MORE OF THE same can describe the weather in this area, since hot and dry seems to be the daily forecast. A few scattered showers fell in the county last week and over the weekend but not really enough to amount to anything.

ing planned for Lake Cisco on July 31 and entries must be in by Saturday, July 30. Be sure and go by Mary's Fishing Hole to register.

Mary's Fishing Hole is a new business and is in the same location as Cisco Pump on West Highway 80 in Cisco.

The carp tourney is being sponsored by Cisco Pump and Enre Corporation. More may be found on the tourney elsewhere in this edition of The Press.

I guess the Cisco area isn't the only place it just rains in patches.

EVEN THOUGH the days are hot and humid, it still seems as though the nights get kind of cool for this time of the year. It seems funny to wake up cold early in the morning (since the air conditioner ran all night) in the middle of the month of July.

It also seems strange in the middle of July to have a car blow out exhaust smoke, when it is first started in the morning, like they do in cold weather.

Even though the early mornings might be cool, you don't have to wait long for the temperatures to warm up enough to turn the air conditioner back on for the rest of the day.

Carp Tourney Is Planned At Lake

First, second and third place winners will receive cash gifts for their catch. First place will get 50% of entry fees, second place will get 30% and third place will get 20%. Fishing may be done either with live bait or artificial lures. Winners will be judged by the largest carp to be caught during the day. Weigh-ins will be conducted at the "point".

Participants may enter the tourney and pay their $5.00 entry fee at Mary's Fishing Hole, located at Cisco Pump, on Highway 80 West, in Cisco.

Nearly Half Of Nation's Bridges Are Deficient

Nearly half the nation's highway bridges are deficient. This is according to the Fourth Annual Report on the Highway Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program submitted to Congress by the U.S. Secretary of Transportation in May of this year.

In Texas the figure is even higher, totaling 67.4. This is second only to Missouri, with 85%. Texas also ranks second among the states on the number of bridges - 18,517. This covers bridges of all types, including Municipal. And bridges are classified as any structure exceeding 20 ft. in length.

"We have a different bridge situation in Eastland County," states R.P. Haun, State Highway Resident Engineer for Eastland and Stephens County. "There has been a lot of public awareness - especially after that bridge collapsed in Connecticut. People wonder if anything like that could happen here.

"Fortunately, no. There are no bridges of that type in this area, and no deficient ones at all on the National or State Highway systems around here."

Haun adds that the State Highway Dept. will be replacing a bridge east of Morton Valley, but this is just a precaution.

"The bridge is rated as servicable - not dangerous. The County roads are where the deficient bridges are mainly found.

"These bridges are generally small ones, and not high from the stream beds. They will carry a normal load, or normal amount of traffic, but were never built to carry heavy oil field equipment. A vehicle moving a drilling rig, for example, will weight a minimum of 150,000 lbs."

Haun says three Eastland County bridges have been replaced, including one multiple-culvert type at Long Branch last year. Two more Eastland County bridges and two from Stephens County have been submitted for replacement. Two others in Eastland County and three in Stephens County also need replacing, he says, but funds are not available.

"With is costing 40 to 50 dollars per square ft. to replace a bridge," Haun explains, "You can understand why."

"Under a Federal program the Government pays 80% of the cost of bridge replacement, and the County 20%. But the cost of a bridge can run 200-300 thousand dollars. Most Counties are on a tight budget, and $60,000 can be a big outlay for them."

Haun notes that modern bridges are structurally a lot safer than those built in previous times. "They are generally constructed with heavy concrete, and designed with safety factors enabling them to withstand constant traffic and heavy loads.

In speaking of the loads carried on Eastland County roads, Haun said that it was "almost impossible to catch" offenders who drive over-limit cargoes across County bridges.

"But there is one road sign everyone always notices," he chuckles. "When you put a notice saying 'BRIDGE OUT', drivers carrying any kind of load pay attention to it!"

Mrs. C.M. Cleveland Will Assist In Christian Crusades

Mrs. C.M. Cleveland boarded a Delta airliner July 19 at Dallas International airport for Los Angeles. Here she was to meet a team of workers from the United States and Canada.

They will assist Nora Lom and her husband S.K. Sung in Christian crusades in Tawain, Philippines and Hong Kong. The group will then fly to Canton, China where they plan to meet with Christians and make plans to begin 3,000 house churches on the mainland.

In Koohsuing, Tawain they will conduct five meetings where over 70,000 are expected to attend. Chinese Bibles will be given to all in attendance. 150,000 Bibles will be distributed by the team. Two crusades are planned for Manila. Members of the team will also have the opportunity to be involved in many areas of ministry. Mrs. Cleveland will spend several days while in Manila visiting the Bible School at the New Bilibid Maximum Security Prison. This prison houses prisoners from all islands of the Philippines.

This year marks the 10th anniversary of Nora Lom and S.K. Sung to conduct meetings in the Far East. Countries visited have been Tawain, Hong Kong, Philippines, Singapore, Korea and Hawaii. To observe this important milestone a special banquet will be held in Hong Kong.

Mrs. Cleveland has been a part of this work for five years. Previously she has toured extensively with teams throughout the European countries, Central America, Egypt, Israel and Russia. Last year she visited South China where the group were able to contact Christians and supply them with Bibles. Mrs. Cleveland is a frequent speaker, is the author of several books besides has authored over 300 published Christian articles.

The wife of Dr. C.M. Cleveland she resides at 1200 Bliss, Cisco. She expects to return home Aug. 4.

There Is More In Baltimore

By Ruth Schaefer Stewart

The quality of one's thoughts greatly determine one's situation and circumstances in life. Our trip to Baltimore was one of the greatest object lessons of this idea. A church, a city and a nation have materialized and improved because men sacrificed and reached for a better, more abundant life.

Dale and I arrived in Baltimore on Saturday the afternoon of June 18th. A friend was kind to pick us up at the airport. Our friend was Mrs. Bonnie Cobb, the wife of Thomas Cobb, a home missions minister for the Greater Baltimore Temple United Pentecostal Church.

On our way to their home we passed many plain row houses where hundreds of residents lived. The Cobbs had once lived in the crowded row houses, but after being in Baltimore just three years, they had moved to a roomy three-level house, which was rare for the Hamden neighborhood.

Their church at the present time is a landmark church building, constructed in the 1800's. It is in remarkably good repair and has beautiful stained glass windows and polished wood furnishings. The church is so large that the services are now being held downstairs. An ACE school also occupies some of the spacious rooms.

The property, including the church and the parsonage, is worth a quarter of a million dollars....and all of this has come about in just three years' time.

The Cobbs started with no church at all and just had home Bible studies. But they had a vision for more in Baltimore. Church attendance is now in the fifties although the number could be well over 200 if all had stayed. (Some moved away.)

The Cobbs give God the glory for directing them and enabling them to start buying the present church property. They were told recently that the property would be completely theirs if it could be refinanced for $80,000. They are trusting that God is going to make a way for this to happen before the next payment is due at the end of the summer.

They also have visions of property located across the street becoming a Bible College, and that the factory next door to their house will someday be an ACE school.

Someone else who thinks big in Baltimore is Mayor William Donald Schaefer. He is a bachelor in his 40's and is very dedicated to improvement of the city. Since he has been mayor of Baltimore, the Harbor Place, previously a hang-out for troublemakers, has been turned into a very attractive tourist center. The ship Constellation is docked there, near the World Trades Center, a skyscraper near the water front. The multi-level National Aquarium, topped by a tropical forest is nearby.

Sidewalk restaurants and a multiplicity of delicatessens with specialty foods are also in the area.

All of this was made possible because of a man with a dream to improve his city. The sidewalks have ramps at the curbs for easier accessibility for the handicapped. There is also a city-wide van which makes ramps available for the handicapped to enter buildings, which are not up to date with ramps for the handicapped. All public transportation is made accessible to the handicapped.

John Hopkins University, a leader in accommodation the handicapped, is also located in Baltimore.

Near the city is Fort McHenry, a protector of Baltimore and our fledgling country. When Frances Scott Key was held prisoner on an enemy warship, he kept looking toward the fort through the perelough fight and saw that our flag was still there.

We were greatly inspired by what we saw and felt in Baltimore. When great ideas stir men's blood to build a better church, city, and nation.

County Real Estate

THURSDAY, JULY 21, 1983

Real Estate Consumer

David S. Jones

The Real Estate Consumer is provided as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to The Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

September marks the end to the best time of the year to sell your home.

Research into Texas home prices and sales activity reveals the best time to sell a home is in the third quarter, during the months of July, August and September.

The typical Texas home sold in those months brings an average price of almost 14 percent more than the price of a home sold in the first quarter. Even when adjustments are made for inflation, the third quarter is still better by almost 7 percent.

Of course, buyers have more houses from which to choose during the summer months. The number of homes available during that time is 36 percent higher than during the first quarter. Better prices during the third quarter do not necessarily mean you are better off by waiting until the third quarter to sell. There are other factors to consider, such as market exposure, money market conditions and appreciation.

BE PICKY ABOUT LOCKS
Are flimsy locks on the doors of your home an open invitation to a burglar?

Perhaps you should augment your spring latches with dead bolt locks which are harder to jimmy open. A good dead bolt is made of brass, bronze or stainless steel and has a bolt that sticks about an inch into the door jamb.

You could even go a step further and buy pick-resistant locks. And for a door with windows, your best choice might be a lock with a double-sided cylinder. Such a lock requires a key to open from either side, so a burglar can not just break the glass and reach through to open the door. The double-cylinder lock, however, can be dangerous in a fire, and some communities restrict their use.

Whatever your choice of locks, remember to put them on all your doors, not just the front door.

SAVING MONEY ON VACANCY ADS

Advertising a vacant apartment can become expensive, so if you have a rental unit, here are some ideas that can save you money.

First, seek the help of your tenants. Ask them to be alert for people who are interested in renting an apartment, and encourage them to refer these people to you.

Record the names and phone numbers of people who call about vacancies. Then, when you lose a tenant, contact the most recent additions to your list of callers. Perhaps one of these is still looking for a place to live.

Finally, advertise your vacancies on the bulletin boards in laundromats and grocery stores. Many prospective renters see these boards, so a simple index card with the appropriate information can serve as an inexpensive supplement to your normal newspaper ad.

ADJUSTABLE RATE MORTGAGES

Federally chartered savings and loan associations now have an array of mortgage plans from which to choose. The Federal Home Loan Bank board has authorized the use of adjustable rate mortgages under which interest rates may vary during the loan term. The Board already has approved variable rate mortgages under which rates may be adjusted every six months. And it also has approved renegotiable rate mortgages with adjustment periods of three to five years. These plans restrict the amount of rate adjustment.

Now a new adjustment rate mortgage has been authorized with no limit on the amount of frequency of rate change, rather such restrictions are to be renegotiated between the lender and the borrower. Regulators feel such flexibility is needed to allow savings and loan institutions to continue making home mortgage loans.

STRUCTURAL FEATURES CAN SAVE ENERGY

Structural features of a house can reduce energy requirements.

Generally, an elongated house, oriented on an east-west axis, is easier and less expensive to cool. In addition, roof overhangs on the south side will protect living areas from the summer sun, as will the placement of a garage on the west side.

Double roofs and false ceilings will help reduce heat penetration, and the placement of windows can also reduce cooling requirements. High-silled windows receive more shading from roof overhangs than do full-length windows.

When most of the windows face south, they receive more sunshine in the winter

Spotlights & Sidelights

Julla Worthy

It's half-past time for the promised report on our experiences with becoming restaurateurs (no "n"--I looked it up).

The Pizza House on the Square in Eastland, Texas, is staying alive and doing pretty well, thank you.

This state of affairs is possible because of hungry people who like good food. It also takes a lot of hard work, and we cannot ignore pure, dumb luck.

Six months ago, I'd not have risked six bits on a bet as to our future in the food business--mostly because eight months ago I'd never considered the food business as a part of that future.

As the old lady said, "My! How things do change."

One of Walton's major hobbies the last few years was making bread, so right away he was up to his elbows in pizza dough. He came up with a tastier product that has a reliable oven action as well as a pleased customer re-action.

The hardest part about changing dough recipes has been teaching youngsters brought up on commercial bakery products how dough should be kneaded.

Walton's hobbyhorse carried him quite naturally into making all our bread products, and he has been known to bake an extra loaf or two for customers requesting them.

As one of my pet peeves is food that talks back to me, a change also make right away was in the pizza sauce recipe. First thing to do was to stabilize the recipe we had.

Cooking by guess and by gosh is fine for a one-shot dish if you can afford to throw out the result when it doesn't please you. It's not so hot when you are cooking in terms of gallons. A handful from Greg, who is well over six feet, is not the handful Cindy, a shade over five feet, picks up.

When everyone had decided on what the recipe was, we could change it. And we did. Did we ever! Mabe too much, but when it comes to herbs, my idea is that most of them should stay in the garden.

Anyway, we now have a basic recipe that does not growl at my inner woman. I can savor the flavor of the basic ingredients, and I no longer reach automatically for the bicarbonate.

It is nice to be able to tell you these changes have been appreciated by many of our customers who have taken the trouble to say so. We are making other changes as we can and as we realize what we need to change. Our backgrounds have been more concerned with appreciation of food than the preparation of it. We are in a crash course, an on the job training program, and we don't have many mistakes as the general rule is, "You eat your errors." That's called "motivation."

On the personal ledger, my urging of senior citizens to get out amongst 'em and do things ought to be haunting me. Maybe it would if I had time to sit down and be haunted.

Well, I do not want everyone to experience the 180 degree turn we made, but it certainly stirs up the circulation to cope with a new career and a new family.

Mandi will celebrate her fifth birthday in August. So far, she has planned herself a birthday party at The Pizza House, a party at her day care center, and one in Navasota with her mother. She has chosen her birthday present, helped wrap it, and stowed it at the back of her closet because, "You are 'posed to hide presents!'" Yes, Mandi contributes greatly to the changes in our life-style. (And I thought I was through with PTA meetings!)

We burn a lot of gasoline between Waco and Eastland, but "indefinite" remains the key word on permanent living location. Not on business. We continue The Pizza House, that's as definite as anyone can be in business.

When we reach the point where the almost-disastrous backlog of debt is cleared, the changes we want to see are made, and the whole operation is better organized, we will have a hard balance sheet to figure.

That's the gist of our current affairs. Right now I'd not give two cents for the difference between the pros and the cons. Like Scarlett, I'll have to think about it "tomorrow."

Doing Things "The Old-Fashioned Way"

Verna Little Stripes A Ceramic

By Gary Slade
Staff Writer

The House Of Webster Ceramics in Eastland may only employ 25 during its peak season but, the process of making ceramics at the plant is one to see and one that is important to Eastland County.

The plant was actually started in Eastland at the end of World War II. Several owners tried their hand, or skill, at it before selling out to the House Of Webster Ceramics, based in Rogers, Arkansas, in 1970.

The Eastland process however, is not as simple as one might think.

The raw material to make the clay comes in bagged and is shipped to Eastland by truck and by boxcar. Five ingredients are used to make the clay which come from as far away as Tennessee and South Carolina. The closest product used is a talc product mined and processed near Van Horn, Texas.

Once the raw materials arrive at the plant workers will then mix the material producing about 6,000 pounds of dry material at a time. Over

A mold can be used for about 100 casts and can usually be cast about twice a day.

When the slip comes out of the mold, greenware is produced.

This greenware is sent to the finishing department where the seams are scraped, or taken off, and the pieces are smoothed and cleaned up before going to the drying room.

Greenware is the term used for any cast that has not been fired, or have fire put to it.

again to make the decal or gold trim permanent to the ceramic.

These items are then sent to the warehouse also where they are stacked on pallets and wrapped with a plastic wrap called a shrink wrap. The wraps may stand as much as eight feet tall and may contain anywhere from 450 to 1500 ceramics on the pallet depending on their size.

From here the pallet is wrapped with a metal band and shipped to the headquarters in Arkansas when needed.

All the ceramics are stored at Eastland until needed and during the course of one year the Eastland plant will produce more than 150,000 ceramic containers for the Arkansas firm.

According to Little, Eastland has one of the oldest professions known to man and the House of Webster in Eastland still makes the ceramics the old way-by hand.

HOUSE OF WEBSTER
Manufacturers of Fine Ceramic Ware for Home and Industry

Ceramics

House Of Webster started in 1934 and is a company which sells food gift items to companies as gift items. These gift items may be different kinds of fruit or a mixture of ham and bacon set inside a ceramic dish or bowl of some type. This is where the Eastland plant comes into effect.

Eastland is the only ceramic supplier for the company which sells gift items to companies in over 40 states.

Jimmy Little, owner and operator of the Eastland plant, says that his company helps your company remember someone through these gift items.

The overall process of the item is a simple one. Eastland sends ceramics to Arkansas. From there the ceramics are filled with the food item, sealed for protection, and then sold to companies to use as gifts.

300 gallons of water is then added producing a substance known as slip.

The slip is then screened over a fine screen to take out the impurities and then is pumped into one of two holding tanks where it is ready for use.

From here the slip is sent to the casting department where it is poured into the casts for its shape. The molds are made out of a special industrial pottery plaster made for the pottery industry.

The casting department will have over 12 to 14,000 molds on hand of different shapes and sizes.

Depending on the demand for the item the casting department may have as many as 200 molds of the same item being used at one time.

After the greenware has had time to dry it is bisque fired without a blaze one time to make it easier to handle and to take out all the impurities in the clay which might effect the glazing process.

All the items are fired at least two times and some items which have extra decorations are fired three times.

A layer of glass, called glaze, is now applied to the ceramic body to both the inside and outside of the container giving the ceramic a shine. The glaze can be dipped or sprayed onto the ceramic.

After the glaze process the glaze is cleaned off of the bottom of the item so it will not stick to the bottom of the boards in the kiln or furnace during the firing process.

A small cart moves the items through the kiln and will take about 14 hours start to finish. The kiln will heat up to 2000 degrees in the middle of the kiln.

Two kilns are operated at the plant 24 hours a day, five days a week by three rotating shifts.

When the product comes out of the kiln it has been reduced in size by about 10 percent and only about 85 to 90 percent of the items coming out will be good as the remainder are lost due to cracks or other problems.

The cart can carry 35 to 50 pieces through the kiln at one time.

The product is then graded and stacked on pads.

Some items have decals or gold trim put on them while other are simply finished and sent to the warehouse.

Those requiring decals or gold trim have to be fired

Congressional Comments

Cong. Charles Stenholm

WASHINGTON--The plight of 10-month-old Ashley Bailey of Clyde, Texas, who at this writing is waiting for a liver transplant that will save her life, has drawn state and national attention to the problems faced by the parents of children such as Ashley and to the inability of the current system of organ procurement to keep pace with advancing medical technology.

While life-saving transplants--whether of livers or kidneys or hearts--have attracted more public attention, the questions they raise are only the tip of the iceberg as medical technology swiftly moves us into a sea filled with unknowns in the health care field.

Last week in this column, I discussed my own personal decision to assist Ashley's family in making the public aware of her desperate need for a transplant. Even when you know you cannot help every child needing a transplant, you have the responsibility to help that child that you can.

In working with Ashley's case, more questions than answers seemed to arise. Top on the list is a more workable organ procurement system, coupled with a massive public awareness program. Other questions are not limited to transplants alone, but expand into the areas of ethics, resource limitations and public policy, among other things. It would be impossible to give each of these areas the proper attention in just one column, so for the next few weeks several of the major issues will be examined.

I will consider such as: Who will live and who will die? Who decides, and on what grounds? Does society have an ethical obligation to ensure equitable access to health care for all? If so, how is that obligation balanced by individual obligations to take reasonable steps to provide for such care?

When are medical decisions better left solely in the hands of the physician?

What rights do the patient and the patient's family and friends have to be a part of the decision-making process?

What, in fact, is death and what group--state or federal lawmakers--are responsible for final definition? Today, for almost any life-threatening condition, some intervention is capable of delaying the moment of death. The frequency of dramatic breakthroughs in medical care--insulin, antibiotics, resuscitation, chemotherapy, dialysis, and transplantation, to name but a few--has made it possible to retard and even to reverse many conditions that were until recently regarded as fatal. Matters that were once the province of fate have now become a matter of human choice, a development that has profound ethical and legal implications.

Finally, we cannot ignore the reality of financial resources and the role that limited resources play in medical issues. As one physician asked, "Do we concentrate limited public resources strictly on the 'greatest good for the greatest number' type of research? Do we spend more on prolonging life of elderly people or transfer those resources to newborns, infants and small children?"

Who makes those decisions?"

Like you, I begin to feel overwhelmed by this list of questions which at times seem unanswerable, but which technology will not allow to be brushed aside. Medical concerns that at one time were essentially private ones, now have been pushed into the public sphere. Answers and public policy must be achieved, difficult though they may be.

In next week's column I will look more specifically at one are of the medical technology dilemma.

III Representatives Slate 50th Anniversary Meeting

On August 7, 1983, the Institute of Industrial Launderers will celebrate its 50th Anniversary. The IIL is a trade association serving industrial launderers and textile rental companies nationwide.

Representatives of 30 industrial laundry companies came from all over the United States to the first meeting of the National Industrial Launderers and Cleaners Association—the original name of the IIL—which was held August 7, 1933, at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago. From that day to this, the IIL has been working with industry, commerce and government to enable its members to provide better service.

Through the years the IIL has coordinated programs for its members that have attacked social problems with implications beyond the industrial laundry industry. The IIL received a Presidential Commendation from President Johnson in 1965 for a program to hire the mentally handicapped and was one of 25 organizations nationwide to receive the first President's Award for Energy Efficiency in 1980 from President Carter for work in helping members conserve energy.

The IIL has also helped member firms with environmental concerns such as water quality. The Institute coordinated numerous programs to place water treatment facilities directly in member plants.

IIL member companies typically rent uniforms and other industry services. They pick up soiled garments and deliver clean ones, usually on a weekly basis.

Red Star Laundry

Red Star Laundries were for many years a fixture throughout California and the West and were acquired by Aratex, an Institute of Industrial Launderers member. One of Red Star's most famous employees was Herbert Hoover, who became the 31st President of the United States.

Society Holds Prejudices Against Elderly

The most serious problem facing elderly Americans today is "ageism," the prejudice society holds against older people, according to an article in the journal Texas Medicine.

"Think how often we remark on a 'cute' old woman or man and are amazed that they look, move, or get along as well as they do. Barring some debilitating illness, why should they not?" Dr. Deborah V. Gross writes in the June issue of the Texas Medical Association's monthly journal.

She quotes author Alex Comfort in defining ageism as "the notion that people cease to be people, cease to be the same people, or become people of a distinct and inferior kind, by virtue of having lived a specified number of years."

"Like other prejudices, Gross writes, "ageism is founded on ignorance and maintained by stereotype. Such stereotypes are self-perpetuating since they are held by many elderly people themselves. The big difference between ageism and other forms of prejudice is that we all hope that we will become old."

Gross encourages physicians to examine their own feelings about aging since their views may be a primary factor in the "success or failure of the doctor-patient relationship...If we wish to help our patients achieve a good old age, we need to ensure that we do not unconsciously perpetuate the cruel practices of ageism."

Gross, a recent graduate from The University of Texas Medical School at San Antonio, notes that the elderly are less often affected by acute illness than are younger people. When it does occur, however, acute illness causes more days of inactivity in older people. And chronic diseases, including relatively mild and non-disabling diseases, increases tenfold between ages 15 and 65.

"Still, less than 1 percent of people over 65 were limited in their ability to bathe, dress, feed themselves, or perform toilet functions," she continues in citing studies. "Although 86 percent of the elderly have one or more chronic health problems, 30 percent live in the community, and 81 percent get along without outside help."

Concerning a typical stereotype, she says, "Senile" is a word which has been abused and overused and probably should be struck from the language. When an old man forgets his hat, he is called 'senile.' When a young man does the same thing, he is called 'forgetful.'

She cites isolation, loss of freedom, decreased sense of personal worth, fear of the unknown, and specific biological and psychological changes as reasons for depression, anxiety, and frustration in the elderly.

Big Name Golfers In 1983 La-Jet Classic

1983 Bob Hope Desert Classic Champion Keith Fergus and million-dollar winner Bob Murphy have agreed to play in the 1983 La-Jet Coors Classic, September 22-25 at the Fairway Oaks Golf and Racquet Club, Tournament Director Steve Threlkeld announced today.

Fergus is enjoying one of his best years ever on the PGA Tour after winning the Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Springs over Rex Caldwell. It was his third victory on tour after previous triumphs in the 1981 Memorial Tournament and the 1982 Georgia-Pacific Atlanta Classic.

Fergus has already earned $134,081 this year to rank 19th on the Money List. Only once before in his seven year career has he won more money than that, and this is only July!

The former University of Houston All-American has shown remarkable consistency in 1983, finishing in the money 15 times in the 19 tournaments he has entered. Besides the Bob Hope victory in January, the other top ten finish for Fergus was a tie for ninth in the Joe Garagiola Tucson Open.

Fergus, who's originally from Killeen, has two uncles who live in Abilene, longtime car dealer Max Fergus and attorney Dan Fergus.

Fergus played in both the 1981 and 1982 LaJet Classics.

Another LaJet veteran returning again in 1983 is Bob Murphy. Murphy is one of only 38 golfers who have earned a million dollars on the PGA Tour.

Murphy is rebounding nicely from an injury plagued 1982. He has collected $39,644 this year to rank 81st on the Money List—that's more than he earned in all of 1982 after a hand injury knocked him out of nine tournaments.

After an outstanding amateur career which included a U.S. Amateur championship and a NCAA title at the University of Florida, Murphy turned pro in 1968 and won $105,596, which was a record for a first year player at the time.

Murphy has won four tournaments in his distinguished career as a pro. And when he's not playing, he joins the CBS-TV crew as an analyst on the tournaments they nationally televise.

So far in 1983, Murphy has

The tourney is ASA approved, will have a 55 minute time limit and will have 15 member teams. No steel cleats are allowed.

Protest fee is $50.00. Trophies will be awarded to first through fourth place teams and individuals.

finished in the money 11 of the 18 tournaments he has entered. He has recorded two top ten finishes, a tie for 5th at the Colonial NIT in Fort Worth and a tie for 9th in the Memorial Tournament.

Murphy has taken home healthy paychecks from Abilene after previous performances here in the 1981 and 1982 tournaments.

Fergus and Murphy join a growing list of golfers who have already agreed to play here in 1983: 1983 Joe Garagiola Tucson Open and 1983 Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open champion Gil Morgan, 1983 Danny Thomas Memphis Classic winner Larry Mize, 1983 TPC champion Hal Sutton, 1982 Southern Open winner Bobby Clampett, 1982 Bing Crosby Pro-Am champ Jim Simons, and tour regular Bobby Wadkins.

All proceeds from the La-Jet Coors Classic benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation center, which is a private, non-profit diagnostic and treatment facility for handicapped children and adults.

Bass Club Report

Willingham Wins at Graham Butch Willingham of Cisco proved once again why he has held on to first place in our angler of the year race. Butch won first place and Big Bass for the tournament.

Here's how they weighed. Butch Willingham first, 2 fish 6 lbs. 6 oz. big bass at 4 lbs. 4 oz. Terry Wilson 2nd, first fish 3 lbs. 8 oz. and Will Johnson 3rd, 2 fish 2 lbs. 12 oz. Graham was our lake drawn this month. With 10 fishermen on hand for what proved to be a hard days fishing. The larger fish were taken on jigs, both in the reeds and willows. Our race for angler of the year is still open with four tournaments remaining.

There shall be an open tournament held on Lake Whitney July 17. This is sponsored by the Fin and Feather sport center for more information phone 817-551-1219.

Area lakes are showing us those dog days of summer. Fishing on Leon is slow on bass with a few strippers being trotted up. Cisco has produced some fish around windy points. Brownwood is full with bass fishing being slow to ample cover. Don't forget our open tournament July 23rd, Leon night tourney. Remember those life preservers, see you on the water.

U.S. Shooting Team Wins 12 Medallions

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Twelve medallions were won by the U.S. Shooting Team as the United States continued its recent domination of international skeet and Olympic trap competition at the World Moving Target Championships held in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, June 14-26, 1983.

A total of five gold, three silver, and four bronze medals were captured by U.S. shooters as world-class competitors from 37 nations competed for titles in 14 Olympic trap, international skeet, and running game target events.

The world title in men's international skeet was won impressively by Matthew A. Dryke, SGT, USA, of Ft. Benning, GA, who scored 195 out of a possible 200 point. Teammate Mike Thompson of Fredericksburg, VA, finished with a 193 to take the bronze medal and the U.S. Skeet Team of Dryke, Thompson, and Dean Clark of Garrettsville, OH, produced another gold medal as the world champion team with a 438 of a possible 450 points.

The third U.S. gold medal was won by Connie Tomsovic of El Cajon, CA, who became the world women's Olympic trap champion when she scored 177 out of 200. The Women's Trap Team of Tomsovic, Loral I Delaney of Anoka, MN, and Frances Strodman of Jackson, MT, won the team world championship title with a final score of 357 out of a possible 450.

A silver medal was received by Daniel T. Carlisle, SGT, USA, of Ft. Benning, GA, in the men's Olympic trap event with a score of 187 out of 200. U.S. Trap Team members Carlisle, Peter Piffath of Lloyd Harbor, NY, and Dayne Johnson of Ft. Worth, TX, brought another world championship gold medal home in the team event scoring a 413 out of 450.

The bronze medal in the women's skeet event was won by Terri Carlisle, the wife of Daniel Carlisle, with a 179 out of a possible 200 points. The silver medal in women's team skeet was won by Carlisle, Ila Hill of Birmingham, MI, and Connie Schiller of College Station, TX, with a total score of 374 out of 450.

In the 10 meter running game target event, Randy W. Stewart, CPT, USA of Ft. Benning, GA, received the bronze medal for his score of 370 out of 400 point. Stewart and teammates Todd Bensley of University Park, NM, and Mike English of Colorado Springs, CO, also received the bronze medal for their total score of 1094 out of 1200 points in this event's team match.

The World Moving Target Championships are held once every four years in the calendar year preceding the Olympics. They provide a forum for world-class competitors in the moving target events.

As the national governing body for the shooting sports, the National Rifle Association selects the team and coordinates their participation in this important pre-Olympic competition. This year's team members competed for berths on the World Moving Target Championship Team at the U.S. International Shooting Championships.

Cisco To Host State Baseball Tourney

CISCO—The Tri-Cities Baseball League of Eastland County will be the host of the 1983 Texas Teen-Age Baseball Association's Junior State Tournament for players age 13 to 15. The tournament will be held at the City Park Baseball Field in Cisco starting August 1st.

Thirty seven league champions from all over the state will compete in seven district tournaments to determine seven of the eight teams that will play for the State Championship title. The eighth team will be the league champions of the Tri-Cities Baseball League of Eastland County.

The district tournaments will be held at Cameron, Clyde, Gainesville, Athens, West, Kermit, and Port Lavaca. All district tournaments will start July 25th and be double elimination.

The number 2 district tournament to be held at Clyde is said to be one of the toughest in the state. The league champions from the Big Country (Clyde), Sweetwater, Colorado City, Tri-Cities (Merkel), I 20 (Roscoe), Inner Cities (Hamilton), Heart of Texas (Brady), and Snyder will be competing.

The State Tournament will be a double elimination tournament with no run limits or time time limits. The tournament will be played in four days barring rain. The games will be played on a regulation field under the 1983 Official Baseball Rules as published by the National Baseball Congress of America. The TTAB does impose additional rules regarding age and number of innings a pitcher may pitch.

There will be a $2.00 admission price for adults, $1.00 for students, and children under six are free.

BEATS GARAGE SALES

Did you ever notice how long it takes for some people to get ready for a garage sale? And did you hear them worry and fret over how much to ask for every item they wished to sell? Well, you can tell them that an auction beats garage sales by a mile and a half. You can explain to them that your friend in the auction business will arrange to do all the things necessary to set up and conduct the auction.

You can also tell them that your friend in the auction business knows the value of all types of items, knows what to ask to start the bidding and knows how to get top dollar.

And, you'll also be pleased to tell them that your friend in the auction business will sell everything they have in a few hours and the only thing they'll have left over will be cash.

Please tell them that I'm your friend in the auction business. And please tell them to remember that when it comes to buying or selling AUCTION'S BEST

Treasurer Looks For Safe Box Owners

AUSTIN, July 1, 1983—Texas State Treasurer Ann Richards released a list of 767 names in 17 Texas communities who were the owners of safe deposit boxes at banks that failed during the Great Depression and which are now in the hands of the federal government. Thirty-eight names from Ranger, Texas appear on the list.

Dept. Of Agriculture Issues Warning Against Ant Liquor

AUSTIN—The Texas Department of Agriculture wishes to warn consumers about the marketing of a product which may mislead them as to its effectiveness in killing fire ants. TDA has placed a stop sale order on Fire Ant Special Ant Liquor, manufactured by Hide International of Longwood, Florida. Ron White, TDA's assistant deputy commissioner for regulatory programs, said the order was placed on Fire Ant Special Ant Liquor because of the company's failure to otherwise register the product under the Texas pesticide law.

"The product label makes no specific claim to control fire ants," said White, "and the label does not disclose its ingredients so it is impossible to evaluate its usefulness." One Texas distributor of the product has voluntarily agreed to remove the product from sale, but the department does not know how many other outlets may be selling the Fire Ant Special Ant Liquor, and White said, "we want consumers to be aware of this problem — they may be wasting their money."

"Our claim is on its way to Washington," Richards said, noting that it is not yet known when the contents of the boxes actually will be returned to Texas.

Richards said a law passed by Congress last October, the Garn-St. Germain Act, authorizes the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency to return the contents of the 50-year old safe deposit boxes to the rightful owners or to the state where the bank was located, if that state has an unclaimed property program.

Texas was the first state to inquire about the abandoned boxes last April.

"When we first contacted the federal government about this, they hadn't even written the procedures for handling claims," Richards said.

The names of owners nationwide, from 627 banks across the country that failed before World War II, were published in the Federal Register.

"I don't know too many people who read the Federal Register," Richards said. "The Texas Treasury is much better equipped to find the rightful owners of this property in Texas and that is one reason why we're trying to bring it back to the state as soon as possible."

Richards noted she has established a locator unit in the Treasury's Unclaimed Property Division. A staff member there has already found about 20 owners of abandoned safe deposit boxes which have been turned over to the State Treasurer over the past 20 years. There are currently 174 safe deposit boxes in the state's vault.

Under Texas law, property such as bank accounts, security deposits, insurance benefits and safe deposit boxes that is unclaimed for seven years must be turned over to the State Treasurer, who will return the funds to the rightful owner whenever a valid claim is filed.

Anyone who believes they may be entitled to the Depression-era safe deposit boxes held by the federal government should write to: Claims Processing Unit, U.S. Comptroller of the Currency, 490 L'Enfant Plaza East, Washington, D.C. 20219

Texas may also write to: State Treasurer Ann Richards, Unclaimed Property Division, P.O. Box 12608, Capitol Station

Since the Select Committee on Public Education has begun their meetings, it might be best to postpone further discussion on different aspects of our educational system until the committee is ready to make recommendations. According to Ross Perot, chairman of the committee, meetings are going to be scheduled throughout the state and are planned through October. It is very apparent to me that a special session cannot be called until after that time.

Let me make you aware of some facts which were astounding to me and which were presented to the members of the Select Committee at their first meeting this week.

Fact No. 1. Russia is No. 1 in math and science education with Japan (whose entire educational system was revamped along the lines of the U.S. system after W.W. II) not far behind.

Fact No. 2. The U.S. is now ranked 15th.

Fact No. 3. Following 9th Grade, most Japanese students have the same education as 90% of our high school seniors.

Fact No. 4. In the U.S. there is a 10% illiteracy rate among 17 year olds, and 40% among minority 17 year olds.

Fact No. 5. Paul Copperman was quoted in A Nation at Risk as saying: "For the first time in the history of this country the educational skills of this generation will not surpass, will not even approach, those of their parents."

I wonder if these facts are as surprising to you as they were to me. I do not envy the committee the monumental task before them.

Before closing this week, let me tell you of some plans I have in the district. Prior to my election I heard many of you complain about having candidates visit your towns but never "darken your door" after election. I promised you that would not happen and, therefore, have made plans to visit different areas in my district in order that each of you will have the opportunity to personally ask questions, express opinions, or voice concerns regarding any matters of interest to you. We would also be happy to try to help you with any problems you may have with any state or federal agencies. Tuesday, July 26th, is the date for my first scheduled visit. I plan to be at the Winters Chamber of Commerce office 10:00 a.m. and the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce office at 2:00 p.m. to see those of you in that area. I hope you folks will come to share your views and opinions with me in order that I might be able to represent you effectively.

Texas Banker Praises Supreme Court Decision

The decision by the United States Supreme Court invalidating the method used to compute taxes on bank stock is welcome, Glen Lemon, president of the Texas Bankers Association, said today. "Clearly, the bank shares tax is inequitable! It is the only tax on corporate stock in Texas, and it is virtually the only tax on intangible personal property in our State."

"Banks have been paying significantly greater taxes than other financial institutions in Texas which are now authorized to offer similar services to their customers," he added.

Noting that the Texas Bankers Association has supported legislation in the past two Sessions of the Legislature which would substitute the regular corporate franchise tax - to be

The Court decision has led to some confusion. For instance, taxes on bank buildings and other real property will not be affected by the decision. Nor will the decision have any effect on tax revenues to the State of Texas. In addition, the bank shares tax was not struck down, per se, by the Court.

divided pro rata among local taxing units - for the bank shares tax, Lemon said the Court's decision should lead to fair and equitable taxation of Texas banks. "Certainly no one in banking would object to paying our fair share of taxes, but we do not believe that banks should be expected to shoulder more than their fair share of the tax burden."

directly, is prohibited by Federal Statute with certain exceptions including non-discriminatory franchise taxes such as have been proposed by the Texas Bankers Association in lieu of the bank shares tax.

Estimating the amount of tax revenues to local units of government which will be affected by the Court's decision is difficult if not impossible, Lemon said. There are too many variables such as tax rates, the number of banks in each taxing district, and the amount of U.S. Government obligations owned by each bank from time to time.

EHS Vo-Ag Department Slates Range Seminar

The Vo-Ag Department of Eastland High School is having a seminar on establishing and managing native range.

The intent of this seminar is to provide you with information that will help you to improve your pastures, not only for livestock production, but also for quail, turkey, deer, and other species of wildlife.

The seminar will be July 26, 27, and 28 from 7:30 til 9:30 p.m. each evening in the Vo Ag building. The ag building is on the hill behind the band hall.

The speaker for Tuesday, July 26, will be from Turner Seed Company in Breckenridge. Mr. Turner will discuss harvesting seed, caring for seed, and some of the species that have been more successful in their experiences.

The speaker for Wednesday, July 27, will be Mr. Luther Butler with the Texas Department of Agriculture, Stephenville office. Mr. Butler will discuss and demonstrate some of the techniques and services that are provided by the seed test laboratory in Stephenville. His information could save you an extra seeding operation by knowing the viability of your seed.

Thursday night, July 28, representatives from the Soil Conservation Service will discuss seed bed preparation and other management techniques necessary to insure a good stand when reseeding.

We hope you can come and bring someone with you. Be sure to have your questions ready for open discussion each evening.

Blood Service Organizations Against Direct Donations

The nation's voluntary blood service organizations today announced they do not advocate "directed donations," an unconventional practice whereby patients needing transfusions select their own blood donors. The American Red Cross, American Association of Blood Banks and Council of Community Blood Centers agreed that existing arrangements with volunteer donors and donor groups are the best way of assuring a safe supply of blood for all patients needing transfusions.

Publicity about the current AIDS epidemic has led to widespread concerns about the possibility of transmitting AIDS through blood transfusion. The facts do not justify these concerns: data accumulated over the last three years indicate that the possible occurrence of AIDS in transfusion recipients is on the order of one case per million patients transfused. Still, as a consequence of misleading reports, some patients have demanded that blood for their transfusions be donated by specially selected family members, friends or co-workers.

Adopting a policy of patient-directed donations would create an illusion of additional protection where none exists and, by disrupting existing volunteer donor systems, could result in inability to supply blood to patients who need it. The blood collecting organizations are also concerned that the logistical complexities of patient-directed donation could lead to serious errors in donor and patient identification.

ARC, AABB and CCBC represent some 2500 community and regional blood centers, hospital blood banks and transfusion services which collect and transfuse over 98% of the nation's blood supply.

San Saba

To Host

Tractor Pull

SAN SABA-San Saba will host a Class A Tractor Pull on July 22 and 23 at 7:30 p.m., located at the All-Sports Arena on highway 16 North.

Tickets are $5.00 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12.

Tony Douglas and the Shrimpers will provide dance music after the pull on both nights. Admission price for the dance is $6.00 per person.

The three organizations emphasize there is no scientific basis for the assumption that blood from donors selected by patients is safer than that available from volunteers at community blood banks. In fact, such a practice may be hazardous because it could pressure selected donors to be untruthful about their ability to meet donor eligibility requirements.

ARC, AABB, and CCBC all agree that the altruistic volunteer donor who is free

Sen. Bentsen Introduces Facilities Legislation

WASHINGTON-Senator Lloyd Bentsen, pointing to a Congressional Budget Office estimate that the U.S. needs to spend over $53 billion a year on basic facilities such as bridges for the rest of this decade, introduced legislation Wednesday to help meet this need.

Under the Bentsen bill, the federal government would assist state and local governments in constructing such facilities as bridges, dams and reservoirs, ports, airports and mass transit systems.

The bill calls for the federal government to provide $10 billion a year from fiscal year 1984 through fiscal year 1993 to state and local governments. All federal monies would be repaid through user fees charged by the facilities built or in other ways determined by the state and local governments involved.

"Half the money would be used as a direct interest rate subsidy of 50 percent of qualified state and local projects. Half would be used as seed money on a 40 percent federal and 60 percent state/local matching basis," Bentsen said in Senate remarks accompanying his legislation.

"These two methods of financing could generate as much as $80 billion in infrastructure investment in the first year." The Bentsen bill would establish a National Infrastructure Commission and infrastructure banks in each of the 50 states. The commission would insure that the individual banks are established in accordance with terms of the law. Each bank, for example must require repayment of the federal funds.

The Secretary of the Treasury would apportion program funds to the states under a formula based partially on population growth between 1950 and 1980 and partially on population as of 1980.

"The current condition of public works and specific investment requirements vary dramatically from community to community, state to state and region to region. Some areas are in need of a one-time infusion of catch-up capital to make good on decades of under investment. Other areas are having difficulty staying even with rapid rates of growth," Bentsen said.

"Clearly Congressional Budget Office has estimated that we should be spending $53 billion a year for the rest of this decade to maintain and improve America's basic facilities," Bentsen said.

"That is a great deal of money by any standard. The only way we can even hope to approach that mark is for the federal government to facilitate the acquisition of low cost financing and provide the impetus for state and local governments to initiate infrastructure projects," Senator Bentsen said.

How To Combat An Automobile Fire

Nothing is more hazardous nor frightening than a car fire. Yet it can happen to any driver. According to Mechanix Illustrated magazine, the basic principle to follow is that your life and the lives of your passengers are worth more than your car. Here are the steps you should follow if your car should ignite.

First, pull off the road, immediately shut off the ignition and get everyone out of the car. Instruct them to move at least fifty yards away, making sure they are not in danger from oncoming traffic. Have one of them ask a passing motorist to send help. Or, if you are alone, do it yourself after the next step.

Oddly enough, the next step is to release the hood latch. True, it will lift the hood a bit and make more air available to the fire. But the more important consideration is this: some hood-release parts are plastic, and the heat will melt them, making it impossible to raise the hood. Thus, when the firefighters arrive, they will have to damage the front of the car to raise the hood, and it will slow down their efforts.

If you have a fire extinguisher rated for fire types "A", "B" and "C", perhaps you could aim it at the base of the flames with good results. However, if you have any doubt about your ability to control the fire, get out of the way and wait for professional help.

And stay away until the fire is out and your car has cooled to air temperature. Even though the fire may seem to be out, dripping gasoline can ignite, tires can explode, and the smoke from car fires is highly toxic because of all the plastic used in today's cars.

Many Good And Sincere Individuals
...give little thought to the question of values when we should measure them in terms of personal worth in everything he buys, enjoys or does. For example, some folks will buy real estate without any kind of evidence of title disregarding the fact that the principal value of the purchase is in the title, not in the land itself or the improvements thereon. This kind of thinking costs property owners thousands of dollars annually which could be saved and a part of the savings wisely spent for an abstract of title or title insurance.

Education: bring The joy of learning — a life-long experience

Education is a life-long process, not something which can be contained within the walls of any school, however distinguished. It is as much a territory for adults as children — there is no limit on curiosity. For the person who truly believes that there is nothing more to learn, because that person has "learned to grow."

People learn by a variety of methods. Book learning is one, chief among them — as is the interchange of ideas. In fact, among people, teacher to pupil, pupil to teacher, usually, people learn by opening themselves to the world around them, by allowing their senses to interpret their surroundings. Leaving their doors open, metaphorically speaking, to the world that nature and art and creation have to offer.

Whether your interests lie in specific areas, or whether you are enthralled by everything the world has to offer, there is one concept always to keep in mind: There is nothing so small it's not worth learning, nothing so large, it's not worth tackling.

Perfect picture

Capturing the spirit of summer in photographs can be as easy as following in the sun, when you follow a few simple tips on picture taking.

No matter how ideal the lighting and other conditions, ultimately the quality of your pictures depends on the way you handle your camera.

Although many of the new cameras are compact, what appears to be the result of less space is the result of less space. One of the greatest advantages of an instant camera is that you can see your results immediately. You can tell right away when you took the time to compose a shot in the viewfinder or when you need to try again.

It was a wonderful occasion with a lot of visiting and catching up on all the happenings from the year before, good and bad news. Each year makes us realize it is later than we think, that each day is a gift from God and should be lived to the fullest. Let us thank God for his many blessings as we live one day at a time.

The following relatives were present Guy and Clara Gage, Cisco, Edward and Pat McGough and son Mike, Cisco, Cindy Study vin, Cisco, Pete and Beverly Harrell and two sons Jason and Nathan, Cisco, Oren and Grace Shue, Abilene, Tommie and Vunah Berry, Montague, Dora and Ted Farley, Oxnard, California, Peal and Harold Flynn, Austin, Harold Wayne and Gertrude Flynn, Killeen, Billie Joe and Love Joy Wells, Garland, Barry and Kitty Horton and daughter Jennifer, Garland, Mae White, Cisco, Myrtle Thurman, Cisco, Lee and Velma Gryder, Cisco, Frank Gryder, Ranger, Carl and Dorila Gray, Fort Worth, Sam and Pat Gray, Fort Worth, Lois Andrews, Com-

Putnam News

By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

Still summer time at Putnam and still no rain if Abilene did receive 4 inches. Looks like the Putnam people are not living right. Gardens are about gone...and I notice the farmer are plowing the grain fields. Stock tanks are dangerously low or completely dry. Some stock men are selling their cattle on account of low water. The situation is getting serious. But we usually get rain here when we think it will never rain again.

We were sorry to hear of the death last week of Mr. Lewis Ogle of Rising Star.

Mr. Ogle was the father of Dorothy Sherley of Cisco formerly of Putnam and Naomi Jones of Baird. Our sympathy goes to the family.

Mrs. Ollie Burnam and Mrs. Faye Wood of Cisco visited their aunts Mrs. Annie Bishop and Mrs. Madge Hornsby at Cross Plains.

Almer Smith of Abilene filled the pulpit at the Baptist church last Sunday. The pastor Jackie Willoughby took a group of youngsters to play miniature golf at Abilene recently.

Mrs. Joe Verte McCormick of Phoenix, Arizona, and her daughter and granddaughters have been visiting her father Loren Everett and other relatives here and in surrounding towns.

The James Jaggers are adding a new room to their home here. Mrs. Jaggers is our local artist she has some beautiful paintings on exhibit at the Country Arts and Craft Shop owned by Mary King.

Mrs. I.G. Mobley of Baird and Mrs. Taylor visited Mrs. Doug Fry at Cisco Thursday. The local Church of Christ is beginning an extensive building program at Church. They plan to build a new auditorium along with other things.

A few local ladies sponsored a bean and cornbread luncheon at the Community Center last Friday. Donations were accepted and the proceeds will go toward the up keep of the Community Center. $37.50 was donated.

The Joe Whiteheads are also making improvements at their home. At present they are doing a new paint job.

Little Leslie Donaway of Brownwood is spending the week with her grandparents the Milton Donaways.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones of San Antonio are spending a few days with his Aunt Mrs. R.B. Taylor. They are on their way home after spending several weeks in the mountains of Colo. and New Mex.

City's Sales Tax Portion For 1983 Is Down

AUSTIN, Tex.—State Comptroller Bob Bullock Thursday sent checks totaling $35.1 million to 974 cities that levy the one-percent city sales tax.

"Our total payments to cities so far this year are still running about one percent behind last year," Bullock said in sending the July checks to the cities. "Texas was slow to enter the national recession and we are still lagging behind in the recovery. Most major Texas cities are beginning to show higher tax receipts than last year, but the border and oil and gas producing areas are still substantially behind."

Houston received the largest July check—$6.8 million.

Eastland received the biggest check in the county for July, $8,603.85 down 8.72 percent from last year. Eastland's 1983 receipts so far is $114,949.18.

Cisco's July payment was $8,522.44 bringing their 1983 total to $12,839.40. They are down 6.73 percent from last year.

Ranger's payments are down 22.29 percent from last year.

Gorman received a check for $715.20 bringing their 1983 total to $13,204.18. Their payments are down 13.93 percent from last year.

Rising Star didn't receive a check in July but their 1983 total stands at $10,543.13.

Bullock also sent checks to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. Houston's MTA received $7.8 million, down from last July's payment of $9.4 million. San Antonio received $1.1 million, bringing the yearly total to $12.4 million, up 10 percent over 1982.

The City and MTA sales taxes are collected along with the state sales tax merchants and rebated monthly to the cities in which they are collected by the Comptroller.

The July checks were for taxes collected on sales made in May and reported to the Comptroller by the end of June.
