Non-aligned nations kick off summit with attack on U.S. HAVANA (AP) — The Non-Aligned Movement's sixth summit meeting southern Africa, he said the United States "fully supports the Nazi facist spirit" in that area. He also accused the United States of supplying arms to HAVANA (AP) — The Non-Aligned Movement's sixth summit meeting opened on a negative note, with attacks on two governments that once enjoyed places of honor in the Third World as well as on that perennial target, the United States.

In a frequently applauded address opening the five-day meeting Monday, Cuban President Fidel Castro delivered his most scathing attack in years on the United States and also criticized Egypt and China. U.S. and Chinese representatives walked out, and Egypt's foreign minister took issue publicly with his host.

Previous non-aligned summits have had anti-American undertones. But Castro, the movement's chairman for the next three years, this time is sponsoring a draft declaration to condemn the United States on a number of counts and openly support Soviet foreign policy.

Speaking to more than 50 chiefs of state and government heads and lesser ranking representatives of more than 50 other countries and liberation movements, the Cuban leader recalled the American war in Vietnam and past U.S. attempts to assassinate him and other Cuban leaders. He said the United States was indirectly responsible for "genocide" in southern Lebanon and southern Africa.

He accused the United States of maneuvering behind the scenes to try to prevent the summit meeting being held in Havana. He also said his neighbor to the north was guilty of "dirty scheming" by trying to portray Cuba as the tool of the Soviet Union.

Ignoring the Carter administration's frequent criticism of white rule in southern Africa, he said the United States "fully supports the Nazi facist spirit" in that area. He also accused the United States of supplying arms to South Africa and Zimbabwe Rhodesia although both countries have been subject to a U.S. weapons embargo for many years.

Turning to other targets, he assailed Egypt, whose lite President Gamal Abdel Nasser was a founding member of the Non-Aligned Movement, for signing the Camp David peace agreements, which he called a "betrayal ... an unjust, dirty cause." And he accused China of "uncivilized behavior" toward other nations.

Wayne Smith, the chief U.S. diplomatic representative in Havana, and China's representative both walked out since as observers they could not speak. But Egyptian Foreign Minister Butros Ghali as the representative of a member nation demanded the podium to answer Castro's "pernicious" remarks, and Castro insisted that he be heard after the meeting's moderator from Sri Lanka tried to put him off.

Ghali said he was "disconcerted and shocked" by the attack. He said the Egyptians "are the only Arab people fighting for Palestine at this time" and that Egypt had gone "to Jerusalem to liberate Palestine from Israeli colonialism."

This drew angry rebuttals from several other Arab leaders, including Yasser Arafat, head of the Palestine Liberation Organization. Egypt's isolation within the Non-Aligned Movement was underscored by the warm welcome the delegates gave Arafat when he entered the meeting hall in the Palace of Congresses.

Bond issue voting to continue until 7 p.m.

As of shortly before noon today, about 1,000 Midlanders had gone to the polls to cast their ballots in the city's $16.83 million bond election.

Six polling places were to be open until 7 p.m. today for Midland voters to decide the fate of nine proposals in the issue.

Polls opened at 7 a.m. today.

The issues to be approved or disapproved individually include: expansion of the water system, expansion of the sewer system, construction of new City-County Health Department facilities, construction of a new Municipal Courts Building, remodeling of the Public Safety Building, adding two floors to City Hall, upgrading streets and the drainage system, expansion of the city's vehicle maintenance building and moving the Service Operations Building to firm ground.

A check of some of the polling places today showed voting to be "fairly light" to moderate. Fire Station No. 3 reported 20 had voted during the first hour the polls were open. By 11 a.m., though, 120 voters had made their way to that election precinct booth.

Other late morning reports include 270 votes cast at Fire Station No. 4; 201, Fire Station No. 6; 29, South Elementary School; 309, Fannin Elementary School, and 80, Lee High School.

Election Precinct 1 — Fire Station No. 3, 1710 N. Edwards St., will include precincts 1, 10 and 12.

Election Precinct 2 — Fire Station No. 4, Delano Street at Circle Drive,

The polling places and precincts included are as follows:

Election Precinct 2 — Fire Station No. 4, Delano Street at Circle Drive, precincts 6, 7, 9, 20, 23 and 27.

Election Precinct 3 — Fannin Elementary School, 2400 Fannin Ave., precincts 8, 14 and 26.

David heading for Carolina

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane David, the killer of at least 800 persons, churned along the Atlantic Coast today with dead aim on the 300-year-old city of Charleston, S.C., after pummeling the coast of north-central Florida.

A hurricane warning was posted from Daytona Beach, Fla., north to Cape Fear, N.C., and costal communities of Georgia were still in peril.

Residents of coastal areas of Georgia and South Carolina were evacuated as weather officials predicted the storm packing 90 mph winds would hit land again later today.

"There's no question about it," said Dick Shenot of the National Weather Service at Charleston. "Charleston is going to get hit." He predicted that by midafternoon hurricane-force winds would sweep the historic city of 60,000 residents, home of Ft. Sumter where the Civil War began, with tides 6 to 8 feet above normal.

At 10 a.m. EDT, the hurricane was located near latitude 30.5 north and longitude 80.8 west, or about 35 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla. Picking up speed slightly, it was moving toward the north at 12 to 15 mph.

The projected track of the storm would take it very close to the Georgia coast, weather officials said, and a slight jog to the left would cause it to hit land.

Treasurer says $1 bill an endangered species

By ED TODD Staff Writer

ODESSA — Azie Taylor Morton spent part of Labor Day here Monday autographing an endangered species:

the dollar bill.

The bill with the familiar George Washington sketch gradually is being phased out and will be replaced by the controversial Susan B. Anthony coin, said Mrs. Morton, the U.S. treasurer whose signature has appeared on bills printed since 1977.

"Get used to using it (the dollar coin)," Mrs. Morton said, as the Labor Day celebration sponsored by the Odessa and Vicinity Central Labor Union was drawing to a close and after she had signed the last of many dollar bills presented her.

"WE'RE GOING TO to get the $1 bill out of circulation," she said to a few of the 800-plus people who had gathered in Floyd Gwin Park here to celebrate Labor Day and to observe the accomplishments of America's labor movement.

She didn't say when the $1 bill would become a collector's item.

"It's gradually being phased out,"
she said, because the bill in the long haul is far more expensive to print than the coin is to mint.

While the dollar bill costs the federal government two cents to print and the coin costs three cents to mint, the life expectancy of the bill is only 18 months. The coin, on the other hand, should stay in circulation for 15 years, said Mrs. Morton, a former Texas AFL-CIO administrative assistant who was appointed to her treasury post by President Jimmy Carter in

MRS. MORTON POOH-POOHED comments that the Anthony coin, which pays tribute to the 19th century reformer and leader in the woman's suffrage movement, is too similar to the quarter and that perhaps the coin should be closer in size to the old silver dollar.

"That (line of reasoning) is because we're measuring worth according to size, and we shouldn't do that," she said.

When the coin finally does replace the bill, she said, cashiers will have ample room in their cash registers to store the Anthony coin.

"The coin will go where the dollar bills are," she said.

Earlier Monday afternoon — just before labor union members, their families and guests lined up for a barbecue beef brisket luncheon prepared by union members — Mrs. Morton briefly addressed the gathering in a

She mentioned stresses caused by inflation, but said people can overcome this difficult period just as they have overcome problems in the past through "good will and hard work.

"YOU'VE DONE IT in the past, and you can do it in the future."

Pope appoints area bishop

SAN ANGELO - Pope John Paul II today announced the appointment of the Rev. Monsignor Joseph A. Fiorenza as bishop of San Angelo, a San Angelo diocese spokesman said.

He fills the vacancy created in the 34-county Catholic diocese in April by the resignation of the Most Rev. Stephen A. Leven because of ill health. The diocese includes Midland and Odessa.

Announcement of the appointment was made through the office of Archbishop Jean Jadot, apostolic delegate of the Vatican to the U.S.

Fiorenza is a native of Beaumont and presently is chancellor of the diocese of Galveston-Houston, a post he has held since March 1973.

The 48-year-old bishop-elect has served in the Galveston-Houston diocese 25 years. Date for installation of the new bishop is expected to be toward the end of October.

While officials predicted that area of Georgia would escape the brunt of the storm, there was a threat of flooding. More than 2 inches of rain fell in Brunswick in 24 hours.

The densely populated Miami area was spared Monday as David, one of the century's worst summer storms, hit the United States mainland after taking a heavy toll in the Caribbean. Hurricane-spawned tornados snaked out ahead as it ripped through a string of coastal cities, leaving behind power outages, roofless homes, shattered windows and damaged condominiums.

Furious winds snatched refrigerators and television sets out of wrecked apartments and tossed heavy camper trailers a quarter mile.

At least five Florida deaths were indirectly caused by the storm's Labor Day arrival, adding to David's growing toll. In the hard-hit Dominican Republic, officials raised the death count to at least 800.

Meanwhile, Hurricane Frederic lost strength and was downgraded to a tropical storm as it moved along the path David took last week when it attacked Caribbean islands with 150 mph winds - more than double Frederic's force as it moved near Puerto Rico early today.

'The whole county is just a mess,' said a spokeswoman for the Brevard County sheriff's department. Ronnie Book, an aide to Gov. Bob Graham, said damage estimates would be made after teams surveyed the coastal area today.

Damage estimates in Palm Beach County reached $1 million, said civil defense spokesman Gary Goldstein.

At least 158,000 homes were reported without power in Dade, Broward, Palm Beach, St. Lucie and Martin counties after the storm passed through on Monday.

In the Bahamas, hundreds of tourists jammed airports Monday to return home.

Sadat to open talks with 'friend'

HAIFA, Israel (AP) - Egypt's Anwar Sadat sailed into Haifa harbor aboard a presidential yacht today for his first meeting with Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin in two months, and he declared Egypt has a 'moral commitment" to resolve the Palestinian issue. Sadat says he will insist on a comprehensive settlement by year's end.

Setting an optimistic and friendly tone from the outset, the Egyptian leader told a cheering crowd of Israelis that he regarded Begin as "my friend.

"By now I know Premier Begin, and I think I can do business with Sadat said before he and his wife, Jihan, who is visiting Israel for the first time, were driven to a hotel atop Mount Carmel overlooking this northern port city, 20 miles south of the troubled Israel-Lebanon border.

Israeli jet fighters saluted Sadat's 475-foot-long yacht Horreya with a flyover as it entered the breakwater and docked, escorted by Israeli and Egyptian warships. The gleaming white yacht had set out Monday afternoon from Port Said, Egypt.

Balloons and doves were released into the sky as the Egyptian president spoke at a municipal welcoming ceremony. Tens of thousands of schoolchildren lined the streets and other Israelis perched on rooftops and pressed against windows of office buildings to catch a glimpse of him as he rode through streets festooned with Egyptian and Israeli flags.

Sadat, on this third visit to the Jewish state, was welcomed by Begin and Israel's president, Yitzhak Navon.

"Your ships are anchored in a friendly port," Navon said in a welcoming speech. He described Sadat's visit as "an additional link in the golden chain of peace" and said he hoped that Sadat's meetings with Begin "will remove some of the impediments that lie on the road to Sadat responded, "We have to consolidate the gains we have made on the road to peace." And he affirmed that Egypt felt a strong commitment to solve the problem of the "Palestinian people...a moral commitment to which we will remain faithful at all times.

Talking to reporters before he left Egypt, the president referred to previous meetings with Begin and said: 'After what has taken place between me and Menachem as friends, I can say I shall insist that by the end of the year we shall put the final touches on a comprehensive settlement." On Saturday, speaking at a factory in Alexandria, the Egyptian leader put his finger on the two chief issues standing in the way of such a settlement - how much autonomy will be given the 1.1 million Palestinians living in the occupied West Bank and the Gaza Strip and Israel's adamant rejection of Arab demands for the return of East Jerusalem, the Old City and Arab quarter in which the holy places of the Jewish, Christian and Moslem religions are located.

"I am going to Haifa to tell Israel that self-rule must be implemented, to decide on its details," Sadat said. "... I will insist this time with Begin on a solution for the Jerusalem prob-The two leaders were to hold two working meetings at the hotel atop Mount Carmel before Sadat's departure on Thursday. In addition to Palestinian autonomy and Jerusalem, the agenda includes the sale of Egyptian oil to Israel, further normalization of relations between the two countries, an early Israeli withdrawal from the Mount Sinai sector of the Sinai Peninsula and what to do the next time the Palestinian question comes up at the United Nations.

Sadat and Begin will have to make a major breakthrough on the question of Palestinian autonomy if they are to meet Sadat's earlier October "psycholgical deadline" for substantial movement toward agreement on a plan for home rule for the Arabs in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

Since negotiations from Israel, Egypt and the United States began meeting in May to try to work out such a plan, they have agreed only on minor questions of procedure.

The United States and Egypt are pressing Israel for generous concessions to convince the people of the two territories that they should abandon their boycott of the negotiations.

Thailand asks refugee aid

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) - The Thai command expressed concern today that many of the 10,000 Cambodians massing across from the Thai border town of Aranyaprathet would die of starvation unless they got emergency food supplies.

But a command spokesman said the Thais would not allow the Cambodians, mostly women and children, to seek temporary refuge in Thailand.

The spokesman also said the military had no objections if the United Nations and other organizations provided aid to the Cambodians upon receiving permission from the Thai government.

Some of the Cambodians told reporters in Aranyaprathet they had been instructed by troops loyal to ousted Cambodian Premier Pol Pot to take refuge near the Thai border in anticipation of heavy fighting in Cambodia at the end of the monsoon season next month. Reporters said the Cambodians. especially the children, were suffering from severe malnutrition and some had managed to sneak into Thai territory to steal food from residents in the area. The Cambodians told authorities that they had been trekking for six days from the western Cambodian town of Pailin where the Pol Pot forces expected a new round of clashes with Vietnamese-led troops.

Thai authorities have predicted another mass exodus of Cambodian refugees into Thailand - possibly as many as 100,000 - when the Vietnamese launch a major offensive at the end of the rainy season.

The Thai government, which already bears the burden of some 200,-000 Indochinese refugees, forced an estimated 45,000 Cambodians back into their war-torn country in June.

The Vietnamese invaded Cambodia Dec. 25. overthrew the pro-Chinese Pol Pot regime and installed a pro-Hanoi regime headed by Heng Samrin two weeks later.

Odessa man reports robbery

ODESSA - An Odessa man reported being robbed at knifepoint in his home early today, an Odessa police spokesman said.

Carlos Marino Rodriquez told police two men and a woman broke through the front door of his home at 1606 N. Golder St. about 3:15 a.m. today and demanded money. One of the men was armed with a 'long knife," he told police. Rodriquez told officers he gave the intruders his wallet containing $185. There were no injuries in the incident, police said.

MAHABAD, Iran (AP) - Kurdish hold 50 miles south of Mahabad and close to the Iraqi border, and would deliver a "severe blow" there to government forces.

> "We were hoping we could draw the army into an engagement inside Mahabad, but unfortunately they did not bite. No we are going to concentrate our forces in Sardasht where they can't use their tanks so effectively. the official, who declined to be named, said.

Heavy firing could be heard into the night echoing over the rugged hills surrounding Mahabad. The Kurds were still pounding away with howitzers and recoilless rifles as they withdrew, and government tanks fired salvos back.

Observers said the government forces apparently didn't want to enter the Mahabad at night and probably would make their final push into the city at daybreak.

The attack on the city started shortly after midnight Sunday when air force Phantom jets rocketed the military garrison in Mahabad that the rebels had occupied since March in their new drive for home rule. The planes returned at dawn and again rocketed the garrison, this time setting it ablaze. By noon Monday, the 81st Armored Division and the 64th Infantry Division were visible in the distance from rooftops, and the Kurds began to withdraw. Advance government units from the south, mostly tanks, arrived close to the city at nightfall, closing Army commanders claimed their forces had entered Mahabad "victoriously" and had been welcomed by the people. But most of the 100,000 population had fled before the fighting started. There was no sign of troops near the main square Monday night, and several armed Kurds were still moving about the streets.

The government claimed its forces suffered no casualties and that an undetermined number of Kurds had been killed or wounded. The director of the military hospital in the city reported that 35 wounded Kurds fled the wards at word the government forces were approaching. But otherwise there was no word inside the city on Kurdish casualties.

Property damage also appeared limited. In addition to the gutted military barracks, a school, a vocational training center and a handful of houses were damaged by helicopter gunships firing rockets. Army helicopters dropped leaflets on other towns and villages in Kurdistan calling on the Kurds to turn over the leaders of their political party to the government. The party is the major unifying political force for the 4 million Kurds, and Khomeini has ordered the arrest of its chief, Abdol Hassan Qassemlu, along with the Kurds' spiritual leader, Sheik Ezzedin Hosseini.

The Kurds are Sunni Moslems, the religion of most of Islam, while Khomeini and Iran's Persian majority are Shiite Moslems.

Talks yet may occur

The furor over Andrew Young's forced departure as ambassador to the United Nations should not obscure the very strong possibility that this nation's non-recognition policy toward the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) may yet yield an important improvement in Middle Eastern peace prospects.

Mr: Young resigned after violating that policy by meeting with Zehdi Labib Terzi, the PLO observer at the United Nations, and then concealing from the State Department the nature of the meeting.

Although it is formalized in a promise given the Israeli government in 1975, the U.S. boycott of the PLO logically supports the national interest in a Middle Eastern settlement.

The thrust of that policy is to refuse recognition to the PLO until it accepts U.N. Security Council Resolution 242 of Nov. 22, 1967, recognizing the right of Israel to exist while calling for Israeli evacuation of occupied terri-

This position gains its leverage from the fact that, in order to participate in the Palestinian settlement being negotiated only between Israel and Egypt under U.S. auspices, the PLO now needs to talk to the United States. This necessity seems inevitably to require, sooner or later, the desired concession from the PLO.

Indeed, Yassir Arafat, the PLO leader, is under considerable pressure from the Arab states to accept that inevitability sooner rather than later. If he does not yield, he faces the prospect of increasing isolation in a Middle East that urgently needs peace.

There had been hope that a Kuwaiti compromise to be put before the reconvening U.N. Security Council would permit the PLO to moderate its position sufficiently by accepting, tacitly at least, the existence of Israel. This would have broken the deadlock and cleared the way for Arab participation in a Palestine settlement. Now it appears that the Kuwaiti compromise has failed and the United States may offer its own resolution.

With these factors at work, Young's ill-timed initiative risked upsetting a very precariously balanced apple cart. It is no wonder the administration was annoved with him.

The Israelis are also disturbed at indications that the United States may be open to a dialogue with the PLO. Its position is that the PLO is a gang of terrorists beneath the notice of any respectable government.

Still, the PLO is a strong factor in Middle Eastern affairs, recognized by Arab states and many Third World countries as the legitimate representative of the Palestinian people. It would seem that the United States will also have to talk to the PLO sometime.

It was not Young's preogative to choose the time, however; nor was it the function of U.S. Ambassador Milton A. Wolfe in Vienna, who, it is revealed, also had an unauthorized discussion with a PLO representative on June 12.

That decision is one the president and secretary of state will have to make, and it will turn, presumably, upon the PLO's acceptance of the preconditions.

There is no reason for U.S. diplomats to blunt the thrust of policy meanwhile by talking directly to PLO agents. There are plenty of foreign diplomatic channels through which this nation can maintain any necessary communication with the PLO leader-

Events at the United Nations may decide if U.S. policy is to bear immediate fruit. Whether it does or not, it seems clear that the policy itself is tactically sound and it may be hoped that, despite Israeli opposition and Young's inopportune meddling, the Carter administration remains flexible enough to make the proper responses if compromise becomes possible.

Pope John Paul termed one of world's top diplomats

By VIRGIL PINKLEY Copley News Service

VIENNA - Pope John Paul's visit to Poland has altered the entire situation there and elsewhere in the world,

He exhibited great personal bravery and unusual intelligence when he decided to make the trip to his native country, where he had worked and suffered under Communist domination as well as Nazi brutalities during World War II and the months that followed.

Catholic archbiships, bishops and lay priests are taking their lead from the present occupant of the throne of St. Peter's

Those who have traveled extensively behind the Iron Curtain in recent months tell me that the situation never will be the same again, following the holy father's visit.

One day when communism crumbles and falls, as it will, the Catholic church certainly has to be credited, and its leadership, with contributing much which led to these results.

Shortly the pope expects to visit the United States. It is to be hoped that he will have time to spend at least a few hours in most sections of the country.

Today he is one of the most able diplomats in the world, and he could serve as prime minister or president of any country magnificently.

Seldom has a man been on the world scene who has the intellect, dedication, bravery, devotion and courage of Pope John Paul II.

He has an unusual sense of public relations and exceptional people-topeople contacts

When he holds his audiences in front of St. Peter's, he enters the huge piazza in a white Jeep. He has it driven around the square with its beautiful flashing fountains at least twice at a slow pace leaning over, blessing people, kissing them and shaking hands.

When he mounts the platform to address the huge audiences, many of which, despite the heat, number as high as a quarter of a million, he has those who have been carried on litters or wheelchairs placed in front, and always has a special blessing for them individually and collectively and for the physically handicapped throughout the world.

Boat trip was 'not an unqualified public relations triumph'

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON - Alonzo McDonald, Hamilton Jordan's highly regarded new deputy chief of staff in the White House, showed from the start that he is an important new voice there by suggesting privately that President Carter's voyage down the Mississippi was not an unqualified public relations triumph. The president's politicking aboard the Delta Queen has received rave reviews from the senior staffers who conceived the journey. But filling in for the absent Jordan at a staff meeting, newcomer McDonald offered a dissent

Instead of Carter in jogging togs and sports shirts day after day on television, McDonald proposed a different image for the chief executive: appearing on TV dressed in coat and tie, thoughtfully considering prob-

'Did Hamilton tell you to say that?" cracked one staffer. Jordan's allergy to coats and ties, though under control since becoming chief of staff, is legandary

"No," McDonald replied, "it was my own idea." The fact that McDonald, a corporate management expert who at 51 is 17 years Jordan's senior, will be speaking up on his own is the best sign for hope at the reorganized White House.

CONNALLY'S DOLDRUMS

Another sign of John B. Connally's summer doldrums was a meeting of Chicago area Republican county chairmen who resolved to stay off his presidential bandwagon after having seemed firmly seated there a few

That is bad news for the Connally camp, which has been counting Illinois at the top of its northern list. But some county chairmen captivated by Connally a few months ago have been soured on him by recent visits. "I'm afraid Connally is just a mean, cantankerous s.o.b.," one chairman told

Novak

Since such Illinois Republican leaders were looking at Connally originally as an alternative to front-running Ronald Reagan, they are now seeking a new choice. Some are interested in the slowly accelerating campaign of George Bush, but many others are eyeing an old, familiar figure: Gerald R. Ford.

WATSON'S CLIMB

Jack Watson, President Carter's link to governors and mayors, is getting increased clout in the slowly-unfolding reorganization of the White House staff promised by Carter at the Camp David domestic summit.

A buttoned down Atlanta lawyer who never made it into Carter's down-home circle, Watson has gotten high marks lately even from his old enemy: Hamilton Jordan, the new White House chief of staff. Jordan steamrolled Watson's effort to take control of personnel in the fledgling administration shortly after the 1976

Now Jordan tells intimates that despite Carter's position in the polls, Democratic mayors and governors continue to give him strong support because of Watson. Other White House staffers say that if Carter's congressional liaison staff had spent as much time and effort courting Congress as Watson has spent on the governors and mayors, the president would not be in his present dismal condition on Capitol Hill.

With personnel-patronage chief Tim Kraft leaving the White House for the Carter-Mondale campaign committee, Watson may now inherit some of Kraft's personnel powers.

A forthcoming announcement will claim for Republican presidential candidate George Bush support from 534 Iowa Republicans. They include two members of Gov. Robert Ray's Cabinet and 24 state legislators (more than one out of every four Republicans in the legislature).

What is impressive about this lineup of Bush supporters for the January precinct caucuses in Iowa is its variety. Bush will claim the backing of the Agriculture Secretary Robert Lounsberry, who was a Ronald Reagan delegate in 1976, and the State Treasurer Morris Baringer, who backed then President Ford.

Nevertheless, Ronald Reagan runs ahead of the field in Iowa. Also doing suprisingly well in conservative areas of the state is Rep. Philip Crane of Illinois. As for John B. Connally and Sen. Howard Baker, there is no visible sign of serious activity.

Westview woman resolves to live up to her weight-loss resolutions

has resolved to become trim - to shed her burdened body of excess

She has resolved again and again and again. And one day, she again resolved, she faithfully will stick to her diet. Mrs. Crawford has tried several reducing techniques, and they all seem to work up to a point — until she gets the "hungries" and can't resist the temptation to eat to excess.

"I've been embarrassed about being fat all my life, and I'm tired of it," she says.

Throughout the years, she has been through one get-trim plan after another. In one, TOPS - Take Off Pounds Sensibly - she was at the

She has tried out many of the weight-losing schemes: TOPS, Over-Eaters Anonymous, Magic Mirror, Pat Walker, and the spas, such as Golden Life, and, of course, fasting. At first, she starts out winning by losing. But ultimately, she ends up where she had begun: on the heavy

"All of those programs work," says Mrs. Crawford, who spends much of her time sitting at the counter of Mrs. Crawford's Country Store at Westview, "if you have decided to (lose weight). And I have decided to lose. weight numerous times, and I did, but I got the hungries.'

She has hope of getting that slender look. She is gaining inspiration from her will power to quit smoking cigarettes after years of being addicted to

"Since I have been able to quit smoking, maybe I can lose weight." Smoking was causing Mrs. Crawford's problems: "I was drowning getting up at nights, coughing, spitting, hacking...

Not long ago, Mrs. Crawford and her husband Bill were amused by a "confidential message" that came to their household: It was a form letter 'about your problem.'

She has returned to a sensible diet, a self-motivation plan which, in part, calls for busy work - "extra movements, extra work" in daily chores about the house and store.

And Mrs. Crawford is earnest in her efforts despite today's lifestyle of one convenience after another,

The issues in question, which Bluestone did not detail, "do not relate to the principal economic issues."

But he told reporters: "Don't call them minor, nit-picky issues. They're very important to the members and the leadership."

Unless those issues are cleared away before serious bargaining begins on the economic issues, "you can get hung up on them," he

The two sides are working against a Sept. 14 deadline for new contracts covering 780,000 Big Three autoworkers.

There were these other developments and statements from the UAW over the weekend:

-A strike against GM could involve about 30 percent of the company's 460,000 UAW members. -Chrysler's executive pay cuts could provide a partial model for a UAW Chrysler settlement. -The union would scale down wage demands if GM would freeze prices. The union would "moderate our demands if we could get a commitment from the General Motors that they would not increase their prices during the life of our agreement, yes we would," Fraser said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" program Sun-

He said GM should rescind "inflationary" price increases announced Friday, but on NBC's "Today" show Monday Fraser said he thought the chances of a wage-price trade were "very, very, very meager."

More teachers threaten to strike

By The Associated Press

Thousands of teachers nationwide today were ready to join the more than 7,000 already on strike as many schools across the country attempt to open for the fall term after last-ditch bargaining.

Little progress was reported over the long Labor Day weekend in talks aimed at settling strikes, primarily over pay, that have already affected nearly 200,000 pupils in eight states.

The head of the Michigan Education Association said Monday that some 10,000 teachers in 46 districts may walk off the job today. More than 3,400 teachers in 12 Michigan districts already are out.

Officials in the 80,000-pupil Indianapolis Public Schools urged parents to send their children to class despite a threatened walkout by the Indianapolis Education Association, which represents about two-thirds of the 3,800 teachers in the state's largest

Other strikes involving more than 2,400 teachers and 40,000 students were possible in California,

The strike began Aug. 22; but classes have been conducted by non-striking teachers and substitutes. In Ohio, 250 teachers in Marietta and 80 Rootstown Education Association members struck Monday night over salaries. Two Ohio districts with more than 300 teachers and 9,400 pupils struck last week. Strikes in four western Pennsylvania districts have shut classes for some 16,000 students, and administrators in seven other districts were notified that walkouts would begin today In Illinois, 69 teachers who walked out of workshops Friday in Highland Park remained off the job as did teachers in the 2,700-pupil Elmwood Park district. Both are Chicago suburbs.

No progress was reported in disputes affecting about 7,400 pupils in the Crown Point and Linton systems in Indiana. In Michigan City, Ind., some teachers refused to cross picket lines set up by about 200 cafeteria workers, custodians and bus drivers. In Rutland, Vt., 240 teachers were on strike affecting 3,700 pupils.

Ancient windmill provides energy hope for future

By DAVID L. LANGFORD The Associated Press

A seventh-century Persian invention taken to China by Ghengis Khan and adopted across Europe by the returning Crusaders will enable a group of Navajo children in Arizona to attend school in their own community this year

By the year 2,000, it is expected to provide this country with about 1.7 quadrillion British thermal units of energy a year. That would be less than 2 percent of the nation's total energy consumption, but with today's oil prices every little bit helps.

The ancient windmill thus provides some hope for the future.

"The windmills did a good job and still do a good job," said W.W. Duitsman, secretary of agriculture in Kansas, where for years the machines have been pumping water for livestock and now new ones are being built to generate

The federal government budgeted $60 million for windmill research this year - as compared with only $1 million just five years ago - and a number of private companies are involved in multi-million-dollar projects of their own.

Perched 4,420 feet high on Howard's Knob near Boone, N.C., is the Goliath of the world's operating wind turbines, a $3.5 million, 350-ton machine with blades 100 feet long. Dedicated in July, it was built by the General Electric Space Division for the U.S. Department of Energy and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Expected to supply enough energy for 300 to 500 homes when it goes into full operation this fall — that's 10 times the peak power of any existing windmill it is controlled by NASA computers 35 miles away in Lenoir, N.C., collecting data for the Department of Energy

With the Boone mill still in its testing stage, authorities still don't know whether it will generate as much power as expected.

"This time of year winds are slack, but that is about as we expected," said Bud Avers, a spokesman for Blue Ridge Electric Membership Corp. "But I don't know of any particular problem that has caused us deep concern.' Whether it works or not, the giant windmill is such an oddity that tourists come from all over to look at it. Watkuaga County plans to build a 54-acre park

When the 1,500 Navajos of the remote Birdsprings reservation 60 miles east of Flagstaff, Ariz., decided to build a school for their children, the U.S. Bureau of Indian Affairs insisted it must have electrical power. But the Indians discovered it would cost about $100,000 to bring in electricity from the outside and that was beyond the reach of a community dependent on sheep herding and

So with the Indians supplying free labor, they built a wind system. Two windmills revolve on twin 50-foot-high towers, charging batteries that will last three to four days if necessary. It cost $20,000.

This fall the Navajo children, many of whom were sent to schools as far as 250 miles away, will attend classes at the Little Singer School, named for a medicine man who before his death made Indian leaders promise to build their · Clayton, N.M., population 2,978, claimed to be the country's first community partly powered by wind in January 1977, when a two-bladed windmill hooked into the city-owned utility system. The mill spins enough electricity for about 30 homes and is a source of community pride. A restaurant changed its name to "The Windmill Cafe" and had a mural of the mill painted on its wall.

Louis Divone, chief of the Department of Energy's Wind System Branch, said it presently costs three times more to generate electricity by wind systems than with conventional systems, mainly because of the expense of building the mills. But with mass production of mills and the rising fuel costs, wind power is expected to become cost-competitive with other systems by the

But the efficiency of windmills depends on the velocity of winds and that varies from place to place.

Atop the roof of its Miami Beach test lab on the McArthur Causeway, Florida Power and Light Co. operates a 2,500-watt experimental windmill called Mariah. But over a one-year period, the windmill produced only $63 worth of electricity, figured at 4 cents per kilowatt hour.

In California, there are two state agencies dealing with windmills, the Wind Energy Office, promoting big projects, and the Office of Appropriate Technology, involved in individual requests for assistance. John Nichols, manager of wind energy, said the State Legislature has set a goal of "10 percent of electrical energy from wind power by the year 2000."

"We are mapping and surveying and determining the proper sites for windmill 'farms," Nichols said. "We're supposed to get hundreds of sites here

But Arthur Blake, supervisor of load management projects at Southern California Edison, doesn't forsee much impact from wind power until windmills come down in cost.

"A fellow pays $180,000 for a unit to generate 10 kilowatts," he said. "If his electric bill is $100 a month and he cuts it to $50 a month by generating half his energy, you see what the pay-back is. Two or three hundred years?" Nonethless, Blake said Edison has had "hundreds of inquiries" about a program to buy excess power from "backyard" windmills. And Edison is building a $2 million wind plant of its own at San Gorgonio Pass near Palm Springs. The 190-foot-tall windmill, with three blades in a diameter of 165 feet, is expected to generate enough electricity to supply 800 to

Good food creates happiness

the food, the happier the nation, says John Ronsheim. And the Antioch College music professor is trying to raise money to make that school the first to offer a bachelor's degree in culinary

"It doesn't have a past," Ronsheim said of the proposed field of study. "But that doesn't mean it doesn't have a place. There's no more essential thing in our lives than eating.

"There's no difference between becoming a cook and becoming a fine painter," he said. "It's an art. I want students to become artists, not just cooks. I want them to leave here knowing how to cook with imagination and intelligence.

Ronsheim has been busy fund-raising this summer, trying to get the $250,000 the college needs to run the program for two years. He is forced to raise the money for the program himself because of Antioch's financial troubles. An enrollment decline will leave the Yellow Springs campus with only about 880 students this fall. But the selling has been fun for Ronsheim. He'll visit pineapple and wine growers in California in a couple of weeks after a trip to a food processing plant in Minnesota.

"What we want is to turn out graduates who will be the executives in the food industry and change it from the bottom," he said in a recent interview. "We are in a rather sad state. We have to learn how to be natural toward food.

"Food is not going to be good unless you spend a lot of time on it. We need to have more reverence for the ohings we eat. I want the highest quality in the world.

Should Ronsheim raise the required money for the program, he still needs to get the approval of the Antioch faculty for the program. But he says that is a formality.

AT WIT'S END Marriages that last

By ERMA BOMBECK

You hear a lot of talk these days about the marriages that don't last. One of my favorite parts of the newspaper is the section devoted to couples celebrating their 50th wedding anniversaries.

Some of the photographs reflect embarrassment over the fuss being made. Some show them standing three feet apart. Some husbands and wives even look alike.

But the part I like best is where they sum up their lives together. The other day I read where one couple said, "We've hauled water by horse and wagon, coped with the cold and the deep snow, raised and educated a family of ten, and lost a daughter, Virginia.

That's 50 years of living-condensed in 27 words.

More than 95 percent of all Americans over 65 are protected by Medicare, the national health insurance program for the elderly, but there are gaps in the coverage.

shock of medical bills.

By LOUISE COOK

Associated Press Writer

A booklet prepared by the American Association of Retired Persons and the National Retired Teachers Association explores the gaps and looks at ways for individuals to fill them. The 24-page guide, "Medicare and Health Insurance for Older People," is available, at no charge, from NRTA-AARP, Dept. M-H, P.O. Box 2400, Long Beach, Calif., 90801.

Medicare is a two-part program. Part A covers hospital benefits; there is no charge for most people. Part B is optional medical insurance; it costs $8.70 a month.

Medicare should not be confused with Medicaid which is a stateoperated program to help pay medical bills for low-income persons of all

To enroll in Medicare, you should visit your Social Security office at least three months before your 65th birthday. Bring proof of age. If you cannot go in person, call the nearest office and arrange to apply by mail.

Unless you specify otherwise, you will automatically be enrolled in Part B as well as in Part A. The premiums will be deducted from your monthly Social Security check.

When you are confined to a hospital, Part A of the Medicare package will cover semi-private room and board, operating and recovery room, intensive care unit, general nursing service, lab tests, X-rays and other radiology services, drugs provided by the hospital, medical supplies, rehabilitation services and some equipment like wheelchairs. Most of these services also are covered when you receive treatment in a skilled-nursing facili-

Booklet explores gaps in Medicare

Doctors' fees are not covered by Part A. You also will not receive payments for private duty nursing, a private room (unless it is necessary for medical reasons), personal convenience items like a telephone and the first three pints of blood you need.

Part B of the Medicare program the part that helps pay doctors' bills covers medical and surgical treatments, diagnostic tests and procedures, drugs administered by professionals, most medical supplies, physical and speech therapy and, where necessary, ambulance services. It does not cover prescriptions and nonprescription medicines you can administer yourself, routine physical examinations, eyelor hearing examinations, dental care, routine immunizations or cosmetic surgery

Medicare does not pay all the bills - even for covered items. You will, for example, probably have to pay at least the first $160 of your hospital bill. You also will have to pay part of your doctor's bills.

According to the retirees' groups, the latest available statistics show that Medicare pays an average of about 44 percent of the total health care costs of beneficiaries. Unless you supplement your Medicare coverage with a private health insurance policy of some type, you could wind up paying the remaining 56 percent.

Check your existing policy before you turn 65. Are you covered by a job-related group policy that can be continued after you retire? Is your

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The coordinator of the local chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW) says she will nominate Gov. Bill Clements for NOW's "Barefoot and Pregnant" award as a result of his remarks about deep-sea diving and birth

At Texas A&M recently. Clements jokingly suggested that since researchers think deep-sea diving can damage fetuses, women should try it as a birth control measure.

'They're always looking for birth control," he said with a laugh.

NOW coordinator Vicky Worsham told the Austin American-Statesman the governor's re-mark "indicates to me the narrow life that Gov.

He may have been joking, she added, but "I think it only speaks for his true attitude toward people and women.'

The "Barefoot and Pregnant" award reportedly has not been handed out since Darrell Royal, former Texas football coach, purportedly said in the early 1970s that no one would pay money to see women play sports.

"I think we may have to revive our award,' said Ms. Worsham. She said she would

Women's seminar DINING ROOMS to begin Chaumont

There is a certain elegance, unique to the provinces of France, very much in keeping with the casual flavor of modern living. It is found in the robust proportion refined detail and patina finish that hallmarked the handcrafted furnishings made for French chateau during the 17th and 18th centuries. Such styles blended te classic character of tradition with the functional, practical needs of daily manor living. Perhaps this the reason carefully translated country French designs, such as Chaumont from American Drew, are so perfectly at home in today's interiors, so ideally suited to those of means who have longed for this certain elegance for their lyiing, dining and certain elegance for their lying, dining and bedroom environments. Crafted of oak solids, pecky pecan veneers and other wood products, this magnificent collection reflects the ageless quality of French period antiques in scrolled base aprons, precisely routed pilasters and delicate shell embossings interpreted from authentic

Rebels rolling toward successful year

By LEIGH ANNE JONES, GINA BARD and KAREN FIDLER

Well, we made it through the first week of school without losing one single Sophomore, but there is always next week! Everyone has made the adjustments and we now are ready to roll with a super successful year.

Rebels: the Maroon and White picnic turned out to be a great success. The rifles rumbled, the flags flew high and our mighty Rebel Band played some hot stuff for all the fans. They were joined by the spirited cheerleaders and routy Rebelettes and our mighty macho men as they made their debut for the sea-

Friday night, our fine Rebel JV football team defeated Andrews JV by a score of three touchdowns to two. Way to go, JV! Then our mighty Varsity followed up with the teams scoring two touchdowns each. This Friday night our Rebel Express will take on those tiny Tigers from Snyder and put them into tears as they womp and stomp them down. Also, be sure and come out and see our JV play Snyder, Thursday night at Memorial Stadium.

If you weren't at the Victory Dance Friday night you really missed a dynamite DJ do his stuff. Blain Huddleston (HUD) realy rocked-n-rolled Rebelland til midnight with his super selections. If you didn't catch this dance, be sure and come to the one after the El Paso-Lee game a week from Friday. We'll be

REBELETTES: Tuesday is the night we will all get together and pick our football guys. Seven o'clock is the time and the YC is the place, so don't ATTENTION SOPHOMORES: Thursday afternoon right after school in the Youth Center will be your chance to sign up for the 100 Club. Everyone is urged to come and join because 100 Club is the first step to Junior Council.

A Junior Council meeting is scheduled for 7:30 a.m. Thursday. This is our first meeting this year. It is important. See you there.

Applications are available in the YC for Super Stars Skate '79. This benefit is to raise money for the mentally retarded, so if you're interested, pick up the info from Mr. Collins at the YC.

Hey, Rebel fans, this Friday will be our first Pep Rally, so everyone attend and show what Rebel Spirit is all about. Right now those Super Sophs have our dynamite spirit stick, Juniors and Seniors. You don't want that, do you.... If not, come Friday morning and do something about it.

Saturday, our Rebel Cheerleaders will have a cheerleading clinic in the cafeteria from 9 a.m. til noon. So, all Sophomores and Juniors trying out for JV cheerleader, come on out and get some pointers from the people who know their stuff.

One more thing, a great big thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gardner amd Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lookabaugh for chaperoning at the Friday night dance. Until next week, Leigh Anne the Rebels (Toscosa Rebels, that is). B.C. Comments:

About the dance - Congratulations on you improved actions. You did a lot better, so the bathrooms will stay unlocked as long as your actions are good. However, the parking lot was a big mess, and your actions there may be the cause of cancellation of future dances.

The Junior Council and Sophomores are not responsive to the needs. No one from Junior Council showed up to set up for the dance, but six Sophomores saved your "worthless hides." Thanks to Carla Sonnenburg, Robin Baily, Kelly Stanley, Sherry Minz, Terri Williams and Terri Culpepper for their work. Saturday, Terri Williams, Jeannie Roper, Kristi Bartosh, Greg Collins and I were the only ones to show up for clean up. I am not that interested in your having dances. It is a Junior Council responsibility, so if you're gonna dance, you must "pay the fiddler." If the Junior Council starts doing what it is supposed to do, dances are scheduled for Sept. 14 and 21, Oct. 26, Nov 2, 9 and 16. If you have a Youth Center card you will be out $10 for your card and admission to six dances. If you do not have you are going to be out $21 for admission alone, and still no card. Better join this week. You will need a card to get in the YC beginning Monday, Sept. 10.

Settlement approved

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The Texas Railroad Commission approved today a settlement between Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. and its gas buyers.

The brief signing ceremony, without comment, ended six years of controversy over natural gas contracts and increasing gas rates.

Attorneys said it probably would be the end of the year before all details of the settlement were worked out.

The commission's September 1973 order authorized Lo-Vaca to recoup 100 percent of its gas costs and to charge major customers, such as cities, an extra nickel per 1,000 cubic feet of Customers sued Lo-Vaca for $1.6 billion for alleged breach of contract.

The commission voted in December 1977 to rescind the 1973 order and to require Lo-Vaca to live up to its contracts. It also ordered Lo-Vaca to refund the $1.6 billion in alleged overcharges. Company officials said the order would cause bankruptcy. The commission then granted additional time for Lo-Vaca and its customers to negotiate a settlement.

On Aug. 21 the commission was advised that buyers representing nearly 100 percent of Lo-Vaca's sales volume wanted the commission to approve the wording of the proposed settle-

One in four Texans probably would be affected by the settlement since Lo-Vaca supplies virtually all of Central and South Texas and sells to electric and natural gas companies serving Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and other areas.

Under the settlement plan, Lo-Vaca and several smaller pipelines owned by Lo-Vaca's parent, Coastal States Gas Corp., would be renamed Valero Energy Corp., with the headquarters moving from Houston to San Antonio.

Valero would be owned by its. customers, however, not by

Tourist industry checking its loss from runaway oil

By SUSAN STOLER

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) - The tourist industry began assessing its losses today from the world's largest oil spill that scared away summer business and reduced Labor Day weekend revenues to a fraction of last year's income.

Today also marked the first opportunity for operators to apply for Small Business Administration loans made available to offset effects of the huge Mexican oil spill.

Seven coastal counties have been designated disaster areas after either the brown crude or threats of its coming chased away tourists.

Alfonzo, OPEC founder, dies after long illness

WASHINGTON (AP) - Juan Pablo Perez Alfonzo, widely regarded as the founder of the world oil cartel, is dead

The chief architect of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries had been hospitalized for treatment of cancer of the pancreas several times during the last few years. He died Monday

As Venezuelan oil minister in the late 1950s, Perez Alfonzo spearheaded efforts to create an international oil producers association. He envisioned a system controlled by producing countries to promote oil conservation, assure a stable supply and maintain prices at high levels justified by the fact oil is indispensable to industrial civilization.

In recent years he showed concern over the impact of the wealth generated by his brainchild. He became convinced that the flood of money entering Venezuela after oil prices quadrupled in 1974 had corrupted the country's traditional values, undermined the population's commitment to hard work and made the nation dependent on foreign imports.

'I may be the father of OPEC, but now sometimes I feel like renouncing my offspring," he said wistfully in an interview in 1976.

A sharp drop in prices posted by oil companies in 1960 provided the catalyst to rally others to the cause Perez Alfonzo shared with the Saudi Arabian oil minister. At a meeting in Baghdad the following month, their nations were joined by Iran, Iraq and Kuwait in forming OPEC. Later, eight more countries joined.

Perez Alfonzo retired from public office in 1963, refusing offers from later governments to serve in high posts and even rejecting efforts by Democratic Action, the party he helped to found, to nominate him for the presidency in 1968.

a year earlier. Home-heating devices pose another potential hazard, and the commission's report to the White House cited carbon monoxide poisoning and fires as two of the dangers of solid-fuel stoves. Citing one case, it said that five days after installing a woodburning stove, a 25-year-old Wisconsin man died from smoke inhalation when the stove set off a fire in a utility room. Fire officials blamed the blaze on poor installation of the stove.

A spokesman for the Products Safety Commission said a six-state survey found that more than 2,000 fires and 13 deaths were caused by improperly installed wood- or coal-burning stoves.

It was also noted that the government offers tax incentives to encourage home insulation, but the commission is particularly concerned about a possible increase in the use of insulation made from cellulose. It said that improper installation of cellulose can lead to fires, and a commission survey found that most of the fires were caused by placing the insulating material too close to heat sources.

Beginning Oct. 15, manufacturers of cellulose insulation will be required into attic floors

by the commission to provide instructions for proper installation. New labels will warn against placing the insulation over light fixtures recessed Formaldehyde insulation takes a smaller share of the market, but the commission says it has received hundreds of reports of respiratory prob-

It is not technically a recall ordered by the commission, Bell said, but a voluntary plan worked out in negotiations between the agency and the Corning, N.Y., firm.

However, Bell said, this would be the largest recall-like action involving a single product since the agency was established in 1972.

Public wants windfall tax, solons find

WASHINGTON (AP) - Americans are willing to shell out $1 a gallon for gasoline if they can be assured of an uninterrupted supply, say members of Congress returning to Washington after a month among their constitutents.

"They're willing to pay the price, but they want the gasoline and they need it," said Rep. James Jeffords, R-Vt., who spent much of August crisscrossing his rural state.

"People are ready to pay higher prices if they can be assured of supply," agreed Sen. Richard Stone,

And Rep. Les AuCoin, D-Ore., reached the same conclusion after talking to motorists while pumping gas one morning at a Portland, Ore., service sta-

Most of the two dozen lawmakers interviewed said energy and inflation were the topics uppermost on their constituents' minds this summer.

They said the public generally is distrustful of big oil companies and in favor of a new tax on "windfall" revenues the industry will receive under oil price decontrol. Opinion for the tax is "universal," declared Rep. Thomas Ashley, D-Ohio. Energy legislation, the windfall tax included, will be on Congress' agenda when the House and Senate: resume work Wednesday. A bill to give President Carter authority to ration gasoline is in a House-Senate conference committee. Measures to promote a new synthetic fuels industry and create an Energy Mobilization Board to speed development of energy projects also are pending. Hearings on the SALT II arms treaty with Russia will resume in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and both houses of Congress will be trying to complete work on a binding resolution covering next year's budget. Senators also will be voting on two appointments to Carter's remade Cabinet: former New Orleans Mayor Moon Landrieu as head of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and former Portland, Ore. Mayor Neil Goldschmidt to take over the Transportation Department. What House and Senate members heard during the recess may translate into rough going for gasoffne rationing.

"The pressure is definitely off for rationing," said Members of both parties said rationing remains unpopular with the public, although less so than Energy aside, inflation appears to be the topic of greatest concern to the public.

"They are coping (with inflation), some of them desperately," said Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark. "But they are more worried (about) when will it end, how far will it go? Rep. Doug Walgren, D-Pa., said he found his constituents "discouraged" about rising prices and wondering whether Congress can do anything to improve the situation. Rep. Steven Solarz, D-N.Y., checking in his Brooklyn District, found that 73. percent of his constituents who responded to a survey favored mandatory wage and price con-

Inflation has been running at a double-digit pace for several months, but the president has said he opposes mandatory economic controls. While Americans may worry about inflation and energy, they also tell their Washington representatives about local concerns -Sen. William Cohen, R-Maine, got an earful at one meeting from angry home gardeners whose tomato plants were ruined by a pesticide sprayed carelessly on nearby crops. -Solarz' constituents are worried about the trash collection system in New York. -Philadelphians are more concerned with the ongoing mayoral campaign than with national issues, according to Rep. Charles Dougherty, R-Pa. -Vermonters told Jeffords they are worried about teacher strikes when school opens this fall. -Residents of Louisiana told Rep. John Breaux,

D-La., they are happy with Landrieu's selection as HUD secretary. Otherwise, most lawmakers agree. Carter's Cabinet shuffle stirred little interest across the country

Virtually all House and Senate members say their constituents view Carer as a trustworthy and honest president. But they disagree on voter perception of Carter as a leader.

"I think they like him," said Breaux. "I think they think he's an honest, decent person but the job's bigger than he is. Jeffords, who represents the entire state of Vermont, said Carter "isn't very popular up here." But Sen. Patrick Leahy, a Democrat who also repesents Vermont, said, "Things are looking up for Carter. The attitude has improved. There is a very definite shift in opinion. Some lawmakers also said members of Congress reported constituents are skeptical about Congress' ability to come to grips with inflation and energy problems. "I think they are angry, but more than that they are discouraged. It's getting to the point now that they don't believe that Congress is able to change the situation," said Walgren. Jeffords said some of his constituents congratulated him, saying: "You're doing a good job, Jim, but what about the rest if those guys. When are you going to get them to do something."

Plane that crashed too low, officials say

A Montana Air Na- crash site. tional Guard jet fighter that smashed into a grain elevator seconds after a low-level flight over some 10,000 Labor Day parade watchers should have maintained a 1,000-foot altitude, military authorities say.

The pilot was killed, a pregnant woman was injured critically and seven other persons, most of them apparently hit by burning debris, suffered minor injuries from the crash Monday in this farming town of about 5,000 persons, authorities said.

"I just thank God the plane wasn't flying in the other direction because thousands of people could have been injured along the parade route," Gov. Thomas L. Judge

DILLON, Mont. (AP) said after inspecting the

One of four 17,000-gallon gasoline storage tanks at a nearby Exxon Co. bulk plant was set afire but the flames were quickly extinguished. The grain elevator was burned to the ground. Also destroyed were the warehouse and offices of the bulk plant and two tanker trucks.

The plane was one of two F-106 fighter-interceptors that made a demonstration sweep over the Main Street parade route. Witnesses said the left wing of one craft sliced into the grain elevator and fell to the ground in flames.

Guard officials identified the dead pilot as Capt. Joel Rude, 32, of Great Falls, a flighttraining instructor and father of two children.

Steelers rally for overtime win against Pats

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — You can play perfect football for 59 minutes, but make one mistake against the Pittsburgh Steelers and you can pack it up and go home with a loss.

That's what makes them champions. That's what the New England Patriots have to live with.

They played well - very well against Terry Bradshaw's passing game virtually all night. But a mistake here, a slip-up there, and the noose began to tighten.

They clamped down on Franco Harris' pile driver running, but when they paused to take a breath, he and Sidney Thornton ran by them like locomotives

They reveled in Matt Bahr's erratic right foot, but when they tried to rattle the rookie once too often, he just shrugged and kicked their teeth

"In a situation like that, the tough guys just naturally come out," said Bradshaw, whose 21-yard touchdown pass to Thornton tied the game with 4:09 to go in regulation play Monday night and whose canny play-calling put Bahr in position to win it 16-13 at 5: 10 of overtime with a 41-yard field

"We just made up our minds and did it," added Bradshaw, one of those "tough guys" who played most of the game with a painfilly sprained toe but who still managed to complete 15 of 26 passes for 221 yards.

Bahr, the rookie from Penn State who started his pro career raggedly when his first extra point attempt after Thornton had scored the Steelers' first TD on a 2-yard run was just plain bad, left Pittsburgh trailing

And his first try at a pro field goal, a 43-yarder with Pittsburgh trailing 13-6 in the third period, was equally poor, short and off line.

But when it mattered, when he had to prove that the Steelers' decision to hand Roy Gerela his walking papers was a sound one, he came through

His kick was dead-center and easily 10 yards longer than it had to be, this despite a timeout called by the Patriots in an attempt to build the already awesome pressure.

"Nobody's ever done that to me before," Bahr said. "I could hear the noise (60,978 fans can create a lot of it) but it just gave me a little more

The noise the fans created then was nothing compared to the shattering roar of a tribute they gave to Darryl Stingley in the second period.

The Patriots' former wide receiver, paralyzed in a preseason collision a year ago, returned to Schaefer Stadium for the first time since the accident and the fans stood for more than five minutes, delaying the game with their applause, shouts and chants. So caught up in the frenzy were they that when the Patriots attempted to run a play they showered boos down upon the team they had come to cheer.

If it can be said that one good kick won it for the Steelers, it is equally true that one bad one lost it for the Eddie Hare, like Bahr a rookie, had been booming punts all night, 50 yards and more. But with five minutes to play in the fourth period and the Pats still clinging to their 13-6 lead, the kid from Tulsa shanked one, driving it a measly 14 yards to the New England 34.

"The kicking game was pretty good except for one. It's the best kicking we've had in this stadium in a long time, but ..." and New England Coach Ron Erhardt's voice trailed off.

It had cost him his first victory as a head coach in the National Football League. Instead, it had given Chuck

Lee Smith walked Tack Wilson with two out and the bases loaded to force home the winning run in the 10th inning as San Antonio defeated Midland, 4-3, in the opener of the best-of-three Texas League Western Division

After a leadoff single by Ed Santos and a sacrifice, Smith walked three batters, but the one that hurt was when he lost .190-hitting catcher Don

The loss especially was distressing, because the Cubs were apparently beaten in the regulation nine innings, tamed on five hits by Steve Howe, the June draft pick from the University of Michigan. Not only did he look untouchable going into the ninth with a

2-1 lead, but with the wind blowing in from center, it didn't look like anyone was going to turn the game around

Then the lefthander walked Javier

Fierro with one out and Bill Hayes with two outs, and was only one strike away from victory when Dan Rhon pounced on a 1-2 pitch and punched it into right. It bad-bounced by Mark

Bradley for a triple and Midland had

Mike Allen, who had bailed the Cubs starter Henry Mack out of a bases-loaded situation in the eighth,

gave up a single to Bradley and Manager Randy Hundley brought in

Lee wild-pitched the runner to second and he scored after a walk to Wilson and a Gary Weiss single.

Crow after getting a 0-2 count.

"I don't have the words to express how I feel about this team being able to hang in there," Noll said of the players who have given him three Super Bowl rings, something no other coach has. "We were less than efficient but we gutted it out.

That is the essence of the Steelers, the way they can lay back and wait for the other team to make the mistake, then call on some inner reserve for the plays, the yards, the vic-

"The game was ours for the asking," said John Hannah, the Patriots' All-Pro guard. "We just didn't take it. The game should have been ours. But every time we did something big, we got penalized.'

Like when his illegal motion penalty wiped out a 39-yard Steve Grogan pass that would have put the ball on the Steeler 5-yard line. Or Sam Cunningham's 31-yard run to the Pittsburgh 15 killed by a clip. In the overtime, after the Pats went nowhere with the kickoff and Hare punted 40 yards to the Steeler 31, Harris and Thornton took turns taking Bradshaw handoffs and chewing up the yards, 17 of them in one chunk by Thornton, 11 by Harris in a sweep. Finally the ball was on the Patriots' 24, and then it was through the up-

"We should have won the game," said Patriots safety Tim Fox. "We won it five times - and lost it six

Pie In The Sky, with Danny Cardoza aboard, is led to the winner's circle by Blaine Wood, son of trainer Leo D. Wood, after winning the All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs Monday. The two-owners, Dan and Jolene Urschel of Canadian, Texas. The total purse was $1,280,000. (AP Laser-

Futurity is piece of Pie

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. (AP) -Dan Urschel believes his colt Pie In The Sky's victory in the $1.28 million All-American Futurity is proof that people should never give up, never

Only a few short months ago, Urschel believed his hopes for winning "the world's richest horse race" rode with Easy Dimple

The Canadian, Texas, rancher and his wife. Jolene, had returned to racing after being out of the business since 1973 by buying the filly for $160,000 as a yearling last year. And in Easy Dimple, he felt he had a great runner - the kind it takes to win the All-American.

BUT HIS dreams were shattered this past May when the filly broke down in her first out.

"When that happened to her, it was the end to everything," said Urschel in describing how he had felt.

He decided, however, he would not quit. He began searching for another speedster

"We flew about 20,000 to 30,000 miles looking for a horse," he said. Urschel found several he wanted to buy, including two he said ultimately qualified for the All-American. But none could be bought.

Urschel and his trainer Leo Wood, of Lubbock, Texas, kept searching, and finally in June were able to buy Pie In The Sky from Joe McDermott of Houston, Texas.

His perserverance returned big dividends Monday when the colt bolted down the straightaway at Ruidoso Downs, to capture the $487,500 pot of gold that goes to the winner of quarter horse racing's Triple Crown finale.

"It's satisfying," said Urschell, who added that the triumph shows people everywhere they should always keep trying. "Things will work out if they are supposed to."

PIE IN The Sky posted the top qualifying time last month for the nationally televised 440-yard scramble for 2-year-old quarter horses. He proved that was no fluke by beating the public choice, Streakin Six, to the wire by 11/2 lengths in a time of 21.76 seconds.

On the break, Pie In The Sky, the second favorite, and outsider Thats Raney bumped. Jockey Danny Cardoza quickly got Pie In the Sky straightened out and the colt was off "About 150 yards away from the starting gate I didn't think they'd catch me," said Cardoza a California jockey making his second All-American ride after guiding Holme Maid to third place a year ago.

STREAKIN SIX, who went off at 3-2, also had problems coming out of the gate as he was bumped by Midland horse Sages Belle Star, the horse expected to give Pie In The Sky and Streakin Six the stiffest challenge.

Neither Streaking Six nor Sages Belle star were able to recover quickly enough to seriously challenge the high-flying Pie In The Sky. Streaking Six did close with a furious charge that was strong enough to get the colt second place. Sages Belle Star could do no better than fifth. The $487,500 Pie In The Sky won swelled the colt's earnings to $521,481 and improved his record to 4-0-4 in eight starts.

Urschel said the horse's unusual name had been given to him by McDermott. He said he did not know why McDermott chose that name, but that considering what had happened, it was appropriate. "That's what you're reaching for in the All-American, I guess, that Pie In The Sky," said Urschel, who declined to say what he paid for the horse. Pie In The Sky went off at 9-5 odds and returned pari-mutuel payoffs of $5.00, $3.20, $2.40. Streakin Six earned $177,500 for owner Anne B. Tandy of Ft. Worth, Texas, and refunded payoffs of $3.00 and $2.60. Thats Raney took third to earn $82, 500 for owners Hugh Tucker and Bill

Reed of Comfort and Stamford, Texas. The show price was $2.80. Each of the ten horses that qualified from a field of more than 300 hopefuls earned healthy paychecks with the prize money scaled down to $35,000 for Ask The Boss, who was scratched and

Travelers whip Shreveport, 2-1

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Arkansas' Ty Waller singled to left field with the bases loaded against Shreveport Monday night to drive in the winning run in the Travelers' 12-inning Eastern Division Playoff victory. The Travelers won 2-1. Waller's single - his first hit in six times at bat - drove in Jorge Aranzamendi. Aranzamendi had singled to left and stole second base. He moved to third on an error.

Shreveport intentionally walked Dave Penniall and Gene Dodson to set up the bases loaded play.

Arkansas took the lead in the first inning when Gene Roof scored on a sacrifice by Penniall.

The Travelers maintained the 1-0 lead until the eighth inning when Greg Baker scored on a single by Jim

So for the Cubs, it was almost like landing on a "Wing and a Prayer".

For eight innings, it was a two-man show, Howe and Mack. Howe gave up an unearned run in the first inning when Mike Turgeon doubled home Rocky Thompson, who had reached first on shortstop Weiss' error and the rally stayed alive when second baseman Larry Fobbs bobbled Krug's grounder, to get a force at second.

San Antonio tied the game in the third when Bradley walked, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Wilson's single into left. The Dodgers made it 2-1 in the fourth when Hernandez singled and Mike Zouras singled and Fobbs walked to load the bases with two out. Bradley bounced a run-scoring single up the middle.

So the Cubs, who go into tonight's game with a no tomorrow situation, and Hundley will call upon Herman Segelke, 13-8, to keep the seres alive while Ducky LeJohn will try to close it out with Mark Nine (11-8)

Cub General Mananger Bill Rigney will again do the play-by-play, starting at 7:15 p.m. on Radio Station

Borg survives Stockton

NEW YORK (AP) - Dick Stockton was full of surprises, both for himself and Bjorn Borg, although, in the end, the result was anything but surpris-

Stockton extended Borg, the world's top player and the No. 1 seed at the U.S. Open tennis championships, to four sets Monday before bowing 6-4, 1-6, 7-6, 7-5. Borg thus advanced to the quarterfinals where he'll meet either fifth-seed Roscoe Tanner, whom he beat in a five-set final at Wimbledon in July, or No. 14 Tim Gullikson.

"I was a little surprised the way Dick was playing," said the Swede who has won four consecutive Wimbledon championships but has never won the U.S. Open. "That's the best match he's ever played against me. He was serving well and covering the net real well, which gave me problems to pass. I needed almost perfect passing shots." Today's matches featured four all-American men's singles confrontations. Aside from Tanner-Gullikson, No. 2 seed Jimmy Connors, the defending champion, battled No. 11 Brian Gottfried, No. 3 John McEnroe played unseeded Tom Gorman, and No. 7 Harold Solomon took on unseeded Pat DuPre. The top women's matches had No. 1 Chris Evert Lloyd against unseeded Sherry Acker, No. 3 Tracy Austin versus No. 11 Kathy Jordan and Kerry Reid of Australia, the eighth-seed, against unranked Anne Smith.

The unseeded Stockton, 28, was the first player to give Borg problems here. Borg had won his first three matches losing just 11 games in nine

"This was the best I played in a long time." admitted Stockton, who has been plagued this year by a bad back and has been badly off-form. "I hadn't played well to get to the fourth round. I don't know why it turned around all of a sudden. I hadn't been serving and volleying well but I did

"To beat Bjorn, you have to hit outright winners or force him to make bad shots. He doesn't make a lot of mistakes. That's whe he sits up there where he is.' Borg made plenty of errors Monday, especially in the second set and at the outset of the third, when Stockton broke the Swede's serve.

"It was very important that I break back immediately," he said - and he

In the fourth set, Borg led 5-3 and held a match point but Stockton rallied to hold serve, then broke Borg at love to even the set 5-5. Once again, Borg broke right back - at love.

"I didn't play a bad game at 5-all," said Stockton, "and I didn't win a Patient Eddie Dibbs, the No. 9 seed, upset No. 6 Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, the 1977 Open winner, 6-3, 5-7, 7-5, 6-1 in a three-hour, 10-minute match. Dibbs stuck with his baseline game, rarely coming to the net and consistently passing Vilas when the Argentine left-hander came up. Vilas was limping badly after the match and Dibbs complained of a sore

The most exciting match of the day involved two unseeded youngsters, 21-year-old Johan Kriek of South Africa and 19-year-old Yannick Noah of France. The 5-foot-7 Kriek, a hardserving, lightning-quick performer, won the first two sets 6-3, 7-6 before Noah, the French protege of Arthur

Ashe, took the next two sets 6-4, 6-1. "I pushed myself hard the first two sets and got very tired," said Kriek, who often tumbled in pursuit of shots by the much taller Noah. "I let it go a little in the third set and thought, 'I'm so tired,' but still I had to push myself. I thought about Roger Bannister running the 4-minute mile and I played my guts out."

Joining Borg, Kriek and Dibbs in the quarterfinals was Vitas Gerulaitis, a 7-6, 6-2, 6-2 victor over 10th-seeded Jose-Luis Clerc of Argentina. Gerulaitis, the fourth seed, faces Kriek, whom he knocked out of the same round here last year.

Four of the biggest names in women's tennis qualified for the quarterfinals. One of them, fourth-seeded Virginia Wade of Britain, didn't have to play a game to advance. Regina Marsikova of Czechoslovakia had to retire after tearing a tendon in her right ankle chasing a shot in the opening game of the match.

Martina Navratilova, seeded second, blasted No. 10 Greer Stevens of South Africa 6-2, 6-2, while fifth-seeded Evonne Goolagong Cawley stopped Jeanne DuVall 6-3, 3-6, 6-0 and No. 9 Billie Jean King beat Kathy May Teacher 6-3, 6-0.

The 35-year-old King, who has won the Open four times, and Wade, who has won it once, oppose each other in "We've played so many times before ... We've had so many great matches ... We know each other's game so well ... it should be a really great match. And it should be a lot of fun out there, with both our temperaments." Angels obtain Harper

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) - The California Angels announced Monday they have purchased the contract of catcher Brian Harper from their Class AA affiliate at El Paso, Tex.

Harper, who reported to the American League team immediately, is a graduate of nearby San Pedra High School.

Flanagan earns No. 20 as Birds sweep Toronto

By The Associated Press

Mike Flanagan and Nolan Ryan can stop worrying - Flanagan about winning 20 games and Ryan about the condition of his valuable right arm.

Flanagan, the Baltimore lefthander who had to settle for 19 victories a year ago, became a 20-game winner for the first time Monday and the first in the majors this season by defeating the Toronto Blue Jays 5-1 on a seven-hitter to complete a doubleheader sweep.

"I made too big a deal about it last year," said Flanagan, who won his 17th game on Aug. 26, 1978, but was only 2-4 with two no-decisions in his final eight 'starts. "There's enough pressure in a pennant race. Why worry about personal goals?" The Orioles, who lead the American League East by 81/2 games over Milwaukee, won the opener 2-1 on Eddie Murrav's tie-breaking bases-loaded single in the 11th inning. The secondplace Brewers dropped another halfgame off the pace despite a 6-3 tri-

Meanwhile, Ryan, coming back from a late July elbow injury, recorded his 14th victory of the season but only his second since he fired a onehitter against the New York Yankees on July 13 as the West Division-leading California Angels edged the Chicago White Sox 6-5. "Today is the first day I didn't have to worry about the arm," Ryan said, although he allowed six hits, six walks and five runs in six innings-plus. "It felt good like it should. It's still not 100 percent, but it's getting closer.' By winning, the Angels maintained their 1½-game lead over Kansas City in the AL West when the Royals nipped the Minnesota Twins 1-0.

Pat Kelly, whose pinch single was turned into the winning run in the first game, led off the second inning of the nightcap with a homer to ignite a four-run outburst that was more than enough for Flanagan, who posted his sixth consecutive victory and 10th in

Shapira wins MCC golf title

Andy Shapira reigns as the Midland Country Club's new golf champion after defeating upstart Kelly Cox, 2-1. in the match play finals of the club's annual club championship golf tournament Monday.

Shapira won the club title in 1974 and now has listed his second title at MCC. Cox had defeated former champions Ted Fergeson and Randy Geiselman to gain the finals, but failed to win his first club title when he ran into former champ Shapira. Dr. Dean Strack, another former club titlest, won the consolation prize with a 2-1 win over Ted Kerr

Other flight winners were Martin Allday, first; Gus Locker, second; Boley Embrey, third; Larry Foster, fourth; and Ed Blackaller, fifth.

Speed aids Expos in twinbill sweep

By The Associated Press

Rodney Scott is a real speed-burner, so it's no surprise when Montreal Manager Dick Williams uses him as a pinch-runner for slow-footed Rusty

"Let's just say Rodney's a slight bit faster than I am," says Staub with a grin. "You time him with a stopwatch - you time me with a calendar.'

But it wasn't Scott's speed that got Montreal's winning run home Monday in the second game of a doubleheader with the New York Mets. It was his head. Scott used it to deflect a throw by second baseman Doug Flynn after he was seemingly caught flat-footed in a rundown play between second and third. The ball bounced into left field and Scott raced home to give the Expos a 6-5, 10-inning victory and a sweep of the twinbill.

"The ball hit me right on the back of the head," said Scott, whose team also won the first game, 7-2. "I saw right away where the ball went. I was sure going to try to go all the way

Staub had doubled off the left field wall at Olympic Stadium with one out in the 10th to set the stage for the Mets' misplay.

"I didn't see where it hit the wall." said the flame-haired Montreal first baseman. "I couldn't be looking. I don't have a lot of speed so I've got to use what I've got. Staub's double came off reliever Neil Allen, 4-8. After Scott went into the game, Ellis Valentine bounced the ball back to Allen, who attempted to nail the runner off second base. The pitcher's throw went to Flynn, who made the ill-fated throw.

The Mets had tied the nightcap at 5-5 with four runs in a seventh-inning rally triggered by Richie Hebner's two-run double. The Expos won the opener as Gary Carter keyed a three-run first inning with a two-run homer and Bill Lee, 14-10, and Stan Bahnsen combined on a six-hitter. Combined with Pittsburgh's split, Montreal's sweep pulled the Expos within 21/2 games of the division-leading Pirates in the NL East. Phillies 2-3, Pirates 0-7 Steve Carlton and Tug McGraw teamed up on a one-hitter - Steve Nicosia's sixth-inning double - to lead Philadelphia over. Pittsburgh in the opener of their double-header. The opening-game loss snapped a sixgame winning streak by the Pirates. Dale Berra drove in three runs and Jim Rooker gained his 100th career victory as the Pirates beat the Phil-

Dodgers 1, Astros 0 Jerry Reuss hurled a two-hitter and Joe Ferguson singled in the winning run to lead Los Angeles over Houston. The loss, coupled with Cincinnnati's victory over Atlanta, dropped the Astros into second place in the tight NL West race, a half-game behind the Houston's Joe Niekro, 18-9, had a no-hitter going through five innings before Johnny Oates singled to open the Dodger sixth. Niekro walked Dusty Baker in the seventh and wildpitched him to second before Ferguson singled to score Baker.

Reds 6, Braves 5 Dave Collins' run-scoring single in the eighth led Cincinnati over Atlanta as Gene Garber set a major league record for most losses by a relief pitcher in a season. Garber's loss was his 15th, erasing the record of 14 held by pitchers in both the National and American Leagues, the last by Mike Marshall of Los Angeles in 1975.

The Reds moved back into first place in the NL West with the win. The score was tied at 5-5 when Ray Knight led off the Reds' eighth with his third single of the game. He stole second and then scored when Collins belted his single to center off Garber, "I didn't think Garber would come back with a fastball inside like he did;" said Collins. "He threw me a

Mike Hargrove led off the fifth inning with a homer off Jack Morris, breaking a 3-3 tie. Rick Wise, 14-7, scattered five hits, including Ron Le-Flore's two-run homer that tied the game in the top of the fifth.

Pearson takes Southern 500

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) - Skirmishes, duels and outright battles marked jockeying for the early lead in the Southern 500 stock car race, while David Pearson hung back a bit, watched and waited.

And less than 100 miles from the end patience paid off as Pearson made his move and took first place Monday at Darlington International Raceway.

"Darlington is just so tough, so hot. You have to drive it just like you did 15 years ago — defensively," the 44year-old ace from Spartanburg, S.C., said after he piloted the Osterlund team's Chevrolet to the winner's cir-

Pearson, who started driving for Osterlund last month after a split with the Wood Brothers team in April and a layoff from the NASCAR Grand National circuit, played it cool while the other drivers pushed themselves or their machines too hard.

"That's the way to drive (at Darlington), just stay out of trouble until the end of the race and then take chances if I have to do it," said a weary Pearson. He took home $29,925 for the latest of nine victories at the classic but treacherous Darlington oval, including two previous Southern

Passing not new to Springs

DALLAS (AP) - Ron Springs prepared for his National Football League passing debut long before he signed on with the Dallas Cowboys. 'We worked on the halfback pass at Ohio State all the time," said Springs. "But Woody (Hayes) would never let me throw it in a game.'

He got his chance Sunday when Cowboy Coach Tom Landry called his number on the halfback pass. Springs rolled to his left, pulled up and launched a left-handed, 30-yard touchdown strike to Tony Hill in Dallas' 22-21 win over the St. Louis Cardi-

"In training camp, Coach Landry came up to me one day and said he wanted me to throw the ball some.

"I threw the pass again four times last week in practice and completed three of them. I thought I might get a chance to throw it against the Cardinals," Springs said.

Springs, one of seven rookies who made the 1979 Dallas roster, said he got excited when Landry called the play "Fire Toss 28 halfback pass" in the fourth quarter.

"I thought, 'Hey, that's my play.' I wiped my hands on Tony's towel. I took the pitch like it was going to be a run then glanced at the St. Louis secondary. Sure enough, they took the bait and fony was running free. All I

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — "We'll have to b or ban 'em, one or the other," Johnny Ru says of the Penske and Chaparral ground designs - which dominated the California

Bobby Unser, Rick Mears and Mario Andretti finished 1-2-3 in the 500-mile Indy-car event at Ontario Motor Speedway, each driving Penske PC-7 Cos-worth cars that use a road-hugging principle. The ground effects cars channel air under the chassic to create suction and improve cornering.

Rutherford finished fourth in a McLaren-Cos

Although they are the hit of the Indy-car season,

"We have a PC-8 that's coming along," said Bobby the 1-2-3 finishers will be in new hands in 1980 as the Penske team turns to an even newer design.

Unser. "The PC-7s have already been sold. With any luck at all we'll be testing the PC-8 in November.

"The PC-7 didn't come about easy," he added.

'But the way Roger runs this outfit, I don't see

Mears won the Indy 500 in an older design PC-6 while

Bobby Unser was still working the handling bugs out

why we can't get the new car running," Bobby Unser said as he enjoyed his fifth victory in 11 races of the Championship Auto Racing Teams (CART) season.

Mears has won just twice, but he has never finished lower than seventh and is the series points leader with 3,400 to Bobby Unser's 3,070.

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market retreated Tuesday following a new surge in the price of gold.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which closed last Friday at its highest level in more than 10 months, pulled back 5.21 to 882.42 by noon today.

Losers outnumbered gainers by a 7-4 margin in the mid-day tally of New York Stock Exchange-listed issues. The gold price reached a record high of $325 an ounce at the afternoon fixing in London, coming off a sharp rise in Monday's trading. The price of the metal is considered a reliable indicator of international uneasiness over inflation and currency uncertainties. Analysts also theorized that the continuing rise of interest rates might also have put some investors on their guard. The bank prime lending rate, already at an all-time high of 121/4 percent, is widely expected to go to Gold-mining stocks rose, following the lead of the bullion price. ASA picked up 1/2 to $27 % and Homestake

SW Bell says Texans should accept hikes

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. says Texans should accept a little inflation in their telephone bills to help Bell cope with the inflation it suffers.

Phil Ricketts, hearings director for the Texas Public Utility Commission, opens an estimated two weeks of testimony today on Bell's request for $145.2 million in rate increases. The PUC staff, whose recommendations carry extreme weight with the three-man commission, says Bell is entitled to $137.7 million in increases Staff members were expected to pare their recommendation by $1 million and Bell was expected to cut its request by $2 million because of errors in calculation. Bell says two-thirds of its requested increase in revenue should come from a $1.55 per month across-the-board increase in basic residential and business telephone bills. In pre-filed testimony, N. Carlton

Baker, Bell's vice-president for revenues and public affairs, said two basic reasons are behind the rate increase. "One is inflation. The second is the continuing demand for telephone service in an inflationary environment,' he said. He said Bell's labor contract with the Communications Workers of America will add $46.5 million to the telephone company's costs over the coming year. Baker said interest rates on Bell debentures are 9% percent, compared with 834 last year. Bell's attractiveness to investors also is a major issue. New York stock analyst Bradford Peery said in pre-filed testimony he now recommends that his clients sell their stock in American Telephone & Telegraph (AT&T), Bell's parent

Bricks cause library to close

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) - University of Massachusett officials have closed the school's library, saying that brick chips falling from the facade of the 28-story tower, are a threat to pedestrian safety. UMass spokesman Rick Shanor said the library was closed Friday on the recommendation of a firm of consulting engineers. Shanor said the closing would create significant problems at the 24,000student university, where fall semester classes begin Wednesday. No one has been hit by the falling chips, Shanor said. Pedestrian traffic was being detoured around the library, situated near the center of campus. It was not known how long the library would be closed nor what attempts would be made to tranfer its. operations or resources to another site, he said.

Love triangle trial will be replay of 1978 tragedy

By JANE SEE WHITE

NEW YORK (AP) — Buddy Jacobson was in jail a year ago begging to be released on bail because, he said, he was going bankrupt. Cover girl Melanie Cain, whose startling beauty could earn $100,000 a year, was in seclusion. Melanie's new lover had been murdered; Jacobson, her ex-lover, was charged with the killing - a slaying one detective called "the juiciest murder that has come down the pike in New York for years. Today Jacobson is orchestrating real estate deals involving millions of dollars; Melanie Cain's modeling career is soaring. But the nightmare of August 1978 is about to begin again: Jacobson is scheduled to go to trial Tuesday; Melanie is expected to testify as a key prosecution witness. Howard "Buddy" Jacobson is charged with second-degree murder in the stabbing, shooting, beating killing of Jack Tupper, the 34-year-old restaurateur whose apartment Melanie moved into last year when she left Buddy Jacobson. Jacobson says he didn't do it.

Buddy and Melanie met in 1973. Thattwas the year Melanie came to New York, the year that her first, tentative step swept her to the top of modeling's heap: Eileen Ford, this town's top modeling agent, snapped Melanie up. She appeared on the covers of Cosmopolitan and Seventeen. Buddy was Melanie's landlord. Once he had been the nation's top race horse trainer, but when they met he was buying and renovating buildings. A dark little man whose ragged mustache and disheveled, casual clothing were reminiscent of Charlie Chaplin, he was a 42-year-old divorced father. He told Melanie he was 29. He introduced his two teen-age sons as his brothers. They set up housekeeping together in his apartment.

When Ford fired Melanie - because, a friend recalls, Mrs. Ford heard rumors that Melanie was trying to lure models to another agency -Buddy and Melanie started an agency. They named it for Melanie's favorite Broadway musical: My Fair Lady. Buddy and Melanie lasted five years together. Then she left him, moving from his seventh floor duplex across the hall, into Jack Tupper's duplex. She told friends that she and Tupper were going to marry. Jacobson begged her to come back. Tupper tape-recorded one plea in which Jacobson offered to set him up in another business if he gave up Melanie.

But the nightmare truly began on August 6, 1978. Melanie spent that Sunday morning hunting for a new apartment. When she returned to Tupper's at noon, he was gone. Melanie looked in Jacobson's apartment, found it in disarray and

At the same time, a couple 11 miles away in the Bronx saw two men drag a crate from a yellow 1974 Cadillac. The men set, the crate afire, then sped away. The couple noted the license number

In the charred crate, firemen found Tupper's body — shot, stabbed, beaten and, finally, burned. When police stopped the Cadillac, Buddy Jacobson was at Jacobson was charged with second-degree murder along with Salvatore

Prainito, a 23-year-old illegal alien who worked for Jacobson "off the books" renovating buildings, according to Ed McCarthy of the Bronx district attor-In the year since Tupper's murder, Jacobson has been out of jail on $100,000 bail. He seems unchanged — unruly dark hair, shaggy mustache, springy step. As he talks, he restlessly paces his almost empty, stark white apart-He has renamed My Fair Lady. Today it is Polly Models, but he says it's dormant, because reputation is everything in modeling and with all the publicity, it's not going to go anywhere. In February, Jacobson sold his apartment building on Manhattan's trendy, stylish East Side, the building where Tupper apparently was killed. The price was $1,525,000 - $524,000 in cash. Last December, he sold another East Side building for $1,600,000; he took $871,000 in cash. "I had to sell everything I had to begin to raise money for attorneys. Then I started reinvesting," Jacobson says. He says he's bought eight buildings since then, but he's not a rich man. 'After you purchase something is when you're broke," he says. "It's all juggling, financially."

Jacobson keeps an apartment today with a pretty, dark young woman named Audrey — a model, like Melanie — in an East Side town-house, across the street from the building where former President Nixon is trying to buy a condominium apartment. The townhouse and two adjacent buildings were purchased last month for $1,250,000 by David Jacobson,

And Melanie Cain?

After the murder, she abandoned My Fair Lady and signed with one of Manhattan's top agencies, Wilhelmina. With her lean limbs, full lips and long honey-colored hair, Melanie has done well. She is busy with modeling jobs, says Wilhelmina Cooper, her boss. There are several full-page shots of her in Vogue's August issue. Ms. Cooper says Melanie now earns for a day's work "even more" than the $600 that she was charging a year ago at My Fair Lady. Melanie could be a $200,000-a-year face now.

For a time, after the murder, Buddy Jacobson maneuvered to meet with Melanie Cain. He says he wanted to talk with her because she could clear him, if she only knew how. Melanie's attorneys sought and got a court order that barred Jacobson from approaching her, calling her, from any contact at all.

Melanie moved, too, from the building where she had lived first with Jacobson, then with Tupper. She stayed with friends for a time. "I guess it was about four months ago I got a call from an apartment building because Melanie wantzd to rent there," Jacobson says. "They were calling

Gibraltar Savings brings $125 million to Texas

At Gibraltar Savings we're proud to announce that financial strength has enabled us to bring $125 million in additional funds to Texas, to meet the growing demand for mortgage money.

The funds were raised with the offering of mortgaged-backed bonds made possible through Gibraltar's asset strength. The bonds are being offered through underwriters led by Merrill Lynch and Salomon Brothers. This is the largest single amount ever raised, by a savings association, through a mortgaged-backed bond offering in Texas.

These $125 million will' be invested into Midland and other communities we serve all across Texas. At Gibraltar Savings we're investing in Texas. We're creating jobs, improving the economy, and raising the standard of living for you and yours.
