Sunday, June 10 Set As Day Of Prayer For Rain

The Ministerial Association is asking that all churches and all Christians pray specifically for rain throughout the day Sunday. They are also urging all churches to observe a special time of prayer for rain on Sunday.

The Sunday observance of prayer for rain will be an area-wide affair with Breckenridge, Albany and Abilene already agreeing to participate. Rev. Shackelford said he planned to contact churches in the Brownwood area, as well as all cities in Eastland County. (staff photo)

Water Will Be Turned Off At 7 P.M. Thursday

Water Will Be Turned Back On Sometime Friday Morning

City water will be turned off in Cisco at 7 p.m., Thursday, June 7, and will not be turned back on until sometime early Friday morning, according to an announcement here by City Manager Mike Moore.

The water must be turned off for this length of time to allow one of the contractors working for the city to tie the new 12-inch line into the present system. Mr. Moore said the water tower must be drained before they can tie into the system Thursday night.

He said it takes a few hours for the tower to drain and after the new line is tied in, it will take quite a while to refill the tower and resume normal water pressure. Mr. Moore said it takes 10 to 11 hours to refill the tower with the pumps working full speed.

All citizens are being asked to curtail their usage of water Thursday night and Friday morning in order to allow the tower time to refill.

Hance Carries County

The voting turnout for the Second Democratic Primary (Runoff) on June 2 was light in Eastland County. But it was still considered "better than usual" by Democratic leaders.

In 1982 only 11% of the Eastland County Democrats voted in the Runoff Primary. This time around 14% participated.

There are about 10,000 Democrats registered in Eastland County, and of this

CHS Students

Receive Honors

The twenty Cisco High school music students who competed at the U.I.L. State Music Solo-Ensemble Contest returned to Cisco Sunday with high honors. Competing at the state contest were the eighteen members of the Jazz Band, the CHS Twirlers, a saxophone quartet, and a trombone solo by Tommy Cross.

The CHS Jazz Band earned a rating of "Division II - Excellent", which means there were only a few minor flaws which prevented the group from earning the "First Division" award. "At the time we left the contest, no jazz band in the state had earned a first division," commented band director Al Young. "So, I am very pleased with our performance and rating." He also commented that all classes of schools, large or small, are expected to perform at the same level of excellence.

The CHS Twirlers (Leah Lambeth, Robin Ritchie and Melissa Wylie) earned a "Division III - Good" rating as well as the saxophone quartet of Tracey Couch, Margaret Yeager, Leah Lambeth, and Rusty Hughes.

Tommy Cross performed a trombone solo and earned a "Division IV - Fair" rating.

All of the students who competed at the State music contest had previously qualified at the Regional Music Contest, earning a "Division I - Superior" rating in competition.

Approximately 11,000 students from across the state competed at the State Solo-Ensemble Contest in Austin, held last Saturday and Monday. Only a small percentage of the students earn the "First Division" rating.

number 1,490 cast their ballot on June 2.

No local offices were on the ballot, but the Kent Hance - Lloyd Doggett race for the Senatorial nomination drew a lot of attention. Hance carried the County by a large majority, drawing 1107 votes to 383 for Lloyd Doggett.

Hance did not fare so well statewide, however. At the last count he was trailing Doggett by a narrow margin, mainly because of the vote in big city areas. Hance did particularly well in West Texas, but lost in metropolitan districts. A recount of the vote on a state level is expected.

Eastland County absentee balloting, as well as the ballots cast on election day, went heavily for Hance. Of the absentees, thirty four were for Hance, and six for Doggett.

Eastland gave Kent Hance 339 votes, with 113 for Doggett. Cisco voters gave Hance 226 and Doggett 123. Ranger had a lower turnout, giving 164 votes to Hance and 51 to Doggett. Ballots in all the Precincts generally followed this pattern.

Totals for the Judges on the Court of Criminal Appeals (the highest State Criminal Court, and located in Austin) were not as sharply divided as in the Senatorial nominee race. For Place 2 W.C. (Bill) Davis carried the County with 745 votes over his opponent Roy E. Greenwood's 539.

The County total on Place 3 was very similar. Bill White won with 738 votes to Thomas B. (Tom) Thorpe's 547 votes.

As this paper went to press - Tuesday, June 5 - the Democratic Precinct Chairmen were meeting in the Commissioner's Courtroom to canvass the votes.

Lions Noon Club Meets At Country Club For Installation

The Cisco Lions Noon Club and their guests met at the Cisco Country Club Saturday evening for the installation of new club officers for 1984-1985.

After a sumptuous meal, the meeting was called to order by Lion president C.B. Dill. Lion Willard Johnson lead the group in singing "America." Lion Cook gave the invocation.

Secretary Lion Cook presented attendance pins to Earl Ray, Walter Knowlden, C.B. Dill, and also to O.L. Stamey for his 47 years of perfect attendance.

Lion Stamey introduced the guest speaker, Lion Bill Terry and his wife, who are from Tuscola, Texas.

Lion Terry spoke on "The Key To The Future." He gave an interesting and informative talk, after which he installed the new officers, charging them with the duties of their office.

New officers were installed as follows: President, Robert Conner; 1st vice-president, Chief Brown; 2nd vice-president, Jerry McBeth; 3rd vice-president, Bruce Sellstrom; Secretary-treasurer, J.W. Cook; Lion Tamer, Ralph Glenn; Tail Twister, Rickey Whalley; Assistant Tail Twister, Brad Kimbrough; Song Leader, Wyley Peebles; and Assistant Song Leader, Dr. Cleveland. Directors who will serve a two year term are Randy Speegle, Owen King and John McGuire.

1983-84 president C.B. Dill then turned over his gavel to the new president, Lion Bob Conner. Lion Dill was presented with a "Past-President" pin, Lion Conner was presented a "President" pin and Lion Cook was presented with a "Zone Chairman" pin.

Lion Ivan Webb presented Lion Terry and his wife with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The meeting was adjourned amid a spirit of "Togetherness and Good Fellowship."

IT IS TIME TO CLEAN UP- Summer employees of the City of Cisco have been working this week to give Cisco a well-kept appearance for business prospects who will be arriving soon to consider moving into Cisco. Shown in the above photo is Bennie Brown, son of Sandra Langford. Bennie will be a senior next fall at Cisco High School. (staff photo)

Family Health Care Costs And Life Styles Are Linked

Many people worry about the cost of a major illness or accident in the family, but often fail to consider what influence they can have on potential medical expenses, says health educator Dr. Mary Ann Heussner.

According to a recent survey by the Health Insurance Association of America, three out of four people believe health care costs are going up at a faster rate than other costs, Heussner reports. But only one in four think they are responsible for the rise in costs, she adds.

"While hospitals and doctors can contribute to medical costs containment, controlling medical costs begin at home," says Heussner, a specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economics program.

Many major illnesses and premature deaths are linked to lifestyle habits, she explains. Changing these habits can help create a healthier family and control medical expenses.

For example, you can stop smoking, which will not only improve your health, but also reduce the respiratory infections experienced by the children and other non-smokers in the family, says the specialist.

You can make sure the family eats a balanced diet which includes foods from the protein group of meat, poultry, fish and eggs; fruits and vegetables; breads and cereals; and dairy products each day. You can also moderate the family's fats and sweets and encourage family members to lose extra pounds if they are overweight.

If you drink alcohol, you can drink in moderation.

You can learn to deal with stress through relaxation, exercise regularly to stay in good condition, and get adequate sleep. Relaxation and exercise activities can be enjoyed by all members of the family and have the extra advantage of contributing to family togetherness.

When you drive or ride in a car, you can make sure that your children ride in safety seats, and other family members wear seat belts.

Finally, families should also protect their children with immunizations against childhood diseases, says Heussner. Recent studies show only two-thirds of young children are being immunized against diseases such as polio and measles.

When you do need to use medical services, says the specialist, use them wisely, to get the most for your medical dollar. Get regular check-ups and see your doctor only when you really have a problem. Use emergency rooms only for emergencies.

Then follow your doctor's instructions and take all medication as directed. Some people stop taking medications because they start feeling better, without realizing that all the medication must be taken to be fully effective, she notes.

Also, treat drugs and pharmacy services as any consumer product and shop around for the best price, says Heussner.

Fishing Report

Terry L. Wilson

Kids and fishing are a natural combination, going together as perfectly as ham and eggs.

Images of a barefoot boy with cane pole and worms in hand have made a belief in that combination solid, almost a part of America's dreams.

Most youngsters do have a natural interest in fishing, a curiosity that is perhaps stronger than it is for most other forms of recreation in their short childhoods. But the blend of youngsters and fishing does not come together by chance.

A well planned, strong teaching effort is required to convert an interested youngster into an avid angler. So lets take this month as an opportunity start laying a firm conservation foundation; for the future of our great outdoors lies in our youth.

Recent tournaments held on Lake Hubbard drew large crowds, for what proved to be some tough fishing. Texas Bass Association hosted an open tournament Saturday. Big bass for the tournament was 5.77 and winning 5 fish stringer was a mere 12.49. Sunday Texas Tournament Trail staged an excellent tournament with 206 entrants. Winning stringer was brought in by J.L. Stracner 12.14. J.L. also had the tournaments 2nd places big bass.

Well known T.V. fishing host and lure manufacturer John Fox was present and competed in both tournaments and also Phantom Bass Masters. John proved once again his many years of experience and hard work paid off, placing 2nd in T.B.A. 3rd in T.T.T.'s and 4th place and Big Bass in Phantoms tournament. Mr. Fox explained fishing coves with creeks were the key pattern. Second day success was attributed to the same pattern, only moving towards the mouth towards deeper water. When once thought through, how many times have you spooked a bass and have it run to dry land, fish will move deeper when pressured. Also present during these events was all pro wide receiver for the Chicago Bears Willie Grant. A very colorful individual and avid angler Mr. Grant also placed well in tournament competition. Fair Requires Involvement

It is less than four months until County Fair time for Eastland County.

Members of the County Fair Association have been meeting monthly to lay the foundation for what can be a bigger and better County Fair this October 4th, 5th and 6th; Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Whether the fair is bigger and better or not depends on Eastland County people, people like you, your friends and your neighbors.

Some people are volunteering to be committee chairmen or to help on a committee, but more workers are needed.

Many people are busy making plans and scheduling the entertainment, displays, contests, and activities that people seem to enjoy the most.

The price for booths at the fair will again be $25. each for the three days with an extra charge of $15 if electricity is required in the booth.

If you are interested in a booth this year you may contact fair officials for a reservation. More information about details can be expected in the paper in the near future as personnel and rules are being determined.

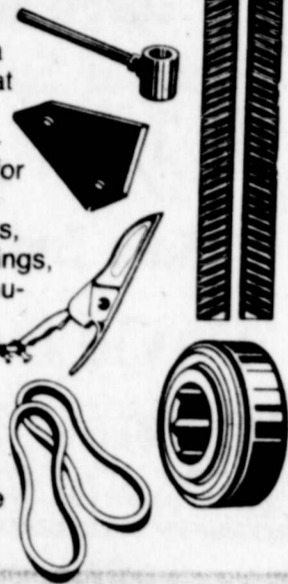

If you want to see a bigger and better county fair, why don't you attend the next County Fair Planning Meeting on Monday, July 9 at 7:30 in the Eastland Chamber of Commerce building on the east side of the courthouse square?

Maybe you have a better idea.

Lights From The Christian World

by Josephine Cleveland

Writers have been told that the true secret of editing one's writing is to know what to put into the wastebasket. Spiritually, we need to know what to discard. Forgetting may be called the soul's wastebasket. No progress is possible to a mind clogged with past errors and no spiritual success accomplishes a person dwelling on past defeats. Paul, the Apostle, rejoiced that he had learned to forget "those things which are behind." He forgot past losses and past achievements.

Forget yesterday! To carry the load of yesterday's mistakes, frustrations and hates has been called lugging. You can't stand up well under the load. You aren't strong enough to lug yesterday. Take from each failure yesterday whatever wisdom it gave and forget the past.

Forget your successes! Paul was forgetting the thrilling miracles of healing, the answers to prayer and his missionary successes.

A mother told her five year old son that it was bedtime. "Mommy, tell me a story," he begged.

"All right," answered the mother. "I'll tell you a Bible story. Which one shall it be?"

"Tell me about Daniel and the lion's den."

"Oh no, Not Daniel and the lion's den. Son. That is too exciting a story for bedtime. You'll dream about lions and have a nightmare."

"No, I won't Mommy. I'll dream about Daniel and leave the lion's out."

And this is what Paul was suggesting. Forget the past, especially those parts that tend to threaten you. We, like Paul, are to press toward the mark for the prize. Paul's mark was the goal he strove to reach, as a runner in a race strives for the prize. Paul advises, "Keep pressing toward the heavenly calling in Christ Jesus." Have a vision of heaven and be determined to get there by God's grace.

More Help Offered Cancer Patients

"Coping With Cancer" a program by the American Cancer Society to educate cancer patients on how they can live a more independent life, have hope for recovery, and secure the best available treatment and health services for their particular type of cancer was presented to a surprisingly large group of people on May 29 at Eastland Manor Nursing Home.

Everyone was welcomed and the visiting speakers were introduced by Nancy Clark, R.N., who is affiliated with Eastland Manor and who is directing the health services available for local cancer patients from the American Cancer Society as a volunteer.

Ima Gene Hurst, R.N., spoke on the purpose of the program, and the filmstrip "I Can Cope" was shown. Communicating and expressing your feelings was the subject of a talk by Price Mathison, a chaplain at Hendrick Medical Center.

After a break, Linda Jordan, R.D., gave some nutritional hints which could be helpful for patients.

A tape by Dr. Victor Hirsch, Medical Oncologist, "Learning About Your Disease" was shown.

Volunteers with the Eastland County Unit of the American Cancer Society have kind of "learned the ropes" now and they are able to help local cancer patients in a number of ways.

A lot of information is now available and equipment that is available for use by patients is being stored and can be delivered and set up in a patient's home in 24 hours after a request. Some medical supplies may also be obtained.

Local volunteers are attempting to schedule transportation for patients to go for treatments and to see doctors when patients need their assistance. Three or four people can travel to a medical center for treatment in an auto about as cheaply as one and much cheaper than using three or four cars.

Transportation is a big local need, so if you are already making trips to a medical center or if you would be willing to take someone, please contact Nancy Clark or Pam Bien at Eastland Manor, 629-1753. Youth groups may also be able to help.

Tickets Available For Fandangle

ALBANY—Tickets for the 1984 version of the Fort Griffin Fandangle, scheduled to run for six performances June 21-23 and 28-30 at the Prairie Theatre, are now available to the public, according to Patsy Rose, executive secretary of the Fandangle Association.

The annual production, which was first produced in Albany almost 50 years ago, will this summer feature the "old time cowboy," depicting through song, dance and narration his life as a pioneer in the cattle industry. The show as a whole attempts to recreate the "look and feel of times long since past," and involves around 200 local amateur performers, directed by Marge Bray.

Tickets in four different price ranges, $7, $6, $5, and $3, may be reserved by calling a special Fandangle telephone number, 762-3642, or by writing P.O. Box 185, Albany, TX 76430. Group discounts are also available. Reservations not accompanied by payment will be held only until 5:00 p.m. on the day of the performance.

Although the Fandangle itself doesn't begin until dusk, around 8:45 p.m., Fandangle visitors are encouraged to come early in order to participate in several related activities.

Barbecue of Abilene will cater the meals, with prices set at $5 for adults and $3 for children, plus tax.

The courthouse, which celebrated its centennial in 1983, will remain open while barbecue is being served.

Windows in downtown stores will be decorated with antiques and Fandangle-related items, and the First National Bank of Albany will open late in order for visitors to view an exhibition featuring three well-known western artists, Ronald Thomason, Covelle Jones and Henry W. Caylor.

The Old Jail Art Center, located one-half block east of the courthouse square, will be highlighting a photo-documentary of the "Old Stone Ranch," recently restored homestead of the Matthews-Reynolds family. The OJAC is currently in the midst of a major expansion, but construction shouldn't cause any problems for visitors.

The 100-year-old Ledbetter Pickett House, nestled under large shade trees in the downtown Bank Park, will also be open, showing visitors what many rural homes looked like in the frontier days of this part of Texas. One block behind the Pickett House is the Jacobs House, the first permanent residence built in Albany and restored a number of years ago. Guides will be posted in both homes to answer questions.

Only a few steps away is the historic Matthews Memorial Presbyterian Church, where organist Bill Foster will play the impressive handmade pipe organ, and church members will be on hand to give the church's history. The building will be open from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Another attraction, planned on the second Thursday of the Fandangle season, June 28, is the annual Fandangle Parade. The parade will begin at 6:00 p.m. in the downtown area.

When visitors drive out the the Prairie Theater, located on the northwestern outskirts of Albany, they will be greeted with calliope music played on the authentic Fandangle steam calliope by Louann George. The performances will begin each night at dusk.

Information sheets listing all the activities and times will be available at the Albany Chamber of Commerce office, located in a restored railway depot near the Bank Park. The depot also houses the Fandangle office.

Additional sheets will be placed at the courthouse and the Old Jail Art Center.

Fallout Exercise June 27

A radiological fallout exercise will be conducted June 27, 1984, throughout the state of Texas.

The Texas Department of Health, Governor's Division of Emergency Management, Texas Department of Public Safety, and State Department of Highways and Public Transportation will work together with local emergency management coordinators in this National Defense Exercise.

The exercise will allow local coordinators the opportunity to test their equipment and capabilities for reporting fallout problems and solutions from local areas to district, state and federal operating centers, according to Robert Lansford, state coordinator for the Division of Emergency Management.

In fulfilling Texas' role in the National Defense and Preparedness Program over the last two decades, the State Health Department has positioned monitoring sets statewide and conducted extensive radiological training programs. Local volunteers have been trained to advise citizens on when and how to take shelter.

In the test, a nuclear detonation is simulated and emergency operating centers are activated in counties and cities. Radioactive fallout is predicted and plotted based on wind speed and direction, and nuclear preparedness plans for each area's population are reviewed.

To maintain a complete network for the state, thirty-six (36) specialists from the State Department of Health and fifty (50) state highway employees have been trained as Radiological Defense Officers.

The State Highway Department and the Department of Public Safety's communications systems will be used as the network for reporting. Four days of work will be simulated in one day. The exercise will begin at 8:00 a.m. and conclude at 4:00 p.m.

Coordination for this exercise will be provided by state agency representatives from the underground Emergency Operating Center at the Department of Public Safety headquarters in Austin.

Workshop For City Officials Is Slated

In response to interest indicated by several regional cities, the West Central Texas Council of Governments has scheduled a Workshop for City Officials on June 13, 1984. The event will be conducted in the West Central Texas Council of Government's office, 1205 East North 10th Street at Judge Ely Boulevard in Abilene. Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m. and the session will conclude before 4:00 p.m. Lunch will be provided; there is no registration fee. The session will be directed primarily toward newly elected officials from General Law cities, yet those officials currently serving and those from Home Rule cities will find the session beneficial and are welcome to attend.

 Areas of both immediate and ongoing concern will be covered during the day. Presenters with expertise in each area will focus on city government from an overview standpoint, legal and regulatory matters, ordinances and resolutions, budget and fiscal requirements, public official liability, and purchasing procedures, among other projects.
 Officials again are encouraged by WCTCOG to take advantage of what promises to be an excellent training opportunity and occasion to build relationships with other city officials for sharing of resources in the future. For registration information, contact Jim Compton at WCTCOG, (915) 672-8544.

Developmental Screening For Children Set

On Tuesday, June 26, 1984 a developmental screening for young children, ages birth to five will be conducted by the Central Texas Mental Health Mental Retardation Center (CTMHMRC) Child Development Center (CDC) from 11:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. The examiner will be parked in the CTMHMRC mobile unit at the Eastland County MHRM Center at 306 West Plummer, Eastland, Texas. For information please call (817) 629-8293.

The screen, which takes about 20 minutes to complete, tests a young child in four areas: personal/social skills (playing, eating, dressing, etc.), fine motor skills (ability to manipulate small objects), gross motor skills (running, jumping, etc.), and language development (speech, following instructions, etc.). If a child is found to have two or more delays in one area, there is further testing available or referral to the appropriate agency.

The purpose of Early Childhood Intervention is to identify and correct as many problems as possible for young children. Early detection of young children's delays have proven beneficial to the child, parents, and teachers.
 For further information, please feel free to call (915) 646-9574 Ext. 159 or 158 in Brownwood, or come to the screening site. There is a $10.00 screening fee, although no one will be refused services due to the inability to pay.

Iron Fortified: Does It Make A Difference?

COLLEGE STATION-- Many shoppers automatically reach for the cereals, breads and other products labeled "iron fortified." But is that really the best nutritional decision?

Whether iron-fortified foods actually have an added nutritional benefit is not a simple yes or no question, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten.
 How much iron you need depends on a number of factors including age, sex, weight and how well your body absorbs and conserves iron, she explains.
 Because an average of 10 percent of the iron in foods is absorbed for use by the body, the Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) for iron is ten times greater than the body actually needs, says Sweeten. For example, women of childbearing age need to absorb only 1.8 milligrams of iron, but the RDA is set at 18 milligrams.

Interaction of iron with other chemicals is one factor that affects absorption, says the nutritionist. The tannins which are naturally present in the iced tea Texans love to drink, for instance, can combine with iron to decrease absorption.

PLANTING CANNAS FOR MID-SUMMER COLOR

The Canna comes to us from Central and South America. Their home is the tropic region, but they do good here each year with outstanding mass of color.

The Canna is often mistaken for a bulb. It actually is a rhizome, which is a member of the tuber family. Their range of size is from one and half feet to five feet tall. The taller cultivars make an attractive tall background against fences. While the small cultivars add the tropical look to pool areas. The Canna is best planted with all one color to an area or bed. Cannas are best suited in a flowing landscape design instead of a formal bed setting.

The Parks Department in Dallas have done wonders with a flowing landscape design using Cannas. Samuell Grand Park has some very magnificent beds of Canna as well as several parks along northwest highway and many parks in the Oak Cliff area.

Cannas are planted in the Spring of the year. The rhizomes remain in the bed year round here. In the colder climates they have to be dug and dried and stored the same way we do tulips. The Cannas will bloom from mid-summer until frost. Our average frost is November 18, after the Cannas have been bitten by Jack Frost, they turn brown and wilt.

This is the time you need to cut the top off even with the ground and burn the removed material. Here we recommend very highly that a two inch layer of botanical cedar mulch be added completely covering the area where the Cannas had grown. Then next spring the Cannas will push through the mulch with more vigor and new stalks than the year before.

There is no other member of the tuber or bulb family that is so easy to grow and they multiply very rapidly. Cannas do best in rich moist soil especially enriched by Compost and well-rotted cow manure. They have to have full sun and hot weather. Space the rhizomes fifteen to eighteen inches apart and cover with one to two inches of soil. You must feed every two to four weeks with a water soluble well-balanced fertilizer such as 10-10-5 or a 20-20-20.

Grasshoppers and cutworms are your biggest problem in the insect field. They can be controlled by a regular spraying of diazon or sevin every two weeks.

Every three to four years you have to dig and divide you Cannas. When dividing your Cannas cut each rhizome into leaving approximately three to four inches per rhizome and at least one eye per rhizome. Be sure to use a clean, sharp knife. If there is any rotten or decayed section on the rhizome, dispose of it by burning. There are many dwarf varieties that make good tub plants.

Some of the varieties found here are Mr. President which is a red five to six foot tall Canna and the Pfitzer Dwarfs such as Chinese Coral, Primrose Yellow, Stadt Fellbach-Orange, Shell Pink, Cherry Red, Procelin Rose and City of Portland Orange Red.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
June 10 has been designated as Children's Day in 1984. Although the welfare of our children should be of major concern to all of us all year round, it would be appropriate to print this in an issue in proximity to that date. I would sincerely appreciate your doing so.

The Legislature, The Courts and The Best Interest of the Child

Section 14.01(a) of the Texas Family Code reads in part: "If the courts find that the parents are or will be separated, the court shall appoint a managing conservator". Section 14.01(b) states in part: "In determining which parent to appoint as managing conservator, the court shall consider the qualifications of the respective parents without regard to the sex of the parent".

Almost any attorney will tell you "that's the way the law reads, (or) that's the way it's done, but it doesn't work that way". Therefore, as the majority of the courts will not be fair and unbiased, the legislature needs to go one step further.

During the 1983 legislative session a bill was submitted that would have amended a portion of Section 14.01(b) Texas Family Code to read: "The court shall appoint both parents as managing conservators unless the court finds by clear and convincing evidence that joint managing conservatorship is not in the best interest of the child. A parent requesting sole managing conservatorship has the burden of proving that joint managing conservatorship is not in the best interest of the child". The bill was referred to the judiciary committee and there it "died".

The courts are to make the best interest of the child their primary consideration in determining questions of managing conservatorship. Most decrees even state that it has been determined by the court that provisions therein are in the best interest of the child. Don't believe it! In far too many cases, judges arbitrarily decide the mother should have custody and will dictate the substance of an order without giving adequate consideration to the circumstances. Or, a father will agree to terms which he knows are not good for his children, but which are better than what he can expect to obtain from the court. You may argue that a person has the right to jury trial and that sounds like a good idea. However, there again, what the jury may consider and what they will hear is largely determined by the judge.

Now, we get to the best interest of the child. Is it in the best interest of the child to assume that one parent (usually the mother) is a good person who loves her children unselfishly and needs the protection of the court, and that the other parent (usually the father) is a dirty dog, lower than a snake's belly who has no love for his children and needs to be punished? OR, is it in the best interest of the children to assume that both parents love their children and are deserving of respect and fair treatment, and that the children love both parents and should have the benefit of the best of each parent? True, there are exceptions; but don't punish the many for the few.

Until we have some legislators with power and seniority interested enough to push presumed but rebuttable joint custody legislation, our children will continue to be the losers.

Until the courts will recognize the fact that they may be doing irreparable harm to the children of divorce by not giving serious attention to the circumstances of the children and the parents, our children will continue to pay the consequences.

Until the best interest of the children is truly considered in divorce and custody proceedings, our children will continue to be deprived of their basic right to love and be loved by both their natural parents. In addition, in cases where sole managing conservatorship is given to the wrong parent, child abuse may occur and be undetected due to the other parent not having enough contact with the children.

We need to let our state legislators and prospective legislators know how we feel about this issue. We need to ask the legislative candidates to express their views on the subject and

Drought Management For Ranchers

COLLEGE STATION-- While a drought is both stressful and traumatic for livestock producers, it also gives ranchers an opportunity to evaluate and update their managerial practices.

"Once the drought has set in and cow numbers are considerably cut, a rancher can reappraise his entire ranch operation," says Dr. Tom R. Troxel, livestock specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, headquartered at Uvalde. "The rancher can then ask himself, 'What can be done to improve the overall efficiency of the ranch and provide some flexibility to reduce the effect of the next dry period.'"

Many ranchers have already sold 25 to 75 percent of their herds since the dry weather started last fall. Ranchers have also indicated that they will want to see if it will rain in May and June before selling more of the herd.

Troxel reminds that lactating cows have high nutritional requirements, and if the nutrition is not present due to drought, both the cow and calf will suffer. One option is to wean and sell the calf early in an attempt to maintain the condition of the cow. He points out that many 200-pound calves are now going to market.

With the culling of cows, a rancher could very easily move from a year-round calving season to a spring and/or fall calving season. "A ranch could keep cows that calve at a certain time of year or when it rains again by replacements that will calve at the same time of year," said Troxel.

Many times it is very difficult to control a breeding season due to the large size of some pastures. Once livestock have been removed from a large pasture, the rancher may want to consider cross-fencing the large pasture into three or four smaller pastures. There, a rotational grazing system could be initiated which may help during the next dry period.

"Eliminating non-breeding and late calving cows through pregnancy determination can increase profitability regardless of rainfall level," adds Troxel. Lightweight calves are those generally born late in the season or are those born from poor milking cows. Pregnancy determination can also eliminate the late calves, and ranchers can then eliminate the cows with poor milk production.

Another management practice which should be included is a good herd health plan, Troxel recommends. This includes all the necessary vaccinations, including calhhood vaccination against brucellosis. Heifer calves should be vaccinated with reduced Strain 19 vaccine between 4-12 months of age, with accredited state or federal veterinarians required to vaccinate the heifers.

The certified free herd program is another consideration for ranchers, particularly those who sell breeding stock. The number of certified free herds in Texas has increased from 675 in 1983 to 1307 or more so far this year. To be classified as certified brucellosis free, a herd (all cattle older than six months) must successfully pass two negative blood tests 10 to 14 months apart. In addition, the herds must be recertified annually, Troxel reminds.

"In the semi-arid Southwest, 6 out of 10 years have below normal rainfall," adds Troxel. "Cattlemen need to stock their ranches with those six years in mind." Generally, according to long-standing statistics, only two "normal" years fall within the 10-year span, while two other years are usually high rainfall years resulting from hurricanes.

Flexibility is a key word during the extra high rainfall years as well as times of drought. When high rainfall results in an over-abundance of grass, ranchers may want to consider keeping their own stockers or buying some to utilize the extra grass, the specialist adds.

Flexibility has become important as cow/calf operators face rising feed costs and dwindling income. A rancher must consider all possible alternatives for making the ranch as economically efficient as possible. "Although drought is extremely difficult to predict, it does provide an opportunity for ranchers to regroup their thoughts and consider changes in managerial practices," adds Troxel. "This regrouping of managerial practices will serve the rancher to this advantage when the next dry cycle occurs."

TIP: don't rest your foot on the brake or clutch pedal while cruising; even slight brake drag or clutch slippage will make a sensitive engine work harder—and use more gasoline.

Time To Battle Mesquite

The season is at hand to battle mesquite although dry conditions in many areas of Texas may limit the effectiveness of control measures.

Late spring and early summer is the time of the year to aerially apply liquid herbicides for controlling mesquite and associated brush species, provided growing conditions are good, says Dr. Tommy Welch with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

To determine if conditions are right for good control of mesquite, it's necessary to take a look at weather conditions beginning last fall, says Welch, a range brush and weed control specialist. Herbicides used to control mesquite and associated brush are growth-regulating chemicals that must move from the leaves to the stems and roots, and this process is strongly influenced by growing conditions when the herbicide is applied. Mesquite growth appears to be closely related to climatic conditions which precede the spraying date.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station studies show that average results in mesquite control by aerial spraying of herbicide occurred when monthly rainfall was average or slightly above average for at least three months before the herbicide is applied. Highest plant kills occurred when monthly rainfall exceeded the average for six months prior to spraying, while poorest results occurred following conditions when only two or less months exceeded the long term average prior to spraying.

Welch suggests that each individual evaluate conditions on his ranch with respect to moisture and growing conditions, says Welch. Poor control of mesquite with foliar applied herbicides may be expected in those areas of the state that are extremely dry. Also, watch the foliage development of mesquite. Mesquite with little foliage will be in poor condition for spraying while plants with plenty of leaves are "ripe" for control.

Timing the herbicide application is also important, emphasizes Welch. For maximum kill under current growth conditions, do not spray mesquite until leaves have fully extended and have turned from light green to dark green. Usually mesquite plants that have fully developed, dark green foliage and are past full bloom with small developing pods are in the best condition for spraying.

Soil temperature also plays a role in mesquite control, notes the specialist. Best kill of mesquite is usually obtained when the soil temperature at 18 inches at spraying time is 75 degrees F. or above. Usually soils on upland range sites and those with a higher sand content warm up faster than bottomland soils or those with a lot of clay. As a result, percentage of root kill of mesquite is usually higher on upland sites than on bottomland sites.

If frequent rains occur during the spray season, root kills are often reduced because the mesquite plant will continue to add new leaf growth. Thus plants have leaves in current stages of maturity. In such cases, delay spraying for 10 to 21 days after a significant rainfall to allow new growth to mature.

Damage to mesquite foliage by insects, disease or hail also affects mesquite control. If a significant number of mesquite plants have been defoliated by insects, disease or hail, plant kills are usually reduced. Allow damaged foliage to mature before applying herbicides, notes Welch.

Registered and effective herbicides for controlling mesquite on Texas rangeland by aerial applications are 2,4,5-T; a one-to-one mixture of picloram (Grazon PC) and 2,4,5-T; and a one-to-one mixture of dicamba (Banvel) and 2,4,5-T. The picloram-2,4,5-T and dicamba-2,4,5-T mixtures must be tank mixed because commercial formulations are no longer available.

With 2,4,5-T in low supply, ranchers may want to opt for dicamba. Dicamba alone will generally provide the same degree of control as 2,4,5-T, Welch points out. Also, dicamba may be tank mixed with picloram for control similar to the 2,4,5-T and picloram mixture.

Apply these herbicides at 1/2-1 pound acid equivalent per acre, and follow label directions, advises Welch.

Ken's Chicken and Fish Will Open

Ken's Chicken and Fish is to become Eastland's newest eating establishment on Thursday according to the plans of owners Ken and Ellen Henson.

Contractor Roy Barnhill's workers have been applying the final touches while Managers Robert and Betty Webb, Assistant Manager Margie Hendricks, and the employees have been trying out the new kitchen equipment.

Outside the bright, beautiful, new building, paving is being applied to the roomy drive and parking areas.

Ken's will be open from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m. with chicken cooking all the time so that there will be no waiting for your favorite piece. Fish and seafood will be cooked to suit your request in just minutes, and for those who ask "Where's the beef?", there are chicken fried steaks.

Cole slaw, french fries, and hot puffs with honey are a few of the popular extras.

Carry-out orders may be picked up at the drive-thru window. The call-in number is 629-8981.

If you would rather eat inside, the air conditioned dining room seats 74, and there are rest rooms handy.

The 15 to 20 full and part-time employees, all Eastland County people, will be striving to maintain the all-around quality that you desire.

The Hensons say they are looking forward to being part of the fine community and that they plan to spend a lot of time at Ken's Chicken and Fish in Eastland, which is located on Hwy. 80 East.

Mr. Henson is remembered by some local people as the Cisco Junior College Basketball Coach from '68 until '70 and then as the Howard Payne Coach until he opened a Ken's in Breckenridge in '75.

The Hensons have a married daughter, Lanet, a son who has just graduated from high school, Keith, and a daughter who has just finished her student teaching in Eastland, Debbie.

They were natives of Oklahoma, and they seem to be proud of Amy and Mike, their grandchildren.

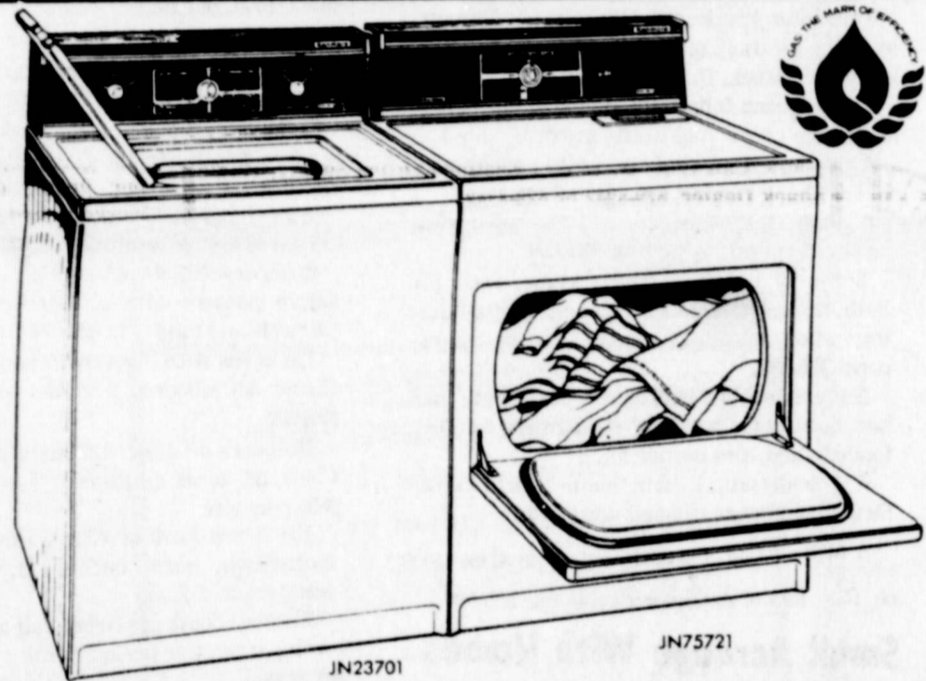

CHURCH EXPANSION— Calvary Baptist Church, 1801 Conrad Hilton Avenue, Cisco, is nearing completion on its new sanctuary which was added to the north side of the old building. The bricking of the new addition and part of the old building was almost completed when the photograph was taken Thursday. The interior still has to be finished, but the exterior is really looking nice. (staff photo)

News From The Center

By Mae Green

We are so thankful that things are beginning to get back to normal at the Center. Renovation is well on the way and it seems that half the battle is won.

On May 24, at 2:30 p.m., the residents were entertained by a group of singers called the New Beginning. If you haven't heard this group sing, you have missed a special treat. We are looking forward to their visit again.

May 10, at 3:15 p.m., the Jesus' Friends visited the nursing home. They sang songs and shared their lesson that they had for that day, entitled "Ye Are the Salt of the Earth." The group was directed by Mrs. Laura Ziehr, Linda Stroebel and Linda Wende. The directors are doing a wonderful job with this group.

A group of ladies from the Garden Club, dressed up the patio with lots of geraniums and hanging baskets of moss. We thank these ladies for taking time to share. Edith Terry and Beulah Brooks for taking care of these plants and they are doing a good job.

On Thursday, May 17, at 2:30 p.m., the Pleasant Hill hosted the birthday party. The residents were served punch and cookies. Birthday honorees were Alford (Buddy) Weise, Frankie Eaton, Nick Gray, Ruth Campbell, Ruth Reynolds, Mary Sargent and Lorena Brandon.

New residents at the Center are Frank Davis, Mabel Davis, Rhoda Pickens, Wayne Pryor and Annie Parks. We are happy to have them at the Center. We will try to make them as comfortable as possible. I am sure they would enjoy a visit from all of their friends. Come by when you can.

Pastors scheduled to visit the Center during the month of May were: Bro. Cecil Leadman, East Cisco Baptist; Bro. Joe Philpott, Mitchell Baptist; Bro. Frank Williams, First United Methodist; and Bro. Buddy Sipe, First Baptist.

Wednesday, May 30, at 10 a.m., Bro. Miles Steffen, pastor of the First Christian Church, conducted the services due to Bro. Dell Crockett's absence.

The Monday Night Gospel Singers visit the Center each Monday at 6:15 p.m. The public is invited to visit the home at your convenience. Smiling faces are always welcome.

The Senior Citizens Rhythm Band will be visiting the Center on the last Friday of each month at 7 p.m.

We thank everyone who sent flowers to the home. We appreciate you taking time to care. May God continue to bless all of you richly.

Thought of the Month: Stay with God and He will stay with you.

What Is Wrong With Our World?

Today I visited an elderly citizen, a native of this county. He is 94 years young. He has been an outstanding citizen of Cisco and Eastland County for many years. He was telling me many wonderful stories of yesteryear.

He asked, "Do you know what the problem is today with so many of our children, in this generation?" I had to say I didn't know.

He said here is what he thinks, that has caused part of this problem. (First, we realize not all of our young folk are in this category, nor the parents are wholly responsible for their way of life. Also we truly realize some children have been reared by respectable parents. Also there have been children coming from disorder in the home, that have made a great way of life for themselves. This is only an opinion of a very dear, wise old man.)

He said, "I think it's the way some have been turned loose, to roam our streets too late in the evening. Remember the advice we use to see quite often on TV, saying at 10 p.m., 'Do you know where your children are?' I sometimes wonder, do our children know where their parents are at 10 p.m.!"

"Today, most parents work, it can be a real necessity, this is very true. Yet, some parents want the necessities of two cars, or more, a color TV in two or three rooms, dressing in tomorrow's fashion, building a new fabulous home, having a lady come in to clean the house at least once a week. What's wrong with this?"

Nothing, it's really wonderful. But! This is all expensive. Can the family afford it?

"Now, there comes the getting out, relaxing for the parents, this is really great and might be rewarding for the whole family and all involved.

"There are babysitters that are very dependable. They too need a job, yet, one baby sitter too young or not a dependable person could ruin their life and others. How? The baby sitter could be a teenager. She turns on the record player to rock & roll music, gets on the phone to her teen age boy friend, invites him over, they raid the ice box, there is food, cokes, and look alcohol! This home has the right, (for the alcohol). The children will think, we mixed us a coke? The family who has hired the baby sitter doesn't dream this could be. The parents of the children would say "there's no way" my child would! That's why, our children today are on the road condemnation. called dope!

"None of us, thought they would! Maybe it didn't happen in a well respectable home with a baby sitter! Where did it start? When my wife & I and thousands of other parents, grandparents and some of us great-grandparents! We taught home was from the cradle, of true values, the factory producing stable hard working personalities, with a sense of social responsibility, family and school, discipline! Fostering the world, (once me a living attitude has under mined the once prized work ethic!) There has always been sin, Since Adam & Eve, there has always been, whiskey, beer, once there were plenty of it made in homes, the country side and lots of places. The law has taken most of this out of our way of life. They are trying yet, I did not nor do I know any of this personally, nor do I know where the dope is or by whom it is being used. I only know it's growing & ruining many lives, not all our children, lots of folk, are on this habit, I'm sure!

"It's very sad, it's awful, that there is (even) one person, Did I live a perfect life, did my children, their children, their children's children No way, it's impossible!

I made mistakes, so did my family still do! I bought my farm on a credit. I paid year after year, I reared my children during these years. some times I would fail to make a crop, not enough rain, top much too late, we depended on our live stock, our gardens, our chickens, our geese, our Lord! We worked hard from day light to dark, On Sundays we would all be in our little Country Church. Lots of times, we had dinner, together, all evening singing and church again. How great it was! Wonderful happy hard working "God" loving "God" fearing life. We drank with our friends, our children, their children right. Good ole home made lemonade. It was delicious! We visited, friends, & family. Our children visited, children love to visit, have friends their own friends, their own ages! Our ladies dressed, were they fancy, ordered their Sunday bonnets from a little catalog" made their clothes made the childrens clothes. They were a sight to behold. We helped each other. We had disappointments, death, heart ache, storms, illness two wars in my time, depression! Yet we had "God" you do too today. "God" is here now & always.

"We saw some young folk go wrong, some would let us help, some would not. Most of them were and are looking for a friend, a way out, reaching for a helping hand. Do we offer friendship, understanding, help them to get on the right road. Or do we say, I knew they would come to no good end. Sure some will not take our help, listen to our advice, let us pray for them and with them, but some will not!

"Today I'm 94, past, I still go to my "God" each day, thanking Him for my many blessings and asking Him to carry me over the mountain in life, that I can not climb! No one is perfect, but it behoves all of us to clean our seen lives and our own house hold, before we set in judgement on our neighbors.

I don't approve of dope, drinking, and wicked living, never did, never will.

"I say to you my friends, let us pull together to help them, don't let us push them farther down! The Lord loves us! (Even gave "His" life because we were sinners). I will always wave a banner of "What's Right" for one, for all! I have asked many people where did this start, they say they don't know. I don't know, I'm not smart, I don't have the answers! Do you know?"

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Bob Cox, Manager-Community Relations

Strength is vital

A strong Bell is good for Texas. It has a nice ring, and it's true.

When I meet with many of you at meetings and on the street, I usually talk about how important it is for Texas to have a strong and financially sound Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

My message is simple: The strength of Southwestern Bell Telephone is vital to the strength of a growing Texas.

Texas always has been a leader in telecommunications — and Texas must remain a leader. Top quality telecommunications service is imperative to attract and hold the high technology, "clean" industry which is an integral part of the state's economic future.

And Texas must have a strong framework to assure that the state draws those high-tech firms. Education and transportation, for instance, are essential aspects. Telecommunications, a must in that framework, cannot be a second-class partner in the future of the Lone Star State.

Our state's high-tech companies thrive on communications. We know we must be able to meet their needs, and the needs of every Texas customer, efficiently and quickly. However, our ability to take care of the needs of every Texan we serve is in direct relationship to the revenues we have available.

Our partnership

We are in partnership with this state, and all Texans. We must have the dollars necessary to keep up and keep Texas in the forefront of telecommunications.

The demands of Texas as a high-growth area put intense pressures on our resources. That's why every one of the company's employees has to take on the personal responsibility of assuring that our revenues stretch as far as possible.

Why am I telling you all this? Because we feel our message of service and financial strength is one for all Texans.

Texans, for Texans. It's what Southwestern Bell Telephone is all about.

A good value

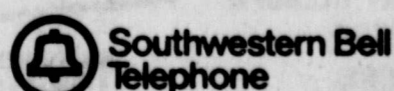

Your service. Take a closer look — it's a value!

Even though your rates for local telephone service will be going up a few cents, compare your monthly bill in relation to many other items. I think you'll find that it's a bargain.

Just think about some of the items you buy every month. The average cost of cable television is about $33 (basic package and two movie channels) and the cost of a fast-food meal for a family of four once a week for a month is about $40. Even a carton of cigarettes a week will run you about $32. And if you are like most Texans, you probably purchase about 800 gallons of gas a year. That's about $75 a month — just for one car.

Residential customers in Texas with basic, one-party service now pay an average of $10.35 per month for telephone service. When you think about it — and compare — it's so little for 24-hour, 7-day-a-week service that gives you access to your friends across town, across Texas and to any of the world's 450 million telephones.

People n Things

EVERYTHING is in the final stages for announcing a new president for Cisco Junior College. In fact, they hope to have every thing buttoned down, signed and sealed and ready for announcement in the Press this coming Sunday.

That's strictly according to Mr. Dick Woolley, president of the board of regents. The board considered 35 applications before narrowing the field to a half dozen or so for interviews.

DR. NORMAN Wallace, who has resigned to accept a similar job at Bee County College, is expected to be here through June 15th when the new man will be on the job.

The Wallaces will be buying a home in Beeville as the college there doesn't have a president's home.

Understand Dr. Grady Hogue, who is retiring from the presidency at Beeville, will be on the job to help Dr. Wallace until August.

Mr. Hogue, by the way, lost a runoff election for the Texas Legislature from a district including Bee County. Sorry to hear about this as he would have been an outstanding man for the state job.

MR. WOOLLEY, who serves on the Mobley Hilton Restoration Committee, tells us that things are moving for that project. Architects are working and so forth.

As you know, the committee has decided for full restoration instead of razing the old building and erecting a community center. This was in keeping with the wishes of most local folks.

THE WOOLLEY Family was in San Angelo recently when son Audie graduated from Angelo State College. It was quite an event, Dick reports, with some 400 people getting degrees.

Audie, who finished with high honors, will be moving with his missus to San Antonio in mid-July. There, he will enroll as a freshman at the University of Texas School of Medicine.

STRIPER BASS have been biting pretty good out at Lake Cisco, according to scout reports. Mr. Hugh Pittman, who works for Sears over in Abilene, spent the past week or so at their Lake Cisco north shore cabin. He fished every day and had a stringer full every day, the scout said... A 55-pound yellow catfish apparently died a natural death and washed ashore in front of the Gid Bowers cabin at the lake one day last week. They hauled him out for a decent burial.

EVERYTHING was lovely in the woods of Wisconsin last week. That's the report of Mrs. Betty Alford of Olney Savings. She flew to Minneapolis to visit a daughter and family and they went to Wisconsin for an outing. Betty's back home... Hear that Mrs. John Webb visited over in Tennessee last week... The O.L. (Roby) Robinsons recently spent a couple of weeks visiting friends in California. He fired a 75 at the golf course here the other afternoon—his best score in a year or two or three.

HOW COME the Charles Graham home is for sale up on 9th Street? They've bought and moved to an attractive residence over on Simms Street... Peggy Hailey Martin of Abilene was a visitor in Cisco the other day. She's winding up work for a master's degree at ACU where her daughter Hailey will be a freshman this fall... The ceiling fan that one of the Sunday School classes at First United Methodist Church worked fine last Sunday morning. The class purchased it and recruited Ed Bradshaw and Marshall Jones to install same... Scott Anderson, son of the Freddie Andersons, plans to attend Sul Ross State University at Alpine this fall, according to scout reports.

1st UMC and 1st Christian Plan V.B.S.

The First United Methodist Church and the First Christian Church of Cisco will hold a combined Vacation Bible School this year.

The school will start June 25 and go thru June 29 for children three years old to students in the sixth grade. Make plans now to attend.

A NEW BUSINESS—Town and Country Food Stores is building a new facility in Cisco, near the intersection of Conrad Hilton Avenue and the I-20 north access road. The former vacant lot has been cleared, concrete entranceways have been poured and the building is being framed up. When the photograph was taken Thursday, ceiling and roof trusses were being nailed in place. (staff photo)
