

CofC Breakfast Is Set June 17

Brief talks by committee chairmen and others, meeting new members and a $50 attendance prize will be the principal attractions at the quarterly breakfast meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at 7 a.m. Wednesday, June 17, at the White Elephant Restaurant.

Program details were being worked out by Elaine Dixon and Barbara Pope, CofC directors. President Ronnie Ledbetter will preside.

A report from the Program of Work Committee will outline CofC objectives for the second half of 1981. Manager Gene Abbott reported. The activities for the first half of the year centered around the community's centennial celebration.

Speakers on the breakfast program will be limited to 70 seconds, the committee has decided.

The attendance award is being provided by Cisco Lumber & Supply Company and Thornton's Feed Mill. If the person whose name is drawn is not present, there will be no award but $25 will be added to the total for the third quarter breakfast in September.

Reservations for the breakfast should be made before 5 p.m. Tuesday, June 16, by calling the CofC offices, 442-2537. Tickets will be $3.50 each.

City Manager's Resignation Is Accepted; Special Meeting Set

The resignation of R.J. Turpin, city manager for some 10 months, was accepted by the City Council at the new group's first meeting Tuesday night at City Hall. The resignation took effect immediately.

A special meeting of the Council has been called for 7 p.m. Friday at City Hall at which time an acting city manager will be named, it was decided at an executive session of the Council as the concluding event of the Tuesday night meeting.

In a letter to Mayor Eric Ritchie and the Council, Mr. Turpin said that his health was a factor in his decision to resign. He said he was undergoing medical treatment three times each week and that the work as city manager was too heavy for him.

"Call on me if I can be helpful at any time," Mr. Turpin wrote. He expressed appreciation for the help and cooperation of the city hall staff.

R.J. TURPIN

This was the first regular meeting of the Council since the election May 30th of Mayor Ritchie and Councilmen Linton Batteas, Brad Kimbrough, Loyal Lundstrom and Bobby Rains. Councilmen Bobby Ingram and Ivan Webb had been in office since the regular election in April.

"We are an inexperienced Council without a city manager," Mr. Ritchie observed. All members of the Council were present.

Beginning work on a long agenda that lasted until about 11 p.m., the Council approved minutes of the regular meeting of May 26th and a special meeting held June 1.

The agenda item concerning city check signing was passed until a later date. City accountant Jean Gray told the Council that no bills has come to her desk concerning the volunteer ambulance service that was inaugurated June 1st at the Fire Department.

The matter of changing the city water rate ordinance and meter deposit requirements was delayed for further study.

City Attorney Wm. B. Wright, Jr., was asked to advertise for bids for a grass lease on the Lake Bernie tract of some 300 acres. Bids will be opened at the July 14th meeting, it was decided. The tract will be offered on a five year lease.

The Council devoted an hour or more to studying the ambulance problem. Action was delayed until the next meeting. Mayor Ritchie indicated that a committee would be appointed to study the matter and make a recommendation to the Council.

LOYAL LUNDSTROM

Mr. Lundstrom, Councilman for Place III, was elected as mayor pro tem for the coming year. He owns and operates the Cisco Motel and the Cisco Monument Works.

The Council re-affirmed a previous commitment of the city, naming CPA Joe Cooper as auditor for city accounts and records for 1979-80 and 1980-81. He is expected to offer suggestions for simplifying the city budget and accounting procedures, it was pointed out.

A suggestion that some 180 more lots be offered for lease on the southeast shores of Lake Cisco (across from the Schlaepfer's Draw point) was taken under advisement. The Council was advised that an engineer was due to be here soon to inspect the area and make recommendations.

The city has a total of about 300 lots, including 214 on the north shore, under lease as recreation sites. Lease payments for all lots will be due July 1, it was reported.

Charges for birth and death certificates will be $3 for the first copy and $1 for additional copies at City Hall, it was decided. This schedule is the state used by state agencies, it was pointed out.

Ginger Parker, acting city secretary for the past five months, was named city secretary on a permanent basis. She has been employed by the city for some three years in various capacities.

A request by Ted Hamilton for access to the landfill to unload his waste and sewage hauling truck was taken under advisement after discussion.

The council then held an executive session to discuss personnel matters.

During the session, the Council gave city employees a vote of confidence. Department heads were asked to call on the Council for any help needed until such time as a new city manager is on the job.

Ambulance Proposals To Be Studied At Meeting

The public will be given an opportunity to hear about proposals the City of Cisco has under consideration for a community ambulance service at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Laguna Hotel Corral Room.

A Chamber of Commerce committee headed by Bill Roberts, Cisco Junior College journalism instructor, has invited anyone interested to attend the meeting.

The E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital submitted a proposal at the request of the City Council at the semi-monthly meeting of the Council last Tuesday night. The proposal was presented by Bill McKinnon, acting administrator.

The Graham proposal asked the city for a subsidy of $1,086 per month - $13,035 per year. The proposal asked help in buying equipment in the amount of $5,000 or $184.55 per month. After this is paid off in 36 months, the monthly subsidy would drop that amount, Mr. McKinnon said.

The hospital proposes to use a 1974 ambulance with a 1967 ambulance available as backup equipment. Both vehicles meet state regulations, Mr. McKinnon said. The service would operate an average of 50 calls per month. Reasonable charges would be made for use of the ambulance service, and this would take care of most of the estimated $37,862 annual cost of the project.

Pafford Ambulance Service of Eastland, new contractor there, offered to provide ambulance service in Cisco for $425 per week plus enrolling families at $36 per year in a plan that would provide them with free ambulance use. Non-members would pay $50 as a base fee plus $1.20 per loaded mile and extra for oxygen if needed.

Brown County Emergency Medical Service of Brownwood presented a plan to provide fully equipped ambulances and accessory equipment for a monthly subsidy sum of $3,750. Individuals would pay $50 plus mileage and extra for special services.

West Ambulance Service of Fort Worth submitted a plan to provide complete ambulance service for a monthly subsidy of $3,000 for basic life support equipment. In addition, the city would provide quarters or a certain amount of gasoline. Individuals would pay $55 for use of the ambulance locally plus $1 per mile plus additional charges for special services.

Mayor Eric Ritchie told the Council meeting that the ambulance matter would be on the agenda for the regular June 23rd meeting and that they hope to take action at that time. Meanwhile, the emergency ambulance service will continue operating under the supervision of Fire Chief C.W. Guthrie.

Gene Abbott, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, invited anyone interested in the matter to attend the Monday night meeting.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

I would like to say, since my appointment as city manager of Cisco, there has been some very trying days, but I would like to express my appreciation toward the citizens and taxpayers first for their loyalty, help, and encouragement. I may not have made the best city manager, but what ever I have done, I tried to act in the best interest of all the citizens and not a select group.

I also want to thank you're paper for all the cooperation and printing of the facts that the citizens of this city so deserves.

Last but not least, a very special thanks to all of the employees for their loyalty and cooperation. A very special thanks to the City's public works director, Frank Young, for the job that he has done that you can all appreciate.

Your former City Manager, R.J. Turpin

Roof Garden Dinner Theater Presents Delightful Comedy

The Roof Garden Dinner Theater opened its 1981 summer season here Thursday night with a delightful comedy, "Mary, Mary" by Jean Kerr, performed at the Laguna Hotel.

In its third season, the Roof Garden Dinner Theater offers a well prepared meal and professional acting to provide a "classy" night out for persons in this area.

The play is directed by Janis Myer and was to run through Saturday of this week with a Saturday matinee at 1:30 p.m. in addition to the evening performances at 7:00. It also runs Thursday through Saturday of next week, June 18-20, but there will be no matinee the second week.

The play consists of three acts and the entire evening lasts approximately three hours. Four of the five characters in the program are played by proven actors, who are the Artists-in-Residence in the educational program. Three of these professionals have previously worked in the summer program and were eager to return to Cisco for another season. The fifth character is played by John Akers of Cisco who was selected by Director Myer from her class of summer drama students to play the role of the lawyer.

All of the actors, Akers, Tom Jones, Colleen Altamer Smith, Billy Smith and Tashia Jayroe, gave creditable performances and entertained the audience well.

The printed program for the theater stated that "Mary, Mary" is presented by special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service and is an educational project of the Cisco Junior College Fine Arts Department, Wyley M. Peebles, chairperson."

The program listed the stage crew as lighting technician, Richard Butler; sound technician, Michelle Harris; and properties, Lynn Bullock. All three are CJC Summer Drama Students.

Also listed on the program were the following as the service staff: hostess, Michelle Harris; elevator operator, Larry Holman; reservations, Pat Dill, CJC telephone operator; box office, Kyle Wallace; printing, Betty Hogan, Director, CJC Print Shop; photography, Tim Jones; food caterer, Max Geffon, Director, ARA Food Services Co.; cover art and posters, Sue Mullinax, CJC Art Instructor. The servers for the night were students in the CJC Summer Theater Program: Lynn Bullock, Richard Butler, Michelle Harris, Larry Holman and Laura Jeffcoat. Reservations may be obtained by calling the CJC switchboard at (817) 442-2567 during business hours. After hours and on weekends the Roof Garden may be reached by calling (817) 442-2589.

Board Sells Lots, Inspects Residence

The board of regents of Cisco Junior College approved the sale of several lots in southeast Cisco, transacted routine business and then made an inspection tour of a residence the building trades class has under construction last Monday night.

The bid of $150 per lot for four lots was accepted from B.W. Patterson, who lives near the area just south of old Humboldt. The college was given the lots some ten years ago and still owns several more, Dr. Norman Wallace, CJC president, said.

The board discussed possible use of the Rockwell Bros. Lumber Co. property on East 5th Street. The approximately five acres with buildings was presented to CJC by the Rockwell company recently. Dr. Wallace said a possibility under study is to create a teaching laboratory for the tourist industry. Rebuilding railroad tracks into the property also was discussed.

Dr. Wallace said the building trades class, which is taught by Jim Webb, is completing a three-bedroom home on the old Abilene Highway. It has been constructed in such a manner that it can be moved.

The ground on which the house is being built is owned by Mr. Webb and will be available, Dr. Wallace said, in the event the purchaser does not want a different location.

Dr. Wallace said the house would be sold to the highest bidder. School officials will determine the minimum price and the successful bidder must pay at least that amount for the house, Dr. Wallace said. It is expected to be in the $25,000 class.

All members of the board were present for the meeting.

CHARLENE LEWIS AND DOROTHY WHITE

WHITE SELECTED FOR ISRAEL TRIP

Mrs. Dorothy White of Cisco, has been selected by the Texas Arts and Crafts Foundation in Kerrville, to participate in an Educational Cultural Exchange trip with Israel. Mrs. White and her partner, Charlene Lewis, of Abilene, were two of 30 of Texas' finest artists and craftspeople that were selected to make the tour. They will exhibit their "decorative eggs" in Tel Aviv on September 21, 22, and 23 at Maskit, the semi-official arts and crafts gallery of Israel, along with other artists and craftsmen from Texas. Besides being a great honor for the two, it will also be an educational experience with a study on the textbook written by Ruth Dayan (wife of Defense Minister Moshe Dayan), entitled "Crafts of Israel." There will be lectures, tours of art schools, exhibits and museums.

Other tours will include the summer artists quarters at Safed; the Van Gogh Museum and the Rijksmuseum, where old masters, such as Rembrandt's "Night Watch" are housed in Amsterdam. This exchange program is the first endeavor of the Texas Arts and Crafts Foundation in an attempt to broaden sales of Texas works of arts and crafts and the development of the export market. If it is successful, exchange trips with other countries will follow.

The non-profit tax-exempt Texas Arts and Crafts Educational Foundation has devised a plan which makes this exchange program possible by giving the public and businesses of Texas the opportunity to help these artists and craftspeople. Contributions to the Texas Arts and Crafts Educational Foundation will be used to pay the expense of the educational part of this trip. Each artist will be responsible for raising their funds in their local hometown and business communities. Total cost for each artist is $2,000, but $400 is paid from other funds. Full sponsorship of the educational cultural exchange is $1600 per artist or craftsperson.

Mrs. White will be exhibiting her decorative eggs Monday, June 15, in the lobby of the First National Bank in Cisco, during regular banking hours.

Sponsors for Mrs. White to-date are the First National Bank in Cisco, and Stanley Pirtle for Stanson Oil, Incorporated.

Contributions may be sent to Mrs. White, but should be made out to the Texas Arts and Crafts Educational Foundation. Contributions will be acknowledged by immediate return mail with a certificate of appreciation and a receipt from the Texas Arts and Crafts Educational Foundation, Kerrville, Texas.

Lights from the Christian World

By: Josephine Cleveland

"Then said Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad"--Matthew 26:31

A short time before Jesus was taken by the priests in the garden He told His disciples, "All of you shall be confused because of me, this night."

His disciples did not understand a word of this warning! A world changing drama was unfolding that was to be the most important in all history. It was the death and resurrection of Jesus. It should have brought joy to His disciples. These events opened the fountain for forgiveness and cleansing. It was to flow to all mankind. It would bring liberation from people and things to all who accept it.

Had not Jesus disciples seen the blind healed? Had they not seen Him feed the five thousand? Now, Jesus was telling them a night of confusion and chaos was to come to each of His disciples. Peter who was a man of faith rebuked Jesus for saying "this night there will be confusion." He did not believe at that time in suffering and crosses. Peter's faith did collapse along with his fellow disciples. Jesus even cried out that night to God, "Father where are you?"

Friend, when pain, chaos, confusion enters your life do you blame yourself? Do you ask God, "Why?" Is it because your faith has been real? Are you being punished for some secret sin you are not aware of committing? Surely when the disciples witnessed Jesus' death they must have questioned, "We must have done something wrong."

Beloved, there need be no other reason for your confusion, pain and suffering than that God is working things out for you in His own way and time. You need not to try to figure it all out.

David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross and the Switchblade" said, "Never be confused by confusion." God will do right for all His children. God is only doing His thing in His time and way. He is in control. Take heart!

GORDON SPOT

By DeMarco G. Gordon

Wilting of vegetables, especially tomatoes, cabbage and potatoes, is causing a lot of concern to home gardeners. Most of this wilting is not caused by diseases or insects. It is usually a weather related problem.

The vegetable plants started out in a dry soil and developed deep roots. Then we had 4 to 6 inches of rain along with cool weather within one week. The clouds went away and we had hot sunshine beginning on June 6. Plants rooted in very wet, poorly drained soil, began wilting when the hot sun came out. The oxygen-carbon dioxide ratio had changed because of the wet soil, therefore the plants could not take the hot sunshine. Vegetables growing in well drained soil did not have this problem.

If you have this problem and it is not too late, try cultivating with a plow or hoe. This will help dry out the soil and get more oxygen into the root zone.

A lot of problems can be caused by improper watering of the garden. It is not unusual that many gardens get watered two or three times each week. Unfortunately, in most cases this is one of the worst things you can do since it can result in poor root development.

Light, frequent waterings have a tendency to cause a concentration of roots in the top inch or two of the soil. This type of "limited" root system does not pose any real serious problems early in the season when plants are young. However, as the season progresses and moisture becomes less and less available you may be forced to water frequently to keep plants from wilting severely. This practice results in insufficient nutrient uptake, poor growth and disease problems.

Water the garden not by looking at plants but rather by examining your soil. Look at the soil surface. If it appears dry, then scratch to a depth of 1 to 2 inches to determine if moisture is present. If soil is relatively dry beneath the surface, then watering is necessary. If sufficient moisture is available, wait a couple of days before applying additional water. Another point to consider is your garden soil. Obviously a sandy soil that drains well will require more frequent watering than a heavy soil which holds water.

How much water to apply is another mystery that confronts us. The amount of water to apply must be determined for each and every garden in the county. Apply enough water until you feel your garden is well watered. Then, take a sharpshooter or shovel and dig down and see if the soil is wet to a depth of at least 6 inches. If the soil is wet at that depth, you have watered enough. If it is relatively dry, then water some more. After doing this a couple of times, experience will tell you when you have watered enough.

How you water is important, but adequate watering at the right time and in the right amount is more important, than the method used. Most gardeners prefer the furrow or flood system as a means of applying water. Others prefer to use a sprinkler.

WATCH FOR TOMATO DISEASES

GORDON WOOLAM

Home Gardeners need to be more aware of diseases because of the unseasonably late rains in conjunction with the warmer temperatures. Tomatoes are particularly susceptible to several diseases.

In addition to disease problems, Tomatoes grown in less than ideally drained soil may also be suffering from weather related problems. Dry weather in the early growing season forced the root systems deep. Recent heavy rains have saturated the deeper soil pore spaces displacing the oxygen. This depletion of oxygen followed by the hot sunny days which succeeded the rainy spell resulted in many wilting Tomato plants. Hoeing or cultivating around the plant base may help to dry the soil out.

Two of the more common fungal diseases which are enhanced by abundant soil are Fusarium Wilt caused by Fusarium oxysporum and Southern Blight caused by Sclerotium rolfsii.

Fusarium Wilt is characterized by drooping plants with wilted lower leaves. The plants show a loss of green color followed by wilting and death. Often leaves only on one side of the stem turn yellow at first. The stem of wilted plants show no sign of soft-rot but when cut lengthwise, the stem will show a dark brown discoloration. The fungus is most active between 80 degrees and 90 degrees F.

Control may be obtained by using disease-free transplants and growing resistant varieties.

Southern Blight, a disease familiar to peanut farmers, begins with the dropping of leaves similar to other wilts. Stems should decay of outer tissues at the ground level. Frequently, they are covered by a white webby mass in which are embedded numerous small, light-brown moisture and warm temperatures for growth. Control may be obtained by granular application of Terrachlor.

There are numerous other small, light-brown structures about the size of a cabbage seed. The fungus requires abundant moisture and warm temperatures for growth. Control may be obtained by granular application of Terrachlor.

There are numerous other diseases which infect Tomatoes. For questions regarding these or any other pest problems, please contact the County Extension Office.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

In reading my mail, I detect a growing distrust among my constituents of the news media. Some of those who write me have even suggested various means of regulating the news gatherers.

Though the national media have brought much of this upon themselves, this urge to regulate is unfortunate -- both for the vast majority of news outlets which exercise responsibility, and for our system, which is built on the premise of a free press.

Freedom of the press is guaranteed in the First Amendment. Our Founding Fathers knew that for democracy to work, the people must know what their leaders and their government are doing. Since it is impossible for any one individual to personally watch everyone at every governmental level, the press is the only means by which citizens can learn enough about the affairs of the nation to make informed decisions. And this press must be independent of government control if it is to be free to point out the flaws in the way the system works.

For instance, the people of Texas have the right to know what their senator is doing and what positions he is taking. Since, I can't speak to each of my constituents in person, I must rely on news outlets, such as this newspaper, to communicate with you.

It is unfortunate that some reporters and news outlets have used this freedom without exercising the responsibility that should go with it. But though I have on a number of occasions been angry at distortions or abuses by individual members of the press, that does not mean that the Founding Fathers were wrong.

First, let me emphasize that the vast majority of abuses of freedom of the press have been by the national media, which tends to be highly concentrated on the East Coast, is easily led into "park journalism."

The vast majority of reporters, publishers and broadcasters are conscientious and responsible -- and serve their public well. This is particularly true of Texas media. Secondly, even if the Constitution didn't prohibit it, I would not be inclined to inject the government into the news process through regulation. We have seen time and time again what happens when the federal government tried to end abuses of one sort or another in the private sector by instituting regulation. In far too many cases, the original problems aren't solved but the regulations become an intrusion on the legitimate rights of business or individuals. The Occupational Health and Safety Administration is a classic example of good intentions gone awry.

It would be disastrous to the American system if we allowed that to happen to the news media.

We have existing protections against libel and vio-

Congressman

Charles W. Stenholm

Congressional Comment

(SPECIAL NOTE: This week's column was written by Congressman Marvin Leath of the 11th District of Texas. Leath is a member of the House Armed Services Committee.)

As one who believes that National Defense is the first and foremost obligation of the federal government, I make no apology to anyone for pursuing that goal. National defense is an absolute necessity and never in history has that been a more realistic and obvious conclusion. In reality, national defense is a paradox -- we spend billions that we hope will be a total waste, because we hope it will never have to be used.

However, our efforts in the achievement of an honest national defense at a cost-effective level leave a great deal responsibility of the Congress to determine, and of the Administration to be aware of and to assist against such parochial incidents. Problem Three -- We do absolutely nothing in the most efficient manner. Mismanagement is a way of life and is not only difficult to prove conclusively, but is nurtured by the very size and complexity of the system itself.

This mismanagement appears to range all the way from simple incompetence, to obviously intentional, to sometimes unavoidable. Congress, of necessity, must "trust" to some degree and is never able to adequately search out all the facts and all the truth. Consequently, gigantic decisions are often made of facts that are extremely shallow or extremely biased.

Believe it or not, there is no uniform accounting procedure where production can be compared and accurately evaluated. Therefore, an inefficient service program manager and an inefficient contractor can substantially "pad" the costs. Some comparative system must be developed. Another massive inefficiency is the lack of fixed or sensible rate of production over the decided buying cycle. Contracts are usually made one year at a time and oftentimes the services will cut the number originally decided, usually resulting in massive per unit cost increases.

Another oftentimes occurrence is an "underestimate" of various cost projections by the contractors. This is commonly called "buying in," and gives a contractor the ability to be unrealistic throughout the competitive state and then measurably accelerate costs in the early and mid-years of production.

Congress does recognize this problem and is working toward a system of multi-year contracting.

Obviously, there are numerous other problems, some recognized and some not, but I do believe that some degree of effort will be made by our Committee to attempt to rectify many of these faults.

Weddings

Armstrong--Stiles Vows Said June 6

Miss Kay Armstrong and Mr. Randall Stiles were united in marriage Saturday, June 6th at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Eastland.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Jim Hooten, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Armstrong. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Stiles.

The sanctuary of the church was decorated with a large cross shaped candelabra dominating the center and was flanked on each side with spiral brass candelabras and greenery. Church pews were marked with ribbons.

Miss Jeriann Carter, pianist, provided wedding music for the guests prior to the ceremony. Mrs. Bill Vermillion, organist played the Wedding March. "You Light Up My Life" and "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Miss Carol Ragland. The song entitled "More" was sung by Dr. Terry Treadwell.

Miss Armstrong, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown designed for her by Mori Lee Bridals of New York of Organza and Rachael and Chantilly laces. The Victorian neckline is delicately accented by a Cameo insert on sheer yoke. The split Bishop sleeves flow gently with the Chantilly lace appliques on the fitted sleeve. Below the Princess bodice an A-Line skirt is finished by a scalloping lace border. A wide lace panel glides down the back from the waist to a court train. The veil was designed by a T & G Bridals of New York. The Juliet cap is completely covered with Chantilly lace. From the back, the Bridal Illusion flows to a band of Rachael lace over a special Lettuce Edging that only T & G Bridal does.

Mrs. Tim Airheart of Brownwood, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Brenda Stiles, sister of the groom, April Nevill and Joni Pyke were bridesmaids. Candlelighters were Cheryl Gwinn sister of the groom and Joni Pyke.

The matron of honor, bridesmaids and candlelighters wore floor-length blue lace gowns with crystal pleats flowing from an empire waistline. The lace jacket is a cascade of tiny crystal pleats with ruffles at the neck and shoulders.

The flower-girl was Miss Sharina Henderson, cousin of the bride from Spanaway, Washington. She wore a long ice-blue dress of organza.

The bride's mother chose a floor-length gown of ice blue polyester with a lace flounced neckline. Crystal pleats flowed from the waist.

The groom's mother chose a floor length blue gown with rounded shirred neckline, it was accented with a lace cardigan jacket and bow trim sleeves.

Tracy Muirhead of Dallas was bestman. Groomsmen were Donny Cate, Steve Gwinn and E.C. Ragland. Ushers were Tim Airheart and Larry Martin friends of the bride and groom.

The groom wore a white Saratoga tail coat, three-ruffle white shirt with a white velvet grooms sash, and a teardrop satin knot tie. Groomsmen and ushers wore iceblue Newport II tuxedos.

The ring-bearer was Master Jimmy Bolton, from Abilene cousin of the Groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Parents of the bridegroom hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Colony Restaurant in Cisco.

The bride is a graduate of Eastland High School and is presently employed by Eastland Medical and Surgical Clinic. Also a graduate of Eastland High school, the bridegroom is a senior at Tarleton State University.

Following a wedding trip to New York, the couple will live in Eastland.

Failure to Change Address a 'Hidden Cost' of Moving

"Americans are receiving more mail - important mail - than at any time in postal history," says Ranger Postmaster Ross Hodges. "Yet, when it comes time to call the movers, one of the most overlooked of all procedures is notifying the proper parties of the change of address. In addition to the personal expense and inconvenience to the homeowner and mailers, undeliverable-as-addressed mail has become one of the hidden costs of mailing."

Postmaster Hodges says the Postal Service spends about $550 million a year to handle an estimated 4.5 billion pieces of mail that is undeliverable. "This expense ultimately ends up within the price of postage stamps, and worse, it is unnecessary. Change of address is a simple matter today."

The Postal Service has been urging its customers to inform all correspondents promptly of address changes at least 30 days before a scheduled move. With an assist from moving companies, real estate agents and others, the Postal Service distributes from ten to 16 million change of address kits every year to make it easier to notify correspondents and publishers.

"The primary strength of this program is that everyone benefits from it," says Postmaster Hodges. "The family that is moving benefits because their mail continues to arrive promptly, stores and other business correspondents can avoid billing problems, and the Postal Service is able to process the mail efficiently and at less cost."

Postmaster Hodges says the Postal Service is now launching a new effort to get change of address kits into circulation. A direct mail campaign is asking commercial organizations such as truck rental firms, moving companies and real estate firms and others who deal with people on the move, to help distribute the hand Change of Address kit.

The kit contains convenient cards for notifying the postmaster, publishers, businesses, doctors, state and local agencies and utilities. The kit also includes a checklist of groups and individuals to be contacted prior to a move.

The direct mailing campaign to commercial organizations includes a two-part reply card which firms can use to order supplies of the kits from their local post office.

"We know that peak moving dates fall between June and August, and as we approach this season, it is important for anyone planning to move to use one of the kits. All they have to do is ask for one, either from one of the participating service companies or at the post office," Postmaster Hodges says.

"We are all aware of the need to economize and seek more efficient ways to use our resources," Mr. Hodges says. "Well, here's a place where the effort can start at home. The movers can help themselves, their correspondents and the Postal Service save more than $550 million a year that we simply don't have to waste."

Know The Arthritis Warning Signals

It's America's number one crippling. It affects more than 31 million Americans, and every 33 seconds someone else becomes a victim. The disease: arthritis.

Arthritis literally means "inflammation of a joint" and is the name for close to 100 different conditions that cause swelling, aches and pains in the joints and connective tissues throughout the body, according to Dr. Frederic C. McDuffie.

Arthritis can and does occur at all ages, from infancy on. It usually does not occur suddenly, however. It's a progressive disease, and there are warning signs that let you know it's developing.

The Arthritis Foundation provides this list of warning signals:

- Persistent pain and stiffness on arising

- Pain, tenderness or swelling in one or more joints.

- Recurrence of these symptoms, especially when they involve more than one joint.

- Recurrent or persistent pain and stiffness in the neck, lower back, knees and other joints.

IWU Reflections in Perspective

By: I. W. Ussery

The United States became the world's greatest, most powerful and most respected country in a short (by historical standards) space of two hundred years. And it achieved that position of distinction through the system of free enterprise.

Look for a moment if you will at some of the giant industries which contributed to the growth and development of our great country. Coal, steel, lumber and timber products, railroads, oil and its related industries, and airlines. All built from scratch by individual initiative and effort. That there was a trace of avarice demonstrated now and again in the growth and development of industry is not denied. But the strength of the country could be gauged by the strength of its industry. And industrial growth was not subject to government subsidy nor control.

In the majority of the nations which have become world powers to one degree or another during the last century, this was not always the case. As a matter of fact much of the industrial development of some other countries has been directly under the "guidance" nationalisation. Iran was a classic example.

Railroads, banks, telecommunications, cement manufacture, steel and oil were all members of the national monopoly. So was the airline, IRANAIR, as was electric power generation and distribution...and water.

I had an interesting experience with the Iran National Railway early in my career in that country. In the course of the project on one of the Iranian islands in the Persian Gulf we were going to have to have at least 20,000 tons of aggregate-weighting material. Now this material was in limited supply in Iran, the sole source being from a mine and processing center near Teheran. In order for the material to reach the jobsite it had to be shipped either by rail or by overland trucks to the principal seaport, Khorramshahr. From that port it would be shipped by huge "hatch" barges to the island. And since there was a very tight completion schedule for the project the aggregate must be delivered within a very strict time period.

The railway was approached, as it provided a direct rail link between Teheran and Khorramshahr. Their response was quite simple and direct. "Oh, for a shipment of that magnitude we would have to impose a surcharge". I was nonplussed, having seen the time in the U.S. when privately or publicly owned railroads would stumble over each other in competition for a 20,000-ton shipment. We ended by arranging with several major trucking firms to haul the stuff the 700 miles to Khorramshahr.

As for the railroad...we never heard from them again. And IRANAIR was the only game in town, when it came to domestic air travel. Teheran was served by the majority of the major European inter-continental airlines and at least one American, but if one flew inside Iran he flew IRANAIR. And until they replaced their lumbering old DC-6s with jet aircraft IRANAIR travel. They had a very convenient schedule between Teheran and Kuwait (except during such times as there would be a cut in diplomatic relations...every couple of years or so) which we used quite frequently.

Now it was time for My Lovely Wife to renew her visa by authority of which she traveled to and lived in Iran. We'd somehow allowed it to go right down to the wire. Very last day. And when it came to enforcing immigration or entry regulations the Iranians could be very much right-on-the-dot. We could take the early morning flight to Kuwait, renew the visa at the Iranian Embassy there and return on the afternoon flight. We'd done that before, and had become right well-known at the Embassy.

It was imperative that we make the round trip that day, as we had been invited to something of a "command performance" honouring a visiting U.S. President on the following day. We therefore were quite emphatic with the ticket agent in making absolutely certain that our tickets were confirmed on the return flight. No problem. That worthy yawningly assured us that he was personally marking both tickets "OK" for the return flight. We'd absolutely have first choice. As a matter of fact, there was no way we could fail, unless we just missed the time of the flight. The Kuwait office would not dare for a moment overrule his validation of the tickets. And away we went to Kuwait.

Everything went right on schedule. We had MLW's visa by noon, at which time we called the IRANAIR desk to doubly re-confirm our return passage. By all means. We were already on the manifest, but please be at the airport an hour before departure. Standard procedure.

When we arrived at the airport the designated hour in advance of departure, the IRANAIR counter was not manned. We waited for half an hour. Still no one around. We hastened upstairs to the business office of the Agent in Charge. We asked about the flight, and received the immediate response of... "That flight is fully booked". And that without consulting a single manifest or any other piece of paper. We suggested he resort to that procedure. Still... "No use. Flight is fully booked". We were more than a little riled, and perhaps it was beginning to show.

We agreed that the flight could likely be fully booked, but that contributing to that condition was the two confirmed, paid-up, and reconfirmed first class tickets which we laid on his desk. "Either you remove two of your 'fully booked' passengers from that flight in director order of their tardiness or, young man, you are in for a spot of trouble" We began. Without batting an eye, he nonchalantly replied to that with, "Not really. The flight has been cancelled". And so it had. You can't win, when confronted by a nationalised monopoly.

We won in the end, though. Kuwaitair was glad to take us, late though we were, on their flight to Beirut where we made connections with another international carrier to Teheran. We made the reception, even though we arrived in Teheran at midnight instead of mid-afternoon.

In some competitive fields, nationalised industry can be and is highly engaged in profit-oriented endeavor. But this is usually the exception rather than the rule. Now and again someone suggests nationalisation of an industry in the U.S. Remember when the railroads were run by the private sector? And when a derailment was front page news instead of being relegated to page nine, right alongside the recipe for squash preserves?

Screwworm Cases Found

Two screwworm cases have been confirmed in sheep in the Marfa area, reports Dr. John Holcombe, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

We don't want to be alarmists but this is a situation that will need to be watched closely," Dr. Holcombe said. The two cases were found in lambs on a ranch between Shafter and Marfa in Presidio County. This makes four confirmed screwworm cases for Texas this year.

"All livestock producers throughout the state need to be mindful that we could have problems again with screwworms. We all need to redouble our efforts to be on the watch for suspected screwworm cases. Producers need to submit suspected samples to the fly lab at Mission," Dr. Holcombe said.

A variety of measures are being taken in the Marfa area to contain any further outbreaks.

This is the normal time for screwworms to make their northward migration, and recent rains and warm, humid weather provide an impetus for screwworm infestations, he explained.

The changing role of Dad in the American family structure is reflected in a quiet moment. His elevated status will be expressed on Father's Day, June 21, when over 100 million cards are exchanged.

lected in a quiet moment. His elevated status will be expressed on Father's Day, June 21, when over 100 million cards are exchanged.

Father's Day, June 21, when over 100 million cards are exchanged.

DAD'S FAMILY ROLE IS CHANGING

When Dad added the kitchen apron to his working togs, he stepped up his status within his immediate family.

This is the opinion of Dr. Lester P. Wyman, a Cleveland therapist who works with families in helping them solve domestic problems.

The modern father is more human, more approachable and is someone you care about, he said.

Dr. Wyman, who has a doctorate in social work, said there may not be universal approval of Dad's new role, however.

Some may feel Dad has lost status since he no longer is the authoritarian figure in the home that once was considered the ideal.

But there's value to the family in the modern father's role. He's a more equal member of the family and not so aloof to his offspring.

This helps the mother to supply the emotional physical contact that enables a child to mature.

This change is reflected in the child too, Dr. Wyman said. Father is no longer a remote figure in his life. He is known more intimately and the child knows the father's wants and desires more readily.

Dad's increased status in the home is reflected in a growing popularity of celebrating Father's Day, June 21, according to James M. Semon, an assistant vice president at American Greetings Corporation of Cleveland.

About 100 million Father's Day greeting cards will be purchased by Americans this year, Semon estimated.

And they are becoming more popular. A few years ago, three Mother's Day cards were sold for each one honoring Pop. Now one Father's Day card is sold for each one-and-a-half cards sent to mothers.

The first Father's Day was celebrated in 1910. Its observance was an idea of Mrs. J. Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington.

The first Father's Day was celebrated in 1910. Its observance was an idea of Mrs. J. Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington. She had been attending a Mother's Day church service a year before and began thinking of her father, whose wife had died at an early age, leaving him five boys and girl to bring up alone.

She asked a local minister's association to set aside her father's birthday—June 5, 1909—as the First Father's Day. It was celebrated that year, however, two weeks later.

The third Sunday in June has since become the accepted Father's Day by a resolution of Congress.

For an amateur, Mrs. Dodd was quite a promoter. She called on Spokane merchants to arrange window displays of gifts for father.

Today Father's Day greeting cards, sent with or without gifts, reflect Dad's changing role in the family, according to American Greetings' Semon.

Years ago, for example, Dad was always referred to as the family "breadwinner." That's not the case today. Since more than 55% of U.S. families have dual incomes, the old gag about Dad being the one who brings home the bacon no longer applies.

Sociologists have yet to grant scholarly status to greeting as a measure of popular attitudes. But the people at American Greetings claim they write messages that express what people feel and a bundle of money is spent on research to find out what people will buy.

Semon said about 65 percent of the cards this year carry traditional messages like "Father...a word that means many different things...care, kindness, understanding...and love," or one saying simply, "The greatest father in the world...Happy Father's Day."

The other 35 percent of the cards are humorous ones. They feature a cartoon-characterized father or husband, including the popular Ziggy designs.

The humorous cards tend to be more self-deprecating today, like the one that says, "Being a father is like eating a pistachio. You have to shell out a lot for one little nut—that's me."

A humorous card that also could be considered traditional is one that's been popular through the years. It asks, "Want to know how much I love you, Dad?" As the card is opened, mechanical arms jump out. They are attached to the drawing of a small boy who is extending his arms as far as he can.

Semon also has noticed changes in Father's Day cards given by wives. Dad is no longer portrayed as one who avoids tasks around the house or the bumbling "Dagwood" figure of early television.

These cards now are lightly sentimental. The short conversational prose talks of how nice it is to have Dad around the house, and how much Mother likes to lean on him for support.

Card designs show an increased use of photography with farm scenes and floral as the most popular, in contrast to chess pieces, cars and other traditionally "masculine" design motifs.

The company's 1981 line includes about 470 different Father's Day cards. There are also plaques, certificates, buttons and mirrors.

Sunday, June 14, 1981

with many including the inscription "World's Greatest Dad."

Specialty cards in the American Greetings line also include cards for brother, uncle, grandpa, son and son-in-law, and others who have been like a Dad through the years.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

Almost everyone in the colder parts of our country has seen the shimmering ice crystals called snow. Snow is formed as the water vapor in the clouds is turned into moisture when the temperature goes below freezing. Crystals, which are formed by the snow, always have six rays. But the designs are delightfully different. No two snowflakes are alike. The snowflake is beautiful, and it does not weigh very much. But big cities have been crippled and powerful engines have been stopped by tiny snowflakes piling up one upon another. Your life, like the snowflake, is different from every other life, and it is not too small to count. You may not realize it, but somebody is following you. Where are you leading him? Somebody is going to be like you. Will he be godly or wicked? The things you do and the words you say will lead somebody a right or a-stray. So the things you do should be the best, and the words you say should be to bless.

WORD of GOD

The Body of Christ

For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

For the body is not one member, but many.

If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

MORTON VALLEY HED MET IN PHILLIPPS RESIDENCE

The Morton Valley HED Club met in regular session on Wednesday at the Phillipps residence. Bertha Asher directed the opening exercise. Roll call was answered with What I'd like to change about T.V.

Dorothy Underwood demonstrated a kit for the C.W.C. project for the very poor women of Mexico. It is truly hoped the club can assemble a generous number of these packages of servicing aids including even scraps of any good material for those who have so little. Dorothy also reported on numerous projects soon coming before the organization including the Vile of Life material.

The president of the newly organized Ranger HED Club, Francis Cox, was present. The Morton Valley group is pleased.

The program was ably presented by Janet Thomas in a demonstrated summary the use of fabrics in home decoraton. She had methods and completed projects from chairs to window shades.

The ice cream supper at 6:30 June 30 at the Asher residence was announced. Helen Phillipps, the hostess, served delightful refreshments to 14 members and guests Frances Cox and Jane Stark.

The next regular meeting will be at the Club House.

Roy Gevara Works With The 'River Mission'

Roy Gevara of Eastland recently had the privilege of working with the "River Mission" of the First Baptist Church of Graham. A group of two doctors, a dentist, two laboratory technicians and twenty-five lay workers spent three days at Redford, Texas, twenty miles down the Rio Grande river from Presidio. Here they treated patients from old Mexico who very seldom receive any medical treatment. They also witnessed to the people about God's love and saving grace.

Roy has been Laboratory Director of B&W Clinic for the past six years. He teaches the Senior Adult Bible at First Evangelical Methodist Church in Cisco, and has been teaching the Bible in Spanish at Breckenridge for the past two and a half years.

He and his family are planning another trip to the river mission with a church from the Fort Worth area later this summer.

Roy will be showing slides and giving his personal testimony of his trip at the 7:00 p.m. service of the First Evangelical Methodist Church in Cisco on Sunday, June 14. The public is invited to attend.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

Insurance is a major concern for all citizens, especially for the elderly. The elderly are faced with rising costs of health care and a fixed income. Although medicare and Medicaid provide some help to the elderly, this does not provide all the coverage or aid that the senior citizen requires for covering medical costs.

Not only is health insurance coverage vital to the elderly but automobile, homeowners or renters, and life insurance are also important. With the limited income of the elderly, they can hardly afford to replace their homes, possessions, automobiles, etc., if they have been lost or destroyed.

Insurance works when many individuals contribute a small amount of money regularly into a common fund. The common fund is then available for the percent of the group who may need financial assistance to cover accidents, illness, death, property destruction, etc. The sharing of risk is the basis of the insurance concept.

All elderly individuals should be careful in whom they select in representing them in regard to their insurance. Ask friends and neighbors who they use as their insurance representative. Do not use an individual who is not reputable.

The programs for the week are: Majorie West sang while being accompanied by Leah Brown; Ree Hunt entertained the audience by playing the harmonica; Viola Payne played the violin accompanied by Vida Killion; dinner music was presented by Leah Brown, Vida Killion and Anna Dyzel. Vernon Hagar directs the choir.

The two Senior Centers, Cisco and Eastland, met at Cisco during the past week for game day. Over 50 people met during the afternoon for games, fellowship and refreshments.

The menu for the week will be:

Monday--baked ham, glazed sweet potatoes, steamed cabbage, pineapple pudding, bread, butter and drink.
Wednesday--oven fried chicken, glazed carrots, English pea salad, fruited jello, bread, butter and drink.
Friday--barbecue sausage, black eye peas, turnip greens, watermelon, cornbread, butter, cornbread and drink.

"The Rural Church where the City Folks Attend"

People n Things

THE SOME 25 or 30 folks attending the City Council meeting last Tuesday night could appreciate the feelings of council members when they learned that the meeting opened that the city manager had resigned.

"Here we are, an inexperienced group at our first regular meeting... observed Mayor Eris Ritchie. Councilmen Bobby Ingram and Ivan Webb had attended only a few meetings since their election April 4th and Mayor Ritchie and Councilmen Linton Batteas, Royal Lundstrom, Brad Kimbrough and Bobby Rains had only attended a special meeting where they were sworn in.

Guided by City Attorney Bill Wright, the council waded into a long agenda... and did a good job. In handling a dozen or more matters, there was only one "no" vote cast all night. Councilman Lundstrom was nominated as mayor pro tem, and the vote for him was four "yes" and one "no." Mr. Lundstrom voted against himself.

IN NEARLY ten months as Cisco's city manager and in his first job as a city manager, Mr. R.J. Turpin did a good job. You'll read about his resignation elsewhere in The Press, including a letter he wrote to the editor.

We're sure that most of our citizens appreciate the hard work that Mr. Turpin put into the important job of running our town's business. And, of course, we appreciate the work of the council that worked hard with him.

MR. KYLE Wallace, son of the Dr. Norman Wallaces, has completed a year of college at East Texas State and is spending the summer in Cisco. He is serving as business manager for the Roof Garden Dinner Theater and is helping out at the Robo Car Wash.

In the fall, Kyle plans to enroll as a second semester junior at the University of Houston where he will major in drama and minor in business... His younger brother, Kory, graduated from CHS last month and planned to attend CJC next school year. Kory also plans to be a member of the Wrangler football squad.

MR. BILL Roberts, journalism prof out at CJC, expects his history of Cisco book to be completed in mid-July. There will be an announcement when it goes on sale... Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roberts, by the way, have been visiting with her brother, Jerry Hill, and wife who are on leave in Abilene from Guatemala where he is a missionary for the Church of Christ. The Hills also have visited in Hondo where they have relatives. They'll be returning soon to Central America.

MISS STEPHANIE Kimbrough, daughter of the Brad Kimbroughs, has been having a busy week. The family visited at Fredricksburg last weekend. Stephanie got home in time to go with a group to GA Camp on Monday and she got home again in time to leave Friday for 4-H Club Camp... The David Callarmans spent several days in San Antonio this past week... Burglars broke into the American Legion Hall the other day or night. They ransacked things generally but nothing of value was available for the thugs to take, reports Adjutant E.L. Jackson.

THE JIM Grahams of our town have welcomed a new grandson, Sean Gregory Graham, son of the Greg Grahams of Sherman. The little lad weighed in at six and a half pounds and he and mother are doing nicely. Greg works for Texas Instruments at Sherman. Sean has two sisters... The other Graham son, Randy, operates a service station over at Weatherford. He was married a couple of months ago.

BET THE Herman Dunlap family will be eating fish regularly for the next week or two. They've been camping down at Lake Whitney and doing some fishing... Hear compliments for the fine job that Jon Cermin is doing managing the city swimming pool... The Dr. Chief Browns went to San Antonio last Thursday for a meeting of chiropractors... Glad to hear that Mrs. Sam Hart, who suffered a broken leg some weeks ago, is doing nicely and will return to the hospital at Temple on June 22nd for a checkup... Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Glenn and Mrs. Carlene Conner went to Waco the other day for a meeting of college business office officials.

GUESS YOU saw in the papers that the Eastland precinct voted about 2-to-1 to remain dry as far as selling alcoholic beverages is concerned. The election was held over there last Saturday... The Louis (Jake) Morgans are buying the Foxworth home at 308 West 5th Street, according to scout reports... There's a golf scramble tournament at the Cisco Country Club this Saturday (June 13) afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

A YEAR OR so ago, Rick and Kay Roark moved their three handsome children into an older home at 1300 West 14th Street. He is a partner in Nimrod Pipe & Supply Company and has been spending many odd hours improving the home. Neighbors have watched with interest as Rick has virtually doubled the size of the home, adding a second story over an enlarged garage, and has dressed the place up generally. We observers believe that the project is nearing completion. The Roarks are natives of far West Texas - Alpine and El Paso. Mrs. Roark and Mrs. Dick Woolley are sisters. The Roarks are members of the First Baptist Church.

AS OF FRIDAY morning, great-grandchildren. Pallbearers were Jerry Cole, Collin Campbell, Henry Harle, Terry Stacy, Ed Stacy, and Houston Cozart.

Services For Francis Blackwell Held Saturday
Funeral services for Francis Blackwell, 69, were to be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Interstate 20 Church of Christ directed by Cisco Funeral Home. Jim Reaves, minister, was to officiate, assisted by Gary Adams. Burial was to be in Oakwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Blackwell died at 9:30 p.m. Thursday in Eastland Memorial Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was born October 20, 1911, at Thurber. She was a retired dorm mother at Cisco Junior College. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include two daughters, Evelyn Wheat of Cisco and Lanora Johnson of Artesia, N.M.; three brothers, Ray Cox, James R. Cox and Homer Culp, all of Fort Worth; seven grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

The Cisco Volunteer Fire Department had received a total of 10 requests for ambulance service since June 1st. In one case, five persons were taken to the Graham Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises after their car was struck from behind by another vehicle. The five people included an 8-months old baby that was unhurt.

Firemen answered a false alarm at 11:15 p.m. Thursday when a caller reported a car on fire between Cisco and Eastland. Same was never found... Lightning struck two oil tanks in the area during the stormy weather earlier in the month - one of the Schultz place on Highway 183 south and the other on the Hogan place on the Breckenridge Highway. No big damage, firemen said.

HEAR THAT Dash Crofts, the well known entertainer who visited his parents, the Sutton Crofts here last week, has already appeared on the Tom Snyder television show and returned home to California. His twin sister, Dot Mittel of Arlington, flew to New York City with Dash for the tv appearance... Lawyer Truman Kirk was accused of bringing tornadoes to Colorado last week. He flew to Denver to visit relatives and storms struck for the first time in many years. Three tornadoes did several million dollars in damages, Mr. Kirk reports... Kevin Kirk, 11-year old son of the Truman Kirks, will have his left arm in a cast all summer, his doctors report. He suffered a bad break in a bicycle mishap recently. He has a new type of cast that won't be damaged when you go swimming, and this pleases him, we're told... Winston Heidenheimer, the merchant, used to have blonde hair.

Lions Install Farleigh As President At Dinner

"Use your talent or it might be taken away" was the advice of Dr. Bill Auvenshine of Ranger, former district governor, as he installed new officers of the Cisco Lions Club at a family dinner meeting Thursday night at the Cisco Country Club.

Jack Farleigh, long-time resident of Cisco, was installed as the club president for the fiscal year beginning July 1st. He will succeed Eddie McMillan, who presided at the dinner meeting.

"Every member has a special talent of some kind that he can use in contributing to a good Lions Club program," Mr. Auvenshine said. "Fortunately, everyone's talent is not the same, so we have a variety of skills to offer in the field of community service." Other new officers for the coming year were installed as follows: Ivan Webb, S. Lopez and C.B. Dill, vice presidents; Bobby Smith, lion tamer; Ken Parker, secretary and treasurer; Ralph Glenn, assistant secretary; Bill Roberts and Ken Hammes, tail twisters; Wyley Peebles and J.W. Cook, song leaders; and Frank Barrett, Bob Conner and Willard Johnson, directors.

Mr. Auvenshine presented a life membership in the Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville to Mr. and Mrs. Farleigh. The club took up a collection, in keeping with the annual custom, for the Kerrville camp. This included a gift of $25 from Mrs. Reba Merket as an annual memorial to her late husband. Guests included Dr. Bruce Goleman and Artie Sharp of Ranger and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Farleigh, Jr., of Fort Worth.

The Outlaws Win Burgess Tourney

On June 6, 1981, the Cisco Outlaws traveled to Graham to participate in the first annual Burgess Industries slowpitch softball tournament. This tournament was put on by the Burgess Industries home office in Dallas. There were two teams from Dallas, one from Wichita Falls, and one from Cisco that showed up to play. There were some extremely close games played.

The Outlaws played both offense and defense extremely well, which paid off because they brought back a 2 1/2 foot tall championship trophy. The trophy will be kept at the Burgess office in Cisco for a year. This tournament will be held annually and each year the winner will keep the trophy for a year. There were free hamburgers, Cokes and candies for all the players, employees and their families. Everyone enjoyed the tournament and the Outlaws are looking forward to next year's defense of the trophy. The Outlaws are planning to keep the trophy in Cisco for years to come.

The following players and their families made the trip to Graham: Larry Campbell, Dennis Campbell, Gary Stennett, Ronnie Rhodes, Jim Jackson, Danny Hobbs, Sammy Gallegos, Tim Cheshire, Dirk George, Baylis Pope, Al Senterfitt and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Campbell.
