She could start her own museum

Thursday's birthday gift for Mrs. Carlton Beal Jr. of Midland was truly something "for the woman who has everything." Friends had arranged to borrow a 50,000-pound U.S. Army tank of World War II vintage as a surprise gift and to have it delivered to a hangar at Midland Regional Airport. Mrs. Beal, who said she was expecting a new airplane, promptly climbed aboard the armored vehicle and asked to see how it worked. The tank eventually will be displayed in a museum for war machines to be established in Odessa. (Staff Photo by Brian Hendershot)

Aliens' rights summit topic

NEW YORK (AP) — Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo has been discussing human rights at practically every New York stop and says he will bring up the subject again when he meets President Carter over the weekend in Washington.

The Mexican president hinted he plans to urge Carter to address the problems of illegal aliens in this country, who also are entitled to human rights, he said.

Lopez Portillo was to leave for Washington today.

At one of his stops, he told the United Nations Thursday that his country supported demands by poor countries for control over their raw materials. He also called for the establishment of a U.N.-operated world energy order — a worldwide plan "that covers all nations, both haves and have nots, and is binding on all."

In remarks to the Society for the Family of Man, which presented him with its 1979 award Thursday night, the Mexican president said rich countries must help the poor nations.

"It is both necessary and urgent for us to ... strive to achieve a better distribution of (the world's) wealth and to narrow the dramatic breach between the privileged and the poverty stricken (countries)," Lopez Portillo said as he accepted the award.

Lopez Portillo also met during the day with representatives of the American Jewish Committee, with whom he discussed the Middle East.

"I believe that auspicious forms of rapprochement are being found, such as those that Egypt and Israel are accomplishing," he told the AJC members. "But it will be necessary to enlarge the circles of those agreements," he added.

Many American Jews were angered when Mexico voted for a U.N. resolution that called Zionism a form of racism.

Carter to report on Cuba Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter plans to report to the nation Sunday on the issue of Soviet combat troops in Cuba, which has prompted intensive negotiations with the Soviet Union, it was learned today.

Word of the president's plans for a nationally broadcast address came after he met for about 90 minutes this morning with the National Security Council, the second such session in less than 24 hours, as U.S. officials tried to keep negotiations with the Russians alive.

The breakfast meeting at the White House followed Thursday night's hour-long NSC briefing by Secretary of State Cyrus Vance on his negotiations with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, which apparently failed to resolve the dispute, at least for the time being.

None of the participants at Carter's meeting with his top security advisers was available afterward for comment.

"It is a very calm and deliberative process that's proceeding in a timely and not a hurried fashion," said a Carter aide who asked not to be named. He predicted that Carter's handling of the situation "will merit and receive the support of the people of this country."

The same source said that regardless of the impact of the Soviet troops issue, "there is absolutely no doubt of the president's determination to push forward on SALT" and win Senate ratification of the arms control treaty with the Soviet Union. Discovery of the Russian combat brigade in Cuba has clouded prospects for ratification of the SALT II treaty.

American officials did not rule out the possibility of further U.S.-Soviet talks, although none were planned for the first time in three weeks.

Carter's press secretary, Jody Powell, meeting reporters after Vance's NSC briefing, said, "We would not characterize this as a crisis. It was a discussion."

Another official, requesting anonymity, said that, while there was no crisis atmosphere, "there is a problem."

Members of the NSC called to the White House included Vice President Walter F. Mondale, CIA Director Stansfield Turner, Secretary of Defense Harold Brown and presidential national security adviser Zbigniew Brzezinski.

Powell refused to divulge specifics of what Vance told the NSC in a one-hour briefing that followed a private 30-minute meeting with the president in the White House living quarters.

Carter said Tuesday that he would report to the nation, probably within a week, on the negotiations. In a speech Thursday, Vance assured Latin American diplomats the administration, "at an appropriate time," would release a full report to buttress its stand on the troops.

18-year-old charged in death

Suspect in jail in lieu of $150,000 bond

By MIKE SLATON
Staff Writer

An 18-year-old man was charged Thursday with capital murder in connection with the beating death of Leona White, 48, outside an eastside bar Thursday morning.

Keith Wright, who reportedly moved recently to Midland from the town of Beasley, remained in Midland City Jail today in lieu of $150,000 bond set by Peace Justice Robert Pine.

Wright was arrested at the Cadd Hotel, 110 S. Lee St., by police acting on information supplied by a "confidential informant," according to Lt. Earl Luckey.

The informant told officers he or she had seen a man in the vicinity of Ms. White's car the night of her death, Luckey said.

Ms. White, 109 S. Lee St., apparently was the victim of a robbery, police said Thursday.

A part-time bartender at Price's Bar, 903 E. Illinois Ave., Ms. White was to have closed the bar about 1 a.m. Thursday.

She was carrying a money bag containing an unknown amount of money from the bar when she left the business, police said.

Her car was discovered about 6 a.m. by Eddie Harmon, a friend of hers, who told police he became concerned when Ms. White did not return home that night.

Harmond told police he called them after finding the victim's blood-spattered car parked beside the bar.

A pair of glasses believed to have belonged to Ms. White were found by Harmon near the car, police said.

Police said they later followed drag marks and a trail of blood north from the car. The marks led police through the parking lot and across graveled East Industrial Avenue to a patch of weeds near the railroad tracks, where they found her body about 6:19 a.m. Thursday, officials said.

Ms. White had been beaten about the head a number of times, police said.

A 24-inch-long iron pipe confiscated by police Thursday is believed by officers to have been the weapon with which Ms. White was killed.

Late Thursday afternoon, Ms.

White's employer and acquaintances reacted to her death.

"I've lost a good friend and a hard worker," said Jessie Price, owner of the bar, as he stood near the spot where Ms. White's body was found.

Ms. White had worked at the bar for "about six years," said Price.

"She was one of the best," added Price.

Ms. White's death "upset a whole town of people because she was such a beautiful lady," said Deloris Allen, 1603 E. Oak Ave.

Gathered at Price's Bar Thursday afternoon, people talked about Ms. White.

"She loved to bowl," they said.

"Nobody disliked her," one woman commented.

"Can't say nothing but good things about her," added another.

Ms. White also had worked as a crossing guard for the city of Midland since August 1975, according to Sgt. G.W. Waid of the Midland Police Department.

"She was a good, dependable worker," he said.

George Meany retiring this fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany, 85, founder of the AFL-CIO and its president for the past quarter-century, is retiring this fall, spokesman Allen Zack announced today.

Texas will sue, says White

DALLAS (AP) — Attorney General Mark White, responding to statements by Gov. Bill Clements that he should put up or shut up about the Mexican oil spill, says he'll file suit in the next two weeks against SEDCO and Mexico.

White said there is not enough time to settle without a court fight because a federal judge has set an Oct. 23 deadline for the suit to be filed.

White threatened to sue Pemex, the Mexican oil monopoly, and SEDCO, the Dallas-based drilling company founded by the governor, while Clements was on a three-week visit to Eastern European countries.

Clements told newsmen in Austin Thursday that what White "needs to do is quit talking about it and sue. If there is any liability, sue and settle it."

White, in Dallas to speak before the Dallas Democratic Forum, said Clements' comments about him were "uncalled for" and said the suit will be filed "next week or the week after next."

SEDCO, run by the governor's son Gill, filed papers in federal court seeking to limit its liability in the massive oil spill. It leased the rig to the Mexican drilling contractor and has claimed it was not responsible for the blowout.

Chamber acts on housing

By LANA CUNNINGHAM
Staff Writer

Citing a critical need in housing in some areas of the city, Joe Campbell asked for and received approval Thursday on two recommendations by the Midland Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Campbell, who headed the chamber's Housing Task Force, told chamber members during a Thursday luncheon in Eden's Restaurant the biggest shortage of housing is in site-built homes below the $50,000 range. Recommendations he suggested were for the board to direct the Task Force to contact and meet with the Midland Homebuilders Association to ask for its advice and help in building new units to meet the needs of industry currently in — or contemplating a move to — Midland.

The second suggestion was for the chamber to appoint a group of people to contact and promote tract builders and developers to build housing that will fall into the $35,000 to $50,000 price range. Campbell suggested the Midland Area Sales Team work in this area.

Conclusion of the Task Force, he said, "seems...that our community has all the essential elements for housing growth except one. We have available land, people to occupy properties and relatively good financing.

"We just don't have the units for people to occupy," Campbell added.

The Task Force was appointed May 30, and its 18 members met twice to study housing needs and possible recommendations.

Site-built housing $50,000 and up, apartments and manufactured housing were found to be in adequate supply, according to Campbell's committee report.

"Because of the current high-interest, inflationary situation, we found that there is a lack of new construction, especially in the below $50,000

Irish air force promises protection for pope

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The Irish air force warned it will shoot down any unauthorized planes that fly into air corridors reserved for Pope John Paul II's flights around Ireland during his three-day visit starting Saturday.

"We're prepared to fire on any planes that do not move out when we make warning signals," Commandant John O'Brien, fighter wing commander at Casement air base near Dublin, said Thursday.

Lt. Col. Barney McMahon, his aide, told reporters: "Armed Marchetti fighters will check the routes taken by the pope's aircraft to make sure no lunatics are flying around."

"We'd have very little option to open fire if, for instance, a plane was hijacked and being flown toward the pope's plane."

The tiny Irish Air Corps has never been involved in a dogfight or shot down a plane but it has 16 combat aircraft highly capable of protecting the pope, he said.

The pontiff is scheduled to fly in to Dublin airport from Rome Saturday morning in the Boeing 747 flagship of Aer Lingus, the Irish Republic's flag carrier. Four Irish Air Corps Fouga Magister fighters will escort the jumbo jet, St. Patrick, when it enters Irish air space off the County Wicklow coast south of Dublin.

Chinese make overtures to Taiwan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chinese authorities recently made a series of proposals for reunifying Taiwan with the mainland, using an American China expert as a diplomatic intermediary.

Dr. Franklin Lamb, a Democratic National Committeeman from Portland, Ore., undertook the assignment last summer while on a visit to China as head of a delegation of U.S. Democratic party leaders. He has visited China three times and Taiwan six times.

The Chinese discussed the overtures to Taiwan with Lamb when they learned he was planning to visit Taiwan after leaving the mainland.

Cannibalism inquiry for Bokassa

BANGUI, Central African Republic (AP) — President David Dacko has ordered a judicial inquiry into cannibalism charges against deposed dictator Jean Badel Bokassa following discovery of mutilated human bodies in the refrigerator of the self-proclaimed emperor's villa on the banks of the Oubangui River.

Bokassa also has been accused of ordering widespread executions during his 14-year reign, including the massacre of 100 schoolchildren in April, and these charges and allegations of other atrocities will also be covered by Dacko's investigation.

Dacko staged a bloodless coup last Thursday while Bokassa, 58, was in Libya seeking financial aid. Bokassa, a former sergeant in the French colonial army who holds dual French and Central African citizenship, was denied political asylum by France and given sanctuary Monday by the Ivory Coast.

Turkish chief of security killed

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Gunmen today shot and killed the chief of security of Adana, Turkey's fourth largest city, and wounded his driver, police reported.

The assassins ambushed security chief Cevat Yurdakul as he was being driven to work, police said. Yurdakul was killed outright in a hail of gunfire and his driver was wounded, a spokesman said.

The southern industrial city is a focal point of leftist and rightist terrorism in Turkey. It ranks second, after the biggest metropolis of Istanbul, with a death toll of 195 in incidents of political violence in the past 21 months. Political warfare between extreme rightists and leftists claimed more than 2,000 lives throughout Turkey in the same period.

Quebec residents favor autonomy

QUEBEC (AP) — A controversial poll of Quebec's residents showed a plurality favored remaining within the Canadian federation, but would vote next spring to give the provincial government authority to negotiate for more autonomy.

Out of 1,016 citizens polled in June, 42.2 percent said they were opposed to a "sovereignty-association" and 37.5 said they were in favor. The plan would grant Quebec greater political autonomy, but retain economic ties with Canada.

Israel may one day talk with PLO: Dayan

JERUSALEM (AP) — Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan has dropped the clearest hint yet that Israel may one day talk to the Palestine Liberation Organization, but he admitted the PLO is almost certain to reject the conditions he demanded.

Dayan spelled out his terms in an interview with Israel Television in New York that was broadcast here Thursday.

Asked what would happen if the PLO recognized Israel's right to exist, Dayan replied: "I don't want to answer your question only in a negative way," then said Israel might be willing to enter talks with Yasser Arafat's PLO guerilla alliance if it "ceased to be a military organization and became a political framework" with new objectives.

The PLO must "be ready to go into general discussions, let's say, on how to solve the refugee problem, or for example, be ready for the million refugees that have been in Jordan since 1948 to see Jordan as their permanent place," he said.

But Dayan said, "This is such a revolution that I don't expect it to happen tomorrow." He said if the PLO accepted Israel's conditions "it would not be the PLO, it would be a political movement that wants to solve problems on a political and real basis."

He was vague about the specific objectives he would like to see the PLO change, but he indicated he was seeking more than reassurances that the PLO did not seek the destruction of the Jewish state.

The substance of Dayan's remarks showed little change in his government's staunch opposition to the PLO, but political observers said Dayan appeared to state his position in deliberately positive terms and they saw a subtle shift in his remarks, possibly signaling some softening of Israeli policy.

It was not known if Dayan had cleared his statement in advance with Prime Minister Menachem Begin, who has said repeatedly that Israel will never negotiate with the PLO, which he sees as a terrorist organization dedicated to Israel's destruction.

Last February, Begin rebuked his pragmatic foreign minister for saying the PLO's influence in the Middle East could not be ignored and that it represented more than just a military problem.

Jackson calls on PLO to reassess hardline policy

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson called on the Palestine Liberation Organization to "reassess and recommit" its hardline policy today in order to create the mood for a dialogue in the Middle East.

The black civil rights leader was greeted by a 4-year-old Palestinian girl in camouflage fatigues and cowboy boots with spurs when he arrived at Beirut International Airport.

Jackson, who already has visited Israel, the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River and Jordan, said he hoped that his three days in Beirut during which he is expected to meet with PLO chief Yasser Arafat, would result in "getting people in the Middle East talking to each other."

He said he planned to leave for Egypt Sunday although, he said, he was trying to find time for a visit to Syria.

The leader of the Chicago-based People United to Save Humanity lauded the PLO for "setting the stage" by gaining recognition from 115 nations around the world.

"Now there must be serious dialogue, assessment and reassessment in the next three days," he said.

He also said that America's pledge to Israel not to talk with the PLO was a "gag rule" that limited U.S. ability to act even-handedly in the Middle East.

Jackson suggested that the U.S.-sponsored Camp David peace frameworks between Egypt and Israel be expanded to include all parties to the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Real 'Family Fair'

If experience means anything, and we think it does, then the 1979 version of the annual St. Ann's Family Fair, scheduled Saturday, certainly should be tops in every respect.

And experience in this case, means 31 years of dedicated effort — hard work, if you please — on the part of scores of volunteers who actually plan, set-up and operate the tremendous entertainment event. More than 1,000 volunteers, many of whom have been with it from the start, are engaged in this year's attraction.

It truly is a family venture, planned and staged by families of St. Ann's Catholic Church for all families of Midland and vicinity. It is geared to the "Midland Family."

The Family Fair will open at 8 a.m. Saturday on the playgrounds of St. Ann's School at the corner of West Illinois and M Streets. It will be in full, fun-filled swing until 10 p.m.

The thrilling carnival rides will be in operation tonight, open to one and all.

This year's fair features approximately 50 activities of various kinds, ranging from food and drink counters, to merchandise stalls, to arts and crafts displays, to book and souvenir stalls, to a youth section designed especially for the younger set. And if that isn't enough, Mexican dinner and barbecue booths have been set up for Saturday operation.

And to top it all off, Miss Texas-USA, Barbara Buckley of Midland, a member of St. Ann's Church, will make appearances at the fair throughout the day and evening.

The entire event takes on the atmosphere of a county fair, and this is in keeping with the wishes of its sponsors, who invite all residents of Midland County and beyond to join in the fun and fellowship.

The fair started small, but it has expanded with each passing year to the point that this year's spectacular is expected to attract in excess of 10,000 men, women and children. It's just that popular.

Don and Marge Hellinghausen, who are serving as general chairmen, are confident, based on the interest and enthusiasm displayed by the volunteer workers and others, that the 1979 fair will be the greatest ever, come rain or shine. Enrique and Olivia Farias are co-chairmen.

Proceeds from the fair, incidentally, go toward parish activities and to support St. Ann's School.

A good time for all is in the making this weekend at St. Ann's Family Fair.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

More bad news on Soviets in Cuba

WASHINGTON — A Russian brigade with armored equipment was engaged in maneuvers last month near Havana. The unsuspecting soldiers should have smiled; they were on candid camera. The U.S. satellite pictures were clear enough to identify which Russians needed a shave.

This photographic evidence that a Soviet combat brigade was stationed in Cuba caused an uproar in the United States. And the uproar, according to intelligence accounts, caused perplexity in the Kremlin.

Apparently, the Russian leaders can't understand the fuss. They assume U.S. intelligence agencies have been known for years that Cuba has been transformed into a Soviet satrapy. The presence of 2,800 Russian combat troops in Cuba is one of the lesser threats to U.S. security.

From classified intelligence reports, here's a rundown on some of the other unpleasant Soviet operations in Cuba.

There is evidence, according to the Defense Intelligence Agency, that the Russians have established "an independent fighter unit in Cuba." About 20 Soviet pilots turned up in Cuba in February 1976. They began flying MIG-21 fighterplanes, declares a secret report, "out of San Antonio de los Baños airfield just south of Havana." Before long, they were conducting "mock combat-sorties," the surveillance report states.

The Russians have also been flying regular reconnaissance missions from secret Cuban bases. Soviet reconnaissance planes, operating out of Guinea and Cuba, have monitored U.S. naval movements in the Atlantic. An intelligence report explains that they have flown "round-robin missions over the central Atlantic, staging from both Cuba and Guinea, performing coordinated flights to the mid-Atlantic." President Carter, meanwhile, called off U.S. reconnaissance flights over Cuba as a gesture of good will.

The Russians have established sophisticated communications facilities in Cuba capable of intercepting U.S. microwave telephone conversations. The Pentagon is security-conscious and, therefore, restricts military use of microwave telephones. But intelligence sources suggest that the Russians may be more interested in monitoring the private conversations of American scientists, industrialists, businessmen and technicians. The Soviets are eager to keep up with U.S. scientific, technological and commercial advances.

The Soviet KGB directs Cuban intelligence operations throughout Latin America. The DGI, as Fidel Castro's intelligence agency is known, not only gathers intelligence but also spreads communist revolution in the Western Hemisphere. The KGB and DGI are collaborating, for

CHARLEY REESE 'Politicians mislead as to cause of inflation'

By CHARLEY REESE
Sun Belt Syndicate

ORLANDO, Fla. — You know a woman like Pat Harris, the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is no dummy. You know that Cabinet officers, served as they are by an army of aides, cannot be considered ill-informed.

Therefore, when they make statements which are demonstrably not true, then there is no choice but to conclude that they are engaged in deliberate deception.

On Aug. 29, Mrs. Harris told the Washington Press Club: "This bill (administration's hospital cost control) and the control of inflation are so linked that we won't be able to control inflation without this bill."

Now, there is no doubt about what she said. She said plainly that the administration cannot control inflation unless its hospital cost control bill is passed. That would lead you to believe that hospital costs are a decisive factor in inflation.

But it's not so. Hospital services represent less than four-tenths of 1 percent of the total Consumer Price Index. Now, surely Mrs. Harris is aware of that. The Congressional Budget Office analysis of the bill says the effect on the Consumer Price Index in 1980 would be zero and that the cumulative reduction through 1984 would be — surprise, four-tenths of 1 percent.

Charley Reese

By contrast, housing represents 44 percent of the index; food accounts for 19 percent, and transportation 18 percent, so what Mrs. Harris is asking the gullible public to believe is that unless they can control four-tenths of one percent, they can do nothing about the other 99.6 percent.

President Carter has said he would fire any Cabinet member he caught in a lie. Well, he should either fire Mrs. Harris for lying or check her IQ score because there is no way she can justify her statement that the hospital cost control bill is critical to fighting inflation.

In 1978, for example, the net revenues of all of the nation's hospitals was about $60 billion. Just one oil company, Exxon Corp., had revenues of $64 billion. Interest on the federal debt was more than $50 billion and the HEW budget itself was almost triple the amount Americans spent on hospital services.

The Business Roundtable, Data Resources, Inc., and an independent study by two congressmen all confirm that the hospital cost control bill, if passed as Carter submitted it and if enforced with 100 percent effectiveness, would have a negligible effect on inflation.

What should be disturbing to Americans is the deception, of which this is only one example. There is no excuse for our government officials to deceive us. The fact that they do makes you wonder what their motives are.

In this case, for example, I don't know any American in the private sector, including hospital administrators, who does not wish to control inflation. I don't think any of us, including those in the hospital industry, would oppose any legislation which would genuinely help control inflation. In other words, we are all on the same team, so why is the coach not being honest with us?

I think the answer is obvious. Someone has decided that a hospital cost control bill would be a simple way to simulate President Carter's "fight" against inflation. The passage of the bill, therefore, is a political objective and its contents and actual effects are of no consequence at all.

The bill is a fraud and the public efforts to sell it are fraudulent. Mrs. Harris knows as well as you and I that the bill has nothing to do with inflation and everything to do with Carter's political image.

American politicians cannot truly address inflation without admitting their own guilt and without addressing the question of reforming the Federal Reserve. Therefore, they must blow dust in our eyes and attempt to mislead us about the true causes of inflation.

In reality, hospital costs are an effect, not a cause of inflation.

The Country Parson

By Frank Clark

"The thirster a fellow is, the more likely he is to drink the water with which he could have primed the pump."

Dam, darter survive

President Carter is to be commended for signing legislation permitting completion of the controversial Tellico Dam on the Little Tennessee River.

Congress had acted properly in granting an exemption from the Endangered Species Act to the Tellico Dam so that it can be completed.

The filling of the Tellico Dam reservoir could begin within a month, flooding the spawning grounds of the rare snail darter. The tiny fish has been the central character in a long legal battle over completion of the 12-year old project. The dam, on which $116 million already has been spent, is 95 percent completed. Work was halted last year when the Supreme Court ruled the reservoir would wipe out the darter, a 3-inch perch, which was protected by the Endangered Species Act.

Although the snail darter is far from a spectacular fish, the issue of saving it from possible extinction raised profound moral and legal issues which Congress had addressed in the Endangered Species Act of 1973. That act forbids the construction of public works which would endanger any living species, and on that basis the Tellico Dam was held up for five years while the fate of the snail darter was argued in court and in Congress.

The Tellico Dam made a special case for setting aside the ecological constraints. Heeding the arguments, Congress made a rational and, we believe, wise decision to finish the dam, which will provide hydroelectric power to light 20,000 homes in the Tennessee Valley and will yield other industrial and recreational benefits.

But equally significant, supporters of the project say that the snail darter can survive in the nearby Hiwassee River, where it has been transplanted. So, both the dam and the darter will survive.

INSIDE REPORT:

White House believes Kennedy challenge would split party

By ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The White House was less than pleased when two of President Carter's most visible supporters, Ambassador Robert S. Strauss and Democratic National Chairman John White, denied that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's challenge would split the party.

"I thought Bob went a little overboard," one of Carter's closest senior aides told us in commenting on Strauss' statements to newsmen. Once Strauss took that position, fellow-Texasan White changed his. After spending months warning of the woes that would ensue if Kennedy challenged Carter, he agreed with Strauss. "We would have been happier if John had just disagreed," the same presidential aide told us.

The White House sticks to the position we previously reported: Kennedy's challenge unavoidably opens North vs. South, urban vs. rural, Catholic vs. Protestant tensions in the Democratic party. The president's men take the position that this conflict is inevitable, whether they forecast it or not.

WHICH WAY CHURCH?

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is now telling the White House that he never did condition his support of the SALT II treaty on withdrawal of the Soviet combat brigade from Cuba.

That word, stunning to both administration officials and many senators, is being put out by the senator to smooth his poor standing in the White

Evans Novak

House following his leak of U.S. intelligence that the combat brigade had been discovered.

Church said then that the Senate would never approve SALT II so long as the brigade remained in Cuba. That unaccustomed hawkishness of the dovish Church was directly tied to his tough re-election campaign for a fifth Senate term in conservative Idaho.

Now, by telling the White House that his warning about the defeat of SALT was simply his objective judgment, but did not apply to himself, Church is trying to have it both ways: appear tough and hawkish back home and as a loyal ally for SALT to the White House.

NOFZIGER REJECTS OFFERS

During the week after he unexpectedly resigned from Ronald Reagan's campaign, veteran political pro Lyn Nofziger received feelers or offers from five other Republican presidential hopefuls — and turned them all down.

Nofziger, a top aide in every Reagan campaign dating back to 1966, was probably tempted by one offer: to run a dark horse campaign for Gen. Alexander Haig. But he decided to stay out of presidential politics in 1980. He will vote for Reagan in the California primary, without actively working for him.

Contrary to denials by the Reagan camp, Nofziger in fact was concerned by efforts to moderate Reagan's conservative image. But that isn't the reason he quit. He decided he simply could not work as a subordinate to Reagan campaign manager John Sears and Reagan's top aide, Mike Deaver.

CLUB TIES

Before agreeing to become President Carter's new White House counsel, Washington super-lawyer, Lloyd Cutler, laid down this condition: He would not resign his membership in the men-only Metropolitan Club. In the background was a White House order barring an informal, off-the-record talk to club members by inflation czar Alfred Kahn several weeks before Cutler signed on at the White House.

The veto of Kahn surprised Washington politicians. When the White House first complained, it was made clear that wives of members would be invited to hear him discuss the Carter anti-inflation program.

Presumably, that would satisfy White House political worries that Kahn would in effect be lending his prestige to alleged discrimination against women. But that did not change the White House; the veto was based on the club's bar against female membership. Cutler, however, persuaded the president to accept his no-resignation condition.

WOOLING WALL STREET

As part of the president's campaign for renomination, his political agents are wooing the titans of Wall Street with this message: Considering the threat offered by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, you're better off with Jimmy Carter.

Nationally known money men flew down to Washington from New York last week for a private dinner with White House chief of staff Hamilton Jordan; Jordan's deputy, Alonzo McDonald, and Dr. Charles Schultze, chairman of the president's Council of Economic Advisers. Besides extolling Carter as safer for Wall Street than Kennedy, they promised a continued budget-balancing effort with no tax cut now but perhaps one in the near future.

What impressed the money men more than the political sales pitch was the performance of Ham Jordan. Not quite knowing what to expect in light of Jordan's recent notoriety, the Wall Streeters were impressed by his general demeanor and particular knowledge of politics.

No change seen in economic index

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another downturn in a government index designed to forecast economic trends could give the nation a better clue on whether a recession is under way or not.

But government analysts, who asked that their names not be used, said that the Commerce Department's Composite Index of Leading Indicators likely will show no change for August. The figure is to be released today.

The index fell in June and July. Three consecutive monthly declines traditionally have signaled the start of a recession.

The index, however, has been mixed since the start of the year, rising and falling in spurts.

Still, many economists say that the nation's seventh post-World War II recession began in the second quarter this year and that the downturn will persist into 1980, even if third-quarter figures show improvement.

Although a recession could help dampen inflation, currently raging at an annual rate in excess of 13 percent, it also would throw many people out of work. The Carter administration estimates that the downturn, though mild in comparison to the 1974-75 recession, will cost more than 1 million people their jobs.

On Thursday, the Commerce Department reported that a surge in imports, including a record-setting cost for foreign oil, helped push the U.S. trade deficit to $2.36 billion in August.

The deficit was more than double the $1.1 billion by which imports exceeded exports in July, the report said. And it was the largest since a $2.48 billion deficit in May.

The trade figures were announced as the price of gold shot toward $400 per ounce on world markets and the value of the dollar sagged against major European currencies.

Junior Achievement companies continue organization plans

Junior Achievement is in its second week, and the 17 companies are continuing organizational procedures begun last week, according to J.A. officials.

In addition, the companies are beginning to capitalize. Usually, about $120 is needed to start a J.A. company. This money is raised by selling stock at $1 per share.

National J.A. rules permit no more than one share per person to be purchased.

This initial capital will cover payroll for the first couple of months until income from sale of products begins to offset company bills.

Other initial expenditures include raw material, office supplies, charter fee, insurance, manuals, record systems for bookkeeping, inventory control, purchase orders and other functions.

Nominating committees are meeting this week to propose a slate of officers for each company. Elected positions include president, vice presidents of marketing, manufacturing and personnel, treasurer and corporate secretary.

Later, committee chairpersons will be chosen for such tasks as research and development.

Appointed officers are to be chosen at later meetings.

Wages begin this week and are paid monthly as are salaries and sales commissions. New members are taken on from time to time during the year.

Company meetings are held on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday evenings. More information may be obtained by calling the J.A. office at 682-4966.

Parents invited to Public School Week

Midlanders can take a close look at the schools their children are attending next week during Midland Public School Week.

Invitations have gone out to parents to join their children for lunch, visit classrooms or attend an open house.

Activities for the week include a slide presentation, a university chorale concert, a balloon launch and a session of teachers teaching parents.

Midland High School is scheduling building tours for any group, organization or interested citizen during and after public schools week.

Renovation of MHS is one of the major items included in a $10.2 million bond election going before the voters Oct. 23.

More information on the building tours is available by calling the school office at 682-7368.

Another item of particular interest is the West Texas State University Chorale concert planned at 2 p.m. Monday in the Lee High School auditorium. The chorale is under the direction of Dr. High Sanders.

Civic groups and other organizations are asked to call the district communications office at 682-8611 between 1 and 5 p.m. to arrange for a group to have lunch with students in a school cafeteria.

Inmate given suspended jail sentence for threat

An Ector County Jail inmate who wrote a letter earlier this year threatening the life of President Carter has been handed a suspended jail sentence.

William Rodney Ethridge, 24, had pleaded guilty to the charge in August. He was placed on a two-year suspended sentence Thursday.

Two other counts in the indictment against Ethridge — alleging that he threatened to blow up the U.S. Department of Justice in San Antonio and the George Mahon Federal Building in Midland — were dismissed.

The indictment against Ethridge stemmed from a letter he wrote to Carter March 9, 1979, contending he had hired a "hit man" to kill the president.

That letter was written in reference to Carter's actions on the Panama Canal, according to the indictment.

The case was prosecuted by Asst. U.S. Atty. Dan Maeso.

Ethridge was represented by Odessa attorney Michael McLeaish.

Elton John passes out during performance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rock singer Elton John passed out while at the piano shortly after he began a concert Thursday night at the outdoor Universal Amphitheater in North Hollywood.

The 32-year-old British rock star, playing the second of 10 sold-out shows here, doubled up and concertgoers first thought he was dissatisfied with the way the song was going and that he would begin again.

No budget yet, despite new year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government almost certainly will enter its new fiscal year next Monday without a budget in place.

The House finally approved its version of the 1980 budget Thursday, but sharp differences remain with the Senate over defense spending and social programs.

House leaders said efforts to resolve those disagreements will not even start until the House returns from a week-long recess, expected to begin Saturday.

It will be the first time in the five-year history of the new congressional budget process that the House and Senate have failed to agree on a budget before the start of a fiscal year.

The lack of a budget, however, will not affect day-to-day functioning of the government since Congress can continue to appropriate money even without a spending ceiling.

The House narrowly passed a $548.2 billion budget, 212-206, Thursday, despite unanimous Republican opposition and hard-nosed political maneuvering by some Democrats.

The House had rejected an almost identical spending package only last week.

The Senate version of the budget calls for $546.3 billion in spending. The major differences between the two chambers are over the Senate's call for sharply higher defense outlays and cuts in social programs.

Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., budget committee chairman, predicted that the House-Senate budget conference next month will be "extremely difficult" and lengthy.

House Democratic leaders apparently salvaged the budget vote Thursday when they agreed to delay a vote on a campaign spending bill to keep about 15 Democrats from bolting.

The Democratic leaders also won over some dissident liberals who had opposed the original House budget because they wanted more money for social programs.

Scientists need more time to control spill

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — A team of scientists say some answers may have been found to control future oil spills, but nothing definite can now be predicted to control the fuel spreading through the Gulf of Mexico from the runaway Mexican oil well.

The scientists returned Thursday after a three-week tour of the oil spill in the Bay of Campeche and admitted they needed more time to analyze their findings before coming up with any definite technical solutions.

Dr. John Farrington, senior chemist for the team, said, "It is wrong to say the oil spill is the disaster of the decade. There are earthquakes and hurricanes and famines which have claimed thousands of lives. This oil spill does not fall into that category and has claimed no lives."

Dr. Donald Atwood, chief scientist on the voyage, said, "It is an ecological mess down there. It is one ugly mess. But as of now, we must put together and study all the information we have collected."

"This is now a gray area and we are compiling information for future use. We feel frustrated because we cannot give hard answers to your hard questions."

The voyage to the oil spill, at a cost of about $1.5 million, was sponsored by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, an arm of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Aboard the ship U.S.S. Researcher were scientists from NOAA, Texas A&M University, the universities of Louisville, North Carolina, Washington, and the French and Mexican governments.

Atwood said one of the findings that may help control future spills was that thick concentrations of oil termed mousse "does not form until it is three to 15 miles from the well."

"Mousse appears also to be a function caused by sunlight and wind, not just a combination of oil and water," he said.

Atwood said the research team received

"carte blanche" cooperation from the Mexican government.

Atwood said that in his personal opinion Pemex, the Mexican national oil company, is now putting all its efforts into placing a cement cap over the runaway well and that "there is very little cleanup operation now under way."

Earlier in the week, Dr. Roy Hann, head of the department of environmental science at Texas A&M, said the U.S. Coast Guard does not have the sufficient funds or authority to keep clean the beaches of Texas affected by the oil spill.

Hann said the Ixtoc 1 blowout off the Mexican coast was an opportunity to demonstrate to the world we have the capacity of dealing with the spill.

"The whole thing was lost in the shuffle."

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Economy the key, says Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Edward Kennedy says "the aspirations of the people have failed to be fulfilled" and that in the 1980s, the United States will be judged on the strength of its economy.

The Massachusetts Democrat told the Investment Association of New York at the Waldorf-Astoria here Thursday that, "The route of our present troubles has been the decline of the American economy...When the economy is wrong, nothing else is right."

Kennedy, who received a polite but lukewarm reception from the business group, drew loud applause when he admitted that government regulations do not always work.

"We reject the idea that government knows best across the board, and that public planning is inherently superior or more effective than private action," he said.

"None of us can afford to be complacent about the erosion of American power and influence in the world. The root of our present troubles has been the decline of the American economy because of our serious and persistent inability to deal with rising prices, chronic unemployment, declining productivity, excessive dependence on foreign oil and a variety of critical economic issues," he said.

Rosalynn: I like Jimmy

PITTSBURGH (AP) — If there's one thing Rosalynn Carter is enthusiastic about, it's Jimmy Carter.

"He's a great president," the first lady told a $1,000-a-couple fund-raising dinner Thursday. "On issue after issue he's provided leadership and has consistently chosen to do what is right on very difficult and controversial problems."

Mrs. Carter said that in the 2½ years her husband has been president, 8 million jobs have been created, between six and 10 government departments have been reorganized and "not a single life has been lost in combat."

Ford won't run, Baker claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Howard H. Baker says it is clear to him that former President Gerald R. Ford is not a candidate for the 1980 Republican presidential nomination. But Ford refuses to close the door.

Ford told Republican leaders of the House and Senate at breakfast Thursday that he is not a candidate and has no plans to be one.

He told questioners at the Washington Press Club the same thing later at lunch. But he added that popular interest in a possible Ford candidacy has picked up lately and that when it comes to presidential politics, "I never say never."

Baker, whose plan to seek the GOP nomination could be complicated by a Ford candidacy, says he is satisfied Ford won't get into the race.

Teachers expected to back Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter promised today that his hard-won new Education Department "will profoundly transform... the quality of education in America."

Carter told leaders of the National Education Association, which fought for the new department and also backed his 1976 presidential campaign: "You've got a friend in the White House who will never forget your contribution to me and to our nation."

The 1.8-million-member teachers' organization was expected to endorse the president's 1980 re-election bid later in the day or on Saturday.

Carter spoke of the union's political support as he addressed several hundred NEA members at a White House reception.

"We formed a superb partnership," he said. "You are the best partner I could possibly have had."

He said creation of a new Education Department has long been a dream of his, and he reminded the teachers group that he lays claim to increasing federal aid by 60 percent since taking office in January 1977.

The NEA would be the first major union to endorse Carter formally for re-election.

Six other labor leaders have announced their support for Carter's re-election. But their union executive boards have not made formal endorsements, in part because of internal bickering between Carter backers and those hoping Massachusetts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy will challenge the president for the Democratic nomination.

Annual Davis Mountains Cycle Fest set Oct. 6-7

FORT DAVIS — The annual Davis Mountains Cycle Fest around the 75-mile Scenic Loop and Mountain Climb up the two-mile, 17-percent grade on McDonald Observatory's Mount Locke will be held Oct. 6-7.

The ride, sponsored by the Lubbock County Wheelmen, is to begin at 9 a.m. Oct. 6 at the Prude Ranch and will follow the route of one of the races approved for qualifying Olympic cyclists in 1974.

The Cycle Fest will coincide with the 125th birthday celebration of the old Fort Davis military post, which was established in 1854 at the crossroads of the Chihuahua Trail and the Butterfield Overland mail route.

In addition to the 75-mile ride, there will be 50-, 25- and 10-mile rides for the less conditioned, if not ambitious, cyclists.

A sag wagon, provided by the Prude Ranch, will follow the bikers, who will be treated to a picnic midway in the fest.

A barbecue supper will be held at the ranch following the Scenic Loop ride. For non-riders, the supper meal will be $3.50 per plate.

At 9:30 a.m. on the next day, the cyclists may elect to pedal up the two-mile, 17-percent grade winding road leading to McDonald Observatory atop Mount Locke.

Cyclists who make the ride will be awarded Mount Locke patches. A bicycle rodeo will be held at the Prude Ranch at 9 a.m. that day for boys and girls ages 12 and younger.

The $10 entry fee per rider in the Cycle Fest covers the picnic lunch, barbecue supper and a Cycle Fest T-shirt.

Lodging is available at the Prude Ranch or at nearby Fort Davis and Indian Lodge at Davis Mountains State Park. Those wishing to stay overnight at the ranch should bring towels and bedrolls.

Those interested in participating in the Cycle Fest may contact Tom Hutchinson, president of the Lubbock County Wheelmen, in Lubbock at 806/744-4189 or John Robert Prude at the Prude Guest Ranch at 915/426-3347.

The Scenic Loop follows Texas 166 and 118 along the highest road east of the Rocky Mountains.

Pecos River water dispute may continue another year

Austin Bureau overruling objections of the two states to his findings. That report has been sent to Supreme Court, which is to consider the question of whether the 1947 condition of the river is "controlling" in the dispute.

It still leaves us with more of the lawsuit to go," Caroom says. While Supreme Court procedures are "flexible," Caroom reports, it is expected that the court probably will file a judgment, and then give the states time to respond, with briefs and arguments on objections.

Once the question of New Mexico's obligations is settled, the next step in the suit would be to determine whether or not the state has met those obligations to Texas.

Caroom said the Denver meeting concentrated on how to proceed with the matters still before Breitenstein while the Supreme Court considers the matter.

Texas contends human activity in New Mexico has reduced the amount of water reaching Texas and has resulted in New Mexico having an accumulated deficit owed to Texas.

Breitenstein furnished the attorneys with a copy of his final report, entered Aug. 13, and a Sept. 7 supplemental report.

Midland club sponsoring Greenwood chapter into Optimist International

The Westside Optimist Club of Midland is sponsoring the newly-organized Greenwood chapter into Optimist International in a charter ceremony at 7 p.m. today in the Greenwood High School cafeteria, said Danny Storch, president of the Westside club.

And for that — for growth in membership and for carrying out projects — the Westside club has been deemed an Honor Club by the international organization.

Also, Storch has been awarded the Distinguished President's award for leading the Midland club in growth and in service projects, including the motocross and bicycle track, Tri-Star Basketball, Youth Appreciation Week, bicycle safety, respect for law, junior world golf.

On hand for the chartering of the Greenwood club will be Optimist District Gov. Ralph Waller of Dallas and Optimist International representative Bill Sanderson of St. Louis, Mo., Storch and other Optimists.

So far, 40 men in the Greenwood area have signed up to be inducted into Optimist International, which is a federation of men's service clubs dedicated to service to youth, promotion to good government and civic affairs, patriotism and friendship.

Earlier this year, the Westside club also sponsored the Seminole club into Optimist International.

Superport trouble brewing

HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman and general manager of the Texas Deepwater Port Authority have threatened to resign if major oil companies fail to show stronger interest in the $800 million crude terminal the agency proposes to build 27 miles south of Freeport.

Commitments involving at least 1.4 million barrels of oil a day are needed before revenue bonds can be sold for the project.

But Gerald A. Jackson, the general manager, said Thursday no commitments have been received.

"We have talked one way or another with 19 companies," Jackson said.

"I'm beginning to run out of steam," said Bob Casey, the chairman. "When we reach Dec. 31 and don't have enough companies, I am quitting. I am not going to mess with it."

"We are getting a lot of questions about the agreements but no indication one way or another whether they will sign," Jackson said.

Casey said there will be cost escalations approximating $300,000 a day if the proposed schedule to have the port in operation the third quarter of 1982 is not met.

The former Houston congressman said the oil companies have had seven years to think about the project.

"If they can't make up their minds, I am not going to play salesman," he said.

Committee raps Carter fuels plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's multi-billion dollar goal for developing a synthetic fuels industry by 1990 is over-ambitious and must be combined with other means of reducing imported oil, a new congressional study said today.

The study said lifting price controls on domestically produced oil, and a national conservation program would save far more oil than an expensive synthetic fuels program.

Nonetheless, the report by a Senate Budget subcommittee found that synthetic fuels can provide a major alternative to offset U.S. dependence on foreign oil.

Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., the subcommittee chairman, was releasing the report formally later today.

Carter initially proposed an $88 billion synthetic fuels program, which he said would produce the equivalent of 2.5 million barrels of oil a day by 1990.

More recently, the president has said he would accept a more modest $20 billion synthetic fuels development scheme — likely to be approved today by the Senate Energy Committee — but remains committed in the long haul to the goals of the $88 billion proposal.

Synthetic fuels are generally defined as oil and gas extracted from coal, shale deposits and tar sands.

It has been known for decades that oil and gas are available from those sources, but no one has been willing to invest the money necessary to develop the technology for getting it out.

The budget subcommittee's report said if Americans would insulate their homes and businesses better and take other stringent conservation measures, they would save almost the equivalent of the most expensive synthetic fuels proposals.

And if conservation is combined with a sharp increase in the use of coal, "at least 3.8 million barrels per day beyond what the president has proposed could be saved at a cost lower than the projected synthetic fuels price," the report said.

Finance committee slashes more crude from tax plan

By JIM LUTHER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee, which has voted to spend far more than the proposed "windfall-profits" tax on oil will produce, may attempt to tap into income taxes to help finance a national energy program.

Even as alarms were being sounded Thursday about its work, the panel voted 12-1 to exempt another 13 percent of U.S. oil from the windfall tax, at a cost of $7.5 billion in lost taxes over the next decade. A vote earlier in the week had exempted 43 percent of the projected domestic oil supply from the tax.

The latest exemption would apply to crude oil produced by such "tertiary" recovery methods as injecting wells with chemical detergents. Such expensive techniques are used only after all other attempts to drain an oil well have played out. But they hold great promise of vastly expanding the nation's oil reserves.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., chairman of the panel, cautioned the committee that some of the billions of dollars worth of energy tax credits it approved earlier will have to be scaled down, delayed or eliminated because of the lack of money.

Even so, he added, "the bill we report will be a bill gaining a substantial amount of revenue."

Using Long's mathematics, the committee could keep a major share of the credits it has voted for energy conservation and production and still have money left over. That could be done by supplementing proceeds from the windfall tax with regular income-tax revenues from the oil industry.

Oil owners and producers will receive additional billions of dollars over the next decade because of President Carter's decision to phase out federal controls that have held down the price of U.S.-produced crude oil. Just like other revenue, that increased money will be subject to the fuel income tax and will produce an estimated $81 billion during the next 11 years.

The Carter administration recommended that an additional portion of the increased revenue be taken away through a "windfall-profits" tax on the industry. The "windfall" tax bill passed by the House would produce $104 billion over the next 11 years — in addition to the increased income tax revenue.

The Finance Committee, whose tax bill is still being written, already has voted tentatively for enough tax credits and exemptions from the tax to take the entire $104 billion from the windfall tax plus an additional $20.5 billion.

If all those tax credits were enacted by Congress, there would be no revenue from the windfall tax left to finance Carter's energy program.

However, as Long reminded his colleagues, there is still the full $81 billion in increased income taxes on the oil industry.

Earmarking some of the income taxes for energy might make the panel's watered-down tax bill more acceptable to the president. He originally proposed that the program be financed with a combination of revenues from the windfall and income taxes, but his energy spending plans differ considerably from those of the committee.

Many in Congress already are eyeing the extra oil-industry income taxes. Republicans, for instance, want those revenues for across-the-board reductions in individual taxes. Others want to use the money for reducing the federal deficit.

Thursday's tax exemption for "tertiary" oil would reduce the windfall tax revenues by $7.5 billion over the next decade.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, sponsor of the amendment, cited estimates by the Department of Energy that the nation's known recoverable oil resources of 35 billion barrels can be extended to as much as 75 billion by tertiary methods.

Richard Smith of the Department of Energy agreed that such techniques have great potential. But the technology is not available now to get the additional oil, he added.

Rotary governor visits Midland

Let service light the way in your club, in your business, in your community and throughout the world, members of the Midland Rotary Club were advised at their Thursday noon meeting in the Midland Hilton.

The speaker was Dr. J. Davis Armistead of Lubbock, governor of District 573, Rotary International, who was paying his official visit to the chapter.

"That is the mission of Rotary at home and around the world," the speaker said.

The governor, who was introduced by President John Seay, lauded the club on its numerous activities and projects, including support of High Sky Girls Ranch, awarding of scholarships, free enterprise projects, youth programs, Rotary Foundation, and other community projects.

"You are a busy group," he said.

The governor also lauded the club on its interest in Rotary International's "Health, Hunger and Humanity" program.

Dr. Armistead met with club officers, directors and committee chairmen in a club assembly held Wednesday night, at which time present and planned projects, activities and goals were reviewed.

Rotary is operating in 152 countries of the world, preaching the gospel of "Service Above Self" in every free nation, the governor said. Promoting the concept of service around the world is a major goal of Rotary. The speaker cited a number of programs Rotary is sponsoring worldwide today.

Commenting on the high respect in which Rotary is held around the globe, Gov. Armistead urged his listeners to participate in club activities and to share Rotary with others.

Following his address, the district governor presented Rotary International's "Paul Harris Fellow" award, with certificate, medallion and lapel pin, to J. Rudolph Wright, the club's immediate past president. Wright was elected to receive the distinguished honor by his fellow club members.

Following that presentation, and in a more frivolous vein, the governor received the club's distinctive "Maginot Harris Fellow" award, presented by Jim Zimmerman.

Judge bans press and public from San Angelo murder trial

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — A state district court judge banned the press and the public from a hearing in Randy Lynn Woolls' capital murder trial Thursday, and said what happened during the hearing would not be revealed until the trial was over.

Judge V. Murray Jordan said he was within his legal rights because he considered the action a pretrial hearing, and the Supreme Court has ruled such hearings may be closed.

However, the San Angelo Standard-Times filed an objection to the action, claiming it could not be a pretrial hearing since a jury already has been picked and testimony is to start Monday.

"The defendant is not entitled to make this proceeding a private trial," the newspaper stated in its motion.

Jordan countered by saying the trial will not begin officially until the indictment is read to Woolls in open court.

He said both sides had asked for the closed hearing, and that procedural matters were discussed, but not motions concerning evidence.

Jordan said he was aware of possible conflicts between First Amendment free press guarantees and Sixth Amendment guarantees of a speedy and public trial, but said "I just want to give the defendant a fair trial."

"If the defendant had requested that the pre-trials be open, then they would be."

Jordan had imposed several restrictions on reporters during jury selection, including a ban on releasing the names of jurors picked to hear the trial until a verdict was reached.

However, after a meeting with attorneys for the Standard-Times, Jordan decided to allow coverage of anything brought out in open court.

Woolls is charged with stabbing, beating and burning Betty Stotts to death in Kerrville June 16, at the drive-in movie where she was a ticket-taker. The trial was moved here on a change of venue.

State welfare building to be ready in 3 years

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The new welfare and youth office building that Gov. Bill Clements tried unsuccessfully to veto will be ready for occupancy in 2 1/2 to 3 years, says Human Resources Commissioner Jerome Chapman.

Chapman reported Wednesday to the board that sets policy for the Department of Human Resources that an architect already has been hired to design the $40 million building.

Chapman said the architectural firm of Jarvis, Putty, Jarvis & Dallas is expected to have initial drawings in 60 days.

The building will house both the human resources department — formerly called the State Welfare Department — and the Texas Youth Council.

Clements had tried to block construction of the building — which will be financed with federal funds — but Attorney General Mark White held Aug. 31 the governor's veto was unconstitutional.

Meanwhile, he said, the department would move into rented quarters, turning its space in the John H. Reagan State Office Building near the Capitol over to the House of Representatives.

The board delayed until Oct. 26 its action on a proposed sharp curtailment of its hearing aid program for needy old persons.

Dr. Emmet Greif, chief of medical services, said the curtailment was necessary because the Legislature pared funds for it by 44 percent. When the House Appropriations Committee asked the department earlier this year whether budget cuts could be made with the least harm, it listed the hearing aid program.

Lawmakers making job difficult for state judges

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Texas lawmakers and the governor's office are making it increasingly difficult for state judges to perform their jobs, says the chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Joe Greenhill told about 200 fellow jurists at the Judicial Section Conference in Abilene Wednesday that recent 13.4 percent pay hikes from $35,700 to $40,500 for district judges barely kept pace with inflation.

He said it was still "not enough to attract a lot of good lawyers to the bench."

The solution, he said, is for the judiciary to present a unified front to the Legislature and the Legislative Budget Board.

"We need to be as if we can't go over there as a body," he said. "If you want to use me, and our Office of Court Administration, we're available."

He knocked the Sunset Bill for the Board of Law Examiners, saying some of the proposals subjected judges to the Administrative Procedure Act, the Open Meetings Law and the Open Records Act.

"An aggressive law student, under the Open Records Act, could have even found out what the bar exam questions would be," he said.

Radioactive debris from explosion finally buried

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. — The last contaminated debris from an underground nuclear explosion which leaked into the West Texas atmosphere 17 years ago has been buried underground, according to the U.S. Department of Energy's Nevada Operations office.

About 23,000 cubic yards of contaminated surface salt and soil was crushed, slurried and pumped into the underground cavity caused by the 3.1 kiloton device, set off under the title of Project Gnome in an underground salt formation about 31 miles southeast of Carlsbad.

The 680-acre site will now be released to the U.S. Department of the Interior's Bureau of Land Management, according to a written release from the DOE.

There will be no restrictions on use of the land surface, though drilling and mining near the contaminated cavity zone will be restricted.

The nuclear device was set off underground in December 1961 as part of an attempt by the former Atomic Energy Commission to explore the peaceful uses for nuclear explosives.

According to news accounts of the event, radiation leaked into the atmosphere following the explosion, contaminating the ground around the site. It had been sealed off to the public since the time of the blast.

The Environmental Protection Agency will be performing an annual hydrological survey to monitor for radioactive materials in wells in Eddy County, New Mexico. Water wells near the site supply the cities of Carlsbad, Loving and Malaga City, New Mexico. In addition, monitoring of surface water will take place along the Pecos River.

Stacy Reservoir lawsuit pre-hearing conference set

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Attorneys in the four lawsuits attacking the Texas Water Commission action in granting a permit for construction of the proposed Stacy Reservoir have tentatively set a prehearing conference for Oct. 5.

Tim Brown, Attorney General's Office, says it is expected that the time will be made more definite within the next few days.

Lawsuits by opponents of the reservoir, planned by Colorado River Municipal Water District, were filed in 53rd, 126th, 200th and 250th district courts here last month.

All four attack the TWC, and some also challenge specifically allowing Commissioner Dorsey Hardeman to participate and vote in the proceedings, on grounds that Hardeman, a former State senator from San Angelo, at one time acted as attorney for San Angelo, which is expected to receive water from the Stacy project.

Lawsuits were filed by River Authority, City of Austin, Lake Travis Improvement Association, Garwood Irrigation Co. and Lakeside Irrigation Co.

Sen. Church denies politics involved in Cuba disclosure

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — When Sen. Frank Church revealed there are Soviet troops in Cuba, he touched off controversy in both Washington and Idaho. He's being lampooned by a nationally syndicated cartoonist, and even some supporters are questioning his motives.

For his part, Church, a liberal Democrat in a generally conservative Western state, denies any political conniving in holding an emergency news conference Aug. 30 in Boise to disclose the presence of about 3,000 Soviet combat troops in Cuba.

"If there's a crisis over the Russians, it's one the Russians created," the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Wednesday. "I only informed the public of what I thought they were entitled to know."

But many Idaho Republicans, including a potential opponent in the 1980 election, have accused Church of political opportunism — using the announcement to posture as a Soviet hardliner.

And the Garry Trudeau cartoon strip "Donesbury" is taking the same theme this week to lampoon Church in newspapers across the country.

Trudeau has listed Church as a member of a fictitious "Operation Manhood," an effort to link approval of the SALT II treaty with the presence of the Russian troops in Cuba.

In the strip scheduled for publication today, a general tells Church: "By refusing to fan the flames of moderation, a calm, negotiated solu-

Vienna hotel fire kills 27 persons

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — An intense, choking fire roared through a Vienna hotel packed with American and other tourists before dawn today, killing 27 persons and injuring 17, authorities said. Two Americans were killed and 13 injured, the U.S. Embassy said.

Most of the victims were overcome in their sleep by poisonous fumes released by burning plastic wall- and floor-covering in the Am Augarten Hotel, police said.

Eyewitnesses said guests in the four-story, medium-class hotel hung from their room windows screaming for help, and one woman jumped to her death from the third floor.

All of the dead and injured Americans were believed to be members of a tour group from Maine, many of them in their 60s. City officials identified the two dead Americans as Donald and Frances Fraser. Their hometown and those of the injured were not immediately available.

Police said at least 10 Yugoslav tourists were killed and West Germans also were believed to be among the victims, but most were not immediately identified. All of the hotel's 57 rooms were occupied, authorities said.

It was the biggest loss of life in a fire in post-war Austria.

Eyewitnesses said the fire erupted with an "explosion-like sound" near the ground-floor reception room and spread swiftly through elevator shafts to the upper floors of the building in Vienna's Second District. The reception clerk was found among the dead.

A Swiss hotel guest who did not give his name told reporters he woke up in his second-floor room to the sound of screams all around him. He could hear flames crackling outside his door, he said, and he perched himself on his windowsill overlooking a courtyard. When firemen arrived they begged him and other guests not to jump and eventually got a ladder up to him, the man said.

The 120 firemen and 30 trucks that responded had the blaze under control an hour after they arrived, but the heat was so intense it bent some of the steel rails in the elevator shafts.

A fire officer said he believed most of the victims were already dead when the firefighters arrived. The ground floor was completely engulfed by flames, and the hallways leading to the top floors were filled with thick, biting smoke, suffocating whoever tried to escape, he said. Firefighters could enter the building only with breathing devices.

Most of the 17 persons hospitalized were reported suffering from smoke poisoning.

A U.S. Embassy official said a total of 32 Americans were in the hotel, and that two were killed, 13 were hospitalized and 17 were unharmed.

Eva Wight, co-owner of Wight Travel Service in Bath, Maine, said in Maine that the Americans were all members of a group on a tour organized by the firm, which she operates with her husband, Carl, 51, and that he and their daughter, Ellen, 24, were traveling with the group.

She said she learned that her daughter had been hospitalized, reportedly after jumping from a fourth-floor window, but she had no word on her husband.

Most were from Bath and Damariscotta, Maine, but others were from Portland and Rumford, she said. They had been scheduled to arrive back in Maine Sunday night, after having visited Switzerland, Austria and Venice.

The cause of the fire was not immediately determined. Police said fire warning devices in the hotel were working properly.

Texas Laetrile firm suing FDA

GRAHAM, Texas (AP) — Mack Rickels says he has filed suit against the Food and Drug Administration to end "Gestapo-type tactics" directed at his business, the only registered Laetrile manufacturing plant in the nation.

Rickels said he filed suit in federal court at Fort Worth Wednesday to block the FDA from interfering with the manufacture, sale, importing or transportation of the substance.

Laetrile is extracted from apricot pits and its supporters claim it is a cancer-controlling agent.

Rickels began making Laetrile legally in January under protection of a state law.

transportation of raw materials or final products of the manufacturing process across state lines.

The suit names as defendants the U.S. government; Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Patricia Harris; FDA Commissioner Jere Goyan and U.S. Customs Service Commissioner Robert Chasen.

The suit also alleges civil rights violations when the FDA raided Rickels' plant, on his ranch near here, Aug. 14.

"No one has taken the offensive against them (the government)," Rickels said Thursday.

"Instead of sitting around waiting ... we decided to take initiative and go to court in Texas, where we are operating within the law and no statute is being broken, and establish that the FDA not be permitted to use their normal Gestapo-type tactics to keep us from doing business."

"Never have I heard one single word against what I'm doing," he said, "aside from an employee of the FDA. Not one single time have I had anything except praise for my willingness to stand up to these people."

He said the state of Texas "has been very reasonable in its regulation of what I am doing. They do not have the blind attitude of the FDA. We feel that they (the FDA) should not be...involved in any way in the production."

All of Ralph Morand's eggs in contaminated PCB basket

TOWNSEND, Mont. (AP) — Ralph Morand has had to destroy 672,000 eggs, a $30,000 loss, because they were contaminated by a chemical once thought harmless — he doesn't know yet whether he must also destroy the hens that laid them.

Morand's hens are still laying at the rate of 46,000 eggs a day — eggs he does not know if he will ever be able to sell. As they accumulated in his warehouse, Morand gave the order to destroy earlier batches that had already been proven to be contaminated with the chemical PCB — polychlorinated biphenyl.

If his flock of 112,000 hens must also be destroyed because of PCB contamination, he said, his losses could reach $300,000.

Morand, 59, is the principal owner of Montana Farms, Inc., the latest victim in a wave of PCB contamination that has spread from a Billings meat-packing plant to at least six states. PCB, a now-banned chemical once used as a coolant insulator in electrical equipment, leaked from a ruptured transformer at the Pierce Packing Co. plant.

The PCB found its way into meat meal that was sold to Montana Farms. Montana Farms used it to produce chicken feed, which was fed to every chicken on the ranch, four miles northeast of here.

On Thursday, a bulldozer dug a trench on the farm property and the eggs — five truckloads — were dumped and buried. Federal and state agencies will test the remaining, freshest eggs to see if they exceed legal limits for PCB concentration. The same will be done with the chickens, which normally would be kept until they are 18 months old and then sold for use in soups and as stewing hens.

The eggs that were destroyed were already in cartons marked for Safeway food stores. Safeway is a part-owner of the farm and is its principal customer.

Vandals damage parked vehicles

Vandals about 9:30 p.m. Thursday did an estimated $1,650 in damage to vehicles in a bowling alley parking lot, according to Midland police.

Investigating a complaint at Super Bowl, 3920 Wall St., by a man whose motorcycle headlight had been broken, officer J. Ellis was greeted by nine other persons who told him their cars also had been damaged, police said.

One or two tires had been cut on each of the vehicles, Ellis reported.

All of the damage occurred while the cars and the motorcycle were on the bowling alley parking lot, the police officer said.

The damaged cars were scattered throughout the parking lot, Ellis added.

Gold price nears $400 in Europe

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold edged toward $400 in Europe today and moved over the $400 level for the first time in history during morning trading earlier in Hong Kong.

The dollar opened steady but later came under some selling pressure on foreign exchanges.

In Paris, where the bullion price is inflated by a government tax, gold topped $400 for the first time. The morning fixing was $401.28.

During trading in Hong Kong earlier in the day, gold touched a peak of $400.20 before settling back to close at $396.25.

By mid-day, gold was trading at a record $399 an ounce in London after the city's big five dealers agreed on a morning fixing price of $397.

In Zurich, where the metal also opened at $397, gold sold for $398 at noon, having touched a record $398.50 in late morning.

Louise Eisenhower found dead

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Louise Eisenhower, sister-in-law of the late President Dwight Eisenhower, was found dead at her home in suburban Mission Hills, Kan., police said.

Two police officers found Mrs. Eisenhower's body Thursday after a friend told officers she could not get an answer at Mrs. Eisenhower's door.

Police said there were no signs of violence. A coroner was expected to rule today on the cause of death.

Mrs. Eisenhower was the widow of Arthur Eisenhower, the eldest brother of the former president. Eisenhower, a prominent Kansas City banker, died in 1958 at the age of 71.

Mrs. Eisenhower, whose age was not immediately available, was prominent in Kansas City civic affairs.

DEAR ABBY

Hymns and her

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: A reader in St. Augustine, Fla., said he quit going to church because the organist played too loudly. Well, I've been an organist since 1934, and the problem is probably not the organist, but the organ. Over the years, churches replace worn-out organs with rebuilt theater organs or parts of several organs, and the resulting sounds are disastrous!

The church is the only corporate body I know of in which each member in an expert concerning what should and should not be played for the services. It is also the only corporate body which pays its most qualified employees, i.e. the minister and the organist, salaries which bear no relationship to the cost in time and money spent to acquire professional status.

To all critics who think the organ music is too loud in church, I say the music in the service should run the gamut of soft to loud, depending on the occasion. Too many Christians today declare their faith sotto voce instead of fortissimo, and expect their organist to do likewise. I play for the joy of it, not for the pay, and God knows I sometimes pull out all the stops. Hallelujah and Amen! -- LOUISE M. CHILDS IN S.F.

DEAR LOUISE: Let's hear a slightly different tune from another reader.

DEAR ABBY: This is for that St. Augustine reader who quit attending church because of the organ music: I, too, had the same problem, but I asked God to show me the way, and He pointed me toward the Church of Christ.

The Church of Christ doesn't believe in instrumental music, and believe me, it is heavenly to go to church and not have to hear all that loud instrumental music. For true salvation in a quite and spiritual atmosphere, try the Church of Christ. -- REBECCA

DEAR ABBY: I'll bet you're bombarded by nurses after advising FRUSTRATED, who wanted sex with her husband in the hospital, to ask the physician to write an "order" to that effect. You compared it to "conjugal visits" such as some prisons allow.

Prisoners are one thing. Patients are something else. Abby, we nurses are held responsible for everything that happens to, with, for, on and around every patient in our care. I can just see the patient's chart: "Patient's door closed for two hours. Patient presumed to be alive." The floodgates for law suits would be wide open.

Coty Awards told

NEW YORK (AP) — Designers Perry Ellis and Lee Wright have won the 1979 Coty American Fashion Critics' Awards, the top honors in the American fashion industry.

Collection of Cosmetics" was released. Fashion publicist Eleanor Lambert founded the awards in 1942 to emphasize American designers' independence of Paris.

The awards, decided by a group of fashion editors and given for outstanding creativity in women's and men's fashion, were announced Thursday at a dinner at the Fashion Institute of Technology here.

Ellis, whose 1979 women's collection features a torso-broadening "dimple sleeve" and bright colors, and Wright, a designer of tailored menswear, were each presented with a "Winnie" statuette — the fashion industry's equivalent of the Hollywood Oscar.

Noticeably absent from the event were designers Halston and Calvin Klein, who had rejected special citations of the Coty Hall of Fame honoring them — along with Ralph Lauren and Geoffrey Beene — "for best expressing the total American look."

Halston reportedly rejected the honor because he objects to a new Coty cosmetics line which uses the "Winnie" as a symbol. Klein, who accepted a Coty Award in 1975, was said to have rejected the citation for "personal reasons."

Controversy stemming from charges of increasing commercialism in the Coty Awards was triggered last spring when the "Coty Awards"

Safety caps cut poisonings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Accidental poisonings among pre-schoolers are down 51 percent since 1974, when safety caps were first required by law on oral prescription drugs, reports the Closure Committee of the Glass Packaging Institute.

The caps, designed to prevent youngsters 5 and under from ingesting poisonous substances, are used as closures on oral prescription drugs, some over-the-counter drugs and dangerous household products.

The Closure Committee, an association of major safety-cap manufacturers, points out that the elderly, and others without the strength to operate the caps, can request non-safety-capped medicines from their pharmacists.

Usually, this requires only a verbal request by the customer that the prescription be dispensed in packages that are not child-resistant. In some cases, the pharmacist may ask the customer to sign a written statement of the request but this is not required by federal law.

However, the association urges all adults, including the elderly, to use the safety caps in households where youngsters, whether grandchildren or other young visitors, may be in the home at any time.

Couple plans to appeal apartment eviction

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A couple evicted from an adults-only apartment complex after the birth of their son say they will appeal as far as necessary on grounds the action violates the rights of children and their parents.

Their eviction from a Marina del Rey apartment was upheld Wednesday by the state Court of Appeal.

But Eugene Gratz, attorney for Steve and Lois Wolfson and their son, Adam, 4, said they will seek a rehearing before the 2nd District Court of Appeal and, if necessary, will appeal to the state and federal Supreme Courts.

"I am deeply saddened that in the International Year of the Child, there is still blatant discrimination against children and that families with children don't have equal access to housing," said Mrs. Wolfson.

The Wolfsons have since abandoned a search for an apartment and have purchased a Fox Hills condominium.

The appeals court ruling, written by Associate Justice James H. Hastings, said that of all society's laws, "none is more basic than an infant's unfettered right to cry when it is hungry, but in a court of law that right stands on an equal footing with a landlord's right to the quiet of his property."

"They don't have the right to impose on a class their private distastes."

The Wolfsons, who were childless when they moved into their apartment overlooking the yacht harbor, were evicted in June 1978, after Adam was born.

Jaycee-ettes select top women for August

Two members of Jaycee-ettes were recognized for their work on an annual event when the group met in a regular session.

Cathy Murphy and Kathy Credicott were named Outstanding Jaycee-ettes for August after serving as co-chairmen of the Fudpucker Fracas.

Mrs. Murphy gave a final report on the Fracas and presented gifts to those who had worked on the project. President Karen Webster presented certificates of appreciation to Lee Bell Sanderford and Jan Davidson, non-members, for their contributions to the Fracas.

A fall fashion show was presented by a local women's apparel shop as the program for the meeting.

Claudia Roye reported on football concessions and Judy Robinson announced the Jaycees plan to sponsor a spook house the last week in October. Jaycee-ettes will be in charge of a cake walk with the proceeds to go to the Permian Basin Center for Battered Women, a project adopted by the Jaycee-ettes.

Kathy Atkins talked about the Midland March of Dimes program entitled Reading Olympics. Vicky Culp will be coordinating the presentation of this program in various elementary schools.

Mrs. Robinson said that 40 artists have registered for the Jaycee-ettes annual Starving Artist Sale scheduled Nov. 16-17 in Dellwood Mall.

Grace Burfeind reviewed an upcoming progressive dinner. Connie Holt said membership luncheons will be held the first Friday of each month.

The next program will be a mini-course in cake decorating by Connie Campbell. The business meeting will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Commercial Bank and Trust Community Room.

Recent abortion methods proven safe, study shows

By DANIEL Q. HANEY Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Women who had abortions before 1973 may have an unusually high rate of miscarriages in later pregnancies, but current abortion methods are safe, a study shows.

The researchers found that only women who had never borne a child before they had their abortions face these possible problems with later pregnancies. They said that now-outdated abortion techniques may have scarred these women's reproductive organs.

When the information for this study was gathered between 1974 and 1976, the researchers estimated that out of 100,000 typical pregnant women, 120 would have had miscarriages that were caused by previous abortions.

However, the researchers said that gentler abortion methods have been used since 1973, and "there is little or no risk" of miscarriage resulting from these abortions.

The study, conducted at the Kaiser-Permanente Medical Center in Walnut Creek, Calif., was published in a recent issue of New England Journal of Medicine.

In the same issue of the journal, doctors from the Federal Center for Disease Control in Atlanta warned that city and state laws regulating abortions may endanger lives rather than protect them.

The California researchers studied the pregnancy records of 31,917 women. Among those who had an abortion before 1973 and prior to bearing their first child, the rate of miscarriage during the middle three months of pregnancy was more than three times higher than usual. However, the relative risk among these women fell to 1.4 times if the abortion was conducted after 1973.

Before 1973, doctors frequently used dilation and curettage — or D and C — to perform abortions. With this method, they used an instrument to open the cervix and then scraped the uterus with a sharp, spoon-shaped knife.

Now, in 90 percent of abortions, doctors use suction to remove the fetus. And frequently, they also insert laminaria, a Japanese seaweed, to gently open the cervix.

The researchers speculate that these new techniques account for the drop in abortion-related miscarriages.

Women who already had had children probably were spared injury they said, because their cervixes were easier to open.

In a separate paper, Dr. Willard Cates Jr. of the Center for Disease Control sharply criticized new laws intended to regulate abortions.

"The effect of these regulations could be to endanger rather than protect the health of American women who seek to end unwanted pregnancies," he wrote.

He said patients would be given incomplete and inaccurate information and would be forced to delay the abortion, thus increasing their risk.

During later stages of pregnancy, certain abortion methods that are not necessarily the safest could be used, he said.

At least 26 states and many cities have these rules, and most are modeled on a city ordinance in Akron, Ohio.

These rules specify that doctors must describe abortion as a "major surgical procedure," warn that there may be serious physical and mental complications and describe the anatomy of the fetus.

Moreover, the women must wait 24 hours before having the abortion, and girls under 18 must wait 72 hours if their parents cannot be reached and notified of the planned abortion.

Washington teachers settle strike, go back to classrooms

By the Associated Press

Foot-stomping teachers in Spokane, Wash., shouted their agreement to go back to class today, but two picketing Indianapolis math teachers were arrested as about 20,000 teachers remained on strike in 10 states.

Detroit's 303 schools opened Thursday after the 12,000-member Detroit Federation of Teachers ended its 17-day walkout, but a new strike began in Yale, Mich., and eight others continued to disrupt classes for some 80,000 Michigan pupils.

Nationwide, more than 390,000 pupils were out of school or being taught by administrators, non-strikers and substitutes because of walkouts.

Spokane teachers, meeting at Gonzaga University on Thursday, gave nearly unanimous approval to a new two-year contract that includes a 6.32 percent pay increase, reduction in class size and fringe benefits.

The district's 1,400 teachers had been on strike for 23 days, and classes for 28,600 students were set to resume today.

"Through all of this, the board has realized that we have the best staff in the state," said board president Michael C. Ormsby. And Spokane Education Association president Judy Feryn told the teachers: "We've improved the quality of education for the children in this district. We're ready to go back to work."

About half the 3,400 teachers and the 70,000 pupils have been attending classes in Indianapolis, where two teachers faced a court appearance today.

The teachers were charged with disorderly conduct after being arrested Thursday at Arlington High School for failing to obey a police order not to block a driveway, police said.

The teachers rejected the board's latest money offer. The strike has idled about half of the district's 64,000 pupils.

Organized labor leaders convene to endorse accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of organized labor are convening to endorse an accord with President Carter that labor officials say will forge an historic alliance in the fight against inflation and other economic ills.

The AFL-CIO's executive council was meeting today to give its formal approval to a tentative agreement with the administration on a new anti-inflation program that labor would help oversee.

The agreement to give labor leaders a role in shaping new voluntary wage guidelines marks a stunning and politically important turnaround in Carter's relations with the labor federation, which had been among the most strident opponents of his anti-inflation policies.

But AFL-CIO officials say the significance goes beyond that.

The accord represents the first time that an administration has made a commitment to let organized labor help develop future economic policy, from employment programs to trade agreements, said one official of the 14 million member federation.

Lee band, Bandoliers begin magazine sale

The annual Lee High School Rebel Band and Bandoliers magazine sale got under way this week.

This year's fund-raising effort is the largest ever undertaken for the band, according to Carol Crumpton, chairman of the event.

The band hopes to raise $25,000 through the sale of new and renewal subscriptions to magazines and the sale of LP records and tapes.

The campaign chairman said more than 200 magazines are available by subscription, along with a wide variety of popular records and tapes.

Forty percent of the proceeds of each student's individual sales goes directly to his or her spring band trip assessment, which this school year will be about $200.

Persons who would like to order magazines, tapes or records through the band organizations should telephone Mrs. Crumpton at 694-4977 or Billie Buford at 697-3868.

The drive will continue through Oct. 15.

Strike may tie up film labs

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Office workers were on strike today against 20th Century-Fox and four film processing labs, and more strikes were threatened unless contract talks resumed.

If the office workers' picket lines are honored by other crafts, the processors could be crippled by the first mass shutdown since 1946.

Besides Fox, the firms struck Thursday were Technicolor, Vidtronics and Movielab, according to Ruth Benson, a spokeswoman for Local 174 of the Office and Professional Employees International Union. The fourth processor, Deluxe General Inc., was struck on Tuesday.

"This is second only to the merger (of the AFL and CIO in 1955) in importance to the labor movement," said the official, who asked to go unnamed. "This type of document is unique in American history because it takes us from the outside and makes us part of the process."

Under the agreement, the administration will create an advisory "pay board" composed of labor, business and public members who will review and recommend changes in the voluntary wage guidelines to Carter.

VINATA by Unique
Master Wood Workers Since 1854

In the decorative arts no other influence has been as lasting and universal as that of the "golden period". The Classics. Born in Antiquity the classic movement inspired the great revival of Italian and French design and left its indelible mark forever.

VINATA is an exquisite group of furniture conceived and executed to capture the rich and ageless beauty of this era you will immediately appreciate the stately looking, the restrained individual elegance of each piece, the balance of curve and straight line the uncompromising attention to proportion, and the refinement of detail. Note the gracefully curved fronts, the reeded columns crowned by delicate brass trim, richly figured Primavera veneers and solid parts of clear White Maple, and the distinguished hardware especially created by VINATA. China backs are of wood products.

Only on furniture on the highest caliber will you find a finish as carefully executed as that used on VINATA. And yet all this beauty is more than skin deep. Utility has received as much consideration as appearance-witness the tray-drawers behind doors for either silverware or linen, scuff plates on pedestal bases, and even equalizing table slides to properly proportion the pedestal to the top when extended!

Helicopters, fire truck to escort 15,000-pound box of tritium

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Helicopters and a fire truck will escort nearly $500,000 worth of radioactive tritium seized by National Guardsmen when it is moved to an Army explosives depot, authorities say.

The tritium is packed in a box with foot-thick walls for the journey Saturday from a semi-residential section of Tucson.

Packing of the tritium, seized Wednesday under emergency orders from Gov. Bruce Babbitt, was completed Thursday after 11 hours of work at the American Atomic Corp. plant.

Babbitt ordered the seizure, saying it had become apparent the company would not meet an Oct. 19 deadline to dismantle its tritium-related operations. He said there had been continuing emissions of tritium from the plant, and said he feared security problems could result in a release of radioactivity.

The giant box, called "Super Tiger," measures 20 feet long, eight feet wide and is eight feet high. It weighs 15,000 pounds and was built especially to hold highly radioactive materials.

Officials of American Atomic Wednesday called the order "absolutely crazy" and charged unskilled guardsmen could accidentally release radiation. But state Atomic Energy Commission officials said there were only minor losses of tritium, a gaseous isotope of hydrogen.

Because much of the tritium, used for luminous watch dials and exit signs, was in broken tubes, leakage during packing was "inevitable," said Lynn FitzRandolph of the AEC. The guardsmen wore rubber gloves, coats and boots during the packing.

American Atomic closed its plant in June amid allegations from the state that it was leaking excessive amounts of the gas. The emissions were blamed for higher than normal traces of radiation found in $300,000 worth of food, stored at a nearby warehouse and kitchen run by the Tucson Unified School District.

The kitchen was closed June 1, and has not been reopened. The food was buried Sept. 9.

Remaining in the plant is about 100,000 curies of tritium still in storage containers and shipping cylinders. It will remain in place until Department of Energy experts can arrive to supervise its removal, FitzRandolph said.

The containers are attached to plumbing fixtures which must be disconnected, "and you have to have a lot of knowledge to do that," he said.

atmosphere or dumped in a nuclear disposal site, Babbitt said. Dale Pontius, a Babbitt aide, said the gas may be stored for several months before the means of disposal is selected.

Former Love Canal residents file a $100 million lawsuit

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — Four former residents of housing development located near a chemical dump site have filed a $100 million lawsuit in state Supreme Court alleging injuries and mental anguish.

The suit was the first class action to arise from the disruptions caused by seeping toxic chemicals from the former Love Canal dump in Niagara Falls.

Four former Love Canal neighborhood residents filed the $100 million suit on behalf of themselves and others who once lived near the dump used by Hooker Chemicals & Plastics Corp. from 1943 to 1953 to dispose of chemical wastes.

Hooker later sold the open pit to Niagara Falls and the city school board. The canal was filled in and homes and a school were built. The neighborhood turned into a ghost town last year when residents fled after liquid and gaseous chemicals leaked into their homes.

The state bought more than 200 houses adjacent to the canal, moved the families out and launched an $11 million cleanup project to drain the dump of toxic wastes.

Notices of claims totaling $2.65 billion were filed last November against the city, school system and Niagara County. But the lawsuit filed Wednesday by Gerald and Bonnie Snyder and Thomas and Lois Heisner was the first class action.

Named defendants were Hooker; Occidental Petroleum International, the parent firm of Hooker; and the city, county and school board.

The lawsuit states that the Heisners and Snyders seek $100 million in behalf of themselves and all other former Love Canal residents who "were rendered sick, sore, lame and disabled and were caused to suffer severe and permanent personal injuries, mental anguish, were rendered unable to pursue their usual duties and were compelled to seek further medical aid, and were otherwise damaged."

Tellico Dam story not closed

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Attorneys who used the snail darter to block construction of the Tellico Dam for three years are going back to court in another attempt to stop its completion.

The Tennessee Valley Authority resumed construction on the $130 million dam Wednesday, hours after President Carter signed a bill exempting it from the Endangered Species Act or any other law that might prevent its completion.

The plaintiffs in the snail darter case filed a motion Thursday in U.S. District Court to stop construction on grounds that a permanent injunction barring the work has not been lifted despite Carter's action.

TVA was expected to ask U.S. District Court Judge Robert L. Taylor today to dissolve the injunction based on the actions by Congress and the president.

Though 95 percent completed, the dam was halted in 1977 when a federal appeals court ruled the project would destroy the home of the snail darter, a rare three-inch fish, in violation of the endangered species law.

Fight under way to put arsenic warnings on mineral water

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Health Department officials are trying to force the bottlers of Apollinaris and Vichy Celestins mineral waters to add an arsenic warning label to their beverages.

Spokesman Marvin Nailor said the state had been seeking the labels since late 1977 and was trying to force the addition of the warning labels under a state Sanitary Code amendment which took effect in July.

He said Apollinaris, the world's largest selling mineral water, and Vichy Celestins are both safe to drink, but not as a person's "sole source of drinking water."

Any warning label, he said, should warn that the mineral waters should not be a person's

"sole source of drinking water."

The amounts of arsenic found in the German and French products were judged a potential hazard when treated as drinking water, Nailor said.

But he noted that the waters, like almost all mineral waters, are strongly cathartic and unlikely to be used by anyone as his only source of water.

Tests by the state Health Department showed 0.24 parts per million of arsenic in Vichy Celestins, a French water, and 0.05 ppm. in Apollinaris, a German water, according to a copyright article in today's Albany Times Union.

Another French water, Perrier Naturally Sparkling Mineral Water, and an American brand, Saratoga Sparkling Mineral Water, were found to have "less than" 0.01 ppm., a finding that means arsenic is either not present at all or is present below detectable levels.

The newspaper article quoted Dr. David Axelrod, state health commissioner, as saying that the bottlers of mineral waters with arsenic problems would be notified within a few weeks of the state's intention to require them to add a label like the one on products containing saccharin.

It also quoted John G. Scott, president of the New York City-based Health Waters Inc., which imports Apollinaris and several other mineral waters, as saying his company would likely refuse to comply with any order from the state health department.

Scott was quoted as saying, "If a label like that is required, it would destroy the sale of Apollinaris in New York state."

For her recital, Mrs. Baird has programmed vocal music from the 18th Century to the present. Composers to be represented will include Mozart, Gounod, Rossini, Mussorgsky, Mahler, Ravel, Pasatieri and Caldara. She will be accompanied on piano by Pam Bristol of Midland and on the flute by Kim Jones of Odessa.

Mrs. Baird has also had music study at Lamar University in Beaumont and Eastern New Mexico University at Portales. She is completing studies for a degree in music, and this senior recital is being presented under the direction of Dr. Stanley Engbreton. He is assistant professor of music at UTPB and will serve this season as director of the Chorale of the Midland-Odessa Symphony.

Engbreton said that Mrs. Baird's recital is the first of several senior recitals planned by UTPB students this season.

Sugar quiz tells truth

Dear Dr. Solomon: After a weekend of partying, including drinking and gorging on rich foods that I usually avoid, I found I gained over four pounds. How many excess calories would I have had to consume? — Ms. A.B.

Dear Mrs. A.B.: Since it takes about 3,500 extra calories to produce a pound of stored fat, you probably indulged to the extent of almost 15,000 calories more than required to maintain your weight. If you weigh about 125 pounds, you need about 2,000 calories a day. This would mean you probably took in about a week's equivalent of calories over and above the amount you require. This of course assumes that you are not retaining excess fluid.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I heard you on television giving a quiz about sugar. You asked six true/false questions. I can remember most of your answers but I cannot remember the reasons why. I would love to see that quiz in print with answers and reasons. — Mrs. T.U.

Dear Mrs. T.U.: Here it is. Questions:

- 1 — Honey is better for you than sugar. TRUE OR FALSE.
- 2 — Sugar is a carbohydrate. TRUE OR FALSE.
- 3 — Sugar is a source of quick energy. TRUE OR FALSE.
- 4 — How many teaspoons of sugar are in a 12-ounce cola drink? 2, 8, 14.
- 5 — Which one of these ingredients means "sugar?" Dextrose, sucrose, corn syrup.
- 6 — Which of these contain added sugar? Catsup, orange juice, French dressing.

ANSWERS:

- 1 — False; Unrefined vs. refined sugar: Honey contains fructose, a sweeter sugar digested differently than table sugar. However, these differences have little actual effect since fructose, just like table sugar, ends up as glucose — the food substance your body needs for energy. Unrefined sugars like honey, raw sugar, and trubicado ("washed" raw sugar) have no special benefits. Their mineral content is so low, you would have to consume all your day's calories in sugars to get a significant amount. These sugars provide only sweetness and calories, just like refined (table) sugar.
- 2 — True; Simple vs. complex carbohydrates: sugars are called simple carbohydrates, and starches complex carbohydrates. Compared to starches, sugars have a simpler chemical structure.

SHEINWOLD ON BRIDGE

Get the Best Odds

By Alfred Sheinwold

"How can man die better than facing fearful odds?" asked Horatius at the bridge table. He should have tried to live better by facing favorable odds.

The average player tries the spade finesse in today's hand. This loses, and South eventually gives up a club. Down one.

South can develop a diamond trick, but only if he gives up the spade finesse. The finesse is only an even chance, but the odds are 5 to 3 in favor of a good break in diamonds.

HIGH RUFFS

South leads a diamond to the ace, ruffs a diamond high and leads a low trump. West takes the king of spades and leads a club to the king. South ruffs another diamond high and leads a low trump to dummy's nine.

South can now ruff a third diamond. He gets to dummy with the ace of clubs and discards his last club on the established seven of diamonds.

That's how Horatius should have played bridge in the brave days of old.

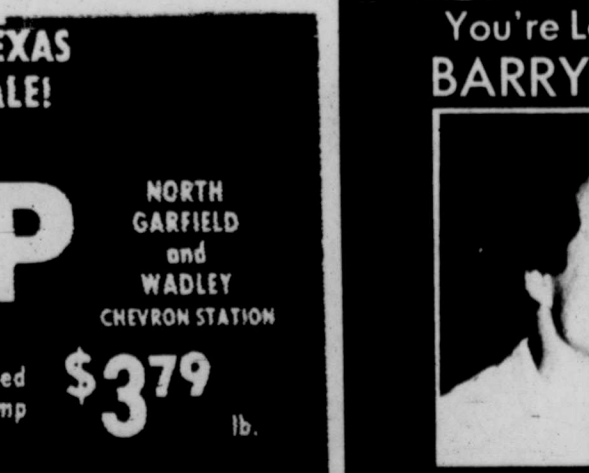

DAILY QUESTION

After two passes, your partner opens with one club, and the next player passes. You hold: ♠ K 6 3 ♥ Q J 10 7 ♦ K J 8 ♣ Q 5 2. What do you say?

Foods high in sugars and starches are basic sources of carbohydrates.

3 — True; but sugar and quick energy, using sugar as a quick pickup like eating a candy bar or having a soft drink, will backfire. Your body uses the sugar very rapidly. You will get a quick pickup and then a quick letdown. You can often end up feeling hungrier, as well.

4 — Eight teaspoons sugar content: Remember that most of the sugar in our diets is from the sugar in processed foods like soft drinks or baked goods, rather than from naturally sweet foods like apples or oranges.

5 — All three are terms for sugar: Besides dextrose, sucrose, and invert sugar, common label terms include sugar, corn syrup, dextrose, honey and maltose. Sucrose, fructose, lactose, maltose and galactose may also be listed.

6 — Catsup, French dressing have added sugars: Look for "sugar" (and its many other names) on the ingredient label. Before you add table sugar to foods, remember that many foods like fruits, vegetables, dairy products and grains already contain sugar naturally.

Academy may be stuck with imposing statue tab

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Academy of Sciences, which honored Albert Einstein's birth with an imposing statue, may be stuck with a $1 million tab for the monument.

Dr. Philip Handler, academy president, said Wednesday that the prestigious scientific institution has been unsuccessful in getting corporate contributions for the $1.6 million monument sitting on its front lawn.

"I think we may have to eat it," Handler said of the $1 million tab the academy could not collect.

Although Handler said he has a few more solicitations to make, he was not optimistic about raising the money.

Andrew Young Barbra Streisand

Names in the news

NEW YORK (AP) — When a woman pressed herself against Cary Grant and told him how wonderful he looked, he smiled, shook her hand, and said: "You must need glasses."

The 75-year-old actor is no longer making movies, but he proved Thursday that his drawing power is as strong as ever when he appeared at a Fifth Avenue department store to promote a perfume.

Grant, tanned and trim in a grey suit, was introducing Faberge's new $90-an-ounce fragrance, Partage, but the 100 or so admirers appeared more interested in gawking than buying.

Grant said he now spends his time on the boards of Faberge and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. He said he has no intention of making another movie, but added with a smile: "You think it can be arranged?"

NEW YORK (AP) — Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo is the recipient of the 17th Family of Man medallion awarded by the Council of Churches.

Lopez Portillo was presented with the award at a dinner Thursday night by former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

Kissinger said the Mexican leader was being honored for his outstanding leadership in governmental reorganization, his "imaginative program to accelerate economic development, improve education, decrease illiteracy, control disease...bringing new hope to the whole family of man."

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Former U.N. ambassador Andrew Young is joining Britain's Princess Anne today to help this Commonwealth nation celebrate its 250th anniversary of parliamentary government.

Queen Elizabeth's daughter on Tuesday received a royal welcome complete with honor guard, bands and hundreds of flag-waving residents. Young is President Carter's envoy.

A state dinner was planned to honor the princess. On Saturday, she will represent the queen at the opening of Parliament.

NEW YORK (AP) — Barbra Streisand has filed a $5 million lawsuit to prevent a magazine from publishing topless photos of her.

The suit, filed in federal court Thursday, seeks to block High Society magazine from using the photos in its November issue. Miss Streisand said the magazine wrongfully obtained the photos, taken while she was filming "The Owl and the Pussycat."

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Sara Jane Moore, serving a life sentence for a 1975 assassination attempt on former President Gerald Ford, has been transferred to a prison hospital. She has refused to eat since Aug. 10.

The fast began as a protest of her solitary confinement at the federal women's prison in Alderson, W. Va. Ms. Moore, 47, claimed solitary confinement violated a Bureau of Prisons policy limiting high-security detention to 90 days. However, prison officials said there was no such policy.

Alderson Warden Ken Neagle said Ms. Moore was hospitalized here last week "for better medical care." He said she could be fed intravenously. However, prison hospital officials said that was not being done.

NEW YORK (AP) — It was bound to happen — a song named "Teddy" that could easily be taken as a presidential hype for Sen. Edward Kennedy.

"Teddy," as sung by Teresa Brewer, starts: "Teddy, Teddy, I will follow you. Lead the way and we will see it through." It ends: "My favorite guy... If you say you're ready to fly, Teddy, you'll be No. 1."

Kennedy has been sounding like a candidate for several weeks now, but has not formally announced his intentions.

Miss Brewer's record-producer husband Bob Thiel said the Massachusetts Democrat and his aides know nothing about the record. But Thiel says he's sure Kennedy and his supporters won't be upset.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Former Ambassador Shirley Temple Black says the "crisis of confidence" President Carter claims has swept over America is a "crisis of self-confidence in the White house."

Speaking at Yale University Thursday night, Mrs. Black said she doesn't expect to return to government work under the Carter administration, but hopes a GOP president would appoint her to a diplomatic post with a "developing country."

She was placed on the United Nations delegation by President Richard M. Nixon. President Gerald Ford sent her to Ghana, then made her U.S. chief of protocol. She held that post briefly into the Carter administration, she said, until "they noticed me and sent me home."

California Supreme Court won't be paid, judge rules

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The state's highest court isn't working fast enough — and the justices won't be paid until they abide by the same rules that all other judges must follow, a Superior Court judge has ordered.

In an apparently unprecedented decision, Judge Joseph Babich ruled Thursday that the Supreme Court had violated a state constitutional requirement to reach decisions on all cases within 90 days after they are submitted.

He issued a preliminary injunction ordering Controller Ken Cory, who issues the state's paychecks, not to pay Supreme Court justices until he determines they have no cases submitted more than 90 days ago.

Babich acted in response to a suit by the Law and Order Campaign Committee, a conservative group that tried unsuccessfully last year to defeat Chief Justice Rose Bird at the polls. Ms. Bird's appointment by Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. was narrowly confirmed by California voters.

There was no word on whether the Supreme Court would try to have the ruling reversed, but Cory said he would probably not appeal.

"It's their rights that are being trampled upon," he said, adding the justices were asked to return paychecks mailed Wednesday. Ms. Bird earns $73,723 a year; the other six justices, $69,386.

Babich said the constitutional provision saying judges may not be paid if cases are held longer than 90 days is based on "a theory, according to the Bible, that if you don't work, you don't eat."

Deputy Attorney General Susan Underwood, representing Cory in court, argued that the controller had to accept the sworn monthly statements by Supreme Court justices that they had complied with the rule.

But Babich denied the court's justification for those statements — that it considers its cases "submitted" when it files a decision.

He said trial and appeals courts must consider a case "submitted" after oral and written arguments.

Odessans for life urge bypassing United Way

ODESSA — A group of Odessans opposed to the continued support of Planned Parenthood by the Odessa United Way Thursday urged citizens to donate "generously but directly" to the charities of their choice, bypassing United Way.

Odessans for Life, an anti-abortion group, held a news conference in front of the Planned Parenthood offices Thursday to urge Odessans not to give to United Way.

The United Way board of directors voted Wednesday to retain Planned Parenthood despite more than 1,000 signatures on petitions and 28 letters requesting funding for the agency be dropped.

Objection to the inclusion of Planned Parenthood centered around their abortion counseling service. Planned Parenthood also is a member agency of the Midland United Way.

China ready to tap U.N.

PEKING (AP) — China is ready to tap U.N. lending institutions such as the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund for loans to finance its massive modernization programs, Vice Premier Gu Mu (Ku Mu) said today.

In a rare news conference for foreign correspondents, the official said his government was still working on a timetable for its applications to the international agencies.

He said arrangements already were being made for China to borrow directly from the United States, Japan, several Western European countries, Romania and Yugoslavia.

As a result of Vice-President Mondale's recent visit China will get a $2 billion U.S. credit to finance development of hydroelectric power plants, he said.

Answering a question, the vice premier would not rule out accepting loans or technological help from the Soviet Union, its arch rival in the communist world, or from the staunchly pro-Soviet nations of Eastern Europe.

The main considerations are favorable interest rates and easy repayment schedules, he confided.

"China will keep its word and surely repay all its debts," the official said. He noted that China has rich deposits of natural resources, including oil and coal, that it plans to export in large quantities in the future to help pay off its debts.

Gu Mu noted that some "foreign friends" recently had expressed anxiety that China might once again go through a period of turmoil similar to the Cultural Revolution of the 1960s when dogmatic Communist party radicals seized control of the nation.

He said they were assured that "no such possibility exists because the broad masses of the people are for stability and against turbulence."

Anti-burglar bars prevent woman's escape

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Police say a set of anti-burglar bars on a bathroom window apparently prevented a 71-year-old woman from escaping her flaming home. The body of Alma Taylor was found in the bathtub Wednesday evening, authorities said.

Investigators said it appeared the victim had been tearing at the bars, because they had been worked loose from the inside. She died of smoke inhalation, officials ruled.

Andy Bean watches shot during World Series of Golf.

Bean in World Series lead

AKRON, Ohio. (AP) — Big Andy Bean has had his difficulties in finding a driver to replace the club he shattered a couple of months ago. Right now, it bothers him not a bit. "I can do without a driver if I can keep on shooting 64s," Bean grined after his magnificent, 6-under-par effort, one shot off the course record, had staked him to a 2-shot lead Thursday in the first round of the $400,000 World Series of Golf. And, almost incredibly on the vast, sprawling length of the famed Firestone Country Club course — at 7,180 yards and only a par 70, one of the longest courses the touring pros ever see — Bean did it with his driver in the bag.

He used a 3-wood — or less — off the tee on all but four holes. He used the driver only on the two par-5 holes, the 469-yard sixth and the first. "I put it in a fairway bunker on the first and that's when the driver went back in the bag," Bean said. He said he'd shattered the driver during a practice round at the PGA national championship and hasn't been able to find "a replacement that I'm really confident with."

He also chipped in once, didn't make a bogey and birdied the last three holes to open up a lead over J.C. Snead and Australian Graham Marsh, tied for second at 66. Tom Kite, Lee Trevino and Lon Hinkle were another stroke behind at 67, while Tom Watson, Jerry Pate and Larry Nelson were at 68. "I'm pleased with the score," said Watson, a 5-time winner this season and a heavy favorite for the $100,000 first prize here. "I didn't make many mistakes. Any time you shoot under 70 on Firestone, you have to be pleased with it."

Hale Irwin, Masters titleholder Fuzzy Zoeller and Bill Rogers shot 69s, placing 12 of the elite, international field of 38 under par. "It's probably the best day the pros have ever had at Firestone," Watson said. "The weather was perfect and the course is in perfect condition. But Firestone has a way of rearing its head and getting back at you. If we get a weather change, I think you'll start seeing higher scores." A chip-in birdie and a 15-foot putt got him two shots under par on the front side and he ripped the back nine with a 31 that included birdies on the last three holes. A wedge to eight feet started it on the 16th. He stroked a 6-iron to 12 feet on the 17th and hit a 5-iron to eight feet on the last.

Bird debut is successful

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston Celtics rookie Larry Bird scored 18 points in his National Basketball Association debut, but what he'll probably remember most is his assignment of guarding Dr. J.

"I went out there and all I could think about was stopping Julius Erving," Bird said after the Celtics dropped their exhibition opener to the Philadelphia 76ers 115-90 at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

"I wasn't thinking about my offense at all," Bird said. "I was just thinking about guarding Julius Erving."

Erving said the best thing to say about sports' highest-paid rookie "is that he can play."

"He's what he's supposed to be, what you've read about. You can feel the intensity he has. He moves, he can create his own offense. He was talking all the time out there. I have a very favorable opinion of him as a player," Erving said.

For Bird's part, he's just happy his first game as a professional is behind him.

"We're the last team in the whole league to start playing games for some reason, and I just wanted to get going," he said. "Every day there'd be reports that some other rookie would be starting — Earvin Johnson played and played well; other guys. I just wanted to get started."

New Celtics Coach Bill Fitch said he learned more about the team in Thursday's game than he had in all of preseason practice. And one thing he said he learned is that the team, coming off a losing season, does not have sufficient concentration on defense.

The Celtics led at the end of the first quarter and were tied at 53 at intermission. But 17 minutes into the second half, Philadelphia had a 20-point lead and the ballgame.

Bobby Jones paced the 76ers with 16 points while Steve Mix added 15.

In the second game of the double-header, the New York Knicks blasted the New Jersey Nets 126-94 behind a 22-point effort by Joe C. Meriwether.

Chisox down Minnesota as season winds down

By The Associated Press

The division races may be over in the American League, but not the late-inning heroics.

"Everybody likes to be the hero once in a while," said Jim Morrison of Chicago, who got his chance Thursday night. Morrison belted a two-run homer in the 10th inning to give the White Sox a 4-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

"It was just my turn," added Morrison. "It happens to all of us every now and then."

It also happened to Oscar Gamble, Carlton Fisk and Buck Martinez. Gamble came up as a pinch-hitter with two-out in the ninth inning and smacked a three-run homer, his fifth home run in five days, to give the New York Yankees a 5-2 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

Fisk, leading off the ninth inning, drilled a 3-1 pitch from Tom Buskey into the screen atop the left-field wall at Fenway Park to give the Boston Red Sox a 6-5 triumph over the Toronto Blue Jays.

Martinez singled home Dick Davis in the 11th inning to give the Milwaukee Brewers a 7-6 decision over the Seattle Mariners.

In the only other American League game, the Texas Rangers trimmed the Oakland A's 4-3.

White Sox 4, Twins 2

It was Morrison who scored on Mike Marshall's balk to win the game for Chicago Wednesday night, and Morrison who did most of the damage again

Thursday as the White Sox beat the Twins for the fifth straight time and completed a three-game series sweep.

Yanks 5, Indians 2

New York trailed 2-1 going into the ninth but tied the score on a single by George Scott, walks to Reggie Jackson and Juan Beniquez and a sacrifice fly by Roy White. Gamble followed with his 19th home run of the season, into the right-center field bleachers.

Red Sox 6, Blue Jays 5

Fisk had two singles in the game prior to his winning homer.

Toronto had gone ahead 5-3 with four runs in the eighth, including a two-run homer by Rick Bosetti, but Boston tied it in the bottom of the eighth on a two-run homer by Fred Lynn, his 39th of the season.

Brewers 7, Mariners 6

Seattle took a 6-4 run by scoring three runs in the fourth inning and three more in the fifth, but Milwaukee tied the game on Paul Molitor's two-run double in the bottom of the fifth. That was all the scoring till the 11th, when Martinez got his game-winning hit off Byron McLaughlin.

Rangers 4, A's 3

Jim Sundberg's RBI single capped a three-run sixth inning for the Rangers and gained the victory for Larry McCall, 1-0, who was making his first start for the Rangers.

Joe Wallis hit a two-run homer for the A's while Richie Zisk hit a solo shot for Texas. Wallis is a former Midland Cub player.

Cornhuskers facing angry Nittany Lions

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The Nittany Lions are coming to Lincoln Saturday with two of the toughest All-Americans and designs on making up for the loss that sent them plummeting from No. 6 to No. 18 in the national rankings this week.

Meanwhile, Nebraska's offensive line will try and stop those two powerful Penn State defenders and keep the Cornhuskers climbing past Penn State's old spot, where they are this week.

The regionally televised game will be the first meeting in 21 years between the two powerhouses and the expected 101st sellout crowd will set an NCAA record.

With the Huskers coming off a close, come-from-behind 24-21 win over Iowa last week and the Lions hurting from their 27-14 loss to unranked Texas A&M, it will be a battle both on the field and off.

On the field, Nebraska's starting offensive tackles Mark Goodspeed and Dan Steiner will try Lion taming as they face All-American defensive tackles Matt Millen and Bruce Clark.

On the sidelines, however, will be two of the winningest coaches in college football. It's a matchup between Tom Osborne, with a career winning average of .773, and Penn State's Joe Paterno, who with an .825 win average is being billed as the "winningest active coach in America."

Paterno might just be a little blunter than Osborne, who is known for his understated candor.

"We're just not a good football team right now," Paterno said. "We're not in Nebraska's league."

"We didn't tackle well and we didn't block well against Texas A&M," he added. "You're not going to win games playing like that."

"I'm amazed that we can play that bad and still come back to win," said Osborne after last week's tension-filled Husker victory. "I still think we are capable of beating anybody, but we're going to have to start taking charge and be more intense."

Interior defensive line coach J.T. Wright says Penn State is going to see an instant replay of the Texas A&M attack Saturday.

Billy Herman says Roger Craig doing fine job with San Diego

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hall of Famer Billy Herman, batting coach of the San Diego Padres for the past two years, said the front office of the National League club would be blaming the wrong man if Manager Roger Craig is fired.

Herman, who previously managed the Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Red Sox, said San Diego's dismal season is not the fault of the coaching staff.

The 70-year-old Herman, who ends a 49-year association with baseball Sunday, said the Padres are "the worst club I've been associated with" in 25 years in the National League.

He said the club "is going backward instead of progressing. Scouts tell me it's no better than the teams the Padres had seven or eight years ago."

Herman made the remarks in an interview with the San Diego Union.

Tampa Bay will win fifth straight

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

Unbeaten, untied and unbelievable. That describes the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, who insist they are real contenders and are certainly playing that way so far this season.

After four weeks, the National Football League has just four unbeaten teams left and Tampa Bay is one of them. How long can this go on? Another week, at least, or so it says here.

No guarantees, of course, especially after last week's 7-7 disaster. The season's record is 39-16 for .709.

The picks: TAMPA BAY 17, CHICAGO 14: The Bucs believe they can't be beaten and the funny thing is they may be right.

MIAMI 27, N.Y. JETS 14: Bob Griese returns to the Dolphin lineup and won't his eyes light up when he sees that Jet secondary.

PITTSBURGH 20, EAGLES 17: The Steelers are beat up but their reserves would be first stringers elsewhere.

HOUSTON 34, CLEVELAND 21: The state of Texas could never handle two defeats in one week to the Browns.

ATLANTA 21, WASHINGTON 17: All the game statistics except the final score went against the Redskins last week. This time the score will, too.

MINNESOTA 16, DETROIT 13: The Vikings are learning how to win with Tommy Kramer and their defense should handle the anemic Lion attack.

NEW ORLEANS 24, N.Y. GIANTS 10: The margin would be more if Saints' flanker Wes Chandler were healthy.

DALLAS 30, CINCINNATI 14: Can the Cowboys be as bad as they looked against Cleveland. We'll find out against the Bengals.

LOS ANGELES 21, ST. LOUIS 10: Hopefully, the Rams can relocate their offense at home. They sure couldn't find it in Tampa Bay last week.

SEATTLE 31, KANSAS CITY 14: The Seahawks had Denver beat and gave the game back. They won't be as benevolent with the Chiefs.

SAN DIEGO 34, SAN FRAN-CISCO 14: Dan Fouts will have a passing picnic against the defenseless 49ers.

BALTIMORE 20, BUFFALO 17: The Colts are going to win a game sooner or later. Choose sooner.

DENVER 24, OAKLAND 20: Craig Morton stole one from the Seahawks last week and the momentum should carry the Broncos past the Raiders.

NEW ENGLAND 31, GREEN BAY 7 (Monday night): This should be a pushover for the Patriots.

Joe Wallis hit a two-run homer for the A's while Richie Zisk hit a solo shot for Texas. Wallis is a former Midland Cub player.

Plainview rugged foe

Watching Midland Lee play football is a lot like watching your wife giving birth — there is joy and pain attached to both. I should know because I saw both last week in a 24-hour period.

The Rebels clawed and scratched their way to a 10-0 victory over a stout Plainview team. The final result was worthwhile, but like giving birth, there were some rocky moments.

Stout is a good word to describe Plainview's squad. Midland athletic director Sam Cox is still trying to find a way to get Memorial Stadium back on an even keel. The Bulldogs tilted the stadium east when they came onto the field. At the time, I was trying to figure out why the Rebs didn't leave then and avoid the massacre.

Fortunately, the Rebels don't scare easily and it wound up that Plainview's giants left reeling that account of David and Goliath more closely. Lee's head busting defense just doesn't seem to care much about size. They were saying something about "the bigger they are," I didn't catch the rest of it.

So, we give credit for this victory to the Lee defense. After all, they deserve some credit. Make that a lot of credit.

In three games, Lee has given up 13 points and posted two shut-outs. In fact, seven of those 13 points aren't the fault of Lee's defense. The kickoff team allowed one TD. The Rebels have had only one defensive breakdown all year that cost a touchdown, an 81-yard run by Polo Miranda of El Paso Austin.

Plainview is supposed to be an awesome offensive unit, but at the half, Lee had given the Bulldogs only a net of eight total yards and 10 offensive plays (not counting punts and penalties). Of course, the Lee offense deserves a little credit for running off 43 plays in the first half and scoring 10 points. Plainview, however, didn't get a first down and coughed up three fumbles. Lee played in the Bulldogs' end of the field the entire half.

And when Plainview did get something going in the second half, there was always a Rebel there to keep them from scoring regardless of how close they got. End Tom Williams made a tackle at the four-yard line on fourth down to stop one threat and safety Barry Corley performed the same hat trick on another threat at the Lee four. It could have been 14-10 very easily.

Clyde Smith, Bill Dern, Steve Waldron and Anthony Johnson also came up with big second half plays that stopped wayward drives from getting out of hand. And they were all important against a good team even if they weren't as dramatic as the ones pulled off by Williams and Corley.

Lee coach Gil Bartosh thought his offensive unit should have put another score or two on the board in the first half. That's the negative in this game if there is to be one, but even here there were some courageous moments.

For example, reserve fullback Scott Collins was called on 23 times and he responded for 78 yards of needed ball control. Early in the third period, Scott received a gash on his face that required 13 stitches to close up. He came back for more, but was unable to last the entire second half.

And here is a guy who is supposed to be playing defense most of the time, but he had to move to fullback when regular fullback Mark Thompson was sidelined last week with a bruised thigh. So, you see, the defense is even giving players to the offense to use, and is still the meanest critter around.

When Collins had to be rested, sophomore Rodney Hemphill had to be moved into the fullback position and he carried eight times for 22 yards. That wasn't bad for a kid who was on the junior varsity the week before — at tailback. But Bartosh tells the story best.

"Rodney is going to be a fine player," Gil said. "but we had him only three days and I think he knew only four or five plays, mostly dives. He did a good job considering he had been playing tailback on the JV. Still, we weren't able to control the ball in the second half and that hurt us some."

And now Lee faces the District 5-4A slate by opening on the road against Odessa High, both undefeated and feeling a little mean.

And there is the other matter of Midland High and Odessa Permian in Memorial Stadium next Friday. It's homecoming for the "Dogs, and that's something I have a lot more to say about next week.

Montreal-Braves games postponed
 ATLANTA (AP) — The Montreal Expos picked up a vital half-game on Pittsburgh while watching it rain Thursday in Atlanta.

The Expos' makeup doubleheader with the Atlanta Braves was rained out Thursday night. Earlier, Pittsburgh lost 9-5 to the St. Louis Cardinals and Montreal now trails the Pirates by only one game in the National League East pennant race.

If necessary, the Expos-Braves twinbill will be played Monday at noon. The Expos have three regularly scheduled games to play, all at home against Philadelphia. Pittsburgh has three at home with the Chicago Cubs.

Montreal Manager Dick Williams said he was glad the games were rained out. He wanted a day of rest.

"We have played 14 doubleheaders this season, seven in the last 15 days," he said. "We've had 36 games in the past 27 days."

"I have refrained from mentioning the weather, because several media members would say that I was using it as an alibi," he said. "But the double-headers are a matter of record. I'd much rather go home after an off day, play those three games against the Phils and then come back here Monday, even after the Falcons and the Redskins tear up the field."

The Atlanta Falcons and the Washington Redskins play a National Football League game Sunday at Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium.

NIT plans more teams
 NEW YORK (AP) — The National Invitation Tournament, college basketball's oldest post-season event, will expand its field from 24 teams to 32 for the 1979-80 season, The Associated Press learned Thursday.

The eight-team increase matches that of the more prestigious NCAA, which previously announced it would hike its field from 40 to 48 in the upcoming season.

The semifinals and the final of the NIT will be played March 17 and 19 at Madison Square Garden in New York. The tournament, staged at campus sites through the quarter-final round, will begin March 5-6. Second-round games are listed for March 10 and the quarter-finals will be held March 13.

The NIT decision was reached at the recent Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference convention at Hyannis, Mass.

Shavers battles Holmes tonight

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Earnie Shavers tries tonight to become the second-oldest heavyweight champion in history. He'll fight Larry Holmes, who found out in his last bout he is not too old to learn.

"It's always on my mind. You guys (reporters) won't let me forget it," said Holmes of his unimpressive performance against little-known Mike Weaver, who gave the World Boxing Council champion a rough time before being stopped in the 12th round last June 22.

"I learned to discipline myself," said the 29-year-old Holmes, who contends he didn't prepare properly for Weaver. He said he hasn't made the same mistake for Shavers, though he easily outpointed Shavers in 12 rounds on March 23 and get back into the championship picture.

Should Shavers win the title at age 35, he would be second only to Jersey Joe Walcott as the oldest heavyweight champion. Walcott was 37 when he knocked out Ezzard Charles in 1951 to win the title on his fifth try. This is Shavers' second title shot; he was outpointed by Muhammad Ali on Sept. 29, 1977.

"I'll knock him out in the fifth round," said Shavers, who said he has come of age as a fighter and will be a much different man than the one who lost to Holmes last year.

"I'm beginning to think now. I'm not trying to kill a guy with one hand," said Shavers, who used both hands to knock out Ken Norton in one round last March 23 and get back into the championship picture.

But while Holmes says he has learned his lesson, he adds Shavers is too old to learn to change.

"I don't really think you can get better when you get a certain age," said Holmes, a one-time sparring partner for Shavers who expects Earnie to be the same man he beat before.

"I don't really believe Shavers has the punching power he says he has."

Odds-makers agree with Holmes. To bet on the champion, one must give 4-1. If you like Shavers, you get 3-1.

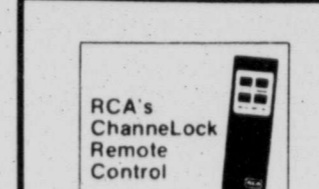

Holmes weighed in Thursday at 210 pounds, five pounds lighter than for the Weaver fight, and one pound lighter than Shavers.

The fight at Caesars Palace headlines a show that also features another world title shot and appearances by unbeaten Sugar Ray Leonard and the great Roberto Duran.

Missouri still mystery team

By The Associated Press
Will Missouri's mystery football team please stand up?
The Tigers have played more like pussycats in the first half of their three games this season, scoring only three points. But in the second half, they have been extremely ferocious, outscoring their opponents 89-8.
Coach Warren Powers, whose fifth-ranked Tigers are 3-0 after rallying for victories over San Diego State 45-15, Illinois 14-6 and Mississippi 33-7, is at a loss for words in trying to explain his team's Jekyll and Hyde performances.
"It's just unbelievable," he said. "We've looked at the play-calling, we've studied the film. It just seems like we make mistakes and cost ourselves chances to score in the first half."
Missouri will have to be wary of making mistakes Saturday. The Tigers face their sternest test of the season so far, meeting No. 4 Texas at Columbia, Mo.
The Longhorns have played only once, and also needed a second-half rally to win, overcoming a 9-0 first-half deficit to beat Iowa State 17-9.
Missouri is hoping the return to full-time duty of running back James Wilder will add thrust to its offense. Wilder, hampered by a hamstring injury, made his first appearance against Mississippi and scored one touchdown.

The Missouri-Texas game is one of five contests Saturday matching Top 20 teams against each other.
In the others, top-ranked Southern California, 3-0, is at No. 20 Louisiana State, which has walloped Colorado 44-0 and Rice 47-3, in a night game. No. 18 Penn State, 1-1, trying to rebound from a stunning 27-14 setback to Texas A&M and star running back Curtis Dickey, is on the road against sixth-rated Nebraska, 2-0, featuring I.M. Hipp, averaging 5.7 yards per carry.
Seventh-ranked Michigan State, 3-0, and with a 10-game winning streak since losing to Notre Dame 29-25 last year, visits the 15th-rated Fighting Irish, 1-1, beaten by Purdue 28-22 last week. And No. 14 Ohio State, 3-0, under the direction of sophomore quarterback Art Schlichter, is at 17th-ranked UCLA, 2-1, in a nationally televised game.
Elsewhere, No. 2 Alabama, 2-0, is at Vanderbilt; third-ranked Oklahoma, 2-0, is on the road at Rice in a night game; Houston, rated eighth and 2-0, visits West Texas State; No. 9 Washington, 3-0, entertains Fresno State, and 10th-ranked Purdue, 2-1, led by passing standout Mark Herrmann, is at host to Oregon.
Also, No. 11 Michigan, 2-1, plays at California, upset winner over both Arizona State and Arizona; Florida State, rated 12th and 3-0, is at Virginia Tech in a regionally televised game; 13th-ranked Arkansas, 2-0, is home against Tulsa; No. 16 North Carolina State, 3-0, entertains undefeated Wake Forest in a night game, and 19th-ranked Southern Methodist, 3-0, without injured star quarterback Mike Ford, visits Tulane in another night game.

Lloyd upset over call during Atlanta women's tournament

ATLANTA (AP) — Chris Evert Lloyd doesn't let much bother her during a tennis match.
But she was upset by a call against her during Thursday's quarterfinals of the $100,000 Atlanta women's tennis tournament and then was upset by Australian Wendy Turnbull, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.
In other matches, No. 1 seed Martina Navratilova defeated No. 7 seed Virginia Wade of Great Britain 6-4, 6-1; Tracy Austin, the No. 3 seed, defeated sixth-seeded Dianne Fromholtz of Australia 6-7, 6-2, 6-3 and No. 5 seed Evonne Goolagong Cawley of Australia defeated Marise Kruger of South Africa 6-1, 6-2.
Austin meets Turnbull and Cawley is paired against Navratilova in Friday's semifinals.
Turnbull, seeded No. 8, won the first set, but second-seeded Lloyd dominated the second set with Turnbull winning only the third game.

At 4-4 in the third set, Turnbull hit a return that appeared long but was called good by the line judge. Lloyd argued with the judge, double-faulted on the next serve and lost the game three points later.
"It was very obvious to me the ball was out," Lloyd said. "It was a crucial point. I got a little emotional about it. It's never happened before."
"I'm really disappointed because I think I'm a better player than she is. Everything was working for her today — her serve, her ground strokes. The match was so close and Wendy got the breaks, the net cords and a couple of calls. She just had one of those days," Lloyd said.

Jan Stephenson in two-shot lead

DALLAS (AP) — Jan Stephenson held a two-shot lead as the second round began today in the $150,000 Dallas Open, but cooling her image as a sex symbol seems almost as important to her as golf these days.
"I hardly could be labeled the sex symbol type," Stephenson said after posting a 6-under-par 66 in the first round of the Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament. "I go to bed early, I eat most of my meals in my room and I'm probably the hardest worker on the tour."
She admits part of her image resulted from a wet T-shirt photograph that appeared on the cover of a national sports magazine. She said the photo was made "as a joke. The photographer tossed me this T-shirt and I had the shot made and I was so embarrassed when it became public."
The Australian native joined the LPGA tour in 1973 and has established solid credentials, winning almost $300,000, including $55,354 in 23 tournaments this year.

She fired 33s on both nines Thursday, posting seven birdies and a bogey. "I was really charged up," she said. "I was feeling pretty good about my round because in the past I've played about the same but didn't get anything out of my score."
"I think it's nice to get off to a good start but I can't afford to lose my temper. Often, after I miss a couple putts, I lose my head."
Stephenson has yet to win a tournament in 1979 but said, "I really like my chances every time I tee up."
She now makes her home in Fort Worth, Texas, and said the other members of the tour have begun teasing her about becoming a Texan.
"I wanted to do good before a home crowd," she told reporters after the first round. "I really want to be Texas-like and the girls are always trying to get me to say 'y'all' and things like that."
Two shots back of Stephenson is second-year pro Vicki Ferguson. She has one tournament victory this year and $52,258 in winnings.

Sorry about that Pack

Boy, you talk about a red face! It seems like this corner stated in the lead of the Midland-Monterey game last Saturday morning in The Reporter-Telegram that it had been 13 years since the Bulldogs had beaten the Plainsmen.

No so! And the embarrassing thing about it is that yours truly covered the 1971 game in the mud in Lubbock in which Randy Blansett and Company took a 6-0 victory for Larry Click's Pack. Oh yes, and the Bulldogs also beat Monterey in 1974 and again in 1975. Sorry about that Bulldogs.

Now that is out of the way, it's time to do some bragging on last week's picks in Class AAAA circles. It was a good one in hitting all eight District 5-4A teams on the button and for the week the picks were 44 correct and only four wrong for a .917 or 91.7 percent, probably the best in my 10 years of picking for the R-T.

So, on the year it stands 117 right and 18 wrong for a percentage of .867 and with District 5-4A teams open this week, the pickings are slim indeed with only 33 games to choose from.

Did happen to miss on the Stratford-LaPorte game in which LaPorte won, 26-23 on Saturday. It was originally set for Friday, but heavy rains moved the game to Saturday. The win for the Bulldogs avenged two losses to Stratford last year as the Houston power won the state AAAA state championship, whipping Plano in the finals.

Here are this weeks picks as we all wait the opening of District 5-4A warfare next week when Midland entertains Odessa Permian and Lee plays Odessa in W.T. Barrett Stadium:

El Paso Coronado will bring its record to 2-1 with a victory over Amarillo Palo Duro; Pecos over El Paso Irving; Ysleta Bel Air 26, Las Cruces, N.M. 14; Las Cruces Mayfield 30, Ysleta High 16; Amarillo to take a 14-0 victory over Plainview; Caprock over Levelland, 20-7; Pampa 14, Borger 8; Hereford to romp over Canyon, 27-0; Lubbock 7, Lubbock Dunbar 0; Arlington Lamar over Carrollton-Turner; Denton over Arlington Sam Houston; Lewisville 20, Arlington High 13; Richland 20, Wichita Falls Rider 12; Arlington Heights over Trimble Tech, 26-13; Paschal 30, Poly 19; Southwest over Western Hills 16-14; Tyler to whip Corsicana; Plano over Highland Park in a dandy, 17-13. This will be the first points scored in the Wildcats this season in this one; Lake Highlands 27, Sherman 0; Conroe over South Houston; Cypress-Fairbanks over Cypress Creek; Spring Woods 20, Lufkin 6; Startford 14, Lamar Consolidated 0; Kashmere 30, Jones 13; Baytown Sterling over Nimitz; Smiley over MacArthur; Port Neches-Grove to dispose of Forest Park, 27-20; Victoria to storm past Spring Branch Memorial; Austin High over Austin McCallum; Reagan over Lanier; Gregory-Portland to defeat Robstown; Odessa Ector wins fourth straight over Laredo Martin, 20-8 and San Antonio Jay over Eagle Pass.

Calvin Hill happy call came from Cleveland

BEREA, Ohio (AP) — Calvin Hill has been over the hill and back.

A year ago this month, the former All-Pro running back for the Dallas Cowboys was sitting at home in Washington, D.C., and contemplating retirement from the National Football League.

Then came a call from the Cleveland Browns, who helped the rangy 11-year veteran end his four-week vacation from the NFL wars.

Hill, 32, gave the Browns the benefit of his experience and a still-formidable talent as he rushed for 289 yards, caught 25 passes and scored six touchdowns — a league high for running backs — in appearances limited almost entirely to third-down or second-down-and-long-yardage situations.

It appeared that Hill was going to spend most of his time this year pacing the sidelines — until Cleveland scatback Greg Pruitt went down with a sprained knee in the second quarter of Monday night's 26-7 victory over the Cowboys.

Pruitt remains "questionable" for Sunday's game at Houston, so Hill must step into the breach.

"I had hoped to get more work, but not at the expense of Greg getting hurt," the Yale graduate added.

Zatopek, one of the greatest long distance runners of all time, set numerous world records during his career and is the only runner to earn gold medals in all three distance events in one Olympics.

Greenwood downs Bullpups, 20-6

By RICHARD VINCENT Sports Writer

GREENWOOD — The Greenwood Rangers did most of the right things here Thursday night en route to a 20-6 victory over the Midland High Bullpups.

For the evening, the Rangers totaled 275 yards of offense, 179 of which came from a solid, hard-hitting ground game. Senior tailback Joe Mobley, who scored two of the Ranger touchdowns, rushed for 69 yards before leaving the game in the third quarter with an injury. The slack was taken-up by junior fullback Rex Evans, who finished with 56 yards.

Quarterback Tommy Somers, a transfer from Midland High, riddled the Bullpup secondary with five of nine passing accuracy for 96 yards.

One of the few bright spots for the Pups was the bruising running of junior Scott Yocham who ran for 72 yards.

Greenwood struck quickly for their first score. With fourth and four at their 32, the Bullpups punted. The Rangers faked a reverse handoff on the return and quicker than you could blink an eye, Mobley was flying down the sideline for a 62-yard tally. Evans' kick ran the count to 7-0 with 9:20 remaining in the session.

The second Greenwood touchdown was set up on a super defensive play by Russ Padgett. Early in the second quarter, the 173-pound senior tackle ripped through the Bullpup line, stripped the ball from Anthony Adams and pounced on it for the Rangers at the Midland six.

Two plays later, Mobley hit inside on a second-effort scoring run of five yards. Evans split the uprights and it was 14-0 with 10:01 before intermission.

Late in the third quarter, coach Bobby Harrison's well-disciplined Rangers struck for their final score. Evans' three-yard scoring sweep came at 1:10 of the third and capped a 10 play drive that covered 58 yards. The kick failed. Key play in the thrust was Somers' slick pass of 33 yards to Vondell Woolfolk on a crucial fourth and three situation. Incidentally, Woolfolk hauled in all of Somers' completions.

Midland's lone tally came early in the fourth quarter on a seven play scoring drive that saw Yocham blast over from the four at 9:20 of the period. The run failed.

Greenwood improved their record to 3-1 while the Bullpups dropped to 2-2.

Unhappy Pokes battle Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

There are few things worse than an ornery Cowboy — except maybe 45 of them.

The Dallas Cowboys are feeling anything but happy these days in view of the embarrassing 26-7 thrashing administered in Cleveland last Monday night by the Browns.

Obviously they'll be out to tear up everything in sight next Sunday ... which brings us to the Cincinnati Bengals.

The Bengals have yet to win a game this season, but they'll have to beat the enraged Cowboys to do it. Homer Rice, the Bengals' coach, wasn't any happier at last Monday's outcome than the Cowboys were.

"I would rather Dallas had played good," he said.

Sunday's other games are Cleveland at Houston, Pittsburgh at Philadelphia, Tampa Bay at Chicago, Miami at the New York Jets, Minnesota at Detroit, Kansas City at Seattle, the New York Giants at New Orleans, Washington at Atlanta, Buffalo at Baltimore, San Francisco at San Diego, Denver at Oakland and St. Louis at Los Angeles. On Monday night, New England is at Green Bay.

"We've been defeating ourselves," Coach Tom Landry said of his Cowboys, who had relied on fourth-quarter heroics from quarterback Roger Staubach in their earlier victories.

"Our concentration has not been good. I look for that to change."

The Bengals have been letting victory escape from their grasp. Last week they led 24-0 over Houston, only to lose 30-27 in overtime. "That loss hurt very much," said Rice. "Something always seems to happen to us. We've got to play a complete football game ... But we're hanging in there good. We're 0-4 but we still think we will have a good season."

Rookie quarterback Jack Thompson has been effective for the Bengals in the past few games but veteran Ken Anderson, sidelined with a sore back, is likely to return to his starting role.

While the Bengals stagger around the bottom of the American Conference's Central Division, Pittsburgh and Cleveland are at the top of it, unbeaten and one game ahead of Houston. The Oilers have beaten the Browns in their last three meetings and Cleveland may be without running back Greg Pruitt and defensive end Lyle Alzado, both suffering from knee problems.

The Steelers, meanwhile, have a spate of banged-up players — but they did the last two weeks, too, when they scored victories over St. Louis and Baltimore.

Snyder over Andrews

By RICHARD VINCENT Sports Writer

This week's slate of games may be abbreviated, but that doesn't mean there's a lack of quality contests.

In what may be one of the better Class AAA games of area interest this year, the young but explosive Andrews Mustangs take their act to Snyder for what should be a dogfight with the Snyder Bulldogs of District 3-AAA.

Snyder was given a lofty perch in preseason rankings but stumbled in their opener with Midland Lee of District 5-AAAA. And in their second game, against Monahans, the "Dogs weren't that impressive.

But they notched a 28-0 victory last Friday over Class AAAA Patsy Big Spring.

Meanwhile, Andrews was having their toughest time of the season in a shaky 29-21 triumph over Seminole.

Andrews, 3-0-0, enters the game atop 2-AAA offensive stats, averaging 351 yards a game while the Mustang defense is second in the circuit with a 161.1 per contest average. Soph quarterback Keith Brooks leads loop throwers with 279 air yards and five touchdowns. His top receiver and rusher is Vah Pearcy, a junior ranking high in several statistical categories including punting.

Still, Snyder, 2-1-0, will hand the Mustangs their first loss of the year in a 37-24 dilly.

Crane of District 7-AA was a team not expected to come flashing out of the blocks. And they didn't.

But now, as the offense grows more familiar with the new veer formation, the Golden Cranes have responded with two straight successes. Their passing game, which has been effective, needs only a running attack to complement it. This could be the week Crane hits their stride.

They'll be hosting a Tahoka crew that's big and fast, but the Cranes will prevail in a 17-13 barnburner.

Reagan County of District 9-A is 3-0-0 and the Owls, to say the least, have been mighty impressive. Coach Melvin Burns' talented and gigantic outfit scorched Iraan 49-8 last week and should have little problem this week with Class AA Sonora, 1-2-0. The Owls 24-12.

McCamey of District 6-A will try to halt their downward spiral when the Badgers host Eldorado. McCamey, 1-1-1, has lost and been tied its last two outings but one of these days, the Badgers are going to blossom into an offensive powerhouse. Quarterback Raul Arana fills the air with footballs and if he has healthy cohorts, the Badgers are tough. Eldorado brings a 2-1-0 register into the tilt, yet McCamey will win 14-9.

Once more, the Lamesa Golden Tornados of District 3-AAA, will try for their first victory of the season. The Tors came very close to No. 1 last week in an 18-10 loss to Levelland. The Tor offense worked well and the defense, at times, was rugged. Hobbs has been horrible to date. Still, on their home turf, Hobbs will stop Lamesa 7-6.

Stanton of District 5-A and Rankin of District 6-A are area outfits taking this week off.

ROUND THE REGION — Monahans 27, Brownfield 14; Odessa Ector 24, Laredo Martin 10; Pecos 17, Irvin 0; Brownwood 44, San Angelo Lake View 20; Sweetwater 7, Graham 3; Menard 14, Ozona 6; Clint 22, Van Horn 8; Iraan 23, Wall 21; Junction 35, Coleman 0; Mason 30, Brady 12; Marfa 12, Fabens 4.

WILD ONE OF THE WEEK — Unbeaten (3-0-0) Kermit of District 7-AA entertains undefeated (3-0-0) Fort Stockton of District 2-AAA in an incredible match-up of two of the best defenses in this region. The Yellowjackets have allowed 13 points this season while the Panthers have yielded 12. Kermit's been denied for 154.3 yards a game while the Panthers have bent for 142 per tilt. Fort Stockton's offense, averaging 326.6 steps a night, is paced by running backs Billy Ray Gordon and Brad Jackson, each averaging nearly 100 yards.

Kermit is also a ground-oriented team, featuring the triple threat of David Fulbright, Shannon Cooke and Lino Lujan. What all this boils down to is a 14-10 victory for Fort Stockton.

Owls seeking fourth win

Five area schoolboy football teams will be in action tonight.

Crane of District 7-AA hosts Tahoka in a nonconference tussle at 8 while McCamey of District 6-A entertains Eldorado in a nonconference battle set for 8.

Reagan County of District 9-A guns for their fourth straight victory as the Owls will be home for an 8 p.m. assignment with Sonora.

Also shooting for a 4-0 record will be Andrews of District 2-AAA as the Mustangs invade Snyder for an 8 p.m. encounter.

Last but certainly not least, Lamesa of District 3-AAA ventures to Hobbs, N. M. for a 7:30 p.m. MDT contest.

Rankin of District 6-A and Stanton of District 5-A are both open this week.

Lee Rebs fall to San Angelo

The Midland Lee volleyball team fell to San Angelo, 15-10, 15-6, Thursday in a District 5-4A matchup to fall to 1-1 in league play.

Lee, down 13-0 in the second set, came back to make a game of it. Coach Linda Weikel was pleased with the spiking of Lori Breeding, the setting of Kerry Shaw and Melinda Cravens, the defense of Susan Nix and the blocking of Tanna Parrish and Susan Craig.

The Lee JV's lost by a 15-3, 15-11 count to San Angelo as Kim Willis and Suzanne McGaha played well for Lee.

Lee plays Cooper Tuesday in Abilene in the next 5-4A outing. The result of the Midland High-Big Spring game Thursday was unavailable.

FUNKY WINKERBEAN

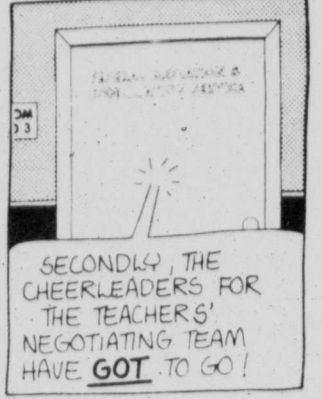

ALL RIGHT, BEFORE WE GO ANY FURTHER INTO THE NEGOTIATIONS, I THINK WE SHOULD LAID DOWN A FEW GROUND-RULES!

FIRST, I THINK IT WOULD BE HELPFUL IF THE SCHOOL BOARD WOULD STOP REFERRING TO THE REPRESENTATIVE FROM THE STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION AS A COMMUNIST AGITATOR!

YEAAAAA!

SECONDLY, THE CHEERLEADERS FOR THE TEACHERS' NEGOTIATING TEAM HAVE GOT TO GO!

BLONDIE

I WAS OUT SHOPPING ALL DAY

BUT I DIDN'T FIND A THING I LIKED

WHAT'S IN ALL THOSE PACKAGES?

THINGS I DIDN'T LIKE A LOT LESS THAN THE THINGS I REALLY DIDN'T LIKE!

MARY WORTH

I'LL PHONE YOU TONIGHT, DARLING! AND DON'T WORRY ABOUT WELL... ANYTHING!

I HOPE THE ACTRESS WORKING WITH HER IS AN OLD CRONE WITH FALSE HAIR AND A FEATHER TO MATCH!

TELL HER I'M BIG AND NASTY AND IF SHE LAYS HANDS ON YOU I'LL SCRATCH OUT HER EYES!

DID I JUST SEE ONE OF MY TEAMMATES HEADING OFF IN THE WRONG DIRECTION?

JUDGE PARKER

DID I WAKE YOU, BUCK? I JUST CAME OVER TO GET STEVIE READY. MISS SPENCER'S COMING BY FOR HIM!

BUT HE SLEPT OVER WITH YOU...

WHEN I DIDN'T FIND HIM IN BED THIS MORNING I ASSAULTED HIM TO SEE YOU!

I'D BETTER GET DRESSED AND GO LOOK FOR HIM!

STEVE ROPER

WHY THE HECK WOULD BUCK BUY AN OLD TRUCK FOR A YEARLY VISIT TO AN EX-WIFE?

HIS IDEA OF A DIVORCE JOKE LAST YEAR HE SHOWED UP DRESSED AS A PANHANDLER!

I'M SORTA ANXIOUS TO SEE WHAT KINDA GAL BUCK WOULD MARRY!

YOU'RE REALLY IN FOR IT! I'M AFRAID YOU MAY BE SHOCKED!

NANCY

WEIGHT AND FORTUNE

WOW

YOU ARE VERY HONEST

NOW I HAVE TO PUT ALL THESE PENNIES BACK

STEVE CANYON

I-I AM SUMMER SMITH OLSON CANYON! I HAVE ONE SON AND MY PARENTS WERE...

SIMMER DOWN, BABY! YOU DON'T HAVE TO PROVE WHO YOU ARE!

I THOUGHT RIP VAN WINKLE WAS AN AMUSING FANTASY - BUT THIS IS REAL - I GUESS!

WH-WHERE HAVE I BEEN?

MARMADUKE

"I can see he's running away from home...but he isn't running far enough!"

"NAW... THAT'S NOT A WILD ANIMAL GROWLIN'. MR. WILSON MUSTA SEEN US COMIN'."

"NAW... THAT'S NOT A WILD ANIMAL GROWLIN'. MR. WILSON MUSTA SEEN US COMIN'."

THE BETTER HALF

"The doctor put you on a 1,000 calorie per day diet but the fact that he didn't mention night was just an oversight."

ANDY CAPP

I'D LIKE TO KNOW WHERE I STAND!

YOU'RE PLAYIN' WITH FIRE, DEAR - JUST LIKE I ONCE DID

I STARTED OUT PLAYIN' WITH FIRE AND ENDED UP HAVIN' TO WORK OVERTIME TO PAY FOR THE FUEL BILLS -

ALL RIGHT, ALL RIGHT, SPARE 'ER THE DETAILS

SHOE

WHAT'S FOR DINNER TONIGHT, UNCLE COSMO?

I'M NOT SURE, SKYLER...

BUT WHATEVER IT IS, IT'S HARD AND GREEN.

WELL, LET'S HOPE IT'S MINT CHOCOLATE CHIP.

DICK TRACY

THE GAS GAUGE SAID A QUARTER TANK

IT CAN'T BE OUTTA GAS!

MAYBE IT'S SOMETHING ELSE WRONG WITH THE CAR.

STEAL A CAR FROM A SERVICE STATION, YOU'D THINK THE THING'D RUN!

REX MORGAN, M.D.

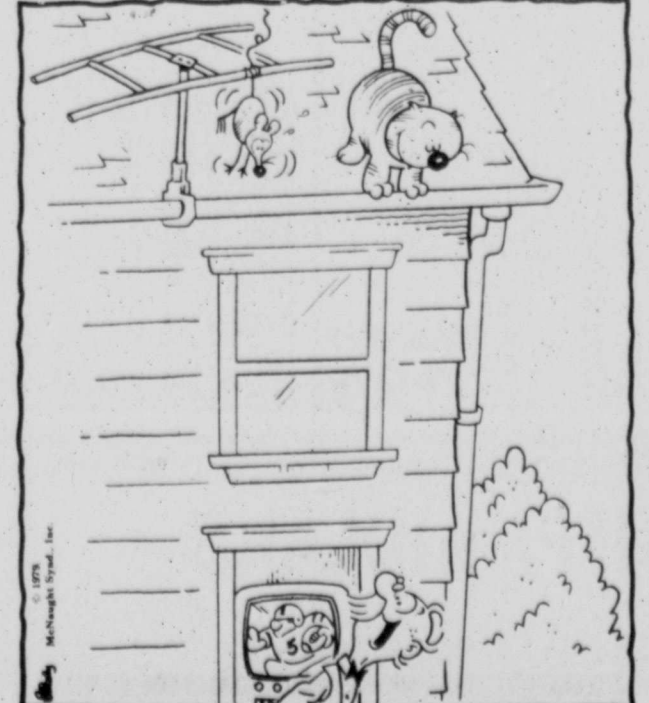

I'LL TRY TO LOCATE DR. MORGAN! THE FACT THAT YOU COULDN'T REACH HIM AT HOME DOESN'T MEAN HE'S HERE IN THE HOSPITAL!

IF MORGAN ISN'T HOME AFTER TEN AT NIGHT THERE'S ONLY ONE OTHER PLACE HE CAN BE --- AND THAT'S HERE!

I LIKE A DEDICATED DOCTOR --- BUT HE'S RIDICULOUS!

I NEED TO TALK TO DR. MORGAN. I HAVE AN OLD WOMAN IN EMERGENCY WHO MAY BE A PSYCHIATRIC PROBLEM!

HEATHCLIFF

"THAT'S A MUCH BETTER PICTURE!...WHAT DID YOU DO?"

PEANUTS

WE'VE BEEN SILENT FOR SEVENTY YEARS ABOUT THE UNFAIR TREATMENT OF WOMEN ATHLETES, CHUCK

BUT NOW THAT UNFAIR TREATMENT IS CAUSING AN UPROAR

UNFAIR!! UNFAIR!!
