

CJC Bible Chair To Offer Free Course On "Prison Epistles" Beginning Jan. 9

Apostle Paul - and anyone in the vicinity of Cisco is welcome."

Instructor for the course will be Dr. Jim Mankin, a Bible professor from Abilene Christian University and a well-known television speaker. Mankin is currently serving as director of the Center for Christian Leadership in the College of Biblical Studies at ACU.

Dr. Mankin came to ACU in January, 1987, from Nashville, Tenn., where he served as minister of the Madison Church of Christ, the largest congregation among churches of Christ in the world. His responsibilities with the Center for Christian Leadership include the planning and administration of programs devoted to developing Christian leadership. In addition to those duties, Mankin teaches courses in Bible, religious education, and church growth at ACU.

The Biblical Studies Center at Cisco Junior College will offer a ten-week, non-credit evening Bible course on "The Prison Epistles" beginning on Monday evening, January 9, according to an announcement by a CJC Bible Chair spokesman.

The class will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. each Monday, and will be open to anyone wishing to participate, at no charge. The sessions will be informal, and there will be no tests, special requirements, or assignments, it was pointed out. Dr. Ken Hammes, chairman of the Bible Chair Committee for the Cisco Church of Christ, stated, "The lessons will be helpful to any person wishing to gain a deeper knowledge of the scriptures - particularly the "Prison Epistles" written by the children - Alice, Jeff, and Ben.

In announcing the special class, Dr. Hammes said, "We are extremely pleased to have Dr. Jim Mankin coming to conduct this course for the Cisco Junior College Studies Center. He is widely known as a very knowledgeable and interesting Bible teacher, and we are certain that all those taking the class will profit greatly in gaining a deeper understanding of the subject matter under consideration. He continued, "These free night classes held at the CJC Bible Chair each semester provide a unique opportunity for persons in our area to study under college professors but at no cost whatsoever. Similar courses at Abilene Christian, Hardin-Simmons, Howard Payne, or McMurry would cost several hundred dollars in tuition."

The CJC Bible Chair is under the direction of the elders of the Cisco Church of Christ, and is supported by other Churches of Christ in the Big Country area. It is maintained for the spiritual benefit of students of Cisco Junior College and all of the people of the Cisco area.

Dr. Hammes, who is chairman of the Bible Chair Committee, is head of the Language Arts Department at CJC. More information about the Bible course or Bible Chair activities may be obtained by contacting him at CJC, 442-2567, or at his home, 442-3299.

Canterbury Villa Residents Are Busy In December

By MAE GREEN

The month of December was a busy month. For some it was filled with Joy and Laughter, others it brought sadness and tears but through it all we have the assurance that God still cares.

The residents were inspired and encouraged by Bible Study each Sunday morning by the Church of Christ. Afternoon church services were held as follows: John Clinton, Evangelical Methodist; Ronnie Shackelford, Calvary Baptist Church; Ken Diehm, United Methodist; and Allen Gray, First Christian.

The monthly birthday party was hosted by members of the Pleasant Hill Club at which time everyone was served refreshments. Birthday honorees were Ida Schaefer, Eva Dell Moore, Christine Brown and Velma Holdridge.

Along with daily activities many groups of Carolers came and sang Christmas Carols for the residents.

The residents Christmas Party was a very special one. All residents were treated to an assortment of goodies. Thanks to Ann Goodman for setting such a decorative table for the party. Dorothy Thomas, Vena Hart, Ann Larkin and Marg King served as hostesses. Thanks to the family members for your cooperation in helping to make that day so special.

After everyone had been served we journeyed to the back lobby for the exchanging of gifts. Santa was present to hand out the gifts.

A special thanks to the clubs, groups, churches and individuals for your cards, flowers and gifts for the residents. We hope all of you had a Merry Christmas, and wish you a prosperous New Year.

Bible verse of the month: He setteth an end to darkness and searcheth out all perfection... Job 28:3.

To help you fulfill your New Year's vow to lose weight, the magazines will be filled with diet plans and the commercial weight loss program will advertise heavily in January.

The question is, how to choose. You may not need a "special diet" at all, according to Dr.

Although a post-holiday fad diet may help in the short run, research indicates that 95 percent of the people who go on them regain the weight within a year, said the specialist.

Cholesterol Is An Important Test

The National Cholesterol Education Program recommends that cholesterol tests become a routine part of all physical examinations, and all adults should know their cholesterol count.

If the results show a cholesterol level of under 200 mg/dl; the person is probably a low-risk group. He or she should be retested at each complete physical and certainly every five years.

Over 200 mg/dl: a second blood test should be done to confirm the findings of the first one.

Over 230 but less than 240 on the second test: the person should be advised to go on a low-fat cholesterol-lowering diet.

Over 240 on the second test: the testing laboratory will be asked to provide a breakdown of HDL's, LDL's and other blood lipids. People with existing heart disease or major risk factors such as high blood pressure, diabetes, obesity and cigarette smoking should have HDL and LDL level tested regardless of the total cholesterol count.

Depending on results, a strict diet and lifestyle changes may be prescribed. If not totally successful, drugs may be necessary along with the diet.

Texas Community Junior Colleges Ready For Mandated Skills Testing, Remediation Courses

Three-quarters of all Texas college students receiving remedial or compensatory instruction are attending Texas' 49 public community and junior colleges, according to the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.

"The numbers indicate that Texas' public community and junior colleges have been successfully fulfilling their mission of providing developmental instruction to our constituents, and are the segment of higher education most able to implement the Texas Academic Skills Program (TASP) which begins at all public Texas colleges next fall," said Dr. Tom S. Sewell, chancellor of the 17,000-student San Jacinto College District in Pasadena and member of the Texas Public Community and Junior College Association's executive committee.

Mandated by the Texas Legislature, TASP is a statewide college program designed to improve the quality of Texas college graduates by identifying deficiencies through special, developmental college courses.

All students entering Texas colleges will be required to pass TASP tests in reading, writing and math skill areas before advancing beyond 60 semester credit hours of college work.

While all colleges in Texas are now working to implement the TASP test and follow up with compensatory courses for students needing remedial help, Texas public community and junior colleges have been testing students for skill deficiencies and offering compensatory instruction since the early 1960s.

In fall 1987, the most recent available figures, 52,111 students at Texas public community and junior colleges were enrolled in remedial courses, compared with 17,664 students enrolled at Texas public senior colleges.

Texas public community and junior colleges taught 75 percent of all students enrolled in remedial courses at Texas public colleges, while enrollments totaling 117,354 for the entire 1987-88 academic year.

On average, 16 percent of Texas public community and junior college enrollments chose to take remedial courses last year.

The Texas Higher

Education Coordinating Board estimates that 40 percent of the state's entering freshmen will need remedial coursework in some basic academic area when mandated testing and remediation begins next fall. If true and if enrollment trends continue, Texas public community and junior colleges could expect 154,137 students in remedial courses next fall.

The anticipated growth has educators concerned, though optimistic.

"Certainly local community colleges will need help from the Texas Legislature if students in these large numbers are to be served," Sewell said. "But no segment of higher education is as ready to successfully tackle this challenge as are community colleges, which now enroll 64 percent of all Texas college freshmen and sophomores and 73 percent of all first-time Texas college students. We have been testing students voluntarily and offering remedial courses for many years."

A poll of several public community and junior colleges showed that on average Texas public community and junior colleges spent approximately $145 per student in each remedial course. Last year, officials estimate, local colleges spent approximately $17 million on remedial courses.

Next year, if Coordinating Board remedial enrollment estimates prove accurate, the cost could grow to $22.3 million.

Even though additional legislative funding of community colleges will be needed to successfully implement TASP, Sewell believes standardized testing and follow-up remediation is still a great investment for Texas.

"Assessment testing and remediation ensure that Texas will have a well-educated, productive work force for years to come," he said. "TASP gives people more reason than ever to succeed - people who would perhaps never reach their lifelong dreams without first confronting their learning deficiencies and overcoming them."

In that context, TASP may be just the medicine the doctor ordered to help build a stronger, more vibrant Texas for all its citizens.

Retirement doesn't slow down Cisco's 'Stonewall' Jackson

(Editor's Note: The following article was printed in the Abilene Reporter News on Thursday, December 29, 1988.)

Big Country Journal
Larry Zelisko

Larry Zelisko/Reporter-News

CISCO — E.L. "Stonewall" Jackson finds it hard to believe it's been a quarter of a century since he retired from West Texas Utilities.

Jackson, 90, says the reason the 25 years have gone by quickly is that he's kept busy.

"You want to do something for your town," Jackson says. "If you look for it, you can find something to do."

Jackson found plenty to do when he came to Cisco in 1937 to be distribution engineer for WTU.

For example, he and his wife Elsie joined the First Baptist Church, of which they are still active members 51 years later.

Also, he transferred his membership to the Cisco Lions Club. He became a Lion 65 years ago as a charter member of the Mena, Ark., club. He still goes back to Mena once a year for the club's anniversary.

Jackson was at his busiest when he came to Cisco in 1937 to be distribution engineer for WTU. The U.S. Navy veteran also ran the skating rink at the Cisco dam when it was owned by the American Legion.

Retiring in 1963 and traveling didn't slow Jackson's civic work.

In fact, four months after he retired, he was honored as the town's Outstanding Retired Citizen at the 1964 Chamber of Commerce banquet at the Victor Hotel, according to Abilene Reporter-News files. In 1976, the chamber honored him with the Community Service Award.

Jackson attributes his successful business career to having friends who would let him know of good job opportunities and put in a few good words for him.

He got his first job in an electric plant after he graduated from high school in Batesville, Ark.

He went on to work at electric plants, or light plants as they were called then, in Gurdon, Ark., Fort Smith, Ark., Vian, Okla., and Mena before joining West Texas

Utilities in 1923 and being assigned as manager for Albany and Moran.

It was in Albany that Jackson earned his nickname, Stonewall. During a softball game there, he slid into second base. He was safe, but was called out, he says.

When he refused to leave the field, he says, someone said something to the effect of "There stands Jackson like a stone wall."

"I was just thinking of turning 90 and I'm deeply thankful that the Lord let me live 90 years. You take 90 years in a nation's history and a lot of things happen during that time."

And, as Jackson has proved, a person can do a lot of things in that time, too.

Is it reliable?; how is the effectiveness of the diet documented? Be wary of testimonials by "successful" clients, ask for figures on long term maintenance as well, are sensational claims made for the diet; is the program supervised by qualified personnel, such as a physician or a registered dietitian?; along with calorie reduction, does the diet include instruction in behaviour and lifestyle modification? What is the cost of the diet? If you have to buy special foods, devices, supplements or books will it be worth it?

Steps To Better Diabetes Control

Walking is not only the fastest-growing solitary sport in the United States, it is also an important way for eleven million Americans with diabetes to help control this chronic disease.

Controlling diabetes often requires a carefully balanced regimen of exercise, diet and medication. Since strenuous exercise such as running is not recommended for diabetes patients, walking serves as an ideal form of physical activity.

Walking promotes better control of blood sugar, improves function of the heart and lungs, helps reduce body fat, lowers blood pressure and has a beneficial effect on cholesterol levels.

Most people, regardless of their fitness level, can start a walking program. Walking is gentler to the muscles and joints than running and jogging and is one of the least injury-prone aerobic exercises. Any exercise program, however, should be approached with some thought and planning, especially when you have diabetes. Here are some recommendations to consider before undertaking a fitness walking program.

• Get your doctor's approval.

• Walk on the most absorbent surface you can find: sand, grass, dirt, or running track.

• Wear proper-fitting, soft-soled walking shoes.

• Wear clothing that absorbs perspiration and allows air to flow through: cotton clothing during the summer and layers of cotton and wool during the winter.

• Drink fluids (preferably water) before and after walking to avoid dehydration.

Each person's diabetes regimen and response to exercise may differ. You should determine—in collaboration with your doctor—what adjustments to make in your diabetes management to ensure trouble free, enjoyable exercise.

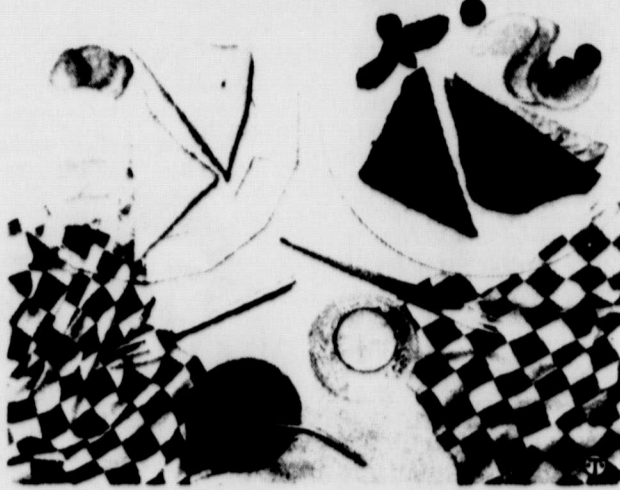

Roerig, a division of Pfizer Pharmaceuticals, is sponsoring a nationwide program to encourage physicians to recommend walking as a safe and effective exercise for their patients with diabetes. Physicians involved in the program are provided with Fit-Walk<sup>SM</sup> Kits for their patients which include a hip pack containing a tip sheet about walking, a journal to record walking exercise progress, patient information on walking and its effects on diabetes, and an issue of Walking magazine with a coupon for a subscription discount. Contact your physician to see if they are involved in the Fit-Walk program.

A regular exercise program and proper diet go hand-in-hand in diabetes control. Research shows that by eating food high in complex carbohydrates and fiber, and low in fat and cholesterol, people with diabetes can keep their blood sugar, cholesterol, and body weight at reasonable levels. Former New York Met Ed Kranepool is making available, through Roerig, a booklet containing some of his favorite recipes that have helped him in the management of his diabetes. The recipes are easy to prepare and offer a nutritious alternative to high-sugar, high-cholesterol foods. To receive the free recipe booklet, write to: Roerig Diabetes Control Center, 301 East 57th Street, New York, NY 10022.

TLC Tuna Sandwich Lighter By Half

There's nothing fishy about this statistic: Americans consume the equivalent of 3.7 billion tuna sandwiches each year, but at 499 calories per serving the traditional mayonnaise-laden luncheon favorite presents some challenges to anyone trying to keep both weight and fat intake in control.

Yet while fat and calories are high, the 2 1/2 ounces of canned white meat tuna in an average sandwich contains a healthy serving of omega-3 fatty acids, an element that nutritionists now believe is protective against heart disease.

Currently researchers point to studies showing the protective action to the cardiovascular system of eating just an ounce of fish a day, or only three tuna sandwiches a week. In fact, tuna, canned or fresh, is one of the best sources of omega-3, and tuna is enjoyed even by people who aren't fond of most fish.

This TLC (tasty, low calorie) tuna sandwich lightens up the traditional recipe. And by using reduced mayonnaise, yogurt and less pickle relish with the same portion of tuna, you don't stint on flavor or amount of filling. Your bonus in this lightened version:

about half the calories of the traditional tuna sandwich. Fat has been reduced by two-thirds.

Beware Of Tranquilizer Addiction

Surprisingly, drug-taking is commonplace among the elderly and addiction may be a hidden epidemic.

Americans over the age of 60 use almost 40 percent of all prescription drugs, although they make up only 16 percent of the population. Many of the drugs they take are addictive. Among these are benzodiazepine tranquilizers such as Xanax®, Valium®, Librium® and Tranxene®. According to a recent Lou Harris survey, nearly 30 percent of people 65 and older are currently taking these drugs.

"Tranquilizer use by the elderly can result in artificial senility, loss of physical coordination, breathing disorders and physical dependency," says Norman Sussman, M.D., associate professor of psychiatry at New York University School of Medicine.

Benzodiazepine tranquilizers have been associated with an increase in the risk of falling and hip fracture in the elderly according to a 1987 study published in the New England Journal of Medicine. The study also found that the highest risk of hip fracture occurred among patients receiving high doses of tranquilizers with long "half-lives," such as Valium and Librium, which remain in the body for extended periods of time. Both take longer than 24 hours to be completely eliminated from the system.

Long half-life drugs are most dangerous to the elderly because as people age, their metabolism slows down. Medications linger in the system when they should be excreted, says Donald Jasinski, M.D., chief of the Center for Chemical Dependence at Francis Tranquilizer use is highest among Americans aged 65 years and older.

Scott Key Medical Center, Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. "This build-up can lead to an overdose situation that might never be detected until people suffer withdrawal symptoms after they stop taking the drugs," he says.

According to Donald Gallant, M.D., professor of psychiatry and adjunct professor of pharmacology at Tulane University School of Medicine in New Orleans, the half-life of Valium in the elderly may be two to three times that of a young adult. He says the tranquilizers' prolonged sedative effects often appear to be dementia or senility, and can result in a misdiagnosis.

A recent study of older adults who exhibited significant intellectual impairment (senility) revealed that benzodiazepines were responsible for nearly 50 percent of drug-induced or drug-worsened dementia. According to the book Worst Pills, Best Pills, The Older Adult's Guide to Avoiding

Drug-Induced Death or Illness, approximately 75,000 elderly people suffer from diminished mental functioning as a result of sleeping pills or minor tranquilizers.

Tranquilizers are not always necessary to treat anxiety, but if elderly people do have to use them, Sussman suggests they take several precautions. He says they should inform all doctors they are seeing of the medications they are taking. This will prevent physicians from prescribing a drug that is incompatible with the one a patient has already been prescribed.

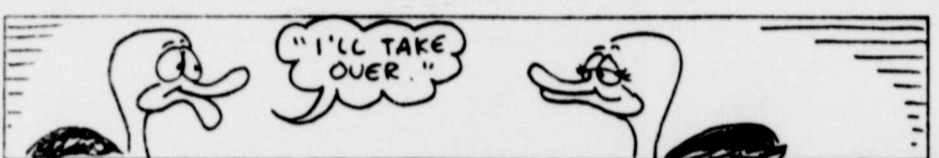

Sussman also says elderly people should make sure they are taking the correct dosage of their prescriptions and should devise some system to alert people of what drugs have been prescribed for them. That way, in the case of emergency hospitalization, the tranquilizer user will avoid suffering from an unintended withdrawal or a dangerous combination with another drug.

HEY CLOWN!

Don't fool around! (WITH CRACK!)

If you're thinking that crack is something to try, then you're really not thinking at all. It's an inexpensive form of cocaine that's unpredictable, highly addictive and very deadly. In fact, you could die from just one time's use, and if you do live through the experience, you'll more than likely be addicted. That's the nature of it. Make the mistake of trying crack just once, and you'd be making the mistake of your life. Maybe it's time to realize that drugs are not what they're cracked up to be. Only a clown would fall for crack.

"This meeting will clear up any doubts or questions you may have concerning drug use."

USDA Announces 1989 Peanut Pounding Quota

WASHINGTON—The U.S. Department of Agriculture today announced the national peanout poundage quota of 1,440,000 short tons (2,880 million pounds) for the 1989 peanout marketing year. This quota is 37,800 short tons above the quota that was established for the 1988 crop.

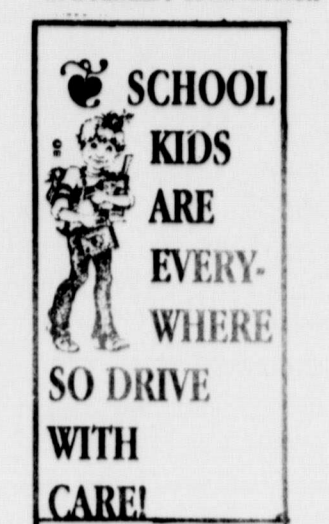

As required by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, the national peanout quota for the 1989 crop of peanuts has been set at a level that is equal to the estimated quantity of peanuts that will be devoted to domestic edible, seed and related use in the 1989 marketing year which begins Aug. 1, 1989.

The 1989 crop national peanout quota will be allocated to each state based on the state's share of the 1988 crop national peanout quota.

Increases in a state's peanout poundage quota will be allocated among qualifying farms in accordance with prescribed producers.

Lowfat Choices From The Menu

People trying to eat a low-fat diet often run into trouble when eating at fast food restaurants. But these restaurants, all 55,000 of them, are here to stay, says Martha Alice Spraberry, Jones County Extension Agent.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that half of the money spent on restaurant food goes for fast food, about $200 a year per person. This amounts to around $50 billion a year for the nation. Put another way, over 45 million people, a fifth of our population, patronize a fast food restaurant on a typical day.

Studies also show that the number of fast food eaters will increase as more women join the work force giving them more money to eat out. They also take along other major consumers of fast food: their children.

Yet according to some experts, children may be susceptible to hardening of the arteries beginning at two years of age and shouldn't make a steady diet of typical fast foods.

What can we do to protect ourselves from excessive amounts of fat and still enjoy the convenience, variety, speed and flavor of fast foods? Here are some suggestions, says Mrs. Spraberry.

*If ordering pizza, avoid processed meats which usually have a high fat content. Instead, choose mushrooms, peppers and onions, and skip the extra cheese.

*When the menu is limited, choose small portions, such as a single hamburger and a small cone. Avoid that smacks of bigness, such as "super" and "extra".

*Breakfast can be a problem. The elegant but deceptively fattening croissants are making rapid inroads. They have almost twice the calories and about five times the fat as two slices of whole wheat bread. Instead, order a plain English muffin and fruit juice.

*If baked potatoes are on the menu, choose them instead of french fries but leave off the sour cream, butter, cheese and other high-fat toppings.

*Fill up at salad bars, but skip the bacon bits, potato salad, and creamy dressings. Concentrate on vegetables and watch the amount of dressing you use. Look for low calories dressings, or if not available, choose vinegar and oil, using very little oil.

*If you must order deep-fried foods, take off the breading or other coatings, difficult though that may seem at first.

Savings Bonds Sales In Texas Exceed $305 Million In 1988

Sales of United States Savings Bonds in Texas amounted to $21,871,073 during September 1988 for a total of $305,278,022 for fiscal year 1988. This October 1987-September 1988 figure represents 87.2% of the assigned goal of $350 million. T.J. Morrow, District Director for the U.S. Savings Bonds Division in Texas, announced today.

Sales of Series EE Bonds amounted to $173,294.00 during the October 1987-September 1988 period in Eastland County, Jim Wright, Volunteer County Chairman, said.

Nationally, total sales for fiscal 1988 amounted to $7,264 million. The amount outstanding in U.S. Savings Bonds as of September 30, 1988 reached $107.78 billion, a gain of 9% over fiscal 1987.

All Series EE Bonds purchased on or after November 1, 1982 - and held at least five years, will earn 85 percent of the average market yield on Treasury marketable securities. The average yield for Bonds held since the beginning of the market-based interest rate on November 1, 1982 is 8.50 percent; the six-month rate for the period November 1, 1988 - April 30, 1989 is 7.35%. Outstanding Series E/EE Bonds and Savings Notes held for at least five years after November 1, 1982 are also earning this market-based rate. Bonds held less than five years earn interest on a fixed, graduated scale.

Consumers can obtain current rate information 24 hours a day by calling 1-800-US-BONDS, toll-free.

Charlie Jordan will be the guest speaker at the Eastland Chamber of Commerce Golden Deeds Banquet on Jan. 19. The annual event will be held in Siebert Elementary Cafeteria at 7 p.m. on that date, and the meal will be catered by Oscar's Barbecue. The Eastland County Art Association will meet Thursday, Jan. 5, 7 p.m. at the TU Reddy Room. Sherry Phillips will be the demonstrator. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Plans are going forward to the Museum in Eastland. This will be located on South Seaman St. just north of the Fire Station. But the Museum needs a name - an original title that would attract attention. The newspaper will gladly accept and forward suggestions to the County Historical Society. So start thinking - and help name the new attraction. If you want to volunteer in any part of the project, contact Chairman Roy Lee Smith.

During the month of January the Extension Homemaker's Clubs will have the program "Lifestyle Changes for Better Health and Weight Control." The program will be presented on Jan. 9 at the Kokomo Club, on Jan. 10 at Olden, Jan. 11 at Morton Valley, and Jan. 12 at Pleasant Hill. Janet Thomas will bring the Program to each of the Clubs. The same program is available upon request to other Clubs. Mrs. Thomas may be contacted at 629-2222.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Sheep and Goat Committees from Brown, Mills and San Saba counties are sponsoring a Predator Management Training Program at 9 a.m. on Thursday, Jan. 5 at the TU Electric meeting room in Brownwood. Individuals wanting Livestock Protection Collar Certification must attend the entire session, which will take approx. 6 hours. The Texas Extension Service is assisting the TDA in training sessions.

CISCO

Steve Zachar of Abilene will speak to a local Songwriter's Club on Jan. 5 at 7 p.m. in the Music Room of Cisco Elementary School, 1100 Ave. H. in Cisco. An appeal for blood to replace 32 units used during the heart surgery of Halita (Parker) Wells of Jacksboro has been made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Parker of Cisco. Mrs. Wells' surgery was performed in Houston last week by Dr. Denton Cooley and his staff. Anyone who can donate blood is requested to report to the Abilene Blood Bank and let the Bank know that the blood is for Halita Wells at the St. Luke Episcopal Hospital, 6720 Bertner, Houston, Texas, 77030.

The Cisco Child Care

Center wishes to thank all who have contributed so much to the Center during the last quarter of 1988. The contributions came from Churches, Clubs, individuals and civic organizations. The Child Care Center provides excellent day care for children at a reasonable price. It has operated as a community-supported project for a number of years.

Jody Nix, a nephew of Mary Bott of Ranger, will be playing in the Inaugural Ball in Washington, D.C., in Inauguration Day, Friday, Jan. 20. Nix will lead out with the Texas Cowboys from Big Spring, Texas, a western band. It appears that incoming President Bush must like West Texas music. Bush lived for a number of years in Midland.

A report from the Ranger Fire Department shows that the Firemen were called out a number of times on grassfires during December. Fortunately, most of these were not large blazes. One of these grassfires was six miles south of Eastland on Christmas Day. Major automobile accidents accounted for some of the other calls.

RISING STAR

The Saturday Club will meet Wednesday, Jan. 18 at the City Library, which is operated by the Club. Ruth Spence will read stories from a book called "The Nice and Nasty of Brown County."

Mid-Winter Policy Meet Set In Austin Jan. 16-17

Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association policy committee members will meet in Austin Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 16-17 at the Radisson Plaza Hotel for the Association's Mid-Winter Policy Meeting. All TIPRO members are invited to attend, particularly those who wish to serve on a committee (Please call TIPRO headquarters if you have questions about committee membership).

Registration for the meeting will begin at 1 p.m. Monday, Jan. 16, on the mezzanine of the Radisson Plaza Hotel. The first policy committee event is the Biannual Legislative Reception 6:30 - 8 p.m. in Ballroom B. New members and leaders of the Texas Legislature and other elected officials will visit with TIPRO members in this relaxed setting.

Registration for the meeting continues on the mezzanine at 8 a.m. Tuesday. A continental breakfast will be served from 7:30 - 8:30 a.m. The Membership Committee, chaired by Thomas D. Coffman, will meet from 9-10 a.m. in the Senate Room. The State Petroleum Issues and Legislative committees—chaired by Stacey Smyre and Rex H. White Jr., respectively—will meet together from 10 a.m. - noon.

A luncheon from 12:15 - 1:45 p.m. will feature Dr. William L. Fisher, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology, as speaker. Fisher authored a recent Department of Energy study that shows the nation to have an abundance of natural gas that is recoverable at a reasonable cost.

The National Energy Policy and Legislative committees—chaired by Marvin C. Zeid and White, respectively—will meet from 2 - 4 p.m. President John E. Watson will chair the Executive Committee, which will meet from 4 - 4:45 p.m.

Crude Oil Marketing Problems

Crude oil marketing problems will be a major item of discussion during this Mid-Winter Policy Meeting in Austin.

Foreign Ownership of Domestic Facilities

The TIPRO office has been receiving a growing number of inquiries from members concerned about the trend toward foreign ownership of domestic refining and retailing operations and the motivation involved. Transactions that have sparks particular interest include certain purchases by Venezuela from Champlin Refining, Ciggo, and Unocal, and the Saudi/Texaco deal.

In the opinion of some

members, Venezuelan operation of a Champlin refinery in Corpus Christi could mean that some 9,000 bpd of domestic crude will be backed out by imports. In addition to the potential loss of buyers for domestic crude, transactions such as this raise questions about the relative price between foreign and domestic crudes and the pricing strategies of foreign governments. If, for example, the Saudi's end up owning 50 percent of Texaco's operations, many wonder if this will add to that Mideast nation's apparent motivation to keep crude prices depressed. Until now, a primary Saudi interest has been to control Iranian behavior at the bargaining table; soon the motivation may be to improve profits from newly acquired refining and marketing business.

Oilfield Trucking Rates

The Oil Field Haulers Association is in the process of "simplifying" the Railroad Commission prescribed rates contained in their current Tariff 6. Although such rates generally are already higher than comparable interstate rates, the current proposal would increase typical flatbed transportation prices by about 10 percent. TIPRO may become involved in this issue.

The Relation Between Postings and Futures Prices

The TIPRO staff has initiated a study of the relationship between futures prices and key posted prices for Texas crude. The study will document the answers to questions such as: Is it true that postings follow futures prices faster on the downside than on the upside? How much is the lag, if any, costing domestic producers?

Hopefully these issues can be clarified and some answers found during this meeting.

Dale Stewarts Attend Art Reception In Kerrville Dec. 2

Dale and Ruth Stewart attended the artists' reception at the Cowboy Artists of America Museum in Kerrville on December 2. Dale was one of the 20 students selected to show his work in the annual "Participants Showcase."

Dale feels that it has been a privilege to have studied sculpture with CAA Artists such as Herb Mignery, Grant Speed, Mel Lawson, Jack Swanson and others.

Dale has attended several workshops sponsored by the CAA Museum at the Lions' Camp in Kerrville. This past summer (1988) he was chosen to participate in the Big Sky Workshop in West Yellowstone, Montana. Dale says that each workshop has helped to improve his skills.

The artwork in the "Participants' Showcase" will be on exhibit through January 8, 1989, at the Cowboy Artists of America Museum in Kerrville.

(Note: Dale Stewart's western bronze sculpture "Ninety Days - Ninety Dollars," cast by Hoka Hey Art Foundry, is on exhibit.)

DALE STEWART and Wade Cowan, owner of Hoka Hey Foundry, enjoy the CAA reception.

DALE STEWART signs the guitar of country western singer Rusty Cox at the CAA reception.

Youth From Nine Countries To Be On Program Wednesday In Cisco

We often hear of churches in the United States sending missionaries to foreign countries, but foreign countries sending missionaries to this country is something else.

However, a group of Missionaries to America will be visiting our area this week, and it will be a rare opportunity for local people to see a program conducted by Christian young people from nine foreign countries and to learn about what is happening in their countries.

Australia, Poland, Egypt, Iceland, South Africa, Colombia, Zimbabwe, the Philippines and Mexico are represented by the young people, who are touring the United States for one year.

A program, with these young people wearing their national dress and singing some songs, will be presented this Wednesday evening, January 4, at the Calvary Baptist Church, 1801 Conrad Hilton Ave., in Cisco. And the public is invited.

The Missionaries to America are touring the country to show people here the success which Team Missions International, a non-denominational Christian organization which uses volunteers from many different churches and denominations, has had in training people in foreign countries to be missionaries for Jesus Christ. These overseas projects depend on American volunteers and donations. And at least one of their full-time missionaries is from Cisco.

These Missionaries to America will be staying in homes of members of the Calvary Church while they are here.

By Robert Steed

Goals and Objectives Article!
Before we invest, we should determine what we want our investments to do for us.

When we invest, we're using money in the hope of making more money. I seldom receive any argument over this. However, they money we use for investing should be extra money — money that represents surplus savings or income not needed for essentials.

We might choose to invest these funds in mortgages, real estate, life insurance or securities (stocks and bonds). They're all basically different, and no one fits the needs of every person.

Since we're discussing mainly securities, let's focus on some of the reasons why we might want to invest in stocks or bonds. Many people prefer them because they can readily be bought and sold. They represent variety and flexibility of interests, as well as absentee ownership or creditorship. Securities are obtainable at varying prices, from very low to very high, and small sums of money can be invested at convenient intervals. With the help of a good broker, securities can be selected, sometimes with excellent results, by persons having limited investment backgrounds.

When investing in a security, you can profit from it in two major ways. First, you may receive dividends or interest payments, which, in theory, are paid to compensate you for the use of your money and any risk you assume. Since the market value of securities fluctuates, you also may profit by buying or selling them.

making more money to gain income, increase capital or both. Safety of principal is an important consideration.

Putnam Musical To Be Held Friday Night

The monthly Putnam Musical will be held at the schoolhouse on Friday, Jan. 6. The Concession stand will open at 5 p.m. and the music will start at 6 p.m. Food served will include sandwiches, homemade soup, chili and desserts.

Robert D. Weeks of Eastland is in charge of the music, and he says a good program is line up. Musicians from Abilene, Coleman, Brownwood, and Callahan and Eastland Counties play for the Putnam Musical.

The public is invited to the Musical, and there will be no charge for the program. Area musicians always have a special invitation.

Steve Zachar To Speak Thursday

A new group serving songwriters of the Big Country will hold its second meeting, Thursday, January 5, at 7 p.m. at the music room of the Cisco Elementary School, 1100 Avenue H in Cisco.

Featured speaker will be Steve Zachar of Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene. Singer, keyboardist, and published songwriter, Zachar will present information from his own experiences in the music industry.

Zachar has written songs for several years. A member of the Nashville Songwriters Association International, he has lately come to the attention of such country artists as Jeff Cook of Alabama and Stephen Pride, Jr., with whom he cut a Zachar song this summer in Nashville. Another Zachar composition was adopted by the West Texas Rehabilitation Center as its theme song.

After Zachar's presentation, club members will have an opportunity to present their own compositions, time permitting. A piano will be available. Guests are welcome.

The organization, one of a handful of such groups in Texas, is designed to encourage proficiency and professionalism in songwriters of all musical persuasions and ambitions. Accomplished and aspiring lyricists and composers, as well as performers, are enthusiastically welcomed.

For more information, call 442-3530.

Wanda's Corner

by Wanda Hallmark

Dale and Ruth Stewart enjoyed the "Holiday in the Park" at Six Flags. They say the music, lights, and programs were wonderful. Some rides were operating and a snowhill for kids to slide down was available. A horse-drawn carriage ride and roasted chestnuts were special delights.

The Stewarts wanted to stay to see the laser light program and the light parade at 10 p.m., but the chill factor became too great for light jackets. They plan to be better prepared for it next year. The Stewarts highly recommend the "Holiday in the Park" for family entertainment.

While I was shopping at Thrift Mart last week, Fran Clark, of Cisco, pointed to the price on a package of Fleischman's margarine and said it is cheaper in Cisco than what it is in Abilene.

Fran and her husband Ed, manage a Mott's store in Abilene. They are former managers of the Cisco Mott's. She said on several items, prices are cheaper in Cisco than they are in other cities, so people need to be aware of the higher prices.

Dorcas Sitton brought in some of her beautiful poinsettias to The Press. Be sure and stop by and look at them through the front window.

She brings in her plants during the winter months, and we really enjoy having them here. She also takes care of the plants, so we can enjoy the beauty without the work.

Sam Chisholm, of Cisco, stopped by The Press to get a copy made of a "Letter of Dismissal" from the Bumpass Hill Baptist Church in Avoca. It was for Bro. S.R. Chisholm, (who is Sam's father) and was dated September 14, 1930.

The letter said, Bro. Chisholm is a member of this church in good and regular standing and is at his own request hereby dismissed from us to unite with you. When he shall have so united, of which you will please inform us, his connection with us will cease. May the blessing of God rest on him and on you.

It was also hand written on the side of the letter that Bro. Chisholm has been active as a deacon.

It was signed by R.M. McLeod, who was the church clerk.

E.L. Jackson Still Enjoys Good Health At 90 Years Of Age

(Editor's Note: The following column appeared in the December 22, 1988, edition of "The Big Bend Sentinel," Marfa, Texas. It was written by Pat Ryan, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Jackson of Cisco. The column was entitled "Out & About.")

It is reprinted as follows: "It is rare for anyone to reach his 90th birthday, especially so still having good health, and it is even more rare to celebrate such an event with his wife of 66 years, all of his children and all of his grandchildren, and with even a few great-grandchildren and special family guests.

"E.L. Jackson of Cisco, was able to be one of surely only a few such favored men on Dec. 9, when his family and guests gathered at the home of his son, Ed, in Garland.

"Following the dinner, the guests of honor showed slides of the family that he had taken, going back over 30 years, much to the delight of all. He then reminisced about his life and the changes he had witnessed during his lifetime. "I really believe that Elsie and I have lived through the best years of our country," he concluded.

"Jackson was born in Illinois, the middle child of five children in the family. When he was a small child, the family moved to Batesville, Ark., where he later graduated from high school. He then attended Arkansas College before moving to Gurden, Ark., to begin his career with a utilities company. In 1922, he married his high school sweetheart, Elsie Payne, who was then teaching school in Oklahoma, and they moved to Mena, Ark.

"In 1924, they moved with their baby daughter, Eugenia, to Albany, Texas, where he was the local manager of West Texas Utilities Company. The other three children, Dorothy, Edwin, and Robert were born there before the family moved to Cisco in 1937. He continued with WTU, except for the years he was in the U.S. Navy during World War II, until his retirement in 1964.

"Jackson has devoted much of his time to civic activities, before and after retirement. He was a charter member of the Lions Club in Mena, and he is still an active member of the Lions Club. He has been active in veterans' affairs, and he served as State Commander of the American Legion in 1954. He and his wife are longtime members of the First Baptist Church in Cisco.

"Both daughters graduated from North Texas State University in Denton, and both have taught school. Eugenia is now retired and Dorothy is school librarian in Marfa. Ed graduated from the University of Oklahoma as an electrical engineer. He is now retired but he devotes his time as an administrator of the mission program of the Southern Baptist Convention. Robert graduated from Howard Payne University and, after teaching and coaching in Midland, he is now a stock broker in Fort Worth.

"Those attending were Eugenia Arrington of Phippen, Ark.; her son Richard and his wife Debbie of Little Rock, Ark.; her other son, Robert, also of Little Rock; Dorothy and Pat Ryan of Marfa; their sons Patrick and Michael of Alpine, and Kevin, his two children, Eric and Christine, of Lubbock; their daughters, Martha Elms of Marfa, Kathleen Ryan and Allison Scott of New Orleans; Ed and Re Jackson of Garland; their daughter, Elisabeth Frame and her daughter Emilee of San Antonio; their other daughter Elaine Jackson of Garland; and their son, Gene Jackson of Garland; Robert and Sharon Jackson of Fort Worth and their daughters, Becky, Melody, and Anna, all of Fort Worth.

Also attending were Carol Boellner of Little Rock; Janet Patterson of Tyler,

Texas; Russ Tate of Fort Worth; and Lena Hornsten of Stockholm, Sweden."

PRE-PLANNING AND CHOOSING YOUR CEMETERY LOT

We plan our futures with such care. Yet our futures must include a final resting place -- and that frequently receives little or no planning. Sparing the bereaved this emotional detail and the anxieties with which it is associated, this is a wise thing you can do ahead of time. Presented here, then, are several questions often asked about the early selection of a cemetery lot. You might well ask them of yourself.

- Which cemetery and location of plot?
- How many spaces and what's the cost?
- If we move away from here, will the cemetery buy the lots back?
- Can I sell my lots to someone else?
- Is the cemetery properly funded for Perpetual Care?

Some of these questions can't be answered without some action on your part. You should investigate and discuss them with representatives of cemeteries under consideration.

If you have specific questions, feel free to call on us. We'll try to help you find the answers.
