

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

THE CISCO AREA received a really nice shower Monday evening, but it just didn't seem to last long enough. We are thankful for what we received but I believe everyone is still praying for more, especially the area farmers.

A RETAIL TRADE day is being planned by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce for later this month. One of the planned highlights will be a "Little Mr. Cisco" contest like the recent "Little Miss Cisco" contest.

If there are as many contestants in this contest as in the past one, then it should take a while to be conducted. I feel for the judges who have to decide which child is to win and which is to lose.

SCHOOL SUPPLY lists for Primary and Intermediate School students may be found in this edition of The Cisco Press. We have had several calls in our office concerning the lists.

FOOTBALL WORKOUTS got underway for Cisco High School players here Monday morning. There was a good group of students out for football, despite the hot weather.

Understand quite a few of the players were extremely sore and tired after their first day of working out with the high school squads.

Band students have also begun practicing for the upcoming school year. The sixth grade beginner band is being formed and is learning about whichever musical instrument they chose to play.

THE FOLLOWING article was taken from the First Evangelical Methodist Church bulletin this Sunday. It holds some truth for just about every family in America, including a good number of Christian homes.

THE BIBLE AND TV GUIDE

On the table side by side the Holy Bible and the T.V. Guide. One is well worn but cherished with pride, (not the Bible, but the T.V. Guide).

One is used daily to help folks decide. No, it isn't the Bible, it's the T.V. Guide. As pages are turned, what shall they see? Oh what does it matter, turn on the T.V. Then confusion reigns, they can't all agree on what they shall watch on the old T.V. So they open the book in which they confide, (no, not the Bible, it's the T.V. Guide).

Rev. Frank Williams Assumes Duties At Methodist Churches

REV. WILLIAMS

The Rev. Frank R. Williams assumed duties as minister of the First United and Wesley Methodist Churches in Cisco last weekend to succeed the Rev. David Adkins who had held the pastorate for some three and a half years.

The new minister moved to Cisco from Fort Worth where he had served for three years as pastor of Carter Park United Methodist Church. The Williams family moved into the Cisco church parsonage

The word of God is seldom read, maybe a verse e'er they fall into bed. Exhausted and sleepy and tired as can be, not from reading the Bible...from watching T.V. So, then back to the table, side by side, is the Holy Bible and the T.V. Guide.

No time for prayer, no time for the Word, the Plan of Salvation is seldom heard. Forgiveness of sin so full and free, is found in the Bible, not on T.V.

Cisco Softball Association Sponsors Womens Tourney

The Cisco Softball Association Ladies League will have a tournament August 25, 26 & 27.

All teams in the surrounding area, with members 18 years old or older, are urged to enter the tournament. There is a $75 entry fee. The deadline is August 16th, so make plans now to play in the tournament.

There are several awards to be given to winning teams. They are 1st, 2nd, 3rd & 4th place with trophies; 1st, 2nd & 3rd place individual trophies, 15 per team; and 10 All-Tourney trophies. For more information call

Rain Postpones Miniature Golf Tourney Awards

A downpour at the Lake Cisco Park Miniature Golf Course (Sunday) caused a postponement of the trophy awards until after this week. Score cards are to be turned in next Sunday night, August 14th.

Everyone still has a chance to win, even with a high score. Course hours are from 4-10 p.m., Thursday, Friday and Sunday, and 4-12 p.m. on Saturday.

The Kiwanis Club charges $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under twelve.

Rain Reported In This Region

Rainfall measuring from a third to an inch and a half fell in this region during thunderstorms Sunday and Monday, according to reports. Lake Cisco registered the most rainfall - 1.5 inches.

Any amount of rainfall was welcomed by area farm and ranch operators whose fields and pastures are parched. No significant rain has fallen in the area in two months.

The thunderstorms brought some relief from high temperatures that had prevailed for several weeks. Temperatures were in the upper 80's Monday.

No Action Taken By Commission On Assistant District Attorney

The County Commissioners Court failed to take action on the appeal of citizens Monday to adopt a resolution agreeing to accept a state-funded grant to maintain the office of assistant prosecutor for the county.

It was the third and apparently last, opportunity for accepting the grant, which now is presumably dead forever. The Commissioners split their votes, two for and two against with County Judge Scott Bailey absent and not able to break the tie at the first meeting; at a called meeting last Tuesday and at the regular meeting Monday, motion to accept the grant never came forward. (At the initial meeting, motion came from Commissioner L.E. Owens, seconded by Commissioner Jack Blackwell, both of whom voted for. Commissioners Runt Dill and Richard Robinson voted against.)

Representatives from M.A.D.D. (Mother Against Drunk Drivers) and P.A.D.D. (People Against Dangerous Drugs) Monday appealed to the court to adopt the resolution accepting the grant to fund the office. Commissioners Dill and Robinson were most vocal in questioning those who spoke for the post including Criminal District Attorney Emory Walton.

(Assistant Prosecutor John Hawkins resigned his position last Friday to accept a similar position at Tyler).

Commissioners Robinson and Dill both indicated that they feared establishing a high-salaried position which they might have to fund locally in a few years after the grants cease. (Presently the grant would be in the amount of some $21,000 and about $5,000 would be needed locally. Walton stated that the $5,000 could be funded from local funds.) Indications are that the county expenses are running beyond budget.

It was pointed out repeatedly that assessed fines have increased by some $80,000 during the year to date.

Line of questioning by the Commissioners indicated that they might be less than pleased with the performance of the District Attorneys office.

Retail Trade Day Is Set For August 27

A Retail Trade Day and Sidewalk Sale, sponsored by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, has been planned for Saturday, August 27th, according to CoC manager Randy Speegle.

He stated that a "Little Mr. Cisco" contest will highlight the day's events. The contest will be sponsored by Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio.

Dill questioned Walton about the case load of his office compared to other counties which are part of multi-county courts.

Walton said that the case load now is heavy and requires two prosecutors. "If it were like it was when I came here in 1968," the D.A. said, "we wouldn't need help."

"Eastland County isn't any different than any other county in the state," Dill said, "they've all got dope and crime."

Walton re-stated the case-load of Eastland's one-county court.

"They're consolidating courts all over the state," Dill said.

Past performance by Walton's office came into discussion when Robinson reminded the D.A. that after writing letters on county legal matters which had failed to get results, the Commissioners had been told "they'd probably have to hire themselves an attorney."

At one point Dill asked Walton if he was seeking the grant for "the man" or "the position?"

"The position," Walton answered.

Presentations by the MADD and PADD representatives were brief but Walton took a great deal of time explaining the need for an assistant in his office.

Shortly before 5 p.m. a court official reported that the Commissioners had taken no action on the prosecutor position.

In other business, the Commissioners approved minutes; voted to close a portion of County Road 185

C&W Musical Cancelled Here August 13th

The country and western musical will not be held in Cisco on August 13. The next musical will be held September 10.

South of Eastland; appointed election officers for the coming year; heard MADD and PADD under an agenda item labeled Budgetary and Appropriative Matters; skipped an item on projected revenue figures for 1984 budget (reportedly because all the tax data isn't in yet.); heard, but took no action on an inquiry by Tommy Patterson of Patterson Ambulance Service as to whether county subsidiary might be available to help maintain the ambulance service; heard Resident Engineer R.P. Haun report on the possibility of improvements to Battle Creek Bridge; and paid bills and accounts.

City Election Set For Next Saturday

Cisco voters will go to the polls at the Laguna Hotel Annex Saturday, Aug. 13, in a special election to name a city councilman to fill a vacancy. The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. with Earl Gorr as judge and Helen Gaeta as alternate judge.

Absentee voting ended last Monday at 5 p.m. with only two ballots being cast.

Roy Dennis, owner of Quickway Grocery, is the only candidate for the council vacancy caused by the resignation of Loyal Lundstrum after the latter was charged with murder in the shooting death of his wife last spring.

City officials urged local citizens to turn out for the election.

Conference Is Set On Sewage Matter

City officials will meet with representatives of the Texas Attorney General's Department at City Hall in Cisco Thursday afternoon to discuss details of a non-compliance suit that is expected to be filed soon against the city for alleged violation of state sewage plant regulations.

Mayor Eris Ritchie, City Manager Mike Moore, City Attorney Bill Wright and Engineer Billy Jacobs will be among City of Cisco officials at the conference. Ginny Agnew, assistant attorney general in the Environmental Protection Division, is expected to represent the Attorney General's department.

City Manager Moore expected the Texas Water Resources Board and the State Health Department to have representatives at the meeting.

The Austin officials will be briefed on the city's plans for improving the sewage disposal plant and the city water system, Mr. Moore said.

The city was notified recently that a suit would be forthcoming "due to the long history of non-compliance with regulations."

The city sewage plant was built in 1925 and is too small for present needs, Mr. Moore said. The state requires permits for treatment plants to be renewed every five years, and Cisco's last permit was dated 1978.

Mr. Moore said that city officials would assure state authorities "that we are doing everything we can to remedy our problems."

New Wards Owners

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carey, right, new owners of the Montgomery Ward Catalog Store in Eastland, are welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Dee Wilson left, who have recently sold the store to the Careys. Dessie Hooks, center, longtime Wards employee, will continue to assist in the store. The Wilsons recommend the new owners and the Careys pledge to continue to serve the people of this area, and have plans for the store in the future. The Wilsons will move to a farm near Rising Star. The Careys come to Eastland from Baytown. (Staff Photo)

Spotlights & Sidelights

Julia Worthy

Seems to me I've neglected a very important part of growing older. In the welter of retirement centers, the Social Security set up, and in urging attendance at senior centers, I have overlooked Romance!

Romance should not be overlooked at any age. It shouldn't be overdone, either, but that is another side of the coin.

I don't have to search my memory bank very hard to come up with such oldies as, "There's no fool like an old fool," or "He doesn't know when to let well enough alone."

Quoters of such cynical adages are going to have to change their philosophies...for several reasons.

Sheer numbers, for one: by 2025 one person out of six will be 65 or older. Whatever your present age, do a quick check on the folks you know who have passed 65 and are going right along. Surprised?

How many elders do you know whose partner has already checked on reservations beyond the Pearly Gates? Not doing all that well, are they? Especially the men.

Maybe the "old fool" who says "I do" again isn't such an old fool after all. Research reported by Johns Hopkins University shows that remarriage by widowers in the 55-64 age category lowered their death rate by fifty per cent.

How does that statistic grab you? Really shouldn't be too surprised as courting improves the circulation at any age. In 1982 more than 50,000 marriages were made with one of the consenting adults at least 65.

More and more people are recognizing that the affection, security, companionship and mutual care of a good marriage make life easier and better for both partners.

There have been changes in Social Security laws to allow widows to retain full benefits after remarriages. There need to be made further changes in Social Security laws and in income tax laws to encourage remarriage.

Older-age marriages have a potential for success that young people often lack. The spirit of compromise is a little stringer in the oldsters, and their understanding of what it takes to make a marriage work is better developed.

As a large segment of the population is already 60 and more people reach 60 every day, more and more attention is centered on aging and it's problems! Oh, yes! there are problems.

Growing Older & Romance

The main problem, just as with young people, is apt to be money.

The two major considerations about money are pretty well summed up by Walter McKain, University of Connecticut researcher on marriage.

If financial resources are limited, remarried oldsters are in a stronger position than singles. They can combine incomes and assets, cut housing costs in half, and not be reduced to going "to live with the children." This is in addition to the benefits of the humanities aspect.

When either partner in an Indian Summer romance has quite a lot of goodies piled up, there can be static. If there are children, static can almost be guaranteed...no reflection on the children for the most part.

Forget the romantic gleam in the eye long enough to get together with a good lawyer to discuss money and property questions that have arisen or could arise. Include children whenever possible. They do have a vested interest in parents' acquisitions...maybe not as much as they think they do, but some. The more property there is involved, the more specific the provisions should be.

There is another point. No matter how much better you could live with a spouse, don't take one on unless you are sure you do not bring a guilt feeling that you are disloyal to your first partner into your new marriage. That first relationship, terminated by death or divorce, is terminated. Keep your memories, agree with Tenyson that, "What is past is prologue, and get on with the business of living and loving yourself into an even older age!

There are no chronological restrictions on Romance.

Extension Service Offers Octoberfest '83

Octoberfest '83 promises to be three fun-filled days of recreation and education at one of five camps designed for today's mature adults. Octoberfest '83 is an Extension camp for people 55 years of age and is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The camp is held in a resort atmosphere with all the modern conveniences at the Texas 4-H Center. The state 4-H Center is located on a lovely wooded area on the shores of beautiful Lake Brownwood. The facility is located 11 miles north of Brownwood on Texas Highway 279 and one mile east on F.M. Road 3021.

Many programs and activities are planned for you and the choice is yours! Programs will feature Extension specialists in horticulture, family life, entomology, and housing. At each session, participants can get "hands on" experience in oil painting and needlecraft. Nature hikes, boat rides, square dancing, bingo, dominoes, bridge and other games will be offered.

Some sessions will include workshops on chime making, chair caning, needlepoint, basic drawing, cake decorating, and antiques. And...don't forget your fishing pole. There is plenty of good fishing on the shores of Lake Brownwood.

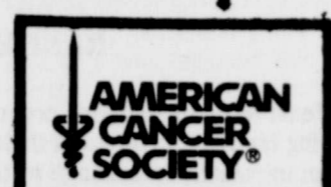

The cafeteria is under the supervision of a dietician and professional staff. They are happy to accommodate special dietary requirements with advance notification.

The 5 camp sessions will be held on: October 4-7, October 11-14, October 18-21, October 25-28, and November 1-4.

The cost for the entire camp is $68.50. This includes room, board, all meals, refreshments, linens and accident insurance. Deadline for receiving reservations at the State 4-H Center is one week before the camp you plan to attend. A deposit of $10 is required. Your $10 deposit will be deducted from your total fee when you arrive at camp. This is the best camping deal in Texas! Participation is limited to the first 100 on a first come, first served basis.

Pre-registration forms are available at the local County Extension Office or by contacting Janet Thomas, County Extension Agent at 629-2222.

Winning Fisherman

Cliff Clary took first place Saturday, August 6 at Lake Hubbard, winning $1,000.00 and a very nice trophy.

Bass Club Report

Cliff Clary alias "DR. BASS" and maker of the popular Dr. Bass jigs took top honors at the T.T.T. open bass tournament on Saturday the 6th. Mr. Clary brought in 2 fish weighing 9 lbs. 43 hundredths. These fish were taken on two separate bait combinations. Cliff's largest fish was fooled by a Dr. Bass Jig & Split Tailer and the smaller fish fell prey to a Jig and Frog Trailer. We asked Cliff what water depth he found his fish in and the areas of the lake: These fish came out of the region known as Curley's on Hubbard in about 4'-7' of water.

It has been almost 2 years since the last major tournament Cliff entered; you sure couldn't ask for a better way to get back into the flow, and with our excellent fall fishing just about to begin Cliff will be a force to reckon with. Cliff's winnings totaled $1,000.00 and a very nice trophy.

The Eastland County Bass Club will hold its August tournament Saturday the 13th. We shall all meet at the White Elephant Restaurant in Cisco prior to 5:30 a.m. at which time we shall draw our lake. All anglers are urged to attend. Don't forget our warmer temperatures and bring some fluids to replace those you lose when you land that six pounder. Good Fishing.

Patterson Sets Monday As Deadline

Monday, Aug. 15, is deadline date for determining whether Patterson Ambulance Service will be able to continue serving Eastland and Cisco.

That is the date set for cutoff for memberships in the ambulance service, which at mid-week was far below its needed goal of members to continue to operate.

Tommy Patterson reported that 546 had signed up in Eastland 553 in Cisco. A total of 1,600 members in both towns is necessary, he says, to be able to continue to operate.

If it is determine on Aug. 15 that the company cannot afford to continue operation, the money already paid by members will be returned, Patterson said. Memberships are $39 for family, $39 for husband and wife and $39 secured by sending applications and check to Patterson for an individual. Those purchased now will be good until July 31, 1984, Patterson said, assuming that enough memberships are secured to continue operations.

Memberships provides ambulance service to any hospital (for admittance only) within a 60-mile radius of Eastland, as many time as necessary with no further financial cost to the member patient or guardian of members.

Memberships may be for non-emergency business information, the ambulance service may be contacted at 629-2882.

Mr. Patterson emphasized that members need to realize that as a member they have access to the ambulance service without any further expense.

Chili Bowl Will Benefit Boy's & Girl's Ranches

BUFFALO GAP-The Perini Ranch Festival Grounds in Buffalo Gap will be the site of "The Chili Super Bowl II", September 3 and 4, benefiting the Abilene Boy's Ranch and Abilene Girl's Ranch. The Texas-style chili cook-off is CASI TERLINGUE sanctioned and promises to attract chili-cooking teams from across the United States. The event will feature the world's largest bowl of chili, which weighed in last year at 3,480 pounds—and all in one pot.

Activities will begin with a dance Saturday night, followed by the chili cook-off on Sunday.

Also featured at the cook-off will be games and contests such as the egg toss, lemon roll, orange pass, washer pitching, and the second-ever world championship longneck toss, plus rides on the famous armadillo bus, as well as other activities for the kids.

In addition to the official chili-cooking competition, specialty teams will participate from the news media, military, area fire departments, and others.

Chili-cooking teams will be required to pay a $20 entrance fee. Admission is $2 for adults, 50 cents for children. All proceeds will go to the Abilene Boy's Ranch and the Abilene Girl's Ranch.

Entry blanks are available at Terk Distributing Company, 1733 South Treadaway, Abilene. For more information, contact Travis Sears at 1733 South Treadaway, (915) 673-4278.

Curtis Family Gathered For Reunion

Descendents of William Curtis of South Carolina and later of Georgia, gathered again this year at Cisco Country Club, Eastland County, Texas, July 16 and 17, 1983. Relatives and friends from Texas and six other western states were present for the Saturday picnic and fellowship and the Sunday catered barbecue by Oscar Weeks. Lavene Smith traveled the greatest distance from Portland, Oregon, for her first Curtis reunion.

A very special family member, William DeWitt Samford was present again this year for his fourth trip to attend the reunion from Campbell, California. DeWitt is 94 years old and has shared many treasured memories with everyone. With him were his family, Nina F. Daniel and Dan Daniel, and Vera Ellouise Hunter.

Others attending from out of state were: W.W. "Wally" Johnson, J.A. and Roxie P. Montgomery, William R. (Bill) Montgomery, Jr., and William R. Montgomery, Sr.; all from Oklahoma. Ralph J. and Lillian Armstrong Kennon came from Louisiana. Garland Ramsey came from New Mexico. Tim and Rebekah (Becky) Woodard attended from Kansas.

Eula Rich Graham, descendent of Mae Curtis Rich and V.C. "Bud" Curtis had the most family members present. Her children and grandchildren present were: Joel Ray Graham, Sandra Graham, Kelli Graham, Jamie Nichole Graham, and Kirk Braham, all of Austin, Texas. From Springtown, Texas were Charlie Wayne Graham, Nina Fay Graham, Sandra May Graham, and Randy Lee Graham. Eula's sister Lillian Rich Pearce, Norman Pearce and Jimmy Pearce and another sister Pearlina Baker and her husband Claude B. Baker also attended. This was 15 people from the Mae Rich family.

Others in attendance at the 1983 reunion were:

Guy and Viola Abbott; Amilia Bell; Holly Biggs; Wade and Deanna Black; Gregory Cole Black; Oscar and Melba Brawley; Daniel Brawley; Jerry Brawley; D.W. and Georgia Curtis and her daughter Shiryn Gabbard and her children Ashley and Tamara; Wilburn and Lucy Curtis; Wendell Curtis, Kevin Curtis, Annie Marie Curtis; Mary Davis; Ola Frost, Raymon and Dorothy Curtis Gowan; Colleen Green and her father Jake Rhyne of Cisco; Nute Hart; Felton Herring; Margaret Lane; Jim and Lilah Mae Lane; Lena Lassiter and her granddaughters, Pennie King and Vicki Lassiter; Frank and Maggie Lee; Mabel McCain and her daughter Jonnie Coydell; Tim McKinney; John McKinney and friend Bryan Covington; Robert and Bebe Jean Montgomery; Doris

Mora; Lewie and Cleo Merworth; Ann Murray; T.E. Owens; Doris Jean Randell; Jake and Opal Rhyne; Phillip and Velma Rhyne;

Robert and Edera Brawley Saunders and their daughter Debra Fox and her husband Clarence Fox; Bernard Samford; Carl and Mina Simpson and their sons Larry Simpson and Bob Simpson; Clem and Lucille Sherman and Frankie Taylor and son Bobby Taylor; Pearl Snodgrass; Zola Thomas; Julia Townsend; Tom and Irma Tucker; Billy and Betty Williams and grandson Robert Hayes; Don and Ollie Williams; Garland and Frances Williams; Timothy Woodard; Margaret Yeager.

President for 1983 Don Williams and treasurer Buelah Beth Smith were the officers at the business meeting that was moderated by D.W. Curtis. Officers elected for the 1984 year were Clifton Browley, President; Lorena Simpson, Corresponding Secretary, and Buelah Beth Smith continues as Treasurer for the new year which will be even better.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 11, 1983

Credo Oil Files To Drill In Adams Field

Beaumont-based Credo Oil and Gas Inc. has filed for permit to drill the No. 3 L.B. Jones in Eastland County's Adams Field. It is aimed at crude oil production in the Duffer Formation. Projected total depth is 4,200 feet. The location is in a 545-acre lease in the S.N. Mathias Survey A-376.

A new producer has been completed in Eastland County's Northeast Nimrod Field with Wallace Inc. of Houston as the operator.

The well will be known as the No. 2 A.L. Cozart. It bottomed at 3,950 feet and will produce from a perforated interval in the Caddo Lime, 2,854 to 2,857 feet into the hole.

Drillsite was in a 160-acre drilling unit in the H&TCRR Survey Sec. 101 Blk. 3, about eight miles west of the Scranton townsite.

The No. 1 Ellis-Robbins "A" is scheduled to be drilled in the Stephens Regular Field, with Delta oil and Gas of Breckenridge as the operator. It carries permit for 4,400-ft. total drilling depth. Location is in a 295-acre lease in the LAL Survey, about five miles southwest of Breckenridge.

Shilleagh Corp. of Wichita Falls is the operator.

Pumping oil at the rate of 17 barrels per day on open choke, the No. 1 P.C. Langford has been brought on line in the Stephens Regular Field by Bob I. Miller, independent operator from Granbury.

Location is in an 80-acre unit in the T&PRR Survey, 14 miles south-southeast of Breckenridge.

The well was taken to total depth of 2,077 feet and was perforated to produce from an interval 2,033 to 2,037 feet into the wellbore.

At a location six miles west of Albany, C&L Equipment of Albany has completed the No. 12 and No. 14 Merrick Davis, new oil wells in the Shackelford Regular Field.

Drillsite was in an 80-acre lease in Shackelford County's T&PRR Co. Survey.

The No. 12 well showed daily potential for five barrels of oil per day, and the No. 14 well indicated potential for nine barrels per day, both wells are on open chokes. The production will be from intervals 1,200 to 1,215, for both wells. Both wells entered the pay zone at 1,200 feet, with the No. 12 well bottoming at 1,499 feet, and the No. 14 well having a total depth of 1,276 feet.

Curtis Pryor of Lubbock has posted initial production figures for the No. 3 and No. 4 S.W. Compton, two new oil wells in Shackelford County's Moran Field, one mile west of Moran.

The No. 3 well indicated potential for 11 barrels of oil while the No. 4 well was flowing 26 barrels of oil per day and 442,000 CF casinghead gas, the No. 3 well is on a .75-inch choke and the No. 4 well is on a 20/64 choke. The wells have tubing pressure of 40 PSI and 280 PSI, respectively. With drillsites in a 133-acre lease in the University Lands Survey, the wells had total drilling depth of 1,970 feet and 1,974 feet. They entered the pay horizons at 2,043 and 2,050 feet, and they will produce from sets of perforations 1,972 to 1,996 feet.

Fresh Water Use Small But Critical

The Texas petroleum industry long has been dependent on water for its production operations. The industry uses various kinds of water — salt, brackish, and fresh — in varying amounts.

Fortunately, most of the water the industry needs for secondary recovery operations comes up with crude oil as it is produced in a ratio of 2.5-barrels of water to one barrel of oil. This produced water is too salty for industrial or agricultural uses or human consumption. But, in most cases, it is suitable for reinjection into the same formation. This results in increased production of oil, while the environment is protected.

According to the Railroad Commission, 66.3-percent of water used in injections is salt water; 15.8-percent is brackish, with 17.9-percent fresh. Indeed, there are instances in which the only substance which can be used effectively in recovering more oil is fresh water.

In some cases, sufficient quantities of salt or brackish water are not available. In others, highly mineralized water is incompatible with the water or rock in the formation and the oil cannot be moved. Conversely, in some formations fresh water cannot be used because it is incompatible. So, the industry needs all kinds of water.

In a recent Association publication, Fresh Water and the Public Interest: An Update, it was reported that the use of fresh water in secondary recovery operations is quite small, particularly when compared with other beneficial uses. The figure statewide for 1980 was 687.4-million barrels, just one-half of one percent.

The economic result of this application? In 1981, for example, more than 281.5-million barrels of crude oil — 30-percent of Texas' production — was recovered through waterflooding, with almost 50.4-million barrels of oil attributable to the use of fresh water. The wellhead value of the oil recovered with fresh water exceeded $1.7-billion, with state production taxes on it amounting to almost $80-million.

Despite this, there are those persons who, for a variety of reasons, seek to prohibit the use of fresh water for production operations. Such a proposal would be detrimental to the Texas petroleum industry and to the people of Texas.

Our industry recognizes that an adequate supply of fresh water is critical to the future of our state. In order for Texas to continue to prosper and to grow, we must put our fresh water supplies to the best economic use. We also must preserve and protect the fresh water supplies we have by preventing pollution and supporting efforts designed to develop additional supplies.

A total of five 2,350-ft. developmental wells are planned for the Stephens Regular Field by McBridge Production Co. of Wichita Falls. All are about 11 miles south of Breckenridge.

The wells include:

—The No. 4 and No. 5 Winchell, located in an 80-acre lease, Blind Asylum Survey.

—The No. 6 W. Fambrough, located in a 160-acre lease, Blind Asylum Survey.

—The No. 5 Fambrough Land and Cattle, in an 80-acre lease, Blind Asylum Survey.

—The No. 4 Richardson, in an 89-acre lease, Blind Asylum Survey.

Austin-based Concho Operating Co. has filed for permit to drill the No. 1 Coleman Brown "D" in the DeCleva Field, one mile east of the LaCasa townsite. With projected total depth of 4,100 feet the well will be spudded in a 160-acre lease in Stephens County's T&PRR Survey.

A 4,200-ft. developmental venture is scheduled for spudding in the Stephens Regular Field five miles southeast of Wayland. It will be known as the No. 1 Hand. It is in a 285-acre lease block in the SPRR Survey.

Real Estate Consumer

David S. Jones

The Real Estate Consumer is provided as a public service by this newspaper and the Texas Real Estate Research Center. Address inquiries to The Texas Real Estate Research Center, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

A new addition to the American home is the "media room", where video and audio equipment is combined for family entertainment.

A basic room might contain a large-screen television, a stereo system and probably a video cassette recorder. More elaborate rooms include sophisticated sound reproduction components, a video disc player, video games, a video camera and perhaps a home computer.

If you already own some of this equipment, the cost of building your own media room can be reduced considerably. You can easily and cheaply transform a spare bedroom, den or living room into a home entertainment center. The room is certain to become one of the most popular areas in the house. With the present cost of movies and other forms of outside entertainment, you may find a media room more affordable than you think.

Texas has long been described as a land of extremes in such things as climate, topography and people. The 1980 census reveals still another set of extremes.

That is, the widely differing numbers of people living in different parts of the state. At one extreme are a few counties with lots of people.

Houston's Harris County leads that list with a 1980 population of nearly 2.5 million, followed by Dallas County with just more than 1.5 million. Two other counties—San Antonio's Bexar and Fort Worth's Tarrant—each fall just short of one million.

At the other extreme is Loving County with a total population of 91. Four other counties each have less than 1,000. These are King, Kennedy, McMullen and Borden, all of which are in West or South Texas.

LIVING CENTERS HELP NEWCOMERS

Newcomers looking for homes in Dallas or Houston are turning to "living centers" to get free information on housing.

Supported primarily by the real estate industry, these centers offer brochures and personal assistance. Some companies even direct phone lines to sales representatives. The centers furnish newcomers with kits, which tell everything from average weather conditions to property taxes to how to select day-care centers.

Information also is available on moving van companies and furniture rental and leasing firms. Relocating to a megalopolis like Houston or Dallas-Fort Worth can be frustrating for a newcomer, but these living centers are doing a lot to ease the transition.

To contact the Dallas center, call 386-0445. In Houston, the number is 629-3208.

LIGHTING FOR THE ELDERLY

Elderly people living at home have special lighting needs. Here are some suggestions.

First, be sure there is plenty of light available. Many elderly persons require twice the level of light needed by younger persons. In addition, the elderly person's vision takes longer to adapt to changes in the light level. This transition can be aided by night lights in bedrooms, bathrooms and hallways.

The flicker of fluorescent lighting is troublesome to many older persons, so consider incandescent lighting. Lights that pull down from the ceiling make bulb changing easier and safer. Three-way switches, beginning at the front door, eliminate groping in the dark. Luminous switches also are helpful. Finally, outlets placed 30 inches off the floor reduce the need to bend and stoop.

CORPORATIONS OFFER REAL ESTATE JOBS

If you are interested in a real estate career, here is an area you might explore.

Texas corporations own property worth billions of dollars. In the past, this real property was usually treated as a stepchild among the company's assets and was given no special attention.

But with inflation and increasing real estate values, many companies are establishing special real estate staffs to acquire and manage real estate assets. Some companies even find that expert management of such assets can create profits separate from those earned on the corporation's primary goods and services.

The creation of real estate staffs is leading to a demand for real estate specialists at the corporate level. And that, of course, means increased job opportunities for people interested in a real estate career.

Portable Ovens Make Camping Easier

Here's a nifty little oven you can put together in minutes to make that camping trip or backpacking expedition an overwhelming success. If the family is planning a campsite weekend down by the river, this low-cost portable oven will be perfect for cooking those fish you're likely to catch. Then, too, this little cooker is just right for the hiker who's concerned about the weight of packed goods he or she will be toting. And the obvious benefits of its design - sturdiness, light weight, and small size - tell only part of the story. Not only can this airtight, waterproof oven be used between meals to store food or other goods, but it can also serve as a drinking water container or function as a wash basin.

It takes about five minutes to construct this budget piece of camping equipment

Writer's Club

Announces

Contest Judges

Allye Terrell and Bill Roberts of Cisco, Directors of the 1983 Cisco Writer's Club Contest, announce the names of the Judges of this year's entries. The contest closed Aug. 1.

Dr. H.K. Neely Jr. of Abilene, Dean of Logsdon School of Theology at Hardin Simmons University, will judge Books. Dr. Charles Marler of Abilene, of the Communications Department, Abilene Christian University, will judge Inspirational Articles.

B.A. Butler, newspaperman and writer of Cisco, will judge Articles. Dr. Ken Hammes, Head of the English Department, Cisco Junior College, will judge Short Stories. Connie Rattan, English Instructor at Cisco Junior College, will judge Poetry.

Louise Taylor, Elementary teacher of Cisco, will judge Juvenile Stories, and Wilburn (Bo) McMillan, Cisco, Master Photographer, will judge Photography.

"We are fortunate to have such outstanding professionals as our Judges," state the Contest Directors. "Their knowledge in the field of writing and photography is known over a wide area."

Winners chosen by the Judges will be announced at an Awards Presentation the evening of Sept. 6. Prizes will be given. This is the 8th annual Contest sponsored for this area by the Cisco Writer's Club.

and - unless you have to purchase some of the easily found components - it can be assembled for virtually nothing. If you do have to buy parts, they're all available in most hardware stores for a total of about $5.00.

Start by locating a round or square lard can (or any other lidded metal container, preferably one with handles) that measures about 9" wide and 12" tall. Using an awl or a sharp nail, pierce both the lid's edge and the upper lip of the can to form two holes - 1/2" apart - in each piece. To facilitate opening the cover fully and to allow steam to escape, take the time to elongate these openings with your tool.

Next, pass a loop of wire through the holes in the can and its cap, and twist the free ends to form a loose ring which will serve as a hinge for your oven's lid. Finally, take a section of heavy, galvanized hardware cloth (our metal web measures 10-1/2" x 18"), and bend its two opposing edges at right angles to its flat surface ... so that it will fit inside the airtight stove snugly - the long way - and act as a shelf for a cooking tin or a piece of foil to rest upon. The exact position of this rack within the oven is up to you ... but remember that you must leave enough room above it for a pan and victuals.

For the sake of safety, it's best to put your oven through a "cleansing" fire to eliminate any fumes from the galvanized material before cooking. You could, of course, construct your rack out of some other material instead ... try scavenging an old metal barbecue grill, for example.

To use the tin oven, merely place the food of your choice (on foil or in a pan) on top of the wire shelf, add a small amount of water if you want the edibles steamed, press the container's cap on securely, and rest the stove on its side upon several rocks or a couple of logs placed within or around your campfire. To make cleanup chores easier, you might want to rub a layer of soap over the outside of the can so that soot will stick to the cleanser - which can be rubbed off - rather than to the metal itself.

After the required amount of baking time, open up your campfire oven and enjoy the hot meal. You'll find that food prepared in this manner will be absolutely delicious and will require a minimum amount of fuel (which will make your fire safer).

With a bit of creative planning, you can cook just about anything in your homemade stove. You can even bake biscuits or a pie if you've a mind to. But, since camping out is generally a lightweight affair, you might want to keep your dishes simple, without using lots of ingredients.

Fish, wrapped individually in aluminum foil and sprinkled with lemon juice, will come out piping hot in about 30 minutes. Fresh corn can be delicious roasted in its own husk. (You may want to pull the husk back just far enough to remove the silks, and then replace the outer covering ... perhaps holding it together with a strip of husk tied around the outside.) Or you can wrap shucked and silked corn in foil for roasting. Baked potatoes come out tasty after about 40 minutes. And you can create individual stews: Place a small piece of meat, some potato, sliced carrot, onion, spices, or whatever else is available in a piece of foil, close the wrap, and cook your servings in the oven.

For breakfast, break your eggs into a pan that will fit inside the oven and put strips of bacon around the sides of the pan. Cook it all together until the bacon is crisp. Cored apples with a bit of honey dribbled inside and baked in tin sheets will make a tasty accompaniment to your outdoor breakfast or dinner. Or make a slit about three inches long in the skin of each of a number of unpeeled bananas ... place a tablespoon of honey into each slit ... let them stand about a half-hour ... wrap them in foil and bake.

Foil-roasted onions, or tomato halves sprinkled with cheese, bread crumbs, and butter, make for easy and delicious fixings, too.

WARNING: IF YOU THINK THE POWER IS OFF WHEN THE SWITCH IS OFF YOU'RE WRONG.

KEEP AWAY FROM WATER. Everyone knows that electricity and water are a dangerous combination. But did you know that an electric appliance is still electrically alive even if the switch is off? If the plug is in the power is on. So when you keep appliances near water, keep them unplugged.

Congressional Comments

Cong. Charles Stenholm

WASHINGTON, D.C.—There was a time in the not-too-distant past when the always painful subject of death was spoken of only between patient, family and physician and sometimes not even openly among those players. Death, life's ultimate conclusion, was a decision made by God and God alone. No more. Advancing medical technology has now carried our society to the point where even the absolute definition of death has been questioned. As a society once obsessed with longevity—the quantity of life—we have now begun to take the quality of life—as well as the quality or manner of dying—into account as well. We are now learning that the drive to sustain life—successful beyond the wildest dreams of early medical researchers—can conflict with another fundamental objective of medicine: the relief of suffering. Perhaps mankind's most common fear is of the suffering possible during those last moments. "The idea of a peaceful and natural death often comes in direct conflict with medical science, with its defibrillators to restore regular heartbeat, respirators to aid breathing, dialysis machines for failing kidneys and wonder drugs to ease pain, sustain blood pressure and enhance other key bodily functions," U.S. News and World Report said recently. "With 80 percent of deaths now occurring in hospitals and other institutions, physicians are confronted almost daily with whether or not to use these tools to prolong the lives of gravely ill patients. As often as not, it is a complicated, delicate decision made against a background of murky law." Some 14 states and the District of Columbia have passed "right to die" bills—and 22 more are considering such measures that recognize the right of individuals to sign living wills, the report continues. These documents specify whether or not patients want to be connected to life-sustaining machinery if they should become unable to speak for themselves. The dilemma is heightened when the patient is not capable of making such a decision. Two major groups of incompetent patients come to mind: those who have permanently lost all consciousness and critically ill newborns. It is when others must decide in the best interests of the patient that conflict most often arises. Conflicting values between physicians and patients, between patients and their families, or among family members are not uncommon. Joined with the confusion that surrounds issues of rights and liabilities, these conflicts necessitate outside decisions. Judges have been called upon more often than previously to serve as the final bioethical arbiters in decisions to forego life-support measures. It is in this move that the lawmakers' function becomes an issue. As a Congressman, I would be the first to admit that we cannot as a lawmaking body sidestep certain responsibilities in this area, but would also urge that the major portion of that role remain within the original confines of the patient-family-physician relationship when possible. The right of the individual and that individual's preferences regarding quality and quantity of life must be recognized and respected when incompetence is not a factor. In the latter areas—those unable to participate in the decision-making process—there is a public responsibility to provide mechanisms and guidelines for decision-making on their behalf, but only guidelines; not dictums. A recent Presidential Commission on these issues emphasized the importance of those two areas, also emphasizing: maintaining a presumption in favor of sustaining life; improving the medical options available to dying patients; providing respectful, responsive, and supportive care to patients for whom no further medical therapies are available or elected; and encouraging health care institutions to take responsibility for ensuring that adequate procedures for decision-making are available for all patients. If medical technology stood still today, it would take a lifetime of cautious study to answer all of the questions that we face right now. We have only begun to scratch the surface in a discussion that could also include surrogate motherhood, genetic engineering, commercial exploitation of potential organ donors, and other equally sensitive issues that will be identified as medical technology continues its forward movement. In the next column, I will move on to address the need to balance the right to adequate health care with limited resources.

Medical Technology & Death

House Of Representatives

Jim Parker-District 65

Since a large sum of state dollars is spent on the incarceration of prisoners in the Texas Department of Corrections (T.D.C.) I thought I would explain a little about that agency, some of which has been mentioned in an earlier article, and discuss some possible alternatives. There are now 20 T.D.C. Units, most of which are congregated around the Houston and Huntsville area. Texas is one of the few, if not only states which has no true minimum security state prisons. All the state prisons

Department Of Corrections

are designed and built as maximum security units. In 1980 one cell cost approximately $70,000 to build. While this may well be an excellent and needed method for imprisoning those convicted for assaultive offenses, it is certainly an extremely costly method for imprisoning those who are not a danger to themselves or society. Since Federal Judge William Wayne Justice has ruled that T.D.C. is overcrowded and that prisoners must be allowed more space, Texas was forced to decide if we could afford to incarcerate so many people and build only maximum security prisons. This past session was the first time the Legislature

Auction's Best by Fred Tucker
*1981 Auction Marketing Network
RETIRING OR MOVING?
At least 18 per cent of the people in America will move this year. And many of you are thinking about retiring. These decisions are a part of your life and will affect at least one out of every five of your family and friends soon.
When making your retiring and moving decisions you'll soon discover that you've really accumulated a lot of possessions in the last few years. And you'll quickly see that it will be very difficult, time consuming and quite expensive to haul your possessions across the country or even around town.
But, you can turn these accumulated possessions into quick cash by holding an auction. A well planned auction can cash out your entire household in just a few short hours. And, I provide complete auction service so you don't have to worry about a single detail.
It's a whole lot easier to have an auction and put cash in your wallet than it is to put your piano, refrigerator & hide a bed in a truck. And remember, when it comes to buying or selling AUCTION'S BEST!

Capturing the Illusion of Reality

Photography is a strange bird. At one instant, it can be the mirror image of reality. At the next, it's a fleeting illusion of what may have been.

There's an old saying: "The camera doesn't lie." Well, if we're going to be honest with one another, that saying is a lie. Sort of like, "A penny saved is a penny earned." That's just sheer nonsense. I know many a penny — and a dollar, too, for that matter — that was saved. Yet, if you knew the guy who'd saved it, you'd never in a million years say he'd earned it.

The same is true with "The camera doesn't lie." Actually, it lies all the time. It lies when it photographs someone heavier than he or she really is in person. It lies when it makes someone look older and more wrinkled than he or she is (and that's every single one of us). It lies in black-and-white when a blue sky comes out looking white, and it lies in color when your next door neighbor comes off looking like someone from outer space, with his skin all green and yellow striped, sort of like an interplanetary watermelon.

It lies when it makes objects in the distance look closer than they really are to the subject or when it makes them look farther away. It lies when attempting to define the relationship of several parts of the body depending upon the camera angle used when the photographer took the photo. A really clever photographer can take a small-busted model and make her look three sizes larger than she is and then turn around and do just the opposite with a large-busted woman.

It lies when used in conjunction with crafty lighting to reduce the inevitable receding hairline of the corporate executive posing for the annual report. It lies when it takes a person with a rather prominent proboscis and makes the nose look smaller, and it lies when — in the hands of a really vicious photographer — it makes the average-sized honker appear as though it once belonged to Bozo the Clown.

Now, I'm not a physicist or a mathematician or whatever it is I'd have to be in order to understand just why it is that photography, which can make Aunt Hilda look just like herself, can then turn around and make a sham out of reality.

I know it has something to do with perspective — how various elements in a scene appear in relationship to other elements in that scene. Perspective exists when viewing things with the unaided eye, of course. But somehow, viewing things with the unaided eye and viewing things through a 15mm fisheye lens are completely different. Add to that difference a selective choice of camera angle and the attempt to compress three dimensions — length, width, and depth — into two, and perhaps it becomes clearer. It sounds reasonable, anyway.

Be that as it may, what at first glance appears to be a shortcoming in the art of photography — its occasional failure to represent reality the way it exists in the real world — is actually its strong point. After all, if all we wanted from the art was an exact visual duplication of a subject, we could get by with a Xerox machine. The real joy of photography is actually in learning how to play with, how to manipulate its peculiarities, its "inaccuracies" in representing reality.

On a recent trip to Minneapolis, I stood on the lower level of a mall, looking up several stories toward a giant skylight. There, suspended in mid-flight, were two aerial flyers, a man and a woman, each lunging toward the other in a life-and-death struggle to complete connections. There was a safety net, of course, in case they missed. But that wasn't necessary; for the two figures were sculptures, shams, illusions in reality. And the camera... well, let's just say it was a very willing accomplice.

Moran News

HOME COMING AND CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Plans are being made for the Moran School Home Coming and the 100th Birthday Celebration for Moran. Committees have been appointed for the various activities. A parade is planned, along with a beard growing contest for the men, decorating the windows in downtown Moran. Plans are being made for the people of the town and community to take part. More will be published as definite plans are made.

Harvey Wagley had eye surgery in Hendricks Hospital, Abilene, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. O.K. Schooler and John and Mrs. Ezra Weir attended the funeral for Amy Lou Harris in Brownwood, Friday. Mrs. Harris is the former Amy Lou Schooler and was raised in Moran.

Jana Miller, bride-elect of Ronnie Kitchens of Albany will be honored with a miscellaneous wedding shower at the First Baptist Church in Moran, Saturday, August 20, 2:30 to 4 p.m. The public is invited.

AUXILIARY MEETING

Seven members were present for the Auxiliary Meeting, on Monday night, August 1. The group enjoyed a "Pot Luck" supper with members of the American Legion, preceding the meeting.

The president, Shirley Brewster, called the meeting to order.

The group repeated the "Pledge to the Flag" and "The Preamble to the Constitution" in unison. Gertrude Jones, Chaplin, led the prayer.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and the called meeting were approved.

as read. Merle Weir was appointed as the Telephone Committee.

The Post Commander, Hubert Brewster, announced the members of the American Legion with their spouses would entertain the members of the Auxiliary and their spouses with a supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brewster on Monday night, Sept. 5, which is Labor Day, in appreciation of what the Auxiliary had done for the Legion.

All ladies who are eligible to be members of the Auxiliary are welcome to become a member.

A motion was made for the concession stand for the Bingo on a volunteer basis. The group agreed.

The boxes for the Veterans Christmas presents were mentioned and the chairman of the gift shop will be contacted for the list of gifts needed for the Veterans.

Lucille Forbess was welcomed as a new member.

Elma May Huskey spent the week end with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Eddie L. Smith in Jacksboro and they attended the Smith family reunion in Mineral Wells, Sunday.

Mrs. Vi Turnbull and Mrs. Tommy Boyd attended the funeral for their sister-in-law and aunt, Mrs. Faye Smith in Talco, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. David Kill and family of San Diego, California, spent the week end with his aunt, Mrs. Gertrude Jones. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Gunn and children of Moran.

Roger Scott of Odessa spent a few days with his mother, Mrs. Roe Scott.

Mrs. M.H. Gore of Brownwood is in the intensive care unit at Hendricks Hospital, Abilene.

Mrs. Lometa Wall of Irving is visiting her sister, Mrs. Alvin Huskey and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Monk Offield spent the week end at Lake Texoma with his father, M.E. Offield.

Putnam News

By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

As I write this column a nice shower is falling - I just hope it keeps it up until we have a good rain. This reporter spent from Wednesday to Sunday at Weatherford and it is dry and hot there too.

I visited with my son Bill and Dorothy. Their son, Gary and family of De Ridder, La., were there and I had a wonderful time visiting with the three great grandchildren. Gary says they have had lots of rain in Louisiana, therefore, the weather is very humid and unpleasant.

I don't think anything very exciting happened at Putnam while I was away.

Mrs. Ed (Dorothy) Perkins of Jacksboro visited with Mrs. Fred Graham last week. The Perkins' will be remembered as long time residents of Putnam, when he was a teacher and superintendent of the school here.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Donaway and Mr. and Mrs. Babe Donaway of Odessa returned Friday from a two weeks vacation up in the high country. They visited their daughters family, the George Lee Ramseys at Glen Wood Springs, Colo. They returned home by the way of Utah and New Mexico. They report a delightful trip.

Mrs. R.C. Speegle returned home Saturday after visiting her daughter Mrs. Terecia Moseley at Lake Buchanan. Mrs. Moseley brought her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown and daughter of Ft. Worth visited her mother, Mrs.

Ollie Burnam, this weekend. The Martin Donaways attended the reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Arlin Bint of near Cisco, Saturday, in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Norris Weeks of Baird visited his parents (L); George Weeks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Iron don of near Cisco attended church at the Baptist Church Sunday. The Pot Luck lunch served by the congregations of the Baptist and Church of Christ of Putnam was enjoyed by a good crowd. This is a monthly affair at the Community Center and everyone is invited to attend.

Kim and Laura Massingale of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whorton also of Abilene visited the John Doyle Isenhower Sunday.

David and Janelle McClenan of Houston are visiting their grandparents the John D. Isenhowers and other relatives at Putnam.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander of Houston visited her mother Mrs. Clinton Ivie last week. Also Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carpenter of Lake Whitney were visitors of the Ivies.

The Church of Christ will have Vacation Bible School at the church next week. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. James Parten and son, John of Cisco and Andy and Belinda Maxwell of Putnam spent Thursday at Six Flags at Dallas. They report a wonderful time.

Air Conditioners Are Stolen Here

City police are investigating the theft of four refrigerated and two evaporative air conditioners from the Cisco Motel, owned by Loyal Lundstrum, it was reported Monday.

Police said the machines were taken between last Thursday and Monday morning. The motel has been closed several months.

Pleasant Hill Baptist Church Plans Revival

The pastor and members of Pleasant Hill Baptist Church wish to welcome all visitors in the area to attend a revival at the church beginning Wednesday evening, August 10 through Sunday evening, August 14. Evening services will be at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday with Sunday School at 10:00 a.m. and evangelistic message at 11:00 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Rev. Dwayne Clover, pastor of Mangum Baptist Church, will be evangelist and Donald Nicholas will be directing the music. The Pleasant Hill Baptist Church is located nine miles south of Cisco on Farm to Market Road 2526 towards Carbon. Rev. Glenn Purvis of Cross Plains is pastor of the church.

Reba Steffey Will Celebrate 80th Birthday

The children of Mrs. Reba Steffey are honoring her with a reception, Sunday, August 14 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church in Cisco.

Her children would like to invite all her friends to come in to help celebrate her 80th birthday.

Management Forces Will Do Repairs

Despite a nationwide strike by telephone employees, Bob Cox, local manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said here Monday that they have enough manpower to do emergency repair work by Southwestern Bell management forces.

Mr. Cox stressed that they will not install phones during the strike. He also said they do not know how long the strike will last.

All Southwestern Bell employees have picture I.D. cards, so local citizens will know for sure who the person is at their door.

FOCUS

Q: I think I have a problem. I have a Canonet 35 mm rangefinder camera which has always suited my needs perfectly. Recently, however, I've noticed that the metering system seems to work irregularly. Sometimes, it's perfect. Other times, especially after I've used the camera for a while, it seems to fluctuate. Is there some reason for this fluctuation, other than the camera needs repairs? I didn't pay much for it originally, and I'd hate to take it in for expensive repair work.

— A. D., Milwaukee, WI

A: You haven't mentioned anything about batteries, so I assume you didn't check the m. It's hard to diagnose long-distance, but it sounds to me like the camera's dry cells are weak. Either remove the m (check the camera's operating manual to find out where they are) and have them tested, or take the old batteries to your local camera store and pick up some replacements. As a rule, camera batteries should be changed yearly. To help remind you when a year's time is up, make it a rule to switch to new cells on the same day each year — January 1, Christmas, Easter, your birthday, or some other memorable date. In that way, you're less likely to forget when it was that you last purchased and installed new batteries.

Q: I'm not the world's most knowledgeable person when it comes to photography, but I thought I knew most of the commonly used terms. The other day while reading a photo magazine, I came across a reference to what the author called "selective focus." Exactly what is selective focus? Does it have something to do with depth-of-field? And isn't all focus "selective"? That is you select the subject upon which you wish to focus. Or am I missing something? Please explain.

— E. M., Chicago, IL

A: As you undoubtedly know, a photograph that is perfectly sharp from corner to corner may not be a good photograph at all. When the background and foreground are as sharp as the middle ground, wherein rests the subject, the results can be distracting and cluttered. One of the best ways to simplify a scene and avoid clutter is to segregate the subject from its surroundings through the use of depth-of-field — the zone of acceptable sharpness — so that the subject is sharp and the other elements are softly blurred, or out-of-focus. This act of selecting what you want in sharp focus (or "selective focus") draws the viewer's eye to the subject as the sharpest element in the scene.

Depth-of-field, by the way, can be increased or decreased (and usually the latter is desired for purposes of blurring-out background and foreground) in any of three ways — through the selection of one aperture over another, through using one focal-length lens over another, and by adjusting the subject-to-camera distance. The wider the lens aperture, the longer the focal length of the lens, and the closer to the subject you are, the shallower the depth-of-field. When using selective focus effectively, it's crucial to blur foregrounds as much as possible; otherwise, the shot is likely to look like a mistake.

NOW. A REFRIGERATOR THAT DOES SOMETHING YOUR OLD ONE CAN'T.

PAY YOU BACK.

If you own a frostless refrigerator 10 years old, or older, you can't afford to keep it. The reason? The rising cost of energy. Yesterday's refrigerators simply weren't made for today's energy costs. Today's Frigidaire Frost-Proof Refrigerators are. In fact, they're so energy efficient they'll almost pay for themselves.

To prove that, we've prepared the above chart. It shows how much money you'll save on energy, in just 10 years, by replacing a 10 year old 17.0 cubic foot Frigidaire Frost-Proof model with the new 18.0 cubic foot Frigidaire Frost-Proof model in this ad.* (Even if your old refrigerator is another brand, your savings will probably be just as much, or more.)

*Based on Frigidaire Engineering Analysis. Full details available.

So come in today. Let us show you the entire energy-saving, money-saving Frigidaire story. And take home the refrigerator that pays you back.

THE STRIKE OF SWBell employees is affecting some 20 people in Eastland County, our scouts report. Twelve to 15 men are off the job in Cisco and three or four in each of Eastland and Ranger. Supervisory workers are on the job to keep the wheels turning.

We dialed the local business office number and got an "intercept" operator, which is more than you usually get. More often, there's no answer when you dial the business office. It's not the same friendly place that the SWBell office used to be.

IF YOU DIAL The Press office, the chances are you'll hear a new voice. And it belongs to Wanda Hallmark, the missus of Editor Fierrel Hallmark. Wanda has replaced Effie Taylor as the Girl Friday at the Press. Mrs. E.T. resigned to become a full-time housewife.

Mrs. WH is a native of Lubbock where she finished high school. She attended Richland Junior College and has been working for some time at the Eastland Telegram office.

A GROUP OF good friends, all former Ciscoans, held their annual reunion in Cisco last weekend. The group included The I.L. Bradleys, the Garner Altoms and the Felton Underwoods of Abilene, Mrs. Les Sherman of Kerrville (Les was away on business), the Bob Hammetts of Dallas, the France Joneses of Amarillo, the Howard Turners of Georgetown and the Dr. E.W. Minces of Weatherford and maybe some others.

For a good many years now, this group has gathered here the first weekend in August. Their headquarters is the Wm. E. (Bill) Austin home. They began gathering Friday and stayed through the noon hour Sunday. They attended church together Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church.

MR. STEVE Austin, who recently resigned his job with an Abilene bank to join the staff of an oil company here, is finding his duties a little more varied, according to reports reaching us. His present work has included everything from computers to branding cattle and riding horseback.

Steve and wife Betsy and their two children are presently living on a ranch east of here while working out plans for permanent housing.

LAST SATURDAY was wedding anniversary No. 13 for Ken and Martha Brown of Abilene. So they came to Cisco to celebrate by attending the Laguna Roof Garden Theater. And they had seats at table No. 13... The Vance McCrackens of Abilene also came over to attend the dinner theater... The Bill Hesters of the Colony Restaurant were due home Wednesday, Aug. 10, from Hawaii and a vacation... The Ed Bradshaws got home late Saturday after a vacation in Santa Fe, NM.

THE THREE MAN golf scramble team of Bennie Nichols, Bobby Smith and Delbert Schaefer had it won but blew it. In the Baird-Clyde CC tourney last weekend, 53 three-man teams participated. The Bennie-Bobby-Delbert team set a course record with a 16 under par score on Saturday. They could do no better than post a nine under score Sunday and lost the championship by one stroke.

Two other Cisco teams played in the event. Ralph Glenn, Bob Bennie and David Callerman played together, as did George and Tracy Owens of Cisco and Ken Mays of Kermet (formerly of Cisco.) They didn't win.

OUT IN THE old Humboldt section of Cisco, Brenda Willingham is building herself a new beauty shop. Husband Butch is the head carpenter and her dad, Clifford Smith, is on the advisory staff, we understand. Mrs. BW has been operating the Elite Beauty Shop for the past year or two... Bet the horse track people at Ruidoso took a beating last week. The Clifford Smiths were out there and Mr. CS has a reputation for picking good horses... Understand the Gene Damrons were out there last weekend.

MR. JOHN WEBB, the old pro, tells us that they've incorporated their White Auto Store business and that it's now owned by the five Webb children. He and Mrs. Webb have retired... Guess you saw Angus Rancher J.V. Heysler on Abilene television the other night. They were showing scenes at a junior Angus cattle show there and J.V. was on hand as an advisor. He and Mrs. JVH have been working with junior Angus folks for a good many years... JV's neighbor, Tom Autrey, planned to enter Hendrick Hospital in Abilene Aug. 10th to undergo knee surgery. He has been having trouble for several months.

MRS. PAT Ryan of Marfa went home Sunday after visiting several days in the home of her parents, the E.L. Jacksons. She reports that Marfa recently enjoyed a 100th anniversary celebration... Frank Spangler of Kamon House Press recently spent several days in Big D studying printing equipment... If there's anything that Oil Man E.D. Anderson of Cisco has plenty of these days it's golf balls. He met up with a man in Big D who had two grocery bags full of balls, made an offer, and bought them. An inventory showed that Mr. EDA is the owner of 793 golf balls.

MR. ARLIN BINT, the gentleman farmer who has lived a few miles west of Cisco all of his long and useful life, found himself in a pretty unusual situation the other afternoon. He was putting the finishing touches on some remodeling work at the Bint home, in preparation for their 50th wedding anniversary party last Saturday night.

In one of the bathrooms, Mr. Bint had to finish some tile work. To get under a wash basin, he laid down on the floor to get at the job. When he finished, he couldn't get up. His hair was glued to the floor. He had laid his head in some tile glue that had spilled.

The Bint home had its beginning soon after Arlin and Edna Bint said their "I Dos" that warm August night in Albany in 1933. Their home is located in the area where he grew up. Over the years, the Bint home grew as their family grew. Four daughters and one son grew up in the Bint home and, like their parents, they're all honorable, useful citizens. And they all came back home for the Saturday night party.

What is more, more than 150 friends and neighbors dropped in to pay their respects. Mr. Bint's farm of some 200 acres is dedicated to livestock. He raises and sells bulls as well as heifers. Mr. and Mrs. Bint have completely remodeled their home during the past few weeks.

You'll want to join us in wishing the Bints many more years of good health and the good life among their friends and loved ones.

Primary School Registration Aug. 15-17

New students: 1st and 2nd graders - any first or second grader-to-be who did not finish school in Cisco in May, please come to the Primary School to Mrs. Webb's room on Monday, August 15th from 9:00 to 11:00. Please bring your records from the school last attended. THE IMMUNIZATION RECORD IS VERY IMPORTANT. PLEASE BRING IT.

Kindergartners: Registration will be held on Tuesday, August 16th from 8:00 to 11:00 at the Primary School. If you come in May and your child's records were cleared through Mrs. Webb, you may register your child at the Kindergarten building for either the morning session or the afternoon session with either Mrs. Glenda Denison or Mrs. Irene Hunt (the kindergarten teachers). If you have not seen Mrs. Webb or if your records were not complete, please come to the primary building to Mrs. Webb's room. Your child must have an up-to-date immunization record and a certified copy of a birth certificate. (If what you have as a birth certificate has the word HOSPITAL in big letters somewhere on the paper, that is not a birth certificate. That is a Hospital certificate.)

To have an up-to-date immunization record, your child has to have 3 DPT shots and one of these has to be after the child's 4th birthday; 3 Polio doses and one of these has to be after the child's 4th birthday; 1 measles shot after the first birthday; 1 rubella shot after the first birthday; and 1 mumps shot. Sometimes these are combined and called the MMR shot.

First and Second Graders: Registration will be on Wednesday, August 17th from 9:00 to 11:00. Class assignments were made in May, but since teachers C and D have been hired, some class assignments have been changed. Just go the doors and check the class roll to see where you are to register.

For those of you who will be on vacation on these days; please call Mrs. Webb (442-3550 or 442-1990) for a registration time. BUT NO KINGERGARTNER WILL BE REGISTERED BEFORE AUGUST 16th.

Primary School Supplies List

The following list of supplies will be needed by the Primary School students this fall according to Mrs. Geneva Webb, principal of Cisco Primary school.
