HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

WE ARE glad to report that J.W. Sitton was said to be doing real well Tuesday morning at West Texas Medical Center in Abilene, following a heart attack Saturday.

The reports we received said he was expected to be moved from the ICU there to a room at Dyess Air Force Base Hospital either on Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mr. Sitton writes the People 'N Things column for the Press and also works part-time for the newspaper as a reporter. He formerly owned the Eastland County Newspapers before selling to H.V. O'Brien in the early 70s.

A GIFT to the Conrad Hilton Memorial Endowment Fund was given in memory of J.C. Fletcher and Ed Farley by Annita and Eris Ritchie last week.

THE FOLLOWING article was sent to me by Joe T. Cook of Louisville, Mississippi, and is a copy of a column which his wife, Dorothy McCantles Cook, wrote for their newspaper on some childhood reminiscences about the old Mobley Hotel.

Mr. Cook stated that although his wife was not born in Cisco, she spent a number of her childhood years here. She was the daughter of H.A. McCantles, who died in 1974 and is buried in the Cisco Cemetery.

The article, reprinted from Winston County Journal, April 10, 1984, follows: OF MANY THINGS by Dorothy K. Cook

OF MEMORY'S MEMENTO "Mobley HO-TEL! Mobley HO-TEL!" It was the voice of the hotel porter drumming up business in the little West Texas town as I was carried half-asleep off the early morning train and deposited in the waiting arms of my Grandpa. Mingled inextricably in my memory with the tickle of my Grandpa's whiskery kiss is the very tone of the black man's voice directing the attention of the traveling public to the small hotel nearby.

"Mobley HO-TEL! Mobley HO-TEL!"

Yes, it was always the same. Hearing him, I knew with a catch of my breath that we had arrived in Cisco! (No, I don't know if the town was named for the Cisco Kid or no. Maybe it was. But, whether or not, it has never bothered me. Certainly not then.)

Cisco, the one place in all the world that I loved most! Cisco! Where the grandparents lived! And the aunts and the uncles and the cousins! Where the big white house on the hill waited for me! Where I could slide down the bannisters and the cellar door.... and ride fat Old Daisy.... where we could build playhouses under the lilac bushes.... and where we could "crawfish" in the "little tank" with bits of salt pork tied to our lines.... where we could play to our hearts' content in the "little wood".... and go barefoot from morn until night.... where we could swing in Grandma's swing on the east "gallery".... and where we sat in a row with our cousins on a bench at the long dining table and ate corn on the cob, fried chicken, hot biscuits, and peach cobbler.... Cisco!

Well, it was a long time ago.... I was just a baby, really; and now I am the grandmother of a young man who will receive his law degree in a month or two. But I haven't forgotten; nor shall I ever!

"Mobley HO-TEL! Mobley HO-TEL!"

And, according to a newspaper clipping I received recently, the old Mobley Hotel is going to be restored within the new future. The first hotel that the magnate Conrad Hilton ever purchased, the little Mobley in oil boom town Cisco has historic significance to West Texas and is to be a memorial museum.

"Cisco was a cowtown gone crazy, but basically still a cowtown." Conrad Hilton writes in his autobiography. "Be My Guest." "I had a feeling it had been there yesterday and would be there tomorrow.... There were oil men in laced boots and flaring trousers, each one a potential millionaire. The oil fields were pouring black gold into their veins. Catering to all were the false-front emporiums, overcrowded restaurants and hotels.

"The Mobley Hotel, when I first saw it, looked like a convenient place to sleep. Nothing more," he continues. "The milling press of people in the hotel lobby acted like sardines clamoring to get into the can.... The following day, the Mobley changed hands. I was in the hotel business. And I hadn't been in the hotel business five minutes before I knew that this was IT.

"Already at the Mobley, we were full up.... even and including my own bed. That night I slept in the office and dreamed of Texas wearing a chain of hotels.

"It took some doing to make that dream come true." So the little Mobley is going to shine and sparkle again. Well, I'm very glad. And, thinking about it, I seem to hear a husky voice calling softly and approvingly down the years: "Mobley HO-TEL! Mobley HO-TEL!"

Residents Ready For Week's Activities

Residents of Cisco and the surrounding area were preparing this week for the annual festivities scheduled for the Folklife Festival and the activities associated with Cisco Junior College's Ranch Day.

Ranch Day at CJC was to be held Wednesday, May 2nd, and were to be kicked off with a 6:45 a.m. western breakfast. At 8:30 a.m., the chili cook-off was to begin.

A barbecue lunch was set for noon outside the college cafeteria and at 12:45, judging was to begin for the Best Dressed Cowboy and Cowgirl. Most Typical Cowboy and Cowgirl, the ugliest, longest and most handsome beard. There was also to be a hog calling contest.

At 1:00 p.m., the activities were to move to the practice field, below the hill, where contests would include egg toss, jalapeno eating, cigar smoking, bubble blowing, a frog hop race, a turtle race, tow sack races and a tug-o-war. Then back to the gym for the annual "Battle of the Sexes" volleyball game. At 7:30 p.m. there was to be a western dance in the Student Union Building (SUB) for the student body.

On Friday, May 4, the annual "Big Country Revue" begins at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Harrell Fine Arts building. Included in the Revue will be the Wrangler Concert Band, the Stage Band, the Wrangler Belles, the Nicki Harle Dancers, vocal soloists, the CJC singers, Steven Zell at the organ, skits and novelty acts, and country-western and rock music by the CJC special ensemble. Admission is free and open to the public.

Saturday, May 5, will start off the day's activities with "The World's Shortest Trailride" beginning breakfast at 7:00 a.m. at the Lake Cisco Park. Trailriders will leave the park at 9:00 to join the downtown Cisco Frontier Jubilee Parade at 10:00.

It is not imperative that persons ride in the trailride to enjoy the breakfast. In case of rain, breakfast will be served at the college cafeteria. Anyone interested in participating in the breakfast and trailride is asked to contact Gerald Bint at CJC.

Everyone is invited to participate in the Cisco Frontier Jubilee Parade, Saturday, at 10:00 a.m. Divisions include floats, automobiles, bands, marching and performing groups, riding clubs, a children's division and much more. To enter the parade call Olin Odom at CJC, 442-2567.

Immediately following the parade, the 11th Annual Folklife Festival will begin at the CJC Agriculture Building located below College Hill. The festival will also continue on Sunday, May 6.

The festival's aim is to demonstrate pioneer skills, to remind everyone that the pioneer was a self sufficient breed and to teach visitors the skills if they wish to learn. This year's demonstrations will include how to make sauerkraut, bread, rush a chair, noodles, rugs and inupuch.

As in the past there will be booths selling arts, crafts and foods. There will be live entertainment all day, both days. A fiddler's contest will be held on Saturday.

A complete list of both days scheduled activities at the Folklife Festival is printed elsewhere in this edition.

The sponsoring Cisco Civic League says, "Ya'll come." For more information concerning the Cisco Folklife Festival, contact Cisco Civic League, 817-442-1127 or 442-3846.

Albert G. Biggs Issues His Formal Statement

Albert G. Biggs has authorized this paper to publish his announcement of his candidacy for the position of Sheriff, of Eastland County, Texas and a few facts about himself, and his beliefs as to why he should be allowed to serve the people of Eastland County as Sheriff.

Albert is a native of Eastland County, and as such is acquainted to the problems of the people, and is acquainted with the area.

Albert, was raised in Eastland County and attended the Eastland school district from the elementary thru the high school level. During his career in law enforcement he has served in several capacities such as:

Lieutenant in charge of security at Lago Vista, Texas for 4 years; Chief of police in DeLeon, Texas; Senior patrolman in Dublin, Texas; Chief of police in Gorman, Texas; and Deputy Sheriff in Eastland County for 3 1/2 years; a total of 12 1/2 years serving the public.

Albert attended several law enforcement schools that would be beneficial in the job of Sheriff of Eastland County. A few of them are:

Arrest, search and seizure, Penal Code, Code of Criminal Procedure, Criminal Investigations, Interviews, and Interrogations, Constitutional Law, Fingerprinting and Latent Prints, and numerous other inservice type training schools.

Albert would like to take this opportunity to urge all registered voters to turn out and vote for the candidate of their choice on May 5th, this is more than just a right. It is an obligation to the future generations and to yourselves, the citizens of Eastland County.

As your sheriff, if elected, I will strive to make Eastland County a safer place for you the citizens of Eastland County to live and raise our children, by closing the gap of communication between the departments and the gap of communication between the law enforcement personnel and the citizens of the county. As most of us are aware, there is an ever increasing problem with drugs among our younger people of the county, we all need to take a stand and combat this problem with the leaches that are preying on our younger citizens, the majority of all criminal activity in the county is related to either the beverage problem with the young, in most cases the person that commits these crimes are either intoxicated on drugs or alcohol, or commit the crimes to get the money to continue their habit. In order to combat this problem we all have to work together. Law enforcement personnel and the citizens of the county as one well oiled machine. I believe if the law enforcement personnel will work together sharing the information instead of trying to solve every crime alone, we can control the crime rate and get the reputation that Eastland County once had with the criminal element (Don't commit any crime in Eastland County, and if committed elsewhere, don't have your trial moved to Eastland County), but it will take all of us working together as a whole, citizens and law enforcement personnel alike.

I believe if the officers will remember that they are citizens and work with each other and the private citizens, most ever good citizen of Eastland County will help in making the job of keeping us and our property safe, and the criminal element down, the petty jealousies between departments and officers must stop in order for law and order to once again prevail in our fine county. Cooperation and communication are the key words to effective law enforcement and the safety of our children and elderly.

I will strive to maintain an effective department for the protection of the citizens of Eastland County, as economically as possible but not cutting expenses to the point that it will jeopardize even one citizen of the county.

I would appreciate your vote on Saturday, May 5th for Albert G. Biggs for the position of Sheriff of Eastland County, Texas, where I feel that I can best serve you the people. I ask that you all study and ask God for guidance on your decision as how to vote, and then vote accordingly.

Cisco Jr. High Band Receives 1st Division

The Cisco Junior High Band earned a First Division rating at the Sandy Lake Band Festival held in Carrollton last Friday.

The 57-member organization has competed there for the last 3 years, and this is the first year they received the coveted First Divisional Award.

The group performed "Winchester March" by John Edmundson and "British Isle Medley" by Art Jasper. Mr. Edmundson was one of the judges of the group. Other judges were Mr. Jim Jacobson of Fort Worth, and Mr. Bob Foster from Kansas City. The judges were very complimentary of the band's sound and style.

Mr. Young had promised the students that he could be dunked if the students received a "1". There was not a pool nearby but Kevin Kirk, Jason Phillips and William Pevey "dunked" him with an ice chest full of water.

After their performance the group spent the rest of the day at Six Flags Over Texas.

Adults accompanying the trip were Alvin Young, band director, Lennie Johnson, Bettye McGinness, Rachael Cagel, Evelyn Valk, Charlotte Kaltenbaugh and Janice Shepard.

Stenholm Endorses Kent Hance

"I usually do not get involved in other campaigns, but in the U.S. Senate race, I'm making an exception. It is too vital for the future of Texas for me to sit idly by without doing all I can to help Kent Hance become our United States Senator."

Congressman Charles Stenholm
17th Congressional District

Kent Hance has been the United States Congressman representing Lubbock and 14 other West Texas counties since 1978. In three terms, he has chartered a course of independence, hard work, and courage. He's done it by fighting for what he believes in and calling issues the way he sees them. Among his accomplishments are:

- For the Taxpayer: Hance legislation cut income taxes you pay by 25% over three years.
- For the Economy: Hance won tax cuts to help stimulate economic expansion; voted against more than $400 billion in wasteful spending; fought for a balanced budget amendment.
- For the Farmer: Hance has always been a fighter for the family farm . . . both as a member of the House Agriculture Committee and the Ways and Means Committee. He successfully pushed through changes in the tax code to reduce crippling estate (inheritance) taxes.

Soil Erosion Is A Major Problem To Texas Farmers

Soil Erosion by both wind and water is a major problem in Texas and is continually aggravated by some current farming practices and economics.

"The economics of modern farming, larger equipment, high interest rates and careless conservation attitudes have all led to excessive soil erosion in recent years," says Dr. B.L. Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Many farmers are faced with a tough choice—practicing conservation or economics—with the result being biased towards economics out of a basic sense of survival, notes the specialist.

"Farmers generally can't afford to practice all needed conservation methods. Many are in extreme financial straits, so economics determine to a great extent what they can or cannot do, regardless of the recommended conservation practices," says Harris.

Farmers now use larger equipment and cultivate more, leading to increased erosion. Few maintain or install new terraces because of economics.

Absentee landlords are also a factor in soil erosion, notes Harris. Farmers leasing cropland often cannot afford soil conservation practices. And, unless a leasee had a long-term agreement, he has no guarantee that he will obtain adequate benefit from soil conservation work.

"Improving land management practices is the key to solving soil erosion problems," believes Harris. "If farmers believe they must continue to farm erosive land, they should follow farming practices that help cut down on erosion."

Contouring and terracing can cut erosion losses in half. Leaving crop residue on the ground can reduce erosion by another 40 percent. Conservation tillage and double cropping also help. Some farmers shy away from these practices because of the costs involved, notes the specialist.

"The best solution is to use each acre for what it is best adapted to produce," Harris emphasizes. "Soil erosion has increased in areas where more sloping pasture land is now used to grow crops. Returning such land to its original state would benefit all concerned. It would be a way to slow the process of erosion, rebuild the topsoil, and save the land for future use." Local soil and water conservation districts and conservationists with the Soil Conservation Service can provide excellent advice on erosion control and technical expertise for installing practices, says the specialist. The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service provides some "cost-share" funds for selected conservation practices, and the Farmers Home Administration provides loans to assist with conservation programs.

All of these agencies and more work together to assist landowners and uses to protect their basic resources while they reap realistic profits from their production operations. Harris encourages farmers and ranchers to make extensive use of assistance from these state and federal agencies.

"Conservation must first be a well-ingrained attitude in landowners before any long-term improvement in soil resources occurs," contends Harris. "All users of land are encouraged to give serious thought to the quality and condition of lands they will leave to future generations."

There are ways to diminish wind damage to soil. These rye strips on peanut land near Carbon have cut soil loss to an acceptable level.

Padre Island? No. This Eastland County fence has been nearly covered by blowing sand. The Soil Conservation Service reports soil loss from wind erosion this spring is the worst in many years.

It's The Fashion

Granny wore hoops and skirts and a bustle.

Pettycoats starched so stiff they would rustle.

Real long skirts that reached to the floor.

Granny could hardly get in at a door.

But nobody cared, it was the fashion.

Mother came later dressed much lighter.

Real long skirts, but they were much tighter.

But nobody cared, it was the fashion.

Now come the Chick as light as a feather.

She wears less and less regardless of weather.

But nobody cares, "IT'S THE FASHION"

Yes too many times we don't care, because, it's the fashion.

Too many people today, when they get off work in the evening must stop at the local bar or beer joint. To "have one with the boys"

Before going home to their family, but nobody cares, it's the fashion.

Yes even "Little Johnny" will see a school mate, skip school and smoke a "joint" and then he thinks, why not? It's the fashion.

Too many people today have too much to do on Sunday. Too busy with worldly things to go to the house of worship. After all, they say, "it's the only day I have off". I must work on the car. I want to go some where. I want to go fishing. It's the Fashion.

Perhaps we should remember the Hebrew writer when he said in Hebrews 10:25 "Not forsaking the assembling of our selves together."

Maybe we should forget "The Fashion" and choose whom we will serve; as Joshua said in Joshua 24:15 "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

Party Primary Elections To Be May 5

The Eastland County Primary Elections, both Democratic and Republican, will be held from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Saturday, May 5.

The Democratic polling places will be: Prec. 1, Eastland, held at Courthouse, Prec. 2, Olden, held at the Olden Community Center, Prec. 3, Ranger, held at the Community Center, Prec. 4, Desdemona, held at School Building, Prec. 5, Gorman, held at Fire Hall, Prec. 6, Carbon, held at School (Homemaking Cottage), Prec. 7, Rising Star, held at City Hall, Prec.

8, Cisco, held at the Laguna Hotel Corral Room, Prec. 9, Lake Leon, held at the home of Mrs. Morris Newham.

The Republican polling place (County wide) will be at the City Hall in Eastland. Sample ballots for both Democratic and Republican parties are published elsewhere in this newspaper.

To participate in this election, voters must have registered by April 5. All registered persons should have received Voter Registration cards from the County Tax Assessor's office. If you have not received your card, you should contact this office. The Precinct number where you vote is on this card.

A person cannot vote in both the Democratic and Republican Primaries, but must choose one or the other. In November, voters will have a choice between candidates nominated by both parties, and may split the ticket if they so choose.

Voters who wish to directly participate in selecting the Democratic Presidential nominee must attend a caucus. The names of the Democratic presidential candidate do not appear on the Democratic Primary ballot.

In the County races, the most interest seems to be centered around the contest of Sheriff. Incumbent Johnnie W. Morren is in a three-way race with Albert Biggs and Don Underwood. The count is expected to be close, with all sides getting out as many votes as possible.

County Commissioner, Prec. 1, Richard A. Robinson is opposed for re-election by Danny Woods, and Constable, Precinct No. 1 William A. (Bill) Hunter, is opposed by Edward Squires, Jr.

Judge Jim R. Wright, 91st Judicial District, is unopposed in his bid for re-election to another term.

On the national scene, Charles W. Stenholm is expected to win with the nomination to run for another term as U.S. Representative, Dist. 17. His opponent is Noel S. Cowling, a farmer from the Dublin area.

The United States Senatorial race, however, is a stiff one between six candidates: David Young, Kent Hance, Bob Krueger, Lloyd Doggett, Robert Sullivan, and Harley Schlanger. The winner in this contest will oppose the Republican candidate in November.

This candidate may possibly be Phil Gramm, who is in a four-way race on the Republican side for the office being vacated by Senator Tower. The office of U.S. Senator is the only one on the Eastland County republican ballot which contains multiple candidates. Voters have a chance, however, to vote for President Reagan and several state offices, as well as Chairmen on a local level. Mrs. Scott Bailey of Cisco, is the County Chairman for the Democratic Party, and Joe Williamson of Eastland is Chairman of the Republican Party.

The public is urged to give careful consideration to the issues involved in these Primary elections, then come out and vote. The results will be posted on the Election Board on the Courthouse Square and reported on the media as soon as votes are counted.

County Population Increases About 500 Per Year Since '80

The population of Eastland County has increased about 500 per year since the 1980 census. By July 1, 1982 it had risen from the 1980 census report of 19,480 to 20,370.

This is according to a letter received by Judge Scott Bailey from Roger A. Herriott, Chief, Population Division, U.S. Bureau of the Census.

The figures of this estimate will be used by the Office of Revenue Sharing as one of the data elements in the general revenue sharing formula. The figures will also be used for allocations in other Federal programs.

In the report there is no breakdown of the data as to communities, but the only statistics. A steady growth is definitely reflected in this report.

The procedure for determining the change in population is known as the Administrative Methods Method, and is extremely thorough.

It includes natural change, such as birth and death statistics, migration noted on Federal Income Tax Return addresses, and various other adjustments. The Local Contact for Eastland County is Dr. Steve Murdock, Texas A&M University.

County Judge Scott Bailey states that he believes the estimate is carefully done and basically correct. He notes that all signs in the area point to a steady growth, and expects the trend to continue.

Artist Lois Holcomb To Give Art Demonstration

The Eastland County Art Association will meet Thursday, May 3, 7:00 p.m. in the Texas Electric Reddy Room in Eastland.

A Demonstration will be featured by Lois Holcomb, noted watercolorist from Stephenville. Mrs. Holcomb is a member of the Central Texas Art Association and Southwest Watercolor Society.

She states that her interest in art began in San Angelo, but that she did not really develop a technique in watercolor until she moved to Clifton, in Central Texas.

There she came in contact with such noted artist as Joan Spieler, John Carter, James Boren and Bud Biggs. The group met annually on Labor Day weekend for painting and sharing of instruction, and this was of great benefit.

After Mrs. Holcomb moved from Clifton to Stephenville she continued her interest and work. Her paintings have been widely recognized, and are now in private collections and hanging in three galleries in the southwest. The Interfirst Bank in Stephenville also has a display of her art.

Members of the Eastland County Art Association state that they felt very fortunate to present Lois Holcomb in a Demonstration. All interested persons are urged to come out and benefit from her instruction.

Shaklee Meet

There will be a meeting Saturday, May 5, at 3:00 p.m. at 712 W. 19th Street in Cisco. Dr. Jim Calvert, a Bio Chemist, and his wife, Maxine will also be present and a very interesting film will be shown on Shaklee's Basic H Concentrated Soil Conditioner.

Five good reasons that can be beneficial to your crops are as follows:

1. Helps increase the rate at which water penetrates soils.
2. Makes water wetter, overcoming water repellancy.
3. Promotes maximum water utilization by reducing runoff and loss by evaporation.
4. Assists drainage in areas where standing water might otherwise accumulate.
5. Permits more uniform water penetration, thereby reducing dry spots.

Come to the meeting and learn more about this wonderful product and what it can do for your grass, your farm, the land which is where you grown feed for your livestock.

You will be glad that you and your family, friends, and neighbors formed a car pool and joined the other Shaklee people who plan to be at the meeting. The location is the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Martin's Motor Home Park. See you at the meeting! Your Shaklee Reporter Donna Clark

VOTE THIS SATURDAY - MAY 5th

Dear Voter:

I am a candidate for Sheriff of Eastland County in the May 5th election because I believe that the protection of life and property are the sole duties of a sheriff.

I believe that good law enforcement can return control of the county to the law abiding rather than the law breaking.

I am fully convinced that drugs and drug-related crimes are a definite threat to our society as citizens. My past experience qualifies me and I assure the citizens of Eastland County that something can be done concerning these problems.

I am 42 years old and was born in Eastland County. My wife, Delores, and I have three sons and two grandsons. I graduated from Carbon High School and the Department of Public Safety Academy in Austin, Texas. I have received Specialty Law Enforcement training, am a Certified Instructor and hold an Advanced Certificate in Law Enforcement.

During the past 17 years, I have spent 2 years as the Nolan County Juvenile Officer and Truant Officer. I have spent 6 years as a Texas Highway Patrolman and 1 year as investigator for the Eastland Police Department. For 7 years, I was the Sheriff of Nolan County, Texas. During the last 2 years in office as Sheriff, the City of Sweetwater was rated in the top 3% in Texas for felony crimes solved and prosecutions made.

I have over 1,000 hours of specialized training in various areas of law enforcement, including jail administration, choosing qualified personnel, fingerprinting, search and seizure, civil process, riot control, criminal investigation, penal code education, courtroom testimony, case preparation, crime scene protection, gathering evidence, traffic law, accident investigation, recognizing and detecting DWI's (Driving While Intoxicated) and recognition of various drugs.

I feel that I am able to perform ALL of the duties of the office of Eastland County Sheriff to the benefit of the future of Eastland County and am asking for your support and to remember to vote DON UNDERWOOD for Eastland County Sheriff this Saturday, May 5, 1984.

Thank you,
Don Underwood

Oil Belt News

A new producer has been brought on line in Eastland County's Ranger Field, with Ridge Oil Co. of Breckenridge as the operator.

Located five miles northwest of Ranger, the well is in a 241-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey, Sec. 6, Blk. 4. It is designated as the No. 2 Pounds.

On an open choke, it pumped 50 barrels of oil daily. It bottomed at 3,875 feet and will produce from a perforated interval in the Black Lime Formation, 3,410 to 3,242 feet into the hole.

Eastland County's RED Field gained a new producer when North Ridge Corp. of Duncannonville completed the No. 2 J.B. Harbin, six miles north of Eastland.

The well indicated ability to pump at the rate of 35 barrels of oil per day. It was taken to a 3,895-ft bottom and will produce from a set of perforations in the Marble Falls Formation, 3,422 to 3,444 feet into the wellbore.

The operation is in an 80-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey, A-299.

A 1,450-ft. wildcat well is planned by New West Exploration Inc. of Abilene at a drillsite one mile south of Carbon, Eastland County. The location is in a 105-acre lease in the H&TCRR Survey, Sec. 34, Blk. 2. Well's designation is the No. 4 Sandlin Brothers.

Richey & Co. of Ft. Worth has filed first production figures on two new gas wells in the Comanche-Hites Field.

The operator has 40 acres leased, with drillsite in Eastland County's George Chick Survey, A-36, eight and nine miles north of Cisco.

BRINGS YOU THESE IMPORTANT MONEY-SAVING ARTICLES:

Mr. Fix

CARE OF A GAS FURNACE

As with an oil furnace, a gas furnace should be given an annual maintenance cleaning and adjustment by a professional, who can adjust the gas-air mixture and can see that the pilot light is clean and properly adjusted. See your local heating contractor, who most likely offers the service on an annual basis at a standard price. The furnace man will also check out the blower unit at the same time.

Gas furnaces are generally trouble-free. The most frequently encountered problems involve the pilot light. It may go out for one of two reasons: (1) dirt has accumulated around the pilot light orifice or (2) the thermocouple which controls the gas supply in the event that the pilot light goes off malfunctions.

IF THE PILOT LIGHT FAILS TO STAY LIT

1. Open the access panel on the front of the furnace and examine the gas burner. Locate the pilot and the tube-like thermocouple sticking up right in front of it.
2. There will be a metal shield in front of the pilot light. Remove this shield by loosening the screw which holds it.
3. Use a very fine copper wire (a single strand of a standard lamp wire would do) to carefully clean the pilot light orifice.
4. Replace the pilot light shield.
5. The pilot still fails to remain lit, the thermocouple must be replaced. Call your service man, who will have the replacement part and can do the job in a few minutes.

CHECKS YOU CAN MAKE DURING THE YEAR

1. The gas burner needs no mid-year maintenance.
2. Check the air filters in the furnace, cleaning them at least once during the year.
3. Oil the blower motor at least once during the year between regular maintenance check.
4. Check the drive belt from the blower motor to the blower, and adjust to the proper tension when necessary.

"...OF SHOES AND SHIPS AND SEALING WAX..."
The book previously mentioned in this column is about to be done into English, or a reasonable facsimile thereof!

"Piece Work," is in the proof-reading stage, and if all the gears mesh and Providence cooperates, it will be ready for presentation at the Cisco Folklife Festival the first weekend in May.

The material covers in wide range of subjects matter. Some of it is reprinted from other publications as diverse as "The Dallas Morning News" and "The Upper Room." (Methodist.) Some of it appears for the first time in "Piece Work".

Club members represented range from heretofore unpublished to veterans with books to their credit...Viola Payne, Lela Latch Lloyd, Bill Roberts...

This book is a limited edition, so if you have a taste for autographed firsts, add our book to your collection.

There are poems, inspirational bits, short stories and recollections of other days.

The one of mine I am quoting her appears in the pages of "Piece Work," and I use it because I don't have copy from anyone else.

"Cabbage: What To Do About It"

"My mother belonged to the school of thought that if a little is good, a lot ought to be that much better. I don't always agree with her theory when applied to cooking."

"One of our wash-day dinners was boiled-cabbage-with-potatoes. I can say without fear of successful contradiction that the cabbage was boiled to a fare-thee-well. This is a recipe you don't want to use, but it is so horrible I think it should be in everyone's cookbook to give an appreciation of the finer points of cabbage."

"Of course, this was cooked on a wood stove, and this is the procedure Mom followed...so did her mother. To be fair to my other grandmother, I cannot recall her ever cooking cabbage."

"First thing to be done was to build up the fire, then put stick of green wood in the firebox to hold the heat.

"For cooking cabbage, Mom used an old aluminum pan, about six quart size, and it had seen better days. She filled the pot half-way mark with water, and she put it on to come to a boil while she washed and chunked up a good-sized head of cabbage. Those chunks she dropped into the by-now boiling water, sprinkled in some salt—a "smidgen" is what she called it—and put a lid on the pot. The lid was slightly warped, so she didn't worry about the pot boiling over while she went about her business."

"Once in a while during the morning's chore of scrub, boil, scrub, rinse, and rinse again, and hang out—we never did hand up clothes; we hung out—one of us would come in and poke up the fire, stir the cabbage, and finally peel and cut up some potatoes to cook with the cabbage the last thirty minutes.

"By this time, the cabbage was a delicate sulphur shade, leaning toward beige. I was grown before I could figure out why cabbage was considered a green vegetable. Anyhow, with a pan of cornbread to eat with it, it did serve as a meal. Not a favorite meal, but edible, and we ate it and kept our opinions to ourselves."

"What is was: We were economically disadvantaged and probably culturally deprived, too, but we didn't know any better than to think we were just poor and if the drought would break, the crops would be okay and the stock would thrive and so would we. And it did and we did, and that proves something that someone ought to pay attention to but probably won't."

"Anyhow, that's how not to cook cabbage. Beans, maybe, but not cabbage."

Lights From The Christian World by Josephine Cleveland

One sunny, warm day in early spring a group were searching for a place to have a picnic. They found a lovely meadow. Soon they were sitting on the soft, thick grass enjoying the delicious lunch. They walked among the wild flowers and enjoyed the beauty of the saucy dandelions as they mongled their gold with the royal blue purple of the wild violets.

The next week one of the group who discovered the beautiful meadow said, "Let's go again to this place and take our lunch."

Arriving at the meadow, they were amazed to discover that the hand of the despoiler had been there. Someone had plowed and wrought havoc. Instead of the lush grass, there was turned-up ugly, bare earth. Gone were the golden dandelion and the pretty violets. "How could anyone spoil a place so lovely?" someone said angrily.

One of the group members spoke, "Don't be alarmed.

The plowman is preparing for a harvest. This soil will produce an abundant crop which will benefit many... far more than it would if the land had been left idle.

Friend, it would be well if we could catch a vision of an abundant harvest in our lives when the Master Plowman comes and furrows our souls, uprooting and turning under that which we thought was good in our lives and leaving only what now is bare.

Remember, He does all things well. Trust what He permits in your life is for your good. God is no idle plowman. He purposeth a crop.

WHAT IS HONESTY?

Does "Tell the truth and shame on the Devil," pretty well cover the situation for you?

Is honesty an either/or topic?

How do you react when a person begins, "To be perfectly honest..." Somewhere back down the line, someone must have taken me for a loss on that one as I immediately doubt the rest of the statement, and it makes no difference who's talking.

What about, "S/He's honest to a fault?" Or "...to a point?" How can honesty be a fault? And what happens beyond the point?

It has always been my feeling that most people are honest. Should I qualify that with "most of the time?"

Since I've been ruminating on the subject, I'll have to qualify it because I'm not honest all the time, and I don't propose to change.

That, of course, needs elucidation. All right! All right! What it needs is to be explained, but isn't "elucidation" a scrumptious word! And who knows when I'll get a chance to use it again?

On morals and money I do my best to stick to the straight and narrow. It is easier with money. It's there or it's not. Morals involve judgement, and we come up with so many variables per person that a declaration I'm pluperfect positive is honest is hard for me.

Our moral honesty probably depends on our parents anyway. It's a quality we absorb; and attitude this is acquired at such an early age we may feel it is ingrained. It isn't.

Civilization is a veneer that parents begin applying with baby's first diaper. The process goes on, and some veneers wear better than others.

My dishonesty is, I think, as of course I would-of a mild variety. I call it "tact," but I'm probably just a coward.

If someone asks me if I like her new dress and I honestly think it makes her look like a tubbed crape myrtle, I am not about to say so. I may have to admire the texture of the material or the neckline, but I'll find something.

If a female friend marries a jug-eared disaster area or a male friend weds a rabbit-toothed whiner, it is no time to be honest. A reasonably safe remark is, "S/He certainly thinks you hung the moon and set the stars!" Any newly wed will swallow this whole. It may even be true.

I was taught to tell my party hostess, "I had a nice time," even if I had not wanted to go, got my new shoes stepped on, a ruffle ripped loose, and the little boy I liked spent the whole time teasing somebody else.

I'm still not much of a party-goer, but I've learned to say, "Thank you for asking me." It is not the fault of the hostess if I don't have a good time.

Or I have used, "You planned a great evening!" There was no point adding that I got a great headache out of it, that green peppers give me indigestion, and I could cheerfully strangle the slobbery dog that "thinks he's a human, too!"

Honesty can be difficult. Where does honesty for the sake of morality stop and honesty for the spite of malice begin?

When it comes to God and the IRS, I guess I go for strict honesty, but when honesty means hurting someone's feelings, I expect I'll lie if I think about it in time.

the total volume used at our eight power stations, but we try to take advantage of every opportunity to reduce our fuel costs," said Walter Meller of Abilene, WTU's manager of System Production.

"Deals like this help offset the higher price we must pay under our major contract for a dependable, long-range supply of natural gas," Meller explained.

The Central Energy contract runs to September 1985. Total savings to WTU through the term of the contract will be approximately $13.7 million.

For the past two years WTU has been buying a quantity of cheaper low BTU gas and blending it with pipeline quality gas for use at its Paint Creek Power Station.

Fuel costs have risen sharply every year since the start of the energy crisis of 1983. In recent years, fuel expenses have accounted for at least half of WTU's total annual revenue and for a major portion of customer bills.

All of WTU's existing power plants burn natural gas as a boiler fuel. The Oklahoma Power Station, now under construction near Vernon, will be the Company's first coal-burning plant and also will be the largest plant in the WTU system.

CISCO

Cisco and the whole area is getting ready for the 11th Annual Folk Life Festival, which will be May 5 and 6 at the old National Guard Armory located below College Hill. The Frontier Jubilee Parade is set for Sunday, May 5 at 10:00 a.m. The Festival's aim is to teach and demonstrate pioneer skills, and teach them to visitors if they wish to learn. This year's demonstrations will include how to make sauerkraut, bread, rush a chair, make noodles, rugs and do tinpunching. There will be a number of booths selling arts and crafts and foods, live entertainment will be featured each day. The sponsoring Cisco Civic League invites everyone out to this most authentic Festival.

"Save The Mobley" was the loud, clear message from questionnaires submitted to the Mobley/Hilton Steering Committee recently by citizens of Cisco. The committee is now planning the creation of a perpetual care endowment fund, and will soon begin working out exact details of the project. The Hilton Foundation awarded the City of Cisco $1.2 million for the purpose of establishing an appropriate memorial to Conrad Hilton on the site. Steering Committee members are Mayor Eris Ritchie, Chairman Elaine Dixon, Dr. Norman Wallace and Dick Woolley.

A contract has been approved for the construction of a medical clinic adjacent to E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital. The Cisco Clinic Building and land will represent an investment of around $125,000. Roy Cozart, local contractor, was the successful bidder for the construction work. This will begin in about a month, and the 2,400 sq. ft. building is expected to be ready for use in mid-September. Dr. Tim Boersma, who opened offices recently to practice family medicine, will occupy the new facility. Quarters will be provided for another doctor, and one is expected to be sought sometime next year.

A number of teams have entered the annual Cisco County Club Par-Total Scram Golf Tournament scheduled at the golf course next weekend, May 4-5-6. The format for the event calls for teams to count their low ball scores the first day, their total scores the second day, and a team scramble score the third day. The low ball round on Friday will serve as a qualifying for the tournament. Co-Chairmen for the event are Bobby Smith and Delbert Schaefer.

EASTLAND

A complete reconstruction of Southern Television Cable System facilities in Cisco, Eastland and Ranger is underway and should be completed before the end of the year, Manager

Roy Thackerson has announced. The renovation will enable the company to offer up to 30 channels of cable viewing, Thackerson said. A number of extensions into less-populated areas may be possible, he added. Additional pay service and satellite channels will also become available.

The Eastland County Art Association will have a meeting Thursday, May 3, 7:00 p.m. in the Reddy Room at the Texas Electric Reddy Room at Texas Electric building. Lois Holcomb, noted watercolorist from Stephenville, will give a Demonstration. All artists and interested persons are invited to come out and meet this gifted person and learn from her. Mrs. Holcomb has paintings in a number of private collections, the Inter-First Bank of Stephenville, and galleries of the southwest.

A recent Chamber of Commerce meeting heard reports on new business in the area. A McDonalds restaurant is coming to Eastland, with construction of the building expected to start in 2 to 3 weeks. Construction on Ken's Chicken and Fish place is underway, with the facility expected to open around June 1. These businesses are located on Highway 80 East.

Gene Stallings will be guest speaker at the Sports Banquet Tuesday, May 8. It will be held at 7:00 p.m. at Siebert Elementary. Tickets should be purchased from the Quarterback Club, or at Texas Electric, Eastland National Bank, or Eastland Telegram.

Kent Hance, one of the major Democratic Candidates for the United States Senate, announced that Jim and Sharon Moylan, Bill and Sherry Wright, Dr. and Mrs. Bill Auvenshine and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnett will be his coordinators in Eastland County. In making the announcement Hance said "These will bring the kind of vigorous effort and grass-roots organizational skills that will be an important part of our campaign."

GORMAN

A project called "Something For Our Children" is underway in Gorman. It will be sponsored by the Gorman Chamber of Commerce, the City Commission and Gorman youth and their sponsors, and plans include renovation of the Fire Hall for a Teen meeting place. The community is expected to support the worthy project, and help raise needed funds for the Center. Construction on a new Fire Station will soon be completed, making the old building available for the youth.

RANGER

The Roller Brothers Three Ring Circus will be in Ranger

Friday, May 11, for two performances, one at 6:30 p.m. and the last at 8:30 p.m. It will be at the grounds near Ranger Junior College, and is sponsored by the Ranger Volunteer Fire Department. Many stars appearing in the U.S. for the first time are mixed with the old favorites during the two hour show. The circus will set up for the performance that morning, and the public is also invited out to watch preparations such as the animals being unloaded and the new tent being lifted into the air.

The Quilting Club and the community of the Bullock School will have a benefit Flea Market and Bake Sale on May 4 and 5 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Bullock School House north of Ranger. Proceeds will go for an air conditioning unit for the renovated school house.

it's a crime to shoplift

"I can't believe this is happening to me... honor student, cheerleader, debating club... it was just a prank! I never dreamed I'd have a criminal record! What will this do to my future? How could I have been so stupid?"

Shoplifting is a serious offense, one that could affect your chances for a good job or a college education. If you think shoplifting is a joke... think again, or you may find yourself laughing... all the way to a jail cell!

Former Ciscoan Is Track Coach

The following article was printed in an Oklahoma paper about a former Ciscoan. Layne Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Adams of Cisco. He graduated from Cisco High School, and he now lives in Moore, Oklahoma.

Crooked Oak Middle School track coach Layne Adams got a taste of how good his eighth grade girls would be at the Bethany meet last season.

In the absence of an eighth grade team, Crooked Oak threw together a team of seventh graders for the mile relay. Adams barely had time to demonstrate how to pass the baton before the relay started.

All the team of Lisa Stevens, Lori Ledford, Caci Edge and Minh Sears did was place first at Bethany, ahead of rival Newcastle, and give Adams a peek at the future of the program.

"Since the track program around here has been full of enthusiasm," Adams said. "The whole program has just taken off."

This season, the Class A

Oilers have placed second at the two meets they have attended, but most of the competition has been from Class 2A and 3A. Crooked Oak's eighth grade girls have indeed soared - but they've done it without a runway.

You see, the school doesn't have a track for the girls to work out on.

"We have to get in the bus and drive to Del City High School every day for a half hour to work out," Adams said. "Then we have to get them back in time for lunch."

"There isn't any going out on the track after school or anything like that. So we have stressed individual workouts."

Another handicap the Oilers have overcome has been a small squad. Adams only has eight girls out for track.

"Most of the teams we go up against in meets have 15 to 20 runners and we have only eight out for the whole team," he said.

The best of the eight are Lisa Breath, Dawn Cameron and half-miler, Tammy Edwards. All have an excellent shot at becoming good high school runners, the coach said.

"They are all determined to work hard to improve themselves and they are really motivated about track," Adams said.

Breath and Cameron run the 440 and 880 relays, along with the 100 and 200 meter dashes.

Local Family Observing

Japanese Boy's Day Here

A picturesque old custom observed during the season of the Boy's Festival is the erection of a tall bamboo or wooden pole in the garden or on the rooftop, to which is fastened the symbol of a carp and a long streamer. The steamer, call fukinagashi, is made of several very narrow strips of silk cloth, they now use nylon cloth instead, to fasten to a ring at the top of the pole. The carp symbol, or koinobori, which is fastened to the pole under the steamer, is made of two pieces of paper, muslin or silk joined together in such a way as to fill out in the wind and resemble a fish swimming in the air. Traditionally one carp symbol is hoisted for each son in the family, starting with a large one, perhaps measuring fifteen feet or more for the oldest son, and progressing to smaller ones for the younger sons. A diminutive one is always used for babies. The carp has been a symbol of strength and perseverance because of its ability to fight its way up swift streams and jump waterfalls, and these attributes of determination are accordingly regarded as proper example for young boys.

The Kleiner family is displaying a fish in their yard in celebration of Boy's Day for their son Chris who is four years old and their only son.

Offers Thanks

For Recipes

The Cisco Parent Teacher Organization wishes to thank all the people who turned in recipes to our Cookbook Committee. We had a total of 371 recipes go to the printers. This was a great deal more than the original 250 we first planned. Therefore the planned price will have to be slightly higher. We simply could not turn a child's recipe down!

A total of 700 books were ordered on our first order. These books will be sold to the people who have already placed orders and then on a "first come, first serve" basis. If you wish to reserve a book (or books), please contact one of our committee soon.

We anticipate the delivery of these books early July after the proofing is completed in June. Thank you again for your great recipes!
