Jim Parker Joining Governor's Staff

Governor-designate Ann Richards Friday from her Austin office that she had accepted the post of Texas 45th Base Representative as a legislative director.

Parker was quoted as saying
"I believe we have put up a good fight and I would not regret it."

Parker will work under the leadership of the Governor's Staff to "...work with the Governor's representation to Texas.

Parker is running for district representative as a Democrat in the 39th District.

In describing his appointment, Parker said he was elected to his fifth term as State Representative last November, and said he is running for the job of legislative assistant during the 1991 session.

Parker's resignation will bring about a special election to fill his legislative post. The special election will likely be called by the governor in late 1990.

Parker has been quoted as saying in January that he was considering running for office in Eastland or Comanche County.

I am looking forward to bringing a new spirit to the people of Texas."

The Governor's Office will announce the new appointment in the near future.
Wichita Falls Santa Claus Proved Fatal To Six

Chico, Texas, and became the ninth known bank robbery in U.S. history. The men, who lived in Wichita Falls, drove to Chico and held up the First National Bank. The leader, wearing a Santa suit because Chico had been his home, mistakenly believed a Santa Claus outfit would be a perfect disguise at Christmas time.

From the beginning the episode was a comedy of errors— and tragedy. A little girl saw Santa Claus enter the bank and grabbed her mother along with the supposed Santa last week. When they entered the rear door of the bank and saw men with drawn guns, the girl started screaming, "They're going to kill Santa Claus!" And because the holdup men's heartened earth to burn them, the mother and the girl fled to the nearby police station, crying out the alarm.

Within minutes the bank was surrounded by armed citizens, many of whom had gone home and hurried to grab guns from their dory. One of these was a 10-year-old "Dead Bank Robber" reward and one of the men one for a "true outlaw" for the Texas Rangers Association. Late that night the men were counted in the bank's entry. Taking two little girls hostage (they were found abandoned), the robbers that way through the ambulances to their stolen getaway car and raced off, followed by a caravan of Peters.

However, they soon met wide open fire, and the police were in hot pursuit. The escape was cut off, and the robbers were shot. A little girl was killed in the pursuit.

Courses offered in farm and gardening

The course is designed to teach farmers and ranchers with beginning to intermediate accounting knowledge and skills (prior computer experience is a plus). The course will focus on the use of financial and enterprise accounting systems.

The course is open to mail-in students and will cover accounting topics related to farm businesses. The course materials include a textbook and access to an online course platform.

Course content includes:

- Accounting basics
- Financial recordkeeping
- Farm budgeting
- Income and expenses
- Financial ratios
- Estate planning for farmers

The course is led by Dr. Ashley Lovel of Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Regarding farm and ranch bookkeeping, the course will teach students how to use a manual record system, a computerized accounting program, or a combination of both. The course will also cover how to handle different business situations, such as partnerships, corporations, and limited liability companies.

The course will provide students with the knowledge and skills needed to prepare for the Certified Public Accountant (CPA) exam.
