Council Will Open Bids For Paving Project Aug. 16

The City Council will open bids on August 16th at 3 p.m. on proposals to pave West 17th from Hilton Avenue to Avenue M, according to action at the semi-monthly meeting of the council Tuesday, July 24.

Plans call for paving the street without curb and gutter. It was decided at the meeting. The project will be financed with proceeds from oil and gas royalties from wells on city land. City Manager Mike Moore told the Council that he would be in Austin on Monday and Tuesday, July 30-31, in connection with the city's application for a permit to build a waste water plant. He didn't anticipate any problems. He added that the city should hear within two weeks about an application for a federal grant to help finance the project.

The city manager told the Council that Lake Cisco was losing between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 gallons of water daily through evaporation during hot weather. He said that with no rain the lake would be dry by August 1, 1987.

Mr. Moore said that the lake is now 36 feet deep at the dam and 13 feet above the No. 3 water intake valve to the filtration plant. The bottom of No. 4 valve, he added, is silted over and that a pump would have to be installed if water goes below the No. 3 valve.

Filtered water is now going into the College Hill Reservoir and the city water system, Mr. Moore said. Trouble with a back wash valve has delayed finishing the filtration plant, he added. City water customers won't notice changes in their water for a time due to silt in the lines but this will clean out in a few weeks, the city manager said. The College Hill and Lake Cisco water reservoirs will be cleaned before the water project is completed, Mr. Moore said.

The Council approved a change order on the 12-inch water supply line that saved the city $148. A resolution accepting the new line installed by Fambro Construction Co. at a cost of $201,380 was approved.

Dr. Tim Boersma, local physician, was appointed public health officer for the city. He was sworn in by City Secretary Ginger Johnson Wednesday, July 25.

A request of Horace Reeve to discuss a Lake Cisco lot lease was tabled when Mr. Reeve failed to attend the meeting.

The Council set August 14 as the date to open bids for a grass lease on 40 acres of the Municipal Airport tract.

A financial report for the month of June, as prepared by City Accountant Pablo Rodriguez, was accepted by the Council. The report showed that income for the month included $417 in delinquent taxes, $10,501 in sales taxes, $3,627 from the city corporation court, $6,907 from sanitation charges, $11,680 from lake lot leases, $3,306 from the swimming pool, $1,818 in interest earned from savings accounts, and $45,534 from oil and gas royalties. Oil and gas royalties had brought in $106,926 for the fiscal year.

Expenditures for June included $20,855 for administrative purposes, $22,664 for police and court, $7,890 for the fire department, $21,999 for the street and shop, $5,955 for parks and recreation, and $8,758 for sanitation or a total of $88,123.

Water department income for June totaled $43,765 for water sales $10,141 for sewer fees and interest amounting to $17,941, all totaling $72,801. Expenditures amounted to $192,148, including funds paid for contacted improvements.

Mayor Por Tom Bobby Ingram presided at the meeting. Council members present were Linton Batteas, Brad Kimbrough, Roy Dennis, Bobby Rains and Joe Besselaar, along with City Manager Moore, City Secretary Johnson and City Attorney Billy Wright.

Bonnie Pierce is shown sitting in a rocker that was presented to her by Russell-Newman at her retirement party held on July 27. Bonnie will be the first person to retire from Russell-Newman.

Bonnie Pierce Retires From Russell-Newman

Bonnie Pierce, long-time Cisco resident will retire from Russell-Newman on Friday, August 3. A surprise retirement party was given to her by fellow co-workers on July 27.

Bonnie worked for Boss Manufacturing from 1953 till they closed in 1976. She then worked for Bell's Draperies from 1976 till March 7, 1977. At that time she started working for Russell-Newman. She worked in the finish department the entire time of her employment on the tacker machine.

Family members attending the party from Eastland were her sister, Areleta Shirey; her brother, Bernard Campbell; and her father, Clyde Campbell. Those attending from Cisco were her daughter, Brenda Lane and her granddaughter, Kelly Pierce. She also has a son, Clinton Pierce of Eastland.

Russell-Newman presented Bonnie with a rocking chair, the mechanics gave her cushions for her chair, and the employees presented her with a wall clock.

Bonnie is the first person to retire from Russell-Newman since the plant was built here in Cisco in 1977.

Ex-Students Reunion Set Here April 27, 1985

The second Ex-Students of Cisco Public Schools Reunion has been scheduled for Saturday, April 27, 1985, at the Cisco Junior-Senior High School Complex, according to an announcement by Geneva Webb and Bill Philpott, co-chairmen for the event.

The first such reunion was held in conjunction with the 1981 Centennial Celebration of the City of Cisco, and drew more than 1,200 ex-students from high school classes dating from the early part of the century to recent high school graduates. At that time, it was decided to have an all-school reunion every five years—in those years ending in five and zero. The 1985 event will be held in conjunction with the annual Frontier Jubilee and Folk-Life Festival.

Initial plans call for a late afternoon meal to be served on the school grounds in the patio area. Emma Watts is in charge of arrangements for the meal.

Delbert Schaefer and Cam Webb are in charge of athletic events—possible golf tournament, soft ball and basketball games for those who wish to participate.

Volunteers to represent the classes in contacting class members are badly needed to help contact those exes who live out of Cisco. The committee has also requested help from relatives who still live in Cisco to notify any and all of those Exes who will want to make plans at this time to attend. Those in other states will likely need immediate notice to make travel plans.

Individual classes are being asked to make arrangements on their own for class meetings, making reservations with local eating places and meeting halls for class events.

The committee plans to mail a newsletter to all Exes for whom they have addresses in early 1985, providing a schedule of events for the reunion.

Anyone who wishes to help with planning the reunion, handling contacts with their own class members, or can provide addresses or information on Exes, are asked to contact Bill Philpott at 442-3234, or Geneva Webb at 442-3550.

Michael Short Signs With CJC

Michael Short, a 5-11 guard from Lohm High School, has signed a basketball scholarship agreement with Cisco Junior College.

Short averaged 29 points per game to lead Lohm to a Class A district championship last season. In one of the greatest scoring performances in the history of Texas high school basketball, he scored 70 points a game against district rival Rochelle.

His honors during the 1983-84 school year: (1) All-State Second Team (2) Participated in the TABC All-Star Game in Waco in April (3) Participated in the Texas Six-Man Association All-Star Game in Stephenville last week and was the game's leading scorer with 25 points, and (4) Was Valedictorian of his graduating class.

Wilburn McKinney of Rt. 4, Box 178, Cisco is general chairman and Lucille McKinney Roan of 4107 Hycrest Drive, Austin, is secretary. Reservation for the meal and for motel accommodations may be made by contacting Dorothy McKinney, 915-662-3414.

Bible Baptist Church Welcomes New Pastor

The Bible Baptist Church, Cisco Texas, welcomed their new pastor the 1st Sunday in July. He is Pastor Dale West.

Pastor West came to Cisco from Flatwood Baptist Church, located near Paradise, Texas. He and his family pastored at Flatwood about 2 1/2 years.

The pastor's wife is named Sandra. They have two children, Clint who is 11, and Allisha who is 8.

The pastor reports that he and his family have moved into the parsonage and are "...looking forward to serving the Lord in this community."

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

THE ONLY bad thing about taking a vacation, is all the catch-up work you have to do once you return. Actually, this year wasn't too bad thanks to the handling of affairs at the Press office by the rest of the staff.

I returned to work Monday after two week's of vacation in which I just "rested" at home. It's kind of funny, but after all that "resting" I felt more tired Monday morning than I did before vacation time.

However, it is really nice to be able to take off a couple of days during the summer and stay at home without having to think about work. It might become boring after a while, but it is worth the effort because it helps you to relax from the tensions of work and be refreshed when you return to your job.

I UNDERSTAND there has been a volunteer fund established at the First National Bank in Cisco for the repair of Oakwood Cemetery in the event of vandalism, as that which took place there recently. The fund has been established by the Cisco Cemetery Association to be used as a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons that may be involved in any future destruction of grave markers or other vandalism in the Cemetery.

If you ever see anyone in the Cemetery who seems to be doing something they should not be doing, especially at night, please call the Police Dispatch Center, 625-1728, and report the person's description and a description of any vehicle they may be driving or riding in. You will find that most vandalism occurs at night, since the culprits involved are afraid to be seen and can only destroy things when no one else is around. They don't know how to leave things alone which do not belong to them.

The Cemetery Association says they hope there will be no recurrences of vandalism at the cemetery, but the fund will be automatically available, when and if needed. The fund is a volunteer fund, which the Association believes everyone should be interested in donating to, since such destructive acts as vandalism are matters of concern to all townspeople.

LOCAL BUSINESS man Ivan Webb returned this weekend from a trip up north which took him through Toronto, Canada; Montreal; Timmons Ontario, Canada; and Calgary Alberta. Ivan was accompanied on the trip by a business partner, Bruce Whipple. They are partners in a company named Tache, which has an office in Cisco and a main office in Timmons Ontario, Canada.

Ivan reported that flies were extremely bad during their stay in Timmons Ontario. It is a forested area and they seemed to be constantly swatting at the flies.

On his return to Cisco, Ivan hosted a class reunion of Cisco High School graduates of 1969 at his lake cabin Saturday, July 28.

SPEAKING OF class reunions, I attended the class reunion of 1974 at the Cisco City Park on Saturday, July 21. A number of the students from the class returned and visited throughout the day. Hopefully, we will have a full report in a future edition.

Hay Buyers Have Access To Market

Buyers and sellers of hay now have access to a vast new hay market via their own telephone. The country's first electronic hay marketing system, National Hay Exchange, Inc., was introduced June 15. Results have been very encouraging.

Based in San Antonio, Texas, National Hay Exchange is the first marketing service to match buyers with sellers via a toll free telephone number (1-800-428-2002), experienced hay marketing specialists and a central computer. With instant access to a broad, consistent hay market, callers to the Exchange may list hay to sell or place orders to buy hay. For hay producers or users, such as feedlots, dairies, ranches or horse owners, the potential is unlimited.

In its first month, National Hay Exchange traded hay in a wide range of prices, reflecting the individual type of hay, quality, form (bales, etc.) and location. Alfalfa hay traded at $60 per ton to $120 per ton. Grass hay traded from $35 per ton to $80 per ton.

"Using the National Hay Exchange is almost as simple as placing 'want to buy' or 'want to sell' ads in your local newspaper," Morris says. "But the ad gets national exposure, and the trader gets the service and financial security of dealing with an organization dedicated to efficient hay marketing."

The Exchange accepts calls 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

A typical National Hay Exchange transaction begins with a seller phoning the toll free number to list at least one truckload of hay. (Before buyers or sellers can use the Exchange, an application for membership must be submitted. There is no charge or obligation for membership.)

The Exchange accepts calls 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

A typical National Hay Exchange transaction begins with a seller phoning the toll free number to list at least one truckload of hay. (Before buyers of sellers can use the Exchange, an application for membership must be submitted. There is no charge or obligation for membership.)

An Exchange hay marketing specialist asks the seller for an accurate description of the hay, ranging from hay type, to bale size, how the hay is stored, maturity at harvest, color, smell, any chemical treatments and laboratory analysis results, if taken.

The seller also sets a price for the hay lot. This information is encoded into the National Hay Exchange computer.

Potential buyers also call the central toll free number, listing the type, amount and price of hay they wish to purchase. The Exchange's high speed computer searches an 1114 match is confirmed. If a near match is found, the Exchange negotiates a trade between the two parties, if both wish to proceed with the transaction.

Once a sale is confirmed, the National Hay Exchange arranges transportation of the hay to the buyer's designated drop site, via a system of independent truckers linked with the Exchange computer. (The National Hay Exchange welcomes calls from truckers, via the toll free number 1-800-628-8785.)

Upon delivery, the buyer pays the following: total cost of hay, the transportation charge and half of the Exchange commission. The seller pays the other half of the Exchange commission. The seller pays the other half since the Exchange serves both buyer and seller. The sales commission is the only fee paid for using the Exchange. There are no dues or initiation fees, and there are no charges for listing or ordering hay. Listings and orders can be changed or cancelled at no cost. The National Hay Exchange also provides an arbitrator for any dispute in which the buyer contests the quality of hay delivered, saying it was not as described by the seller.

A free brochure explaining the National Hay Exchange is now available. The brochure includes an application for free membership in the exchange, and describes the conditions and benefits of Exchange trading.

For more information, buyers and sellers should call the National Hay Exchange at 1-800-428-2002, or write to Membership, National Hay Exchange, Inc., 888 Isom Road, Suite 250, San Antonio, Texas 78216.

Watch Work Habits During Hot Weather

Hot, humid weather which typifies Texas summers can be dangerous to your health, particularly if you work outdoors.

Outdoor workers often suffer from physical disorders as heatstroke, heat exhaustion, heat cramps and fainting, says Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Such disorders occur most often when workers do not take time to adjust to the heat, notes Nelson. Summer hot spells, the first few days of work for new workers, and the first day back on the job after a vacation or illness are likely to be times when workers suffer the most from heat-related problems.

The combination of high temperatures and high relative humidity can be especially dangerous, says

Nelson. Now the National Weather Service has come up with a "heat index" or "apparent temperature"—to warn outdoors people to take it easy.

For example, a temperature of 100 degrees F. and a relative humidity of 50 percent have the same effect as if the temperature hit 120 degrees. The human body cools itself by perspiring, but problems can develop when high relative humidity prevents the evaporation of perspiration from the skin, Nelson explains. The "apparent temperature" takes into account the reduced cooling ability caused by humidity.

To avoid potential health problems during the hot summer weather, he offers these suggestions for farmers and ranchers and others who work outdoors:

—Rest periodically, in a cool place; rest is most beneficial when breaks are short but frequent.

—Drink fluids every 15 to 20 minutes. Water intake must equal perspiration loss, so drink more than enough to satisfy thirst. Rely on meals to replace salt.

—Wear loose garments of thin cotton fabric to enhance air circulation near the skin and to allow body heat to escape.

—Slow down work speed or distribute the workload evenly over the course of the day.

—If possible, postpone nonessential work for cooler periods.

—Transfer workers to help from other jobs or obtain extra helpers. Younger and more physically fit workers might take over.

—Where possible, shield workers from equipment heat sources, use exhaust fans near heat sources, and provide open windows and cooling fans for maximum air flow around individuals.

—Provide maximum opportunities for outside workers to work in well ventilated, shaded areas.

Heeding these suggestions and keeping tabs on the daily temperature and relative humidity can go a long way to preventing heat related disorders during summer weather, says Nelson.

Home Economists Are Meeting In Wichita Falls

COLLEGE STATION--County Extension home economics agents from throughout the state will convene in Wichita Falls for the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Home Economists (TAEHE), August 1-3.

The three-day program on the theme "Pathways to Professional Fitness" will include speakers, workshops, educational tours and award presentations.

Sarah Weddington, Director of the Texas Office of State-Federal Relations and former general counsel of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, will address the group on the subject of women in leadership.

Other featured speakers will include State Senator Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls; Dr. William Gustafson, associate professor of family management, housing and consumer science at Texas Tech University; Dr. Zerle Carpenter, director of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service; and Dr. Tommie M. Lawton, associate professor of home economics at North Texas State University.

The county Extension agents will also attend workshops on legislative activities, public relations and the use of computers in the Extension office.

Six agents who have been selected to receive the Distinguished Service Award, the highest award given by the National Association of Extension Home Economists, will be recognized in special ceremonies at the meeting. Awards sponsored by Texas commodity groups and TAEHE awards for professional activities will also be presented.

Association officers for 1984 are Elinor Harvey, Gaines County, president; Clara Maynard, Bastrop County, 1st vice-president; Mary Greer, Young County, 2nd vice-president; Margaret Guy, Dallas County, secretary; Betty Duncan, Denton County, treasurer; and Joyce Carlen, Harris County, president-elect.

Canned Foods Compare To Fresh And Frozen

COLLEGE STATION--When it comes to nutritional value, fresh and frozen vegetables are good — but not necessarily better — than canned vegetables, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist.

A study by the National Food Processors Association and the U.S. Department of Agriculture shows that the levels of nutrients in fresh, frozen or canned vegetables are nearly comparable, reports Mary K. Sweeten.

Researchers compared prepared fresh, frozen and canned lima beans, peas, spinach, sweet potatoes, carrots and squash for levels of thirteen minerals, eight vitamins and fiber, she explains.

The study shows very little difference in the vitamin A content of any of the product. In the case of peas and spinach, the canned product was even a little higher in vitamin A than the fresh produce.

Analysis also showed very little difference in minerals and fiber content between fresh, frozen and canned samples, says the nutritionist.

Sweeten attributes the comparable vitamin and mineral levels to the fact that vegetables are preserved in cans within hours of harvest. "Vitamin A is very light sensitive, and can be destroyed by artificial light or sunlight, and vitamin C can be lost by heat and exposure to air," she notes.

Cans also protect against nutrient loss that occurs in shipping and handling between field and home. Few nutrients are lost if fruits and vegetables are eaten directly from the garden, says Sweeten, but the nutritional quality of fresh produce in the supermarket depends on the care it receives during harvesting and shipping, as well as shipping time.

Earlier studies compared canned vegetables with uncooked vegetables. Since canned vegetables are "cooked in the can" during the canning process, it's more appropriate to compare them with cooked produce, she observes.

This research considered the most important nutrient loss due to home cooking of fresh vegetables, says the nutritionist. The comparisons were made between canned foods cooked in their canning liquid and drained, and unpeeled fresh and frozen foods cooked in as little water as possible to avoid the necessity of draining. The fresh vegetables were prepared within two days of harvest, so they had not been commercially handled and shipped as the produce in most retail outlets and homes.

Discuss Presidential Image

At the convention in Dallas this month, the Republicans will package the Reagan-Bush ticket as experienced, successful, stable and trustworthy, said a professor of speech communication at Texas Christian University.

Dr. William Jurma, an expert in studying the images of politicians, said, "Reagan will come across as a powerful communicator who will suggest that we are better off than we were four years ago due to a lower rate of inflation, lower unemployment and reasonable interest rates."

"Mondale and Ferraro will suggest that these improvements have been made at a great cost. They will suggest that his foreign policy is unstable, the federal deficit is enormous, the welfare of Social Security recipients is in jeopardy and that the poor will suffer as Reagan tries to make cuts and balances the budget."

One element in favor of the Democratic ticket is that the Republicans don't know how to handle Ferraro. They don't want to appear patronizing. The problem for the Republicans will be, "How do you debate and focus on the issues without seeming to attack the women?" said Jurma.

"She has more freedom at this time in the ability to get away with an attack against the Republicans," said Jurma. "A debate between Bush and Ferraro would highlight Bush's broad-based political experience against Ferraro's determination, energy and desire to project an image of confidence in foreign and domestic issues."

At the Democratic convention last month, the party emphasized the values of family, equality in society and fairness. They appealed to the common man. Ferraro fits into these values very well, said Jurma. "She comes from a working class district, she is the mother of three children with a successful marriage, she has worked her way through law school and up the political ladders, and she is of Italian-Catholic descent. She is a feminist, but yet she works well with men."

Jurma said Ferraro's image could have a big effect on the election. Fifty-two percent of the electorate are female, with more women registered to vote in 1984 than there were voters of both genders in the 1980 election.

On the other hand, the Democrats will have to deal with Reagan's powerful media image. "As we come close to convention time, Reagan will exploit his access to the media as president," said the TCU professor.

The well is designated as the No. 6 Puckett "D", pumping 25 barrels of oil per day on an open choke.

Roadrunner Tournament final hours were action packed.

A large number of three to three and a half pound fish came through weigh in. Anglers from across the state competed for cash and merchandise totaling $10,000. After the final gun, E.K. Watts was declared the winner of a 1984, 17 1/2 ft. Lotus bass boat. E.K. Watts, 2 fish total from Whitney was 8.43. 2nd place went to Mickie Monie fishing Lake Tawokonie 2 fish weighing 8.05. Mickie took home $1,000.00. 3rd place Dane Fulson. 4th place fishing Tawokonie John Rice, and rounding out the top five was John Nichols, 2 fish from Tawokonie. Area anglers competing were Don Flowers and Terry Wilson. Terry weighed in one fish at 3.77, one more 14" would have moved him within the 15 place payoff. However Terry's name was drawn for one of the $50.00 gift certificate given to the non winners courtesy of Fin and Feather. A number of out of town anglers fished Lake Leon, with little success. A number of 12 inch fish were taken but only one fish was brought to weigh from Lake Leon. Two anglers did however report having some big fish on early. Four of the top 5 places caught their fish on the new June bugs, and top water baits.

Thursday, August 1 we will hold our monthly meeting. Members are urged to attend to help continuing plans toward our annual Open Invitational. Members are reminded to bring their weight slips for our monthly big bass award.

WORD of GOD

Thank the Lord!

And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry;

Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious; but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief.

New Lake Atlas Now On Market

AUSTIN - A comprehensive atlas containing maps of 164 public lakes now is available at fishing tackle shops and sporting goods outlets across the state.

Officials of Marlake, Inc., publishers of the 224-page book, said the Texas Lake Atlas will be updated annually.

The atlas contains maps of all major reservoirs, most city water supply lakes, many small impoundments and four maps of Texas coastal waters.

Seven feature articles by noted outdoor writers covering various aspects of fishing also are included, as well as information provided by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The atlas is priced at $19.95. Issues may be purchased by mail by sending $21.50 to Marlake Inc., 1201 N. Watson Rd., Suite 238, Arlington, TX 76011.

Dry Weather Affecting Texas' State Parks

AUSTIN - Dry weather conditions which are hurting farmers, ranchers and urbanites with lawns also are affecting many of Texas' state parks.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said tinder-dry conditions have prompted special restrictions on campfires in some state parks.

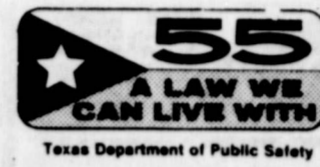

Rivers and lakes in certain state parks also are below their normal levels, impacting boat launching, swimming and fishing.

Park officials recommend that campers and other prospective park visitors call ahead before going to a state park. As always, advance reservations are recommended for use of overnight facilities.

A free brochure listing all the parks, their telephone numbers and facilities may be obtained by calling the department toll-free 1-800-792-1112.

THE FIRE ANT DANGER

The fire ant was accidentally introduced into the United States in Mobile, Alabama, in about 1918, from Brazil or Argentina. By 1940, the fire ant had infested five southern states, and by 1977 the insect covered most of nine southern states, including 100 Texas counties. In 1983, more than 30 percent of all homes in the Southeast/Southwest reported a serious fire ant problem. Fire ant mounds can be six to eighteen inches high, two to three feet in diameter, and contain fifty thousand to two hundred and fifty thousand ant each. The mounds can cause equipment breakage in farm fields, and prohibit or limit the homeowner's enjoyment of his backyard.

Colonies of fire ants build and live in mounds in fields and yards. When disturbed the ants will aggressively sting the animal or human intruder. Fire ant stings are very painful, producing a fiery, burning sensation. The stings have caused death to allergic humans and small farm animals. A single county in Georgia reported more than seven hundred thousand dollars paid by residents in 1980 for the treatment of more than twenty-eight thousand five hundred fire ant stings.

Fire ants are migrating west and it is believed they will eventually cover the entire sun belt and west coast, because of their strong tolerance for the high temperature of the area.

The available fire ant killers were difficult to use and usually ineffective for killing the entire mound. Some home remedies have damaged the lawns.

Labels have been confusing and difficult to read. Active ingredient levels were too low or too high to effectively kill the whole mound. Active levels which were too high caused rapid abandonment of the mound before the insecticide could fully work. Home remedies of boiling water or oil lacked the lasting strength necessary to kill the entire ant population in one mound and some burned out the grass surrounding the mound.

When you use a simplified diluted solution that contains no more or less than two percent Dursban level you will not burn or brown out the grass surrounding the mound, and you should have an effective kill of the entire fire ant mound.

Good Gardening until next week from your garden editor, Ted Brice.

(ED. NOTE: Recognizing that this could very well be a very controversial topic, it is presented merely as a report with these notes: Only 229 officials were sampled and there is no indication in the report regarding the levels of officiating, but the indications are that the surveyed opinions are generally from professional-level officials.)

OFFICIALS 'BLOW THE WHISTLE' ON COACHES IN SPORTS SURVEY

LAS VEGAS—Coaches are the greatest obstacle to good sportsmanship, according to members of the National Association of Sports Officials.

While attending their national convention, sports officials were questioned on sportsmanship, officiating and a variety of sports-related topics in a survey commissioned by Lite beer from Miller.

According to the Miller Lite Sports Officials Survey, more than 60 percent of officials believe the demeanor of coaches is a major impediment to good sportsmanship and 50 percent are personally disturbed by the behavior of coaches and other bench personnel.

The negative influence of coaches far outweighs the influence of parents and fans. Coaches' misbehavior is viewed as far more disturbing than athletes fighting among themselves or with officials.

The study was conducted by two noted researchers,

Dr. John Pollock and Dr. Lawrence Falkowski. Of the 250 amateur and professional officials attending the convention, 92 percent participated in the benchmark study.

It is a followup to the Miller Lite Report on American Attitudes Toward Sports. Published last year, the report is the most comprehensive sports survey every completed.

A majority of officials (54 percent) are convinced athletes have an obligation to be moral role models for the community.

Eight out of ten officials (79 percent) firmly believe the use of drugs, to increase body weight or strength, should never be allowed. The majority (53 percent) of respondents, however, do not believe athletes need to be tested before games.

Less than one out of ten officials (9 percent) believe professional sports on television are true athletic competition. One-third think professional sports are primarily forms of entertainment, and 55 percent consider them both entertainment and competition.

"The officials would like to be viewed as dedicated individuals who love sports and can teach others the values of sportsmanship. However, the vast majority of respondents (90 percent) do not feel the American public understands their role as officials," Pollock said.

"This is the first time sports officials, as a group, have been surveyed. The results are striking," he added.

One of the more revealing responses deals with women athletes and their conduct during competition.

The officials, by a three-to-one margin, believe women generally display better sportsmanship than men. Only those who have officiated for both men and women were asked to respond.

As for fan reaction and its impact on officiating almost one fourth (24 percent) of survey respondents believe officials are swayed "some" or "a great deal" by fan reaction.

Twenty-two percent of respondents also believe officials, after making a mistake, compensate by making an intentional offsetting judgement.

Micro-computers and modern survey techniques were used to compile the data in the officials' survey.

Education: brings
The joy of learning — a life-long experience

Education is a life-long process, not something which can be contained within the walls of any school, however distinguished. It is as much a territory for adults as children — there is no limit on curiosity. Put the person who truly believes that she has nothing more to learn, because that person has ceased to grow.

People learn by a variety of methods. Book learning is one, chief among them — as is the interchange of ideas and facts among people, teacher to pupil, pupil to teacher. Monthly, people learn by opening themselves to the world around them, by allowing their senses to interpret the things they see, leaving their pores open, metaphorically speaking, to the air of nature and art and evolution have to offer.

Whether your interests lie in specific areas, or whether you are enthralled by everything the world has to offer, there is one precept always to keep in mind: There is nothing so small it's not worth learning, nothing so large, it's not worth tackling.

Perfect picture

Capturing the spirit of summer in photographs can be as easy as frolicking in the sun, when you follow a few simple tips on picture taking.

No matter how ideal the lighting and other conditions, ultimately the quality of your pictures depends on the way you handle your camera.

Although many of the new cameras are equipped with what appears in the viewfinder is the result of how you pose the shot.

One of the greatest advantages of an instant camera is that you can see your results immediately. You can tell right away when you took the time to compose a shot in the viewfinder or when you need to try again.

LOS ANGELES — Patrick believes a California high school student and a very Mary Ann Maxim, Executive Director of the Student Assistance Council, said that she has answered the needs of students who have been denied the opportunity to attend college.

Students have been awarded $10,000 a year through the Scholarship Search program.

Students of awards include: $50,000 computer information bank; $50,000 donor awards; $50,000 privately funded awards; $50,000 government sources; $50,000 religious and social organizations; $50,000 civic groups; $50,000 college and university funds.

Matching a high school or senior with a scholarship manually would be virtually impossible, especially when dealing with hundreds of thousands of students, each one very, very different.

Maxim said the Council has added more than 100,000 students in the past 10 years, locating sources of college funds.

WIC Program Serves More People

More low-income women, infants, and children who are at nutritional risk will be receiving food assistance and nutrition education in Eastland County starting August 6, 1984 as a result of the Jobs Bill recently passed by Congress.

Local officials of the Texas Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) are encouraging those who feel they may be eligible to apply for WIC services. To apply for WIC benefits, contact your local WIC office for an appointment at 817-629-1788. The office is located at 104 N. Lamar, Eastland, 8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

WIC participants receive a monthly supply of nutritious foods such as milk, eggs, fruit juice, iron-fortified cereal and iron-fortified infant formula.

Monthly nutrition education classes are also provided so that WIC participants can learn about the relationship between health and good nutrition and how to buy and prepare nutritious meals.

To receive this assistance, participants must have health or nutrition-related problems and meet specified low-income criteria.

"Eating a nutritious diet is one of the most important things a pregnant woman can do to help assure a healthy baby; but eating a nutritious diet isn't always as easy as it sounds," according to Ms. Catherine Litter, nutritionist and chief administrator of the WIC Program in Texas. That is why she is encouraging low-income pregnant and breastfeeding women, infants, and children up to five years old, who have been found to be the most vulnerable to the effects of malnutrition, to apply for WIC services.

"Some pregnant women simply can't afford a nutritious diet, and many more don't know how to plan one," explained Ms. Litter. "The consequences of poor prenatal nutrition can be anemia, toxemia, prematurity, low-birthweight infants, complications in delivery, or other maternal or infant illnesses."

The benefits of good prenatal nutrition, achieved through the WIC Program, has been documented in a study conducted by the Harvard University's School of Public Health. The study found that every $1.00 spent to aid pregnant women avoided $3.00 in hospital costs that would have been spent for treatment of their babies. The cost to taxpayers is less to prevent complications than to pay costs resulting from complications. Since the program is delivered through local health care agencies, WIC encourages early and frequent prenatal and child health care.

WIC is a federal health program that has received additional funding from Congress through the Jobs Bill. The program has gained a solid reputation as a preventative health and nutrition program that actually saves federal dollars. At a time when so many federal programs are being cut, the WIC Programs enjoys bipartisan support in Congress, and in Texas it's continuing to expand.

Bill Wright of Cisco, 100 Other Hance Backers Support Gramm

U.S. Rep. Phil Gramm has announced the addition of 62 regional and county coordinators and finance chairmen from the Kent Hance campaign, including Bill Wright of Cisco, who have "assumed leadership positions in the Gramm for Senate campaign."

The announcement brings to over 100 the number of former Hance campaigners who have joined to support Congressman Gramm in the general election. Houston businessman Walter Mischer, Rep. Hance's statewide finance chairman, earlier was named statewide finance chairman of the Gramm campaign.

"I am honored by this continuing groundswell of support," Gramm said. "Clearly, it is based not on partisanship, but on principle, on a commitment to traditional Texas values, and I am deeply gratified to have the active backing of so many community and civic leaders."

West Texans on the list included Lubbock bankers Bill Barnett, Alan White, Walter Taylor, Terry Key and G.V. Fulton, along with Lubbock oilman Rex Fuller. Also from West Texas were Dr. Ollie Cauthen of Angelo State University in San Angelo, farmer Marvin Meek of Plainview and Hereford oilman Lynton Allred.

From Central and East Texas, Jim McAuley of Longview was joined by Keith Ingram of Tyler, Clarence Fields of Clifton and Mike Scherer of Richmond.

Others on the list were El Paso automobile dealer Orvall Story, Jack Blanton of Houston, and Shelby and Frank Pitts of Pitts Energy Co. in Dallas.

Others from this area include Gary Lewellen of Stephenville; Joe Thigpen of Haskell; Everett Grindstaff of Ballinger; and Ronny Nail of Albany.

To the Voters of Eastland County

It is time for each and every voter to stop and analyze with which political party he or she can truthfully identify. Each voter has to analyze the programs and political platforms, on both the state and national level, of both political parties. The ongoing change in ideology of both major political parties is rapidly sweeping past convictions and misconceptions aside. The National Democrat party of the past, the ideals that were held dear, are not the platforms of the present.

It is becoming increasingly evident that the National Democrat party by its actions and words is moving closer to the liberal "left" and away from the beliefs of the conservative Texan. The party under the present leadership of House Speaker O'Neal, Senators Ted Kennedy, and Howard Metzenbaum would spend this country into bankruptcy and allow our enemies to gain and even surpass us in defense. Issues such as Gay Rights and ERA have become more important to the Democrat leadership than a sound economy and a strong defense.

President Reagan, in his first four years of office, has shown through his economic policy that the American work ethic is alive and well. He has shown to the Soviet Union and Cuba that they can not run carte blanche through the world exporting their communist doctrine. Our allies once again know that they can count on a strong U.S. in time of need.

Walter Mondale, Geraldine Ferraro and Lloyd Doggett do not share the beliefs and doctrines of the people of Eastland County. Ronald Reagan, George Bush, and Phil Gramm do.

But don't take my word for it. Please read both political platforms and see for yourself.

I would like to take this opportunity to echo President Reagan's invitation to Conservative Democrats and Independents to join and support the Republican Party of Texas.

The Republican Party is in tune with the nation, it is in tune with Texas, and it is in tune with Eastland County.

Sincerely,

Jim Keffer

Eastland County Republican Chairman

Beware Of High Temperatures

If summertime temperatures seem hotter than they actually are, they really may be. It all has to do with the temperature-humidity combination—one that can affect your health.

Once temperatures reach the century mark (which they have in recent days over parts of Texas), folks who work and play outdoors should pay special heed to weather conditions, emphasizes Dr. Mickey Flynn, meteorologist with the National Weather Service's Southwest Agricultural Weather Service Center at Texas A&M University. Among heat related problems are heatstroke, sunstroke, heat cramps and heat exhaustion.

To warn people about the possibility of these problems, the national Weather Service has initiated the use of a "heat index" or "apparent temperature," Flynn points out. For example, if the actual air temperature is 100 degrees and the relative humidity is 40 percent, the heat index or

State Warns Bingo Operators

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Bob Bullock is warning Texas bingo operators they can say good-bye to their state licenses and hello to local police if they ignore state laws governing the game.

"When bingo people stray outside the Texas Bingo Enabling Act, they risk charges under the state's criminal laws against gambling," Bullock said. "All the Comptroller's Office can do is take away their license, but local police and prosecutors can treat them just like they'd been caught in a back alley crap game—just like any other two-bit gambler."

Comptroller agents have recently visited 500 bingo games and found nearly a third are violating some section of the bingo law.

"Most of these violations were minor mistakes made by honest charity groups running their own games," Bullock said, "but that doesn't mean we can sit still for them. We have warned these groups and sent copies of warnings to local police."

"A more serious problem is with commercial promoters who dupe charitable groups into letting the promoters run the game, count the money and give the charity what's left—if anything. The Texas bingo law just won't allow this. Where we find it, we're jerking licenses faster than you can say B-10. We suspended two licenses for this violation this week and we've got a hearing on a third set for next week."

"We'll be continuing to visit bingo games and our auditors will be looking closely at the books of everybody involved in bingo—the promoters, bingo organizations, supply distributors and manufacturers. These people can expect to hear from us and they can also expect us to share evidence of whatever violations we find with their local district attorney," Bullock said.

Building A Step Family Takes Time

COLLEGE STATION—Rearing children is tough, but rearing someone else's children is even tougher.

Today, a parent who divorces or becomes widowed is likely to remarry. And the new spouse may have children by a previous marriage, too, says home economist Dr. Dolores Stegelin.

Combining two families in a new marriage may be extra complication because old and new relationships, attitudes and beliefs are involved, says Stegelin, a specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

"Members have not shared past experiences and the new family may have to redefine rights and responsibilities to fit their individual and combined needs," she continues.

In noting that time and understanding are the key allies in making a successful transition to a new family, Stegelin offers some suggestions for the new spouse with a child or stepchild.

• Expect to deal with confusing feelings, including your own, your spouse's and each child's. Anticipate that loyalties will be questioned.

• Allow the relationship with a stepchild to develop gradually. Don't expect too much from the child or yourself.

• Give each child in the new marriage time to mourn and think about the parent who is lost, whether through divorce or death.

• Allow the child time to adjust, accept and belong to the new family. Don't try to replace a lost parent; be an additional one.

• Recognize that you may be compared with the absent parent. Be prepared to be tested, manipulated and challenged in your new role. Decide with your mate what is best for the child and then stand by your decisions.

• Try to help the child understand your love and need for him or her is different—but no less—because you love and need your spouse, too.

Stegel stresses the importance of keeping lines of communication open between marriage partners and the children in a new family. She says parents should not pretend everything is fine if it is not.

"If problems occur, deal with them openly," she recommends, "and remind yourself that nearly everyone needs help in one way or another."

Professional counseling, step-family organizations, or support groups can be of help to step parents in this situation, says the home economist.

THE GROUP OF former Ciscoans who gather here around August 1st each year for a weekend reunion were in town last Sunday. The visitors included the Bob Hammetts of Big D, the Garner Altoms of Abilene, the Les Shermans of Kerrville, the L.L. Bradleys of Abilene, the Felton Underwoods of Abilene, and the Dr. E.W. Minces of Weatherford and their two daughters, Mrs. Neal Phillips of Newcastle and Mrs. Bill Craig of Hamilton.

The group gathered at a motel in Abilene Saturday night and came on to Cisco on Sunday. They were met here by the Wm.E. (Bill) Austins and all attended the First Baptist Church service Sunday morning. At noon, they went to Cisco Steak House for a luncheon.

HOW COME Tommie and Barbara Pope are selling out the Red Gap Western Store? We saw their ad in The Press and called to inquire. Mrs. Pope told us that Tommie is busy teaching at CJC and she is tired of running a western store. So they're selling out their stock. And the sale is off to a real good start, she added.

The Popes, by the way, have built a new home on 10 acres they own a mile or so south on the road that goes under I-20 at the Church of Christ. It's an adobe type with a red slate roof, has some 2,000 square feet of floor space, three bedrooms, central heat and air, and so forth. The Popes expect to move in this coming weekend.

Mrs. Pope says they already have a riding horse but no milk cow and don't plan to have a milk cow. Guess she can have a big garden.

The Road Runner

by Viola Payne

Out in the really marginal country west of here I once had an Uncle who loved this saying:

"There's nothing wrong with West Texas that a good rain won't cure."

I think of the remark often, especially when I see an area transformed by one of the scattered showers.

But there is a sad contrast when I come upon a long line of pickups and trailers waiting beside a road so they can put in front of a cattle sale barn.

It's a scene etched in brass—with orange light bearing down upon men, trailers and animals.

The cattle bawl with a
