Strike threatened

WASHINGTON (AP) - A railway clerks union warned Friday that unless a contract dispute is settled within a few days it will strike the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad.

A walkout by 1,600 members of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks (BRAC) would halt Rock Island freight shipments in 13 states and disrupt service for 27,000 Chicago-area commuters.

BRAC president Fred J. Kroll said the union is seeking "moderate wage increases and rea-sonable retroactivity" from the carrier, which has filed for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws.

Gas can found

HOUSTON (AP) - A gasoline can found in a burning home where the bodies of four young children were found has been sent to the FBI laboratory in Quantico, Va., for fingerprint analysis.

Police also appealed Friday to residents of the southeast Houston neighborhood for a telephone call from anyone who might have had a gasoline can stolen about the time of the Aug. 17 fire.

Arson investigators have said the fire was deliberately set. Homicide Detective Doug Autrey said police still are trying to find out where the can came from.

Boorstein escapes

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) - William Boorstein, an American held captive for eight days by militant strikers in the textile factory he managed, has escaped and left El Salvador, a U.S. Embassy spokesman announced Friday.

He said Boorstein, 60, of Cherry Hill, N.J., managed to get away from about 20 workers who had seized the Apex Textile Co. plant Aug. 16, during a heavy rainstorm Thursday

Winds, rain, hail again hit Basin area

Gusty winds accompanied by rain and hail moved into the Midland area late Friday night, signaling their coming with an impressive display of lightning flashes.

Isolated tornadoes or funnel-shaped clouds, including one over Stanton and another at Gardendale, reportedly were sighted, but no damage was reported

A weatherman at the National Weather Service station at Midland Regional Airport said Friday night the apparent tornado at Gardendale, northwest of Midland, was a "low-hanging cloud."

Rain and hail, the latter from pea-sized to "thumbnail-sized," fell on Andrews for about 30 minutes beginning at 9:50 p.m. Friday and was moving southeasterly at 30 miles per hour. Light rain was hitting Lamesa.

In addition to the tornado reportedly sighted there, Stanton was buffeted by high winds and sprinkled by hail and rain.

Lightning struck an oil battery south of Tarzan on the J.M. Payne place northwest of Stanton, according to reports. "When it blew, it lit up the whole sky," said a spokesman for the Martin County Sheriff's Department said.

A thundercloud, accompanied by hail and strong gusts to 50 to 60 mph, was reported moving over northern Odessa about 10:30 p.m.

Dark, lightning-streaked clouds were sighted from Crane, but no rain had fallen on that town by late Friday.

A spokesman for the Upton County Sheriff's Office at Rankin said "gentle rain" would be welcomed in that ranching country, but the thunderstorms could just stay "up there." They seemed to be moving down, however.

Andrews, Ector and Midland counties were removed from a severe storm-warming list at 11: 30 p.m.

The Friday night activity followed the "footsteps" of a Thursday afternoon storm which dumped more than two inches of rain and caused moderate wind, lightning and hail damage in Midland.

Rainfall measurements so far this year stood at an official 12.15 inches late Friday evening - as opposed to the normal annual rainfall of 13.51 inches.

Yearly normal rainfall through August is 9.58 inches, said a weatherman at the National Weather Service.

Skies were to clear up today and turn fair through Sunday, said the weatherman.

The high temperature readings today and Sunday should be in the low 90s. The low tonight is expected to be in the mid-60s.

Friday's high temperature of 90 degrees was a "distant 13" degrees below the record high of 103 degree set on that date in 1936. And the low of 65 Friday was seven degrees away from matching the record low of 58 degrees set in 1970 on that date.

Godzilla's return set This time, he's a nuclear hero

TOKYO (AP) - Godzilla, the Japanese movie monster that first stomped across the screen 25 years ago as a film argument against the A-bomb, will make a comeback next year as the hero of a nuclear power plant accident.

Born in the South Seas as a result of U.S. atomicbomb testing, and a veteran in the fight against the powers of evil, the prehistoric monster will reappear after a six-year absence, apparently a confirmed good

"It will be a serious film, just like the first movie, which was a reaction to uncontrolled atomic bomb testing in the atmosphere," Tomoyuki Tanaka, president of the Toho Motion Picture Co. said in an interview

In the first film, a monster emerges from the depths of the South Pacific after U.S. atom bomb testing in the Bikini atoll

In the American version, Raymond Burr, later to be known as Perry Mason and Ironside, played the part of an American reporter investigating the appearance of a monster in Japan. Burr's investigating activities were shot in Hollywood and spliced into the Japanese film.

The first film featured major Japanese actors but the

The spokesman declined to say whether Boorstein received outside help in making his escape or how he had left the country. He said the embassy was notified Friday that Boorstein was free.

Wife 'held'

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet officials intent on flying the wife of Bolshoi Ballet defector Alexander Godunov to Moscow wrangled Friday night with U.S. officials intent on questioning her, and her Aeroflot airliner remained grounded at Kennedy International Airport.

Godunov's lawyer said Godunov thought his wife was being "held by force" aboard the plane.

Ludmila Vlasova, a ballerina with the Bolshoi Ballet left behind when her husband defected, was on board the Aeroflot plane that was scheduled to leave Kennedy International Airport for Moscow at 5 p.m. but still had not left by 10 p.m.

There were an undetermined number of other passengers, including many Americans, aboard the plane.

JESSUP, Md. (AP) - State police and patrol dogs trekked through rural countryside, helicopters buzzed overhead and police cars cruised the highways Friday searching for the last eight fugitives from a mass breakout at the House of Correction.

By midafternoon Friday, 22 of the 30 inmates who escaped Wednesday night had been returned to the prison.

rising price trend

WASHINGTON (AP) - Led again by rising fuel prices, inflation continued its unrelenting assault on Americans' pocketbooks in July as consumer prices rose another 1 percent, government reports showed Friday.

It was the seventh consecutive month in which prices rose by near that amount. Prices for the 12 months ending in July were up 11.3 percent, meaning that in one year the dollar lost 11.3 cents of its value.

Purchasing power of the average worker's paycheck slipped another 0.4 percent last month and was 4 percent below July of last year, the Labor Department said.

Reduced purchasing power translates into lower standards of living for many Americans, but the Carter administration says this is the price that must be paid to bring inflation under control.

There was some easing of food prices during July, as grocery store prices declined 0.1 percent for the second month in a row. Administration officials welcomed the decline, but one said privately it was long overdue as farm prices had eased months ago.

"There has been an awful lag in passing through the lower costs," the official said.

The 1 percent increase in consumer prices in July was the same as in June and represented an annual rate of increase of 12.8 percent for the three months ending in July.

George Eads, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said that while the total increase was bad, it was concentrated in energy and home ownership costs. Even in energy, he noted, there were indications gasoline prices might be leveling off.

He said it was "particularly gratifying" to see a 2.7 percent drop in the price of meat, poultry, fish and eggs. Beef prices have declined an an annual rate of 8.7 percent during the past two months.

However, Eads said the declines for beef were "long overdue." Beef prices were still up sharply for the year.

"We're gratified other parts of index still don't show any kind of acceleration," he said. "The food price declines are helpful."

Carter met earlier this month with heads of major retail supermarket chains to encourage them to lower prices.

However, for Americans already having difficulty making ends meet, the continued upward spiral of fuel oil prices may be their major worry come fall and winter. The Labor Department said the price of fuel oil was up another 6.2 percent in July and was 40 percent higher than a year earlier.

"We're concerned about it, too," said Eads. He said this is why Carter has proposed distributing $2.4 billion to low-income families each year to help them defray higher fuel bills. The money would come from the proposed windfall profits tax.

16-year-old Midlander killed, woman injured in accident

A 16-year-old Midlander was killed instantly about 12:30 p.m. Friday, when the four-wheel drive vehicleshe was driving and another car collided at Alpine Street and Baumann Avenue, said Midland police.

Killed was Jay Kent Randolph, 16, 910 W. Kansas Ave., a sophomore at Midland High School.

Injured was Patricia Mayberry, 21, of Midland, driver of the other vehicle involved. She was listed in satisfactory condition Friday night in Midland Memorial Hospital.

Ms. Mayberry received fractured ribs and multiple contusions and abrasions, said a hospital spokesman.

Both the Randolph vehicle and the car driven by Ms. Mayberry came to rest in the front yard of Ken Craft's residence at 3500 Baumann Drive.

Randolph's car, a 1973 Ford Bronco, landed upside down after it had slammed into a fire hydrant, said David Shearod, Midland police officer who investigated the mishap.

The Randolph car was traveling west on Baumann Drive and the Mayberry car was northbound on Alpine Street at time of the collision, Shearod said.

Randolph was the fourth person to die in Midland within a week in mishaps involving moving vehicles.

Two 20-year-old Midland men, Richard Lee Pearson and Jerry Ray Woods, were killed in a motorcycle-car mishap on the city's far north side Aug. 17, and 15-year-old Lisa Luckey of Dallas was fatally injured in a motorcycle accident in north Midland on Aug. 17.

"We are in the middle of script-writing. The Japanese are now fearful of the future much as at the time of the 1954 film." said Tanaka, creator of the series of 15 movies starring a giant flying prehistoric monster that tore up commuter trains and kicked its way through oil refineries.

The monster's 25th birthday was celebrated in July in New York and this month in Tokyo with a screening of all 15 films. Tanaka said the new film is a response to renewed popular interest in Godzilla. About 60,000 people saw the film revival in Tokyo.

Godzilla toys brought in $4.5 million for makers in the past four years and books and other memorabilia are also said to be selling well after a lapse.

Ishiro Honda, director of 10 of the 15 movies said "We went downhill in the last five or six pictures. The first film was pacifistic in intent."

Tanaka said European critics saw Godzilla as a Japanese reaction to the atom bombing of Hiroshima later, cheaper films used mostly lesser-known younger talent. "Godzilla is a hard act to follow," said director Honda.

There was even a Godzilla film that dealt with the dangers of industrial pollution, which are very serious in Japan. Another monster called Hedora, from the Japanese word "hedoro" meaning industrial sludge, rose from polluted Japanese seas and engulfed everything in its path.

Godzilla in Japan is known as "Gojira," apparently a combination of gorilla (gorira in Japanese) and "kujira," the Japanese word for whale.

"The oil shortage, the prospects of a third world war, food shortage and the possibility of another giant earthquake are now beginning to preoccupy the Japanese much like the atom bomb did 25 years ago," Tanaka said. Asked if the next monster epic will deal with these fears, he said, "I don't think we'll be all that logical."

Battle to keep oil from Texas beaches shifted to Aransas Pass

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) -The battle to keep the world's largest oil spill out of the vital, delicate bays and lagoons along the Texas coast shifted Friday to Aransas Pass, where Coast Guardsmen skirmished with sheen slipping into the channel.

The tourist beaches south of the 1,550-foot-wide pass, the heavily traveled channel into the Port of Corpus Christi and the entrance to two bays and the Laguna Madre, were hit by new sheets of oil Thursday and Friday

Officials began operating two small floating skimmers in the pass to pick up the filmy sheen that has gotten past floating barriers, which are arranged to block oil but still allow navigation through the pass by large tankers and freighters.

The sheen is the least dangerous form of the oil. It was the thicker mousse that was hitting the beaches Friday.

"We don't feel a significant quantity of oil is getting in," said Coast Guard Capt. Roger Madson, commander of a government task force battling the crude from a crippled offshore well

Violent thunderstorms packing winds up to 70 knots tore loose floating barriers in the two southerly passes Thursday afternoon, allowing some sheen to seep throught the Brazos Santiago Pass near Brownsville: Madson said "insignificant" amounts of oil got into the lagoon but pointed out that the thunderstorms graphically demonstrate how the defense effort relies on calm weather in what is the middle of hurricane sea-rents. White still wants Mexico to pay for oil spill clean-up

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas Attorney General Mark White says he has not given up on getting Mexico to pay for the damages caused Texas shores by the Mexican oil spill. "One way or the other, it must be worked out," White said Friday in a statement.

Robert Krueger, recently named U.S. coordinator for Mexican affairs, said Thursday the Mexican government will not discuss possible payment for the oil spill clean-up and damages.

A statement released by the Foreign Ministry in Mexico City late Thursday said there was no basis in international law making Mexico responsible for damage claims.

'The Good Neighbor policy has obviously taken a turn for the worse and the people of Texas are the losers," White said in a statement Friday. "I am sickened and dismayed by this new development.... As I understand it, the government of Mexico said it was 'not disposed' to initiate talks with the United State on payment of damages arising from the oil spill. Well, I am not disposed to let the matter drop there.

The attorney general, who became Texas' top legal officer last January, said he did not want to endanger "delicate talks" between Mexico and the United States on natural gas sales but he thought they also should be talking about payment of damages arising from the oil spill.

"So I plan to go to Washington as soon as arrangements can be made to confer with Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti to see if there is some way we can persuade those who are responsible for the oil spill to accept their moral and financial responsibility to the people of Texas.'

White said Mexico apparently was taking Texas Gov. Bill Clements "at his word...when he said that we had no intention of suing them.

"I have said repeatedly that a lawsuit should be our last resort. But let's be clear about one thing: We do have the authority to sue," White said.

Carter's riverboat trip ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter, "refilled with a feeling of harmony for the people," ended his campaign-vacation on the Mississippi Friday after a week jammed with friendly, small-town crowds and handshaking at all hours of the day and night.

Carter returned - briefly - to Washington and participated in the swearing in of Charles W. Duncan Jr. The president then traveled to Camp David, Md., to spend the weekend at the presidential retreat and to make visits next week to Atlanta, Tampa, Fla. and his home in Plains, Ga.

He did not intend to return to the White Hmuse until after Labor Day. The president was plainly pleased with the crowds he drew at Wabasha, Minn.; Keokuk, Iowa, and Nauvoo, Ill. and other places along the banks of the Mississippi during his 659-mile steamboat cruise on the Delta Queen. According to White House staffers' calculations, Carter made 47 stops at which he spoke — 11 in Iowa, eight in Minnesota, six in Wisconsin, 15 in Illinois and seven in Missouri. Carter missed speaking at only two of the 27 river locks at which the boat stopped.

At the next to last stop - a lock and dam on the river above St. Louis, Mo., Carter told 200 to 300 well-wishers, "I have been refilled with a feeling of harmony for the people Everywhere we've been, people have opened their hearts to us.

But in St. Louis, he found a disappointingly sparse welcoming crowd and a large contingent of protestors under the city's Gateway Arch when he put ashore.

In a speech, Carter, as he had at dozens of times this week, appealed for conservation of energy and help in passing his proposed "windfall profits tax" on oil company revenues.

A large group of United Auto Worker members chanted, "Windfall no, price control," expressing a prefer-ence for the federal controls on domestic crude oil prices which Carter is phasing out. It was the largest and noisiest group of demonstrators. Carter encountered on his trip.

Press Secretary Jody Powell dismissed the light turnout. "It's a business day in the big city, and big cities are used to seeing presidents,"he said.

But, surprisingly, Carter told re-porters aboard the steamboat that if he runs for re-election he'll plan plenty of stops at small places where presidents have never visited before, making the Delta Queen cruise a sort of preview of 1980.

Young wins 'personal victory' as U.N. vote on Palestine delayed

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - U.S. Ambassador Andrew Young won a major personal victory Friday in the U.N. Security Council when a Palestinian spokesman announced that non-aligned delegates would not press for a vote on a resolution proclaiming Palestinian rights. The United States had sought a delay, but delegates made clear the agreement to postpone a vote on the Arab-backed resolution was in deference to Young, who would have been forced to veto it as one of his last acts in the council.

The decision meant there will be no vote at least until after the nonaligned conference in Havana, Cuba, that opens next week and runs into the second week of September.

Young resigned as America's U.N. ambassador after it was discovered that he met last month with Zehdi Labib Terzi, the Palestine Liberation Organization's U.N. observer in violation of U.S. policy against direct talks with the PLO. President Carter has not yet named Young's succes-

Hasan A. Abdel Rahman, the PLO's deputy observer, told reporters the decision to delay a vote was "the result of contacts and negotiations in the last two days because of an appeal made by Andrew Young to African and non-aligned members of the Secu-

PLO chief Yasser Arafat was reached by telephone in the Middle East and approved a postponement. Later, in what could turn out to be Young's final speech to the council, he said he had "no regrets" about meeting with Terzi. He repeated a statment made Sunday that the U.S. stand against talks with the PLO was 'ridiculous," but then told the delegates and observers, "It's ridiculous for some of you around this table not to talk with the nation of Israel."

Referring to his meeting with Terzi, he said he "thought the risks of talking to the PLO were nothing compared to the bloodshed and violence" that would continue in the Middle East because people would not talk to each other.

After the council adjourned, Young told a news conference he hoped his case had "made it more difficult" for the United States to continue such a "ridiculous policy" toward the PLO. Kuwait's ambassador, Abdalla Yaccoub Bishara, revealed earlier in the day that the non-aligned countries had decided on the delay, and that was confirmed by Rahman's announcement.

"We are waiting just for the departure of Andrew Young," Bishara said. 'We don't like to saddle him with a veto. That's all.'

He said it was "a personal consider-

Young, Security Council president for August, had won a previous delay of debate on the Palestinian resolution from July 31 to Thursday partially as a result of his unauthorized meeting with Terzi.

Soviet Ambassador Oleg Troyanovsky, who supported the resolution, urged in his speech that Young "please keep on in your struggle to help the needy and to inject that conscience in world affairs."

Earlier, Senegalese Ambassador Medoune Fall emerged from a pri-vate meeting of non-aligned council members and told the 15-nation body: "You can take whatever decision you please (on delaying the vote). I know it will be very difficult for you to take a decision immediately. Certain members will want 24 hours' delay to consult their governments.... I do not insist on this question."

Senegal, chairman of the U.N. Committee on Pelestinian rights which prepared the resolution - is not a council member. It can sponsor a resolution, but only a council mem-ber can ask for a vote.

The resolution calls for Palestinians' "rights of self-determination," national independence and sovereignty in Palestine."

Young, in line with U.S. policy, had

Fresh troops transported to rebel-held Iranian city

SAQQEZ, Iran (AP) - Transport helicopters shuttled several hundred fresh government troops into the besieged military garrison in this rebelheld city in western Iran Friday. Kurdish insurgents said they captured six government tanks from militiamen moving toward Saqqez from the south.

Rebels brought one of the captured tanks with them to the city and moved it into position not far from the military compound as U.S.-made Cobra helicopter gunships swooped low, spraying the area with machine-gun fire and rockets. The other five tanks were positioned outside town to bolster defenses.

The tough Kurdish fighters in their tasseled headbands and baggy pants took cover from the rockets in the rubble of devastated buildings. Most of the Kurds, who seek autonomy for Kurdistan province, brandished new Russian-made Kalashnikov automatic rifles and Iranian G-3s. Others carried weapons of World War II vintage.

At dark, the rebels began moving up heavier weapons including 106mm recoilless rifles, apparently in preparation for a major assault on the garrison now occupied by about 500 regular government troops and revolutionary guards.

(In Tehran the official news agency Pars reported government troops had recaptured Saqqez, but telephone lines were down and independent confirmation was not possible. Two hours before the Pars report was issued, in a telephone call before service was interrupted, correspondent Jahan-Shahi reported only that fighting continued at the compound and helicopter gunships were rocketing the town.

(The state radio said earlier that Kurds placed women and children on a bridge leading to Saggez, forcing an advancing army column to hold its fire. It gave no further details. At that time, correspondents in Saqqez re-ported the town firmly under Kurdish control and said no troops had been seen in or on the outskirts of Saggez or near the bridge.)

The Kurds captured the six tanks intact about 25 miles south of here after they ambushed about 400 regular troops and revolutionary militia marching on Saqqez to relieve the military compound's defenders, Kurdish fighters said.

The Iranian Kurds, fighting for autonomy in the mountainous northwestern region where they number some 5 million, are part of an ethnic group with large populations in Turkey, Iraq and Syria that they say totals 16 million. They are mostly Sunni Moslems, a majority in the world of Islam, but a minority in this country, where Shiites are predominant.

As the fighting eased briefly, it became apparent that a large concentration of government troops more than 25 miles south of Saggez was unable to break through the Kurdish defense perimeter encompassing roads, hills and rugged terrain.

The Kurds, though short of arms, have managed so far to keep the increasing numbers of army troops bottled up.

Another column of government forces headed toward Mahabad north of here for what could become another major confrontation. Mahabad is the Kurds' major stronghold, and headquarters of the Kurdish Democratic Party.

Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, Iran's stern religious and revolutionary leader, has accused the KDP of instigating the rebellion. A KDP member in Mahabad said attempts are under way to open negotiations with the government to avert a major battle.

Kurdish sources in Saggez claimed 150 troops in the government compound who were ethnic Kurds left two days earlier and refused to return, indicating soldiers of Kurdish origin have disobeyed orders.

Kurdish officials claimed rebels control seven western Iranian towns and a great many miles of roads and countryside.

Buddy Kniffen's business is moving freight - not selling it. But Kniffen, terminal manager for Merchants Fast Motor Lines in Midland, got telephone calls Friday from people looking for bargain buys. Stranger still, the calls came in the wake of a story published Friday in The Reporter-Telegram telling how a a Midland swap-shop dealer was "taken" for $1,550 by a moustached, pot-bellied man named "Chuck."

"Chuck" had told his victim that he had connections at the freight business.

He didn't.

And there was nothing to buy there, anyway

We've had calls from people asking us if we had stuff to sell," Kniffen said "We have nothing here, nothing to sell off the docks," Kniffen said of the business at 3100 W. Kentucky Ave. "We're in the business to pick up and deliver and not to sell it," Kniffen said

John Kramer, who runs John's Swap Shop at 600 E. Florida Ave., knew that, too. Or does now. He was 'Chuck's'' victim.

It all started on Thursday when the apparent con man sounded convincing enough over the telephone to make Kramer believe he would sell Kramer eight television sets and washers and dryers for $1,550 cash. Kramer met "Chuck" at a lumberyard near the freight office and drove over to Merchants in his pickup. Kramer questioned the fellow to check out his credibility and "he had all the right answers," recalled Kramer's wife, Maxine. 'My husband usually doesn't let anything like this get pulled on him. He violated every rule" in giving the man cash, mostly in $100 bills, without actually seeing the merchandise. "He just got conned by the world's oldest game - the pigeon drop," Mrs. Kramer said.

At the freight office, Kniffen said the man named "Chuck" walked in while Kramer was waiting in his pickup and stayed only briefly. "He just came in and said 'Do y'all ship personal effects to Amarillo," and I said 'Yeah, and never batted an eye and, he walked off," Kniffen said.

"He just came in one door and went out the other," Kniffen said. "We had no idea what he was doing.

But Kramer knew what had happened when the alleged con man disappeared with his money.

None of which is any stranger, Kniffen indicated Friday, than the fact that people will read about a man being bilked and then call up to ask if they can buy the same non-existent bargains. Yet the calls, he noted, just keep on coming.

Food costs rising, economist says

WASHINGTON (AP) - The decline in grocery prices last month was the first time since early 1976 they have dropped two months in a row, but general inflation is pushing them up again, the Agriculture Department's chief economist said Friday.

"Due to inflation in the general economy, everything is going to be slightly higher" for the rest of the year than in July, Howard W. Hjort, chief economist and policy analyst, told reporters. Earlier, the Labor Department announced that food prices across the board rose 0.1 percent from June to July. A 0.6 percent hike in restaurant and other eating places' prices offset a 0.1 percent decline in prices for food eaten at home. The announcements this week by two large fast-food chains of a decrease in some prices, Hjort said, "should help dampen the rate of increase" for food prices away from home, where Americans spend more than 30 percent of their food money. But higher coffee prices due to crop damage in Brazil and the price-boosting effects of a smaller U.S. potato crop have yet to hit the supermarkets full force, he said. Fresh fruit and vegetable prices are expected to decline, along with retail meat prices, he said.

By the end of the year, average food prices are expected to be about 11 percent higher than 1978 averages, he said. In July, they were averaging 10.2 percent higher than a year ago. Last month, increases in the share of the retail price that goes to middlemen was "the primary source of food price increases once again," Hjort said. The farm value of the domestic foods in the consumer price index dropped 0.5 percent after declines of 2 percent in May and June. But, "we've reached a plateau at the farm level" after four consecutive declines, Hjort said, so any moderation now would have to come from wholesalers and retailers.

The deviation in normal pricing patterns is somewhere between the wholesale and retail levels, Hjort said, but the government does not dent Carter and food retailers last week, Hjort's staff and industry economists are trying to work out better bases for calculating the "spread."

creased 20.6 percent on an annual basis for the first seven months of 1979, he said, compared to a general inflation rate of 12 to 13 percent on an annual basis.

Therefore, he said, "retail food prices are higher than can be justified by the increase in prices of things (middlemen) have to buy."

But July's changes were more in line with cost hikes, so "we're hopeful we're starting to see...a more normal relationship" between commodity and retail food prices, he said.

"After all, grocery prices have fallen for two consecutive months, with beef prices dropping in June and July at an annual rate of 8.4 percent, according to the government's own figures," Dobkin added.

Traditional Youth Activities Week begins Sunday at First United Methodist

Youth Activities Week, a traditional late summer event at First United Methodist Church of Midland, will begin Sunday night and continue through Tuesday. Larry J. Grubbs of Quitman will be the featured speaker and leader. Joining junior high and senior high school young people of First United Methodist Church in participating as guests in the youth emphasis will be young people of Asbury, El Calvario, Hollowell, St. Luke's, St. Mark's and St. Paul United Methodist churches, said the Rev. Jerry Wyatt, associate minister at First UMC.

The emphasis will begin Sunday with a 5:30 p.m. vesper service, at which young people will be in charge. The message will be brought by the guest speaker. Larry Grubbs. creational period will follow, with dis-missal scheduled for 9 p.m.

Monday's schedule calls for a fried chicken supper at 6 p.m., followed by a session at which Grubbs will be the speaker. A swimming party will begin at 7:45 p.m.

On Tuesday, a supper in the church fellowship hall will be followed by a program at 6: 45 p.m. at which Grubbs will be the speaker. The evening will conclude with a Disco party at 8 p.m., continuing until 10.

The senior high United Methodist Fellowship has Dana Josting as president, Penne McAdams as vice president, Carol Stine as secretary and Khris Davis as treasurer.

The junior high UMF group is led by Shawn McCarter as president, with Ben Hadden as vice president and Caroline Richardson as secretary

Bible society publishes comic-book Samson

LONDON (AP) - Spiderman, the Incredible Hulk and monsters from space can't teach the British Bible Society much about horror, say critics of the society's new publishing venture.

The 175-year-old organization has just published a comic-book version of the story of Samson, the Old Testament hero who lost his hair, his strength and his eyes to the beautiful Delilah.

He regained his hair and his strength in captivity and brought the temple of the Philistines crashing down on himself and more than 3,000 of his foes. The book, for youngsters 8 and over, shows it all in gory, full color.

of Midland's Foursquare church

By ROGER SOUTHALL Staff Writer

The Rev. Pete Adcock has served the last seven years as pastor of the Midland Foursquare Church, a unit of the Church of the Foursquare Gospel headquartered in Los Angeles.

MEET THE MINISTER

Joining Adcock on the pastoral staff of the Midland church is the Rev. Robert E. Brown, who arrived here Aug. 1 to become assistant minister of the church.

Adcock, a West Texas native, came to the Midland post June 1, 1972, from Amarillo where he served 15 years as pastor of the First Foursquare Church and also served as superintendent of the Panhandle Division of the Foursquare denomination. Born and raised at Spur, in Dickens County, Adcock graduated from Spur High School and then served in the military during World War II, with service in the Pacific and Mediterranean theaters.

Several years later, Adcock enrolled in the L.I.F.E. Bible College in Los Angeles, graduating in 1951 from that institution. He also attended the Fuller Theological Seminary and Moody Bible Institute. He holds certification from the Evangelical Teachers Association.

In later years, Adcock held pastorates at Plainview and Spur before beginning his long tenure at the Amarillo church.

In addition to serving as senior pastor of the Midland Foursquare Church, Adcock is superintendent of the Permian Basin Division of the Foursquare Church, overseeing local units of the denomination in numerous cities and towns in this area.

Adcock is the immediate past president of the Midland Ministerial Alliance. Prior to his term as president, he had served the organization as vice president and as secretary-treasur-

Adcock also serves as an Executive Council member and delegate to the Foursquare denomination's convention held yearly in Los Angeles.

He is a member of the executive council of the Whispering Oaks Camp, a church camp near Abilene maintained by the denomination's South Central District.

Adcock and his wife, Ina Louise, who were married in 1947, are the parents of two daughters. Their older daughter, Sheila, is married to Steve VonHoff who is pastor of the North Heights Foursquare Church in Albuquerque, N.M.

Their younger daughter is Ana Maria, who attends San Jacinto Ju-nior High School. The Adcocks also have two granddaughters, Shelly and Shari VonHoff, aged 8 and 9. Leisure-time pursuits enjoyed by phone, you know! Something extremely important like the Cub Scout picnic or the Little League meeting. Decisions that can't wait even for homework. Or so we are told!

> But if you'll note the items on Joey's desk you'll see that FAITH hasn't been crowded out of our boy's busy life. Sunday School is just one of his pressing weekly "appointments." But it is one that has as prominent place in his growing up as it has on his desk.

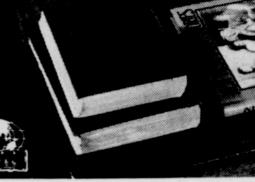

Is there anyone so busy as a ten-year-old?

Our Joey isn't in this picture. Called to the

And don't think it is merely parental pride when I tell you that Joey is already revealing some fine traits of Christian character in his attitude toward responsibilities - and toward people. His mother and I planned it that way when we made the Church an important part of our own lives.

Miller captures lead in Hall of Fame golf

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) - Johnny Miller, once golf's Golden Boy but a struggling, stumbling also-ran for three long years, birdied five holes in a row on the way to a spectacular, eight-under-par 63 that staked him to a three-stroke lead Friday in the second round of the $250,000 Hall of Fame Classic

Miller, in a deep and dismal slump since winning the British Open in 1976, regained some of the crisp authority that marked his glory years as he compiled a 36-hole total of 132, 10 strokes under par on the storied old No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country-Club.

Miller, now 32, was within a single shot of the course record and only a bogey on his 17th hole prevented him from matching it.

It was his only real lapse on the rant winning right now. I hope everybody doesn't think I'm supposed to win. I'm going to try, try my best. But I honestly don't expect to.

Still, his spectacular effort - precisely of the standard and type that marked his incredible successes five years ago - left him in a commanding position and, as Johnny said, "I'm a heck of a front-runner.

Tied for second, 3 strokes back at 135, were former Masters champion Tommy Aaron, Danny Edwards and Mike Brannan. Aaron had a 66, Branhan and Edwards 68s

And now, at 32, an age when he should be at his peak, he's missed the cut in half his starts this season. He really hasn't come close to winning in two years. But as quickly as it deserted him, just so suddenly did it return on this hazy, breezy day in the Carolina sandhill country. He made a couple of long putts. He played the deft and delicate little par-saving chips when necessary. But more importantly, more significant-ly, just as he did when he was winning with monotonous regularity, his iron shots seemed to eat the flag, homing in on the hole as if the stick were a magnet. He scored seven birdies from within five feet.

"I don't expect to win. I don't war- tive birdies. He one-putted seven times on his back nine.

He did it all. "But we're only half through," Miller said. "I'm not even thinking about winning.

Still, his 36-hole total of 132 put him 10 shots under par and three ahead of Tommy Aaron, Danny Edwards and Mike Brannan, tied for second at 135. Aaron had a second round 66, Edwards and Brannan 68s.

Keith Fergus was next at 68-136. Australian veteran Bruce Devlin and surprise first-round leader Dana Quigley were at 137.

Tom Watson, the defending champion and leading money-winner this From the British Open champion in year, shot a 68 that left him at 138.

Before the game, El Paso Manager Moose Stubing figured his Diablos would have to win four of the final five games here to stand a chance in the Texas League West Division. Then as lightning punctured the night with its jagged dance, Midland Cubs' furnished the appropriate thunder with a 23-hit attack that left the Diablos as dazed as some of the Two-Bit Beer Night fans at the evening's end.

BUT BEFORE you laugh at Moose's prediction, just remember in the final series here a year ago, the Cubs nursed a couple of game lead, Catcher Bill Hayes also homered, his 10th, for the Cubs, hitting a threerunner in the eight run seventh.

Dave Grounlund, 5-8, started and was the first of six pitchers, who put on a performance that was enough to make Warren Spahn, a 363-game winner in the majors and now California Angels', turn around in his box behind home plate.

Once again, Midland's Mark Parker had to take a back seat to the hitters, but his three-hitter probably was the finest pitching job in Cubs' stadium this year. No Diablo wandered beyond second and only one got that far...Tom Bhagwat on a single and error in the sixth.

PARKER, THE Huntington, Ind., righthander, not only won his 11th game of the season but notched his third shutout. And in so doing, extended his string of shutout innings to 16 since yielding a two-run second inning homer to Curt Reed in his last start, a 20-2 victory.

THE CUBS and Diablos play two tonight, starting at 6:30 p.m., with Jack Ledbetter, 4-5, and Bill Earley, 12-6, the probable choices of Manager Randy Hundley while El Paso will go with Ken Schrom, 6-8, and Mike Hea-ton, 4-9, on Merchant's Night.

Actually, pitching job Parker did on the Diablos was so routine that the only sensational fielding play was when second baseman Rohn roved behind second to backhand a grounder by Rich Brewster and his hurried throw was dug out of the dirt by Krug at first.

The Cubs now have clubbed out 102 hits in the last six games and for that period are hitting well-over .500 as a team

Carlos Lezcano "only" got two hits, but both were doubles and accounted for four rbi.

Saints trip Oilers, 10-7

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Allpurpose booter Russell Erxleben broke a four-game exhibition season jinx with a 29-yard field goal with 37 seconds left on the clock to give the New Orleans Saints a 10-7 victory over the Houston Oilers in a National Football League exhibition game Friday night.

In previous outings, Erxleben had missed two field goal shots from short range, and had his one try for an extra point blocked.

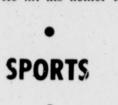

The million-dollar kicker was expected to confine himself to punting duties, but Coach Dick Nolan gave him a shot at all the kicking Friday night.

New Orleans quarterback Archie Manning hit wide receiver Tinker Owens with a 57-yard bomb to set up the winning field goal mild, hazy, breezy day as the pokerfaced Miller seemed to recapture at least for this day - the magic that once made him the game's most outstanding performer.

The Saints first scored when running back Chunck Muncie plunged over from 6 yards out with six minutes left in the contest.

"It was one of those ball-striking rounds like I used to have," said the deeply satisfied Miller, who hit his irons so close - a trademark of his great years - that he scored seven birdies from inside of five feet.

"It was an amazing feeling I had playing today," he said in his low-key monotone. "I'm not sure I can explain it. It was a tingling feeling. I felt like I could do anything I wanted to do

But Miller - who hasn't even come close to winning in three years, who has missed the cut in half the tournaments he's played this season - had a word of caution.

"I'm not even thinking of winning. Not at this stage. Not with half the tournament to go," he said. "I just want to start playing better.

"I'm not saying I've come back I'm not saying I'm back. I'm not saying I'm ready to do what I did in '74 (when he won eight times).

"It was fun," Miller said. "It was an amazing feeling, just like I had in '74. I don't really know how to describe it. Kind of a tingling feeling. Like I could do anything I wanted to

Cowboys	face	Steelers
Cowboys in Super	Bowl	rematch

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Steelers and Dallas Cowboys meet tonight in a Super Bowl rematch, but there's a lot less on the line this time.

"There's no extra feeling just because it's Pittsburgh," Dallas Coach Tom Landry says of the two teams' final National Football League exhibition game before next weekend's regular-season openers.

HE REMEMBERS the last meeting all too well - Terry Bradshaw's four touchdown passes, Lynn Swann's collision with Benny Barnes, Jackie Smith's drop of a "sure" TD ... everything that led to the Steelers' 35-31 victory which made them, rather than the Cowboys, the first three-time winner of the Super Bowl.

Chuck Noll remembers it, too - but Pittsburgh's coach is not about to let his Steelers live on memories. "We consider our Super Bowl trophy an antique," he says. What he means, of course, is that you're only as good as the final score of your last game.

SO FAR, the Steelers have been perfect. They're 3-0 in exhibitions with victories over Buffalo and the New York Giants and Jets. The Cowboys, with an injury list as long as your arm, take a 2-2 record into the game.

In tonight's other games it's the Jets against the Giants, Chicago at St. Louis, Tampa Bay at Cincinnati, Atlanta vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Buffalo at Oakland and San Diego at Los Angeles.

Kansas City beat Minnesota 25-0 on Thursday night, the Chiefs finishing their exhibition schedule 4-0 and leaving the Vikings at 0-4.

AMONG THE sidelined stars on the Dallas roster are All-Pro safety Charlie Waters, out for the season with a damaged knee, and running back Tony Dorsett, idled by a broken toe.

A broken thumb will keep Danny White from thinking about being the No. 2 quarterback behind Roger Staubach, but he'll try to handle punt snaps. Randy Hughes, having had fluid drained from an old knee injury, will replace Waters and Scott Laidlaw, recovering from a hamstring injury, will see some action.

The only noticeable absentees on the Pittsburgh side will be running back Rocky Bleier and tackle Ray Pinney. Wide receiver Lynn Swann, who made his first appearance of the exhibition season last week in the second half of the 27-14 victory over the Jets, should start this time.

ton Astros Friday night.

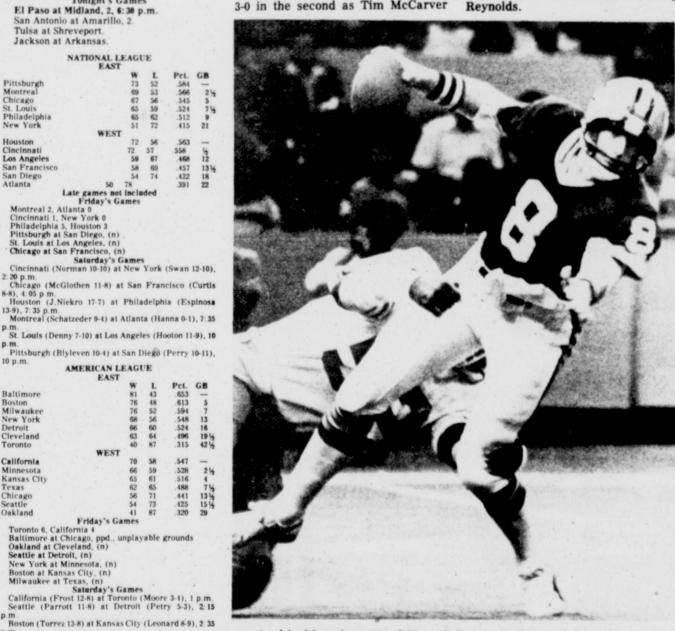

Carlton, 13-10, had difficulty in only two innings. He retired the last 14 batters in the game, and Houston saw its lead over Cincinnati in the National League West dwindle to one-half game

Houston's Joaquin Andujar, 12-10, gave up six hits in four innings.

The Phillies jumped on Andujar for two unearned runs in the first. Bake McBride opened with a single down the right-field line and was apparently thrown out trying for second by Jeff Leonard. However, first baseman Cesar Cedeno was called for obstruction, charged with an error, and McBride was awarded second base.

Philadelphia increased the lead to 3-0 in the second as Tim McCarver pass reception that went for a score gave the Miami Dolphins a 14-13 victory over Philadelphia in a National Football League exhibition game Friday night.

Csonka, brought back into the game for a first-and-goal try from the 3-yard line with 5:28 left, charged up the middle for the tying touchdown. Rookie Uwe von Schamann added the winning point.

The plunge capped a nineplay, 61-yard drive keyed by completions of 20 and 11 yards from Don Strock to tight end Bruce Hardy. A pass interference call against linebacker Bill Bergey on Hardy on a third down play put the ball at the 3.

Colts frolic

BALTIMORE (AP) - Rookie Nesby Glasgow scored on a 67yard punt return to snap a 7-7 second-quarter tie and then joined with defensive tackle Ron Fernandes to thwart fourth-period Detroit drives as the Baltimore Colts beat the Lions 17-7 Friday night.

Both teams ended their National Football League exhibition schedules with 2-2 records. After the Lions tied the score on a 30-yard pass from Gary Danielson to Dave Hill, the Colts held on Detroit's next possession and Glasgow broke away from four would-be tacklers on his TD scamper.

Fernandes recovered a Danielson fumble at the Baltimore 3 on the first play of the fourth quarter and on Detroit's next possession, Glasgow picked off a pass by rookie Jeff Komlo.

Browns prevail

WASHINGTON (AP) - Linebacker Clay Matthews picked up a fumble and returned it 53 yards for a touchdown to spark the Cleveland Browns to a 21-9 victory Friday night over the Washington Redskins in the final exhibition game for both teams

Matthews, a first-round draft choice from Southern California last year, recovered a fumble by Washington running back Ike Forte and, in the middle of a steady downpour, raced into the end zone unmolested with little more than a minute remaining on the clock before halftime.

Less than a minute earlier, defensive tackle Mickey Sims also picked up a fumble by Redskins' quarterback Joe Theismann, who was hit by newly acquired defensive end Lyle Alzado, to set up the Browns' first touchdown

Austin gains semifinals with Ruzici

MAHWAH, N.J. (AP) — Tracy Austin breezed into the semifinals of the $75,000 Women's Tennis Cup when she blasted out a 6-1, 6-2 quarterfinal victory over Czech star Regina Marsikova Friday in an indoor match at the Ramapo College gym.

Rain forced the match indoors, an obvious advantage to the 16-year-old Austin. The tournament's secondseed ran down Marsikova's best shots while keeping the European on the run throughout the 55-minute match.

"I had a lot of trouble seeing the ball," said Marsikova. "Sometimes when I hit the ball for a winner, I don't know how I did it."

Austin now moves into today's semifinal round against sixth-seeded Virinia Ruzici of Romania. seed, of Great Britain, and a pair of unseeded players, Betty Stove of The Netherlands and Ivanna Madruga of Argentina.

The matches were rescheduled for this afternoon with the winners meeting at night following a semifinal between Austin and Ruzici.

Brewers whip Texas Rangers

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Gorman Thomas' 32nd homer capped a three-run eighth-inning rally that carried the Milwaukee Brewers to a 9-6 victory over the Texas Rangers Friday night.

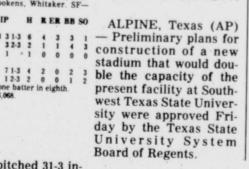

Milwaukee had an early 4-1 lead, but the Rangers battled back to tie three times, once with the help of Jim Sundberg's three-run homer in the fourth and another time on Bump Wills' solo homer in the sixth.

Danny Darwin, 3-4, pitched 31-3 in-nings of two-hit relief but absorbed the loss after Milwaukee's uprising in the eighth. Paul Molitor singled to start the rally and went all the way to third on Sundberg's passed ball. Jim Kern came on in relief, but Sal Bando promptly singled in the go-ahead run and Thomas blasted a Kern pitch over the center-field fence.

Bob Galasso, 3-0, got the victory after relieving in the seventh.

NEW YORK (AP) — Top-seeded Chris Evert Lloyd, seeking her fifth consecutive U.S. Open tennis championship, will play West Germany's Iris Riedel while Bjorn Borg of Sweden will meet Matt Mitchell next Tuesday when the $563,500 tournament gets underway.

First-round pairings were announced Thursday for the event, which pays $39,000 to the men's and women's winner.

Borg, who won his fourth consecutive Wimbledon title in July, will be the No.1 men's seed as he chases his first Open crown. He is ranked ahead of the defending champion, Jimmy Connors, who beat Borg in last year's final.

The second-seeded Connors is to meet Austria's Peter Feigl in firstround play at the National Tennis Center, while third-seeded John McEnroe will face Pavel Slozil of Czechoslovakia, fourth-rated Vitas Gerulaitis is to play Mark Edmondson of Australia, and No.5 Roscoe Tanner - who lost to Borg in five sets at Wimbledon - will play John Marks of Australia.

In women's seedings announced Thursday, the second ranking went to Martina Navratilova, who was given a first-round bye. Third-seeded Tracy Austin is to meet Ivanna Madruga of Argentina, while fourth-ranked Virginia Wade of Great Britain is slated to play Paula Smith, and No.5 Evonne Goolagong Cawley of Australia is to oppose Kay McDaniel.

The other men's first-round matches:

No.6 Guillermo Vilas, Argentina, vs. Onny Parun, New Zealand; No.7 Harold Solomon, U.S., vs. Jose-Luis Damiani, Uruguay; No.8 Victor Pecci, Paraguay, vs. Andy Kohlberg, U.S.; No.9 Eddie Dibbs United States, vs. Tim Wilkison, U.S.; No.10 Jose-Luis Clerc, Argentina, vs. a qualifier; No.11 Brian Gottfried, U.S. vs. Van Winitsky, U.S.; No.12 Wojtek Fibak, Poland, vs. Bob Carmichael, Australia; No.13 Gene Mayer, U.S., vs. Scott Davis, U.S.; No.14 Tim Gullikson, U.S., vs. Eliot Teltscher, U.S.; No.15 Adriano Panatta, Italy, vs. Kevin Curran, South Africa; No.16 John Alexander, Australia, vs. Howard Schoenfield, U.S.

The rest of the women's draw: No.6 Dianne Fromholtz, Australia, vs. Diane Evers, Australia; No.7 Wendy Turnbull, Australia, vs. Marie Pinterova, Egypt; No.8 Kerry Reid, Australia; vs. Rosie Casals, U.S.; No.9 Billie Jean King, U.S., vs. Zenda Liess, U.S.; No.10 Greer Stevens, South Africa, bye; No.11 Kathy Jordan, U.S., vs. Bettyann Stuart, U.S.; No.12 Regina Marsikova, Czechoslovakia, bye; No,13 Sue Barker, Great Britain, bye; No.14 Pam Shriver, U.S., vs. a qualifier; No.15 Ann Kiyo-mura, U.S., vs. Beth Norton, U.S.; No.16 Betty Stove, The Netherlands,

Puerto Rico will not try to extradite Bobby Knight

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) -The government of Puerto Rico will not try to extradite Indiana University's fiery basketball coach Bobby Knight to serve a six-month prison sentence for hitting a policeman, Gov. Carlos Romero Barcelo said Friday. Barcelo, who by law could sign the petition requesting Knight's extradi-tion, said Friday that "it is not customary, neither is there any precedence for extraditing persons convicted of misdemeanors." However, Puerto Rican law permits extradition for any crime including misdemean-

Asked what he thought about Knight's remarks that he would not serve the jail sentence, the governor said in a brief interview: "Then, we're at peace. He doesn't want to come here and we don't want him." In a separate interview, Parks and Recreation Administrator Jose Celso Barbosa, the government's top sports official, said that Knight deserved to get the maximum penalty under the law because his actions on and off the basketball court provoked an unfavorable reaction here. Barbosa did not elaborate.

Knight has been quoted in newspapers here before the sentence as being very critical of this U.S. commonwealth's judicial system — a com-ment which was censured by three of Toronto downs Angels his Puerto Rican defense lawyers.

Californians face Taiwan in finals

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — People say the same thing about one of the teams that will play todayy for the Little League World Series championship — the players all look alike.

"We're a bunch of clones. That's what we are," said blond-haired Greg Vaughn, 4-foot-11, 87-pound shortstop on the Campbell, Calif., team that will meet taller, powerful Taiwan.

"We're all even. No big guys. Everybody is the same," said Matt Allison, a 5-foot, 87-pounder who stuffs his thick blond curls under a helmet when he catches for Camp-

The game, set for 2 p.m., will be televised nationally on a three-hour delay by ABC-TV.

Mel Allen and Red Barber, who broadcast for the New York Yankees in their dynasty years, will narrate the action as Taiwan bids for its seventh championship in the last nine years.

Campbell's 5-foot phenoms - who can all run, throw, catch and hit --are decided underdogs against a Taiwan team whose first seven batters are in the 5-foot-4 to 5-foot-8 range. But the Californians figure to give Taiwan a far sterner test than the Aviano, Italy Air Base team which lost 18-0 to Taiwan Thursday in a semifinal game marked by the pitching of Chen Chau-an, who struck out all 18 batters he faced in a perfect six inning game.

Chen is one of the most popular players in the Little League dorm area, and has a reputation as a friendly youth always eager to laugh, trade Taiwan money for American money, and swap pins and emblems. "He's the nicest guy on the Taiwan team ... and he's a good pitcher," said Vaughn. "But he wasn't as good as 18 strikeouts and a perfect game. Europe just wasn't that good of a team.

Aviano defeated Belgium in the Eu-ropean final. And nobody from Belgium had a fastball like Chen's. Or a fastball like Dai Han-chou, who will pitch against Campbell Saturday after tossing a one-hitter in the first round against Puerto Rico.

"I have faith in these kids," said Irv Niemeyer, grandfather of hard-hitting second baseman Dave Niemeyer. "I think they're going to give Taiwan a very good game, and they just may be surprised.'

"Taiwan will not scare our kids," said Jim Phillips, father of rightfielder Mark Phillips and leader of the Campbell rooting section. "They will not be intimidated."

Bob Fraka, the giant of the Campbell team at 5-2, will likely be the starting pitcher. He spent Wednesday night in the infirmary with a fever, but he hit a home run in an 8-3 semifinal victory Thursday over Arkansas

"I just hope we give them a good game," Fraka said. "I don't care if we lose. I just want to give them a good game where they don't slaughter us.

Campbell lost the 1976 championship game to Tokyo, 10-3. The only other time Taiwan hasn't won it in the past eight years was in 1975 when Far East teams were not permitted to play here.

The final three consolation games were played Friday.

Ulises Sierra pitched a no-hitter with 15 strikeouts, one walk, and one hit batsman to lead Puerto Rico to a 10-1 victory over Sherbrooke-Lennoxville, Quebec.

The losers scored their only run on a walk, a sacrifice, a bunt and an error.

Puerto Rico, a 3-0 first-round loser to Taiwan, may be the second best team in the tournament. But it finished in fifth place officially by nature of the bracketing. Canada placed sixth

Third place went to North Little Rock, Ark., which defeated Aviano, Italy 8-1 behind the two-hit pitching of Jon Jones and home runs by Alex Parker and Darren Bobbitt. Aviano placed fourth.

In a battle for seventh place, Chris Cardew hit two home runs and pitched a two-hitter to lead Ridgewood, N.J., to a 9-4 triumph over Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan.

Rains wash away

Babe Ruth contests

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) - Rain continued to plague the Babe Ruth League World Series Friday as all scheduled contests were rained out. Series officials have revised the schedule of the week-long event, adding two games this morning.

Meriden, Conn., will play Jefferson City, Mo., at 10 a.m. today, followed by a noon matchup between Kennedy, Tex., and host Newark. At 3 p.m., Medford, Ore., goes against North San Gabriel, Calif., with Andalusia, Ala., meeting Suffolk County, N.Y., at 6 p.m. and Lansing, Mich., playing the Kennedy-Newark winner at p.m.

Losers' bracket games are scheduled Sunday. The series will con-clude on Aug. 30, barring more rain.

Daniel leading tourney

MAPLEWOOD, Minn. (AP) -Rookie Beth Daniel eagled the seventh hole by sinking a 40-foot chip shot on her way to a 4-under-par 69 and a three-shot lead after two rounds of the $100,000 Patty Berg Golf Classic Friday.

Daniel, who also led the LPGA event after the first round, has a 9-under-par total of 137 on the 6,023yard Keller Golf Course. The 22-yearold native of Charleston, S.C., leads Hollis Stacy by three strokes.

"You don't often chip in twice in one round," said Daniel, who also holed out on the par-4 second hole for a birdie. Daniel was two under on the front side until she eagled the 450yard par-5 seventh with a 7-iron.

"I'm not overly thrilled with either round," said the lanky golfer, who fired a 68 in Thursday's opening round. "They aren't spectacular rounds."

They were, considering the weather. Three days of heavy rain soaked the course and Friday the players played their rounds in 50-degree temperatures and stiff winds.

The brisk weather took its toll on Stacy, a two-time U.S. Open champion who dropped two strokes after trailing Daniel by one on Thursday.

"I started getting cold and stiff on the last two holes," said Stacy, who managed a 2-under 71 for a 36-hole total of 140.

fuel - some food. The temperature must have dropped 10 degrees from when I teed off.'

Stacy, whose first U.S. Open title came at Hazeltine in Chaska, Minn., in 1977, birdied four of her first seven holes but then suffered two straight bogeys to make the turn in 35, 2 under par.

Stacy played even par on the backside, as did Daniel, who was named the No. 1 amateur in the world by Golf Digest in 1977.

"My putting has really improved," said Daniel, who finished Thursday's round by one-putting her last 10 greens. "I hit a lot of greens today, so I didn't make as many putts."

Kuzu loses in World Wrestling

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Turkish-born Abdurrahim Kuzu of the United States, who had won his first four matches in the World Wrestling Championships, suffered a 16-1 loss to Hungary's Istvan Toth in Greco-Roman competition Friday.

One of three Americans assured of a medal, the 136-pounder from the University of Nebraska appeared physically drained from two difficult matches earlier in the tournament. Toth, undefeated in the 62 kilo class, was in command from the start.

It was the 34th loss in 44 matches for the Americans, who have won only one Greco-Roman medal since 1970.

In another afternoon match, Sweden's Frank Anderson, one of the meet's outstanding performers, moved closer to his second world title in three years, winning on passivity over Christophe Anderson of France.

Anderson, whose popularity at home rivals Bjorn Borg, is undefeat-ed in five matches and leads the 90 kilo class with no negative points.

The governor disclosed his decision not to seek Knight's extradition just two days after the coach was found guilty of aggravated assault and sentenced to six months in jail for hitting policeman Jose D. Silva. He was also fined $500. The San Juan District judge agreed to postpone implementing the sentence until next Monday.

Under the law, the governor is required to sign a petition for extradition which would be delivered to the office of the governor of Indiana. But a spokesman for Indiana Gov. Otis R. Bowen has already said that the chief executive "would not allow Bobby Knight to be extradited.

'We don't know that Puerto Rican authorities would even try to extradite him. The extradition law in Indiana doesn't really address itself to misdemeanor-type crimes," William J. Watt said.

Cervantes favorite

SEOUL (AP) - World Boxing Association junior welterweight champion Antonio Cervantes of Colombia is heavily favored to retain his title against Korean challenger Kim Kwang-min tonight.

Cervantes, 34, has successfully defended his championshup 14 times. During his public sparring session Tuesday, the Colombian almost knocked down his sparring partner, Orient super-featherweight champion Choi Moon-suk, with a flurry of punishing punches.

Cervantes experience makes him a clear favorite. He has fought 96 pro bouts while the 24-year-old Kim has been in just 16.

The Korean challenger hasn't lost a bout during his three-year pro career. He won 15 with one draw.

His handlers believe Kim's youthfulness and fighting spirit, coupled with friendly fans, will be great assets for him in his first crack at the world title

CANBERRA, Australia - Writing lots of letters to President Carter did Australian Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser no good at all, according to Alan Renouf, who has just retired after nearly three years as Australia's ambassador to Washington.

In a new book published here analyzing his 36 years as one of Australia's top diplomats, Renouf, 60, describes the many letters Fraser wrote to Carter as "clumsy attempts" to curry favor with the president.

Indicating familiarity with the content of the letters, Renouf said they had little substance and attracted only perfunctory replies from the White House. At one stage, Renouf wrote, the State Department deliberately leaked some to an Australian reporter "in the vain hope" that Fraser would stop writing letters.

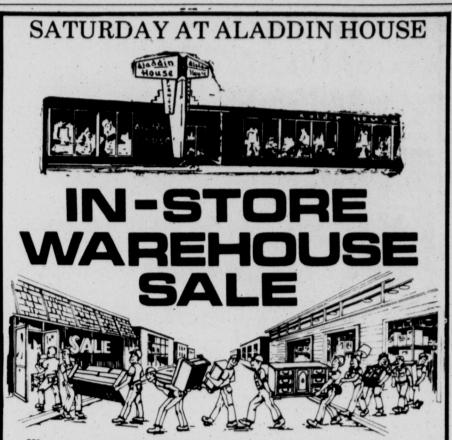

Renouf did not mention numbers in the book - entitled "The Frightened Country" - or reveal them in an appearance this week at Canberra's National Press Club, but other sources said that Fraser wrote 16 letters to Carter between 1977 and his apparent decision earlier this year to sheathe his pen.

THEY INCLUDED unsuccessful attempts by Fraser to get Australia invited to the summit of economic powers in Tokyo this year, efforts to get a better deal in the United States for Australian beef and endeavor to gain U.S. support for more liberal world trade terms for agricultural products.

Renouf's criticism of Fraser and his declaration that Australian-American relations deteriorated in the 2 1-2 years since Fraser and Carter took control of their respective countries are the extension of a long feud between the two men.

Before he was elected in December 1975, Fraser attacked Renouf, then head of the Australian Foreign Affairs Department, for publicly criticizing Fraser.

In 1976, Fraser reportedly blamed Renouf for leaking material to the Australian press during a visit by Fraser to China, and Renouf now says Washington three months later as punishment for the alleged leak. Renouf denies that he was the source of

We gotta move!!! We'd rather sell our merchandise at reduced prices than to move it. Our new warehouse building immediately behind our store is under construction. Our contractor says it will be six weeks before it is finished. Meanwhile we have terminated our leases on two other buildings and must vacate now. Everything our showrooms possibly can hold has been moved out of our warehouses and on to our display floor for a fantastic sell-out. Living room, tables, bedrooms, bedding, dining rooms, lamps, accents, pictures, wall decor, accessories, crystal, everything is priced to go...and go fast! So come early and save lots!

YOU STILL HAVE PLENTY OF LAZY, HAZY, CRAZY DAYS OF SUMMER LEFT. Spend them around this four-piece patio set: a settee, two arm chairs and a rectangular table for setting your Sprite. All are made of white or yellow wrought iron and comfortable, open metal mesh, to let the cooling breezes through. Four pieces

More significantly, Renouf's criticism highlights the strain between the Australian government and the

IN HIS BOOK, Renouf said Fraser's government has confronted the Carter White House several times, including three attempts since 1977 to force Carter to see the Australian at the White House.

The first time, in July 1977, the two men had little to talk about but Carter eventually agreed to give Fraser a state visit complete with a stay at Blair House, according to Renouf. On that occasion Carter formally greeted Fraser as "John," the Australian's first name that he never uses The second time, in May 1978, Fraser waited in New York for six days, pressing Renouf in Washington to arrange a visit to the White House for him. Carter refused on that occasion, sending Robert Strauss to New York instead to tell Fraser that Australia would be allowed to increase its quota of beef sales to the United States.

The third time, last Christmas, Carter agreed to see Fraser briefly when the Australian was on his way home from a meeting of Third World leaders in Jamaica.

OTHER NEW DISPUTES between the two governments include a U.S. decision to upgrade its submarine communications facilities at Northwest Cape in the far northwest of Australia. The facility is supposed to be a joint defense communications base, but the Australian defense minister, Denis James Killen, did not know about the changes when they were reported in an Australian newspaper.

The United States reportedly was angered because Australia accused it of not keeping its partner informed. In fact, the Pentgon had fully briefed Australian defense officials, who simply had not passed the information

Fraser has made no public reply to Renouf's allegations.

Officials close to the Australian leader, however, long have been aware of the strained relations between the Carter White House and the Australian conservative.

Fraser is known to be highly critical of Carter's economic policies, his inability to cut U.S. oil consumption or influence Congress to stop or liberalize the recent legislation on meat imports.

FRASER'S MOST immediate problem is to choose a successor for Renouf. He would prefer a political appointee, as most Australian ambassadors in Washington were in the 1950s and '60s but he has no senior ministers at the moment willing to leave politics for diplomacy.
