Longoria Home

Damaged By Fire

Two rooms at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Longoria, 305 West 17th Street, had extensive damages as the result of a fire at 2:35 p.m. Tuesday, according to Cisco Volunteer Fire Department records.

The blaze broke out in the front room and the front door was also burned. Firemen said the blaze could have started from an electric extension cord that was under a throw rug.

Mr. Longoria is employed by Bob Moore Transport. Mrs. Longoria and their two children were at home at the time and turned in the alarm.

Longhorn Restaurant To Open Under New Ownership Monday

The Longhorn Restaurant, located at 505 East 8th Street, will be opening under new ownership here in Cisco on Monday morning, September 22, at 5:30 a.m. Jim and Wanda Groves are the new owners of the restaurant and invite everyone to come by and see what they have done with the Longhorn.

The Groves are from the East Texas area near Gilmer and Longview. Before moving to Cisco about three weeks ago, Jim Groves was employed by the Schlitz Brewing Company; however, he has seven years of prior experience in the restaurant business.

He operated two restaurants in the Lewisville and Carrollton areas.

The Groves are Baptists and have one son who lives in Garland. Jim and Wanda are living in Cisco at 301 East 7th Street.

The Groves stated they plan to serve good home cooking at the Longhorn and they are there to serve the people. Customers will have their choice of how they would like to order: a-la-cart, buffet or to-go.

The kitchen of the Longhorn has been completely replaced with all new equipment and the old stools and bar-type counter have been removed from the dining area and it is estimated to seat approximately 60 people. A new all-stainless-steel salad bar and steam tables have been added to the restaurant.

The Longhorn will be offering cafeteria style service where the customers can see what they are going to eat before ordering. A businessman's lunch will also be offered along with other regular menu items which will include steaks, Mexican food and some seafood items.

Jim Groves stated the restaurant will be closed on Sundays so "we can go to church with the other people in Cisco." The hours of the establishment will be 5:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday thru Saturday.

The Groves also stated they welcome anybody to go into their kitchen at any time and see how clean it is, because they are sticklers for cleanliness.

Wranglers Defeat UTA Arlington J.V. 23 To 9

The Cisco Junior College Wranglers upped their season record 2-0 here Thursday night as they defeated the University of Texas at Arlington Junior Varsity 23-9. UTA is 0-2 in season play.

The Wranglers dominated the first half of the game, scoring 23 points before going to the dressing rooms. They scored once in the first quarter of the game and piled up 17 points in the second quarter.

The first touchdown was made the first quarter on a two-yard run by CJC quarterback John Farris. The extra point kick failed making the score 6-0.

UTA drew within three points of the Wranglers in the first quarter with a successful 31-yard field goal by W.K. Brenner, making the score 6-3 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, CJC's Keith Pantalion scored on a one-yard run. Quarterback Farris added two more points on a two-point conversion after the touchdown making the score 14-3. Later in the quarter, John Cox upped the score to 17-3 with a 32-yard field goal. CJC's final points were added to the scoreboard before half-time when Wrangler Allen Harris intercepted a Kraig Hopkins pass and returned it 48 yards for the touchdown. The extra point attempt failed leaving the half-time score 23-3.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, but UTA made the final points of the game late in the fourth quarter. With four minutes left in the game, UTA quarterback Hopkins connected on a 39-yard desperation pass to Darin Warbush. The pass for the two points failed making the final score of the game 23-9 in favor of the Cisco Wranglers.

The Wranglers will next face the Ranger Junior College Rangers in the Lion's Club Benefit Bowl Saturday, September 27, at 7:30 p.m. in the Buckaroo Stadium at Breckenridge. RJC recorded its third straight victory of the season Thursday night as it defeated the McMurry Indians junior varsity by the score of 52-0. CJC defeated McMurry in its season opener 20-0.

IWU Reflections In Perspective

By I. Will Ussery

Now, about this thing under which our illustrious Editor put into the paper our last effort. I. WILL USSERY. H.V. O'Brien is a very kind, gentle sort of person, normally. And he possesses a great sort of natural dignity and respect for all with whom he associates which would preclude his using a nickname (Bill)...or the full name with which I was christened...Isaac Weldon.

I subscribe totally to H. Allen Smith's proposal that no man child should be named until he is at least nine months of age. By that time the mother has come off the kick of naming the child for his uncle...Marmaduke Wilberforce. And the father has managed to assert his fatherhood by commanding that the child be named "George Milton, for a bartender I once knew in St. Louis".

Me? Not that it is of any significance; but I sort of lucked into being the first male-child of my generation. Terrible burden to bear, when you come right down to thinking about it. One of these days I am destined by pure biological fortune to become the patriarch of the tribe. Can't avoid it, if I am so fortunate as to live long enough. And I've managed, but the grace of God, to have lived just that long.

The man who presided at my christening was my great-grandfather, Isaac Newton Reeves. Ordained in Nashville into the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1853, he served his Faith...and what he hoped to be his country as Chaplain of the 16th Mississippi Regiment, Confederate States Army. Let's not for a moment, re-fight the War Between the States, but "Uncle Ike's" commission to that duty occupies a prominent place among the much lesser important trivia on the wall of my "pouting room".

So; this child, firstborn male, must be named ISAAC. And to go along with that first name must be at least one other name. Ever notice the names of men born during the period of prominence of political figures? Think for a moment of the people whom you've known who were named "Woodrow". Most of them born during the term of office of Woodrow Wilson. "Calvin"? Not many Republicans around, but Calvin Coolidge was not a totally unpopular president to this part of the country.

Well; there was a prominent politician in Texas 'round about the time I was born. Joseph Weldon Bailey held a succession of State offices. And both my father and Uncle Ike were strong supporters of J. Weldon B. Ergo; this child was christened, with considerable pride (which would have turned into much...equally much...disappointment had they known how he turned out)...Isaac Weldon. Simple as that.

Now H.V. O'Brien was born when I was 21 years old. By that time I'd somewhat shaken the dust of Carbon from the soles of my Friendly Five shoes. His father I knew. A legendary character, he was. But in his growing up, H.V. didn't know me. He'd heard me called "Weldon", and "Bill". The explanation of the latter was carried in a recent issue of his paper.

Being the inveterate gentleman that he is, H.V. dignified the name with which I was tagged upon the birth of my son by making it "Will". I'm truly appreciative of that. My father was known to many people by that name. And I shall not live long enough to make my footprints fit into his.

But, call me what you like (so long as it is printable). And so long as you spell it correctly. I have many Arab and Iranian friends who insist that my name...the surname part...is a corruption of a popular name in their society: "Assari". Strangely enough, I felt somewhat complimented to receive mail addressed to me as "Agha e Assari", or "Sayid Assari". Anyway; to repeat...call me what you like. Just spell it correctly.

Eastland 4-H Council Installs New Officers At September Meet

The Eastland 4-H Council met on September 15, 1980 at the Eastland County Extension Office.

The meeting was called to order at 6:00 by Chairman Truet Hart, followed by installation of new officers and introduction of the Council members from each club represented. Other business conducted at the September Council meeting included: ordering a swine film to be used in 4-H club programs, sponsoring a booth at the County Fair to exhibit the 4-H Club's scrapbooks, sponsoring an animal showmanship training and project tour in October and November, and to hold a 4-H Club officer training on October 20th. The County Awards Banquet and outstanding leader awards were also discussed at the meeting.

EASTLAND COUNTY OIL NEWS

Eastland Gas Well Completed

An Eastland County wildcat drilled five miles west of Rising Star has been completed as a Caddo discovery.

It is Palo Petroleum Inc., Dallas, No. 1 Gibbons, spotting 467 feet from the north and 844 feet from the most westerly west line of J. Syfrett Survey, A-1557.

The well had an absolute, open flow of 1,620,000 cubic feet of gas daily with a gas liquid, hydrocarbon ratio of 340,000-1 of 43 gravity.

Production is from perforations at 2,449-52 feet, treated with 250 gallons of acid.

Operator set the 4 1/2-inch casing at 3,347 feet.

Sentinel Petroleum Corp., Hurst, will drill two Eastland County wildcats.

No. 1-K Autry is a planned 3,900-foot test for the Mangum, West (3,100) Field.

It will be drilled five miles southeast of Cisco on a 40-acre lease.

Location is 2,173 feet from the north and west lines of Section 27, Block 3, H&TC Survey.

Other venture is No. 1-B Hugh Bushnell, a proposed 3,850-foot test for the Foster (Marble Falls) Field eight miles northwest of Rising Star.

Drill site is 1,938 feet from the south and 1,305 feet from the west lines of Mary Ann Clark Survey, A-51.

Homemaking Hints

By Janet Thomas

This month has been back to school - new school clothes, shoes, school equipment, plus getting the kids enrolled in all the extra-curricular activities. With all the excitement, if you are an average parent (and most of us are!) you have felt your pocket book shrinking. It does cost money!

Almost every family would like to have more money. However, more money isn't always possible and doesn't always solve the problem. Most adults and children must get along on what they have.

Children need to be a part in developing the family financial spending plan. Because whether a family has a lot of money or just a little, a sound plan for spending and savings is the key to having dollars to buy what is needed and wanted before they disappear in unexpected ways.

Helping children develop positive attitudes towards money is an important part of teaching them how to manage it. An allowance will permit the child to gain experience with money. Children need to develop an understanding of how money works and what can and can't be done with money.

Parents can help teach this by treating money as a fact of life rather than a reward for good behavior, payment for home chores or as a means of exerting pressure or obedience. A child's experience with money should begin when he indicates an interest in having his own money and can understand the spending power of a nickel or a dime. A simple allowance may start as early as 3 or 4 years of age. By the time children are 6 and 7, they need an allowance that covers their needs and allows for a small amount that can be used freely. Determine what the allowance is to cover, with only one or two items on the list of the younger child.

Children should know how much they will receive and how often they will receive their allowance. The amount given depends on the child's age, needs and family financial situation. Allowances should be given at regular intervals. Having a regular allowance helps children develop planning skills that will last a lifetime.

Examples set by parents are also crucial in attitude development. Stress that the money is distinctly the child's to spend as he wishes and remember that over-supervision can weaken the learning experience. Although parents may offer advice, children should decide how to spend the money. Children need to learn how to make choices and accept responsibility for their decisions. Parents should praise successful efforts. Let the child know when he is doing a good job in managing his allowance.

RECIPE FOR THE MONTH
My good friend and "fellow home economist" Kathryn Cawby, of Abilene Lone Star Gas Co., stopped by for a quick visit this week. Kathryn was sharing with me an excellent recipe she had acquired. Then I remembered that I also have the recipe. I'll share it with you for it is excellent.

EASY COFFEE CAKE
1 package frozen parkerhouse or cloverleaf rolls (24)
1 large package butter pecan instant pudding mix
¾ cup brown sugar
1 stick margarine (melted)
Combine brown sugar, pudding mix, and melted margarine. Separate rolls and place in angel food cake pan. Pour margarine, brown sugar, and pudding mix over the top. Cover with cloth and let rise overnight. Next morning, bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

'Big' Carnival Due County Fair, Open Oct. 2

Featuring bright lights, great music, and the newest thrill rides, the Ray Cammack Show will arrive in Eastland on October 1 for four big days of all-around family entertainment.

No strangers to this area, owner-manager Ray Cammack, his charming wife Veryl and daughter Charlene, who is in charge of the business office, are making their 18th annual Canadian tour during 1980.

The carnival is sponsored by the Eastland Lions Club in conjunction with the Eastland County Fair which is scheduled to open on October 2.

Fair grounds will be located at the Eastland County Livestock Raisers and Sheriffs Posse property north of Eastland. The same location that the Eastland County Livestock show is held.

Cammack head a carnival work force of some 250 people who move the show on 50 semi-trailer trucks and dozens of other vehicles. Neatly packed aboard the caravan of vehicles are concessions, midway stands and rides which range in size from the animated kiddie rides in Kiddieland to the giant Sky Diver and Super-Loops on the midway to the Scottier arena for bumper cars.

The morning of October 1 will be a busy one on the lot as stakes are driven, tents erected, rides set up, and miles of cable laid to provide electric power from the show's own power plants.

Then the hands wait for the sound of the authentic old band organ in the merry-go-round to sound, signalling the start of each day for the carnival workers.

The Ray Cammack shows again this year uses the coupon system, where fans buy coupons good for any ride or concession on the midway.

Thornton Feed Mill Is Subject Of Lions Talk

Thornton Feed Mill has upgraded its facilities during the past few years in a continuing effort to serve the community in keeping with business principles laid down by the late J.L. (Punk) Thornton more than half a century ago.

That was a statement by Frank Barrett, manager of the firm that he and his wife, Dana Thornton Barrett, own and operate, in a talk last Wednesday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Cisco Lions Club. Lion Charles Clark, program chairman, presented the speaker.

It was in the late 1920s that the late Mr. Thornton came to Cisco to manage the Bankhead Feed Mill and Cotton Gin for Sweetwater Cotton Oil Mill. After working a few years as manager, Mr. Barrett said the business was leased by Mr. Thornton. A few years later, in the 1930s, Mr. Thornton was able to buy the mill.

Operating the mill and feed store during the depression years was often difficult and Mr. Thornton often credited the late Kay Kimbell, Fort Worth industrialist, with giving him a helping hand.

Mr. Barrett noted that J.W. Stevens started work for Punk Thornton 45 years ago and except for time-out during World War II he has been with the firm continuously.

In 1940, the Sweetwater Cotton Oil Mill ceased operating the gin. At about the same time, Mr. Thornton installed a large elevator and two grain bins, giving the mill a storage capacity of 90,000 pounds. The front storeroom and office were added in the late 1940s.

In 1952, Punk decided the mill could best serve its customers by making pellet feed and he installed equipment and began making his Circle T brand feeds. A new building, now called the cube room, was added along with a big molasses tank. A seed house was added in 1958, and a new grain bin was built in 1960 to increase storage capacity to 1,000,000 pounds. The cleaning building was built a year later.

Fertilizer tanks of 270,000 pounds capacity and ton spreaders were added to the growing equipment list in 1972. Another storage bin holding 775,000 pounds was built in 1976, and truck lift equipment that can handle 48,000 pounds was obtained a year later.

Truck and trailers for heavy duty long-distance hauling were obtained in 1978, and last year an 81-foot elevator was built to replace an old and small bucket slow-type machine. The new elevator was built by Mr. Barrett and Robert Guenther of the mill staff.

Two storage bins holding 870,000 pounds have been added this year, giving the mill a total of 3,500,000 pounds of storage space.

Mr. Barrett said the mill has 15 employees with a yearly payroll of about $155,000. "We are proud of the fact that most of our people have been with us many years," Mr. Barrett said. Mr. Stevens leads the group with 45 years, followed by Herman Threet, 28 years, Mozelle Phillips, 23 years, Drucilla Stillwell, 19 years and Isaac Jones, six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett agreed that the mill's greatest asset is "the employees."

Thornton Feed Mill grinds and mixes a variety of feeds. They sell more than 150,000 pounds of bird seed each year along with a special Circle T worm feed. The Cisco mill is one of two or three in the nation that pulverizes feed. They sell livestock medicines, garden seed, tack except saddles, and the like. The plant's weighing scales are inspected and certified and often used by the DPS.

For most of the plant's half century, a huge bulletin board out front enables area farmers and ranchers to advertise their needs and wares. Numerous benches and chairs are utilized by customers.

Guests at the luncheon included Mrs. Barrett and Mr. Stevens.

Eastland County Farm Bureau Joins Others For Rural Vote

The president of the Eastland County Farm Bureau said the local organization is joining other county Farm Bureaus across the state in an effort to get out a large rural vote in the coming November 4 general election.

Ernest Reich of Cisco said members who do not have valid voter registration cards are reminded to get them soon. The deadline for having the application for the card in the voter registrar's office at the Eastland County Court House is October 3, he said.

The farm leader said that although Farm Bureau is strictly non-partisan, the organization encourages its members to become active in contributing money, time and work to the candidate(s) of their choice.

Mr. Reich said the membership in the local county Farm Bureau represents a possible (1 1/2 per member family) vote that the Texas Farm Bureau has more than half a million potential voters, and that the American Farm Bureau Federation represents a potential of almost seven million votes nationally.

attended church here, will review its history. The Rev. William Weeks, minister of the Cisco and Comanche Presbyterian Churches, will project a look into the future for churches in the area.

The challenge for rededication will be issued by the Rev. Grantland Groves, minister of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Abilene.

Sharon Leherle, Abilene organist, will provide the music.

Flowers in the sanctuary will honor the memory of the late Rev. Eugene Surface, who served the church for many years.

Also 20 pew Bibles were placed this week in memory of Rev. Surface by Mrs. Surface who lives in Abilene and who will be present for the service.

Albert Bakker headed the committee in charge of the building's renovation which began last fall was completed recently.

Carpentering for the sanctuary and the fellowship room were a special gift of the women of the church through their United Presbyterian Women's Organization.

A reception in the fellowship room will be held immediately after the service.

INFORMED VOTING

AMENDMENT NO. 9

House Joint Resolution 54, proposing a constitutional amendment relating to the conversion of marital community property into separate property.

The proposed amendment of Article XVI, Section 15, of the Texas Constitution would allow spouses to agree in writing that the income or property arising from one spouse's separate property will be the separate property of that spouse. An agreement could encompass both property existing at the time the agreement is made and property to be acquired in the future. The proposed amendment also would allow property to be acquired in the future to be included in a written partition of marital property into separate interests, permit persons to partition property before being married, and create a presumption in the constitution that the scope of a gift of property from one spouse to another includes all income or property that might arise from the property that is the subject of the gift.

BACKGROUND

The proposed amendment would change some of the legal effects of the Texas marital community property system and create new procedures for deviation from that system.

The central concept of the body of marital property rights law called the community property system is that all property acquired during a marriage, other than property specifically exempted by law, becomes the community, or shared, property of both spouses.

The notion of marital community property rights originated with Germanic tribes, was taken by conquering Goths to Spain and France, and was subsequently exported to Spanish and French colonies in the New World, where it was the law of Texas during the periods of both Spanish and Mexican domination. Texas adopted Spanish law when it became a republic in 1836 and elected to retain it with regard to land and slaves when a statute was enacted in 1840 adopting English common law as the general body of legal principles for all other purposes. The constitution adopted at the time Texas became a state applied the community property system to all property, real and personal, and that system has survived virtually intact to the present, excepting some changes in management and disposition of marital property as a result of statutes and judicial interpretations and excepting the allowance of partitioning as a result of the adoption of a constitutional amendment in 1948. Seven other states (Arizona, California, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, and Washington) determine rights in marital property through some variant of the community property system.

It can be argued that the community property system anticipated in the modern movement toward legal sexual equality by several hundred years, although its early applications may indicate the desire to protect a wife from the excesses of her husband by granting her separate, enforceable property rights as much as they indicate a recognition of the equal contributions that both spouses can make to a marriage. Whatever the motivations of its earliest advocates, in its modern forms the community property system, characterized by treatment of spouses as equal, or nearly equal, partners, is often considered to more accurately reflect prevailing attitudes about marriage than does the English common law system of marital property rights. In Texas, each spouse has an undivided half interest in property acquired during a marriage, except property gained through a gift, bequest, or inheritance to one spouse and except for certain compensation made for personal injuries to one spouse. A spouse may, without the consent of the other spouse but subject to some limitations, manage and dispose of the property that he or she brings into the "community," but the ownership of the property and its sale proceeds reside in the community. In contrast, under traditional common law theory, a woman's personal property becomes her husband's at marriage, and she has no ownership interest in his property until his death.

The community property system does not, of course, meet the perceived needs of all married Texans, and periodic attempts have been made to create alternative arrangements for the ownership, control, and disposition of marital property. One attempt held unconstitutional by the Texas Supreme Court resulted in the 1948 constitutional amendment authorizing partition of community property into separate property. The courts have construed the amendment narrowly, requiring, for instance, spouses to partition property into separate interests before entering into an agreement creating another form of joint ownership of the property. A partition may include only existing property, and only persons already married are eligible to partition. Although the constitutional provisions in the two states were identical until 1970, Texas and California courts long ago reached opposite conclusions about the nature of income from separate property--Texas courts holding that the income is community property and California courts ruling that it is separate property.

These are the rules that the amendment is to change. In addition, the amendment would establish a complementary rule that the fruits of the property that is a gift are presented to be included in the gift.

Persons likely to benefit from the amendment include couples desiring to make separation agreements pending divorce who would be able under the amendment to divide income they anticipate receiving before the divorce. By permitting prenuptial contracts to stipulate that income from separate property is separate, the amendment would allow a previously married person to preserve, before beginning a subsequent marriage, the income of his or her separate property for the heirs of the previous marriage. Also, the presumption that a gift includes any fruits of the gift would enhance the position of spouses seeking favorable federal tax treatment through the process of gifts to each other.

ARGUMENTS

FOR: A system of marital property law should provide general rules for determining rights in property and then allow, as the amendment would do, considerable freedom for persons to make alternative property arrangements when they perceive doing so to be in their best interest.

2. Benefits derived from property should be owned by the spouse who owns the property without which the benefits would not exist, as the amendment would provide and as is the rule in another major community property state.

3. The amendment would reduce the complexity of the process of converting community property to separate property and would eliminate the need for periodic agreements to continue a policy of ownership begun in a previous agreement.

AGAINST:

1. The community property system has served the citizens of Texas well since the time of Spanish rule, providing a system of rights that promotes the welfare of the vast majority of spouses, and no compelling reasons have been given for altering basic rules of the system, as the amendment would do.

2. The degree of deviation from the community property system permitted by the amendment is so great that it could foster the creation of an entirely different system of marital property law in Texas. This would provide considerable confusion for both married persons and administrators of the law, who would be equally unfamiliar with the implications of a new system.

3. Because it requires new formalities as safeguards, the amendment would enable an unscrupulous spouse to extract valuable property rights from the other spouse; it would also encourage the making of irrevocable decisions about property rights based on speculation about future needs and the extent of future assets.

Huge Red Barn Near Cisco Burns

An Eastland County landmark, a huge red barn two miles east of Cisco on the south side of Interstate 20, was destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning.

Cisco firemen said the barn and outbuildings were ablaze when they arrived about 2 a.m.

Burdett Hitt, who ran goats and cattle on the property, said the barn had recently been purchased by Shirley Mahan of Arlington, who had placed about a thousand bales of hay in the barn. The hay, along with his cattle trailer, were lost in the fire, firemen said.

Mr. Hitt said the barn was a traffic-stopper, with people often stopping along the highway to take pictures of the barn.

The barn was originally owned by R.Q. Lee, a Texas state official in the early 1920s. No cause has been given for the blaze, but young people have recently been chased from the barn after reportedly holding "pot parties" there.

Annual Fall Tour For Pecan Growers

Pecan growers and everyone interested in pecans are invited to attend the annual fall tour planned by the Eastland County Pecan Growers Association. The tour will be Tuesday morning, September 23, and will begin at Charles Walker's orchard at 9:30 a.m. The Walker orchard is five and one half miles of Eastland on highway 6.

County Extension Agent DeMarquis Gordon says the Walker orchard has one of the best pecan crops in the county this year. Walker conducted a demonstration in pecan weevil monitoring this fall which will be discussed.

The other orchard to be toured will be the Underwood orchard at Gorman. This orchard is irrigated by an underground drip system. Dr. Sammy Helmers, Extension Horticulturist, will be on the tour to discuss pecans and answer questions. Visitors will ride on trailers as they tour each orchard.

GORDON SPOT

by DeMarquis Gordon

It looks like the Eastland County Fair is going to be the biggest and best ever. In addition to all the things we have had in the past there will be the big Lions Club Carnival each day, the free chili supper on Thursday evening and the youth talent show on Saturday.

Other attractions at the Fair will be the competition and judging of home crafts, baked goods, preserved foods, handicrafts, clothing, living plants, and agricultural and garden produce. There will be the art show, the pet show, and the hay show. And, then there will be commercial and educational exhibits and the big concession stand with lots of good food. Good musical entertainment is planned for Thursday and Friday evenings.

The date of the Fair will be October 2, 3, and 4.

Gardeners can get-back-to-basics and save money too by developing an old stand-by - the compost pile. And

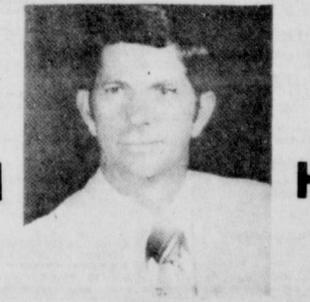

Mangum Baptist

Mangum Baptist Church will celebrate its 76th anniversary and homecoming on September 21st. Services will begin at 11:00 a.m. Don Nicholas will be leading the singing, and Lee Fields will be preaching.

compost. Sprinkle about two cups of a complete fertilizer over each layer of soil and organic matter to encourage bacterial action and hasten decomposition. Manure or blood meal may be used instead of fertilizer. Water thoroughly; then add the next layer as material becomes available.

Repeat the layering process until the pile is 4 to 5 feet high. Keep the center slightly lower than the sides to aid in retaining water. Keep the pile moist for rapid decomposition; however, avoid saturation or bad odors may develop.

To speed up decomposition and insure that wastes on the outer edge of the bin have a chance to break down, turn or mix and restack the pile every 60 to 90 days. Do not add new material once the pile is turned; rather start a new pile in a nearby location.

For better aeration and faster decomposition, spread fresh lawn clippings and shredded green materials into thin layers. When adding dry leaves to the compost pile, wet them thoroughly before adding soil. A shredder will convert twigs and small branches into smaller particles for faster decomposition.

PSAT/NMSQT Services For Students in 1980

Mrs. Mouser has announced that students taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) on October 21, will benefit from additional services in 1980. These services are designed to provide students with more information about the content and uses of the test.

Students who plan to take the 1980 PSAT/NMSQT will receive a complete sample test for practice, along with an answer key and scoring instructions. When scores are reported in December, each student will receive a Report of Student Answers, including the correct answers as well as the answers the student gave. To allow students to refer to the original questions, schools will return test booklets with scores. Students will continue to receive ABOUT YOUR PSAT/NMSQT SCORES, a booklet of general information on college planning.

The PSAT/NMSQT is cosponsored by the College Board and National Merit Scholarship Corporation. It is administered annually to more than one million students and measures verbal and mathematical abilities that are important in college work.

The PSAT/NMSQT gives students a chance to find out what the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) is like, and helps them in planning for college; further, students who opt to participate in the College Board Student Search Service have an opportunity to hear from colleges that they might not otherwise learn about. The PSAT/NMSQT is also the qualifying test for students who wish to participate in the nationwide scholarship competitions administered by National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

The fee this year is $3.75. See Mrs. Mouser for registration before October 10.

CHS Newcomers

Our newcomers this week are Mr. and Mrs. Ron Mouser. Mrs. Mouser received her B.S. degree and MED at Texas Tech and Mr. Mouser received his B.S. in Physical Education at Texas Tech, also.

While in Lubbock Mrs. Mouser taught seventh grade Texas History and ninth grade Health. The Mousers then moved to Victoria where Mrs. Mouser taught Biology and World History and Mr. Mouser coached. From Victoria they moved to Temple where Mrs. Mouser taught Physics and Biology for three years and was a counselor for two years. At Temple, Mr Mouser taught Fundamental Math for one year and coached.

The Mousers moved here from Temple. Mrs. Mouser is the counselor at CHS and Mr. Mouser teaches American History and is a football coach and also coaches girl's basketball.

The Mousers have been married for ten years and have two children, Greg, who is six and Kelly, who is three.

Mrs. Mousers likes to oil paint, sew, participate in outdoor sports and she enjoys camping. Mr. Mouser likes photography, sports and watching T.V.

We hope they enjoy Cisco. By Cyd Fry

Congratulations, Did You Know

Greg Swindle is one of two people who will represent Texas in choir. He applied before school was out last year by sending in a recorded tape of his singing. Greg will attend the FFA convention in Kansas City on November 12-14. The choir is made up of 100 members and 15 alternates.

Greg also said the choir and band will perform nightly in an auditorium which will seat approximately performance. Greg would like to thank all the teachers and administrators who helped him. He would especially like to thank Mr. White and Mr. Copeland who helped him on this project. By Joey Worley

Looking through the back doors at CHS and some secret corners, we have uncovered and exposed some of the most secret of secrets like:

It looks like someone has taken over Coach C's "macho" image, the one and only Slagle.

We've heard M.S. may be packing his bags and moving 10 miles east. By the way, it seems like someone needs to teach L.A. the proper way to use adjectives!

The new girl G.G. has already been hit by the ever-so-popular, S. Hunk! C.J. has a new student. She commutes from Cisco High School during her breaks.

Speaking of college, it looks like a few of our high school students are getting impatient for a dance.

This paper does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the school administration.

Lobo Annual To Attend Workshop

Sports Review

The Loboes were defeated by the Baird Bears. The score ended up 21-0.

The scoring began when Baird's QB ran over from the one. The PAT was made good by a kick.

Their second score came when their end blocked a punt and followed it in for six. The kicked PAT was good and the score was 14-0 in favor of the Bears at half. The ball moved up and down the field until within less than a minute to go in the fourth quarter when Baird's halfback went 32 yards for the last touchdown. The PAT was made and time ran out with the score 21-0.

The Loboes stay at home again Friday to face the Goldthwaite Eagles. The game begins at 8:00 so come see the Loboes get back on track.

Sports Spotlight

Our sports spotlight this week goes to Manuel Marquez. Manuel is a junior. He starts at defensive tackle for the Loboes. His size and strength has really helped the Loboes this year. Manuel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Marquez, Sr. (Chuck Cannistraci)

On Friday, September 12, HECE elected 1980-81 officers. Lou Pugliese, president; Yvette Maddox, vice president; Ollie Elizalda, reporter; Deana Duncan, secretary and Gene Conger, treasurer. This year we have nine members and we hope to have a good year. (By Ollie Elizalda)

Eight Grade Midgets

The 8th Grade Midgets played Baird last Thursday, September 11, and won 22-0. John Gonzales and David Seabourn were offensive standouts, also Jose Reyes did a good job in the line.

Defensively, Johnny Seabourn and Martin Elizalda did a good job. We have 26 8th grade players and we're expecting a good show against DelLeon Thursday. By Karen Thackerson Older citizens are influencing new laws! This is in agreement with the statistics compiled by the federal government.

One politician states "when it comes to politics, older Americans are anything but retiring." The older Americans go to the polls in large numbers according to the census bureau. 60.1% of people between the ages of 65 and 74 reported that they voted in the 1978 election, a figure 15% higher than the national average.

Regardless of whether the older person is conservative or liberal, most older people today view inflation as their #1 enemy because it erodes the buying power of those on fixed income. So the older man and woman vigorously resist efforts to continue raise prices on their day by day commodity.

The program being conducted for the senior adult, here in Cisco, has been highly successful because the

A ceramic display was shown at the Federated Women's Club meeting last week. Many individual displays were shown. Anyone wanting to see the ceramic work should visit the Senior Center.

Postal Employees Honor Three Retiring Workers

Three men with whose postal careers totalled 77 years were honored at a retirement party by employees of the Cisco Post Office at the Cisco Country Club last Thursday night. They are: Jack Ledbetter, assistant postmaster; Carrel Smith, rural mail carrier; and V.B. Ferguson, city carrier.

Some 52 persons, including retirees and guests, attended the dinner which featured a turkey that weighed 40 pounds dressed. It was grown by Mrs. Louie Gilbert, wife of the postmaster, and cooked by Oscar's Barbecue.

tioned one-percent city sales tax would receive $25.5 million in rebates for September.

Bullock said this month's city sales tax allocation pushes the 1980 payments to more than $418.5 million, compared to $364.5 million paid to cities through October of last year.

The city sales tax is collected by merchants and businesses along with the state sales tax and is rebated each month by the Comptroller to the cities where it is collected.

Circle Is Snuff Sign

A small harmless looking circle on a hip pocket is the first symptom of a major health-threatening epidemic. The circle, made by carrying a snuff can, is a more obvious symptom than a chewing tobacco pouch.

But both show that the user is sucking on chemicals that can cause cancer, the Texas Medical Association says.

Bad breath, discolored teeth and white patches of skin called leukoplakia inside the mouth or throat are a few other signs of the epidemic that has spread to many groups of young people and adults.

Some people start using chewing tobacco and snuff as a replacement for smoking. But they merely are trading one set of health

DEER ABUNDANT BUT SMALLER DUE TO POOR FORAGE

UVALDE - Recent rains resulting from hurricane activity will have little effect on deer herds in Southwest Texas and the Rio Grande Plains, according to Dr. Dwight Guynn, area wildlife specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Some new plant growth will be generated from the moisture received, but most of the damage has already been done by the extended drought, he points out.

Guynn continues to emphasize that over population of deer in certain areas has resulted in large starvation deaths, up to 60 percent in some parts of the Hill Country and South Texas. Even with such losses, Guynn says ample deer will be available in most areas of Texas for hunting this fall.

"There should be plenty around, but hunters will be confronted with more smaller, inferior deer which have survived the drought but suffered its effects," he explains. "Antlers may be somewhat smaller this year due to the lack of nutrition which occurred this summer when bucks were developing them."

Gynn stresses that good antler development is directly associated with proper nutrition, a luxury that deer and other wildlife species have been virtually without most of the year.

ed and the repayment ability of the family.

Families living in a home on a farm, in the open country, or in towns of up to 10,000 population may qualify if they cannot secure credit from regular commercial lenders.

To obtain more information, residents of Eastland County should contact the Farmers Home Administration office located in the Eastland National Bank Building, Eastland.

Some new plant growth will be generated from the moisture received, but most of the damage has already been done by the extended drought, he points out.

Guynn continues to emphasize that over population of deer in certain areas has resulted in large starvation deaths, up to 60 percent in some parts of the Hill Country and South Texas. Even with such losses, Guynn says ample deer will be available in most areas of Texas for hunting this fall.

"There should be plenty around, but hunters will be confronted with more smaller, inferior deer which have survived the drought but suffered its effects," he explains. "Antlers may be somewhat smaller this year due to the lack of nutrition which occurred this summer when bucks were developing them."

Gynn stresses that good antler development is directly associated with proper nutrition, a luxury that deer and other wildlife species have been virtually without most of the year.

ed and the repayment ability of the family.

Families living in a home on a farm, in the open country, or in towns of up to 10,000 population may qualify if they cannot secure credit from regular commercial lenders.

To obtain more information, residents of Eastland County should contact the Farmers Home Administration office located in the Eastland National Bank Building, Eastland.

Grand Jury To Consider Case

Justice of the Peace Carlton Holder, serving as magistrate for an examining trial, ruled Wednesday that there was sufficient evidence to ask an Eastland County District Court grand jury to study the case of the State of Texas vs. Johnnie Earl Hargrave of Cisco.

Mr. Hargrave, who was arrested last July 24th after police found approximately an acre of marijuana growing on a farm he owns south of Cisco, had asked for an examining trial to determine if evidence was sufficient for prosecution.

He was represented by Robert Rose, Dallas attorney.

The decision by Mr. Holder came after District Attorney Emory Walton and Attorney Rose questioned only one witness, Sheriff Johnny Morren. The examining trial was held in the commissioners' court meeting room at the courthouse in Eastland.

Sheriff Morren told about the visit of officers, including himself and a deputy, Texas Ranger George Frasier and two highway patrolmen, to the Leon River area south of Cisco. He said that Hargrave told them that the marijuana did not belong to him but since it was on his land he would take responsibility for it.

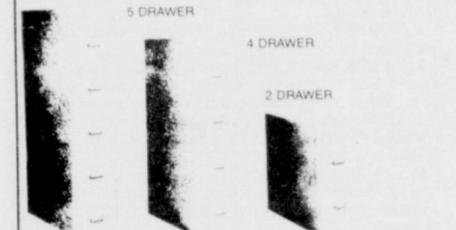

Mr. Morren said the marijuana was pulled up and brought to Eastland. After it dried, he said the leaves weighed some 41 pounds. A DPS laboratory at Abilene tested the material and determined that it was marijuana, Mr. Morren said.

The district attorney said the case would be presented to the 91st District Court grand jury late this month. Hargrave is at liberty under a $5,000 bond.

No New Reports

As of this publication, no more sightings have been made of the object which was reported in the Wednesday edition of the county newspapers which supposedly was seen flying east of Eastland on Monday night.

Three young men from Eastland reportedly spotted an object with red, green, and blue flashing lights flying throughout the air after leaving a meeting around 10:00 p.m. Monday night.

However, it has been reported that many local citizens were awakened during the middle of the night by a strange noise accompanied by a strange flash of light which lit up the sky on that night.

Most of the people felt that this light could be explained in some logical manner, however, others wonder.

The sheriff's department was notified of the possible "sightings," but a spokesman for the department was quoted as saying "There had been no reports of any strange objects in or around Eastland County since Monday night." He continued by saying that the law enforcement officers felt there was no cause for alarm, but if any citizens saw any strange objects to please contact the sheriff's department.

This publication will keep you informed on any further "sightings, lights, or noises" from the sky if any more are reported.

HOME REPAIR LOANS AVAILABLE IN EASTLAND COUNTY

Eastland County Farmers Home Administration supervisor Jack Phillips stated today that rural home owners whose houses need fixing up to make them safe and sanitary may be eligible for a repair loan from Farmers Home Administration at 1 per cent interest rate.

Income is the key to the type of assistance for which a person may be eligible.

Loan funds may be used for paying the cost of repairs and improvements, including, but not limited to:

1. Repairing roofs.
2. Installing screens, storm windows and doors, insulation, and needed heating systems including wood stoves.
3. Providing sanitary water and or waste disposal systems.
4. Providing other similar repairs or improvements.

Loan funds may not be used to improve the appearance of a dwelling or make facilities in the dwelling more convenient unless such changes are directly associated with removing hazards to health or safety.

Low income families may borrow up to a maximum of $7500. Loans are repayable within 10 to 20 years depending on the amount borrow-

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK
By Armo Chambers

A realistically sad situation often occurs when a parent is forced to admit "My child is no longer a child." At times it causes conflict between parent and child. It is especially sad when a parent feels his or her past efforts are unrewarded, and love apparently unrequited.

Could it be the parents themselves were unprepared to assume parenthood? For example, a mechanic, plumber, writer, salesman, doctor, lawyer, engineer, and you can add to the list, all spend years in preparation for their field of endeavor. They learn what to do, what not to do. Conversely, does it not seem with planned preparation, parents could more quickly learn the proper combination of love, discipline and independence needed to raise a child into adulthood? Is it not likely this would also result in development of love, discipline and independence when in a natural course of events the child's time for parenthood arises? Is it not obvious therefore that preparation through Bible teaching can be a big help in teaching children in their formative years? Your comments are welcome, as always.

A STORY IN this newspaper last Thursday told about a possible UFO, a strange flying object, being seen by three members of the Eastland Civic Theater near Eastland around 10 p.m. Monday. The object had numerous lights, mostly red, blue and green, that were flashing as the object seemed to hover.

The story was of particular interest to Johnnie Hargrave of Cisco who reports seeing a similar object Tuesday night in the vicinity of Romney, some 10 miles south of Cisco, around 10 p.m. Monday, a former Lobo football star, said the object seemed to hover. It had flashing lights about three feet in diameter on each side. After a time, it departed with a sonic boom type of noise, he reports.

Johnnie said he saw no reason to be alarmed but that was certainly curious. Anybody else see this possible UFO?

PROF. WYLEY Peebles, the CJC music man, was honored at a reception last Sunday night at the First Baptist Church in Eastland, according to scout reports. Mr. WP has been the music director of the FBC there for some 11 years and the reception was the congregation's way of expressing their appreciation for his fine music leadership over the years.

Out at CJC, Prof WP heads up the fine arts department and directs the choir. He has been the Cisco Lions Club's song leader for a good many years.

DOES CISCO Public Schools have any undocumented students? Nope, reports Supt. James Couch. Every single student has a birth certificate. Mr. Carroll Scott, CJC veeep, tells us that the number of dormitory students enrolled this year is the largest ever. They have a good many rooms with three students. The increased demand for dorm rooms has been due in part, believes Mr. CS, to the high cost of travel. Students living in area towns can stay in the dorm for less money than they can own and drive automobiles.

CONSTABLE S.E. Parkinson reports that he is making extra special efforts to prosecute those who dump trash along rural roads and highways. And you'll want to join us in commending him for his work.

Lloyd & Gertrude Ward To Hold Revival Services At Church Of Nazarene

Lloyd and Gertrude Ward will hold revival services September 23-28 at the Cisco Church of the Nazarene, Avenue N and West 10th Street. Services will begin each evening at 7:30. Sunday services will be held at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The Wards are internationally known evangelists and have been traveling in evangelistic work for many years, working in revivals and camp meeting, from coast to coast.

Rev. Mrs. Ward is a dynamic, forceful, and Spirit-filled preacher of unusual ability. Although a victim of polio and unable to stand, she preaches

The other day, a pile of trash appeared in a roadside ditch near Cisco. Mr. SEP went through it and was able to identify the person who put it there. He saw to it that the person cleaned up the trash and they'll get a trip to court to answer littering charges.

VISITING IN Cisco Thursday was Dr. Dan Maddox, Oklahoma City dentist who used to practice here. He was en route to San Angelo to attend a meeting and reported that all is well at their house. Mr. Frank Barrett of Thornton Feed Mill flew to New York City on Thursday to attend funeral services for a close friend. He was due home Sunday. Wouldn't it be nice if Bennie Nichols, local golfer, played in the Texas Open that's taking place this weekend at San Antonio? The Norman Wallaces got home Wednesday night after a vacation trip to the northwest country, including stops as far away as Yellowstone National Park where he photographed a number of wild animals.

YOU CAN BUY tickets to the Lions benefit football game between Cisco and Ranger junior colleges at Breckenridge Sept. 27th from members of the Lions Club here. The Press office has some tickets on sale. Tickets bought here will cost you less than at the gate.

The CJC Wranglers looked real good at Chesley Field Thursday night, and a good crowd turned out. The Belles and Band of CJC each has 40 members and they presented an outstanding halftime show. The public address system was working and Prof Wyley Peebles was the halftime announcer. And Prof George Brazell was the game announcer. Understand CJC students will have a bonfire on campus next Friday night as a pregame feature.

A NEW EMPLOYEE at the Cisco Post Office is Wayne Taggart who is not exactly new. He has been working there as a casual employee for several months and officially went on the payroll as a regular on Sept. 20th.

Mr. Taggart lives with his wife and two children at Moran. Postmaster Louie Gilbert reported that he was hired from a list of eligible men on the post office register. He is a military veteran.
