Christmas Madrigal Dinner To Be Held Friday And Saturday

For the sixteenth time Cisco Junior College will present its annual Christmas Madrigal Dinner, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1-2, at 7 p.m. at the Hilton Community Center.

Wyley Peebles, who directs the Madrigal Singers, says that, "We always try to have something different." This year's program will include more of the traditional Christmas carols than in previous years.

In addition to the usual trumpet fanfares and harpsichord music, a Bach sonata for violin and harpsichord will be presented by ten-year-old Kathleen Sloan of Breckenridge. Steven Zell will play the harpsichord accompaniment.

Since the meal is a part of the program, Peebles urges guests to be on time for the first trumpet fanfare announcing the procession of

King and Queen Lobo LVIII Will Be Crowned During Coronation Thursday In Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium

The coronation of the fifty-eighth King and Queen Lobo will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 30, at Harrell Fine Arts Auditorium at Cisco Junior College. Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for students. Tickets may be purchased from members of the junior class or at the door Thursday night.

When this tradition began in 1927, the student body selected five Cisco High School senior football players as nominees for the first King Lobo. These young men chose their own escorts for the coronation. The lucky young lady who was escorted by King Lobo became Queen Lobo. The tradition continued in this manner until 1965 when it was decided that King Lobo nominees were no longer required to be football players. At that time also five senior girls were nominated; and for the first time Queen Lobo was elected by the student body.

As the tradition continues today, the senior class chooses five nominees for both king and queen. The entire student body of Cisco High School then elects King and Queen Lobo. Other members of the court are selected by their respective classes from kindergarten through Cisco Junior College.

Nominees for Queen Lobo LVIII are: Shannon Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Anderson; Jana Muller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Muller; Kelli Whatley, daughter of Ricky Whatley and Mrs. Sherry Terry; Jayna Willingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Butch Willingham; and Jana Yowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Yowell.

Nominees for King Lobo LVIII are: Joe Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Campbell; Matt Goosen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Goosen; Billy Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hammond; Brandon Honea, son of Randy Honea and Mrs. Cindy McClung; and David Zell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Zell.

Phil Warren, Cisco High School principal, will crown the newly-elected King Lobo. The King will then crown Queen Lobo.

Following the royal presentation, the junior class will entertain King and Queen Lobo LVIII, their court and honored guests with a radio program.

LIGHTS, SIRENS MEAN PULL OVER

Recent complaints about drivers passing stopped school buses have set off another wave of negative reports about area motorists. The drivers of emergency vehicles say too many drivers fail to grant them adequate right of way.

Texas law requires motorists to pull over and stop when fire engines, ambulances and other emergency vehicles approach from either direction with flashing lights and sirens on.

Drivers who fail to yield to emergency vehicles are a hazard because they place their own lives in jeopardy along with the lives of those aboard the emergency vehicles.

Why some drivers heed flashing lights and sirens and others do not is a matter for conjecture. Anyone holding a Texas driver's license is supposed to know this basic law of the road. Perhaps enforcement of this provision of the traffic code does not carry sufficient priority in these parts.

To be fair to all motorists, drivers of emergency vehicles must keep in mind that most automobiles and even trucks are driven with windows up these days. Many drivers have their radios or tape players on, at varying volumes. They don't yield to emergency vehicles because they do not hear them and therefore do not see them until the last moment.

Drivers of emergency vehicles are therefore behooved to use extra caution and moderate speeds in congested areas. A driver who is not on the lookout for a fire truck, police car or ambulance because no siren is heard is not likely to be waiting at the side of the street when the emergency vehicle passes.

In addition, drivers of state and local police cars must not drive at emergency speeds without turning on emergency lights and siren. This is the law, and violations can be spotted from time to time.

In emergencies, minutes and even seconds count. The important thing is that emergency vehicles reach their destination quickly - and with safety for all concerned.

Christmas is not that far away and the Cisco Goodfellows will be working hard to feed the needy families in Cisco and provide toys for their small children.

The Goodfellows are expecting a large number of applications this year due to the economic problems in this area. Cisco's Goodfellows need your help again this year and according to a member of the Goodfellows Board, Cisco has always been a caring town and when there is a need the people of Cisco have always been there to help.

Toy boxes will be available for you to leave toys at West Texas Utilities, Chamber of Commerce, and Hargrave Insurance.

County Commissioners Object To Parking Tickets; Vote On Numerous Matters Monday

Eastland County Commissioners Monday outlined objections to be ticketed by the City of Eastland for parking longer than the time allowed around the Courthouse.

Nancy Trout, tax assessor-collector, agreed with the Commissioners, saying that she had read in the Abilene Reporter News about exempted spaces being granted by the city, and thought elected officials should also have exempted spaces being granted by the city, and thought elected officials should also have exempted spaces.

"We pay a big filing fee to run for office, we're expected to work hard-sometimes we have to load and unload office material at the Courthouse. We deserve to have a parking place," she said.

Commissioner L.T. Owen, Pct. 3, said he had received parking tickets on his County pickup. The commissioners said he was also upset because people from his precinct reporting for jury duty often pay parking fines.

"My people drive 60 miles to do jury duty, get paid $6 a day, then get a parking ticket," the Commissioner said.

He asked if the county owned the property around the Courthouse, including the sidewalks.

"The county paid for them when they were replaced," he remarked. "Who did the City get permission from to drill holes and put signs there?"

The Commissioners agreed to pay Owen's parking ticket. Commissioner Richard Robinson, Pct. 1, did not vote on the request, saying he had been paying his own tickets.

Nancy Trout said she would be meeting with Eastland City officials on Dec. 18, and she agreed to request parking spaces for elected officials.

A number of other matters were also discussed Monday. The Commissioners approved a resolution in accordance with a law passed in the 71st Texas Legislature, allowing county purchases and contracts up to $15,000 without competitive bidding.

County Judge Scott Bailey gave information from the Association of counties on another agenda topic. This concerned whether the County wished to continue to have authority to tax property not used to produce income, such as travel trailers, motorcycles, recreational vehicles, boats, etc... None of these things are taxed here at this time by the county.

A resolution was passed to continue to exercise the option on this type of taxation, as well as "Freeport Goods," which includes out-of-state items needing more assembly or process work. None of this is presently taxed by the county.

On other matters, the Commissioners approved Ginger Stovall (Mrs. Bruce Stovall) of Cisco as a member of the Eastland County Child Protective Services Board.

They heard a report from Billy Bacon, Commissioner of Pct. 4, on the status of the jail. Bacon said there were currently 15 prisoners in the facility, and the jail was clean.

The Commissioners discussed smoking in the Courthouse, and decided to post "No Smoking" signs in the lobby, other floors, and the elevator. They suggested that these signs go up immediately.

One the new elevator,

Commissioners Robinson and Christian said it would probably be March or April before work started on this equipment. They met last week with representatives of the Company providing the elevator.

The meeting ended with the approval of current bills. Various bits of information about the County Ambulance Service were also exchanged. This matter is again expected to appear on the agenda before long.

A Thought For The Day....

You have probably noticed how advertisements claim happiness can be found in owning this or that. The words may sound nice in audio or look good in print, but in the reality of life, worldly possessions do not necessarily bring happiness--or unhappiness.....

Happiness or unhappiness is a mood. Either mood can be caused by other people. Mostly, however, the mood is self-induced. It is a mood that cannot be bought or bartered. It is a mood that can never be found with certainty in some far-off place. Instead, it can always be found close at hand -- wherever one may be. People have found -- no matter where they are -- happiness can never be had by causing unhappiness to others. No one can possess or expect to possess more happiness for himself than he produces for others.

A wise man once said: "Happiness is impossible without some regard for happiness of others and can so often be fostered by the smallest acts of kindness, acts that become instinctive and part of our nature if practiced from day to day....."

Annual Pecan Show To Start Thursday In Courthouse

The 37th Annual Eastland County Pecan Show opens today, Thursday in the Eastland County Courthouse Lobby. The Eastland Chamber of Commerce and the Eastland County Pecan Growers sponsor the annual event.

All pecans must be entered by 4:00 p.m., Wednesday, November 29th.

Pecan growers and Chamber of Commerce members will begin processing the pecans at 8:00 a.m. on Thursday. Ten pecans out of each entry will be weighed. This determines the weight of the pecans and the percent of kernel. A grader will then separate the kernels into "Fancy", "inedibles", and "Other Grades."

The Fancy kernels are weighed to determine the percent Fancy. A Fancy kernel is cream or golden in color and free of any flaws. Choice grade includes kernels that are free of flaws, but light brown in color. Those with flaws are considered inedible.

Pecan entries will be judged at 1:00 p.m. and ribbons will be displayed on pecans following the judging.

All pecan entries will then be on display in the courthouse lobby until 3:00 p.m. Friday, December 1. At this time, the non winning entries will be sold, both the in-shell pecans and the shelled kernels. Anyone wishing to buy these pecans should notify the show officials.

Fishing Outdoors

by Terry L. Wilson

It seems as though the recent weather has brought out the fisherman in everyone. During the past holidays I saw lots of folks out enjoying America's number one pastime, "Fishing." And most of the parties I saw were accompanied by some of tomorrow's outdoorsmen and women, children.

A few anglers made their way out to Lake Leon in search of the crappie. Results were mixed with only a couple of boats getting into numbers with size. The successful anglers reported that Flea Flies in red, chartreuse, and white color combination were working best. There secret holes were not available, but these anglers did state they were up the river.

The big fishing news from Leon has been the channel and yellow catfish. Excellent numbers have been reported on a variety of bait. Both on trotlines and rod and reels. Mid lake and up towards the river area seem to be working best. The preferred depths seem to be 5' to 10'. With our current warm weather this is no surprise. But you better get it now.

It has been brought to my attention that a move is on to have the December Eastland County Bass Club Tournament moved up a week. If done this would put the event this weekend December 2, 1989. This may be done by a vote of the Board of Directors. At present all board members have not been contacted for a vote. So if you plan to fish the final December event you might want to contact a board member prior to this weekend.

With this final event the 1990 Honey Hole top six team will be decided as will the Angler of the Year, second place and third place. The top six team slots are wide open with Bobby Maynard currently holding on to sixth. So everyone plan to finish the year off with a heavy stringer in December.

Thursday, November 30 at 7:30 p.m. all interested ladies are invited to attend the first meeting of the Eastland County Bass Club Women's Organization. We shall meet at The Crossin Restaurant in Eastland. The purpose of this meet will be to officially organize this organization. If you are interested but unable to attend please contact Carlotta Wilson at 629-3255, or if you know someone who's a little shy and needs an invite let us know and we will give them a call. There is nothing set in stone about this organization ladies, not even a name. So why not get in on the ground floor and make it what you want.

And for you bass'ing boys don't forget December 7 at the Eastland National Bank Building. This meeting will be where you decide who runs your organization. If you want changes you should be present to elect someone who thinks like you, or better yet put your name in the hat. Nominations will be accepted from the floor.

Many changes have been brought up for 1990, yours won't be heard if you don't act now. Make plans now and bring a friend.

Till next time out good hunting and good "Fishing Outdoors."

Good News On Several Fronts Prompts Oil Patch Smiles

More than 320 drilling rigs have been punching holes across Texas in the last two weeks searching for new oil and gas supplies, an encouraging sign for the state's beleaguered energy industry according to Railroad Commissioner James E. (Jim) Nugent. Not since January 1988 as many rigs been active in the Texas oil patch, he said.

"After years of doom and gloom, we're finally hearing some news to smile about here and there," Nugent said. "Oilmen are starting to get some spring in their stride again."

Another barometer of oil-patch confidence is also on the rise, according to the Railroad Commissioner. Nugent said the Commission issued 1,275 well drilling permits in October, a 34 percent uptick over the 839 permits in October, a 34 percent uptick over the 839 permits issued in October, 1988.

"The companies that are now seeking drilling permits will be looking for drilling rigs in the months ahead," he said. "That should bolster the rig count and boost oil and gas employment. Studies indicate as many as 200 jobs are created for every drilling rig we bring back into action."

Nugent said new rules for horizontal drilling issued by the Commission in the last two weeks may be igniting a mini-boom as companies scramble to line up prospects to test the effectiveness of the technique in fields across the state.

"For example, using field rules changes we just approved for the Pearsall Austin Chalk field, Oryx Energy indicates they may drill as many as 85 new wells in the field over the next year or so," he said. "And if you look at the number of drilling permits we've issued for that area this year, you'll see why some people are upbeat."

The Pearsall Austin Chalk field is found in Atascosa, Dimmitt, Frio, LaSalle, and Zavala counties. According to Nugent, the Commission has issued 190 drilling permits for those counties through the end of October, compared to 112 for all of last year.

"And the news is spreading fast," Nugent said. "We've issued over 150 permits for horizontal drain holes in 21 counties. Some of the test results are starting. One recent test of a horizontally-drilled well in the Austin Chalk formation in south Texas indicated a production rate of more than 3,200 barrels of oil a day. That's pretty remarkable when you consider the average oil well in Texas produces less than 10 barrels a day."

"We're not talking about a return to the oil boom days of the early 80's by any stretch of the imagination," Nugent cautioned, "but any trend that keeps the roughnecks and toolpushers busy, and the cash registers ringing is welcome."

Adult Protective Services

The role of Adult Protective Services is to investigate reports of abuse, neglect, or exploitation of eligible adults (anyone 65 or older or any disabled person 18-64). State law requires anyone who believes this is happening to report it to the Texas Department of Human Services. State law in turn requires the Department of Human Services to investigate the report.

After investigating the report the department case-worker offers services to the victim to remedy the abuse, neglect, or exploitation. The victim may not refuse to let the department investigate. But the victim does retain the right to refuse services no matter how severe the abuse or neglect. The one exception is when the victim lacks the mental or physical ability to consent to services. In such cases the department may pursue court action to correct the problem if the situation is presenting a threat to life.

The department has averaged 180 intakes in the 44 county area of which Eastland County is a part. 86 percent of the reports received were found to be true. Of those reports 47 percent were self-neglect, 21 percent were neglect by the caregiver, 19 percent abuse, and 13 percent were exploitation. Sometimes it is easy for the public to become discouraged if no improvement occurs after reporting the situation to the department.

The most common reason that this happens is that the victim exercises his right to refuse services. Even if you reported the situation before and see a situation deteriorating, report it again. It may be that the victim no longer has capacity to consent and court action may be needed. The victim may be willing to accept services at the time. But even if the victim refuses services, all of us can take comfort that we have done our part to offer the victim some reasonable alternatives to the situation.

If you are aware of a situation involving abuse, neglect, or exploitation, report it to the Texas Department of Human Services. The department investigates anonymous reports, but if you do give your name it will be kept confidential.

You may phone 817-629-3317 on weekdays 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. or after hours on weekends or holidays you may phone to toll free number: 1-800-252-5400.

Railroad Commission Assesses $15,000 In Penalties

The Railroad Commission assessed a total of $15,000 in administrative penalties this week to seven oil and gas operators for problems under Commission well plugging rules.

E. T. Enterprises, Inc. of Brownwood was ordered to pay $10,000 for three Brown County wells; two on the W. E. Stewart lease and one on the H. P. In addition, two operators agreed to pay penalties without admitting any violation of Commission rules. Lancer Petroleum Corp. of Kilgore was assessed $1,000 for two Hill County wells: one on the Jack Howard lease, the other on the Glenda lease; and GLD Enterprises of Austin agreed to pay $500 for one well on the Gillespie lease in Haskell County.

Roman To Present Seminar

The one hour presentation, held at the Center, 751 Hickory Street, Abilene, will begin at 7 p.m. Skinny's is the program sponsor making it available to the public at no charge. It was Christmas, and a little boy was asked to play the role of the innkeeper who turned away Mary and Joseph. "I won't!" he said. "I won't be that man. He wasn't nice." But the teacher insisted, and he obediently learned his lines. The night of the performance came. Mary and Joseph knocked on the door. The boy, dressed as the innkeeper, opened the door and said, "There's no room in the inn..." but he added, "If you like, you can rest a while and have some cookies and tea." Just now the Lord says, "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." You will say, "Lord, come into my heart," won't you?

Pharmacy Topics

By Bob Mueller

Smoking directly affects cholesterol levels, says the American Health Foundation. Tests indicate that each cigarette per day raises total cholesterol by half a point; quitting brings it down again.

People who take aspirin and non-steroidal anti-inflammatory drugs in arthritis-fighting doses are more likely to be hospitalized for ulcers, the British Medical Journal reports. (The Food and Drug Administration now requires warning of this on labels.)

Instead of surgery to remove gallstones, doctors at Mayo Clinic have been injecting ether into the gallbladder to dissolve the stones.

Combination of medications seems to slow the progress of diabetic kidney failure and may even prevent it. Reported in the British Medical Journal, the treatment uses captopril, an antihypertension drug, and a thiazide diuretic. United States tests are starting.

Liquid dosages of acetaminophen should not be used interchangeably. Drops for babies have 500 mg. per teaspoon, children's elixir only 160 mg.

Man Who Helped Stop Santa Claus Bandit Dies

RISING STAR - Woodrow Wilson Harris, 76, who helped foil the infamous Santa Claus Bank Robbery in Cisco in 1927, died Sunday, November 26, at an Eastland hospital. Harris was just 14 when he played a key role in foiling the getaway of four robbers who took $162,000 and several hostages in a Christmas season holdup of Cisco's First National Bank.

He was riding with his family when the robbers waved a gun and demanded their car. While his mother screamed, young Harris quietly locked the car's ignition, slipped the car keys in his pocket and ran off and hid. The robbers, in their panic to find another car, left the bank loot and a wounded comrade behind. The wounded robber died and the others were apprehended a few days later.

Harris was born in Rising Star and graduated from Rising Star High School. He was a self-employed electrician. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge in Rising Star and was a Baptist.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday, November 28, at Higginbotham Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Jimmy Tucker officiating. Burial was held in Rising Star Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Avelon Harris of Rising Star; two daughters, Mrs. Jimmy Tucker of Haskell and Mrs. James Merrill of Sonora; nine grandchildren; and 10 great-grandchildren.

TCI Unveils The Customer 1st National Service Program

With over 50 of its operations executives from Corporate and field locations across the nation in attendance, Telecommunications, Inc.'s, Executive Vice President and Chief Operations Officer, J. C. Sparkman, announced today THE CUSTOMER 1ST Program, a detailed 20-point national customer service program which is scheduled to be rolled out Company-wide during 1990.

This announcement of the first phase of THE CUSTOMER 1ST Program is one of a number of aggressive initiatives by the Company that will focus on customer service and satisfaction. The points of the program were based on several years of cable system and consumer research and extensive planning by the operations executives and staff. Research and planning will continue to take place for developing future initiatives.

"I take great pride in announcing THE CUSTOMER 1ST Program," said Sparkman. "TCI has reached a point in its development where, after spending billions of dollars on plant construction, system upgrades and quality programming, we have the resources and skills in place to create and maintain a strong plan to better serve our customers. While our research indicates that TCI service currently is satisfactory, we know we must strive to make improvements and adjustments, where needed, in order to remain a leader in our industry."

Bryant Hill, TCI's newly appointed corporate director of telecommunications and customer service, states THE CUSTOMER 1ST Program is comprised of many different areas directly and indirectly affecting the customer's relationship with his or her cable system. "Our customers will now be given a money-back guarantee on the products offered and will receive rapid and quality service. In most cases, they will also have the convenience of expanded office hours and new, more efficient telephone systems." Hill continued, "TCI System managers, technicians, customer service representatives and management trainees will all be required to participate in extensive training programs geared towards becoming better prepared to successfully handle the needs of our customers. We also plan to improve communications between our Corporate, Division, State and local offices, upgrade the working environment in many of our system offices and provide employee incentives for reaching predetermined goals."

Sparkman added, "Both TCI customers and employees play an important role in the Company's future growth and success. THE CUSTOMER 1ST Program, with its flexibility to adapt to individual communities, and its consideration of both the customer and the employee, was designed to take TCI into the next decade, secure in the knowledge that our most valuable assets will be well tended for. We are eager to launch all 20 points of this program and, in fact, we have already launched some of them. I am confident that in doing so, TCI will have in place a commitment to customer service that is unprecedented in this or any other service-oriented industry."

Tele-Communications, Inc., the nation's largest cable television operator, is traded over-the-counter with Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock trading separately under symbols of TCOMA and TCOMB, respectively. The Company's 12-3/8 percent Senior Subordinated Debentures and 7 percent Convertible Subordinated Debentures are traded in the over-the-counter markets, the latter under the symbol of TCOHM.

POETRY CORNER

Another evening slowly comes along with falling sand. They appear to all be clones (a bottle in one hand). The rest of us remain at home. Our sand is finely sifted. We take a knee beside our bed, and sincere prayers are lifted. We plead for safety on our friends from God's most awesome grace, for nothing else could stop the flow of tears on every face. Our faith is all we have to hold, and all we have to clutch. If only somehow they could know we love them very much. Christine Deadman

MEMORY

By Bob Harbin
Is a precious gift
Of a time so long ago
Like the passing of a shadow
Or the closing of a door

As I go down memory land
I see visions of the past
When each day was a pleasure
And now its just a task

As I gaze across the valley
And see the wild flower blooming there
I smell the fragrant of their sweetness
As it is brought to me in the air

And then I met my Jesus
As His story to me was told
He's the master of yesterday, today and tomorrow
As each day His blessing to us unfolds

Letter To The Editor

Editor,
Charles Dickens wrote most of his best remembered stories as social criticisms though he did tend toward the romance of his heroes always ending up victorious. Would but that real life were always so.

Dickens' villains were often the hard hearted business men of his day who exploited child labor, the abusers of orphans, yes, and even then the heartless bureaucrat.

Today the sweet shop exploiting children is gone and the orphan is generally taken far better care of than the child whose parents must be gone much of their waking hours trying to earn a living. But woe to the family that suffers loss of work and further depletion of income due to illness. The faceless corporation or holding company has replaced the heartless industrialist and the official need have no feelings when he is 'only doing my job' or telling the person behind in payments, 'I don't make the rules, I just do as the rules say I must.' Now isn't that reassuring to the man whose utilities are being cut off even though he has demonstrated an honest effort to catch up?

I am not giving you a 'Once Upon a Time,' I am talking about here and now when it is better to be just plain poor and indigent than it is to be one of the 'working poor.' I write of here where a mother who does not have her utilities paid by welfare is insulted and where a man, wife, and two children have utilities cut off without formal notice, can not cook on the kitchen stove or take a warm bath. No alternative is discussed nor offered, just 'going by the book.'

To whom might the man appeal? I certainly couldn't advise him because very fortunately, I have been in that position. Though I did once go badly broke and in debt I still had hopes and means of recovery.

Does this fellow have hopes? Certainly his means of recovery are limited and the difference between his insolvency and my own was that I had some who had to wait for payment but never were my utilities threatened with, much less been cut off.

On this first really cold night since the cut off I wonder if those two kids have enough covers to stay warm in an unheated mobile home? Do they look with great hopes toward Christmas? Honestly can't say because I don't know that family but I do know they don't live ten miles away. Maybe I SHOULD get acquainted but that might only make me sad because I am already helping a couple of folks now and then and 'the poor have eye with ye always.' Right now entirely too many of them or was it that way always?

It just seems that so many 'fall through the cracks' because the cracks are left unclosed and the footing too narrow.

Hear a lot about big money managers but they just manage big money. The most needed management advice is where there isn't much to manage with.

Maybe the thing to be most thankful on Thanksgiving Day is that kids only expect Christmas once a year.

Happy Holidays? BAH! HUMBBUG!

Texas Farm Bureau 56th Annual Meeting Held On November 27

"Be proud that you are a farmer," Texas Farm Bureau President S. M. True told delegates to the organization's 56th annual meeting here Monday, November 27.

"Your efficiency enables Americans to live better than any nation ever before in history," he said. "A tiny percentage of the population — less than two percent — feeds and clothes the rest, with an abundance left over to earn money in the export market."

A livestock, grain and cotton farmer from Plainview, True reminded the audience of some 1,300 farmers and ranchers that the farmers have performed a "modern miracle" in production.

"Today, one hour of farm labor produces 16 times as much food and fiber as it did 70 years ago," he said. "One farmworker now supplies food and fiber for 93 people, up from 58 people just ten years ago."

Agriculture is also important as a consumer, he said, spending $130 billion a year on items of production and another $10 billion on ordinary consumer products.

"When a recession hits American agriculture abundance is a growing export market that helps both farmers and the country as a whole."

"Agriculture continues to have the largest positive trade balance of any segment of our economy," he said. "Agricultural exports last year accounted for 12 percent of total U. S. exports, and supported some 900,000 full-time civilian jobs."

True reminded his audience that the debate over the 1990 farm bill will be driven by budget, animal rights and environmental considerations.

"Our fear is that animal rightists may get laws passed similar to one in Sweden — under which cattle, hogs and chickens are free from restrictions that are customary in modern farming practices," he said.

"If we get that law here, the feedyards, hog farmers and the broiler and egg business can look for something else to do," he added.

The TFB president said that the overwhelming majority of farmers and ranchers take good care of their animals.

"Good care often means the difference between profit and loss," he said. "Getting up in the middle of a cold winter night to care for a sick cow or sow, or to midwife a new baby calf is nothing new to farmers."

True called the building debate over environmental pollution and food safety the "most serious public relations problem" agriculture has ever faced.

"Of course, we farmers do not wish to poison the environment or the food supply," he said. "And we will do anything that is necessary to prevent that from happening."

"We are not only stewards of the land, but also of the environment."

"But, there are misconceptions that must be corrected. What the American people must understand is that their food supply is the most reliable and safest in the world."

He pointed to benefits resulting from use of pesticides and herbicides in modern agriculture.

"People live longer and more pleasant lives than those of any other previous generation," he said. "Life expectancy at the turn of the century was 47 years; today, it's 75, and it continues to grow."

Economic benefits of farm chemicals have been huge, he said.

"Farm output has doubled over the past 40 years, thanks in part to farm chemicals," he said. "If we had to return to the technology of the 1930's and 1940's, it would be disastrous. In order to produce the same amount of food we do today, we would have to convert 75 percent of permanent pasturelands to crop production."

True said that Farm Bureau supports the Administration's long-awaited and comprehensive food safety proposal in Congress.

"We support the plan because it upholds the principle that science should determine what is safe and government should act to carry out such findings," True said. "Farmers want to continue to produce safe food, and they want to use only safe chemicals."

True said the key to the proposal is elimination of contradictions in federal law by imposing a "negligible risk" standard.

"This would end the so-called Delaney amendment which prohibits the Environmental Protection Administration from setting tolerances for any pesticide residue in processed food if the pesticide causes cancer in humans or animals," True said.

The farm leader said the Administration proposes that the Delaney clause be eliminated and a "negligible risk" standard be adopted.

"This would allow the use of a pesticide as long as public health is not threatened and the benefits from the pesticide's use outweigh any possible health risk," he said.

Make Sure Your Package Reaches Its Destination Safely

The Christmas season is close upon us, and the Postal Service will begin to receive an increased number of parcels. With the increase, the number of customers who fail to prepare their packages properly will also increase. This causes delay as well as damage to packages and postal equipment. Here are some packaging tips that may help ensure that your package reaches its destination safely.

First, select the proper container. The selection of a container usually depends on the physical characteristics of the item or items you mail — is the object heavy or light, large or small, durable or fragile, solid or liquid, round, square or odd shaped? The container should be large enough to hold the contents plus adequate cushioning to prevent damage, but not so large as to permit shifting or jiggling of the contents. Fiberboard containers are generally strong enough to ship material of average weight and size.

Paperboard boxes, similar to suit boxes, are acceptable for easy and average loads up to 10 pounds. Metal stayed paperboard boxes are acceptable for easy and average loads up to 20 pounds. Liquids should be sent in leak-proof interior and exterior containers. Powders should be packaged in sift-proof containers.

Second, the parcels must have sufficient cushion. There are many different types of suitable cushioning materials available, including polystyrene, shredded or rolled newspaper, "bubble" plastic, and fiberboard inserts. When several items are packaged in a container, they should be separated from each other and protected from outside forces. Even single items packed alone should be cushioned for safety.

Third, it is preferred that wrapping paper be omitted if the box itself is an adequate shipping container. However, wrapping paper equivalent to the strength of the average large grocery bag may be used if required. Filament-reinforced tape should be used for the closure and reinforcement of parcels whenever possible. Although twine and cord are permitted, it is preferred that they not be used. They tend to catch and bind in mail processing equipment.

And finally, your parcel should be clearly marked with the address, including ZIP or ZIPplus code, of both sender and receiver. The writing should be indelible ink or typed on a label and be easily readable. It is a good idea to place a list of the contents plus the name and address of both the sender and the recipient inside the package. This will help in the event that the outside address become illegible. Also, place special marking outside the parcels to alert Postal Service employees to the nature of the contents. Items containing breakables should be marked "Fragile" in three places, above the address, below the postage and on the reverse side. If it contains food that may decay, mark "Perishable" in the same locations. Items with photographs or similar items should be marked "Do Not Bend" but only if you have protected the items with a stiffening material such as fiberboard. It cannot be assumed that the marking in itself will ensure that no damage occurs. The Post Office window clerk has a set of rubber stamps indicating special markings and will apply them to your parcel on request.

Olden Extension Club Held Meeting On November 14

The Olden Extension Club met November 14, 1989, at 2 p.m. at the Olden Community Center. There were 13 members present.

AARP News--Health Issues And Views

By Roy Cartee

QUESTION: Mr. Cartee, I see in the paper where Congress has repealed the catastrophic medicare law. What does this mean? How will it concern us in the future?

ANSWER: Congress was pressured by those who were having to pay the surtax to repeal the medicare catastrophic law. It will be a sad day for the poorer people as it will possibly mean 34,000,000 may not have adequate health coverage. As of this writing it will mean we will go back to the old law. You will be required to pay $592 every two months, or for each time that you enter the hospital. It will mean there will only be a 20 day coverage in the skilled nursing home. It will mean loss of the respite care and the care for the homebound will be lessened. We are hoping that the spousal impoverishment portion of the law will survive, however, from what we can find out that was repealed also. All of this on top of increased supplemental insurance payments causes us to lead into Christmas with a dreary attitude.

QUESTION: I keep getting bills from the hospital. I thought the hospital stay under Part A of the medicare was paid by medicare.

ANSWER: It normally is sufficient to cover you. This is Medicare does pay Part A. However, if you have specialized service like a TV, a cot for your attendant, etc., you will have to pay those charges. If you are having trouble with a hospital bill we encourage you to contact us. Contacts with the hospital will be made or an appeal to the medicare carrier will be conducted.

Vargas Pleads Guilty To Five Felonies; Sentenced to More Than 200 Years

Antonio Vargas, 19, pleaded guilty Monday in 91st District Court to five felonies, and was sentenced 288 more years in prison.

He must first serve a 99-year term assessed Oct. 4 for aggravated sexual assault before he begins another 99-year sentence handed down Monday for aggravated robbery. Some of his other terms will run concurrently, however — two counts for burglary of a habitation, 99 years and 20 years, aggravated kidnapping, 50 years, and burglary of a building, 20 years.

Ken Tarleton of Mineral Wells was court-appointed attorney for the defense, and Gary Wellen was Special Prosecutor on the case. Judge Jim Wright presided.

The Court ordered that Vargas must serve a third of the sentences, since he used a deadly weapon during the aggravated robbery and kidnapping.

These crimes occurred in the early morning of July 18 on the south side of Eastland.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer. Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97 percent survival rate and a 90 percent 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00. A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt. CER96

Crude Production Average Decreased In September

Texas crude oil production averaged 1,744,425 barrels daily in September, according to preliminary figures released by Railroad Commission Chairman Kent Hance. September 1988's preliminary crude production averaged 1,857,951 barrels daily.

This figure compares with preliminary August production of 1,755,463 barrels daily. Final production reports for August indicated average production at 1,766,936 barrels daily.

Hance said the preliminary Texas oil production figure for September is 52,332,761 barrels, down from 54,419,363 barrels in August.

September 1988's preliminary Texas oil production was 55,738,519 barrels.

According to Hance the state's top producing counties, rank ordered by preliminary September production were: Gaines, 3,484,085 barrels; Ector, 3,103,232 barrels; Andrews, 3,095,164 barrels; Yoakum, 2,818,073 barrels;

Hockley, 2,578,594 barrels; Gregg, 2,470,891 barrels; Pecos, 2,465,933 barrels; Crane, 1,550,595 barrels; Scurry, 1,259,740 barrels; and Kent, 975,504 barrels.

Crude oil production for Eastland County during September was 82,776 barrels.

Gas Production Decreased In September

September production was down two percent compared to September 1988's production of 449,928,981 Mcf.

The state's top producing counties, rank ordered by preliminary September production were: Webb, 23,132,828 Mcf; Zapata, 21,797,359 Mcf.; Pecos, 19,598,106 Mcf; Panola, 12,989,939 Mcf; Hidalgo, 12,466,569 Mcf; Hempill, 8,621,775 Mcf; McMullen, 8,472,425 Mcf; Crockett, 6,855,959 Mcf; Nueces, 5,917,726 Mcf; and Matagorda, 5,890,750 Mcf.

Marketed Gas Production Increased In August

Railroad Commission Chairman Kent Hance announced that Texas marketed gas production in August totaled 360,278,677 Mcf (thousand cubic feet) of gas, compared to the July production total of 356,908,671 Mcf. The August marketed gas production reflected a decrease of six percent compared to the August 1988 production of 385,624,111 Mcf.

Marketed gas production is the gas left after liquid hydrocarbons have been separated on the lease from the "wet" gas that is usually produced at the wellhead. It also does not include gas that is used to fuel production-related equipment on the lease site, or gas that is otherwise not marketed.

Exports of Texas-produced gas in August totaled 129,602,836 Mcf compared to 141,962,361 Mcf in July. The August exports of Texas produced gas reflected a two percent increase when compared to the August 1988 exports total of 126,882,386 Mcf.

According to Hance the of 355,713,865 Mcf of gas in Texas storage facilities in August, compared to the July total of 350,292,890 Mcf. August's total of stored gas reflected an 11 percent increase compared to August 1988's volume of 318,376,680 Mcf.

Letter to the Editor

Editor:
SAVE TEXAS!
In 1949, the Gilmer Akins Bill was enacted, creating the Texas Public School System under the direction of the school superintendent of Texas. It has taken 40 years to prove beyond a questionable doubt that it hasn't worked and it is not going to work. I'm wondering how long we Texans will stand for this screw up.

In order to control the local school superintendent the state appoints a state superintendent of schools to control the local superintendent of each school district. Now he needed a system whereby they could force the local school districts to comply with all their wishes. (Some of the local school districts were going back to the voters, the property owners, for more money and they were saying "NO".) So they created the automatic tax increase every year without your approval. Then they needed a uniform way of levying taxes, which lead to the formation of the central appraisal district. Now the unfairness issue showed up a few months back. I wonder what law they will pass to overcome that problem. There is an old saying that when you are trying to create something and it begins to show signs of failure, go back and do one of two things. Use the old system you were using or create a better one, because they are apt to screw up like they have on about everything pertaining to taxes that have put their hands on.

If we eliminated the three above programs look at all of the money the state would save and the taxpayer would have control over their property taxes.

Now if we want to save Texas, and clear all of this mess up, I'm hoping you will contact your state representatives and ask them to return the control of the schools back to the local people (which it should have never left), so it can be run as it had been operating by local authorities for over 100 years.

KOKOMO NEWS

What a wonderful time of praise and thanksgiving to our Lord on Sunday night as we met at the Congregational Methodist church in Gorman with our brothers and sisters in christ for the community

Thanksgiving service. As God's children, I believe he is pleased when we come together to worship Him. All the special music and the congregational singing was beautiful and uplifting to our hearts, as was the Thanksgiving message brought by Billy Joe Dennis.

There was fellowship with one another and delicious refreshments in the fellowship hall following the service.

The special music at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning was rendered by Wynelle Brown, Helen Browning, Leona Wilson, Woodrow Browning, Jimmy Little, J.L. Morrow and Oren Webb.

Recognition was given to Bro. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Morrow who were celebrating their wedding anniversaries on Sunday, November 19 to Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Browning who celebrated their anniversary on Saturday, November 18, and to Jimmy Little who had a birthday on November 12.

Mrs. Oren Webb has returned home from spending two weeks with her daughter and family, David, Judy, Scarlet and Amanda and the new baby, Sarah Elizabeth in Round Rock, our congratulations to the Porters and Webbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hallmark and Amy, Mrs. Becky Mikeska, Lee Vi, Shane and Sheyanne, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Braddock and Ashton of San Angelo visited with Mrs. Dora Garrett during the weekend while they were here to be with his mother, Mrs. Frank Hallmark and other members of the family and to attend the funeral of their father and grandfather, Frank Hallmark in Eastland on Sunday. We extend sincere sympathy to the Hallmark family.

Joe Fields and his little daughter, Falyon of Bryan are visiting with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Fields, and Lindell, while Joe does some hunting. Richard and Teresa Nachtigall, Taylor and Trevis of Morgan Mill also visited during the weekend.

A bountiful meal of turkey and dressing and all the trimmings was enjoyed by the members of the Kokomo Baptist Church and their guests Wednesday night,

Carbon News

By Dorothy Jackson

We did have some beautiful weather during the holiday if we do not count the wind blowing a gale.

Are we all back on our jogging trails? If all are like me we over ate with all the goodies around. After the 3rd day I was ready to freeze the left overs and drag out the chili and crackers.

Saturday, December 2 at 7 p.m. in the Carbon School Cafeteria the annual Carbon Cemetery Association meeting will be held, make plans to attend.

Friday, November 24, the stores opened early to start off people shopping for their Christmas gifts. As you shop, hold on tight to your purse and lock your cars.

Marc Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan, had the misfortune Sunday afternoon to be thrown from his horse, as he was thrown the horse kicked Marc in the mouth. Marc has no broken bones, only cuts, bruises and will need some dental work done. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan and Marc spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Ande Paulk of Imperial, also visiting the Paulks were Mr. and Mrs. Marty Morgan and Jana.

Guest on Thanksgiving Day with Hazel and Collin Campbell was: Ray and Reba Reeves of Ft. Worth; Polly Anna Reeves of TU in Austin; Colleen Lamb of Nimrod; Bill, Addie, Phillip, Loren; and Collin Walker of Burkett; Sallie Walker of Tareton in Stephenville; and Michelle Williams of Burkett. Truett, Pat, Rodney, and

Thank You From The Food Pantry Workers

Johnnie Snapp, President of the Eastland County Food Pantry Board, wishes to express thanks from these volunteers for continued public support of fund raising projects.

The Food Pantry is located at the Multipurpose Center, 304 N. Lamar, and keeps a supply of food available for the needy. All this food - ro the money to purchase it - is donated from here in the County.

The Stew Supper November 7 was a great success, raising needed funds. Special thanks goes to the people who donated the food for the Supper, to those who prepared the food, and to people who bought tickets and attended this enjoyable event. Another recent project was the Food Drive by Troop 103 of the Eastland Boy Scouts. The Scouts did a great job on this collection. They brought in 19 sacks and three boxes of food, and $14 in cash. Thank you, Scoutmaster Glint Lovelace and your Assistants for teaching these young men to help the less fortunate.

Special appreciation is again due to the people of Eastland for donating to the Scouts in this Drive. For those who missed the Scout Drive, there is now a barrel near the Manager's office at Lawrence Bros. store where you may leave cans and other non-perishable food.

Russell Spruill and Brenda Morris of Gorman spent Thanksgiving Day at the Catton Spruills in De Leon; on Sunday Truett, Pat, Rodney, and Russell Spruill and Brenda Morris spent the day with the Emery Morris.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Guy over the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. James Guy and Scott of Andrews; Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Guy and family of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Neta Guy of Andrews; Don Guy of Austin; Lavoda, Andy and Erin Tucker of Sweetwater and Dorothy Jackson.

Visiting with me over the holidays were Dale, Nancy, Darrell, Michael and Joshua Jackson of Sweetwater; Lavoda, Stan, Andy, and Erin Tucker of Sweetwater; Bob and Freddie Jackson of Odessa.

The Jr. High Basketball teams will play Sidney here Dec. 4th at 6:30 p.m., and Dec. 11 will play Lingleville there at 6:00 p.m.

High School will host Gordon Dec. 5 at 6:30 p.m. and Dec. 7, 8, 9 will play in the Cross Plains tournament.

COMMITMENTS

Each day should be an important day to take a look at yourself, to make some important commitments. The past is important because we learn from it. Someone said that experience is the best teacher. This is true most of the time. But no matter how good a teacher the past has been, there comes a point in life when we must let go of the past. We need to set our eyes firmly on the future and make a commitment to Christ. A very important commitment.

The Food Pantry Board Members will hold a meeting in the Bank Bldg. Monday, November 27 at 6:30 p.m. They will discuss the work of the Pantry and future projects. The public is encouraged to come out to the meeting.

ment for every Christian to take is that I am going to dedicate my life to a great cause and that cause is Jesus Christ. And I will do my best not to look back. Because nothing can be accomplished unless we are truly dedicated to Christ.

Commitment to Christ should not be taken lightly. Jesus calls us forward, not backward.

"I don't look back, God knows the fruitless efforts, the wasted hours, the sinning, the regrets. I leave them all with Him who blots the record and graciously forgives and forgets."

Look at the commitments you have made to God in the past. Are you moving forward for Christ in your spiritual life, or are you slowly moving backwards?

In Jesus Christ

How Many Lives Must Be Lost Before You Realize The Danger From Chimney Fires?
87,000 American residential fires related to chimneys were reported in 1987, and others went unreported. 110 people died, and $188.9 million in property damage was paid by insurance companies as a result. 50 percent of chimney fires are caused by build up in inserts. Fireplaces should be relined using the correct sized flue. A million fireplaces do not meet fire safety standards. And dirty chimneys are never safe. Please think before you use a fireplace without cleaning it or installing the correct sized flue. Your chimney and house may be a time bomb ready to explode, as a 1/16 inch coating of creosote is equal to 100 gal. of propane waiting to blow up your chimney. I am not the only chimney sweep, but I am Eastland County's most experienced.

Ruth Stewart, M.Ed.
Q. I have gone through a crisis recently and now I just feel broken, like "Is there any hope for me?" How can I overcome the grief and start the healing process?
A. Triumphant survivors think and behave in ways that lead to recovery. So can you.
-- You can establish positive memories, loving moments shared with others.
-- You can search for answers and find help from friends, family, experts, helping professionals, your church, books, healing activities, or support groups.
-- You can develop survival strategies such as dealing with pain in small segments.
-- You can make an early decision to go forward and actively reinvest in living.
-- You can learn to live with the past by getting whatever help is needed to face life squarely and to live in the truth.
-- You can examine events fully and acknowledge the full range of your emotions.
-- You can decide to grow in self-acceptance and take active steps in that direction.
-- You can remind yourself that prior to recovery it is necessary to deal first and fully with pain and that your healing process may take longer than you and most others may expect.
-- You may experience a crisis of faith and encounter feelings of terror and a continuing struggle, yet you can become aware that forward movement is taking place.
-- You can fight off and resist feelings of helplessness by deciding not to remain passive and powerless, engaging in active learning or decisive action when the time seems right.
-- You can leave encumbrances behind -- old resentments, grievances, axes to grind, remembered injustices -- the harbored memories that grow increasingly heavy. You can decide not to waste your life by permanently losing yourself in sorrow, defeat, anger, fear, or guilt.
-- You can listen to the rumblings of a need to forgive and choose the setting where a sense of peace can best be worked out within yourself or through interaction with another person.

Book Review By Hazel Taylor
At Eastland Library Thursday

Hazel Taylor, Eastland Civic, Church and Club worker, will give a Book Review in the Eastland Centennial Memorial Library Conference Room on Thursday, Nov. 30, 10:30 a.m. She will discuss the book "A Woman of Independent Means," by Elizabeth Forsythe Hailey, noted Texas author. The setting for this book is in Dallas, and the story goes from the early 1900's through two wars. The inspiration for the book came from the life of Mrs. Hailey's grandmother, with material gathered from letters written by the grandmother during her lifetime. The book ends with the death of the main character. Hazel Taylor was born and raised in Dallas, so has a special interest in this book. She also has a gift of making a book come alive for an audience, so this Review is expected to be interesting. The public is invited to come out and enjoy this special event at the library.

Important safety tips from Lone Star Gas

You can take comfort in Natural Gas.

Trusting gas for your home is a natural.
After all, Lone Star Gas Company has been faithfully serving its customers for more than 75 years. Through the years, we have worked to earn your trust by providing safe, dependable natural gas.

Do you know why gas has a strong odor?
Because we have added a harmless odorant to the gas that lets you know it's there. This is for your safety, so if you ever smell the strong odor of gas in your home,
follow these rules:

Since gas lines run underground, you should also take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to:

- 1 Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use your own telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity). Do not strike a match, and do not do anything that might cause a spark.
- 2 Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open for ventilation.
- 3 Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause before returning to your home.
- 1 Put in a new fence.
- 2 Install an underground sprinkler system.
- 3 Perform any major landscape renovation.

Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas office. If you smell a gas odor while you're outside, immediately contact Lone Star Gas.

In our continuing effort to provide better, safer service, local Lone Star Gas offices are ready to answer any questions that contractors may have concerning the location of gas lines in their areas.

The safety record for natural gas is impressive, and peace of mind is an important part of what natural gas has to offer. By following these simple rules, you can take even greater comfort in natural gas.
