Cotton Seed Lockers To Be Built In County

A large number of farmers in Bailey county who have had insufficient farm storage facilities for storing of cotton planting seed have been selling their cotton seed in the fall at prevailing prices which have been averaging around 30 cents per bushel rather than to store this seed on their farm and suffer losses caused by wind and exposure. These same farmers have been faced with the possibility of re-purchasing planting seed in the spring at an average of approximately $1.00 per bushel, or 70 cents per bushel over and above the price received for seed sold during the preceding fall. In many instances, seed purchased is of inferior and un-known quality.

Realizing the above facts and the necessity for storing good cotton seed at a time when prices are more favorable and a better quality of cotton seed is available, the Farm Security Administration held a series of meetings over the county and discussed these problems through informal group meetings and secured the opinions of the farmers in regard to a plan that would relieve this adverse condition.

J. W. McDermott, County RR Supervisor, advises that very much interest was shown, and through these informal meetings a plan of organization was developed. Results of such meetings were discussed with many families over Bailey county and the FSA received numerous requests for permission to participate in a program whereby cotton seed locker buildings might be constructed in different communities over the county for the purpose of storing cotton planting seed.

Realizing the plan for broadening the need, Sam Logan, county agent, and J. C. Smith, county administrative officer of the AEA were contacted and another series of meetings were held over the county in which the needs and organization plans of the association were fully studied. A director was elected in each community to represent his community in a county-wide organization.

On September 20, a meeting of the nine directors was called and the final organization was completed. Articles of incorporation were drawn up and forwarded to the Secretary of State on October 6.

This organization has resulted in the proposed construction of 116 individual lockers for storing of not less than 250 bushels of cotton seed per locker.

Locker buildings will be located as follows: Muleshoe 22; Fairview 16; Needmore 16; Enochs 24; Maple 22; and Goodland 16.

In estimating that 116 lockers will hold 250 bushels per locker, these six buildings will have storage capacity in the amount of 29,000 bushels, and amounting to the value of $40, given most cheerfully by eighteen men so the adults might use the building Sunday morning; quite a lot of material furnished by the superintendent of the Beginners for her department, and chairs loaned by the Baptist church.

"The building would be much more satisfactory and render more pleasing service if we had certain kitchen equipment and chairs and tables, another piano, and certain interior decorating. These supplies are much needed to materialize with the clearing of the weather, and as friends hear of such needs as they may find they can supply, because of their appreciation of the service this kind of building can render. We are very grateful to the many generous, wide awake friends of this cause who love Muleshoe and believe in its people and its future."

Week's Rainfall Totals 1.54 Inches

Rainfall totaling 1.54 inches fell the first of the week, with the heaviest downpour coming early Wednesday morning to increase the rainfall for the year well ahead of any previous 12-month period.

The rains continue making conditions bad for the farmers, and the situation is said to be unprecedented in the history of Bailey county.

A severe electrical storm accompanied the rain shortly after daylight Wednesday.

New Fellowship Hall At Church Open For Use

The new Fellowship Hall and Community Service building, recently completed at the Methodist church, has begun its active service in fellowship, education and character building enterprises.

Sixty-five adults responded to the invitation to be in their classrooms in the new building Sunday morning. The ladies of the Red Cross met for sewing early Wednesday afternoon. The Boy Scouts met in the hall Thursday night. The Cub Scouts have made arrangements to hold their meeting there during the winter.

Mrs. Noel Woodley gave a book review to an appreciative audience of young women Monday night of last week. A shower was given for Mr. and Mrs. Horace McAdams Tuesday afternoon.

The stage and front of the building were beautifully decorated for these occasions.

Last night, the men and boys of the Methodist church and congregation had a pie supper combined with a fellowship and recreational meeting which was greatly enjoyed by an unusually large crowd for such an occasion in our community.

On Sunday night, a large crowd assembled for a most impressive play, "The Church School Builds the Church." The cast consisted of Mrs. Noel Woodley, Mrs. Pat Bobo, Theresa Pearson, Paul Gardner, Betty Jo Jordan, Cieta Nell Bayless Mrs. Mills Barfield, A. W. Copley, Doris Churchill, Gloria Gowdy, representing the church, R. N. Huckabee and Mrs. P. C. Windsor as reader. Howard Carlyle led the prayer.

The pastor announces that he expects many such uses of this building as above outlined to be a weekly occurrence. The children of the Beginners' department are having a three-hour weekday session each Monday morning.

"We have had several most acceptable gifts recently to make the building usable," said the pastor. "These include a piano for the Beginners department, given by Mrs. R. L. Hobbs and Mrs. Katherine McNeese, a coffee urn given by Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Fox; a kitchen stove donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Little; the electric labor given by Dave Coulter; material for movable screens and some chairs donated by ten generous friends of the community; labor on screens to the value of $40, given most cheerfully by eighteen men so the adults might use the building Sunday morning; quite a lot of material furnished by the superintendent of the Beginners for her department, and chairs loaned by the Baptist church.

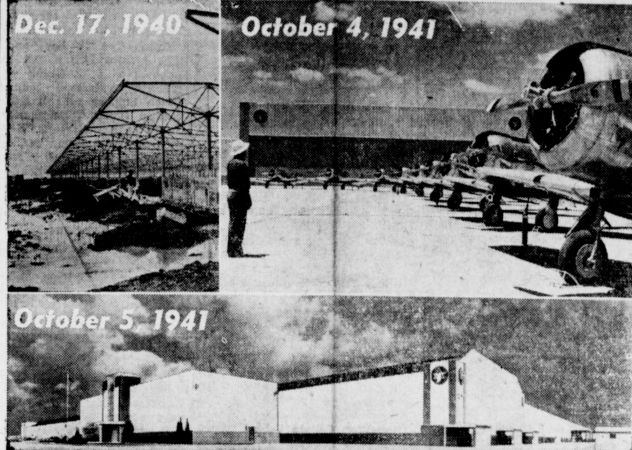

"The building would be much more satisfactory and render more pleasing service if we had certain kitchen equipment and chairs and tables, another piano, and certain interior decorating. These supplies are much needed to materialize with the clearing of the weather, and as friends hear of such needs as they may find they can supply, because of their appreciation of the service this kind of building can render. We are very grateful to the many generous, wide awake friends of this cause who love Muleshoe and believe in its people and its future."

155 BALES AT TAHOKA

As of last Saturday, a total of 155 bales of cotton had been ginned at Tahoka in Lynn county.

"From Plain to Planes In 120 Days"

The story of America's first airplane's air-conditioned airplane factory—built in record time to produce military airplanes in quantities—is told in these three photographs. North American Aviation, Inc. built the factory—25 acres under one roof—and had it in production in 120 days. Today, the company is publishing a striking advertisement in leading magazines to pay tribute to "the enthusiastic community cooperation" it has found in Texas. On Dec. 17, 1940, the erection of steel for the new factory had just been started, with almost incessant rains creating a major obstacle to construction. The photograph of October 4 shows the flight ramp at North American's Texas plant, indicating its production, in quantities of advanced training planes for both the Army and Navy air services. The lower photo shows two sides of the mammoth main factory building—one of nine structures on the 150-acre site.

Men's Week, Men's Day Are Set By Churches

The Laymen's and Pastor's conference for the Muleshoe Church Loyalty campaign have designated this week as Men's Week, and next Sunday as Men's Day at Sunday school and church.

Reports from the various churches in this campaign to make Muleshoe an even better church town are encouraging concerning results. Many new faces have appeared in the congregations and many members who have been neglectful of their spiritual responsibility have pledged a renewal of their loyalty to the church and the Christ of the church.

Both the Baptist and the Methodist churches have set as their goal fifty men in church school at 9:45 a. m. Sunday and a young man or boy for every man.

Committee's Message

"The men of Muleshoe love their homes and community. They recognize the contribution the church can make to society and to the strengthening of the moral life of home and business.

"Our boys are to follow their brothers and fathers to church, if they go to church to worship and fellowship with their neighbors. Nothing is too good for Muleshoe boys and girls. The very best wish we could make for our youth is that they may find the fellowship of the church wholesome and friendly and learn from their fathers and neighbors the way of life everlasting.

"Muleshoe men will be at church Sunday and will bring their boys. We are that kind of people."

ROCKEY'S RETURN FROM VACATION IN WEST

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Rockey, Glenn Rockey, Mrs. Howard Elliott and two daughters returned to Muleshoe Sunday from an extended vacation trip to Washington, Oregon, California and several days visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rockey at Omak, Wash.

Entertainment provided by Richard for his father and brother included a bear and deer hunt.

November 3 to 11 Stamp And Bond Week In Schools

November 3 to 11 has been proclaimed by Gov. Coke Stevenson as Defense Savings Stamp and Bond Week in all of the 13,791 schools and colleges in Texas. As a great army they will move forward with one accord to revive the Spirit of '76—the Spirit that made America great.

The Spirit of '76 made possible those great privileges we stress so loudly today—freedom of speech, freedom of the press and its continuation will be perpetuated only by the boys and girls of today that are prepared and protected for tomorrow.

Contracts Let For Building Of Seed Lockers

At a meeting of directors of the Bailey County Cotton Seed Co-operative Saturday afternoon, contract was let for the construction of six cotton seed locker buildings over the county.

The Charles Lenuau Lumber Co. was successful bidder on material for the Muleshoe, Goodland and Maple buildings. Higginbotham-Bartlett Co. received the material bid on buildings at Fairview, Needmore and Enoch.

Actual construction of the lockers will be under the supervision of gin managers of each community. Participants of these locker buildings will assist the gin managers in the construction and are requested to contact managers in their respective communities as soon as possible. Work will begin on practically all of them this week, it was announced Saturday. They will be completed as rapidly as possible in order to be ready for storing seed at any time needed.

'Jackets Go To Sudan Friday For Loop Game

Returning to the District 5-A football wars after a week's lay-off during which time they dropped a 6-2 decision to the Portales, N. M. Rams, the Muleshoe Yellowjackets tangle Friday afternoon with Sudan on the latter's gridiron.

By virtue of their scoreless tie with Levelland, who defeated Muleshoe 13 to 0, the Hornets are favorites to defeat the locals. Coach Prince Scott's men showed a world of improvement, however, in the Portales fray, and will give the Hornets a busy afternoon.

Sudan opened their season with a 6 to 0 win over Amherst, and followed it by defeating Morton by the same score. Then, they played a 6-6 tie with Hereford and lost to Littlefield 0 to 7.

The Yellowjackets garnered a safety and two points against the Portales here Friday in the first quarter, and then held off a hard running attack until late in the game when a 65-yard sprint gave the invaders six points and the margin of victory.

Muleshoe Man Is On Service Football Team

Clippings received by us from the official publication of the First Cavalry Brigade at Fort Bliss, include a picture of several husky members of that organization's rip-roaring football team. One member, who stands at least four or five inches taller than any of the others, and listed on the squad roster as an end, is Mack Lee, Muleshoe native, but for sometime now, a cavalryman par excellence, crack machine gunner, expert pistol shot (both mounted and unmounted) and expert rifleman.

The First Cavalry Division lists among its football members some of the nation's greats. In fact, the names of the players read like an Associated Press All-American team, and we notice such names as Lieutenant Jenkins of New Mexico Military Institute; Lieutenant Watkins, formerly all-conference, Arizona U.; Sergeant Daugherty, former Syracuse University star; Private Uebel, famous back from Villanova, and Lieutenant Templeton, all-conference halfback from Oklahoma Military Academy.

Methodists Elect New Officers For Coming Year

At the fourth Quarterly Conference of the local Methodist church Sunday afternoon, officers for important positions were elected for the coming year.

In the church school, A. W. Copley was elected general superintendent and Alvin Farrell and Mrs. Mills Barfield his assistants with young people and children, respectively.

To the Board of Education were elected Mrs. S. C. Beavers, Noel Woodley and H. O. Bentley. These connected with certain ex-officio members, and others elected by young people, the Women's Society and the Board of Stewards, compose the completed Board of Education, charged with the responsibility of the total church program of religious education.

Morris Childers and J. E. Day were elected to the Board of Trustees of the church property. A. C. Gaede was elected district steward; Sam E. Fox delegate to the annual conference to be held next month in Big Spring; H. H. Carlyle, A. W. Copley and Sam E. Fox to the pastoral and pulpit committee.

Other officers and committees were elected, most of whom were re-elections to old places of service. Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, who presided over this conference, announced that Bishop Holt had accepted an invitation to visit Muleshoe and be the guest speaker at the formal opening of the new Fellowship Hall and educational building. Dr. Lipscomb was to see Bishop Holt on Monday and make definite arrangements for a visit before the annual conference November 12.

A. H. WENNER RECEIVES HAND INJURY SATURDAY

A. H. Wenner, residing a few miles north of Muleshoe, had the misfortune of receiving a painful injury to his thumb Saturday last week when he attempted to put a chain on a potato machine. The end of his thumb was cut off when caught between a cog on the machine and the chain. He received treatment at the local clinic.

FIRST FARMER COUNTY OVER-AGE DRAFFEE OUT

James D. (Jimmie) Overstreet, son of Mrs. Anne H. Overstreet, of Farwell, is the only Farmer county boy to receive his discharge on the basis of his over-age status, it is believed.

Overstreet was inducted into the army at San Angelo, Tex., last spring and since that time has been stationed at Fort Benning and Camp Waters. He was only recently discharged.

Before the next truck season comes, farmers of the Blackwater Valley will have a modern packing shed. This was announced Monday, when plans were also being made for the construction, for next season, of a sweet potato curing plant.

Some fifty-odd truck farmers, and several business men, have signified their intention to purchase shares in the first "Truck Growers' Co-operative, which will be formally organized at a meeting to be held Monday evening, December 1. The meeting will be in the District court room, beginning at 7 p. m.

It was also learned Monday that the Santa Fe Railway System is to assist in every way possible a better system of handling the local truck crop, and will send their agricultural agent to Muleshoe for the December meeting.

This season has shown the necessity for an organized effort to market vegetables grown in this section. As usual, trucks coming here from distant cities for vegetables have been compelled to wait from eighteen to twenty-four hours to load. This was due to lack of a central loading plant and not because there was not enough of the desired variety of vegetables.

Many of these trucks will not return until they are sure that conditions are different, and this will mean a loss to every farmer and business man in Muleshoe unless the remedy is actually forthcoming.

The sweet potato curing plant has become a necessity through the discovery the past two seasons that this crop can not only be grown successfully, but that the quality is even better, according to tests, than the famous East Texas potatoes. The yield this year is said to be excellent, but the crop will have to be thrown on the market as soon as gathered in order to keep down the loss through deterioration.

At the coming meeting of growers, the size of the curing plant to be built will be decided upon. It was stated that government funds could be secured to finance the building, repayable over a long term.

Every interested truck farmer and business man in this territory is invited to attend the first meeting, Monday, December 1.

District Meeting of Young People Held Oct. 18-19

Members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Lubbock and Plainview districts were guests of the Littlefield Methodist church Saturday and Sunday.

Registration of guests began at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the church building. Rooms and breakfasts were furnished out-of-town guests by members of the Littlefield church.

The outstanding feature of the entertainment was a Chuck Wagon feed at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, followed by an hour of recreation. Cowboys and cowgirls in true western style assisted with the serving, and furnished an authentic atmosphere. Irley Cox of Big Spring sang a collection of western cowboy songs. Regular cowboy grub was served from a genuine chuck wagon, with the guests filling by for generous helpings, then finding a convenient place to seat themselves against the corral fence or on a bale of hay.

After the chuck wagon feed,

Dr. Frank L. Turner, president of McMurry college, Abilene, spoke at 9:30 on the rally theme, "Weavers Together With God." At 10 o'clock the McMurry Chanters presented a 30-minute concert.

Loboes' Shift May Baffle Red Raiders

By BILL PARKER

LUBBOCK, Oct. 20 — Texas Tech football game of games will be unexcited here Friday night, October 24, when the agile free-wheeling and far-going Red Raiders battle the University of New Mexico Loboes. In addition to the game, it will be Parents' Day at Texas Tech—a day when the mothers and dads will visit Texas Tech, spend the day with their children and see the game Friday night.

Coach Ted Shipkey and his New Mexico Loboes will invade Lubbock with something spanking new in football maneuvers. Coach Shipkey calls it the "Accordion Shift." The name, devised by the alert Lobo head mentor, comes from the spread and close formations, moving in and out like an accordion.

It will be something that the Red Raiders have not seen, but here is the way the New Mexico "Accordion Shift" works:

First, the team comes out of the huddle into a wide open formation. The center gets over the ball. The team can now shift. Ends can come in or out, tackles the same, while the guards move into balanced or unbalanced formations or stay in the backfield, and the backs shift in or out of the line, wide or close.

Puzzling . . . it certainly is. The "Accordion Shift" appears to be a concoction of the Stanford "T" and Shipkey's famed spread, which Texas Tech will vouch for, and a routine tap that would pass in any amateur show. Spinners, close formations, man-in-motion, triple laterals, hidden plays, deception in spinners and whatnots will evolve from the keys of this "Accordion Shift" in making the Loboes' attack powerful as well as colorful.

The Red Raiders with their quake-proof forward wall and their lightning-fast, sharp-toothed backfield, may find it difficult to tone down the Loboes' famous "Accordion Shift," but they believe their high voltage backfield and their fast charging and durable line will match anything the Loboes can offer.

New Mexico defeated Texas Tech in Albuquerque last season, 19 to 14, to knock the Red Raiders out of a New Year's Bowl bid. The Raiders claim that little score must also be settled here Friday night.

Hardin-Simmons University, whose Golden Jubilee will be celebrated during the convention, is spending $10,000 to remodel and enlarge its auditorium. Total capacity will be 3,000 and another 1,500 can be seated in the gymnasium across the street where a public address system will bring the program to overflow crowds.

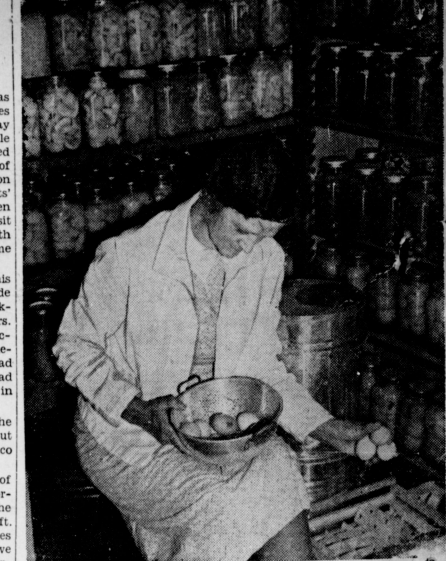

The First Baptist Church, where the Woman's Missionary Union will hold its sessions Nov. 10 and 11, while the Brotherhood Convention meets in the Hardin-Simmons auditorium, is spending $5,000 remodeling and redecorating its auditorium.

The Abilene Chamber of Commerce is conducting an intensive drive for homes in which convention messengers may be housed. A goal of 4,000 homes has been set, and messengers should write Don Wallace, Abilene, Chamber of Commerce, for reservations either in homes or hotels. Civic clubs and churches of other faiths are cooperating to make the convention one of the best in Texas Baptist history, committee members said.

Germany has banned night work for women except in munitions plants.

"Food for Freedom" Being Piled High

"Food for Freedom" is being piled high in the storage spaces of Bailey county farm families as they move to meet the nation's needs for increased production of basic foods. Mrs. Richard Gill, whose family is cooperating with the Farm Security Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, is shown with a year's supply of fruit, vegetables and land as she prepares surplus eggs for market. Directed by Secretary Wickard, in cooperation with the Texas and Bailey county USDA Defense Board, the greater food production program, which will win war and write the peace, secretary has prophesied, is similar with farm families in every part of the state.

J. W. McDermott county RR supervisor, advises that the local Farm Security office is making plans to assist Bailey county farmers to help the county USDA Defense Board in complying with the National USDA Defense program.

Plots of flax, planted at the University of Minnesota in May and treated with 60 pounds of borax to the acre, did not become infected with rust disease. However, as the borax burned some of the flax leaves, it is believed that 40 to 50 pounds may give the same protection.

These mornings, as your starter prods the engine, the precious parts that you want to keep fit are rarin' to claw each other. But not after they're Winter OIL-PLATED by the quick simple change to your seasonally correct Conoco Nth motor oil. Its magnet-like effect holds OIL-PLATING clear up to the topmost piston rings, though your car may stand cold for days. Instead of all quickly draining down, Conoco Nth makes OIL-PLATING stay up on guard in advance—ready ahead of mere fast-flowing oil—to ease up the coldest starts.

Then when your engine's insides—even in Autumn and Winter—naturally warm up more than a brand new sunburn, your Conoco Nth oil shows you the type of economy that won the sensational Death Valley Death-Test—certified. 6 identical cars—6 widely advertised oils of quality, including Conoco Nth—were kept speeding over the desert, each on a different 5-quart fill—locked in—no oil ever added.

5 quarts of one big brand burned up—engine burned out—when the car with Conoco Nth still had the protection of 3.65 quarts! Even the runner-up's 5-quart fill was consumed, and the engine was junk, when the car with Conoco Nth still had 2.7 quarts in the crankcase. All impartially certified.

Get the printed evidence at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. There's where to change to this popular-priced Conoco Nth oil that OIL-PLATES your engine for protected prompt starting. That's more than a promise. It's backed by something real...OIL-PLATING. Continental Oil Company

GAVE TWICE THE ENGINE LIFE!

This oil that OIL-PLATES gave its engine more than twice the life averaged by the engines using the other oils in the Death-Test.

In these times use your car prudently. And use oil that's great for engine life—changing regularly as recommended.

Good starting—good lubrication against all needless wear—helps conserve gasoline, too.

Unique Michigan Machine Tool Works Operated by Deaf Mutes

ROYAL OAK, Mich.—Along a back street in this Detroit suburb is perhaps the most unusual industry—if not the only one of its kind—in the nation: A machine shop operated entirely by deaf mutes.

The shop is housed in an abandoned livery, but in spite of its unpretentious surroundings the Oakland Machine Works is a monumental piece of evidence that deaf mutes, if given a chance, can be as useful as anyone else.

At present the payroll is $500 a week. Sixteen men are employed. Each week the Oakland Machine Works turns out about 50 per cent of the water pump pulleys used on Ford automobiles—some 5,000 pulleys a day.

Behind the idea of a machine shop for deaf mutes only is Leo H. Kuehn, a stocky man of 45, himself a deaf mute. Kuehn had been working for the Ford Motor Company as a tool and die expert for 12 years when in 1933 he decided to apply his knowledge helping others in the same predicament as himself.

Henry Ford heard about Kuehn's interesting project and helped it along by offering to buy all the Ford water pump pulleys the tiny shop could turn out.

What Kuehn has accomplished in eight years should be an inspiration to anyone. He started in the depths of the depression with little capital, only three helpers, 200 square feet of floor space in a stable, and a few machines. The factory now has 4,000 square feet of floor space, with 27 machines that Kuehn himself either built or reconditioned.

"If big industries offered other deaf mutes the same help Henry Ford gave me, similar shops could be started all over the country," Kuehn observed.

"Now that the defense program needs manpower and production from small machine shops, it seems to me deaf mutes could be very useful in filling the gaps."

Trees Playing Important Part In Soil Program

AMARILLO, Oct. 22—Trees, as an effective means of checking erosion, are playing an increasingly important part in the soil conservation program being carried out in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle, according to George W. Hood, regional forester for the Soil Conservation Service.

During the 1940-41 growing season, the forester reports, more than 103,000 trees were planted on 381 acres of 185 farms. These plantings were made in shelterbelts, farmstead windbreaks, and on steep slopes and in gullied areas to provide protection for the soil against the erosive forces of wind and water. Hood points out.

New plantings were made on 123 farms, while replanting was done on 62 farms. The average number of trees planted to the farm was 526 with an average of 206 to the acre.

"Trees can be grown successfully in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle, even in years of low rainfall, provided proper precautions are taken," the forester states. "Selection of a site to which additional water can be diverted, careful preparation of the site, selection of adapted species, frequent cultivations to keep down weed growth, and protection from damage by livestock are essentials for success," he says.

Many thousands of additional trees will be planted in the Panhandle this winter and next spring, mainly on land where the farmers are cooperating with soil conservation districts, according to the forester.

Wild Turkeys Are Plentiful In South Texas

AUSTIN, Oct. 22—It's tough on Game Department trappers, but it should be sweet news to the sportsman—conditions for wild turkeys are so good in South Texas this fall that field men, in the opinion of the executive secretary, probably will have a hard time luring many of the big gobblers into the traps.

And this despite the fact that the wild turkey crop is better this year than it has been in a long time. Wild turkeys are plentiful in that section of Texas with a heavy accent on the plentiful.

The Department annually traps several hundred wild turkeys in that region and removes them to areas where the turkey supply is low or non-existent. The gobblers are released in good habitats by biologists of the Game Department—in habitats where there is sufficient food and cover and where protection is afforded so that the birds may multiply.

THERE GOES A TIRE! ...but why junk the car?

Any car can have a blowout in a tire. But you wouldn't junk the car. You'd just fix the tire—or replace it.

That's very much like a situation that exists in the retailing of beer. Beer retailing has its "flat tires," too—retailers who disobey the law or who permit unsavory conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, we of the beer industry want to eliminate the few "flat tire" retailers. Here's another reason: Right here in Texas, beer has provided employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in state taxes last year.

The state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for material, equipment and services—for more than 100 other industries.

Those benefits are worth preserving. You can help us preserve them by patronizing only the reputable and legal places where beer is sold and by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

Frances Fedden, attractive Bronxville, N. Y., artist's model, is the 1941 Red Cross poster girl. Thousands of posters like the one pictured above have been distributed throughout the country calling attention to this year's Roll Call membership appeal. Painted by Bradshaw Crandell, prominent New York illustrator, the poster carries a national defense theme, portraying the active part being taken by the Red Cross in serving the armed forces.

HE STUCK OUT HIS NECK

Knowing that he was doomed anyway, a Jersey steer stuck out his neck and electrocuted himself. Buck Ross, who lives east of Littlefield, has been intending to kill a fat calf for some time. Because the animal knew it, or just because he was an awkward young ox he stuck the back of his neck to an electric wire and ended his own life Thursday.

A current of approximately 110 volts caught the steer right behind the ears as he rubbed his neck on the live wire. Wet earth under his hoofs helped ground the current. The steer's owner loaded him up and hauled him to the Littlefield Co-Op Food Storage plant. He is expected to make a pleasing appearance at the table in the Ross home from time to time for several months.

Gilbert Carter, son of Mrs. Margie Carter of Muleshoe, underwent a tonsilectomy at the local clinic Saturday.

? YOUR NAME ?

By CHARLES DIDWAY

SCOTT
The surname Scott was given in abundance to families who left Scotland to settle in England, and medieval records are filled with such names as "Jo Scott" and "le Escot." There were Scotts in the Scottish Highlands, but they went there from England where their name was Escot. Sir Walter Scott was a Scottish novelist and poet. Perhaps the most distinguished bearer of the name in America was Gen. Winfield Scott of Mexican War fame.

CLEMENTS
This surname, also spelled Clement and Clemens, was originally a given name meaning "merciful" from the Latin "clemens" (mild, gentle). Clements came into usage as a family name and is quite common in England. The real name of the American writer, Mark Twain, was Samuel Langhorne Clemens.

BAILEY
Bailey is derived from "ballif," officer of the court and official, custodian of prisoners. A ballif in England and ranked well up among other public officials. The name is spelled a number of ways, among them being Balie, Baily, Bayley and Bayle. Joseph Weldon Bailey was a U. S. Senator from Texas. Gamaliel Bailey was an American journalist.

KILPATRICK
The Irish and Scots are responsible for this surname, which means "church of Patrick." The Gaelic "cille" from which "kil" is derived, means church. The name is more common in Ireland than in Scotland, where it is a clan-name. Hugh Judson Kilpatrick was an American general of cavalry in the Civil War.

Customs and Superstitions

A man's shadow is as much a part of him as his head, according to the superstitions of certain people. The Australian aborigines take great care lest an opportunity be given an enemy to stab the shadow.

We find a modern version of this belief in the close association of the soul and the shadow. In the German story of Peter Schlemiel, he is without a shadow because he has sold it to the devil.

Followers of voodooism, the Black Art, also attach great importance to the shadow, and it has its place in their savage rituals, along with the sacrificial bowl and stone and other mystic symbols.

OLTON RECEIVES FIRST BALE OF 1941 COTTON

The first bale of 1941 cotton was brought to Olton October 10 by Len Irvin, who lives southwest of that city. The bale weighed 475 pounds and was from 1,780 pounds of boll cotton. The seed weighed 750 pounds. Olton business men made up a premium of $33.20 for the bale. Last year the first bale was ginned on September 7, thirty-

What's That Word?

SYNOPSIS
CHAPTER I—Six men traveled the Chibougamau Trail in the wilds of northern Canada. Six men died. They were reported drowned in the rapids. Mutterings around the camp fires expressed their things Garry Finlay, whose brother Bob was one of the six; Red Malone and Blaise, a half-breed guide, in the suite of surveyors, arrive to investigate the deaths. Finlay had received an anonymous letter declaring that the men were murdered. There is a suspicion that Jules Isadore, big fur man, has made an important lost strike in the Waswanipi country and will stop at nothing to keep prospectors out.

CHAPTER II—The inhabitants are in terror of Isadore and his right-hand man, Tete-Blanche.

SUBSTITUTE — A good word, often used when the correct word just won't come to mind, substitute is from the Latin "substituere" which means to "put under," or "put in the place of." The word applies in general use to one who takes another's place.

TOBACCO — Tobacco derives its name from the "tabaco," a tube or pipe in which the Carib Indians smoked the plant. Tobacco was introduced into Europe by a Spanish physician in 1588.

INFANT — If babies could speak intelligibly they would not be called infants, for the word comes from the Latin "infans," "in" (not) and "fari" (to speak) meaning "not to speak." In legal terms, all persons who are not of full age are infants, although the word "minor" is more generally used.

four days earlier than this year. Continued wet weather in the Olton district is delaying the cotton harvest. At this date last year, more than 900 bales of cotton had been ginned at Olton, and at the same time in 1939, more than 2,800 bales.

NEW REA ALLOTMENT GRANTED LAMB COUNTY

An allotment of $103,000 to build 201 miles of REA lines was awarded the Lamb County Electric Co-operative, Inc., recently by the REA in Washington, D. C. O. K. Woodall superintendent, announced.

The recent allotment will be used to build lines to serve 438 members in Lamb, Hockley and Hale counties. Lines will be built in the Olton vicinity, extending as far north as the Castro county line, and south of Littlefield, in Hockley county. Approximately 100 miles of line will be built for short taps Woodall said.

Discovery of a new member of the ever-growing family of B vitamins, known collectively as the Vitamin B complex, has been made by Roger J. Williams of the University of Texas. It has been named folic acid.

Blaise quieted Flame as a figure appeared in the path leading down from the rapids at the insistence of the other's manner. But his seamed face might have been carved from wood. "A-hah!" he said, easing a cloud of smoke from his mouth.

"My name is Joe Flambeau! I work for Jules Isadore!" announced the caller. "What your name?"
"I am Big Windigo from Devil Valley! I eat Nottaway Riviere man for supper!" The twinkle faded to a cold stare.
At the calculated affront the other sucked in his breath. "By gar! You ensult Joe Flambeau!" he choked. Then Flambeau's groping fingers found and closed on the bone handle of the knife under his coat. "Don't pull dat knife!" Brassard's voice was as brittle as shell ice. But his thick right hand did not move from the pipe in his teeth. "Look bein' you!" he said.

Flambeau turned his head. Feet bunched under him, the big alreale crouched like a panther, his eyes watching Blaise for the signal to leap.
"You pull dat knife and dat dog land on your back and rip your throat!"
Flambeau's hand moved away from his knife handle. "I don't come here for trouble!" he said weakly. "I talk business wid you."
"Forget wat I say!" appeared Blaise. "I don't mean nothin'. Wat you want, Flambeau?"
"Why you take Nottaway trail to de Bay?"
"We survey lower riviere!"
Flambeau surprised Blaise with: "Dese engineer pay you small wages. I get you job wid big money."
"Who wid?"
"Isadore! You are stout man. Isadore pay big money for strong man on de riviere."
It was growing interesting. Blaise took the bait. "A-hah! Wat you say?"
"Double wat you get! Leave dose men and dey will not make survey alone!"
Blaise threw back his head and laughed. "You notice dat redhead?"
"A-hah!"
"He is run in white water! Finlay will be in funjing today. Dey go to de bay widout me."
Flambeau scowled. "Batoche will talk wid you at daylight, here."
"A-hah!"
"Isadore give you big pay. Shake hand!"
Blaise rose and extended a thick paw. Then he deliberately tossed his bombshell. "Why do Isadore watch de Nottaway like a fox watch a rabbit run? He strike gold on Waswanipi?"

Flambeau's jaw sagged as he stared at the cryptic face of the speaker. "Mebbe he got gold! Mebbe you come wid us, and fin' out! I see you at daylight."
"A-hah!"
"Isadore give you big pay. Shake hand!"
Blaise rose and extended a thick paw. Then he deliberately tossed his bombshell. "Why do Isadore watch de Nottaway like a fox watch a rabbit run? He strike gold on Waswanipi?"

"This dump is sure stumped!" snorted the giant, filling and lighting his pipe. "Can't get a soul to talk! From Olton they shut up, you'd think the bush north of here was full of cockeyed, man-eating Windigo!"
"Who'd you talk with?" asked Finlay.
"Cotter the storekeeper's as scared as a fox in deep snow with a lynx on his trail. The rest are the same way. You see McLeod?"
"Yes, I showed him the last line of the letter sent to the family and asked if he recognized the writing. By the line in his wife's face I believe he wrote it himself."

"Let's see that letter, again, Garry! When Cotter asked me to register, I saw in his book some writing on a lot of paper they shut up, you'd think the bush north of here was full of cockeyed, man-eating Windigo!"
"Who'd you talk with?" asked Finlay.
"Cotter the storekeeper's as scared as a fox in deep snow with a lynx on his trail. The rest are the same way. You see McLeod?"
"Yes, I showed him the last line of the letter sent to the family and asked if he recognized the writing. By the line in his wife's face I believe he wrote it himself."

"To the family of Robert Finlay, North Bay, Ontario:
"Last spring Robert Finlay and his partner, Andrew Troup, left Nottaway bound for the Chibougamau gold country by way of the Waswanipi River. In the fall it was reported, here, that Montagnais Indians had found their smashed canoe. This is the third party that has disappeared on the Chibougamau Trail in two years. There are people who have reasons why they don't want prospectors traveling Waswanipi water.
"I don't believe these six men were drowned."
"A Friend."

For some time Malone studied the letter. "Yes, it looks mighty like that writing of McLeod's I saw in Cotter's book," he said.
"McLeod wrote that letter, Red?" Finlay repeated his conversation with the station agent and his wife. "But McLeod's tied up here and doesn't want trouble," he concluded. "Now whom does he suspect and why?"
"Do you suppose someone's made a placer strike on the river and is trying to buy me out?"
"I sure do. It looks to me as if we had run into the coldest attempt to control wild country I've ever heard of." Garry turned to Brassard. "What do you think of it, Blaise?"
"I think nothing. I got new job."
"Cut the funny stuff, Blaise!" grunted Red. "What's your dope on the situation?"
"I work for Isadore, now!" announced Blaise, his eyes snapping like an otter's. "I leave dis outfit in de mornin'." Then he described his meeting with Flambeau.

"Garry!" laughed Garry. "They're certainly worried about us. What are you going to tell Batoche?"
"Wal, you see, I was hit on de head, once. It leave me wid bad memory. I tell Batoche dese is my mistake. I mavare talk wid Flambeau."
"And will that bird be wild?" chuckled Red. "Watch his right hand! Don't let him wing you."
Blaise inhaled until his chest resembled a barrel. He flexed his thick biceps and yawned. "I take good care dat fallar!" he said. "He rose and his face sobered. 'I like to have look at dis Isadore outfit on Waswanipi.'"
"Don't you realize that we've got to map the lower river?" demanded Garry. "What's the idea?"
"Tomorrow, I think we get telephone order from Ottawa to map Waswanipi Lake."
"You old fox! You've hit it!" cried Garry. "We'll give that telegram the lit whether McLeod denies it or not. In the morning this city hears that we've been wired from headquarters to map Waswanipi. Will that be news?"

Red Malone affectionately shook Brassard by his thick shoulders. "Blaise, that's imagination! Let Batoche and Flambeau chew that over!"
Finlay rose. "I'm dropping in on those prospectors above here," he said, and left his friends.
"Hello, Mac!" greeted a voice as Finlay reached the tent above the bridge. "Sit down and light up!"
"Thanks, I will. Where you people heading?"
"Roun'! Plenty gold in them quartz veins if you can locate 'em!"

CHAPTER II
Before daylight Finlay heard the two men in the next room creep down the stairs. He waked Malone, told him what he had overheard and, later, found Cotter in the store.
"Much travel through here?" he threw out, casually.
"There's a couple of free traders south of here and all the Hudson's Bay and Isadore supplies go this way."
"Many hit for Chibougamau here?"
"A few tried it but were drowned."
"What?"
"Yes, drowned in the Waswanipi! It's nasty water. Even the Indians are shy of it."
The muscles in Finlay's face suddenly tightened. Cotter slowly colored before the thrust of the agate eyes. "How do you know they were drowned?"
"Isadore says so."
"Oh, Isadore says so? Say, Cotter, where did this Isadore come from? How long has he been trading on Waswanipi Lake?"
The storekeeper was visibly uneasy. "He was here before the steel went through—before the Chibougamau gold strike."
"Don't know where he came from."
Cotter's hand was noticeably steady as he filled his pipe. "Say, ain't you pretty curious? I thought you was a government surveyor but you talk like the police."
Garry smiled at the other's evildoer nervousness. Then he suddenly shot the bald question: "How long has Tete-Blanche been working for him?"
Cotter's face was etched with fear. "I'm making it up, my business, Mr. Cotter! Finlay says You're scared silly! What are you afraid of?"
Cotter swallowed hard. "You're right! I am scared! I bin threatened. I'm trying to make a livin' here—tryin' to mind my own business. You can't blame me for keepin' in my mouth shut!"
"Good!" thought Garry. "Now I'm getting somewhere! This fellow's going to talk!" Then he asked the unanswerable question: "Just what are you scared of?"
"Scared of bein' burned out at night in midwinter—scared at what might happen to my family!"

"It's mighty good of you, Mrs. MacDonald, to warn us." Finlay said, "but to happen to be government surveyors under orders—no prospectors. No one's going to be crazy enough to monkey with a survey party."
"I know, but Mrs. McLeod said tonight that one of those boys lost last year was your brother—that you were making inquiries."
So it was all over the place! He had talked too much to the McLoods. And yet it had been necessary to learn who wrote that letter.

"Mrs. MacDonald," Finlay suddenly asked, "who is it you're afraid of—Isadore?"
Finlay heard the sudden intake of her breath. "Oh, no! You're wrong there! We don't even know him! There's a fur man and generally lies to Waswanipi from down below."
"Well, anyway, I'm grateful for your kindness. But as our job is to re-map the lower Nottaway, I don't expect to have the pleasure of meeting Mr. Isadore. Good night!"
In the smoky bedroom at Cotter's Finlay found Malone and told him the story.

"Don't think we're surveyors, eh? Want to warn us off the Chibougamau Trail! Looks more and more, chief, as if that letter was right!"
"Yes, Red, that letter was right!"
"They've been through our bags," whispered Malone.
"Good! I rigged one up especially for our friend Batoche, maps, survey notes, tools and all, right on top!"
Shortly Red Malone was filling the room with gargantuan snores by Garry Finlay could not sleep. If he heard the cautious tread of defense casing, as if that letter was right! "Yes, Red, that letter was right!"

SENIORS TAKE FEVER

Yes, it's true, but don't get excited, it's not contagious. That is, not very. It's merely California fever, but anyone can take it after an interview with Lloyd Robinson, better known as Percy. Percy left last spring for California, and this is his first visit home. We took Mr. Windsor's 4th period Literature class Monday to ask Percy any questions we wished, and before the period was over, we were all ready to go back with him when he leaves Friday. He certainly had one little boy sitting on the edge of his seat when he was telling about the nutty girls, eh, T. M?

They teach ball room dancing in the school, so we're also anxious to see some of his graceful dancing. We've really missed this "would-be member" of our Senior class this year, particularly his original wisecracks which always caused a giggling uproar during class. Above all things, we salute Lloyd—he doesn't talk a bit different. Here's hoping he will change his mind about leaving and stay here to finish with his old class. (At least, we don't have truant officers, Lloyd.) Don't forget to help support the Senior candidate for High School Queen, Doris Gordon. We'll certainly appreciate every vote.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

Those six weeks exams over, everyone is happy and working again.

The Junior class met last Friday and discussed ways to raise money for the Queen's race, and the Junior-Senior banquet. The class is working hard for their queen. Boxes will be placed in the down-town stores for votes to be placed in. We plan to win this race by an overwhelming vote.

All hail our Queen!

SOPHOMORES

We, the Sophomore class, held a class meeting October 20. We elected our escort, Myron Pool. The class has the assurance that the Sophomore Queen, Billie Briscoe, will win at the carnival October 31.

Mrs. Meacham Is Hostess To Fairview Club

The Fairview Home Demonstration club met Tuesday, Oct. 14, at the home of Mrs. R. B. Meacham, with Mrs. Bobbie Pierce acting as hostess. Various means of raising money to replenish the treasury were discussed, and after the business session, the meeting was turned over to Miss Gentry. Every woman present received some practical information as to the best method to finish her particular type of floors.

After the meeting was adjourned, the president, Mrs. Berta Kitchens, was honored with a shower of lovely gifts. Refreshments, which carried out the color scheme of pink and blue, were served to:

WINTER Can't Be Far Away

Now is the time to change to winter lubricants. Most motorists are careful to change the motor oil but neglect the gear lubricants. The transmission and differential should be drained and flushed and refilled with winter grade lubricants. To do this now may prevent starting trouble when Old Man Winter blows in. We have on hand a supply of Prestone and can take care of your anti-freeze needs too.

Why not come in and let us prepare your car or truck for winter driving?

LEGION PLANS NAVY RECRUITING.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson at his desk in the reception room of the Governor's office, Austin, discusses plans for immediately recruiting two companies for service in the United States Navy or Naval Reserve in Texas with The American Legion, Department Commander Andrew Dilworth of San Antonio and Capt. H. W. Underwood, United States Navy, commanding the Naval ROTC Unit at the University of Texas. The campaign was started by the American Legion in response to a telegram from Secretary of Navy, Legionnaire Frank Knox, asking the American Legion to "recruit a minimum of one company consisting of not less than 140 men * * * . The Navy has 338 ships in commission and 353 building. Need for men is obvious," said the telegram in part.

Each American Legion Post is requested to send to the nearest Naval Recruiting Station, or sub-station, at least one recruit for the Navy or the Naval Reserve on or before October 27. Fitting ceremonies will be held on October 27 in Austin, or Houston and Dallas with high State, Navy and American Legion officials participating.

Governor Stevenson issued a proclamation calling upon Texas citizens to observe Navy Day, October 27 "For it was in October, 1775 that our forefathers * * * came to the conclusion we must have a Navy to maintain peace."

ST. LOUIS—(Special)—The Lutheran Hour, presenting the Gospel messages of Dr. Walter A. Maier, began its ninth broadcasting season Sunday, October 19, on an international scale over more than 300 radio stations. Live broadcasts will be given every Sunday for 26 weeks at 3 p. m. (C. S. T.) over station, KFDA, Amarillo. This same broadcast will be made by transcription over KICA, Clovis, at 4:30 p. m.

These broadcasts come over a coast-to-coast network of 126 stations in the United States and Canada. Approximately 175 additional stations here and abroad will broadcast the program by means of electrical transcription.

Clipper planes will deliver the Lutheran Hour transcriptions to stations in China, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and other foreign lands, and the program will be translated into Spanish for stations in South and Central America. Powerful short-wave stations on both the Eastern and Western seaboard are expected to help carry the broadcast halfway around the world.

An obscure seminary professor only a few years ago, Dr. Maier has attracted international attention through his broadcasts on Christian doctrine, and upon the application of Biblical admonitions to the problems of everyday life. His vigorous denunciation of Communism and atheism has won him wide commendation from secular as well as religious sources, and his comments on romance, marriage, business and personal ethics, and the family circle have been extensively quoted. Broadcasting each Sunday for 26 weeks he has received more than a million letters from listeners in eight seasons—12,500 letters in a single week.

Where the Pilgrims Worshipped

The Church of the Pilgrim Fathers dedicated to the memory of those Londoners who sailed to America on the Mayflower, was recently destroyed in an air raid. The church, which stood in one of the older sections of London, was built in the early 17th Century and actually numbered some of the founders of New England among its original members. A. C. BARTONS OF SPRINGLAKE RECEIVE MASTER FARMER AWARD

Springlake, Oct. 21—Neighbors and friends of the A. C. Barton family this afternoon witnessed bestowal of the master farmer award upon the Bartons at their farm home six miles east of here. Gathered in the spacious living room of the home, friends saw Eugene Butler, Dallas, editor of the Progressive Farmer, hand Mr. and Mrs. Barton the silver-plated plaque that signified the highest honor that goes with recognition of successful farming and substantial contribution to better rural life.

Responding to the demand 'speech' Mrs. Barton credited their friends with making them recipients of the honor. And her eyes grew misty despite her constant smile as she paid tribute to friends and neighbors of 21 years. Many of them gathered within the range of her voice.

Mr. Barton started farming for himself 27 years ago. The second year he farmed he batched. "I started out with a pair of ponies and less than $100," he said, "and I was broke when I came to the Plains in 1920 and settled near Springlake. I did have six head of horses and $80."

The couple now have a six-room home and farm 994 acres of land, a section of which is their own.

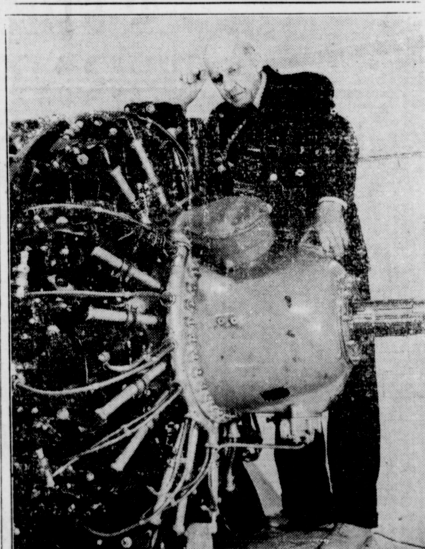

Modern in every way. The Barton place is served by an REA line, there is an elevator in the granary and an air compressor in the machinery barn, in addition to other labor saving devices.

Mrs. Barton has canned 674 containers of fruit and vegetables this year. She is a member of the Springlake Home Demonstration Club, the PTA and Band Parents Association and is now holding or has held offices in each of the organizations. The husband served 12 years as a member of the Springlake school board, a rural school that is distinctive for being the only rural school in Texas which is attended by pupils living in two different towns. Pupils from the towns of Springlake and Earth go by buses to the rural school, one of the most modern plants in this part of the Plains.

The Bartons are the parents of five children, three still at home. Asked what meant most to her after 25 years of hard work and raising five children, Mrs. Barton said, "My family and friends, I'm sure."

The Bartons' daughter, Mildred Barton Haley, taught in the Muleshoe grammar school last year.

Kitty Hawk Was Nothing Like This

DEARBORN, Mich.—Memories of the mechanical heartbreaks at Kitty Hawk returned for 73-year-old Charles Taylor (above) as he viewed this 2,000-horsepower airplane engine the Ford Rouge plant soon will produce for the army. Taylor was mechanic for Orville and Wilbur Wright when they tried and finally flew the first heavier-than-air plane in 1903 on the sand dunes of Kitty Hawk, N. C. He said the Wright plane was driven by a 200-pound engine that turned up only 12 horsepower. This mechanical giant weighs 2,350 pounds. Ford is rushing toward completion a $27,000,000 plant in which these powerful Pratt & Whitney engines will be built.

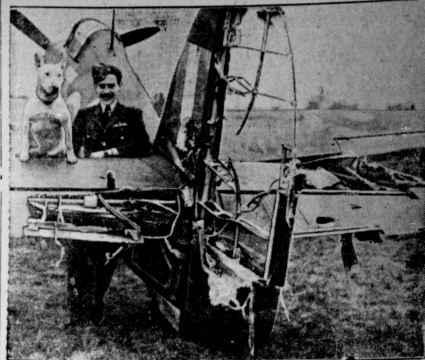

FSA TO HELP BORROWERS ATTAIN INCREASED PRODUCTION GOAL

Following are the types of assistance which the Farm Security Administration is prepared to furnish its borrowers to enable each of them to meet his share of the increased production goals called for by the Secretary of Agriculture's "Food for Freedom" program. J. W. McDermott, county RR supervisor, or Miss Eunice Florence, county home supervisor, or Howard C. Hughes, assistant county RR supervisor of the FSA, will be glad to discuss with FSA borrowers, any of these items which may be needed to help them reach their share of the production goal which has been set for this county.

1. To conserve feed crops for current needs and future use: FSA will finance the purchase of silage cutters, feed grinders, binders, trailers, and other harvesting and operating expenses to store feed crops in trench silos or other storage methods.
2. To increase the production of poultry, poultry products, dairy products, and pork: FSA will finance suitable shelter for poultry, dairy cattle or hogs, either by the use of temporary shelter, remodeling present buildings, or constructing new buildings where the present tenure situation justifies.
3. FSA will finance adequate equipment such as feeders, waterers, fencing, nest space, etc.
4. FSA will finance the purchase of alfalfa, meat scraps, tankage, cottonseed meal, and other protein supplements for a good feeding program.
5. FSA will finance purchase of milk cows to normal carrying capacity of farm, assist in locating cows for group purchase. FSA will finance purebred bulls, preferably on a co-operative basis.
6. FSA will finance purchase of sows and feeder pigs up to normal carrying capacity of the farm.
7. FSA will finance the purchase of young chicks so as to bring the farm flock to normal carrying capacity of the farm.
8. To increase beef production: FSA will finance the purchase of feeder livestock to turn surplus feed into beef where trench silos have been provided to store feed reserve.
9. To increase garden production: FSA will finance the purchase of garden seed and assist borrowers in organizing for cooperative purchase of good quality seeds in amounts and kinds needed to provide food needs of the family.
10. FSA will finance garden fence, tools, tile for sub-irrigation, windbreaks, spray materials.
11. To provide ample water supply for production and storage programs: FSA will finance development of available water, including wells, pumps, towers, windmills, overhead supply tanks, pipe, etc., as rental arrangements will justify.

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

It's open season in Washington again. Unlike the deer season, the duck season, or the trout season, this particular season has no definite beginning and ending dates.

The game consists of a collection of hard line drives against the mythical opposition named "big business." Since attacking a mirage is pretty tough work, the Congressmen, when they have been playing the game lately, have opted for a somewhat more specific—government dollar-a-year—men.

Like the rest of us, Congressmen like to relax when they've got a lot of seemingly stupendous jobs facing them. Who wouldn't rather go fishing than stay in the plant or at the desk all day?

THIS BUSINESS OF Living BY SUSAN THAYER

Great Aunt Matilda loves to "hark back" to the days when she was young and she and Uncle Ezra had "gone west" to new land. "Those were the days," she said the other evening, sighing deeply and letting her knitting rest in her lap for a moment while she looked with dim blue eyes back into the long ago Past.

And then, taking up her knitting again, she explained, "We didn't have all those gimcracks you girls now-a-days think you couldn't get along without. Those fancy vacuum sweepers . . . and automobiles to go gallivanting around the country in . . . and electric refrigerators big enough for a boarding house. We did very well putting our butter down in a well."

"But, Aunt Matilda," I answered, "America is still great. Greater than she has ever been. And today we have hope, too, as well as vacuum cleaners . . . and you must admit they do get all the dirt up even from the corner and from under the bed."

"Hope for what?" Aunt Matilda wanted to know. "What kind of hope do you have?"

"Hope for a better time and a better world with opportunity for more people. You talk about the good old days. Well, for us, the good old days aren't good enough any more. We're looking ahead to the good new days that are possible in a country like this with its fertile farms and wealth of other resources, and the greatest industrial system the world has ever known. Here we have speeded up defense production as much in a single year as Hitler did in six with his regimented economy."

There are plenty of Congressmen, however, who've stuck doggedly to work, shamelessly neglecting the open season on big business. And reporters covering committee hearings have come away with the distinct impression that a new uneasiness is arising in the minds of some economically-minded Senators and Representatives about the financial structure of our government. They're asking a lot of questions, for example, about where new revenue can be raised without undermining the productive system of the country, what the effects are likely to be about the piling up of Government bonds in commercial banks, and other such ponderous topics.

Truth of the matter is that the voter back home is beginning to get worried, and his worry is being translated into letters to his Congressman, and into ambitious local taxpayer programs to reduce local and state spending, and local and state taxes. Authoritative observers on Capitol Hill are giving considerable attention to the clamor coming from the distant communities for prudent government spending whether done by City Hall, the State Capitol or the Congress.

With a national debt this year exceeding fifty one billion dollars, and a deficit above twelve billion dollars, with the necessity, after passing the biggest tax bill in history, of borrowing seven or eight billions more this fiscal year, earnest Congressmen are beginning to think some serious thought should be given, and some action taken in the direction of putting a halt to the mushrooming of non-defense activities of the government, and to saving some national pennies.

NEAR-TIE IN FIRST BALE RACE AT AMHERST Amherst's first bale of 1941 cotton came in October 9, and the honor of bringing it in, as well as the premium went to Doyle Bacaus, who farms south-west of Amherst. A short time after Mr. Bacaus brought his first bale in, Frank Prentiss of the Rocky Ford community drove into town with the second bale.
