

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

IF YOU HAVE not already met Cisco's new Police Chief Randy Whittle, be sure and go by to see him and welcome him to Cisco. He was sworn in on Tuesday and started working that day.

He was in town Monday to get acquainted with officers and local citizens of the town. He seems like a very fine person and seems willing to work with the people of Cisco with any problems they might have.

He encourages everyone to come by and talk with him if they have a problem.

IF YOU LOST a hubcap last week, you can claim it at The Cisco Press office by identifying it. Tell us what kind of hubcap it is and you can pick it up.

CISCO'S WEATHER keeps changing all the time. The weekend was fairly pretty, but Monday was cloudy and rainy and cold. Tuesday was the same but colder and forecasts called for more of the same throughout the week.

CJC Will Take On RJC In Cisco Thurs.

Cisco Junior College takes on Ranger Junior College on home court this Thursday, February 3. Tip-off time is 6:00 p.m. for the Wrangler women to be followed by the men's contest.

The Wrangler women's team had two tough road games last week winning over Cooke County in Gainesville on Monday, but succumbed to conference first place holder McLennan in Waco on Thursday.

Two overtimes led to the most exciting victory by the Cisco women this season as they nipped Cooke County's Lady Lions 71-70. The score read 59-59 as the buzzer sounded ending regulation play and a five minute overtime lead to another eight points tallied by each team. Finally in the second overtime, scoring became unbalanced and the CJC women managed to hold a one point advantage.

Five Wrangler women scored in double figures led by freshman post Barbara Williams with 16 points. Linda

What Is A School Counselor?

TEXAS SCHOOL GUIDANCE WEEK January 31-February 5 WHAT IS A SCHOOL COUNSELOR?

The job of the school counselor is a multi-faceted one. A school counselor works with all the students not just the students with personal problems or school problems. A counselor works in three main areas-- academic or educational, career, and personal-social.

CISCO KID CAR WASH 3rd St. and Ave. E Where Most People Wash. Wash your venetian blinds, throw rugs, motor.

The idea is to have developmental guidance in Kindergarten through twelfth grade in all three areas, as well as crisis counseling.

The educational area involves trying to develop the best learning environment to meet the needs of all the students. The counselor serves as a consultant of teachers and administrators so together they can plan to meet the needs of the child.

This sometimes means referring a student to the special education programs. It also involves testing the achievement students and interpreting the test results to parents, students, and teachers.

In the personal-social area, the counselor works to help students understand and accept themselves and others and to get along in the school environment as well as the social environment. This includes group guidance activities that can be incorporated into the classroom (especially at the elementary age), group counseling, and individual counseling. The idea is to bring about change in order for the students to be "successful", adjust in school, and to develop into responsible men and women.

Army's First Atomic Weapons Guards Will Gather For Reunion

The group trained at Ft. Hood, Ft. Sam Houston and Ft. Sill, before formation of the unit at Ft. Bliss, and later moving in 1954 to Pirmasens, Germany. Atomic weapons had previously been under the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission. Gerald Davis from Cisco, Texas, 442-3981, was a member of the 9th, during the first year of formation. Any person being associated with the group is invited to attend.

New Police Chief Is Sworn In At City Hall Tuesday

Randy Whittle, 33, a veteran of some 12 years in police work, was sworn in as Cisco's new police chief Tuesday, February 1st. He comes to Cisco from Sulphur Springs in East Texas where he was Administrative Captain (assistant to the police chief). Cisco PD's sergeant Billy Rains, who served as acting police chief until Tuesday, was showing Chief Whittle around Cisco Monday and was to brief him on the cases being worked by the local department.

Chief Whittle said he wants the citizens of Cisco to know, "My door is always open if you need to talk. I believe in the public relations system."

He emphasized that he enjoys police work because of the challenge and meeting people. He stated he is in that line of work "to be of service to the people and try to help them. It is good to know that I can help someone with a need."

He said there will not be any immediate changes in the local department, but some changes will be coming in the future. He said he will evaluate what the department is doing and see where it is at in any cases which may be in the process of investigation.

He said he hopes the local department is a professional department now and he looks forward to "upgrading

Car Is Stolen Here; Recovered Near Olden

Within a few minutes a car stolen from Ted Hale of Cisco was recovered on Interstate 20 by State Trooper. Mr. Hale had his car stolen in downtown Cisco 3:15 p.m. Friday, January 28, while he was inside a drug store.

He walked to city hall where the theft was reported to Officer Risa Livingston. Because he was not sure of his license number a call was made to tax office in Eastland. The Eastland County Dispatch was notified of the theft and at 3:45 p.m. DPS Trooper Robert Ralls stopped the car near Olden on Interstate 20.

Danny Ray York, 19, of Decatur, had his rights read to him by Justice of Peace R.G. Lyerla. Charges of unlawful use of a motor vehicle have been filed against him and his bond set at $5,000.

Good cooperation between law enforcement agencies led to speedy arrest.

Fund Set Up At Cisco Bank For Owings

A fund has been set up at the First National Bank of Cisco for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Owings, whose house burned southwest of Cisco at 3:30 a.m., January 20th.

A daughter of the family said the Owings were able to save a portion of their household things since the family was planning to tear the house down and build another house, using the material from the one which burned.

She stated the family is now living in a one-room house with no indoor plumbing. She said the family was able to save most of their clothes and food. The items which she said were destroyed in the fire were mostly kitchen items.

Anyone wishing to donate to the family's fund can send their donations to: Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Owings House fund, in care of the First National Bank of Cisco.

Beginning police work in 1971, Chief Whittle had been with the Sulphur Springs department since 1974 when he started as a patrolman, working his way up to the "second in command" position. The Sulphur Springs department has 25 sworn officers in a town of approximately 20,000 population.

Chief Whittle holds an advanced police certificate (highest possible in law enforcement) and an associate degree in criminal justice from Tarrant County Junior College in Fort Worth.

Born in Mount Pleasant, Texas, Chief Whittle graduated from high school there and got married. He moved to Dallas and worked in various lines of employment before getting into law enforcement work in 1971.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge #221 in Sulphur Springs since 1971, a member of the Shriner's Temple in Dallas for two years, a member of the Texas Narcotics Association and the Chief of Police Association.

The new chief's wife, Katha, and son, Randy, Jr., 3, will be moving to Cisco in the near future. Chief Whittle moved to Cisco last weekend.

Real Estate Consumer

The Real Estate Consumer is brought to you as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to: The Real Estate Consumer, Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

With cold weather upon us, here are some low-cost ways to lower your heating bills.

First, set your thermostat at 68 degrees or lower in the daytime and at 55 degrees or lower during the night. If you feel chilly at these temperatures, wear warmer clothes and use more bed covers.

It is cheaper than paying for the extra fuel needed to keep you comfortable in a short-sleeve shirt.

Have your furnace inspected, cleaned and adjusted regularly, and make sure you clean or replace the filters about once every days. Dirty filters make your heater work harder and use more energy.

Finally, make sure your vents are not blocked by furniture or draperies. You want to get all the warm air you are paying for. These energy-saving measures do not cost much in terms of money or effort, but they may lower your utility bill.

BUSINESS LOCATION

Thousands of new businesses are being started every year. Many have failed and still others will fail.

But the opportunity to make it through the first crucial years and then see the business grow into a profitable venture often hinges on location. Business location is critically important to a dealer in retail consumer services and products.

No matter how appealing the prices or customer treatment, if the location is distant and inconvenient, patrons will be reluctant. For some businesses even the selection of which side of the street may make the difference between profit or loss.

On high-count traffic streets, convenience of entry to the business must be considered. Real Estate professionals can advise entrepreneurs on location decisions or refer them to traffic engineers and marketing experts who are able to make sound recommendations.

TEXAS: A GIANT MAGNET

Texas can be compared to a giant human magnet whose power to pull more people into the state is getting increasingly stronger.

The latest population trends clearly illustrate the state's increased attractiveness as a place to live. Between 1950 and 1960, the number of people moving to Texas exceeded the number leaving by an average of only 11,000 per year. This figure increased to 21,000 per year in the 1960s.

In the 1970s, however, the average number of immigrants leaped to more than 170,000 people per year.

In the 1950s only 6 percent of all additional Texans came from out of state. This figure jumped 13 percent in the 1950s to almost 60 percent in the 1970s.

Thus, an increasingly larger share of Texas' total population growth is coming from net in-migration.

ADJUSTABLE MORTGAGE LOAN CAPS

Over the last several decades, the portion of Americans owning their homes has dramatically increased. In 1940, less than half of all homes were owned by the occupants. By 1980, this figure had exceeded 64 percent. This growth in home ownership was a product of post-war prosperity, the self-amortizing loan, and the development of the low-cost suburban house.

Another stimulus was the availability of mortgage money at afforded fixed-interest rates. Over the last two years, the rapid rise in mortgage interest rates appears to have reversed this growth in home ownership. As homes have become less affordable, the portion of home-owning households has dropped almost a full percentage point. Experts disagree on whether this drop signals a significant reversal in the home ownership trend or is only a temporary adjustment.

Generally applied to the interest rate, "caps" limit how much loans may be adjusted. For example, a loan may be originated at 15 percent with the stipulation that the rate cannot change more than 1 percent per year. As a result, the borrower is assured that the rate will not rise above 16 percent the following year, no matter how much the loan index increases.

Caps may apply to decreases as well. In our example, the interest rate could not be reduced below 14 percent in the second year, regardless of the drop in the index. Occasionally, a cap is applied to the payment. This helps to stabilize monthly payments but may lead to increases in the loan balance.

A cap is like insurance. It provides protection against extreme interest rate fluctuations.

Evaluation Of Seed And Plant Catalogues

Each year about this time, the seed and plant houses mail out their catalogues. There are over two hundred different catalogues available, including everything from seeds to specific plant material. These catalogues are usually a work of art. Most of them have pictures of the blooming plants as well as other colorful illustrations. In fact, there are collectors of seed and plant catalogues. Most of these catalogues will give the blooming times for the different plants and the general area of the country that it will do the best in. Some of the catalogues will also give the size that the mature plant should be. Now is the time to study these different catalogues and begin making your plans as to what you want to add to your garden or landscape in the coming spring. In making your plans, you should take into consideration the amount of light that will be available as compared to the requirements of the particular plants. Also the size of the mature plant must be considered as well as the color in relation to your home and the area that the plant will be planted in. These catalogues provide a raft of culture information that is very valuable in obtaining the best quality plant.

I have mentioned what to consider when buying the various plants or seeds; now we must consider which nursery and or seed house to buy from. One of the first things to look at, is how long the company has been in business and will they be around to back up the guarantee? Second and also of importance, is the location of the nursery. It should be located in a place that has a similar climate to the area where you live.

This information is offered to help the gardeners of this area.

So long until next week from "The Garden Editor" Ted Brice.

Wildcat Gas Well Completed Near Cisco

A potent new wildcat gas well has been completed three miles northeast of Cisco by SRG Oil Corp. of Abilene.

The operator's No. 1 Walcott flowed 3,462,000 CF natural gas per day and was rated at 4,015,000 CFD on absolute open flow. Initial potential was tested on a .75-in. choke.

Location is in an 80-acre unit in Eastland County's H&TCRR Survey Sect. 76 Blk. 4. The well probed to 4,225-ft. bottom and will produce from a perforated interval 3,748 to 3,752 feet into the hole.

Two new producers have been brought on line in the Eastland Regular Field by Harvest Operating Co. of Cisco.

The wells are designated as the No. 5 and No. 6 White, located six miles north of Eastland. Locations are in a 160-acre drilling unit in the H&TCRR Survey.

The No. 5 well flowed 128,000 CF gas per day on a 12/64 choke. It was rated at 1,206,000 CFD on absolute open flow. The No. 6 showed potential to yield 20 barrels of oil per day on a two-inch choke.

The No. 5 bottomed at 3,820 feet and will produce from perforations 3,755 to 3,761 feet. The No. 6 went to total depth of 3,870 feet and will produce from two sets of perforations, 3,780 to 3,790 and 3,466 to 3,472 feet.

With combined potential to yield 162 barrels of oil per day, three new oilers have been completed in the V.P. Simpson Lease of Eastland County's Hawk Eye Field by Mercury Exploration Co. of Fort Worth.

The wells are in a 243-acre lease in Eastland County's H&TCRR Survey Section 58 Block 3.

Pumping 49 barrels of oil daily on open choke, the No. 13 V.P. Simpson bottomed at 1,183 feet and will produce from perforations 1,111 to 1,114 feet into the wellbore. The well is 10 miles south of Cisco.

Mercury's No. 9 Simpson showed ability to make 62 barrels of oil per day, plus 55,000 CF gas, on open choke. It will produce from perforations 1,097 to 1,100 feet. Drillsite was two miles northwest of Romney.

The third new Mercury well is the No. 11 Simpson, pumping 51 barrels of oil daily along with 46,000 CF casinghead gas. It is located two miles northwest of Romney. Bottomhole was at 1,500 feet. The production interval will be 1,122 to 1,125 feet into the wellbore.

The No. 3 J.C. Carr has been completed in Eastland County's Lake Kleiner Field by Bruce Wilbanks of Midland. Located four miles north of Cisco, the well flowed 305,000 CF gas per day on a .375-in. choke. Absolute open flow came in at 850,000 CFD.

Wilbanks bottomed the hole at 3,986 feet. The production interval will be perforations 3,558 to 3,568 feet into the hole.

Drillsite was in a 320-acre lease in Eastland County's SPRR Survey A-465.

Flowing 457,000 CF gas per day on a .5-in. choke, the No. 2 N.C. Gailey "A" has been brought on line in Eastland County's Allen Field, nine miles southeast of Ranger. The well received a 500,000 CFD rating on absolute open flow.

Location is in a 645-acre lease in the Copes and DeLaney Surveys, nine miles southeast of Ranger. Sun Exploration and Production Co. of Oklahoma City is the operator.

Sun took the well to total depth of 2,314 feet. It will produce from Strawn Formation perforations 1,999 to 2,060 feet into the wellbore.

Eastland County's Hawk Eye Field gained two new producers when Ridgeway Oil Exploration Inc. of Houston completed the No. 14 Tarver "A" and the No. 23 Tarver "A" one mile west of the Romney townsite.

Location is in a 120-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey.

The No. 14 well indicated ability to pump 30 barrels of oil per day on open choke. It was drilled to 1,140-ft. bottom and will produce from perforations 1071 to 1081 feet into the wellbore. The No. 23 bottomed at 1,180 feet. It will produce 35 BOPD from 1,113 to 1,123 feet. Both production intervals are in the Adams Branch Formation.

Gupton Gas of Fort Worth has filed for permit to drill a pair of 2,700-ft. Parker County wildcats about one mile southwest of the Buckner townsite. The wells are designated as the No. 1 Addison and the No. 1 Martin. They are in a 129-acre lease in the Simon Cockrell Survey and a 176-acre lease in the Simon Cockrell Survey, respectively.

Locations has been staked for the No. 2-A Lesikar, a 4,400-ft. developmental probe in the Lesikar Field, three miles southwest of Poolville. L.W. Lesikar of Fort Worth is the operator. The operation will be in an 80-acre drilling unit in the T&PRR Survey, Parker County.

Many Good And Sincere Individuals

...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT
 Christy Fuqua
 The 4-H Clothing Workshop which was held Tuesday, January 25, was a success, with over 40 4-H members and parents in attendance. 4-Her's received useful, up-to-date information which will help them in completing their 4-H clothing projects. The program included Louise Lockhart, Kay

Cockerell and Nell Carter of the Prairie Star Quilt Shop in Abilene. These ladies presented a slide show of this year's designer quilted fashions and a demonstration on "Seminole Patchwork." 4-Her's got lots of ideas for creating their own designs and many took home vest patterns to get started on. Sue Alsop of Sue's Fabrics in Ranger was also on the program and talked about coordinating fabrics and patterns. She brought along pattern books and some new spring fabrics so 4-Her's could see how the fabrics lend themselves to certain fabrics. Demonstrations were also presented by local 4-H Adult leaders Pat Caraway demonstrated how to make flat-fell seams and gave some good tips on working with denim. Jan Slampa showed us how to make designer sleeveheads for this year's all important puffy sleeves.

tion in choosing their wardrobe for this year. As you can see, 4-Her's received a lot of useful information as well as having an enjoyable evening. A second clothing workshop is planned for May - see you there.

Kiser Presents Stain Glass Program

The Reddy Room, Texas Electric Company, Eastland, was comfortable and adequate for Charles Crawford Chapter, DAR, Monday, January 24, 1983, where nine members and nine guests met for a regular meeting at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Joseph Perkins, Regent, opened the meeting and Mrs. Stanley McAnelly gave the invocation.

Mrs. M.F. Kiser was hostess and Mrs. Cromwell co-hostess. Refreshments were cake, cookies, a variety of sandwiches, candy and spiced tea.

Mr. M.F. Kiser was speaker. An enthusiast on the art of stained glass, he showed slides and interesting examples of his work. Interest in stained glass was known as long ago as 500 A.D. It continued until 1300-1500, when it began to decline. Most of the art was used for church windows and other religious subjects. Modern knowledge with proper use of light to improve depth and color, Mr. Kiser displayed individual sizes and shapes of his work which are decorative and make beautiful conversation pieces. The secret of the art lies in designing, drawing, proper tools and temperature for shaping the glass. Mr. Kiser explained how designs were traced on paper and cut out. The pieces are placed properly to complete the picture; somewhat like fitting together parts of a puzzle.

Mrs. Perkins called a short business meeting after the program. The meeting adjourned at 4:30 p.m.

Seeds From The Sower

Michael A. Guido

A reporter asked a woman, "Who's your favorite author?"

"My husband," she replied.

"What does he write?" he asked.

"Checks," she answered. Philippians 4:19 reveals this check for you: "My God shall supply all your needs according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus."

Suppose you have a need and I have a billion dollars. If I gave you ten dollars I would be giving out of my riches.

But if I gave you a blank check and said, "Fill in for anything you need," I would be giving according to my riches. And God, being unlimited in His wealth, gives according to His riches.

There is pardon for you.

God not only takes away the guilt of sin, but also the grief. There is power for you to be a victor, never a victim. And there are provisions for you. No good thing will He withhold from them who walk uprightly. This God of unlimited mercy and might is always caring for you.

Cash this check by faith, won't you?

Two Minutes With The Bible

Cornelius R. Stam

THE MOST IMPORTANT HOUR OF HISTORY

History records many great and significant events, but none nearly so significant as the crucifixion of Christ on the cross of Calvary. Referring to the time, then still future, when this should take place, our Lord spoke again and again of "the hour", "that hour" and "My hour", and so does the sacred record.

When His enemies would have stoned Him at the Feast of Tabernacles, the record states merely: "... they sought to take Him; but no man laid hands on Him, because His hour was not yet come" (John 7:30). Finally, when that dread hour did arrive, we read:

"And when the hour was come, He sat down, and the twelve apostles with Him" (Luke 22:14).

"And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come that the Son of man should be glorified."

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn [grain] of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit."

"Now is My soul troubled; and what shall I say?"

Father, save Me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour" (John 12:23, 24, 27).

"Now before the Feast of the Passover, when Jesus knew that His hour was come... having loved His own which were in the world, He loved them unto the end" (John 13:1).

Finally, in His great High-priestly prayer, uttered in the very shadow of the cross, He "lifted up His eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come..." (John 17:1).

This is the hour to which so many of the Old Testament sacrifices and prophecies had pointed forward.

This is the hour to which the redeemed will look back with gratitude and praise for the ages to come. There would have been no salvation for sinners without it, nor any hope of a restored earth without the curse of sin removed. Thank God, because Christ was willing to face that dreadful hour,

"we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace" (Eph. 1:7).

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
 By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Political smiles and handshakes were out front last week when two presidential hopefuls visited Texas looking for support.

Behind the scenes, Texas legislators went quietly about the business of getting through the winding battle over gubernatorial appointments.

Former Vice President Walter Mondale flew Thursday to San Antonio, meeting with South Texas business and political Democrats and picking up presidential endorsements, including that of city's Mayor Henry Cisneros.

One source who attended closed meetings reported Mondale had "locked up" the city's support. Others mentioned Cisneros as a vice presidential possibility.

Meanwhile, former astronaut Ohio Senator John Glenn paid his second visit to Texas in three weeks, addressing a joint session of the Legislature and showcasing the endorsement of Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby. Hobby's support helps Glenn in Houston, and, insiders say, boosts Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen's chances for the vice president slot.

Glenn, who was the first American to orbit the Earth, told legislators "the full blown tragedy" of the U.S. economy was now the fault of Reaganomics.

White said he will ask the Legislature to pass a law allowing Texans to elect members to the Public Utility Commission. He apparently will seek at-large elections of commission members who currently are appointed by him.

He also appointed an Austin lawyer, Rafael Quintanilla, as head of the Texas Department of Community Affairs. Quintanilla in 1978 took over Gov. Dolph Briscoe's troubled migrant affairs office, ironing out prior mismanagements and winning respect for his administrative skills.

The Attorney General
 New Atty. Gen. Jim Mattox, never one to shy away from controversial issues, announced he will issue an opinion soon on whether three Tarrant County justices of the peace can legally refuse to perform interracial marriages.

Texas law at one time provided criminal penalties for interracial marriages, but a 1966 U.S. Supreme Court ruling struck down all such state laws.

Mattox also said a Feb. 12 special election involving Democrat-turned-Republican Phil Gramm may be illegal because it does not give Democrats enough time to prepare. A lawsuit has been filed to delay the election, and Gov. White has been approached to change the election date set by former Gov. Clements before he left office last three weeks ago.

Any delay is believed to help leading Democrat contender Dan Kubiak and nine other challengers overtake Gramm.

The Senate

The Senate gave preliminary approval to legislation

Presidential Hopefuls Visit Texas

banning "lame duck" appointments, and is expected to send the measure to the House sometimes this week.

The Senate also passed bills to force parents to put their small children in car safety seats and to let judges continue to lock up mental patients on an emergency basis.

The car seat bill provides a $50 ticket to parents who don't safety seat their children under age four. The ticket can be dismissed if parents buy a car seat within 10 days of violation.

The House

In the House, Speaker Gib Lewis of Fort Worth said he wants to avoid considering the controversial issue of congressional redistricting because it divides legislators.

But Lewis did support a plan to increase Texas automobile license fees by as much as $500 million a year for highways.

The plan would base the fees on a car's value, rather than its weight. That would mean a new $10,000 car weighing 4,000 pounds would jump fees from $25.50 to $156. a year.

A bizarre accident occurred last week when new Speaker Pro Tem Hugo Berlanga of Fort Worth filled in at the podium for his first time. The gavel head flew off its handle and hit Rep. Anita Hill, R-Garland, in the head.

Ironically, Mrs. Hill had just walked up to the podium to kid with Berlanga about a supposedly male chauvinist comment. As she walked away, the flying gavel caught her about 12 feet away. A stunned Berlanga was later kidded by legislators, especially Republicans who said they have "too few on the floor already."

House Of Representatives

Jim Parker-District 65

Thinking back over my first three weeks in Austin, I can see differences in each week. It's been like the countdown before a race. As I said in my initial report, the first week was pomp and ceremony.

The second week we moved closer to "starting time". Everyone was anxiously awaiting committee assignments wondering if they would get their preferences. Speaker Lewis has assigned me to Judicial Affairs and County Affairs. Both committees will have bill referred to them which directly affect District 65 so I am very pleased with my assignments.

The third week of the Legislature was filled with visits from many constituents who were down in Austin for meetings of their own. Members of the Farm Bureau and School administrators were having seminars in Austin so they dropped in for a visit to the Legislature. I know that both of those groups are pleased that Governor White's State of the State Address included his concern for and understanding of their problems. It seems very likely that Governor White will "tag" some of their proposals as emergency legislation which will allow the House to begin hearings in committee on these subjects. Since the House did not suspend the Rules, only emergency legislation can be debated in committee during the first 60 days of the session. This gives the new governor more time to plan his programs. It also gives me more time to learn the system—how it works, how best to get a bill passed or how to keep it from passing.

Week four is coming up and the House is ready. Now the work really begins.

SETTLING AN ESTATE?

There are several important tasks you must perform when you are given the responsibility of settling an estate. If the decedent does not leave a will the court will appoint an administrator. Or, if there is a will the decedent will have designated a person to act as executor of the estate.

The executor, or administrator, must ascertain what holdings of real estate and personal property are in the estate. After compiling a list of assets an appraisal must be made to determine their value for estate taxation purposes.

If bequests were made in the will the specific items must be transferred to the recipients. In most cases it will be necessary to convert remaining assets to cash so they can be distributed according to the will, or according to the laws of the State.

Attorneys and trust officers can help you fulfill your legal responsibilities. I can help you with the appraising and selling and remember, when it comes to selling AUCTION'S BEST

System Allows Citizen Participation

Our forefathers set up a basically simple system of law-making. In keeping with the principles of our democratic form of government, the process allows - and encourages - citizens participation.

The first step in law-making is the introduction of a piece of legislation called a "bill" in the Senate or the House of Representatives. The ideas for bills often come from congress-people or their staffs, but anyone, even private citizens, can make suggestions. Only senators and representatives can introduce bills, however. Any legislation that calls for raising money must originate in the House.

After the bill is introduced, it is referred to a committee for consideration. The committees are organized into subcommittees, which study the bill and hold public hearings. Anyone can request an appearance or submit written comments for the record.

If the subcommittee reports favorably on the bill, it is considered by the full committee. If the majority approves, a detailed analysis called the "Committee Report" is prepared. Then the bill is placed on one of the Senate or House calendars to await its consideration by the general membership.

When a bill comes up for debate and vote by the full membership, new amendments are frequently proposed and considered before a vote is taken on the entire bill. If the legislation in its final form is approved by the majority, it is sent to the other house where it is again referred to the appropriate committee.

Usually the House or Senate amends the legislation passed by the other body. Sometimes a completely different version is passed. Unless the changes are minor, each house appoints members to a Conference Committee to iron out a compromise between the two versions. If a compromise is worked out, the final version is sent back to each house for another vote.

Once a bill is approved by both houses, it's sent to the President. It becomes law if he signs it or fails to veto it within ten days while Congress is in session. If the President vetoes a bill, it can still become law if two-thirds of the memberships of both the Senate and the House vote to override the President's decision.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen

The label "unreliable" is slapped on U.S. farmers in world trade markets.

It's not our farmers who are unreliable, though. You can count on them. The fault lies with the U.S. Government and the disruptive effects of its embargoes and threats of embargo.

This costs our farmers, the most efficient food producers in the world, their valuable export markets. They pay a very high price. During fiscal 1982, for the first time since 1969, the total value of U.S. agricultural exports declined, by a hefty 10.7 percent.

Our export markets have gone sour even as the Agriculture Department has been touting export sales as the answer to our farmers' financial troubles. And the blame lies with State Department "experts" who have, down through the years, forced the American farmer to pay the bill for this nation's foreign policy.

For example, a 1973 embargo on soybean exports to Japan spurred the Japanese into developing a thriving soybean industry in Brazil. Before, the U.S. soybeans had comprised more than 90 percent of world soybean trade. Brazil now holds a major part of the world market.

Before the 1980 embargo on grain sales to Russia, the U.S. had 70 percent of the Russian market. We now have 30 percent.

The Administration's refusal last year to negotiate a long-term grain agreement with Russia amounts to a "defacto embargo" and will continue to place a great strain on U.S. farmers.

Time after time it has been vividly demonstrated that agricultural embargoes don't work. I have consistently opposed them no matter which President, Democrat or Republican, has suggested them.

In an effort to help our farmers, I introduced a bill last September that would at least give them a chance to prepare for any future embargoes.

My bill guaranteed that for nine months after an embargo is declared, export contracts signed before the embargo would still be honored.

This sanctity of contract provision means that, in most cases, an embargo would not go into effect for 270 days after it is declared. It gives a needed period of grace that will make the United States a more reliable supplier of farm goods in the eyes of our customers in foreign countries.

I am pleased to report that my proposal was included in a bill recently signed into law by the President.

Although this bill won't get rid of embargoes, it is a big step in the right direction. Guaranteeing our export contracts will allow more aggressive marketing of U.S. farm products and will combat our reputation as an "unreliable supplier."

Capitol Update

Senator John Tower

Two decades ago, American industry without question was the most productive in the world. Today, we can no longer make that statement for many sectors of our economy. And, today, we are experiencing the most severe economic difficulties we have encountered since World War II. It seems to me that the decline in our productivity relative to the rest of the industrial world is a major factor in the problems in our economy.

Productivity is measured by the amount one worker produces in one hour. From 1973 to 1980, U.S. private business productivity rose at an average rate of 1.7 percent per year. During that same period, Japan's productivity grew by an average 7.2 percent per year and West Germany's by 4.8 percent.

Figures are not available yet for all of 1982, but the trend can be seen by comparing the third quarter of 1982 with the same period in 1981. During that year, private business productivity rose by only .3 percent, and manufacturing productivity actually declined by .8 percent.

These are more than abstract statistics. It is estimated that each one percent of growth in the productivity rate increases the work force's buying power by $26.5 billion. This means jobs -- not temporary, make-work jobs, but lasting jobs that strengthen the economy.

The alarming stagnation of American productivity has many causes. Part of the blame must go to management and labor who agreed on pay increases without accompanying increases in productivity. This increased costs and fueled inflation.

The energy crisis of the 1970s had a significant impact on productivity because of the major adjustments it required from industry. Suddenly equipment which used large amounts of energy had to be overhauled, withdrawn from operation or replaced. Planned new technology which would have required heavy energy use was not introduced in some cases. Product design and production methods were revised. These changes were costly but often did not increase productivity.

Government is not blameless in the productivity problem. Many government regulations added to the cost of products by causing them to be produced less efficiently than they could have been. Some of the regulations were necessary for health and safety, but others yielded little or no benefit to workers or consumers.

Finally, some American industries did not modernize plants or equipment enough to remain competitive with foreign manufacturers.

In the quarter-century after World War II, the United States was last among major industrial countries in the percentage of gross national product devoted to fixed capital investment.

Clearly, we must improve our productivity rate if we are to regain our world trading status. If we are to be successful, every sector of our society must work toward that goal.

Much of the President's economic package is aimed at stimulating the capital investment which is critical to modernizing our industrial capability. The Administration also is working to make regulation more cost-effective.

But government cannot do the job alone. Every business and every worker must make increased productivity a commitment of the highest priority. By working together, I believe we can meet the challenge.

List Your Way to Success

I like lists. Correction. I love lists. I practically live for lists. I love to read lists, memorize them, recite them, even make them, myself. It doesn't matter what kinds of lists. The important thing is that they're lists.

The other day, for example, I made a list at the public library of a number of newspapers to which I plan to submit travel articles. Freelance writers like myself often cross traditional areas of expertise—from photography to travel to gardening to sports. Lists seem to make that crossing easier. Of course, I may never get around to sending the articles out, but the list is tacked to the bulletin board in my office.

Another type of list that never fails to get my attention is the antique-farm auction-estate sale list. You'd be amazed at how many times I'll find the word, "camera," on the sales bill. The real fun begins, though, at the sale. It's still possible to get a $400 or $500 dollar antique camera in perfect working condition for just a couple of bucks. Of course, it's also possible to watch an Instamatic with melted gumdrops and chocolate residue permanently attached to the lens sell for three times its worth. You've got to know what you're doing in this area if you don't want to get taken.

Lists can be extremely valuable things. In addition to helping you locate once-in-a-lifetime buys on photo equipment, they can actually help you to become a better photographer. I know one fellow who has a running list of all the photo types that catch his fancy. He'll record such things as "little boy with balloon" or "horse in field at sunset." The idea, of course, is for him to get out and duplicate those photos, thus—theoretically, at least—making him a better photographer.

In reality, this fellow is a trifle on the lazy side. If he gets around to shooting two or three things out of twenty, he's doing well. So you have to have the right kind of temperament if you're going to use a list in this fashion. Otherwise, you may end up getting extremely frustrated with your own shortcomings.

Grocery lists are things nearly everyone has had at least some experience with. I guess if I were to be honest, I'd have to admit that I never really went bananas for grocery lists. I'm an impulse buyer. I like to wander through a store, picking and choosing whatever catches my eye at the time.

Unfortunately, whenever I do that, I end up with a cupboard filled with canned mushroom stems and pieces and not an egg in the house. Who buys eggs on impulse? So, begrudgingly, I bought one of those erasable memo boards and whenever I'm about to run out of something, I add it to my list. Then, instead of transferring the list to a sheet of paper when I go shopping, I simply grab my instant-print camera and take a snapshot of the list, which I carry with me to the store. I know that's more expensive than writing the list out, but I don't smoke and I'm not big on sitting in saloons, so what the heck.

Another list I've found extremely valuable in my photographic work is a running a darkroom list of things to do and another of things to buy. I just took a peek at those lists, and I see I'm out of Dektol black-and-white paper developer and lens cleaner tissues. I'll pick some up the next time I visit my photo dealer.

I also see that I have to process some black-and-white photos to accompany some of those travel articles I plan on sending to all the newspapers on that other list posted on my bulletin board. But that can wait, can't it? I think I'll go fishing.

The weather is still typical West Texas—very windy today.

I expect we can count on a lot of this in the next two months. We are so thankful to not have the storms and rains that have plagued the California coast.

Surely with all the moisture we have we will not have much dust. That's the one thing I do not like about West Texas, but I'm still thankful to be here.

Our good friend Ollie Burnam is still on the sick list. She is at the home of her daughter the Bill Browns at Fort Worth we hope you will be able to come home real soon Ollie.

LeLena Wagley daughter of Bill Wagley suffered a broken finger this week. And Mr. Earnest Weed of the Dan Horn Community, an uncle of Calvin King, suffered a very severe arm injury in a chain saw accident this week. He is in an Abilene Hospital and doing very well.

Warren Donaway of Brownwood underwent gall bladder surgery this week. He is recuperating at home now. His parents the Milton Donaways have been keeping close touch with him.

I understand that the Dick Weeks have their home that they have purchased here almost finished and will be moving here soon. We are always glad to welcome new comers to Putnam. However the Weeks are not new comers. It will be more a homecoming to him. He grew up at Putnam.

Grandson Of Local Couple Is Sweden Exchange Student

(Editor's Note—The following article is an excerpt from a letter written by young Charles Stephenson to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H.M. (Jack) Stephenson of Cisco.

Charles is spending a year in Sweden as an exchange student and spent his sixteenth birthday there. He has been a frequent visitor to Cisco and has begun looking forward to his return. Charles attends school in Bedford, Texas when he is in the states.)

I live in Molkom and go to school in Karlstad in the province of Varmland. This is in south central Sweden just above Vanern, Europe's largest inland lake. In the winter the sun rises around 9:00 a.m. and sets around 3:00 p.m.

Youth For Understanding (Y.F.U.) is the foreign exchange organization I represent. Over the Christmas holidays I was in Stockholm, Sweden's capital city, for one week attending the Y.F.U.'s mid-year meeting. This was something I had been looking forward to the whole year.

I went with the other Y.F.U. students in Sweden to meet King Carl Gustaf and Queen Silvia. We awaited them in one of many huge rooms in the royal palace in Stockholm's old town. They went around, shook hands with everyone and managed to smile the whole time. Afterwards the king gave a short speech to us in English. What an experience—meeting and even shaking hands with a real European king and queen! (see photo)

Afterwards, as a sort of anti-climax, we were taken on a short guided tour of the castle by one of the servants. It was certainly impressive with its large spacious rooms, beautifully painted ceilings, and priceless works of art. Following the tour, we were invited to Stockholm's city hall for lunch with the council's vice president.

The next day was just as exciting! We went to the renowned Nobel prize ceremony. Our seats in the Concert House were the furthest back and up, but we had a great view of the stage. There was Queen Silvia again—envy of all in her beautiful white dress—and King Carl. The Stockholm Philharmonic Orchestra was there providing music between the award handouts.

Stockholm shuts down almost completely after six o'clock, which seems a bit peculiar as it is a major European city. The streets are nearly empty and there is hardly any night life. There are no slums here or in any other large Swedish city. This is due to the high degree of social aid. Sometimes taxes are 70% of the income, but the people get a lot for this.

Sweden has a highly organized and efficient public transportation system with buses, trains, and subways—all of which are really clean. The typical picture of Sweden is a little off. There are a lot of blonde blue-eyed people here, but not everyone. And there's not always snow. The temperature has been 37 degrees or less since November, but this area of Sweden (on the same latitude as southern Alaska) had no snow at Christmas and has bare ground even now. However, they say this is highly unusual and that I brought Texas weather with me!

I found that in Sweden there are a lot of Texas stereotypes as well. There is the old one that Texas is all desert with lots of scloons and cowboys. Then, there is the new one partially influenced by the T.V. series, "Dallas". Texas is a place where even the poor are rich and everybody owns a few oil wells. Plus, they think our attitude towards firearms is awful.

I am one of three Texans that I know of here in Sweden. I think being in a foreign country like this makes a person a bit more patriotic towards their own country or state. Also, I attend Lingvalla High School which was built in 1867.

Some Swedish laws are quite different from the ones we are used to, e.g., physical discipline by the school or parents is not allowed; there is one year of compulsory military service for all 18 year olds.

The Swedish Christmas is similar to the American one in many ways including the belief in Santa Claus, but the Swedes have an advent calendar for the children. Each day in December until Christmas, the child opens a door to get a "goodie" in the box calendar. However, before Santa Claus, the Swedish belief was that a large goat brought all the presents.

A different experience was the Saint Lucia holiday. A pretty girl is chosen to serve everyone breakfast in a house or hotel, or in the schools to be part of a play. The chosen Saint Lucia walks gracefully with a crown of lit candles on her head. (See photo)

Music Clubs Continue Crusade For Strings

The National Federation of Music Clubs, of which the Cisco Music Study Club is a member, continues this year with its Crusade for Strings and Chamber Music.

Mrs. J.C. Dyer, president of the Cisco club, explains that this Crusade began in 1955, when Vera Dougan was President of the National Federation of Music Clubs. The plan was for promotion of merit awards and ways for Music Clubs to receive credits on rating sheets.

Mrs. L. Johnson was named the first Crusade for Strings Chairman, and Dr. Lena Milan, Texas Federation of Chamber music, as Chairman of Chamber music. The "plan of work" was launched for the first time by National for the season of 1956-57.

The National Federation offers a first prize of $35.00 and second prize of $25.00 to Senior; first prize $25.00 and second prize $15.00 Junior Club awards for outstanding programs and projects. The National Chairman also offers $20.00 to the State Federation having the greatest number of Senior entries.

The Cisco Music Club presents their string musicians on various programs. They are: Mrs. Ben Krauskopf, violin, Mrs. Viola Payne, violin, Mrs. Buddy Sipe, cello and Mrs. Troy Tow, cello. Mrs. Tow, a sister of Mrs. Krauskopf, also accompanies her on the piano.

One Cisco Music Club member has established a scholarship for high school violin students in Texas, and this will prepare and promote them for Symphony concerts and Chamber ensembles. The first winner was presented with a $125.00 award this year at the Junior Festival in Houston.
