

New Manufacturing Facility Begins Operations Here

Southwest Enterprises began operations this week in their new Cisco manufacturing facility that will serve the needs of their some 2,500 customers scattered throughout the United States and a number of foreign countries.

The Southwest plant, which represents a six-figure investment, began turning out shoulder patches for an Orlando, Fla., music festival, as the first item of production. The facility is located in the building adjacent to and connected with Southwest's offices at 300-04 Conrad Hilton Avenue in Cisco.

The building, which formerly housed The Cisco Press, has been remodeled and an area of some 1,000 square feet contains a new 20-head computerized machine that turns out all kinds of embroidered emblems, patches and the like for uniforms, caps, jackets and so forth. The machine will enable Southwest to manufacture in Cisco many of the assorted items it has marketed to its customers by using plants in the Republic of China and elsewhere, according to Eris Ritchie, owner of Southwest Enterprises.

The machine operates electrically through a computer to sew 650 stitches per minute. The shoulder patch that was being turned out this week contained 7,000 stitches. The machine handles three colors of thread, cuts it when needed and changes to another color automatically.

Mr. Ritchie said the new machinery, which also includes a hydraulic die-cutting machine and a heat press, has been installed by manufacturer's technicians during the past two weeks. The men remained a few days to teach employees to run and care for the equipment.

Diane Stewart is the plant's production manager and supervises operations. She is being assisted presently by Lynette Eudy, Anita Wheat, Peggy Flores and George Shaw.

The initial order for the plant that went to Orlando was for 1,100 shoulder patches for musicians participating in a music festival. Other orders were waiting their turn.

Mr. Ritchie said he expects the facility to grow and expects to add computer punching equipment to make tapes for designs. Equipment also will be added to turn out medallions, medals, pins, ribbons and the like, he added.

Southwest handled shoulder patches for participants last year in such events as the Tournament of Roses and Rose Bowl football game, the Cotton Bowl, Peach Bowl, Orange Bowl, Fiesta Bowl, Sugar Bowl, Gator Bowl, Garden State Bowl and the Liberty Bowl.

Southwest has provided emblems for the last two presidential inauguration parades and the last two Texas governor inaugurations along with other national events, Mr. Ritchie said.

The firm, which is one of the Cisco Post Office's largest accounts, does most of its selling through the use of direct mail advertising to potential customers. Mr.

Ritchie said they also have sales representatives in Chicago, San Antonio and New York City. Their customers reside in all of the 50 states and in Austria, England, Australia, Canada and Mexico. The business has enjoyed a steady growth over the years, Mr. Ritchie reported. Southwest Enterprises, which includes a large summer camping program for cheer leaders, drum majors and the like among junior and senior high school students, developed the patch business as a sideline and it grew to the extent that more and more effort went into it, Mr. Ritchie said. "We are pleased that our business has grown to the point that it represents a nice industrial activity for our community," Mr. Ritchie said. "We see no reason why it cannot continue to progress."

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERBEL HALLMARK

IF YOU WENT to vote and came home missing an ear clip for one of your pierced ears, contact the Cisco Press office, since a clip was turned in Tuesday morning. The person who turned it in said it was found in the Corral Room of the Laguna Hotel on election day, April 7.

A BEAUTIFUL Easter Cantata was performed Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church by members of a combined congregation choir. The event was sponsored by the Cisco Ministerial Association.

Those persons who performed solos during the performance were Cathy Picklesimer, Cilla Shackelford, Pat Owens, Burnice Gorr, Doyle Walker, Carolyn Sipe, Buddy Sipe and John Picklesimer.

Speaking parts were performed by Robbie Robinson, Ronnie Shackelford and Patti Phippen. Also a moving testimony was given Rev. Ronnie Shackelford, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church. Bernice Gorr also gave a testimony.

It was really an excellent worship service and a joy to see denominations forgotten as Christians came together to glorify the Lord.

IF YOU know someone who served in C.C.C. Company 817 that was formed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma in 1933, tell them that a 50-year reunion is hoped to be organized. The company built state parks in Stephenville and McGregor, Texas (Mother and Neff Park).

Any former members who are interested, may contact Jack C. Joynes at Rt. 2, Box 114, Fredericksburg, Texas 78624, or (512) 997-3010.

WORK SEEMS to be progressing readily along south Conrad Hilton Avenue on the State's highway widening project. The east side of the highway appears almost ready for blacktopping, and foundations for curbs and gutters were being put in place Monday.

THE FOLLOWING poem should be prayed by each and everyone of us every day of our life.

THANK YOU, GOD, FOR LITTLE THINGS
Thank you, God, for little things that often come our way.

The things we take for granted but don't mention when we pray

The unexpected courtesy, the thoughtful kindly deed,

A hand reached out to help us in the time of sudden need—

Oh make us more aware, dear God, of little daily graces

That come to us with "sweet surprise" from never-dreamed-of-places.

Lunch will be served by members of The Worship Committee in the Parish Hall after each meditation.

Pastor Crockett's theme is entitled "Under Christ's Cross - Our Preparation for Dying!" based on Acts 7:54-60. "Good Friday is a working day for most people," Pastor Crockett noted, "and many people are hard-pressed to get to worship services in the evening. Good Friday meditations followed by a prepared lunch during the noon-hour will enable Christians to take care of both spiritual and physical hungers at the same time as well as enable people to return to their job on time."

The public is cordially invited to the Good Friday meditations at Redeemer Lutheran Church. Ample parking is available on the north and south sides of the Parish Hall.

The "Sunrise" service on Easter Sunday begins at 7:15 a.m. The congregation will host an Easter breakfast at 8:15 a.m. in the Parish Hall. The Sunday School films, 15 minutes each, on the Lord's resurrection and ascension, will be shown at 9:30 a.m. The second Easter Service begins at 10:30 a.m. All members of the Community are invited to participate in all special festivities.

FACTS ON NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

1. Credibility: Recent polls show that newspaper is considered more believable than that of any other medium. Radio and television are basically entertainment media, and the audience is aware that broadcast ads are pitched to entertainment values rather than to matters of serious judgment. Think of all the jokes based on popular irritation with commercials; have you ever heard one about newspaper ads?

2. Assurance: Newspaper circulations are certified to the United States Postal Service and can be verified by audits. Tearsheets verify that your ad ran as scheduled. You have the assurance of knowing exactly what your dollars are buying.

3. Permanence: Newspapers allow readers time to read, digest and reconsider your message at leisure. People do not have to be at the right place at the right time to see or hear the message.

4. Impact: Since broadcast messages can only be measured in increments of time, the only ways to increase their impact are either to make them louder and more dramatic by entertainment standards or to make them longer. The first technique turns off the jaded viewer, and only makes him more critical about the message. The second technique of lengthening the "spot" puts it in direct competition with the entertainment programs on other channels, and may make switching over almost irresistible. But in newspapers, impact is increased simply by increasing space; a full page ad, for example, arrests the readers' attention without raising the anxiety that he is missing something going on elsewhere.

5. Local Coverage: Newspapers occupy a unique position in a reader's daily life; they contain news of local events and are a reliable source of information. A newspaper provides an ideal background for your message. Page after page is devoted to the community and its people. Local news is read and you and your campaign are making local news right now.

6. Economy: Newspaper advertising costs are inexpensive per reader.

In summary, here is why newspapers are the right medium for all political candidates: Newspapers reach almost everybody. Every day seven out of 10 adults read a newspaper. Each week nine out of 10 adults read at least one newspaper. These publications primarily reach upscale people who are the most likely voters. Newspapers are timely. They can be referred to easily - the content can be absorbed and compared.

Newspapers are creatively flexible. Political advertising in various sections of the paper can reach specific voters. Short bullets or long copy statements of position can achieve the desired affect. Fund-raising ads can use coupon returns.

you can depend on your local

Let's talk.
 Information about your changing telephone service from Bob Cox, Manager-Community Relations

A look at "local measured service"
 Perhaps you've heard about a new optional type of service that Southwestern Bell Telephone is proposing for its Texas customers. It's called Local Measured Service (LMS). Simply put, LMS would give you the option of paying for your direct use of the telephone network.
 Southwestern Bell Telephone's LMS proposal to the Public Utility Commission (PUC) includes an option that would lower fixed monthly charges while adding a low usage charge for each completed outgoing call. Those calls would be billed on the basis of distance, duration of the call and the time of day.
 Another option would be a "LIFELINE" service at a $5 monthly fee. This service would be targeted to the elderly on poverty-level income. The rate would include a usage allowance of 25 completed outgoing local calls. Additional completed outgoing local calls would be billed at the rate of 8 cents each. Customers would not be charged for incoming calls under either plan.
It's your option
 LMS is for residence customers, as well as single-line, one-party business customers. And of course you could keep the current "flat-rate" monthly service if you'd prefer.
 These new local service pricing plans would be available within 60 days of Commission approval in 89 offices which currently serve over 2,500,000 customer lines. The company plans to equip the remaining offices within two years after approval.
 I think you'll agree there are several benefits to measured service. It would give you options for choosing the plan that gives you more control over your phone bill. You'd also have the option of paying for the service you used, rather than subsidizing those who use their phones a great deal more than you do.
 While LMS as a standard service offering would be new to Southwestern Bell Telephone's Texas customers, it isn't new in Texas. Customers of three other companies in the Lone Star State—General Telephone, Continental Telephone and Centel—are taking advantage of LMS. And like us, other companies—United Tel. Palo Pinto Tel and Mustang Tel—have requests pending with the PUC.
Customer interest
 We're proposing the service because we've known there has been a need for optional pricing in Texas. Last summer we conducted a survey to determine customer interest in LMS.
 We found that interest was strong, particularly among those customers making fewer local calls or shorter-duration calls. The results also showed that customers want wider choices in how they pay for service by having the ability to match their cost to their calling needs.
 At this time, PUC hearings on LMS are set to begin Sept. 24 in Austin. You can look for more information about LMS in the special insert in your telephone bill.

A new brochure, "Services for Disabled Customers," is now available. It has information on disabled services and how to contact AT&T's National Special Needs Center. You can get a copy by writing to:

The Garden Editor

Ted Brice

Box 5766 Richardson, 75080

The petunia is a tender perennial plant and is a native of South America. It belongs to the Nightshade family, Solanaceae.

Petunias are exceptionally showy flowers and are used for the summer flower pots on the patio. The modern varieties are of two types, one having large, double blooms which exhibit a remarkable range of coloring; the other small-flowered compact and bearing large number of flowers.

Petunias are essentially sun-loving plants and are useless in heavy shade. They will grow, but they will not bloom satisfactorily. They thrive much better in well-drained, rather light soil. They like warmth very much. Petunias are admirable plants.

Although petunias are tender perennial plants, they are generally treated as annuals, and raised from seed sown under glass or plastic in the spring. Double varieties do not come perfectly true, but a good proportion of them will bear double flowers, and those which are single will yield large and showy blooms.

The improvement in the colors of petunia is very marked in the modern varieties. The flowers of some varieties are attractively fringed, others are striped with colors which contrast with the ground color.

To provide plants which will be large enough to plant out of doors in the flower beds and borders when the danger of frost has passed, the seeds are sown under glass or plastic towards the end of February or early March. Flats or flower pans should be filled with finely sifted potting medium of loam, peat moss or leaf mold. The seeds are shown thinly and covered with merely a sprinkling of the sifted compost. The seedlings should be raised in a temperature of 55-60 degrees. It is necessary to keep the soil always moist, but it must not be over-watered or the seedlings will damp off very quickly. As soon as the seedlings are one inch high and large enough to be handled conveniently, they should be transplanted two to three inches apart in flats or potted in three inch pots filled with the same potting medium they have been growing in.

In transplanting seedlings there is always a temptation to select the largest and finest and, if there are more than are wanted, to destroy the smaller, weaker ones. If this is done when dealing with seedlings raised from seeds of double-flowered petunias it may be found that most of them will produce single blooms. The largest percentage of double flowers is produced by the smaller seedlings.

In the final potting of petunias to six or seven inch pots be sure to use the same potting medium that the petunias have been growing in. At this stage add some bone meal and keep the medium damp but not wet.

There is also trailing varieties of petunias that are wonderful for hanging baskets. Petunias can be used in many ways and add a variety of color to your garden. Don't over look the advantages of petunias in your garden.

way clearly illustrate the text, so that even beginners can succeed their first try. And those who already know their way around the garden can profit from the up-to-date techniques and tips included, plus the chapters on growing bigger, earlier tomatoes and raising tomatoes in containers.

Rundell outlines every conceivable problem Texas gardeners might have with their tomatoes, whether from disease, insects, or weather conditions, and then goes on to explain how to prevent or correct these problems.

Since Texas itself is so large and includes so many different climates, an important chapter on regional differences is included and explains what problems may be encountered in East versus West Texas, and the Panhandle versus the Valley.

The 122-page softback book is available at leading bookstores and garden centers or can be obtained directly from the publisher at $6.95 per copy plus $1 for shipping and handling. Texas residents add 35 cents tax. To order, write Texas Gardener Bookstore, P.O. Box 9005, Waco, TX 76714.

Grow Tomatoes Successfully

"Growing tomatoes successfully in Texas can be a real challenge," says Mary Gail Rundell, author of a new book devoted solely to the subject of growing tomatoes in Texas, TEXAS GARDENER'S Guide to Growing Tomatoes.

"It is a challenge I hope most Texas gardeners will accept, however, because the results can be so gratifying—and delicious—if you know how to take care of your tomatoes and how to overcome the problems you will likely encounter."

Rundell's book, which is published by TEXAS GARDENER magazine, fills the need a great many gardeners in Texas have for accurate information on tomato growing under tough Texas conditions. While other gardening books have talked about growing vegetables in general in Texas or Northern climates, this is the first book of its kind to zero in on the state's most popular garden vegetable—the tomato—and explain the process of growing it, in an orderly and easy-to-understand fashion.

Texas faces conditions which make the successful growing of tomatoes more difficult than it is in other states. "In Texas, we face extreme weather conditions, disease problems, insect infestations, and other pressures unfavorable to tomato growing," says Rundell. Witness the fact that there are very few commercial tomato growers in the state.

"But you can be successful with tomatoes here provided you follow precise cultural practices as well as thorough insect and disease control program," says Rundell.

Rundell sets out this information in her book in the order in which it will be needed by the gardener. Starting with variety selection, soil preparation, and transplanting, she continues through the cultural practices necessary to bring the plants successfully to harvest, and doesn't end the book until she has explained how to prepare the crop for canning and freezing.

Congressional Hearing Set On Stenholm Bill

WASHINGTON - Congressional hearing have been scheduled on a bill by Congressman Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford) that simplifies and standardizes farm programs.

The House Agricultural Committee will consider the bill at a hearing in Washington May 2, while a subcommittee will examine the proposed legislation May 7 in Oklahoma City, Stenholm said.

The legislation will simplify and standardize the way acreage bases and yields are assigned to producers. Stenholm said the bill would make federal farm programs simpler, more predictable and fairer.

"Right now, our system of bases and yields isn't all it could be," he said. "It's not fair to many farmers, it's unpredictable for the rest, and it leaves too much discretion to the USDA's bureaucratic whims. It needs to be changed and put into permanent law."

An acreage base, or number of acres to be planted is assigned to farmers who wish to take part in federal farm programs, Stenholm said. A yield measures how many bushels or pounds per acre the farmer is assumed to produce. Both bases and yields are important when farmers decide whether to participate in the programs.

Stenholm's proposal assigns bases for both overall farm acreage and individual crops. It ties yields to actual records and gives farmers more flexibility than they now have in deciding for themselves how much of a given crop they will plant. The bill, called the Agricultural Efficiency and Equity Act, applies to wheat, feed grains, cotton, and rice.

"I want to commend both Chairman Kika de La Garza (D-Texas) and Subcommittee Chairman Tom Foley (D-Wash.) for scheduling hearings on this bill," Stenholm said. "I believe it's an important first step on the road to a workable 1985 Farm Bill."

Farmers and others who are interested in testifying at either of the hearings should call Chris Abram at 202-225-2171 or Congressman Glenn English's (D-Okla.) district office at 405-231-5511.

Stenholm said he will also participate in farm policy forums in Amarillo and Vernon, Texas, April 23, and 24. The forums have been organized by Congressman Jack Hightower (D-Texas) to gather local input for the 1985 farm legislation.

CLEAN FURNACE FILTERS

The efficiency of your warm air heating system depends on whether or not air can flow through the system. The more the air flow is restricted, the less efficient the heating system is. With less warm air flowing into the system, the house doesn't get as warm as it should, so you turn up the thermostat - thereby using more fuel without getting more heat.

The air filters in your furnace are 1-in. thick fiber mats through which the cold air must flow as it moves into the furnace. Any dust in the air is deposited on the filters before the air passes into the furnace. As dust builds up after a few weeks, the amount of air flowing through the filter is cut down. The only remedy is to clean or replace the filters regularly. The frequency of change depends on your home. Some, especially those with a number of small children or with pets, tend to be dustier than others.

In very dusty homes, the filters should be cleaned or changed every 60 days to maintain the heating efficiency and to keep fuel costs low. In moderately dusty homes, the filters should be changed or cleaned every 90 days.

In homes with a mild dust problem, filters probably need to be changed only once, in the middle of the season.

If you have an electrostatic or electronic filtering system, clean it more often than you would standard filters - every 30 days. Follow the instructions on the unit, since each type is cleaned in a different manner.

TO REPLACE STANDARD FILTERS

1. Purchase filters (as many as required for your unit) of the correct size. To be sure of the size, remove an old filter and measure it.
2. Remove the access panel in the side of the furnace, usually by turning a locking screw 1/4 turn. Reach in and lift filters out of the frames in which they rest. The blower should be turned off as you do this.
3. Fit the new filters into the frames. If you have washable filters, you can hose them clean, allowing the water to run through the mesh and carry the dirt out. They can be reinserted immediately.
4. Close the access door and turn the blower on.

Reflections In Perspective

I.W. Ussery

It has been mentioned hereinbefore that the "invading force" of Texans who landed, surrounded, outnumbered the defending forces of Britishers and conquered the island of Das off the coast of Abu Dhabi consisted of some forty or fifty people. The total force actually amounted to something like 172 souls. The majority of those people were resident on the work barge and rarely came ashore. And while the total complement of workmen engaged in the project was somewhat conglomerate in nature, practically all of the shore-based force was made up of Texans; pure dees. Strange thing, that. Many of those who lived for months on end and worked toward completing the submarine pipelines were of the Louisiana persuasion. "Cajuns", they are normally referred to, although that has its variations. Wonderful people, the Cajuns. First class craftsmen, and just all-around good people.

But the British occupants of the Island simply lumped all of us who didn't like getting our feet wet as Texans. And there's a thing about Texans away from home. Get as many as half a dozen Texans in aggregate together, and you're going to find a couple or three Aggies in the bunch. Now that doesn't mean they're all alumni of what was then known as The Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas. Some of the most rabid Aggies are those who would be identified by the opposition as "sympathizers" who never set foot on campus. And the Texans on Das Island were no exception.

And when there are as many as two Aggies in a crowd of nevermind how many people; when April rolls around they begin showing signs of restlessness. You may count your correspondent as a "sympathizer", although he did enroll for a term or two in an institution of "The A & M System."

And April, as April has a way of doing, rolled around. And the Aggies began showing signs of restlessness. That spirit was finally brought down to a direct question.... "What we gonna do 'bout Rally Day?"

Now every red-blooded Texas reveres the story of how "Ole General Sam Houston" triced the Santa Anna's forces into chasing him into the marshes around San Jacinto, then turned and whipped the pants off the whole, entire Mexican army and accepted Santa Anna's unconditional surrender in the shade of a pinoak tree on the 21st day of April back in about eighteen 036 or 37. "A & M quite rightfully considers itself the military center of Texas, and Aggies the world over are or become standard-bearers in "the fight for their rights" on 21 April. And they celebrate General Sam's victory with a "rally", complete with barbecue, flag-raising and all that kind of thing.

In contrast to the preliminaries preceding the observance of Thanksgiving; the General Manager of the Island was summoned. He was apprised of the custom, and his response was as expected: "Jolly good! Lay it on, and we shall sort out the details." So; lay it on we did. The Catering Superintendent was called in and was informed that there would be a barbecue. He loved the idea. There would be extra guests, as the Texans from the work barge would be coming. No problem. The more the merrier.

But (and her the British influence was felt) one doesn't stop in the observance of so momentous occasion with a simple barbecue. There must be other activities. The General Manager was again approached, and he was filled with ideas.

Das Island has in residence its complement of disciples of Saint Andrew, the patron saint of all golfers. There was a nine-hole course laid out among and around the storage tanks, the stripping plant and the other industrial installations on the Island. Oiled sand greens, and rocks in the fairways, but it was a golf course. There'd be a match.

We came up with what was considered to be an appropriate trophy...a pair of matched Colt pistols. Revolvers they were, in fact. The occasion was duly advertised, and the rules of the match were published. The first ball would be driven by a representative of the Texans. A surveyor's range pole would be driven into the ground to mark that drive. Each succeeding player would drop his ball within a club's length of the range pole, count one stroke, and play from there.

With due and proper ceremony, the contestants gathered at 0800 hours on the appointed day and stood solemnly and respectfully while the first ball was "teed up" and was driven with a six-iron to within thirty feet of the pin, 125 yards away. I seem to recall that, after having adjusted his handicap a time or two in the course of the match, the General Manager won the match of eighteen holes.

The barbecue would have been acceptable by any Texas standards. The fellowship and general camaraderie was outstanding, and Rally Day was observed in due form and to the satisfaction of every Aggie in sight.

With due and proper ceremony to the cased, matched pair of revolvers was presented to the General Manager, who turned them over to the Secretary of Das Islands Golfing Society to be displayed in the trophy case for one calendar year, at the end of which time they would be again competed for.

And here we come against the traditionalist inclinations of the British. The following year a Telex message arrived... "In your absence; who is to drive the first ball for the pistols"? In reply it was ordered that the winner of last year's match would have the honour. And so it has been ever since in Das Island, the Easternmost County of Texas.

In epilogue to the first "Rally Day" on Das Island; a crisis developed. The Lone Star flag was flown from the center mast at the entrance of the Staff Club. It was the same banner which had flown from that place of honour on Thanksgiving, and which had been presented to the General Manager.

Early on the morning of the 22nd of April, a summons to appear before the General Manager was received. "Forthwith", it said. And that meant, in any language... "Right this minute". I was the first to arrive, and was commanded to have a seat and wait for the others who had been likewise summoned. When the Chief Mechanical Engineer, the Drilling Superintendent and the Catering Superintendent arrived and took their chairs, the General Manager opened the meeting with... "Someone has stolen MY Texas flag. My Texas flag is to be found, and is to be returned. If there is any difficulty in recovering my flag from the lout who took it, he shall be sent off the Island via the next flight." And the frigid tones in which this pronouncement was made was quite convincing.

The Catering Superintendent volunteered to take the matter in hand. He located the flag. It has been lowered by a member of a drilling crew which was taking its "days ashore". All in good spirit. He was not aware of the importance of the flag to the G.M. And he was not sent off the island, although it was reported that when his tour was completed, he did not return for another "hitch" on Das Island. The crisis was over, and Das Island returned to its normal tenor.

AARP Holds Humorous Monthly March Meeting

It was announced as a "Premier, Off Broadway, On Conrad Hilton Avenue Production with an All Star Cast" with a reminder that Eighth Street was once upon a time called Broadway, and Conrad Hilton Avenue was formerly Ave. D.

Mrs. Vida Killion was introduced as the talented Playwright, but the audience was duly warned that the members of the "All-Star Cast" might play their roles in unpredictable ways as true artists are sometimes wont to do.

This was the program for the regular monthly meeting in March of the Cisco Chapter of AARP held in the Corral Room. The flavor was humorous but the real theme was a serious presentation of the Chapter's projects during 1983 under the leadership of Walter Knowlden, and possible accomplishments for 1984 under the leadership of Rev. O.T. Killion.

Mr. Knowlden, wearing an elaborate crown of gold that proclaimed him, "Father Time", a long, dark robe and a profuse beard of snow-white cotton, listed many of the projects last year that benefitted as well as entertained and in many cases made life a bit happier for members and non-members of AARP in this area. He was followed on stage by "Lady New Year", Mrs. Patti Mertl, dressed in white and wearing a crown of gold and silver with a beautiful belt to match. The crowns and belt were made by Mrs. Killion.

Lady New Year introduced representatives for each season of the year: Lawrence Thompson as "Winter"; Oren Speegle as Spring; Johnnie Jeffcoat as Summer; and Maurine Thompson as Autumn. Each character proclaimed the opportunities for involvement, service, and observance of special days and events for AARP goals during that particular season. The lists were varied, numerous, and in keeping with AARP's purposes and nation-wide programs of service.

In the business session that followed, Anton White reported on a meeting for Legislative Committee members held recently in Abilene.

The "Fifty-five Alive" driving program ended with a graduation of 15 students.

Over 50 AARP members from Eastland and Cisco, including the Rhythm Band, attended an organizational AARP meeting in Albany. Ninety-five persons were present for this first meeting.

Membership report of 155 on the roll, a reminder of dues, and a reminder of the 175 membership goal for this year were made by Membership Chairman Jack Robinson.

The meeting was opened by prayer by Tommy Ball and Pledge to the Flag by Virgil Murphy.

Buyers Of Log Homes Should Beware Of Insects

Log Homes are gaining in popularity, but buyers of such homes should be aware of potential insect problems—mainly damage by termites and wood-boring beetles.

Termites and wood-boring beetles such as sawyers, metallic borers, ambrosia, old house borers and powder post beetles can severely damage log homes unless wood is properly protected, says Dr. James Robinson, Texas A&M University System.

Termite protection can be obtained easily by treating soil under the slab prior to construction. If there is no pretreatment application prior to the construction, treat soil when and if termites become a problem. If the house is built on a pier and beam system, apply insecticides to soil around these supports to give protection. Most qualified pest control operators can perform either treatment, says Robinson.

If quality timber is cut for logs and properly handled, many log-infesting beetle problems can be eliminated. Some manufacturers dip green logs in a preservative and store them for processing. This procedure is adequate for short-term protection but should be followed by kiln drying and pressure treating with a preservative, notes the entomologist. This adds to the cost of logs but makes them a superior product.

Sawyers, metallic borers and ambrosia beetles may begin mining in the bark or sapwood of logs as soon as they are cut. Debarking may eliminate these species, but old house borers and powder post beetles find debarked logs ideally suited to their behavior. All of these insects mine or tunnel into logs to various depths. Although this does not seriously weaken logs, it does offer an avenue for moisture which may lead to wood decay problems, Robinson explains.

A point to consider when purchasing a log home is that logs properly treated prior to construction greatly reduce chances of insect attack after the structure is erected. Initially, logs processed in this manner are more expensive; however, the cost of treating and repairing insect damaged wood can be much higher, says the entomologist. Therefore, using logs properly treated before construction can save the home buyer money for the life of the home.

During the time it takes you to read this ad, something could happen to your title that would change your whole financial structure, or indeed it could alter your plans and aspirations for generations to come. ## Lights From The Christian World

by Josephine Cleveland

Dr. A.B. Lightfoot tells the story of a man who was walking wearily along a road, carrying a heavy load upon his back. His neighbor overtook him in a wagon and invited him to get in and ride. The poor discouraged man got into the wagon, but the neighbor noticed he still carried the heavy sack upon his back. He said to him, "Put it down. You don't have to carry that heavy sack of grain on your back."

The tired man said, "Oh, its enough for you to carry me, let alone this sack of grain."

Friend, there are Christians who have turned their lives over to Christ and felt His forgiving grace, yet still needlessly carry their personal burdens and problems.

The Word says, "Cast all your care and burden upon me, for I care for you."

Trust Him with your needs. You will discover He is more than sufficient.

"Lord, help us to give you our burdens and cares. Impart to us your convincing faith so that we will not doubt that you are more than sufficient to carry us through every difficulty that confronts us. Amen."

Game Day

Texas' Allocation Of Funds Increases To $18,415,000

Texas' allocation of funds for direct loans in the economic emergency farm loan program has been increased from $5,890,140 to $18,415,000, State Director J.

Lynn Futch of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) announced today. The increase will be distributed through State Offices of the FmHA, the U.S.

Department of Agriculture's farm credit agency. Nationally, the direct loan portion of the $600 million economic emergency program was raised to a $130 million share.

Interest rates for direct loans obtained from FmHA county offices are 10.75 percent on loans made for real estate purposes.

Economic emergency loans are authorized for bonafide farmers and ranchers who are directly and primarily engaged in, and expect to continue in, agricultural production, are unable to get sufficient credit from their regular lenders, and need credit to maintain viable farming operations. FmHA can loan up to $400,000 to any one borrower under the economic emergency program. Permitted use of loan funds include financing of 1984 crop production, purchasing essential livestock, feed and equipment, and paying delinquent installments on farm and real estate debts if a lender is demanding payment.

Governor White Declares April 'Buckle-Up' Month

Governor Mark White has declared April "Buckle-Up" Month and urged all Texans to buckle-up themselves and their children in cars. Citing an estimated 3,850 traffic deaths in Texas last year, White noted that traffic collisions are the leading cause of accidental death, especially for young people.

Texas leads the nation in traffic deaths of children between the ages of 0 and 4. At least 162 children in Texas in that age group died while riding as passengers in motor vehicles within the last two years, according to Department of Public Safety accident records.

According to national estimates of use, only about 15 percent of drivers wear safety belts. About 27 percent of children are properly protected in vehicles.

Everyone should "take a few extra seconds to protect themselves and their passengers by the use of safety belts and car seats," said White, who is an habitual safety belt user.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration estimates that safety belt use could reduce traffic deaths by as much as 50 percent. Among infants and young children that estimate of lives saved goes as high as 90 percent. Safety belts have also been cited as a major line of defense against the drunk driver, as the best protection now available in a collision.

Lions Told Of Health Service

Home health care service is being provided for qualified residents of Eastland and other area counties by the Eastland Manor Home Health Services, Director Nancy L. Clark, R.N., told the Cisco Lions Club in a talk Wednesday noon at their weekly luncheon.

Ms. Clark, who was introduced by Dr. Ayres Cermin, program chairman, said the service has been available in this area by her firm for a year. Headquarters is in Eastland.

The service provides home visits by registered nurses or licensed LVNs under the supervision of a nurse, physical therapists, speech pathologists, occupational therapists, medical social workers and home health aids under a physician's plan of treatment, Ms. Clark said.

The visits are scheduled on the basis of need and recommendation of physicians, she said. The patients may remain at home as long as possible for the service. The Eastland firm works in Callahan, Shackelford, Erath, Brown, Palo Pinto, Stephens and Comanche counties as well as this county, according to Ms. Clark.

Payment for home health visits are provided by Medicare, Medicaid, private insurance with provisions for home care coverage and/or directly by individuals and families, Ms. Clark said. The visits are limited to one or two hours per visit.

Ms. Clark showed a picture slide presentation on home health care.

Secretary Jasper Cook, chairman of the annual talent show held last week, expressed appreciation to club members who helped with various activities in the show. He said the event was a good success and that a financial report would be ready soon.

Guests are Evelyn Cook of Cisco and Claude McBeth of Springtown.

Men In Service

ARMY AND AIR FORCE HOMETOWN NEWS— Airman Ricky D. Fleming, son of Jim F. and Velma L. Fleming of 1211 Harrell Ave., Cisco, Texas, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the communications field.

His wife, Carla, is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John C. Begley of 900 Ave. A, Cisco.

The airman is a 1980 graduate of Baird High School, Texas.

She was given a room in Bragg Dorm, a special building reserved for visitors to the school. Scarritt, a Methodist College specializing in training in Christian Education and Music, has continual visitors.

During the first week of Mrs. Lloyd's visit there was a Global Ministry Meeting at Scarritt, attended by approximately 50 church leaders from around the world. Mrs. Lloyd met a number of these workers and their wives, some of whom were nationals and some American missionaries. She also had an opportunity to visit with the administrators of Scarritt, including the President Dr. Don Welch.

Mrs. Lloyd had the use of a private room off the Library for her writing. A girl from New Zealand, whose husband is a Scarritt student, typed on her manuscript.

Highlights of the stay also included the Vesper Services, and special musical concerts presented by candidates for their Masters Degrees in Music. These included vocal, instrumental, organ, piano, and flute.

A Pageant depicting the birth, death and resurrection of Christ was particularly inspiring.

While at Scarritt College Lela Lloyd was contacted by a leader of the Browning Club of Nashville. The Club

Cisco Music Study Club Holds Meet

The Cisco Music Study Club met Wednesday, April 11, at 10:00 a.m. in the Federated Club House.

President, Mrs. J.C. Dyer, presided and club members repeated the Club Collect, led by Mrs. Harry Donica.

Mrs. Ben Krauskopf, secretary - treasurer, read minutes of the March meeting.

In correspondence received, she presented an invitation to participate in the Frontier Jubilee Parade, May 5, at 10:00 a.m. Mrs. Harry Donica made a motion to decline entering the parade this year. Viola Payne gave a second to the motion. Motion carried.

The secretary read the following names of the slate of officers nominated to serve the MSC for '84 - '85: Mrs. J.C. Dyer, president; Mrs. Viola Payne, vice president; Mrs. Lydia Krauskopf, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Donald Shelton, parliamentarian; Mrs. Milo Steffen, historian. The report was unanimously accepted. Vida Killion, reporter, was reappointed.

From the Course of Study, TEXAS HERITAGE OF FOLK MUSIC, Mrs. Viola Payne gave an interesting synopsis of TEXAS FOLK MUSIC COMPOSED BY TEXANS OR IN TEXAS. She noted "The Yellow Rose of Texas" was composed by a black person. Mrs. Krauskopf, at the piano, played an original version of the number - followed by a revised rendition.

Mrs. Payne acquainted us with the rich heritage of folk music that is ours through contributions from black people, the Spanish, Irish, and French. Numbers she chose for demonstration on her violin were:

"Streets of Laredo," and "Adios, mi Chiquita". For her final number, "God Leads Us Along," she was accompanied by Vida Killion at the piano.

Hymn of the month, "He Lives," was presented by Mrs. Garland Shelton.

Mrs. Dyer gave a few highlights of the 69th annual convention of Music Clubs that convened recently in Amarillo. (See separate article).

Members present were Mrs. J.C. Dyer, Mrs. Ben Krauskopf, Mrs. Garland Shelton, Mrs. Harry Donica, Mrs. Viola Payne and Vida Killion.

People n Things

A VERY HIGH percentage of folks filling out questionnaires regarding their feelings about restoration of the Mobley Hilton favor fully restoring the old building instead of replacing it with a new facility. That's a report from our scouts. Understand the Chamber of Commerce committee is due to make its recommendation very soon so things can start happening.

Met up with Mr. Jasper Qualls, one of our old-timers, and he seconded our motion for restoration. Without the old building, the Mobley Hilton would completely lose its image and the basis for a Hilton Memorial, he observed.

GLAD TO HEAR that the Rev. Frank Williams, pastor of First United Methodist Church, got a good report after spending several days in a Fort Worth hospital last week undergoing medical tests. He was released from the hospital and they came home to the parsonage in Cisco Sunday night.

The local pulpit was filled Sunday by Dr. S.W. Reynolds of Fort Worth, a retired Methodist minister. Dr. Reynolds, father of Mrs. Olin Odom III of Cisco, lived in our town several years while he served as area district superintendent for Methodist churches.

MR. OLIN O. ODOM, registrar at Cisco Junior College, flew to Denver, Colorado, Monday to attend a conference of community college registrars. Mayor Eris Ritchie has received a clipping from the New York Times from a man he knows in New York about Cisco's Mobley Hilton. Liz Autry, cashier at the Super Value Grocery here, had her left hand in a sling last week due to a severe sprain. She ran the cash register with one hand. Hear that crappie fishing is picking up at Lake Cisco. It's the time of year for them.

SPRING TURKEY hunting season opened last week.

Stephenson Is Laid To Rest In Tuesday Rites

Funeral services for H.M. (Jack) Stephenson, 65, native Ciscoan who died at 8:40 p.m. Saturday, were conducted at 3 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Buddy Sipe, pastor, officiated.

Mr. Stephenson was stricken at the family's ranch home north of Cisco. He was taken to E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital where he passed away soon after arrival.

Born Dec. 13, 1918, in Cisco, Mr. Stephenson was the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. G.M. Stephenson. He was a graduate of the Cisco Public Schools, attended Randolph College in Cisco, Tarleton State College in Stephenville and went to the U.S. Army during WWII after finishing at Texas A&M University.

After serving in the Army's Air Corps during the war years, Mr. Stephenson was an aviation pilot for an oil field service company until he retired.

Mr. Stephenson was married Jan. 27, 1945, to Fay Cheatham in Great Falls, Montana. They made their home at the Stephenson ranch north of town for many years, and he had engaged in ranching since retiring as a pilot. He was a long-time member of the Baptist church. Mrs. Stephenson, a registered nurse, is employed by the State Health Department.

Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery with Kimbrough Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were B.J. Reynolds, B.J. Taylor, Bill Philpott, Joe Philpott, Paul Lavender, and Revis Gregg. Named as honorary pallbearers were Don Reynolds, Bill Childers, Bill Wende and Joe Sitton.

Surviving Mr. Stephenson are his wife; two sons, Charles Stephenson of Bedford, and Jack Stephenson of Bowling Green, Ky.; a sister, Mrs. Louise Kinslow of San Antonio; and three grandchildren.

Saturday in our area and successful hunters included Rick Whitley and Billy Wright during a hunt at the Wright Ranch. Ronnie Ledbetter, who went along, has a couple of very near misses, we heard. Some Winnsboro banker friends of Mr. Bill Philpott of our town were in Cisco and had a successful hunt. The spring season runs through April 29th. And that will wind up hunting until dove shooting time come September.

WENT DOWN TO Fredericksburg last Thursday for a three-day gathering of travel trailer folks, including Sutton Crofts and the Ed Bradshaws of Cisco, and it was a nice affair. A bonus for the trip was the opportunity to see Bluebonnets, Indian Paint Brush and other wild flowers in beautiful bloom. They were particularly nice in the area between Mason and Brady.

At Mason, we observed a good idea. They have 55-gallon steel barrels around the square as trash containers. And each barrel has been painted with a nice scene of some kind - painted by local artists, no doubt. They add to the appearance of the streets.

At Fredericksburg's Lady Bird Johnson City Park, an attraction was the nine-hole golf course. A nice creek flows through the golf course and they've built several small dams that provide long ponds of water here and there. Understand the fishing is pretty good. And a good many ducks and geese live there and are interesting to watch.

STOPPED AT the Plateau Restaurant at the south edge of Brady en route home Sunday and sat down next to Mr. A.R. Rutherford, who was Cisco's Chevy dealer 19 years ago. He now lives in Brady and he and son Rodney own and operate the restaurant and an 87-unit motel that surrounds it.

The Rutherford family lived in Brady several years. They went to Sonora from Cisco and operated a General Motors dealership for a number of years. He sold out due to a health problem and moved to Brady when he recovered. The Rutherford's daughter, Ann, is married to an Albany man and they have one son. Both teach at Killeen.

MET UP WITH Mr. Earl Conner, retired judge of the 91st District Court at Eastland. He told us that he was attending a social event of some sort recently. A lady pointed to his necktie, one of those wide ones, and told him: "You're out of style." "I guess that pretty well describes me," the judge answered.

Although he has been retired several years, Judge Conner still is called on from time to time to fill in as a judge at area courts where the regular jurist has disqualified himself or is unable to serve due to illness or good cause.

HEARD ABOUT a second grade teacher who took her class to see a museum. A 17th century French drawing room was on display - correct in every little detail.

Back at school next day, the teacher asked students to think about the drawing room and to tell her what impressed them most.

One little boy said: "It didn't have television."

A LOT OF hammering and nailing went on last Saturday out in the Romney area where a group of Baptist folks are building a residence for the Rev. Harry Garvin, missionary in Uganda, and family who plan to move here in the late summer of 1985.

Some 21 able bodied men were there to work on the log type house. They were supported by women and youngsters. Folks were present from Rochester, Obrien, Abilene, Luaders, Danbury and elsewhere - places where Rev. Garvin has preached.

Plans call for another work party there this coming Friday and Saturday. Gerald Winnett and Bill Philpott are the major domos and they're inviting one and all to come out and help.

VISITING IN Cisco Monday and Tuesday were Mrs. A.Z. Myrick and son Jerry Myrick of Fort Worth. Mrs. AZM is doing nicely after an extended illness and enjoyed greeting old friends, our scouts report. Sorry to hear that the home of Dr. Clark Odom in Big D was burglarized a week or so ago. Understand two 15-year old burglars were caught with the stolen goods.

Director Of Nursing Is Introduced At Reception

Mrs. Rodgers, a native of Electra, resides at Gorman with her husband, James M. Rodgers. She is a graduate of Centro College of Nursing in Dallas and has been employed as a nurse for six years.

"Nursing being my second career," stated Mrs. Rodgers, "was initiated in 1978. I started as a pediatric nurse at Parkland Memorial Hospital in 1978. Working with children was a far cry from the executive suite, typewriters, computers and adding machines. I found it far more rewarding."

She continued, "From 1980 to 1981, I spent a year at Archer County Hospital, Archer City, Texas, surveying a shift. In 1981 I became Director of Nursing at Blackwell Hospital in Gorman. There was a management change after a year so I moved on to Brownwood Regional Hospital. I opened the Pediatric Unit in October of 1982. In November of the same year I married Mike Rodgers of Gorman. Due to the distance I had to travel, Mike requested I work closer to home. Since June of 1983, I have worked part-time at Ranger General Hospital."

Mrs. Rodgers concluded, "In March of this year Dr. Allen Ahlschier contacted me about coming to E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital. I came for a visit and was very impressed with Mrs. Orr and the staff. I look forward to a most rewarding and long relationship with the people of Cisco and personnel of E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital."

Mrs. Mosley, who served as director of nursing for some three years, resigned in order to have more free time. She remains with the hospital as a staff nurse.

"We are very happy to welcome Mrs. Rodgers to our staff," Mrs. Orr said. "And we are real pleased that Mrs. Mosley is staying on as a staff nurse."

Some 75 persons called during the reception hours.

Letters to the editor ...

Editor,
I want to take this opportunity to express my thanks to John Pickelsimer for directing the community choir which performed the Alleluia Cantata last Sunday night at First Baptist Church. I also would like to thank each choir member as I realize that to perform as beautiful as they did, it took a lot of hard practice.
I praise God that members of different churches can come together and sing the praises of God.

Above all, I want to give God thanks for His presence in the service and for His touch upon lives.

May God Bless each and everyone in this beautiful Easter season.
