Rumors are heard that Chief Brown, local chiropractor, is retiring, but it's not true. He is still working at 800 West 6th.

Chief and his wife Marge, travelled to Vernon recently to visit his uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Brown. Howard is a retired chiropractor, who grew up in Cisco. He used to be called "Big Chief." He was one of the "Big Dam Lobos" and graduated from Cisco High school.

The First United Methodist Church, the First Presbyterian Church and the First Christian Church will hold joint summer services on Sunday nights.

Ken Diehm, of the FUMC, and Allan Gray of the FCC will be rotating on speaking nights. Everyone is invited to attend these services to be held at the First Christian Church, 303 West 8th.

Little League All-Star games will be held in Cisco this year, according to recent reports. Teams from Breckenridge, Albany, Clyde, Baird, and Cisco will play here July 10-17, at the Little League Field on Avenue B.

A work day at the Little League Park will be held on Saturday, July 8, and everyone who is interested in helping Cisco put their best foot forward for these visiting communities, is invited to help. This is a great honor for Cisco, and it will be a great time for Ciscoans to show their pride in Cisco.

The Cisco All-Stars team is scheduled to play Monday night, July 10, against Clyde. A story with more information will be in the weekend issue of The Cisco Press.

The Cisco Little League Association will need financial and physical help for this tournament. To help with the workday or to help with the concession stand, call Benton Lacy, president, 442-2346.

Marlin "Dale" McFadin of Cisco, an employee of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, recently graduated from a month long course offered by the Texas Engineering Service, a part of Texas A&M University.

The heavy equipment operator course is given to familiarize workers with the five types of equipment most commonly used by the highway department.

Marlin and his wife, Yvonne, have two children, Brenda, 13, and Steven 10.

McFadin was at home Monday and Tuesday, days off for the July 4th holidays.

Answers To Life's Questions

Is your home coming apart at the seams? Is your marriage soon coming to an end? If you are a Christian, are you finding it harder and harder to remain faithful to the Lord?

If these and other personal problems plague you, we invite you to come and hear J.B. Wascom as he shares such enlightening messages as: "Staying Together When The World Is Falling Apart", and "How To Remain Faithful To The Lord In Tough Times."

J.B. has many years of experience as a pastor in both Louisiana and in Texas. He is a husband, father, and a missionary who currently serves with the Southern Baptist Dale takes a lot of teasing about how many days off he is given. State employees do have a wonderful benefit of several paid holidays, but they earn their way, with their work. Especially during the hot summer months, working on the hot concrete highways.

Congratulations to Dale for completing this course of study.

Sandra Prickett, of Brownwood, formally of Cisco wrote the following poems. Thought you might enjoy them.

WAITING FOR NATURE
I looked into my mirror,
I got the razor out.
I took an even closer look.
When will they start to sprout?

ADOLESCENCE
I slipped my sweater on,
And turned around to see,
If anything had changed,
Nope, just the same old me.

THE BOY
Mom he's great,
and Dad he's smart
This can't be the one who stole her heart.
A great big smile,
She gives to him,
What can I say,
I'm out on a limb.
We say hello,
and try to see, what it is he'll ever be.
She comes home late
Isn't he nice,
Her smile shows love
Mine's cold as ice.

DESPAIR
I ask her once, I ask her twice,
Is she playing a waiting game?
I wait awhile and ask once more,
But her answers still the same.

SEASONS
Memories by the Fireside,
Memories in my mind,
Dancing in my heart,
Memories of sunshine.

The warming feel of earth,
Covering tiny seeds,
Waiting for the crop,
And hoeing up the weeds.
Happiness is mine.

As I gather up with gladness,
A fruitful crop with love,
Beautiful summer madness.

Chilly autumn days,
Singing in my heart,
Clearing wilted crops,
Awaiting spring's new start.

Cold and snow and ice
Contented, happily dreaming.

While warming by the fireside,
Of spring and a new beginning.

Home Mission Board. He holds an earned doctorate from Lutheran Rice Seminary in ministry.

J.B. Wascom will be speaking at Calvary Baptist Church, 1800 Conrad Hilton Ave., Cisco, each evening, Wednesday, thru Saturday, July 5-July 8, at 7:00 p.m., and again on Sunday, morning at 10:45 p.m.

Election On Prison Funding Recinded

By Viola Payne

Two main issues surfaced at the County Commissioners Court meeting Friday, June 30.

One issue was listed on the agenda of this called meeting: for the Commissioners to consider calling an election to issue bonds in the amount of $650,000 to purchase land for a prison facility. The Commissioners decided against holding this election.

Another basic topic concerned whether to hold a referendum in July to allow the citizens of the county to vote on whether they even wanted a prison located here. Commissioner Billy Bacon made a motion for this election to be held. The motion was defeated.

The Commissioners let a Resolution in which they pledge to support the location of a prison in the county. Under this agreement they are committed to the purchase of the prison site, and will make up any funding which does not come in through private donations.

Dr. Charles Barnes, project manager for a County Economic Development Group, will carry this Resolution with him to Austin sometime after July 15. It will be included in a proposal for the location of a 2500-bed prison here.

On June 12 the Commissioners voted to hold a bond election on the prison funding with polling reportedly to be held on Aug. 12. At the next Commissioners meeting Dr. Charles Barnes asked them to rescind the decision to hold this election, and listed a number of objections to it. He also questioned the legality of this proposed election, on the grounds that it was not an agenda item when it was voted on.

Due to this technicality the Commissioners set the June 30 date to again consider the bond election.

At Friday's meeting Dr. Barnes, bankers from Cisco and Eastland, business people and around 100 other County Economic group members and supporters overflowed the Commissioners Courtroom. County Judge Scott Bailey moved the crowd into the County Courtroom.

Dr. Barnes again asked the County Commissioners to rescind their action of June 12 and not hold an election. Among other things, he said the time was too short - he needed to have the proposal for the prison in Austin by Aug. 1.

Supporters of the prison project offered a number of other objections. One person said: "Why should we vote on it - the County leaders are all here. The big majority of people in the county are for the project. There are only to people in this audience who stood up to show that they are against the prison."

There were a few suggestions on moving the election over to July, and making it simply an opinion poll. Comm. Billy Bacon's motion was along that line. But the crowd objected to that, with occasional chants of "No votes, No votes," heard from the floor.

One speaker said an objection to any sort of election is that results would be made public.

"The TDC will not go to a place where there is any sentiment against it," the community leader said. He added that many towns were "crying" for this type of facility, and that Eastland County needed to present a united front in Austin to have a chance.

During the two-hour meeting bankers Dick Wooley of Cisco, Grover Hallmark of Eastland and others described economic benefits that a prison facility could bring to Eastland County. Dr. John Mueller of the Cisco City Council told of the problems with tax revenues going down, and how new jobs and people in the county would help this situation.

Jimmie Hughes of Carbon had some comments on the subject of taxes. He said he did not favor passing any debts to his grandchildren. He said he has the "privilege" of paying for upgraded schools and water and sewer improvements.

"Will I have the 'Privilege' of paying for a prison too?" he asked. "How much tax is this going to cost the people in the county?"

Hughes was told that a firm figure could not be given at this time, since a lot depended on donations and the rate of pay-off. But if the public had to pay back the whole $650,000 it could be repaid in one year by increasing the county tax rate 14 cents per $100 valuation.

On the prison location, John Berry said that if the site near Carbon was selected he would probably live as near to the facility as anyone. He said that when he first thought about that it bothered him a little bit, but that now he is quite comfortable with the idea.

One individual who was not enthusiastic about the prison said that if a bond election was held he had a request - that the newspapers carry both sides of the question and give the public enough information to make a sound decision.

As the meeting wore down the Commissioners were told from the floor that the people elected them to make decisions about matters, and they should make a decision without calling an election. They then voted to rescind the bond referendum.

Several in the audience kept hinting that the Commissioners had been slow to show cooperation. County Judge Bailey then had Dr. Barnes read aloud the Resolution supporting the location of a prison here, and the crowd seemed better satisfied.

Commissioner Billy Bacon, however, said that the decision to cut out any election could backfire on the County Economic Development group.

"Five percent of the registered voters in the County can petition this Court for an election and get it," he reminded them. The Commissioner said he had heard of at least one petition against the prison. Other Commissioners indicated they had heard of possibly two petitions against it.

Charles Barnes complimented the Commissioners for the actions they had taken during the meeting. "People will say you men have guts," he declared.

Country Needs Strict Drug Laws

Senator Phil Gramm Speaks In Eastland

United States Senator Phil Gramm, speaking to a crowd which filled Eastland's 91st District courtroom and gave him a standing welcome on his third visit to Eastland County, said that the drug problem exists everywhere and in every high school, and that it is largely due to our having crime without punishment.

After Eastland Mayor pro tem Don Griffin welcomed Gramm and the others to Eastland, Eastland County Sheriff Dee Hogan acted as the Master of Ceremonies.

Sheriff Hogan stated that due to a federal grant we have the West Central Texas Interlocal Crime Task Force, commanded by Frank Cleveland, but that due to its limited manpower and the large area covered, it just can't control the area's illegal drug trafficking.

He continued that 179 of 462 arrests thru May of 89 were for drug charges, and that eighty-five percent of county arrests were drug related. Hogan's solution to the problem is to use training to improve the skills of local officers, so that they can better deal with and ultimately control the problem locally.

Cleveland, who has been trying to enforce the drug laws in 13 counties for the past year and a half, told how the task force had filled a need in rural areas of the state. Over 300 felony cases have been handled by the task force, with $57,000.00, 8 vehicles, five and a half million dollars worth of illegal drugs, and 7 drug labs seized. But we know of six drug labs still operating and a fulltime effort is needed to enforce the laws and to convict offenders, he informed.

Task force funding has been cut lately, but $43,000.00 contributed by citizens has kept the effort going, and local officers have assisted. Senator Gramm efforts have made the task force possible, Cleveland continued.

Cisco Police Chief Billy Rains, pointing out that 90 percent of Cisco's crime is drug related, said that the local problem is speed, methamphetamines, and marijuana which is manufactured or grown in wooded rural areas of Eastland and adjoining counties. He also pointed out that the locally produced and used speed is more addictive than the other drugs, including cocaine and crack.

Sheriff Hogan reported that $365,000.00 worth of methamphetamines is going out of the county from local drug labs and another $15,000.00 is being sold in the county per week. Also an international drug operation has been moving drugs through the county. He also emphasized that Senator Gramm had helped us in Washington in so many ways.

Gramm explained that a bill to help was passed last year and that he and President George Bush were discussing what to do about the drug problem. Only 1,400 of 44,000 arrested have gone to jail, he used to further point out that there is so little punishment for crime. Officers risk their lives to make drug busts, then the offender, maybe sentenced for 10 years, is usually out in 11 months and selling drugs to children in another week. Three-fourths are back in prison a short time later on the same charges, Gramm continued.

One problem is that one or two federal judges have set limits on the number of prisoners who may be kept in prisons, ordering that some criminals be released to prevent overcrowding. But our service men in nuclear submarines live in much more crowded conditions and stay under water for months at a time. And many of our college dorms are more crowded. Gramm said that they should look at public safety before releasing dangerous criminals.

Eighty-two military bases are scheduled to be closed, Gramm continued, and we could make them into detention centers. Prisoners might not be able to live in luxury, but they don't deserve better treatment than our soldiers. There are no federal restrictions against prisoners working, Gramm said, they should be put to work. He repeated the saying that "an idle mind is the devil's workshop" and suggested that prisoners might help with prison expenses.

Gramm said that we need to build more prisons. Seven thousand prison beds are under construction, but 28,000 are needed. Rather than release dangerous criminals, the states could board them out in federal detention centers.

Mandatory sentencing is needed, says Gramm. The sentences should be 10 yrs., without parole for selling drugs to a minor, regardless of who they are or who they are kin to. It should be 10 yrs., for committing a felony while carrying a firearm, and 20 yrs., if the firearm is discharged. If an officer is

Several occupants received minor injuries and one occupant was sent to an Abilene hospital in an accident Saturday, south of Eastland. (Staff Photo)

Is This The Way To Celebrate The 4th?

Four auto accidents occurred near I-20 in Eastland County in less than an hour and a half on Saturday afternoon. Two accidents, one near the Highway 183 intersection with I-20 south of Cisco and one at the Highway 6 intersection with I-20 south of Eastland, happened at almost the same time.

The accident south of Eastland seemed to be the worst with a number of people involved, and it drew a large response of ambulances, officers, and fire trucks.

A van filled with people from the Rock House in Eastland attempted to cross a traffic lane of Highway 6 from the north access road and was in collision with a gray Olds traveling north on Highway 6. The occupants of both vehicles were taken to the Eastland Memorial Hospital.

According to the last report this newspaper received, all but one had minor injuries and were released after treatment. One remained unconscious, but with good vital signs, and was transferred to an Abilene hospital.

D.P.S. officers Tone, Foster and Sgt. Mathews assisted by Eastland and Sheriff's officers in traffic control, investigated the accident in the searing summer heat. Another accident happened on East Main in Eastland while officers were investigating the first ones. Then a fourth occurred when a car left the road south of Ranger toward Lake Leon.

While the other accidents caused damage to cars, this newspaper has not learned of any serious injuries from them.

But officers and emergency personnel are not getting a holiday this Fourth of July it seems.

radiation damage that goes unnoticed, sometimes for years. Some people think of sunburn as an annual ritual they have to live through in order to get a glamorous tan."

Dr. Price warned that the repeated ill effects from the sun are cumulative. "It is as if each person has an individual tolerance for how much of the sun's ultraviolet light he or she can stand in a lifetime." He explained that children and older people, especially those with light skin, generally have a lower tolerance to overexposure than those with dark skin. "But even dark-skinned people have their limits," he said.

People should watch for warning signs of skin cancer as they grow older, since the likelihood of skin cancer increases with age, he said. Warning signs include a sore that does not heal or any unusual skin conditions, such as a change in size or color of a mole or birthmark.

The American Cancer Society recommends a monthly skin self-examination. Use a full-length mirror and hand mirror to study the whole skin carefully for overall condition and tiny changes, including the skin of the scalp and between the toes. Any noticeable change warrants a medical opinion.

To reduce the risk of overexposure to the sun, Texans are advised to:

-Wear protective clothing, including hats, long sleeves, even gloves.

-Choose - and use - sunscreens which are best suited to skin sensitivity. Apply a waterproof sunscreen, (rated 15 or higher) at least an hour before going into the sun, and reapply after swimming or heavy perspiration.

Avoid sun exposure between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., when the sun's ultraviolet rays are most intense.

-Do not use sun lamps or tanning pills.

-Be especially cautious of sunlight when using prescribed drugs, since some tend to increase the skin's light sensitivity.

"The precautions and common sense can help most people to avoid skin cancer. And if they do develop skin cancer, they will discover the condition early if they routinely examine themselves," Dr. Price said.

He added that with early detection, most cases of skin cancer can be completely cured.

New teaching programs are better, and schools which do not tolerate drugs and expell users, can receive federal funding. And drug users can lose federal benefits and privileges.

We must realize that buyers are criminals not victims. There are addicts, but 22 million others are choosing drugs. Property can be seized, but it is still a long war. However, public opinion is turning against illegal drugs and their use. College students are now supporting efforts to control drugs, says Gramm.

On the night of June 6, an Eastland man's 400 lb. white face heifer was shot from FM road 69 at Morton Valley while it was in the pasture. It is the second cow that he has had shot in the area.

Eastland Police officer Shawn McDaniels responded to a report of a suspicious car on East Main Saturday night and was backed up by a D.P.S. officer and a deputy. The car had been stolen in Dallas and contained five illegal aliens, 3 aged 18 and 2 aged 16. They were turned over to Immigration and Naturalization Service people from Del Rio.

Some boys who ran away from the boys' home at Cisco were picked up at Elgin and are to be returned.

Leon Jackpot Tournament Draws A Crowd

"The bass were biting better Saturday." That's the conversation we heard from many of the local anglers present at the Sunday Jackpot event at Lake Leon. Why Sunday showed a little slower is anyone's guess. Maybe the heavy pressure Saturday.

At the 3:00 p.m. weigh-in fishing looked to have been pretty darn good to me. Fifty five anglers were on hand, twenty five of these were able to bring in 1 or more fish at the 14" or larger length. The top ten finishers by weight were:

1. Harold Hendricks 3 fish 7.96 $330.00
2. Doug Kirkpatrick 3 fish 7.03 $190.00
3. Jerry Newman 3 fish 6.90 $128.00
4. Bob Freeman 3 fish 6.51
5. Greg Badgett 3 fish 6.42
6. Terry Wilson 3 fish 6.06
7. Tommy Maynard 3 fish 5.78
8. Tim Freeman 2 fish 5.53
9. Darrell Schmun 2 fish 5.47
10. James Moore 2 fish 5.45

First place in the big bass pot was won by Tony Wells 4.05 pounds worth $159.00. Second big bass of the day went to James Moore with a 4.03 lunker worth $106.00.

A total of 55 fish were brought to the scales for a total weight of 108.84 pounds.

Which gave a 1.98 average per fish. Fishing may have been better Saturday, but it wasn't too bad Sunday.

All members of the Eastland County Bass Club are urged to attend the July 6, 1989 meeting. Time 7:30 p.m., place Eastland National Bank Bldg. Flyers for the annual September Invitational will be handed out, so everyone make plans to attend. As always we will be awarding our door prizes and announcing what lake will be fished in this month's club tournament Saturday the 8th.

Three consecutive years of stocking hybrid striped bass apparently have resulted in strong populations of the fish at Lake Belton.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department fishery technician Kevin Storey of Waco said gill net surveys revealed strong year-classes of fish from stockings in 1987, 1988 and 1989. "The total catch of hybrids was four times higher than the last survey which was done in 1987," said Storey.

Storey noted that about 75 percent of the hybrids collected were in the 15-19 inch range, indicating they were from the 1987 stocking. The fish weighed an average of two pounds, ranging up to three and a half, Storey said.

Although most of the 1987 year class are not yet at the 18 inch minimum length limit, they will exceed that size soon, Storey said.

Hybrids stocked in 1988 were found to be in the nine to 13-inch size range. They should reach legal size next year, while those stocked in 1989 will reach harvestable size in 1991.

Channel catfish also were well represented in the survey. Storey said catch rates were 50 percent above those of 1987. Catfish ranged in length from 8 to 23 inches, with most in the 14-to-19 inch range. The largest weighed 5.8 pounds.

Lake Belton is a 12,000-acre reservoir operated by the Brazos River Authority and located just north of Belton.

Till next week remember that little green wonder called a bass that you catch is the future fishing for us all.

Angela Gregory Selected To Outstanding High School Students Of America

Angela Gregory was nominated by her peers then selected by the OHSA staff as an Outstanding High School Student of America and will be included along with her credentials in the prestigious 1989-90 OHSA Directory. Membership selection is based on academic and extracurricular achievement and is a mark of highest distinction and honor. OHSA is a private membership organization whose purpose is to recognize scholastic achievements and leadership qualities among the top U.S. high school students.

Angela was also nominated and selected to receive honorary award recognition and her biography will appear in the 1989-90 edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students. (The value of this program has been acknowledged by the prestigious American Library Association). Angela has been commended for her achievements since only 5% of all high school students are honored in Who's Who each year. She was nominated by our local Beta Club Sponsor Mrs. Connie Rattan.

Angela received the same honorary award recognition in Who's Who last year 1987-1988. She was again nominated by the Beta Club sponsor Mrs. Lois Marshall and selected.

Her freshman year she was recognized by the Eastland Chamber of Commerce as the Highest Ranking Scholastic Student of the 1986-1987 freshman class.

Angela is the 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Gregory of Eastland and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Maynard of Cisco and the late Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Gregory of Eastland.

Production Topics Highlight Upcoming July Session

COLLEGE STATION—Texans continue to show an increasing interest in the production of quail, chukar partridge, pheasant and other gamebirds both for meat and for sport.

In response to this growing interest, the 1989 Texas Gamebird Conference is scheduled for July 15 in College Station, said Dr. Fred D. Thornberry, poultry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

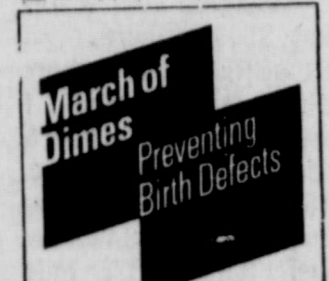

The Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department are cooperating in the one-day educational event with speakers scheduled on nutrition, breeder selection, disease prevention, new legislation affecting gamebirds and flock management and environment, said Thornberry.

Other speakers will discuss hunter opportunity through improved habitat and supplemental placement of gamebirds during the program, which is scheduled at the Kleberg Center on the Texas A&M University campus.

Registration fees are $25 per family with a $5 fee for a barbecued-turkey lunch. For more information contact Thornberry at (409) 845-4318.

Commission Issues Eleven Pipeline Permits In May

AUSTIN—Railroad Commission Chairman Kent Hance has announced that 11 permits to operate new pipelines in Texas were granted by the RRC in May. In April, the Commission approved six permits. May 1988's total permits approved was 15.
Four of the new permits were for gathering pipelines, three were for trunk transmission lines, two were for distribution and other lines, and two were for gas plant lines. Gathering lines bring oil and gas from production leases, while trunk lines are larger diameter lines into which smaller lines connect. At gas plants, natural gas is stripped of the liquid hydrocarbons usually present in gas as it is produced from a well.

Hance said in May two operating permits were approved for pipelines in the Refugio area (District 2), three in Southeast Texas (District 3), one each in deep South Texas (District 4), East Central Texas (District 5), East Texas (District 6), West Central Texas that included the San Antonio area (District 1), deep south Texas (District 4) and East Central Texas (District 5).
Gathering lines permits approved: Texas Gas Gathering Company, Marshall, gas, Harrison and Panola counties; O'Sullivan & Scully, Houston, gas, Aransas County; Danex Pipeline Company, San Antonio, gas, Goliad County; and G.M.T.

Company, Inc., Corpus Christi, gas, Goliad County.
Trunk transmission lines approved: Chevron Pipe Line Company, Beaumont, products, Jefferson County; L.C.G.P. Ltd., Henderson, gas, Leon County; and Koch Refining Company, Wichita, KS, products, nudes, San Patricio, Bee, Karnes, Wilson, Bexar, Guadalupe, Caldwell, Hays, Travis, Williamson, Bell, Falls, McLennan, Hill, Johnson, and Tarrant counties.
Distribution lines approved: Hill Petroleum Company, Houston, gas, Harris County; and Chevron Pipeline Company, Beaumont, gas, Chambers County.
Gas plant lines approved: PNG Transmission Company, Inc., Midland, gas, two lines—one in Stonewall County, and one in Howard County.

The Next Best Thing -

...to a clear conscience and a good night's sleep is the feeling of security in owning your own home with a clear title. Peculiar to the real estate field, values are based on land and the improvements thereon, if any. But values on these are based on the title. The title then comes the most important item to be considered when purchase of real property is contemplated. So be careful to buy good title based on an abstract of title or a policy of title insurance.

Are You Registered To Vote?

A county-wide election on whether Eastland County should raise taxes and sell bonds to purchase land for a state prison site, if Eastland County is selected as a location, has been called for by County Commissioners. Such a prison would be expected to provide local jobs.

Another election is to determine of Eastland and the surrounding rural land are to be placed in a newly formed hospital district with taxes imposed to provide or subsidize local medical care facilities.

If you want to vote in the county-wide election, you should be registered to vote by July 12. The Eastland County Hospital District election date has yet to be set. You may register to vote in the County Tax office in the Courthouse, or by acquiring a registration card from that office, filling it out, and mailing it to the Tax Office.

Southwest Homemade Ice Cream Champions Picked

SULPHUR SPRINGS— June traditionally is a time for travel, vacation and a more leisurely lifestyle.

The month also is designated as dairy month and many nutrition educational activities center around the use of dairy products.

One such activity is the 1989 Southwest Homemade Ice Cream Contest staged at Sulphur Springs, where winners have just been announced.

A nut ice cream entered by Joy and Jimmy Don Allen, Sulphur Springs, was judged grand champion in the 1989 Southwest Homemade Ice Cream Contest.

The program and contest, held in conjunction with the Hopkins County Dairy Day, attracted entries, an increase of eight over last year.

The Allens received $500 and the grand champion trophy for their winning butter pecan entry.

The contest was conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the American Milk Producers, Inc. Co-chairing the event were Dr. Max Sudweeks, Extension dairy specialist, and Mrs. Mary Sue Cole, nutrition consultant for consumer services, AMPI.

Each winner in the other six categories received a trophy and $50 donated by dairy-related industries of the area.

These categories and winners included: mixed—Joan Owens, Sulphur Springs; fruit—Lavon Millsap, Sulphur Springs; candy—Kathy Cothes, Sulphur Springs; bisque—Stacy Thomas, Sulphur Springs; vanilla—Imogene Paar, Winnsboro; and chocolate—Kevin Singer, Commerce.

LaNelle Blinka of Port Lavaca won $100 for traveling the greatest distance to enter the contest.

The dairy day celebration and the Southwest Homemade Ice Cream contest are part of the June Dairy Month activities celebrated each year in major dairy producing counties of Texas.

Miracles
Some people say that miracles are gone

It may seem so until they hit home

The crying of a new born child

That lights each face with a big smile.

The sunrise on a bright new day

That seems to sweep the dark clouds away

The dew drops on a new planted rose

That it may have moisture so it will grow.

The miracle of living is such a great deed

Everything working according to its need

The miracle maker is still in charge

And He sends His miracles to us one and all.

So when the sunset has finally come

One more miracle will be won

To be transformed from the living

To be with the Lord in Heaven.

Chewable Tablets May Cause Dental Health Problems

COLLEGE STATION— People who attempt to ward off the common cold by munching on chewable vitamin C tablets could be damaging their teeth, said a Texas Agricultural Extension Service expert.

Dr. Dymple Cooksey, an Extension Service nutrition specialist, said the ascorbic acid in vitamin C has been associated with dental erosion in the past, but the problem has become more acute with increased sales of extremely high levels of the vitamin in chewable tablet form.

"The chewable vitamin C tablets that contain mega-dose levels of the vitamin may present possible dental health problems according to latest research," the specialist said.

She said a recent American Dental Association report indicated that the acidic level of three 500-milligram chewable vitamin C tablets, when dissolved in distilled water, about equals that of stomach acid.

"While saliva has a certain buffering effect, it can provide only limited protection when there is daily direct contact between ascorbic acid and teeth," Cooksey said.

Cooksey said when people attempt to chase the common cold, vitamin C cough syrup which clings to the teeth also is not recommended, since it may cause dental problems.

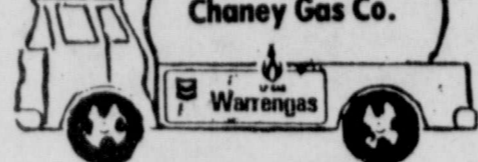

The specialist recommends that persons who use chewable vitamin C tablets on a regular basis should check with a dentist for any signs of dental problems.

Summertime - The Right Time To Prevent Food Poisoning

WASHINGTON—Summer is here, and Americans are practicing the rituals of the season: softball, swimming, sunbathing and, most of all, ignoring the clock. Unfortunately, bacteria that cause foodborne illness don't take a summer vacation. And time is just what these bacteria need to multiply — along with the right temperature, a source of nourishment and other amenities.

So, as you pack up the coolers and grills to head for picnics and barbecue, remember to watch the clock to keep summer eating safe.

Time: Too Much or Too Little Spells Trouble—When it comes to food handling mistakes that cause illness, failure to cook or reheat foods long enough is an all-time great.

Protein-rich raw foods such as meat, poultry, eggs and seafood can provide bacteria with the nourishment they need to proliferate. If these raw foods are not cooked long enough at the proper temperature, bacteria can survive. A study of foodborne illness outbreaks involving meat and poultry over a 10-year period found that inadequate cooking or reheating was a factor in about half of the cases.

Refrigerate Properly — After cooking, perishable foods should be cooled rapidly and evenly. USDA home economists advise consumers to refrigerate foods containing meat and poultry within two hours after cooking. If you're grilling outside and "room temperature" is 90 degrees F, it's wise to refrigerate foods even sooner to avoid giving bacteria too much time to reproduce.

Deep containers holding large portions don't allow even cooling of the food inside. Divide larger portions into shallow, covered containers to promote fast cooling. Shallow containers will probably fit the cooler better, too!

Cooling errors, such as leaving cooked foods at room temperature too long, contributed to about 50 percent of the food-illness outbreaks covered in the study.

Take Time for Thorough Grilling — Grilling is popular way to cook food in warm weather, but use a meat thermometer to check that large cuts have been cooked for the right amount of time. The internal temperature of roast beef or pork should be at least 160 degrees F for medium, which is adequate to destroy either salmonella bacteria or the trichina parasite. Most people prefer roast chicken or turkey that is cooked to 180 or 185 degrees F.

Avoid Interrupted Cooking — Many people like to partially cook ribs or other foods inside, then finish them on the grill. However, partial cooking is safe only if food is moved immediately from the oven or microwave to the hot grill, with no time on the counter or in the refrigerator.

Use Care When Preparing Ahead of Time—Cooking foods ahead of time can be convenient if you're planning to serve large numbers of people. However, preparing foods in advance can also compound any undercooking, cooling, sanitation or other food-handling mistakes you might have made. In the study of food-illness outbreaks, preparing foods a day or more ahead was a factor in almost one-third of the cases.

Watch the Clock — The bacteria that cause most foodborne illness are common in our environment — on raw meat and poultry, in water, soil and the human nose, to name just a few places. When these bacteria are allowed enough time to reproduce in food, some of the people who eat that food may become ill. Children, the elderly, AIDS and cancer patients are most at risk of serious health problems from foodborne illness.

Ironically, bacterial foodborne illness is the easiest type to prevent: Watch the clock! Take the time to practice food safety to prevent foodborne illnesses.

Questions? Call your local extension agent, or USDA's Meat and Poultry Hotline — 1-800-535-4555. Hotline home economists can answer your questions about safe handling and storage of meat and poultry every weekday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Eastern time.

producer's plight is a scarcity of potential alternate crops to replace the lost cotton. In many areas, soybeans, mung beans, sesame, sunflower, guar, pinto or blackeyed peas can be grown in the remaining season, but producers need to find a market before committing to those crops. Extension Service specialist said.

In the Rolling Plains, producers had until June 20 to replant and are hoping the storms abate and fields dry out enough to get back in with shorter season cotton varieties, said U.U. Alexander, Extension Service agronomist at Vernon.

In the Coastal Bend and Rio Grande Valley, the problem has been extreme drought. Irrigated fields are in generally fine shape in these areas. But normally high-yielding dryland fields will be lucky to produce half their customary lint, say Dr. John Bremer, Extension Service weed specialist at Corpus Christi, and John W. Norman Jr., Extension agent-entomology at Weslaco.

West Texas — About 50 percent of acreage was lost to severe hail. Dryland areas around Mitchell, Howard, Midland and Nolan counties just got enough rain for planting. Much planting and replanting was occurring at cutoff date.

Cotton around San Angelo escaped hail and looks good; soil profile in that area is full of water, says Charles Stuchler, Extension Service agronomist at Ft. Stockton. Alfred Gonzalez, El Paso County Extension agent, said that cotton in that area — all irrigated — has escaped hail damage and is probably five to seven days ahead of schedule; planting there is estimated at 2,500-3,000 acres of short staple and 20,000-30,000 acres of pima.

Weather Takes Toll On Texas Cotton

LUBBOCK—From the High Plains to the Coastal Bend, unfavorable weather is taking a heavy toll on the Texas cotton crop.

In some areas, it's a matter of too little rainfall, while in others it's too much moisture, hail or wind which is causing the problem for the state's $1.3 billion cash crop.

Parts of the state have been spared—up to now—from the erratic weather. Among these areas are the "pima pocket" around El Paso, parts of the Rolling Plains and Central Texas Blacklands and some of the Rio Grande Valley.

But the high production areas of the High Plains and West Texas, which annual account for more than half of the state's cotton crop, literally have taken a beating, report county agents and crop specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The 25 High Plains counties around Lubbock, in which some 2.7 million acres have been planted in cotton, have lost an estimated 200,000 acres to thunderstorms, hail and winds in the last few weeks. Hale County alone lost 100,000 acres of the 190,000 planted a month ago.

Not only the severity, but the timing of recent heavy rains and hail across much of the state has cotton farmers in a squeeze, according to Extension Service cotton specialist.

It is too late to replant cotton and expect it to mature and provide a profitable yield in many of the storm-ravaged areas of the High Plains, said Dr. James Supak, cotton agronomist at Lubbock. Yield expectations decline sharply when cotton plantings are delayed beyond the optimum planting periods. For this reason, farmers participating in federal crop insurance program aren't required to plant cotton after pre-determined cutoff dates.

On the High Plains, for example, the cutoff dates for counties in the northern sector were June 1-5; those in the central portion were June 5-10, and southern counties had until June 10-15. "Planting cotton after those dates is extremely risky. Farmers who do so are going to be giving up considerable yield potential," Supak said.

April 28, Is 96th Anniversary Of Cyclone

This year will be the 96th anniversary of the cyclone that virtually destroyed the town of Cisco at 9 p.m., April 28, 1893.

More than 20 persons lost their lives in the storm and a number more died as a result of injuries suffered that night. Newspaper stories written about the tragedy said that every building in the little community of Cisco was either destroyed or seriously damaged, including every church building that was standing in the town at that time.

On the night of the great storm, the cows came running home early as the winds began to gather. The sky was one of the blackest ever recorded, but when the storm was over, the moon came out to bathe the wrecked town in beautiful moonlight.

By Sunday morning, April 30, the town was jammed with people; some who had come out of curiosity and some who had come to help clear away the debris and care for the stricken. Neighboring towns sent work crews, food, clothing and other supplies to help the people of Cisco start back up the road to recovery.

Quoting from an account written in a 1952 issue of The Cisco Press, by the late Mr. R.W. (Bob) Mancill, who was one of the witnesses of the storm, "There was about 23 people killed outright and some 15 more died later of injuries received during the storm. It came from the west and was furious while it lasted. A terrific rain came with the storm. Had the cyclone arrived Tuesday night instead of Friday night, the death list might have totalled 1,000 as the famous Cisco Silver Cornet Band gave a free concert in the opera house Tuesday night. This building was a 2-story stone structure.

"We had borrowed a piano for the occasion, but could

"We started out again and heard a terrible roaring in the south part of town, and when we investigated we found that it came from West 12th street. We all went into the house and found out that it was Fred Grist who was only three days old. We not find ever one of the keys. J.W. Carter, from whom the piano was borrowed, would not let us pay him for it. His home was also destroyed, and the piano would have gone with the wind anyway.

"After the storm passed we got together and began a search for the injured and dead. I was one of four that went to the east side first. We first located Mrs. William Knight, who was so badly injured that she died while the doctor was working with her. We carried her to Martin Drug Store.

"We returned to the east side and found Dave Cameron dead. We carried him to the store of John F. Patterson which was located where the Reynolds Building now stands.

found that he wasn't suffering so we went on to other parts of town.

"Several people have asked me which building were the Hickman children in when they were killed. The five Hickman children were killed in the stone building at 417 Avenue D. They had a store in front of the building and lived in the back. They were all in bed at the time, and their parents were blown a number of yards east and were not killed.

"On Saturday and Sunday all freight trains through here were lined with people on top of the cars and the town was full of sightseers.

"We got our water then from Twin Lakes, and J.V. Smith, the pumper, kept pumping all night, not knowing that there had been a storm. The storage tower was damaged and wouldn't hold water. Next morning Mr. Smith came in to see why he couldn't get the tank full. The water tower was located just east of the W.J. Foxworth home.

"Hard winds here in March are mere puffs of winds compared to compared to the big blow that night. I recall that while the terrible storm was passing through this town, it was the darkest night I ever saw, but by the time it got to Lem Switch, it was the most beautiful night I ever saw."

Pictures Of Cyclone In Eastland County History Book

A reminder of our season is brought more real through 16 pictures given to the Eastland County Historical Society by Betty Spears of Sherman who requested them be preserved for the history of Eastland County.

On April 28, 1893, about 9:00 p.m. a cyclone moved into the area through Cisco, the Texas Almanac states "April 28, 1893: TORNADO, CISCO, EASTLAND COUNTY; 23 KILLED, 93 INJURED; DAMAGE $400,000."

In reviewing the pictures, with existing buildings a person can recognize many standing structures that had severe damage that was repaired.

Ron Bailey said "This group of pictures could be the first documented cyclone by photography."

The Eastland County Historical Society is trying to gather and record the events of this county in old photo's, letters, news articles and personal remembrances help to preserve our history.

We are compliing such in a History book for the County. It is now at the printer. The section of business history is almost complete and we hope to have a finished product by mid summer or fall.

Eastland County has had several tornados. Some causing severe damage but this Cisco cyclone was the most destructive and loss of life which was by far the worst in our history.

Let us be aware it could happen any time especially in the Spring season.

We cannot stop them, but we can learn how to protect our lives. Know what to do when threatening weather approaches and follow the instructions of the Authorities to protect yourself and your loved ones.

TORNADO SAFETY RULES

A TORNADO WATCH means that tornado development is possible. Keep a watchful eye on the sky for threatening weather, and stay tuned to radio, television, or NOAA Weather Radio for the latest weather information.

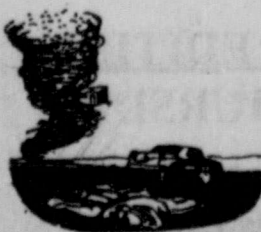

A TORNADO WARNING means a tornado has been sighted or indicated by weather radar. Persons in the path of the storm should seek shelter immediately, preferably on the lowest floor of a substantial building.

IN HOMES: A basement offers the greatest safety. In homes without a basement, take cover in the center part of the house, on the lowest floor, and in a small room such as a closet or bathroom, or under sturdy furniture. Stay away from windows. Do not attempt to open windows.

IN SCHOOLS, HOSPITALS, AND SHOPPING CENTERS: Move to predesignated shelter areas. Interior hallways on the lowest floor are best. If the building is not of reinforced construction, go to a nearby one that is. Stay out of auditoriums, gyms, and other structures with long, wide free-span roofs.

IN YOUR CAR: Do not try to outrun a tornado. If available, leave your car and get into the nearest ditch or depression until the tornado passes. Cover your head with your hands.

IN MOBILE HOMES: Mobile homes and trailers are particularly vulnerable to overturning during strong winds and should be evacuated when strong winds or tornadoes are possible. Mobile home communities and trailer parks should have a community storm shelter. If there is no shelter nearby, leave the trailer and take cover in a ditch or depression.

News From Canterbury Villa

Sunday morning the I-20 Church of Christ was here with us for Bible study. We really appreciate them being here every Sunday morning.

Our afternoon service was with Evangelical Methodist Church. We certainly enjoyed this time of fellowship with them.

We had our sing-along with Betty Hastings Monday morning. We enjoy this time of singing hymns with her.

The Gospel singers came Monday night. They are a wonderful group.

Tuesday night was our Family and Volunteer Supper. We served hamburgers and hot dogs with all the trimmings. Families and volunteers brought the desserts. Everything was delicious. It was a wonderful evening of working and visiting together. We want to thank Brad Kimbrough for loaning us his barbecue grill, Calvary Baptist for loaning us their table and chairs and Gary Boyd for getting the wood for the grill. We appreciate each family and volunteer that attended. It takes all of us working together to make these suppers a success. We sincerely appreciate each and everyone of you.

The Lutheran Church was with us for our weekly Bible study on Wednesday. We look forward to their being here with us.

East Cisco Baptist came Thursday morning for our Bible study. We are glad that Amanda Diggs can join now that school is out.

The Dollar Video Store will be furnishing our movies on Thursday. We really appreciate them doing this for us.

Our maintenance supervisor Bill Hitt and Larry Green came Friday night. They played their guitars and sang country, western and gospel music. We appreciate them doing this for us when our volunteers can not be here.

I made an error last week. Arleta Shirey made the flower arrangement for the birthday party and not Virgie Hale. The flowers came from Arleta Shirey garden. I apologize for this mistake.

A Thought For The Day...

As night falls on the Fourth of July in thousands of communities across the nation, a kaleidoscope of fireworks will illuminate the darkened skies. The purpose of these events, as we know, is to celebrate the years in which the United States has stood as the bulwark of liberty.

But the liberty we definitely entails responsibility. What most of the Founding Fathers fought for was a disciplined, moderate, law-respecting freedom... As the first President of the United States, George Washington's views harmonized with those of the other Founding Fathers. He fully realized that liberty could not long survive without prudent limits. Out of his experience he offered a piece of sound advice to his fellow countrymen. "Be Americans," he said. "Let there be no sectionalism, no North, South, East or West. You are all dependent on one another and should be one in union. In one word, be a nation; be Americans and be true to yourselves."

Still under the spell of those dancing fireworks, let us consider the import of those words. Undoubtedly your ideas may differ strongly from your neighbors on certain problems. But let us heed Washington's counsel and seek to heal our differences amicably. As the first President said: BE AMERICANS.
