J's Jottin's

By J.E.

American Lung Association of Texas mailed out fact sheets on the facts of cigarette smoking.

SMOKING PREVALENCE IN ADULTS

1. An estimated 49 million Americans or 28.8 percent of the civilian population age 18 and older are current smokers.
2. An estimated 390,000 Americans die of smoking-attributable diseases; approximately one of every six American deaths is the result of smoking.
3. The prevalence of smoking remains higher among blacks, blue collar workers and less educated persons than in the overall population.
4. Substantial numbers of smokers are still unaware, or do not accept as important, the health risks of smoking. Between 8 and 15 million adults smokers do not believe that smoking increases the risk of developing lung cancer, heart disease, chronic bronchitis and emphysema.

ECONOMIC COSTS AND CONSUMPTION

5. Overall, smoking costs the nation approximately $65 billion each year in health care costs and lost productivity. The bill includes $22 billion to care for people with smoking-related diseases, including $4.2 billion in Medicare and Medicaid expenses. (Office of Technology Assessment, Estimated Cost of Smoking 1985)
6. Per capita consumption in 1989 is estimated at 2,936 cigarettes per person 18 years of age and over. (Department of Agriculture, Economic Research Service, Commodities Economic Division, 1989)

SMOKING PREVALENCE IN HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS AND COLLEGE STUDENTS

7. In 1988, 17.4 percent of male and 81.1 percent of female high school seniors smoked one or more cigarettes on a daily basis.
8. In 1988, about 9.7 percent of female and 9.7 percent of male high school seniors smoked a half-a-pack or more daily. About 6.1 percent of females and 5.6 percent of males smoked one pack or more per day.
9. The initiation of daily smoking most often occurs in grades 6 through 9 among children between ages 11 to 14. About half (51.3 percent) of high school seniors who smoke daily began smoking by age 14.

FORTY STUDENTS are participating in the YES Program at CJC this summer. They are improving their educational skills, in the areas of mathematics, reading, English, and computer skills.

Cisco Junior College Is Sponsoring Youth Experience Success Program

Cisco Junior College, in conjunction with West Central Texas Council of Governments, is once again sponsoring the YES (Youth Experience Success) Summer Program. Forty students from throughout the area are participating in the seven-week program.

YES is a residential, community-based, education and work experience program. The YES Program is designed to enhance the basic educational skills of participating youth; encourage the completion of secondary school education; and provide basic employment skills.

Participants attend class one-half of each day and work for one-half day for five days a week. Classes concentrate on improving the participants' educational skills, especially in the areas of mathematics, reading, English, and computer skills. Work is done at on-campus jobs, for which participants receive minimum wage. Students receive individualized tutoring, vocational counseling, career awareness experiences, and an introduction to life on a college campus. Evenings and weekends are devoted to study, cultural experiences, and recreational activities.

New Fitness Center Is Now Opened At CJC

Cisco Junior College's new Fitness Center was opened Sunday with State Senator Bob Glasgow cutting the ribbon.

The center houses three racquetball courts and weightlifting and exercising equipment. It will be open 6 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday for students and will be available to the public during the same hours through user fees. CJC employees and the families may also use the facility.

Reservations for use can be made by calling 442-2717 Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and noon.

The center also may be used 10 a.m. until noon, 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. on Saturdays, and 1 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m. Sundays. Reservations for these times should be made on Fridays.

Some 100 people attended the grand opening which was held at 2 p.m.

30-Minute Parking Now At Courthouse

Eastland County Commissioners Monday approved a 30-minute parking limit around the courthouse for the general public. Jurors and official vehicles are exempt from this new ruling.

Persons serving on juries will be issued stickers for their windshields, assuring that they will not be ticketed for overparking while attending court.

The plan will not go into effect until sometime in July. First District Attorney Emory Walton will draw up an ordinance regulating parking at the Courthouse. This will be read at a Commissioner's meeting - probably on July 9 - then published.

Monday the Commissioners opened a discussion on details of the plan with Eastland Mayor C. W. Hoffmann.

He remarked: "That's your problem now," but added "I'll be glad to work with you."

The Commissioners discussed a plan to use a city employee who writes citations on two-hour parking around the square to also patrol around the courthouse. The city would receive all fines from courthouse overparking.

One County official said: "Thirty minutes is a mighty short time to take care of business in a Courthouse."

But Commissioners said they hoped the new plan would provide ample parking for jurors - a problem concerning them for some time.

By: LELA LATCH LLOYD

Cisco Homecoming, June 9, 1990, is now over "But the memory lingers on" as the old song used to say.

One Cisco filling station operator was heard to say, "I sold five times my usual amount of gas. Let's have a reunion every weekend." Motel owners and restaurant managers are singing that same refrain. Every motel in Cisco and Eastland was filled and a few mentioned to me that they were staying in Ranger. What a wonderful thing for Cisco and for the folks who came.

Perhaps one of the most embarrassed King Lobos was Bill Smith of 1956. He and his queen had not seen each other since graduation. Patricia Mayer had R.S.V.P.ed with a "yes." Both Bill and Patricia were looking for each other. The morning of June 9, the florist delivered a boutonniere, a red rosebud, to the home of Bill's parents Q.E.D., Bill rushed out and bought a corsage for his queen and came to school with it in his hands.

"Oh, well," King Bill must have thought. "I'll just keep holding it and she'll spot me when the Kings and Queens meet behind stage. Patricia did not come to claim the corsage but Bill took it on stage and still no Patricia. She did not come forward when Herald Gene Kinser announced the names of the 1956 royal couple. Embarrassed, Bill left his chair wearing the corsage and went forward alone! Problem is still unsolved.

Project Lobo

Doubtless, the oldest faculty member was Miss Lucille Robinson, San Angelo, who taught in high school in the late '20s and early '30s and then became a history professor at Texas Tech. I received a letter from Miss Robinson Monday saying in part: "Olga Faye Parker and I tried to find you but the crowd was too much for us. I'm enclosing check for a book and the rest is a donation for the Project Lobo. (Miss Robinson, your book was mailed today and the remainder was deposited in the Lobo Fund.)"

"The reunion was wonderful but I didn't get to stay for the program. Heat too oppressive. When in San Angelo, come visit me. I'm in the Henley Bldg., Baptist Retirement Complex. I'd enjoy seeing you."

Retired teacher, Audye Wagley was working at the book table with me. A young man in cowboy coots, hat, and jeans kept looking at her. Finally, he put his arms around her saying, "Lord, God! Mrs. Wagley."

His teacher held back a minute as she stared into his hairy face and then said, "Son, if you'd come from behind that bush, I think I would know you."

One of the meetings that evoked some tears was that of Bob Donohoe seeing Mrs. Leveridge at the book table where we were working. Bob had had the leading role in TOMSAWYER which Mrs. Leveridge had directed when

"Broadway Magic" Will Introduce Three New Faces To CJC Stage

The cast and crew of the 1990 Summer Theatre Production Company have the privilege of introducing three new faces: Jimmy Walker, Ceci Wallen, and Sue Doak. All three hold significant roles in the upcoming production 'BROADWAY MAGIC'.

"BROADWAY MAGIC" runs July 9-15 and features a historical scope of Broadway's best from OKLAHOMA! to PHANTOM OF THE OPERA. Jimmy Walker, previously known for his green thumb and musical talents, will grace the stage with selections from MY FAIR LADY and FIDDLER ON THE ROOF. Mr. Walker attended CJC, UTA and San Diego State University. He spends his free time gardening, fishing and playing the guitar. When asked, "Why try out for the theatre?" Mr. Walker replied "It gives me the rare opportunity to do something I love best: perform with one of the people I love most (My sister Lou Jane Davis)". Mr. Walker is sure to please vast audiences with his "rugged good looks, magnificent stage presence and captivating charm that radiates from the moment the lights catch the sparkle in his crystal blue eyes," quoting his sister, Lou Jane Davis.

Ceci Wallen is a graduate of Del Rio High School, Angelo State and San Antonio College. Mrs. Wallen previously devoted total energy to creating a happy home and raising upstanding citizens. This summer, with the support of her husband, Mike and their three children, Drew, Doug and Julie, Mrs. Wallen will share some of her natural talent and enthusiasm while fulfilling a secret desire for performing on stage. Ceci brings new life to her role in ANNIE GET YOUR GUN and possesses a true zest for life that can be easily detected the moment she enters a room. Ceci enjoys reading and is an active participant of The Cisco Civic League and is a member of Holy Rosary Catholic Church. When questioned why she picked this summer to accommodate her schedule to fit the requirements of the theatre, Mrs. Wallen replied, "Theatre is a once in a life time opportunity and this summer marks the first once in my life time that I've had the chance to explore it."

Sue Doak is recognized for her roll in last fall's production of MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM. Sue is a graduate of Sul Ross State University with a B.A. and M.A. in English. She is currently employed as an instructor of English at Cisco Junior College. Ms. Doak spends her free time writing poetry, short stories, and raising her daughter, Angela. Ms. Doak creates a new theatrical dimension in the character of Tessie Tura in the segment from GYPSY. Ms. Doak was quoted as saying, "The closeness that comes from achieving a common goal, and the feeling you get from a job well done makes theatre worth the extra effort."

he was 42 years old. "I want to sing you a song," he said as he placed his arm around her shoulder and the fitful, round man was a little freckled face Bob Donohoe singing "Stump water, stump water, swallow these warts." The crowd stopped to listen and cheer. We two teachers swabbed a few tears.

Two Lobo Kings of the '20s were present. Both of them had living queens but neither was able to get here. Ruth Huestis, Queen Lobo II had hopes until the last day of being here. But she lives in Houston with a daughter who was unwilling for her mother to drive that distance alone and the daughter had to work. Needless to say, her King Howard Brown was disappointed. Doris Bates, Queen Lobo of "Goover" Keyes sent her regrets from a nursing home in Longview. Mrs. Brit Phippen, Moran, and her daughter Patti stood together to represent Brit Phippen and Velma Morrison, both deceased. King Lobo I and his Queen, Cleo Stringer and King Lobo V, "Curley" Kellogg and his Queen, "Dutch" Van Horn are also deceased. Only other Kings and Queens who had died were Alice Slicker Warren, '40; Billy Ervin, '73; and Kelly Kent, '76.

In the presentation of All-America Loboes, Howard Brown spoke for his teammate, the deceased "Honk" Irvin; Steve Smith for his father, Bill Smith; Robert Readall for his uncle, Leonard Latch; Stanley Williams for himself. The name of the 1990 Junior All-American from Cisco Junior College, Teddy Patton, was mistakenly overlooked. However, Teddy is already at Baylor where we are hoping he follows in the footsteps of Stanley Williams and gives us another All-American there.

The four speakers representing the aforementioned unveiled the Lobo Mascot and the cheers raised the roof. So much so that the crowd never quieted down enough for Dr. Joe Stamey, Abilene, to offer the benedictory prayer. Our apologies, Joe.

Cisco Post Office Announces Changes In Mail Schedules

Effective July 1, 1990, the arrival schedule for the incoming mails back for the Cisco and other local Post Offices, is being revised in an effort to maximize the amount of mails available daily, according to Postmaster Melvin Wende.

This change will necessitate minor delivery time and adjustments of approximately 20 minutes for city and rural delivery routes, and will require the Post Office box unit cut-off time to be set at 8:30 a.m. instead of the current 8 a.m. time, Mr. Wende said.

An 8:30 a.m. cut-off time will enable the Cisco Post Office to provide a more reliable, consistent availability of all preferential mails, and parcels, for the box customers.

Outgoing mails schedules will remain the same, with the exception of Saturday. Saturdays outgoing mails will be extended an extra hour from the outside drop box, with a cut-off time of 5:10 p.m., Mr. Wende said. Normal hours of operation for the window will not be effected, he added.

New CJC Board of Regents Members Sworn In Recently

Carolyn Page and Davene Jeffcoat, elected to the Cisco Junior College Board of Regents in May, were sworn in at the board meeting recently.

In an effort to fill the unexpired term of the late Billy Reynolds, the board became deadlocked on a 4-4 vote. Nominated for the seat were James Couch, retired school superintendent, and Melvin Wende, local postmaster.

Dick Woolley, board president, asked the board members to reconsider their votes and reach a compromise by the July 9 meeting.

Voting for Wende were Woolley, Joe Cooper, Brad Kimbrough and Gary Harris. Voting for Couch were Charles Preston, Lloyd McGrew, Jeffcoat and Page.

Preston made a motion to table officer reorganization until the ninth member is selected.

Dental Dialogue
by Cone C. Rice, D.D.S.
X-Ray Important Dental Tool
Q. What does my dentist look for on my X-rays?
A. X-ray examination is one of the most important tools a dentist uses to help you keep your teeth for a lifetime. X-rays can reveal cavities on the hidden surfaces of the teeth, as well as new areas of decay. Your dentist can check these areas before they become larger, and cause pain and infection. X-rays also show signs of gum disease, which can lead to destruction of the jawbone and eventually tooth loss. Some kinds of bone cancer can be seen in X-rays long before there is a visible tumor, and while there is a good chance of successful early treatment.
This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. If you have any dental questions you would like answered, please contact the office of Dr. Cone C. Rice, 963 East Main Str. Eastland, Texas Phone: 817-629-3843

A Thought For The Day....
SOME THOUGHTS FOR THE FOURTH OF JULY
Our constitution provides us with the rights to free speech, freedom of religion and a free press, allowing us to enjoy this beautiful land in a manner that is not possible in a lot of other countries. However, we should not take all this freedom for granted, and not put to use the powers our freedom gives us. We have our freedom for a reason, and that is to let everyone be heard so we have a government that is "of the people, by the people and for the people" of this great country. Americanism depends upon people putting to use their freedoms for the sake of promoting and improving our great country to make it even greater. So let's write to those congressmen when we have an opinion, make that phone call when someone is on the air taking calls, vote for those we believe will do the job honestly and in the best interest of our country... After all, our system of government is counting on our constant input!

Fishing Outdoors
By Terry L. Wilson

P. K. Producing Well

Area anglers are invited to come to Leon and fish a few hours Wednesday evening. Starting time will once again be at 6:00 p.m. and all contestants must be registered prior to fishing. Last week we had 8 anglers entered and the $10.00 entry was split two ways. All the fishermen reported catching a good number of fish from all areas of the lake. Ringworms and spinnerbaits seemed to be the preferred baits with buzzbaits drawing a few late evening bites.

Possum Kingdom Lake is falling rapidly due to release of water and evaporation. But the sand bass around south D & D boat ramp have hardly noticed. Anglers are reporting easy limits on a variety of baits. The black bass fishing is excellent also with lots of fish in the 2 pound range being caught. Again ringworms and buzzbaits are the top baits. One key for anglers landing larger fish has been finding submerged willows and salt cedars north of Costello Island. These places aren't receiving the fishing pressure and are holding some excellent fish. Although hard to find these are certainly worth the extra time to find. Also anglers are reporting some nice fish in the 15 foot range coming from ledges and points. How the rapidly falling water level will effect the fish remains to be seen. But if you have been on shallow water fish (10' or less) don't bet the farm on them still being there.

July 5 the Eastland County Bass Club would like to invite all area anglers to attend their meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Eastland National Bank Bldg. This meeting President Tommy Maynard will be accepting nominations for the new year beginning in September. So if you or someone you know are interested in taking the reigns of this fine organization make plans to attend now and bring a friend. Also final arrangements will be discussed concerning this years fund raising event to be kicked off also at this meet-

Spanish Church Dedicates New Building

A few years back, Eddie Gonzales, a Spanish speaking Southern Baptist preacher, started a Cisco Association ministry to Spanish speaking people in the area. His efforts resulted in five Spanish speaking missions which held services in Baptist Church buildings in Albany, Cisco, Eastland, Gorman, and Ranger.

From the missions, new Christians came together to form a Spanish speaking church which met north of Eastland. And Gonzales pastored both the church and the missions. Becoming one of the most rapidly growing churches in the association and losing their location north of Eastland, the new church needed a building in which to worship.

Don't forget the August Anglers Choice Team tournament to be held at Lake Leon. Grab you a partner and make plans to fish it now.

This event should make a little impact around town with about 40 two man teams from out of town being present Friday night, Saturday and Sunday. That's alot of gas, grub, and sleeping arrangements. Not to mention a little revenue for Ranger business too.

Till next time out remember these great outdoors are here only for use to borrow, lets leave them in better shape than when we arrived.

Terry L. Wilson

Having very little money and searching for months for a suitable location in the Eastland area, a local businessman came to the church's rescue with a location which seemed to be ideal. Association churches, some of which were already helping the new church financially, agreed to help with a building program, and loans and a grant were secured from the Texas Southern Baptist Convention.

Using volunteer labor under the direction of Raymond Cole, a church builder who came to Eastland County to volunteer his labor to help with the church, a building started up late in '89.

An attractive brick church building with a sanctuary which seats around a hundred is now complete but for the steeple.

Sunday, members of Primera Iglesia Bautista, the Spanish speaking First Baptist Church, met together with Baptists from around the association to dedicate the new house of worship.

W. C. Carrasco, a Spanish pastor from Coleman, joined area pastors in taking part in the dedication program. It was stated that the confidence which area Baptists have in Bro. Eddie Gonzales played a major part in bringing the dream of a new building to reality. It was also stated that the building wasn't built by Hispanics or Anglos, but by God's people working together.

Jack Redford, the Cisco Association Pastor or Missionary, brought the message. He used scripture which referred to a whitened sepulcher, and compared the big, white and empty churches he had seen in a town to sepulchers, because they were dead, or no longer used. And nothing much is happening in some other churches, which are little more than social clubs, he continued.

Churches must reach people for Christ, Redford said, and there are 1,900 Hispanics in the Cisco Association for this new church to reach with the gospel. And the church needs to develop disciples, minister to people, teach the Bible, and meet in Christian fellowship in order to accomplish its purpose.

A baptismal service ended the program with four new members being baptised. There had also been a baptismal service the Sunday before, and the new building is already being filled even without the overflow crowd which attended the dedication.

Members of the church then served dinner to the visitors and members present for the dedication.

Without Daisy's consent Boolie hires a driver, Hoke Colburn (Morgan Freeman) a black, stalwart and very patient widower in his early 60's. Finally resigned to Boolie's plan, Daisy agrees to the idea of having someone else drive her.

This begins a friendship that lasts for the next 25 years, echoing decades of social change. Set in the south, this Zanuck Company movie, release by Warner Bros., interweaves touching and humorous stories of Daisy, Hoke, Boolie, his social-climbing wife Florine, and Miss Daisy's longtime housekeeper Idella. This picture is sure to be entertaining.

Eastland businessman Bob King (l-r) played a major part in making the new church building a reality and is being presented a plaque by Pastor Eddie Gonzales while Albany Pastor Lloyd Conner makes the announcements.

Driving Miss Daisy To Show At Majestic

"Driving Miss Daisy" is considered one of the best new films out, and Jessica Tandy is expected to win an Oscar for her role in the picture.

Listed as a "Top Attraction" by the Dallas Morning News, this film will begin at the Majestic in Eastland on Friday, June 29, 7:30 p.m. It will show through Monday, July 2, 7:30 each evening, with Tickets $3 at the box office. The movie is rated PG. In the story Daisy Wortham (Jessica Tandy) an independent, eccentric Atlanta matron, manages to crash her new 1948 Packard directly into her neighbor's garden. Daisy is unscathed by the accident, but her son Boolie (Dan Aykroyd) urges her 72-year-old mother to hire a chauffeur. Daisy bitterly resents the notion that she is not capable of taking care of herself.

Bootie Werthan (Dan Aykroyd) stands with his Mother, Southern matron Jessie Wortham (Jessica Tandy) and her chauffeur, the stalwart and wise Hoke Colburn (Morgan Freeman) in front of their mansion and 1948 Hudson in the Zanuck Company's 'Driving Miss Daisy,' released by Warner Brothers.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer. Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00. A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Effects of drugs on driving: Alcohol is classified as a "Legal" Drug, but it is illegal to drink and drive. Even one or two drinks affect a person's ability to drive. Alcohol affects coordination. It is difficult to coordinate what your eyes are seeing with what your hands should be doing. Judgement is impaired. # Emergency Response – Because Your Life May Depend on It

EMS _____

Police _____

Fire _____

Poison Control _____

RECOGNIZING MEDICAL EMERGENCIES

Serious bleeding, unconsciousness, choking and signs of a heart attack are all obvious reasons to call EMS. Broken bones and head, chest, abdominal, or neck/spine injuries present less obvious injuries, but should be treated by EMS for transport to the hospital. Trauma is the leading killer of people age 44 and younger and must be treated promptly.

CALLING EMS

Try to be calm or have a calmer person make the call – give whatever information the dispatcher asks for. That will probably include the address, a nearby cross street, your name, a call back number, the name of the victim, and what is wrong with the victim. STAY ON THE LINE until the dispatcher tells you to hang up – this is important! Then have someone wait out near the street or in the parking lot to direct the emergency medical technicians to the victim. And teach your children how to call EMS. They may need to make the call for you someday.

FURTHER TRAINING

EMS training and certification has four levels – First Responder Emergency Care Attendant (ECA), Emergency Medical Technician (EMT), EMT-Special Skills, and Paramedic. Contact your local EMS or your Texas Department of Health Public Health Region office for more information on EMS training. Phone numbers and addresses are listed on the back of this brochure.

EMERGENCY CARE

This is a guide to management of common emergencies in the home, workplace and streets of your community. Using the simple guidelines in this pamphlet may enable you to save the life of an ill or injured person. Your intervention, before EMS arrives, may mean the difference between life and death for a friend, relative or fellow citizen.

GENERAL EMERGENCY CARE RULES

1. Do not move the person unless they are in a burning car or other immediate danger.
2. Call EMS immediately. Send someone else to call for help if you can, so that you can stay with the person.
3. Do not give the person anything to eat or drink and do not allow them to smoke.
4. Keep the person calm and still.
5. Apply the following emergency care measures until the ambulance arrives.

HOW TO CHECK BREATHING AND HEART BEAT

If someone is not breathing or their heart is not beating, they may die or suffer permanent damage before EMS arrives. Always check for breathing and heartbeat (pulse) in a medical emergency, and be sure to give that information to EMS when you call.

1. If the person has collapsed, try to wake them up by shaking their shoulder and shouting at them.
    - If they do not respond, gently lay them flat on their back, on a firm surface.
    - Call for help or send someone for help.
    - Gently lift the person's chin with one hand while pushing down on the forehead to tilt the head back.
  2. Put your ear to the person's face and listen for breathing sounds; feel for warm breath on your cheek. Also, watch for rise and fall of chest.
    - If the person is breathing, their heart is beating.
    - If the person is not breathing, begin rescue breathing.
    - Pinch the nose, cover the entire mouth area with your mouth, and blow 2 deep breaths into the mouth. After checking pulse, continue giving two breaths every five to ten seconds.
  3. Check for pulse. Put two fingers on the person's neck in the groove just to the side of the Adam's apple; feel for a pulse for 10 seconds.
    - If you are sure there is no pulse, begin CPR if you are trained.
    - If there is a pulse, but still no breathing, continue rescue breathing.
- Remember: Your care may make the difference between life and death.

Bites or Stings

- Insects – remove stinger if possible. Apply cold compresses. If there is any reaction, such as breathing problems, call EMS immediately.
- Snakes – keep the person calm, have them sit quietly, avoid excessive movement, call EMS immediately. Try to identify or describe the snake without endangering yourself.

Bleeding

- Call EMS immediately for serious or spurting bleeding.
- Have the person lie down.
- Apply firm, direct pressure over the wound to stop bleeding. Use the cleanest available pad. Use cloth, handkerchief, clothing, or bare hand if necessary. If pad becomes blood soaked, leave it on and put another one on top of it.
- Maintain the pressure until EMS arrives. Elevate the injured limb.
- Raise the person's feet higher than the head.
- DO NOT use tourniquets.

Broken Bones

- Keep the injured limb from moving. DO NOT move the person unless they are in immediate danger.
- Apply ice packs to minimize swelling.
- If a broken bone protrudes through the skin, cover it with a dry dressing, but DO NOT try to push it back in. If there is excessive bleeding, use direct pressure over the area to try to stop the bleeding.
- If there is reason to suspect multiple broken bones, or when the neck, back, pelvis, or thigh might be broken, DO NOT attempt to move the person. Call EMS immediately.

Burns

- Remove the person from danger.
- Extinguish and remove burned clothing.
- Keep the burned person in a comfortable position.
- Raise burned arms or legs higher than the person's heart.
- Cover burned area with a cool, wet cloth, but do not over cool.
- DO NOT break blisters or remove burned skin or clothing.
- DO NOT use butter, ointments, or other home remedies.
- For small or minor burns, immerse in cool water.
- For serious burns, do not treat, but call EMS immediately.
- Keep the patient covered lightly to preserve normal body temperature.

Choking

If the person can speak or cough, then they are able to breathe, and the airway is not totally blocked.

- Encourage the person to cough out the object. DO NOT interfere with efforts to do so.

If the person cannot speak or breathe, but is still conscious, you must quickly dislodge the object that is blocking the airway by using the Heimlich maneuver if you are trained.

If the person cannot breathe or has already collapsed:

- Call EMS immediately.
- Place the person on their back, turn the head to one side, open the mouth and look for and remove any visible foreign material.
- Use the Heimlich maneuver to dislodge the object if you are trained.

If an infant chokes:

- Place the child face down over your arm; with the baby's head down, rest your arm over your thigh; with the heel of your hand give four quick, hard blows between the shoulders.
- If the object does not dislodge, turn child over, support with your arm resting on your thigh, and with the baby's head down use two fingers to press its breastbone four times.
- Repeat the procedure as often as necessary until EMS arrives.

Convulsions/Seizures

- Call EMS immediately.
- Protect the person from further injury-remove obstacles.
- Turn the person onto one side.
- If the person has fallen or shows evidence of head injury, they should be assumed to have a broken neck and should be treated accordingly (see Neck or Back Injuries).
- DO NOT force anything into the person's mouth.
- DO NOT try to restrain the convulsive movements.

Eyes

- For an object in the eye, try to wash it out by flushing the eye with lots of clear water.
- If the object cannot be easily washed out, call EMS.
- If either eye is injured, cover both eyes with a cloth, keep the person quiet, and call EMS immediately.
- DO NOT use drops or ointments.
- For exposure to chemicals, gently flush eyes with clear water. Continue flushing until EMS arrives.

Fainting/Dizziness

- If a person reports "feeling faint," have the person lie down on their back until feeling better. Raise the person's feet higher than the head.
- Check breathing and heartbeat.
- Apply cold compresses to the person's forehead.
- If fainting is associated with chest pains, convulsions, or severe headache, or if it lasts more than one or two minutes, call EMS immediately.

Fainting is a relatively common problem, but it may be caused by a serious condition.

Head Injuries

- Call EMS immediately.
- DO NOT move the person until EMS arrives.
- Severe, deep cuts should not be cleaned, cover with a clean cloth.

DO NOT apply heavy pressure to bleeding areas.

Heart Attack

The person may have pain or feel very heavy pressure in the chest area or in the jaw, shoulder and arms. The person may have a feeling of indigestion. They may sweat, vomit, or have trouble breathing.

- DO NOT wait to see if the pain/discomfort goes away.
- Call EMS immediately. Assure them that help is on the way, and do not leave them.
- Have the person sit or recline, whatever is most comfortable for them.
- Make the person as comfortable as possible.
- Loosen the clothing at neck, chest and waist. Keep the person warm, but not hot.
- If the person suddenly collapses and loses consciousness, try to awaken them. If the person cannot be awakened, and if there is no breathing and no pulse in the neck, begin CPR if you are trained.

Neck or Back Injuries

- Call EMS immediately.
- DO NOT move the person at all unless absolutely necessary to save their life.
- DO NOT prop up the person's head.

Poisoning/overdose

- Call EMS immediately.
- Then call the Poison Control Center and describe the product, the amount swallowed, and the time it was taken.
- Give water or milk to someone who has ingested a poison, unless the person is unconscious or having convulsions.
- Look inside the person's mouth for burns that might indicate the ingestion of an acid or alkali. Also, smell the person's breath to see if it smells like a petroleum product (gasoline or kerosene). If either sign is present, DO NOT induce vomiting.
- Loosen clothing at the person's neck and waist.
- Keep the person quiet and warm.
- Take the container of the suspected poison with you on the ambulance. Every household should have syrup of ipecac on hand. The poison center will tell you when to use it.

Unconsciousness

- Call EMS immediately.
- Check for breathing and a heartbeat.
- If the person cannot be roused, but is breathing well and has a good pulse, they should be placed on their side unless you suspect a neck injury.
- If there is no breathing and no pulse in the neck, begin CPR if you are trained.
- If drug overdose or poison is suspected, the container of the suspected toxin should be taken with the patient on the ambulance.
- DO NOT give the person anything to drink.

Trash Burning Is Still The Number One Problem

It seemed like a pretty day, to burn the leaves around the house. After all, this elderly Texas resident had done it for over 50 years every fall and nothing had ever happened before.

After piling the leaves around the yard, each pile was set to a flame. Within a few minutes the entire yard seemed to be on fire as the wind quickly pushed the flame forward. The dry fall leaves and grass easily ignited. In the blink of an eye, this nightmare was quickly becoming a reality. The flames leaped toward the house as the grass flashed under the porch. In the next breath, the house was on fire. A neighbor called the fire department. Within 10 minutes they were on the scene, but it was too late. The house was gone - leaving no hope and no home for this elderly resident.

What seemed to be a simple and harmless thing quickly turned into a traumatic experience. All across Texas, this same story is told many times each year as inexperienced, elderly and careless people burn trash.

Fire departments in both rural and urban areas run an estimated 36,000 such fires each year. Almost 60 percent of all rural runs are for brushy fires. At least 50 percent of those are started by trash fires.

A fire this year near Livingston began as a result of a brush pile that was left unattended. The person setting the fire said she thought it was out.

Most people don't understand the effects of wind and relative humidity. These factors are critical any time of the year when grass, leaves and brush are dry such as summer or winter.

During these periods, fire can spread quickly in the presence of high wind.

For example, a day with a steady fifteen mile per hour wind is 5 times more likely to produce a wildfire than a day with a 5 mile per hour wind. The reason is simple. Wind supplies oxygen, and oxygen makes fire burn faster.

Another critical factor is the relative humidity. Anytime the relative humidity is below 35 percent, don't set any fires. This means the grass and brush is extremely dry and sometimes can ignite like gasoline.

Nobody has to be a weather expert. All folks need to do is watch the weather forecast. If the weatherman says the winds will be over 10 miles per hour and the relative humidity will drop to or below 35 percent, forget burning.

Now, if the threat of losing a home or property is not enough to make everyone be careful, there are laws. If you allow a fire to escape from your property to that of another, you can be sued for damages. Not only that, if someone is hurt as a result of the fire, the consequences can be worse. Any law enforcement officer can enforce these laws.

Being careful and smart is the best way to protect yourself from sure disaster. Simply avoid dry, windy days for burning and don't leave a fire unattended until it is completely out. If you have to leave, make arrangements to wet down the pile and be sure you have 5 to 10 feet of bare soil exposed all the way around.

You can protect your home and property from a careless neighbor. After all, who can tell what a good neighbor might do some beautiful windy Spring day.

Keep roofs free of debris. Leaves, pine straw, moss and twigs that collect on the roof and in gutters can invite disaster. Safely dispose of stove, fire place, and grill ashes. First place them in a metal bucket, soak with water, and then bury them in mineral soil. Never store flammable materials like firewood or lumber under or near your home. Keep it at least 100 feet away from the house, but never uphill because burning material will roll down hill. Faucets should be located on each side of your home and near any out-buildings. Install them, too, in areas of the yard where fire hazards exist, or where wildfire could enter your yard. Have a coiled hose attached to faucets on opposite sides of your home. Hand tools such as rakes, shovels, and axes should be readily available along with a ladder that will reach your roof.

As for your yard, protect your home from wildfire by paying particular attention to trees and brush within 100 feet of your house. You should rid trees of moss, abandoned nests, dead limbs and other flammable material. Always remove limbs within 15-20 feet of the ground or that extend over your roof. This is particularly true for limbs directly above or within 15 feet of a chimney.

Your yard should act as a firebreak. If you have a grass lawn that is dormant in winter, mow it closely after all growth has stopped and bag the cuttings. Be sure to rake all leaves or needles that are within 30 feet of a structure and be sure to plant shrubs that are not highly flammable. Some popular landscaping shrubs are explosive. So, ask your nurseryman to recommend something other than cedars, pines or yaupon.

Reducing and eliminating the debris burning problem in Texas certainly starts at home. Each property owner must take the responsibility to protect his own property as well as being careful when using fire. It is a useful tool, but it can just as easily become an enemy.

Eastland Hospital To Sponsor Breast Cancer Detection Unit

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of every ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime during her lifetime. Every year over 37,000 women die as a result of breast cancer.

According to a spokesman from the Regional Breast Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital in Odessa, Texas "The death rate from breast cancer could be drastically reduced if women would have mammograms done before a problem exists." By using modern state of the art x-ray equipment breast cancers can be found when they are about the size of a grain of rice and well before the cancer can be felt. A woman who is diagnosed with breast cancer at this early stage has a 90%-97% survival rate. However, a woman who is not diagnosed until a lump can be felt has approximately a 50% survival rate in five years.

In an effort to find cancers at the earliest possible stage and prevent unnecessary deaths, a Mobile Breast Cancer Detection Unit will be made available to local women on Monday, July 2.

The Mobile Unit will be parked at Eastland Memorial Hospital, 304 South Daugherty, Eastland. Appointments may be made by calling 629-2601.

For more information you may call the Regional Breast

Care Center at Women's & Children's Hospital at (915) 334-8888/561-9999.

Gordon Spot

By DeMarquis Gordon, County Agent

This is the time of year for mesquite control with foliar herbicides. Ranchers and landowners have asked if this will be a good year to spray mesquites. Conditions are better for control of mesquite with foliar applied herbicides than they were in 1989. According to research conducted several years ago by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, control of mesquite in 1990 should be average to slightly above average. However, soil moisture is only one of the factors that influences the degree of mesquite control achieved with foliar applied herbicides. To obtain optimum control select one or a mixture of the herbicides effective on mesquite, and time herbicide application when mesquite foliage is ready for spraying, soil temperature is optimum, and plants are not severely moisture stressed. Optimum control of mesquite can be obtained with careful planning.

Proper timing of herbicide application is critical if good control is expected. Mesquite leaves should be fully extended and should have turned from light green to dark green in color before herbicide is applied. Usually this occurs about forty days after bud break. When the leaves have matured, the plants begin to restore carbohydrate reserves. Research reported by Texas Tech University showed that food reserves are utilized during the period of pod elongation. An application of herbicide during this period usually results in poor con-

After the pods have elongated, storage of food reserves is resumed and excellent control is obtained during this period. About 90 days after bud break, the degree of control with foliar applied herbicides decreases because of build up of wax on the leaves and a general decrease in growth activity of the plants.

Another important factor affecting control of mesquite is soil temperature. Research from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Tech University has shown that soil temperature at 12-18 inches of depth at time of spraying should be 75 degrees or above to obtain best control. An extensive amount of data collected by Texas Tech showed that poor control was obtained if herbicide was applied with soil temperature less than 75 degrees at 12-18 inches of depth.

Occurrences that affect mesquite foliage just prior and during the spray season will affect results obtained. Frequent rains during the spray season may result in the development of new leaves. For optimum control, the new leaves should be allowed to mature before spraying. Damage to mesquite foliage caused by insects, diseases, hail or a late frost will result in poor control if new foliage is not allowed sufficient time to mature.

Several choices of herbicides are available for mesquite control. This provides an opportunity to better match ranch objectives and economics with the herbicide or herbicide mixture. Also, the need to control undesirable brush and weed species associated with mesquite may influence the choice of herbicides.

Herbicides currently registered and effective for con-rol of mesquite by foliar application are: Grazon ET, Banvel, Reclaim, and Grazon PC. Grazon ET, Banvel, and Reclaim may be used alone or in a 1:1 mixture with Grazon PC. Also, a GRazon ET: REclaim (1:1) mixture may be used in this area of the state. Research and demonstration data indicate the highest degree of control may be obtained with Reclaim and the Reclaim:Grazon ET and Reclaim:Grazon PC mixtures will give better control than Grazon ET or Banvel used alone. Reclaim used alone does not provide good control of any brush species other than mesquite. Thus, if con-rol of mesquite and associated species is desired the Reclaim:Grazon PC mixture should be used. You should consult the Extension Service bulletin entitled "Chemical Weed and Brush Control Suggestions for Rangeland" (B-1466) for specifics on rates and carriers for the herbicides listed above.

The success of controlling mesquite with foliar applied herbicides depends on many factors. To obtain the maximum benefit from money spent, herbicides should be applied at the proper time with the proper methods and followed up with good range management.

Maranatha Baptist Church Singing

Tim Jones led the opening congregational songs with his wife Mary at the piano. Pastor M. H. Jones then introduced the Weeks family and friends as the first guest: R. D. Weeks Sr., Robert, age 12, Brandy, age 10, Rebekah, age 6, on violins; Al Anderson, Raymond Hart, and Pete Rodgers on guitars, and Gerald Parks at the piano.

Rebekah played Amazing Grace, accompanied by her family and friends, especially for her first grade teacher, Mary Jones. Together they all played How Great Thou Art and Beyond the Sunset featuring both Robert and Brandy with their Dad. Raymond Hart sang The Old Country Church, Pete Rodgers sang Jesus and Me then they all joined for instrumentals Who At My Door Is Standing and Kneel At The Cross. Al Anderson sang Just A Closer Walk With Thee and then an instrumental of When The Saints Go Marching In, Raymond Hart sang Still Waters. Then Pete Rodgers sang an old one, One of God's Own. Their friends all joined their instruments in harmony on What A Friend We Have In Jesus.

Bro. Jones then introduced an Abilene Group, Bro. Davis from Victory Baptist Church led two songs Victory In Jesus, and Let The Lower Lights Be Burning with Pete Rodgers at the piano.

A request was made for the Pastor of the Assembly of God in Cisco, James Morris, to sing. He accompanied himself at the piano with What Would I Do Without Jesus.

Woody Owl says Injuries Hurt! Give a hoot. Don't pollute.

Forest Service, U.S.D.A.

and He Loves Me Small As I Am. He then borrowed a guitar to play as he sang Satan's Gotta Get Along With Me and Lord You've Been Mighty Good To Me.

Bro. Jones then introduced Brenda Black of Bible Baptist in Cisco who played the piano as she sang Pick Up The Broken Pieces and We're Not Stranger Anymore.

The Maranatha Singers: Bro. Terry Jones and wife Loyce; Tommy Jones and wife Toni; mother, Lou Jones; Tim Jones at the bass guitar and wife Mary at the piano, sang Jesus is Coming Soon, Just A Little Talk with Jesus, What A Day That Will Be, and I'll See You in the Rapture. Tracy Jones, a brother of the group, usually helps sing lead, but he was away at School.

Five residents of Northview Development Center, Faithie, Daniel, Denise, Lotha, and Ruby, were joined by Mauri Brown and Loyce Jones for moving motion song of Thank You Lord For These Blessings while Mary Jones accompanied them at the piano.

Loyce Jones of Maranatha and her sister Mary Ensor of Merriman Baptist in Ranger sang How Long Has It Been with Mary Jones at the piano.

Jesse Price was introduced. He gave a short testimony and sang In The Shelter of His Arms, and The Great Speckled Bird with Gerald Parks at the piano.

Tommy Jones and wife Toni asked her mother Diane Harris to join them as Tommy played the guitar and they sang, Amazing Grace and Believe He's Coming Back.

The Maranatha Kids, sleepy as they were, sang some choruses, Jesus Loves Me, So Small Am I, and then asked the congregation to sing on Hallelu-Praise Ye The Lord. Mary Jones went to the piano as Penny, Paul, and Jeremy Jones, and Brian and Mandy Walton, sang He's Still Workin' On Me.

Bro. Terry was asked to sing He. He asked his brothers Tim and Tommy to assist him. Tim played the bass guitar and Mary played the piano. There were also request for the pastor and wife Lou to sing Thirty Peices of Silver. Bro. Jones played the guitar.

Bro. Jones then asked the Weeks Family and friends to close with some instrumentals. They played Amazing Grace and How Great Thou Art.

Bro. Mike Lancaster and wife Cindy, missionaries to Old Mexico, were introduced. Bro. Mike led the dismissal prayer also asking the blessing on the refreshments available in the Annex.

The 90 seats were almost filled by warm hearts and a Knowing of Christian Kinship with their Lord. Some were surprised to see other family and friends there. May Gospel Singing and Singers be ever welcome inside the walls of Maranatha Baptist Church. This is just a get acquainted time for those "we plan to spend eternity with" - we are "getting used to the Family of God!"

This was a report of our last Gospel singing. As you can see, we all had a wonderful time and are looking forward to our next singing which is to take place on June 29, 1990. I understand that the Maranatha Kids have a surprise for us, and we are looking forward to it.

We would like to invite all those who attended the last singing to join us again, but we would like to invite all of you who have never attended and all of you who have attended in the past to come out and fellowship with us. We invite you to bring your musical talents or your listening ears, which ever you prefer to utilize.

We are located two miles west of Eastland on Highway 80.

Gordon Spot

By DeMarquis Gordon, County Agent—

Protecting the environment is not a new slogan for farmers and ranchers. Most agricultural producers have been very conscious of pollution and contamination of the environment for many years. I'll admit that a few have been careless and negligent; but most producers are very careful about the use of chemicals on the farm.

In my experiences, the worse offenders of pesticide misuse and carelessness, are home gardeners.

Misapplication of pesticides carries serious consequences. Fine mists of herbicides can drift to nearby vegetables and landscape plants and kill them. Applying the wrong pesticide or the right pesticide in the wrong amount or at the wrong time can have serious consequences.

You can prevent harm from pesticides if you follow safety precautions and use common sense. Before buying a pesticide, identify the pest to be controlled. Find out which pesticide will control the pest. If there is a choice of several, choose the least toxic product.

At the time of purchase read the label of the pesticide you intend to buy and find out if the host plant and pest are listed on the pesticide label. Read safety conditions and restrictions on use. Find out what equipment is needed to apply the product and protective clothing needed to apply the product.

Then before applying the pesticide read the label again to find out what it can be mixed with, how much to use, mixing instructions and application instructions. Never use more than the recommended amount. Many think that if one tablespoon of pesticide is recommended, two will do a better job. Too much could be harmful to the plant and it may not be as effective for pest control.

Carbon News

By Dorothy Jackson

The longest day of summer has passed, so now the days will get shorter. We want notice much difference for some time. It is still hot and dry. I believe if we could get a good rain, it would really put the "sap" back in our bodies, that all this heat has drained away. All people seem to be dragging.

As the homecoming draws near for Carbon school, people are already remembering people, places and things. It seems there were several mischievous boys that grew up in the Carbon area, they didn't do destructive things but they liked to have their fun. Two stories my husband liked to tell, he never did say if he was part of the group that did these things, you be the judge. One time a group of young people wanted some home made ice cream.

It just so happened some adults were having an ice cream social. The youth decided they would turn the lights off in the house and some one would go in and get a freezer of cream, so they did and all enjoyed the ice cream.

Then it came time to go put the empty freezer back in the house. Again the lights were turned off, as the freezer was being placed back in its spot, some one though how funny it would be to turn the lights on before it was time, so on came the lights and one of those dear boys was caught red handed.

As the summer revivals were held under the tabernacle, the young children would either be put to bed in the wagon or on a "Baptist Palet." Some people, after the young ones went to sleep, would change the kids around. Needless to say it took parents most of the night changing the kids back to the right moms and dads.

A lot more good stories will be told as people came together July 7th to remember their school days at Carbon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Donaldson of Abilene visited Mr. and Mrs. Truman Bryant during the weekend.

Elizabeth Sandlin and Melissa Caburn of Stephenville visited Freddie and Katherine Caburn of Fredericksburg last weekend.

Bill, Kathy, Heather, Clay and Cole Sandlin have returned home from vacation. They visited Lee and Ruth Chiles of Trinidad, friends in Nacogdoches and the kids really enjoyed Galveston.

David Files of Stephenville spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brawner Files.

Another long time resident of Carbon was laid to rest Sunday afternoon. Ethel Lovell, 92, died Saturday. Services were held at the Baptist Church with Rev. Sherl Taylor and Rev. George Weeks officiating. Survivors include 2 daughters Jenoise Allison of Carbon and Wynelle Brown of the Lake Leon area, 2 sisters Mrs. Ione Bawnds of Eastland and Archie Crow of Englewood, Colo.; three grandchildren; and six great grandchildren.

Wedding Bells

Free-Allaire

Staci Alice Free and Bruce Wayne Allaire were united in marriage, Saturday, June 9, 1990 at 3:00 in the afternoon in a garden wedding at the home of her parents.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Craig Jolley of Sweetwater and the late Paul D. Free. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Allaire of Lubbock are the parents of the groom. Mrs. Jolley is the former Fredda Lamb formerly of Ranger.

S.L. (Mac) Morris, Mitchell County Judge; and long time friend of the bride and family, officiated in the double ring ceremony. The couple exchanged wedding vows beneath a white lattice arch covered with English and Grape Ivy, accented with large hanging baskets of Boston fern, Snapdragons of fushia, periwinkle, lavender and pink hung from the arch. The walkways were bordered by treasures of pink and fushia geraniums.

Family pews were donated with teal and fushia bows, decked with English Ivy and delicate fushia and teal silk flowers. Balloon bouquets were spaced about the lawn area. Floral arrangements were creations of Sweetwater Floral.

Bruce Haugen, of Springtown, cousin of the bride sang, "When I See You Smile" as the mothers entered. As the couple exchanged rings, the melody, "To Me" was softly rendered for the wedding party. And the ceremony ended with "The Lord's Prayer" reverently intoned.

Entering on the arm of her brother, Scott Free of Colorado City, the bride wore an exquisite formal gown by Jena. The gown of white summer taffeta was enhanced by cloud-like, puffed sleeves; to highlight the sweetheart neckline. The fitted bodice and basque waistline flowed to the full ballroom skirt, scalloped in alecon lace. The full skirt trailed into a cathedral length train. A decorative bow shaped bustle adorned the back of the gown. Alecon lace, encrusted with iridescent sequins layered the bodice, sleeves and bustle.

The head piece, made by the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Fred Lamb of Ranger, consisted of a white, tissue taffeta bow which held a fingertip length veil of imported white silk illusion. For something old and borrowed the bride wore the gold wedding band of her great-great-grandmother Calvert; a family heirloom worn and treasured by her grandmother and mother at their weddings. She wore a blue lace garter and the remainder of her apparel to satisfy the commodious conventions of the ceremony. In further deference to tradition the bride carried an English sixpence, given to her by her father, Paul D. Free, on her sixth birthday. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of rosebuds and stephontis accented with English Ivy.

Mrs. Sheri Lovette of San Angelo served as Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Robie Free of Colorado City, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Pam Schrimsher of Scottsdale, Arizona; Kathy Means and Tamra Allaire, sisters of the groom, of Lubbock.

They each wore identical dresses of polished cotton in a floral design of teal, fushia and periwinkle. The teal-length dresses featured a full skirt, fitted bodice and puffed sleeves. The "V" back ended with a large butterfly bow at the waist.

The bridesmaids each carried arm bouquets of blue iris, pink and fushia button carnations, accented with baby's breath and English Ivy tied with pink ribbons.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails; his tie and cummerbund were also white. A white rosebud accented with English Ivy was worn on the lapel of his coat.

Sarah Ann Cox of Colorado City served as flower girl. Her dress was identical to the bridesmaids and she carried a basket of flower petals and tissue hearts which she scattered along the bride's path as she entered. Emily Paige Jolley, step-sister of the bride, followed the bride carrying the cathedral length train above the petal strewn path.

Sean Rich of Plainview served as Best man. Grooms-men were: Scott Free, brother of the bride; Michael Mann, Darrell Young and Kevin Kelly, all of Lubbock. They each wore black tuxedos with teal ties and cummerbunds. Their lapels were decorated with fushia button carnation and a sprig of English Ivy.

Kaleb Free, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer. He wore black linen knickers and a teal tie and cummerbund.

Ushers were Greg Haugen of Springtown, cousin of the bride; and Cody Jolley, of Sweetwater, step-brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose a periwinkle blue, street length, dress for her daughter's wedding. It featured long blouse sleeves, a dropped waistline accented with a bow and full scarf skirt.

The mother of the groom wore a teal street length dress featuring quarter length sleeves and a full skirt. The mothers and grandmothers wore corsages of blue and fushia carnations accented with purple stock and English Ivy.

The reception hosted by the parents of the bride was held immediately following the ceremony at the Sweetwater Country Club.

The registry table held the bride's wedding portrait and an arrangement of fushia rosebuds. Registering guests was Cindi McElroy of Colorado City.

The bride's table held a three-tiered traditional wedding cake. The all white cake featured a porcelain "Precious Moments" bride and groom and was topped by cascading pink and white rosebuds and stephontis. Cheese and fruit trays and tiny bell shaped mints also complimented the table. Guest were served almond punch from a crystal punch bowl. Serving the bride's table were Cindi McElroy and Jodi Mann of Colorado City. The reception was catered by the Sweetwater Country Club.

The groom's table featured a decorated lemon cake, the grooms favorite recipe of his grandmother. Coffee was served from a silver urn.

Rice bags were handed out by Holly Haugen of Springtown, cousin of the bride and Emily Jolley.

A bridal shower was given in the home of Mrs. S.L. (Mac) Morris of Colorado City on June 3, 1990.

Rehearsal dinner was hosted by the grooms parents at the Sunday House, June 8, 1990.

A lingerie shower was given by Mrs. Charley Nunn of Sweetwater, June 8, 1990.

A bridal brunch was given by Mrs. Robert Cox, Colorado City, at the Sweetwater Country Club on June 9, 1990.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Colorado High School and received a B.A. in English from Texas Tech University in 1989. She is currently employed by the Lamesa I.S.D. in Lamesa, Texas.

The bridegroom is a 1985 graduate of O'Donnell High School and received a B.B.A. in Advertising from Texas Tech University in 1989. He is presently employed by American Turbine as their marketing director.

After a wedding trip to Ruidosa, N.M. the couple will make their home in Lubbock.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lamb of Ranger and the great-granddaughter of Mrs. Alice Calvert of Ranger and Mrs. Lynetta Lamb of Breckenridge.

Ruth Stewart, M.Ed.

Q. As a wife I am looking for ways to enrich my marriage relationship. I know that words can mean a great deal in bonding a marriage. Can you offer some words or phrases I might try?

A. There are many things that can be said to a spouse to create warm feelings. Here are a few suggested by Dr. George Brazell.

- "You're so handsome!"
- "You're beautiful!"
- "You can do it."
- "Do that again."
- "I can always depend on you."
- "Keep up the good work."
- "Fantastic!"
- "Great performance!"
- "I'm proud of you."
- "You're wonderful!"

With these for starters you can probably come up with a host of other phrases and words that will help to bond your marriage relationship. They can help other relationships, too.

70 Years Later A New Oil Boom For County

by Richard Kurklin
Since the drilling of the first oil well in the county in Ranger, which discovered the Ranger Field and led to a major oil boom in the 1920's Eastland County has been known for oil and natural gas production.

A small boom resulted a few years back as additional pools of the underground "black gold" were found, but granite is usually found, but granite is usually found between three and four thousand feet in the county, leading to a long held theory that once the big wells of the boom days played out, little oil would be left. Until recent years, drilling rigs didn't have the technology to penetrate the hard granite and drilling costs would have been excessive.

The popular and convenient belief for decades was that oil could not be found below the granite, so drilling stopped once the hard rock was reached. Wells near Lake Cisco have reached a depth of around 5000 feet before hitting granite, but the granite is usually shallower to the east and south, points out Cisco geologist Robert Kamon, who says that any evidence of oil below the granite, usually referred to as the basement, could lead to a major change in thinking and could result in a lot more oil and gas development in the county.

An Austin geologist, Dennis McCurdie, has been quoted as suggesting that major oil booms may be in Texas' future. He reportedly is convinced that a thick layer of Paleozoic sediment curves across Central Texas from southeastern Oklahoma to the center of the state and westward into Mexico underneath a sheath or overthrust of granite, and that it may be oil rich.

A billion barrel oil field may be hidden under the hills of Central Texas in the up to 30,000 square miles which could be opened for deeper oil and gas exploration, it is suggested, and after the slump oilmen are ready for another boom. McCurdie's lone voice in the wilderness goes against conventional thinking, but evidence is piling up. The idea has interested people for some time and a few wells have been drilled which seem to support the belief.

Large gas reserves have recently been discovered in eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas. Tests on a well near Gonzales are said to indicate flow rates rivaling those in Prudhoe Bay and the North Sea. Gas has been stuck in Llano County and there has been a discovery in Jack County.

But a couple of wells in Eastland County have especially attracted attention. The Ora B. Jones no. 3 blew out south of Ranger in 1985 with reported flow rates of 12,000 barrels of high quality crude and 12 million cubic feet of gas. The spectacular production and 30 degree higher than normal temperature of the oil may indicate that the 3,378 ft. well was fed by a fault or fracture from a deeper reservoir beneath the granite. And other nearby wells failed to find a reservoir. In 1989 a well was drilled about a mile and a half from the Jones well to a depth of 7,500 feet. It drilled through a 2,000 ft. layer of granite. Talk is that fault structures near the well may be tested.

New horizontal drilling techniques have led to some additional production and may be especially helpful in the search for deeper fields.

Confirmation of a field under the "basement" granite could lead to a drilling frenzy and possibly the wildest oil boom yet, according to some in economics and geology. The Ora B. Jones no. 3 may yet bring another oil boom the Eastland County. After all, the oil and gas it produced was coming from somewhere. And flames from it lit up the West Texas sky for up to 150 miles for weeks before it was killed.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This is a note of Thanks to all who helped make the Cisco Little League program work. I would like to say - Thank You. To my knowledge, the program was a complete success.

This opportunity is a very big part of our children's growth. And a very meaningful part of their childhood. As a child I spent many hours at this very same ball park. My dad was the league president at that time. I remember the long hours and hard work put into planning, announcing, cleaning, maintaining, and coaching. And even then there was no guarantee that things would run smoothly.

To those of you that gave of your time in any way to make this a success and those who spent long hours to keep this program going, bless you. We appreciate a job well done.

Pattie Moore,

A Little League Mom

Dear Editor,

After reading the article in the Abilene Reporter News Monday, June 25, 1990, about C.J.C. Board of Regents not making a decision on choosing a new member to replace the late Billy Reynolds; I would like to take this opportunity to tell how I feel about this. I am opposed to hand-picking board members, as this tends to sway them to the ones who nominated them. I have recommended on several occasions that this be put up for election. It would give someone who would like to serve, a chance to be a part of C.J.C. It would also give the voters a choice of who they think would be an asset to the

Public Hearing Held On County Budget

The Eastland County Commissioners held a Public Hearing on the 1990-91 County Budget during their lengthy meetings Monday. The only persons appearing for the hearing were representatives from the Texas Department of Public Health. They requested $10,128 from the County for a year's rent, utilities and janitorial services at the office in Eastland.

Dr. James Zoretic of District 5 headquarters in Arlington said that the Department was spending approximately $158,000 annually on services to Eastland County, with much of it going into the Womens, Infants and Children (W.I.C.K.) program administered here.

He said there were around 200 births a year in Eastland County, and the infant mortality rate was higher here than the state average. The infant formulas and other food supplied by the agency were badly needed in the area, he indicated.

"We feel we do a good job in this county and would like to improve on it," Zoretic stated.

The Commissioners questioned the monthly rent of $525 for an office building College. After all; we are supposed to be working for you and for the betterment of the college. I think you, as voters, should talk to each and every boardmember and let them know your feelings. We don't need to compromise — we need the voters help. That's the American way.

Thank you for your support,

Charles Preston,
C.J.C. Board of Regents member here. Dr. Zoretic said the agency placed bids for a location and this was the best offer they got. Members of the Court said they would study the budget request and decide on it.

The Court did not have final figures on the proposed budget, but it was expected to total around $3 million for the next fiscal year.

On other matters, there were lengthy discussions on the condition of roads in Pct. 2, which took the brunt of storms in late April and early May.

Charles T. Davis of Gulf Resources Corp. requested improvements for county roads used by his company northwest of Ranger. He said road conditions were a serious problem - that two pickups and a passenger car had been torn up by the roads.

Norman Christian said that it would be hard to get to the roads anytime soon, for he was working on areas where conditions were a lot worse. He said he would do what he could, however.

Morris Underwood told of conditions around the Alameda Cemetery. At a scheduled Cemetery meeting early in May a number of people had to be pulled out of the roads, leading to a lot of difficulty.

Norman Christian had a booklet with him which he had prepared for FEMA. This showed numerous sites where roads had been repaired in Pct. 2, with totals running into thousands of dollars. Some of these funds are expected to be reimbursed.

"I can only do so much at a time," he said, promising to upgrade roads as money and time was available.

On other road work, the Commissioners approved a request by Billy Bacon, Commissioner of Pct. 4, to ask bids to replace a bridge on Dead Horse Creek. Bacon said the bridge was 15 ft. x 16 ft., and was ruined during the recent floods.

There were numerous other agenda items. The Commissioners awarded Jedco Designs of Clyde a bid to place road signs on all county roads, and prepare maps for the projected 9-1-1 system. The cost for this work will be $24,808, and this will not include the addressing of homes.

The Commissioners approved a request to join with the City of Eastland in applying for a $350,000 grant to repair Eastland Lake Dam. This is the second year this grant has been applied for.

Skin Cancer Risk Increases With Exposure

About 400,000 new cases of skin cancer, the most common form of human cancer, will be diagnosed in the U.S. this year. According to health officials, most of them will result from repeated overexposure to the sun's rays.

If scientists are correct, because air pollution has begun to destroy the planet's ozone layer, skin cancer may be even more common in the future. Therefore, the Texas Department of Health (TDH) urges Texans to take special precautions.

Dr. Patti Patterson, TDH Acting Associate Commissioner for Personal Health Services, said, "Texans are used to the outdoors, and they sometimes accept sunburn as no more than temporary discomfort. But each sunburn contributes to permanent radiation damage that may go unnoticed, sometimes for years."

Dr. Patterson stressed that repeated ill effects from the sun are cumulative. "Every individual has his own tolerance for how much of the sun's ultraviolet light he can stand in a lifetime." She explained that children and older people, especially those with light skin, generally have a lower tolerance to overexposure than people with dark skin. She added, though, that even dark-skinned people have their limits.

Dr. Patterson said that the likelihood of skin cancer increases with age. Warning signs include sores that do not heal or any unusual skin condition, such as a change in size or color of a mole or birthmark.

The American Cancer Society recommends a monthly skin self-examination for symptoms. Teens and adults should use a full-length mirror and hand mirror to study the whole skin carefully for overall condition and tiny changes, including the skin of the scalp and between the toes. Parents also should thoroughly examine their young children. Any noticeable change warrants a medical opinion.

To reduce the risk of overexposure to the sun, Texans are advised to:

- Wear protective clothing, including hats, long sleeves, even gloves.

- Choose — and use — sunscreens which are best suited to skin sensitivity. Apply a waterproof sunscreen (rated 15 or higher) at least an hour before going into the sun, and reapply after swimming or heavy perspiration.

- Avoid sun exposure between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., when the sun's ultraviolet rays are most intense.

- Do not use sunlamps, booths or tanning pills.

- Be especially cautious of sunlight when using prescribed drugs, since some tend to increase the skin's light sensitivity.

"These precautions and plain common sense can help most people avoid skin cancer. And when people do develop skin cancer, they will find it early, if they routinely examine themselves," Dr. Patterson said.

She added that with early detection most cases of skin cancer can be cured.
