HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLWARK

MAYBE WARM weather really looking swell this year is here to stay for awhile. Area temperatures have been in the 80s and low 90s during this week, with overnight temperatures dropping back down enough to make for some very enjoyable evenings outside.

It really seems nice to be able to spend some time outof-doors with short sleeve shirts on and enjoy nature.

During this time of year, I always begin having spring fever where I don't want to come to work each morning, but I would rather be planning a fishing trip or something else to do in the out-of-doors. It seems a shame to spend your time indoors when the weather outside is so beautiful.

My luck usually calls for bad weather on weekends when I might have time to do something outside which I could enjoy. Either there is bad weather or else I have something else which must be done because the weather permits

But at any rate, it is nice to be out-doors even if I am having to do some type of work, such as mowing the lawn (since our boys are out of town this week.)

Trees, grass and all other plants are extremely pretty this time of year. Even the mesquite trees look pretty now, with their green leaves sprouting out. I guess (according to area experts) the mesquite trees prove spring is really here to stay.

ALL STATE PLAYER-Kendall Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Anderson, was selected to the AA All-State third team. Kendall, a 6'5" senior, and Fuzzy Butler from Ranger were the only two young men recognized to the All-State teams from the Big Country area. Butler made the second team. Kendall averaged 17.8 points a game this year with 10.8 rebounds average and 68.2% at the free-throw line. Other honors Kendall received this year were first team All-District and second team All-Region.

Vandalism, Alcohol Measures Passed; Paving Bids Ordered

Ordinances seeking to control drinking and vandalism in public parks were approved and bids were ordered for a contract to pave six blocks on Front Street at the semimonthly meeting of the City Council at City Hall last Tuesday night.

Passed on first reading was an ordinance prohibiting the consumption and possession of open con-tainers of alcoholic beverages on public lands of Lake Cisco and Williamson Dam. A purpose of the ordinance, City Manager Mike Moore told the Council, was to prevent beer parties on public land and littering at the lake and dam.

The ordinance also covers 'any property owned by the city which is designated by the Council and used as a park to include, but not limited to, all grounds, driveways and pedestrian

Passed as an emergency measure to become effective immediately was an ordinance providing for and offering a reward for information resulting in the arrest and conviction of crimes of vandalism in city parks, the city hall, the city barn, water treatment and distribution facilities, wastewater collection and treatment facilities, Williamson Dam, Lake Cisco, Lake Bernie and all accompanying and adjoining grounds and structures and all equipment and vehicles owned by the city.

The ordinance provides for payment of a $50 reward to anyone who secures and furnishes information that will result in arrest and conviction of anyone who commits an act of vandalism to cityowned property.

City Manager Moore said this ordinance was the result of meetings and study of vandalism at City Park and elsewhere. It was decided that this might be the most effective way to combat vandalism. The Council expressed the hope that the public would help by calling police to report any acts of van-

The Council set Thursday,

May 26, at 1:30 p.m. as the date and time to open bids for the paving of Front Street from Eighth to Second Street. Plans, as worked out by Engineer Billy Jacob and approved by the Council, call for a 34-foot pavement from Eighth to Fourth Street and 26-foot pavement from Fourth to Second Street. Curb and gutter will be poured from Eighth to Fourth Streets. Specifications call for hot mix pavement. It was estimated that the project would cost about

The City's plumbing code was updated with the passage of an ordinance to amend the regulation that was adopted in 1969. The new code calls for increasing inspection fees to $10 with $7.50 for a re-inspection. When the city supplies all materials and labor, the fee will be $25 or $15 for a re-inspection. The Double Diamond Brand was used on Hereford cattle for many years. J.V. Heyser operated a cattle truck hauling business for some 33 years and during most of the time he bought beef stock for a meat packing company. Observing the various breeds of cattle, he concluded that Angus cattle had more to offer the rancher. In 1967, the ranch's Angus herd was started.

During the same 15 years since switching to Angus, the Heysers have used care in selecting their cows and herd bulls. Their animals have won many prizes in shows throughout the southwest. The heifers chosen for this sale were regarded by the Heysers as top animals. Five of them have been nominated to the First Prospect Show Heifer Futurity on July 25-30 at Fredricksburg where the grand champion will earn a $10,000 prize.

J.V. Heyser is currently serving as vice president of the Texas Angus Association and as vice president of the Leon Valley Angus Association. Both Mr. and Mrs. Heyser work in the Texas Junior Angus Association with over 200 young people participating in activities.

The Texas Angus association publishes a directory each year of its more than 500 members, and each year's edition is dedicated to a member family in recognition of their contributions. In June, 1982, the directory was distributed at a field day at Paluxy, 20 miles southeast of Stephenville, and J.V. and Helen Heyser were the honorees.

The directory contained several pictures of the Heysers and their ranch. It was prepared without their

How Much House Can You Afford?

Lone Star Title & Abstract Co.

Joe B. Koonce, Mgr. 101 W. Main

Eastland, Texas 76448 (817) 629-2683

David S. Jones

The Real Estate Consumer is brought to you as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to: The Real Estate Consumer, Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843-2115.

Do you know how much house you can afford?

At one time, lenders based the amount of money you could borrow on rules-ofthumb, such as twice your annual income. Today most applications are considered on a case-by-case basis.

Depending on your other indebtedness, the amount of your down payment and your credit record, you might qualify for a larger mortgage than someone making more money. When budgeting for your monthly mortgage payment, keep in mind that most lenders will require you to pay taxes and insurance in addition to payments for interest and principal.

If you obtain a fixed-rate mortgage, the payment for principal and interest remains constant throughout the term of the loan, but increases in taxes and insurance still may raise your monthly payments. Be sure your budget is flexible enough to allow for these increases. A local real estate professional can help you determine how much home you can afford.

HOME IMPOVEMENT

Before you begin a home remodeling project, you may wish to consider several items, such as resale value. Some improvements will repay a good part of their cost at resale, while others may actually limit the home's appeal and selling price. Adding another bedroom or bath to a small home may increase its value enough to recover the costs of materials and labor when vou eventually sell. But more personal preference projects, such as a lily pond or fountain in the backyard, may reduce the number of

You might also consider the value of other homes in your neighborhood. Raising your home's vaue too much over those nearby may lessen your chance of recovering your expenses. The final decision depends upon how long you intend to live in your house and what the improvement is worth to your personal satisfaction.

NEIGHBORHOOD REVITALIZATION

Many neighborhoods, which were considered hopelessly in decline just a few years ago, have become hot new areas for investment.

Neighborhood revitalization, a process where individuals undertake the renovation of older homes, is occurring in most of the larger cities across the country. In some areas, revitalization has caused property values to increase dramatically.

In a typical revitalizing neighborhood, young couples and individuals buy old houses at relatively low prices and attempt to restore their historic and original architectural qualities.

Renovators often form associations to help upgrade the entire neighborhood. Given the high cost of new construction, many feel the renovation movement will continue for some time.

TRYING TO OUTGUESS INTEREST RATES.

If you have been waiting to see when interest rates will bottom out before buying real estate, you know how difficult it can be.

When rates are falling, there's a temptation to wait for a further decline before buying. But then rates can turn up sharply and the opportunity slip away.

On the other hand, if you buy and afterwards interest rates drop even further, it may be to your advantage to refinance. Should you decide to refinance, there are three variables you should watch.

First, there are transaction costs. Second is the differential of interest rates. And third is the survival term of the new loan.

Here's a tip to help you decide if you should refinance. For each 1 percent of the mortgage balance paid as transactions costs, interest rates must be reduced by at least 1/8 of 1 percent, and the new loan survive at least 12 years.

INSURANCE FOR YOUR HOME

Your home probably represents the biggest investment you will ever make. Therefore it is a good idea to protect your investment with insurance.

It is best to insure your home to its replacement cost, even if that is greater than its market value. Remember that insurance will only pay for losses you can substantiate.

If you live in a flood-prine area, insurance is not likely to be available for protection against that disaster. To be insured against theft and hazards, valuable personal property, such as jewelry, sterling silverware and original paintings, must be scheduled on your homeowner's policy at an additional premium. For details on homeowner's insurance, contact a reputable insurance agent.

Spotlights & Sidelights

Julia Worthy

At the time I was out there, the contrast between the first Cisco Folklife Festival and the tenth was probably greatest in the matter of elbow room.

With forty exhibitors for last weekend in the same space as the original ten, elbow room certainly did shrink. In fact, if you have claustrophobia, or happen to be a touch-me-not, don't plan to go to the next festival.

Otherwise, don't miss it! Joann Cermin, president of the Cisco Service Club in 1974, ramrodded the first Festival. Peggy Maddox helped with the production, and since then all the Cisco clubs have cooperated and participated in this annual affair.

Beth Ward, general Folklife chairman of the Cisco Civic League now, is quoted: "It takes the cooperation of all the clubs to make it possible," Ward says. "The Civic League makes the arrangements, but everyone helps.'

Books offered for sale by the club included Bill Roberts history of Cisco, Lela Latch Loyd's work, Mary Carey's books...Mary spends most of her time in Alaska now, but with sisters Lela and Ann in Cisco, it's all right for Cisco to claim herespecially as Lela lives in the "old home place" and so does Mary when she's here.

Viola Payne was represented by only one title of the several books she has published, but it was a goodie-a true lost-treasure search.

J.W. Sitton's collection of Mexican recipes was available, as were several other books published in Cisco but not authored by Ciscoans.

While I ambled along looking at the spinning, tin punching, taffy pulling and other reflections of bygone days, I wondered why the exhibitors of such wares as modern jewelry and decoupaged plaques were included in a folklife exhibit.

I feel real stupid, now that I've thought about it. (Ten lashes with a wet noodle for not thinking sooner.) A folklife festival should mirror the old and the new, but I do not believe I am alone in thinking of "folklife" as relating to an earlier day.

However, folklife means current activities, too. It is the current that moves us from one place to another, though retaining a cyclical aspect. Superman has much in common with Flash Gordon, and who's to say how much Tillie the Toiler inspired the creator of Brenda Starr?

It is difficult for me to reconcile my reactions to the old and the new-not just in a folklife festival. I do appreciate the painstaking skills involved in handcrafts, but I recognize that machined work provides more goods to more poeple. But are they better off morally or financially? Happier?

I also appreciate being able to get from Point A to Point B in three hours instead of three days, but is the trip really necessary?

Were the best interests of

the country served by publishing the facts so long after the recount of the votes in Duval County put Johnson ahead of Stevenson? As far as that goes, it seems to me that the scars from Watergate are far more harmful than any good the expose may have done.

Alas, alack, and welladay! This grasshoppering has taken me a long way from the CJC Ag barn, but I do want to add that one aspect of our current folklife that is making me a touch nervy is "investigative reporting."

So much of it seems to me to be witch-hunting and little more than the reporter's opinion...yes, I'm giving you my opinion, but you know that from the beginning. It also riles me no end to listen to the President (or to anyone) makes a speech and thirty seconds later, here comes a commentator to tell us what was said but what was "really meant" was such and so.

I "really meant" to say I liked what I saw at Cisco's Folklife Festival. I hope it's even bigger next year, and I feel sure it will be just as interesting. I will be very disturbed and very likely "take steps" if anyone says I "really meant" to say something else!

Retirees Should Contact SS Office

If you are planning to retire in 1983, contact your local Social Security office three months in advance. Retirement age for Social Security benefits is age 62 or older. However, if you plan to receive benefits as a widow or widower, retirement may be as early as age

By making a telephone call you will be able to get an estimate of the amount of benefits you will receive. You will also be advised if benefits are payable to other members of your family, for example, to your spouse, a student child or a disabled child. The representative will advise you of the proofs you must furnish to perfect your claim. This will include, but may not be limited to, proof of age, earnings for the previous year, military will be eligible, proof of their ages and Social Security numbers.

Persons within three months of age 65 who are planning to continue working full time should also contact the local Social Security office to enroll for Medicare. It is not necessary to retire to have that coverage.

Social Security offices have services available to save your and transportation expenses. In most cases, the complete application procedure may be handled over the telephone without requiring a personal trip to the office. If you call in your name, Social Security number, date of birth, planned retirement date, address and telephone number, a claims representative will be able to secure an estimate and call you back in a few Have Just Received

The earnings limit for those eligible for benefits for all months of 1983 is $6,600 for persons becoming 65 in 1983 and $4,920 for those under age 65. If you plan to retire and do not expect to earn over those limits call the Social Security office early in the year to file your application. Since the annual earnings limit will not apply to individuals age 70 or over beginning in January 1983, spouses of those persons should call as soon as they are within three months of attainment of age 62.

CUSTOMERS OF HIGH TURBIDITY Dear Customer:

The City of Cisco during the month of March 1983, supplied water that exceeded the Texas Department of Health's "Drinking Water Standards", which were promulgated as required by the 'Safe Drinking Water Act", Public Law 93-523 (US), for turbidity. The water supplied failed one or more of the following creteria;

(1) the monthly average exceeded 1 turbidity unit (TU).

The presence of excessive turbidity or cloudiness in drinking water may interfere with the effectiveness of disinfection of the water. Permitting the turbidity level to exceed the standard may present a risk

NOTICE TO WATER to the health of persons drinking the water.

However, up to five turbidity units (TU) may be allowed if the supplier can demonstrate that the higher turbidity does not; (1) interfere with disinfection, (2) prevent maintenance of an effective disinfectant agent throughout the distribution system, or (3) interfere with microbiological measurements.

The water system is being studied to correct any high turbidity at any future date.

C.H.S. Band & Sponsors Return From Astroworld

Some 85 Cisco High School Lobo Band members and sponsors returned April 16 from an entertaining and eventful trip to compete in the annual Astroworld Band and Choral Festival - and the band received a 3-rating during its performance in Cullen Auditorium on the campus of the University of Houston Band Director Alvin Young explained that the contest is a national one, and that a 3-rating is well above average, since the Loboes were competing with bands, from every class in the state, as well as bands from Louisiana and Oklahoma. Some 90 bands were performing in the festival, and very few, Young explains, received

The Lobo Band played very well, as the sponsors will admit, and some even felt it was the Loboes' best performance of the year.

Besides performing in the festival, the Lobo Band joined the other bands and choirs in two visits to the Astroworld Amusement facilities, going to the park Friday evening and Satur-

Also included in the trip was a visit to Stewart Beach Park at Galveston. Despite the cool weather, the students enjoyed the outing in the sun. The beach is laced by the glistening surf of the Gulf of Mexico and is patrolled by qualified lifeguards. Some of the band members and sponsors also enjoyed a seafood buffet at a nearby restaurant which overlooks the park.

At Astroworld, students, and some of the sponsors, enjoved the rides and shows offered at the amusement park, which included the Texas Cyclone, the world's number one roller coaster (according to the press release, at least); Greezed Lightnin', a new ride which in four seconds flat catapults

Finally, a thank you to the college for the use of the Ag Building, the Ag teachers who move out every year, and to the maintenance crew who keep it all working.

We hope that everyone enjoyed their visit, and we are already starting plans for next year. Sincerely,

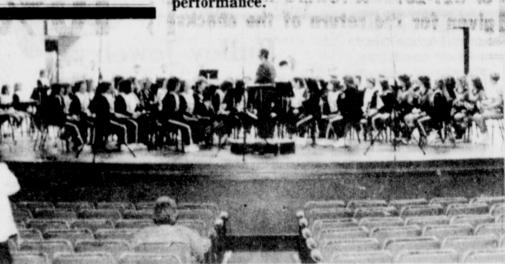

Cisco Civic League Beth Ward, Chairman you from zero to 60 miles per hour, with a force of six G's, you're orbiting, upside down through a Texas-size loop circling more than 80 feet high into the Houston sky, and then straight up 10 stories in the air at a near vertical 70-degree angle, then makes the return trip; which is probably as close to riding the rapids as most people want to come.

Overall, the trip was very enjoyable for everyone, and the sponsors would like to thank the members of the band for their conduct and let the parents know how much the sponsors enjoyed being with their children.

The United States Department of Agriculture this week released new processing recommendations for tomatoes and tomato juice. applesauce, fruit purees and pumpkin.

To prevent food borne illness and the loss of valuable home canned foods, specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are urging home canners to follow the new USDA guidelines.

The USDA now recommends the following:

*The one-step, cold pack method for canning tomatoes should no longer be used.

*The hot pack processing time for canning tomatoes should be increased to 35 minutes for pint jars and No. 2 cans, and to 45 minutes for quart jars and No. 21/2 cans.

*The hot-pack processing time for canning tomato juice should be increased to 35 minutes for pint and quart jars, and for No. 2 and 21/2 cans.

Bullock Says Drink Tax Up In 1983

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday said collection of the state's 10 percent mixed drink tax during the first quarter of 1983 was up 2.7 percent over the same period last year.

For the first quarter Eastland County Tax Revenue was $10,254.59.

Total city tax revenue was $1,245.05 for Eastland, $632.12 for Cisco and $1,200.79 for Ranger.

insufficient under certain conditions. Insufficient processing could allow botulism organisms to survive the heat treatment, grow and produce harmful toxins. We consider this especially important since tomatoes are the most popular type of produce for home canning grown by Texas gardeners.

Poor heat penetration through dense foods and the high heat resistance of a particular mold led the USDA to recommend increased processing times for applesauce and fruit purees. They also recommend that strained (pureed) pumpkin and winter squash no longer be canned at home for the same

Producers Have Been Finaled In Hawk Eye Field

Two new producers - with combine potential to pump 145 barrels of crude daily have been finaled in Eastland County's Hawk Eye Field. Buck Wheat Resources Inc. of Eastland is the operator.

The wells are designated as the No. 12 and the No. 14 T.P. Simpson.

They are located in an 80-acre drilling unit in the H&TCRR Survey, A-310, 10 miles south of Cisco. Both entered the pay zone at 1,096 feet after bottoming at identical 1,147-ft. depths. The No. 12 well will produce from perforations in the Adams Branch Formation 1,073 to 1,179 feet into the hole. The No. 14 will produce from a perforated interval in the Adams Branch at 1,096 to

Also in the Hawk Eye Field, Buck Wheat has completed the No. 11 Simpson.

Reflections In Perspective

By I.W. Ussery

A few years back, one of our more prominent Senators made an impassioned plea to the General Assembly of the United Nations for the condemnation of "Britain's colonialist practices in the Middle East". A specific example of that "Colonialism" was cited in what the good Senator referred to, apparently in total ignorance of the facts of his subject, "The Trucial Levies". He made quite an issue of the manner in which the British were "drafting local citizens of Arab states to serve in the British Army for the purpose of furthering Britian's "colonialistic hold on the area". Sounded good...to the Senator. But then, many speeches of that sort are made more for the speaker than for his audience. His plea was turned

But the Senator was referring not to what he called "The Trucial Levies". The force to which he only made fringe reference was known as "The Trucial Oman Scouts'

down, incidentally

Briefly stated; in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries the pirates of the Arab Coast of the Persian Gulf literally whipped the socks off the few, almost fragmentary expeditions launched by the British Army to suppress them. And their dhows sailed rings around the Royal Navy at almost every turn. The purpose of the Arabs was quite simple; to intercept and capture merchant vessels engaged in the highly lucrative trade from India. That trade came by sea through the Gulf of Oman and the Arabian Sea to the Persian Gulf, and finally to Basrah, Iraq where it was offloaded and transported overland to the Mediterrannean port of Tripoli-inmodern Lebanon. While the average sea-going dhow was much smaller than even a frigate of the Royal Navy, the pirates loaded them almost to capacity with swordsmen who handily captured any merchantman they chose to board. And when the escort vessels of the Royal Navy engaged them, they simple sailed their shallow draft dhows into one of the many inlets along the coast into which the frigates could not go. In many instances, in spite of the superior ordnance of the British vessels, they even board and captured vessels of the escort fleet. Their Brittanic Majesties, not to mention the Royal East In-peace. And the foundation for "A mutual protection treaty" was laid. That treaty remained in full force and effect until 1971, at which time The United Arab Emirates was formed from the seven "Trucial States" and grew into a bond of mutual respect.

In those days following the suppression of the "Coastal Arab Pirates" the principal outdoor sport...even the most significant industry...was that of piracy, caravan-robbing, general pillage, slave-trading and just good old outdoor fighting over imaginary boundaries. Britain brought that under a somewhat effective control by bringing all the Rulers of the seven sheikhdoms together and virtually at gun point having them sign a "truce", under the terms of which all such activity should come to an end...hopefully.

To ensure its success, it was agreed that an armed force made up of troops from each and all of the States and commanded by British officers would be formed. Each Ruler agreed to furnish his quota of "levies". From that "Agreement of Truce" the term of "Trucial Levies" was derived. And "The Trucial Oman Scouts" was formed. "The Scouts", as they became to be known, grew into a very efficient and widely recognized peace-keeping force.

The troops were well-fed, well-clothes and well-armed and the officers were handpicked from some of the most notable regiments of the British Army. When I became somewhat acquainted with The Scouts and some of its officers, the colonel in command of the full colonel from the Greendier Guards, one of the most prestigous of the Household Guards' Regiments. Five years after I met "Colonel Bart", he retired, was promoted to Brigadier, was made a Knight of the Order of St. Michael and St. George (third tanking British order of chivalry) and entered the Foreign Service. So; "The Trucial Levies" was anything but a rag-tab, bobtailed force of desert Beduoins whose officers tried to maintain British dominance over the area. Admittedly, in such an outof-the-way area certain vestiges and remnants of the practices and customs of the old British Colonial Army remained. But who is to say that was wrong? At least the troops knew and understood discipline, and they loved and respected their officers. Long before 1971, promotions were being made from the ranks to noncommissioned officer grade. To sergeant's grade, cor-sergeant" My first personal contact with The Scouts occurred when we were in the process of completing our camp at Jebel Dhanna, on the coast of Abu Dhabi and some 200 miles from the capital. The camp had actually been completed, and we were in the progress with the formation of a stone quarry and the construction of a road over which we were to haul thousands of tons of stone in the course of the construction of a causeway and a small boat harboiur to serve a future (we constructed it the following year) tanker loading facility.

Soon the caravan could be made out. Consisting of two Land Rovers (like our Jeeps) and two "Ferret" Scout Cars, little less than rubber-mounted small tanks, they pulled up to the edge of our camp and a rather squat little officer stepped out of the leading Land Rover. Whipping the dust from his uniform with his swagger stick, he approached and in a very matter-of-fact manner introduced himself. "I'm Major Wilson, Commanding "A" squadron of the Scouts. We're on patrol from Buraimi to Al Hamra, and should be very grateful if you could spare us a bit of

Following my introduction, I suggested to the little Major that perhaps he'd like his troops to have lunch with us. And, from the layer of dust on him, perhaps he'd like a cold drink. If he'd give the appropriate orders to his troops, and would follow me to my "caravan" (Britishese for 'trailer cabin') I'd consider it a privilege to provide the cold drink. His only reply ... "Super"! Only he said it as

We'd exchanged quite a few words. I'd been working and living closely with British subjects for over five years, and that association had influenced my accent in speaking what I considered to be my native tongue. Just as we reached the door of my quarters, the major stopped and said ... 'You will excuse me, Sir, if you consider it to be out of order. I do not wish to pry. But, are you a renegade Britisher, or an enlightened American". I assured him that I was indeed from "The Western Colonies", although we had long since dropped the ties of colonialism. Especially since the outcome of the that final scrap at Yorktown. He has long since been promoted to full Colonal, although he had to accept a transfer to the Prince of Wales Regiment in order for the army to find an open colonelcy. After froming and for five years commanding the Abu Dhabi Defence Force, he spent a year at (of all places) the Royal Naval Academy teaching a course in desert warfare to Royal Marines. He wrote a textbook on the subject, incidentally. And at another time I shall tell you about the formation of the Defence Force.

Jim Parker-District 65

This week I would like to discuss a matter that may, at first blush, seem minor or minimal to all those involved but which I think is of great importance because it is typical of the unique issues faced by this session of the Legislature and graphically demonstrated the two divergent philosophies present in the Legislature and the Governor's Office.

The issue is the Teacher Retirement System (TRS).

The past three regular sessions of the Legislature we have increased the benefits that active members of the TRS could expect on retirement. In 1979 the State's contribution rate was increased to 8.5%

You probably know as much about actuarial matters as I do, but an independent accounting firm has reported that the estimated funding period for TRS has declined to fifteen (15) years. My best information is that a retirement system is actuarially sound if it has a funding period of 30-40 years for the unfunded liability. As an example, the funding period for the Texas State Employees Retirement System was 34 years in 1981 and 28 years in 1982, meaning, I suppose, it would be twice less sound than the TRS.

Now, with all of that out of

the way, the question is, should the state reduce contributions to the TRS to 7.1% and use the 220 million dollars "freed up" for other programs'

In earlier years, when Texas was flush with oil and sales tax money, we could afford to have "inactive" state funds and no fears of taxes to meet our increased spending needs, but that has changed and we now must decide whether we want to "trim fat" or "raise taxes" to obtain funds needed for state programs.

While my position is not calculated to endear me to teachers, active or retired, I sincerely believe I have a duty to support the reduced contributions alternative and use the 220 million dollars that would be saved over the biennium for other program in this county for those, particularly young people, who are going through rehabilitation programs, and especially for "first timers" who need someone to talk and reports on the successes of the Hot-Line Services in operation, and the tabulations from the Court-Watchers program which monitors drug-related charges and watches them through the courts. A renewed effort will be made to acquaint all parties with the Hot-Line telephone numbers for use in reporting suspected drug abuserelated activities.

It was reported that an identifying emblem will soon be released to all persons in the county who are interested in participating in the P.A.D.D. program, and be identified with the concern for the protection of the young people in the country from drug abuse.

May is the month that has been set-aside as senior citizen month. Many activities have been planned at the Senior Citizens Center during the month of May and every person who is 60 years of age is encouraged to participate in the events.

Those who are 80 years old will be recognized by adding new members to the 80 Plus Club. Over 160 members are in the Eastland County 80 Plus Club and we would like to increase the membership during the month. If you know anyone who is 80 years old be sure and call the Center and let them know.

Also the 90 Plus Club will meet during the month. The first meeting 19 members were honored. Once again, if you know anyone who is 90 years old let the Center know so that the person may be recognized. Hundreds of hours, each month, are devoted to the Senior Centers by volunteers. We will recognize all of these volunteers during the month of May.

AARP is becoming a very strong organization for those who are 55 years or older and so that you may have all of the advantages of the large organization you should plan to join today.

The programs for the past week included: Janet Thomas, The Eastland County Nutrition Expert, spoke to the group of members; the Fourth Grade Dancers, under the direction of Davene Jeffcoat, presented a special program. Dinner music was provided by Leah Brown and Marguerite King. Birthdays and anniversaires were recognized.

The menus for the week will be:

Monday--lasagna, buttered carrots, green beans, tossed salad, pudding, bread, butter and drink.

Wednesday--cheese ham rice casserole, green peas, celery, carrot, pineapple raisin salad, chocolate pud-Wednesday Prayer Meeting ding, bread, butter and 7:30 p.m. drink

'Your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. (Matthew 6:8)

Today you know not what to think or ask. Does it not seem as if the threads of your life are so tangled there is no way to unravel them. You sigh deeply and the weight of despair settles down upon you.

But then a faithful and loving voice penetrates a small crevice of your mind...."Cast all your care upon me for I care for you.'

(I Peter 5:7) Let this thought enlarge for thereby hope can spring. Does not your heavenly Father know what things you have need of before you can begin to ask him? Remember Job? He lost home, family, all his earthly possessions and his health. He sat among the ash heap of life. His friend questioned him, "Why do none ask you, 'Where is God my Maker who gives songs in the night?" (Job 35:10)

Job maintained his integrity. He declared, "Though He

WHAT ARE THEY doing an airplane, she answered . at the old Reynolds (and K&K) building, corner of 6th and Hilton? We asked the head man, Mr. Don Wilks of Wilks Enterprises, after seeing trucks on the sidewalks and things being thrown out of the second floor windows.

And Mr. Wilks told us they're gutting the second floor in preparation for extensive remodeling. Then, Central Masonry Company and Central Oil & Gas Company will move their offices there. The building is owned by Mr. Wilks and Kerry Nelms.

The building is the headquarters for Central Masonry, which now has 120 employees in their statewide brick and masonry construction work. They're planning to open soon a regional office in Austin with Mr. Nelms in charge there

In a continuing improvement project, Mr. Wilks says they'll clean up and paint the exterior and other parts of the interior of the building where same is needed. He is owner and president of Central Masonry and one of four partners in Central Oil & Gas. He also has a masonry supply company that deals in wholesale products.

Law Banquet Speaker Says:

Community Involvement Will Contribute In Fight

The type of community involvement that has become increasingly evident in Eastland County during the past year will contribute more than anything else in fighting drunken drivers and criminals, Attorney General Jim Mattox told some 300 persons at the 11th annual Eastland County Law Enforcement Association banquet Thursday night.

The attorney general. former member of Congress from Dallas County and a former member of the state legislature, was the guest speaker at the event when the association named Judge Jim Wright of the 91st District Court as receipient of the lawman's award and Mrs. Wanda Hull the citizen's award.

Prior to his address, Mr. Mattox was presented a scroll and handsome Bible by Tex Evans, justice of the peace at Rising Star, who complimented the attorney general for his work and urged him to use the Bible for

A motion picture showing points and places of interest in Texas was shown by Lion Phil Schaefer as the program feature at the weekly luncheon of the Cisco Lions Club at noon Wednesday at the Colony Restaurant.

The film, made under the supervision of Texas Magazine, publication of the State Highway Department, had some 30 minutes of color scenes to present a variety of interesting people, places and scenery in all regions of Texas

President Ivan Webb reported that the club grossed some $740 from operating a food booth at the Folklife Festival last weekend.

It was announced that Lions would have a work party at City Park at 5 p.m. Monday to complete the steel frame work for a picnic pavillion they are erecting there. The club voted to use $409 in a building fund for the park project.

It was announced that the club's directors will meet at 7 a.m. Tuesday at the Col-
