial sites on Corregidor in the Philippines we are grateful for that.

We have a lot of veterans of that era who along with the Kerean and Vietnam and still some WWI who, like the memorial site have long been forgotten. Some have no one to care for them, seems their messages are not loud enough for people to hear in the rush of time.

In a VA hospital a lonely boy wrote: "Dear Mon and Dad, the war is done alarmed, My task is through, And Mom, there's recently shot, something I must ask of you.

I have a friend, oh-such a friend

He has no home, you see, So Mom. I'd really like To bring him home with

"Dear Son, We don't mind

All said such services were badly needed. But there were questions about the ability of people to pay for them, and about the rate at which Medicare reimburses the local Hospitals. There was also much discussion about the soaring cost of malpractice insurance, and certain government regulations were called "Silly and obstructionist, with no medical significance."

The problem of patients who do not pay bills and the high percentage of Eastland County people who go elsewhere for medical care was addressed. The recruitment of young Doctors, and regulations preventing visiting specialists and the use of centralized equipment also received a lot of attention.

"I'd like to compliment you on what you're doing," Alfred Gilchrist said. On cooperation between the three Hospitals, he urged the group: "Document what you are trying to do - Document the road blocks. Then seek Legislative help.'

Dr. Gilmer was also complimentary of the meeting, and took extensive notes as issues were outlined.

Roy Cartee brought three main points from a letter from Congressman Stenholm. One was the recommendation of an application for Rural Hospital Grant money. The Congressman also recommended a cooperative effort between the three county Hospitals, and he said a strong commitment to local health care would be needed from a number of people in the county.

Jerry Edwards, President of the Ranger Hospital Board, said that the county was cer-group that Eastland Memorial was the only place in the County where babies are now being delivered. The high cost of malpractice insurance (around 900 per baby if one is delivered at the Ranger Hospital) has discouraged doctors from this type of practice.

She said that some way needs to be found to make the work of a Doctor more equitable in small communities, and also to make the medicare payments more equitable. Regulations that are not a quality issue should be more flexible, she said. She told of regulations which made the cooperation of the three county hospitals more difficult.

Marvin Cole, Cisco Hospital Administrator, told of skyrocketing insurance premiums - and how 90-95% of the patients in the Cisco Hospital are under Medicare. Most people are underinsured or have no other insurance, Barker said that he felt the rural hospital areas were felling the brunt of cuts in medical services. The problem was that the Government was running out of money, and had to reduce benefits or increase taxes. Since 65% of the elderly do not live in urban areas, a way to save money is to do away with access to medical services, he indicated.

Other opinions and bits of information surfaced during the discussion. Jerry Edwards mentioned that as a Funeral Home Director he noticed that

The Heffley murder has thrown a spotlight on the isolation and danger along the Rio Grande river border, which stretches from El Paso to the Gulf. Other sniper attacks on river rafters had occurred during the last three years, but they had drawn little

Eastland Co. 'Agriculture In Classroom' Recognized

Eastland County was one of the Texas counties receiving certificates at the Texas Farm Bureau Convention Monday, Dec. 5 for an outstanding "agriculture in the classroom" program in the local schools.

This program is a new one for the Eastland County Schools, and sponsored by the Farm Bureau. The Bureau furnishes textbooks, materials and video film for each 4th grade in the county, and teachers instruct with the material.

Other Texas counties receiving a similar award were Delta, Erath, Guadalupe, Hidalgo, Karnes, Kendall, Lamb, Medina, Runnels, Meeting in Corpus Christi, facing agriculture include the Texas State Farm Bureau also presented awards for public relations activities, farm safety, and counties showing the largest gain in deficit. Farm Bureau membership. Counties with the largest number of new members were also recognized, as well as those with the longest continuous gain and the highest renewal percentage. A lot of other business was conducted at this 55th annual meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau. S.M. True, State President, spoke to the delegates Monday, telling them that most farmers want an extension of the 1985 farm bill, with some fine tuning.

The cotton, grain and beef cattle farmer from Plainview, said preliminary work on the 1990 farm bill will begin next year "And we could have to fight some of the battles next year," the state farm leader told the 1,300 delegates representing 216 organized county Farm Bureaus. True said most farmers and ranchers agree that the present farm bill is working. "It has given us the tools to

> The TFB president warned that environmental issues will become more and more important

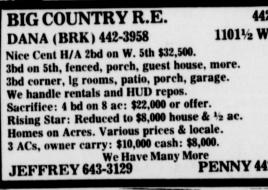

"The Endangered Species Act is a priority issues now and will be for some time to come," he said. "We must have some balance between the environment and the economy. We need amendments providing for economic impact statements before damaging regulations are implemented."

As for groundwater contamination, the farm leader said no one wants to drink unsafe water and no one wants to contaminate drinking water.

He added that farmers and ranchers must be included in shaping any regulations that are applied to the problem. "What we don't want is the Environmental Protection Agency coming in to take control of underground water because of quality," he said. True told the delegates that the "animal rights issue is creeping up on us like a bad dream.'

"If you keep up with the tical in their zeal to impose their ideas on all who deal with animals -- farm medical laboratories to caged laying hens," he said. True told the delegates that taxes will be agriculture's biggest challenge in the 70th Legislature beginning in January.

He said farmers and ranchers will have to oppose nearly all of the proposals put forth to solve the problem of school financing, an issue brought about by a court ruling that the present system is unconstitutional and unfair to poor school districts. "We cannot support massive school consolidation.

We're against a state income tax to provide the financing. And we certainly don't want to lose our agricultural use valuation," the state farm leader said.

True noted that the state Workers Compensation program in Texas is giving all employers, including farmers, a lot of trouble. He said that among all states, Texas is known for having the largest premiums and the lowest benefits for injured workers. The TFB leader said water continues to be one of the big issues in Austin, and in the case of groundwater, the question is whether there will be local or state control.

"Our position is that land-own that water," he said. "We are being challenged by others who believe that groundwater, like surface water, is a matter of state control."

True said that solving the federal deficit is vital to all Americans. "If it is not solved, we face a future of rising inflation and interest rates. Both of these conditions are deadly to agriculture," he said.

More taxes as a solution could lead to a recession here that would affect world and domestic markets for farm exports, True said. He added that there is a better way. "We can freeze spending on current levels," he said.

"This would keep the econ- nomic growth would take care omy growing. In time, eco- of the deficit."

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I witnessed something I had known existed, yet never before had I really witnessed

Only a few days ago, on my front porch this lady I know quite well, whom is a very nice person, has three little boys. They are cute and mannered children. One is very cute, I'll call him "Billy

Boy". As they were leaving my home "Billy Boy" stopped and noticed a few very used toys in the yard where my grandchildren had left them. He looked up to me and said, "Mrs. Wheat," with a sparkle in his eyes, "May I have these toys for my brother and me to play with? You seem to have no use for them and they are real good toys.' His mother seem to be very embarassed, even though I felt she had no reason to be. I know I was embarassed and felt very guilty. I couldn't give the toys away, because they weren't mine to give. My grandchildren were thoughtless for leaving them out, after playing with them. I explained gracefully but, the guilt was still there.

This is what I vow to do, if I have the blessings each day of my life. I will drink one less cup of coffee, drink one less soft drink, take the price of one package of cigarettes, and place the money that would have been spent on these items into a jar, a can, or a child's bank. It may not add up to several dollars, but Big Deal! But maybe it will buy a truck for some little "Billy Boy" to have to share with his brother or friend!

Will what I save be enough to buy something for a "Billy Boy" for Christmas? I think # so, if not I know the good

Lord will provide and buy the gift.

Do you think this is im-possible? I don't, I know too well through the Lord it is very possible! Above this, I know, the sparkle with a brightened gleem, will be in "Billy Boy's" eyes! I pray this will be a beautiful memory for a "Billy Boy" that will be worth more than what one cup of coffee, one soft drink. or a pack of cigarettes could mean to me. Thank You Vera Wheat

Don Shepard Talks To Lions Club About Prisons

There will be six new prison systems built in the state of Texas, and Eastland County has filed for one of those prisons, according to Cisco Chamber of Commerce manager Don Shepard. Shepard talked to the Cisco Lions Club at their regular meeting held last Wednesday at Tradition's Restaurant

A group of Eastland County citizens travelied to Palestine and then to Huntsville to see if this area would qualify for one of the sites.

The type of prison Eastland County was advised to apply for is where families of inmates would not have to travel more than 2-3 hours to visit. A plus for Eastland County will be the Interstate that goes through here.

Shepard said the support of the entire community is needed for a city to even be thought of for a prison site. Pros for Eastland County receiving the prison is that the prison is a permanent job source. This will not a job that will leave in a few years. The prison will also provide 750 jobs. He said other counties will benefit from this.

Shepard said the prison will bring a $1,600,000 plus payroll for this area and $21,000,000 worth of income for Eastland County. He said this will rejuvinate the downtown areas here, keep the youth and bring in more business. He added that this would be a sure way to keep and W.E. Turner from Mrs. W.E. Turner.

Contributions to the Cisco

Eastland County is of safety. He said there are 30 prisons in Texas at the present time with 39,600 inmates. There is an average of 8-9 escapes per year, but the escapees are captured very soon and do not want to stay in the same area of the prison.

He said the prison employees will be a plus to the local law enforcement agency. He said employees go thru training similar to law enforcement agencies and can identify criminal element in a community.

He said prisoners will come into the prison from Huntsville and will go back to Huntsville for release. Shepard said Eastland County will need the support of community leaders. He said the members of the Eastland County Development Project will be taking other trips to prison sites and encouraged the Lions Club members to go on one of the trips John Dyer led the Lions roar, Wyley led the singing and the Pledge of Allegience, Robbie Robinson gave the in-

Cisco Rotary Club Honors Past Members At Meeting Thursday

November was the Rotary International Foundation month, according to Rotarian Anton White, who spoke to the Cisco Rotary Club at their regular meeting held last Thursday at Tradition Restaurant.

Donations to the Foundation were slow beginning, until 1947 when Paul Harris, founder of the foundation died. Donations were then made in his memory.

The foundation is spent on outstanding students who aren't a relative of a Rotarian. The student must go to a college overbroad, not in their native country.

White said from it's beginning until 1985 the foundation has issued 931 scholarships of $10,000 each. The total scholarship is $15,644 with food and lodging. The Foundation has a total of $113,236,840 to be used for scholarships.

White said when the Cisco club was first formed E.P. "Pansy" Crawford was the first secretary. When the Foundation first started, Crawford gave a check for $50.00 and challenged the other club members to match it.

The Cisco club has donated a total of $3,764.40 since then and White said this was started by Crawford.

When Crawford became ill, William Wright, Sr., donated $500 to the Paul Harris Award Fellowship and challenged the club to match the donation in Crawford's name. Anyone who donates $1,000 to the Fellowship is given a plaque and mediallion. Mr. Crawford was given the plaque and mediallion. When Lloyd London was president of the Cisco Lions Club he started the Cisco Scholarship Foundation. It now has $12,104.07 in it. This scholarship is for students at Cisco High School.

A guest at the meeting was Helen Crawford, daughter of E.P. Crawford, She gave a contribution to the Paul Harris Foundation in memory of her dad. She said the Rotary Club meant a lot to him and it still does to her.

Don Shepard was a guest at the meeting and asked each Rotarian to donate to the Cisco Goodfellows. He said they are expecting a record number of applications asking the Goodfellows for help.

Billy Wright will be in charge of program for the Dec. 8 meeting. Al Anderson will be in charge of the Dec. 15 program. Bill Austin will be in charge of the Dec. 22 meeting.

Clara White was also a guest at the meeting. Ken Diehm gave the invocation. Otto Urban presided over the meeting and led the Pledge of Allegience.

CIC All Conference

By MARLOW McSHAN The Cisco Junior College Wrangler finished their football season a few weeks ago but some of the players are still receiving notable attention due to the All-Conference listings. The Wranglers placed five players on the First Team All-Conference list, four on the honorable mention team, and three on the All-

Tim Duncan, a 6-2, 255 pound sophomore center from Burnet; Cam Pepper, a 6-5, 285 sophomore tackle from Katy; Gabe Smith, a 5-7, 160 sophomore wide receiver from Bellville; Stacey Hunter, a 6-5, 280 sophomore tight end from Jacksonville; and Tim Bryant, a 6-4, 240 sophomore defensive end

The first team All-

Wide receiver Gabe Smith was the conference's leading receiver with 32 catches for 735 yards and one touchdown. Tight end Stacey Hunter was the conference's third leading receiver with 24 catches for 234 yards and three touchdowns. The lone first team all-conference defensive player for Cisco was Tim Bryant. Bryant led the Wranglers in total tackles with 55. He also had two safeties for the Wranglers. Although Tim Duncan and Cam Pepper don't have any offensive statistics their great blocking allowed the team to finish first in total offense with 3,676 total yards.

The Wranglers also placed four defensive players on the Honorable Mention Team. They were Chris Cooper, a 6-2, 265 sophomore defensive tackle from Houston; Derrick Gibson, a 6-3, 225 sophomore linebacker from Forney; Perry Kyles, a 5-9, 170 sophomore defensive back from Houston; and Roderick Tatum, a 6-2, 205 sophomore defensive back from Jacksonville.

Defensive back, Perry Kyles, was second in the conference with a total of five interceptions. Defensive tackle Chris Cooper finished the season with a total of 76 tackles which placed him second on the team behind Tatum. Linebacker Derrick Gibson was the third leading tackler for the Wranglers with a Conference players include total of 74 tackles. The Wranglers not only showed they could do well on the field but also in the classroom. The Wranglers was the only team to place anyone on the All-Academic Team. These players were Tim Duncan, 3.8 GPA, Doug Chicka, 3.3 GPA, and Kelvin Brooks, 3.3 GPA. Tim Duncan was the only player in the conference to be named to the First Team All-Conference Offensive Team. The All-Conference and All-Academic players should be commended on their outstanding play throughout the 1988 football season.

Angelo JV

Lewis Hicks scored 25 points to lead the CJC Wrangler Men to an easy 126-to-84 victory over the Angelo State Junior Varsity at Wrangler Gym Monday night. It was the fourth time this season in 13 games that the Wranglers have been over the century mark. The win was Cisco's fourth straight, and improved their season record to 6 wins against 7 losses.

As usual, the scoring was balanced with six players scoring in double figures and all ten players entering the scoring column. Tyrone Williams and Mark Chambers each scored 20 points. Dell Anderson had 15, and Ronald Ateman and Linwood Lambert each has 10. Chambers led the team with 10 rebounds, while Adrian Hill was the assist leader with 12.

The Wranglers jumped out to an early lead and built to a 65-to-31 margin at halftime, then coasted to the win in the second half.

Cisco will travel to Brownwood for a return match against Howard Payne's JV on Friday, and will finish non-conference and first semester play when they host Fort Sill Army Base on Saturday, Dec. 17. The Fort Sill game will be a homecoming for Wranglerex, Melven Jones, who played for CJC from 1983 to 1985. He played for the University of Florida after leaving Cisco, then joined the Army in 1987.
