Council could change its tune regarding dancing

By LANA CUNNINGHAM
Staff Writer

Dancing in Midland could take on new dimensions if some proposed zoning ordinance changes gain the approval of the Midland City Council.

Changes in restrictions for restaurants, lounges and bars are part of a package recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission to the City Council for approval.

Second part of the package deals with sizes of signs in residential, office and neighborhood service districts.

These proposals should go before the council at its Oct. 4 meeting for discussion, said Richard Hennessy, director of planning and community development for the city.

The ordinance governing various eating and drinking establishments defines a lounge as any place that serves food and/or alcoholic beverages and provides facilities for dancing, Hennessy said.

But term "lounge" has drawn objections from some prospective restaurant owners.

"People think lounge deals primarily with alcoholic beverages," Hennessy recounted.

"Some people have been hesitant to apply for a lounge permit because of this idea. These people are wanting to sell food and provide an area for dancing," he said.

As a compromise, the owners will eliminate dancing from their establishments and make them restaurants only, according to the director.

The proposed ordinance would reclassify the different activities in various establishments.

Restrictions for a restaurant are the strictest, said Hennessy. Applicants still could get a specific use permit to sell alcoholic beverages, but the establishment would be operated as a restaurant.

Rules call for 60 percent of the total sales to be for food and non-alcoholic beverages, he explained. He added that means alcoholic beverages can be served only with food.

United Way's early efforts net 23 percent

Pre-campaign solicitations by Midland United Way volunteers through Friday had generated a total of $233,039.52, which is 23 percent of the 1980 goal of $1,017,000.

Final pre-campaign solicitation figures are expected by the middle of this week, according to United Way officials.

Allen K. Trobaugh, board of directors president, made the announcement Saturday during a "kick-off fair" at Dellwood Mall.

The fair, which formally began Midland's general campaign, was designed to help inform Midlanders about the services and programs of the 19 agencies supported by Midland United Way.

The amount raised represents contributions by United Way staff and volunteer leadership, of 14 pilot firms and of certain individuals and corporations who are solicited before the general campaign, Trobaugh said.

Pilot firms are businesses which agree to run their campaign early to demonstrate their leadership support to the campaign and to help test campaign procedures and techniques to be used in the general campaign.

These firms and their employees pledged a total of $172,609.27, which represents an 11 percent increase over the amount pledged last year by the same firms and employee groups.

According to United Way officials, "employee giving" increases in individual firms participating in this year's early campaign ranged from 9 to 117 percent over last year's figures.

The overall increase in employee giving was 14.4 percent.

Among the pilot firms are Adobe Oil Corp.; Atlantic Richfield; Elcor/Ort; The First National Bank; Fox, Westheimer & Co.; Frank See Chevrolet; and Lynch, Chappell, Allday & Aldridge.

The Midland National Bank; The Midland Reporter-Telegram; Schlumberger; Sears, Roebuck & Co.; Texas Electric Service Co.; Texas Instruments; and Tom Brown, Inc. complete the group of 14 pilot firms.

Trobaugh said an objective of $254,250 — 25 percent of the goal — has been set for the first report meeting on Oct. 4.

Report meetings for campaign volunteers have been scheduled for Oct. 4, 11, 18 and 25 and Nov. 1 and 8. All are scheduled at noon in Texas Electric Service Co.'s Reddy Room.

Our confused foreign policy

By WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST JR.
Editor-in-Chief,
The Hearst Newspapers

About the only thing that Cuba and Israel have in common is that our policy regarding both is, at best, muddled. Our position in respect to either is infirm. No one really knows where we stand. Nor, apparently, do we. Nor, obviously, does our president.

It has been nearly a month, now, since a spy satellite spotted the presence of an armored Soviet brigade in Cuba. U.S. and Russian officials have been huddling secretly since then, trying to work out some agreement, though the last word was that the Soviets were heatedly denying their presence there. However, some news stories have insisted that the Russians are training insurgent troops from Latin American countries in guerrilla warfare techniques, and that they even have a nuclear submarine in Havana Harbor capable of launching a salvo of nuclear rockets into the United States.

True, or untrue? We don't know. The big question is, does our president really know what's going on there? After all, he is our commander in chief. Does Secretary of State Cyrus Vance know the extent of the Russian force in Cuba and the degree of mischief that it is capable of causing?

If either knows what's going on, the information is being kept from the voters, and that is what is troubling me.

President Carter, for instance, canceled our flights of the U-2 reconnaissance plane over Cuba in the spring of Both Moscow and Washington recognize him for what he is — a blustering, braggadocious, conceited man who could not be trusted in a penny candy store.

The Soviets have come up with the lame story that they are training Cuban troops for service in Africa. The Russian force is supposed to replace some 18,000 Cubans who are serving abroad. Who said Cuba's presence was needed in Africa, other than former U.S. Ambassador Andrew Young, who thought it a "stabilizing influence" there?

Sen. Scoop Jackson, D-Wash., believes that the U.S. should refuse to sign the SALT II agreement until the Soviets dismantle their military facilities in Cuba and quit using their huge deep-water port for naval berthing of surface vessels and nuclear submarines.

I agree with him for a number of reasons.

First the foremost is the simple question: What good is an agreement made with people who expand aggression throughout the globe and who covertly build military facilities in the very shadow of this nation in an attempt to undermine it all in viola-

1977 as a good will gesture to Castro, but failed to make an announcement to the American people. The fact remained unknown until a couple of weeks ago when it was uncovered by The Hearst Newspapers, and made public through the columns of this newspaper.

There lingers the impression that both Russia and the United States are trying to find a face-saving device which will (1) grant us some rights while (2) the Russians will be permitted to maintain some kind of force in Cuba.

In all of this, Castro does not count.

Here is the Ranch Biscuit Recipe that Y. Trevino requested.

I am including another recipe that I like better than the ranch recipe.

I work the ingredients until they are moist, then instead of a covered bowl, I use a plastic bag. I knead the dough in the plastic bag then refrigerate. I pinch off and use as needed. They will keep for weeks and get better all the time.

The Angel Biscuits recipe is foolproof. You can substitute buttermilk for sweet milk by adding one teaspoon of soda. You can increase or decrease the shortening to make them as tough or tender as you like. — Minter McReynolds one-half cup sugar; one-half cup shortening; one teaspoon soda; one package dry yeast, dissolved in one-fourth cup warm water; two cups buttermilk.

Ranch Biscuits: Four and one-half cups flour; four teaspoons baking powder; one teaspoon salt, or more;

Mix together like biscuits. Put on board and knead in some flour to where you can handle easily. Put in refrigerator in covered dish. Punch down, pinch off as needed. Does not have to rise. Can be used as soon as it is mixed. Put remainder in refrigerator. Bake at 400 degrees (to 425 degrees) until brown.

ANGEL BISCUITS: Five cups all-purpose flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon salt, two cups sweet milk, three-fourths cup vegetable shortening, two tablespoons sugar, one yeast cake, dissolved in COLLEGE STATION — Agricultural officials are predicting a good year for corn, grain sorghum, wheat and cotton.

Good year predicted for corn, grain, cotton

In many cases, those yields will exceed yields from previous years, according to the forecast, put out through the U.S. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Corn production nationwide is forecast for a record 185 million metric tons, about 2 percent above the Aug. 1 forecast and 3 percent more than the previous record set nationally last year.

Grain sorghum nationwide has been forecast at 814 million bushels, up 9 percent over last year.

All wheat production has been placed at 2.12 billion bushels, or 57.8 million metric tons, 18 percent more than last year and the second largest crop of record.

Meanwhile, cotton production has been forecast at 14.2 million bales, 31 percent more than 1978. The 90 percent confidence interval for the 1979 production forecast is 12.5 to 16 million bales.

There will be no set-aside program for 1980 wheat, according to preliminary provisions of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's 1980 wheat program released recently by the USDA.

Nonetheless, the loan rate for 1980 will increase from $2.35 to $2.50 per bushel of wheat.

The estimated target price for wheat is expected to be between $2.95 and $3.20 per bushel, according to the USDA.

The 1979 target price was $2.98, but because of a 20 percent set-aside, it was adjusted to $3.40. The final 1980 target price will be announced by March 15.

In other news affecting wheat farmers, the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977, which provided for a disaster payment program through 1979, is scheduled to expire at the end of the year.

There will be no disaster coverage for the 1980 crops unless new legislation is enacted.

Directors to attend state meeting

Four directors of the Midland Soil and Water Conservation District and district conservationist Dick Hagelstein of the U.S. Soil Conservation Services will be in El Paso Oct. 2-4 to attend the 39th annual Texas State meeting of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation District directors.

The Midland directors are J.D. Crawford, Alvey Bryant, Vernon Chandler and John Braun.

Theme of the meeting will be "Challenge of the '80s."

Approximately 900 directors from Texas conservation districts are to attend the meeting.

Directors and conservationists will review developments affecting Texas conservation programs and will plan future conservation programs and activities.

Speakers are to include Nell Sampson, executive vice president of the National Association of Conservation Districts, Washington, D.C.; State Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene, and John Henry Faulk, humorist, historian and philosopher.

Others to speak at the meeting are to include U.S. Rep. Richard C. White of El Paso; Charles Stenhold of Stamford; Kenneth Kuykendall, president of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts, and David Firor, southern representative of the National Association of Conservation Districts.

Cotton harvest to yield $21 million

BIG SPRING — Howard County's late cotton harvest of 105,000 acres should yield revenue totaling $21 million, according to Howard County Agricultural Agent Don Richardson.

He said the harvest should be as good as any other year, despite patches of cotton damaged this year by hail.

Cotton prices may be bringing close to 55 cents a pound. A bale of lint cotton generally weighs between 400 and 500 pounds.

Ranch Management Conference set

COLLEGE STATION — Discussions will key on producing more beef at less cost at the 17th annual Ranch Management Conference at Vernon Regional Junior College in Vernon Oct. 5.

The conference will include discussion on fencing, supplemental feeding, use of computers in production, record keeping, control of and use of mesquite, winter kill of Kleingrass and the market outlook, says a Texas Agricultural Extension Service range specialist.

Livestock recovered in Mexico

FORT WORTH — Two mules, a registered stud colt and a sorrel gelding stolen from a Southwest Texas ranch two months ago were recovered in Mexico in early September by Mexican and U.S. law enforcement officials. No arrests relating to the case have been made.

Value of the livestock was $5,000.

Brewster County Sheriff Jack McDaniel of Alpine and Jody Henderson, field inspector for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, worked with Mexican officials in locating the animals near Muzquiz, Coahuila, about 120 miles south of Del Rio.

Egypt denies report about Soviet supplies

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Defense Minister Gen. Kamal Hassan Ali on Saturday denied reports that the Soviet Union is supplying Egypt with spare parts for military equipment, according to Cairo's official Middle East News Agency.

It quoted Ali as saying in Washington that reports of recent Soviet aid to Egypt were "malicious rumors intended to damage budding friendly relations between Egypt and the United States." Ali is in Washington with a list of Egypt's long-range military needs.

All told the agency that Soviet leaders are still maintaining the arms embargo they slapped on Egypt after the 1973 Middle East war.

Palestinians exchange fire with militias

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Palestinian guerrillas exchanged artillery fire with Israeli-backed Christian militias in southern Lebanon for the second consecutive day Saturday, Israel's military command reported.

The command continued to deny a Palestine Liberation Organization claim that an Israeli armored force had crossed the border into Lebanon on Friday and engaged the Palestinians.

"No Israeli forces whatsoever entered Lebanon," a command spokesman said. The PLO had said the Israelis penetrated three miles into Lebanon and were repulsed by its guerrillas, but Israeli spokesmen said the only fighting Friday was between Palestinians and Lebanese Christians.

The spokesman Saturday said the Palestinians and their leftist Lebanese allies opened fire on the Christian stronghold of Marjayoun five times on Friday and again on Saturday. There was no word on casualties.

A PLO spokesman in Beirut said there was no report of fighting in southern Lebanon on Saturday.

MMH officials hope to clear one more hurdle

By SUSAN TOTH
Staff Writer

Midland Memorial Hospital officials expect to overcome the next major hurdle and the last local block to building the proposed Allison Permian Basin Cancer Therapy Center Monday night.

That's when they hear the findings of the Health Systems Agency's project review committee, which held a public hearing on the proposal Thursday, and hear the recommendation the HSA will send to the Texas Health Facilities Commission in Austin.

Hospital officials are fairly confident that recommendation will be favorable, since Odessa's Medical Center Hospital, the only large stumbling block to approval from the local group, withdrew its opposition to the facility Thursday.

Convincing the Texas Health Facilities Commission is the next big step, and the one that really counts.

The state agency must issue a certificate of need before the $3.4 million treatment center can be built.

Because of concrete work that needs to be done during the colder winter months and due to end-of-year tax advantages for donors to the project, Midland officials are pushing for permission to start building before the end of the year.

Most local problems have been taken care of.

The financing for the project is secure, anchored by a promise of a $2 million gift from Midlander Helon Y. Allison, $1.5 million of that already drawing interest in the bank.

The remaining $1.4 million will be raised through 10-year notes from Midland's three biggest banks secured by the taxing power of the hospital district.

But hospital officials are confident tax money won't be needed to pay off the notes since the governors of the Midland Memorial Foundation have applied themselves to raising contributions to cover the remaining money.

And, according to Mickey Cappadonna, a member of the governors' committee, based on their record of success, "I'm confident not a penny of taxpayer money will ever be spent on those notes."

After Monday's HSA meeting, hospital officials will begin working toward the scheduled Nov. 26 hearing before the THFC in Austin.

With a favorable recommendation from the local group, sound financing and a beefed-up equipment list, hospital officials have expressed confidence about that outcome also.

Idea for the Allison Permian Basin Cancer Therapy Center was announced earlier this year when Mrs. Allison donated $1.5 million for the facility.

As planned then, that donation, plus the interest from the money, would have paid for the entire facility.

After the proposal had been given a favorable recommendation by the local HSA, however, Medical Center Hospital in Odessa challenged the approval on procedural grounds and lodged a more serious complaint that the center merely duplicated services already available in Odessa.

Medical Center was concerned not just that their facility would go from being the only cancer treatment in the region to being an auxiliary treatment center, but that existing federal guidelines would force them to close their facility altogether.

Midland officials regrouped, withdrew the request after consulting with top cancer treatment specialists at Houston's M.D. Anderson Hospital, and hired H.O. McKenzie, a nationally known cancer treatment equipment consultant, to design a facility that offered a complete range of treatments.

McKenzie's equipment list and changes doubled the price of the proposal, but allayed most of the fears of the Medical Center faction.

"Now our job is to get out there and build that center," Cappadonna said.

The co-pilot's checklist was printed in black on the back the pickup cab.

- Keep coffee warm
- Keep beer cold
- Light pilot's cigarette
- Don't drag feet

The pickup bed was the open cockpit.

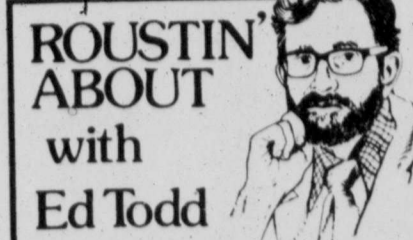

And the aircraft, which was flown from the ground, belonged in the air. It was the Ugly Stick.

"It's just a stick with wings on it, really," says pilot Jim Cottingham of the Texas Chiefs Model Airplane Club.

He and other landlubbing pilots were driven overland, while they skillfully worked controls on the radio-controlled model airplanes in the Trans-Am R/C Relay Race, sponsored by the Academy of Model Aeronautics.

The airplane's propeller busted when Cottingham landed the model on a rocky strip just behind the Warfield Truck Stop here.

Pilot Richard Brown of Odessa's Prop-Busters R/C Club cracked up and busted both prop and plane when he stalled out in a take-off about three miles from the end of the 300-mile relay leg.

He lifted the plane off the ground at the normal take-off speed but forgot to lower the flaps.

Pilot error. But Bill Nickell of Fort Worth's Greater Southwest R/C Airplane Club landed roughly, but safely.

At the end of the relay trail, other R/C pilots would "grab the stick" and fly their miniature aircraft on yet another of the 12-relay flights across the continental U.S. of A.

Now, before the first of the high-wing, stable models dropped in, Betty Jones and other Prop Busters were awaiting the first in-coming flight.

A red vest was partially covering the lettering on her monogrammed yellow T-shirt. She spread the vest, and the lettering stood out.

I Fly For the World's Greatest Air Carrier

"I fly model airplanes, too," said blonde private pilot Betty Jones of Odessa.

The transcontinental relay flight was 18 months in the making, noted Larry Bolich, AMA special events director, but would take less than a month to fly at a flying-weather-only and thus leisurely 55 mph.

"It's been fun," he said at an information booth, replete with bumper stickers and a quarter-scale flying model of the Pitts Special aerobatic biplane. The booth was set up alongside a camper, which traveled at 55 mph along the 3,400-mile route. The relay flight was to promote model airplanes.

"Y'all got some great weather," said Bolich, who hails from Washington, D.C. The AMA air route had passed through hurricane weather. All was well in the Southwest.

One dies, four injured in fire

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A nursing home fire which investigators said started in a closet killed one elderly woman Saturday and hospitalized four other residents suffering from burns and smoke inhalation.

Firemen who responded to the three-alarm blaze on the North Side helped many of the residents of the Bryn Mawr Nursing Home to safety from second floor windows. Many were carried down ladders in rescue baskets or down stairways in wheelchairs.

One fireman, Jeff Bartholomew, about 30, suffered smoke inhalation when he took off his mask and put it on a woman he helped out the two-story building, said Capt. Cecil Klingbille, one of the station fire chiefs on the scene. Bartholomew was treated and released.

Windbreaks conserve energy

By CHARLES W. GREEN
Midland County Extension Agent — Agriculture

Cotton crops are "cutting out" across the Midland area. Fields of late April and early May planted cotton have open bolls over halfway up the plants. Cool nights have delayed the maturation of young bolls on plants. Most cotton crops have a good boll set with potential for above average yields. Pasture and rangelands continued to provide adequate grazing for livestock. Areas to the south of Midland have less forage and more stress than areas to the north. Livestock generally are in good condition in West Texas.

RISING ENERGY COSTS have made windbreak plantings real assets to suburban homeowners as well as rural farm and ranch families. Fringe benefits of windbreaks can be protection for livestock and a refuge for birds and other wildlife. A well-designed windbreak will reduce wind speed, prevent drifting snow and lower heating bills. Even a small windbreak can make outdoor living and working conditions more enjoyable during the winter.

Plant screens also help reduce noise pollution from busy thoroughfares. The location of the windbreaks is the key to their effectiveness. Evergreen windbreaks on the north and west sides of the house can cut 10 to 40 percent off winter fuel bills. Junipers and pines provide the most protection. Windbreaks should be planted four to six times the height of the windbreak away from the house.

It is best to grow species that will mature to about one to one-and-a-half times the height of the house. Large trees should be located 100 to 150 feet from the north or west side of the house and roads to prevent snow drifts.

For maximum protection, three to six rows of trees are needed on farmsteads and one or two rows in suburban areas. Six- to eight-foot spacings are appropriate for most evergreen plants used for windbreaks.

TREES FOR WINDBREAKS are available from the Texas Forest Service and should be planted in late winter or early spring. This year some changes have been made in the windbreak seedling program. Evergreens are available in containers and include the Austrian Pine, Ponderosa Pine and Arizona Cypress. Midland County residents can place orders now and pick them up March 20, 1980, at USDA-Big Spring Experiment Station. Bareroot hardwood species (honeylocust and sawtooth oak) also are available.

For more information and order blanks for ordering tree seedlings contact the County Extension Office, 218 W. Illinois, Phone: 682-9481, Ext. 443.

MANY HOME GARDENERS who grow vegetables in the back yard and have very little room to rotate have found their garden plots have become infested with nematodes. These are tiny eelworms that enter the root and feed on juices and destroy cells.

The root knot species causes galling of the roots. Once this occurs it becomes almost impossible to produce susceptible crops like tomatoes, okra, beans, carrots and potatoes. If nematodes have taken over your garden area, now is a good time to "clean up" the infestation by soil fumigation and be ready to garden again next spring. The material to use is Vapam.

While the soil is still warm (around 85 degrees) a broadcast application of one quart Vapam per 100 square feet is applied to the surface. Have the soil well tilled and free of weeds. This should be immediately watered thoroughly into the soil, with the watering repeated on the second and third days after treatment.

The soil surface should be left undisturbed until early next spring. By treating in this manner you will eliminate a large portion of the weed seed found in the soil (except for that which may drift in with this winter's sandstorms), reduce nematodes and also reduce the amount of soil-borne diseases present.

This will give the gardener a chance to get an early start on his spring garden, since he will not have to wait until the soil temperature warms up to 55 degrees to begin treatment next spring.

Chemistry causes it, not Jack Frost

AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — It isn't Jack Frost with his little paint pots who makes autumn leaves turn into splashes of color.

The process is far less romantic, involving shortened days and temperature changes that affect leaves' chemistry, says the Agriculture Department.

"Your parents may have told you Jack Frost painted them," a department report issued last week says. "They may have told you the colorful but somewhat gory fable of how the Indians killed the celestial bear each fall and it was his blood dripping from heaven that gave the leaves their hues.

"The truth is, it's a chemical change in leaf structure."

Stan Krugman, a specialist in USDA's Forest Service, said "most people don't realize many of the autumn colors are in leaves even in the middle of summer" when green "dominates the other colors because it's produced by pigments known as chlorophylls."

The chlorophylls use sunlight to manufacture simple sugars and starch that the trees use as food or store for the winter months.

"During the growing season, the tree continually replenishes the chlorophylls it uses making food," Krugman said. "That's why the leaves remain green."

But as autumn approaches — it officially begins at 11:17 a.m. EDT Sunday — changes in the amount of daylight and cooler temperatures reduce food production and the tree then uses chlorophylls faster than it can produce them. That reduces the amount of green color.

"Finally, the other pigments that were hidden by the leaf's greenness show through," Krugman said.

"Contrary to what many people think, it is not the first frost that causes leaves to change. The leaf's green color often begins to fade weeks before the first frost. It's the amount of sunlight and coolness of the night that really start the color change.

"Ideally, warm, sunny days followed by cool nights with temperatures below 45 degrees Fahrenheit produce the most impressive displays of fall colors. But long periods of warm, cloudy and rainy fall weather mute the colors, especially reds."

Krugman said that although basic elements of the color changes are now known, scientists still do not completely understand the interaction between pigments, sunlight, chemicals, moisture, length of day and other factors.

tions of their so-called word?

I also agree with Rep. Samuel Stratton, D-N.Y., a senior member of the House Armed Services Committee, and chairman of the committee's investigations panel. He said that even if the Russians have a combat capability which could be used to help Communists take over much of Latin America, including the Panama Canal.

Stratton believes that "the administration seems to be looking for ways to cave in" — gracefully.

So much for our revered Monroe Doctrine. One can only wonder what the average, enlightened Cuban thinks of all this, provided he knows the facts. Does he feel that the United States is letting him down? It appears he would have every right to believe that.

Israelis are beginning to feel that the U.S. has let them down. It is more than a year, now, since Camp David, and our policy in the Middle East is still undefinable. We say we want peace there, but we seem to be unable to lay hands on it, and keep walking around and around in the same circle.

Both Prime Minister Begin and President Sadat are getting a bit weary of America's vacillation, though thank heaven they remain sturdy and steadfast in their quest for a peaceful solution to the Mideast problem.

Even so, conditions have become so uptight in some quarters that the Israelis'ae sounding off, as was the case this past week when Defense Minister Ezer Weizman blasted away, within earshot of two dozen guests, at the State Department's topmost Middle East official at a dinner party at the home of Israeli Ambassador Ephraim Evron.

According to Yoel Marcus, a reporter for the Israeli newspaper "Haaretz," Saunders chided Weizman by commenting on the raids in Lebanon, saying, "bombing is not a policy."

"Don't teach us what to do," Weizman replied. "You lose everywhere. You lost Angola. And Iran and Ethiopia."

This was unfair, of course, because we did not have a military presence in any of those countries. In fact there were not even any official observers in Ethiopia.

Insisting that Israel was overdoing the bombing in Lebanon, Saunders commented, "At least we don't bomb Cuba. We act totally different from you. I'm very sorry you don't understand American policy."

"You don't have a policy at all," Weizman retorted.

Maybe he's got something there. At least I, too, fail to understand American foreign policy, if there is one.

It is difficult to fathom the direction of an administration which on one hand boycotts Rhodesia because it is not integrating its government fast enough, holds sanctions against Argentina because it arrests terrorists, remains aloof from Chile because it had a few political prisoners, yet sanctions trade with China, which had tens of thousands of political killings, Cuba, with its many political prisoners, and Vietnam, which will turn 500,000 people loose on the high seas before the year's end.

Children from the Community Day Nursery in Midland sing and dance Saturday at Midland United Way's Kick-off Fair at Dellwood Mall. To date, the Midland United Way has raised $233,039.52 toward this year's goal of $1,017,000. A rock band, "Destiny," also performed at the event. (Staff Photo)

Carter advisers eye compromise on canal treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Advisers to President Carter and House aides are voicing confidence that a compromise can be worked out this week that will result in passage of legislation to implement the Panama Canal treaties.

If Congress fails to quickly settle on terms of such a measure to carry out the pact, the president's advisers say there is a real danger of work stoppages or even a closedown of canal operations next month.

A major reason they failed to win last week, they said in interviews in which they asked not to be identified by name, is that many House members who would have voted for the bill had left town by the time the vote came late Thursday.

They contended most of those who missed the vote would have favored the bill — and, this week, they'll be concentrating on having all the measure's supporters present.

On Saturday, Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, assuring "there is no turning the clock back," called for the House to approve the implementing legislation.

Without such legislation, the West Virginia Democrat said, jurisdiction over the canal zone still would go to Panama, but the United States could not share in joint operation of the waterway.

High near 90 seen for today

Despite autumn's official arrival today, a few warm days remain, according to the weatherman.

A high near 90 degrees is forecast for today and Monday. The low for tonight is expected to be in the low 60s.

The low Saturday morning was 61 degrees and Saturday's high was 88 degrees.

Record high temperature for Saturday is 100 degrees, set in 1977, and the low for that date is a chilly 47 degrees, set in 1975.

The National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport recorded no rain in the past 24 hours.

For September to date, .01 inch of rain has been recorded. Yearly rainfall thus far stands at 12.21 inches.

Southerly winds 10 to 15 mph today should decrease to 5 to 10 mph tonight.

DEATHS Will Salmon Jr.

Will H. Salmon Jr., 51, 1406 Lanham St., died Saturday in a Midland hospital following a lengthy illness.

Services will be at 4 p.m. Monday in Memorial Christian Church with the Rev. John W. Long, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Resthaven Memorial Park, directed by Newnie W. Ellis Funeral Home.

Salmon was born Jan. 6, 1928, in Commerce. He was the son of the late Will H. Salmon Sr. and Lorene Alexander Salmon.

He was graduated from East Texas State University, Commerce.

Salmon was a draftsman for 25 years for Forest Oil Co. and had lived in Midland 31 years.

He was an elder at Memorial Christian Church and was active worker and supporter of the Boys Scouts of America and supported the High Sky Girls Ranch.

Salmon helped organize the Midland Tennis Association. He was a veteran of the U.S. Navy. He was married April 8, 1950, in Commerce.

Survivors include his wife, Jarvis; a son, Jeffrey Wayne Salmon of Midland; and a daughter, Judy Eckhart of Bloomington, Ill.

Check those gas connections, vents before turning up heat

By MIKE SLATON Staff Writer

As increasingly cooler nights cause more Midlanders to turn on home heaters, the chance of death due to faulty heating equipment increases.

Faulty gas connections, stopped vents, flammable material near a hot furnace or vent pipe — all contribute to an increase of heater related accidents during the fall and winter months, according to Jerry Petree, assistant fire marshal with Midland Fire Department.

"Faulty gas connections are the cause of more fires in Midland than one might think," said Petree.

A visual check of gas lines for heaters and other appliances would be "very valuable" this time of year, said Petree.

"Make sure all connections are good," advised Petree.

"Above all," said the assistant fire marshal, "make sure the proper connections are used for hook-ups."

Rubber gas line connections were not recommended by Petree, who said they slip off too easily. Rigidly fastened connections were preferred, he said.

area also could be included in a restaurant, provided it followed the rule on serving food.

Bars, lounges and nightclubs still would remain places where alcoholic beverages would be sold. But the establishments wouldn't carry the same restrictions as a restaurant, Hennessy said.

Under the proposed ordinance, places which formerly hadn't fallen under the on-premise consumption rules would be included, he said.

That would apply to such places as theaters or golf courses. Sale of alcoholic beverages would be permitted only by a specific use permit, he added.

"This (ordinance) is an attempt to more clearly classify these establishments in the way people think of them," the director explained.

SECOND HALF OF the package would change the way in which the size of signs for various businesses is determined.

Presently, Midlanders can attach a nameplate to their houses to let people know they live there.

There is a second type for apartments located in residential areas or buildings being used for institutional purposes, such as churches, schools or museums, Hennessy said.

That type of sign can be a maximum of 18 square feet, regardless of what size tract of land it's on or how large the building is.

"You have to look at what might be the most objectional type, such as a pole sign," Hennessy said.

That square foot maximum applies to a sign on a pole, a ground sign or one painted on the side of a wall.

THE PROPOSED ordinance would change that restriction. Instead, size of the sign would depend upon how large the building is, the size of tract it's on or how much of the building fronts on the street, Hennessy said.

"The sign on a building wall would be related to the size of the wall," he said, adding the sign would have to conform to a percentage ratio.

A ground sign would be larger if it was located on a large tract of land or publicized a large building, he added.

The same rules would apply to signs in an office district. Currently, signs in these districts can be a maximum of 25 square feet. No matter how many small offices are located in one block, signs currently can be the same size, he said.

"We have had a couple of indications where owners felt the restrictions were too stringent. This made us examine the current ordinance more closely and consider a change," Hennessy remarked.

A NEIGHBORHOOD service district — a new zone established during some ordinance changes last summer — would come under the office district restrictions on signs, he said.

Previously, the neighborhood service district had been under the L.R-1, or shopping center, regulations.

"This (neighborhood service center) is not a large retail area, but conforms basically with standards of the office district," he explained.

In a nutshell, size of the store will determine size of the sign, he added.

Basically, the city is operating on zoning ordinances designed in 1963, Hennessy said.

As necessary revisions become apparent, the Planning and Zoning Commission looks at changes and recommends new ordinances to be approved by the City Council, he explained.

"We want our ordinances to accomplish what they are intended to do, but want the people not to feel they are too restrictive," he said.

"People normally can live with things that represent good planning."

one-half cup lukewarm water.

Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening until mixed thoroughly. Add milk and dissolved yeast. Work together with a large spoon until all flour is moist. Cover bowl and refrigerate until ready to use as needed. This dough will keep for several weeks in the refrigerator.

My family and I have been members of the Alamo YMCA since January 1979. Recently, I signed up my 11-year-old son for the Y football program. I paid an initial fee of $5.

At the time I paid that fee nothing was said about any additional costs. All the lady told me was to have my son there at 5 p.m. to get equipment.

When we picked up the equipment we were required to give two additional checks. One for $15 for equipment rental and one for $30 for some vague reason, but which I finally ascertained was to insure that we returned all the equipment issued to us at the end of the season.

The man assured me that they would not cash that check, so I need not even subtract it from my account.

Now I understand that my son must have a doctor's examination

This could cost anywhere from an additional $10 to $30. So, conceivably, it could cost us as much as $80 for our son to play football.

Even though Midland is an affluent town, it is inconceivable to me that every child that wants to play football can afford these outrageous fees.

So, what I want to know is (1) Are all the Y's charging these same fees? (2) Does every child have to pay the same, regardless of how many children in the family are participating? (3) Doesn't the YMCA receive outside funds like from United Fund? and (4) Is this even a fair practice considering the Y is a non-profit organization?

We have played football with the Boys Club in other towns and have never had to pay such outrageous prices. This seems far out of line to me. Any assistance you can give to shed some light on this problem will be appreciated. — D. Sartain

Pain sometimes is the name of the game — at least it was for the Midland Lee Rebels Friday night. Their 10-0 victory over the Plainview Bulldogs at Memorial Stadium did not come without injuries. ## Bokassa remains in confinement aboard plane at French air base

PARIS (AP) — Deposed African dictator Jean-Bedel Bokassa sat in confinement on a plane at a military air base near Paris Saturday, an emperor without an empire who faced an uncertain future in exile.

The man who toppled him from power in the Central African Empire was quoted as saying, meanwhile, that he had consulted beforehand with the French and other governments before launching his coup.

Bokassa, 58, ousted as the self-proclaimed Central African emperor late Thursday night in a bloodless takeover led by former president David Dacko, landed at a military base at Evreux Friday after a flight from Libya. But French officials refused to give him asylum.

Official sources said that despite the fact Bokassa is a French citizen by virtue of his service in the French army, he would not be allowed into the country. They said his Caravelle jetliner would be refueled, then would return to Libya.

But the plane still had not left by late Saturday. There was no explanation and French officials, who earlier said Bokassa's presence in France would be "inopportune at this time," refused all comment on the matter.

The French news agency Agence France-Presse reported from Bangui, capital of the Central African Empire, that France and several African countries apparently knew of plans for Bokassa's overthrow long in advance.

According to AFP, Dacko told reporters Saturday he had been in N'Djamena, Chad, just before the coup and returned to Bangui at the last minute.

"I stayed in Libreville (the capital of Gabon) for two months, then I went to Paris and finally to N'Djamena to discuss the matter with representatives of several countries, and I'm happy to say that the secret was kept until the last minute," Dacko said.

Bokassa was on a trip to Tripoli, Libya, when Dacko, 49, seized power and ended the emperor's 14 years of bloody, iron-fisted rule, proclaiming the African nation was once again a republic.

Bokassa had himself crowned as emperor in 1977 in a lavish ceremony that cost an estimated $30 million — one quarter of the nation's annual national income.

Dacko was the country's first president and was himself overthrown by Bokassa in 1965. He was kept under house arrest for 10 years until September 1976, when Bokassa freed him and named him a personal adviser.

In a radio broadcast after the coup, Dacko said "I am acting ... to re-establish democratic liberties, to return rapidly the sovereign power of the people and assure its security."

"The nation has gone back 100 years," said Dacko, who was the first elected president of the Central African Republic after it gained independence from France in 1960. Observers agreed that the economy of the landlocked, Texas-sized nation, meager at best, had deteriorated under Bokassa.

Freed prisoner 'expecting call'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Everett Dennis Jackson, who returned to the U.S. last week after spending nearly 12 years in Cuban prisons, says he has been warned to expect a call from the State Department.

Jackson says he was involved in a personal effort to try to document his allegations that the Russians had established nuclear missile sites in Cuba when he parachuted out of his small private plane in 1967. Previously, he had said that Cuban gunners downed his craft, but on his return to the United States he denied that he was shot down.

Jackson, 39, has said he did not work for the Central Intelligence Agency, but "they were interested in the information and they were interested in what I was going to get."

He told KNBC-TV in Garden Grove, Calif., "I collaborated with them in various countries."

Jackson said in the interview Friday that it was "quite possible" he would be called to Washington for questioning about the circumstances that led to his imprisonment in Cuba.

"The U.S. government does not like what I was doing in '64, '65, '66 and '67," he said. "Somebody called me in Miami (after his return from Cuba) and told me to get ready."

He would not reveal who said he might be questioned, saying only, "I think it's because of my position on the Puerto Ricans and my position about the missiles in Cuba."

Jackson and three other men were returned to the United States last week after the release by President Carter of four Puerto Ricans who were jailed in the 1950s for a shooting attack in the House of Representatives and an attempt to kill President Harry Truman.

In addition to Jackson, Cuban President Fidel Castro released Juan Tur, 62, of Tampa, Fla., who was sentenced in 1963 for "counter-revolutionary activities;" Claudio Rodriguez Morales, 49, of Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, who was sentenced to 20 years in 1966 for smuggling people out of Cuba; and Lawrence Lunt, 56, of Saratoga, Wyo., sentenced to 30 years in 1965 for espionage.

Police investigating grocery store robbery

Midland police Saturday night were investigating an armed robbery which took place about 9:45 p.m. the same day at EZ Way Grocery, 1101 E. Scharbauer Drive.

According to the police communications, two men in their mid-20s entered the store. One of them was reported to have been carrying a .38-caliber handgun.

One of the men was wearing a green ski mask and the other walked with a limp, police reports indicated.

No one was reported injured in the robbery.

The two men apparently escaped on foot down the alley behind the store.

Amount taken in the robbery was not known Saturday night.

Unexplained fire destroys tractor

Fire destroyed the tractor of an oil field truck about 7:30 p.m. Saturday, fire department officials said.

No one was injured in the blaze.

Cause of the fire was not known Saturday night. The truck was unattended at the time of the fire, officials said.

The truck belonged to M.F. Machen Contractor and the fire occurred in the company yard at 311 S. Pecos St., officials said.

Midlander listed 'satisfactory'; Two charged with assault

A Midland man was listed in satisfactory condition at the hospital Saturday night after receiving two bullet wounds earlier in the day.

Eddie Frazier, 22, underwent surgery about 10:30 p.m. Friday for wounds in the side and stomach suffered in a dispute at 1506 Garden City Highway about 8:30 p.m. Friday, police said.

Two persons charged with aggravated assault in connection with the incident were released Saturday from Midland County Jail on $7,500 bond each.

Peace Justice Robert Pine set bond on the pair.

Geoffrey Pert Jameson, 21, and Francis Worsham Polk, 20, were arrested at Midland Police station about 9 p.m. Friday, police said.

Jameson apparently drove Frazier, the shooting victim, to Midland Memorial Hospital after the incident and then went to the police station, police said.

Polk was at the police station when Jameson arrived, police said.

BUYING "ON CONTRACT"? TREAD LIGHTLY

Things have been rough over the past several years. You and your wife have been renting an apartment but are now more than ready to purchase your own home. You want to buy a home, but you have not been able to save any money for a downpayment. You discuss your dilemma with your friends and one comes up with the "ideal" solution. He knows a couple who are ready to retire and they suggested that their home may be bought "on contract". We are told this is the ideal solution because there will be no lumps sum downpayment - only monthly payments. Does this sound too good to be true? Tread lightly! Buying on contract simply means that you sign an agreement with a seller under which you buy the home on rent-like monthly payments. You have no equity in the home until you have paid the equivalent of a downpayment. However, here is something you should understand very carefully. In the interim, you can be evicted if you miss payments just as any defaulting renter. Bear in mind that this is a legally binding contract, so you must have professional legal help before you sign such an agreement. Contact your attorney.

If you have any questions on this subject or any other aspect of real estate, feel free to phone or drop in at DON HARVEY Realtors 702 Andrews Hwy. Phone 683-5333. We're here to help. Come in for your free copy of "Home for Living" magazine.

Woman saved by 'dive' treatment

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Jane Benton, once comatose and near death from an air bubble in her brain, cheerfully emerged Saturday from the high-pressure chamber where she had spent three days in a simulated deep-sea dive that saved her life.

"I'm just so thankful I'm alive," said Mrs. Benton, 42, as her stretcher was wheeled from an Air Force hyperbaric chamber.

"I'm going back to Arkansas and get back in my classroom as soon as I can," she said before being taken to a local civilian hospital.

"I think she'll recover completely," said a weary, unshaven Air Force Dr. Jerrod Dunn, who had accompanied Mrs. Benton and technician Staff Sgt. Steven Whitley on the three-day "dive" treatment.

"This was an unusually long treatment, but she was an unusually sick girl," said Dunn, 55, whose longest prior stint in the chamber was about 12 hours.

Before being released from the chamber, she had talked with relatives through an intercom.

"She seems like her old self again for the first time since this happened," said her brother, J.B. Myers, a Church of Christ minister. "We're quite relieved. There's been a lot of prayers said."

Myers said his sister reported feeling some numbness in her arms, but exhibited no other signs of permanent damage.

Air Force Dr. Dean Heimbach said the 10-by-25-foot chamber, was the last resort for doctors after the junior high school teacher from Fairfield Bay, Ark., slipped into a coma Tuesday during routine biopsy surgery in Little Rock.

The biopsy was ordered after a chest X ray during a routine physical showed a spot on her lung. Her brother said Saturday that the biopsy report was negative.

Air bubbles in her bloodstream were choking off blood circulation in her brain, Heimbach said, and her condition was similar to that of a stroke victim whose circulation is blocked by a blood clot.

Mrs. Benton was near death Wednesday when she was flown by air ambulance to Brooks Air Force Base, which Heimbach described as one of "five or six" facilities with a hyperbaric chamber, sophisticated enough to handle the woman's case.

Dunn and Whitley took the woman into the chamber and the three were "taken down" to the pressure equivalent of a 165-foot sea dive.

Increased pressure, Heimbach said, compressed the air bubbles until they were small enough to be absorbed into the woman's system. The increased oxygen level also enriched the blood and allowed more to reach affected areas.

Mrs. Benton regained consciousness Thursday — her 42nd birthday.

At least 39 overcome by fumes

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — At least 39 persons, most of them children, were treated at Air Force medical facilities here Saturday and released after being overcome by mysterious fumes at the Brooks Air Force Base bowling alley.

Air Force Capt. Gordon Nedom said most of the victims were at the bowling alley Saturday morning for competition in a children's league. The lanes and other buildings in the immediate area were shut down for the day as a precautionary measure, he said.

Two victims were treated briefly in hyperbaric high pressure chambers at Brooks, and 11 others received oxygen treatment there. Nedom said 26 others were treated and released at Wilford Hall Medical Center at nearby Lackland Air Force Base. At least five other persons complained of similar symptoms.

Nedom said 24 children were in the bowling alley, but said the ages were unavailable.

"It's unknown at this time what those fumes were or where they came from," said Nedom. "They have detected some carbon monoxide, but they are not sure that is what caused it. The closing of the other buildings was just a precautionary measure."

Ten new faculty, staff members join Midland College this fall

Ten new faculty and staff members have joined Midland College effective with the beginning of the fall semester.

Some of the new personnel are replacements, while others are filling new positions created by the larger enrollment.

"We feel the new members at Midland College continue the tradition of seeking out the best-qualified persons for each vacancy or new position at Midland College," noted college president Al G. Langford.

"We are particularly pleased that some of our new full-time faculty members previously had taught for us on a part-time basis."

James Belew was appointed as journalism instructor and student publications advisor. He is filling the Allison Chair of Journalism on a one-year basis.

Belew received his bachelor's degree in English from Angelo State University and his master's degree in mass communications from Texas Tech University.

Belew's experience includes newspaper reporting in San Angelo, Killen and Lubbock. He also has served as an advertising manager for an Odessa manufacturing concern and as an account executive for a Midland advertising agency.

HE IS A MEMBER of the Texas Public Relations Association and Kappa Tau Alpha.

Ed Heltman has joined the faculty as an automotive technology instructor after having served as a part-time instructor in that department last year.

A native of Dallas, he served for six years in the U.S. Air Force, part of that time as an on-the-job instructor in aircraft pneumatics. He also is a certified welder and has experience as an auto mechanic and as owner of an automotive repair shop.

In his spare time, Heltman also is attending Midland College, majoring in management.

Dr. Weldon Horton has assumed the post as director of the Learning Resource Center, a position he held at Cooke County Community College in Gainesville for the past five years.

He earned his bachelor's, master of library science and doctorate degrees from North Texas State University.

He had previously served as assistant librarian for public services at Lee College in Baytown and librarian at Seminole Junior High School.

HE WAS A GRADUATE teaching assistant at North Texas State University. Horton served in the U.S. Air Force and as a commissioned officer in the U.S. Navy, including a tour in Vietnam.

He recently retired from the U.S. Naval Reserve after 22 years service.

A member of the Texas, Southern and National Librarians Association, he has published several articles on library use.

Named as a member of the faculty as a music instructor is Dr. Betty Morris. Her bachelor's degree is from North Texas State University, master's from Julliard School of Music and doctorate from North Texas.

She has taught at Mississippi State University, Mississippi University for Women, Indiana University and the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh.

Dr. Morris served as a graduate teaching assistant at North Texas State University. In addition, she has taught private piano in New York City and Mexico City.

Dr. Morris is a member of Pi Kappa

Lambda, Sigma Alpha Iota and National Federation of Music Clubs. She is an adjudicator for the National Guild of Piano Teachers.

Archie Myers has been named as director of intramurals and will be assisting basketball coach Jerry Stone.

A native of Cleveland, Miss., Myers is a graduate of Howard College and Stephen F. Austin State University where he received his BBA degree. He also has training in management, electronic data processing and insurance underwriting.

MYERS SET THE STATE high school record in the 880-yard run and was All-Conference and All-State in basketball. At Howard College, he was twice named All-Conference, All-State and All-American.

He set the national record of 2,199 points scored and led the nation in scoring in 1972. In junior college tournaments, he was named All-Tournament and Most Valuable Player 15 times each.

He continued his basketball career at Stephen F. Austin, where he was an All-American and fourth leading scorer of all time for the school.

David Skinner has been appointed as an instructor in data processing. A native of Borger, he received both his BS and MS degrees from Texas Tech University, majoring in electrical engineering and minoring in petroleum engineering.

A registered professional engineer, Skinner has experience as a foreman and engineer for Amoco Production Company and also served as a consulting engineer.

He has been a part-time instructor at Odessa College in electronics technology and at UTPB in electrical engineering.

He holds patents and has patents pending in the petroleum electronics field and has published several articles related to petroleum technology.

He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Society of Petroleum Engineers and Instrument Society of America.

Warren Taylor is an instructor in art at Midland College. He earned his bachelor's degree from Bethany College in Lindsborg, Kan., and his master's degrees from Fort Hays State University.

HIS WORK HAS been widely exhibited and he has been honored with several awards. A display of his paintings hung in the McCormick gallery at Midland College during much of this month.

Steve Thomas, instructor in psychology, sociology and anthropology, joined the faculty in September full time after having been a part-time instructor for three years.

Thomas received his BA degree from Southwest Texas State University and his MA degree from UTPB in counseling.

For the past seven years, Thomas served as caseworker, counselor and clinic supervisor for the Odessa office of the Permian Basin Community Centers for Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

He is a 1966 graduate of Midland Lee High School.

David Truitt was appointed as an instructor of mathematics. He earned his BS and MA degrees in math from Eastern New Mexico University.

While working on his master's degree, he was a graduate assistant instructor at ENMU.

HE CAME TO MIDLAND College

following three years as a math instructor at Lubbock Christian College. Truitt is a member of the Mathematical Association of America.

Dale Westfall joined the faculty this fall as an instructor in the business department.

For the past eight years, he had served as a business education instructor in the Reagan County Independent School District in Big Lake. During three and one-half years of that time, he also served as a part-time instructor in business at the Midland College extension center in Big Lake.

Westfall received his BBA and MBE degrees from West Texas State University. The latter degree was granted in August.

He is a member of several state and national business education associations.

Four billboards promoting the Midland Chamber of Commerce are now displaying the new chamber slogan in advance of the organization's image

No change of venue for Chambliss

A Midland man's request that his murder trial be held outside Midland County has been denied by 238th District Court Judge Vann Culp.

Attorneys for 17-year-old Kelly Joe Chambliss had filed a motion for a change of venue in the defendant's trial, contending that pre-trial publicity in the case had made it impossible for Chambliss to receive a fair and impartial trial here.

Chambliss is charged with murder in connection with the July 18 shooting death of 39-year-old Army Sgt. J.B. England of Marion, N.C.

A hearing on the change of venue motion was held Monday, but Judge Culp delayed a decision on the issue. He denied the motion about 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Chambliss' trial was set for trial Oct. 15 by Judge Culp and jury selection is scheduled to get under way at that time, according to Midland County District Attorney Vern Martin.

A second motion by defense attorneys Allen McFall and Eddie Garza was granted by Judge Culp, however.

That action will allow the two defense attorneys to question potential jurors in the case individually outside the presence of other members of the jury panel.

A co-defendant in the case, Raymond Wesley Mathis, 20, of Midland, was convicted last week by a jury and assessed a 99-year prison term.

Sgt. England was shot in the early morning hours of July 18 about 10 miles east of Midland on Interstate 20. The sergeant was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital, where he died shortly before 6 a.m. that day.

Mathis was arrested July 18 in Ward County in connection with the case and Chambliss was arrested July 19.

At Monday's hearing on the Chambliss change of venue motion, testimony was given by news media representatives, attorneys, a private investigator and others.

The testimony centered primarily on news coverage of Sgt. England's death and the trial of Mathis.

Big Bend photographs are on display at oil museum

A comprehensive display of historic and contemporary photographs of the Texas Big Bend region has gone on view at the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, in south Midland.

Titled "The Big Bend: The Last Frontier of Texas," the photographic show traces the geography and history of the Big Bend region from the time of the arrival of the first Anglo explorers in the 1850s through the early ranching and mining days and on to the present time.

A special feature of the exhibit is the outstanding collection of large color photos by Dallas photographer Bank Langmore. His pictures focus on aspects of the Big Bend not often chronicled—such things as the people of the region, their way of life, the mystery of the ghost towns and the timeless features of the open landscape.

Photographs in "The Big Bend: The Last Frontier" exhibit are taken from a National Parks publication of the same title, written by Dr. Ronnie C. Tyler, a member of the staff of the Amon Carter Museum of Western Art in Fort Worth.

Tyler, who is the author of nine books, specializes in the history of the Texas-Mexico border areas. The Big Bend photo show was organized by the Amon Carter Museum and has since been circulated to museums throughout the nation.

Ed Rowland, assistant director of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, said the photographic show will be on view here through Nov. 29. The museum is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each Monday through Saturday, and from 2 to 5 p.m. Sundays. The museum is located on IS-20, just west of the Rankin Highway, in south Midland.

$5,000 bond set for Odessan

ODESSA — An Odessa woman arrested Friday in connection with allegedly kicking a Midland woman's car door was free on $5,000 bond Saturday, according to Odessa police.

Linda Gail Thompson, 24, was charged with felony criminal mischief in Municipal Court Judge Otis Moore's court prior to her surrender at the Odessa police station Friday morning, police said.

The arrest of Ms. Thompson followed a Sept. 15 incident in which the car door of a Midland woman was kicked and dented by another woman during an argument at an Odessa man's residence.

According to police reports, the Midland woman was identified as Laura Badger.

Forum closed by quake damage

ROME (AP) — A section of Rome's ancient Forum, damaged last week in the worst earthquake to hit the city in more than a century, was closed to the public Saturday after a 10-pound chunk of marble fell from a high column.

Officials, who said structural damage from last Wednesday's quake was more serious than they first thought, also closed a section of a street that skirts the Forum, an area of ruined temples and other public buildings from Roman imperial times.

The quake, felt over most of central Italy, killed five persons in Umbria, north of here, and left 4,000 homeless.

The remaining columns and lintels of two of the finest temples in the Roman Forum were badly shaken by the tremor, officials said. Many marble fragments, one weighing 10 pounds, broke loose, and for safety reasons it was decided to close the area around the temples and a nearby section of the Via della Consolazione.

The ruins of the Temple of Saturn, built in honor of the mythical god-king of Italy 2,500 years ago, and of the Temple of Vespasian, erected in honor of the Emperor Vespasian 19 centuries ago, were the most seriously damaged.

"Nothing alarming" happened to the Colosseum, the majestic arena that is the symbol of imperial Rome, said Adriano La Regina, superintendent in charge of archeology. Parts of the Colosseum were destroyed by five earthquakes between the 5th and 9th centuries, but it was spared damage this time, he said.

He said the columns of the two temples "are in an alarming condition," however.

Retired Midland nurse well-adjusted senior citizen at 90

By RICHARD MASON
Staff Writer

She began work in Midland when most others retire.

Margaret Snow, who turned 90 Thursday, was 65 when she took a nursing post at Midland Memorial Hospital.

She worked that post for 15 years before her own doctor ordered her to retire. No one at the hospital really knew her age, she said.

"I had to retire at 80," the spry, demure, diminutive woman explained. "He (her doctor) shook his finger in my face like that," she said, gesturing dramatically with her index finger. "I'm trying to keep care of you," she quotes the doctor as saying.

THAT WAS 10 YEARS ago. Mrs. Snow today still seems an unlikely candidate for a wheelchair. True, she suffers some from arthritis. And she has had heart trouble.

But her story is the story of a well-adjusted senior citizen.

Instead of 90, she looks 75. She has clear, bright blue eyes. Age has yet to etch its presence along the slight lines that lend character to her face.

She came to Texas in a time she can no longer remember, a young girl transported across the South in a covered wagon.

She calls that time "horse and buggy days" now, and laments that young people no longer understand what older people went through.

The world is changing in her eyes, a view she holds from a vantage point few others obtain. People, she says, are less humane today.

But Mrs. Snow is a sort of stability in that changing world.

To be 90, healthy, and alert is something few human beings attain in any age.

world of hospitals following her husband's death 65 years ago.

Mrs. Snow married a career in nursing at age 35.

Today, that world has contracted physically to a room in a Midland nursing home.

There are flowers, cards, and pictures. There is older furniture.

At times, there is sadness. "It's rather lonesome here without my relatives at my age," she confessed.

Mrs. Snow is sitting on the edge of

"I'm still on my two feet," she explains, tapping her knees. "So many are on walkers and wheelchairs." Her voice trails off into the whiteness of the room.

WHAT GIVES SUBSTANCE to life after the people you know pass on or live far away? Or after the job by which you measured your worth is suddenly one, two, five years in the past?

"I miss...I don't know," Mrs. Snow says. "Really, my latter days have been happy."

It's not that Mrs. Snow ignores death or the drama that some people insist lends tragedy to life. She finds so little time to dwell on it. Most of her time is spent exploring the positive parts of life.

The thing that lends substance to life is life itself. "I always make it a point to be kind and good to everybody," she says.

THERE ARE PARTICULARS to the life of Mrs. Snow. She was born in Georgia. She grew up near Sweetwater in a farming family. Her early life was austere in ways she no longer wants to remember.

She was married at age 20 to a doctor. She began her nursing career at age 35.

She has children and grandchildren, most of whom reside in Georgia.

She is like most Midlanders in that she came here from somewhere else. Mrs. Snow likes the people.

NONE OF THOSE particulars, however, quite describes her life. There are, however, some particulars of more relevance than others.

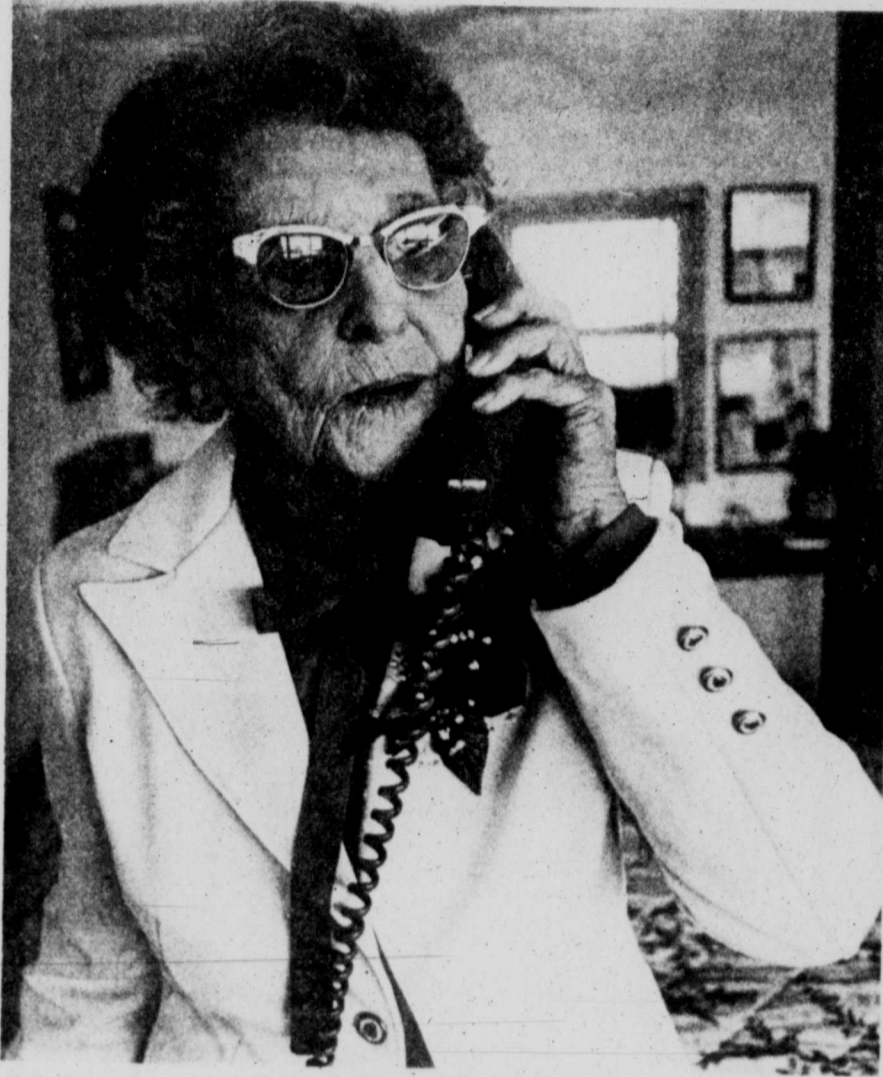

She has expressive, active hands, with an assertive index finger that emphasizes points when it bisects the air.

She has a frequent, easy smile. She finds wonder in life, even after 90 years. She likes to visit with other people.

The thing that best describes the life of Margaret Snow is an oil painting done by one of her grandsons.

It's a simple subject, a still life. Large, yellow mums fill an old vase with the electric glow only a painting can capture and convey.

Those flowers exude a glow...as does the vitality of this Midland woman.

Mrs. Margaret Snow

POSITIVE THINKING

Thinking God thoughts can bring His blessings

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

This is the story of a California woman who got her family out of a hand-to-mouth existence. Her husband was doing poorly in his job and so was she in hers. Consequently they endured the misery of never having enough money to be halfway comfortable. At no time had they been able to provide themselves and their children with much more than bare necessities. They just couldn't seem to get ahead.

This wife and one asset, however: prayer. And she had diligently prayed about the problem. She had also budgeted, scrimped, made old things do. She cheerfully accepted the consequent necessity of laboring hard and long into the evenings to keep up with her housework. Still the two together were always hardly able to pay their most pressing bills. Things were really low and so were her spirits.

In deep discouragement she went to the late Dr. Ernest Holmes, a prominent West Coast teacher of religious science and philosophy. She told him about their sad situation and asked him to pray for her. Dr. Holmes said he certainly would. But first he asked her if she would cooperate with him in a spiritual experiment.

Holmes made a suggestion that was definitely unique and he warned the lady that it might at first seem pointless to her, but she should follow it anyway. And this is what he told her to do:

She was to go out to the seashore and sit on the beach a while and meditate on the sand. She was to consider what countless millions of grains of sand there are on the beaches of the world. She was also to look out at the vastness of the ocean and think how many millions of fish there are in the sea.

Then she was to walk in the park and to try counting the leaves on the trees and get some conception of the myriads of leaves in that one small park. Then at night she was to go out under the open sky and gaze at the innumerable stars and try to count them. The purpose of doing each of these strange things was to emphasize the incredible lavishness of God in nature.

Dr. Holmes hoped that in this curious way the woman might realize there exists an Infinite Storehouse — an abundance of supply for all of God's children in generous profusion. The effort was to teach this woman who was suffering from "lack" thoughts that God does not arbitrarily limit anybody's access to the store of good things in this world, and that God freely bestows them in proportion to a person's mental readiness to receive.

Employing a simple analogy, he taught her that a person coming to the storehouse with a teaspoon, thinking a teaspoonful was all he could expect to obtain, would receive only a teaspoonful. Another person coming forward confidently with a gallon container would receive a gallon of life's blessings. The idea was that we can only receive that which we think and according to our faith.

Well, this frustrated woman did as Dr. Holmes advised and it changed her state of mind from negative to positive. With her changed thinking she re-evaluated her own abilities. She developed a new confidence in herself, so much so she actually asked for a new job with more responsibility, received it and with it a higher salary.

Other things began to happen, too. Her new dynamic faith and changed thinking affected her husband's attitudes. He got on the same positive wavelength and he, too, found himself a better job. From that point on this couple rapidly moved out of pinched circumstances into a stepped-up prosperity status.

If you have not had a satisfying share of the good things of life, whether material or intangible values, ask yourself if you have been thinking and practicing "lack." Remember there is a basic law that like attracts like. Lack thoughts bring lack. You can break this unhappy chain of cause and effect by learning instead to think abundance.

God's unlimited generosity, His unceasing bounty, is offered to anyone who will think God's thoughts and will live up to God's principles. Fulfillment of normal desires and good ambitions will be freely given as you get your mind conditioned to accept and receive.

I really believe anybody can have many blessings in his life as he ceases to think "lack" and begins to think of God's abundance.

Tombstone useful in advance

By J. L. SCHMIDT

DU QUOIN, III. (AP) — Sam Clark is one guy who's getting a lot of use out of his tombstone — before he dies.

He's Sam "The Candy Man." And he uses the slab, inscription side down, to cool the fudge he molds and sells to fair-goers across the country.

"No matter where I am, when I die, I've got my tombstone ready," said the 60-year-old Florida resident from his perch on the stage of his mobile candy factory on the Du Quoin State Fairgrounds.

The marble slab makes sense, he added, since it cools and creams the candy. Although he makes no big deal about the writing on the other side, "people always seem to hear about it and ask," he said.

The wording is simple: Robert Lee Sam Clark, Sam the Candy Man, Born 1919.

The slab, imported from Sicily, was a gift to young Sam from his grandfather, the family's original candy maker.

"I was 8 years old then, and I knew I was destined to be a candy man," Clark said. He added that he originally went to Purdue University to play football and learn how to be a basketball coach, but wound up in the candy business, his livelihood for the past 42 years.

As with a few other fair attractions, Sam's has been a Du Quoin tradition for 30 years.

"We make 13 fairs a year, but this is the finest of them all, and my favorite," Clark said. "I love the people and I'm not just in it for the money. In fact, I don't pitch candy here, this place is different."

Dr. J. Davis Armistead

District Rotary governor to visit this week

Dr. J. Davis Armistead of Lubbock, governor of District 573, Rotary International, will be a guest here this week while paying his official visits to the four Rotary Clubs of Midland and Odessa. Dr. Armistead, who will be accompanied by his Rotary-Ann, Cora, is expected to arrive Monday.

Jack Walters of the Midland Rotary Club, the governor's special representative, said Dr. Armistead will be the honored guest and principal speaker Tuesday noon at the meeting of the Midland West Rotary Club in the Midland Inn. Raymond Nicholas is the president.

Wednesday noon, the governor will meet with the Odessa Rotary Club in the Inn of the Golden West there. Dr. Michael Wempe is the president.

The Midland Rotary Club will be host to the district governor Thursday noon at its meeting in the Midland Hilton, with President John Seay presiding.

Dr. Armistead will conclude his visitation schedule Friday noon when he meets with the Odessa East Rotary Club in Odessa's Inn of the Golden West. Joe Suggs is the club president.

On the evening preceding each of the club luncheons, the governor will meet with officers, directors and committee chairmen in assembly sessions to review present and future activities and projects. The governor also will bring the Rotarians up to date on activities at district, national and international levels.

Walters and his Rotary-Ann,

Jean, will accompany Gov. and Mrs. Armistead on their round of meetings in the area.

Dr. Armistead, a native of Sulphur Springs, has been actively engaged in the practice of optometry at Lubbock since 1949. He was graduated from East Texas State University, did graduate work at Texas Tech and received his doctor of optometry degree from Southern California College of Optometry. He also has done graduate work at several other universities.

He is a past president of the Lubbock Downtown Rotary Club, of which he has been a member since 1949. He has long been active in civic and church affairs.

Armistead is a past president of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, and is the recipient of scouting's Silver Beaver Award. He also is a past president of the Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Center. He is serving a second term as a member of the board of regents of the University of Houston.

Whooper cost high

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — It costs at least $68,000 a bird to provide a suitable stopover in the Great Plains for whooping cranes on their way to Texas each fall, and the local folks are picking up the tab.

Customers of the area's rural electric power cooperatives are being billed at the rate of $100 each over the next 35 years.

That's the calculation of Gene Hexom, news director of the East River Electric Cooperative in Madison, S.D.

Why such big bucks for a bunch of birds? It starts with a $7.5 million trust fund to protect a habitat in Nebraska for the endangered whoopers.

About two-thirds of the world's 109 wild whoopers usually migrate through the Dakotas in late September and October and into Nebraska on their 1,600-mile journey from the Northwest Territories to Texas.

"Needless to say, $7.5 million is a heck of a lot of money, and that money is being put up by rural electric cooperatives for wildlife protection," says Hexom, who wrote an article on the subject for the North Dakota Rural Electric Cooperative Magazine.

"I'm not advocating the extinction of the whooping crane," he added in a telephone interview. "But I think it's important to our members to point out where our money is being spent and the reason for rate increases."

The co-op which employs Hexom is a member of the Bismarck-based Basin Electric Power Cooperative, which serves 300,000 consumers in eight states.

Basin, with a 42.27 percent share in the Greystocks Dam project, paid $3 million into a $7.5 million fund to protect a whooping crane habitat along the Platte River in Nebraska. The fund was established last year as a result of a lawsuit brought by environmental groups against sponsors of the project near Wheatland, Wyo.

Hexom says "it's virtually impossible to put a meaningful dollar value on the whooping crane."

Bell J.A. company sets pace

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's Junior Achievement company recorded the highest attendance at their first company meeting this week of any of the 17 J.A. companies in Midland.

The 21 high school students present chose Bell Craft as their company's name and decided to make and sell plexiglass picture frames.

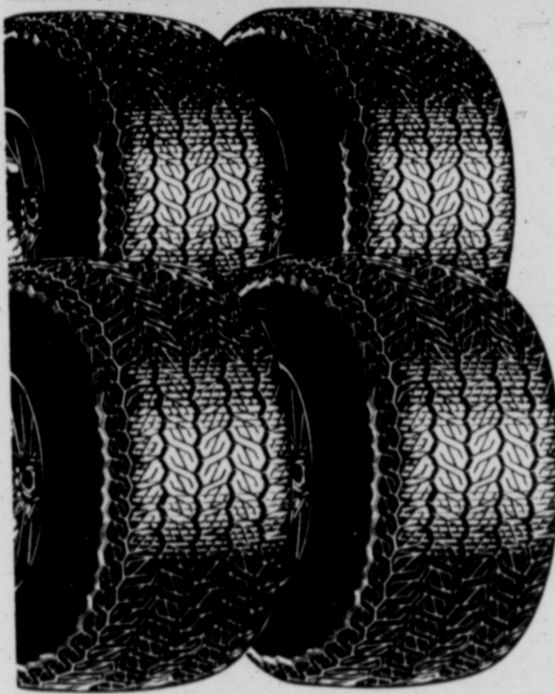

Advisors for the group are Danny Wilson, Lyn Morris, Clair Krizov and Wilma Lockhart.

The record number of Achievers at an opening night in Midland was set in 1977 by 40 young people at a Gulf Oil-sponsored company.

Attendance on opening night is not entered in J.A. membership totals for the year because the companies are not yet established.

Compiling membership statistics will begin next week, J.A. officials said.

Kerrville music fest begins Saturday

KERRVILLE — Silver-haired yodeler Kenneth Threadgill, widely known as the "Father of Austin Country Music," will kick off the '12 Great Hours at Kerrville' music fest next Saturday afternoon.

The festival will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday at Rod Kennedy's Quiet Valley Ranch near Kerrville and will feature a string of popular Texas performers who will carry the music on into the night.

Following Threadgill on stage for the first half of the 12 hours will be, in order of appearance, Bobby Bridger, Mother of Pearl, Kan Van Sickle, Robert Shaw, Don Sanders and Milton Carroll.

Sometime around 8 p.m., master of ceremonies Rod Kennedy will announce the "Second Almost Annual Worst Hat Contest," with its prize of a custom-made hat from a Texas hat manufacturer.

The fest will go into the second half of the 12 hours with performances by Applejack from El Paso, Uncle Walt's Band, John Vandiver, Tish Hanley, Gary P. Nunn, Allen Damron and B.W. Stevenson. Guest performers also are expected to drop in this final outdoor fling of the year at Quiet Valley Ranch.

The ranch, located nine miles south of Kerrville, will open its gates at noon Saturday and remain open until midnight. Mail orders of tickets for the "12 Great Hours at Kerrville" event are now being received at P.O. Box 1466, Kerrville 78028. Full information on the festival and on ticket prices for the event may be obtained by telephoning Quiet Valley Ranch at 512-896-3800.

Fine Indian beadwork, pottery, basketry included in exhibit

Fine American Indian beadwork, historic Pueblo pottery, Navajo textiles and Indian basketry are included in a special exhibition opening this week at the Museum of the Southwest.

The Fred Harvey Collection, made up of outstanding Southwestern Indian and other American Indian ethnological material, will open Wednesday in the museum's Turner Memorial Gallery at 1705 W. Missouri Ave.

The show will continue on view here through late October, open to the public without charge between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. each weekday, and from 2 to 5 p.m. each Sunday.

The Fred Harvey Company was founded in 1876 to manage eating establishments along the Santa Fe Railway line. Later, Harvey operated the dining cars for the railroad company.

To satisfy travelers' demands for souvenirs of the American Southwest and Midwest, Harvey's son-in-law, John Frederick Huckel, who joined the Harvey firm in 1898, formally organized the Fred Harvey Indian Department in 1902.

The company's agents combed the territory and, operating the whole year around, were frequently able to purchase items never offered to summer visitors. Winter brought hard times to the Indian and Spanish-American farmers and craftspeople and consequently large numbers of irreplaceable Santos and Indian arts were purchased for later resale.

Much of the success of the collection and early displays was a result of the energy and vision of Herman Schweitzer, widely known as "The Harvey Anthropologist."

The company's active interest in Indian art and artifacts lasted until the 1930s, and many outstanding articles were added even after that time.

Much of the Harvey collection now reposes in the Heard Museum of Phoenix, with smaller portions on loan to various museums in the Southwest and elsewhere.

Complementing the Harvey exhibit will be a display of acrylic paintings by James M. Haney, a native of Texas.

Born and raised in Dumas, in the Texas Panhandle, where he now has a studio, Haney is a professional painter of Southwestern Indians and Indian artifacts. His striking canvases make strong and impressive statements as to the artistry and craftsmanship of the handcrafts of the Apache, Navajo, Zuni and Mandan Indians.

Shriners Hospitals Facts & Figures thru Dec. 1978

As Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children enter their 57th year, they do so with the knowledge that they have cured or substantially helped more than 210,000 children.

Since the first hospital opened in Shreveport, Louisiana in 1922, there have been approximately 314,783 operations performed. There have been 243,335 braces and prostheses applied, approximately 3,126,760 x-rays and photos taken, 5,581,409 physiotherapy treatments given and 2,211,328 clinic visits. Between January and December 1978, 9674 new cases were handled by the 21 Hospitals, including the three Burns Institutes.

Since Shriners Hospitals were established, a total of approximately $414,000,000 has been spent by the Shriners for operating all 21 Shriners Hospitals. The Shriners have spent $76,000,000 in construction costs. The annual operating budget for Shriners Hospitals runs in excess of $46,000,000.

MC piano instructor performs recital Thursday

"Ride'em podner!" is what they yell in cases like this. And Brandon Jones, 2, of Midland appears to be doing just that. Brandon took a few turns alone on a pony Saturday during the Midland County 4-H Information and Fun Day at the old Wolfe Nursery on Scharbauer Drive. He later was joined by his sister, Kelly, for a ride around the ring during Fun Day activities. About 150 adults and children attended the event. (Staff Photo by Richard Mason)

Pianist Anthony Sirianni will be heard in recital Thursday night. Sirianni is adjunct piano instructor at Midland College. His program is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the college recital hall. The public is invited to attend the event free of charge.

For his recital, Sirianni will perform works by Domenico de Scarlotti, Franz Schubert and Frederic Chopin.

Sirianni will open his program with four keyboard works by Scarlotti, the Sonata in D minor, the Sonata in D major and two sonatas in E major. These will be followed by Schubert's Sonata in A major, Op. 120.

After intermission, Sirianni will offer several Chopin works, including the Grande Polonaise in E flat and the Scherzo in C sharp minor.

Guests at the recital are invited to attend a reception in Sirianni's honor following the program. The reception will be in the McCormick Gallery area near the recital hall.

Sirianni, a native of Wisconsin, completed work on his master's degree in music at Michigan State University in 1978 under the direction of recording artist and recitalist Ralph Votapek, who won the first International Van Cliburn Piano Competition back in the 1960s.

In 1976, Sirianni received a scholarship for study at the International Festival-Institute at Round Top, Texas, where he studied with concert pianist James Dick. During that time, he performed a recital for the American Music Critics Association conference and was soloist with the Texas Festival Orchestra.

In recent seasons, Sirianni has been guest soloist with symphony orchestras in Wisconsin and Michigan. He has participated in several prestigious keyboard competitions in the U.S., and has played recitals on radio and TV. He has served as accompanist for winners of national vocal competitions in Washington, D.C., Chicago and Minneapolis.

Commissioners to consider $1,000 request

When they meet at 1:30 p.m. Monday, Midland County Commissioners will consider a request that the county pay $1,000 toward the salary of a coordinator for the Emergency Medical Systems Program.

The request is being made by the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, which is attempting to raise $35,000 from its 17-county region to pay for the coordinator's salary.

The Emergency Medical Systems Program is a plan to provide emergency medical care to the people of the 17-county area.

Commissioners also will hold a public hearing at 2 p.m. on the question of lowering the speed limit on County Road 1224 south from Interstate 20 and County Road 118.

The proposal calls for lowering the speed limit on the two roads from 55 mph to 35 mph.

In other action, commissioners are expected to consider approving the plat of North Ranch Manor, consider installing four computer terminals in the county tax office, consider the request of Midland Independent School District to use the county's voting machines for the Oct. 23 $10.2 million bond election and consider approving a second plat.

Pianist who made reputation by losing to play in Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Some pianists make their reputations by winning keyboard competitions; Youri Egorov made his by losing one.

Although Egorov did not reach the finals in the prestigious Van Cliburn International Competition, he was the recipient of possibly the most unusual award ever bestowed upon a contestant in any musical competition: His failure to reach beyond the semi-finals in the Fort Worth competition in 1977 so incensed a group of his admirers and boosters that they raised $10,000 to match the top award of the contest.

West Texans can hear the pianist and judge his formidable talent for themselves when the young man plays a recital at 8:15 p.m. Saturday in Texas Tech University Center theater here. A reception honoring the performer will follow the recital, to be open to the guests at the program. Tickets for the recital are priced $5 to the public, $3.50 for TTU faculty and staff, and $2.50 for TTU students. They are available at the University Center box office and will be available at the doors Saturday night, subject to availability.

After his participation in the Cliburn competition, Egorov went on to perform in Alice Tully Hall in Lincoln Center in New York City. Three months following his New York City debut performance, Egorov made his Chicago debut to rave reviews which compared this 24-year-old Russian to another Russian-born pianist, the legendary Vladimir Horowitz, now 75.

Before entering the Cliburn competition in 1977, Egorov had won the Tchaikovsky International Piano Competition in 1975 and the Queen Elizabeth of Belgium Concours the same year.

Paul Christy was the first man to farm horseradish in Tulelake, Calif. Much of the 15x15-mile reclaimed lake was parceled off in 1947 to World War II veterans with agricultural backgrounds. Christy and his fellow farmers today account for 30 percent of the horseradish produced each year in the United States, which is about 3.6 million pounds. (Los Angeles Times Photos by Fitzgerald Whitney)

They love their job, but it makes them cry

CHARLES HILLINGER
The Los Angeles Times

TULELAKE, Calif. — Otto Schaffner wears a 98-cent World War II surplus gas mask on the job. "I would be crying constantly without the gas mask," he says.

Schaffner and his wife, Margaret, operate the only horseradish gift shop in the West — the Tulelake Horseradish Co.

While Margaret runs the retail counter, Otto is in the processing plant grinding up horseradish roots.

The couple package and sell horseradish gift packs featuring jars of straight old fashioned horseradish ("like Grandma used on roast beef"), and horseradish flavored with tomato, mustard and sour cream.

The Schaffners use but a small fraction of the 3.6 million pounds of horseradish grown by five farmers on 600 acres on the outskirts of this small town just south of the Oregon border. Their product is shipped all over the world.

Gross annual income to the horseradish farmers of Tulelake is $700,000. They account for 30 percent of the horseradish produced each year in the United States. There are two other horseradish producing areas in the country — Eau Claire, Wis. and Edwardsville, Ill.

Much of the 15-by-15-mile reclaimed lake bed at Tulelake was parceled off in 1947 in 90-acre homesteads granted to 216 World War II veterans with agricultural backgrounds.

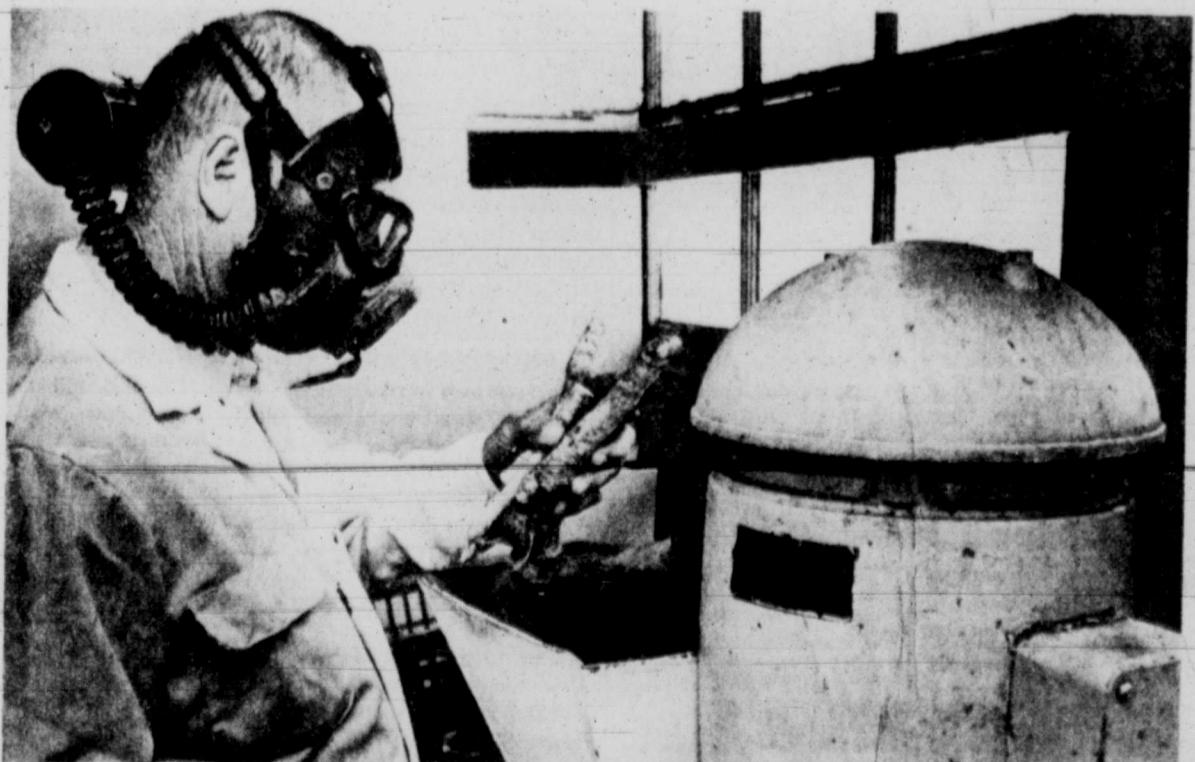

Five of those homesteaders are the Tulelake horseradish farmers — Paul Christy, James DeShow, Jack Iewkiri, Gaylord DuVal and Ed Seus.

The crop does exceptionally well here because of the elevation — 4900 feet — the rich soil, abundance of water and year-round cool temperatures.

"Thirty-five below zero in winter isn't uncommon. The colder the climate, the hotter the horseradish," Christy says. He was the first to farm horseradish here.

Christy's original plants were wild progeny of the Czech horseradish plants picked up on local ditch banks. It was from those wild plants that the small industry traces its roots.

Horseradish isn't a radish; it belongs to the mustard family. Its name is believed to have come from the German "Meerrettich" or sea radish. But when "Meerrettich" reached England, the British thinking "meer" sounded like "mare" changed the name to horseradish.

Otto Schaffner wears a 98-cent World War II gas mask on the job. "I would be crying constantly without the gas mask," he says. He and his wife, Margaret, operate the only horseradish gift shop in the West, the Tulelake Horseradish Co., at Tulelake, Calif., just south of the Oregon border. # Aircraft seek evidence missing uranium escaped into air

ERWIN, Tenn. (AP) — Aircraft equipped with sophisticated radiation detectors flew over a closed nuclear fuels plant Saturday seeking evidence that missing bomb-grade uranium escaped into the atmosphere as gas.

The helicopter and airplane flew a low-level search pattern over the Nuclear Fuels Services Inc. uranium fabricating plant, where at least 20 pounds of enriched uranium are not accounted for.

Robert Burnett, director of nuclear safeguards for the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, said aerial inspections would take two to three days. Data from the flights will be compared with results of a similar survey in November 1977, he said.

Enough weapons-grade uranium has been lost from the plant over the last 11 years to make at least six atomic bombs, government records show. The NRC said Friday its records indicate accumulated inventory losses of 246 pounds from January 1968 through December 1978.

"This plant does experience the highest inventory differences of any current licensed facility in the country right now but this is a unique facility," Burnett said.

"In the licensed sector, this plant handles the most high-enriched uranium of any facility in the country and magnitude of complexity in its process also is greater. When you handle a lot of material, the inventory differences inherently are going to be higher."

The NRC ordered Nuclear Fuel Services to shut its Erwin plant Monday after the Getty Oil Co. subsidiary reported at least 9 kilograms of 96 percent fissionable uranium missing in its latest two-month inventory for the period June 18 through Aug. 14.

The plant, which has been fabricating nuclear fuel for the Navy's submarines and experimental reactors since 1957, will be shut down until at least Nov. 1, officials said.

Burnett said a 30-day re-inventory, including flushing miles of pipes and chambers, will begin Oct. 1 after the plant's 400 workers finish shutting down the processing line next week.

Jim Partlow, chief of the NRC's accountability licensing branch, said Friday a three-day surface review revealed nothing to indicate any of the material was stolen or removed from the plant.

The NRC has said it knows of no case in which bomb-grade uranium has been diverted or stolen from such a plant. But recently declassified Central Intelligence Agency documents have linked disappearances of material from an Apollo, Pa., plant in 1963-65 with Israel's development of nuclear weapons.

According to physicists, the "critical mass," or amount of fissionable U235 needed to set off a nuclear chain reaction — a bomb — is 39 pounds.

Aggies upset Penn State

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Curtis Dickey, one of the top running backs in the history of the Southwest Conference, made no bones about his Texas A&M's team attitude Saturday before they went out and upset sixth-ranked Penn State 27-14.

"We came out wanting to take it right at them," said the 205-pound Aggies' tailback who gained 184 yards on 31 carries and scored three touchdowns for previously winless Texas A&M. Dickey, A&M's all-time leading rusher with 3,071 career yards, scored touchdowns of 69, 11, and 21 yards to hand Penn State its first regular season loss in 12 games.

"THEY (Penn State) started coming down on us inside, so we started outside on them," said Dickey, who played despite a bruised shoulder. Dickey said his shoulder bothered him a little bit, but that he wasn't going to let any kind of injury keep him from playing in what he considered the biggest game of his life.

"The quick pitch was so effective," Dickey explained, "primarily because we had such good blocking."

Dickey then gave Penn State a pat on its bruised back. "Penn State showed a lot of class and never lost their poise," Dickey said. That, however, wasn't the opinion of Penn State coach Joe Paterno.

"We were terrible," Paterno began. "We weren't ready emotionally. We weren't ready offensively or defensively. We were horrible."

Penn State's opening touchdown came after Aggies' quarterback Mike Mosley fumbled and Penn State's Matt Millen recovered at the A&M 24.

It took five plays to cover the 24 yards with Moore ripping the final three into the end zone and Menhardt converting for a 7-0 lead.

THE AGGIES, however, came right back to deadlock the game. They brought the ensuing kickoff to their 21 from where Dickey gained 10 yards on first down, then took a pitch-out from Mosley, swept left and outran the Penn State defense for a 69-yard touchdown.

Hardy, who is carrying on the barefoot kicking tradition established in recent years for A&M by Tony Franklin now of the National Football League's Philadelphia Eagles, kicked the first of his three conversions.

In the second quarter, A&M got a break when Tate fumbled and linebacker Doug Carr recovered for the Southwest Conference team at the Penn State 46.

Five plays later, Dickey romped 11 yards on an off tackle play and Hardy converted to make it 14-7 with 3:38 left in the first half. Earlier, Penn State had moved from its 44, keyed by 13-, 10- and 17-yard pass completions by Tate that brought the Nittany Lions a first down at the Aggies' 27. But three plays netted only six yards and Menhardt's field goal effort sailed wide right.

THE SURPRISING Aggies' defense held Penn State to 149 yards running and 146 yards passing for a total of 295, much of it after the winners had the game well in hand.

On the other hand, A&M shredded what was rated as one of the nation's top defenses for 263 yards on the ground. The Aggies had only 29 yards passing for a total offense of 292 yards.

In the third period, A&M boosted its lead to 21-7 with the help of an 18-yard halfback pass from Dickey to Mosley, an 8-yard completion by Mosley to tight end Chuck Carr, and finally Dickey's 21-yard dash into the end zone.

A&M EARLY in the fourth period took advantage of a 33-yard punt return by David Scott to the Penn State 35. Dickey on first down swept right end for 33 yards to the Lions' two. Brothers then gained one, was held for no gain and finally dove over the top for the Aggies final score. The drive covered 35 yards in four plays.

Penn State freshman Curt Warner, who gained a total of 281 yards in last week's easy victory over Rutgers, was held to 65 yards on 14 attempts by the underrated Aggies' defense.

Longhorns in rally for 17-9 opening win

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Derrick Hatchett's pass interception and a 37-yard penalty for pass interference enabled No. 4 Texas to squeeze by Iowa State, 17-9, in an intercollegiate game Saturday night.

A crowd of 73,652 — a record for a Texas opener — watched as Iowa State took a 9-3 halftime lead on three field goals by freshman Alex Giffords.

The highly-touted Texas defense held Iowa State to less than 20 yards total offense in the second half, however, and Hatchett stole quarterback Walter Grant's pass at the Iowa State 25.

A.J. "Jam" Jones scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 1-yard plunge with 4:26 left in the third quarter.

On Texas' next possession, defender Joe Brown was flagged for pass interference on a toss to Olympic speedster Johnny "Lam" Jones at the Iowa State 5. Jam Jones again scored from the 1.

Iowa State led Texas in total offense at the half, 132 yards to 120 yards, even though Rocky Gillis, the nation's second leading rusher, was carried off with a sprained knee early in the second quarter. Gillis had 50 yards on 11 carries and was the key in a 16-play, 61-yard drive that resulted in Iowa State's first field goal.

The loss was Iowa State's first after an opening-game 38-10 victory over Bowling Green.

Iowa State's other three-pointers came after a fumble by Longhorn quarterback Donnie Little at the Texas 35 and a 29-yard punt by John Goodson of Texas.

Texas, sparked by a 47-yard run by LeRoy King, drove from its 16 to the Iowa State 17 on its first possession but had to settle for a 34-yard field goal by Goodson.

Iowa State took the kickoff and Texas' Leroy King (38) scampers for a 47-yard gain in the third period of game with Iowa State Saturday night in Austin before more than 73,000 fans. The Longhorns took a 17-9 come-from-behind win over the Cyclones. (AP Laserphoto).

SMU freshmen spark 20-9 win

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Tailback Charles Wagoner, starting his first game, dashed 30 yards for a touchdown and established a school freshman rushing record Saturday night, carrying 18th-ranked Southern Methodist to a 20-9 non-conference victory over North Texas State.

The unbeaten Mustangs, now 3-0, needed every yard as the Mean Green (2-2) pressed the Mustangs all the way before 57,923 fans in Texas Stadium.

Wagoner, who was starting ahead of the highly touted frosh Eric Dickerson, rushed 26 times for 184 yards to ignite the ground-oriented Mustang offense playing its first game without injured quarterback Mike Ford.

SMU stormed 80 yards with the opening kickoff behind Wagoner, who dashed 30 yards for a touchdown after some brilliant open field running. SMU sophomore quarterback Jim Bob Taylor, starting his first game because Ford will be out for the season, flipped a nine-yard touchdown pass to tight end Robert Fisher as the Mustangs established a 14-3 halftime lead.

North Texas' only offense in the first 30 minutes was a 20-yard touchdown by freshman Whit Smith. Eight-point underdog North Texas dominated the third quarter with Bernard Jackson narrowing the count to 14-9 on a six-yard scoring run. However, field goals of 45 and 26 yards by Eddie Garcia, with the last kick capping a time-consuming drive in the final minutes of the game, put down any potential NTSU uprising.

North Texas was hampered by the third quarter loss of quarterback Jordan Case, who completed 10 of 14 passes for 124 yards before he suffered a bruised shoulder.

Wagoner broke a freshman rushing record established by Wayne Morris who gained 154 yards on 18 carries in 1972.

Alabama roars past Baylor, 45-0

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Second-ranked Alabama let Baylor cross riddled just once in the first three periods while Steadman Shealy and Major Ogilvie keyed a 431-yard ground assault as the Crimson Tide cruised to a 45-0 victory Saturday night.

Alabama's super-quick defense, led by end E.J. Junior, limited the Bears to 74 yards in total offense until the fourth quarter while intercepting five passes, recovering two fumbles and blocking a punt to set up the first of Alan McElroy's three field goals.

Shealy bolted 54 yards to set up Ogilvie's 1-yard touchdown run early in the second period for a 14-0 halftime lead and second-string quarterback Don Jacobs took the Tide on drives of 56 and 61 yards in the second half, with sophomore Mark Nix scoring on runs of 2 and 4 yards just three minutes apart.

Alabama broke the game open with four touchdowns in the final period.

The last two came on a 1-yard run by Joe Jones after the fifth interception and a 10-yard smash by John Hill with just 22 seconds to play. Alan Gray, the Tide's No. 3 quarterback, was at the controls for the last two touchdowns. The triumph enabled Alabama to retain a share of the nation's longest college football winning streak. The Crimson Tide and top-rated Southern California have won 11 consecutive games.

Alabama is 2-0 this season while Baylor dropped to 2-1 after winning its first two games for the first time in 14 years. The Bears have not been 3-0 since 1960.

McElroy booted field goals of 30 and 25 yards in the opening period. The first one followed Junior's block of Ron Stowe's punt at the Baylor 28 and the second came after Don McNeal's interception at his own 46. McElroy added a 33-yard field goal in the third period after Alabama consumed 7:21 in moving from its 30 to the Baylor 3 before being thrown back.

Junior indicated the shape of things to come when he blocked Stowe's punt just two minutes into the game. Six plays later, McElroy made it 3-0.

Astros defeat Cincy by 4-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Cesar Cedeno's RBI single keyed a two-run fifth inning and Joe Niekro became the first 20-game winner in the National League Saturday night as the Houston Astros defeated Cincinnati 4-1 and moved within a half-game of the pace-setting Reds in the West Division.

Cincinnati, which lost to Houston for the second straight night, came into the important series leading the Astros by 2 1/2 games.

Niekro, 20-10, survived a shaky first inning, when he loaded the bases without allowing a hit, and held the Reds to five hits until needing ninth-inning relief help from Joe Sambito.

Sambito came into the ninth in a no-out, bases-loaded situation and got three straight outs, two on strikeouts, to gain his 20th save.

Cedeno, who had failed to get a hit with runners in scoring position in two earlier innings, produced in the fifth inning with a single that scored Craig Reynolds, who had doubled down the first-base line. Enos Cabell singled to shallow center field to bring home Cedeno.

Niekro loaded the bases in the first inning when he hit leadoff batter Dave Collins with a pitch and walked Joe Morgan and George Foster. Johnny Bench hit a grounder to shortstop Reynolds.

Browns confident facing Cowboys on national TV

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns are the Rodney Dangerfields of the National Football League. Like the comedian, they "don't get no respect."

The Browns and the Dallas Cowboys meet Monday night in a nationally televised battle of undefeated teams, but few people seem to believe that Cleveland can stay with the powerful Cowboys.

Despite the odds against them, Cleveland Coach Sam Rutigliano thinks his team can surprise the oddsmakers, and the Cowboys.

"We were competitive twice last year against a team (Pittsburgh) which beat Dallas in the Super Bowl, and in as much as we respect Dallas for being a great football team, we're not awed by them."

The Browns also began last season 3-0. However, they then lost to the Steelers in Pittsburgh in a game marred by an official's decision in overtime — later proved wrong — that cost the Browns the ball on a fumble and, probably, the game.

"I knew we were ready for Pittsburgh last year and I feel even better about this game," Rutigliano said. "I don't mean for people to call Jimmy the Greek and bet their house, but I see us getting better and better."

"We have a lot more going for us this year. Certainly, a lot could happen Monday night that could change the whole complexion of the game early, but we're going to play a good game."

"We're going to have to. You can't afford to make mistakes against the Cowboys. There'll be no stretch drives at the end of the game if we make mistakes against Dallas."

One thing that could give the Browns a bit of a mental edge going into the Dallas game is the fact that the Cowboys have had to struggle to win their first three games — just as Cleveland has.

"Right now, they're struggling," said Rutigliano. "They aren't the prolific team that went to the Super Bowl last year."

"But the only thing that matters is to win — not how you win — and Dallas is just like Pittsburgh. They might struggle, but they just keep winning. We're going to have our hands full."

Red Raiders in 14-14 deadlock

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Texas Tech cornerback Willie Stephens intercepted an Arizona pass with three seconds on the clock to stop a final drive as the Wildcats tied the Aggies 14-14 in college football Saturday.

Both teams were hampered offensively in the second half by penalties and turnovers after the game was tied early in the third quarter when Tech quarterback Ron Reeves passed to split end Howie Lewis for a 23-yard scoring play.

ARIZONA DEFENDER Mark Streeter almost intercepted the ball but it bounced into Lewis' hands and he ran in for the touchdown.

That play came less than one minute after Arizona went ahead on an 8-yard touchdown pass from Jim Krohn to tight end Bill Nettling.

Nearly every Arizona drive was slowed or stopped by penalties. The Wildcats were penalized 12 times for 148 yards, including a 15-yarder that helped set up the Reeves to Lewis touchdown pass that tied the game.

Arizona, basically a running team, came out throwing as Krohn completed his first seven passes and led his team to a quick 7-0 lead midway through the first quarter. Krohn finished with 17 completions in 34 attempts for 241 yards and three interceptions.

TEXAS TECH'S offense relied chiefly on the running of 240-pound fullback James Hadnot, who carried 29 times for 141 yards. Tech's first touchdown came in the second quarter on a lightning strike, 59-yard pass play from Reeves to flanker Edwin Newsome. He outran Arizona defender Van Brandon and caught a perfect pass from Reeves for the touchdown.

The play came with 23 seconds left in the first half, right after Tech safety Ted Watts intercepted a Krohn pass.

Turnovers forced by an aggressive

Arizona defense hurt Texas Tech for most of the first half but the Wildcat offense was unable to take advantage of them.

In the second quarter, Tech punter Maury Buford fumbled the snap from center and Arizona took over eight yards from the goal line. However, Tech held and a 26-yard field goal attempt by Arizona's Bill Zivic was wide to the right.

TEXAS TECH then took over at the 20, and on the next play, Hadnot fumbled and Arizona's Streeter recovered at the line of scrimmage. With the help of an ineligible receiver penalty, Tech held again and Zivic missed on a 50-yard field goal try.

In the first quarter, after Arizona went ahead 7-0, Tech drove from its own 22 to the Wildcat 18 before being stopped. Red Raider kicker Bill Adams then missed on a 35-yard field goal try.

Arizona now is 2-1-1 and hosts San Jose State next Saturday. Texas Tech is 1-1-1 and plays at Baylor next week.

Oklahoma powers way past Tulsa

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Julius Caesar Watts, the starting quarterback for No. 3-ranked Oklahoma, led a strong rushing attack as the Sooners romped to a 49-13 victory over Tulsa in college football Saturday.

Watts, not considered a powerful runner, found success with his quarterback keeper and led all Sooners' rushers with 111 yards on 12 carries in a successful first half.

Halfback Billy Sims, Oklahoma's 1978 Heisman Trophy winner, was held out over half the game but scored twice.

Sims complained last week of an injury, which kept him out of some practices.

The Sooners dominated the first half after Watts scored in the opening period on a 26-yard run. Shortly afterward, Sims scored on a 25-yard run.

Oklahoma scored in the second quarter on a 12-yard run by freshman Stanley Wilson and a three-yard run by Jay McKim.

After stalling in the third period, the Sooners scored in the final quarter on a short dive by Sims, a four-yard run by quarterback Kelly Phelps and a one-yard run by freshman Weldon Ledbetter.

Tulsa scored on 32 and 31-yard field goals by Stu Crum and a one-yard dive by No. 2 quarterback Bill Blankenship.

Oilers, Pastorini ready for Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Houston Oilers expect quarterback Dan Pastorini to be ready for today's National Football League game at Cincinnati, but the Bengals are prepared to go with rookie Jack Thompson in place of the injured Ken Anderson.

Pastorini missed last Sunday's Oiler victory over the Kansas City Chiefs because of a bruised shoulder. Coach Bum Phillips said although second-year player Gifford Nielsen filled in admirably, Pastorini would return if he's able.

"Dan's our starter," Phillips said. "There's no doubt in Dan's mind, my mind, Gifford's mind or the team's mind."

Bengal Coach Homer Rice couldn't be so sure about Anderson, who left last Sunday's loss to the New England Patriots in the first quarter with a back bruise. Wide receiver Isaac Curtis and linebacker Jim LeClair were other casualties.

"Unfortunately, we came out of that game with injuries to key people," Rice said. "We won't know about their availability until very late."

Phillips said the Oilers were in good shape with tackle Mo Towns back at full speed, rookie defensive tackle Mike Stensrud recovered from a twisted knee and defensive end Elvin Bethea's muscle plump mended.

Houston is 2-1, while Cincinnati is 0-3. Phillips said that isn't important, though, because the Bengals "seem to have a habit of being up for the Oilers."

The series record bears that out, as Cincinnati has a 12-7 edge. "I think we turned the corner against the Patriots," Rice said. "We stayed with a fine, fine football team right down to the end. I'd like to think we're going to come on."

A bright spot for the Bengals, who have been outscored 81-38, has been the kicking of Pat McNally, last year's NFL punt leader.

McNally is averaging nearly 43 yards a kick and has gotten the Bengals out of trouble several times when they were unable to move the ball.

Thompson, the Bengals' top draft choice this year, played a little over three quarters last Sunday, completing seven of 19 passes for 83 yards. He also ran for two touchdowns.

Pastorini, in two games, completed just 16 of 46 attempts for 192 yards and had six passes intercepted.

Earl Campbell has rushed for 335 yards in 80 carries for Houston. Archie Griffin is the leading Bengal ball carrier with 122 yards in 29 carries.

Billy Brooks has caught six passes for 156 yards and the Bengals' lone passing touchdown. Ken Burroughs tops the Houston receivers with seven catches for 128 yards.

Southern Cal thunders past Minnesota, 48-14

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Southern Cal tailback Charles White ran for 153 yards and two touchdowns early in the game Saturday as the Trojans lived up to their No. 1 national college football ranking with a 48-14 rout of Minnesota.

White, like most of the USC starters, played the first quarter and only a few minutes of the second as the Trojans ran up a 21-0 lead in the opening period, then extended it to 35-0 early in the second.

Playing for the first time since he went out with a shoulder injury against Texas Tech two weeks ago, White carried just 10 times during his brief stint against the Gophers and scored on one spectacular 68-yard jaunt and a 10-yard dash as USC, 3-0, tallied five of the first six times it had possession.

The Trojans, who amassed 335 yards in the first half, got their first score when fullback Marcus Allen capped an 82-yard march with the opening kickoff with a 4-yard run.

Quarterback Paul McDonald hit tight end Hoby Brenner with a 17-yard scoring strike later in the quarter, then White unleashed his long run, cutting back across the grain before outracing a host of Minnesota defenders.

White's other scoring run came early in the second quarter, then Raymond Butler made it 35-0 when he returned a punt 67 yards for a touchdown.

Freshman tailback Mike Harper made it 41-0 on a one-yard run early in the final period, then Minnesota, 1-2, got its first touchdown, with Marion Barber bursting over from two yards out.

Third-string quarterback Scott Tinsley threw a 1-yard scoring pass to wide receiver Jeff Simmons for the final USC touchdown. The Gophers scored with 42 seconds remaining on an 18-yard pass from quarterback Wendell Avery to flanker Jeff Anhorn.

Minnesota, which had played 16th-ranked Ohio State close before losing 21-17 last week, was clearly outclassed in this game, before a crowd of 61,766, who watched the contest played in heavy smog and with temperatures in the 90s at the Coliseum.

The Gophers' usually effective running game was practically non-existent against USC, as Barber—the Big Ten's leading rusher last year—picked up just 42 yards on 14 carries to lead his team.

Starting Minnesota quarterback Mark Carlson, under constant pressure from the Trojan rush, did manage to complete 11 of 24 passes for 127 yards, while backup Avery was six of 10 for 71 yards.

The Gophers' defense had no success stopping the Trojans' first offensive unit. McDonald completed eight of 12 passes for 97 yards and the one score while in the contest, and Allen carried seven times for 54 yards.

Before the game was finished, USC had used 12 different backs in the game, including four quarterbacks.

White, considered a top candidate for the 1979 Heisman Trophy, had gained just 39 yards on 10 carries before Saturday's game, all in the first half of the 21-7 victory over Texas Tech. The speedy 6-foot, 185-pound senior gained 1,859 yards in 1978 and entered this season with 4,195 yards in his USC career.

Southern Cal, a 42-5 winner over Oregon State last weekend, built its advantage to 3-1-1 in the series against Minnesota.

Permian tops Tigers, 10-0

TEXARKANA — Odessa Permian's defense did a number on Texarkana here Saturday afternoon, allowing the Tigers just 98 offensive yards and four first downs, as the District 5-4A Panthers posted a 10-0 nonconference victory.

The triumph left Mojo 2-1 for the campaign. The Panthers will be dormant this coming week before facing Midland High in two weeks in the district opener for each team.

Although Permian's offense again had trouble finding the goal line, the Panthers generated 221 total yards, 182 of which came on the ground.

After a scoreless first frame, Permian's Roy Dunn booted a 31-yard field goal as time ran out in the half giving the visitors a slim 3-0 margin.

Mojo tacked on their last tally in the third quarter. Phillip Crain hauled in a nine-yard scoring pass from Steve Guthrie with 3:59 remaining. Dunn's kick made the count 10-0.

Purdue stuns Fighting Irish

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Quarterback Mark Herrmann passed for two touchdowns and tailback Wally Jones ran for two others Saturday as 17th-ranked Purdue rallied from 13 points back and beat No. 5 Notre Dame 28-22.

The Irish, using a trio of reserve quarterbacks in place of injured Rusty Lisch, took a 20-17 lead on a 17-yard touchdown pass from Greg Knafele to Dean Maszta and a pair of field goals by Chuck Male.

But Purdue, now 2-1, rallied in the third quarter behind Herrmann's passing and the running of Jones. Passes of 28 and 11 yards to Bart Burrell and 12 and 11 yards to Raymond Smith brought Purdue to the Notre Dame 5. Jones then rushed three times for a touchdown late in the third quarter.

Purdue got the ball back minutes later when Marcus McKinnie intercepted a pass from Tim Koegel and returned it 27 yards to the Irish 8. Jones carried three times for his second touchdown as the third period ended.

Purdue pushed the lead to 28-20 midway through the fourth quarter as Herrmann directed a 60-yard drive, with the final six yards on a pass to Burrell.

The Irish, now 1-1, got two points back when Purdue punter Joe Linville was tackled in the end zone for a safety with five minutes left in the game. The final Irish drive stalled at the Purdue 44 with just over three minutes to go, and the Boilermakers ran out the clock.

The crowd of 70,567 in Purdue Ross-Ade Stadium was the largest ever to attend a football game in the state of Indiana.

Notre Dame's only first-half touchdown followed a recovery of a Purdue fumble near midfield. Runs by Vagas Ferguson and Koegel and a 13-yard pass from Koegel to Pete Holohan took the Irish to the 23. Three plays later, on fourth down at the 17, Notre Dame faked a field goal try and Knafele took the snap, stood up and fired the ball to Maszta in the end zone.

Purdue then launched its only scoring drive of the half. Six runs by John Macon and Jones took Purdue to the Irish 45 before Herrmann made his first pass of the game, a nine-yard completion to Dave Young. An eight-yard pass to Jones and three more runs took the Boilermakers to the 15, where Herrmann hit Young diving across the goal line for the tying touchdown.

With Mike Courey as quarterback, Notre Dame then drove to the Purdue 22 before a fourth-down pass failed and Male hit a 40-yard field goal to put the Irish back ahead.

Notre Dame struck again late in the second period, keyed by a 34-yard pass to Tony Hunter from Holohan on a reverse handoff from Knafele. That gave the Irish the ball at the Purdue 31, and three straight runs by Ferguson and a 12-yard pass to Maszta brought Notre Dame to the 8.

Three plays later, after Courey was sacked at the 15, Male hit his second field goal of the game and sixth straight this season, this one from 32 yards out with 13 seconds left before the halftime intermission.

Notre Dame ballooned the lead to 20-7 on a 62-yard drive early in the third quarter.

A 29-yard pass to Ty Dickerson and a 15-yard run by Ferguson were the key plays that carried the Irish to the Purdue 4 before Koegel hit Nick Vehr on a touchdown pass.

Michigan nabs 28-7 victory

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan tailback Stan Edwards scored on touchdown runs of 3 and 2 yards as the 11th-ranked Wolverines claimed a 28-7 nonconference college football victory over stubborn Kansas Saturday.

Michigan, coming off last week's 12-10 upset loss to Notre Dame, was sluggish in the early going and the crowd of 103,698 — largest ever to see Kansas perform — was stunned 1:29 into the second quarter when Kansas tied the heavily favored Wolverines 7-7.

Michigan was leading 7-0 on Edwards' first-period touchdown when Kansas safety Leroy Irvin took Bryan Virgil's punt on his own 40, cut right and raced-untouched down the sideline for the touchdown.

Missouri rips Ole Miss

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Quarterback Phil Bradley passed for one touchdown and scored another as ninth-ranked Missouri came alive in the second half and demolished Mississippi 37-7 in a regionally televised college football game Saturday.

Missouri, trailing 7-3 after the first two quarters, caught fire after recovering a Rebels' fumble on the Ole Miss 26-yard line as the third period opened.

They went on to register three touchdowns before Mississippi could recover.

That fumble recovery by defensive back Eric Wright may have been the turning point because the Tigers never let up after that.

Running back Gerry Ellis smashed the final 11 yards for the first Missouri touchdown. Four minutes later, James Wilder swept right end on a 14-yard scoring burst.

The Rebels, behind quarterback John Fourcade, dominated the first half, keeping Missouri off balance.

However, those two quick scores early in the third quarter ended the Rebels' offensive spark and Mississippi struggled the rest of the way.

Bradley hit end Ken Blair on a 69-yard touchdown pass play before the third quarter ended, putting the game out of reach.

Arlington wins

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Roy Dewalt rambled for 104 yards and one touchdown and threw for another as Texas-Arlington thrashed Northwest Louisiana 37-14 in a non-conference football game here Saturday night.

Beside his 10 rushes, Dewalt completed four of nine passes for 55 yards including his 19-yard scoring strike to Brent Doyle.

The win lifts Texas-Arlington to a 2-1 season record, while the loss drops Northwest Louisiana to 1-1.

Texas-Arlington amassed 458 yards total offense, with 403 coming on the ground.

Illini nabs narrow win

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Mike Holmes ran for more than 130 yards and scored two touchdowns to lead Illinois to a 27-19 college football victory over Air Force here Saturday.

Holmes, a 210-pound junior, who transferred to Illinois from Colorado, ignited a third-period come-from-behind effort by the Fighting Illini after they dropped behind to a surprising Air Force team in the first half.

Trailing 13-0, Illinois came alive after a disastrous second-quarter fumble by Falcon quarterback Dave Ziebart. McCullough hit key passes to Kenny Shaw and John Lopez before Holmes went in from the one.

After the Illini kicker Kirk Bostrom ended the first half with a 52-yard field goal, PORTALES, N.M. (AP) — Howard Payne University quarterback Craig Smith passed for 178 yards and two touchdowns to key the Yellow Jackets' 33-15 pounding of Eastern New Mexico in a non-conference college football game here Saturday night.

Smith, who completed 15 of 24 passes without an interception, was helped in the Yellow Jacket onslaught by running back David Graham, who led the team in rushing with 48 yards and one touchdown.

Eastern's Greyhounds got off to a promising start, with Chris Kraft scoring the first TD of the game on an 89-yard run to paydirt in the first quarter. Kraft went on to become the

Padres overcome Dodger home runs

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Gene Tenace's RBI single sparked a three-run San Diego seventh inning and the Padres survived three Los Angeles Dodger home runs for a 10-8 victory Saturday night.

With the score tied 5-5, Paul Dade opened the San Diego seventh with one of his four hits, a single off reliever Dave Patterson, 3-1. Dave Winfield walked and Tenace, who had struck out three times, delivered his hit to put the Padres ahead 6-5.

Jay Johnstone followed with an infield hit to load the bases and Bill Fahey's sacrifice fly gave the Padres their second run. The final run of the inning scored on a bases-loaded groundout by pinch-hitter Kurt Bevacqua.

Rookie Pedro Guerrero, who had four RBI in the game, singled home two runs in the eighth for the Dodgers before Johnstone belted a two-run double for the Padres in the bottom of the inning.

In addition to his four hits, Dade scored three runs, drove in a run and stole three bases for the Padres. Steve Mura, 4-3, got the victory.

Orioles celebrate winning pennant

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles clinched their sixth American League East championship in 11 years Saturday, and then waited more than six hours before they were able to touch off a raucous celebration as midnight approached.

A 6-3 loss by second-place Milwaukee in an afternoon game gave Baltimore the title even before a scheduled twilight double-header against Cleveland was to begin.

The Orioles lost 7-3 in the opener, which was delayed one hour and 19 minutes by rain, and the second game was postponed after another 42-minute delay in the first inning.

But once they hit the clubhouse, the Orioles made up for lost time as they opened champagne which they had taken with them on a road trip to Detroit but were unable to open.

With only three players remaining from the 1974 team which last won a division title, the celebration was more explosive than the veterans of the early 1970's displayed after repeated championships.

Manager Earl Weaver was deluged from about 10 bottles at once, while traveling secretary Phil Itzoe also was a favorite target of the players.

Terry Crowley, who has been on five championship teams, was quite adept at shaking and squirting the champagne. However, a newcomer like Eddie Murray required about five minutes just to pop the cork.

"I'm really proud of our guys," said Weaver. "It was a bad night with a terrible field, but they all went out and played the game like any other and tried to win. They were not trying to rush things and get it over."

Although they have more division titles than any other club since the system was inaugurated in 1969, the Orioles have never clinched a championship in action on their home field.

During the first game delay, the mood was quiet and almost somber in the clubhouse.

"We may spend the night here," said Scott McGregor, the first game starter. "We have a delayed fuse on the celebration."

The Orioles were informed of Milwaukee's loss by a reporter who made a telephone call to Milwaukee and was given a personal, play-by-play of the final outs.

After a few lusty cheers, the Orioles quietly prepared for the double-header while clubhouse attendants put plastic coverings over the locker stalls to protect clothing from any postgame champagne party.

"It's a tremendous relief to get it over with," said Weaver. "I've had a hard time sleeping lately — not necessarily because I thought we would lose. There are so many things we have to take care of, but you don't feel like doing them until you've finished the job at hand."

"We've got to get ourselves ready for the playoffs," Weaver added. "We want to get everyone enough at-bats to stay sharp and to set up the pitching rotation as best as we possibly can."

Edward Bennett Williams, the Washington attorney who is due to take over as the new owner of the franchise in November, was on hand for the clincher.

"I love it," Williams said. "I think we have the best team in baseball."

Allen wins skating crown

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP) — Lisa Marie Allen, the second ranked U.S. singles skater, fell in the final round of the Flaming Leaves Invitational figure skater tourney here Saturday, but her chief rivals also fell, allowing her to skate off with the victory at 10 ordinals and 178.16 points.

ther's native country, finished second, overall, with 28 and 172.66.

Sandy Lenz, of Rockford, Ill., the fourth-ranked American took third, with 32 and 170.90 as Denise Biellmann, a Swiss champion who had been expected to pose the major threat to Allen, managed only a fourth place finish, with 41 and 169.68.

McEnroe nabs finals spot

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John McEnroe and Peter Fleming, who make up the top doubles team in men's tennis at present, will square off tonight in the singles final of the $175,000 Jack Kramer Open tournament.

McEnroe, the top seed, breezed past Eliot Teltcher 6-2, 6-3 in Saturday night's semifinals. Fleming, seeded eighth, made the finals by beating Victor Amaya 7-6, 6-3 earlier Saturday.

McEnroe overcame a sprained ankle in the second set and a decidedly pro-Teltcher crowd to score a relatively easy win on the strength of nine service aces to none for the 16th-seeded Teltcher.

In the second game of the second set, McEnroe fell while chasing a ball hit to his backhand, going down near the box seats. After the maximum three minute delay for injury, the 20-year-old winner of the U.S. Open earlier this month returned to action, losing the game but shaking off his injury to win the match.

There was only one double fault in the match. It came on McEnroe's opening service.

Angelo State wins by 14-9

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Angelo State halfback Anthony Johnson broke loose for 69 yards to score in the third quarter to give Angelo State of Texas a 14-9 college football win over Cameron.

Angelo State with the longest winning streak in college football stopped a Cameron scoring drive in the fourth quarter by holding Cameron on a fourth down play on the Angelo State 20-yard line.

Cameron scored on a first quarter field goal and a one-yard run at the end of the second quarter by halfback Ray Rhymes.

Miners win 17-15

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Kelvin Russell scored a 10-yard touchdown on a pass from a fake field goal, then the Texas-El Paso defense fought off a stubborn comeback as the Miners beat Nevada-Las Vegas 17-15 Saturday night in a non-conference game.

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — An illegal procedure penalty pushed the Bears back to the eight and the game ended as the field-goal squad attempted to tie the score.

Udan McSpadden's field goals of 27, 25 and 49 yards kept UNC in contention all afternoon. His 49-yarder gave the Bears an 18-14 lead with 9:44 remaining.

UNC led 10-7 at the half.

Abilene Christian, now 4-0, and ranked No. 2 in the NAIA Division I, gained 303 yards in total offense, 285 of them on Mayes passes. Mayes had 148 yards total offense. Their record slumped to 1-2.

Abilene Christian wins, 21-18

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — Undeafed Abilene Christian's quarterback John Mayes scored the winning touchdown on a 1-yard sneak to give the Wildcats a 21-18 non-conference football victory over Northern Colorado here Saturday.

The Wildcats' defense preserved the narrow margin by repulsing a final scoring threat inside the 10-yard line.

UNC quarterback Frank Boyce moved the Bears from their 38 to the Wildcat 2 in a series that included 38-yard and 6-yard pass plays and an 8-yard keeper in the final 90 seconds of play.

Tulane tumbles Froggies

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Roch Hontas threw for two touchdowns and his passes set up two TD plunges by Marv Christian as Tulane rallied for a 33-19 victory over Texas Christian Saturday night.

Hontas completed 28 of 36 passes for 235 yards, including scoring passes of 4 yards to Alton Alexis and 26 yards to Darrel Griffin.

Greg Porter tied a school record by kicking four field goals for TCU, and boots of 44, 25 and 38 yards gave the Horned Frogs a 9-0 lead in the second quarter.

Hontas completed 10 passes in a row during the first half to overcome that edge and put Tulane into a 15-9 lead. TCU quarterback Steve Stamp threw a six-yard pass to Phillip Epps with 46 seconds left in the first half that let the Horned Frogs carry a 16-15 lead to the dressing room.

Christian, who bulled over from the 3 in the second quarter to complete a nine-play, 95-yard drive, came back to pick up half of the Green Wave's yardage in a 58-yard drive in the third quarter that put Tulane ahead to stay.

gained 100 yards on 18 carries for the Ponies.

Wagoner's rushing total was the fifth best of all time for a single game in SMU history.

Wagoner was something of a surprise starter for the Mustangs although he played most of the second half in a 27-0 over Texas Christian last week when Dickerson was dazed by a tackle.

Taylor ran a conservative SMU attack, completing only one pass to All-America wide receiver Emanuel Toibert.

The quick Mustang secondary gave Case trouble as John Simmons picked off two passes and Case was sacked three times before he was injured by a hard Pony rush.

North Texas' most impressive drive was its first possession in the third quarter after Case was injured.

Backup quarterback Joe Stevenson completed a 15-yard pass to Pete Harvey to the SMU 28.

The Mean Green worked the ball to the Mustang six-yard line where Jackson slashed off tackle for the score. It was the first touchdown in nine quarters allowed by the young but plucky Mustang defense.

North Texas had a chance to narrow the count to 14-12, but Smith missed a 41-yard field goal attempt and SMU took control of the fourth quarter.

The leading rusher for North Texas was Malcolm Jones who gained 49 yards on 15 carries.

Stevenson could complete only one of nine passes as the Mean Green passing game left with Case's departure.

LSU whips Rice Owls by 47-3

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Senior quarterback David Woodley passed for 125 yards and ran for two touchdowns Saturday night as Louisiana State University rolled over all but helpless Rice 47-3 in a college football game.

Rice was able to drive out of its own territory only twice in the entire game. Its lone three points came on a 36-yard field goal by Wes Hansen after an LSU fumble on the opening kickoff.

Defensive end Lyman White led the aggressive LSU defense, twice stopping Rice rushes cold on key downs and batting down a Randy Hertel pass on another attempt at a third-down conversion.

Leading rusher for the night was LSU tailback Hokie Gajan who picked up 118 yards on 19 carries.

Woodley hit on seven of 11 passes, sharing time at quarterback with Steve Ensminger who hit four of seven passes for 65 yards.

The night's longest run was a 56-yard touchdown sprint by third string fullback Lester Dunn.

Freshman kicker Don Barthel boot-ed field goals of 28 yards and 31 yards for LSU. Gajan ran one in from 26 yards out for a score; Woodley scored on runs of 20 yards and two yards; fullback Jude Hernandez ran one in from eight yards out; and third string tailback Jesse Myles scored on a 21-yard run late in the third quarter.

Rice is now 1-2 for the season, and LSU is 2-0.

It was a disappointing night for Hertel who finished with five completions and 16 attempts for 47 yards.

He left the game early in the fourth quarter after going down under a mean pass rush. Hertel came into the game throwing at a 56 percent clip and averaging better than 140 yards a game in passing offense.

The Rice rushing offense was also bottled up.

Nebraska edges Hawks

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Dean Sukup's 30-yard field goal with 5:52 left in the game, after second-string quarterback Tim Hager had rallied Nebraska to a tie, gave the seventh-ranked Cornhuskers a 24-21 victory over Iowa in college football Saturday.

Nebraska trailed 21-7 midway through the third quarter, but Hager scored on a four-yard run late in the period, then directed a 51-yard scoring drive capped by Craig Johnson's five-yard run that tied the score.

After Nebraska recovered an Iowa fumble on the Hawkeyes' next series, Sukup kicked his game-winner. Nebraska is 2-0 and Iowa fell to 0-3.

Nebraska had to overcome a rash of fumbles to beat the stubborn Hawkeyes. The Cornhuskers lost five fumbles, but Iowa could convert only two into scores.

Fullback Dean McKillip scored twice for Iowa on two-yard runs and Pete Gales threw a 29-yard TD pass to moved from its 20 to the Texas 19. Giffords drilled a 36-yard field goal, the first of three.

Freshman Joel Jensen stripped the ball from Little to set up Iowa State's second field goal. Giffords kicked a 43-yarder.

The short punt by Goodson carried only to the Texas 40, and Iowa State capitalized on a 35-yard field goal.

Brown stopped Texas' only drive in the first half by intercepting a Little pass at the Iowa State 28.

Arkansas takes 27-7 victory

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Quarterback Kevin Scanlon scored two touchdowns as 15th-ranked Arkansas chewed up Oklahoma State with machine-like precision and posted a 27-7 victory Saturday night.

The Razorbacks scored on four straight possessions in the first half while building a 24-0 lead and, at one point, converted on 6 straight third-down situations.

Arkansas had consecutive touchdown drives of 71 yards, 61 yards, and 78 yards.

The Razorbacks were so proficient that they netted 18 first downs and 336 yards in the first half and held a 14-0 lead before the Cowboys made a first down.

Arkansas is 2-0 for the year and Oklahoma State is 2-1.

Thomas Brown, who made 88 yards on four carries before injuring his shoulder, turned in big runs in the Razorbacks' first two scoring drives. He broke 51 yards after taking a pitchout from Scanlon, who caught Oklahoma State crowding the line of scrimmage. That play carried to the Cowboys' 20. Three plays later, Scanlon kept 6 yards for the game's first touchdown.

It was a disappointing night for Hertel who finished with five completions and 16 attempts for 47 yards.

He left the game early in the fourth quarter after going down under a mean pass rush. Hertel came into the game throwing at a 56 percent clip and averaging better than 140 yards a game in passing offense.

The Rice rushing offense was also bottled up.

Orr powers Cougars

By The Associated Press

Fullback Terry Orr ran for three touchdowns as Abilene Cooper, the state's top-ranked team, continued its dominance in Class AAAA with a 52-0 rout over Fort Worth Haltom Friday night.

WIDE RECEIVER David Williams caught two scoring passes and halfback Keith Pantalion added two touchdowns jaunts to contribute to Cooper's total offense of 459 yards.

Five of the top seven AAAA teams in The Associated Press schoolboy football poll rolled to victory in games Friday. No. 9 Killean battled to a 7-7 tie with unranked Longview and Waco Richfield upset John Tyler, 21-19.

Third-rated Lake Highlands needed a late insurance touchdown to beat surprising Richardson Pearce, 27-13. Safety Scott Parks intercepted a tipped Pearce pass late in the fourth quarter to set up the Wildcats final score.

"This wasn't a flashy victory," said Wildcat Coach Joe Johnson, "but then that's not really our style. We run the wing-T offense, and it's your basic three yards-and-a-cloud-of-dust type thing. We grind it out on the ground."

IN OTHER AAAA action, No. 4 Plano shutout Sherman, 21-0; fifth-ranked Seguin steamrolled Cooper, the state's top-ranked team, continued its dominance in Class AAAA with a 52-0 rout over Fort Worth Haltom Friday night.

No. 2 La Porte and No. 5 Houston Stratford met head-on Saturday. Seventh-ranked Conroe had the weekend off.

Jasper — the cream of the crop in Class AAA — took an easy 35-0 win over DeRidder, La. Second-ranked Lubbock Estacado beat cross-town rival Lubbock Coronado, 16-0, Thursday night. No. 3 Kerrville Tivy stomped Burnet, 35-7, for its third straight triumph and fourth-rated Beaumont Herbert dominated Houston Washington, 34-7.

John Rodney Holley booted field goals of 30, 26 and 25 yards as seventh-ranked McKinney edged Mount Pleasant 9-6. No. 6 Brownwood — a perennial power in AAA — defeated Round Rock, 29-6.

In other AAA games, eighth-ranked Huntsville shut out New Casey, 22-0; Gainesville beat Fort Worth Riverside, 49-0, and No. 10 Gregory Portland whipped Corpus Christi Ray, 27-0.

FIFTH-RATED Paris did not play this week. Eight of the nine top-ranked Class AA teams in action Friday night posted wins.

Pittsburg continued to dominate division play with a 26-0 shellacking of Willsboro. No. 2 Childers stomped Paducah, 47-0; third-ranked Kenedy shut out George West, 24-0 and San Antonio Randolph, the Alamo City's only ranked schoolboy club, beat South San West, 26-0.

No. 6 Littlefield fought to a scoreless tie with unranked Slaton; seventh-rated Whitehouse out dueled Hallsville, 14-7; Breckinridge, ranked eighth, creamed Stephenville, 34-0. No. 9 Comanche blanked Hamilton, 20-0; and tenth-ranked Hondo trounced Bandera, 49-0.

China Spring — the dominant team in Class A — edged Robinson, 17-14, for its third straight win. No. 2 Falls City romped to a 51-6 win over Lytle; third-ranked Haskell beat Seymour, 31-15; Hawkins, rated fourth, slaughtered Ore City, 52-14 and fifth-ranked Seagraves won over Lorenzo, 35-14.

No. 8 Dilley edged Charlotte, 15-6 and ninth-ranked Mason beat West Texas rival Sonora, 21-6. Unranked Shepherd upset No. 7 Hull-Daisetta, 16-12.

No. 8 Dilley edged Charlotte, 15-6 and ninth-ranked Mason beat West Texas rival Sonora, 21-6. Unranked Shepherd upset No. 7 Hull-Daisetta, 16-12.

Tar Heels upset Pitt

CHAPEL HIBL, N.C. (AP) — Linebacker Buddy Curry intercepted two passes and quarterback Matt Kupec ran for one touchdown and threw for another, leading North Carolina to a 17-7 upset victory over 13th-ranked Pittsburgh Saturday.

The Tar Heels contained running back Randy McMillan, who entered the game as the nation's ninth-leading rusher, and neutralized defensive end Hugh Green.

The unbeaten Tar Heels maintained control of the ball throughout and had the Panthers operating in the shadow of their goal most of the game. The Panthers stayed within striking distance, however, because they did a respectable job of containing Tar Heels' tailback Amos Lawrence, the nation's 10th-leading rusher.

North Carolina scored on its third offensive play when Kupec threw a 43-yard pass to Phil Farris, who had badly beaten the Pittsburgh secondary. It was the second time Kupec, who later broke a Tar Heels' record for most career completions, had thrown to Farris in two games. Both resulted in 43-yard touchdowns.

But the North Carolina defense, that has surrendered only seven points in two games, was the difference. Curry's interceptions and fine, all-around play, overshadowed a good effort by the Panthers' defenders.

Pitt entered the game as the nation's eighth-ranked defensive team. The Panthers were first against the rush.

But their offense was unable to overcome the Tar Heels' defense, which forced them into eight turnovers.

After the touchdown pass to Farris, Kupec capped a 14-yard drive that followed Lee Shaffer's first-period fumble recovery with a one-yard sneak.

Pitt converted one of North Carolina's rare mistakes into its only score in the third period. Rick Trocano passed four yards to Kenny Bowles for the score.

Jeff Hayes closed out the scoring for North Carolina with a 43-yard field goal in the fourth period.

Tarleton State romps

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Greg Edards fired two touchdown passes and Ricky Elliot rushed for two others as Tarleton State, fueled by 504 yards in total offense, demolished Lubbock Christian College, 55-0, Saturday.

Edards connected on 9 of 15 passes for 203 yards, including scoring tosses of 22 and 29 yards to Mark Owen, as the Texans ran their record to 2-1.

Lubbock Christian, now 1-3, managed only 40 yards total offense and never penetrated beyond the Texans' 32.

McMurry upsets Austin

SHERMAN, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Brent Lang and punter Robert Pittard led McMurry past Austin College 16-6 Saturday, and McMurry now leads the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association Conference.

Lang set up McMurry's first touchdown with a 55-yard pass to the Austin College three. He sneaked it in two plays later.

Pittard's punts averaged 47 yards, to keep Austin College at bay most of the day. The Kangaroos managed an 11-yard touchdown pass late in the game.

McMurry is now 2-0 in conference play, 3-1 on the year. Austin College is 2-1.

Flatlanders skiers scan skies for signs of snow

Wax up your skis, check your mittens, dig out your longies and start warming up the buttered rum, it could snow any day now.

At least, the Flatlanders' Ski Club looks at it that way. September is fading and it's time to start looking for a good hill to shooosh down. Besides, this is a Winter Olympic year in the U.S. with the Games scheduled for Lake Placid, N.Y.

As for the hill, the Flatlanders have one in mind, Cooper Mountain, Colo., where the group will go on a four-day trip during the Thanksgiving Day weekend, Nov. 21-25.

The expedition will cost $307 plus $15 Flatlanders' membership. Pretty high? Well, it includes airfare to Denver and back, the bus trip for the 1 1/2 hour trip over Loveland Pass to the winter wonderland, four days of lift tickets and four days in a two-bedroom, luxury condominium.

At Cooper Mountain, the West Texas Flatlander will find 10 chairlifts that lead to slopes that are classified 20 percent for beginners, 60 percent for intermediates and 20 percent for experts. Also available are rental equipment and lessons.

Elevationwise, it's one of the highest resorts in Colorado, increasing the potential for early snow, and the ski village comes complete with nightlife, for those who still have energy to burn after a day on the slopes; restaurants and a shopping mall.

If interested contact Mary Vanderloop (697 6023) or the Flatlanders Ski Club, P.O. Box 5163, Midland.

The Flatlanders also have an expedition planned for Winter Park, Colo., Jan. 6-13 that already is just about full and a you're-on-your-own trip to Taos, N.M., over the New Year's weekend.

Midland schools capture four wins

Midland schools won four of seven games against Odessa schools Saturday in ninth and eighth grade football action.

In the ninth grade, Midland Purple and Lee White took victories while Midland Gold and Lee Maroon suffered defeats. The Purples shutout Crockett, 12-0, while the Whites had a narrow 14-6 win over Ector. The Maroons fell to Hood, 12-6, in a close battle that was tied 6-6 at halftime and the Golds fell to Bonham, 14-7, in a Thursday battle.

The only other ninth grade contest played Saturday saw Nimitz beat Bowie, 10-0, in an all-Odessa matchup.

Alamo and Goddard took wins in the eighth grade competition with Odessa schools while San Jacinto was the only loser.

Alamo ripped Blackshear, 28-6, while Goddard run over Hood, 20-0, for a shutout in the season opener. San Jacinto lost a 20-6 decision to Crockett.

In the only other eighth grade game, Nimitz posted a 20-8 win over Bowie.

Young takes LPGA lead

OVERLAND PARK, Kan. (AP) — Donna Caponi Young, making a bid for her first tournament victory since winning the LPGA Championship three months ago, fired a 3-under-par 70 Saturday to take a three-stroke lead into the final round of the $100,000 LPGA Kansas City Classic.

The blonde-haired, blue-eyed veteran from

Los Angeles broke out of a three-way tie for first by birdieing the third, seventh, eleventh and 12th holes on the par-73, 6,273-yard Brookridge Country Club course and finished the day at 211, 8-under par for three rounds.

"I kept saying that if I made some putts I'd shoot a low number," said Young, whose only problem was a three-putt bogey on 18.

It's a family affair

By WANDA MOUTON
Lifestyle Editor

In this time of second-by-second change, anything that lasts 31 years has got to be special.

And that's exactly what St. Ann's Family Fair is.

What began as an humble ice cream social has expanded into an affair that annually attracts 10,000 Midlanders.

The Family Fair is set for Saturday on the school grounds of St. Ann's School, located at Illinois Ave. and "M" St.

This year's event promises to be the best ever, according to the Rev. Cliff Blackburn, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church which is sponsoring the fair.

About 50 activities have been planned, including carnival rides, food and drink booths, merchandise booths, and prizes to be given away.

Food booths have been set up for burritos, beer, nachos, cokes and coffee, corn on the cob, cotton candy, country store items, hamburgers and hot dogs, ice cream, popcorn, sausage, snowcones, tea room, Mexican dinner and bar-b-que.

"The Mexican dinner and bar-b-que booths are added attractions this year and will be served all day," said the Rev. Blackburn.

Merchandise booths will include arts and crafts, balloons and scarones, a book stall, costume jewelry, ends and odds, sewing and souvenirs.

According to the Rev. Blackburn, the arts and crafts booth has grown so much in popularity over the years that persons must get to the fair early to get the best choice in items available.

A new attraction this year is the special youth booth designed especially with the younger generation in mind. To be available here, among other things, will be face painting.

Carnival rides will be open for operation Friday night. Events Saturday begin at 8 a.m. to go through 10 p.m.

To be given away during the day are several prize "goodies" including (1) an autographed football from the 1978 Cotton Bowl with Notre Dame and Houston. The football is signed by Notre Dame team members; (2) golf clubs presented by golf celebrity Judy Rankin, a native of Midland; (3) a St. Louis Cardinal football given to the parish by team member Tom Branney, a member of St. Ann's Church; (4) the piston assembly in Midlander Jim Hall's car which competed in the 1978 Indianapolis 500 race.

Making an appearance at the Fair will be Miss Texas-USA Barbara Buckley, a Midlander and member of the church.

Benefits of the fair will go toward the parish and to support St. Ann's School. It is the only fund-raising activity of the church each year.

"It brings our people together," said the Rev. Blackburn. "There are some in our parish who worked in the original event 31 years ago and are still working with the fair today."

General chairmen of the event are Don and Marge Heltinghausen. Co-chairmen are Enrique and Olivia Farias.

Send contest entries now

Deadline nears for entries in The Midland Reporter-Telegram's annual recipe contest and cookbook section, "Recipes '79."

This year's edition will be published as a tabloid supplement to the newspaper Sunday, Nov. 4. It will feature scores of recipes submitted by readers.

Valuable prizes and cash awards for winning entries will be given in each of six categories. Watch the newspaper for details to be announced.

The categories of recipes will be (1) Salads; (2) Meats, Fish and Fowl; (3) Casseroles, vegetables and side dishes; (4) Breads; (5) Cakes; and (6) Pies.

Winners will be announced in "Recipes '79" on Nov. 4. Deadline for entries will be Oct. 5.

All entries will be judged by a panel of professional home economists not connected with the newspaper. The judges will select the three best recipes in each category.

Readers are asked to submit only one entry per category.

Entries should be typewritten and all measurements and instructions clearly stated. Any recipes that are unclear will be disqualified.

Each entry should be clearly labeled at the top with the entrant's name, address, telephone number, the name of the recipe and category entered.

Send entries to "Recipes '79", The Midland Reporter-Telegram, P. O. Box 1650, Midland, Texas 79702.

The contest is open to everyone in the Reporter-Telegram's retail trading zone except employees and agents of the Reporter-Telegram and their families.

Lion Tamers hear museum director

Joan Hellen, director of the Museum of the Southwest, was the guest speaker Wednesday noon at the meeting of the Lion Tamers Club at the Woman's Club.

Projects now under way at the museum, along with plans for future development, planned displays and other scheduled events, were reviewed by the speaker.

At a business session, which followed the program, Mrs. Francis Y. Grubb was named secretary, succeeding Mrs. Maurice Cole, resigned.

Chairman of standing committees for the year were announced by Mrs. Art Oestmann, president.

They are Mrs. R.B. Bechtel, historian; Mrs. Leland H. Franke, ways and means; Mrs. George H. Loudamy, decorating; Mrs. Donald K. Judd, sunshine; Mrs. Horace Robb, projects; Mrs. Lester Van Pelt Jr., membership; Mrs. J.E. McLean and Mrs. A.G. Talbot, reservations; Mrs. Steve G. Scott, hospitality, and Mrs. Bill Collins, publicity.

It was announced the club's fall garage sale will be held Oct. 19-20 at the residence of Mrs. Norman Gould, 2814 Fannin St.

of Big Spring, cousin of the bride. Candle lighters were Lesa Merrifield, sister of the bride, and Melissa Medina of Sterling City, sister of the bridegroom. Michael Merrifield, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Cremilda Carrasco was the maid of honor. Kathy Merrifield of Midland, sister of the bride, and Lisa Medina of Sterling City, sister of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids. The flower girls were LaWane Merrifield, sister of the bride, and Jamie Mireles of Crane, cousin of the bridegroom.

The couple will reside in Sterling City.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Back to school! I doubt if any three words ever had so many different meanings for so many people. To the merchant, it means increased sales in school supplies and children's clothing—especially blue jeans, shoes, gym suits and Adidas. No more high-top, canvas tennis shoes for these kids!

To the doctors, dentists and ophthalmologists, it means overloaded appointment schedules for the preschool examinations and the athletic forms to be signed by the dozens.

To the fathers, it means an over-worked checkbook, but to the mothers, it means freedom, glorious freedom. Now she can linger over the morning paper and a second cup of coffee and feel no responsibility to prepare lunch for anyone.

To teachers and administrators, it means returning to the vocation they love (we hope), but with mixed feelings of apprehension as to what new problems will have to be faced this year, and how better to cope with the old ones.

To parents and students remaining in a familiar school atmosphere, it means renewing old acquaintances, but to newcomers it may mean trials and tribulations.

If your child is kindergarten or first grade level, your first hurdle is whether or not they are old enough to be permitted to start in this state. Our son was denied entrance to kindergarten in Missouri, after having completed six months in Iowa. I'll have to admit that not only did I feel sorry for him in his plight of rejection, but I felt sorry for myself. Moving and relocating was enough of a hassle without one more crisis. I became Romper Room hostess once more and we read, built a bird house, hiked the nearby woods and meadows, and in all probability, enjoyed more precious togetherness than we would have under any other circumstances. However, I am a strong advocate of standardized entrance dates nationwide, for the protection of both children and mothers known as "transients." (I used to think that word was a nice name for a hobo until I became known as one.)

If your student is junior high or high school age, you may have emotional problems to face in their adjustment. The peer group becomes such a threat to their self-confidence at these ages and you feel as helpless launching them into it, as you did when you put them on the school bus for the first time.

I guess that "Back to School" means the end of summer's freedom and that kids are supposed to dread it, but it was always my suspicion that they are a little bored by then and are ready for some scheduled activity.

Mother and Dad should also consider going back to school. With Midland College, Odessa College, The University of Texas at the Permian Basin and the Permian Basin Graduate Center available, why not?

Get yourself a new pair of Adidas and no one will suspect how long it has been!

EL PASO (AP) — Charlie, a 5½-foot green iguana with long spines down his back, is missing. The oversized lizard wandered out of Julie Potter's El Paso apartment.

"We were keeping him on the back porch," she said, "and apparently he pushed open the screen door and walked out."

She said Charlie is not dangerous — if he is left alone.

"He's a very calm animal. He's not going to attack, but if somebody tried to pick him up he would probably scratch hell out of them," said Ms. Potter.

AT WIT'S END

For those who think they may be 'abused parents'

By ERMA BOMBECK

I've just read a magazine article about the "abused parent" who jumps every time her child cracks a whip. It read like my biography. It all fit. I'm the mother who, the moment her child comes in late for dinner, jumps to her feet like someone just turned on the current in her underwear, runs to the kitchen and begins cooking. I'm the mother who goes into her children's bedrooms after they've left for school and remakes their beds so they will pass the coin-bouncing test. I'm the mother who sits up at 3:00 in the morning hemming a dress for my daughter who works two hours after school each day and is "tied." I was raised to believe a good mother returned library books for her children because it made them good citizens...cleared the table after them and rinsed off their plates because it set a good example...put their toys in boxes and dressed their naked dolls because it instilled a feeling of order. I held their hot sweaters on my lap at picnics so they wouldn't lose them...picked them up at school when they got caught without boots. What I have succeeded in doing is bringing back serfdom. If you're wondering whether or not you're an "abused parent," here are a few questions worth addressing yourself to: When you ask your child to get you a glass of water, does he or she ask directions to the kitchen? Does he ask, "what is a kitchen?" If you hid your handbag for a week, would your teenager face the wall in his bedroom in a fetal position and not be able to function? Has your child ever seen unsliced bread? The inside of a washer? Can he make ice cubes? Set an alarm clock? Write a thank-you note? The article really moved me. It got through to me so much that I posted a sign on the back door for all to see. It read: "THIS HOUSE IS BEING CON-VERTED TO SELF-SERVICE. THIS INCLUDES STOVES, WASHERS, DRYERS, BATHROOMS AND TRANSPORTATION. IF YOU NEED ASSISTANCE, FORGET IT." Interior designer on program Mack Thomas, an interior designer for Knorr Furniture, was the speaker for the Ladies' Auxiliary for Christian Education, an associate of Midland Christian School. Thomas is a professional member

My daughter read it and took a deep sigh. "Too bad," she said to her brother. "Just when we were going to give Mom a cost-of-living hike in her allowance." of the American Society of Interior Designers and the Interior Design Society. The auxiliary is making plans for its "Fall Fun Festival" to be held Oct. 22.

Former publisher speaks at Constitution Day event

William I. Latham, editor and publisher of the El Paso Star, was the featured speaker at the Constitution Day luncheon Tuesday at Midland Country Club.

The luncheon was hosted by the two Midland chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution, including the Colonel Theunis Dey chapter and the Lt. William Brewer chapter, plus other patriotic organizations.

THESE INCLUDED the Permian Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution; Joseph Black Society, Children of the American Revolution; Norman's Pride Chapter, Daughters of American Colonists; Alexander Daugherty Chapter, United States Daughters of 1812; and Midland Colony, Magna Charta Dames.

Co-chairmen for Constitution Week were Mrs. Aubrey Linne and Mrs. George Van Husen.

Latham discussed the Constitution, its amendments and proposed changes.

"LET US THINK of the Constitution as a giant flag," he said, "and the amendments as streamers. Today, there are 26 streamers—the amendments adopted by the nation since 1788. Eleven of the amendments have been added since 1900."

All of these 11 amendments have affected your life and mine, in many ways," added Latham.

"The 16th Amendment, establishing the income tax system, first levied a flat one per cent tax on taxable incomes up to $20,000. About one person in 270 paid income taxes in 1913 and one-third of the taxes collected that first year came from one state—New York."

Latham said that taxpayers had one page of instructions to work from then. In 1913, incomes over $500,000 were subject to a "super tax"—six per cent. "That, too, has changed," he added.

"Woman suffrage, No. 19, gave ladies the right to vote and I sincerely hope you exercise that right every time the polls open," addressed Latham.

HE ALSO SAID that in 1971, the 26th amendment passed, giving 18-year-olds the right to vote. "We may have made a mistake in that amendment," he said, explaining that in 1978, only 20.1 per cent of all people ages 18-20 said they voted. In the 55-64 year voter group, the figure was 61.2 per cent, according to the speaker.

Latham added that "as a Christian and as an American citizen, I rank the great documents of mankind in this order: (1) the Bible, God's inspired word; (2) the Magna Charta, man's first dream of individual freedom; (3) the Declaration of Independence, man's great step forward; and (4) the U.S. Constitution, bulwark of our freedom for nearly 200 years."

LATHAM IS a native of Washington, D.C.; a graduate of the University of South Carolina with a degree in journalism. He came to El Paso in 1932 and retired in July, 1976, after working 42 years on newspapers in El Paso and Arizona.

He is active in civic circles and in newspaper associations.

Also on the program was a report on national defense presented by Dr. Dorothy Wuyell, national defense chairman of Lt. William Brewer Chapter, DAR.

Mrs. Wuyell said that the United States pays almost one-fourth of the total cost. All the 15 Communist nations combined pay less than half the amount paid by the U.S., she added.

She said that the United Nations has been ineffective as a peace-keeping force and cited the Korean and Vietnam wars, the subjugation of Eastern Europe, the slaughter of people in China and the genocide in Cambodia as examples of its ineffectiveness.

Security a priority for women travelers

NEW YORK (AP) — shows. The rapidly growing number of women who travel for business have the same general concerns as do their male counterparts, but in some specific areas their requirements are different, a recent survey shows. Security is a much higher priority for women than for men, the research by a hotel-management company revealed, with 60 percent of the women preferring downtown locations.

Midland Kappa Delta Alumnae Association marks 10th birthday

Midland Kappa Delta Alumnae Association celebrated its 10th birthday at the first meeting of the year held in the home of Mrs. Paul King.

The alumnae group was formed in June 1969, with five members signing the charter. Three of those, Mrs. Don Cox, Mrs. James "Doc" Dodson and Mrs. Gene Erwin, are still living in the Tall City.

Kappa Delta will soon celebrate the 82nd anniversary of the founding of Kappa Delta Sorority Oct. 23, 1897 at Longwood College in Farmville, Va.

The Midland alumnae is a part of 408 alumnae associations having a total membership of more than 90,000, the largest number of chartered associations among all National Panhellenic Conference sororities. This year marks the 58th year of continual support of the Richmond, Va., Crippled Children's Hospital.

Since 1921, more than $550,000 has been contributed by Kappa Delta Sorority for the care and treatment of patients at the Richmond hospital.

Local goals have been reached in sponsoring two scholarships each year to Midland College and to the Graduate Program of the University of Texas of the Permian Basin at Odessa. These goals were accomplished through proceeds received from the annual Needlepoint and Gift Show, which has been held the past four years and is scheduled again this year.

"Our purpose of having an alumnae association is to bring many joyful memories through friendship and fellowship, which develops an even greater awareness of our sisterhood for those within our circle and for those outside the circle," said Mrs. Dodson, local alumnae president.

Other officers for the 1979-80 club year are: Mrs. Paul King, vice president; Mrs. Gene Erwin, secretary; Mrs. Don Cox, treasurer; Beverly Sublett, magazine chairman; Mrs. Larry Bell, press-editor chairman; Mrs. Erwin, Panhellenic representative; Julie Brower, assistant Panhellenic representative; Mrs. Bell, rush chairman; Mrs. Bell, Needlepoint and Gift Show chairman; Dottie Barker, assistant show chairman, and Mrs. King, telephone chairman.

Special events for the coming year will be the Founders' Day Luncheon at Ranchland Hills Country Club at 11 a.m. Nov. 7. February will bring a visit from the province alumnae officer, Sue Dreiver of Houston. Plans are being made for members to attend the biennial Kappa Delta State Day in March at Beaumont.

A guest at the birthday luncheon was Mrs. George Voltin.

Another outstanding philanthropy of Kappa Delta Sorority is the honoring of three doctors annually for outstanding research in the field of orthopedics. These three cash awards are given at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons.

This year marks the 46th annual meeting and will be the 32nd year for Kappa Delta to recognize the physicians. In the past 31 years, the sorority has contributed more than $100,000 to further orthopaedic research.

The Midland association invites anyone new to the area to join them by calling Clara King at 682-8758 or Mrs. Dodson at 682-3376.

Ex-Midlander now designer returns here

Ellen Helbing, former Midlander and "an oilfield gypsy" from San Angelo, who now designs unique appliqued and embroidered skirts in Denver, Colo., brought her Splendens collection to the Tall City for a style show presented before the Permian Basin Geological and Geophysical Auxiliary at the Midland Hilton.

Members of the auxiliary modeled outfits ranging from tennis skirts embroidered with "Love is My Game" and golf skirts with applique bag and clubs to long and short wrap skirts with flowers, birds, rainbows and a multitude of other original designs. Many skirts had matching jackets or vests.

Football fans were not forgotten. There was a red jacket and skirt, with "Boomer Sooner" repeated all around the skirt's hemline, and a similar outfit with the "Hook 'Em Horns" slogan in orange.

The yellow rose of Texas on an orange map of Texas, the red chilis of New Mexico, the Arizona yucca, the southern magnolia and dogwood, Colorado aspens and wildflowers and oil derricks silhouetted against a red West Texas sun indicate Mrs. Helbing's designs are popular through a wide area of the country.

Assisting Mrs. Helbing with the show were Camille Hall of Roswell, N.M., and Mrs. Norman Barker of Midland.

Models were Sally Melzer, Marvel Goodwin, Jo Braden, Jackie Comola, Lou Dawson, Nancy Blankenship, Jan Kalil, Ann Mitchell, Marion Frazier and Millie Meyer.

Co-chairmen for the guest day meeting were Mrs. Bill Glover and Mrs. Frank L. Schatz. Hostesses were Mrs. Bill Isom, Mrs. Dan McGregor, Mrs. Tom Moore, Mrs. William C. Collins, Mrs. Robert J. Pervinsek, Mrs. W.E. Dole, Mrs. Charles King and Mrs. Earl Gaertner.

New members attending included

Fern Livingston, Dian Pierce, Pauline LaGreca and Linda Cardwell.

John Deats

John Deats now director

John Deats now has assumed the duties of director of the Midland County Library, after the recent retirement of Frances Williams.

Deats comes to Midland from Big Spring, where he had served as director of the Howard County Library since 1976.

The new director, a native of Big Spring, received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Houston and his master of library science from North Texas State University in Denton. He is a member of Beta Phi Mu, the library science honor society.

He currently is serving as president of the West Texas Library Film Circuit, and is chairman-elect of District 9, Texas Library Association.

In Big Spring, he was vice chairman of St. Mary's Episcopal Day School board of directors and secretary of the Halfway House board of directors.

Besides the MLS degree, Deats is certified by the Medical Library Association. He served as medical librarian for the Malone-Hogan Clinic in Big Spring and as a trainee in the Veterans Hospital in Dallas.

He holds memberships in the American Library Association and the Texas Library Association.

DEAR ABBY

She fumigates beach leeches

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I've read many letters in your column from people who want to know what to do about uninvited guests. We have a nice little house at the beach which inspired the following:

June is past, so is July,
August is ended—likewise

The pattering feet of summer and sun

Are over, complete, exhausted, done!

I've fed the young as well as the old,

I've cooled the warm, I've warmed the cold,

The wounded and weeping I have consoled,

The tender and touchy I have con-joled.

I have steered the scared, I have scared the bold,

I have bit my tongue till it was controlled.

I've broiled the steak, I have casseroleed

And the grocer thinks I am made of gold.

(The other bills I hve pigeon-holed.)

And frankly, friends, I am ready to fold!

Next time I live I'll make the most

Of being the guest and not the host.

—Tired

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who has never cared much for the company of men, but he sure likes the ladies! Whenever we are with a group of friends or relatives and the men congregate in one room and the women in another, you can always find Herman with the women.

He also has a cute way of turning the conversation to the subject of sex, or something risqué. He's 55 and not going through any kind of change. He's always been this way.

My women friends are always telling me how "lucky" I am to have such an entertaining husband. Believe me, he's not all that entertaining when he's alone with me. (All talk, not action, if you get the drift.)

If you've ever heard of behaviour like this before, I wish you'd explain it. —HERMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Herman is a classic example of a man whose masculine ego needs constant stroking, so he seeks out social situations where he's sure to have a receptive audience and no competition.

As for his habit of talking about sex so much, those who can, DO, and those who can't, talk about it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old boy. My sister who is 15 is adopted, so we are not blood relatives, right?

We have always been very close, but now our relationship seems to be headed in another direction. We have done a lot of wrestling, touching and fondling, but so far nothing more.

We have talked about this and have come to the conclusion that because we are technically sister and brother, we should not have any physical feelings for each other. Yet we can't help how we feel.

What is morally right in this case? We are not blood relatives, so maybe if we let our feelings go, we could marry each other some day.

What do you think? —BROTHERLY LOVE

DEAR BROTHERLY: Although you aren't blood relatives, you are LEGALLY brother and sister. That could create a problem should you want to marry later on.

Cool the wrestling, touching and fondling. Physical contact could lead to a physical relationship which would be morally wrong at your ages. You both need to talk to a trusted adult about your feelings. I would hope you could discuss this with your parents. If not, then a clergyman, physician or counselor. You ask some intelligent questions and deserve some honest answers.

East Coast believed ideal location for new refineries

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — A top spokesman for the domestic oil refining industry says the logical place to build a refinery is the East Coast.

Donald C. O'Hara, president of the National Petroleum Refiners Association, says the pattern of supply for the East Coast has shifted from the Gulf Coast to foreign oil.

The East Coast, he added, accounts for approximately 40 percent of the total oil consumed in the United States although it has less than 15 percent of the nation's refining capacity.

Ironically, he said, there have been 15 unsuccessful attempts to build refineries on the East Coast since 1951.

In recent testimony before the Senate energy regulation subcommittee, O'Hara said the attempts failed because they could not get building permits, either because of opposition by local citizens or the opposition by federal agencies.

The chief obstacle to building new refineries and the modernization of existing plants, he said, is the interminable delay in getting such permits.

The Senate group is considering a bill aimed at establishing a comprehensive national refining policy. In addition to proposing incentives for refining expansion it says the failure to maintain adequate domestic refining capacity is presently having and will continue to have an adverse effect on the nation.

O'Hara suggested the bill's proposed priority status for refinery projects be broadened to include petrochemical plants.

He said obstacles that have barred new entrants into the refining business would be corrected by the bill and by President Carter's proposal to create a federal commission to achieve the same purpose.

"We favor all efforts to accomplish this objective," he said.

O'Hara said one of the tests to determine whether an industry is truly competitive and one for which antitrust lawyers look first is what is known as "ease of entry."

"Therefore, the first thing we should look at is whether it is possible for newcomers to enter the refining business," he said.

The Federal Trade Commission, he added, has a pending complaint which says that at least since 1951 oil companies "through common courses of action and agreements, have erected and maintained barriers to entry into refining." "This is an amazing statement if you compare it with the facts," he said.

A study of the Department of Energy's annual refinery survey, O'Hara said, shows that in 1951 the 20 largest companies, then referred to as "the majors" each had 50,000 barrels a day or more of processing capacity and, as a group, accounted for 80.68 percent of the nation's total capacity.

Today, O'Hara said, there are 44 companies that would have been classified as "majors" in 1951 by having 50,000 barrels or more in daily refining capacity, and, as a group, they account for only 67.44 percent of total domestic capacity.

"Eighteen of the newcomers entered the refining business during this period and 16 of them each built 50,000 barrels a day or more of new capacity," he said.

O'Hara said one of the remedies suggested by the FTC is to break up large companies and establish 10 to 13 new refining companies. However, he added, a recent court ruling said the ultimate conclusion of the FTC proceedings may not be reached until well into the 1990s, or, perhaps, until the year 2000.

O'Hara said that of the 15 companies that have been unsuccessful in attempts to build refineries on the East Coast, only one was a major company.

"The other 14 are all independent companies," he said.

"This means that at the same time the FTC wants to break up existing companies to create 10 to 13 new refining companies, with no increase in total refining capacity, other government agencies have blocked 14 independent companies from entering the refining business on the East Coast alone. It is our environmental policy which, in the words of the FTC, has 'erected and maintained barriers to entry into refining' by the independent companies."

The same thing, O'Hara added, is true of the efforts to add equipment such as desulfurization units and reformers necessary to manufacture unleaded gasoline.

Mexico gas deal to have little consumer impact

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new agreement to buy $1 million a day of natural gas from Mexico at above-market prices will have little impact on consumer prices, U.S. officials say.

After President Carter announced the agreement Friday, Assistant Secretary of State Julius Katz said the higher price for Mexican gas would be "hardly noticeable" because it will represent only one-half of 1 percent of U.S. consumption.

Carter told reporters the accord, which came after two years of negotiations, was "a significant step toward providing a new energy source for our country."

He also said it represents a "breakthrough" in the development of a "deeper and broader relationship" with Mexico.

"The price is fair to both countries," said Carter, who had wanted to wrap up the deal prior to the arrival here next Thursday of Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo.

At the outset, Mexican gas will cost $3.625 per thousand cubic feet, the equivalent of $21 per barrel for crude oil. This compares with a current U.S. market price of about $2.25 and a Canadian price of $2.80.

The United States is expected to import 300 million cubic feet of gas per day from Mexico starting around Jan. 1.

U.S. officials who briefed reporters called the Mexican price a "good deal" because the imported gas will go to industrial users who will buy it in place of residual fuel oil, at a roughly comparable price. The effect, they said, would be to lessen dependence on OPEC oil.

Although the officials said Mexico would not be in a position to export crude oil to the United States in large quantities before 1983, they pointed to the gas agreement as a possible forerunner of future oil imports.

Although Mexico's selling price is well below its original demand of $4.95 per thousand cubic feet, the new agreement provides for future quarterly price hikes, keyed to an index that ties gas to the price of fuel oil.

The White House press office said the agreement "gives the Mexicans fair value for their gas while providing United States consumers with an additional gas supply at a price that is competitive with alternative fuels."

Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher represented the United States at negotiations concluded this week in Mexico City.

William A. Bateman

Bateman opens office

William A. Bateman has opened an office in Midland as a professional safety consultant, with interim offices at 3613 Jordan Ave.

He will specialize in the management and engineering aspects of safety.

Bateman has been a Midland resident nine years, and previously was employed by Shell Oil Co.

He is a member of the System Safety Society, a Certified Safety Professional, a Certified Hazard Control Manager, and member and immediate past president of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers. He has two professional engineer registrations — petroleum branch in Texas, and safety branch in California.

He holds a B.S. degree in Mechanical Engineering from The University of Texas at Austin, and has more than 25 years experience in the petroleum industry.

Contractors' meet slated

DALLAS — The International Association of Drilling Contractors will hold its annual meeting in Dallas at the Hyatt Reunion Hotel from Tuesday through Thursday.

Featured government speakers at the general session on Thursday are Secretary of the Interior Cecil Andrus; Senator David Boren, D-Okl., and Texas Gov. William Clements Jr.

Over 1,100 registrants are expected to participate in the IADC convention. Representing 621 drilling contractors, 173 exploration departments of producing companies and 538 associate members from the service and supply industries, IADC is holding its 39th Annual Meeting this year.

In addition to the governmental speakers, the IADC President for 1979, Ray Butler, Harkins & Co. of Alice, will deliver his president's message on the state of the industry at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday.

Morrow gas find finals

HOUSTON — Cotton Petroleum Corp., Tulsa, Okla., a unit of United Energy Resources, Inc., has successfully completed an upper Morrow gas well which has been potentialized for a calculated open flow of 18,500,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

Located in Northeast Hemphill County about 18 miles northeast of Canadian, the Cotton No. 1 Howe flowed on potential test at the rate of 8,670,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with a flowing pressure of 4,727 pounds from upper Morrow perforations at 12,322 to 12,329 feet. Cotton is the operator and owns a 50 percent interest in the well and the 3,600-acre block on which it is located.

Partners in the well and the acreage block are Dycos Petroleum Corp., 25 percent; Ozark-Mahoning Co., 12.5 percent; and StriCo., Ltd., 12.5 percent.

findings absolutely essential," states the preamble of the amendment.

The Rule 38 amending language reads:

"An operator may seek a finding that a well is necessary to effectively and efficiently drain a portion of a reservoir covered by a previously existing proration unit which cannot be effectively and efficiently drained by an existing well within the previously existing proration unit.

"The well must be eligible under state law for a regular drilling permit, based on the applicability of a new proration unit assigned pursuant to field rules or other Commission action. The following procedures shall apply:

"1. The operator shall file with the Director, Oil & Gas, at the Commission's Austin office, a request for the finding, together with a copy of his application to drill (Form W-1) and plat and an affidavit with appropriate supporting geological, engineering, and other technical data upon which he relies in seeking the finding.

"2. The finding must be obtained prior to spudding the well.

"3. The finding may be made administratively by the Commission staff if it is supported by the evidence submitted. If the staff is of the opinion that the evidence submitted will not support the requested finding, the operator shall be given the opportunity to file additional evidence and to request a formal adjudicatory hearing before an examiner. Without hearing, if supported by the additional evidence, or after hearing, if supported by the evidence of record, the finding may be made administratively by the Commission staff. Alternatively, and in all instances in which denial of the requested finding is recommended, the matter may be submitted after hearing to the Commission for final action pursuant to Commission rules and state law."

Under the NGPA, well category determination for gas pricing purposes rests with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission after review of state action on an application. "New production" has been defined by FERC as production started after Feb. 19, 1977.

Contractors meet Oct. 1

ODESSA — Kent Hance of Lubbock, U.S. representative from the 19th Congressional District of Texas, will be the speaker for the Oct. 1 meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the International Association of Drilling Contractors.

The meeting will be held in the Inn of the Golden West in Odessa. The cooling tower will begin at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.

Members and associate members are invited to bring members of their staffs as guests.

Reservations can be made by contacting Gordon G. Marcum II of Midland, vice president of the chapter.

Commission reports move to ease procedural burden on gas operators

AUSTIN — The Railroad Commission has approved an emergency amendment to its statewide oil and gas rules in an effort to ease the procedural burden imposed on Texas operators by the federal Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978.

Adopted last week, the amendment provides procedures for administratively processing applications for a finding, under Section 103, of the NGPA, that a second well is required to effectively and efficiently drain a reservoir covered by a previously existing proration unit where such drainage cannot be achieved by the existing well within the unit.

The amendment to the RRC's oil and gas Rule 38 will have the effect of permitting faster gas well category determination under the new onshore production pricing provision of the NGPA, observed Soule. Rule 38 pertains to well densities.

"Thousands of wells in Texas are potentially affected by the FERC's (Federal Energy Regulatory Commission) rules, making an efficient istig proration unit where such drainage cannot be achieved by the existing well within the unit.

The leases were granted without competitive bidding under a policy designed to encourage exploration of areas where production was considered uncertain.

The lawsuit contends that the Interior Department abused its authority by deciding that the land was not in a known oil or gas field.

The lease lands are within the geological structure of a producing gas field, the lawsuit said.

The lawsuit also said the department took action to grant the leases without public notice.

Interior Secretary Cecil D. Andrus said Thursday that he was reviewing the leases.

$1-per-acre suit filed

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A subsidiary of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. has filed a lawsuit in federal court that seeks the cancellation of $1-per-acre oil and gas leases at Fort Chaffee.

Lawyer and former Rep. Jim Guy Tucker, D-Ark., filed the lawsuit Friday on behalf of Arkla Exploration Co. of Shreveport, La.

The Interior Department earlier this year leased gas and oil rights to 33,000 acres at Fort Chaffee to Texas Oil and Gas Co.

Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., has said that the government would lose millions of dollars if the leases were not revoked and put up for competitive bidding.

The Interior Department abused its authority by deciding that the land was not in a known oil or gas field.

The lease lands are within the geological structure of a producing gas field, the lawsuit said.

The lawsuit also said the department took action to grant the leases without public notice.

Interior Secretary Cecil D. Andrus said Thursday that he was reviewing the leases.

Dillard denounces Hightower backing

A.W. Dillard, president of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association Saturday, denounced efforts by some Washington, D.C., residents to help elect Jim Hightower to the Texas Railroad Commission.

Dillard said, "We resent the intrusion of the liberal, Eastern/Midwestern establishment into Texas politics, particularly when they don't know why they are intruding and, obviously, since they know nothing about the office they are trying to buy."

The recently re-elected president of PBPA was referring to a letter sent by former Iowa Sen. Dick Clark, and a large number of liberal co-sponsors, to a number of Washington, D.C., people, inviting them to his home for a fund raiser for Hightower. Dillard took issue with several of the claims in the letter.

Dillard said, "Every railroad commissioner, so far as I know, was first appointed by a governor and later ran for election. The oil companies may have contributed to various campaigns, but that was their legal right." He continued, "the Texas Railroad Commission, contrary to Mr. Clark's statement, has no control over the wellhead price of oil and gas, and has never had that control."

On another point Dillard said, "the Commission has nothing to do with calculating the national demand for oil and gas since it oversees only Texas production."

And, Dillard added, "the Railroad Commission has no reason to collect information on multi-national corporations."

"If the TRC has served the industry so well, as the letter contends, why have Americans enjoyed the cheapest energy in the world, until the Federal government started regulating the petroleum industry," commented Dillard.

He continued by saying, "why is it all-right for the liberals to have a voice on the commission but not alright for the industry to have one?"

Dillard concluded with these comments. "This is a baldfaced attempt to steal one of the Texas' most important public offices, through innuendo and outright lies. It's time we let the Eastern/Midwestern liberal establishment know that, Washington hangers-on notwithstanding, the rest of America is not for sale to the highest bidder."

Basin rotary rig count increased to 284 units

The Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico recorded another increase in drilling activity as 284 rigs were counted in the two-state area.

The previous weeks tally showed 279 rigs and a year ago at this time Reed Rock Bit Co. recorded 270 rigs making hole.

Lea County, N.M., showed a substantial increase as 40 rigs were spotted turning to the right. The previous weeks count showed 34.

Eddy County reported 23 rigs and a decrease of four from the last tally of 27.

Pecos County, the West Texas leader, counted 21 rigs going, having gained one from the last count.

Andrews and Crockett counties each reported 16 rigs. Andrews gained three from the last count, while Crockett kept its tally from the week before.

Howard and Ward counties each reported 10 rigs, with Howard gaining one and Ward losing three from the last count.

Coke and Reagan counties each recorded nine units. Coke County lost one unit, while Reagan gained two.

Complete drilling activity, as recorded by Reed Rock Bit Co., is listed in the table below.

Chrysler president to be tested

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp.'s new president has a reputation as the best purchasing executive in the auto industry — a reputation that will be tested as the troubled auto maker tries to overcome severe financial difficulties.

Few company chiefs or deputies came up through the purchasing ranks, as J. Paul Bergmoser did before his retirement from Ford Motor Co. in 1976. His elevation Thursday to the No. 2 job at Chrysler, replacing Lee A. Iacocca, is an indication of the critical importance of its suppliers.

"Supplier confidence is something they've got to have," said Al Parrish, vice president for customer requirements in the automotive section of TRW Inc., a large supplier. "The next few years are going to be one whale of a big job for Paul."

Chrysler said last week it pays $800 million a month to 30,000 suppliers — more than $9 billion a year — for materials received the previous month. "A loss of confidence in the company would result in a reduction of the amount of funding from this source," the company said.

Bergmoser is described by those who know him as a close friend of Iacocca, the former Ford president who was named chairman and chief executive officer of Chrysler, and a man with an austere social life.

Iacocca told reporters Thursday, "I'll have to spend a lot of time with government — federal, state and local."

His predecessor, John Riccardo, had left direct charge of the company to Iacocca in recent months while he spent most of his time trying to arrange government aid for the struggling No. 3 automaker.

Chrysler had estimated this year's loss at $1.07 billion. Riccardo first sought cash credits against future taxes, and then, when that idea was turned down, asked for $1.2 billion in loan guarantees.

Last Saturday, Treasury Secretary G. William Miller told Chrysler to go back to the drawing board and reduce the amount to less than $1 billion.

Bergmoser's reserve contrasts with Iacocca's flamboyance, but he won Iacocca's confidence in 1970, soon after Iacocca became president at Ford. Bergmoser was then assistant general manager for supply in Ford's automotive assembly division, far down the executive ladder.

"Iacocca asked Bergmoser either to get some price reductions from vendors or hold the line in a time of inflation. That requires tact, diplomacy and aggressiveness. He was successful and was rewarded with a vice presidency," said a Ford source who asked not to be identified.

Though Bergmoser is 63, nine years older than Iacocca, Iacocca singled him out in 1974 to share the presidential suite with him at a conference in a posh West Virginia mountain resort — a signal mark of respect that surprised many at Ford.

Amendment restricts spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ranking Republican on the House tax-writing committee has proposed a constitutional amendment that would restrict growth of federal spending to the annual rate of increase in the gross national product.

Rep. Barber B. Conable Jr., R-N.Y., said such an amendment would cut inflation.

"The continuous and excessive growth of government expenditures and resulting budget deficits are a chief cause of the inflation that has troubled us for too long," Conable said in a prepared statement.

The amendment would limit increases in government spending to the percentage rise in GNP, the total value of the nation's goods and services. It would further limit spending increases if inflation exceeds 3 percent and prohibit the federal government from imposing costs on state and local governments without compensation.

Wine crop may be best

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — California winemakers, well into the season's grape harvest, are saying this crop may be the best of the decade after a helpful heat wave last week capped a nearly ideal growing season.

"I think the harvest is going to be great," said Rod Strong, winemaker at the 1,600-acre Sonoma Vineyards in Northern California. "The sugars are really perfect, it's just a lovely balance."

More than 300 wineries in California produced $1 billion worth of wine last year.

Nuke plant cooling towers lure tourists

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (AP) — The cooling towers of the Three Mile Island nuclear power plant are luring thousands of curious to the site of one of the nuclear-age's near catastrophes.

Since it reopened 10 weeks ago, more than 25,000 people have toured the complex's Observation Center, which overlooks the towers and buildings that on March 28 became the scene of frantic activity to prevent a nuclear reaction from running wild.

Before the accident, the plant attracted an average of 16,000 people a year, mostly school groups and occasional passers-by.

The flow has been steady enough since the accident to keep the center open past the traditional Labor Day close, and plant officials say it will be open to the public through mid-November.

"There's enough public interest for us to keep it open. It's certainly a well known place," said David Klusick, spokesman for Metropolitan Edison Co., the plant's operator and co-owner.

"We haven't advertised. It's not something we're promoting," he said.

The Observation Center, open Tuesday through Sunday, was originally built in 1970 so visitors could watch construction of the twin reactor power plant on an island in the Susquehanna River.

Now they come to see first hand the place where a reactor went haywire. A series of mechanical malfunctions and operator errors stripped the uranium core of its vital coolant, resulting in radioactive leaks and creating a tense drama until it was brought under control.

OPEC meeting chances receding

TULSA, Okla. — Chances that ministers of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries will meet in emergency session later this month to consider an interim price increase as compensation for the declining value of the dollar seem to be receding fast, Oil & Gas Journal reports in its Sept. 17 issue.

An additional one million barrels a day of production from Saudi Arabia has eased the world crude oil supply situation, allowed a more healthy stock-building program, and taken the steam out of spot market prices. In the process, it has removed the pressure for higher prices caused by the delicate supply-demand balance.

An OPEC official says there are no plans for a special ministerial meeting. Lobbying for an extraordinary session is less intense than it was a month ago.

Lack of further price action this year, the Journal reports, would leave the selling price of Saudi light marker crude pegged at $18 a barrel. But in the complex world of the oil exporters, nothing can be ruled out. A sudden resumption of the plunge of the dollar could change the situation dramatically.

Barring any last minute surprises from OPEC's Vienna headquarters, it seems that the price regime imposed at the June ministerial meeting in Geneva could run its full six-month course and still be intact when the organization meets again in Caracas, Venezuela, just before Christmas to fix 1980 prices. Meanwhile, world crude inventories are rising, the weekly business magazine reports.

Due mainly to the additional one million barrels a day from Saudi Arabia, combined with the effects of conservation measures and a lower level of economic activity all around, the big industrialized countries are building stocks for the winter at a healthy rate.

While they aren't as high as most oil companies would like in view of the precariousness of the supply-demand balance, inventories are in far better shape than most had expected earlier in the year.

The key to the current turnaround has been the Saudi Arabian decision to allow the extra output on top of its 8.5 million barrel a day production ceiling during the third quarter of this year.

The added oil from Saudi Arabia defused the spot market.

Plant site obtained

ODESSA — Odessa-based Sivalls, Inc., announces purchase of a 28-acre tract on the Amarillo Highway approximately three miles west of Pampa.

According to C. Richard Sivalls, president, this will be the site of a 25,000-square-foot oil and gas processing equipment manufacturing plant including a 100 foot by 200 foot main bay with adjoining warehouse, lunchroom and offices.

Contract will be let by Oct. 1 and construction will begin without delay. Completion of facilities and plant start-up are scheduled for March 1.

Operational cost of the new facility is $2 million dollars. The plant will employ about 40 workers.

AGA official backs gasification plant

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The construction of a high-BTU coal gasification plant capable of displacing the equivalent of 22,000 barrels of oil per day can begin next year, providing federal loan guarantees are made available, a natural gas utility industry executive told a U.S. Senate subcommittee last week.

"By setting aside a reserve of $1 billion to $2 billion in the fiscal year 1980 federal budget, the government would be able to guarantee $4 billion to $8 billion in debt so construction of the nation's first commercial-sized coal gas plan could be completed within the next five years," Dr. Benjamin Schlesinger, vice president of the American Gas Association, said in testimony before the Senate Interior Subcommittee.

"Coal gas plants can and must be constructed now in order to meet President Carter's goal of having synthetic gas displace 300,000 barrels per day of oil by 1990,"

Schlesinger said. "Gas industry-constructed coal gas plants alone can contribute enough gas to displace 100,000 barrels per day of oil as early as 1985, with proper federal financial assistance."

The use of federal loan guarantees to assist in the debt financing of coal gas plants is best for the American taxpayer and gas utility industry, he said, because it would be the least costly to the U.S. Treasury.

Loan guarantees are the most appropriate catalyst for early development of commercial-sized synthetic fuels plants, Schlesinger said.

"The AGA recommends that the Congress authorize $5 billion for the fiscal year 1980 budget and $15 billion over the following three years for the development of a synthetic fuels program," the vice president for policy evaluation and analysis at AGA said.

"The funding should be available in the form of loan guarantees for the first commercial scale plants using proven technology and direct financing for second and third generation coal gasification technologies and should provide incentive to promote the production of pipeline quality gas from both eastern and western coals," he said.

We now have available a rig for leasehold and other types of daywork.

Appeals court rejects claims against Standard

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal appeals court has rejected government claims that Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) overcharged gasoline customers by $10 million in 1973 and 1974. The company did not violate government regulations when it used estimates of its future crude oil costs in determining consumer prices, the court ruled. The Federal Energy Administration had claimed in 1974 that the company's calculations could include actual increases in its costs of purchasing crude oil. The government agency wanted the company to refund the money to customers. The 2-1 decision was handed down last week by the Temporary Emergency Court of Appeals, a special court headquartered here to decide energy-related cases. The case centered around two Sohio purchases of crude oil — one from foreign suppliers and a second from domestic producers.

In the first instance, Sohio, in September 1973, contracted to buy foreign oil to be paid for at the prevailing world price in February and March 1974.

In the fall of 1973, however, the Arab oil boycott sent world prices skyrocketing, and Sohio could only estimate what it would actually pay for the oil when it was delivered in early 1974. These estimates became part of the company's consumer pricing.

In November and December 1973 and January 1974, Sohio purchased domestic crude. But it was unclear at the time of purchase how much crude was "old" or which carried a $5.25-a-barrel government-set price ceiling, and how much was "new" oil, which could be sold to Sohio at the world market price.

"Old" oil was that discovered through 1972. "New" was that discovered after 1972. The government allowed the "new" oil to rise to world market prices so domestic producers would have an incentive to produce more crude. Because of the lag in determining how much "old" and "new" oil Sohio had received, the company estimated the percentage of higher-priced oil in calculating its consumer prices.

Cities Service Oil Co. has promoted two men in its Southwest Region office in Midland.

Mark Newman has been named senior geologist. He earned his B.S. degree in Geology from Stanford University. He attended the University of California at Los Angeles one year before joining Cities Service in Midland in 1977.

Terry Hollingsworth has been promoted to senior geophysicist in the Midland Southwest Region office. He attended the University of West Virginia where he earned a B.S. degree in Geology and an M.S. degree in the same major. Hollingsworth joined Cities Service in Midland in 1977 in Tulsa and was transferred to Midland in 1978.

Sale date set for Grand Banks leases

By STAN BENJAMIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department announced Friday plans for an Oct. 30 sale of undersea oil and gas leases in the Georges Bank region of the Atlantic Ocean off Cape Cod, Mass., a rich fishing area.

The department said it has withdrawn 12 tracts totaling 68,318 acres originally included in proposals for leasing, and has agreed on a plan with the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration to protect fishery resources. In a joint announcement, NOAA said that as a result of this agreement it has abandoned the idea of declaring all of Georges Bank a marine sanctuary to protect its fisheries.

But, NOAA said, "one or more marine sanctuaries might be proposed later where drilling would otherwise pose an unreasonable risk to fisheries."

Interior's announcement said 116 sea-bottom tracts totaling 660,409 acres would be offered for leasing at an auction Oct. 30 at Providence, R.I.

Leases awarded to high bidders would give them the right to explore for oil and gas on those tracts, which generally lie more than 75 miles southeast of Cape Cod, and to develop and produce oil and gas if they find it.

The federal government owns the sea bottom of the "outer contimental shelf" — the submerged and relatively shallow margins of the United States more than three miles offshore. The government has leased such "OCS" areas for many years in the Gulf of Mexico and off southern California. In recent years, it has begun leasing off Alaska and the mid-Atlantic Coast.

The first exploratory drilling in the Atlantic so far has uncovered no major new petroleum deposits.

The Interior Department has been planning since 1975 to begin leasing farther north in the Atlantic, in the Georges Bank area off New England, but was blocked by a federal court in a lawsuit filed by the Conservation Law Foundation, a citizens group, and by the state of Massachusetts.

The court issued an injunction against leasing which it later lifted while suggesting that a marine sanctuary or other measures be considered to protect the area's valuable fishery resources. The Conservation Law Foundation and others nominated the entire Georges Bank area for sanctuary status, a proposal NOAA considered but abandoned with today's announcement.

Standard subsidiary reports oil discovery

By The Associated Press

Standard Oil Company of California's Canadian subsidiary said Friday it has discovered oil off the coast of Newfoundland, but analysts and government spokesmen said it was not known whether the field contained enough oil for commercial production.

While there are grounds for "cautious optimism" about the "Hibernia O-15" well, 214 miles east of St. John's, "I detect a rising tide of hysteria, or oil fever," Newfoundland Mines and Energy Minister Leo Barry said at a news conference in St. John's.

Barry added that while the Hibernia well yielded high-quality oil, it will take until at least mid-1980 to determine whether the Chevron Standard Ltd. discovery lies in an oilfield with commercial potential.

Nonetheless, "we're encouraged" by the results, although "we just cannot speculate beyond the facts we have at hand," said Chevron President A.B. Bristow in a telephone interview from Calgary, Alberta.

Newfoundland has estimated its oil reserves may total 2 billion to 10 billion barrels. Recovery of oil off the eastern province's coast may prove difficult, with cold, wind, rain and icebergs all presenting obstacles for North Atlantic exploration and production.

Rumors about the oil find by Chevron and a group of Canadian and U.S.-owned partners helped to push stock markets sharply higher Thursday. Oil issues retreated Friday after the Chevron announcement.

Chevron said the well, drilled in 300 feet of water, produced crude oil at a rate of 800 barrels a day at a depth of 13,600 feet. The rate compared with a previous maximum of 250 barrels a day for any well drilled off Newfoundland's coast, but was far under that for a recent major oil find in Canada's arctic Beaufort Sea.

Winter gas supplies adequate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industries and businesses should face no significant disruptions in the supply of their natural gas this winter, says the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. The commission said a survey it conducted of 28 interstate pipelines found that natural gas supplies should be adequate to meet expected demand this winter. The pipelines surveyed carry almost 99 percent of the natural gas transported between states.

Only 11 of the pipelines indicated they would need emergency gas supplies even in an unusually cold winter, the commission said.

In a related development, the Carter administration said an interagency planning group was set up to make sure fuel oil goes to areas where it is needed this winter to meet health, safety and agricultural needs.

Included on the task force are employees of the Small Business Administration and Energy, Agriculture and Transportation departments, according to a statement released Thursday.

Gas processing complex announced

Perry-Williams Gas Processing Co., a 50-50 percent joint venture of Clayton W. Williams Jr. and PGP Gas Products, Inc., Midland, (a subsidiary of Perry Gas Companies, Inc.) announced Saturday that it will construct a major gas processing complex in Lee County, south of Giddings.

PGP Gas Products installed the first major gas gathering system in Lee County, with the first gas deliveries in the fall of 1977. It now has over 200 miles of pipelines in the area as well as four compressor stations. Total gas handled by PGP is approximately 50 million cubic feet per day.

The joint venture plant will process gas presently being gathered by PGP's existing system in Lee, Fayette, LaVaca, and Bastrop counties, and from new transmission and gathering systems presently being constructed by Clajon Gas Company, a Clayton W. Williams Jr. Company, in Burleson, Lee, Fayette and Washington counties. Tailgate gas will ultimately be delivered and sold to Lo-Vaca Gathering Company.

Williams holds more than 400,000 acres of leases in the area, and is presently engaged in an aggressive drilling program to develop these leases.

Perry Gas Companies is an energy-related holding company headquartered in Odessa. Other subsidiaries and affiliates in addition to PGP Gas Products include Perry Energy, Inc., Perry Gas Processors, Inc., CRP Construction, Inc., Perry Gas Transmission, Inc., Rockies Oil & Gas Corp., Palo Duro Pipeline Company, Petrolane-Perry Gas Processing Company, and Mon-Dak Project.

Plant construction begun

PORT LAVACA, Texas (AP) — Vistron Corp. has begun construction of a proposed acrylonitrile plant expected to cost more than $100 million.

The plant is being built on a 2,300-acre site near Green Lake. It will double Vistron's capacity to produce acrylonitrile, a chemical that is a basic component of certain plastics and acrylic fibers.

Vistron is a subsidiary of The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio).

FNB places capital notes

Wilbur A. Yeager Jr., President of The First National Bank of Midland announced a private placement of $12,000,000 in subordinated capital notes of the bank. The private placement was arranged through Southwestern Life Insurance Company of Dallas, with participations in the credit by Southland Life Insurance Company, Republic National Life Insurance Company and Lutheran Mutual Life Insurance Company. The notes bear interest at a rate of 10 1/2 percent per annum, provide for annual sinking fund payments beginning eight years from date and are due in full 15 years from date.

Yeager advised that the bank elected to issue these notes in order to better serve the rapidly expanding needs of its customers. The note placement is part of an overall capitalization program which began in March, 1979, with sales of common stock which, to date, have raised $11,950,000 in new equity capital. Equity capitalization now exceeds $52,000,000; and, with the new capital notes, the legal loan of the bank exceeds $6,500,000.

"First National, the largest independent bank in Texas, is enjoying rapid growth as reflected by total assets now exceeding $600,000,000, and the Board of Directors feels that the capital note issue will enable the bank to maintain a strong capital base and its competitive position in a market place which is increasingly the target of large, out-of-area, domestic and foreign banking institutions," Yeager said.

Stock market course slated

The Permian Basin Graduate Center will offer a course "Speculating in the Stock Market" on Tuesday Oct. 2.

Classes will meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the PBGC Building, 105 W. Illinois. The fee is $25.

The course will reveal techniques employed by successful speculators to out-perform the average investor and how to profit in any type market. Discussion will include both fundamentals and technical analysis.

Other topics to be included are: Picking a broker and brokerage house, various systems and methods used by investors, advisory services, psychological aspects of speculating, institutional money management and the herd instinct, conflicts of interest in the securities industry, and myths of the investment community.

BUSINESS NOTEBOOK

Employers face higher worker's compensation

By BILL KIDD
Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Nov. 28 has been set tentatively — as the date for the Board of Insurance's annual worker's compensation hearing, and there are no indications that the rates for employers will go any direction other than up.

This year's hearing is expected to be on the same plan as used for the auto insurance hearing this summer, with rules and rates changes on one day, and rates on another.

And once again, the Texas Trail Lawyers Association is expected to use the occasion to continue its battle with the insurance industry over rating practices, and particularly the use (or non-use) of investment income in setting rates.

At the 1978 hearing, the first day of the hearing consumed nine and one-half hours in debate over rates, and the second day — after a two-week recess — took some 12 hours.

Much of the discussion last time was over alleged over-reserving by insurers — with TTTA contending w.c. carries create large reserves for unproven losses, with the effect of showing large losses where such actually do not exist.

Indications are that argument will be taken up once again at this year's hearing.

What the increase in rates may be is still a matter of speculation; the SBI recently approved an increase of 6.5 percent in stevedoring classes.

Texas savings and loan associations, which pushed for legislation to raise the usury ceiling on mortgage loans during the 1979 legislative session, are pushing out into new market areas, with numerous requests for branch offices.

One reason, Texas Savings and Loan Commissioner Alvis Vandygriff feels, is that the associations are trying to pick up any new savings dollars which may be available in their communities — and in some areas not immediately in their neighborhoods.

Around two dozen such requests are being handled, each month by the Savings and Loan Department, and another 15 requests already have been set for initial consideration on the department's Oct. 1 docket.

In recent months, there has been a reverse side to the long-standing practice of some metropolitan area associations seeking to locate branch offices in rural areas and small towns in surrounding counties.

Now, associations in some of those small and medium-sized towns are seeking to locate offices in large metropolitan areas — indicating the changes being felt within the industry.

In a somewhat related development, Texas bankers are looking — informally — at the prospects of seeking a change to allow them to make mortgage loans at up to 14 percent, although no official decision has been made on that by any trade group.

While the cost of mortgage loans has been going up, the number of new dwelling units which might be mortgaged appears to be going down.

Figures from the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M show that during the first half of 1979, compared to the first half of 1978, total construction rose in value by only nine percent.

That value of dwelling units changed less than 0.5 percent, but the number of such units dropped by 11 percent, the center reports.

Non-residential construction during the six months dropped by 21 percent.

Arthur Wright of the center reports researchers are "just now working up the next batch" of figures for the third quarter of the year; guesses are that they will indicate some further slippage in the private sector.

Construction in the public sector, however, seems to be holding steady, in terms of dollar volume.

Recently published figures on projected fiscal 1980 construction in Texas, in industry trade journals, put the amount of State, Federal and local spending at around $6.9 billion.

Some $4.3 billion of that is municipal projects.

Changes in the amount of construction are watched closely by economic forecasters, since the construction industry impacts heavily on many other segments of the economy.

Car buyers accept offer

CHICAGO (AP) — Settlement offers have been accepted by about 60 percent of the car buyers whose 1977 Oldsmobiles came equipped with Chevrolet engines, according to court testimony.

The owners have accepted a compensation offer of $200 and a transferable engine warranty from General Motors Corp., according to testimony given Friday before U.S. District Court Judge Frank J. McGarr.

A General Motors attorney, Thomas Gottschalk, told McGarr that acceptance by 41,000 owners means that about 60 percent of the nearly 66,500 customers entitled to compensation have elected to accept the offer before a long-standing class-action lawsuit against the company is resolved.

Dizzying gold price gains leave professionals groping

By KRISTIN GOFF
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold's dramatic leap to new highs and the dollar's tumble has left professional traders groping for explanations in one of the most tumultuous weeks in memory.

The price of gold, which has been climbing steadily for months, suddenly took off. On Tuesday it jumped an unprecedented $24 an ounce in big European markets and by late trading in New York the price gain for the day was a dizzying $31 an ounce.

That jump in a single day almost German mark. Against the Japanese yen, however, the rate has remained stable.

IN OTHER BUSINESS developments this past week:

—Interest rates rose to new highs again. Major U.S. banks raised their prime lending rates 1/4-point to a record 13 1/4 percent in response to government anti-inflation policies that have driven up interest rates.

The prime is the rate banks charge for loans to their most credit-worthy corporate borrowers and is the base banks use in setting interest rates for all commercial and industrial loans. The Federal Reserve also increased its direct lending rate to banks to a record 11 percent from 10 1/2 percent.

—Despite higher interest rates and the dollar's drop, the stock market reached its highest level of the year. Analysts said hopes of a major new North American oil find sparked the rally which, on Thursday saw the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials leap more than 17 points and pass the 890 mark for the first time since last October. The New York Stock Exchange's composite average reached its highest levels since 1973.

BUSINESS NEWS

equaled the total value of an ounce of gold at the beginning of the decade, before the United States phased out gold at the "official" government rate of $35 an ounce as a backing for the dollar.

The price of gold now is more than 1,000 percent higher than at the beginning of the decade. And the dollar, its value now fluctuating on currency markets, fell to its lowest level since the Carter administration staged an emergency $30 billion dollar aid program last fall in an attempt to nurse the sick currency back to health.

Traders offered a laundry-list of reasons for gold's spectacular price rise. Experts cautioned that, while gold was rising fast, much of the buying appeared to be from speculators, which increased the risk that prices might suddenly plummet.

Lack of confidence in the currencies of the United States and other countries and a feeling that gold will weather inflation and other problems better than paper, have been the major reasons for gold's long march upward from $26 an ounce at the start of the year.

BUT RECENTLY dealers also have reported wealthy Arabs buying hundreds of millions of dollars in gold and silver, seeking a strong investment for their oil dollars. Chinese and French buyers, as well as speculators on American markets, also fueled the gold rush.

While gold has been climbing, the dollar has gradually come under increased pressure, partly as a result of investors selling dollars to buy gold. But the dollar's latest drops this past week, fueled a debate over the dollar's longer term outlook.

In Europe a number of dealers were predicting that the forces that sent the dollar to record lows last fall were about to be repeated. And top U.S. officials sounded a defensive note after predictions of another stampede against the currency.

Treasury Secretary G. William Miller suggested that too much fuss was being made over the American dollar's slide on European money markets, pointing out that dollar rates are still above their lows before the Nov. 1 dollar rescue plan.

"It's popular to want to kind of talk against the dollar," Miller told a meeting of bankers.

Some currency dealers agree that speaking of a "dollar crisis" may exaggerate the dollar's woes.

"WE DON'T SEE anything like last fall occurring. But it (the dollar) could weaken substantially in the next week or two," said Richard S. Peterson, chief economist and vice president for Continental Bank of Chicago.

Peterson says anti-inflation measures may soon take effect. He adds that the economic recession the United States appears to be in may improve chronic trade deficits, another reason for lagging confidence in the dollar. But he doesn't discount the possibility that the dollar may eventually fall to its record low levels, particularly if fundamental problems remain unresolved.

Those problems, says a report by Continental Bank, are high U.S. inflation, a narrowing gap between U.S. interest rates and those in other nations and "the apparent lack of any consistent policies to bring (the dollar) under control."

Although the dollar rebounded in the first six months of this year more than 6 percent against the West German mark, 7.5 percent against the Swiss franc and nearly 14 percent against the Japanese yen, its gains have eroded since then.

Since June 1, the dollar has fallen 9 percent against the Swiss franc and almost 8 percent against the West

Construction permits soar past $73 million

New construction so far this year in Midland has reached the $73 million mark through last week, following the issue of $857,945 in building permits through the city's Inspections Department.

New residential construction continued to provide most of the value in new construction in the city last week.

Permits for new residential construction were issued to:

B & R Builders, 300 Oxford Drive, $45,000; Jack Townzer, 2409 Bellechase Court, $84,000; Concept Construction, 314 Rockyland Drive, $47,250; Concept Construction, 316 Rockyland Drive, $47,250; Concept Construction, 318 Rockyland Drive, $47,500; Concept Construction, 320 Rockyland Drive, $48,000; Concept Construction, 326 Rockyland Drive, $49,000; Concept Construction 324 Rockyland Drive, $46,100; William Branson, 4614 Kiowa Drive, $20,000; Grafa Construction, 3806 Crestline Ave., $70,000; Gilbert Bates, 3103 Elma Drive, $60,000; Gilbert Bates, 3105 Elma Drive, $60,000; Consolidated Building Ltd., 4909 Heather Drive, $52,000; and Williams and Associates, 3800 Douglas Drive, $58,000.

Permits for alterations to existing residential structures were issued to:

Hilario Sanchez, 400 E. Elm Ave., $1,000; Billy J. Steward, 111 S. Glenwood St., $12,000; John G. McLennon, 2904 Aurora, $1,000; Dan Twitchell Sr., 4719 Shadylane Drive, $2,100; Jesus Rabelo, 707 N. Dallas St., $1,200; Nancy Holloway, 2310 Holloway Ave., $5,000; David Thomas, 715 Beckley Drive, $6,000; and Midland Weather, 2519 Gulf Ave., $12,000.

Permits for new commercial construction were issued to:

Bob Bayer, 908 Andrews Highway, (signs), $6,000; W.C. Blanks Building, 310 W. Wall St., $20,000; and W.C. Blanks Building, 310 W. Wall St., $7,145.

A permit for alteration to an existing commercial structure was issued to Seago Group Inc., 110-121 N. Colorado St., $3,500.

United Way on the way

Midland's annual United Way campaign is "off and running" toward a victorious conclusion by mid-November, following a rousing United Way Kick-Off Fair held Saturday in Dellwood Mall.

The fair was an exciting event as encouraging reports on the unusually successful results of pilot campaigns conducted in 15 pace-setting business firms were heard, and the 19 United Way agencies unveiled static or active displays relating to their programs, projects and goals.

A spirit of enthusiasm was evident on the part of all in attendance, and this is the very thing which assures the success of the 1980 fund effort in the prescribed time. It is the spirit of Midland and Midlanders.

Thus the "GO" signal has been flashed and the general campaign is under way. From here on out it is up to the scores of volunteer solicitors and the persons and firms they will be contacting. Hopefully, those persons contacted will be prepared to respond promptly and generously to the initial call. This will save everyone a lot of time and effort, just as giving the United Way conserves time, effort and expense.

Yes, the goal this year is a record $1,017,000, which is the amount needed to support the social services of the United Way in 1980. But don't let the figure frighten you. It is only about 10 percent higher than last year's goal, which was over-subscribed, and is less than the present rate of inflation. It is hoped that Midlanders will reach down a little deeper, increasing their pledges and contributions in keeping with the increased goal.

In stressing the fact that "your pledge works right here in Midland," it is well to point out, as follows, how your United Way gift is spent: 3 percent for recreational services; 25 percent for family rehabilitation; 46 percent for youth services; 4 percent for educational services; 8 percent for child care; 5 percent for health and rehabilitation; 5 percent for campaign, and 4 percent for community organization and administration.

The participating agencies are American Red Cross, Boys Club, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Casa de Amigos, Community Day Nursery, Council on Alcoholism, Family Services, Girl Scouts, La Florencia Day Nursery, Midland-Lee Youth Centers, Planned Parenthood, Salvation Army, Tape Lending Library, U.S.O., and the four YMCA units — Alamo, Metropolitan, Park Center and Washington.

Reviewing the agencies and their many and varied activities, the United Way is bound to touch the lives of practically every Midland family in one way or another. Any way one looks at it, Midland is a much better community as a result of United Way and its participating agencies. And now we — all of us — are called upon to do our part in helping to foot the bill.

As W.F. "Bill" Orloff, campaign chairman says, "The success of this year's campaign depends on you and me...and no one else. If all of us do our Fair Share...as individuals and corporate citizens of the community...this year's United Way campaign will be a big success. And why not, we do things big in the Tall City."

This has been so true in more recent years, ever since Tall City residents determined once and for all to get behind United Way, completing its annual campaigns successfully and on schedule, proving once again that Midlanders believe in taking care of their own — the United Way.

After all, it is our community, our United Way, and our responsibility.

This year's campaign is exceptionally well organized, staffed by scores of enthusiastic volunteer workers who are ready to go. Hopefully, Midlanders will be ready to receive them in a manner proving that OUR United Way works in Midland.

Tip to Pope: Let women serve communion at Masses

WASHINGTON — Bring a world figure with the personality of Pope John Paul II here, and you create excitement, joy and also, in our activist-secular republic, some controversy.

Virtually all the hundreds of thousands of people who will crowd this city to watch the Pope's motorcade or attend the Mass he will celebrate on the Mall will be there to cheer or rejoice. But there will be a small number demonstrating against the Pope's (and the Catholic Church's) views on abortion, ordination of women as priests and certain aspects of feminism. The usual run of peck-niffs shouting petty arguments about Church and State has already been heard from and dismissed.

Still, I think that whichever Vatican official is advancing this marvelous tour would be smart to whisper something in the Pope's ear about yet another controversy, the misunderstood report that no women would be distributing Holy Communion at the Masses he will celebrate in several cities.

This news caused an uproar among feminists, Catholic and otherwise. The co-director of the Quixote Center here, a good Sister of Mercy, wrote a local point: "Once again, women are pushed aside, stepped on, treated as second-class citizens in their Church." Other Catholic feminists declared they would boycott the Pope's appearance, and one said she and her daughter would help with crowd control by staying home. Actually, the Vatican did not send word that no women would distribute Holy Communion. Rather, the message was that the rule ("Immense Caritas") promulgated in 1973 by Pope Paul VI would be followed at the Pope's Masses in the United States. That instruction was that, when there were not enough priests, deacons or ordained acolytes around, lay people (women and men) could distribute Holy Communion as "Extraordinary Ministers of the Eucharist."

Since there are legions of ordained clergy — all male — eager to distribute Communion at the Pope's Masses, there will be no need for the laity to pitch in. In effect, this cuts women out, but not by any master plan or directive.

But the story of "no women needed" has such currency now that many men and women, Catholic and non-Catholic, are disturbed and interpret it as a sign of Vatican discrimination against women. This is trouble Vatican bureaucrats and-or the Pope can mitigate, and should, in order not to mar his visit to the United States.

As the Brooklyn Tablet, a right-wing diocesan sheet turned progressive, points out, there are priests sitting around in many churches while women serve Communion and the walls don't tumble down. A writer in the Green Bay, Wis., diocesan paper wondered why the Church does not also insist that priests be required to sing in the choir or usher; thus, only if there aren't enough of these males around would lay women and men be summoned for these tasks. For six years, lay women have

'YOU SIR, ARE AN EXTREMIST'

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — A new credibility problem has arisen in the SALT II controversy, and this time it's not just the Russians' credibility that's questioned. It's Secretary of State Cyrus Vance's.

In his enthusiastic promotion of the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty, Vance has often wound up as an apologist for the Soviet Union, using weasel words to cover up Soviet cheating. He will say, for example, that we can verify the treaty provisions "adequately," or that there were no "significant" violations of the first SALT agreement.

Last year, in a slickly worded State Department report to Congress, which was subsequently released to the public, Vance went beyond mere fudging. He made — or permitted to be made — an outright misstatement of the facts, intelligence sources told our associate Dale Van Atta.

Vance assured Congress that the Soviets had lived up to a particular section of SALT I when he knew — or should have known — that in fact they had not. If Vance knew his assurance was false, that would be unforgivable. But if he didn't know, it would be almost as bad, indicating that the secretary of state wasn't reading the statements put out in his name, or the intelligence reports on which they were based.

The issue involved the limit set on the number of ballistic missile launchers in the Soviet Navy's vast submarine fleet — an important weapon in the Russians' strategic arsenal. Under the 1972 treaty, the Soviets agreed to a limit of 740 of these missile launchers.

If the Russians went over the limit of 740, they were required to destroy or dismantle an equal number of older missile launchers. Yet according to top-secret CIA documents, the United States became aware that the Soviets had begun to exceed the 740 limit by August 1975.

U.S. intelligence estimated the number of unauthorized launchers at six, and the State Department's treaty-enforcement officials mulled over the violation for several weeks. But before they could decide how to push this particular cookie, the Russians blithely announced that they were indeed over the agreed-on limit — by 23 missile launchers!

Embarrassed intelligence officials did a hasty reassessment and "concluded that the Soviet report accurately reflects the status of the force under the agreement."

Like the deadbeat who assures a creditor that "the check is in the mail," the Russians promised that the 23 missile launchers they "owed" us under the treaty would be dismantled by March of 1976 — as well as 27 more that would have been replaced by new launchers by that date.

When March rolled around, though, the Soviets had junked only nine of the 50 launchers. Blaming "winter weather" for the delay, the Soviets then promised that the 50 launchers would positively, absolutely be on the scrap heap by June 1, 1976.

The State Department bought the Soviet alibi about the weather, even though intelligence sources noted that

ART BUCHWALD

New status in Washington is judged on real estate

WASHINGTON — Your status in Washington is no longer based on your title in government, nor how much entertaining you do, nor even if you come from Georgia.

You are now judged strictly on real estate.

I attended a party recently and my hostess was all aglow. "I want you to meet the most divine couple," she said. "these are the Schmerztes."

The name didn't ring a bell. "They bought a house in Georgetown in 1965 for $14,000 and it is now worth $350,000," she explained.

I got excited. "Forgive me," I apologized, "I didn't know you were those Schmerztes. I've been reading about you in the real estate pages. Didn't you get a mortgage for 4 1/2 percent?"

"It was actually 4%," Schmerztes said modestly. "You know how real estate reporters tend to exaggerate."

Everyone gathered around the couple, while Sen. Teddy Kennedy stood in a corner all by himself. I looked around the room and couldn't believe my eyes. Coming in the door was Ziggy Wintermelon.

I went over to my hostess. "Marion, how did you ever get Ziggy Wintermelon, the condominium king, to come to your party?"

She grinned mysteriously. "I told him Sam Freed might be here tonight. Wintermelon has been dying to meet him ever since Sam sold his mobile home in Potomac for $750,000."

Art Buchwald

"Is Freed coming?" I asked. "He's already here, darling, he's talking to that man with the glasses and frizzy hair over there — I forget his name."

"That's Henry Kissinger," I told her. "It's funny I don't remember inviting Kissinger. He really doesn't fit in with these people," she said. "You certainly turned out the stars," I told her. "Isn't that Vic Orsini who just bought a million-dollar townhouse in the Kalorama section of Washington?"

"Yes, he closed on Friday. I believe he told me he's paying 12 percent for a 25-year mortgage which the bank insists it wants to renegotiate every five years. Vic's not too bright, but he's fun to have around."

"Why isn't anyone talking to Vice President Mondale and his wife?"

"They get free housing at the Naval Observatory. What could you talk to them about?"

"Marion," I said, "is it true the Stauntons sold their house in Alexandria for what they paid for it five years ago?"

"I'm afraid so. They seemed like such a nice couple, I don't know what got into them. Most people have dropped them, but I still say hello to her when I see her at Bloomingdale's."

Marion surveyed the room. Suddenly I saw her eyes stop. "I told Chief Justice Burger not to bug Charley Smith about buying a house in Mount Vernon," she said. "Warren knows perfectly well Charley can't discuss his projects while they're still being developed."

"Maybe Burger forgot," I said.

Marion took out her guest list. "Perhaps you can help me with the seating protocol. I have three Supreme Court justices, the Vice President of the United States, six senators and Carey Winston, the mortgage banker. Should I put Carey on my left or my right?"

Mark Russell says

All hail the coming together of three great spiritual leaders — John Paul II, Jimmy the Meek and Teddy the Strong.

The Pope's visit to Washington is well timed. Only he can assume the role of a referee, standing between Carter and Kennedy, telling them to shake hands and fight fair.

Then the Pope will wink at Kennedy and whisper — "Sic transit gloria mundi" — which is Latin for "You got it, baby!"

At the Pope's Mass policemen will be placed 20 feet apart to control the crowds. It sort of reminds me of when I was back in parochial school and the nuns would patrol the aisle conking anyone on the head who was inattentive.

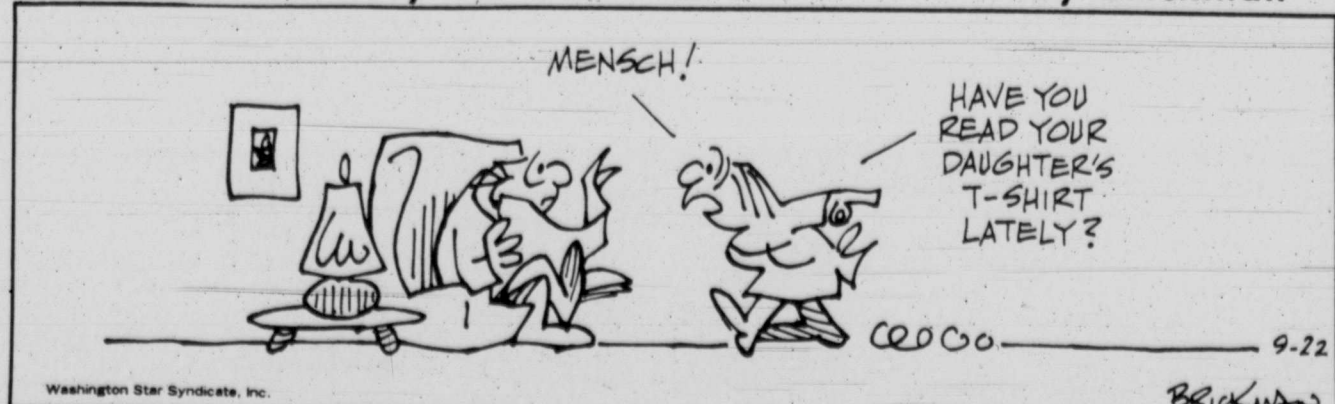

The crowd is estimated to be 1 million people and one problem will be taking up the collection. A collection basket manufacturer is working on a special model which comes with a 40-foot handle.

The papal visit to the nation's capital is indeed historic and magnificent, topping that of any other religious leader — be it Billy Graham, the Archbishop of Canterbury or Danny Thomas.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Illegal money

To the Editor:
Our Founding Fathers, who were quite gifted, understood God's laws and money and gave the power to "create" money and the power to control it into the hands of the federal Congress. They believed that all citizens should share in the profits of its "creation" and so the national government must be the only creator of money.

After 1913, all of our money has been created and issued illegally. In December of 1913, Congress, with many of its members away for the Christmas holidays, passed what we now call the Federal Reserve Act. It authorized the establishment of a Federal Reserve Corporation, with a board of directors to run it, and the U.S. was divided into 12 Federal Reserve "districts."

This law removed from Congress the right to "create" more or to have any control over its "creation." The Federal Reserve Corporation is a private corporation controlled by bankers and therefore is operated for financial gain of the bankers over the people, rather than for the good of the people. The word "Federal" was used only to trick the people.

A small group of people (Federal Reserve Corporation) print our money, they then lend it to our government and our people at interest. For the sake of illustration, our government having spent more than it has taken from its citizens in taxes, say, needs $1 billion. Since Congress has given away its authority to "create" it, the government must go to the "creators" for the $1 billion. The Federal Reserve, a private corporation, just doesn't give its money away. The bankers are willing to credit or to deliver the $1 billion to the federal government in exchange for the government's agreement to pay it back, with interest. So, Congress authorizes the Treasury Department to print $1 billion in U.S. bonds, which are then delivered to the Federal Reserve bankers. The Federal Reserve pays the cost of printing the $1 billion. The government uses the money to pay its debts, but the U.S. government has indebted the people to pay to the Federal Reserve $1 billion plus interest.

Sincerely yours,
Rev. Robert Neumann

The pocketknife

To the Editor:
The pocketknife, whether penknife or jackknife, is a common occupant of Texans' pockets. Unlike the prevalent view in many other areas of the country, the pocketknife is here looked upon as a handy tool, rather than as a weapon, per se. The high regard for such a practical instrument probably stems from Texas' legacy as a frontier area, an environment which required that one be prepared to cope with all manner of problems.

Most boys, if not acquiring one earlier, are elated at the receipt of a Boy Scout knife, or a hunting knife, at about 10 years of age. It marks their coming of age, at least in their eyes. The sheer utility of this little gem usually carries through into adulthood. The ubiquity of pocketknives among men in West Texas goes hand in hand with the air of independence evinced by these men in this most independent of areas and industries. If any one item other than the automobile might be the symbol of our Permian Basin culture, it is probably the ever-present pocketknife.

Sincerely,
Hugh G. White

Hasty waste

To the Editor:
Your editorial remark that the story of the Tellico Dam could have a happy ending if President Carter will sign the bill to authorize completion of the dam is a little puzzling. I believe your comment is that "it is important that taxpayers' dollars already spent on the project not be wasted," and your implication is that unless $19 million more is spent, the $115 million already spent will be wasted. Actually, the $115 million spent is wasted anyway.

The authority for the dam was created in the middle of the depression of the 1930s and part of its purpose was to provide jobs in construction, and outdoor recreation. Farmland was cheap and there was plenty of it, two conditions which no longer exist. As a matter of fact, we need these 16,000 acres of farmland now much more than we need the dam.

According to the Council of Economic Advisors, the dam will cost approximately $7.2 million per year to operate, while the annual benefits are estimated at only $6.5 million. If $19 million more is spent to finish this project, we can then add an annual deficit of more than half a million dollars a year for the life of the dam.

This dam authorization was pushed through the Congress in an unpublished amendment by Republican Rep. John J. Duncan, in whose district the dam is located.

Your statement regarding Interior Secretary Cecil D. Andrus' reasoning in this regard that "it is doubtful if he has any substantial reasons other than to uphold the Endangered Species Act..." is superficial and uncalled for. He possibly had reasons quite valid, which you would do well to look into before making your comment.

The facts, please

To the Editor:
The recent article on allergy, Sept. 9, 1979, by Patsy Gordon is overwhelming in its evaluation of what allergies are and how they are treated in Midland. In fact, neither of the two listed allergists in town are shown as interviewed in the article. It is my understanding that ear, nose and throat specialists are not specifically trained in the treatment of allergies, but do it as a sideline to their surgical practice. What do the allergists such as Doctor Wiesenfeld and Doctor Huffman think of allergies, their diagnosis and control? From what I know through my nurse's training there is considerable debate about whether serial dilution titration skin tests are of any more value than the skin test and RAST test now performed.

Where on earth does Doctor Gooch get the data for the statement that viruses lower the resistance and enhance the symptoms of allergic individuals?

We are told in the article that people are tested for Ethanol which is alcohol and we are also told in the article that Ethanol is an antigen. My medical sources indicate that Ethanol is much too small a molecule to cause symptoms. Usually it is other agents or true antigens in various types of alcohol. Are we to believe that we are allergic to sponge rubber, foam and Scotchguard?

Allergies are an important subject for people in this community and I feel that The Reporter-Telegram has an obligation to seek out the most reliable and best sources of opinion when writing an article or series of articles. The fault here lies with the editorial staff and with the specific writer, Patsy Gordon.

Holocaust II?

To the Editor:
It is very ironic that as we watch television's portrayal of the slaughter of six million innocent people in "Holocaust," we ask ourselves, "Could this happen here?" This question is moot, since it already has happened here. There are direct historical parallels between the Nazi's slaughter of the Jews and our own acceptance of the killing of two million unborn children every year by means of legalized abortion.

Just as the Nazis assured the German citizenry that the "final solution" was in the best interest of the Jews, so today Planned Parenthood assures us that it is being compassionate and kind in promoting abortion as a means of birth control, and that anyone who protests is cruel, heartless and behind the times. One is reminded of Christian ministers and priests in Germany who supported Jewish rights, and who were thus sent off to concentration camps with the Jews.

Before the Nazis began their direct slaughter of the Jews, they promoted abortion for Jewish women, but would not allow it for other German women. Why should they want the women they despised to have such a "noble and liberating right"? In 1975, the West German Supreme Court ruled that abortion would be unconstitutional under the West German constitution. In making its decision, the West German court rejected the legality of abortion precisely because of the Nazi experience. The court stated that its decision could be explained "as a reaction to the 'destruction of life unworthy of life,' to the 'final solution' and 'liquidations' which were carried out as measures of state by the Nazis." This opinion followed by two years the Supreme Court decision that declared "the word 'person' does not include the unborn."

Today, those of us who oppose legalized abortion, federal funding of Planned Parenthood, and United Way funding of Planned Parenthood, find ourselves in much the same position as those who tried to cry "Stop!" in Germany in 1935. We are derided as cranks who are hopelessly myopic in our values.

Majority rules?

To the Editor:
I just returned from the Houston five-state regional HEW Conference on the International Year of the Child. This is the only major government-sponsored IYC meeting to be held in 1979. This HEW failure had registered only 170 workshop participants at the end of the second day of the 2½-day meeting. Most of the participants did not return for the last day.

An elected representative of the approximately 50 pro-family people who participated in several workshops was not allowed stage access to read the resolutions passed in those workshops. Only those people picked by the conference planners were allowed to read position papers, most of which gave no consideration to workshop discussions or resolutions. When objections were raised, the meeting was abruptly adjourned.

This suppression of opinions (in this case the majority) opposite those of the conference planners is a repeat of the tactics employed by the International Women's Year. The question now is, will our properly-passed resolutions ever reach the National IYC Commission as promised and will they be included in their final report to the President and Congress?

Right-to-life

To the Editor:
Birthright of Midland is an organization that believes in the right of life for the unborn. We work to preserve life and prevent abortions. We don't believe this right-to-life is merely a constitutional right, but a right that springs from nature itself.

When young girls get pregnant without benefit of marriage, many of them opt for abortions. This can be a convenient way to get rid of the problem.

However, for those whose thoughts go deeper, the problem at this point is not solved. In fact, many women will tell you it has only begun, for the girl or woman now faces a lifetime of living with a fact she cannot escape...she has aborted a child whom she will never see, never feel, never know.

Birthright works with the mother to find ways either to keep the baby or give it up for adoption. We who are mothers ourselves know that either to keep the baby or give it up for adoption is hard, but far less difficult than living with oneself after an abortion.

To quote from a real case: "My daughter is 16 and unmarried. She has a brand new baby boy. She is a good mother and he is a beautiful grandson for us. Having this baby has not wrecked her life. She is a much more mature and responsible person now than she ever was before. During her pregnancy she was advised by several people to have an abortion. Each time I look at the baby, I thank God his mother did not have him destroyed."

We in Birthright stand ready to help any pregnant woman who wants or needs help to have her baby. We are all volunteers and believe in the preciousness of life. Call us at 683-6072 or come by 1501 Industrial Blvd.

Anyone wishing to volunteer to help us will be welcome as well as anyone wishing to donate baby clothes, baby furniture or donations of any kind.

Sincerely,
Jeanene Davis, president

'KISS' facts

To the Editor:
There has been much controversy concerning the rock group, "KISS," including letter-to-letter combat in this section of The Reporter-Telegram last October and November.

I have read an interesting collection of facts and opinions that I would like to share.

In the March, 1976, edition of Rolling Stones Magazine, Peter Criss, drummer, was quoted as saying, "I stayed home, played, wrote, did a lot of drugs, and went bananas." He was also described as a high school dropout and ex-member of a Brooklyn street gang called the "Phantom Lords."

Another magazine article told of a personal interview with Gene Simmons in which Simmons eagerly displayed a collection of pornographic photographs, proudly proclaiming it as his own work. This was taken from the December, 1977, issue of Playboy Magazine. Life's Answer reprinted an editorial from the Chicago Sun-Times which told of this pornography. Yes, Simmons was a teacher. He taught in Manhattan... for the first half of 1972 and describes this experience as "pretty rotten—I wanted to kill those little..." (Circus Magazine, October 1978.)

This rock group works to convey their image as "symbols of just unfettered evil and sexuality." (Rolling Stones, March, 1976) They sing "God of thunder, God of rock and roll, we'll steal your virgin soul..." What does the Bible say about gods and idols? Exodus 22 and Deuteronomy 5, both clearly state instructions.

Anyone who thinks that "KISS" is not involved in drugs and perversion is simply ignorant to facts. Avoiding temptation is better than overcoming temptation. Why subject yourself unnecessarily?

Parents, is this what you want your kids to witness when "KISS" comes to Midland's Chaparral Center in November? To be influenced enough to become sexually involved or risk their lives under the control of this type of "entertainment"?

Sexist name

To the Editor:
My 10-year-old son was reading an article concerning skateboards which appeared in the first issue of your new "Sunday Woman" magazine. His cousin saw only the outside cover of the supplement and began taunting him about reading a "sissy magazine"; which, in turn, promoted me to write this letter.

Why use a sexist name for such informative reading for both male and female alike? Some of the subjects in the magazine such as the skateboard article, marriage, finance, dental care, etc., were inappropriate under the discriminate name "Sunday Woman."

In today's world of enlightenment on matters of equality, it seems you are again drawing a dividing line between the sexes. Since it is impossible to categorize one subject as being of more interest to females than to males, or as I should say, to one person than to another person, why not end all the journalistic stereotyping and use genderless language?

Very truly yours,
Linda Rinkler

Hospital help

To the Editor:
I was recently a patient at Midland Memorial Hospital and would like to take this opportunity to thank the prompt, efficient, courteous and understanding staff on 4-West. The nurses were there to hold my hand when I was in pain and they were there to pat me on the shoulder and listen while I cried when I was afraid of the unknown and my pending surgery. It's hard to find words to express the gratitude I have toward these fine people.

Thank you for caring.

Rigged question

To the Editor:
Congressman Hance is attempting the impossible! Can he do it? Let me explain.

Midland voters recently received Congressman Hance's 1979 Questionnaire.

His question on gas rationing appears to be rigged to deliver a big present to Jimmy Carter—the power to invoke gas rationing.

Can you be persuaded to vote for gas rationing? Here's the question: "GAS RATIONING — pass a law allowing the President to invoke gas rationing if it becomes necessary? Yes or No."

Just think, "If it becomes necessary?" Could you vote against anything if it becomes necessary? Of course not. Everybody votes yes.

So, although we are acutely aware that government intervention in the marketplace in the form of mandatory allocations created tremendous gas lines this spring — and that more regulations, like gas rationing, would make life even more difficult for Americans who are dependant on their automobiles — still, if it is "necessary" we vote reluctantly for it.

Congressman Hance doesn't offer us the real choices:

1. Shall Congress continue to pass complicated laws and regulations to tangle every citizen in more red tape, ration coupons and long lines, OR

2. Shall the Congress adopt a reasonable program to open up the vast resources of oil, gas and coal that lie on federal land AND adopt a program of paying a premium price for domestic oil instead of for OPEC oil?

This is the real question.

Will Congressman Hance claim that we support gas rationing by referring to the results of this question? Perhaps.

Perhaps I have made a mountain out of a molehill. The wording of the questionnaire may be due merely to carelessness.

But I expect my congressman to take every care to clarify this important question — not muddle it up with a careless questionnaire to every voter. Or worse — a rigged question that can be used to claim that West Texans support gas rationing "if necessary."

Demagoguery

To the Editor:

When I was growing up, a saying bandied about was that the most assured lie was told when a person said, "I will never tell a lie." For me it is difficult to determine the difference between a liar and a demagogue, but it appears that when a politician lies it is demagoguery; whereas, when an ordinary citizen lies, it is a lie.

In regards to his energy policies, President Carter was a complete demagogue until recently when he advocated decontrolling the price of heavy crude oil and exempting it from his proposed excise tax. He stated his opinion that in so doing, it would increase the production of heavy crude oil, possibly doubling the amount by 1982. Previously, Carter had steadfastly maintained that government controls and taxing away the profits of oil producers would not result in decreasing exploration, development or production.

These two opposite positions can not be reconciled on the basis of truth. I can not believe that Carter is so naive as to not recognize that higher profits on lighter grades of crude oil would not result in increased production, or in a windfall profit to the government through its confiscatory income tax system. I would suggest that Carter has been tripped up by his demagoguery, and that real leadership in economic policy would demand the universal application of truth.

It has been rumored that there soon be a great gathering of demagogues in Washington to push Carter's latest energy plan. These will include labor and consumerist organizations who purport to securing lower prices for their membership. I would suggest that the leaders of these organizations are engaging in demagoguery comparable to Carter's; however, they do not share the responsibility for the plan's failure.

In my opinion, consumers will realize the lowest ultimate cost of energy through the working of the free market.

Sincerely,
Russell G. Estes
Midland, Texas

Quality vs. size

To the Editor:
My daughter will soon be a student at Midland High School. I am very concerned that she receive a good education as well as all the other youth of our community. I would do nothing to impede her progress in gaining practical skills and knowledge that would enable her to become a contributing member of our society.

However, I do not equate quality with quantity in the area of education. I fail to see how campus expansion would make Midland High "equal" to Lee High. "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," not in the size of the pot.

It would not be realistic to expect schools to maintain and upgrade education without building improvements and some additional programs and facilities.

I would expect the Midland School Board to be realistic in what they are asking of Midland voters. As a taxpayer and educationally-minded person, I would like the privilege of having more choice as to where my dollars might be used. I would not want to be a party to evicting long-time Midland residents from their homes in the Midland High area (especially not when the property would be purchased at inflated prices). New athletic fields will have little effect on the development of athletic prowess and performance. Parking lots may be considered a luxury. At a time when my own family is tightening belts and doing without extras, I feel our tax supported institutions can do the same.

If the school board insists upon asking for a one-vote, all-or-nothing format in the ensuing bond election, they may expect the public to reject the whole package. Perhaps then, the board will act rationally (at more cost) and allow the voters to approve of issues they feel will be of most benefit to our school-age children.

Sports coverage

To the Editor:

I am writing with concern to our local sports coverage. If someone from beyond our city was to read the Telegram on any Friday afternoon during football season, I'm sure he would be totally unaware of the existence of Midland High School's football team, if Midland High at all. The front sports page Friday, Sept. 14 was full of headlines, none of even mentioning the Bulldogs. As a matter of fact, the MHS Dogs were not even mentioned until page 4. Terry Williamson's near-half page article on the Rebels was good but where was Midland High Bulldog wrapup? Not in the Reporter-Telegram for sure.

I thought the job of the media was to report all the news. It took a total redistricting plan from the school system to bring more equal funding between the schools; what will it take to get equal coverage in the newspaper?

I think Midland High School's Bulldogs have a good season in store this year...too bad nobody knows about it.

Sincerely yours,
Pat Hicks

(Editor's Note: We would call the attention of the letter writer to the Thursday, Sept. 13, issue of The Reporter-Telegram in which the Midland High Bulldogs were featured in a banner story across the top of the front page of the sports section. It is the policy of the Sports Department to feature the Midland team playing out of the city in Thursday's edition, and the team playing at home in Friday's edition.)

Great response

To the Editor:
First of all, I want to thank the newspaper and all the persons who called after reading your Answer Line. We now have other places to take our relatives from England in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, and received many invitations from persons we have not met, who will be glad to show my husband's uncle and aunt their ranches and farms, and even share their real cream, so that we can serve it with their cup of tea. How about that? I was raised on real cream until I was 18. Now isn't this great hospitality?

Second, I wanted to inform your readers that sometime between now and the end of October on CBS' "60 Minutes," there will be a program on the proposed health and government textbooks to be used in public schools for the State of Texas. Mike Wallace has filmed and interviewed the Mel Gablers, educational research analysts, Longview. There will be coverage of Norma Gabler's 20th year at testifying at the State Board of Education's textbook hearings. The Gablers travel around the country helping parents testify against textbooks, and recently they were interviewed on the 700 Club. If anyone would like to contact the Gablers, their office telephone number in Longview is 214-753-5993. You just might like to know what your tax dollars are buying for the children of Texas to use in school.

Mrs. Pat Conway

P.S. At the textbooks hearings, you are not allowed to recommend any books, only criticize them.

No more Reese

To the Editor:
I've tolerated the antics of Charley Reese long enough. From now on, I'm having some other member of my family cut his column out of the paper, burn the damn thing and then I'll mumble voodoo curses over the ashes.

"100 people could wreck the U.S. economy..." In that allegation, he assumes Amory Lovins and the coterie of appropriate technology experts are out to ruin the country. His drivel assumes that we should not eventually switch over to renewable energy sources. He will stick with the fossil fuels oil and gas and coal, and another limited resource energy, nuclear power. Limited, and all four dangerous to various degrees. In his attack he has attempted to belittle the movement for the only energy systems that can save the world as we know it today. Reese is a fool that sits on his fanny and whines while thousands of small businessmen (like what built this country) are struggling to make renewable energy work.

In Marin County, Calif., Sim Van Der Ryn, former state architect to Jerry Brown, has organized the logistics of taking an abandoned U.S. Air Force base and turning it into a community that will run on non-fossil energy...food production, materials production, retail production, housing and energy, all in one place. Unpolluting, decentralized and humane—a place that I'd like to live in, and plan to, someday, when the U.S. has gotten off the petroleum teat.

Charley Reese, I pity him, a yes-man to dying dinosaurs. He likes energy crises, killer smogs, oil on Texas beaches and runaway inflation. It is too bad that the media are such yes-men, too. Van Der Ryn should be made the new media darling, and the government should send a few grants his way. I, for one, wish I could donate my taxes to him, instead of the majority of crap Washington shoves on us.

It's not fair

To the Editor:
I am 13 years of age and I don't think it's fair for kids over 11 to have to pay the adult price to go to the movies, and you can't see the adult pictures.

It's not that I want to see them, but I don't think it's fair for you to pay $3.50 and only see rated G and PG pictures. If you pay the price then you should see the movie.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Be certain about contact lenses before buying

Dear Dr. Solomon: I'm hoping to get contact lenses soon. With braces coming off my teeth, and the need to wear eyeglasses ending, I feel like a butterfly about to come out of a cocoon. I would like to know which is preferable — the hard or soft contact lenses. Would you have any recommendation as to which I should get? — Sandy.

Dear Sandy: My first recommendation is that you be certain you really want contact lenses before investing in either the hard or soft lenses. Many pairs of contacts are permanently resting in bureau drawers because their owners decided they were not worth the trouble.

About four million Americans wear contacts, and they do provide some advantages. They usually give the wearer improved peripheral vision and, of course, are more attractive cosmetically. But they also have disadvantages.

In the first place, contact lenses are more expensive than ordinary eyeglasses. Second, the amount of time contacts can be worn continuously is limited. This means that your need for a pair of supplemental eyeglasses generally is not ended when you acquire contacts. And finally, contacts require careful maintenance to prevent damage to them as well as to the eye.

Once it has been established that there is sufficient activation and the decision to use contact lenses is made, the advantages and disadvantages of the hard and soft lenses need to be evaluated. An adjustment period of three to four weeks is required for hard contact lenses. Tolerance must be built up gradually, day by day; otherwise, the surface of the cornea will swell because of a lack of oxygen, causing friction between the lens and the eye. Because of the risk of corneal swelling and painful abrasions, hard contacts generally should not be worn more than 12 hours a day.

There are separate solutions for cleaning, soaking and wetting the hard lenses before use. These solutions remove salts, oils and makeup, kill potentially harmful organisms, and keep proteins, oils and mucous from hardening on the lens. In addition, the lenses generally require periodic polishing to avoid the accumulation of mucous in scratches.

The soft-lens contact is a more recent development. Since they fit the eye more snugly, soft contacts are popular with athletes. They are more porous than the traditional hard lens, thus permitting heat and oxygen to pass through more easily and decreasing the tendency toward corneal swelling and abrasion. They also can be worn for longer periods without the risk of abrasion posed by hard lenses.

The soft lenses also have disadvantages. They are more delicate than the hard ones and generally need to be replaced more often. They are more trouble to clean, and more apt to absorb mucous, proteins and salt from the eyelids.

Whichever lenses you choose, it is essential to follow instructions carefully to avoid damage to both the contacts and your eyes. Follow-up visits to your ophthalmologist or optometrist at least once a year are recommended.

DICK TRACY®

by GOULD/Fletcher/COLLINS

AS BONY AND CLAUDINE DRIVE INTO THE NIGHT IN A STOLEN CAR—

—DETECTIVE JOE SAMPSON IS BURNING THE MIDNIGHT OIL at HQ—

FORTUNATELY, BONY ISN'T AS SMART AS DILLINGER—WHEN HE DITCHED HIS TRAILER, HE LEFT THIS BEHIND.

IT USED TO BE A GUITAR. IDENTIFIED BY SERIAL NUMBER AS THE ONE STOLEN FROM THE PAWNSHOP.

MAYBE 'BONY' IS SHORT FOR 'BONEHEAD,' SAYS TRACY. "YEAH," SAYS SAMPSON. "HE'S SO STUPID WE HAVEN'T CAUGHT HIM YET..."

YES, MA'AM... I HAVE MY REPORT READY

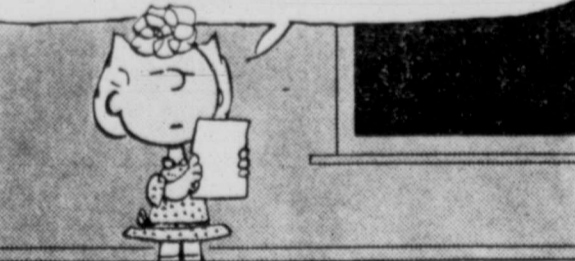

THIS IS THE CLASSIC STORY OF PETER RABBIT AND HIS COAT OF MANY COLORS

HIS BROTHERS HATED HIM SO WHEN HE LOST HIS COAT OF MANY COLORS WHILE CLIMBING OVER THE FARMER'S FENCE, THEY SOLD HIM TO THE PHAROAH IN EGYPT!

THIS IS A STORY OF JEALOUSY, DESIRE AND FORGIVENESS AND SHOULD BE A LESSON TO US ALL!

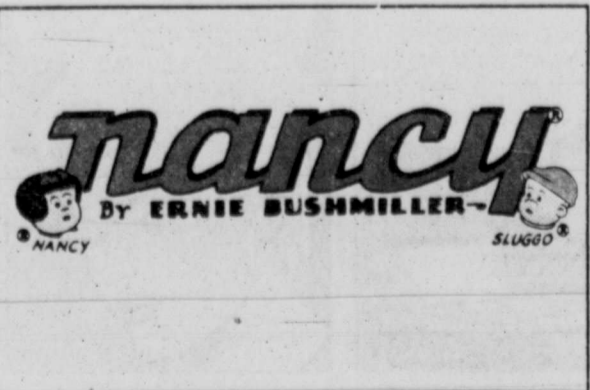

THANK YOU

PSST! WHY DID THE TEACHER HAVE SUCH A FUNNY LOOK ON HER FACE?

WAIT UNTIL TOMORROW WHEN I RECITE ANOTHER CLASSIC, "THE OWL AND THE FUSSY CAT"

hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I have so many costume jewelry pins that I had boxes all over the place. So I took a piece of foam to fit the door frame casing in my bedroom (the door is close to my dresser), covered the foam with thin black material and nailed it to the door frame.

I then put all of my pins on it in pincushion fashion. The pins are now all together and no more hunting through boxes for the one wanted.

It also makes a very pretty decoration for the bedroom, and I have had a lot of compliments on it.

Ethel Buck
And add mine to all the rest — sounds darling!

But I might add a note of caution; be sure to place it well above the reach of the toddler set. Those shiny baubles are an open invitation to little ones who can, in a few well-timed commando raids, reduce your cherished collection to rubble.

A JARRING IDEA!

DEAR HELOISE:

I have long fingernails and always hated putting my fingers in jars of cold cream, moisturizer, etc.

I now lay the jars on their sides, and the cream is easy to use with no more under my nails.

This will not work with new, full jars, but after you have used some off the top, you will be able to put your fingers in the jar on its side.

Try this and you will store all your creams in jars this way.

PICTURE THIS!

DEAR HELOISE:

Some time ago I saw in one of your columns a way of making an ordinary printed picture to appear to be an oil painting.

Would you please be so kind as to tell me what procedure is used in getting this effect? Thank you.

Mrs. Walter Enquist
Guess what it is... yep, nylon net!

Just stretch nylon net over the picture (any printed picture, such as come in magazines, books, and such) and hold it firmly. Give it a light coat of shellac. Carefully remove the net and let it dry.

It gives the same appearance that painting on canvas gives. Of course, cheesecloth would work, too.

DEAR READER:

This is your column. If you'd like to share a hint, ask a question or make a suggestion, write me care of this newspaper.

Just for Kids

GOTTA HAND IT TO YOU, LEIGH!

DEAR HELOISE:

I have the loveliest idea for anyone who uses hand bags.

Just take a pretty cloth placemat, fold it three-quarters up (narrow end to narrow end) and sew a seam around the folded area.

Sew a button on the new clutch-purse and put a button hole on the flap. Or you could use some of that self-gripping tape.

Makes a cute idea for church bazaars, gifts, etc.

DON'T FORGET LEAP YEAR!

DEAR HELOISE:

I have an easy way of telling which months of the year have 31 days and which ones don't.

Make a fist with one of your hands. Starting with your index finger knuckle, count it as January.

The valley between the knuckle is February. The next knuckle, March, and so on.

When you get to August, begin at the beginning.

The knuckles represent months with 31 days, and the valleys between your knuckles count as the months without 31 days.

Christie Burke, Age 11

Well, I'll be! And to think all these years I've been trying to remember the poem, "Thirty days hath September..." Thanks! Heloise

THE LIGHT DAWNED!

DEAR HELOISE:

The other day I was taking the globe off my porch light to clean it and the inevitable happened — it dropped to the cement porch and shattered into more pieces than I care to mention.

So what do I do for a temporary globe? Since I couldn't locate an old one, the wheels began to turn. I spotted a wide-mouthed jar and, believe it or not, it fitted perfectly.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

We always hear the old adage, "Well, my mother did it that way, so I do, too."

One time I heard the story told by a preacher about the young bride who, when cooking a roast, always trimmed around the edges, leaving good meat to be discarded.

When asked why she did it this way, she replied, "Cause my mother did it this way."

The story goes on to tell that she was asked to call her mother and find out why she did it that way. The mother answered with the same reply... her mother had done it before her.

When the grandmother was finally asked, she simply stated, "Because my pan wasn't large enough."

That's about how much sense we make sometimes, huh?

A Devoted Reader

A HEAD START!

DEAR HELOISE: I'm sure many girls have the same problem as I do. I buy plastic headbands and after a few wearings, they stretch out of shape.

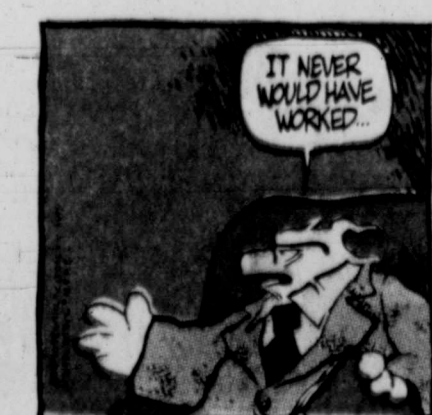

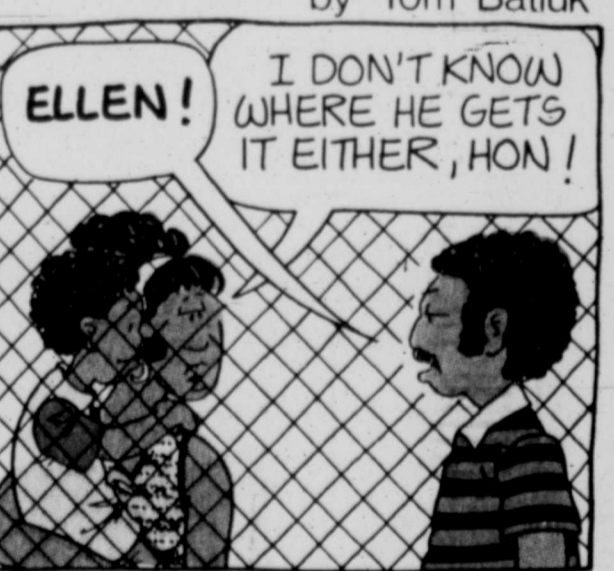

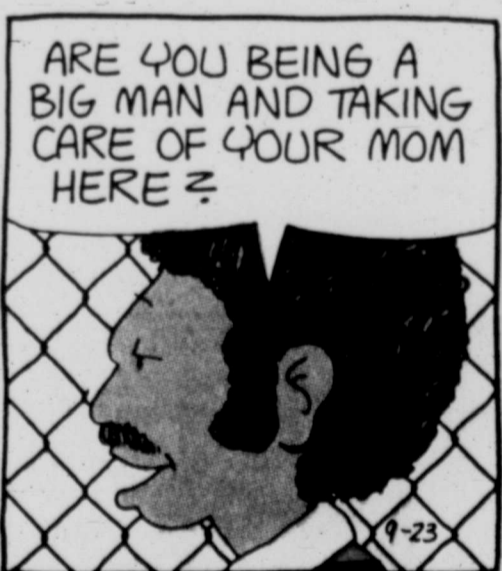

When they don't fit tightly enough, it's a bother to wear them as they keep slipping off.

To solve this problem, just put the headband in hot water and leave it for a few minutes. Take it out and it will be soft enough to shape so that it will fit tight again.

Once you bend it, put it in cold water for a couple of minutes. Take it out, dry it off and it's good as new!

TO GO BACK A MOMENT

WH-WH- STEVE...WHAT'S WRONG?

YOU TREAT ME AS IF I WERE A BURGLAR —OR SOMETHING...

ARE YOU ALL RIGHT, DEAR? AM I ALL RIGHT?

WELL, THERE ARE ONLY TWO OF US HERE... IT'S A BEAUTIFUL MORNING—

BUT I DON'T THINK YOU ARE FULLY AWAKE! ARE YOU FULLY AWAKE?..

ARE YOU YOU? DON'T LOOK AT ME LIKE THAT! HAVE I DONE SOMETHING WRONG?

TH-THAT IS WHAT I AM AFRAID TO ASK! SUMMER, IF YOU ARE SUMMER... IF?

...LOOK AT THE CALENDAR! WHY?—IT'S SEPTEMBER 23, 1976... OH MY GOSH! IT'S 1979!!

WHERE HAVE I BEEN?

"I'm glad to see you taking it easier. You've been spending too much time on your feet lately."

"Can't you think of something constructive to do besides looking at your paper dolls?"

"I do too like your brother, and I like him just the way he is — a couple hundred miles from here."

"I just read where the surgeon general has determined mink can be dangerous to THEIR health."

LOOK, I DON'T BLAME THE SALES MANAGER FOR FIRING ME! I JUST WASN'T PRODUCING!

WHY WEREN'T YOU, BUCK? WHAT'S WRONG?

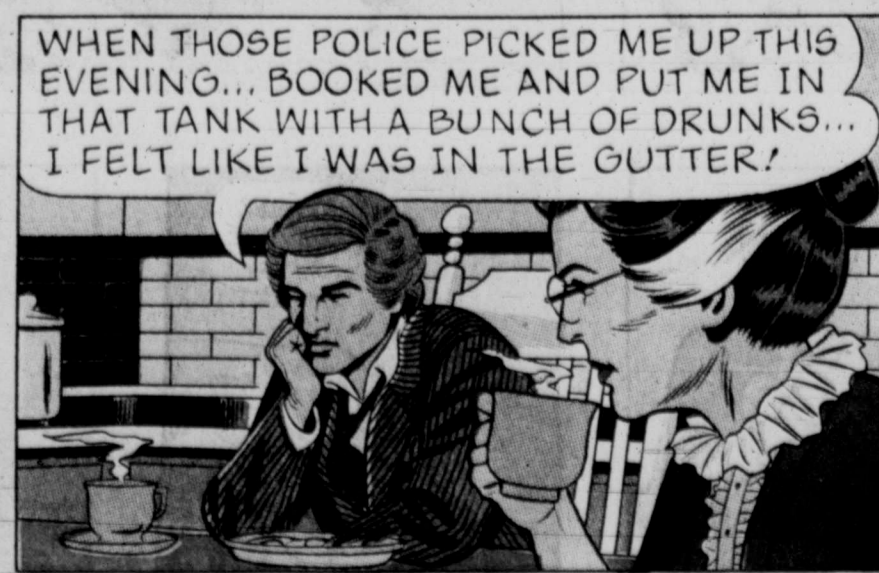

I DON'T KNOW! I JUST CAN'T SELL! IF A CUSTOMER SAYS HE DOESN'T WANT TO BUY, I CAN'T PUSH HIM!

WHEN YOU FIRST WENT TO WORK, YOU DID GREAT!

I WAS SORT OF A HIGH SCHOOL HERO! I DIDN'T HAVE TO SELL... PEOPLE BOUGHT! BUT YOU CAN'T BE A HERO FOREVER!

WHEN THOSE POLICE PICKED ME UP THIS EVENING... BOOKED ME AND PUT ME IN THAT TANK WITH A BUNCH OF DRUNKS... I FELT LIKE I WAS IN THE GUTTER!

I DON'T KNOW WHAT I WOULD HAVE DONE IF SAM HADN'T GOTTEN ME OUT!

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
BY HAL FOSTER

Our Story:
THERE COULD BE NO DOUBT THAT GALAN HAD SAVED LADY ENID FROM BOTH WOLVES AND DEATH IN THE WINTER FOREST. NOW HE IS IN DANGER OF BEING PETTED AND PAMPERED BY THE LADIES OF THE HOUSEHOLD.

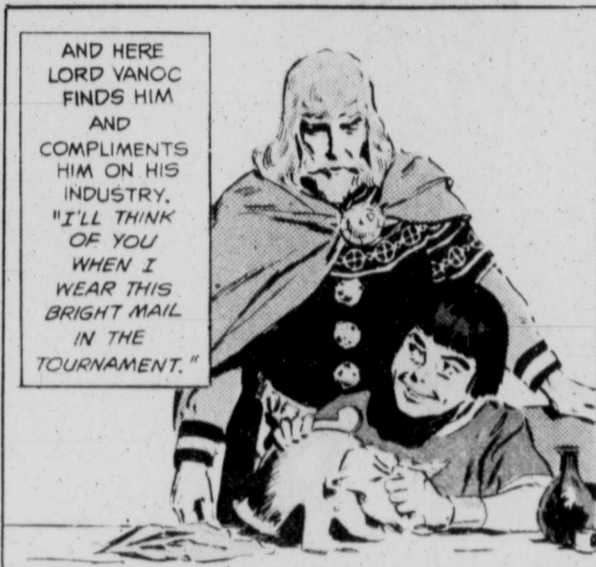

BUT GALAN RECOVERS QUICKLY FOR THERE ARE GREAT GOINGS-ON IN THE CASTLE. NOBLES AND KNIGHTS, THEIR WIVES AND FOLLOWERS, PAUSE ON THEIR WAY TO THE GREAT WINTER TOURNAMENT AT CAMELOT.

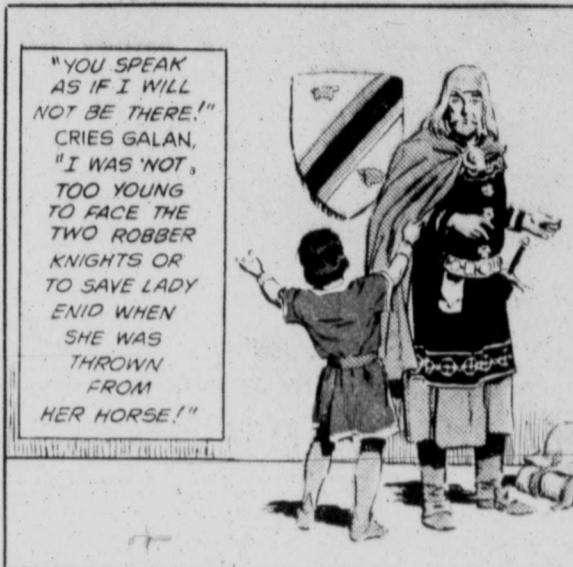

AT LAST LORD VANOC'S GUESTS ARE READY TO LEAVE, AND HE CAN PREPARE HIS OWN PEOPLE FOR THE SHORT JOURNEY TO CAMELOT.

AND HERE LORD VANOC FINDS HIM AND COMPLIMENTS HIM ON HIS INDUSTRY. "I'LL THINK OF YOU WHEN I WEAR THIS BRIGHT MAIL IN THE TOURNAMENT."

"YOU SPEAK AS IF I WILL NOT BE THERE!" CRIES GALAN, "I WAS 'NOT, TOO YOUNG TO FACE THE TWO ROBBER KNIGHTS OR TO SAVE LADY ENID WHEN SHE WAS THROWN FROM HER HORSE!"

LORD VANOC REALIZES HE HAS MADE A MISTAKE, AND GALAN, MOUNTED AND HAPPY, JOINS THE PARTY ON ITS WAY TO CAMELOT.

"I'LL LEAVE YOU ALONE WITH YOUR LAWYER / KNOCK ON THE DOOR WHEN YOU'RE FINISHED!"

THANK YOU, OFFICER!

YOU'VE GOT TO GET ME OUT OF HERE, JERRY!

THE FIRST THING I WANT TO KNOW IS --- ARE YOU GUILTY AS CHARGED?

I DIDN'T MEAN TO KILL DENISE / IT WAS AN ACCIDENT!

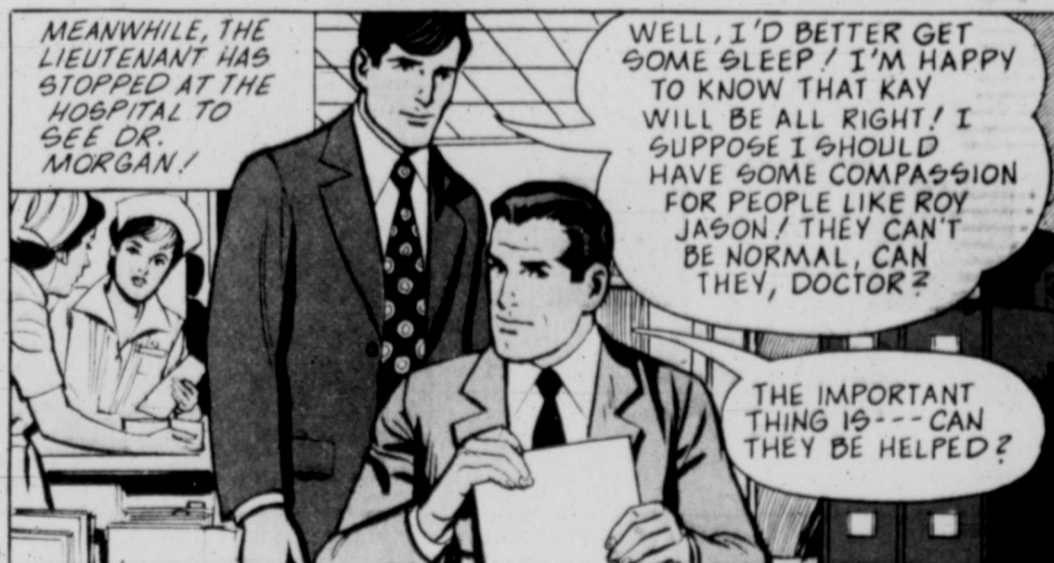

YOU MEANT TO BEAT HER UP --- BUT YOU DIDN'T MEAN TO KILL HER / IS THAT WHAT YOU'RE SAYING?

PLEASE DON'T PUT IT THAT WAY!

IS THERE ANOTHER WAY TO PUT IT? I TALKED TO THE LIEUTENANT / THE SUGGESTION HE MADE MAY BE THE BEST / THROW YOURSELF UPON THE MERCY OF THE COURT!

MEANWHILE, THE LIEUTENANT HAS STOPPED AT THE HOSPITAL TO SEE DR. MORGAN!

WELL, I'D BETTER GET SOME SLEEP / I'M HAPPY TO KNOW THAT KAY WILL BE ALL RIGHT / I SUPPOSE I SHOULD HAVE SOME COMPASSION FOR PEOPLE LIKE ROY JASON / THEY CAN'T BE NORMAL, CAN THEY, DOCTOR?

THE IMPORTANT THING IS --- CAN THEY BE HELPED?
