Plans On Inventory Discussed

At the County Commissioners meeting Monday Sheriff-Elect Dee Hogan discussed plans for his inventory of money and property in the present Sheriff's office and the jail. Plans are to have retired County Auditor Emma Morris assist with the audit, Hogan said. She will do this as a public service, with no charge to the County.

Hogan also said he would like to have a good system on holding confiscated property which is being kept for criminal trials. He told of plans for the organization of this material, and said he thought the large walk-in vault in the old Sheriff's office on the first floor of the Courthouse would be a good place to keep it.

The Commissioners seemed agreeable to this plan, and also to some changeover requests. Richard Robinson, Commissioner of Pct. 1, said it was hard now to set an exact figure on the cost of transferring the Sheriff's office, but this could be done after Jan. 1.

He said the budget should be amended to cover changeover expenses in communi-

On another matter, the Commissioners appointed Cecil Cook to fill the unexpired term of Jesse Brown, Constable of Pct. 2 (Ranger). Brown resigned the office on Nov. 1. Cook on the spring primary and defeated a writein candidate in November. His full term will start Jan. 1.

Richard Robinson, Commissioner of Pct. 1, was sworn in for another term by County Judge Scott Bailey.

One agenda item was the discussion of current and delinquent tax collections, and to request that current tax statements list delinquent and outstanding taxes owed.

Billy Bacon, Comm. of Pct. 4, said that more than one person had complained to him how tax bills were stated. Old bills sometimes lie dormant for years, then are sent to people who don't even know they owe the taxes. He mentioned one person who recently received a bill for taxes owed in 1973.

courtroom - Roger Kent Sutton of the firm of McCreary, Valeska, Beck and Allen of Austin, a firm which specializes in collecting delinquent taxes. Sutton said he was based in Abilene, and that an employee of the firm was in Eastland County regularly, checking on various sources pertaining to the collecting of past-due taxes.

Sutton indicated that his firm was complying with the Commissioners request. He said 10,060 delinquent tax notices had been mailed this year, with more than 200 "demand" letters notifying property owners that they faced a lawsuit on past due taxes.

He also said the firm had filed 111 judgements on suits, and had sent out 76 "lien holder" letters. He told Bacon that new owners are responsible for back taxes that are owed on property, and for the woman who had received the 1973 tax bill to check with tax officials.

The Commissioners decided to have Pritchard and Abbott, another Tax firm, notified again about putting delinquent tax notices on current statement. They had requested this firm to do so in the past, Commissioners said, but it had not complied.

On another item Comm. Billy Bacon reported that 15 people were currently in the County Jail, and that the facility appeared clean. The land-clearing on the block north of the jail was progressing, he said. There was some mention of utilizing the old jail more for storage space.

As to budgetary matters, the Commissioners deferred paying two bills submitted by Attorney Bill Hart until they could have a discussion outlining the projected cost of the Appeal on the Brenda Andrew case. In 1987 Brenda Andrews was convicted in an Organized Crime Trial stemming from the murder of and abduction and murder of Debra Garcia of Cisco. Special prosecutor Hart submitted bills of $2,809 for Oct. 20, 1988 to Nov. 11 and $1,458 for Nov. 15, 1988 through Dec. 8 for preparing briefs in Brenda Andrews Appeal.

Bills from her defense Attorney will also reportedly be submitted to the county case, since Andrews has been declared indigent.

On other agenda items, the Commissioners voted to request a Proposal for bids on computer service. They also approved 12 Holidays for 1989, a calendar which will be useful in coordinating activities in the Courthouse.

CHARLES BARNES Rising Star Man Is

Project Manager

Charles Barnes, of Rising Star, has been selected by the Eastland County Economical Development Committee, to be the project manager, of obtaining a prison system for Eastland County. Barnes will have an office in Cisco, and will be serving the entire county.

Barnes graduated from Texas A&M University in 1944, and became a doctor of veterinary medicine. He practiced in Cisco from 1944-46. He received his PhD from the University of California in 1957. Dr. Barnes served 22 years in the U.S. Air Force and is currently retired in the grade of Colonel.

He retired from the Foreign Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture in April, 1985. He, and his wife, are currently operating a cattle ranch near Rising Barnes said the 2,052 bed prison they are seeking will provide jobs for 700 people in Eastland County. The whole object of getting the prison is to get new people and funds in here to rejuvenate Eastland County.

from Funds Legislature have been appropriated to build more prisons in Texas. He said prisons will definitely be built and Eastland County is earnestly seeking one.

Barnes said the Texas Department of Corrections requires 300 acres of land, with 80 acres being smooth and flat. He said Eastland County has that land.

Barnes said the Texas Department of Corrections will put out a request for proposals and any group who wishes to apply may do so. He said a committee from the Texas Department of Corrections will review each proposal and make their

The presence of Interstate 20, in Eastland County is a plus, according to Barnes. The prison will not be located close to the highway, he said, but a highway does need to be close to the prison to provide transportation for supplies and transportation of prisoners in and out.

The Eastland County Economical Development Committee will send information about the good qualities of Eastland County to the Texas Department of Corrections to be considered for a site of a prison.

Any prison in this area will be a long term improvement for the county, Barnes said. He said it will be an economical development. About two-thirds of the workers will be registered law officers. The prison will need at least 4-5 doctors, 45 nurses, 5 dentists and 5 psycharists. These people will reside in Eastland Coun-

A prison will develop a large co-op education program using the two Junior Colleges in Eastland County and the other educational facilities here, Barnes said.

A group from Eastland County toured the prison near Palestine. Texas last month. All those who went on the tour were extremely impressed with the college campus atmosphere. They said it was a safe and secure facility

Barnes said to show how much a prison helps an area financially, several of the communities that already have prisons are asking to be considered for another one. This shows how much a prison can help a community, he said.

Barnes said he is enthusiastic about the prison coming to Eastland County. "If I can get it, it will be got," he said.

Friends Recall Tarleton Student's Caring Ways

(Reprinted from Fort Worth Star-Telegram) By Amy Keen

Two days after Katha "Lynn" McDaniels was killed beneath a collapsed balcony in Stephenville, friends and family recalled her as an intelligent, compassionate person.

"She always seemed to be looking out for other people," said Sherri Harty, who pledged Alpha Gamma Delta sorority with McDaniels this

The 21 year-old Tarleton State University student was killed Friday night while walking beneath the balcony that collapsed at the Madrid Apartments, near the college

A party was going on in the manager's apartment on the second floor. About eight to 10 students were standing on the upstairs balcony when it collapsed on top of McDaniels, police said.

"I was walking up the stairs on the other side of the courtyard when I heard something crack, and then I saw the balcony fall," said a student who attended the party. She declined to give her name.

None of the students who were standing on the balcony was injured when it fell. Because of the chaos, the student said: "It took about 20 minutes before anyone realized she was under there."

The balcony appeared to be an extension built on to the original balcony, Stephenville Fire Chief Jimmy Mooney said after an initial inspec-

The city's building inspector was expected to begin an investigation of the collapse sometime today, he said yesterday.

"This was a shock, a real shock," Harty said. "Not really anybody found out about it until a couple of hours after it happened.'

McDaniels was remembered as very intelligent. She was considering entering law school after she was scheduled to graduate from Tarleton in the spring.

Another Alpha Gamma Delta sorority member, Missy Kincer, recalled that McDaniels had attended a pledge retreat at her apartment earlier in the fall.

"She was real smart," she said. "She was real pretty and everybody liked her. She was really nice.

McDaniels' uncle, Lee Roy McDaniels, said his niece was born the last of five children to his brother and sister-in-

"She was kind of like the flower of the family," he said. Jenett Webb said her younger sister was eligible for graduation in the spring, with a business degree. However, she was thinking of going on to law school. 'She never made a B," Webb said of her sister's grades. "Everything she ever made, she earned."

McDaniels and her brother, J.C. McDaniels, were especially close. Because she had

He recalled his sister as a hard-working student who graduated from Cisco Junior College, where he teaches math, with highest honors. She also was an honor student at Tarleton, he said.

McDaniels moved into her apartment in October and was enjoying making friends in college and through her sorority, he said. But her compassion extended beyond people, he said.

"She loved animals," J.C. McDaniels said. "She was always getting mail from the Humane Society, from the one for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and from Save the Whales.

"The night she was killed, I went to her apartment and the cats were there on the couch, waiting for her."

McDaniels also was interested in the environment and politics, her brother said.

"Lynn had the ability to discuss issues on any subject without getting emotionally distraught about it," he said. "We could talk about anything, and we did. She was more than a sister, she was a friend."

RANGER

The Boys Club of Ranger will be receiving some renovation work after the first of the new year. The old siding on the building contained asbestos, and due to new Federal guidelines this siding must be replaced. Arthur Camacho, President of the Boys Club, has been removing the old siding. The Ranger Lions Club has purchased the new material and it is being delivered this week. Donations for assistance in paying for the siding and installation are being requested. The building provides young people a great place for recreation, and has also been used for parties and reunions. Anyone wishing to make a donation should contact Arthur Camacho or Shawn Wells.

The Ranger Police Department is taking orders for house numbers to be installed on houses in the city. These numbers will enable the Police to respond faster to calls for service. The numbers and installation will be furnished by the Police Department for a donation of $10 per house. The donations will be used to purchase much needed equipment for the Police Department. To place an order, call or contact any of the officers of the Ranger Police Depart-

Busy days are ahead for the firms holding Open House in Ranger. On Thursday, Dec. 15 Olney Savings will hold Open House from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. On Thursday, Dec. 15 Ranger Auction Co. will also hold Open House, with refreshments available all day during the sale. On Friday, Dec. 16 there will be Open House at a number of places: Clay T's Service Center, 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., Gholson's Beauty Salon, 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Also Ranger Floral 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. "We're turning Christmas upside down," they say. There will be door prizes, refreshments and pop-a-balloon for discount specials. The same day Bill's Dollar Store will have Open House from 5-9 p.m. There will be a drawing for a T.V. Staples Office Supply and H&R Block will also celebrate with an Open House on Dec. 16, and their hours will be 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Door prizes will be given away.

CISCO

The Coronation of the fiftyseventh King and Queen Lobo will be held on Thursday, Dec. 15, 7:30 p.m. in the Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium, on the Cisco Junior College campus. Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for students, and may be purchased from members of the Junior Class or also at the door. Following the royal presentation, the Junior Class will entertain King and Queen Lobo LVII, their court and honored guests with a Christmas play. When this Coronation tradition began in 1927, the student body selected five Cisco High School Senior football players as nominees for King Lobo. These young men chose their own escorts for the Coronation. The tradition continued in this manner until 1965, when it was decided that King Lobo nominees were no longer required to be a football player. At that time, also, five senior girls were nominated, and for the first time Queen Lobo was elected

It is Christmas time at Cisco Elementary! The first things you see at the front door is a Christmas Train for the Goodfellows. The teachers have covered boxes with bright, beautiful wrappings, and encouraged the children to bring non-perishable food items to fill up the "train cars." It is cute to look at and encourages the children to give to people in need. Goodfellows will pick up the food on Friday, Dec. 16.

If you have any new or like new toys you wish to donate to the Cisco Goodfellows, there are three locations set up with boxes where the toys can be left. They may be left at the WTU office, the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and The Cisco Press.

The headstone for Chanda

Pittman, 8 year old Cisco girl who died in a traffic accident this year, has arrive from South Africa. It was ordered in June from Clemmer Monument in Abilene, and was shipped by boat. It is made of black African granite, and is the only one of its kind in this area. It took a week to cut the stone with a sawblade. Clay Clemmer, son of the owner of Clemmer Monuments, used a diamond bit to hand etch a soccer ball, baseball bat, the Girl Scout Emblem and a red rose on the headstone.

EASTLAND

Museum backers have decided that the next steps needed in the proposed Eastland Museum project is money and volunteer labor. Both will be needed to renovate the location on South Seaman into an attractive Museum building. So an auction is planned at the City yard in mid-January, and this should provide some funds for the Museum. A city auction of surplus equipment for salvage will take place at the same time. The public is being asked for items they are willing to donate. If you are willing to give something to the auction, you may call Roy Lee Smith at 629-2889.

The Eastland United Way Benefit which was to have been held last Thursday at the McDonald's Drive-In was postponed because of bad weather. It is rescheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 14 from 12-

Thursday, Dec. 22 is the date for the 1988 Eastland County 4-H Show Pig Clinic. It is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. in the Gorman School Cafeteria, and will feature training by Dan Gressett, Swine Specialist for Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He will discuss a number of topics related to the care. feeding and Showing of pigs. All members who plan on exhibiting a pig during the 1989 Eastland County Livestock Show are requested to attend with parents.

All of Eastland's basketball teams will be in District play with Ranger on Monday and Tuesday of next week -Dec. 19-20. Some of the games will be in Eastland some in Ranger. Good competition is expected.

BAIRD

The Baird School Band will hold its annual Christmas Concert on Wednesday, Dec. 14, starting at 8 p.m. in the Baird High School auditorium. The Christmas program is always very special, so this should be a good one. The public is invited to attend.

The Callahan County Historical Committee still has some copies of the County History Book for sale. This would make a unique Christmas gift for a relative or friends, especially for someone interested in the county. Once these remaining copies are sold, no more will be available. If you would like a copy, send $58 to Callahan County History Book, Rt. 2 Box 236, Clyde, Texas 79510. Be sure and include your name and address so the book can be mailed to you. If you want the book mailed directly to someone else, please explain this in a letter or call Hicks Turners at 529-3579.

Authors To Receive Awards

Local authors will receive recognition and awards Thursday, December 15, at 7:30 p.m. when the Abilene Writers Guild announces the winners in their 1988 Christmas Fiction Contest. The presentations will be held at Guild Headquarters, 860 Hickory, Abilene, Texas.

The annual competition provides Guild members an opportunity to test their talents as writers under competition conditions. The stories are written according to strict guidelines and judged by professional authors. This years judges, Gwen Choate Smith and Marty Gregory, have written a number of successful novels.

After the presentations, the winning competitors will read their entries and discuss the reasons for writing as they did. Comments by the judges will then be discussed.

This holiday season, give yourself peace on earth.

Give your teenager a private phone line.

eace on earth.

If your teenager loves to talk on the phone, it's the hardest thing on earth to find. Because you're always waiting to make calls. Or worrying about missing them.

That's why, this holiday season, you should give your teenager a gift that will make your whole family happy. A private phone line, with a separate phone number, from Southwestern Bell Telephone.

With a private phone line, your teenager could talk to his heart's content. And you'd be content because your phone line would never be tied up.

What's more, a private phone line's a small price to pay for something as precious as peace on earth. So call Southwestern Bell Telephone today to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then becomes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

And make your teenager the happiest kid on earth.

Mr. Long explained what 4-H is about, listing the many activities, shows, and contests which 4-H'ers participate in. There are over 400 students in 4-H in Eastland County alone, and there are nine additional clubs and 52 adult leaders, he informed.

Our 4-H leaders are from small communities, he said, and 4-H helps students to develop the necessary knowledge, skills and attitudes to become outstanding citizens

Long pointed out that activity is required for success and that the word "good" contains letters which spell "go" and "do." He was also presented a jacket from the county level in recognition of his serving as Texas 4-H Council Secretary.

Miss Stevens, wno was one of three county students who attended the 4-H Congress last year, told about the Congresses in both '87 and '88.

The '87 Congress was a Historical one which was held in Nacogdoches. The students toured a tree seed orchard and

'Winterizing' Your Home

With winter fast approaching, it is time to prepare your home to resist those colder temperatures. A few simple energy-saving measures taken now can keep you warmer this winter, while saving money on your heating bill.

The first "winterizing" task is to be sure your insulation levels are adequate. The Texas Energy Extension Service recommends at least R18 insulation in the wall and at least R27 in the attic Adding insulation to your walls is difficult and usually not cost effective, but increasing the level of insulation in the attic can be done by a do-it-yourselfer. Use a ruller to measure the thickness of your attic insultation. If you have less than 8 inches of batt insulation or loose-fill cellulose insulation or less than 10 inches of loos-fill glass fiber or mineral wool insulation, then you probably don't have R27 in your attic. By bringing your insulation up to the recommended levels, you can save significantly on your heating bills.

When checking your insulation level, also check to see if the attic is properly ventilated to avoid moisture buildup in the insulation. Putting plastic bags or other devices over turbine ventilators in the winter is not a good practice because it hinders attic ventilation and moisture control.

Remember, insulation is not just for walls and attics. By insulating your hot-water pipes, you keep the heat from escaping into the cooler air. This pipe insulation will cost about .20 cents per foct, but should be recovered in a short period of time through savings on your waterheating bill.

The second measure that should be taken is aie leakage reduction. Air leakage in a typical house accounts for 25 to 30 percent of the home's heating and cooling costs. when this air loss is reduced your heater runs less, saving energy and money. Weatherstrip and caulk where you find leaks around doors and windows.

Also, check for fleaks in some of the not-so-obvious places. To restrict air leakage around light swithces and electrical outlets, gasket sealers are available to place between the wall and the cover plate. Insulate the backs of attic doors, and weatherstrip around the door frame. Stuff insulation in the gaps in floors and walls around plumbing lines that enter the house. Replace broken and cracked windows; seal small cracks in glass with duct tape if replacement is too expensive The third tip is to be sure your heating system is operating efficiently. Arrange for a maintenance inspection by a heating system specialist at the beginning of each heating season. For a small fee, the service person will check for any malfunctioning parts, which will ensure that your system is operating properly. Once the system is operating daily, be sure to change the filters once a month.

The last energy-saving measure involves your winter lifestyle. You can

When you're going to be in one particular room for a long time, turn the thermostat way down on the main heating system. Use space heaters or a fireplace to heat the room you're in or use a lap blanket when you're going to be in one spot for a while.

A word of caution about fireplaces: they are not very efficient heating systems. When used while the normal heating system is operating, they often consume more energy than they save because air heated by the main system is drawn into the fireplace and escapes up the chimney, when used alone and with proper air control dampers, the fireplace can be a viable alternative to the normal heating system and can save significantly on the heating lower the thermostat setting to 68 degrees F and keep yourself warm by wearing clothing. At night, you can set the thermostat back to 55 degrees F and use an electric blanket. An electric blanket can run all night for less than .10 cents. It possible, stay in the warm areas of the house. North walls and windows are typical cold AN HEIRLOOM MOR

Chuck Burgess Wins 2nd In Florida Pro-Am Chuck Burgess of Olden, Tex. pulled another rabbit out of his hat, this time in Clewiston, Fla. Chuck was one of 100 anglers across the nation to be drawn in a random drawing to compete in the Florida Pro-Am tournament put on by B.A.S.S. This event pairs 100 touring pro anglers with 100 amateurs. Chucks first day pro (Wednesday) was Steve Daniels. Steve guided Chuck into some hydrilla beds for a little Florida flipping. At the weigh in Chuck had a 6 fish string which went 11 pounds 10 ounces. This weight was good enough to tie him for second. also this string included a nice 4 pound 14 ounce bass which tied for big bass of the day. The two anglers split $300.00.

The second day of competition Chucks draw looked to be promising with Stan Mitchell past B.A.S.S. classic winner. But Mr. Mitchell was not on fish and therefore Chuck wasn't on them either. Managing only 1 fish for 1 pound 9 ounces this dropped Chuck down to 6th place in the amateur division. But Chuck was a mere 7 pounds behind the leader, which on Lake Ocechobee could be one fish.

Friday Chuck drew the legendary Guy Acker. Mr. Acker has been a consistent contender over the years in the B.A.S.S. classic. And this was evident to Chuck when within the first 2 hours of fishing Guy located a 9 pound 10 ounce lunker, with the help of Chuck doing the hand landing due to nets not being allowed. This day Chuck reported using Rat-L-Traps for a total of 5 pounds 14 ounces. This total held Chuck in a solid 6th place, but moved him to 51/2 pounds from the lead. And only 51/, pounds out of 20th. So it close and the pressure was on everyone the final day.

Mike Artman was Chucks final day guide. Mike finished 21st overall in the pro division and helped put Chuck in the right area this final day of competition. And a weight of 7 pounds 5 ounces boosted Chuck up to second place overall in the amateur divi-

Chuck reported over the phone, that he lost a couple of fish the final day that could have easily moved him into the front of the pack. Had it not been for Thursday's poor showing I'm sure Chuck would have won this event. But as I told you in earlier articles this event would be decided not so much by the amateurs skills but more by their luck in drawing pros who were on fish. This one day (Thursday) was Chucks only bad draw.

Of the 100 amateurs present eight of these gentlemen were from Texas. Of these eight 4 finished in the money for the top 20. And two in the top 10. An excellent representation of the quality of anglers that are here in Texas.

Here are the number of fish, total weight and monies won by finish for the amateur division.

Congratulations to all these gentlemen Pros and Amateurs for their success and it was some hard work I'm sure. Locally the E.C.B.C. held its final tournament for 1988. As we told you earlier the race for the angler of the year was neck and neck. With only 2 ounces separating Terry Wilson and Tommy Maynard for the lead.

Only 4 anglers were present for this Sunday event at Lake Cisco. Cold, damp weather and falling water temps were shaping up for a slow uncomfortable days outing. The final 4:00 weigh in went like this. 1st Terry Wilson 2 fish 7.87; 2nd Ron McCullough 1 fish 5.04 and third Jerry King 1 fish 2.17. Fourth place was Tommy Maynard 1 fish 1.96. Thus giving Terry Wilson the overall 1988 angler of the year

4-H Sweatshirt Workshop

Pre-register by Thursday, December 15, if you would like to make a 4-H sweatshirt. (15 4-H'ers have already pre-registered at the time we held the County 4-H Food Show.) Call the Extension Service office at 629-2222, so an adequate amount of supplies are available.

The workshop will be on Thursday, December 29, starting at 9:00 at the TU Electric Reddy Room here in Eastland.

What to bring? A sweatshirt (white or black) and $11 for cost of thread, pretty punch needle, hoop, and fabric. You will make a "4-H Clover" out of pretty punch. Also, bring a sack lunch.

Who can come? 4-H boys and girls plus mothers and grandmothers. I would suggest that 4-H'ers under 12 years of age be accompanied by an adult if at all possible.

Mrs. Carolyn Arnold is going to teach the class. For more information, contact Janet Thomas, County Extension Agent at 629-2222.

Don't Change Colors On God

By Sam Williams

I remember a few years back, when I was a kid, a nickel would buy one of them great big (all-day) jaw-breakers. The kind that changed colors as you sucked it down, smaller and smaller. I remember thinkin' how much work it must be building all them layers on that jaw-breaker, one at a time, and how it was well worth a nickel for the long-lasting sweetness of an (all-day) jaw-breaker.

Some days I'd get thinkin' about one of them big sweet jaw-breakers, and I'd rob my penny bank for a nickel, or try and sell some of my old baseball cards or something to the other kids, to get enough money to buy one. Then I's slip away to the store down the block while the other kids wasn't watchin'. And I'd come back suckin' on a great big, freshly bought jawbreaker. Well, I'd see that I's gonna have to share it with them, or they'd tell that I'd been to the store without askin'. Now, I'd found out the summer before, when I tried to bite a piece off a jawbreaker and chipped one of too many things harder than an (all-day) jaw-breaker. It occurred to be that I could try Dad's new hammer, it bein' made of steel and all, but I knew I'd be in a heap a trouble if I's to break it, and besides, if you could break a piece off it wouldn't fit your jaw right anymore anyway, so I'd just let each of them have a turn at suckin' it, just until it changed to another color. I'll have you to know that I kept a close eye on my jaw-breaker while they had it, and I'd have them take it out every minute or so and show it to me, to make sure they didn't suck through two layers before giving it up to the next person. You know, you could suck on one of them jaw-breakers purt near all day, and still get one of the other kids to give you a penny for what was left.

I reckon the Church to be like an (all-day) jaw-breaker in some ways. Our Founding Fathers worked long and hard, with much prayer and fasting, layer on layer building a faith and a way of life that was worth a repentant heart and a contrite spirit. And when people looked at the Church. my teeth, that there weren't it was easy to see that it was worth a nickel for the longlasting sweetness of an (alllife) Saviour. All the money in the world can't buy Christ into your life, but if you'll sell out all of your old sinful way, and make a down payment on salvation, you can come back enjoying the sweetness of a freshly bought new life in Christ. And when you get Jesus in your life, the whole world's gonna see your jaw stickin' out, and wish they had some of the peace and joy that you posses. And since you can't break a piece off, 'cause there's nothin' in the world any more solid than Jesus Christ, the Rock of Ages, and a little piece of Jesus wouldn't fit your jaw right anyway, you just have to share what you've got with those around you. And while our enjoying all the sweet blessings of Jesus, don't forget to take your life out every day and check to see that your not changing colors on God. Because, while Jesus will never change colors on you. there have been and still are those that would suck the sweetness out of Christianity, and try to change the color of God, by compromising their doctrine and their standards, in order to solicit their phony religion to others for the sake of numbers, popu larity and money.

There's one that that I learned when I was a kid. If you don't want to suck all the flavor out of your jaw-breaker in one day, hide it away in the back of your dresser drawer, and it'll still be just as sweet

If you don't want to remove all the sweetness from Christianity in this generation, hide Jesus away in your heart, raise up a standard before God, refuse to compromise, and maybe, just maybe, it'll still have a little flavor left for the next generation. I fear that if we don't take a stand now for what we believe, we could see the day that folks wouldn't give a penny for our careless, donothing attitude toward a christian life

"Success seems to be largely a matter of hanging on after others have let go.' This quote was on the screen at the Cisco Hospital Town Meeting held last week. The quote is from William Feather.

Hospital administrator Marvin Cole said this is how taxpayers of the City of Cisco feels about E.L. Graham Hospital. Other hospitals have closed (68 hospitals in Texas alone have closed in the past three years), but Cisco is going to hang on and keep their hospital open.

Cole said one way to help Graham is when someone has to go to a specialist in another city, ask the doctor if the tests can be made at Graham and the specialist can read the results in their

He said the plant was still blooming when the freeze hit here last week. Mr. Parmer said when he heard the freeze was heading this way he went out and picked 75 ripe tomatoes and 250 green tomatoes.

He said he kept some of the seeds, but he figures when he plants them next year and waters the plants and take good care of them, they won't do as well as this wild

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said last Friday that this year's sales tax payments to Cisco was up 5.16% compared to the same period last year, but dropped 7.11% during the month of October, compared to September. He said in Eastland County the city of Rising Star had the largest increase in sales tax during October, 40.74% and Gorman had an increase of 24.15%. Gorman was also up 13.84% for the entire year.

Eastland was down 10.01% for the month of October compared to September and up 2.02% for the entire year. Ranger's sales tax was down 14.25% in October and up 5.83% for the year.

Bullock said, "We're projecting that local sales tax allocations will steadily rise through 1991. I'm sure the extra income from sales tax revenues will be welcomed by local governments."

Kimbrough Funeral Home, 300 West 9th, has a beautiful Christmas decoration on the side of their building. And the homes down Avenue I, from 8th Street are decorated up very pretty.

The homes on South Avenue L, look pretty as does the Pippen home at 905 West 5. The home of Randy and Joann Rust, halfway between Cisco and Eastland on Hwy 80 is lit up very well

Social Security Improves Telephone Service

Many people want to take care of their Social Security business by telephone. In recognition of this desire, the Social Security Administra-tion has improved its telephone service for Cisco and Eastland County.

Additional telephone operators are on duty and more telephone equipment has been installed to help get your call through quickly. The hours when your call will be answered have been extended. You can now call us at any time from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. Monday through Friday. If you call after 7 p.m. or before 7 a.m., or on weekends or holidays, just

Take Fat Out Of Holiday Cooking

Oil, eggs and whipping cream are three ingredients often included in holiday cooking, but their high fat content makes them poor choices for mass consump-

The American Heart Association suggests that recipe modifications be made whenever possible to cut back fat intake, said Evelyn Roberts, nutrition and dietetics instructor at Texas Christian University. Most of the AHA suggestions can be incorporated easily into holiday recipes.

"For example, if a recipe calls for fat or oil, use the oil because solid fats are highly saturated," explained Roberts. "If heavy cream is called for, it's often possible to substitute skimmed or evaporated milk."

leave a message with your name and number, and we will call you back.

Finally, you will not have to pay a long-distance charge to call Social Security's toll-free number. We pay for the call, This is good news for those persons in Cisco and Eastland County who use to pay a longdistance charge. The number to use is (800) 2345-SSA (800-234-5772). For toll-free service, just dial this number any time, day or night.

Dr. Glen Lich of Baylor University, panel chairman, spoke on Comfort, Texas, "A Town That Didn't Want To Be and Never Was." Dr. Joe Frantz of Corpus Christi State University, history professor, discussed "The Five Faces of Small Town

Lewis' topic "Growing Up in Archer City: Fictional Roots of Larry McMurtry's Thalia." He read, ad-libbed, and showed slides of Archer City scenes. Folklore concerning "Uncle" Luke Wilson and "Treetop" Cooper flavored

Also editor-in-chief of Cross Timbers Review, Lewis concluded that McMurtry returned to Archer City to try and save his home town from "regional xenophobia" and that con-summated a relationship between town and Pulitzer Prize winning writer amounting to spiritual symbiosis.

Wranglers Win Fifth; Play Here Saturday

The Cisco Junior College Wrangler men struggled against the Howard Payne Junior Varsity Friday but, after trailing 39-to-36 at halftime, managed to come out with an 82-to-71 win in Brownwood. It was their fifth straight win and evened their season record at 7-7.

Ronald Ateman, a 6-5 sophomore from Garland, was the leading scorer with 20 points. Mark Chambers and Lewis Hicks each had 18. Chambers led the rebounding with 12, while Hicks was the assist leader with five.

Because of final exams, the Wranglers will not play again until Saturday when they take on Fort Sill Army Base at 8 p.m. in Wrangler Gym. The CJC Lady Wranglers will open action at 6 p.m. against the Fort Sill women's team.

Melven Jones, who played at CJC from 1983 until 1985, is the top player for the Fort Sill team. He won All-Conference honors for the Wranglers in 1984 and 1985 before going on to star at the University of Florida. He also played one year in the professional USBL before joining the service.

WHAT SHOULD THE DECEASED WEAR?

Clothing helps to express the unique characteristics or an individual. Even in death, clothing can convey the special personality of the deceased. In the planning of funeral details, the matter of clothing for the deceased should not be overlooked.

Has there been a request in the past from the deceased concerning his or her own feelings? Sometimes a uniform of office or volunteer leadership has been requested, because of the significance to the deceased. Medals and jewelry may be considered to complete the uniform or dress.

Is clothing worn by the deceased during lifetime appropriate? By all means. A suit or dress which was a paricular favorite of the deceased -- or the survivor -- may be the prime consideration. We invite your thoughts and will answer them privatey or publicly through this column.
