"I can't believe it.' stated one of the members of the Senior Center when she heard Dr. Terry A. Treadwell Sr., play the various Christmas hymns by playing a carpenter's saw. This unusual presentation was welcomed by the people who heard it and they were so ap-preciative of Mrs. Treadwell accompanying the doctor by playing the piano.

As usual it was a "merry time" when the Clyde Brymer band played at the Center. Mr. and Mrs. Priest accompanied Brymer. There will be a special presentation December 29 by this band and many others. Announcments will be made in regard to this program in the future.

What will be happening in the future at the Senior Center?

The famous Star Bright Band from Rising Star will make an appearance this week. This band became regionally known when they made an appearance on television.

The Spiritual Singer, Ernie Johnson, accompanied by Mae Green will be singing this week. This singer puts feeling into the songs that few people can do...and is always welcomed to the Senior Center.

buildings. Initially, workmen are concerned with the roof of the building at 4th Street and Avenue D. The windows were boarded up as work began on the roof. Dr. Petrini said that it would likely be early summer before a general contract is let on building work.

Plans call for the building's understructure to be replaced with steel, the architect said. Then, the walls will be renovated and restored, preserving the appearance in every possible way. An elevator will be installed to carry traffic to the top or second floor. The plans as prepared by the UofH

Mr. Petrini said the owners of other Cisco buildings might want to consider the importance of their old structures to the history of the region. He suggested a study of the community's historical assets with the possible view of having the entire city designated eventually as a historical site. He added that the UofH architecture department might be available for advice. "I urge that any work on Avenue D buildings be done in a manner that the historical value of the property will not be destroyed or damag-ed." Mr. Petrini said. "You have many noteworthy landarchitecture departmarks." Mr. Petrini said that grants are available from the government for restoration of historically significant buildings and projects. Cisco's City Hall should never have its appearance changed, he said. He pointed to other buildings on Avenue D "with real historical value." Several Cisco churches have landmark and historical value, he added. "Don't change the appearance of these buildings -- restore them," Mr. Petrini urged. He complimented Eris Ritchie on the work he has done on the old service station building at 3rd and Avenue D. He applauded the work that Cisco Junior College has been doing on the old Laguna Hotel. He urged "don't ever do away with your brick streets." Lion Winston Heidenheimer was program chairman and introduced Dr. Petrini. Guests included Vic Verett, Kirby Fears, Mrs. Winston Heidenheimer, Mr. and Mrs. Morris White, Mrs. Chief Brown, Kenneth Eaves and Jim Reeves. AARP-Eastland will be holding their "pot luck" supper at the First Christian Church Friday evening. As Cisco, this chapter will be installing their new officers.

Circle the calendar ... December 24 ... the Senior Center will be closed in preparation for Christmas Day.

Did you notice the Senior Center won first and second places in the Christmas parade? The 1948 Studebaker, entered by Chief Bender, decorated with the slogan "Senior Center A Place of Action" was awarded second place in its category. The 80 Plus Club won first place in a special division. The 80 Plus Club car was driven by Mrs. Sara Hinchey.

The Christmas dinner will be on December 21, at 11:30 a.m. All those 60 years of age or older are invited to the luncheon. It is requested that reservations be made by calling the Senior Center, 442-1557, or 442-2263, or Jo Phillips, 442-3625.

First United Methodist Decorates Chrismon Tree

The First United Methodist Church has decorated a Chrismon Tree. A Chrismon Tree is an evergreen adorned only with early Christian symbols and monograms. These have been carefully created in shapes of crosses, crowns, anchors, doves, fish, candlesticks, lambs, chalices, butterflies and others by the ladies of the church of white and gold; white felt decorated with white and gold beads, sequins and braid. White is the litergical color of Christmas and refers to the Lord's purity. The gold speaks of His majesty and glory. Early Christians us-these monograms to identify themselves to one another, to designate meeting places of the church, and to show unbelievers where they stood. These symbols or monograms served as a means of transmitting the faith and beliefs of the early Christians. They were a very important teaching tool. They brought inspiration that was shared and gave occasion for passing on a witness. They were found originally on jewelry, utensils, doors of homes and meeting places and in the catacombs of Rome where they served to identify the activities and beliefs of those who lived or gathered in that particular place.

Untold hours and loving care have gone into the creation of these Chrismons. Each represents a faithful creative expression of love and devotion to the Master they symbolize. Their creation has brought meaning to those who made them.

Green Thumb Workers Attend Seminar

Over 100 Green Thumb workers and sponsors from twelve surrounding counties recently attended a training seminar at the Comanche Senior Center.

The group was welcomed by Comanche City Manager, John Beaty, and entertained by Green Thumb worker, Inez Gaines. Other Green Thumb workers. Mamie Hedgpeth and Margaret Mabra, provided blood pressure checks for the workers attending the seminar.

Jimmie Roberts. Heartland Insurance Company Agent. spoke to the group concerning tips on buying insurance. Lorene Wilson, Green Thumb worker, explained how to beat inflation when buying Christmas presents.

Green Thumb On-the-Job Specialist, Mike Pritchard, Waco, discussed the on-thejob training program. Texas Green Thumb, a federal employment oppor-

The pecan crop was disappointing in Eastland County this year. Most trees set a large crop in the spring, but dry weather in late summer and fall prevented the pecans from properly maturing. As a result, we have a lot of light poorly filled pecans. There are also some good quality pecans available. If you had a chance to see our Pecan Show, you will agree that there were some good pecans produced.

OUR MARKET ANALYSIS. YOUR HOME'S VALUE BASED ON WISDOM, NOT WHIM.

Knowledge and experience. The two most important factors in pricing your home to sell, at a price that makes it worthwhile.

At CENTURY 21 we compare the location, size, condition, and improvements of your property to the price of homes recently sold, those currently for sale, and those homes that did not sell, perhaps because of inflated price-tags. What emerges is a competitive price range and a selling price that may pleasantly surprise you.

Ask us for a Market Value Certificate." Something far better than an emotional opinion-a professional evaluation based on facts.

IN A noble effort to provide a concise, all-inclusive roundup of Eastland County basketball action, Sports Writer Richard Kurklin put together an excellent ROUNDBALL ROUNDUP page to be published in all the papers. It's an excellent idea that the readers, and particularly the students, appreciate because we're all so closely linked in the winloss records of our neighbors. (We'll all be in the same district next year.) Advertisers liked the idea and pledged their support. Problems began to develop when coaches failed to get their reports in on time. There's always been a bit of an in-house joke, that we hear when there's a win, but silence, otherwise. After the holidays we hope to re-start Roundball Roundup.

LET'S HOPE that it isn't a good or slow, you have to paper advertising puts get your share of whatyou at a disadvantage at ever business is around. the very moment you need an edge.

2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from newspaper advertising. Yours--or somebody else's. 3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? WRONG. You're in competition for the consumer's dollar with every other retailer in town, no matter what he sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.

4. "Slow" times ahead? Perhaps, but there are more Americans working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend time for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share -- and yours. 5. You can't do much about most factors in the marketplace -- rent, labor costs, price of merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.

6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent newspaper advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you will find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over. 7. Your local newspaper advertising is part of your sales force. Ads help to pre-sell the customer and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves money. 8. You say your customers know you and for a while at least they'll keep coming in even if yo don't promote. That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, a corresponding influx of new people who don't know you at all. Tell them about vourself. 9. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average. 10. Advertising is "news" -- about products and services. Most shoppers look for this kind of news in the pages of the newspaper. In plush times, retailers often

experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in newspapers because they provide an immed-

PO To Give Exams

Postmaster Marcus O'Dell announced today that clerk and carrier exams to establish an updated job register will be given in the early part of 1980 and urged that all interested apply to take the job-related tests that can lead to postal service employment. "We have not opened our register recently and an examination of it revealed that many of the names on the register are people who have moved or for some reason are no longer available to take postal jobs", Mr. O'Dell said.

"I do not want to give the impression we will be hiring great numbers of people in the coming months," the postmaster said. "I cannot anticipate when vacancies will occur that will be filled by hiring people from our up-dated register. We need qualified people who will be willing to accept employment, and we want to offer people in the local community the chance to compete for these openings by signing up for and taking the exams.

The postmaster said the postal service established the policy sometime ago of extending eligibility indefinitely for those on the job register because little hiring was being done. Anyone who had been on the job register for two years prior to October

8. 1978 lost their eligibility. They will have to reapply to compete for a standing on the new register," he said.

Sunday, December 16, 1979 What others are saying...

This unit comprises the following cities: Abilene,

"Well, that's the way it goes ... at least that's what they said." "Who said?'

'You know ... they did!"

"What did they say?"

"Oh, I don't really know, but I heard they said it."

'When did they say it?' "I dunno.'

"Where did they say it?"

"Look, don't ask me. I just thought you would be interested in what they said' Have you heard a conversation like this lately? I have. Have you been a party to conversation like this? I hope not.

It seems that ever so often we limit our understanding of an issue to what "they" said. We do so without knowing by what authority, knowledge of the Issue or purpose "they" had in mind-even if "they" actually ever said it.

Our nation is faced with an issue that could threaten the very fabric of our culture, our economic well-being, our future. Our citizenry will be required to understand, discuss and decide this issue in the near future. We cannot determine our fate with a "they said so" approach. It will require our being more than "hearers" only. We must be listeners, identifying our sources of information, their objectives and purpose. In so doing, we will better understand and be prepared to consider the impact of any right or wrong decision.

The issue is Compulsory National Health Insurance legislation. The decision-the defeat of any such proposal.

Can it be defeated or are we to be led to believe that no one is opposed, other than Farm Bureau? Take heart, readers. The real "they" are saying things we should know as we discuss the issue. Their comments are based on fact, sound policy and staunch member support. They need to be listened to and then guoted.

"Our 585,000 members have been polled on the issue of national health insurance, as well as mandatory catastrophic health insurance, and their views are clear. They oppose any compulsory national health insurance plan-be it comprehensive or catastrophic only." - National Federation of Independent Business (10/5/79).

Here is another ... "Any mandatory plan, even if limited, being considered today, no matter how appealing, would only be a foot in the door for the federal government. Once implemented it would be liberalized and expanded in every election year until it became cradle to grave coverage as is being advocated by some of the politicians today." — R.C. Ellis, executive vice president, Mutual of Omaha (10/5/79).

Frightening isn't it, to think that the ebb and tide of political interests could spawn even more in years to come?

What are doctors saying? Read on, Reader, read on.

The trap...all nationalized catastrophic health insurance legislation would establish the principle for the first time that the federal government assumes responsibility for a part of almost everyone's medical care cost, regardless of need. This will lead to increased costs, decreased quality and rationing of care. This is a catastrophe-not insurance. We believe the Congress must stop feeding any more of the peoples' earnings to the bureaucratic octopus." - Association of American Physicians and Surgeons (9/1/79).

Here's another ... "The Society of American Florists, whose members support the American free enterprise system, supports the contention that every American citizen is entitled to receive medical and health care aid. However, it is believed that this service can be best rendered within the framework of the free enterprise system and based on the traditional employer employee relationship." - Society of American Florists, board of directors (10/16/75).

All Farm Bureau members need to be aware of the time facts. We must know we do not stand alone, regardless of what "they" say. The real "they" are all of our allies; those governmental leaders "with their heads on right," and our own Farm Bureau leadership.

So that you can know what others are saying, look for their comments in future issues of Farm Bureau News.Keep your copies handy and then the next time someone says, "Oh, you know what they're saying," comment, "Yes, I do." Then read them the facts.

For The Men Who Succeed

Way Back in the Early 20's our predecessors and in the Middle 40's

....We started out in the abstract business in Eastland County. Then, as now, the abstract was a necessary part of every real estate transaction. We soon learned that an abstract was something more than a bundle of pages with numbers on them. Even more important today, it must not only be accurate, responsible and reavealing, but it must be a quality product of completeness prepared to stand the most thorough and critical title examinations.

Unity is the stronghold of the family. The well-united family will always be together, if not physically then mentally. Each of its members will be close to one another and help each other out in times of need.

Family unity reaches deeper than just "being together." It means sharing ideas and feelings with the ones who love you and the ones whom you love. It means caring and giving, not worrying about what you'll receive in return. It means that when someone makes a mistake he won't be criticized. Instead he'll be helped so as to avoid making the same mistake again.

During the Christmas holiday the family is united even closer. It is a time when everyone realizes how much everyone means to them. It is a time when everybody remembers the Holy Family and how few possessions they had except for the most important one of all - UNITY.

It was Abraham Lincoln who said, "A house divided against itself cannot stand." Yes, unity is an important element in which the family needs to survive.

Petrini, noted architect in charge of the Mobley Hilton restoration project here, made a talk here the other day might be interpreted as a challenge to Cisco - a challenge to take steps to preserve buildings and places of historical significance.

When it is completed, the Hilton (Mobley) Memorial will be a real tourist attraction. And it might be timely for the Chamber of Commerce and the city to consider using the beginning of the Hilton project as the time to commence a general Cisco historical project.

A good many cities of our state and nation have ordinances that prohibit demolition or changes in old buildings with approval. Granbury is an example of what a small town can do. It seems timely that Cisco consider this and take full advantage of what the Hilton project is sure to mean to the community.

WHILE WE'RE editorializing, let us put in our two cents worth about the Iran situation. A lady federal judge has ruled that the USA cannot deport Iranian students - it would violate their constitutional rights. We suspect that the lady judge was (1) using her court and decision to focus publicity on a woman jurist; and (2) not too informed or concerned about the best interests of the USA

Iranian students are guests in the USA, and they should remember that and act as guests - not as troublemakers. What would happen if a Texas student sat down on the steps of a city hall in Tehran and began a fast in protest to something?

Mr. Weldon Ussery of Eastland talked about Iran at the Cisco Rotary Club luncheon last Thursday noon. ATTRACTIVE Nativity

Street, you'll see the office of Central Masonry, Inc. It might interest you to know that the office is the place of business of a company owned by two Cisco High School graduates that has grown into a pretty big firm in two years. The company is owned by Kerry Nelms and Dan H. Wilks. Central Masonry is engaged in all kinds of masonry work, principally with brick and tile. They employ some 40 men and right now they have a number of big jobs going on, including a hospital at McKinney, a new high school building in Arlington Heights at Fort Worth, a high school at Glen Rose, a huge Dillard's store building at Odessa, and a church at Cross Plains.

The firm does small jobs in the Cisco area still, including brick homes, fireplaces and the like Mr. Nelms is the son of

Sunday To Be Special Day At United Methodist

Sunday will be a special day for the United Methodist of Cisco. Everyone is invited to join them for a special day of remembering what Christmas is all about. Both the morning and evening service will be celebrated with special activities. During the 10:50 a.m. service at the First United Methodist Church the youth and adult choirs will combine to present a special program of Christmas music. This will be used as a part of the regular worship service. The children will present a program during the 6:00 p.m. service. They will, in their way, tell the Christmas story. Immediately following the service the children will have a Christmas party. Immediately following the evening service all are invited to open house at the parsonage. The address is 806 Ave. H.
