There is a small 5-year-old boy at 710½ East 9th Street who is very unhappy. The only gift he received for Christmas was a small red scooter, and someone took it from his home last week. His mother said if whoever took the scooter returned it, no questions would be asked.

It's Girl Scout Cookie time again! The cookie sale will begin Friday, Jan. 12, and the girl scouts will be taking orders through Jan. 29. New this year is Cabana Cremes, vanilla and lemon creme sandwich cookies. They're good! We know from a personal taste test. The cookies continue to sell for only $2.00 a box.

Members of the Cisco Volunteer Fire Department will be stationed at intersections in Cisco Saturday, Jan. 13. They will be passing the boot for donations for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

During 1989, Cisco firemen responded to 186 service calls— 110 in the City of Cisco, and 76 in rural areas. These were not all fire calls but included calls for rescue, business and others. In 1988, 183 calls were responded to, 125 in Cisco and 58 rural.

A monthly log of calls is as follows:

- January— City 7, Rural 6.
- February— City 7, Rural 1.
- March— City 13, Rural 17.
- April— City 17, Rural 7.
- May— City 16, Rural 3.
- June— City 6, Rural 5.
- July— City 10, Rural 4.
- August— City 4, Rural 4.
- September— City 10, Rural 13.
- October— City 6, Rural 3.
- November— City 7, Rural 12.
- December— City 7, Rural 11.

The 88-89 budget was $94,100.00, averaging $752.80 per call.

Rollback Election Set Jan. 20 By Cisco Hospital District

The Cisco Hospital District has called for a rollback election to be conducted Saturday, January 20, 1990. The polling place will be located in the Corral Room at 400 Avenue D. The purpose of the rollback election is to vote on whether or not to reduce the adopted tax rate of .28000 to the rollback rate of .14135 per $100 of property valuation.

Absentee voting will be held at E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital January 2nd through 16th, 1990, Monday through Friday at 8 a.m.

Cisco City Council To Meet In Conference Room

Until further notice, the regularly scheduled meetings of the Cisco City Council will continue to be held in the Conference Room of the temporary City Hall at 116 West 6th Street. The Council meetings begin at 6 p.m. and anyone interested in attending these meetings should use the door on the west side of the building.

Need For Hospital Is Emphasized By Group

MYTH: If E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital should close, one can always go to Eastland, Abilene or Brownwood.

TRUTH: Don't bet on it! On New Year's weekend Hendrick Hospital was closed to admissions except for dire surgical or emergency cases. Humana had a waiting list of those seeking admission. Brownwood, Breckenridge, Snyder, Fisher County hospitals were filled to near capacity. Eastland's three clinics all had full waiting rooms. "Area hospitals are struggling to handle the unusually high numbers of patients." (Abilene Reporter-News, January 3 and 4).

And there isn't even an epidemic!

For over a year urban hospitals in densely populated areas where nearby rural hospitals have closed have closed admissions to people outside their district, leaving many, many people without hospital access. A critical shortage of nurses and the patient overload in such instances have thrown hospital care into chaos across the nation, and the crunch is now being felt in the Big Country at times. It has become increasingly evident that if one is to have available admission to a hospital, his best bet is his local hospital. And local hospitals have to be supported if they are to survive!

Support Your Hospital! Vote AGAINST tax roll back!

CHS Class Of 1980 To Hold Planning Meet

The Cisco High School Class of 1980 will hold a planning session for their 10-year reunion, according to a report.

The planning session will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 10, at Double Vision Restaurant.

Anyone interested in the reunion is encouraged to attend.

Former Cisco Resident Celebrates 100th Birthday With Party Dec. 28

Mrs. Emma Gilbert celebrated her 100th birthday December 28, 1989, with a birthday party in the chapel of Park Plaza Nursing Center in San Angelo.

Many birthday cards and messages were received, including one from President and Mrs. George Bush.

Mrs. Gilbert is the oldest daughter of the late Guy and Annie Brashear, and is the sister of Clint Brashear of Cross Plains, Ruby Ezzell of Rising Star, Altha Reese of Clyde and Paul Brashear of Cisco.

She was married to Harvey Gilbert, and their children are Eldon Gilbert and Teddie Herriman of San Angelo, and LaRue Rotramel of Edinburg.

Her husband, Harvey Gilbert, was a cowboy in his early years and a good one. He, his brother and a friend, John Lacy, broke horses to ride for pleasure and ranch work.

The Gilberts lived in Cisco until 1930. He was a car salesman for many years in Cisco, and continued as a salesman for some of the larger car dealers after moving to San Angelo until his death in November 1969.

Plans Announced For Establishing Manufacturing Concern In Cisco

Plans for the establishment of a manufacturing concern, RAM Industries, have been announced by People for Progress, a Cisco economic and civic booster group.

The new company, founded by current California residents, has made an agreement to purchase a local machine shop as the first step in the move to Cisco. The company is currently negotiating for a building suitable for its plant, which will manufacture products to be marketed to aero-space, medical and petroleum industries.

The process used by the company involves injection molding of composite materials which have applications in equipment currently using metal parts. The composites have qualities which exceed strength and weight factors of the metals they replace.

Negotiations with principals of RAM Industries have been pursued by People for Progress since October, and plans call for operation of the machine shop to begin in February, and injection molding manufacturing by late summer.

who spent last week in Cisco and area cities, said he was impressed with Cisco when he was a Texas resident, and had hoped to return to this area for some time. He expressed favorable impressions of Cisco public schools, Cisco Junior College, and E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital, all of which he visited during his stay.

The company will have marketing points nationwide, and hopes to employ as many as 40 plant workers within five years.

Citizens For Responsible Progress Quote From Rural Hospital Studies

According to Charles Bailey, Texas Hospital Association attorney. "While hospital taxing districts have rejuvenated some hospitals, others have shut down despite them." And according to Bailey, hospital taxing districts often just prolong the inevitable closing.

Russel Clarke, who studied four of hospital closures to earn his doctoral degree at Texas A&M, and is now a Texas Rehabilitation Commission research associate state, "People are not prepared to pay taxes to keep up hospitals every 35 miles". Clarke suggests rural communities set up emergency surgical centers or make trained medical staffs part of the local fire or police departments." It is unreasonable to expect to maintain the hospitals as they exist."

Hospital administrator Don Karl says, "I think the days of every podunk community having its own hospital are over."

Sam Raney, administrator of the Lone Star facility in Pines stated, "The federal government tried for years to establish rural health care services and they never got off the ground." Does this sound like we should wait for the federal government to bail us out? Raney said even with a hospital taxing district, a hospital cannot survive unless it also has another source of revenue, particularly patient revenue.

You see the reality is that our hospital cannot operate as it is presently. Regardless of how much we would like to have it. The reality is, even with the .28 tax it will not make it. The hospital budget for 1990 shows they will operate at a $254,000.00 loss that fiscal year even if they can achieve their projected revenue figures. They would have ten patients a day every day plus at least two emergencies every 24 hours for the entire year, and still operate at a loss. This is not good business or Responsible Progress.

The federal government is not coming to the aid of rural hospitals this year, next year, or any other year most likely. Look what happened to our farmers all over the nation, and growing our food seems more important than keeping hospitals open every ten miles in Eastland County. Jim Houdek, senior vice-president of health care finance for the Texas Hospital Association, says, "that even urban hospitals with federal programs are

Girl Scout Cookie Sale To Begin January 12

Brownwood, Texas, January 8, 1990 ... Cisco Girl Scouts will kick-off the annual Girl Scout cookie sale on January 12. The girls will be taking orders through January 29; then cookies will be delivered to customers from February 16 through February 26. Payment for cookies will not be accepted until cookies are delivered.

The cookies continue to sell for two dollars a box. There are seven delicious varieties including: Old-fashioned shortbread Trefoils, crunchy peanut butter Do-Si-Dos, chocolatey Thin Mints, deliciously different Samoas, peanut butter Tagalongs, honey glazed Chocolate Chip, and new this year Cabana Cremes - vanilla and lemon creme sandwich cookies.

The Girl Scout cookie sale is a major fund raising project held annually to help enable the important work of Girl Scouting to be carried out in our community. The sale provides a sound program experience for girls.

This year's cookie sale will encourage girls to "Discover the Treasures of Girl Scouting", as the funds raised provide troops with many opportunities that they could not otherwise afford. While Girl Scouting is lots of fun for each girl, it is also a growing and learning experience. The cookie sale is designed to help girls learn about a variety of areas including: sales techniques, money management, planning and goal-setting. Girls become more responsible by serving their customers, handling money, and planning what they will do with the profit. Through the cookies that each girl sells, she can earn her way to camp and other Girl Scout program events.

MORAN NEWS

By Mrs. Luke Huskey

Mrs. Mattie Hill Arnold will be honored with a reception on Saturday, Jan. 20, at the Moran Community Center on her 90th birthday. Hosting the reception will be her children, Mrs. Frances Green of Moran and son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hill of Austin and her grandchildren. All relatives and friends are invited. They request no gifts, please, just your presence. The time is 2 to 4 p.m.

The people in and around Moran are about to get thawed out from the big freeze that they had a few weeks back. Rain is still very much needed. Tanks for getting low on water, and the grain is not doing much growing, due to the extreme ly dry weather. Everyone is urged to be cautious with fire and are asked to not burn trash due to the danger of fires.

A number of people are ailing from colds in the area, but none serious. Let us hope that the flu escapes our area.

Melanie Mitchell of the U.S. Navy spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mitchell.

Not very much coming and going in Moran the past week. Guess everyone is recuperating from the Christmas and New Years Holidays.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Hud-man and grandchildren of Nebraska visited with his brother, William Hudman, and Mrs. Hudman recently.

Girl Scout Cookies

Weatherford, says that the cookie sale is much more than a simple fund raising activity. "As we begin our sale this year, we realize that we are carrying forward a tradition of quality-quality program for the girls in our communities and a quality product for the hundreds of thousand of customers who enjoy Girl Scout cookies each year," Smith said.

There are currently more than 86 girls in 7 troops in Cisco who are benefitting from the Girl Scout program. Volunteer leadership for the girls is provided by more than 20 adults in our community. Girl Scouts in Cisco are part of the Heart of Texas Council which serves more than thirty-five hundred members in central Texas.

While earning is a vital reason for the annual cookie sale, learning continues to be the value that takes precedence for the Girl Scout organization.

Girls establish their own sales goals. They have an opportunity to learn that: a well-known product whose quality is carefully controlled is easy to sell; customers appreciate courtesy, promptness and reliable delivery of goods; effort and initiative are rewarded by the incentives and awards system; the hard work of each member contributes to the shared success of all members in reaching program goals.

Girls take pride in earning their own way for special events, including summer camp. Camping facilities were built and are maintained through the cookie sale. Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council has operated a Lake Brownwood since 1956.

Planning and decision making, an important part of the Girl Scout program, are also an inherent part of the cookie sale. It offers girls an opportunity to set goals for a special project, to make worthwhile choices for the use of money, to establish and live within a budget, to be responsible for management of their own bank account.

According to president Smith, the Girl Scout cookie sale is not perceived by the public as just another fund drive for very good reasons.

"Girl Scouts have been selling cookies for more than fifty years. In a sense, we have raised our own market. Grown up Girl Scouts who are wives and mothers today have fond memories of their cookie selling days. They remember being scared to death to knock on that first door to make that first sale, and they remember that each new sale made them walk a little taller as they discovered friendly, interested, caring support of their Girl Scout aims," Smith said.

For more information about the Girl Scout Cookie Sale in our area, contact Janet Houshelt at 442-4823.

'Red River' At Majestic Theatre

The classic John Wayne film "Red River" will show at the Majestic Theatre in Eastland next Sunday, Jan. 14, and also on Tuesday, Jan. 16.

Sunday's showing will begin at 2 p.m., with Tuesday's at 7:30 p.m. Tickets will be $4, with season tickets also available.

"Red River," produced in 1948, is considered to be one of the best films John Wayne ever starred in. It actually has an all-star cast: besides Wayne there is Montgomery Cliff, Walter Brennan, Joanne Dru, Coleen Gray, John Ireland, Noah Beery Jr. and Harry Carey Jr. Director of the film was the noted Howard Hawks.

Based on original story by Borden Chase, the classic film tells how the Chisolm Trail was developed. Brawling in places, serious - the film is noted for splendid action sequences. The scenes are realistic, and probably give accurate pictures of what a cattle drive in North Texas was really like.

"Red River" is part of the Classic Film Series showing monthly at the Majestic. The Series will continue until the summer of 1990.

A Thought For The Day....

We all have heard the saying, "Today is the first day of the rest of your life." As long as we have life, each and every one of us must live within the confines of time-day-by-day. It is a precious possession. We can use it or we can waste it. At this very minute a life is being changed somewhere by someone or something, for better or worse. A hope is being born, a dream being shattered. Pleas are being heard, accepted and rejected. Things happen every day. This very minute, a part of today, will soon be gone. It can never be replaced. It can be used to advantage to bring happiness or it can be shunned aside to cause regret and faded hopes in the tomorrows to come. Yesterday is gone, there may or may not be a tomorrow. But we do have TODAY. A decision right now to write a letter, make a phone call, pay a visit, or whatever - can mean a lot to you and others on this - "The first day of the rest of your life..."

GUEST SLOT

(ED. NOTE: Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Newton of Eastland witnessed a historic event this holiday season on their fifth visit to Germany. This time they saw the opening of the boundary between the Germans and the crossings by the Germans from both sides. This is Mr. Newton's account of the moving event).

One of the high points of a Christmas holiday visit to our daughter and family in Frankfurt, West Germany was a trip to the recently opened border between East and West Germany.

On Dec. 28 we traveled northeast of Bad Vilbel, the village in which Mary and Michael Haley live, to Wackersbachon Autobahn 66, then on Highway 278 to Gunthers, which was the place where Highway 278 ended prior to the reopening of the border. The village is approximately one mile from the border. This border crossing is in a rural area of dairy and grain farms quite near Fulda and the Fulda Pass.

This pass through the mountains has long been considered a prime invasion route in case of hostilities between East and West.

We had seen much evidence of East German travel on this road. The little East German cars, Trabants, were numerous and very conspicuous. These little cars were easy to spot by their size, design and license plates. They were also a stark contrast to the sleek and powerful Mercedes and BMW automobiles of West Germany.

Foot traffic increased as we neared the border. Many of those on foot going west were carrying back packs and other means of carrying goods.

As we passed through the village of Tann, a village of approximately 8,000 people, three kilometers from Gunthers, we were struck by the number of people on the street and in the shops. By the way they were dressed, and by the large numbers, we concluded that most of these shoppers were East Germans.

Michael drove us through Gunthers and to the parking place on a farm road about 1/4 mile from the border. From here we walked through the edge of a field along the road to the border crossing. At the border crossing East German, West German and U. S. military personnel were checking visas and allowing both vehicle and foot traffic to pass.

The border at this point had

A Christmas tree stood at the corner of the guard house, a portable building, on the West German side. Signs of welcome lined the road.

One sign read "Open Borders, Open Hearts, Welcome."

Some West Germans had set up grills along the road and were passing out hot wurst and brotchen to those entering from the East. We got the feeling that there was much sentiment and emotion involved in the historic opening of the borders between a divided nation.

I will not try to make a judgment about the political and economic implications of the tearing down of the boundaries between the two parts of this divided nation. I only know that there must be a flood of emotion being released after almost a half century of imposed separation of two halves of a proud nation.

I thought of our own nation and how we might have felt if we had been separated at the Mississippi River for such a long time then allowed to freely cross again.

Ruth Stewart, M.Ed.

Q. Lately my husband and I have been having arguments, even over small mrrwea. He is depressed at times and so am i. We have been happy in the past, but now, we wonder if we can keep our marriage together. Do you have a word of hope?

A. If a relationship is not going well, it is easy to forget why you joined forces at all. You may feel tempted to feel sorry for yourself, complain, about your partner, and list your disappointments. You may even become negative and think the situation hopeless. You may think you should leave and that you are no longer obligated to be your best.

All partners should learn to trust the love between them and remember how wonderful it was to be in love. Sometimes when partners feel they are feeling out of love, they may want to give up before giving love a chance to prove itself.

Memory of the good times can be a strength. At the same time, however, do not allow the memory of happy times coat your anger with numbness. Permit yourself to feel disappointments and see your partner in clear focus. You can learn to accept and finally love the real persons you see.

A good relationship can bring you closer to yourself as well as to the person you love. This makes you more loveable.

consisted of a fence of concrete posts and chain link wire about eight feet high. A gap about 300 feet wide had been bulldozed in the fence and a new road constructed from the end of 278 to the road on the east side. The border was further marked by a line of white posts and red and white plastic about 100 meters west and parallel to the fence. We presumed this marked a "no man's land." both the fence and the markers itself was marked by flags and a general air of celebration.

Texas Gas Production Increased In October

Railroad Commission Chairman Kent Hance announced that Texas oil and gas wells produced 457,118,507 Mcf (thousand cubic feet) of gas in October, compared to the September gas production total of 438,178,660 Mcf. October's production was down three percent compared to October 1988's production of 471,678,212 Mcf.

The state's top producing counties, rank ordered by preliminary October production were: Pecos, 26,724,693 Mcf; Webb, 24,196,041 Mcf; Zapata, 23,330,434 Mcf;

Panola, 13,896,891 Mcf; Hidalgo, 13,594,557 Mcf; Crane, 12,856,603 Mcf; Hemphill, 9,407,440 Mcf; McMullen, 9,143,781 Mcf; Crockett, 8,168,155 mcf; and Moore, 7,350,291 Mcf.

Texas gas production in October came from 185,763 oil wells and 46,055 gas wells. Gas production in Eastland County for October is listed as 1,251,074 mcf. Callahan County produced 352,917 during the same month. These figures are expected to rise as reports from November and December come in.

Community Colleges Move Quickly To Prepare Texas Workforce

Texas is facing tremendous challenges in its anticipation of the next century. No longer can the state be characterized or considered a state based on an energy economy. The oil bust changed significantly the state's economy and even if energy-based industry makes a startling return, the face of the Texas economy has shifted drastically and permanently.

According to Dr. Raymond M. Hawkins, president of the Texas Public Community College Association representing the state's 49 public community colleges, the changing economic currents ride on a diversified, flexible workforce; one that is capable of moving quickly to accommodate technological breakthroughs whenever they find commercial application.

"One component of Texas' public education system is especially well suited to respond quickly to those rapid changes in the workplace—the state's community-junior colleges," he said.

"We have to be responsive because part of our technical-vocational education mission is that we provide opportunities to students so they can make informed occupational choices, develop employability traits and acquire or refine marketable skills," Hawkins said.

Across the state, two-year institutions are taking an active role in economic development. Most community colleges now have or sponsor small business development centers or business assistance centers. Most work in close partnership with private sector businesses and industry to train employees in new work skills, thereby helping existing and new companies remain competitive in light of breakthrough technologies and fluctuating market conditions.

In 1986, Arlington was faced with the possible loss of its largest employer, the General Motors Assembly Plant. But Tarrant County Junior College rapidly responded to a call for assistance, along with GM and the United Auto Workers, to retrain more than 3,500 workers in a new management concept, TEAMS, a concept of quality circles. The concept turned out to be a model for other GM assembly plants and was a prime factor in the local economy.

In 1987, the Hoover Corporation indicated an interest in locating a facility in El Paso. They visited the city and toured the Advanced Technology Center at El Paso Community College. The next year, Hoover relocated in El Paso, due in large part to the presence of the Advanced Technology Center and the ready availability of its customized technical training programs.

On the other side of the state, Del Mar College in Corpus Christi is training welders from various refineries in FIG (Tungsten Inert Gas) welding. Del Mar discovered that these companies were in need of TIG welders but there were not enough at the skill level required. Del Mar's training program means that these companies can use local workers, not those from out of state.

Wharton County Junior College has developed the Center for Economic Development to serve the business, industrial and economic needs of its service area. The center's primary project, a Business Retention and Expansion program, identifies developmental needs of existing businesses through personal interviews and a data base survey. A Dislocated Workers Program assists businesses placing and relocating workers in the event of furloughs or plant closings.

Personnel from Austin Community College serve on the Austin Business Expansion and Retention Program Start-Up Committee. And, the College's Business and Technology Center has conducted a series of Small Business Start-Up and Computer Training Programs that helped displaced workers from Westinghouse find new job opportunities.

The decision to stay in Tyler and modernize the plant hinged on the commitment of Tyler Junior College to provide required educational assistance because the conversion required that all 1,400 K-S employees in Tyler have the high-tech skills needed to operate the state-of-the-art manufacturing plant.

In Waco, the McLennan Community College's heart of Texas Business Resource Center, a "one-stop" assistance center, offers services to prospective and current owners and managers of small businesses. Organizations housed in the center include a Small Business Incubator, McLennan Community College Small Business Development Center, SCORE and the Heart of Texas Government Contract Resource Center.

The Dallas County Community College's Bill J. Priest Institute for Economic Development is a $7.8 million complex that houses a diverse, yet complementary, array of programs specifically designed to serve broad-based constituency needs of Dallas County residents—from the disadvantaged to the corporate manager and executive. The complex is building a solid foundation by helping create jobs, training workers, eliminating potential social welfare costs and providing upward mobility for workers.

"The bottom line of economic development is the construction of an economy that is not based on one industry or a few skills," Hawkins explained. "Economic development relies on the premise that to be successful, we must have a trained and motivated workforce that easily adapts to oscillation."

The workforce of today is entirely different than that of 50 years ago. One way of looking at the difference, suggests George Gallup, Jr. in "Forecast 2000", is to compare the unemployed worker of today to the unemployed of the Depression. Laid-off workers during the Depression could always cling to the hope they would eventually be recalled once the economy heated up again. But unemployed workers today are in a different situation—jobs they held may never come into existence again, making the acquisition of new skills a must if those workers are to become marketable again.

"Taking that unemployed person and turning him or her into a worker with highly marketable skills with a quick turnaround is just one way in which public community-junior colleges respond," Hawkins said.

WCTCOG To Host One Day Conference

Providing Products or services for the Superconducting Super Collider (SSC) Project is one of many topics to be addressed during a one day conference on January 18, 1990. Janetta Coats with the Texas National Research Laboratory and representatives from the SSC Laboratory will be among the speakers for the "More Business for your Business" Government Procurement Conference, according to Kathy Hawkins of the Government Contract Procurement Center, Coordinator for the one day session.

Hawkins said the Government Contract Procurement Center assists businesses and industry in doing business with the government. Of course one way to help business is by being involved with Conferences such as this. The procurement Center is one of several sponsors for the event. Other sponsors include Congressman Charles Stenholm, the West Central Council Of Governments, The Private Industry Council of West Texas, The State Purchasing & General Services Commission, The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the Texas Department of Commerce. Small Business Division are also co-sponsors of this exciting program.

Procedures differ when selling to state, local and federal governments. Area business and industry will have an opportunity to hear presentations about selling to governments agencies as well as visit one-on-one with the speakers and agency representatives during the one day conference to be held at Embassy Suites.

Eleven state agencies will have representatives available for the one-on-one consultations. These include the State Department of Highways and Transportation, Department of Criminal Justice Institutional Division, Department of Human Services, Federal Government Agencies include Dyess, Reese, and Goodfellow Air Force Bases and Small Business Administration.

The meeting will be held at Embassy Suites, Abilene, Texas beginning at 8:00 a.m. and ending at 4:00 p.m. Pre-registration for the conference is $15.00 and reservations are necessary and can be obtained by contacting the Government Contract Procurement Center at (915) 672-8582.

TEEN NOW!

THEN: A musical genius with an amazing talent, Mozart was born on January 27, 1756. He learned to play the harpsichord at the age of four and had composed many sonatas for the harpsichord, piano or the violin as well as orchestral works before he reached the age of 14!

NOW: One doesn't have to be a musical genius today to play synthesizers that can make an entire orchestra of sounds. One of these, the Yamaha YS200, is reported to be the newest professional synthesizer available to the general public. This easy to use keyboard even records and plays back. Safe Driving Tips from Rhonda Effects of drugs on driving: Over-the-counter drugs can cause serious problems for the driver. As I have previously mentioned, non-prescription drugs can cause drowsiness and this affects driving in a serious manner. Some of these are: Antihistamines (Benadryl), cold preparations (Nyquil), and any medicine that induces sleep such as Nytol. Many people are unaware that over-the-counter sleeping aids contain Diphenhydramine which is the major component in Benadryl. Be cautious in consuming non-prescription drugs and mixing them with driving.

Music Club Holds Past Presidents' Luncheon Founders Day Observance

Seven past Presidents of the Eastland Music Study Club enjoyed a Luncheon and Founders Day Observance at the Women's Clubhouse on Jan. 3.

Hostess of the Luncheon was Joyce Hewett, one of the Past Presidents. Others attending were Virginia Russell, a current President as well as a past one, and Billye Bradley, Adeline Meredith, Millie Sayre, Emily Perkins and Pauline Lee.

Harriet Motter of Breckenridge was a special guest at the Past President's Assembly. Mrs. Motter, pianist and teacher, talked to the Music Club leaders about her Choral Group in Breckenridge.

Later, at a General Meeting of the Club, she discussed the possibility of Music Club members forming a Choral Group in Eastland.

Emily Perkins also gave a talk at the Past President's Luncheon. She told about some of the first Music Club leaders in Eastland, and reminded everyone that the Club will celebrate its 70th birthday next month.

Mrs. Perkins had suggestions on expansion of Music Club work in the future. She, with other Past Presidents, discussed ways the Club could further assist music students in the schools - many of whom are taking private lessons.

The General Meeting began at 2:30 p.m., with President Virginia Russell in charge. A number of the officers gave reports. Frances Bishop, Chairman of the "Friends of Music," reported that 17 people had joined this group. She said there was still time this season to invite friends to join this auxiliary. Some very fine programs are still scheduled, ranging from American Music in February through Band concerts and classical music.

Treasurer Helen Lund reported that the Music Club had made a contribution to the Scholarship Fund in honor of Helen Osburn, Librarian, civic leader and Music Club member. Viola Payne gave a tribute to Helen Osburn, telling of her devotion to literature, music and the community.

Along with the reports and discussions were selections from American composers - a preview of the celebration of the Parade of American Music in February. Harriet Motter played piano selections from George Gershwin, and Viola Payne played a number on the violin.

Announcements were made of the American Music programs. The first will be on Feb. 7, and will consist of music by local composers. Ruth York of Cisco will lead out with this program. The Club will also celebrate its 70th Anniversary on this date.

On Feb. 21 the Weeks family - Texas Champion Fiddlers - will bring a special program to the Music Club. Plans are for them to be accompanied by Raymond Hart and Al Anderson.

After these announcements refreshments of cake and coffee were served to the members by Joyce Hewett and the other Past Presidents. A number of members stayed to visit after the adjournment.

Friends
by Bob Harbin
As we journey alone life's roadway

The joy and blessing we receive

May come from a stranger
Who's waiting across the street.

So let us not forget our brother
As down life's road we go
If we can ease another's burden
It may help to ease our own.

When we first meet a stranger

Who may turn out to be a friend
With the Lord's help and blessing
That friendship may never end.

So let's not forget our neighbor

In all the work that we do
The Lord gave us a commandment
Love one another as I have loved you.

So when the roll is called up yonder
And life flashes before our eyes
Can we say we helped our brother.
Or did we just pass him by.

Rural Residents Complain To County Commissioners Of Road Conditions

An agenda item on rural road and bridge conditions led to a heated discussion at County Commissioners Court Monday.

Sandra Lyerla spoke for a group citizens in the Courtroom, stating that they were very dissatisfied with road conditions south of Eastland in Pct. 1.

"The rub-board roads have reached the point where they are tearing up cars," Mrs. Lyerla said. "Hub caps bounce off, cars go in ditches, and the other day a new car shut down in the road in front of my house."

She said that she was unable to reach Pct. Comm. Richard Robinson, so she complained to Judge Bailey. After that some of the roads were graded, with a definite improvement. She wondered why this couldn't be done on a regular basis.

Truman Gregory also spoke on the road situation, saying that he had traveled over the state, and "I must say we have the worst roads of any county I have ever been associated with."

He said he knew of some poor counties which had good roads. "We need to address the problems we have in all of our county...get some people in here and try to work with that. We need to settle down and start addressing how we can have roads we can live with. We need permanency instead of band-aids."

Ken Lyerla said he wanted to commend Judge Bailey for keeping his temper down when called on this problem. He added that Norman Christian, Comm. of Pct. 2, has proven on the Staff road that rural roads can be kept up during dry times.

Lyerla added that he ran butane trucks around the area, and noted that Brown County had good rural roads. He said that any one of the caliche road in Brown County was better than Main Street in Eastland.

L.T. Owen, Commissioner of Pct. 3 (adjoining Brown County) reminded the Court that Brown County had some good crushed rock. When he tried to buy some, Owen said, "They put weight signs up to keep me from hauling it out of their County."

Various Commissioners discussed their current problems with the roads. Richard Robinson said he was aware that the roads were in bad shape, especially around Mangum and the road by Grandpa's Smokehouse, south of Spur 490. But he said it was almost impossible to grade the roads properly with no moisture - and the last real rain on those roads had been in July.

He said he had only two people hired to work on the roads, and no extra money for equipment and workers. He also said the condition of the road depended a lot on what kind of traffic used them. There was a lot of truck traffic on the worst roads in his Precinct, he added.

Billy Bacon, Comm. of Pct. 4, said that when you graded a dry road it lasted about three days. He said he was continuing to grade some rub-board roads, however.

Norman Christian mentioned that he had been hauling water and putting on the roads in Pct. 2 so he could grade them.

Bacon half-jokingly replied that as low as Lake Cisco was, he thought he'd better not ask to pull any water out of there for the rural roads!

L.T. Owen said that roads in his area were rough, and "There's nothing we can do about it." He added that although people in other parts of the county had been given some road-building material, all he had been offered in his part of the county was sand!

Commissioner Robinson told the citizens from his Precinct that he would set up a regular schedule for road-grading, whether conditions were right or not.

The court went on to other matters. Commissioner Billy Bacon reported 15 prisoners currently in the County Jail, with everything going well.

"The jail is as clean as any place I ever saw," he said. "It is due to be inspected by the State Jail Standards Commission on Feb. 20, and I don't see any reason why it won't pass."

During the morning the Commissioners drew names of people who will be asked to serve on a salary grievance committee. They are Clara Matthews of Ranger, Phillip Arther of Eastland, and Gordon White of Carbon. The alternates are Darrell Criswell of Carbon and Glen Swift of Eastland.

Other agenda items included Emergency Planning Management for the County.

The Commissioners agreed to leave matters as they stand on this. Each Commissioner will continue to work with the Rural Fire Department in his precinct, and inside the cities each City Government is responsible for Disaster Management.

On another matter, the Commissioners agreed there was a need for a Government Livestock Feeding Program for the county. Prolonged dry weather has depleted ranges and ruined any chance of winter grazing on cropland. Judge Bailey agreed to draft a letter of agricultural agencies with a request for such a program.

Baylor Spring Break In Abilene Set January 11

Dr. Rosalie Beck, assistant professor of religion at Baylor University, will be the featured speaker during the Baylor Spring Rally at 7 p.m. Thursday, January 11, 1990, at Pioneer Drive Baptist Church, 701 South Pioneer Drive, in Abilene.

The annual rally, sponsored by the Baylor Parents League (BPL) in the Northwest Houston area, is designed for prospective Baylor students and newly admitted students and their families, parents of Baylor students, BPL members and high school counselors. The meeting is free and open to the public.

BPL is a partnership between parents and Baylor, according to Bobby D. Schrade, director of school relations and parents league. "The league keeps parents vitally linked to the life of the university," Schrade said. "It is a vehicle by which parents can work to provide the kind of college life they want for their sons and daughters."

Through the spring rallies, Baylor contacts outstanding students. Current Baylor students also will participate on the program.

Topics of discussion will include preparation for university study in high school, academics, faculty costs, admissions, orientation, advisement, registration, housing and student life.

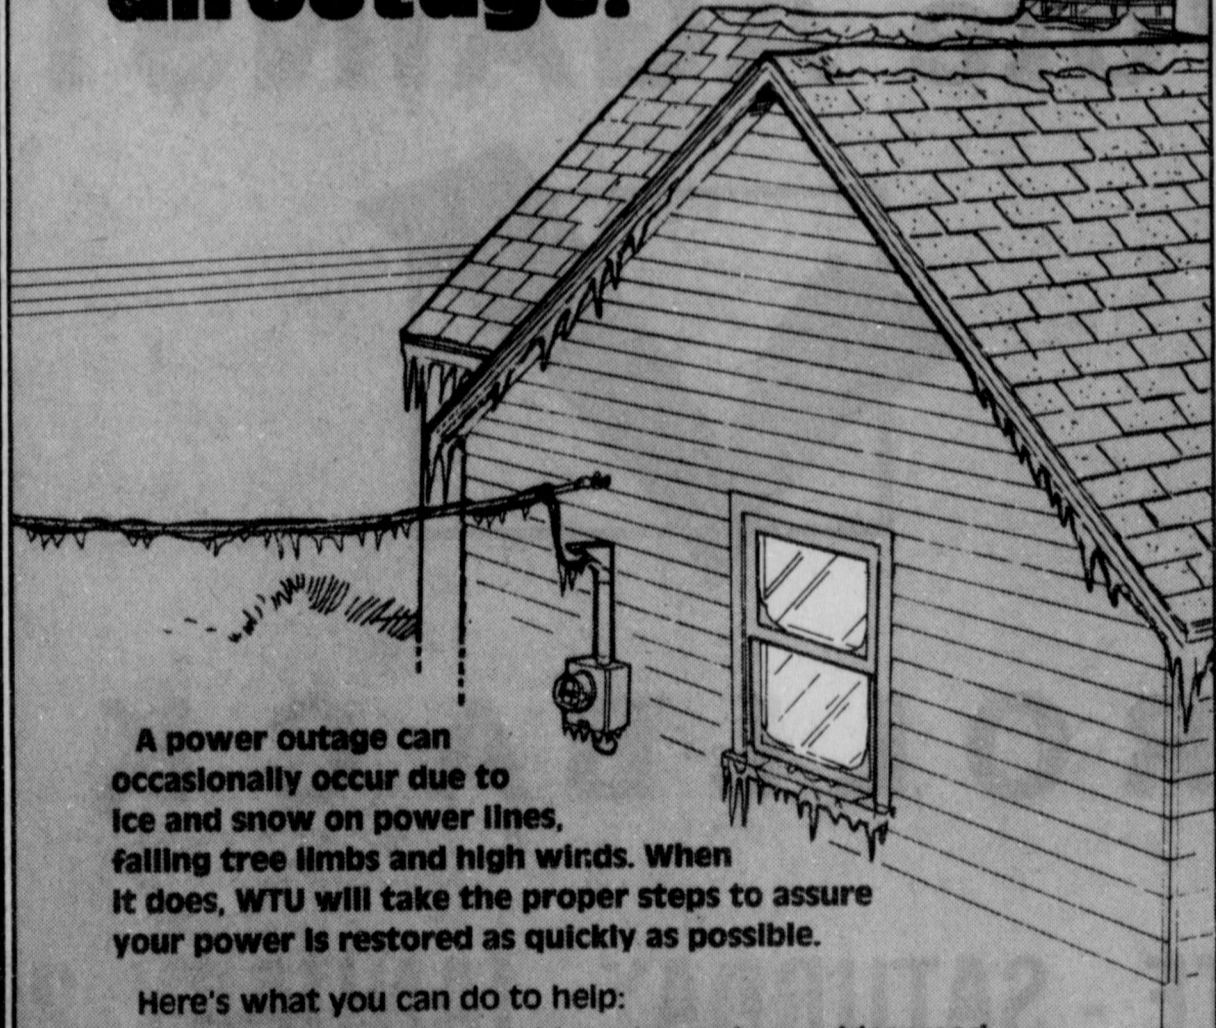

Each summer, the BPL invites parents of current and newly admitted students to join the league. The annual $10 membership fees go directly to the BPL Scholarship Endowment Fund. Parents also may make designated gifts to any phase of Baylor through BPL.

League members receive a subscription to a university publication, a university activities calendar and a newsletter.

We don't always realize how much we depend on electricity until we're faced with an outage!

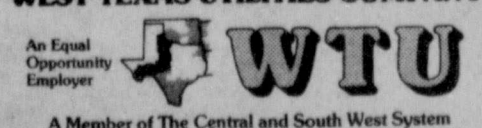

A power outage can occasionally occur due to ice and snow on power lines, falling tree limbs and high winds. When it does, WTU will take the proper steps to assure your power is restored as quickly as possible.

Here's what you can do to help:

- Check with your neighbors to see how widespread the outage is.
- Check your breaker box if your house is the only one affected.
- Call your local WTU office if the trouble is not on your side of the meter.

beginning to lose money." The Bush administration is cutting Medicare payments to Texas hospitals by $48 million dollars in the Medicare program, but Congress held the reduction to $2.8 billion. Congressional officials, meanwhile, say the Office of Management and Budget is seeking far deeper cuts in Medicare spending on hospitals next year as it attempts to trim the deficit. Does this sound to you like we can expect help to keep our hospital open. When a large part of our patients are on Medicare. If they did not bail out the farmers are they going to bail us out. Maybe if we could claim a connection to General Motors. Texas has had 110 hospital failures over the past decade, including 19 last year and another 12 this year. At least two or three others in shaky condition including ours, and the state could end up with 15 more this year. More than 50 Texas counties now have no hospital, and we are concerned because we don't have one in every city in this county. Face the facts vote for Tax Rollback, January 20, 1990.
