Re-Evaluation Causes Concern

Arson Suspect Arrested Saturday

THE BEST part of any vacation usually is getting back home. And arriving back in Cisco last Saturday night was especially appreciated by this old pro.

As you know, we departed June 20th for Boise, Idaho, to attend a travel trailer convention that lasted from June 28th through July 4th. The event attracted nearly 4,000 trailers and most of us were parked in a dry wheat stubble field adjacent to the Boise Fair Grounds.

The parking area would have been pretty awful if we had been forced to stay there all day, but activities took place at air conditioned halls on Boise State University campus and elsewhere. The nights were nice - usually in the low 60s.

WHEN THE BIG convention ended, we loaded up and started home. We began feeling "poorly" so we stopped at Mountain Home, Idaho, to see about a few pills or ointments. The medics gave us a "going over" and suggested that we spend the night and come in next morning.

More tests the following morning resulted in the news that we were suffering from a strep throat and double Pnuemonia! And we were put to bed in a hospital. Eight days later, we were given the okay to travel toward home, which we did.

By mid-day, it became obvious the we were allergic to some of the antibiotics that had been ordered. A heavy rash appeared over our body. And by the next morning, all we wanted to do was scratch.

A stop in Cheyenne, Wyo., enabled us to see a doctor. He ordered a change in the antibiotics. This provided temporary relief but before another day passed, it was obvious again the the allergy situation hadn't been cleared up. So...we stopped taking antibiotics and stepped up the use of a drug designed to stop the itching.

NEEDLESS TO say, we had a "scratching good time" as our travel trailer with Mrs. JWS in the driver's seat continued east and south. Stopped for the night at Cheyenne and then drove through Colorado to Clayton, N.M., where we spent last Friday night. Made in on to Cisco the next night.

Although we're still doing a limited amount of scratching, our over-all condition seems satisfactory and improved.

MR. DON Shepard, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, advises that they're running equipment in the new water well at the Mobley Hilton this week and hope to have the watering system in operation before the week is out.

What is more, the architects and the official board of the Mobley Hilton were due to conduct a final inspection of the restoration work this week. There will very probably be an announcement soon inre the completion of the project.

FOLKS AT First United Methodist Church are real pleased with their new air-conditioning system, according to scout reports. The old system has been replaced and is now operating...Manager Patsy Hogan of Olney Savings' local branch was back on the job Monday after spending a week at U of T in Austin attending a special banking school...Miss Shannon Anderson, daughter of the Mike Andersons, will doubtless have an interesting report when students begin telling about their vacation highlights this fall. She accompanied her grandparents, the Eldon Andersons, on a trip to New York City where they saw the newly restored Statue of Liberty plus all of the interesting sights. They got back home in Cisco last Sunday.

THE REV. Harry Garvin, pastor of First Baptist Church, was in Fort Smith, Ark., for a preaching date on missions last weekend. The Garvins were accompanied by their son Kenneth and wife Laura who will be missionary pilots in Tanzania soon.

In the absence of the pastor, the local congregation's speaker Sunday morning was Jimmy Myers, Cisco youthfull minister who was licensed to preach by the local church some time ago. Jimmy is married to Beth Lindsey, daughter of the Bob Lindseys, and is serving as minister of youth, singles, and young marrieds at the First Baptist Church in Killeen.

A graduate of Howard Payne, Jimmy has just returned from a missionary trip to Brazil.

The Sunday evening speaker was Kevin Capps, youth minister at the local church, who has just completed two weeks of work in the Baptist Encampment at Lueders.

Class Of 1976

Plans Reunion

The 1976 graduating class of Cisco High School will hold their 10 year reunion on Saturday, Aug. 2, at the Cisco Country Club. There will be a catered bar-b-que dinner served at 12 noon. Reservations need to be made by July 25. Call Caryn Bailey at 442-1074 or Sharon Wilcoxon at 442-1849. Evening plans include music provided by the Leatherwoods from Dublin and lots of visiting.

Pioneer Exes

Plan Reunion

The Pioneer Ex-Students Association is having their 66th Annual Pioneer, Liberty, Sabanno, Cook, Curtis, Gunn, Peak, Hickman, and Crocker School reunion at the Pioneer Tabernacle Saturday, Aug. 2, at Pioneer, Texas.

Lunch will be catered by Colony Restaurant of Cisco at $4.50 per plate. All ex-students and friends will be welcomed.

It doesn't take a very big piece of paper to excite concern if that particular piece of paper is a property revaluation notice from the County Appraisal District Office.

And that's what happened in this county this week.

This is the mandated four-year re-evaluation period and the proposed notices which generally reflect increases have cause no little concern among citizens who see them as increased tax threats at a time of dwindling incomes, and a generally soft economy.

The valuations set four years ago are generally considered as much as 20 percent below values based on state formulas, and this year appears to be a very bad year to be bringing values up, most agree.

Property owners are quick to point out that market values aren't what they once were - and appraisers just as quickly point out that they are following guidelines for rates per square foot, etc., as set down at the statehouse level.

The notices (not statements) from the Appraisers Office first went out to property owners in Carbon and Rising Star and some 66 appeared before appraisers to discuss the differences. Only three were rectified as satisfactorily and these will appeal to the county appraisal board which convenes Thursday and Friday.

Monday the Eastland High School Cafeteria was the scene of long lines of Cisco residents appearing to discuss values with the four appraisers on duty.

Harmony Baptist Sponsoring Drive

The Harmony Baptist Church of Morton Valley is sponsoring a drive this Thursday, July 24, to collect items for the Clint Kellar family who lost their house and furnishings in a house fire last Saturday night.

The church is opening its annex to serve as the collection center for the Morton Valley area. Residents of Eastland can drop their items off at Eastland property owners were to visit Tuesday; Gorman residents on Wednesday; and Ranger on Thursday.

Some 200 cases were discussed Monday, Chief Appraiser Steve Thomas reported.

Most are being worked out between the property owners and the appraisers, with those who are not satisfied with their arrangements scheduled to appear before the county board on Thursday and Friday.

The Chief Appraiser is quick to point out that the Appraisal Office has nothing to do with the tax rate so the estimated tax cost shown on the notices is just that: an estimate. Each taxing entity sets its own rates based on its needs, to be applied to the values which the central office reports. However tax payers are aware that most, if not all, taxing agencies, are going to be looking for as much revenue as possible in view of the tightened economy, so there is very little hope that there will be decreased tax rates this year, which would, if enacted, help offset the increased values, and could, conceivably result in at least the same tax bit as last year.

Several years ago the state enacted legislation which had as its goal tax equalization across the state - which most agree is an impossible task, when one stops to realize that identical property will not sell for the same figure in more than one site in the state.

Especially hard hit this year apparently are vacant lots which had values boosted.

Enthusiasts Have Double Opportunity

Eastland County band enthusiasts will have a double opportunity to see the top national Drum and Bugle Corps Casper Troopers in action next week.

The Troopers will overnight in Eastland Wednesday, July 30, and a special tour bus is being put together for the Troopers' contest appearance in Dallas the following night.

The Troopers will rehearse at Maverick Stadium Wednesday night and the public is invited.

The Eastland Band is sponsoring a tour bus to Dallas the following day at a total cost of $25.00. Director Phil Hewett has announced.

Bus ticket orders must be placed by July 25 and the bus must be filled in order to make the trip.

Seven national drum and bugle corps will be competing in the Dallas event at Lake Highlands High School Stadium. Reserved tickets are $9. each and the bus cost are $16. each for a total of $25. The bus will leave Eastland at 3.30 p.m. Thursday for the Dallas contest which begins at 7:30 p.m.; and depart Dallas at 11 p.m. for a 1 a.m. return to Eastland.

The Troopers will be in full show contest in Dallas competing with the Santa Clara Vanguard, Suncoast Sound, Sheriff Don Underwood travelled to Stephenville last Saturday to bring Randall Ray Alderton to Eastland County Jail where he was charged with the Cisco Lumber and Supply Company fire on June 10.

He was arrested in Erath County on warrants from three states. According to Dublin Police Chief David Johnson, Alderton is wanted in Missouri, Illinois and Texas for various offenses including robbery and felony driving while intoxicated.

A $200,000 bond was set for Alderton.

Also charged with the fire is Thomas Wayne Markam, 22, of Cisco. He had not been apprehended by officers on Tuesday morning.

Cisco Justice of the Peace J.V. Heysler suggested setting a $100,000 bond for Markam when he is arrested.

Both men lived in Cisco at the time of the fires. A tip alleging Alderton's involvement in the fire led to his arrest, according to Cisco Police Detective Risa Livingston. She said she received the information about 2 p.m. Friday. A $5,000 reward probably played a part in the tip, according to Don Underwood.

Sheriff Underwood said the fires may have been set as a diversion to burglaries. On the night of the Cisco Lumber Fire Dean Rexall Drug Store was broken into.

Republican

Rally Is

Saturday 11-3

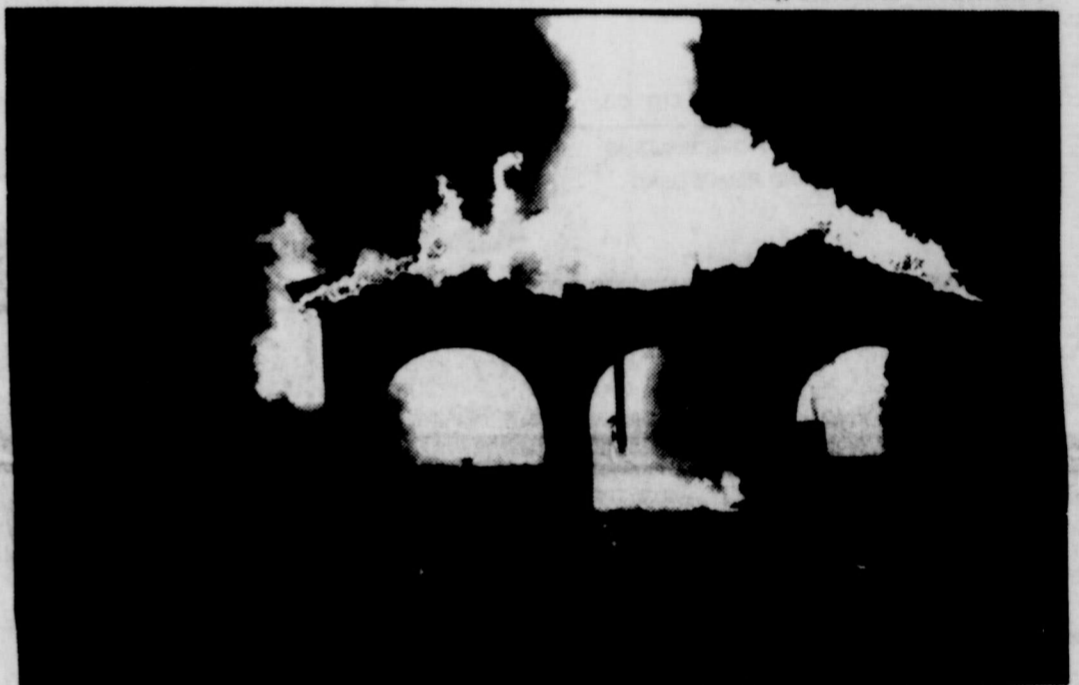

Former U.S. Congressman Kent Hance will be the principal speaker at the Eastland County Republican Rally to be held Saturday. The rally will be held from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. at the LaMancha Lake Ranch at Lake Leon.

Hance is well known in this county and will speak on behalf of Governatorial Candidate Bill Clements, county GOP chairman Jim Keffer stated.

Its free to the public and there will be hot dogs and cokes for everybody, Keffer added.

Other speakers for the event will be David Davidson, candidate for Lt. Governor; Roy Barrera, Attorney General candidate; Joe Brannon, State Representative, District 65 candidate; Jammie Fry, candidate for County Commissioner, Precinct Four; Milton Fox, Rail Road Commissioner candidate and other state and area candidates.

Tom Brashier and his band of Ranger and other groups will provide the musical entertainment for the event.

Three Fire Departments Respond To Fire Sunday

Firemen from Eastland, Cisco and Ranger responded to a house fire at Morton Valley early Sunday morning. The home of the Clifton Kellar family was destroyed in the blaze.

Firemen arrived at the scene to find the rock home completely engulfed in flames about 1:30 a.m. Sunday morning. Firemen attempted to bring the blaze under control but could do very little to save any portion of the home.

After battling the blaze for about one hour, the firemen pulled back from the fire and protected the surrounding area from fire. Firemen remained at the scene for about two hours.

Flames from the fire could be seen for several miles away.

According to Eastland County Deputy Sheriff H.T. Fillingham the fire possibly started in the northwest corner of the home where the water heater was located. Also in the same room was a refrigerated air conditioner window unit that was in the area of origination of the fire. No suspicion of arson is suspected in this fire Deputy Fillingham stated.

The Kellar were in the process of moving and were out of town when the blaze started. There were no injuries reported.

Large Crowd Expected To Greet Wagon Train Wednesday Noon

A large crowd of Cisco residents was expected to line Eighth Street Wednesday noon to welcome the Lone Star Wagon Train as it rolled through town enroute to its camp site west of town.

The wagon train was to set up camp at Stovall Roustabout on the north access road of I-20, half a mile west of the White Elephant Restaurant.

Old-timey gospel singing was to begin around 7 p.m. at the camp site, followed by a Velvet Knights, Sky Riders, Marauders and River City Railmen: seven of the best corps in the world.

Band enthusiasts can see the Troopers free in Eastland on Wednesday night, and join the bus tour to Dallas Thursday.

Reservations may be made to Hewett at 629-2271 or 629-2243.

short message brought by a member of the Cisco Ministerial Alliance. Local churches decided if they would have regular Wednesday church services or dismiss for the program at the camp site. Everyone was invited to visit the wagon train and participate in the evening services.

Drawings were to be held Wednesday night to give away a pair of Tony Lama boots with the Texas Sesquicentennial logo stitched in the front of the boot, and a bicycle furnished by the Cisco Western Auto Store. Tickets for the drawings were available at 50 cents each at Western Auto Store, Chamber of Commerce, Olney Savings, Madisons Western Wear, and the First National Bank.

Boy Scout Troop 101 was to present a banner, which they had made, to the Lone Star Wagon Train. The presentation was to be made near the 8th Street and Conrad Hilton Avenue intersection.

Anyone wanting to accompany the wagon train through Cisco had been asked to meet near noon Wednesday across from the Burger and Pizza Factory on East Eighth Street. Riders must furnish their own transportation.

Cisco Chamber of Commerce's newly organized Redcoats were to meet the wagon train as it arrived from Eastland. The train will leave Thursday morning on Hwy. 183 enroute to Breckenridge.

County Farm Bureau To Honor Ann Justice Friday

The Board of Directors of the Eastland County Farm Bureau will honor Ann Justice for her twenty-five years of service to the County office Friday with a reception from 2 until 4. The reception will be held at the County Farm Bureau office on Hwy. 80 East in Eastland. Eastland County Farm Bureau invites everyone to stop by and visit with Ann on her special day.

Ann began working for the Farm Bureau in July of 1961 and worked full time until May of 1980, when she semi-retired due to health (Continued Back Page)

Viewpoints: What About Humanism?

By Josephine Cleveland

Solomon, known for his wisdom, wrote, "Train up the child in the way he should go—." He did not say, the way you think he should go. Solomon was saying there is a criteria to base your method of training other than your own judgment. The words of wisdom Solomon spoke of was not portraying him merely as a man with a high degree of intelligent but his wisdom dealt with moral instructions — right and wrong. He used synonymous terms for wisdom such as understanding, integrity, and knowledge of good and evil as based on Biblical precepts. He likened folly or evil to a foolish son—a fool who is simple, a scorners, vain and wayward.

What are we now witnessing as a result of the training our children and young adults are receiving? Our system of public education has been evaluated. Public schools are turning out millions who can't read or figure above the elementary level. In spite of the remedial reading, remedial math, the special education classes, and the funding of millions to improve learning, the Armed forces had to change instruction manuals to a 8th grade level for them to be understood.

Not only is it evident that children lack the basic skill of reading, writing and arithmetic, but there is now the free-sex movement, abortion on demand, teenage pregnancies, homosexual rights movement, and the total exclusion of individuals to pray in public schools and public life.

If our children are not being taught what was once the expected norm, what are they being taught which has contributed to the downward slide so evident in our society?

The concept of secular humanism which contradicts and undermines our most sacred Christian beliefs has crept cunningly and subtly into our consciousness and has almost dulled Americans to sleep. Many in our society are now a champion of its philosophy.

The "Humanist Manifesto I" written in 1933 by a group of 34 humanist liberals and the "Humanist Manifesto II" written in 1973 clearly defines the basic concepts of humanism.

"Religious humanists regard the universe as self-existing and not created." Manifesto I

"Humanist believes that man is a part of nature and that he has emerged as the result of a continuous process." Manifesto I

They say, "We find insufficient evidence of a supernatural; it is either meaningless or irrelevant to the question of survival and the fulfillment of the human—No deity will save us; we must save ourselves." Manifesto II

"Humanists look for their moral values from human experiences— Ethics is situational, needing no theological sanction." Manifesto II

They assert that the nature of the universe depicted by modern science makes unacceptable any supernatural guarantees of human values— just do what comes naturally.

To put it more plainly, humanists are telling, "There is no right or wrong about anything. There are no old-fashioned restraints. We can do what is right in our own eyes."

Do you consider this law based on their philosophy straight thinking? "Teen-agers can have an abortion without parental consent but must have parental consent before having their ears pierced?"

Who would deny that humanists are doing what they set out to do? Their method is to train up the child— get to their minds early with their philosophy. Children are very much aware that modern educational concepts permits them to feel there are no rules, no right or wrong about anything.

It is obvious, the idea, "I gotta be me" is not proving to be good enough. We see it in our rapidly decaying society.

The Bible teaches we are to fight the enemy; to capture his strongholds. We need to fight on all fronts. We can take heart, too, that we aren't fighting this cancerous philosophy alone. We can declare with Paul that "We are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things." Romans 2:2

"The wicked plotteth against the just, and gnashed upon him with his teeth. The Lord shall laugh at him; for he seeth that his day is coming." Psalm 37:13

"—but those that wait upon the Lord, they shall inherit the earth." Psalm 37:9

"For the arms of the wicked shall be broken; but the Lord upholdeth the righteous." Psalm 37:17

Infrared Photography Used To Locate Oak Wilt

By Marilyn Brown
TAES Science Writer

Oak wilt, a fungus that is stealthily killing Central Texas' oak tree population, is the state's most serious oak disease. It is especially threatening to the state's capital, Austin, where oaks are valued for their shade and beauty.

Texas Agricultural Experiment Station forest specialist David Appel and Robert Maggio are studying the disease, trying to find ways to prevent its spread, to understand how it moves from one area to another, and to better identify the symptoms of the disease.

Using aerial infrared photography, the researchers devised a system for identifying oak wilt centers from the air. Literally thousands of group of oak wilt centers were found. Of these, 77 were randomly selected and then diagnosed as oak wilt centers.

They then confirmed the presence of oak wilt by manually checking the sites for symptoms of the disease.

Fungal mats, formed by the oak wilt pathogen Verticillium dahliae, were discovered under the bark of diseased Spanish oaks at 12 of the sites, but no mats were found on live oaks.

In all, five symptom categories were observed on 138 diseased trees selected for sampling and laboratory isolation of the fungus. Veinal necrosis (death of the leaf, veins first) and tipburn of leaves occurred separately or in combination on 51 percent of the diseased live oaks. Typical wilting was found only on diseased Spanish oaks. Interveneal yellowing also was found on diseased trees, and in one 38-acre oak wilt center, 45 percent of the oaks surveyed were dead or nearly so.

Typical foliar wilt symptoms in deciduous Spanish oaks include water soaking and browning or bronzing of leaf tips and margins. Spanish oak is a typical red oak, usually dying in the year of infection. White oaks either die more slowly or recover.

Foliar symptoms in live oaks vary, but they do not resemble those of deciduous oaks. The most reliable diagnostic foliar symptoms of oak wilt on live oaks are veinal necrosis and tipburn, Appel and Maggio say.

The disease is most deadly for live oaks, those trees with the small, spoon shaped leaves that stay green all winter. Spanish oaks, or the Texas red oak as it is also called, have a more lobed leaf shape and drop their leaves in the fall.

Maggio said they have learned that disease originates in the Spanish oak, which may or may not be killed by the fungus. Insects feed on the fungal mat, and then carry it with them when they fly off, transferring it to live oaks.

The disease is also known to spread through the common root system of a grove of trees. Oaks often sprout from the roots of parent trees, giving many of the trees in a group connected roots.

The initial discovery of V. dahliae in Texas was made in 1961 from diseased trees in Dallas, Appel and Maggio say. That discovery was believed to be well beyond the main range of oak wilt; it was believed that the fungus could not survive Texas' hot summer temperatures. But scientists now know that it endures summer temperatures by staying in the trunk or roots of infected trees.

The researchers are concentrating on ways to prevent the disease's spread, but all of the techniques they are using are still experimental, Maggio said. They include chemical injections, trenching (cutting common roots), and removing red oaks. But for now, the odds are in the fungus's favor.

Trenching can clear up or eliminate oak wilt by selectively placing a trench in the proper place and removing diseased trees. The remaining root systems will rapidly die.

The Experiment Station recently has entered into an agreement with the City of Austin for an oak wilt management plan. The plan will concentrate on locating and removing the red oaks to prevent long-distance spread of the disease. The researchers will locate the city's disease centers using aerial photography, and then turn the areas over to the city's newly hired urban forester.

The researchers will continue to study the disease to try to understand its pathology; in their first study, there were no obvious differences among the sites that would account for the high disease incidence in some areas and low incidence in others.

"The aerial photography and precise location of mortality centers could prove valuable in future investigations for possible relationships between stand and density, soil type, slope, and occurrence of the disease," Appel and Maggio say.

Another symptom they observed was the presence of debilitated, yet surviving trees, within active disease centers. The majority of live oaks however, defoliate and die rapidly following appearance of symptoms in the crown.

Attempts To Cut Human Services Raises Concerns

Proposed cuts in human services funding by the Texas Legislature would not be "cutting from abundance to scarcity but cutting from scarcity to desperation," said Phil Strickland, director of the Texas Christian Life Commission.

The commission is the social action and moral concerns agency of the Baptist General Convention of Texas which speaks to, but not for, the 2.3 million Southern Baptists in Texas.

In a July 16 letter to state legislators, Strickland expressed the commission's concern about any attempts to cut human services in Texas. He stressed the state's long-standing austerity in the area of human services funding.

"Were our history one of extravagance in the funding of human services, the need for adjustments would be obvious. This simply has not been our history," he stated.

Strickland noted that if legislators make the proposed 13 percent cuts in human services or if they go beyond that level, Texas probably would become the lowest-ranking in Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) payments.

He charged that the loss of human service funds from the state, as well as the loss of over 50 percent matching federal dollars for the programs, would be "linked directly and immediately to human suffering."

Strickland said over 100,000 people would be directly impacted by the cuts. For example, the cuts would force the closing of shelters for battered women, they would result in fewer abused children receiving care from the state, and they would significantly hamper the work of such cost-effective projects as supervised living programs designed to support handicapped persons living at home.

Acknowledging that the current economic condition of the state presents "no pleasant choices," Strickland expressed the commission's assurance that Texans understand the necessity of human services and understand that new revenue will be required to continue funding at current levels.

"While this commission would specifically object to any attempts to raise that revenue through lotteries or pari-mutuel gambling, which we believe to be inadequate, regressive and inefficient ways to raise revenue, I can assure you that I will join with any effort which seeks to communicate to the people of this state the necessity which we face of finding new, responsible sources of revenue," he said.

Commenting on the letter, Strickland said he hoped legislators especially would examine the possible use of dedicated funds which comprise over 50 percent of the state's revenue as one possible source for human services money.

"Legislators should look at dedicated funds to make sure cuts do not fall just upon those groups who have lacked the power to get their funds statutorily dedicated," he said.

Strickland observed that the commission is not alone in its stand against cuts in human services funding. The conservative Texas Taxpayers' Association did not recommend cuts in human services, and a recent report of the Health and Human Services Coordinating Committee opposed such cuts.

Home Food

Preservations

Without Sugar

Foods can be preserved at home with less sugar, but the results may or may not be acceptable to your tastes, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist. Before trying no-sugar recipes on your produce, nutritionist Marilyn Haggard advises experimenting with small batches first to see if you are pleased with the results. Recipes for canning fruits call for the addition of sugar or a sugar syrup to maintain the texture, shape and color of the fruit and to improve the flavor, she explains. Omitting the sugar will primarily affect the fruit texture and flavor. When canning without sugar, the specialist says to use only firm ripe or slightly under-ripe fruit so it won't become too soft from canning. By adding ascorbic acid or a commercial anti-darkening agent, fruit will retain better color. "If you plan on using artificial sweeteners, add it when the fruit is served," says Haggard. "The heat of processing can cause some artificial sweeteners to become bitter and others to lose their sweetening power."

THERE'S NOTHING PUZZLING ABOUT IT.

Cisco Writer's Club Contest Ends Aug. 1

"You still have time to get your entries in the 1986 Cisco Writer's Club Contest," says Lela Latch Lloyd of Cisco, president of the club. She reports that the Contest, which opened June 1, will close August 1. Material should be postmarked by that date to be eligible. The material will be sent to Judges shortly afterward, and they will decide winners by September. The Awards will be announced at a special meeting on Sept. 9. This is the 10th year that the Club has sponsored a writer's contest for the public. There seems to be more and more interest each year, and writers from as far away as Albany, Brownwood, Abilene and Fort Worth participate. There are currently 10 categories in the contest. If you would like more information about the Contest, write Voy Wilks, Contest Director, Rt. 2 Box 22, Cisco, Texas 76437, or Viola Payne, Rt. 2 Box 207, Cisco, Mrs. Lloyd says some very fine judges have been lined up, and the competition should be interesting.

Cisco Country Club To Host Golf Scramble

The Cisco Country Club will have a nine hole golf scramble on Thursday, July 24, beginning at 6 p.m. Anyone wishing to play is asked to be at the club by 5:30 p.m. for registration. The entry fee is $3.00. There will be also a $3.00 greens fee for non-members. If there is enough interest indicated, plans will be made to hold a scramble every Thursday until the fall season.

CJC's Dinner Theatre To Present One-Act Plays

An evening of One Act Plays and dancing is to be presented in Cisco Junior College's Roof Garden Theatre Saturday, July 26, at 8 p.m. "The Actor's Nightmare" is the first one act on the bill. Director is Linda Dippel, CJC summer contract actress. This comedy is the story of an accountant who dreams he is swept onstage in three different plays without knowing any of the roles. "The Potman Spoke Sooth" is the second one-act to be presented. It is a spoof of your all-time favorite murder mysteries and is directed by Julie Hutchings, also a CJC summer contract actress. Following the one acts will be a dance review choreographed by Scott

Taylor, summer theatre musical director and choreographer, with selections from the Broadway musicals "Cats" and "A Chorus Line."

Lights From The Christian World

By Josephine Cleveland

Sitting in a glass-bottom boat I watched crystal-clear water gush forth from the mouth of a cave whose opening was 85' below the surface of the water. The water from this underwater spring came from a cave whose mouth was 12' deep and 65' wide. 500 million gallons of water spewed from this spring each day.

The spring never varied its supply or flow at any season of the year. A long drought may occur, but it remains constant. This spring, located at Silver Springs, Florida, has become a favorite attraction for tourists. One of the reasons for this is that this spring is an unusual spring. There are few springs that are this reliable.

And so it is with our joy. One kind of joy comes when our circumstances are pleasant and relatively free from troubles. The problem, however, is this kind of joy can evaporate like water on a warm summer day. When circumstances change the joy is gone.

There is another kind of joy that is lasting. It given inner happiness and peace which endures no matter what comes our way, and even may grow stronger in adversity. All soul yearn for this never-ending joy, for it is undisturbed by success or failure, and is one which lies deep within and gives inward peace and contentment, no matter what the surface problems may be.

This kind of joy comes only from God. He alone has the answer to our search for permanent happiness.

COUNTY AGENTS TO HOLD STATEWIDE MEETING--Discussions relating to the future of agriculture and professional improvement will highlight the annual meeting of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association at the Worthington Hotel in Fort Worth, Aug. 3-6. Among featured speakers will be Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter of College Station, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service; U.S. Congressman Charles Stenholm of Stamford; Carolyn Corbin, an educational consultant from Dallas; Gene Jernigan of Fort Worth with the Texas Electric Service Co.; David J. Simons of Fort Worth with the National Finance Credit Corp.; David Alders of Dallas, a land leasing agent with Trammell Crow Co.; and Roy Eaton of Decatur, president and publisher of the Wide County Messenger. A highlight of the meeting will be the "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" Banquet Tuesday evening, Aug. 5.

The beauty and versatility of wool will be the focus for the "Texas Make-It-Yourself With Wool" Contest for 1986. The contest is sponsored annually by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Auxiliary, Texas Department of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council. Purpose of the annual contest is to encourage the use of wool in sewing, knitting and crocheting fashionable garments. It also offers young experts the opportunity to compete for

V.A. Home Loans Aimed At Record Year

The Veterans Administration's home loan program--spurred by favorable market conditions and low interest rates--is poised for a record-setting year.

VA Administrator Thomas K. Turnage said the popular mortgage guaranty program is running at a pace that will probably exceed $35 billion in loan commitments by the end of fiscal year 1986, three months from now. That level, Turnage said, would be the largest dollar volume of loans guaranteed in the program's 42-year history.

With VA-guaranteed fixed rate mortgages now at 9 1/2 percent--the lowest in seven years--the agency has experienced extraordinary demand for both new and refinanced loans. Qualified veterans can use their entitlement to purchase, construct, alter, improve, repair or refinance conventional homes, condominiums, and manufactured housing. Loans are made by private lenders and VA-backing frequently allows veterans to obtain mortgages with little or no down payment.

VA loan guaranty officials said the current level of market activity is being felt throughout the mortgage and housing industry. Processing backlogs are not unique to VA, the officials notes. Turnage urged veterans to apply early and plan accordingly. "These favorable conditions have boosted home-buying and financing activity all across America," Turnage said.

"The VA is a significant part of this truly positive economic news," he added.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

A young dentist wanted to become a missionary. But the mission board rejected him because he had a heart condition.

"If I can't go myself," he said, "I'll make money and send others."

Dr. C.E. Welch kept his word. Famous for Welch's Grape Juice, he made money and he gladly gave money for missionaries, churches, hospitals, and schools on every continent.

God had only one Son, and He was a missionary. God wrote only one book, and it is a missionary book. What are the churches for? To make missionaries, for that is the business of every believer. What is education for but to train missionaries? What is money for but to send them to preach the gospel to everyone everywhere. What is life for but to woo and win men and women to the Lord; Who is not willing that any should perish.

The Lord Jesus Christ alone can save the world, but He cannot save the world alone. That is why He said, "Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

DEVIL'S ADVOCATE

Let me make it perfectly clear, and though I use the words so dear to one of our presidential exes, I do mean that to be understood is what I have in mind.

It is doubtful that any business in Eastland would be happier to welcome more industry to town than The Pizza House—especially industry employing people who favor our pizzas and spaghetti!

But, However, On the other hand, I see a major difficulty that precludes much more industrial activity enlivening our locality, no matter how esthetically inviting it is.

Water. Specifically, the lack of a water system adequate for the demands of heavy industry. We won't mention the recent dam report - not now.

People already living here know what will work and have pretty good ideas about what else might work.

There isn't any industry— heavy, light, or between—that can afford to ignore a city's water supply.

If a company needing a thousand gallons of water per day moved into Eastland, could our present water plant handle it? Could we afford to add two such companies? Three?

Do you invite the preacher to Sunday dinner if you don't know that Mama has fried chicken to feed him?

When the G.M. plant was a possibility talked about around here (and elsewhere), what would Eastland have done if it had located here? Were we ready?

We have the same desirable features now that we had then, but we have no more water available.

It is doubtful Eastland ever was more than a mote in G.M.'s corporate eye. It is possible that lack of a larger, more stable water supply did us in for G.M. Maybe work in progress to show we could tap available water resources would have turned the trick for us.

What else could have been such a major negative factor?

Not the lack of room to function, for space we have. Space for any kind of building complex and parking area.

Schools? Eastland's track record on graduates compares favorably with any school, and there's no reason to think quality might drop.

Churches? There are some denominations that are not represented here, but I believe it is safe to say that if the church of one's choice is not already established, it wouldn't be hard to start one.

Homes are available. The price range is wide; the locations varied. If you can't find one precisely to your taste in Eastland, the towns of Cisco, Ranger, Olden and Carbon are nearby. Even Gorman and Rising Star are not as far away as many people in the bedroom communities of big cities

Poetic Verses.....

By Bob Harbin

Prayer

In the early morning light
I hear the breeze shift
through the trees
I'm in need of something the world can't fulfill
So I get on my knees and ask the Lord's will

As we travel down life's highways
Temptation and trouble on ever side
We need a haven of peace and rest
That the world can't abide travel daily to get to work.

The entire town needs to decide whether Eastland wants to double—triple?—in size. There are more problems with urban growth than only water. Not everyone is willing to deal with those as yet problematical problems.

In taking on the role of Devil's Advocate to underscore the less than solid foundation we are proposing to build upon, I do ad-

Prayer is a special blessing Something the world can't understand
When we get on our knees
we are taller than trees.
When the Lord is in command.

A special line is now open
Just waiting for your call
You can't get the wrong number
And Jesus paid for it all.
Robert Harbin

mit that I like Eastland the way it is. I might like a bigger Eastland better.
But like it or not, I do not believe any living thing can remain static and be healthy. A town is a living thing. If we don't go upward, it is within reason to expect to go downward.

Shall we consolidate our forces and strengthen our foundation to be sure Eastland's growth is upward.

Weather Makes Good News

Weather forecasters gave Eastland County a 20 percent chance of rain on Monday, but the odds zoomed up about 6 p.m. Clouds rolled in across most of the county south of I-20. They generally came from the southeast, but sometimes moved erratically about.

The heaviest rains reached from southeast of Cisco into Comanche County, with an area around Carbon receiving 4 inches or more between 6:15 and 7:30. There was intense lightning and a lot of thunder, but no wind damage.

High gusty winds moved into Rising Star around 6:30, however, bringing heavy rain. By 8:30 p.m. rainfall totals in that area had reached 1.90 inches. Totals up to 1 inch generally covered a wide belt reaching from south of Cisco toward Eastland.

Cisco, however, received only .2 of rain, with a trace reported out at Lake Cisco and at Scranton. Eastland had an official .78, with reports of more south of town. Morton Valley had only a trace.

Ranger had a brief but heavy shower in late afternoon, right after the supper and entertainment at the Wagon Train encampment. There was another shower late in the night.

Jesse White, at the Eastland County Water District Plant south of Ranger reports only .2 inches. Most of this came late at night. The totals in Gorman are listed at .50, with heavier amounts back toward Gorman.

The rains dropped the temperature about 20 degrees, cleared dust from the air, and refreshed the whole countryside. They will be of immense value to growing crops, grass and gardens.

Another 20 percent chance of rain is forecast for the county at presstime Tuesday. Maybe it will turn out as well as the other forecast!

Paula Mae Johnson: "Be Certain You Have A Patent"

By Viola Payne
For years the daily routine of Mrs. Paula Mae Flournoy Johnson revolved around her husband, Charlie, and the upkeep of their home.
Now recently widowed, the Eastland woman is attempting to find some meaning for her days. Her bright blue eyes and cheerful smile show that she hasn't given up.
But things would be financially easier for her if she could secure an undetermined amount of oil-production money being held in escrow in her name.
This has accumulated since 1979, when the State of Texas claimed royalty Mrs. Johnson and other heirs had previously leased to Mobil Oil. Since then, Mobil and the State have been on opposite sides in lawsuits supposed to determine the legal owners of the Ferrell Estate in Marion County, Texas.
Usually, Mrs. Johnson, a granddaughter of the Ferrells, doesn't let herself think too much about this tangled litigation. After all - how can a little woman and her relatives, with their limited resources, fight the State of Texas over a land title?
Even if her grandparents bought these two tracts of land in 1902 and 1904, had what they thought was a valid title, and lived on the place and paid taxes on it for more than 50 years?

The family even sold the surface of the land to Southwestern Power and Light Co. of Shreveport, La. But they kept half of the royalty - or so they thought. They leased this royalty to Mobil Oil in 1959.

Mrs. Johnson is still paying taxes on her part of the oil interest. She sends payments regularly to the Marion County Courthouse, where they are accepted.

Paula Mae Johnson of Eastland - she has learned about State Land Patents the hard way.

The problem, as Mrs. Johnson has learned, lies with the failure of the original land owner (not the Ferrells) to obtain a State Patent to the property in question. After an investment in 1980 Mobil Producing Texas and New Mexico Inc. wrote Mrs. Johnson, in part: "It appears that S.F. Jackson (homesteader of the land) perfected his claim as a settler under the Mississippi and Pacific Railroad Act and made the necessary application to the State on Aug. 26, 1856, but that the State of Texas never issued a patent on the land that he claimed."
"The State offered the land for oil and gas lease in a sale held by the General Land Office on Oct. 2, 1979, and a lease was issued to La Jolla Oil and Minerals of Midland, Texas.
"Mobil, Gett and Texaco, Inc. who now own the 1959 lease...believe the title to your royalty interest in our lease is good. We plan to file suit in Marion County to protect that title..."
The litigations continued through 1981, but Mrs. Johnson did not give up hope of clearing up the title to her family land.
Her hopes increased when a State Constitutional Amendment was approved in Nov., 1981, that would allow the transfer of unpatented state properties to applicants who could prove they had acquired the land without knowing its title was defective.

Another stipulation was that he or his predecessors held a recorded deed to the land, and had paid all the taxes on it before Nov. 15, 1981.
A part of the law stated, however: "this section does not apply...to land on which the state has given a mineral lease that on the effective date of this section was productive."
Although none of the Ferrell estate had been drilled on, it lays in a lease pool of 688 acres on which there was production. This is where Mrs. Johnson's oil checks had been coming from before they were suspended.
A law was already on the books which prevented the transfer of state properties where production lay within a five mile distance.
Sometimes, as the lawsuits wore on, Paula Mae Johnson would write letters to various people who might be able to help her. Sometimes they would reply - sometimes not.
In July of 1983 she wrote State Senator Bob Glasgow concerning the problem, and he contacted Gary Mauro, General Land Office Commissioner.

The commissioner replied promptly, stating that on Oct. 2, 1979 La Jolla Oils and Minerals Co. bid $157,333.33 for a three year mineral lease from the state for the S.F. Jackson tract, which by that time was only two miles from a producing well.
"On September 22, 1982, the 115th District Court ruled that the State has title to the land," the Commissioner said. "The plaintiffs appealed the ruling, which was dismissed on Dec. 21, 1982, because an interlocutory summary judgement is not appealable..."
He concluded the letter as follows: "I am sorry to say that Mrs. Johnson has no rights to the minerals in question."
In spite of these adverse rulings, later correspondence indicated that litigation still continued. Mrs. Johnson attempted to work along some other lines, feeling that it would take special help in Austin for one individual to be heard.
On Jan. 1, 1985 she wrote a letter to a landman for Mobil Oil, outlining the background of the Ferrell property. She also told of her contact with an individual who had cleared up the title to his land under the Constitutional Amendment of 1981.
After describing the deeds on record in Jefferson, the County Seat of Marion County, Mrs. Johnson said, in part:

"D.M. Ferrell was my grandfather, my mother, Bertie Pearl Ferrell, being his daughter. There were six more children, all raised at that homestead. My father, Joseph Alexander Flournoy, married my mother in 1909. I have a brother, George Flournoy of Midland, Texas, who was born in my grandmother's house that set on this land in Marion County.
"My brother and I leased our royalty, along with the brothers and sisters of our mother, for $10 an acre to Magnolia Oil Co., later known as Mobil."
Mrs. Johnson goes on to tell how, in 1961, Southwestern Electric Power Co. wanted to buy the land to make a power lake. That was the first time the family learned of a possible cloud on the title.
"They said they could not find a patent on the land from the State of Texas but felt a moral obligation to pay us for the land, as we had it in our possession for a long, long time."
Mrs. Johnson did not mention in this letter that the Electric Company had also investigated the possibility of having a patent issued, and found that as a result of the oil production within a five mile distance it could not be issued except by an act of the legislature or by court action. So, in addition to paying the Ferrell heirs, they paid the State for the use of the land.
Mrs. Johnson continued in her letter to the landman by describing a meeting with Jesse Johnson, the nationally publicized black man who lives in southeast Texas. He almost lost his land because he has no State patent.
Mrs. Sefronia Thompson of Houston, who is a representative at Austin, helped him save his land and place," Mrs. Johnson said. "I was so glad for him. I thought that law would fix our royalty, but it didn't."

"He said some other people around their lost their places, but the State was made to give them back."
"You are at Houston, and Sefronia Thompson is too, so you need to go see her, or call her...The Legislature meets again on January 8. It seems as if a lot of the lawmakers have been down there already, doing something. I sent a lot of business papers to Mrs. Thompson over a year ago to get her to help me...She said when she studied the paper over she would write me."
"I have written to Senator Edd Howard at Texarkana, Texas since he was the Senator of Marion County. He said he asked the black people to come up with something, since she (Mrs. Thompson) sponsored the Amendment and we voted on it in '81 and it passed."
"Toward the end of the letter Mrs. Johnson mentions one of the Ferrell heirs whose money had been in limbo.
"My cousin Nellie Whitworth died last month. Bless her heart - she had a hard time. The money that she could have got sure would have helped her...My husband has heart trouble, is not well at all...Please find out all you can for us to help save the lease..."
Mrs. Johnson received no direct reply to this letter, but has since heard from another department of Mobil Oil. The letter was dated Dec. 9, 1985, and indicated that some type of litigation was still pending. The money was being held in suspense for her and the other heirs, pending the outcome.
Nothing has been heard since.

Bentsen Seeks Science Committee Membership

Washington, D.C.—Senator Lloyd Bentsen has said he will seek membership on the Senate Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee when the 100th Congress convenes next January.

Bentsen would relinquish his membership on the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee as a result of any move to Commerce and Science.

"I think the interests of leadership training activities this week at Camp Scott Able, near Cloudcroft, New Mexico. Greg Gengross, County Extension Agent, says the camp is designed to promote leadership among older 4-H members. "Work in such areas as public speaking, nature study and recreational skills will be stressed during the camp," notes the County Agent. He says that techniques learned at the lab will be used by the delegates in training other 4-H members.

Texas would be better served if I make this move," Bentsen said in revealing his plans.

"The areas of jurisdiction for the Commerce and Science Committee include the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and other science and space related activities, telecommunications, aviation, business, trade and tourism; all areas of vital importance to the economic future of my state."

Bentsen is currently Ranking Member of the Environment and Public Works Committee but would give up that leadership position at the start of the next Congress in any event, when he assumes the job of either Ranking Member or Chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee.

"We have to diversify our economic base in Texas. Anyone who has witnessed the damaging effects that falling oil prices have had on our economy in recent months must realize that," Bentsen said.

"I want to help bring more research and development to our state and I believe I will be in a better position to do this as a Member of the Commerce and Science Committee."

"We are in the dawn of the age of commerce in space. The activities of NASA in our state can give us a leg up for the competition of this new era and I want to do everything possible to maintain and enhance the presence of the nation's space agency in Texas."

15th Annual Folklife Festival In San Antonio

Each year visitors and native Texans alike gather in a celebration of the state's ethnic diversity and pioneer heritage at the Texas Folklife Festival. The 1986 Festival, July 31 to August 3, promises to be more than a celebration of Texas history, it's the best bet in family entertainment in an educational setting offered in the state.

Sponsored by the University Institute of Texan Cultures at San Antonio, the Festival will be on the 15-acre grounds surrounding the Institute of Texan Cultures at Durango Boulevard and Bowie Street on HemisFair Plaza in downtown San Antonio.

Hours will be 5 to 11 p.m. Thursday, July 31; noon to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Aug. 1-2; and noon to 10 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 3.

Admission will be $5 for adults; $1 for children 6-12; and children under 6 will be admitted free. In honor of the Festival's 15th anniversary, no gate admission will be charged from noon until 1 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 1.

Nearly 6,000 representatives of the more than 30 ethnic groups who settled and developed Texas share their traditions, crafts, music, food and dance in a blend of education and entertainment for the whole family.

From fiddling to corn shucking, dancing to goose plucking, the Texas Folklife Festival offers a variety of ways to experience the state's history and culture. In the "Back 40" area visitors can see and participate in such crafts and pioneer skills as breadmaking, basketmaking, shingle-splitting, spinning, weaving, ropemaking, candlemaking, hoe cakes, and much more.

Adding delight to the Festival in a tasteful way is an array of ethnic specialties including Cajun gumbo, Hungarian gulyas, Spanish empanadilla, Polish placki and Filipino lumpia.

At the Texas Folklife Festival the list of things to do, see, hear, taste and touch is virtually limitless!

Conducting the workshop was Carey Clawson of Meridian, who sculptured "One Man's Dream," of Clint Peoples, famous Texas Ranger. Peoples' dream was to have a Texas Ranger Hall of Fame, and one is now located in Waco.

The next workshop will be Nov. 7-9 at the foundry. Anyone interested in attending should contact Pat Cowan, Hoka Hey Foundry, P.O. Box 88, Dublin, Texas 76446; telephone 817-445-2017. Supplies will be available there.

Cisco VFD Responds To Car Fire Saturday

The Cisco Volunteer Fire Department responded to a car fire at Traditions Restaurant on I-20 last Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny McQueen of Waco were traveling to Abilene in their 1978 Chrysler to pick up their granddaughter. They stopped at the restaurant for breakfast.

A customer noticed smoke coming out from under the hood of the parked vehicle. He then saw flames and had Bobby Fink, owner, call the Fire Department. They received the call at 8:40 a.m.

Tom Powers, another customer, had a fire extinguisher in his pick-up, but the cable to release the hood had burned and it could not be raised. The men were able to extinguish some of the fire but the firemen were able to pry the hood open and put the fire out.

Another customer volunteered to take Mrs. McQueen on to Abilene to get their granddaughter. When they returned Ted Fields towed their car back to Waco.

The fire gutted the engine but apparently it can be repaired.

72 AARP Members Hear Lecture On Home Safety

By LELA LATCH LLOYD

Seventy two members and guests of Cisco's AARP listened Thursday, July 17, as their president, Gilbert Copeland, outlined ways to safer living in their homes.

"There are three major danger rooms in your home," Copeland said, "the kitchen, the bathroom, and the bedroom. I believe they rank in that order for accidents. I shall discuss the kitchen first."

He cited cuts and fires as the two main offenders there. "If a pan of hot grease catches fire, don't try to throw it down the sink or out the back door. The flame gets bigger as you aerate it in carrying it. You could be burned, it could flare up and catch something in the kitchen afire. You can't put out a grease fire with water. Smother it. Use salt, soda, or flour. If you cut a blood vessel and have heavy bleeding, use a tourniquet and get somebody to drive you to a doctor. If the burn is too deep for home treatment, run cold water on it and then run to the doctor."

The president cited two major sources of danger in the bathroom: poison in the medicine cabinet and wall telephone and clocks near enough the bathtub that they could fall in and electrocute the bather. "Get a shelf that you can lock up and put all poisonous things therein," he advised. "Don't have radios and telephones where they can fall into the tub and electrocute you."

The third most vulnerable place for accidents is in the bedroom. Clothes left lying on the floor can trip you if you walk in the dark. Be sure there are no dangling electric cords from telephones or electric blankets that would cause you to fall. Don't use scatter rugs on the floors. The best antidote for bedroom accidents is to have a night light burning, a clock that glows the time, or some other form of indirect lighting," he concluded.

During the business session, Walt Knowlden, tax counselor, reported that
