

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

IT'S VACATION time at my house this year during the coming week of June 13-17. I will be back on the job Monday, June 20.

I don't have any specific plans on going anywhere and will probably just work at home or go fishing. If I seem extra tired when I come back to the office, you'll know my wife (who will also be on vacation) decided I should work instead of fish.

Maybe I can at least slip in some extra relaxation time while pretending to think through a problem which needs fixing.

At any rate, I plan to enjoy every minute of my vacation.

IF YOU HAVE never attended a production of Cisco's Roof Garden Dinner Theatre, then you don't know what you are missing. Every one in Cisco should attend at least one of these plays and let the cast and directors know Cisco is behind them in their productions.

The Theatre is a huge credit to Cisco and should be supported by your presence at the productions.

If you are interested in making a contribution to the Roof Garden capital needs fund then contact Phillip Craik, director. The expense of improving and maintaining the theatre facility is more than the income from ticket sales. By making a contribution you can become either a Life Patron, Sustaining Patron, Supporting Patron or a Season Patron.

Present Life Patrons are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Austin, Dr. and Mrs. Chief Brown, Helen R. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kamon and Mr. and Mrs. E.G. Rice.

Sustaining Patrons are Mr. and Mrs. June Hogue and Mr. and Mrs. Durel Reid.

Supporting Patrons include Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Chamness, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. John Muller and Mr. and Mrs. Denver Craig.

Season Patrons are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Adling, Inez Cogburn, Mrs. Robert Cole, Eva Lee Craik, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Heidenheimer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hinchey, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGrew, Fay Perkin, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Rosser and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rosser.

Dinner Theatre Kicks Off Successful Season

By HERREL HALLMARK

By all indications, the Roof Garden Dinner Theatre of Cisco kicked off another very successful summer season here Thursday night with its presentation of "Deathtrap" by Ira Levin. The opening night show was a sellout, a first-time event for a summer season, according to managing director Phillip Craik.

"Deathtrap" is a very entertaining play which has just enough suspense and humor to keep your interest at a peak throughout the evening. The play, which lasted about three hours, seemed to be over with much too soon.

Those attending the presentation were treated to a delicious meal of fillet of chicken with orange sauce, tossed salad, rice pilaf, broccoli spears with cheese sauce, hot rolls with butter, and iced tea or coffee. The meal was catered by ARA Services, Inc., John Rehak, director.

Following the meal, Act I was presented by the cast of four professional actors, who did an outstanding job, and one apprentice (who turned in an equally outstanding performance).

During a brief intermission before Act II, dessert of cherry cheese cake was served and the stage was rearranged for the final act.

The "Deathtrap" cast were Sidney Bruhl, a seemingly "washed-out" writer of thrillers who has not had a sellable play in some time. In desperation, he seems prepared to go to any lengths to improve his fortunes. Steven Vincent did a remarkable job of portraying Mr. Bruhl.

Myra Bruhl, wife of Sidney, who did an excellent job. Myra appears to be an unwilling collaborator with her husband and his plans.

Stan Davis perfectly portrays Clifford Anderson, a young playwright, who seems to be awed by the presence of the older writer, Sidney Bruhl.

Donna Dorsett does a remarkable job of portraying a psychic, Helga Ten Dorp, who speaks with a heavy accent.

Clay Freeman plays Porter Milgrim, a lawyer friend of Mr. Bruhl. Mr. Freeman's performance was extremely well done also.

The emotions of all the actors and actresses can be felt by the audience in the various scenes. Anger, fear and disbelief seem so real on the performers' faces that one can forget they are only watching a play.

Equally important to the delight of the evening are the hosts and servers of the audience during the meal and throughout the evening. They were extremely courteous and quick to offer their services if needed.

The entire production staff and cast should be applauded for the tremendous work put into the production of the Dinner Theatre and especially for the performance of "Deathtrap".

I would recommend that anyone who has never seen one of the Roof Garden Theatre productions make plans now to attend at least one of this summer's presentations. I am sure all three of the scheduled productions will be equally as delightful as the opening production.

"Deathtrap" showed Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week. It will be showing again next Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, June 16-18.

The second showing of the season will be "Fiddler on the Roof" by Joseph Stein, Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick. The musical will show July 7-9, 14-16 and 21-23.

"Tartuffe" is the final scheduled showing of the 1983 summer season. Written by Moliere, it will be presented August 4-6 and 11-13.

Reservations must be made for the shows and it was recommended at Thursday night's program, to make the reservations early. Reservations can be made by calling (817) 442-2567, Monday thru Thursday, 9 to 5, or (817) 442-2589, after hours and weekends.

Ticket prices are $12 for the meal and show on each regular play and $12.50 for the musical.

The Roof Garden Dinner Theatre is presented in the ballroom of the Laguna Hotel.

CofC Board Hears About Plans For July the Fourth Program

Plans for a July the Fourth program in Cisco are progressing nicely, Chairman Ivan Webb reported at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the CofC offices.

Mr. Webb's committee is arranging a fireworks show at City Park to climax the day's activities, it was reported. The show will cost about $1,000 and contributions will be welcome at the CofC office, Mr. Webb said.

Plans for July 4th will include a free splash day program at the swimming pool with swimming and diving contests, horseshoe pitching and domino tournaments starting at 10 a.m., the Lions Club Carnival beginning at 11 a.m., barbecue at noon, music by two musical groups from 12 to 2 p.m., and assorted athletic contests beginning at 2 p.m.

Mr. Webb said the newly organized Cisco Jaycee Chapter will assist with the tournaments and games. The chapter also will sell tickets and give away a 10-speed bicycle, he said.

Detailed announcement regarding the July the Fourth program will be ready soon, Mr. Webb said. CofC Manager Randy Speegle told the board that the recent retail trade day was a good success.

Theft Cases

Being Probed

Theft of a boat motor and the front grill of an automobile were reported in separate incidents to the Cisco Police Department last Thursday, Chief Billy Rains said Friday.

A 1973 Johnson outboard boat motor was taken from the yard of L.G. Akins home, 103 East 20th Street, the police report said.

The front grill was removed from a car owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Parks of Primrose. Mrs. Parks left the car in her usual parking place behind the Callarman Insurance Agency at 707 Conrad Hilton Avenue, Chief Rains said. It was valued at $190.

Both theft cases were being investigated.

Police were also investigating three cases of criminal mischief. In one case, white shoe polish was used to write profane words on cars and mail boxes on Primrose Street. In the other two cases, miniature windmills were overturned and damaged in yards on Front and 13th Streets.

Memorial Committee has raised some $1,300 and is continuing to study plans for a city park project, the board was informed. The committee has decided to invite the Cisco Noon Lions Club to assist with the project, Mr. Speegle said.

President Robert Dudley, who presided over the meeting, appointed a committee to determine whether more insurance is needed on the CofC building and to make recommendations to the board.

Present at the meeting were Directors Jerry Morgan, Shirley Hargrave, Lloyd McGrew, Eddie McMillan, Dr. Norman Wallace, Fred Wheeler, Ivan Webb, Billy Wright, Dick Woolley, Mr. Dudley and Mr. Speegle.

Youth Revival Is Being Held Here

A weekend youth revival is being held this weekend at the First Evangelical Methodist Church on Highway 80 in Cisco. Brother Lane Franks, a youth minister and evangelist from Phoenix, Arizona, formerly of Cisco, is the speaker.

Youth between the ages of 10 and 25 are invited to attend. Brother Lane stated, "We want every young person to feel welcome, regardless of church background."

Brother Lane stressed, "The intent of this revival is to instill and renew the love of our young people for the Lord Jesus, their greatest friend."

Youth workers from all churches were being encouraged to attend so future discipleship can be provided for those making decisions.

The meeting started Friday night and will continue through Sunday night, beginning at 7:30 p.m. A moving youth film entitled "The Prize" will be shown on Saturday night.

There will be a time of fellowship and volleyball after each meeting.

Real Estate Consumer

David S. Jones

THE REAL ESTATE CONSUMER is provided as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to The Real Estate Consumer, Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

If you have children and plan to rent an apartment, you may find your choices are limited.

Adults-only apartments have proliferated in recent years, and the reasons for their popularity vary. Landlords cite higher maintenance costs in buildings with children. Many renters do not like to live near children, primarily objecting to the extra noise.

But the major factor contributing to this proliferation has been the extremely low vacancy rate in most urban areas. This factor has allowed apartment managers to be more selective towards the type of tenant they will accept.

A study by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development found that more than one-fourth of all rental units were in projects which prohibit children. So, a tight market has made rental housing difficult to obtain, especially for families with children.

ENERGY FEATURES TAKE BACK SEAT

According to recent reports, energy efficiency is not a big selling point for new houses. It seems the existence of energy-saving equipment in a home takes a back seat to attractive financing.

Buyers are accepting energy-saving features in the home but apparently are not willing to pay extra for them. The reason, undoubtedly, is economics.

With today's high interest rates, favorable financing offers a considerable cost saving to buyers. At current energy prices, conservation equipment fails to offer comparable savings. As fuel prices climb, however, the situation may change.

Until then, energy conservation equipment probably will not become a standard feature on new homes but will continue to be a customized addition for energy-conscious buyers.

TAKING THE WRAPS OFF THE WRAP-AROUND

Do you want to purchase a home but cannot afford the large monthly payments that go with high interest rates? If so, perhaps you should investigate a wrap-around mortgage.

The first step is to find out if the existing mortgage will survive the sale without an interest rate change. If the old loan rate can be preserved, any extension of the loan term or increase in the amount of money loaned will then be made at the current market interest rate.

This package of old and new loans will have an overall interest rate that is higher than the old rate but lower than the current market rate. The wrap-around lender may be either the seller of the property or a commercial loan institution.

The wrap-around mortgage can help a borrower avoid making a large down payment and paying current high interest rates.

HOUSING IS A HEDGE

During the 1970's, housing was a good inflation hedge

Adult-Only Apartments Increasing

for most owners throughout the United States. This was especially true in Texas.

Between 1973 and 1980, the rate of inflation averaged just more than 9 percent. U.S. home prices, on the other hand, rose 12 percent, and Texas home prices rose 14 percent.

Since 1973, there has been only one year in Texas in which the rise in home prices did not exceed the rise in consumer prices. But in spite of rapidly rising values, the average price of a home in Texas still is considerably below the national average. In 1980, the price of a home sold in a major Texas city averaged less than $60,500. Nationwide, the average price was $72,300.

FIRST-TIME BUYERS DECLINING

Inflated prices and high interest rates are driving more and more young homebuyers out of the housing market.

In 1977, about half of all homes sold were sold to first-time buyers, according to a national survey by the Family Housing Bureau in Chicago. By 1980, first-time buyers made up only one-third of the housing market. In addition, those young people who did manage to purchase a house relied heavily on relatives to help finance the down payment.

In 1980, only two out of four could make a down payment with their own money. The rest needed help, and one out of four borrowed at least half of this payment from relatives.

As recently as 1978, only one of 14 first-time homebuyers relied upon relatives for this much help. Unfortunately, as the number of first-time homebuyers declines, so does the dream of an American in which everyone can own a home.

County Among Radioactive Waste Disposal Sites

Eastland Countians in the process of selling land or those planning to sell in the near future might want to know what the new owners plan to do with the land.

Apparently Eastland County land is among the choice sites for the disposal of low-level radioactive waste, according to a recent article in the Houston Chronicle.

Fifteen Texas areas, encompassing about 35,000 square miles and covering parts of 105 counties, were identified as tentative areas to be studied further for the disposal of low-level radioactive waste.

The areas were identified by the director of special programs for the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority.

Harris and Galveston counties, the surrounding counties and the entire Gulf Coast from Brownsville to Orange have been eliminated from consideration, said Thomas Blackburn.

The authority was created by the 1981 Legislature to establish a facility for the burial of low-level radioactive waste. Low-level waste includes materials, contaminated with radioactivity from hospital, laboratories and other industries which handle or process radioactive materials.

Spent fuel from nuclear plants would not be buried in the sites.

Blackburn said this is the first part of a three-stage study by Dames and Moore Consultants of Houston.

In this part, he said,

Dames and Moore is considering geology, hydrology, mineral resources, population, flooding and the high-hazard zones of the coast.

The Phasel report will be available for study at the authority's office in Austin early in June, he said.

The entire study is to be completed by Aug. 31 and the site selected about Oct. 1

Blackburn said.

"We have excluded the entire Houston Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area and the counties surrounding the Houston-Galveston area" for several reasons, including population, population growth, subsidence and the presence of subsurface water sands, he said.

Areas destined for further study include the Nueces Plains around Laredo, the Black Prairie region in Central Texas, North Texas, the western Cross Timbers north of Denton, West Central Texas around Abilene, Northeast Texas, the Red Bed Plains southeast of Lubbock and part of the Big Bend region.

Blackburn said the authority excluded all major population center, mountainous areas, federal and state parks and refuges, areas with promising mineral energy deposits, areas with major aquifers or water sand, fault zones and areas with complex geology.

Only 300 acres to 400 acres will be needed for the site, he said.

Although local officials can express their concerns to the authority and appear at the licensing hearing, Blackburn said, they cannot block the site's location. However, he noted that the authority will have to buy the site and does not have the right of condemnation.

The site will be licensed by the Bureau of Radiation Control in the Texas Department of Health.

Possible nuclear dump sites

The 15 shaded zones on this map generally indicate areas believed to be favorable for the location of a disposal site for low-level radioactive waste. Such a site is being selected by the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority. The eight darker areas are those considered most favorable. However, population centers and other parts of all of the zones have been excluded from consideration for various reasons but are too small to be shown on the map.

MRS. RICHARD WENDE

Darla June Ake and Richard Glenn Wendt Are Married June 4th

Darla June Ake became the bride of Richard Glenn Wendt in a double ring ceremony at 6:00 p.m., June 4, 1983 in the Daugherty Street Church of Christ. Ernie Christie, minister at Daugherty Street, performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Delton Ake of Eastland and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wendt of Cisco.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of sheer polyester with lace sleeves and cuffs with a Queen Anne neckline. The bodice was trimmed with lace appliques accented with pearls and sequins.

The full skirt fell from an empire waistline and was trimmed with lace appliques all down the front and accented with lace and pearl trim all around the cathedral train.

The bride's jewelry was a pearl and gold necklace given to her by the groom and she wore her grandmother's engagement ring. She also wore a blue and white lace garter handmade by her paternal grandmother.

Her blusher and veil of chapel length illusion was attached to a hat of schiffle lace accented with sequins and pearls, and trimmed in scalloped brocade lace. The hat was also worn by the bride's mother in her wedding.

She carried a cascading bouquet of silk apple blossoms and baby's breath with blue silk tiger lilies.

The groom wore the Full Dress Tuxedo of white textured polyester. Rounded notch lapel and top collar with satin ribbon trim. Five button self fabric vest and bow tie in white polyester and white ruffled shirt. Matching trousers with adjustable waistband and satin leg stripe.

Nuptial selections of "Annie's Song", "For Baby

(For Bobbie)", "Follow Me", "Wedding March", "You Light Up My Life", "Be With Us Lord" were sung by Mrs. Judith Christie, Bill Culverhouse and Victor Eskew.

Maid of honor was Genie Ake, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Denise McCorkle, cousin of the bride, from San Angelo, and Phyllis Gevara, niece of the groom.

Best man was Randy Housh, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Ricky Ake, brother of the bride and Chris Norris, friend of the bride and groom.

Flower girl was Kristi Ake, cousin of the bride and ring bearer was Todd Wendt, son of the groom.

Ushers were the groomsmen.

Candlelighters were Ricky Ake and Chris Norris. Kristi Ake of Stephenville served as carrier of the rice bags.

The bridesmaids and flower girl wore butterfly bustleback floor length gowns of blue sheer polyester and acetate lining. Three rows of ruffles front and back forms capelet sleeves with a set-in waist and fabric flower at back of waistline.

Each attendant carried a nosegay of blue roses, blue daisies and white stephanotis atop white lace fans with ribbon streamers.

The flower girl carried a white satin and lace basket with blue roses, daisies and white baby's breath with lace and ribbon trim.

The ringbearer wore a white tuxedo matching the groom's attire.

The groomsmen wore navy polyester shantung tuxedos with light blue and ivory box pleated shirts.

Mother of the bride was dressed in a navy blue crepe chiffon dress accented with tucks on bodice and sleeves.

The mother of the groom chose a blue dress with long sleeve jacket of chiffon print in shades of blue.

Both mothers wore silk ivory gardenia corsages.

The bride's parents hosted the reception at the church annex which was decorated in shades of blue. The bride's table was laid with a white pleated floor length tablecloth and drapes of illusion with white lace bow accents. The focal point of the table was the bride's bouquet centered between crystal candleabras.

The three-tiered blue bride's cake decorated with blue and white roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Silver and crystal appointments were used to serve the cake and punch.

The groom's table was laid with a brown cloth topped with beige askew lace. The chocolate cake had a mailbox on top. Coffee was served in a silver coffee service with mints and nuts. In the center of the table was silver candleabras with beige candles placed beside the maid of honor's fan bouquet.

The traditional throwing the bride's bouquet and garter were caught by Genie Ake and Chris Norris of Eastland.

Lexicon of Love

I was at a party the other night and doing quite nicely, thank you. I was holding my own, giving, taking, doing all those things a body is supposed to do when socializing. I even found myself intrigued by several conversations ... until that one. It was a discussion between two people in the same field. Everything was going along smoothly until they started happening. They are the technical words. The descriptions for various processes. The keys to understanding.

After a very few moments of listening, I began to realize I was never going to get much out of the conversation. It was as if trying to converse in English with someone who spoke only Spanish.

As I walked away, I realized that every field of interest or endeavor has its own technical jargon, its lingo, its lexicon of love. If one is to be part of the act of exchanging information or opinions within a certain field, one must be well versed in its language.

There are times when knowing the right words makes a world of difference in photography. Try explaining that your SLR's flash synch mechanism isn't working properly over the telephone to a repair technician without knowing what a flash synch mechanism is. Or read an interview with Ansel Adams on getting the most density possible in an exposure without knowing what density is ... not to mention, exposure.

I think you see my point. Unless you have a basic working knowledge of the lexicon of a particular field — like photography — you're doomed to disadvantage.

With that in mind, I've taken the liberty of selecting a few photographic expressions and terms and have defined them in the following few paragraphs. All this, of course, assumes we both have a basic understanding of the phrase, "photographic expressions and terms."

Aperture. The size of the opening in the lens, also referred to as "f/stop." The aperture acts like the nozzle on a garden hose. A wide aperture lets in more light while a narrow aperture lets in less.

ASA. A standardized rating of the light sensitivity of film. The initials stand for "American Standards Association," since changed to American National Standards Institute (ANSI). Various number ratings assigned indicate relative light sensitivity, with the higher numbers showing greater sensitivity. An ASA 400 film, for example, is twice as sensitive or "fast" as an ASA 200 film and four times as sensitive as an ASA 100 film. This knowledge is useful in determining exposures and in accurately comparing the relative differences between films.

Contrast. The difference in total tonal reproduction between a well-lighted and a shaded area.

Depth-of-Field. The distance before and behind the point of focus remaining acceptably sharp. This distance gets greater or smaller depending upon the focal length of the lens used, the distance from film plane to subject (focus point), and the aperture used.

Diaphragm. A mechanical means of varying the lens opening (aperture) within the barrel of a lens.

Electronic Flash. A device which utilizes a capacitor and an energy source in order to create illumination in a flash tube, resulting in a strong, sudden burst of light.

Exposure. The amount of light reflected off the subject and onto the film. A proper exposure is determined through light metering or estimation and proper selection of both aperture and shutter speed.

Exposure Meter. A photoelectric cell that is used to measure relative amounts of light reflected from a surface. It may either be built into the camera or handheld.

Film Plane. The area within the camera body along which the film forms a precise plane at a right angle to the lens, at which point the image is focused.

Film Speed. A film's ASA rating.

Focus. A method of extending or retracting the focusing elements of a lens in order to provide a sharp image when exposure is made.

F/Stop. The aperture or lens opening, usually designated in relative figures of f/32, f/22, f/11, f/8, f/5.6, f/4, f/2.8, f/2, f/1.4, etc., with the larger numbers indicating the smaller openings and the smaller numbers indicating the larger.

Green Thumb Program Honored

Governor Mark White has made June 1 memorable for almost 2000 hard-working older Texans by designating it as Texas Farmers Union Green Thumb/Senior Texans Employment Program Day in the state.

Citing the "meaningful employment opportunities" offered by the two senior employment programs since the early 1970's, the Governor signed a special proclamation during ceremonies at the Capitol.

Texas Farmers Union has sponsored the Green Thumb program in Texas since 1970. The largest and oldest federally-funded senior employment program, Green Thumb has more than 17,000 enrollees nationwide, including 1,059 in 108 Texas counties.

In 1973, the Texas Legislature adopted a TFU proposal to establish the Senior Texans Employment Program (STEP), which now receives both state and federal support through the Texas Department on Aging. STEP employs 930 workers in 122 counties.

Governor White said that through the two programs, STEP and Green Thumb workers "have found a new lease on life and have made major contributions to their communities."

"Citizens of Texas are grateful for the rejuvenation of their rural areas and the reclamation of lost manpower these programs provide," the Governor said.

The programs placed workers aged 55 and over with senior centers, schools, libraries, and municipalities to furnish services that would not otherwise be available.

TFU President Mike Moeller, who attended the signing ceremony along with officials from both programs and the Texas Department on Aging, said Governor White's proclamation "is clear evidence that the new leaders of this state value our strong rural heritage, and the past and future contributions of older Texans."

Moeller emphasized that STEP and Green Thumb are "true self-help programs designed to serve those who have the most faith in the work ethic and in the nation itself: older workers."

"Most of these people were raised on farms and they know what it means to work. For them work isn't a necessary evil, a means to an end; for them it's a worthy end in itself," he said.

The two programs not only provide rural elderly persons with work and rural communities with much needed services, he added, but also actually save the taxpayers money.

"A study by the American Association of Retired Persons estimates that for every dollar going into senior employment, the government saves $1.15 in benefits the workers could be receiving if they were unemployed," he said.

"So this recognition is not just for the idealistic purposes of these programs; it's also for the very real and practical advantages that accrue to all of us—rural and urban—as citizens and taxpayers," he concluded.

Green Thumb worker Cleo Holder, 82, of Dripping Springs, who was honored at the ceremony and received a pen from the Governor, things have gotten so high that you don't have anything left (out of Social Security) to buy clothing or much else."

Even more important to Holder, however, is the sense of purpose she derives from her work. "I think Green Thumb has meant my life," she said. "If I hadn't been working for Green Thumb, I would have died a long time ago. It's kept a lot of people going because it keeps them busy."

Farmers Union Named Coordinator For Program

WACO-The Texas Farmers Union has recently been selected to serve as the State Coordinator for the National Endowment for Soil & Water Conservation Awards Program, states Mike Moeller, TFU President. The Endowment was formed in 1982 by a private sector coalition of individuals, corporations and associations committed to the conservation of the nation's soil and water resources. National Farmers Union is both a founding member and is represented on the Board of Directors of the Endowment. Moeller said, "The Texas Farmers Union feels honored to have the opportunity to coordinate such a worthwhile program. We hope to increase public awareness to the contributions made on the farms and ranches to conserve our precious soil and water resources. Also, we want to give special recognition to individual farmers and ranchers who have made outstanding conservation improvements in their own operations."

The basic eligibility requirements are: nominees must be individual producers, partnerships, or family farm or ranch corporations, must derive a substantial portion of their income from their agricultural operations, and must agree, if selected as the state nominee, to allow their conservation techniques to be used as demonstration projects for the purpose of public information.

Moeller added, "State and local conservation, commodity and farm groups are each invited to submit one contestant to the state-wide contest with the winner going on to the national competition."

Cisco Rancher Joins American Angus Assoc.

Half Circle F Ranch, Teddy J Parrish, Cisco, Texas, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice-president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with some 38,000 active life and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 10 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association.

Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

County Welcomes Home Health

Viola Payne
Feature Writer

This week 35 ill or disabled Eastland County and Cross Plains residents will welcome nurses and therapists of Eastland Manor Home Health Services into their homes. There, skilled medical and personal care ordered by the doctor will be given, yet in surroundings familiar to the patient.

Beverly Enterprises, owners of Eastland Manor and Valley View Nursing Homes, began this program locally on Jan. 19. Nancy L. Clark, R.N., directs this non-profit service from an office in Eastland Manor Nursing Home. Mrs. Clark is the wife of Jay Clark of Eastland, formerly of Carbon. Employees of the service include R.N.'s, L.V.N.'s, an office manager, a Nurse's Assistant, A Speech Therapist, and an Occupational Therapist.

The service was begun as a response to a definite need that health-care professionals found in this area. In dealing with persons being admitted to the Nursing Centers, personnel realized that some of these could stay in their own residences if they had part-time nursing care, health monitoring, and light personal services.

Furthermore, most individuals expressed a desire to live in their own homes as long as possible. There was a feeling of loss and sadness associated with leaving cherished surroundings and belongings.

Children, too, wanted to keep their parents at home, but found it difficult to get enough help.

"The public has accepted our service with a lot of enthusiasm," says Director Clark, brown-eye and vivacious.

"There are undoubtedly others who will wish to use Home Health, once they understand what the Service is about."

To use Home Health Care,

Nurse Clark explains, a person must be essentially homebound - in a condition where it works a hardship to go from their place of residence. The person should have a skilled health need resulting from illness or injury, and have the care ordered by his doctor.

To begin services a person should call for information at 629-1753. Before scheduling nursing, Director Clark will visit the patient at his home and evaluate the type of care needed. There is no cost for this evaluation, whether the patient is accepted or not.

Among the services offered are skilled procedures by Registered Nurses such as sterile wound care, catheter injection and care, and injections. The Nurses also report findings and observations as requested by the Doctor. R.N.'s teach the patient and family any skills needed for better medical care at the home.

Physical therapists teach strengthening exercises and walking skills, if needed. Speech pathologists evaluate speech problems, upon request, and work with the patient to improve communication skills.

Nursing assistants provide a number of necessary practical services. These may include help with walking, dress, eating, and the preparation of simple meals. The assistants will also help with personal hygiene and laundry. It all adds up to a more comfortable patient.

Home Health Care accepts whatever payment Medicare or Medicaid will allow for its services. These agencies are billed directly, so the patient does not have to receive the charge. Arrangements are worked out with private insurance or with any private pay patients.

All the patients being visited at this time are senior citizens, but there are no restrictions as to age. Nor does the patient have to reside in town - the service is available to all rural areas.

"This type of nursing is especially rewarding to me," states Nurse Clark. "When we go into the homes and become well acquainted with the patients, it becomes very personal.

"I have always felt that children and the elderly have special needs for compassion and care. Our kind of service helps fill that void."

The Fashion Forecast for Fall and Winter 1983 is really big news! The Colors - the "biggest news" - fall into four categories.

The "darks" are the deep, rich foundation colors for fall/winter ranging from Black, charcoal grey, chestnut brown, rust, indigo blue, plum, teal, forest green.

The "brights" are strong vibrant colors: royal blue, topaz, fuchsia, emerald and orange, red, lime, violet and gold.

The "mediums" are subtle shades of grey and tones of heather, camel, eggshell and amber.

The "lights" are cool pastels: winter white, aqua, rose, and smoky lavender.

Color washings or over-dyeing for a worn look continues.

The Fabrics- take on dimension in a session of simplified lines. Fabric, as well as color, blocking creates exciting visual illusions. Look for nubby Irish tweeds, wool jersey and crepe, boucle knits, synthetic leathers and suedes, menswear worsteds, Japanese-inspired cotton jacquards, and "blanket" plaids and stripes in woolen novelties.

Stripes, checks and plaids lead the prints/pattern parade with strong tendencies toward men's shirting stripes, geometrics, Cubist and Deco prints, paisleys, 50's florals, animal skins, dots (all sizes) and printed textures, such as herringbones and hounds-tooth. The "hottest" news is reversibles in all fabric classifications.

The Silhouettes - Season Favorites.

Coatdresses, suits and blazers take on several looks. Double-breasted, fitted coatdresses and suits are a favorite; jackets are longer, slim-lined or short and fitted to the bodice; skirts are narrower and fitted at the waist. The younger consumer wears the oversized blazers with masculine details over narrow jeans or straight slit skirts.

Sportswear takes on a rustic, primitive look with long vests, blouses with military details, ponchos, peasant smocks, wrap skirts, jumpsuits, high waist pants, Dolman and drop shoulder blouses and sweat-shirts, bib pants and doublebreasted shirts.

And "East meets West" for the single most influential direction for Fall/Winter '83. A strict Japanese approach - linier, spare, minimal details.

For evening wear, look for slim, silky, glittering fabrics draped over the shoulder. Strapless bodices are sparkled by colorbanding and stripes. In dresses, get the feminine touches of full sleeves and bowed neck details. Sweater dressing also reappears.

Recipe For the Week:
Father's Day is just around the corner, so if you're looking for a fantastic recipe to fix Dad on his "special day" I recommend the following using pork chops:

QUICK PORK CHOP DINNER

- 1/2 c. raw rice
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 4 center cut pork chops
- 1/2 soup can water

Place raw rice in bottom of casserole. Place seasoned (salt and pepper) pork chops on top of rice. Pour soup and water over chops and rice carefully. Cover and bake 1 hour and 15 minutes at 325 degrees. (chopped, baked chicken substituted for pork chops makes a good dish.) (Serves 4)

Decontrol Of Natural Gas

Issue Being Debated

U.S. Secretary of Energy Donald Hodel has some firm opinions about what's fair to consumers, producers and utilities under the Administration's proposal to take price controls off natural gas. This issue is now being debated in Congress.

Eastland County oilmen agree with him in principle, saying that the bill to free natural gas prices is the best hope producers and consumers have at this time. But they say the bill needs some correction, due to temporary ceiling prices written into the decontrols.

"My opinion is that there should never have been any controls in the first place," says Stanley Pirtle, of Stanson Oil Corp. in Cisco. "Any time you have controls, there is no longer a free market."

"If restrictions are taken off gas, I do not think the price will escalate, as some think."

"Competition will take care of that. We have more gas than we can sell right now."

"Look what happened with crude oil. Some people said, in 1980, that if we took off price controls gasoline would go to $2.00 per gallon."

The price started down as soon as controls were lifted, because of the fact we have an ample supply right now."

An oil spokesman from Ranger echoed the fact of a plentiful supply. "A lot of gas wells are shut down in Eastland County right now," he said. "The regulation of prices has really hurt this area."

Another head of an Eastland County Corporation stated: "There is too much regulation, everywhere you turn. When the government regulates the price of a commodity, we do not have free enterprise. A product - especially one as plentiful as natural gas - should be left to find its own level."

The Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, which has some members in Eastland County, has attempted for 30 years to stop federal natural gas pricing.

TIPRO president, Gene Wright, Gilmer, states: "We have praised the Administration's attempt to end 30 years of natural gas confusion, but we believe the method by which they want to set temporary ceiling prices is wrong."

Wright went on to say that studies show the major portion of natural gas increases to consumers are the result of pipeline transportation costs, "and we believe any natural gas decontrol legislation must address the problem of pipeline domination of producers and consumers."

P.S. This newspaper would appreciate hearing the opinions of other oil and oil-related businessmen on this topic.

Ground Formally Broken Sunday For Church

Ground was formally broken Sunday, June 5, by the First Baptist Church of Eastland, for its new $1.15 million building.

The first spade of dirt was turned by Mrs. Ada Altom, long-time member of the congregation, representing the senior citizens of the church. Seven year-old Taylor Yeates, the youngest member, turned the next shovel, representing the youth. Senior deacon Truett Been, who was present at the ground-breaking of the old building in 1928, turned a shovel on behalf of the Deacons.

The shoveling was concluded by John Nevill, who represented the building committee in the absence of Dr. Terry Treadwell, chairman. Pastor Jim Hooten led the congregation in prayer and presided over the brief ceremony.

The new building, including 22,000 square feet all ground level, will have a worship center seating approximately 500 persons as well as an educational complex to accommodate 300 persons. The new structure will replace the old church building, which will be razed due to its structural weaknesses. The old stained glass windows, however, will be placed in the new building.

The Schantz Organ Company of Orrville, Ohio, has been contracted to build an 18-rank pipe organ consisting of 1,124 pipes for the new worship center. The choir loft, separated from the pulpit area by a removeable rail, will seat 40 singers in individual chairs.

There will be space in the educational wing of the structure for nurseries and young children, adult departments and classrooms, a bell choir room, a fellowship hall and kitchen, the church library, the choir room, and the church offices. The church will continue to use its present educational building, which accommodates approximately 200 children and young people.

Rather than awarding a general contract, the church employed William Crow of Irving as construction supervisor. Building is already underway, and construction is expected to begin within thirty days. It is estimated that the building will be completed in twelve to fourteen months.

A Veterans Personal Observations

Editor's note: this article was contributed by Glays Dempsey of Ranger.

I'm one of the fellows who made the world safe for Democracy: What a crazy thing that is. I fought and fought...but I had to go anyway. I was called in Class A. The next time I want to be in Class B - Be here when they leave and Be here when they come back.

I remember when I registered. I went up to the desk and the man in charge was my milkman. He said, "What's your name?" I said, "You know my name, what's yours?" He barked so I told him my name was August Childs. He said, "Are you an alien?" and I said, "No, I feel fine." He asked me where I was born and I said "Pittsburgh" and then he said, "When did you first see the light of day?" and I said "When I moved to Philadelphia." He asked me how old I was and I said, "23 the first of September," and he said, "The first of September you'll be in France and that will be the end of August."

The day I went to camp I guess they didn't think I would live long as the first fellow said "Look what the wind blew in," and I said, "Winds nothing, the draft's doing it." On the second morning they put these clothes on me. What an outfit. As soon as you're in it you think you can fight anybody. They have two sizes: too large and too small. The pants are so tight I can't sit down and the shoes are so big I turn around three times and they don't move, and what a raincoat. It strains the rain. I passed an Officer all dressed up with a funny belt and all that stuff and he said, calling after me, "Didn't you notice my uniform when you passed?" I said, "Yes, but what are you kicking about, look what they gave me."

On, it was fine. Five below zero one morning they called us out for underwear inspection. You talk about scenery - red flannels, B.V.D.'s and all kinds. The union suit I had would fit the fat man in the circus. The lieutenant lines us up and told me to stand up. I said, "I am up Sir, it's this underwear that makes you think I'm sitting down." He got mad and put me to digging a ditch. A little later he passed and said, "Don't put that dirt up there," and I said, "Where am I going to put it?" And he said, "Dig another hole and put it there." Three days later we sailed for France. Marching down the pier I had some more luck. I had a Sergeant that stuttered and it took him so long to say

HALT that 27 of us marched overboard. They pulled us out and stood us up on the pier and the Captain came by and said, "Fall in" and I said, "I've been in, Sir." I was on the boat 12 days - seasick 12 days - nothing going down, everything coming up. I leaned over the rail all the time. In the middle of one of my leans an officer rushed up and said, "What Company are you in?" I said, "I'm all by myself." He then asked if the Brigadier was up yet and I said, "If I swallowed it, it's up."

Talk about dumb people. When we docked in Brest I said to one of the fellows "I guess we have dropped anchor," and he said, "I knew we would lose it, it's been hanging out since we left New York." Well, we landed in France and were sent immediately to the trenches. After three days in the trenches the cannons started to roar and the shells started to pass. I was shaking with patriotism. I tried to hide behind a tree but there weren't enough trees for the officers.

The Captain came around and said, "Five o'clock in the morning we go over the top." I said, "I'd like a furlough." He said, "Haven't you any red blood in you?" And I said, "Yes, but I don't want to lose it all." Five o'clock came and we went over the top. 10,000 Germans came out. The way they looked at me you'd think it was I who started the war. Our Captain yelled "Fire at will," but I didn't know their names. Guess the fellow in back of me thought I was Will as he fired - and shot me in the - excitement.

WORD of GOD

Lord, how are they increased that trouble me! Many are they that rise up against me.

Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God. Selah.

But thou, O Lord, art a shield for me; my glory, and the lifter of mine head.

I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah.

I laid me down and slept; I awakened; for the Lord sustained me.

I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about.

Arise, O Lord; save me, O my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone; thou has broken the teeth of the ungodly.

Salvation belongeth unto the Lord: thy blessing is upon thy people. Selah.

Flag Day Is June 14 Salute The Banner Of Hope

The flag of the United States, waving proudly in a spring breeze, projects to an observer a sense of self-esteem. Without dramatic words or martial music, this banner conveys a message of stability and constancy.

For virtually all U.S. citizens living today the flag has always existed, and most of us believe it always will exist. For citizens of other countries, particularly those behind the iron curtain, the Stars and Stripes kindle hopes of liberty and independence.

Flag Day, June 14, marks the beginning of the Honor America program, a 21-day salute, reaching its climax on the Fourth of July. This event was officially authorized by a joint resolution of Congress and signed into law by President Ford in 1975.

The guiding force behind this legislation was the American Historic and Cultural Society, Inc., which strives to make each year's Honor America activities more significant than those of the past.

Back in the 19th century Henry Ward Beecher wrote, "A thoughtful mind, when it sees a nation's flag, sees not the flag only, but the nation itself...he reads chiefly in the flag the government, the principles, the truths, the history that belongs to the nation that sets it forth."

Centuries ago, flags or banners as we know them today did not exist. But the Egyptian armies introduced streamers or colored ribbons to mark the progress of their forces. From these, flags eventually evolved.

To capture an enemy's flag was a triumph. Men fought desperately—and gave their lives—to protect their standards from falling into hostile hands. To "rally round the flag" was a literal fact.

Are we rallying strongly around the flag today? In times of stress every American may well try to reassess his niche in our country's well-being or absence of well-being. One simple way to convey a sense of commitment is to display the Stars and Stripes prominently on Flag Day.

Let's consider further steps. Did you vote in the most recent national, state and local elections? In 1984 will come the primaries and the presidential election that will have major impact on the future of the U.S. government. Becoming well informed on the issues and the candidates will call for a bit of effort, but it is a long stride toward good citizenship.

In your neighborhood affairs are you providing a helpful voice or a note of guidance? Perhaps you could steer some confused youngster on a path toward responsible adulthood.

You could find a note of personal satisfaction in performing a small service or voicing a comforting word to cheer up an aged indigent person. Scores of opportunities exist through which a willing volunteer can create a turning point for the better in a troubled life.

All these relatively simple matters can add up to a more productive life for you and for others, and productive lives add a sparkling touch to the stars in the U.S. flag.

Kokomo News

Zelda Jordan

I'm sorry that I didn't get any Kokomo news in last week, but Glenn's dad, Mr. Jim Jordan, was admitted to the Blackwell Memorial Hospital early on Monday morning very ill with pneumonia, so I wasn't home very much the early part of the week to receive any news. My sister-in-law, Lurline Nelson was also in the hospital last week. I am happy to report that she was able to return to her home on Sunday and Mr. Jordan is doing much better, and we expect him to be able to be taken back to the Gorman Care Center about the middle of this week. We thank all who came to visit, for the telephone calls, prayers and any kindness and concern shown to us.

There has been quite a lot of thunderstorms in our area lately. We have had about 5 inches of rain here at out place the past couple weeks, but fortunate not to have any damaging hail or high winds.

Congratulations to Angela Burgess and Rachel Harper who were named Miss Gorman and Little Miss Gorman, on Saturday night and all the girls who were in the pageant. They were all winners. We are especially proud of Angela. She represented the Kokomo Extension Homemakers Club and Community Club (which are the same people). Our thanks to Angela and to Lacy Clark, who represented us in the Little Miss Gorman contest for a job well done. And a very special thanks to all who bought baked goods and peanuts and helped in any way. The project to buy needed tables and chairs to be used for community affairs was a very worthy project of the Gorman Chamber of Commerce and we are proud to have been a part of the effort.

Our community has been proud this past year to have Jennifer Eaves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Eaves, as the Little Miss Gorman.

Mrs. Neal Gilbert and Glenn of Oklahoma City, Cathy and Jo Beth Thompson of Kress and Kami Jo Leonard of Canadian were visitors at the Kokomo Baptist Church on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Morrow visited with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Creager of Kermit and Mrs. Bonnie Trice in Mrs. Trice's home in Stephenville on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Morrow attended the Elton reunion in Stephenville on Saturday and Mrs. Creager returned home for a visit. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrow of Stephenville visited in the J.L. Morrow home on Monday and Mrs. Creager returned to Stephenville with them.

Mrs. John L. Bond and Melle Bond of Bullard and Mrs. Helen Hanlon of Tyler visited during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bond, Shannon and Brian.

Dallas Civic Center Hosts Six Concerts

The Dallas Civic Garden Center will host the Fine Arts Chamber Players for a musical festival of six free Sunday afternoon concerts beginning June 26 and running through July 31.

The festival will feature the works of Beethoven,

Mozart, Haydn, Schubert, Wagner, Prokofiev, Vivaldi and others. All of the concerts will be performed in the air-conditioned auditorium of the Garden Center, which seats about 500 people.

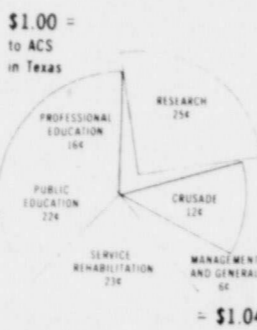

The fine Arts Chamber Players is a professional ensemble of 30 to 40 musicians drawn from members of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra and the Texas Little Symphony, according to Mischa Semanitsky, conductor.

Prior to each concert a buffet luncheon will be served from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. for $7 per person with proceeds to benefit the Garden Center. Paula Walter, who operates "Cater 2" will cater the luncheons. Advance reservations should be made with the Garden Center by calling 428-7476.

Also, wine will be served for $1.50 per glass during lunch and again, during intermission. "When weather permits lunch and wine will be served on the terrace," Harold Clayton Bryson, Director, Garden Center said. "We hope to create the same kind of convivial atmosphere as you enjoy in the park on Sunday afternoon in Vienna."

Julia Worthy

June 14 is Flag Day. Texas has seen half a dozen flags fly from her governmental standards, so we may be more banner-conscious than most folks. Or less.

What does the national flag mean to you? Old Glory? The Stars and Stripes? The Star Spangled Banner?

For many of my childhood years I had a mental picture of George Washington standing in that dangerous rowboat pose in Betsy Ross' parlor. She had these yards of red, white and blue material spread over her lap while she showed off George how to cut a five-pointed star. This scene faded into the same flag flying over Francis Scott Key's head "in the dawn's early light" with tracer bullets and Roman candle rockets flying, too.

I'm not sure when someone got through to me with the symbolism represented by the stars, stripes and colors. Probably I was well into the middle school years—I might not be quick to catch on, but I'm tenacious. Too, this symbolism, as may often be the case, could have been such a commonplace to my elders that they never saw any need to explain.

Over the years the flag has come to represent many things to me, and cloth and colors are the least of these. I've checked out what the flag has meant to some people important in our history, and I quote.

"On whatever spot it is planted, there may freedom have a foothold, humanity a brave champion, and religion an altar! Though stained with blood in a righteous cause, may it never in any cause be stained with shame!"

Edward Everett wrote that, and later his namesake, Edward Everett

Hale, penned: "When boys and girls salute the flag, they do not merely express their pride that it is a flag honored over the world. They ought to remember that the flag represents the country to which they owe duties in every hour of their lives. All the time they are receiving blessings from that country, and all the time they have duties to that country."

Charles Evans Hughes, who will always mean "the Supreme Court" to me, wrote of the flag thusly: "Our flag means more than association and rewards. It is the symbol of our national unity, our national endeavor, our national aspiration. It tells you of the struggle for independence, of union preserved, of liberty and union one and inseparable, of the sacrifices of brave men and women to whom the ideals and honor of this nation have been dearer than life.

"It means America first; it means an undivided allegiance. It means America united, strong and efficient, equal to her tasks. It means you cannot be saved by the valor and devotion of your ancestors, that to each generation comes its patriotic duty; and that upon your willingness to sacrifice and endure as those before you have sacrificed and endured rests the national hope.

"It speaks of equal rights; of the inspiration of free institutions exemplified and vindicated; of liberty under law intelligently conceived and impartially administered.

"There is not a thread in it but scorns self-indulgence, weakness, and rapacity. It is eloquent of our community interests, outweighing all divergencies of opinion and of our common destiny."

Hughes made a point or two, didn't he?

The flag is no more than the people it represents. Who are they?

to my notion, Walt Whitman summed the answers neatly in his preface to Leaves of Grass.

"The genius of the United States is most evident in the common people. Their manners, dress, speech, friendship...their deathless attachment to freedom; their aversion to anything indecorous or soft or mean; the fierceness of their roused resentment; their curiosity and welcome of novelty; their self-esteem and wonderful sympathy; their susceptibility to a slight; the air they have of persons who never knew how it felt to stand in the presence of superiors; their good temper and open-handedness; the terrible significance of their elections; the President's taking off his hat to them; not they to him. These things are unrhymed poetry. Poetry that awaits the gigantic and generous treatment worthy of it."

SOVIET "MINERAL RESOURCE WAR" TARGETS U.S. INDUSTRIAL BASE

The Soviets, operating through a "puppet" terrorist group known as SWAPO (South West Africa People's Organization), are trying to seize power in South West Africa/Namibia.

Namibia (South West Africa) is a country generally unknown to Americans despite the important U.S. national defense interests involved there.

Namibia is the gateway to ultimate Soviet control of the strategic minerals in southern Africa. Chrome, vanadium, the platinum group and about thirty other minerals are vital to the U.S. industrial base. Without access to these strategic minerals, U.S. electronic, computer, aircraft and defense industries will be hopelessly crippled.

Operating from military bases in the southern part of Soviet-controlled Angola with the help of 30,000 Cuban soldiers, SWAPO armed with Soviet military equipment is conducting a terrorist campaign across the border against the black civilian population of northern Namibia.

Not only does Namibia have the largest uranium mine in the world, and vast resources of copper, diamonds, lead, tungsten, tin, zinc and oil, but its western coast deep-water port can harbor Soviet nuclear submarines in a position to bisect the oil and mineral lifeline from the Persian Gulf to the U.S. and NATO countries of western Europe. More than 20,000 ships a year follow this sea route around the Cape of Good Hope.

If the Soviets and their SWAPO proxies can drag Namibia behind the "iron curtain", the U.S. loses another ally in the mineral "resource war" and Russia makes a huge gain in its campaign to deprive the U.S. of the strategic minerals in southern Africa.

The Soviet-dominated United Nations General Assembly provides SWAPO with about $100 million a year. And the U.S. supplies $1 million to other Soviet-sponsored terrorist groups such as the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), the Cuban guerrillas in Angola, the Caribbean, and elsewhere in Africa.

The U.S. Congress annually appropriates over $1 billion of hard-earned U.S. taxpayers dollars to the United Nations - 1/3 of the total U.N. budget.

Few Americans are aware that to the extent they allow the United Nations to use American taxpayer contributions to finance pro-Soviet terrorists, they are helping finance their own destruction. Is it not time for U.S. taxpayers to ask their representatives in Congress to stop this flow of U.S. tax dollars through the U.N. to SWAPO, PLO, Cuban guerrillas and other Soviet-backed terrorist groups?

Write U.S. Congressman Henry Hyde, House Foreign Affairs Committee, 2104 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515, and enclose this message. p-49 will be served refreshments. This place is Vacation Bible School and not only is it free, but if you need a ride, that can probably be arranged also.

For something different try Vacation Bible School in the country at the Corinth Baptist Church located midway between Cisco and Eastland on a county road that exits from Highway 80 north of the Kendrick Amphitheater.

The Corinth V.B.S. will be each morning from 8:30 until 11:15 this week starting on Monday, June 13, and ending on Friday, June 17.

A special graduation services and reception for the parents and children will be at 7:30 Friday night after the last morning session.

If you have already been to one, why not do it again, if you haven't 'Try it, you'll like it.'

If you are a member of another church or faith or if you don't have a church, you are invited to visit and have fun at the V.B.S. at the Corinth Church.

There are often people of other faiths and people of the various races visiting in the Corinth Church and they are always welcome.

The church has been growing and has added many new things including a new building and in just the last few days some new concrete walkways have been finished.

A new entry hall with new glass doors and a ramp for wheelchairs is planned for the near future for the building in a continuing improvement program.

For more information or a ride, contact any of the members or pastor Birditt Hitt. His phone number is 442-3001.

A number of young people and children have already enrolled and that may include some of your friends.

Vacation Bible School Concludes Friday At East Cisco Baptist Church

Vacation Bible School at East Cisco Baptist Church concluded Friday at noon. The school began Monday morning with boys and girls from the area attending. Those attending enjoyed Bible study, arts and crafts and fellowship each day. The average attendance was 150 each day. On Thursday, the parents were invited to come to a program with each department performing. Each child who attended the Bible school received an attendance certificate with the group picture printed on it, as shown here. A time of refreshment and fellowship followed.

On Friday, the boys and girls enjoyed a sack lunch.

The teachers and leaders reported a good Vacation Bible School for this year.

Arlin Bint and Herman Pattiet Are Nominated For Co-op Board

Arlin Bint of Cisco and Herman Pattiet of Sabanno were nominated for the Comanche County Co-op Board of Directors at a District 6 meeting in the Nimrod Community Center the evening of June 6. Pettiet, an incumbent, has served during the last three years.

About 70 persons, including members, their families, and Co-op personnel attended the tri-annual event, which included the election and a program. District 6 covers a large portion of rural Eastland County and some of eastern Callahan County. The Co-op furnishes electric power to a number of rural areas in seven counties.

Bill Parker of Comanche, Manager of the non-profit Co-op, gave an informative talk at the conclusion of the election. He pointed out the tremendous rate of growth by the Co-op, and that the base rate of service has increased only about 10% above what it was when service began in 1938.

Comanche Co-op is one of three power companies in Texas which has never been to the Public Utility Commission to take for a raise. Parker stated, however, that on Wednesday, June 15 the Directors will meet with engineers to decide how much money will be needed to meet increased operating expense. This is expected to be around 8 or 9 percent.

Parker said that he did not believe the Texas Power Commission would be turned into an elective body in the future, nor did he see much benefit from that.

"If it takes an act of the Legislature, I don't think it will happen," he said.

Refreshments and visiting followed the meeting, with members expressing appreciation for work of the Co-op Manager, Directors, and other personnel.

"It's always good to come back to my friends at Nimrod," replied Parker. "There's always a quorum here."

Rate Hike Due For Phone

Customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will probably see their monthly charges for service doubled in the next ten years due to the government's anti-trust action that required the parent company to sell some of its subsidiaries.

That was a statement made by Robert R. (Bob) Cox of Mineral Wells, director of community relations for SWBell in the region that includes Eastland County, in a talk last Wednesday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Cisco Lions Club.

Government regulations will require SWBell to stand alone after Jan. 1, 1984, Mr. Cox said. This means, he added, that SWBell will receive no revenues for use of its lines for long distance calls. Long distance rates, however, will likely cost less after the court order becomes effective, he said.

Mr. Cox, who was introduced by Lion Jerry McBeth, told the club about progress from Bell Laboratories-progress in both telephone lines and instruments. He said that Eastland was due to be equipped for touchtone telephone service in October. This service has been available in Cisco for the past year, he added.

First United Methodist Plans VBS June 20-24

Vacation Bible School, hosted by the First United Methodist Church, 405 W. 8th, will be held June 20-24, from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon each day. The First Christian Church, the First Presbyterian Church, and the First United Methodist Church are working together to bring the program to Cisco.

Classes will be offered for ages from Nursery (age 3) through 6th grade (1982-83). Also the junior and senior high students will have youth choir and will help with recreation for the children.

"Jesus, Lord of Promises" is the theme for the school, and lessons are centered on the Jesus promises and the ways in which they transformed the lives of ordinary people.

A back-to-basics approach to Christian living is offered in VBS. Bible-based lessons will be taught with excitement and variety through the use of many advanced teaching methods. Students will be challenged and involved through such activities as these: song time, Bible study, interesting visual demonstrations, classroom interaction, craft making, and many other innovative methods in keeping with the theme, JESUS, LORD OF PROMISES.

The challenging lessons are centered on the Jesus promises and the ways in which they transformed the lives of ordinary persons.

Workers in the school are needed and welcome. For information regarding attending and/or assisting, call the coordinators: Betty McGrew, Nanette Maxwell, or Pat Dettker. Bring the family, friends, and neighbors. There is help (and fun) and spiritual growth for all at Vacation Bible School!

Lights From The Christian World

Josephine Cleveland

It has been said that philosophers of Athens called Paul a babbling until he spoke of the resurrection of the dead. Then they pricked up their ears and said, "We would like to hear more." Martin Luther said of Jesus, "In His life, He is our example, showing us how to live. In His death He is our sacrifice, satisfying for our sins. In His resurrection a Conqueror, in His Ascension a King."

Jesus had three friends living in Bethany, two sisters and their brother, Lazarus became ill. The two sisters sent a message to Jesus telling him, "Our brother Lazarus is very sick." Two days later Jesus told his disciples that they were to go to Judea. "Lazarus is dead," said Jesus, "but now I will go to awaken him." When the sisters, the disciples and Jesus arrived at the tomb there was a heavy stone across its door. "Roll the stone aside," said Jesus. So they rolled the stone aside. Then Jesus looked up to heaven and said, "Father, thank you for hearing me." Then he shouted, "Lazarus come forth!" And Lazarus came forth.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Menu

Last week we started a discussion in regard to stir frying and mentioned that you could use a wok or a deep skillet for the preparation of the food.

Allow 1-2 tablespoons of cooking oil per pound of vegetable oil is added during cooking, spoon it around the edge of the pan thus enabling the oil to heat before it touches the food.

In case you want to serve rice with your stir fry food, here is some information about brown rice.

Brown rice is the whole, unpolished grain of rice with only the outer hull and a small amount of bran removed. Because the bran layer is left virtually intact, brown rice contains more protein, niacin, and vitamin E than white rice. It also is a more natural source of iron and provides fiber which we now know is important for good health.

Other foods such as dried beans, combined with brown rice produces hearty, nutritious main dishes. Cheese, eggs, poultry meat and fish are other complimentary protein foods which can be teamed with brown rice for nutritious and economical meals.

Try stir-frying you will find that you like it!

Programs for the week were: The Star-Bright Band from Rising Star, Trudy and Rosie Marshall sang several beautiful songs. Rosie accompanied with his guitar, Senior Center Band and choir, the Cisco members enjoyed game day at the Eastland Center. Leah Brown presented dinner music.

JULY THE 4th will be observed on July 4th this year. That was a statement by President Ivan Webb of the Cisco Lions Club at the weekly luncheon last Wednesday. July 4th falls on Monday this year, and the new practice of observing holidays on Mondays to give folks an extra long weekend won't make any difference in 1983.

The Lions Club is getting geared up to hold their annual carnival at City Park on July 4th. And Bob Conner and his staff are very busy most late afternoons these days in building the picnic pavilion that Lions have undertaken as a memorial to several deceased members of the club.

Mr. Conner is chairman of the project and is on the job every time they have a work party. President Ivan Webb is assistant foreman and runs welding machines and the like. Others operating welding machines include Marcus Ray, Bruce Smith and Dr. Chief Brown.

Phil Schaefer went to Ballinger the other day and brought back a trailer load of sheet iron that will be used to cover the pavilion. He also shows up for work regularly as do others, including Walter Knudsen, Charles Clark, Willard Johnson, and Bruce Sellstrom. Rick Roark of the Evening Lions Club has provided a fork lift and other equipment and helped with the work. So has Wayne Webb, local contractor.

Incoming Lions President C.B. (Bunt) Dill and CoF President Robert Dudley, also a Lion, and Derward Morris are regulars in the work force. Ted Fields has provided equipment and ran it for the workers. They're having work sessions almost every afternoon in efforts to complete the project by July 4th.

FISHERMAN BUTCH Willingham, Cisco member of the Eastland County Bass Club, went over to fish in the KEAN Fishing Tournament at Lake Hubbard, near Breckenridge, last weekend. And he came home with two crisp $100 bills as the catcher of the biggest bass of the hour - from 12 noon to 1 p.m. Sunday. A Dallas man won the top prize - $20,000.

Other Ciscoans competing in the tournament included Willard Johnson, Al Senterfitt, Sandy Boyett, Ted Darr and Mark Johnson.

MR. S. LOPEZ, long-time good citizen of our town, hasn't been able to talk since he suffered a stroke a year or so ago, but he's in good health otherwise and enjoys life in general. That's the report from his house.

Mr. SL likes to watch baseball on television, reads the papers, and is able to get about the house unaided. He was a Cisco business man for many years and was working for the city when he was stricken. He's a long-time member of the Lions Club.

Lori Lopez, 12-year old daughter of the S. Lopeses, will be leaving June 19th for two weeks at the Lions Club Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville. Understand Mrs. SP will take her there. Lori's brother Oscar is a counselor there again this year.

OUR SCOUTS report that Richard James, young son of Mrs. Judy James, is enjoying a two weeks stay at the Lions Club, which also has a program for diabetic children. Mrs. James, who works at the Colony Restaurant, took her son to the camp and spent several hours there.

Richard's big sister, Debra, who also works at the Colony, plans to make application to be a counselor at the camp next summer.

COULD FRANK Young, supervisor of city work forces, use six young men for 10 weeks? Could he ever, he said, and they gave them to him under the government's CETA program that provides employment for teenagers during summer vacation.

Doug Seaborn, Terry Ingram, Michael Smith, Johnny Seaborn, James Berry and Scott Roberts are the young workers and they're in the street department. You'll see them around town and working hard.

YOU'VE PROBABLY noticed some of the young men helping take out the street parking meters in downtown Cisco the past few days. City Manager Mike Moore said the meters are being removed and stockpiled for disposition at the direction of the city council.

The meters will be sold at auction or, perhaps, a price will be placed on them and you can buy one if you would like to have same. We've heard that they're quite a collector's item.

IF YOU HEAR a siren at odd hours and the sky is clear, don't get excited. They're testing the new city civil defense siren - the one that was put on a tower at the City Park - and it will be few days before they're finished, CM Moore reports.

Football Coach John Parchman went over to Angelo State College in San Angelo Thursday to attend a football clinic for a few days. Principal Mike Turner of CHS was in Austin several days this past week attending a conference of school administrative folks.

IF YOU'RE A new member of the Cisco Country Club, man or woman, or a young adult and would like to learn how to play golf, go out to the CCC at 7 a.m. Monday and enroll in the class that Letha Stafford, operator of the pro shop, is commencing.

Letha tells us that they'll meet at 7 a.m. daily for ten days or so and she'll teach the basics - how to hold a golf club, how to swing it, driving, pitching, putting and the like. Understand Club Manager Bob Bennie will help her.

Both Letha and Bob are qualified by years of experience with good results to teach. It's all free.

THERE'S A BIG partnership golf tournament at Lakewood Country Club, near Pioneer, this coming weekend, and Cisco will be represented. Bennie Nichols, city champion, and Ralph Glenn will team up to play there. George and Tracy Owens, Bobby Smith, Delbert Schaefer and maybe some others are expected to play. Mrs. Bill Ash of our town has been at Baylor Hospital in Big D for several days undergoing medical tests. A hail storm down Lake LBJ way played havoc with a travel trailer owned by the Frank Barretts of Cisco. They've had it parked there and often spend weekends and vacations in the trailer.

THE PENNEY Company has added its own planter boxes with flowers to street decorations in front of their store. The store owns and tends them. Chad Flores, pitcher for the Little League Braves, hit the season's only "over-the-fence" homerun last Tuesday night at Rylee Field. After the ball was retrieved, they gave it to him. Both the CJC board of regents and the Cisco Public Schools board of trustees will hold regular meetings next Monday night.

YOU PROBABLY saw signs around town last week that young people of the First Christian Church would hold a bake sale last Friday at Thrift Mart. The sale never came off, and there was a good reason.

Folks started bringing cakes and cookies and pies to the church for transfer to Thrift Mart for the sale. People started stopping and buying cakes and cookies and pies. And they sold out before they ever got to Thrift Mart, so the sale was cancelled.

Good enough reason for a cancellation, huh?

CISCOANS attending the funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams in Seagraves last week were Mr. and Mrs. Porter Nunley and Mrs. Faye Callaway. Mrs. Williams was a niece of the above named Ciscoans. Mrs. Williams and her husband lost their lives in an airplane that crashed in a thunderstorm near Haskell.
