

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

IT LOOKED AS though we were going to be in for a good storm here Thursday night as the Cisco Junior High's eighth grade football game ended around 7:30 p.m. Clouds to the north of Cisco were heavy and lightning could be seen streaking the sky.

A little while later, we had a thunder storm and some good precipitation fell in the area, although it was not as much as hoped for by looking at the clouds.

However, we are thankful for the rains and also we are thankful we did not receive any damaging winds or hail, as Merkel did to the west of Abilene.

They looked pretty good during scrimmage. They will open their season next week in Winters, along with the eighth grade and junior

'The Victorious Decision' Is Written By Former Ciscoan

Carlton Press, Inc. is proud to announce the publication of 'The Victorious Decision', a book that could change lives, written by Harold Weiser of Maxwell, Texas.

The Victorious Decision is a logical, systematic approach to humanity's most important decision—the acceptance of eternal life through Jesus Christ. While providing evidence of God's existence, it stresses the importance of gaining Biblical knowledge and using it to develop Christian character and form a closer relationship with God. Author Weiser says his primary

City Council Accepts Negotiation Settlement In State Civil Suit

At Tuesday night's regular City Council meeting in Cisco, members voted to accept a negotiation settlement from the state attorney general's office in a civil suit filed against Cisco for non-compliance with waste water discharge permit regulations.

The state's suit against Cisco was filed in 91st District Court on behalf of the Texas Department of Water Resources August 30. City Manager Mike Moore stated Friday that the negotiation settlement will probably be filed sometime this month in the same court.

City manager Moore said the settlement involves several provisions which the City must meet. One of the major provisions calls for the city to construct and operate a new waste water facility in compliance with state and federal laws.

The city will be allowed a 12-month construction period for the new facility with a tentative date for construction to begin on October 1984. That time will be approximately when a priority list for the Environmental Protection Agency's construction grants will be released.

Mr. Moore said if Cisco is named in the funding portion of the list, the city will be eligible for a grant which will pay "55 percent of existing needs." If the city is

CJC Will Offer Defensive Driving

As a service to the community, Cisco Junior College will offer a Defensive Driving Course October 3 and 5 from 6-9:30 p.m. in the Science Hall Lecture room. Fee for the course is $20.

The Defensive Driving Course is an eight-hour classroom course designed to improve driver skills and attitudes, especially in emergency situations.

Drivers who complete the training are eligible for a 10% discount on automobile insurance rates covering bodily injuries, property damage, medical payments and collision coverages. Good for three years, the discount may be renewed by retaking the Defensive driving course.

Enrollment fee must be paid by 3 p.m. on October 3. No late registration fees will be accepted.

not on the list, they will still have to begin construction of the new facility on their own.

In the meantime, Cisco must maintain a chlorine residual at the existing plant of one milligram per liter. Mr. Moore said the city is already complying with that portion of the agreement.

Cisco was also assessed $14,318 in civil penalties for their violations. The city will be required to pay $3,500 immediately and $3,815 within one year. The remaining $7,000 will be probated according to Mr. Moore. He said the state will consider waiving the final $7,000 if the city complies with all the other requirements of the judgement.

Mr. Moore said city water customers will be notified of the suit, in compliance with the agreement, with their next water bill. He said the October bill will be sent in an envelope along with the suit notification.

In other council action, members approved on the second reading an ordinance amending the city's plumbing code to allow the use of polybutylene plastic pipe for water service.

The council also approved a resolution declaring certain improvements as dangerous structures and a public nuisance and requiring their removal. (A complete description of these structures and their location may be found elsewhere in a printed resolution in this edition.)

Bids for water system improvements were opened but the council tabled the awarding of the contracts until the city's financial consultant and the state can be notified of the bids. Mr. Moore said the contracts are expected to be awarded at the council's next regular meeting.

The council agreed to consider the paving of West 11th Street from Conrad Hilton Avenue to Avenue H when their next priority list for paving is compiled.

Cisco's Volunteer Fire Department was awarded a permit to sponsor a carnival to be located at the Mobley Hotel. Mr. Moore said Friday he believed the carnival was already in place and operational. He said it was to be in Cisco through September 20th.

Council members adopted the budget for the fiscal year of October 1, 1983 through September 30, 1984, for the City on its first reading.

Rehab Roundup Plans Finalized

Cattlemen's Round-up for Crippled Children donors form previous years gathered at the Hoolihan Acres in Mertzon and at Reynolds Bend on the famed Mattews Ranch north of Albany Saturday and Sunday to finalize the plans for the 24th annual Round-up.

The Cattlemen's Round-up for Crippled Children benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center with campuses in Abilene and San Angelo.

The barbecue in Mertzon, for the San Angelo area, was donated by Handy Packing of San Angelo while the dinner in Albany, for Abilene area donors, was donated by an anonymous rancher. Over 300 individuals interested in the Cattlemen's Round-Up participated in the events.

The first phase of this year's Round-Up will be the Cattle sale on Sept. 26 at Abilene Auction. Scheduled dates for other sales are: October 1, Horse Sale, Abilene Auction. Scheduled dates for other sales are: October 5, Coleman sale; October 10, Sheep and Goat Sale in Junction; and November 2, Brownwood sale.

 Jim Alexander of Abilene, West Texas rancher, is general chairman of the Cattlemen's Round-up, and Southwest regional chairman is Aubrey Stokes of San Angelo, attorney and well known horse breeder. They have a list of area chairmen that is like a Who's Who in the Cattle Industry.

Beverly Masseegee To Appear At Fair

You've seen Beverly Masseegee in the movies, on

T.V., in crusades and at public affairs, now you have the opportunity to see her in our own County Fair!

Eastland County Fair Association is proud to present Beverly Masseegee in concert, Saturday, October 1, at the 1983 Eastland County Fair.

Beverly will present a magic show at 1:00 p.m. and will appear at 5:00 with her friends and Erick, the wonder dummy. Make plans to bring the kiddies to both shows. You'll be glad you did!

Victim's Clearinghouse Funded

Governor Mark White announced today that a $109,000 criminal justice division grant will finance the Texas Crime Victim's Clearinghouse operating as a new division in the Governor's Office.

The clearinghouse will identify and coordinate crime victim assistance programs operating in Texas while concentrating on crimes against women. Suzanne McDaniel Willms, clearinghouse project coordinator, said the grant will fund one year's operation through August 1984.

In addition to providing training manuals and materials for those offering services to crime victims, the clearinghouse will publish a directory of such services and update that list in a quarterly newsletter. Its staff will hold regional workshops on the needs of crime victims for interested law enforcement agencies, prosecutor's offices and community service organizations.

Ms. Willms said the clearinghouse hopes to have a toll-free telephone number operational by October to refer crime victims to available assistance programs.

For additional information, contact Suzanne McDaniel Willms at 475-3021.

Bike-a-Thon Raises $2,500.

All participants will receive a T-Shirt from KVMX, each participant who collected $25 or more will receive an additional T-Shirt from St. J. Childers Hospital, and for $75 or more a Tote Bag, also from St. J. Childers Hospital.

Roy Gevera of the Kiwanis ads that all participants try to turn their money in by Sept. 17 if at all possible.

The Kiwanis would like to thank all who participated in this special event and the following Merchants for their donations: KVMX - who donated a bike and all their help over the air; Edwards Funeral Home - Bike; Eastland Office Supply - Bike; Rossander Agency - Bike; Coca-Cola, Super Duper, and Thrift Mart - for donating refreshments.

Outstanding Magician Due At County Fair

Lonnie Chevie Jr. can draw a standing ovation from a crowded room with the snap of his fingers. With a seemingly simple flick of the wrist, he can either astonish an adult or delight a child.

Sound like magic? It is. Winner of the 1978 Texas Association of Magicians' Best Close-Up Magic award, Lonnie Chevie Jr. is Texas' foremost master of illusion, escape and sleigh-of-hand.

Lonnie Chevie Jr. will perform three shows at the Eastland County Fair: Sept. 28, 29 and 30.

A well-known magician whose nimble hand have earned him an impressive reputation throughout the Big Country and all of Texas, Lonnie can make people appear to float in thin air; doves appear from nowhere; and flowers bloom in the dead of winter.

Because of his magical skill and charismatic personality, neither of which is an illusion, the 26-year-old magician enjoys a strong following. His popularity keeps him busy performing regularly.

Lonnie recently thrilled hundreds at a magic show extravaganza known as the "Real World of Make Believe," which was staged in the historic Paramount Theater in downtown Abilene.

Watching Lonnie perform his special brand of close-up magic can be mind-boggling. Lonnie began doing magic when he was only six years old and living in Lincoln, Neb. Because Lonnie's dad was in the Air Force, the family moved around a lot, and Lonnie had trouble making friends, although he had plenty of time to practice magic.

Taking a lesson from Dale Carnegie, Lonnie learned that magic was a good way to make friends and influence people.

Today, Lonnie's talents extend beyond the conventional boundaries of magic. His digital dexterity allows him to seemingly defy the laws of physics, whether he's working with coins, a deck of cards or creating a grand illusion.

One of Lonnie's favorite illusions is taking a volunteer from the audience and turning that person into a mind reader.

A life long admirer of the late great escape artist Harry Houdini, Lonnie has recreated some of Houdini's greatest escapes.

A leather straitjacket that can hold Lonnie for more than five minutes has yet to be manufactured. To prove his claim, Lonnie once allowed himself to be hoisted 25 feet above a city parking lot, his arms chained, his neck tied to his ankles and sporting a straitjacket. Lonnie will perform the straitjacket escape three times at the Eastland County Fair.

Experience the skill and magical talents of Lonnie Chevie Jr. you will be amazed.

Lundstrom Appeals

An appeal was filed in Eastland Wednesday in behalf of Loyal Lundstrom, former Mayor pro tem of Cisco, who was convicted of murder early last week in the March 3 shotgun slaying of his wife Doris.

Lundstrom's attorney Bill B. Hart, filed the formal notice of appeal in the 11th Court of Appeals in Eastland.

Hart said Thursday, in explaining the steps necessary for an appeal, that pleadings must be filed, then answered by the state. He estimated that "the whole thing should be dissolved in about six months."

A jury convicted Lundstrom, 60, of killing his 27-year-old wife with a single shotgun blast. Jurors then assessed his punishment at life in prison.

The two-week trial came to a speedy end when jurors took only 45 minutes to find Lundstrom guilty of murder and another 50 minutes to determine his sentence.

Eastland County Sheriff Johnnie Morren transported Lundstrom to Abilene last Thursday where Lundstrom boarded a prison bus that took him to Huntsville.

Last week, District Attorney Emory Walton said Lundstrom will not be eligible for parole for at least 20 years because he was convicted of murder using a deadly weapon.

Kiss Your Baby

Telling parents to kiss their babies may seem silly.

But the North-East Texas Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation hopes they do even more often during National Cystic Fibrosis Week, September 18-24. That's when the "Kiss Your Baby" theme will warn that a kiss can alert parents to presence of America's number one genetic killer of children and young adults.

Children with cystic fibrosis, (CF), an inherited respiratory and digestive disease, have sweat glands that produce perspiration with a salt content four to five times greater than normal. The skin of a child with cystic fibrosis tastes noticeable salty at all times - a signal to parents to consult a doctor or clinic for further testing.

A simple diagnostic procedure called a "sweat test" is used to diagnose cystic fibrosis which affects one in every 1,800 births.

Taking prompt action is vitally important in CF, because the quality and length of a child's life can be affected by early diagnosis and treatment. Many children with CF go undiagnosed for years because the disease often masquerades as other common childhood digestive and respiratory ailments.

Cystic fibrosis attacks the lungs and digestive system by producing abnormal accumulations of mucus that interfere with breathing and absorption of food. Because of sophisticated treatment developed through research, nearly half of the children born with CF will live to their 20's.

As a finale to National Cystic Fibrosis Week, the North-East Texas Chapter will conduct a community wide door-to-door campaign or other event during the week of September 25 - October 8. All proceeds will benefit CF programs of research, care and education.

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is a non-profit voluntary health agency. It receives no government funds and depends solely on contributions from the public to carry out its life-saving activities. For more information, contact the North-East Texas Chapter of the Foundation at 2405 Cedar Springs, No.211, Dallas, Texas 75201, metro 263-7299 or 214-871-2222.

House Of Representatives

Jim Parker-District 02

As you are probably aware, I have written several articles regarding our State's public education system. I am sure you have also been reading articles concerning meeting occurring around the state which are being conducted by the Governor's Committee on Education. Since I have sent letters requesting suggestions from all the teacher in our district and have been receiving their responses, I thought I would share their suggestion and concerns with you.

One of the most commonly mentioned concerns was the time spent on "extra" teaching subject matters. Let me explain my use of the term. "Extra" refers to bilingual education and remedial tutoring simply because while this added help may be needed for some, it is not necessary for the majority of students. Yet students are leaving the classrooms during regular class times for these special subjects and missing other lessons during the regular school day. "Extra" refers also to the times spent for athletics and pep rallies which also cut into classroom teaching of the basics. (I realize this will be a highly controversial are among coaches and other sports-minded individuals.)

Lack of interest from parents and lack of motivation on the part of students were also mentioned quite often by teachers as a serious handicap for excelling in scholastics. The students knew they would be passed to the next grade whether they put in time and effort or not. Many students seemed to put forth the minimum amount of effort needed to eek by. Pride in one's work and "learning for the sake of learning" were not conscious objectives of students anymore. Obviously, in this atmosphere, mediocrity, as opposed to excellence, prevails.

The third most noted suggestion or concern was discipline, or rather lack of it, in the schools. Teachers felt they had little recourse or back-up from families and some administrators in dealing with problem students. The students rarely could be expelled from school for misbehavior yet had been passed from grade to grade until they finally could not perform at a certain level even should they decide they wanted to do so. It certainly is understandable that if one cannot perform in the classroom but is required to be there anyway, that we are asking for disruption. It is unfair to th teachers trying to teach the rest of the class and also to the students in the class who are really trying to learn.

Hopefully these teacher concerns have been as enlightening to you as they have been to me. More important, I hope the Legislature can come up with workable plans for overcoming and correcting these and other problems in our public school system in the very near future. We are losing valuable potential each day we allow the situation to remain and our school system too deteriorate.

Waiting, Hoping

"When you have cancer it helps to talk about it," says Patsy Nance of Cisco.

"It is difficult," as Patsy sits in her wheelchair, to realize that a spider-like word such as 'cancer' can apply to her. For she looks just about the same - brown eyes, clear skin, and a radiant smile.

Thinner, perhaps, but a person can hardly gain weight on her current soft diet, a diet induced by the nausea of chemotherapy.

She has also had facial swelling, weakness, a problem in speaking. But she explains this in a litting, upbeat voice, as if it isn't really so bad after all. She is better now, she adds.

No wonder she seems strangely untouched by this recent development in her life. After all, thirty five years in a wheelchair has failed to destroy her. That must be good training for the situation.

"It's good to express feelings, to know that help is available if needed." Patsy brushes back her thick brown hair.

"Mother and I..." she glances across the attractive living room to her Mother, Mrs. Garland Nance - "How very much we appreciate all the prayers, phone calls, letters, flowers and gifts. The support from friends in Eastland County and other places has given me a special lift.

"Someone told me, speaking of cancer, 'This is a waiting game and a time game'.

"I believe it. You keep waiting for that wonderful breakthrough - that cure.

"I've had such few problems over the years that this thing of an inoperable tumor is all new to me. I'm trying to understand it on a daily basis.

"And we human beings don't like change much, do we?"

Patsy's life, I realize, has been filled with change. And "few" problems? The loss of a brother. Then that tragic auto accident when she was only 15. A beautiful 15, a real-life High School Sweetheart.

But there was something behind the pretty face of the sweetheart - an unquenchable spirit. The accident caused a spinal injury which paralyzed her from the waist down, but Patsy Nance did not give up. She graduated from school and worked with her father in his accounting business.

Then, a few years later, came the sudden death of her father. Patsy and her mother were left to care for their home and give Patsy the special care she needed to survive.

Their management and industry became almost legendary. The mornings included therapy for Patsy, and during the afternoons she worked at bookkeeping. For many years she did accounting work for the Eastland County Newspapers, and will resume if health permits.

She has been Treasurer of the First Methodist Church of Cisco since her father's death, and has done accounting work for oil companies, and others.

When Patsy was first paralyzed she went to Gonzales Warm Spring for therapy, and there she met a Dr. Clary Bates. When he moved his practice to Austin she continued to go to him for periodic checkups. Last March a local physician indicated something was wrong, more than what Patsy calls "the usual things with paraplegics".

So she went to see Dr. Bates, and he put her in Seton Memorial Center, Austin, for diagnostic tests. There were blood counts, CAAT scans, X-Rays, and other procedures. A large tumor was found, and intravenous chemotherapy begun.

Since then, there have been hospital stays and more chemotherapy. Dr. John Whitaker, hematology and oncology specialist, and a Dr. Chopp, tumor specialist, are now involved with the case. Their hope is to reduce the tumor to an operable size. At last report some progress has been made.

Patsy must return to Austin for frequent checkups, since chemotherapy is hard on blood count and bone marrow. In seeking out the malignant cells in the body, the powerful chemicals sometimes destroy "good" cells as well. Then there are the side effects, which have not been as severe on Patsy as some other people.

Patsy's faith is too secure for her to go into a lot of questioning about why this has happened to her. But she wishes that more progress could be made on cures for cancer, and spinal injuries too.

"The country has done so many wonderful things," she says, "Yet we still can't repair severe spinal injuries. And cancer - much more research needs to be done."

She smiles, and I know she is not going to give up hope.

No matter what happens during the next hospital trip - no matter what. For Patsy Nance is hope.

Countians 'Do' London & Paris

(ED. NOTE: Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Meredith recently experienced a "trip of a lifetime" and we asked them to share the details. Mrs. Meredith, a retired teacher, reluctantly agreed to put it on paper, and we believe you'll agree with us that she does a journales job. The way she describes it, you almost feel that you are with them.)

By Mrs. Gilbert Meredith
Around November of 1982 my cousin and her husband, Clyde and Leslie Stephenson of Dallas, said "We are planning to go to England next June for 21 days, London, then rent a car and see some of the back roads most tourists don't see. Come go with us."

Gilbert and I agreed that was the kind of trip we would like.

Les enjoys the detail work, so he set about immediately to make all the arrangements. In fact, we had our airline tickets by Dec. He corresponded with people open their homes to tourists and selected two which he thought we would enjoy. He left us a lot of freedom to make choices after we got there.

Our group consisted of Clyde, Les, Marian, Murphy and Helen Carroll of Corpus Cristi. Marian and Clyde were room mates in S.M.U. in the 40's Helen and Marian had taught together in Corpus. Helen taught for one year in Wales, so we were depending on her to keep us out of trouble.

Leaving D.F.W at 6:50 on June 18 caused us to arrive at London's Gatwick Airport at 9:45 (London Time) 3:45 (U.S.A. time). None of us had much sleep, but we were so excited even jet lag didn't slow us down.

The maps of London's train and subway systems are so good we had no trouble going by train from Victoria Station and tube (subway) to our hotel.

We stayed in the Kennedy Hotel for a week. It was handy to the tube and of course we had the usual Continental breakfast there each morning. The personnel were very friendly and the door man made us feel we were his personal responsibility.

The afternoon of our arrival we walked from our hotel to Regents Park. As a flower lover, I marveled at so very many beautiful flowers... There as in all the other places we were to go later there so many lovely flowers and especially roses we all fell in love with this beautiful country.

While in Regents Park we saw as we were to see over and over again the people enjoying the sunshine. Helen told us that when the sun comes out so do the people because they want to take advantage of beautiful weather because of the cloudy, rainy weather they have so much. We were fortunate, however, the weather was lovely all the time we were there. We never took our raincoats out of our suit cases.

We found the money easy to handle even though they have 10 different coins which we used.

Early the 20th we went to a tour headquarters and took a half day bus tour of the city. We wanted to familiarize ourselves with the city.

We drove by Westminster Abbey, Tower Bridge and many other London landmarks, but the wonderful part about our trip was that we were to go back later and spend leisurely hours looking as long as we wanted.

That afternoon, with tube map in hand we easily found the British Museum. There is no way to describe all we saw there. I could have stayed there the 21 days and not have seen it all. In a nice cafeteria in the museum we had lunch of cornish pie, kidney pie, delicious pastry and tea.

We walked down Regent and Oxford Streets to see the shopping area there and paid a visit to Harrod's. We were in a lot of shops while we were there, not to buy as much as to look at what was available and visit with the people.

We spent all morning of Tues., June 21, Westminster Abbey and St Margarets Cathedral. We saw that Parliament is overwhelmingly beautiful. All over London these beautiful old buildings were being cleaned. They are using oil for heating now rather than coal, so once the get the black of them they will remain their natural stone color. They told us they use soap and water for cleaning the buildings. It does not damage the stone and does the job well.

That after noon we went to the Tower of London where we saw the Crown Jewels and items dating so far back it made me feel strange about what we call antiques. In the floor of one of the buildings there was a brass plaque stading several people were killed there recently by a bomb which was placed there as a result of the Irish Revolution.

On the subway back to our hotel that evening we were shaken again by the reality that this wonderful old city felt the results of the revolution north of them when we saw a package lying on the seat or floor of the car to report it immediately without touching it as it could possibly be a bomb.

Our evening meal was of cole slaw and corned beef sandwich in a pub near our hotel. We found the food in the pubs to be very good and very reasonable in price.

We spent Wed., June 22 at Windsor Castle. It is so massive there is no way to tell of the size of it. There were beautiful flowers every where in the immaculate landscaping. We saw an impressive art collection there which included daVinci Bernini and Michelangelo.

Our lunch at a pub n Windsor included boiled potatoes with skin on, rice, apple & potato salad, pressed ham which had whole boiled eggs in the center & crust baked on the outside cold roast, ham, and pickled herring with apple, cheese and buscuit (cookie) for desert.

We did enjoy those biscuits! We all ate them in enormous amounts as we did all the food. I had expected the food to be something we wouldnt especially enjoy, but we didn't eat a thing we really disliked and we made an attempt to try the traditional English foods. English peas and potatoes seems to be a must at each meal. I was surprised that fish & chips is simply fish & French fries.

Early the morning of June 23rd we went by London double decker bus to Buckingham Palace. The bus system is easy to understand and we found with it as the tube we could just decide where we wanted to go; get on the bus of tube and go. The tubes were faster but when riding on the top deck of the bus we got more of the feel of the city.

We arrived at Buckingham Palace at about 9:00 a.m. and we were pretty much alone there. By 11:00, at the time of the changing of the guards an enormous crowd had gathered to watch this colorful event.

Gilbert and les missed the lunch quiche & shepherd pie because the had gone to find a doctor for Les. He had been having severe headaches and felt he must see one. With the help of the people at the hotel, they found a private doctor and after about two days of testing the doctor decided he would give Les an injection of cocaine. A police woman brought the cocaine to the doctor's office; watched the doctor give the injection and took the empty container back with her.

That 23rd, while the fellows were seeing the doctor we girls went to the National Art Gallery. I looked and looked and wished for days to stay among the paintings by Van Dyck, Ruben, Rembrandt, Raphael, Millet, Jordgen and so many others.

Often when going to the tube which we wished to ride, we would go down 3 long escalators. We knew we were deep into the earth by then. The tubes were a real facination to me and each ride was an experience I truly enjoyed. We had so many nice experiences while riding them. People would see us looking at our map and would come to us and ask if they could help. We found it is very hard to give directions there because of the irregular arrangements of the streets, but they always tried. Signs on the escalator told riders to keep to the right and people walked and ran up and down on the left.

Friday, June 24 was a day of roaming about the city and enjoying the people and the sights of the streets. Numerous flower and fruit markets were right on the streets. We visited Bermonsey Antique Market which had 450 stalls; not junk - silver, crystal, antiques, ect. delicious lunch in a nice pub. We rode the bus to Harrods and did a little shopping.

On June 25 we went by train from Victoria Station to Dover. We enjoyed the beautiful countryside with its hedgerous, different colored crops (which made it look like a patchwork quilt) and beautiful wild flowers. We saw many small garden spots just outside of cities and were told that residents of the city rent the garden spots.

We went by ferry from Dover to Calais and then by train from Calais to Paris. We enjoyed that ride so much finding the French countryside lovely.

We were very impressed with the efficiency of the trains and regreted we don't enjoy this type of transportation at home. In Paris as in London, the subway was great. We got on the subway at Nord Train Station and went by subway to within 1 1/2 miles block of our hotel, the Princess Caroline. What a wonderful experience it was to emerge from that subway and right ther was the Arch of Triumph. Such a beautiful sight. We were in Paris! Each night we walked the block and a half to see the Arch lighted at night.

The next morning we took a tour bus and went to Versailles. We enjoyed the tour of this beautiful old place and its marvelous gardens, but we all wished we could have seen it in the leisurely self guided tour as we had seen other things.

Each morning we had a continental breakfast at our hotel. The French Cressants were delicious, much better than the hard English rolls.

As we strolled through the Louve I wandered if one would ever live long enough to really see it all. So many things to see! I went back again and again to see Mona Lisa and Winged Victory and so many paintings by DeVinci, Van Gough, Rembrandt, Ruben, Bellini, Giobanne, Van Dyck, Jordaen, Goya, El Greco and so many more. After spending hours there, when we left I had this desperate feeling of wanting to cry, "But I havent seen it all yet."

As we were getting on the subway once a lady came up to us and said, "It is so good to hear people speaking English." She was from North Carolina and was visiting her son who is an Independent Baptist Missionary in Paris. We found that you may not hear much English spoken in Paris, but they were generous with sharing their ability to speak what faltering English they could speak with us. As in London, several times when someone would see us bent over our subway map they would offer their help.

We didn't find Paris as clean as London but so beautiful with its elegant, ornate buildings and interesting feautres as water ran in the gutters all the time and their toilets on the sidewalks where you could see the head and feet of ones who were using them.

We noticed that many women even when dressed up, wore no hose. If they wore hose, they were most often white and the most popular women's shoes were white with pointed toes and spike heels.

The Champ-Elysees was very near our hotel and it stayed busy night and day. We walked up and down it at night and daytime and found it shoulder to shoulder no matter the time of day.

We took a historical tour of Paris by bus and stopped to see Notre Dame. Men were working with jack-hammers inside, so we could not hear the tour guide and wish again for time to look at this marvelous building instead of trying to watch the tour guide had raced off to. It was a good tour, though and I still find no words to describe this elegently ornate building.

We ate lunch of Quich and coffee (we learned to always ask for it with milk) near the Opera then went by subway to the Eiffel Tower. This unique structure had for many years been a symbol of Paris to me, and now here I stand, looking up at the Eiffel Tower. I thought, "Now I've seen Paris," but I knew I really hadnt because there was so much more to see.

That night when we went back to our hotel, we knew our short stay in Paris was almost over. Even though it was short we had seen a lot and were so glad we had come because we all agreed we loved this beautiful old city which is so filled with history.

Early on June 24, Clyde and I walked about half a block and bought a loaf of bread, long and unwrapped, and with delicious French cheeses and meats made sandwiches to be eaten on the train on our return to London.

We all looked back over our shoulders for one last look at the Arch of Triumph as we entered the subway to go back to Nord Train Station. Outside Nord we treated ourselves one last time to a cup of coffee and pastry before boarding the train for Calais.

Peanut Field Day Set For Monday

Peanut Producers in Eastland County are invited to a demonstration field day south of Desdemona Monday, Sept. 19. Visitors will look at a nematode control demonstration on Roy Johnson's place.

The field day will begin at 9:00 a.m. and will last for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. The peanut farm is located about five miles south of Desdemona on Highway 16. Turn to the southeast at oil tanks on county road and continue for about one half mile to the demonstration field. Signs will help direct visitors.

Extension Agent De Gordon says several different chemicals and different rates were compared in this nematode infested field. Visitors will evaluate the effectiveness of each treatment. Dr. Chip Lee Extension Plant Pathologist will be there to discuss the demonstration.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Mr.-Mrs. Monroe Wilson To Be Honored On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Wilson will be guests of honor at a reception celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

MR. AND MRS. MONROE WILSON

Wilson and the former Mattie Mae Crella were married September 25, 1933 in Snyder, Texas.

Before moving to Cisco, they lived in Spur, Texas for 20 years where Wilson was an agent for Merchants Fast Motor Lines. Mr. Wilson worked for the city of Cisco for 13 years after moving here and was also an operator for A & D Exterminators.

The celebration is being hosted by their daughter, Mrs. Doyle (Frances) Bradshaw of Lubbock, Texas; their son, James Wilson of Dallas, Texas and a granddaughter, Mrs. Glenn (Patti) Morgan of Brownfield, Texas. The couple has four grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Friends and relatives are invited to come by the Wilson home at 406 E. 10th street in Cisco from 2 till 4 p.m. on Saturday, September 24, 1983.

FEMC Youth Plan Work Day

The youth of First Evangelical Methodist Church of Cisco will be holding a "Work Day" on Saturday, September 17, to raise money for attending a youth retreat at Sky Ranch in East Texas this fall.

The youths, ages 13-17, will be available for any odd jobs offered to them during that day. Anyone who would like to hire some, or all, of these youth to do things around their house or yard is asked to call Lonnie at 442-2757 or Stephanie at 442-2168.

When Our Trees Go Down In Flames, Our Dollars Go Up In Smoke.

Southern forests are more than trees for our wild life and playgrounds for our people. They also supply us with lumber, an important part of our economy. When our forests burn, an accident or arson, the dollars and cents are lost. And prices go up on the thousands of items made from wood and paper. With these great materials, you can help make people more aware of how valuable these forests are. Just spread the word - when our trees go down in flames, our dollars go up in smoke.

Tax-Aide Program Recruiting Volunteers

The Cisco effort of the nationwide tax-aide program has begun recruiting volunteers to serve as tax counselors to older persons for the 1983 tax season.

Tax-aide is a community service of the American Association of Retired Persons working in cooperation with the IRS. It provides free income tax help to the older taxpayers in preparing their returns, according to Walter Knowlden, coordinator for the Eastland County program.

Mr. Knowlden said that persons volunteering to serve as counselors should have a sincere interest in serving older adults and have a good knowledge of tax matters. They should also be willing to participate in an Internal Revenue Service training course and agree to devote at least four hours a week to providing tax counseling.

Volunteer counselors do not have to be members of AARP. Mr. Knowlden pointed out that volunteers should be older persons since a unique tax-aide feature is emphasis on peer-group assistance. However, persons of any age are welcome.

"Some of our best counselors are retired professionals," Mr. Knowlden said. "Since the training course emphasizes tax benefits for older adults and not general tax preparation, those volunteers who are already familiar with taxes have a head start and usually make better counselors."

Mr. Knowlden explained that the IRS does not consider volunteer tax counselors such as those involved in tax-aide as "professional return preparers."

Since our counselors don't charge a fee for their services," he said, "The IRS does not require them to sign returns or hold them responsible for underpayment of taxes on the returns they assist with."

TAX-AIDE PROGRAM

The IRS training course for volunteers will be held in January, 1984. The local tax-aide program will offer assistance to older residents at a convenient location from February 1 to April 15.

"We've found that our counselors enjoy their activities so much that most of them come back year after year," Mr. Knowlden said. "But we can always use additional volunteers, especially this year since we're trying to open more counseling sites and reach additional Eastland County older residents.

Persons interested in finding out more about tax-aide or in serving as a counselor may call Walter Knowlden at 442-1715.

WORD of GOD

Old Testament

And he humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that he might make thee know that man doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord doth man live.

Deuteronomy 8:3

New Testament

Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:

And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

James 5:14,15

For Those Sick In Body

And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

Drilling Bits

A total of 12,320 drilling applications were processed by the Railroad Commission in August as oil and gas operators sought to avoid paying a $100 drilling permit application fee that went into effect on Sept. 1. In July, 3,860 applications were processed.

The drilling application fee was approved by the Texas Legislature to provide funds for plugging abandoned wells and general enforcement of the state pollution prevention laws involving oil and gas operators.

The August total included 10,301 applications for permits to drill new oil and gas tests, 132 applications to deepen existing holes, 502 applications to plugback existing holes, and 184 applications for service (non-producing) wells. Operators also filed 1,201 amended drilling applications.

The July total included 2,286 applications for permits to drill new oil and gas holes, 75 applications to deepen, 231 applications to plugback, 72 applications for service wells, and 656 amended applications.

Applications for new oil and gas holes in August included 2,541 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 151 in the Refugio area (District 2), 452 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 244 in deep South Texas (District 4), 271 in East Central Texas (District 5), 295 in East Texas (District 6), 1,875 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 440 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 704 in the Midland area (District 8), 531 in the Lubbock area (District 8A), 2,316 in North Texas (District 9), and 529 in the Panhandle (District 10).

In August a year ago, the Commission processed 3,758 drilling applications, which included 2,510 applications for permits to drill new oil and gas holes. That total also included 55 deepening applications, 238 plugback applications, 110 service well applications, and 845 amended applications.

The Commission also processed 62 oil and 96 gas discoveries in August of 1983.

In the same month a year ago, 67 oil and 122 gas discoveries were processed.

Texas crude production decreased by just over half of one percent during the first half of this year as compared to the same period last year, according to preliminary reports to the Railroad Commission.

The latest production totals available to show that oil production totaled 432,987,257 barrels during the first six months of 1983. Through June of 1982, Texas produced 435,533,131 barrels of oil.

In June 1983, Texas crude oil production totaled 70,214,469 barrels. The state produced 72,558,167 barrels in May 1983 and 71,358,946 barrels in June 1982.

Texas oil production averaged 2,340,484 barrels daily in June 1982.

The June 1983 production allowable totaled 91,384,829 barrels. The state's oil production was 23.17 percent under the allowable for the month.

The state's top producing counties in June were Pecos, 4,126,037 barrels;ECTOR, 3,661,983 barrels; Gaines, 3,647,884 barrels; Yoakum, 3,603,512 barrels; Andrews, 3,158,923 barrels; Hockley, 3,661,983 barrels; Scurry, 2,489,913 barrels; Crane, 2,102,655 barrels; and Refugio, 1,878,662 barrels.

Eastland County was among the pace-setters in the list of Texas counties showing dramatic increases in crude oil production during the past five years.

The annual report just released by the Texas Railroad Commission shows Eastland County's total crude production was 2,463,000 barrels in 1982, compared to 404,000 barrels five years earlier.

Regular Field. The No. 1 Truman Dickerson showed potential to pump two barrels of oil per day on open choke.

The well will produce from an interval 1,473 to 1,478 feet into the wellbore. Total drilling depth was 1,500 feet.

Gordon Spot

County Extension Agent

DeMarquis Gordon

It seems Eastland County missed another good chance for rain this past week. However, some small areas in the south part of the county were fortunate to get from one to two and one half inches of rain. Most of the county remains extremely dry, without any rain since the last of May of early June. Many have described this drought as the worst since the 1950's.

Dryland peanuts that did not get rain last week will not have much chance to make a crop. Normally, dryland peanuts will make if fall rain begins by September 1. Maturity slows considerably when the nights begin getting cooler.

Rain is also needed for grass before cooler weather comes. It would be most helpful to get some good grass growth this fall since there will be a shortage of hay this winter.

The first conference for disabled farmers to be conducted in the Southwest is scheduled for October 4 and 5 at Texas A&M University. The Extension Service has designed the conference for disabled farmers, rancher and family members.

The primary objective is to provide disabled farmers with knowledge to help them perform their work. It will identify and develop practical designs, modifications, and accessories to aid farmers and ranchers with physical disabilities in the operation of tractor and other farm equipment. The conference will also give insight for coping with individual and family stress related to a disability.

If you are interested in this conference contact our office for a copy of the program and registration form.

Applying nitrogen for small grains this fall will be important. We list four important reasons why wheat and other small grains need nitrogen at planting or a short time afterward:

- aid in developing of good root system,
- for early grazing
- to hasten decomposition of excess residual straw, and
- for high production of forage and grain.

Sufficient fall growth for early grazing cannot be expected without adequate nitrogen at planting. The advantages of early planting and favorable growth conditions can be lost if nitrogen fertilization is delayed until late fall. Establishing a good uniform stand with good tillering requires nitrogen, and most soils are deficient in this nutrient.

To meet nitrogen requirements during the fall growing period, producers can apply the total requirement before planting on heavy textured soils for both forage and grain. Or they can apply a small amount at planting followed by topdressing soon after planting or in late winter for grain production only.

Of course, fall nitrogen fertilization is also affected by the amount of straw from the previous crop. The bacteria and other microorganisms needed to decompose the straw require nitrogen and can use that already in the soil as well as that applied, thus reducing the amount available during the fall.

The general rule in applying nitrogen has been to increase the rate of nitrogen about 20 pounds per acre for each ton of undecomposed straw. However, a portion of this nitrogen is recovered during the final stages of decomposition so that as much as half of this may be available during the spring months. This means that about half of the "extra" nitrogen could be deducted from the late winter topdressing.

Ranger Eastside Baptist Revival Starts Sunday

The Eastside Baptist Church, located at Young and Fourth Streets in Ranger, will be in Revival September 18 - 25. The evangelist for this revival is Charlie Martinez. Brother Martinez is presently attending Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth and was first introduced to this area when he attended Ranger Junior College. It was while attending RJC that Martinez rendered to preach the gospel and he does so in a very dynamic, powerful style.

Elenore Grogan will be the featured soloist during the revival. Elenore is full-blooded Indian from Arizona, but is known for her service at youth camps and youth related revivals throughout the state of Texas. Many of the area youths have fallen for this lovely lady while attending the Big Country Baptist Encampment in Lueders. She is a recording artist and thrills the soul with her beautiful voice, enthusiasm and her testimony.

Brother Jim Andrews of Eastland and pastor of Kokomo Baptist Church, will be the Music Director for the week long revival. Bro. Andrews has been with Eastside Baptist in other revivals and will be meeting with the choir each evening at 7 p.m. with the music service to begin at 7:30. After the song service Bro. Martinez will bring the message. A nursery will be provided and so will bus transportation for Ranger residents. If you need a ride please call 647-1568, 647-1890 or 647-3857.

Brother Jerry Speer, pastor, and each member, eagerly invites you to attend the services.

Sucessful Summer At Camp Inspiration

Camp Inspiration in Eastland has just completed a very successful and busy summer, according to Pastor Larry Smith.

Events held at the church included the Texas Camp Meeting in July with Dr. Marcus Morgan as guest leader and Dave Tate as music leader.

Three youth camps were scheduled. The Senior High Camp, directed by Pastor Lynn Higgins, has 60 campers and workers in attendance. Pastors Kim Lanman and Wade Butler had 66 campers and workers in Junior Camp and the largest camp was Junior Camp with 93 campers and workers.

Pastor Bill Marshall directed this camp, and Pastor Bill Thomson spoke to both the Junior High and Junior Camp in the evening services.

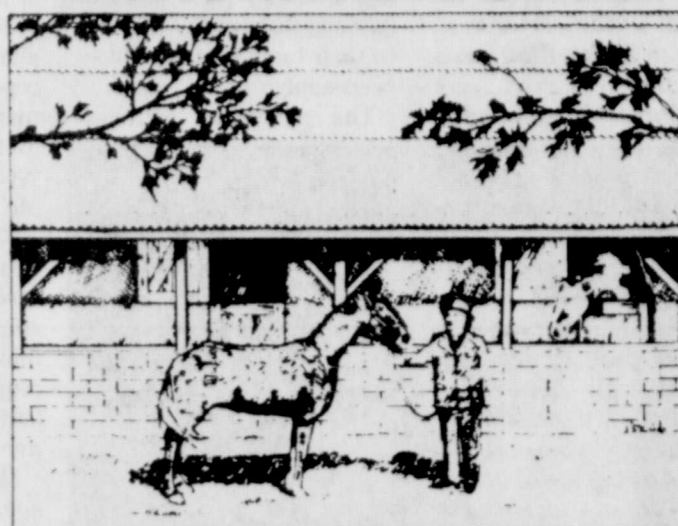

The state softball tournament was held at Camp Inspiration on Saturday, Aug. 6. Two women's teams, Dallas and Odessa; and six men's teams, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Angelo, Sugarland, and two from Odessa played in the tournament. Winners were the Odessa men's Blue team and the Dallas women's team.

Scheduled for fall at Camp Inspiration are: Oct. 1, Texas Camp Meeting council at 9 a.m.; Oct. 17-19, West

Prayer Retreat; and Oct. 29, semi-annual business meeting.

W.T.D. semi-annual business meeting.

TSTA Tips For Parents

Is your child creative? The Texas State Teachers Association wants to work with you to help you stimulate and encourage creativity in your child. The following is the fourth in an eight part series.

Creative Arts

Keep your child supplied with sheets of paper, crayons, finger paints, modeling clay, burlap, paste, marking pens, scraps of cloth, styrofoam, yarn, scraps of wood and water colors. Provide work space for the child and encourage the creation of works of art.

Proudly display your child's best creations on the wall, door, or bulletin board. Give frequent opportunities for the expression of artistic ability—making valentines and greeting cards. Encourage help with holiday decorations.

Encourage musical activity in the home or on family trips. Family songs are fun for everyone. Let your child make up songs.

A toy piano, drum, tonette, tuned bells or mouth organ can help teach the rudiments of rhythm and tone.

As soon as your child is old enough to operate a record player, purchase one along with some children's records. Record players are now simplified so that even very young children can operate them.

If your child plays an instrument, help budget practice time. Encourage performance and practice. Genuine praise does wonders.

Allow the observance of art forms in nature and surroundings. This opens all doors to confidence. Be positive about the child's attempts and encourage development of interests. Help your child to really "see" the subtle variations in nature. Point out differences in color intensity.

Be subtle in helping your child learn. Keep things light-hearted and fun, never grim or tense. Don't stifle curiosity. Don't brush off questions. After a while you won't be asked.

RETIRING OR MOVING?

At least 18 per cent of the people in America will move this year. And many of you are thinking about retiring. These decisions are a part of your life and will affect at least one out of every five of your family and friends soon.

When making your retiring and moving decisions you'll soon discover that you've really accumulated a lot of possessions in the last few years. And you'll quickly see that it will be very difficult, time consuming and quite expensive to haul your possessions across the country or even around town.

But, you can turn these accumulated possessions into quick cash by holding an auction. A well planned auction can cash out your entire household in just a few short hours. And, I provide complete auction service so you don't have to worry about a single detail.

It's a whole lot easier to have an auction and put cash in your wallet than it is to put your piano, refrigerator & hide a bed in a truck. And remember, when it comes to buying or selling AUCTION'S BEST (sm).

91st District Court Has New Probation Officer

Since September 1 the 91st District Court in Eastland has had a new Chief Probation Officer to work on probation supervision, background investigations, and placements and referrals for treatment for the Court.

The new officer is Dayton L. Hall, who has moved here from Gonzales, where he was a probation officer for the past 5 years. He was an officer in Dallas for 6 years before that.

He works with both adult and juvenile cases as does Probation Officer Julie Armstrong who has been an officer here about three years.

As one state commission regulates adult cases and does another regulates juvenile cases and they have different regulations and systems of reports and records which must be kept in compliance in order for the office to receive state funding, it keeps the officers on their toes to decide which rules apply to each case.

The probation officers work for Jim Wright, as Judge of the 91st Court, their offices together with equipment and utilities are furnished by Eastland County, and the salaries and benefits of the officers along with placement expenses are furnished by the state.

Four hundred and forty-one people are on the Courts probation list, but a number of these are out of the county. There are presently 180 adults in the county and reporting to the officers each month as they are required to by law. The number of juveniles was not known by Mr. Hall.

Field checks on the probation have to be made at their residences and places of employment also to determine if they are meeting the requirements of the Court, and it has to be reported if they are not.

Mr. Hall, who is currently going over each case, says that he is excited about being in Eastland, that the people are nice and friendly and have made him feel accepted, and that they have offered him their help.

Still in Gonzales trying to sell their house there are his wife, Jeanne, and their four children, six year old twins Julie and Jodie, three year old son Michael, and 14 month old daughter Kelly.

Mr. Hall, a graduate of Stephen F. Austin State University, is from Pasadena and his wife is from Texas City.

They attend the Catholic Church.

A lion and a member of both the Texas Corrections and Probations Associations, Mr. Hall enjoys fishing, bird hunting, and his children.

Spotlights & Sidelights

Julia Worthy

Adoption has long been approved by society as a good way to provide for the "orphans," so I will go along with President Reagan's line of thought in signing to Orphan Drug Act.

This bill, introduced by Rep Henry Waxman (D-Cal.), authorizes twelve million dollars to be spent for research and development and tax incentives to offset the costs for private industry in producing these drugs that do not promise enough sales to pay for themselves.

Drug companies are in business to make money (hardly news, is it?), and they are not going to put out time and money to aid relatively few people. "Relatively few" must be considered carefully as Waxman says, "This legislation will rescue millions who suffer from rare diseases."

So, all right, Henry. That sounds good, and I can appreciate Ron inking the bill since it may help those who have myoclonus, Tourette's syndrome, or even amyotrophic lateral sclerosis - especially the latter, better known as Lou Gehrig's disease.

I'd rather my tax dollars go to cure ills I hope I never remotely experience than to uphold some two-bit dictator spending millions of somebody's (guess whose) money in a Third World country. (When it comes to foreign aid, color me bitter!)

However, I suppose my basic perspective can handle the Orphan Drug Act as twelve million dollars, compared with X-number of billions we're already signed up for, don't amount to much.

My perspective is not so calm about the Federal Trade Commission's report from its Seattle office. The FTC is "dropping the idea of regulating business practices in the nursing home industry because they do not represent a major problem."

How come? I know many more people in nursing homes than I know persons with myoclonus or Tourette's syndrome. I'll bet there are several millions of people who could say the same thing.

Quoting an A.P. story in the Ft. Worth Star Telegram, problems in the nursing home business include, "inadequate cost disclosures, deceptive billing practices, misappropriation of patients' funds, arbitrary discharge policies, and inadequate protection of patients' properties."

These aren't major problems? The FTC already has the authority to investigate these practices it sweepingly states exist. The health standards of long-term care facilities are the responsibility of the Department of Health and Human Services. State and local regulations supplement Department rules.

But the humane aspect of running nursing homes is not the consideration here. Institutional care, no matter how good, is just that, and the bottom line usually is that a retirement center, nursing home-what-ever-is just as good as the local community makes it.

The nursing home industry is not in business for its health, but its occupants are there because of their lack of health. At times mental faculties are sharp enough to cope with daily problems, but on the whole, the residents are treated, because of financial dictated, as if they are permanently "confused."

Because some families can't, and others won't, handle their elders in private homes, they have to have the nursing home aid. They do not want to risk disrupting, by real or fancied complaints, the care their relatives get. So, who is minding the store? Who bells the cat? Who calls the tune?

The Orphan Drug Act might save a couple of these old persons so they can live a little longer at a level they don't really care for, but it is my feeling the Federal Trade Commission might get a few bucks (if money is what they need) to use in alleviating business practices it says exist.

The long-term care area is one where Big Brother just may be justified... call him an "ombudsman," and prepare for that long road you're traveling to end in a care facility, even though it never happens for you.

Young Convicts Speak To Area Students On Prison

Three young convicts from the Texas Department of Correction told the students of this area why they are serving prison terms. Each of the men stood and gave his first name, age, home town, prison number and the conviction charge.

Sheriff Johnny Morren and the Eastland County Sheriff's Department handled arrangements for the panel program. The three men are chosen for the TDC program from the Ferguson Unit, which houses male first offenders mostly between the ages of 17 and 21. They are dedicated to warning young people across the state of the mistake in choosing a life outside the law.

"My name is Mark, I am 20 years old, I am from Tyler, Texas and I am serving eight years for arson," said the first young speaker. He told of having little or no parental supervision as a young child. He said he started hanging out with older kids already in trouble when he was about twelve years old. He started drinking alcohol and using dope and this led to skipping school. To continue to stay drunk and high, he started stealing. He was caught...and received six-months probation on a burglary charge. Then received a one-year probation for fighting and causing injury to another boy whose parents filed charges. At age 17 he quit school. After working a full time job he decided to return to school. This was fine for awhile, until the vice-principle caught him on the school parking lot during school hours with beer in his car. He was embarrassed when arrested at school with all his friends watching. Later he and some other boys decided to break into the school and "tear things up." While they were destroying property someone started a fire. They all ran. There was six-million dollars damage to the school. A witness identified the boys seen leaving just before the fire was detected. He was arrested at his mother's home and spent seven months in jail before being sentenced.

"Please think of the personal consequences and all the people you'll be hurting if you choose this way of life," Mark warned. "You do not realize the freedoms you have until you lose them," he concluded.

"My name is Andre, I am 20 years old, from Houston, I was sentenced to five years for burglary. I am married and have a young son," the second speaker stated.

He said he was only five years old when his father went to prison, leaving his mother with four young children. She sent the oldest to live with a grandmother and the others to live with an aunt and uncle.

When he was 11, his mother re-married. His step-father was good to him, treated him like his own son. The mother and step-father started their own business and let him work there some. But then, he started smoking pot and getting drunk. His parents found out and punished him, but the "punishment wasn't harsh enough," Andre said. At the age of 15 he started using all the hard drugs, such as PCP and cocaine, along with alcohol and marijuana. His parents learned of this but before they could punish him he ran away. When he was 17 he was arrested and went to court on a burglary charge and was given a $5,000 fine and six months probation. The next time he was arrested for burglary he was given five years. He has now served two years of the sentence.

He told the group of young people, "You are not born a creep - stay away from drugs or if you have started, give it up, it is not worth the price you pay."

"My name is Don, I am 20 years old, I am serving two 10 year sentences that run concurrently. 10 years for burglary and 10 years for breaking probation," the third young man told the group.

Don said he was the youngest of three children in an average family. When he was 12 years old his parents were divorced. At the age of 13 he said his mother "couldn't handle me anymore." He said he didn't blame his parents for his trouble. He ran around with older guys and quit school while in the ninth grade. He started stealing to have the 'good' times he wanted. He didn't care about other people.

He said he married a 'decent' girl but marriage didn't change him. His wife didn't want him to keep using drugs, drinking and stealing. He continued this life anyway. He was finally caught and the court gave him 10 years adult probation. He did not learn from this second chance and in three weeks he was arrested for burglary and breaking probation.

He has two sons, the oldest is three and the youngest is one year old. He has seen the youngest only 10 days. Don has made trustee and gets to apply to go home for five days every six months.

His message to the young people was that they could do something about their future now. In prison the cell is only the size of a ping pong table, 5' by 9', with two men to a cell. There is no window in the cell.

Don told the group of one time when he had returned to the prison after being home on furlough. His three year old son climbed out the window of the back seat of the car and ran after him. The child held the pants leg of his father and cried "daddy don't go."

Next on the program was a question and answer period. The first question was, "How many inmates did not finish high school?" Answer: 85 percent dropped out of school before completing high school. Although many inmates come from wealthy homes. Many do have an education, belonged to the National Honor Society and some were Eagle Scouts.

Another person asked for them to tell what a 24 hour period in prison was like. The answer was: You must get up at 3:30 a.m. if you want to have breakfast. You must go to the chow hall in single file, walk along a green line and absolutely no talking. Work time starts at 6:00 a.m. Each man is assigned to a squad. You must run to the job site. No break time except for lunch. After running back to the chow hall each man must be searched before anyone can go in. One must strip off all clothing, searched, dress, and then all can eat. After the work day the men shower, 40 at a time. The guard says when to start, but one learns to hurry. After the guard says 'soap on', the water is turned on, then off very quickly.

After the evening meal the men have a choice (one of very few) whether he wants to go to the day room to

The question was asked, "What can you say to someone you know is using drugs?" The answer: "I wish there was something I could tell you, there isn't. Just be a friend, the decision is their's."
